Oust 12 Kings in Eight Years

Overthrow of George of Greece, Latest Ruler to Lose His Crown.

London.—The sudden exile of George II of Greece marks the passing of the twelfth crown in Europe in eight years. One has only to call the roll, beginning with King Nicholas of Montenegro, who fled to Italy on January, 10, 1916, to realize how obsolete has become that phrase, "the divine right of kings."

Only a year ago the 28th of September George II ascended to the throne of Greece after his father had been forced to abdicate for the second time. But even in that brief period the former crown prince and his beautiful queen, Elizabeth, the daughter of Queen Marie of Rumania, have learned how hard it is to please any of the people very much of the time. On November 12 of this year the military Republican faction in Greece asked the king to take two months vacation. George failed to leave as quickly as desired and he later found it impossible to go and remained a prisoner in the palace.

Ever since 1832 Greece has had a turbulent time with her various kings, but the disease with which she is affected now seems to be a general European ailment.

Had Dream of Balkan Empire.

The abdication of Nicholas of Montenegro was in another way symbolic of the general situation in Europe. It represented the thwarting of his ambitions for a greater empire, in his case with Serbia in the Balkans, just as the motor car rush of the kaiser for Holland on the midnight of November 9, 1918, symbolized the wrecking of his dreams of world empire.

In August, 1910, Nicholas became sufficiently bold to take the title of king. Before then he had been archduke. He had been very popular and had taught his people to fight the Turk and how to work. For himself he learned how to play American poker, and this did not help the Montenegrin treasury to any extent.

After his overthrow he set up a court at Neuilly, near Paris, where he amused himself for some time and tried vainly to get back his crown. Nicholas had six beautiful daughters. Helena became queen of Italy. Another was the mother of Alexander of Serbia and another a Russian grand duchess. He died at Antibes, France, on March 1, 1921, after many vain attempts to recover his throne.

The story of the tragic ending of the czar of Russia's vacillating reign has been told so often and has in it so much of romance, adventure and intrigue that it is familiar to all. Nicholas II had reigned twenty years when the World war broke out. The revolution came in March, 1917.

Death of Russia's Czar.

The czar and his family then went into exile in Siberia. On his way from the capital he mentions in his diary: "Sentries and whole regiments I passed were silent and did not even salute. My spirit is heavy." Their failure to salute was an omen of the end, for the czar had forever lost his hold upon the people and from that time his wanderings did not cease. When he returned to Russia he was held by the Bolshevists.

With his wife and children Nicholas II was killed on the night of July 16, 1918, at Ekaterinburg. The Soviet government finally issued an official report of the arrest and slaying of the Romanoff family. Of the twelve monarchs who have lost their thrones the end of Czar Nicholas II is undoubtedly the most tragic of all.

Chronologically King Ferdinand of Bulgaria was the third ruler to lose his crown. During the World war he had managed to hold on to it with one hand and keep his sword in the other.

In 1918, however, this became increasingly difficult. Ferdinand had to devote both hands to his sword, and while doing so the Bulgarian regal bonnet skidded away.

Czar Ferdinand had held iron sway while it lasted. In September, 1918, he started hastily off for Coburg, taking enough of the family fortune to keep him in good spirits for the rest of his life. Prince Boris succeeded Ferdinand. Only a month later his abdication was reported, but Boris III is still on the Bulgarian throne.

With the defeat of the central powers in 1918 there was a grand exit of emperors, kings, thrones, crowns and scepters. The kaiser and Emperor Karl of Austria bowed themselves off the stage at about the same time. Then Friedrich August, king of Saxony, who had been ruling since October, 1904, was ousted from grace. On November 10, 1918, King Ludwig III renounced the throne of Bavaria. It required another couple of weeks for the venerable William II, king of Wurttemberg, to follow suit, but he did so on November 30. He insisted upon retaining the title of Duke of Wurttemberg, and lived at Bebenhausen castle, in the Black forest, most of the time after that until his death on October 2, 1921.

