A Lesson in Intelligent Boosting
What It Has Done for Deming

PERHAPS there could be no better illustration of what intelligent and persistent boosting can do for a community than the case of Deming—which, it is scarcely necessary to say, is over in Luna county—and is probably the best known town in the State.

Starting with what the writer conscientiously believes was a less attractive array of undeveloped natural resources at her door than those of the Carrizozo Valley today—and this is in no sense a "knock" on Deming or the wonderful Mimbres Valley, but rather a tribute to her enterprising boosters—she has grown in the past few years from a little "cow town," and "goat and sheep town" with a few mercantile concerns housed in antiquated 'dobies, without street lights, pavements or modern improvements, into one of the most advanced little cities of the entire western country—in some respects ahead of anything anywhere in the entire country.

And another feature of these wonderful results—and yet, simple, too, because entirely and easily traceable to well-known and established laws of cause and effect—is the fact that as soon as the people of Deming evinced a disposition to help themselves, nearly every citizen and newspaper and community in the big state of New Mexico exhibited a disposition to jump right in and help her along.

And they have kept it up and will keep it up as long as Deming keeps up her own efforts. Plainly it illustrates two familiar propositions—that "the Lord helps them who help themselves," and (slightly paraphrased) "all the world boosts a booster."

Here is a case in point. Silver City is only a short distance from Deming, and it might naturally be inferred, judging from accepted standpoints that there would be some degree of community rivalry or jealousy between the two burgs. Such an inference would evidently be rank injustice. From a recent issue of the Silver City Enterprise we clip the following:

"Deming is a sturdy little town whose equal is not of this mundane sphere. In the face of innumerable obstacles and of doubt and skepticism she has developed a wonderful agricultural acreage right under the nose of the Elephant Butte dam and has shown the world at large what perseverance, coupled with energy, thrift and push can do for a community. Apparently without resources ten years ago, slowly dying with dry rot, the re-awakening of Deming will some day form a most interesting chapter of New Mexican history when a Ralph Waldo Twitchell shall in the future chronicle the doings of the present day.

"Deming discovered shallow water beneath her rich, loamy soil or rather some enterprising spirits who happened along were informed of the fact. Forthwith they cast their lot with Deming and commenced the uplift of those whose lot was not so fortunately cast. They hollered Deming so long and so loud that the echoes reverberated up and down the Mississippi valley and clear to the Atlantic seaboard on the east and the Pacific on the west. As a consequence they have a population from practically every state in the union.

"The transformation in Deming has been truly marvelous. Handsome business blocks have gone up on sites formerly occupied by ramshackle old buildings and upward of seventy-five beautiful bungalows have been built within the last year. A new court house and high school and several new churches complete a long list of building activity that has quite transformed the old town.

"No one begrudges Deming her growth and prosperity. It is well earned by long, well directed and intelligent effort and the same methods applied elsewhere will put life into any old set of dry municipal bones."

Not only did the Silver City paper print the above, but the Albuquerque Daily Journal and a lot of the weekly papers of the State copied it and sent the tribute broadcast—one of the best possible advertisements any community could have.

The Journal item adds:

"Deming is no doubt the town with the largest number of boosters per capita in New Mexico. No one of the Windmill Town lets an opportunity for telling of the marvelous land and its possibilities pass. The press and public in general throughout the state recognize the fact that Deming is deserving of the highest praise for her wonderful development in the past few years and bouquets are showered upon the lively city."

And Deming is going forward with an advertising and boosting campaign for 1913 that is stronger and more ambitious than anything she has ever undertaken in the past. More mediums are to be added to its list and the Mimbres Valley and its natural resources are to be heralded throughout the United States in real booster style.

It is reported that an average of forty inquiries per day are received by the secretary of the Deming Chamber of Commerce asking for information—mostly from intending settlers on small tracts and investors. The town is spending about $1,000.00 per month for publicity—and getting it back twenty-fold. Not alone in the rise of values of land has the result been shown—though from this source the expenditure has been fully justified as a practical business proposition. But in nearly every possible way the benefits are amply manifest. Hardly a day passes that new enterprises are not starting up. Hundreds of thousands of dollars of outside money have come in—fresh ideas and new vigor in the way of new boosters are added daily to the town's strength. It is like the accumulating flood waters

Consider New Mexico!
Consider Lincoln County!
Consider Carrizozo!

Carrizozo Conditions Certainly Carry Conviction!

Carrizozo's Coming Contest Contemplated!

Comprehensive Contour Contains Claims Continuously Convincing!

CERTAIN CONQUEST COMING!

WE are willing to hand one to our esteemed contemporary, The Outlook.

For some weeks past THE NEWS has carried in large type the words "Consider Carrizozo" on the front page. Last week The Outlook carried a streamer across the foot of its first page as follows:

"Consider Lincoln County—the Best Place on Earth to Live—with its 300 Pleasant, Healthy, Sunshiny Days Each Year."

We have amended our slogan. We certainly did not intend to narrow the noise to a mere consideration of Carrizozo alone. And we are greatly obliged to our young Bro. Chase for the delicate correction. It is timely—perfectly correct, in fact, and we adopt it heartily—in word and spirit. Henceforth THE NEWS banneret will include not only Lincoln county, but the great Sunshine State as well!

And may we be permitted to suggest to our brother that he correct that "300" and make it read "365 Pleasant and Healthy Days?" Because every day in Lincoln county and Carrizozo is a healthy day. The thing is not limited. And while the "consider" proposition is on the tapis we will take occasion to repeat once more, that "the man who can not make good in Lincoln county cannot make good anywhere!"

Consider that Lincoln county embraces an area of something over 5,000 square miles.

Consider that this area includes about 3,200,000 square acres.

Consider that over a million acres of this area is rich and fertile soil.

Consider that much less than one per cent of it is in cultivation.

Consider that it has been demonsrated that much of it can be successfully dry farmed.

Consider that there is shallow water available for irrigation by pumping under large portions of it.

Consider that there are numerous streams and arroyas available for reservoirs and gravity irrigation.

Consider that these lands yield from 800 to 1,000 pounds per acre of the most nutritious grama hay in a wild state.

Consider that a very large proportion of the best agricultural lands in the county is still open to homestead entry.

Consider that there is no pleasanter or more healthy climate on the footstool.

Consider that with a population of only about 8,000 people there is a fairly good system of county roads.

Consider that there are excellent churches of nearly every denomination.

Consider that there are as good high schools and district schools as older and larger communities have.

Consider that one of the best railway systems in the west traverses the entire length of the county, with a branch line of 21 miles leading into the heart of the county.

Consider that our being on a transcontinental railway opens up the markets of both the east and west.

