One of our "Readers" is disposed to find fault with us because we do not recognize the services of E. G. Ross and J. I. Gallbright to the cause of education.

Now we have to say to one of our readers, and to all of them, that we will very heartily co-operate with all men of every shade of opinion in the cause of education. But men of that stamp are not friends of education or of anything else except themselves and their own pockets. Education is what they both very specially need. A little good common schooling would do them both a world of good.

The ex-Governor spells shark "schark," and Gallbright spells maliciously "malishly," and both murder Webster, Worcester and Lindley Murray in every issue of their so-called newspapers.

The monumental ignorance of both in the commonest affairs is a disgrace to the regions which sent them forth to prey upon the long suffering people of New Mexico.

Give us a rest. The great majority of the people of N. M. are working loyally and heartily for the education of the masses, and under great disadvantages, and with deficient means have already built up a public school system which puts to shame that of some States.

At every turn and in every effort they have been embarrassed and hampered by the acts and influences of just such self seeking, back number ignoramuses as the two men under discussion. Again we say—give us a rest.

JAY GOULD.

The Wizard of Wall St., spent several days in El Paso recently. While there he critically examined the city, it's trade, resources and connections. It is no secret that he purchased the river front property below the Mexican Central bridge, which will become the terminal grounds of the great Texas Pacific system. From this property will spring the new iron bridge over the Rio Grande, which will give the T. P. an independent connection with the Mexican Central, and by means of a spur line soon to be constructed with the new Huller lines extending from Deming, N. M., to Guerrero and Torolovampo, and eventually to Acapulco.

It is no secret that Mr. Gould gave orders for constructing the Texas Pacific from its junction with the Southern Pacific system at Sierra Blanca to El Paso, thus declaring his independence of all alliances so far as concerns his relations with El Paso.

Mr. Gould has, it is understood pronounced in favor of the early construction of a system of "feeders" for the Texas Pacific and its Mexican connections.

The road from the neighborhood of Pecos City and Roswell is one of these, and it's construction may be said to be already under way. Preparations for the actual work of construction are far advanced and work will begin as soon as the engineers can prepare the way.

The El Paso & White Oaks R. R. is another feeder, the construction of which is understood to have been determined on.

The smelting ores of this part of New Mexico, and the coal mines of White Oaks offer an amount of traffic for this line which can be relied upon to pay at least fixed charges from the opening of the road for business. These products are precisely those which are required to fully develope the prosperity of El Paso, soon to become the entrepot of a great railway system.

Negotiations are in progress at this moment looking to clearing away the last obstacles to the construction of the Road. These have been entrusted to gentlemen having large interests in the county and who are fully alive to the importance of the public interests committed to their charge.

In view of the facts known and of the proverbial promptness of Mr. Gould, we risk nothing in saying that before January 1, '91, the citizens of White Oaks will hear the whistle of the iron steed within the limits of the town.

Humanity does not require of us that we should not see the faults of others, but that we should avoid all needless and voluntary observance of them, and that we should be blind to their good qualities which we are so short sighted to their bad ones.

Grand Army of the Republic.
Socorro, March 15, '90.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 7.

The Seventh Annual Encampment of this Department will assemble at Headquarters of Slough Post No. 6, in the city of Socorro, at 10 o'clock a. m. April 10, 1890. The Commander of Slough Post is instructed to detail an Officer of the Day, an Officer of the Guard and two Sentinels, who will report at Post Headquarters for duty at 9 o'clock on that day, subject to the orders of the Assistant Adjutant General of Department. Headquarters during the Encampment will be at the Windsor Hotel Parlors, where comrades and friends will find a soldier's welcome when off duty.

A meeting of the Council of Administration is called for 8 o'clock on the evening of the 9th, and it is earnestly desired that every member be present at time, as it will expedite business very much if the reports of officers and other important matters coming before that body, can be acted upon before the meeting of the Encampment. Post Commanders are instructed to have made a complete list of all comrades who have died within the past year, together with a short sketch of the life of each, and to forward the same at once to Rev. Thos Harwood, at Socorro, N. M., Chaplain of the Department. It is imperative that this Department keep a more complete record of its comrades "Mustered Out."

Post Commanders see to it that the quarterly reports of their respective Posts, together with the names of the delegates and others entitled to a vote in the Encampment, are promptly forwarded to these Headquarters on April 1st to enable the Assistant Adjutant General to make up his list.

Ample accommodations, reasonable rates are guaranteed all comrades attending the Encampment, and the comrades of Slough Post at Socorro do their [illegible] to make the guests [illegible]

The newspaper of the future will not canvass for advertisements.

Why so?

