Irrigation Reservoir.

It looks as if the reclamation service of the Department of the Interior will consider favorably the so-called Elephant Butte dam and reservoir project on the Rio Grande, and that work there on will commence as soon as the necessary surveys, plans and specifications for the system can be made and completed. This reservoir, according to the best of calculations, if completed, will impound enough water for the irrigation and cultivation of about 150,000 acres of fertile land in Sierra and Dona Ana counties in this territory and in El Paso county, Texas. In New Mexico, north of the land grants in Dona Ana county, the land will be public domain subject to homestead and desert land entry. If the project shall be carried out as now contemplated, thousands and thousands of acres of land now practically worthless except for grazing purposes will be put under cultivation and made into fertile and well paying farms, which of course means a great increase in the population of that section. The Mesilla valley, which is already one of the garden spots of New Mexico, will prosper as never before in its history and will treble and quadruple its population and wealth under the water system to be provided by the Elephant Butte reservoir. The Mesilla valley is all right.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Money for New Railroad.

A Santa Fe dispatch of December 5th says: Articles of incorporation of a railroad from Albuquerque to Durango, Colorado, were filed in the office of the territorial secretary at Santa Fe Saturday afternoon. The promoters appear to be those who built the Santa Fe Central and are now building the Albuquerque Eastern.

Taking this fact in connection with the mortgages filed in this city and at Santa Fe by the Santa Fe Central and Albuquerque Eastern companies it would seem that the money to build the Albuquerque and Durango railroad has been raised.

If the system should be extended to Roswell and to El Paso, for both of which extensive surveys have been made, it not only is certain that the Pennsylvania promoters, with George Gould as one of the backers, would have one of the most lucrative railroad propositions in the country, but Albuquerque would be the central point for all the raw material in the way of coal, coke and iron ores, such as would certainly make this city a great manufacturing point.

In this connection this same syndicate of wealthy Pennsylvanians has already organized the New Mexico Fuel and Iron Company, to locate in Albuquerque large steel works similar to those owned at Pueblo, Colorado, owned by the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company.

Right-of-Way Litigation.

It is said that the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific have decided to leave to the Supreme Court of the United States their contentions for several canons and passes in New Mexico and Arizona which both claim. Notably among these is the Gila river canon.

The Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific have been moving rapidly for more than a year to secure available passes and canons with a view of their ultimate use in cut offs and changes of lines. Many of these cañons are so narrow that there is only room for the railroad and the creek, hence the desire of the companies to secure them. It is a repetition of the contest held for the possession of Royal Gorge when the Rio Grande was built.

The Santa Fe has extensive plans for changing its line in New Mexico so as to avoid the Raton hill and also the district that is subject to cloud bursts and heavy snows which have cost the company a million or more dollars in the last year and a half. To carry out these changes it is necessary to have several canons and passes. The Southern Pacific is blocking these proposed changes of the Santa Fe, it is said, purposely to cripple the Santa Fe in its efforts to reduce its mileage between the Missouri river and California.

Appeal to Sheep Growers.

The annual convention of the National Sheep Growers' Association will meet in Denver on Monday, January 9, 1905. Sheep grazing and wool growing are among the leading industries of this territory and give employment to thousands and thousands of men. Official figures place the number of sheep in the territory at 3,200,000 at this time, although it is believed by persons who are well posted that the number is nearly double that figure. He that as it may, it behooves the sheep growers and all those interested in the wool output in this territory to attend the convention in large numbers and to take part in its deliberations. Questions of vital moment to the sheep raisers will be discussed and New Mexico should be represented then and there by representative and intelligent delegations, that the territory's interests in that line may not suffer. It is an important matter and neglect of it and staying away from the convention by delegates appointed to it and the many interested in the sheep industry generally, will prove a detriment to the industry itself, as well as to the welfare of the territory.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

An Albuquerque dispatch of November 30th says: The Bernalillo county commissioner case took a sensational turn this afternoon when Severo Sanchez, the governor's first appointee, telegraphed his resignation to the capital, thus leaving the office open to Carlos P. Sanchez, the governor's second appointee. The latter's bond, which was refused at the recorder's office yesterday, was accepted to-day and the situation is again serene, except that there is a possibility that T. C. Gutierres will resign on the morrow. If this occurs the board of county commissioners will be antagonistic to the county administration, which has ruled the past six years, and startling developments in county affairs may be expected.