Consider that both those markets are hungry for the every things we can grow in abundance and are not now growing.

Consider that our taxes are low as compared with many sections not so far advanced as we are.

Consider that at least a million acres of foothill and mountainside and tablelands in the county are among the best grazing lands.

Consider that at least half, probably two-thirds of the area of our agricultural lands, are unquestionably among the best fruit lands in the southwest.

Consider that we have immense—almost inexhaustible—supplies of good fire wood, fence posts and much merchantable timber.

Consider that our half developed mines have already turned out many millions of dollars in gold and silver.

Consider that some of the richest mining territory of the southwest lies within the county.

Consider that we have enormous deposits of high grade coal.

Consider that our clay deposits are among the richest in the state, and the one factory now turning out such products is shipping many carloads monthly.

Consider that our mountain and valley scenery is among the most picturesque in the world.

Our Local Story-Tellers—
"Alma Idlewild," By John E. Bell

EVERY man has a good story of real life tucked away in his experience somewhere. THE NEWS believes these stories of real people and real things are worth printing and will interest our readers. We're going to hunt up a lot of them and try it on. If any of you have got one worth saving just hail us any time and take your turn. Here is the first installment.

THE NEWS man dropped into John E. Bell's good grocery store the other evening. John had just returned from supper, the trained cat had been fed and presumably trade had been good that day for John was in the most genial mood imaginable.

"Speaking of strange incidents," he began, "you know I was a conductor on the road here for several years before I got to selling cheese and crackers.

"It was about six years ago. I was in charge of a passenger run from Tucumcari to El Paso. Out of the former place one day I had a woman passenger on the day coach and a few miles before we reached Carrizozo she attracted my attention and that of her fellow passengers, evidently being in great pain. A little inquiry revealed the fact that she was in a serious condition. She was on her way to El Paso to meet her husband, a laborer in the yards there. I don't believe I had better give the name.

"I went back to the Pullman—it was the car 'Alma'—and told the car conductor to have a bed made in the drawing room. I remember he demurred, wanting to know what there was in it, etc., but I told him I was in charge of the train and would be responsible. He still held back, but I ordered the porter to make up the bed and have it ready or there would be some real trouble. Then I went through the train inquiring for a doctor. We were pulling a private Pullman—the 'Idlewild'—with a party of mining men from the east somewhere.

"I had failed to find a doctor all through the train and as a last chance concluded to try the private car. I stated the difficulty and a gray-haired gentleman of the party said he was a physician, and while he wasn't exactly looking for a job in that line, of course, under the circumstances, he would help out.

"He came back through the train with me. There were several ladies about the patient when we arrived. The old doctor picked out one, asked if she was a married woman and a mother, and on being told she was, he asked her to assist him.

"We removed the patient to the Pullman and the doctor and his assistant took charge. Somewhere between Carrizozo and Oscuro, we were informed that she had given birth to a fine girl baby, and mother and baby were both doing nicely. Of course the news spread through the train. The passengers were all greatly interested. Several of them got together and took up a collection amounting to some thirty odd dollars for the mother.

"The party in the car learned what was afoot and besides chipping in liberally one of them proposed that if the mother would name the baby girl after the two cars ('Alma Idlewild') they would issue her $5,000.00 of stock in the mine in which they were interested.

"The matter was proposed to her by the doctor's assistant and she readily consented, so the stock was properly issued in the name of the little one. The assistant was paid $10.00 for her services—the doctor would take nothing—and the balance of the money as well as the stock turned over to the mother, as I supposed. We reached El Paso in due time and baby and mother were taken to their home there.

"That was the last I heard of the matter until a year or so ago when a traveling man from Albuquerque was passing through here one day. His train was delayed for some hours, I think by a washout down near Polly. He dropped into the store and being a genial sort of chap we got into conversation.

"Something during our talk brought up the memory of the little girl born on my train that night and I told him the incident. Again for several months I did not recall it, when one day the same traveling man dropped in again. After the usual greetings he referred to the story of the girl and said he had formerly lived in El Paso, and on his last visit had been invited to take dinner at the home of an old acquaintance. During the dinner reference was made to naming children, and he told his entertainers the story I had told him and spoke of the girl's name, Alma Idlewild.

"At once his friends expressed surprise and told him the child and her parents had lived next door for several years. They also informed him the family had since removed to Albuquerque 'And when I get home I'm going to see if I can hunt them up,' he added.

"Well, it was only a week or so after that I got a long letter from him, saying he had found them. He told his wife of the story and when he mentioned the name, she exclaimed, 'Why they live right around the corner from here.' He and his wife soon called on them and he found the little girl—mighty bright little thing, too, he said. He told the mother of meeting me and that I had told him the story of her daughter's birth on the train.

"And here comes the sequel—showing how much cussedness there is in human nature, now and then. When he mentione what I had said about the money and the mining stock, the mother said she had a faint memory of having been induced to name the little one 'Alma Idlewild' and that some money had been raised and something promised, but that she was very weak at the time and was grateful for all the kindness shown her, and had not been very clear about the matter and had made no inquiries. Any way, she never got the money or the mining stock. He gave her my name and a little later I received a letter from her to the same purport asking if I could tell her any more about it.

"Of course I could not. I wrote her the facts as I remembered

BACKACHE "GETS ON THE NERVES"

Many who suffer from backache and weak kidneys are unnaturally irritable, fretful and nervous. Not only does constant backache "get on the nerves", but bad kidneys fail to eliminate all the uric acid from the system, and uric acid irritates the nerves, keeping you "on edge" and causing rheumatic, neuralgic pains. Doan's Kidney Pills cure these ills by curing the kidneys. Here's proof:

A California Case:

Dieu et Mon Droit appears to have been first assumed as a motto by Henry VI., 1422-1462. Semper Idem—"Always the Same"—was one of the mottoes of Queen Elizabeth; also adopted by Queens Mary and Anne.

"PROUD AND GLAD"

Because Mother Looked So Well After Quitting Coffee.

An Ohio woman was almost distracted with coffee dyspepsia and heart trouble.

Like thousands of others, the drug—caffeine—in coffee was slowly but steadily undermining her nervous system and interfering with natural digestion of food. (Tea is just as injurious as coffee because it contains caffeine, the poisonous drug found in coffee.)

"For 30 years," she writes, "I have used coffee. Have always been sickly—had heart trouble and dyspepsia with ulcers in stomach and mouth so bad, sometimes, I was almost distracted and could hardly eat a thing for a week.

"I could not sleep for nervousness, and when I would lie down at night I'd belch up coffee and my heart would trouble me. It was like poison to me. I was thin—only weighed 125 lbs., when I quit coffee and began to use Postum.