Because the boot will be on the other leg. Advertisers will canvass for the newspaper. Some publishers devote more zeal to the securing advertisments than to the making of their paper. The first thought of the publisher seems to be, "How much advertising can I secure?" rather than "How can I make a good paper and gain many readers?" Advertising, in its relation effect, not a first cause; the substance attracted and not the magnet. The first thing should be to get a circulation, and then the advertiser will go to the publisher, and the publisher need not run after the advertiser.

It is forcing advertising—like as in forcing plants—that produces many unsatisfactory results. One third of the advertisers die from the process. Special agents are employed by each paper, and undue pressure brought to bear to induce advertisers to go in mediums that are not likely to pay them. Then, of ten publications each secure twenty advertisers who become dissatisfied with results and stop advertising, 290 advertisers are driven out of the field. Now, if the publishers' zeal could have been relaxed, and these same advertisers directed to the mediums that would paid them, all would have had their share, and the advertiser continued to spend money. It is this work of sifting and dissecting that is the duty of a good agent. He is judge, whereas the publisher cannot be more than an advocate. The agent is often "a friend in disguise" to the publisher when he keeps advertisers out of a paper.

The Arizona Kicker.

IT HAS FALLEN.—Mr. Wannamaker has refused to appoint us to the postmastership of this town. The blow has at length fallen. Honesty, integrity, merit, intelligence and enthusiasm have gone for naught. A wall-eyed, hump-backed ignoramous, who can't spell gum, and can scarcely add 2 ann 2 is retained in preference.

Do we turn the other cheek?

Not much! The first thing we did after receiving the news last night was to burn up a vest which was purchased at Wanamaker's ten years ago. We shall never, never buy another dud from his establishment. We ask our friends to make the same resolve. The Nero must be brought to terms. His haughty form must be rubbed in the dust. He must be given to understand that the bulwarks of American liberty still tower aloft, and that no free born American can be trampled on, with impunity.

Scamper tarantis! Which means that we have camped on his track.

As to people saying a few idle words about us, we must not mind that any more than the old church steeple the rooks cawing about it.

The infamous Ohio gerrymander is a crime against free institutions. Calling themselves Democrats these political robbers have conspired against what Jefferson termed "the vital principle of republics—absolute acquiescence in the will of the majority." Traitors to the first principle of popular government these political and conspirators have arranged to stifle and destroy the voice of the of the majoity in order that the minority may usurp power and govern. If this outrageous gerrymander could be submitted to the people of Ohio as a distinct issue, not complicated with anything else it would be repudiated by all Republicans and by tens of thousands of decent Democrats. That remedy being impracticable, however, the Ohio Republicans ought to consider seriously the question of paying no attenion the Democratic gerrymander and voting in their old distrect this fall.

KEEP YOURSELVES PRETTY.

To speak briefly, a woman should always, whatever her work or hurry, dress herself neatly and prettily at the beginning of the day. The bath in pure water is in itself an orison. It not only removes all the physical soil of the previous day, but also seems with holy touch, to renew the heart, leaving a fresh page for the sweet, new life of the new day. The hair should be nicely arranged and becomingly. I have often wondered how women have the courage to present themselves before their families in "crimps." I have been married many years, but never yet have felt myself willing to leave in the memory of my husband and children a single picture of me in so ludicrous a guise. If, however, you must have crimps, wrap some becoming bit of valling over your Medusa head and hide your horrors from view.

The hair being nicely fixed drape yourself in calico, or what you will, that is suited to your work, but have it pretty and neatly fitting, and always wear a collar.

A bit of ribbon gives the grace, the air, the prettiness. A ribbon-box should be well supplied. A fresh collar and ribbon not only make a woman sweet and comely to look upon, a morning joy to the husband and children, but the woman herself, conscious of being properly dressed, is more quiet, less frotful. There is nothing like a slovenly attire to make a woman hate her work and her home.

Many a hard-worked wife and mother seems to think it a part of her lot to look like a last year's bird's nest. But it is as cheap to dress prettily as to dress shabbily, and takes but little more time.

A woman should always be well dressed. I mean that her attire should be neat, becoming, suitable, and such that she should feel no shame in the eyes of those who love her best, whose eyes are always the most sensitive. I have heard of a woman who always wore bright bows on her slippers. Asked her reason, she said she wished her boy to notice that her slippers were pretty, and to associate her with the prettiness. It was a good reason.

Children receive their ideas and form their habits of thought while yet children. Little helps the young girl to learn in after years the importance of perfect cleanliness in dress, if during the years of childhood she daily played about a mother who was not clean and nice. Men have a passionate admiration of every thing feminine. They love daintiness; and daintiness goes as well in calico as silk.

Dear wives and mothers, keep yourselves pretty. Be lavish in white aprons; and if the work lulls a bit, or you come to eat or to sit, have a white apron to take the place of the work-apron.