San Juan County Fruit.

J. M. Kinsley of Durango, manager of the San Juan County Fruit and Produce Growers' Association, who has been in the city for the past few days in the interests of this association, give a New Mexican reporter some interesting facts regarding the raising of fruit and garden produce in the northwestern part of the territory.

"This is the first year of the association," said Mr. Kinsley, "but what we have accomplished has far exceeded our most sanguine anticipations. We have a membership of 115 growers in the county, and this year built a warehouse, 50x100 feet, in Durango, from where everything is shipped. We have handled about 50,000 fifty-pound boxes of apples during the past few months, and we have received many letters from different parts of the country, which were extremely complimentary. The apples of San Juan county are far superior to any raised in this section of the country. The altitude of the county is higher than the Pecos Valley region and the apples mature later. They are the equal, if not the superior, to any in the United States in appearance, flavor and keeping qualities.

"The excellent quality of garden produce grown in San Juan county has not been very generally advertised. As a matter of fact, we raise the finest onions, of the yellow variety, that can be found anywhere; our cantaloupes and watermelons surpass even the famous Rocky Ford, and the pears, peaches, plums and cherries grown in the county can not be surpassed. The soil is especially adapted for onions and we have shipped out many carloads of them.

"The future of San Juan as one of the greatest sections for fruit and produce in the West is assured. New settlers are coming in daily and the advent of the railroads will do the rest. I have been in the fruit business for the past twenty-five years in many parts of the United States and Canada, and this is the finest fruit growing country I have ever seen. A carload of our apples was disposed of in Santa Fe during last week and several carloads were sent to El Paso. In the latter city they were at first very reluctant to take a shipment of our apples, but I received a letter from our consignee there asking for the privilege of being our exclusive dealer in that section of the country."

The San Juan County Fruit and Produce Association, which was organized this year, is composed of the principal growers of the county, who have 1,500 acres of orchards. The officers are: President, J. A. Brothers, Farmington; vice-president, George W. McCoy, Aztec; secretary, Albert C. Thoman, Pendleton; manager, J. M. Kinsley, Durango.

New Teachers.

The Board of Regents of the New Mexico Agricultural and Mechanic Arts College at Las Cruces met at Las Cruces December 1st and elected Professor Charles E. Paul of the Kansas State Agricultural College, head of the mechanical department of the territorial institution, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Professor Charles Mills, made necessary by the continued illness of Mrs. Mills. Mr. and Mrs. Mills will take up their residence at San Diego, California.

The board also elected Miss Maud D. McFie, daughter of Judge John B. McFie, to the position of teacher of vocal music, which was made vacant by the death of Miss Nona Murphy. Miss McFie is at present studying music in Paris but will return to America in time to take up the duties of her new position by January.

Fire at Indian School.

An Albuquerque dispatch of December 2nd says: A fire of unknown origin destroyed the industrial department building of the government Indian school here early this morning, resulting in a loss to the government of between $1,800 and $2,000.

Mr. Allen, superintendent of the school, said this afternoon that the fire started about 6 o'clock, while the children were at breakfast. Although it had a good start when first discovered, nearly all the goods in the department were saved by hard work on the part of the faculty and students. The building was a frame structure, 110x30 feet, and housed the shoe shop, the tailor shop and two carpenter shops. It will be rebuilt immediately.

The city fire department received an alarm from the school by telephone and went to the fire, but the building was almost totally destroyed by the time the department reached the scene.

New Superintendent.