"From the first day that belching and burning in my stomach stopped. I could sleep as soundly as anyone and, after the first month, whenever I met any friends they would ask me what was making me so fleshy and looking so well.

"Sometimes, before I could answer quick enough, one of the children or my husband would say, 'Why, that is what Postum is doing for her'—they were all so proud and glad.

"When I recommend it to anyone I always tell them to follow directions in making Postum, as it is not good to taste if weak, but fine when it has the flavor and rich brown color." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

NATIONAL CAPITAL AFFAIRS

Suggests the Mounting of American Boy Scouts

WASHINGTON.—Curtis Guild, Jr., American ambassador to St. Petersburg, desires to see mounted boy scouts. He believes the United States government should furnish ponies for the boys, give them instruction in horseback riding and train them in skill in riding and develop their hardiness.

He outlines his plan in a letter to the state department, which has been referred to James E. West, chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America. West is enthusiastic over the scheme. The scout leaders are taking the matter up with Ambassador Guild and the officials in Washington.

Ambassador Guild got his inspiration from seeing 70 Cossack boys drill before the czar last spring. "At recent events," he writes, "in the presence of the emperor at Krasnoe Selo, there was one thing of particular importance as it opened a new vista of the possibilities of the boy scout movement.

"Early in May some Cossack boys, ranging in age from eleven to fourteen years, left their villages and assembled at Lepsinsk, mounted on small and rough but hardy ponies. They marched 500 miles across country to Kabul-Sai on the Tashkent railroad where they entrained for St. Petersburg toward the end of July.

"Arriving in St. Petersburg, the 70 boys rode around the city seeing the sights for several days, and they were then given a place in the grand review. The next day they gave a special drill before the emperor. The drill consisted of a little troop work in close order, of the Cossack exercises in the saddle with the pony at full speed, and ended with all the boys standing in their saddles, advancing in line and singing their native songs.

"It was difficult to say who enjoyed it the most, the few spectators or the boys themselves. It made a very pretty sight and the thought at once occurred to me: Why, if Russia can do this much for its boys, cannot America at least do as well for its sons?

"Would it not be possible out of the vast annual expenditures to devote a few dollars as a reward to some small troop of boy scouts—to equip them temporarily with the few things needed by a troop of boys, to give them a trip to Washington and let them see the president?

"The horse and all that pertains thereto is fast being forgotten by the people at large. Is it not worth while to again instill the love of riding?"

Washington's Sewerage System Pronounced Best.

WASHINGTON'S sewerage system has been pronounced the finest in the world by a party, including some of the foremost sanitary engineers. This party, which included Dr. John Watson, chief sanitary engineer of Birmingham, England, and formerly chief sanitary engineer of Toronto; Dr. George W. Fuller of New York, author of the standard work on sewerage systems; Dr. Soper, president of the Metropolitan Drainage commission of New York City, and James C. Webster, chief sanitary engineer of Philadelphia, were escorted over the system by Superintendent Ash E. Phillips just at the close of the Congress of Hygiene and Demography. It was the unanimous opinion of this party that no city had a better system except the German municipalities, which were considered to be a model in this regard. Washington is underlaid by 600 miles of subterranean rivers, an average of nearly nine miles of river to every square mile of land. These are really underground rivers, because they take off the flowage from a half dozen or so streams which used to drain through what is now the central portion of the city. In addition, they handle all the drainage from Washington houses and all the immense amount of rain that falls annually in the District. The system was started in 1810, when an initial appropriation of $120 was granted for that purpose. The present sewerage system has so far cost $12,000,000 and the annual expenditure for sewerage runs about $350,000, and the annual increase in mileage is about 25 miles. To get rid of mosquito breeding, all of the catch basins, of which there are about 5,000, are thoroughly flushed biweekly, and then dosed with mosquito oil during the season. It is estimated that the average cost for this treatment is about six cents a basin. In the hot dry season these basins, uncared for in other cities, hold water and offer breeding places for bugs, mosquitoes and other insects. Washington can well feel proud of the splendid reputation for her sewerage system given by these eminent scientists.

Uncle Sam Makes It Much Easier to Secure a Farm

GENEROUS Uncle Sam who for over a century has been giving away homesteads in the west through his general land office here, has decided that in order to make these lands more attractive to the prospective settlers he must make some concessions which will render them easier to acquire. As a result of the constant granting of homestead tracts, ranging from 40 to 320 acres, since the enactment of the homestead act of 1862, during which time the government has given away gratis more than 122,546,355 acres in final homestead entries, the land office has found it had on its hands lands less suitable for cultivation and farming purposes than in former years, and consequently fewer applications for homesteads.

According to the latest report of the land office there still remain to be disposed of in homestead, timber, coal, mineral and stone lands 695,461,259 acres, situated in what are commonly known as public land states. About one-quarter of these lands have been surveyed.

In order, then, to induce entries on the remaining lands, congress recently passed a law providing that certain restrictions on these entries in the way of cultivation, residence, etc., be moderated so that settlers would find it less difficult to live up to the specifications set forth in homestead laws. One of the most attractive features of the new law is the three-year residence clause. This provides that in order to entitle a person to a patent upon a homestead it must be shown that he has resided on the farm for three years. Honorably discharged soldiers and sailors are entitled to claim credit for the period of service, after they have resided upon, improved and cultivated the land for a period of at least one year.

Railroad Puts Engine in the City Fire Service

ONE of the big railroads having terminals here has equipped a locomotive with modern fire-fighting apparatus and put it in commission to assist the district firemen in extinguishing flames in the railroad yards, particularly near New Jersey and Virginia avenue.

Because of the high speed of which the engine is capable and the fact that it has right of way all the time, its service will be invaluable, as has already been shown by its efficiency in putting out small flames in the yards without the assistance of the municipal department. The excellent switch-board service, operated from the towers, can give it right of way with scarcely any delay.

The primary use of the engine will be in the yards, but it can be brought to the Union station or elsewhere along the road if necessary. The terminal has been so constructed that water can be reached at any point in the yards.

This is not an innovation, as the road has equipped a large number of similar engines. In many places they have grown more efficient than the fire department and are called upon to do most of the work. No fewer than 150 fires have been extinguished by the locomotive fire engines in the various yards and stations of the company.

The railroad has a special organization which becomes effective whenever a fire breaks out. The assistant chief yardmaster acts as chief of the department; he gives general directions in case of a fire and conducts drill from time to time.

BABY'S HAPPINESS DEPENDS ON HEALTH

When your baby is cross and fretful instead of the happy, laughing little darling you are accustomed to, in all probability the digestion has become disarranged and the bowels need attention. Give it a mild laxative, dispel the irritability, and bring back the happy content of babyhood.