If a woman would always be that beautiful, ungrasped joy that the maid is to her lover, she should keep her reserves. I hardly know how to fit words to my thought. The wife should ever have something more to offer to him she loves. She should be old, yet new, each day, old in the dear love and closeness, the closeness of the married years, old in the dear memories together; old in the common cares and struggles together; but new in greater patience, more gentleness, in some new trick of beauty, new in thought, more glad in love, more tender in sympathy.—Chicago Advance.

WERE it not for legal advertisements which the LEADER is compelled and must be published exclusively, we would not issue a paper this week because of confinement to bed and room and no assistance in our mechanical department. We have done the best we possibly could this week and hope that by next week we will regain our wonted health.

THERE will be a dime social held at the Congregational Church this Friday evening, to which everybody is invited. A good time is expected, as ample provision will be made for refreshments. Some work will also be done in the way of making and trimming aprons, also needle and thread, and the gentlemen will have the pleasure of trimming the bonnets. After they are all trimmed, competent judges will decide as to whom the prize shall be given for the best taste displayed as well as the most attractive lady's prize.

Our school is considerably larger than it was last term. It now numbers 21. Since the School had been in session but two months when we had our first public exercises, they consisted largely of recitations and compositions. The exercises of March 28th, will be principally class reviews of various studies, and will show some of the results of our winter's work.

All friends of the School are cordially invited to attend.

Answers to Correspondents.

One of our "Readers" is disposed to find fault with us because we do not recognize the services of E. G. Ross and J. I. Gallbright to the cause of education.

Now, we have to say to one of our readers, and to all of them, that we will very heartily co-operate with all men of every shade of opinion in the cause of education. But men of that stamp are not friends of education or of anything else except themselves and their own pockets. Education is what they both very specially need. A little good common schooling would do them both a world of good.

The ex-Governor spells shark "schark," and Gallbright spells maliciously "malishly," and both murder Webster, Worcester and Lindley Murray in every issue of their so-called newspapers.

The monumental ignorance of both in the commonest affairs is a disgrace to the regions which sent them forth to prey upon the long suffering people of New Mexico.

Give us a rest. The great majority of the people of N. M. are working loyally and heartily for the education of the masses, and under great disadvantages, and with deficient means have already built up a public school system which puts to shame that of some States.

At every turn and in every effort they have been embarrassed and hampered by the acts and fulminations of just such self seekers as the two men under discussion. We say—give us a rest.

JAY GOULD.

The Wizard of Wall St., spent several days in El Paso recently. While there he critically examined the city, it's trade, resources and connections. It is no secret that he purchased the river front property below the Mexican Central bridge, which will become the terminal grounds of the great Texas Pacific system. From this property will spring the new iron bridge over the Rio Grande, which will give the T. P. an independent connection with the Mexican Central, and by means of a spur line soon to be constructed with the new Huller lines extending from Deming, N. M., to Guerrero and Tovolovampo, and eventually to Acapulco.

It is no secret that Mr. Gould gave orders for constructing the Texas Pacific from its junction with the Southern Pacific system at Sierra Blanca to El Paso, thus declaring his independence of all alliances so far as concerns his relations with El Paso.

Mr. Gould has, it is understood pronounced in favor of the early construction of a system of "feeders" for the Texas Pacific and its Mexican connections.

The road from the neighborhood of Pecos City and Roswell is one of these, and its construction may be said to be already under way. Preparations for the actual work of construction are far advanced and work will begin as soon as the engineers can prepare the way.

The El Paso & White Oaks R. R. is another feeder, the construction of which is understood to have been determined on.

The smelting ores of this part of New Mexico, and the coal mines of White Oaks offer an amount of traffic for this line which can be relied upon to pay at least fixed charges from the opening of the road for business. These products are precisely those which are required to fully develope the prosperity of El Paso, soon to become the entrepot of a great railway system.

Negotiations are in progress at this moment looking to clearing away the last obstacles to the construction of the Road. These have been entrusted to gentlemen having large interests in the county and who are fully alive to the importance of the public interests committed to their charge.

In view of the facts known and of the proverbial promptness of Mr. Gould, we risk nothing in saying that before January 1, '91, the citizens of White Oaks will hear the whistle of the iron steed within the limits of the town.

Charity does not require of us that we should not see the faults of others, but that we should avoid all needless and voluntary observance of them, and that we should be blind to their good qualities when we are so sharp sighted to their bad ones.

Grand Army of the Republic,
Socorro, March 15, '90.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 7.

The Seventh Annual Encampment of this Department will assemble at Headquarters of Slough Post No. 6, in the city of Socorro, at 10 o'clock a. m. April 10, 1890. The Commander of Slough Post is instructed to detail an Officer of the Day, an Officer of Guard and two Corporals who will report at Post Headquarters for duty at 9 o'clock on that day, subject to the orders of the Assistant Adjutant General of Department. Headquarters during the Encampment will be at the Windsor Hotel Parlors, where comrades and friends will find a soldier's welcome when off duty.