A Santa Fe dispatch of December 1st says: Governor Otero to-day appointed Amado Sanches of Santa Fe superintendent of public instruction for the territory of New Mexico to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Colonel J. Franco Chaves. The newly-appointed official took the oath of office this morning and has entered upon his duties. He is not a relative of his predecessor. Sanches served one term as speaker of the Territorial House of Representatives and was a member of the Legislative Council. He also has served as mayor of Santa Fe. He was the first superintendent of public instruction of the territory and held the position for six years. The present school system was organized by him. He is a graduate of Columbia University and a member of the bar and not only a superior English scholar, but also a master of the Spanish language and one of the best translators in the country. He is one of the most widely known men in New Mexico.

In the famous will contest for the Koury fortune started recently against the widow of the deceased, John Koury at Santa Fe, Judge Benjamin S. Baker of the territorial Supreme Court, has issued a writ of prohibition against Probate Judge Marcos Castillo, enjoining him from proceeding further in the case. In the meanwhile Mrs. Koury furnished a $10,000 bond and the case will come up in the territorial Supreme Court next January.

The convicts' camp on the Scenic highway between Las Vegas and Santa Fe was abandoned on the 5th inst., as the workmen had reached a part of the mountains so high that further progress was impeded by snow. The gang will join that at the Santa Fe end, where the route is sheltered and work all winter.

Incorporation papers have been filed at Santa Fe by the Southwest Smelting and Mining Company, capitalization $750,000, headquarters at Alamogordo. The incorporators and directors are: W. A. Evans, John G. Parkinson, John H. Van Brunt, Joseph A. Fullerton, M. M. Riggs, St. Joseph, Missouri; R. G. Muller, D. D. Hunt, Kansas City; A. J. King, E. F. Sidebottom, E. J. Dedman and John Franklin, Alamagordo.

A late Santa Fe dispatch says: It was learned from Washington to-day that United States Attorney W. B. Childers of Albuquerque will be allowed to serve out the term of his commission, which expires early in the coming year. N. B. Field, the Albuquerque attorney, who has made the fight on Childers, has filed charges against Associate Justice Benjamin S. Baker of the territorial Supreme Court and is making a hard fight against him.

Solicitor General George W. Prichard has handed down an opinion that the New Mexico Board of Health has the power to exact license fees from traveling medicine vendors, despite the interstate commerce law, and that the board has not the power to exclude arbitrarily from its list medical colleges in good standing, and that the board has no discretion about admitting to practice in the territory any graduate of such college, not having the right to examine him as to his fitness.

An enterprise has just been started by eastern capitalists and citizens of Dona Ana county, which it is claimed will furnish New Mexico with all the building stone it will need for the next fifty years. An immense deposit of black and gray marble of very fine quality has been found about twenty miles east of Las Cruces. Experts have examined the marble and announce that the quality is not excelled by any found in the Southwest. It is proposed to at once establish a quarry and begin the shipment of marble this winter.

Because he shot a friend with a load of peas and thought that he had committed murder and would have to go to jail, Ramon Garcia, of the Ranchos de Albuquerque, near Albuquerque, blew his brains out with a pistol. Garcia had been fooling with a gun loaded with dried peas. The gun exploded, the charge of peas striking a young man standing a few feet distant. The latter jokingly fell to the floor, clasping his hands over his breast, and pretended to be lifeless. Garcia thought his friend dead and ran home and committed suicide.

George Anderson, a prominent cattleman out on the Jornado del Muerto desert, east of San Marcial, successfully played the part of the officer of the law the other day. A fellow reached the Jornado in a wagon a few days since, having been given a ride by a teamster passing through that region. Anderson soon missed a horse and saddle and learned that the stranger had disappeared. Anderson found the trail, which led to Rincon. There he rounded up his man, secured his property and landed the thief in the Socorro jail to receive the immediate attention of the grand jury then in session.

A Santa Fe dispatch of December 3d says: In a will contest filed to-day it is alleged that Mrs. John Koury is not the lawful wife of the late John Koury, a merchant, who died here recently. The contest is made by the brother of the deceased, Michael Koury, and he asks to have Mrs. Koury removed as administratrix and the bond of the other administrator, Patrocinio Lopez, increased to $20,000. The petitioner says that the pretended wife had a living husband, Joseph Tawell, at the time of her pretended marriage to John Koury. The alleged sole heir to the estate, valued at over $10,000, is Nijmee Koury, mother of the deceased, who lives at Rome, Syria.