The mother should make sure that the laxative used contains no opiate or narcotic drug. A mild, pleasant-tasting, harmless laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is ideal for children because of its natural composition and gentle action. A small dose of Syrup Pepsin at bedtime will bring easy, certain relief next morning, and with no distressful griping or other discomfort. You can get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store. Your name and address on a postal to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 203 West St., Monticello, Ill., will bring a free trial bottle by return mail. Adv.

THE BEST TREATMENT FOR ITCHING SCALPS, DANDRUFF AND FALLING HAIR

To allay itching and irritation of the scalp, prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove crusts, scales and dandruff, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, the following special treatment is most effective, agreeable and economical. On retiring, comb the hair out straight all around, then begin at the side and make a parting, gently rubbing Cuticura ointment into the parting with a bit of soft flannel held over the end of the finger. Anoint additional partings about half an inch apart until the whole scalp has been treated, the purpose being to get the Cuticura Ointment on the scalp skin rather than on the hair. It is well to place a light covering over the hair to protect the pillow from possible stain. The next morning, shampoo with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Shampoos alone may be used as often as agreeable, but once or twice a month is generally sufficient for this special treatment for women's hair.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston." Adv.

"Well, why in the world don't you let him study for himself?"

His Finish.

"I saw the smartest thing today," began Miss Passay, coyly. "It was a painting of the—er—what's the name of that little god that represents matrimony?"

"Well, now," said Mr. Timmid, "you've got me."

"Oh, Mr. Timmid, this is so sudden."

Human Nature.

Socrates used to say, that if any crier made proclamation in the theatre, "Stand up cobblers!" "Stand up, weavers!" etc., only those named would do so; but if "stand up, men of sense!" were the order, not one would remain sitting. The most damaging mistake in life, he added, is this, that the majority are fools, and yet believe themselves to be wise."

The Frogs and the Bulls.

A frog one day sitting at the edge of a pond, saw two bulls fighting in a meadow. He cried to his companion: "Look at that dreadful fight! What will become of us?"

"Do not frighten yourself," replied the other. "How can their quarrels affect us? They are quite different from us in every way."

"Perhaps," said the first frog, "their life is different from ours; but, as one of them will certainly get the better of the other, he who is beaten will take refuge here in the marshes and perhaps tread upon some of us. You see, therefore, we are more concerned in their quarrel than you think."

When the rich quarrel the poor are usually the greatest sufferers.

As He Understood It.

A young Canadian came to Washington last winter and was making a social call upon a very pretty young woman whom he met for the first time.

"Do you have reindeer in Canada?" asked the young lady.

"No, darling," he answered, "at this season it always snows."

The Minister's Usefulness.

Among the members of a fashionable country club of Washington are a doctor and a minister, who delight in the exchange of repartee touching their respective professions.

As they met one day, the minister observed that he was "going to read to old Cunningham," adding (as he was aware that the old man was a patient of his friend, the doctor), "Is he much worse?"

With the gravest of expressions, the physician replied:

"He needs your help more than mine."

Off his guard, the minister exclaimed anxiously: "Poor fellow! Is it as bad as that?"

"Yes, he is suffering from insomnia."

It Is Coming Our Way!

Carrizozo-Roswell Daily

Auto Mail Route Is Let

F. M. Farnsworth of Roswell Gets the Contract

THE Carrizozo-Roswell daily automobile mail contract has been awarded to F. M. Farnsworth of Roswell.

Late today Postmaster A. J. Rolland received a telephone message from F. M. Farnsworth of Roswell that he had been awarded the contract for a daily automobile mail service between Carrizozo and Roswell.

There were no further particulars as to the amount of the contract, etc., but the fact that we are to have the service is a pretty big thing in itself.

Postmaster Rolland said to THE NEWS in connection with the information: "I believe every statement used as an argument in the petition for the route was based on the facts and that the benefits to come to Carrizozo and Lincoln county from this improved mail service will be inestimable, not only from the better mail facilities, but by putting us squarely on the great 'Borderland Route.'"

"I believe it will bring to Carrizozo thousands of tourist autos, and thousands of dollars as well. It will help more than almost any one agency to forward the interests of the town and county along the line of development of our resources, and the class of people who will use the 'Borderland Route' are the kind who make investments when they see a good thing.

"No, I have no information as to when the service will begin, but as Mr. Farnsworth is entirely equipped with autos and it will take but a short time to arrange necessary details, it will not be very long I believe."

According to the Postoffice Department advertisement calling for bids, the contract will provide for a service leaving both Carrizozo and Roswell daily, probably early in the morning and arriving about 2:30 or 3 o'clock p. m.

When Mr. Farnsworth was here he said that in case he secured the contract he would make ample provision for passenger service, and it is expected there will be a heavy travel, as it will open a direct route between Roswell and El Paso.

Partial arrangements were made tentatively by the contractor when here for garage and repair work, with headquarters at the C. A. Stevens livery barn and it is supposed Mr. Stevens will have charge of this end.

The Ladies' Aid Society of White Oaks will hold a Christmas Bazaar in the bowling alley building in that village on Tuesday evening, Dec. 17. They will offer many articles for sale suitable for Christmas presents.

Make your boy happy by buying an "Uncle Sam" watch—price $1.00. A. F. ROSELLE.

Kelley & Sons Fixing Up for Xmas

THE enterprising firm of Kelley & Sons has been making great preparations for the holiday trade and now have one of the choicest stocks of fine furniture, carpets, etc., that was ever brought to Carrizozo. It would be hard to please any one who could not select some suitable Xmas present from their splendid stock. They have recently put in a patent rug hanger, enabling them to exhibit their fine collection of rugs in the most modern way. This week they were presenting their patrons with one of the handsomest calendars they have ever issued. They are certainly attractive.

Road Commissioners to Meet

THE recently appointed Lincoln county road commissioners will meet at the office of County Superintendent of Schools, Mrs. W. L. Gumm, in the city next Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, to organize and lay out and consider plans in detail for road work in the county the coming year.

At an informal meeting some time ago it was decided to leave county road matters in the hands of the road supervisors until January 1.

The new road commissioners are Dr. J. W. Laws, Paul Mayer and Jose M. Vega.

Fine Turkey Given Away

ON December 23, Lee & Wingfield propose to make some one of their many customers happy with a present of a fine dressed turkey. All the customers of the City Meat Market are invited to call at the market at 2 o'clock p. m. on Monday December 23, and participate in the drawing—the lucky number taking the turkey. There is no charge for numbers whatever—it's just a Christmas present. The increase in the market business since the firm moved to their new quarters has been very gratifying, and the free turkey is simply an expression of their appreciation. [Adv.]

Just arrived, carload of California potatoes. $1.75 per cwt. Special price on 500 lbs. or more. ZIEGLER BROS.

