Santa Fe, N. M., Aug. 11, '90.

It has been computed that between 36 and 37, 000,000 babies are born in the new world each year. The rate of productions is therefore about seventy per minute or rather more than one for every beat of the clock with the one-a minute calculation evey newspaper reader is familar, but it is not every one who stops to calculat what this means when it comes to a years supply. It will therefore, probably startle a good many persons to find on the authority of well known hospital writer that, could the infants of a year be ranged in line in cradles, the cradles would be overflowing and at the same time extend, around the globe. A child was born in this town the present week that was not contracted for which may cause the above estimate to overlap. We have the ingenious conclusion also that, supposing the little ones grow up, and the sexes be equally divided we would have an army 100 times larger than that of Great Britain and a wife for each soldier besides.

Take Care! There is Danger In allowing inactivity of the kidneys to grow through neglect. The deadly shoals of Bright's disease and diabetes will wreck the goodly bark of health if it is allowed to drift rudderless upon them. The bladder, too, if inactive, and judicious medication does not speedily direct the helm toward the port of safety, will be wrecked by the quicksand of disease. In selecting a diuretic, let your choice fall upon Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which invigorates the renal organs without irritating and wearing them, two glasses to be approached upon the unacclimated stomach largely reserved for. Third, have a regard to your regularity. The liver, too, is a delicate organ, and should be kept healthy. Constipation, piles, loss of appetite and many other ailments are the result of its torpidity. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the best medicine to rouse this torpid organ into healthy action.

The fact is noted that many Southern cities are shown by the recent census to have made wonderful growth within ten years past. Memphis has grown from 33,000 to 75,000, Nashville from 43,000 to 72,000, Dallas from 10,000 to 29,000, Chattanoogo from 13,000 to 45,000, Birmingham from 3,000 to 27,000, Ft. Worth from 6,000 to 31,000, and Houston from 16,000 to 32,000, and Atlanta from 37,000 to 65,000.—Exchange.

And why is this thus? Simply because the capital of the North and West has been flowing Southward. Had there been no obstacles to the exercise of all the rights of citizenship—including that of the elective franchise—the growth would have been much greater. With all it's claims as a reformer and bourbon democracy, with it's fraud and intimidation, has been the only drawback to the growth of the Southern States since '65. The Republican party, with all of it's defects, has been the steadfast friend of the prosperity of the South. Give us the Federal Election Law now, and the growth of Southern cities will be doubled during the next decade

HYPNOTISM — mesmerism—by whichever name you choose to call it—is a subject of speil interest to everybody at present, and evryone would be pleased to have ocular demonstration of some of the wonderful phenomena produced by this weird art or science. Opportunities, however are few; but those curious to learn the modus operandi may do so from reading the description of "A Hypnotic Seance," illustrated with pictures taken from life, published in DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE for September. It is by thus giving special attention to timely topics keeping "in touch" with the sentiments and new ideas of the day that this ideal Magazine has acheived its well deserved populaity.

Another timely papers is "On a Millionaire's Steam Yacht," the text and the fine illustrations giving a vivid idea of Jay Gould's "Atalanta," the floating palace in which he and his guests enjoy "life on the ocean wave." Every one cannot be a millionaire and own a steam yacth, but one read about it and imagine how it would seem.

Then read "Wings, Songs, and Stings;" and if you do not decide that the topic is timely and feel a new interest in the mesquito, we are egregiously mistaken. The story has "a sweet tooth" will be interested in "A Box of Candy" the housekeeper will be specilly pleased with "A Normandy," every one of "our girls" should read "Girl Bachelors vs. Husband-Hunter," and the childern will be delighted with the kindergarten amusements and the story of "A Dutch Doll" We have not space to enumearate all the attractions; but there are nearly two hundred fine illustrations and a lovely water-color that everyone will appreciate for its artistic effect and truthfull ness to nature. How all this is don for 20 cents a number, $2 a year is a problem, Published by W. JENNINGS DEMOREST, 15 East 14th St., New York.

FROM HUBBS.

Albuquerque, Aug. 13.

EDITOR LEADER—

In an unguarded and perhaps unfortunate moment, I promised to drop you a line conveying my impressions of the "lower country," not hades, but of Roswell and vicinity. My "impression" has been so thoroughly engrafted on the plank side of a stage cushion during the past half dozen days and nights that I doubt if I have any left that would impress itself upon your readers as anything but flat and stale.