At Farmington, on the 5th inst., says a Denver Republican special, James W. Reagan, head surveyor for the Colorado-Arizona railway, shot Scott Morris. At the noon hour Reagan was watching a stuff game in one of the resorts. Morris walked in and told Reagan he would like to speak to him. Reagan said he did not want to talk to him. Morris persisted and told him he must talk to him. A second time Reagan told Morris to go away. Morris slapped Reagan in the face, knocking his hat off. Reagan kicked his chair back and retreated four or five steps and fired at Morris. Morris continued to advance on Reagan and Reagan fired a second time. Morris was shot between the second and third ribs on the left side, the ball ranging upward and entering the heart, causing death.

According to the Alamagordo Daily Journal "the mountain sections of Otero and Lincoln counties lead in quality of celery produced in the territory. The best quality of celery and the greatest quantity per acreage is grown on Spring ranch, near Picacho, Lincoln county. It has always seemed strange to us that more celery is not grown in New Mexico." Santa Fe will hardly leave the above claim go unchallenged and Roswell also has an idea that it raises the best and the most celery in New Mexico. The Rio Grande valley produces very fine celery and it would take an expert to tell whether or not it is superior to Lincoln and Otero county celery. The territory can stand a wholesome rivalry in celery growing and when the New Mexico Horticural Society holds its next agricultural and horticultural exhibition and fair at Santa Fe, the rival claimants will have a chance to determine the controversy as to which section raises the best celery.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

EXECUTIVE RECOMMENDATIONS

Salient Points in President Roosevelt's Message.—Extracts That Are of Special Interest to Colorado.

The President's message, read in both houses on the opening of Congress December 6th, was in part as follows:

"The nation continues to enjoy noteworthy prosperity. Such prosperity is of course primarily due to the high individual average of our citizenship, taken together with our great natural resources; but an important factor therein is the working of our long-continued governmental policies. The people have emphatically expressed their approval of the principles underlying these policies, and their desire that these principles be kept substantially unchanged, although of course applied in a progressive spirit to meet changing conditions.

"In the vast and complicated mechanism of our modern civilized life the dominant note is the note of industrialism; and the relations of capital and labor, and especially of organized capital and organized labor, to each other and to the public at large come second in importance only to the intimate questions of family life.

"I believe that under modern industrial conditions it is often necessary, and even where not necessary it is yet often wise, that there should be organization of labor in order better to secure the rights of the individual wage-worker.

"Wage-workers have an entire right to organize, and by all peaceful and honorable means to endeavor to persuade their fellows to join with them in organizations. They have a legal right which, according to circumstances, may or not be a moral right, to refuse to work in company with men who decline to join their organizations.

"They have under no circumstances the right to commit violence upon those, whether capitalists or wage-workers who refuse to support their organizations, or who side with those with whom they are at odds; for mob rule is intolerable in any form.

"In my message to the Fifty-seventh Congress, at its second session, I urged the passage of an employers' liability law for the District of Columbia. I now renew that recommendation, and further recommend that the Congress appoint a commission to make a comprehensive study of employers' liability with the view of extending the provisions of a great and constitutional law to all employments within the scope of federal power.

"I shall shortly lay before you in a special message the full report of the investigation of the Bureau of Labor into the Colorado mining strike, as this is a strike in which certain very evil forces, which are more or less at work everywhere under the conditions of modern industrialism became startlingly prominent.

"When we come to deal with great corporations the need of the government to act directly is far greater than in the case of labor, because great corporations can become such only by engaging in interstate commerce, and interstate commerce is peculiarly the field of the general government. It is an absurdity to expect to eliminate the abuses in great corporations by state action. It is difficult to be patient with an argument that such matters should be left to the states, because more than one state pursues the policy of creating on easy terms corporations which are never operated within that state at all, but in other states whose laws they ignore. The national government alone can deal adequately with these great corporations.