Bavarian Monarch Flees.

Emperor Karl of Austria went to Switzerland and made two unsuccessful attempts to regain his throne. These royalist revolutions resulted in the allies exiling him to Funchal, where he died in 1922.

Ludwig III of Bavaria took the throne in 1913 when his father, Luitpold, died. On the November day in 1918 that he renounced his throne his wife, Marie Theresa, who was princess royal of Hungary and Bohemia, died suddenly. This double calamity greatly affected Ludwig.

He fled with other royal members of his household to the Austrian Tyrol. He died at Salvar castle in Hungary in October, 1921.

The exit of King Friedrich August of Saxony was less dignified than the abdication of Ludwig. The Saxony monarch was forcibly deposed on Armistice day, 1918; with two grand dukes. The grand duke of Oldenburg, whose house dated back to 1063, and the grand duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, who had been on his throne since 1901, were both deprived of their thrones with Friedrich August.

With a new government and an attempt at independence King Fuad I took charge of Egyptian affairs early in 1922. Under his reign visitors in Egypt suffered more outrages than had occurred in many years. Independence had been proclaimed and a constitution adopted, but the country was more troubled than before. Finally, in November, 1922, the various parties united to oust the king. Fuad purchased a palace near the outskirts of Rome as a precautionary measure and was justified in his selection, for he was asked to abdicate.

A development which aroused much more interest was the dramatic abdication of Mahomet VI, sultan of Turkey, on November 17, 1922. In April, 1922, the sultan appealed to the Moslem world to ignore the divorcing of the sultanate and caliphate by the Angora government. But this did not stop the growth of the Angora party or the weakening of Mohammed's influence. Early on the morning of November 17, 1922, the sultan fled from his palace in Constantinople and placed himself under British care. He took passage to Malta on the British battleship Malaya and has been living in seclusion at San Remo.

The late King Constantine lost his crown twice since 1910. He ascended to the throne in March, 1913, but the spring of 1917 brought much trouble to the Greek king, who was closely tied up with the czar of his brother-in-law, the kaiser. On June 11 he was deposed by the allies and fled to Switzerland. A plebiscite was held in Greece in December, 1920, to determine whether Constantine should come back. He was recalled.

When Constantine returned to Athens from his exile he was given a tremendous ovation, and a great wave of popularity and patriotism followed. Reverses of the army in Asia Minor and its final defeat turned the tide against the king. He abdicated the second time on September 27, 1922, and he died the following January at Palermo, Sicily.

Official Inch Not Inch to Lumbermen

Washington, D. C.—How thick is an inch?" Lumbermen of the United States and representatives of the industries which use and distribute lumber decided, with Secretary of Commerce Hoover as referee, that in board an inch may be both 25-32 and 20-32 of the ordinary inch when the board is dressed ready for use.

For four years in a general way, and for the last 18 months in particular, lumber users and committees of the Department of Commerce and Forest Service have been trying to agree on how thick an inch board should be.

It is agreed that 25-32 is to be the standard thickness of an inch board and 20-32 an extra standard board.

He has been operating from his cell in the Charlestown, Mass., state prison and thus far he is ahead of the game.

New York Firm Makes New Pins From Old Ones

New York.—A company has been formed here for the purpose of refinishing used pins and restoring them to their original newness.

Not that representatives of the company are to patrol the streets gathering up discarded pins, but it is said that in some large dressmaking establishments the pin bill sometimes reaches as high as $1,500 annually.

Used only once the pins are removed and allowed to drop on the floor, where they are swept away. Even if gathered up at the close of the day the pins are too dirty to be used again on the fabrics. The company mentioned purposes to effect a saving in the pin item by taking all the used pins, cleaning and refinishing them.

Dummy Cat Scared Mice.

London.—Topsy is the name given to a cardboard cat at the Brompton hospital. Recently Topsy was put on duty over a mouse hole in one of the kitchens. The cat, a mounted photographic enlargement, successfully scared the mice away.