A meeting of the Council of Administration is called for 8 o'clock on the evening of the 9th, and it is earnestly desired that every member be present at time, as it will expedite business very much if the reports of officers and other important matters coming before that body, can be acted upon before the meeting of the Encampment. Post Commanders are instructed to have made a complete list of all comrades who have died within the past year, together with a short sketch of the life of each, and to forward the same at once to Rev. Thos Harwood, at Socorro, N. M., Chaplain of the Department. It is imperative that this Department keep a more complete record of its comrades "Mustered Out."

Post Commanders see to it that the quarterly reports of their respective Posts, together with the names of the delegates and others entitled to a vote in the Encampment, are promptly forwarded to these Headquarters on April 1st to enable the Assistant Adjutant General to make up his list.

Ample accommodations, reasonable rates are guaranteed all comrades attending the Encampment, and the comrades of Slough Post will [illegible] to do their utmost [illegible] entertaining their guests.

The Navy Department Commander expects that the [illegible] will be able to report as to whether special rates will be given to comrades wishing to attend the Encampment but could not receive [illegible] prior to April 10, Post Commanders will be notified.

By order of
LEE H. RUDISILL,
Acting Department Commander.
[OFFICIAL.]
F. BUCHANAN,
Ass't Adj't General.

The newspaper of the future will not canvass for advertisements.

Why so?

Because the boot will be on the other leg. Advertisers will canvas for the newspaper. Some publishers devote more zeal to the securing advertisments than to the making of their paper. The first thought of the publisher seems to be, "How much advertising can I secure?" rather than "How can I make a good paper and gain many readers?" Advertising, in its relation effect, not a first cause; the substance attracted and not the magnet. The first thing should be to get a circulation; and then the advertiser will go to the publisher, and the publisher need not run after the advertiser.

It is forcing advertising—like as in forcing plants—that produces many unsatisfactory results. One third of the advertisers die from the process. Special agents are employed by each paper, and undue pressure brought to bear to induce advertisers to go in mediums that are not likely to pay them. Time, if ten publications each secure twenty advertisers who become dissatisfied with results and stop advertising, 200 advertisers are driven out of the field. Now, if the publishers' zeal could have been relaxed, and these same advertisers directed to the mediums that would paid them, all would have had their share, and the advertiser continued to spend money. It is this work of sifting and dissecting that is the duty of a good agent. He is judge, whereas the publisher cannot be more than an advocate. The agent is often "a friend in disguise" to the publisher when he keeps advertisers out of a paper.

The Arizona Kicker.

IT HAS FALLEN.—Mr. Wannamaker has refused to appoint us to the postmastership of this town. The blow has at length fallen. Honesty, integrity, merit, intelligence and enthusiasm have gone for naught. A wall-eyed, hump-backed ignoramous, who can't spell gum, and can scarcely add 2 ann 2 retained in preference.

Do we turn the other cheek?

Not much? The first thing we did after receiving the news last night was to burn up a vest which was purchased at Wanamaker's ten years ago. We shall never, never buy another dud from his establishment. We ask our friends to make the same resolve. The Nero must be brought to terms. His haughty form must be rubbed in the dust. He must be given to understand that the bulwarks of American liberty still tower aloft, and that no free-born American can be trampled on with impunity.

We Semper tyrannis! Which means that we have camped on his trail.

As to people saying a few idle words about us, we must not mind that any more than the old church steeple the rooks cawing about it.

The infamous Ohio gerrymander is a crime against free institutions. Calling themselves Democrats these political robbers have conspired against what Jefferson termed "the vital principles of republics—absolute acquiescence in the will of the majority." Traitors to the first principle of popular government these political and conspirators have arranged to stifle and destroy the voice of the of the majoity in order that the minority may usurp power and govern. If this outrageous gerrymander could be submitted to the people of Ohio as a distinct issue, not complicated with anything else it would be repudiated by all Republicans and by tens of thousands of decent Democrats. That remedy being impracticable, however, the Ohio Republicans ought to consider seriously the question of paying no attenion the Democratic gerrymander and voting in their old distract this fall.

KEEP YOURSELVES PRETTY.

To speak briefly, a woman should always, whatever her work or hurry, dress herself neatly and prettily at the beginning of the day. The bath in pure water is in itself an orison. It not only removes all the physical soil of the previous day, but also seems with holy touch to renew the heart, leaving a fresh page for the sweet new life of the new day. The hair should be nicely arranged and becomingly. I have often wondered how women have the courage to present themselves before their families in "crimps." I have been married many years, but never yet have felt myself willing to leave in the memory of my husband and children a single picture of me in so ludicrous a guise. If, however, you must have crimps, wrap some becoming bit of vailing over your Medusa head and hide your horrors from view.