"The Bureau of Corporations has made careful preliminary investigation of many important corporations. It will make a special report on the beef industry.

"The policy of the bureau is to accomplish the purposes of its erection by co-operation, not antagonism by making constructive legislation, not destructive prosecution, the immediate object of its inquiries; by conservative investigation of law and fact, and by refusal to issue in complete and hence necessarily inaccurate reports.

"Above all else, we must strive to keep the highways of commerce open to all on equal terms; and to do this it is necessary to put a complete stop to all rebates.

"The Department of Agriculture has grown into an educational institution with a faculty of 2,000 specialists making research into all the sciences of production.

"During the two and a half years that have elapsed since the passage of the reclamation act rapid progress has been made in the surveys and examinations of the opportunities for reclamation in thirteen states and three territories of the arid West. Construction has already been begun on the largest and most important of the irrigation works, and plans are being completed for works which will utilize the funds now available.

"The ever-increasing casualty list upon our railroads is a matter of grave public concern, and urgently calls for action by the Congress.

"In the vital matter of taking care of children, much advantage could be gained by a careful study of what has been accomplished in such states as Illinois and Colorado by the juvenile courts. The work of the juvenile court is really a work of character building.

"We sell $250,000,000 worth of animals and animal products to foreign countries every year, in addition to supplying our own people more cheaply and abundantly than any other nation is about to provide for its people. . . . There should be an annual census of the live stock of the Nation.

"It is the cardinal principle of the forest reserve policy of this administration that the reserves are for use. Whatever interferes with the use of their resources is to be avoided by every possible means. But these resources must be used in such a way as to make them permanent.

says: "A severe cold settled in my kidneys and developed so quickly that I was obliged to lay off work on account of the aching in my back and sides. For a time I was unable to walk at all, and every makeshift I tried and all the medicine I took had not the slightest effect. My back continued to grow weaker until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and I must say I was more than surprised and gratified to notice the back ache disappearing gradually until it finally stopped."

Mrs. L. C. Glover, Vice-President Milwaukee, Wis., Business Woman's Association, is another one of the million women who have been restored to health by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was married for several years and no children blessed my home. The doctor said I had a complication of female troubles and I could not have any children unless I could be cured. He tried to cure me, but after experimenting for several months, my husband became disgusted, and one night when we noticed the testimonial of a woman who had been cured of similar trouble through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, he went out and bought a bottle for me. I used your medicine for three and one-half months, improving steadily in health, and in twenty-two months a child came. I cannot fully express the joy and thankfulness that is in my heart. Our home is a different place now, as we have something to live for, and all the credit is due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Yours very sincerely, MRS. L. C. GLOVER, 614 Grove St., Milwaukee, Wis." Arlington, Ind., Dec. 5th.—(Special)—Mr. W. A. Hysong, the photographer, who moved here recently from Sapp, Ky., is firmly of the opinion that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the greatest Kidney Remedy the world has ever known.

"In the years 1901 and 1902," says Mr. Hysong, "and for some time before I was afflicted with Kidney Trouble. My joints were sore and stiff and I finally got so bad I could not turn in bed without assistance. In the Spring of 1903 I was induced, by a friend, to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and after using one and one-half boxes I was and am still completely cured. Several of my neighbors, too, used Dodd's Kidney Pills and in every case they did as recommended."

Cure the early symptoms of Kidney Disease, such as Backache, with Dodd's Kidney Pills and you will never have Bright's Disease.

Americans Temperate.

France drinks the most wine and Belgium the most beer. The United States as a consumer of spirits, beer and wine runs far behind most countries. The monthly summary of commerce and finance issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor says:

"France shows the heaviest consumption of the most concentrated beverage spirits, viz: 2.51 gallons per inhabitant. The other countries, following in order of their per capita consumption of spirits are: Sweden, 2.12 gallons; Germany, 2.11 gallons; Belgium, 1.42 gallons; United Kingdom, 1.38 gallons; United States, 1.33 gallons; Russia, 1.29 gallons, and Italy, .34 gallons.