Glenn Abraham, 12, and Richard Boyldone, 10, were drowned at Hood River, Ore., when they plunged through ice of a slough while skating. Arch and Cad Williams, two other boys, narrowly escaped while trying to rescue the boys. Paul Kelr, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kelr, and a neighbor playmate of young Abraham, broke through the ice in aiding the Williams boys to shore.

Percy L. Sinclair, a state senator and president of the former Southwestern Washington Bank of Ilwaco, Wash., was found guilty by a jury in Superior Court at Chehalis, Wash., of knowingly signing a false report concerning the condition of his bank to the state banking department. The verdict contained no recommendation. Sinclair's attorneys announced they would appeal the case.

The value of gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc produced from ore mined in Idaho in 1923, according to a statement issued by the Department of the Interior, based on estimates by C. N. Gerry of the geological survey, was about $20,717,000, compared with $18,031,655 in 1922. There was a marked improvement in the general condition of mining and marketing ores and metals and a decided increase in production.

Gov. Joseph M. Dixon has issued a call for a special session of the Montana Legislature to convene on Jan. 22 for the purpose of enacting appropriation laws to remedy the situation brought about by the recent decision of the Supreme Court which declared appropriation laws passed at the regular session and vetoed in part by the governor, to be void. Legislation to validate the warrants now outstanding against state appropriations also will be considered.

The Utah State Board of Pardons, meeting in special session at Salt Lake City, again denied appeal of Omer R. Woods, convicted wife murderer, for clemency and accordingly his execution on Jan. 18 will be carried out. With this adverse action the condemned man, according to officials, has lost absolutely every avenue by which he could hope to escape paying the supreme penalty before a firing squad which method he himself chose instead of hanging.

WASHINGTON

Under satisfactory economic conditions sugar production in the United States could be expanded more nearly to meet domestic needs, declared the department of agriculture in a review of the sugar industry issued in Washington. Market conditions rather than conditions of soil and climate are the obstacles to present development.

A mouldencrusted leaden casket containing some crudely fashioned beads and an undecipherable document was unearthed in Washington near the spot where a week ago was found a leaden plate bearing the name "Virgin Dare"—supposedly Virginia Dare, the first white child born in America. Under powerful reading glasses, the hand written print on the paper or parchment could not be deciphered.

The first execution by lethal gas in the United States will take place at the state prison at Reno, Nev., Feb. 8. Judge J. Emmet Walsh at Reno has set the date for the death of two Chinese tongmen, Dee John and Hughie Sing, convicted of murdering an aged Chinese two years ago.

Plans for another expedition to explore the navy's largest petroleum reserve, located in the extreme northern part of Alaska, were announced by the Interior Department. The navy department will pay the expenses of the trip and Dr. Phillip S. Smith, a government geologist, will be in charge.

The wreck of the Twentieth Century limited train of the New York Central railroad, near Forsyth, N. Y., Dec. 9, which resulted in the death of nine persons and injury of thirty-five, was caused by the failure of Engineman Patterson, driving the train following it, to obey automatic block signals, Interstate Commerce Commission inspectors reported.

Postal receipts in December, 1923, were the highest in the history of the Postoffice Department, it was announced at Washington. The aggregate receipts in fifty selected cities last month were $81,001,013, compared with $70,160,023 in December, 1922, an increase of 7.55 per cent. Los Angeles led all other cities in the selected group with an increase of 23.45 per cent of business done during December, 1923, over the corresponding period in 1922. Indianapolis was second, with an increase of 17.03 and Louisville, Ky., and Nashville, Tenn., were tied for third with percentage gains of 14.09.

FOREIGN

The Federal Council of Commissars has decided to summon in the spring the class of 1924 for regular service in the Red army. The call for this class was postponed two years in succession.

The sum of 18,000,000 francs soon will be available for use as advances towards the building of hotels in France, and improving those that already exist. A law passed last June authorizing government advances to the hotel industry has just been promulgated.