The first and most impressive impression which engrafted itself upon my mind was a mathematical proposition, as to why the charge on a given line of coaches from San Antonio to Lincoln should be $19 50, while the return, over the same route from Lincoln to San Antonio is but $15 50 or $4 less, especially when one considers thas it is up hill both ways. I can only arrive at a solution on the hypothesis that the agent at the south end has $4 worth more soul than the like employee of a soulless corporation at the north end. Despite all my figuring I am still out $4, or (keep it dark) I may owe that amount for a failure to charge enough.

I made another valuable discovery on that eventful trip across the empire of New Mexico. It is this—the mules on the aforesaid stage line, the mules that drag the U. S. mail (also male) across the plain, down valley and up arroyas have the toughest hides and the briefest memory of any of their kind I have observed since the days of Burnside's "stuck in the mud" at near Fredericksburg, Va. during the '63 May days of a rollicking fratricidal war.

If life were all sunshine we poor mortals would not know how to enjoy it.

My mission to the new county to the south of Lincoln, Chaves, was not to view the country but to institute a lodge of Odd Fellows, the best organization without politics or creed this side of H——. My mission was consummated and the new lodge, Samaritan, No. 12, composed of the best brains and the best morals among the "male" population of promising Roswell. I use the word "male" advisedly. I had the pleasure or misfortune of meeting the "superior" halves of some of the aforesaid "best brains and best morals" of that town after having kept the "worser" halves caged in the lodge room till 5 o'clock in the morning, and do not propose a second time to place my earthly existence in jeopordy.

What have you people of Lincoln County, and now of Chaves been thinking of these many years that you have not enlightened the world relative to the magnificent Valley of the Pecos? Right there in the southern central portion of this Territory, without the curse of a grant, or a cursed land grant within a half hundred miles, lies not only the prettiest but one susceptible of being made the richest and most productive valleys in the west.

I have some acquaintance with the surface features and resources of several of the States, and I speak advisedly when I say that Kansas, Nebraska or the States north the North do not contain within their borders a valley so uniformly level, so rich in it's possibilities and extensive in acreage as that of the lower Pecos. When you have a Valley, or rather, perhaps, a plain in the Valley, in unbroken width from seven to thirty miles, so nearly level that that the incline cannot be detected by the unaided eye, only awaiting the water from the great canal just completed, and the hand of the thrifty farmer to make of it a veritable garden. Yet it has not been advertised. The world knows not of it.

There is hope for the future of Roswell, the county-seat of the new county of Chaves. It's people have no word of disparagement for any other town or city, and they are a unit in their good words and their good acts in behalf of their handsome little village.

People must not go there, however, expecting to find the town lighted by electricity, it's streets encumbered with cable roads or water works, or "beer" works. They have not these as yet, but they have room for and will have them in reasonable time—they have the country surrounding to make and support a city capable of these things.

The people of Roswell have the intelligence to know that a word of disfavor spoken of any other town in the Territory is half a word against themselves, and likewise that a good word for others is a credit of fifty per cent. in their behalf. Other towns might profitably profit by their example. Will they?

Awake, ye sons of Lincoln, of Chaves and of Eddy counties, and herald to the world your manifold resources of mines of gold, silver, coal and copper, of your vast and unequalled cattle ranges, and your great extent of rich, level agricultural and horticultural lands, open to settlement under the munificent liberal public land laws of the Government, and you are assured of a prosperous future.

Danger of Dirty Finger-Nails.

Seventy-eight examinations of the impurities under finger-nails were recently made in the bacteriological laboratories of Vienna, and the cultivations thus produced showed thirty-six kinds of micrococci, eighteen bacilli, three sarcinæ, and various varieties; the spores of common mould were very frequently present. It is sometimes said that the scratch of a nail is poisonous. There is no reason to suspect the nail tissue; it is more likely the germs laid in wound from a cactrial nest under the nail. Children are very apt to neglect to purify the nails when washing the hands; and this matter is not always sufficiently attended to among surgical patients.—British Medical Journal.