M. E. Church Christmas Tree

THE announcements for the big Christmas tree and program at the M. E. church on Christmas Eve, are progressing nicely and many a youngster's heart will be gladdened by the event. Mrs. J. F. Kimbell did some mighty effective work this week with a subscription paper, meeting with a liberal response and raising in the neighborhood of $50.00, to help carry out the plans and insure every little one some remembrance of the happy season.

We are again requested to announce that a cordial invitation is extended to all to join in, and bring their presents and hang them on the tree—whether affiliated with the church and Sunday school or not. The committee want to be sure that every youngster in Carrizozo gets a happy hour.

We have just received the largest and best selected stock of furniture, rugs, granite ware, etc., ever shown in Carrizozo. You can select a Christmas present here that will be worth while. d13-tf KELLEY & SONS.

Dr. R. T. Lucas and Mrs. Lucas made a brief visit to the Pass City Monday. The doctor went down with J. H. Yant, a native West of Virginia, suffering with a hopeless case of tuberculosis, and who has been here for some weeks. Mr. Yant has been gradually growing weaker lately and was taken to a hospital in El Paso.

H. F. Jones, teaching the Alto school, writes that the Alto and Angus schools are to join in a Christmas tree and program at the Angus school house on Christmas Eve. There will be entertainers and recitations by the pupils of both schools and everybody is to have a regular old Merry Christmas time of it—with all the world invited. We sincerely hope everybody will have the happiest time possible.

Notice

All parties indebted to me for services and drugs are requested to call at once and settle such accounts with my son, M. B. Paden, who has charge of my accounts during my absence.

BACKACHE "GETS ON THE NERVES"

Many who suffer from backache and weak kidneys are unnaturally irritable, fretful and nervous. Not only does constant backache "get on the nerves", but bad kidneys fail to eliminate all the uric acid from the system, and uric acid irritates the nerves, keeping you "on edge" and causing rheumatic, neuralgic pains. Doan's Kidney Pills cure these ills by curing the kidneys. Here's proof:

A California Case:

Mrs. E. Walsh, 1448 Tenth Avenue, San Francisco, Cal., says: "I had pain sharp, shooting pains through my kidneys it seemed that a knife were being thrust into me. My back was so lame I could hardly stoop. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me after others failed. I have had no trouble since."

BABY'S HAPPINESS DEPENDS ON HEALTH

When your baby is cross and fretful instead of the happy, laughing little one dear you are accustomed to, in all probability the digestion has become disarranged and the bowels need attention. Give it a mild laxative, dispel the irritability, and bring back the happy content of babyhood.

The mother should make sure that the laxative used contains no opiate or narcotic drug. A mild, pleasant tasting, harmless laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is ideal for children because of its natural composition and gentle action. A small dose of Syrup Pepsin at bedtime will bring easy, certain relief next morning, and with no distressful griping or other discomfort. You can get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store. The Christmas Contest

ONLY a little child or a poet could have written some of the answers to THE NEWS Christmas Contest Queries—with the beautiful conception of the glad Christmastide spirit they convey.

Already THE NEWS feels that the effort in carrying on the contest has been well repaid. It is not envious of the work before the judges in awarding the presents. We had something of a task in getting just the right names on the list of judges, the idea being to secure men of good qualifications, who were not interested from the standpoint of having little folks of their own in the contest. As you read the names below you will know that we have succeeded and that the work of judging will be well and impartially carried out. Those who will serve are:

THE JUDGES

Hon. A. A. Hudspeth of White Oaks.

Rev. R. B. Evans of Carrizozo.

A. J. Rolland of Carrizozo.

Hon. George B. Barber of Lincoln.

Wm F. Whittingham of Carrizozo.

Teachers and pupils must remember that all replies must be in by Tuesday, December 17. The contest winners will not be announced until Friday, December 20—in the regular issue of THE NEWS on that date. This gives the judges two full days to go over the several hundred replies received and give them careful consideration, and also gives us time to put the last answers that come in print, which we will do, in accord with our promise to print them all in THE NEWS.

This week we give another big lot of replies from several of the county schools, starting with

Made It a Tie

P. C. BAIRD, who lived in Carrizozo a number of years, was a well known citizen of the county and who returned to his old home, in Mason county, Texas, had a somewhat novel experience at the recent election. He was a candidate for sheriff, making the race on an independent ticket, and when the count was completed it was found that he and his democratic opponent had made a dead heat—a tie. The race resulting in a tie, necessitates a special election to settle the question; one has been called for December 21, and the fur has begun to fly.

Conductor Whittingham Resumes Work

W. F. WHITTINGHAM and wife returned Saturday night from their trip to El Paso, where Mr. Whittingham went to adjust matters with the Southwestern system in regard to the accident to his foot, which happened nearly a year since, and from the effects of which he has been unable to report for duty until recently.

Mr. Whittingham came home well pleased with the adjustment with the railroad company and will resume his duties as a conductor on the road in a few days. He has nothing but praise for the liberal manner in which the Southwestern people met his claim, and this is in accord with their usual reputation in such matters. Mr. Whittingham's many friends will be pleased to know that he is entirely recovered and able to resume his duties.

Consider New Mexico! Consider Lincoln County! Consider Carrizozo!

Consider that it is freely predicted by experts that they believe we can easily secure artesian water in many of the rich valleys of the county.

Consider that we now ship in nine-tenths of the butter, eggs, fruit, vegetables, flour and feed we consume.

Consider that our lands are very low in price and that they can be bought on easy terms to actual settlers.

Consider that the health of the county is such that there are fewer doctors needed in proportion to population than any similar county in the country.

Consider that in every line of endeavor opportunities are open; prosperity and success await honest and intelligent effort on every hand.

Consider that our citizens are establishing a high class experiment farm to demonstrate to all what our soils will produce.

Consider every other section of the southwest and compare conditions and you will settle in Lincoln county.

Consider that in a brief synopsis like this the half cannot be told.

Consider that there are several good towns, starting at the north line with Corona, Holloway, Ancho, Carrizozo and Oscura on the railway; Capitan on the branch road; Lincoln, White Oaks, Nogal, Arabela and others just off the railroad.

Consider that they are all surrounded with rich, undeveloped natural resources and all invite settlers and capital.

Consider that Carrizozo is the division point on the El Paso & Southwestern, with a monthly pay roll of thousands of dollars.

Consider that a hearty welcome awaits the industrious newcomer to any part of the county.

Consider that it only takes a penny post card to send your name to Arthur J. Rolland, Secretary of the Lincoln County Development Association, Carrizozo; or W. J. Doering, Secretary of the Carrizozo Commercial Club, Carrizozo, and get detailed information.