"The figures per capita of beer consumption reveal the fact that Belgium stands at the head of the nations, its per capita consumption being 36.59 gallons; second in order is the United Kingdom, with 35.42 gallons; while Germany, which shows the largest absolute figures of consumption in the matter of per capita consumption, takes third place, with 30.77 gallons; the United States follows with 18.04 gallons.

"The consumption of wine may be said to be concentrated in two countries, chiefly France and Italy. The figures of per capita consumption in these countries, 34.73 gallons in France and 31.86 gallons in Italy, are almost identical with those shown for beer by the United Kingdom and Germany.

HAPPY CHILDHOOD.

Right Food Makes Happy Children Because They are Healthy.

Sometimes milk does not agree with children or adults. The same thing is true of other articles of food. What agrees with one sometimes does not agree with others.

But food can be so prepared that it will agree with the weakest stomach. As an illustration—anyone, no matter how weak the stomach, can eat, relish and digest a nice hot cup of Postum coffee with a spoonful or two of Grape-Nuts poured in, and such a combination contains nourishment to carry one a number of hours, for almost every particle of it will be digested and taken up by the system and be made use of.

A lady writes from the land of the Magnolia and the mocking bird way down in Alabama and says: "I was not to drink Postum because coffee gave me sour stomach and made me nervous. Again Postum was recommended by two well known physicians for my children, and I feel especially grateful for the benefit derived.

"Milk does not agree with either child, so to the eldest, aged four and one-half years, I give Postum with plenty of sweet cream. It agrees with her splendidly, regulating her bowels perfectly although she is of a constipated habit.

"For the youngest, aged two and one-half years, I use one-half Postum and one-half skimmed milk. I have not given any medicine since the children began using Postum, and they enjoy every drop of it.

"A neighbor of mine is giving Postum to her baby lately weaned, with splendid results. The little fellow is thriving famously." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum agrees perfectly with children and supplies adults with the hot, invigorating beverage in place of coffee. Literally thousands of Americans have been helped out of stomach and nervous diseases by leaving off coffee and using Postum Food Coffee. Look in pkg. for the little book, "The Road to Wellville."

...ors are likely, in the near future, to be given special low rates by the leading life insurance companies. It is stated that a number of actuaries and medical directors have been working on statistics running over a period of several years, and from the records of a large number of life companies several of the authorities have come to the conclusion that the total abstainers as a class live longer by from twenty to fifty per cent. than the moderate drinkers as a class.

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in ¾-pound packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 ozs." Demand Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking. Defiance never sticks.

JUDGE BENJAMIN S. BAKER,

Of the Second Judical District Gets the First Knock-out Blow In New Mexico.

"AND IT WILL GIT YOU TOO, IF YOU DON'T LOOK OUT".

Word has come from Washington that the president has removed Judge Benjamin S. Baker, of the second judicial district of this territory for good and sufficient reasons, primarily of which was a failure to enforce the law against criminals.

The judge claims that the order of removal came as a great surprise to him, as he considered the charges altogether trivial, but it seems the department of justice and the president took quite a different view of the matter. It had been known for some time that complaints of a serious nature had been filed against him by prominent attorneys of Albuquerque, charging him, among more grave matters, with favoritism on the bench, strong political partisanship etc. His refusal to allow district attorney Clancy to bring suit against the Bernalillo county bondsmen without an order from the county commissioners, when the commissioners were a part of the gang and dominated by the boss, undoubtedly cut no small figure in the case, as it very properly should have done.

Before taking action in this matter however the Department made a thorough investigation, even sending a special agent to Albuquerque to take Judge Baker,s statement, and other legal evidence.

With the experience the government has had in deporting judges from the states into this territory it might be in order to suggest that in future the appointing power make its selections for these offices from the New Mexico bar.