The French cabinet, acting in the financial crisis caused by the phenomenal fall of the franc, decided to increase all taxes, direct and indirect, by 20 per cent. It also decided to reduce the recoverable budget in 1924 to 5,000,000,000 francs, which will be met by this new taxation.

Henri La Fontaine, vice president of the Belgian Senate, has made a statement to the correspondent explaining his allusions to America's obligations to Europe in his Senate speech recently. In his address he said: "It cannot be denied that we fought for America and that we saved her; consequently we are entitled to expect effective help from her. Our government ought to have the courage to tell this to American people."

The secretary of finance has sent to New York scrip covering the difference between $10,000,000 delivered as first payment under the Lamont-De la Huerta agreement and the $23,125,000 which should be the amount delivered yearly to the international bankers in payment of Mexico's indebtedness. According to the agreement, the Mexican government should increase the payment 5,000,000 pesos each year until the $23,000,000 has been reached, the balance, meanwhile, being paid in scrip until 1928, when the payments on the foreign debts shall become normalized. The Mexican government then will issue 8 per cent gold bonds for the amount held in scrip by the international banks.

GENERAL

Adj. Gen. Carlos Black has returned to Springfield, Ill., but without ordering the return of the troops summoned to Marion, Ill., by threat of factional trouble growing out of wholesale dry raids.

Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, and Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul will fight a return title match in New York, probably early in June, Promoter Tex Rickard announced in New York, after a conference with Eddie Kane. Rickard came to a definite agreement with Kane after an hour's conference at Madison Square garden.

Louise Salerno, young wife of Tony Salerno, nephew of the Italian consul at Omaha, shot and killed Peter Sferas, whom she accused of attacking her and threatening her life if she attempted to expose him. The shooting occurred as Sferas, who leaves a widow and three children, was entering the door of the woman's home. He died almost at once.

Albert Miller, 20-year-old bad man who officers declared fired the shot that killed Deputy Sheriff Fred Baker at the camp of the notorious Ashley gang in the Florida Everglades, twenty-five miles north of West Palm Beach was captured by deputies and lodged in jail at West Palm Beach. Four alleged associates and intimates of the gang also were taken into custody by officers and placed in jail.

A word chosen from more than 23,000 suggestions as the one best calculated to "stab awake the conscience of the lawless drinker" was announced by Delevaro King of Quincy, Mass., who offered a prize of $200 for the most suitable epithet. The word is "scoffslaw." Two contestants proposed this word and the prize was divided between them. The winners are Henry Irving Shaw of Shawshen village, and Miss Kate L. Butler of Dorchester.

Charles A. Stoneham, former broker and part owner of the New York Giants, entered a plea of not guilty to a general indictment charging use of the mails to defraud in connection with alleged bucketshop operations.

The Sioux Falls Trust and Savings Bank, with deposits of $3,000,000, was placed under the supervision of the state depositors' guaranty fund commission and will temporarily suspend payments on deposits, it has been announced. First reports were that the bank had been closed, but these were corrected by the subsequent announcement that the institution would remain open under state supervision.

E. B. McLean, Washington newspaper publisher, lent former Secretary A. B. Fall $100,000 but the checks for this amount were subsequently returned uncashed with the statement that the former interior Secretary had arranged to secure the funds elsewhere, Mr. McLean told Senator Walsh of the Senate Teapot Dome investigating committee, according to a letter addressed to Mr. Fall by Mr. Walsh and made public by the latter, in Palm Beach, Fla.

The British admiralty officially abandoned hope of saving any lives from the sunken submarine L-24 and salvage operations have been suspended until the weather moderates. The wreck has been definitely located, but the sea is too heavy to allow of any attempt to raise the craft.

Assurance there will be no increase this year in the public forest grazing fees was given delegates attending the annual convention of the American National Livestock Association by Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace in an address at Omaha.

Educational Notes.

By Louise H. Coe

The only way the schools to continue nine months is for YOU to pay your taxes for 1923 but all delinquent taxes, and they must be paid AT ONCE.