The hair being nicely fixed dress yourself in calico, or what you will, that is suited to your work, but have it pretty and neatly fitting, and always wear a collar.

A bit of ribbon gives the grace, the air, the prettiness. A ribbon-box should be well supplied. A fresh collar and ribbon not only make a woman sweet and comely to look upon, a morning joy to the husband and children, but the woman herself, conscious of being properly dressed, is more quiet, less fretful. There is nothing like a slovenly attire to make a woman hate her work and her home.

Many a hard-worked wife and mother seems to think it a part of her lot to look like a last year's bird's nest. But it is as cheap to dress prettily as to dress slubbily, and takes but little more time.

A woman should always be well dressed. I mean that her attire should be neat, becoming, suitable, and such that she should feel no shame in the eyes of those who love her best, whose eyes are always the most sensitive. I have heard of a woman who always wore bright bows on her slippers. Asked her reason, she said she wished her boy to notice that her slippers were pretty, and to associate her with the prettiness. It was a good reason.

Children receive their ideas and form their habits of thought while yet children. Little helps the young girl to learn in after years the importance of perfect cleanliness in dress. If during the years of childhood she daily played about a mother who was not clean and nice. Men have a passionate admiration of every thing feminine. They love daintiness; and daintiness goes as well in calico as silk.

Dear wives and mothers, keep yourselves pretty. Be lavish in white aprons; and if the work lulls a bit, or you come to eat or to sit, have a white apron to take the place of the work-apron.

If a woman would always be that beautiful, ungrasped joy that the maid is to her lover, she should keep her reserves. I hardly know how to fit words to my thought. The wife should ever have something more to offer to him she loves. She should be old, yet new, each day, old in the dear love and closeness, the closeness of the married years, old in the dear memories together; old in the common cares and struggles together; but new in greater patience, more gentleness, in some new trick of beauty, new in thought, more glad in love, more tender in sympathy.—Chicago Advance.

White Oaks & Lincoln Co.

The Arcadia and Hesperides of the World.

The Golconda and Elysium of the Continent.

White Oaks is a town of about 1,200 people, and is situated on Sec. 26, Town 6, Range 13 east, in the western part of Lincoln County, New Mexico. At the last general election there were cast in the town, 292 votes, while the Registration was 345. During the year 1883 there was expended in various improvements upwards of $50,000. The distance from Carlsbad, on the A. T. & S. F. R. R., [illegible] miles; 103 miles from Socorro; [illegible] the present time, 155 miles from [illegible], Texas, and 40 from Lincoln, the County seat. The distance from Liberal, Kansas, the terminus of the Rock Island system in Kansas, is 380 miles. R. R. lines are now being constructed either from El Paso, Texas, and Liberal, Kansas. Both lines will be completed before Jan. 1st 1890.

White Oaks is the largest town in the county, and the seat of an extensive supply trade. It is finely situated in a valley, among the spurs of the Carrizo range, at an elevation of 6470 feet above sea level. It has two religious organizations, Methodist and Congregationalist, a large and prosperous school, and an Academy; two weekly newspapers supply the population. The various social and charitable organizations comprise a Lodge of Pythians, Young Men's Benevolent Association; 75 Free Masons, with a Hall in course of construction; Grand Army of the Republic and its auxiliary, the W. R. C., are strong, [illegible] purchased a lot with a view to their own use; the Arcadia Club, which [illegible] regularly in Athletic Hall. The Oaks business is represented as follows:

The County of Lincoln, in the southeastern corner of New Mexico, is 200 miles in extreme length, and 160 in extreme breadth, and contains 21,450 square miles. It is subdivided, from north to south, by the Rio Penasco as important stream, which receives within the county numerous tributaries rising in the east side of the Great Range, the western part of [illegible] is divided by mountains, locally known as the Gallinas, Jicarillas, Carrizos, Sierra Blancos, &c., all portions of the Great Mountain Range dividing eastern New Mexico. The peaks of these ranges vary from—Gallinas and Jack's Peak, about 8,000 feet; to Carizo, 9,200, Nogal, 10,000, and Sierra Blanco, 12,000.

The population of the county was 5,000 in 1885, now about 8000. The towns other than White Oaks, are Lincoln, San Patricio, Picacho, Weed, Dowlin's Mill, Galena, Roswell, Seven Rivers, Three Rivers, Bonito, Nogal, Parsons and Lookout.