"Probably that car conductor or porter took the money and destroyed the stock. It is a poor comment on human nature to wind up a story this way, but that's the end."

A Lesson in Intelligent Boosting

from a hundred hillsides—ever widening the stream and giving it greater force.

Back of it all, of course, rests the real assets and substantial foundation of fertile soil, healthy climate and ample water. But in no one or all of these essentials does Deming really surpass any one of perhaps a hundred sections of our great Sunshine State—and most certainly not the beautiful and fertile Carrizozo Valley. In point of fact there are many things of striking similarity between the two communities. It is freely admitted that in point of artificial, man-made advantages Deming surpasses us—but as to natural resources we are strong in the belief that no community on the big footstool has any advantage over our beautiful valley.

We believe we can do here all that is being done by Deming and the Mimbres Valley folk—they are the same sort of human clay as our citizenship. They started there with greater handicaps than we have ever had here. They simply "came alive" and then stuck to it. And the eternal sticking to it is the biggest counter in the game.

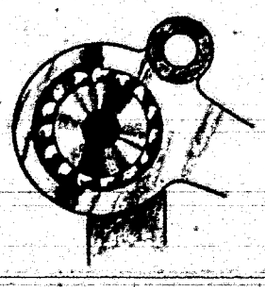
L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter
(Ball Bearing—Long Wearing)

In buying a typewriter you want a satisfactory answer to three questions:
What will it do for me?
How well will it do it?
How long will it do it?

By answering these queries with the needs of the typewriter owner and user in mind, the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter Company has attained the front rank in the typewriter field.

Some people think that a typewriter is a typewriter and that is all there is to it. Machines may look alike but there is a lot of difference in efficiency.



The new Model Five is built not only for straight correspondence but for tabulating, billing and in fact for every service needed in the average business.

Its ball bearings at all points where friction developes through action, permit close adjustment and insure correct and accurate typewriting.

What They're Up to in Three Wideawake Lincoln County Communities

JICARILLA

Joe Ross and family arrived here from Mountainair a few days ago. Mr. Ross still owns considerable mining property here.

Samuel Wells of White Oaks precinct came through enroute to Ancho with a load of apples, the last of the week.

Mr. Phil Reasoner and son are getting in some good work on their several claims here. They uncovered some fine looking copper ore on the Richmond a few days ago.

Since Thursday we have experienced the most severe blizzard for years. Snow is drifted two and three feet, making it difficult to estimate the actual depth on a level. A cold east wind accompanied the snow.

Ed Wilson finished the drilling on the new well a week ago. Having a fine flow of water at the depth of one hundred and four feet.

Mrs. E. H. Talbert entertained a few friends at dinner on Thanksgiving Day.

Col. T. W. Stonewall is getting his business in shape to commence his annual work over at Leadville.

Before the storm there were several men working at different points in camp in the placer fields. The snow has kindly covered over all their anticipations and disappointments.

Theo Tompkins contemplates a trip to Albuquerque in the near future.

W. W. Fitchpatrick came in for supplies, the last of the week, from his camp in Aspers caffon.

Arley Stuart returned to camp last week, after visiting friends in Mitchell county, Texas, several months.

CORONA

R. L. Willingham came from the Ranch on business the first of the week.

Rev. Herbert Haywood has been preaching to very attentive audiences for the past ten days. Sister Haywood was with us for some days singing those gospel songs in her own inimitable way. We hope to have her again soon.

Rev. E. B. Atwood, secretary to the Baptist Board of the State, of Albuquerque, came to Corona on the 10th and assisted Brother Haywood in organizing a church. We are hopeful for the future of this church.

J. W. Owens was in from the ranch Monday on business.

Messrs. Holzman & Johnson have finished taking stock and turned the entire stock of goods to Mr. Molten with Mr. Varney as the bookkeeper.

T. S. Olds has gone to El Paso and other southern points on a business trip.

United States Recruiting Officers were here the past week, but did not recruit any of our boys.

Lois Clements, daughter of G. C. Clements, has been very sick for several days.

School has been just a little short for a few days on account of the snow storm.

P. G. Hill loaded out several cars of cheep this week.

We can feel the Christmas spirit in the air and see the signs at the stores. Judging from the popping of fire crackers, etc., one might think the 4th of July was near instead of Xmas.

ANCHO

Sam Fambrough's brother and family have come to Ancho to make their home, arriving last Monday. They brought a carload of household goods. For the present they will occupy one of the Choate houses, which is about three miles from town. The two young ladies, Misses Vina and Mabel Fambrough, have enrolled in school.

Mrs. Drusa Moran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B Perkins, accompanied by her little daughter, Louise, arrived in Ancho this morning from Sayre, Oklahoma. They will spend Christmas here Master Lawrence Lavoqne, formerly of Chicago, arrived in Ancho one day last week. He has come to make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Tickner. He is 13 years of age, and a nice little fellow. Miss Mabel Tickner, who is teaching in Chicago, met Lawrence there and prevailed on him to come and live with her father and mother who were alone. He is lot of company for the old people in the absence of both of their children, Misses Mabel and Edith.

Another party. This time it was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pick Warden. Everybody says it was the most enjoyable affair of the season. "Candy pulling"—every fellow with his best girl—was the main feature. Music by the graphaphone and games of every description were played until late hour, when a big wagon and team, with its driver, appeared at the door to convey a load of the "party folks" back to their several homes in Ancho, a distance of about three miles. We wish to render Mr. and Mrs. Warden a vote of thanks for the pleasant evening afforded us. We wonder when it can be repeated?

A pleasant time was reported at the dance at Mr. and Mrs. Sam Woods' last Saturday night.

Plenty of ice cream in Ancho these days and cheap too, since we don't have to buy the ice. All you have to do is to get a bowl of cream, sweeten it and flavor it, then stir in snow until it is the consistency of ice cream. Fine!

The bright sunshine on this beautiful white snow gives the whole country the appearence of being literally covered with diamonds. It is perfectly magnificent!

Our school is improving every day. New pupils this week, and the teachers say that it is a difficult proposition to seat them all now. We learn that there is a nice program being prepared for the Christmas holidays.

Miss Edith Tickner has accepted a position in the Corona schools. She will be there about five months.

The News' Weekly Lay Sermon

NO task in itself is holy. The spirit of the d ed is everything. Some day the whirling spindles of industry will sing a hallelujah chorus more acceptable to God than any yet rendered in vaulted temples by vested choirs. Every business transaction may be in the truest sense a distinct contribution to the happiness of the race, and therefore close akin to worship and prayer.—Rev. William J. Williamson.

Carrizozo Sketches

HE is pretty well known now and has a host of good friends in town one of whom told me this little incident which happened several years ago shortly after he came to Carrizozo.