Show your loyalty to your County, your children, and to the call of Education and Civilization by paying your honest debts to Lincoln county, and thereby making it possible for the school to finish the years program.

I wish to call your attention to the fact that there is ample law on the Statue books providing for sale of property for taxes and the State Comptroller is working now on a plan whereby this law shall be enforced.

All able bodied men and women between the ages of 21 and 60 years shall pay poll tax of $2 which is due Feb. 1st.

Any school needing chalk will please order same from this office. We have on hand a new supply of the School Code in both English and Spanish, do you want a copy?

The Attendance Banner for the month of December has been awarded to Mrs. E. C. Burnett, teacher at Hogle.

The following schools were visited last week—Picacho, Tinnie, San Patricio, Glencoe, Doseo, Ft. Stanton and Capitan. Splendid work is being done all of these schools.

The needed improvements have been made on School buildings and out buildings at San Patricio and Picacho.

The Bethel and Mountain View schools were ordered closed by the County Board of Education at their meeting Jan 10th. The reason for discontinuing these schools was because of low average daily attendance for more than two consecutive months.

Mrs. Sarah T. Gray an old time resident of Capitan was a visitor here recently greeting her many old time friends. She has moved back to Carrizozo, from Pecos, Texas, where she resided for some time.

There is'nt any need to be too severe just because a person can. But it is well to tell the truth in regard to anything, especially public matters, we have done. There is a plan on foot for another party to get the appointment here which will meet with the approval of the Chief. All that is necessary is to change politics a little. If either party gets it—it is a case of "I win, you lose" but we both win. This is from reliable sources.

You have been told of the mysterious workings of a little circle within a circle. It is clearly up to you people to decide who should be Postmaster. If the opposite parties gets the appointment—you know who they are now. However if any thing else of a public nature that looms up and which is against the public interest and is not sound policy we will put you wise. Look out for articles that pertain to the prosperity and well fare of the people.

It seems that President Coolidge is very much in favor of Tax Reduction in our Federal Governmental affairs. It is the opinion of learned men that the Federal Government could cut taxes in various ways—especially eliminate hordes of "swivel chair warmers" at Washington The cause of this, cannot be laid at the door steps of any one party. Mr. Coolidge is taking a step in the right direction—if properly and thoroughly executed there could in all probability be hundreds of millions of dollars saved.

If this was done our soldiers who were in active service during the war could receive Government aid—which they are justly entitled too. The bill lately introduced in Congress by Senator Burrom in behalf of the soldiers of this country in a good one—it should become the law of the land—it is a comprehensive and far reaching measure. It is our intention to publish it soon.

RECALLS OLD ROME

Ancient Coin of Surpassing Historic Interest.

Two Thousand Years Since It Came From the Mint, What a Story of Adventure This Token Could Tell!

A coin 2,000 years old, which may have reposed in the treasure box of a Roman senator, passed from hand to hand in the dice games of members of the Roman imperial guard, been tossed to the rabble by a patrician as he passed through the streets on his way to the baths, or thrown to a victorious gladiator by one of the vestal virgins, now is in the possession of Arthur C. Hibler, United States immigrant inspector at New Orleans. On its way to Mexico, where it was obtained by its present owner, the coin may have been carried as a keepsake by one of the Spanish conquerors and exchanged for the gold and jewels of the Aztecs. Two thousand years afford ample time to pass through a few adventures.

The coin is valued by Mr. Hibler, not only for its age, but for the queer history attached to his gaining possession of it. While he claims he is not superstitious, he admits he regards the coin as a good luck talisman. The piece was sold to him by a Mexican, who wished to cross the border at Brownsville, Tex., and had not enough money for his toll. To pay his way across the international bridge he offered the coin with several others to Mr. Hibler, asserting that it had a strange significance and a blessing attached to it. It had been given him, he said, by the mother of a soldier of Villa's band, who had been murdered in a cafe brawl. As he lay dying he had bequeathed the man to take a handkerchief, stained with his life blood, to his mother. The Mexican had sworn to fulfill the trust, and delivered the handkerchief to the old woman. She opened the corner of the handkerchief, which was knotted tightly, and took out several coins. Then she retired into an inner room and, returned, placed a small silvery disk in the messenger's hand, saying it was a talisman that would mean much to its possessor.