Two-thirds of the county consists of fine grazing land, mainly well watered, and stocked with 200,000 head of cattle, an increase of 1,000 per cent in 5 years. The Angora goat has made his appearance in the mountain of Lincoln county, and he is here to stay. He ranges where nothing else will, and is exceedingly profitable to his owner. There are but few sheep in the county, about 15,000 horses and mules, and burros, (Angora Jacknasses,) like the sands of the seashore for multitude.

On the Penasco, Ruidoso, Bonito, Hondo, Seven Rivers, Black River, and Pecos, there are the finest of agricultural lands. Fine farms have been opened on all these streams, and upon them have been produced in exceptional quality and quantity every farm products which can be raised at such an elevation. The experiment of the late Chas. Fritz demonstrated that Lincoln county will produce in abundance all the northern fruits. The agricultural interest is already important and growing—experiments show that in most portions of the county crops can be raised without irrigation.

Mines were first discovered in the county in 1878. Nothing was done in the way of mining until 1879. Because of lack of capital and distance from the [illegible] the mining industry languished in all 1884. Now the [illegible] and White Oaks [illegible] important part of the [illegible] production of the Territory of New Mexico, and the prospect is that production will [illegible] 1889.

Our people are [illegible] and open-hearted, [illegible] No one coming to [illegible] need fear too much [illegible] as much as [illegible] and [illegible] strangers are welcome, [illegible] welcome, if they come to settle among us.

The county has an [illegible] School system, managed by a County Superintendent, and [illegible] Directors of twenty-three school districts. Upwards of twenty-three [illegible] school houses were in operation in 1884, and the number will be greater in 1889. Public sentiment favors a liberal expenditure of public money for educational purposes, and private liberality can be relied upon to make good any deficiencies. There are no "land grants" in Lincoln county; no world scrimps stretching out its outstretched tentacles to crush our people; no Chinese dragon to weaken Labor's endeavor. Our every citizen is free and a lover of freedom. Here there is no alliance between religion, politics, and manliness. Man is privileged to worship God in what form he pleases, or without form; to vote what ticket he pleases, or disfranchise himself. The Kern's theory is our only tenet, viz:

Rest is not the price we pay

Dobbins' Electric Soap
THE BEST FAMILY SOAP IN THE WORLD.
It is Strictly Pure. Uniform in Quality.
The original formula for which we paid $[illegible] twenty years ago has never been modified or changed in the slightest. This soap is identical in quality to-day with that made twenty years ago.
It contains nothing that can injure the finest fabric. It brightens colors and bleaches white.
It washes flannels and blankets as no other soap in the world does, without shrinking, leaving them soft and white and like new.
READ THIS TWICE
There is great saving of time, of labor, of soap, of fuel, and of the fabric, where Dobbins' Electric Soap is used according to directions.
One trial will demonstrate its great merit. It will pay you to make that trial.
Like all good things, it is extensively imitated and counterfeited.
Beware of Imitations.
Insist upon Dobbins' Electric. Don't take Magnetic, Electro-Magic, Philadelphia Electric, or any other fraud, simply because it is cheap. They will ruin clothes, and are dear at any price. Ask for and take no other. Nearly every grocer from Maine to Mexico keeps it in stock. If yours doesn't, he will order for you if you request it. Insist on getting the genuine article. Look for the name DOBBINS on each cake and be careful to follow directions on each outside wrapper. You can not afford to be without it. Try it for yourself this old, reliable, and truly wonderful
DOBBINS' ELECTRIC
Dobbins' Electric Soap.
GOLD
Bible agents, [illegible] who write for Dobbins' Electric Soap, Philadelphia, Pa., will receive free, full instructions whereby each person can make from $5 to $10 per day. Some [illegible] per day. Address, with stamp, [illegible] Dobbins' Electric Soap, Philadelphia, Pa. All in one.

A Postmaster is required to give notice that the Morning paper does not satisfy the law [illegible] not take the paper from the office, but [illegible] and a legal tender to make the postmaster responsible to the publisher for the price.

Any person who takes a paper from the postoffice, whether addressed to his name or that of another, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the price.

If a person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether it be taken from the office or not.

In suits for subscriptions the place where the paper is published is the place where the debt is contracted, and the publisher may sue for it there, no matter how far it may be from the office of publication.

If the postmaster neglects or refuses to discontinue the paper when ordered, he is liable to pay the subscription himself.

If the postmaster has his name entered as subscriber, or any other person does so, he is liable to the publisher for the price of the paper.

If a subscriber orders his paper discontinued he must pay his bill, or he will be held to pay it if he lets it run until it is much more than the price of the paper.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the office is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

Mr. Lee. "Why, Addie, you don't say so! If I only said Mrs. Allen was a very well-informed woman, and I wished you would follow her example."

Mrs. Lee. "Yes, and last evening you said you wished I could manage to look as well as Mrs. Allen, and see make all her dresses. Not she knows what I haven't."