He was clerking in a well known store, with a pretty good Spanish-American trade, and he early saw the wisdom of picking up the Spanish. Every time the chance showed up he availed himself of it to get familiar with the Spanish names of the stock. He got "frijoles," and "azucar," "huevas" and "arina," "arroz," and "jamon," down pretty fine, and the boys say he was won't to go out in the warehouse during dull hours for a bit of practice on pronunciation.

Every Spanish-American who came in he'd tackle. One morning a rather hopeful specimen dropped in.

"Good morning," said our friend, cheerily. "Anything this morning?"

Slowly the Mexican looked him over, nodded once or twice and drawled out "Buenos dias, Senor."

He knew he'd heard the words, but he couldn't exactly place them. He looked over the shelves to see if his eyes could help him out, but was obliged to give it up. Moving over to one of the older men in the store he asked:

"Charley, where the deuce is the 'way-nees-dees?' I've forgotten where I did see it."

Senator T. B. Catron Here

SENATOR T. B. CATRON was in Carrizozo Wednesday. He came up from El Paso on his way to Washington from Los Angeles, Calif., where, with Senators Chamberlain of Oregon and Jones of Washington, he was on the committee investigating the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle. He stopped over and made a trip to Capitan with E. B Welch of Welch & Titsworth to attend to some private matters.

On hearing that the Senator was at the Gurney House a delegation of citizen, including President A. J. Rolland of the Carrizozo Commercial Club, F. J. Sager, F. W. Gurney, Lee B Chase, John A. Haley, Sam F. Miller, H. B Hamilton, J. D Wilson and others, called to present their respects and urge the Senator to make a special effort for the proposed daily automobile route between Carrizozo and Roswell.

About an hour was spent in conference with Mr. Catron and he willingly consented to take the matter up with the Postoffice Department, taking action at once by telegraphing the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General urging favorable action on an automobile route. The Senator very kindly gave THE NEWS an interesting interview on the work of the extra session and the political situation, which will be given in our next issue.

The Senator left for Washington on No. 2 Wednesday evening.

Fine Christmas Fruit

WALTER L GUMM is this week delivering a lot of specially ordered boxes of Lincoln county Johnathan apples to local customers that are as near perfect fruit as can be grown anywhere. He came in from the packing camp, having suspend edoperations until after the holidays. He is getting $2.50 per box for the fruit he is delivering—and it looks worth $5 00. He still has quite a quantity to ship out.

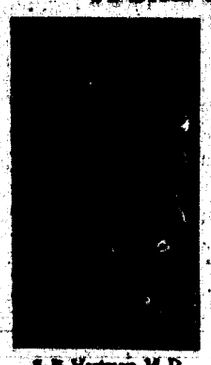
A Sick Man



S. B. Hartman, M.D.

Writes Dr. Hartman About Kidney Disease.

A gentleman writes me: "I was greatly interested in your article describing the Kauffman case of serious disease of the kidneys. The description of his case exactly outlines my condition. I am sure if Peruna cured him as you say, it would cure me also. I am losing flesh rapidly and the doctors say I have every symptom of Bright's disease of the kidneys. If you think I would be benefited by Peruna I will certainly try some as the doctors have practically given me up, the same as they did him."

In reply I wish to say, first, that I never make any promises as to what Peruna will cure. No physician can make positive statements of that sort. I can say this much, however, if I were in your place I should certainly give Peruna a trial. I know of no other remedy that would be so likely to be of use to you in your present condition as Peruna. Take a tablespoonful before each meal and at bedtime. Continue this for two or three weeks and then if there is anything you wish to ask me further write me and I will give your letter prompt attention.

If I find that the Peruna is not helping you I will be perfectly frank and tell you so, for I would not have you take Peruna unless it was really helping you. But it has rescued so many cases of kidney disease that I am quite confident you will find it exactly suited to your case.

Kidney disease begins with catarrh of the kidneys. Peruna is a catarrh remedy. Unless the destruction of the kidneys is already too great Peruna relieves the catarrh and the cause of the kidney disease is removed.

I shall anxiously await a report of your case. Remember, all letters are sacredly confidential. I never use any one's name or address without his written consent. My correspondence is absolutely private.

Pe-ru-na, Man-a-lin and La-cu-pla manufactured by the Pe-ru-na company, Columbus, Ohio. Sold at all drug stores.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Many persons inquire for The Old-time Peruna. They want the Peruna that their Fathers and Mothers used to take. The old Peruna is now called Katarno. If your druggist or dealer does not keep it for sale write the Katarno Company, Columbus, Ohio, and they will tell you all about it.

Fashion's Fancies

SMART EVENING COATS

MAGNIFICENCE OF MATERIAL IS UNPRECEDENTED.

Will Last Long, but Are Extremely Costly at the Present Moment—Velvet in Particular Form Is Extremely Popular.

There is always a peculiar seductiveness about a fine wrap, and now this charm is more bewildering than ever, for every point of the elegant garment strives for grace and beauty. As for textures, you can imagine how grand they are when I tell you that some of the more exquisite coatings for evening use are marked as high as forty dollars a yard, while such prices as twenty-five dollars and thirty dollars are as common as if every woman had her pockets lined with gold. However, the fabrics have a lifetime quality, for some are in substantial silks so interwoven with gold and silver threads as to suggest the absolute defiance of time. For a long period, at least, bits of such materials will endure, and when they are looked at in the years to come everybody will marvel at the magnificence of our time. For, of course, there must be a revulsion of feeling at last, and then we will come down to the most countrified simplicities. The present grandeurs are ascribed to the needs of the manufacturers, who, seeing no way of getting women to use more material, have happened upon the lucrative notion of making textures more splendid.

One of the loveliest fabrics for both evening and fine day coats is cut velvet, which is now shown with gauze background, the texture falling as softly as veiling, and yet looking warm and permitting rich fur edges.

But to return to the coat of dinky cut which is so popular now, and which always offers a splendid idea for the top garment of a tailored suit in one fabric; for it is the difference between the coat and skirt materials which makes this model trying to most figures. The style is shown by the figure illustrated, the material being a tan wool ratine and the trimming black panne velvet. As a one-piece dress of black panne is worn with this garment it is here presented in its most aristocratic phase, and the get-up is admirably topped by a very dashing hat of black panne and yellow and black paradise plumes.

Ready made, a coat in this style can be had from fifteen dollars up. Woolly coatings in two colors, wide wale serge coating, wool cheviot, chinchilla, etc., are some of the practical materials. If the garment is to be made at home it can be varied as the type needs, and if the dressmaker wants a very swagger coat cut for a stout suit of corduroy or serge she could do no better than to use this model. If the coat get-up is to be for reception purposes, and there is every chance of its being as well the only garment for the theater, have the coat of velveteen and the dres of cloth in the same color. Taupe, in that very smart shade called eclipse, would be a splendid color for it, although many rich shades of plum are equally fashionable.