The coin is small and white, resembling a modern United States dime in size and color. On its front is a relief of a Roman emperor, with the inscription: "Domitian VIII, Imp. Caesar," and several other characters which are indistinguishable. On the reverse side is what seems to be a representation of the temple erected in Jerusalem by Solomon. It is worn thin by the touch of the millions of hands in which it must have rested.

"I have no doubt that it is genuine," Mr. Hibler said. "But how did it come into the possession of the Villista bandit? Well—quien sabe!"

The Tale of an Egg.

Frank Lafferty, a captain of police at Muncie, once answered a call late at night from a restaurant whose owner asked that a drunken man be taken from the place.

"It was the strangest case of intoxication I ever dealt with," said Lafferty, relating the experience. "In the restaurant I found sitting on a high stool at the counter an elderly man who was weeping into the plate containing the remnants of what evidently had been a hard boiled egg.

"'What's the matter?' asked the teary individual and he answered between choking sobs 'I weep to think that by this act of cruelty in devouring this egg I have deprived some poor innocent chicken of the right of being born!'

"And do you know," Lafferty continued, "the only way we could comfort the poor fellow and get him out of there was to tell him it was not that kind of an egg."—Indianapolis News.

German Black List in Peru.

Publications in Peru do not believe in soon forgetting the intrigue of Germany or letting the Hun go unpunished. Newspapers there carry a complete list of merchants who showed anything like a friendly disposition to Germany throughout the war. It is known as the "Official Allied Black List." The boycott of these merchants includes trade with any of the employees of the firms. The notice at the top of the list includes this warning:

"Any transaction with an employee of a firm on this list is naturally the same as a transaction with the firm in its own name and will have the same consequences."

"Miss America" Declares Tanlac Wonderful Health Giving Tonic

Miss Campbell in "Miss America" crown which she has won on two occasions.

Miss Mary Katherine Campbell, twice proclaimed "Miss America," has taken TANLAC and endorses it in a statement recently given to the women of America. In this statement, Miss America declares that Good Health is the basis of all Beauty, and advices women who would be beautiful to "first find good health."

Her complete statement as given is as follows: "I consider it a great privilege to be able to tell the thousands of women everywhere what a great tonic TANLAC is. Health is the basis of all beauty. Without good health, one is apt to be run-down, nervous, underweight, high-strung, anemic. Indigestion drives the roses from a woman's cheeks and robs her of that radiant quality of womanhood that is real beauty.

"I have taken TANLAC and I do not hesitate to say that it is a wonderful health-giving tonic. It has brought relief and good health to many women, and with good health one may have a measure of beauty that will overcome shortcomings in face and figure.

"Rosy cheeks, sparkling eyes, a well-rounded figure, a lovable disposition, go hand in hand with good health. To those searching for beauty, I would say—'First of all, Find Good Health.' The TANLAC treatment has proven itself a boon to womankind, and I recommend it."

Miss Campbell has written a booklet on Health and Beauty which may be secured by filling out the coupon below.

Get rid of constipation by internal cleanliness

Many Diseases Sent from Clogged Intestines

THERE is no reason why you should suffer from constipation. Headaches, biliousness, sleepless nights, heaviness, are nature's warning that intestinal poisons are flooding your system. If allowed to continue, you may become a victim of serious organic disease.

In constipation, say intestinal specialists, lies the primary cause of more than three-quarters of all illness including the gravest diseases of life.

Laxatives Aggravate Constipation

Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, says a noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition and often lead to permanent injury.

Why Physicians Favor Lubrication

Medical science, through knowledge of the intestinal tract gained by X-ray observation, has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage out of the body. Thus Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water it is harmless.