Mr. Lee. "What I want?"

Mrs. Lee. "Well, she gets all her information from the Magazine they take. I don't but she knows all there is to know, and can talk and entertaining in conversation. But I can do as well as she does if I have the same source of information. She lent me the last number of Lee's Magazine lately, and I learned more in one hour's reading about various social topics, and the topics of the day, than I've read put together by my occasional chats with friends. It certainly covers every topic of interest, from the news of the day down to the details of housekeeping and everything is so beautifully illustrated, too. Every time Magazine goes over to the Allens' she comes back and teases me to get you to take Demorest's Family Magazine, as she thinks it so good. Even the boys watch for it every month, as a place is found for them also in its pages and Mr. Allen swears by it. It is really wonderful how it suits every member of the family!"

Mr. Lee. "Well perhaps I had better send for a Specimen Copy, for if it is everything you say it is, it will amuse and interest the whole of us."

Mrs. Lee. "I see that W. Jennings Demorest, the publisher, in East 14th Street, New York, is offering to send a Specimen Copy for 10 cents, so we can't lose anything, as each number contains a 'Pattern Order' entitling the holder to any pattern she may choose, and in any size, which alone makes each copy worth twenty cents, and I just want a jacket pattern like Mrs. Allen's. The subscription price is only $2.00 a year, and I must say I can't see how they can publish so elegant a Magazine for so little money."

White Oaks is a town of about 1,200 people, and is situated on Sec. 26, Town 6, Range 13 east, in the western part of Lincoln County, New Mexico. At the last general election there were cast in the town, 292 votes, while the Registration was 346. During the year 1885 there was expended in various improvements upwards of [illegible]. The distance from Carrizozo on the A. T. & S. F. R. R., [illegible] miles; 103 miles from Socorro; [illegible] miles from El Paso, Texas, and 40 from Lincoln, the County seat. The distance from Liberal, Kansas, the terminus of the Rock Island system is [illegible] miles. R. R. is now being constructed either from El Paso, Texas, and Liberal, Kansas. Both lines will be completed before Jan. 1st 1890.

White Oaks is the largest town in the county, and the seat of an important supply trade. It is finely situated in a valley, among the spurs of the Carrizo range, at an elevation of 6,470 feet above sea level. It has two religious organizations, Methodist and Congregationalist, a large and prosperous school and an Academy; two weekly newspapers supply the population. The various social and charitable organizations, Knights of Pythias, Young Men's Benevolent Association; [illegible] Free Masons with a Hall [illegible] of construction, Grand Army of the Republic and its auxiliary, the W. Total [illegible] for all purposes is [illegible] County Commissioners [illegible] and the small [illegible] years are being rapidly [illegible] to surpass [illegible]

The County of Lincoln, in the southeastern corner of New Mexico, is 220 miles in extreme length, and 160 in extreme breadth, and has an area of 4,650 square miles. It is divided, from north to south, by the Pecos and important streams which receive within the county numerous tributaries arising in the east side of the Great Range.

The western part of the county is divided by mountains, locally known as the Gallinas, Hondillas, Carizos, Sierra Blancos, &c., all portions of the Great Mountain Range dividing eastern New Mexico. The peaks of these ranges vary from—Gallinas and Jack's Peak, about 8,000 feet, to Carizo, 9,290, Nogal, 10,000, and Sierra Blanco, 12,000.

The population of the county was 5,000 in 1885, now about 8000. The towns other than White Oaks, are Lincoln, San Patricio, Picacho, Weed, Dowlin's Mill, Galena, Roswell, Seven Rivers, Three Rivers, Bonito, Nogal, Parsons and Lookout.

Two-thirds of the county consists of fine grazing land, mainly well watered, and stocked with 200,000 head of cattle, an increase of 1,900 per cent in 5 years. The Angora goat has made his appearance in the mountain of Lincoln county, and he is here to stay. He ranges where nothing else will, and is exceedingly profitable to his owner. There are but few sheep in the county, about 15,000 horses and mules, and burros, (Angola Jacknasses,) like the sands of the seashore for multitude.

On the Penasco, Ruidoso, Bonito, Hondo, Seven Rivers, Black River, and Pecos, there are the finest of agricultural lands. Fine farms have been opened on all these streams, and upon them has been produced in exceptional quality and quantity every farm product which can be raised at such an elevation. The experience of the late Chas. Fritz demonstrated that Lincoln county will produce in abundance all the northern fruits. The agricultural interest is already important, and growing. Experiments show that in most portions of the county crops can be raised without irrigation.

Mines were first discovered in the county in 1869. [illegible] done in the way of [illegible] 1879. Because of lack of capital and distance from [illegible] the mining industry languished until 1884. Now [illegible] and White Oaks [illegible] important part of the [illegible] production of the Territory of New Mexico, and the prospect is that production will [illegible] 1889.