The Santa Fe New Mexican is advocating the curtailing of public expenses in the way of cutting down the force of employees by the next territorial legislature. If that paper really means it, there is no reason why it should not have the unqualified endorsement of every person in the territory outside of the army of hangers-on, and those who have been promised positions both prior and since the election. This system is a graft pure and simple, and every one in the territory familiar with the custom heretofore in vogue knows it to be a graft. The idea of a member occupying a seat in either chamber with two or more roustabouts dancing attendance daily is un-American and smacks of the obsequiousness of the Punjab. We have known some very able men who could sit attentively through a session of the legislature without any help.

a national reputation, cut pie with a knife while directly opposite sat a chump mixing his all up in approved style trying to cut the boiler plate crust with a fork.

The Outlook printer absconded a week ago and the devil has had charge of the office since then. If any person takes exception to anything they should find in this issue they will have to go to him for satisfaction.

Out here in New Mexico one has to labor long and faithfully, and use a lot of business sense to gain a competency, but in the pent up east a pair of soulfull eyes and a shapely feminine figure can command millions for the asking—$18,000,000 for that matter.

Millionaire Carnegie will make something out of the Mrs. Chadwick affair, even if those notes bearing his signature are proven to be forgeries. He has been summoned to appear before the United States grand jury, at Cleveland, Ohio, and will get five cents a mile for his trip, and $1,50 per day for his time while giving his evidence.

The people of this country are with president Roosevelt in his recommendation to congress, to enlarge the powers of the interstate commerce commission. There has been paid out this year for railroad transportation the enormous sum of $1,890,150,679, something more than the revenues received by the United States government from all sources for the same period. No other government would permit a system, by which a few individuals can meet and arbitrarily levy this enormous tax on its people. By all means give us a law by which railroad rates can be regulated.

Ed J. Coe, county school superintendent, was up this week from his Glencoe fruit ranch with a load of apples, colored and flavored only as Lincoln County sunshine and mountain air can impart. Mr. Coe reports that he has his official matters well up to date and is ready to turn the business over to his successor whenever he is called upon to do so. Since the full care of the home ranch has been thrown upon him it requires his full time.

Mrs. W. A. McIvers was in from their Mal Pais ranch Monday. She says that W. A. himself, will in a few days, meet a party of eastern capitalists at Carizozo, who are members of the New Mexico and Iowa Mining and Milling Company and are coming to make an inspection of the company properties at Sheelersville and Turkey creek, in the White Mountains.

Geo. W. Prichard, solicitor general of New Mexico, came home on business for a few days but returned again to his duties at Santa Fe Monday morning. The colonel reports his office overcrowded with work. While here he made arrangements to have issued a very artistic prospectus of the Gold Hill Mining Company, of which he is the chief promotor.

J. M. Sylvester, who has been responsible for the neat mechanical makeup of the Outlook since its first appearance, and a genial type as well, left last Saturday morning for Albuquerque by way of El Paso. He expects to locate in boss Hubbell's Dukedom where he will continue to enjoy the climate of the land of perpetual sunshine.

NOTICE!

I am here to stay—I want your trade—I am satisfied with a small profit. If prices are an object I'll get it. Just try a change.

Yours for Business,

S. C WIENER.

Major J. P. Gregg, an old citizen and probably as well known as any one in this town died last Saturday morning after a lingering sickness of several months duration.

Earlier in life he was engaged in commerce on the New England coast and did an extensive shipping business with the ports of South America and Cuba. Meeting with serious reverses he quit business and drifted west, finally landing in White Oaks about the year 1881.

His evil star seemed to be in the ascendency for some time and he experienced many ups and downs for the next few years, but finally about twelve years ago he went into the employ of the Old Abe company and remained with them up to the time of total disability. He was always faithful and reliable and devoted to the interests of his employers. Probably the truest thing that can be said of him is, that he was everybody's friend. Peace to his ashes and repose to his soul.

Clarence Ridgeway has returned from the northwestern corner of the territory, where he has been at work since July, and is glad to be back among his chums once more, as it was his first extended trip away from home.