Get rid of constipation and avoid disease by adopting the habit of internal cleanliness. Take Nujol as regularly as you brush your teeth or wash your face. For sale by all druggists.

MRS. YOUNG ENTHUSIASTIC

Cannot Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Enough. Sick Women Read This Letter

Charleston, S. C.—"I was completely run-down and not able to do my housework. I just dragged myself around and did not have energy enough to get up when I sat down. I read advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in your books and learned about it. I got benefit from the very first bottle. I continued to take it for some time, and now I am doing all my own work, even washing and ironing, and never felt better in my life. I tell all my friends that the change in my health is due to but one thing and that is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. ANNIE YOUNG, 16 Amherst St., Charleston, S. C.

The reason for such a letter from Mrs. Young is apparent. She got well and is grateful. Recently a nation-wide canvass of women purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made, and 98 out of 100 reported that they received benefit from taking it.

Just because the Vegetable Compound has been helping other women is a good reason why it should help you. For sale by druggists everywhere.

How's Your Appetite? Are You Nervous? Sleepless?

Brushyknob, Mo.—"Two years ago I was in poor health and was not able to do all my work; I had a dull headache all the time. I also had a hurting in my back and one of my limbs would take spells of hurting and would feel numb. I could not sleep good at night, did not eat much, and my nerves were in bad shape. I told my husband I could not go much longer, so we decided to write to Dr. Pierce, Pres. of Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y. He said for me to take the 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Golden Medical Discovery' also some 'Pleasant Pellets' (all of which I got at the drug store) and I soon began to get better. All the disagreeable symptoms left me and I felt like a different woman."—Mrs. Martha Jefferson, Box 4.

Antonio Anaya, a Santa Fe shop worker, who was struck by an automobile driven by J. T. Nelson, died in a hospital at Albuquerque.

W. W. Cox, one of the best known citizens in the southwest and a pioneer of the southwest section of the state, passed away at his home in Las Cruces on the last day of the year, 1923.

After being impassable for nearly three weeks, the Pinon-Artesia highway is again open to traffic, although there is still some snow which drifted during the big storm. Crop prospects in this district are the best in several years.

John R. Gaunt, cashier of the Reserve State Bank, whose failure a little less than a year ago dealt a severe blow to Catron county, has been named in seven indictments by the Catron County Grand Jury, in session at Reserve, the county seat, according to A. N. Cornell, director of audits of the state comptroller's office.

E. P. Seyard of the Chico country, reports an almost unprecedented amount of moisture now covering the southeastern portion of the county. The ground is moist to a considerable depth, and snow still lies over the entire landscape. The presence of so much moisture at this season of the year, with a reasonable amount of rain fall later will practically insure a bumper crop year.

E. U. Combs, vice president and general manager of the Midwest Sugar Company, has returned to Raton and the location of the sugar factory which the company proposes to build will be selected soon. M. H. Oldemeyer, chief agriculturist for the company, arrived from Douglas, Ariz. In company with Mr. Combs and C. R. Adamson, county agricultural agent, made a trip to Springer. The general headquarters of the company will be in Raton.

Parties from New York City, including Mr. Barling, designer of the Barling bombing airplane, visited Deming recently in the interest of the new air line from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast. These gentlemen are leasing small tracts of land along the route which later will be made into landing fields for the planes, which will cover the territory. All the fields will be marked and equipped with a small building which will be used for a telephone station, the cost of the equipment in each city to be about $500. The matter will be taken up at the next meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and it is likely that Deming will agree to equip the new field.

The First National Bank of Clovis, with a capital of $100,000, closed several days ago as the result of a run. According to a statement by directors, arrangements had been practically completed for reorganization of the bank and the incorporation of new capital which would place the bank on a solid foundation. They said the bank probably would be able to reopen soon. C. W. Harrison, formerly president of the State Bankers' Association, was president, and H. Y. Overstreet, cashier. State Bank Examiner L. D. Gregg was formerly cashier of this bank. Deposits on hand on Dec. 31, the date of the bank's latest report, amounted to $307,010.47; loans and discounts to $278,633.07; cash and sight exchange to $124,005.21. The state treasurer's office had $24,003.88 in the bank secured by a $20,000 surety bond and $12,500 personal bonds signed by A. Mandall, W. W. Mayes, C. A. Schenrich, H. A. Miller, C. F. Doughton and C. W. Harrison.