The heat is never great, nor is the cold [illegible] long continued in [illegible]. Our people are [illegible] and open-hearted [illegible]. No one having [illegible] need fear [illegible] climate, as it is as near perfect [illegible] pleasing as any [illegible]. Strangers are welcome [illegible] welcome, if they [illegible] settle among us.

The editor has enjoyed the hospitality of the School of [illegible], the County Superintendent, and the Directors of twenty-two school districts. Libraries of twenty-one different schools were in operation in 1885, and the number will be greater in 1889. Public [illegible] spent a liberal expenditure of public money for educational purposes, and private. There is every [illegible] to be relied upon to make good any deficiencies. There are no "[illegible] grants" in Lincoln county; no [illegible] stretching out its tentacles to crush our people; no Chinese dragon to weaken human labor. Our every citizen is free and a lover of freedom. Here there is no alliance between religion, politics, and employees. Man is privileged to worship God in what form he pleases, or without form, to vote what ticket he pleases, or disfranchise himself. The Burns theory is our only [illegible]:

"Rank is but the guinea stamp,

The population of Lincoln county is mainly American. White Oaks is distinctively an American town. We have room and space for many thousands more of farmers, merchants, [illegible] miners, prospectors [illegible]

[illegible] for every [illegible] United States. [illegible] each family in the [illegible] almost an acre and [illegible] the land of this [illegible] the distributed among [illegible] of the world there [illegible] each man, [illegible] child 10x50 feet, or a [illegible] family 5x100 feet [illegible] of Los Angeles [illegible]

It is Strictly Pure. Uniform in Quality.

THE same formula for which we paid $10,000 twenty years ago has never been modified or changed in the slightest. This soap is identical in quality to-day with that made twenty years ago.

It contains nothing that can injure the finest fabric. It brightens colors and bleaches white.

It washes flannels and blankets as no other soap in the world does, without shrinking or leaving them soft and white and like new.

READ THIS TWICE

THERE is a great saving of time, of labor, of soap, of fuel, and of the fabric, where Dobbins' Electric Soap is used according to directions.

ONE trial will demonstrate its great merit. It will pay you to make that trial.

LIKE all best things, it is extensively imitated and counterfeited.

Beware of Imitations.

INSIST upon Dobbins' Electric. Don't take Magnetic, Electro-Magic, Philadelphia Electric, or any other brand, simply because it is cheap. They will ruin clothes, and are dear at any price. Ask for DOBBINS' ELECTRIC and take no other. Nearly every grocer from Maine to Mexico keeps it in stock. If your town hasn't it, he will order from his nearest wholesale grocer.

DO YOU remember the little wrapper around each bar, and be careful to follow directions on each outside wrapper. You can't afford to neglect this. Give a trial for yourself this old, reliable, and truly wonderful

Dobbins' Electric Soap.

PUBLIC SCHOOL.

During the five month's term which closed March 14, the enrollment was 70, average daily attendance, 42. Those maintaining an average above 75 per cent. in recitations, reviews and examinations, are as follows:

Grade V.—Daisie Nabours, Albert Sepulver.

Those maintaining the highest average in deportment are Jodie Biggs and Geo. Sepulver, each having 98 per cent.

Though there are many obstacles in the way of regular and prompt attendance, the interest manifested by pupils seems never for a moment to lag. I desire to say to the parents of these dear children entrusted to my care, that I have given them at all times my best thought and endeavor, and have received from them in return prompt and loving obedience.

M. M. RUDISILLE,
Teacher.

THERE will be a dime sociable held at the Congregational Church this Friday evening, to which everybody is invited. A general good time is expected; as each lady will take some kind of bonnet and trimmings, also needle and thread, and the gentlemen will have the pleasure of trimming the bonnets. After they are all trimmed, competent judges will decide as to whom the prize shall be given for the best taste displayed, as well as the best earned booby prize.

SINCE General Order No. 7 was published the A. T. & S. F. R. R. has agreed upon the usual reduction to delegates who wish to attend the G. A. R. Encampment, and the rate will be one and one third fare for the round trip.—This, however, does not effect the boys living in White Oaks and Lincoln County very much.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for April is here. In its handsome illustration, its Literary Department, its Domestic Department, its Children's Department, and in its entirety it is not, and never has been equaled by any magazine for the price in this country, or in the world—$2.00 per year. Recitation.

Our school is considerably larger than it was last term. It now numbers 21. Since the School had been in session but two months when we had our first public exercises, they consisted largely of recitations and compositions. The exercises of March 28th, will be principally class reviews of various studies, and will show some of the results of our winter's work.

All friends of the School are cordially invited to attend.

Respectfully,
ABBY F. HULL.