MARY DEAN.

FUR EDGING COMING BACK

Garniture That May Be Made Very Charming Is Returning to Popular Favor.

With our pretty round walking skirts fur edgings are coming very much to the fore again, although it must be owned that the fur is as often as not used with thin materials as it is with cloth and velvet.

For instance, there is a charming frock made of mousseline de soie in two tones, the top and upper part of the skirt which reaches half way to the knees, being carried out in rich emerald green, while the rest of the skirt is in snuff-colored mousseline de soie with a border of skunk. This is a very successful toilette, the color scheme being both original and pleasing, while the skunk lends it a special note of richness. In detail the gown is simplicity itself, the corsage joining neatly at the throat where there is a frill of fine lawn, while the sleeves are put into a seam just below the turn of the shoulders, and the fronts are fastened with crystal buttons set into little bows of dark brown velvet.

Soft New Porcelains.

Have you seen the fascinating Danish porcelains in soft gray and white that are being shown in interesting vases, candlesticks and fruit bowls?

One attractive piece that could do duty for flowers or fruit is a Danish peasant girl in her native costume, with quaint cap and sabots. Her frock is gray, her apron, cap and sabots white. She leans gracefully forward, apparently walking, and drags beside her great baskets, each fully six inches in diameter, of plaited gray and white porcelain.

Besides the beauty of this vase, it permits delightful effects with short stemmed flowers, and is especially graceful as a center piece filled with purple and white grapes, or blue plums and green gages.

CARE OF THE CANDLE SHADE

Lace Covers May Easily Be Arranged So That Laundering Work Will Not Be Hard.

Keep the lace covers on candle shades separate from the lining so they can be laundered easily. They are quickly tacked to the linen or silk lining with bead fringe and mica lined, that comes in various shades of green, white, pink, blue, red and yellow and costs about 40 cents apiece, according to the New York Times.

Another cover for these linings is the lingerie one made of sheer white linen, embroidered in mercerized cotton in eyelet designs. A distinctive set has a fine buttonholed scallop at top and bottom, a bunch of conventional forget-me-nots at one side and on the other a medallion in eyelet work with the monogram of the owner done in raised satin stich within.

A popular shade is made of overlapping silk petals with bead fringe. These come in green, yellow, red, old rose, blue and pink. The same shades can be found in the electric shade made to fit sixteen-candlepower bulbs.

USE FOR RIBBON REMNANTS

Make Attractive Serviette Bands When They Are Carefully Put Together.

Small ribbon remnants have a knack of collecting in large numbers, and it is not easy to find useful purposes to which they may be put. One good way in which pieces of strong ribbon about seven inches in length and two inches in width may be utilized is the making of serviette bands to take the place of the ordinary rings. In the accompanying sketch we show a band of this kind, and the ribbon should be cut into a point at one end, lined with sateen and bound at the edges with narrow ribbon, or a fine silk cord may take its place if preferred. It can be made to fasten either with a small button or buttonhole, or a snap fastener cut from an old glove may be used.

An initial or number can be worked in the center of the band in some strongly contrasting shade of color.

The upper sketch shows the band spread out perfectly flat, and in the lower illustration it is shown bent into shape and fastened together.

As these little articles can be easily made at a very trifling cost, they should not be forgotten at those times set aside for preparing work for bazars.

IN THESE DAYS OF DIVORCES

Really Nothing Remarkable in the Simple and Frank Explanation of the Small Boy.

We were walking down the street Sunday and we saw the most beautiful child sitting on the front steps of a pretty house, says Ted Robinson. His eyes were so big and blue, his curly head so golden, his innocent smile so frank and inviting that we could not resist the temptation to enter into conversation with him.

"Well, son," we said in the idiotically genial way with which an adult usually addresses a child, "how old are you?"

"Four," lisped the infant. (He didn't really lisp it, because you can't lisp when you say four; but that's the way children are supposed to do.)

"Isn't that fine!" (It would have been just as fine if he'd been three, though, or five. More idiocy.) "And whose little boy are you?"

"Mamma's li'l boy."

"Aren't you papa's little boy, too?"

"Nope."

"Why aren't you papa's little boy?"

"The decree gimme to mamma."

Then we went on our pleasant way.—Savannah Morning News.

A CLERGYMAN'S TESTIMONY.

The Rev. Edmund Heslop of Wigton, Pa., suffered from Dropsy for a year. His limbs and feet were swollen and puffed. He had heart fluttering, was dizzy and exhausted at the least exertion. Hands and feet were cold and he had such a dragging sensation across the loins that it was difficult to move. After using 5 boxes of Dodds Kidney Pills the swelling disappeared and he felt himself again. He says he has been benefited and blessed by the use of Dodds Kidney Pills. Several months later he wrote: I have not changed my faith in your remedy since the above statement was authorized. Correspond with Rev. E. Heslop about this wonderful remedy.

Fable for Borrowers.

An Arab went to his neighbor and said: "Lend me your rope."

"I can't," said the neighbor.

"Why can't you?"

"Because I want to use the rope myself."

"For what purpose?" the other persisted.

"I want to tie up five cubic feet of water with it."

"How on earth," sneered the would-be borrower, "can you tie up water with a rope?"

"My friend," said the neighbor, "Allah is great and he permits us to do strange things with a rope when we don't want to lend it."—Boston Evening Transcript.

Situation Vacant.

The rich bachelor sighed and looked fixedly at the beautiful girl.

"Things with me," he said, "are at sixes and sevens. I feel the great need of a woman in my home—one who would straighten out my tangled affairs and make life worth living once again.

Her soft glance spoke her excitement and expectation.

"Yes?" she queried gently.

"Do you know," he continued, "of any good, able-bodied woman whom I could get to clean the house?"

Accepts the Rebuke.

A resident of an English city has made himself a marked man by insisting on saying "nought" instead of "O" when he calls a telephone number having ciphers in it. The telephone operator usually corrects him when he says "three double naught" by saying "Three double O." The other night he called up central and said, "Hello," and the girl replied: "Hell-naught." He accepted meekly the "quiet rebuke."—Springfield Republican.

Clever Idea of Collector.

Here is a rare specimen of business humor, received the other day by a London firm. It ran;

"Our cashier fell unconscious at his desk this morning. Up to this time, 4 p. m., we have been unable to get a word out of him except your names. May we say to him, with a view to his immediate recovery, that we have your check, as we think that is what he has on his mind?"