At a meeting of Vaughan-Moore Post of the American Legion at Raton, the following new officers were elected: Commander, William E. Burney; first vice commander, L. P. Littrell; second vice commander, Fremont Dixon; adjutant and financial officer, Joseph J. Jacques; historian, Bennett Foster; sergeant at arms, Harry E. Miller; chaplain, Dr. M. F. Smith; trustees, James Zukle, H. T. Dickey and Roscoe A. White.

After a suspension of several weeks, drilling has again been resumed at the Florida oil well near Deming, but it is said that so far progress has been slow, owing to the bad weather. The big drill is now running in a black formation at the depth of 2,140 feet and it is believed that below this the first pay sand will be found. However, owing to the hardness of the formation the drill is making only about three feet per day and it will be some time before the facts will be known. Officials of the company are still optimistic over the outlook and are confident that they will soon bring in a well which will be a commercial proposition.

The amended petition for creation of what is to be known as the Middle Rio Grande Conservancy District was filed recently in District Court at Albuquerque and April 17 was set by Judge Hickey for the hearing of protests. Bond of the petitioners was set at $1,000.

Joseph W. Taylor of Dona Ana was elected president of the Elephant Butte Irrigation District at the annual meeting of the directors held at the offices of the district in Las Cruces. Mr. Taylor was named to succeed the late H. H. Brock.

Forest rangers of the Lincoln National Forest report that about twenty inches of snow fell over most of the forest during the recent storm. It is said that the spring flow of water will be the largest in many years.

W. T. Scoggin raised 10,000 bushels of sweet potatoes at his ranch north of Las Cruces last year. He also raised thirty-eight bales of cotton on thirty-six acres. Mr. Scoggin says the cantaloupe crop will be greatly reduced this year on account of increased acreage in cotton.

And Warm the Mattress.

"I have only one request to make," groaned the college man, who had come to participate in the harvest.

"What is that, Mr. Smart?" returned the farmer.

"Please let me stay in bed long enough for the lamp chimney to cool off."

What has become of the old-fashioned clothes in which the pockets didn't wear out?

The Idle Word.

An idle word may be seemingly harmless in its utterance, but let it be fanned by passion, let it be fed with the fuel of misconception, of evil intention, or prejudice, and it will soon grow into a sweeping fire that will melt the chains of human friendship, that will burn to ashes many cherished hopes, and blacken more fair names than one.

New Variety of Barley.

A new variety of barley now being distributed to American farmers originated from a single plant raised from a stock of seed imported from the southern border of the Black sea.

Indigence is opulence worn threadbare.

Why Doctors Warn Against Coffee or Tea for Children

THE reason is simple. Coffee and tea contain drugs which tend to irritate the delicate nervous system of children, and so upset health.

The Federal Bureau of Education includes in its rules to promote health among growing school children, the warning that "children should not drink tea or coffee at all."

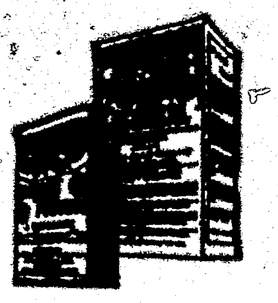
Why confine the warning to children?

You are careful to protect the health of your children; why, then, take chances with your own health, when a change from coffee or tea is made so easy by Postum.

Postum is a delicious, pure cereal beverage—ideal for children and satisfying to adults.

Postum for Health

"There's a Reason"



Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer the flavor brought out by boiling fully 20 minutes. The cost of either form is about one-half cent a cup.

Sold by grocers everywhere!