Great scott!—just to think that a pest-house is lurking under the finger nails and, we so sweetly innocent of the fact! And yet many who call themselves ladies and gentlemen, are as ignorant as may be of the fact, that clean finger-nails is one mark of the gentleman or lady. Just imagine your best girl putting her fair arm around your neck and putting your cheek with a dainty hand, that may become conspicuous by causing your death for lack of attention to the kind of soil they carry under the finger-

LOVE'S HALLOWED GROUND.

Deep in a vale, where rocks on every side
Shut out the winds and scarcely let the sun
Between them dart his rays down one by one,
Where all was still and cool in summertide,
An lovely, with her whispering waves that glided,
A little river, that had scarce begun
Her silver course, made bold to float and run
Down leafy falls to woodlands dense and wide;
There stood a tiny plain, just large enough
To give small mountain folk right room to dance,
With oaks and limes and maples ringed around;
Hither I came, and rest on its turf palace.
Its solitude with beauty seemed aglow—
My love had waited there and 'twas holy ground!

—Geoze, from the Swedish.

Dinner Tables, Old and New.

The old English dinner table was a massive thing and was heavily loaded for dinner. There were huge joints, enormous game pies and the carcasses of poultry. It was considered the correct thing for the hostess to carve and to press the guests to gluttony and the host to pass the bottle several times too often. With such display of food there was little room for floral decorations. In the course of time the vegetables were published from the table and handed by the attendants. Then the made dishes were dubbed entrees and were cleared off the table and brought in by the attendants piping hot.

Finally the meats were taken off, and at last the guests were permitted to eat or not to eat, without any influence on the part of the host or hostess, while at the same time the praising of the viands, which used to be the practice, no longer became proper. The appearance at the table, as well as the conduct at the table, has changed. The table is not so massive and the floral decorations are frequently of the most elaborate and costly description. People who cannot spend much money on floral decorations, yet devote time and taste to them, using such as may be picked wild, ferns, berries, etc., besides such cultivated ones as may be obtained.—Good Housekeeping.

Inventions in Dental Surgery.

The dentists in this city are divided into two parties, one for maintaining in vigor the present code of ethics, and the other for revising it. The conservative party is comprised chiefly of men of the old school, men to whom professional courtesy is of higher importance than silver certificates. Most of the reformers are young men who prefer dollars to compliments. The two elements are at war on the subject of the patentability of medical inventions in dental surgery. The conservatives contend that under the code all inventions are made for the good of humanity, that patents restrict the use of inventions, and, consequently, humanity suffers. The reformers believe that the laborer is worthy of his hire; that if a dentist spends 10 years in perfecting an invention he is entitled to all he can make out of it. The name of Bonwill occurs often in the discussions on the subject. He is a reformer of the reformers. The little machine that stands beside the chair of every dentist in Christendom is mainly the creation of his inventive genius, and he has reaped a liberal reward of $150,000 from the patent. Yet no one can say that he has not benefited humanity.—New York Tribune.

Stage Lights and Shadows.

The audience in a theater think as little of the man whose work enables them to witness the stage performance as railway passengers do of the engineer who conducts them safely to their journey's end. They see the show, and if they enjoy it they never trouble themselves to inquire what causes produce such brilliant effects. But for every light in the auditorium, and for every shade of illumination behind the scenes, they are indebted to the humble gasman, who stands by his post in the wings near the footlights. He, by means of a number of little hand wheels, is regulating every gas jet in the theater. Before him is a plot of the play, and he hovers for his cues as anxiously as any actor in the company. A false move on his part, such as the turning of a wheel at the wrong time, may ruin the artistic effect. A sudden effect may be spoiled by a flood of dazzling light, or total darkness may envelope the stage.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

A Hint to Smokers.

It is remarkable that people smoke so much tobacco in its various forms, that is impregnated with deadly nicotine, when by a simple method, which would not detract one whit from its flavor and quality, but would remove all that is objectionable, the tobacco could be made free of this poison. Merely wash the tobacco a day in a shallow trough and then lay it in the sun. If possible if not, dry by the most convenient means and the weed is robbed of its deleterious properties and of nicotine. It is then to most the forces would not affect the most sensitive lady, because it has no flavor. In fact, the vessel in which it is buried does not become tainted; a valuable thing for a man who prefers a meerschaum pipe to cigars.—Bangor McNamee to Globe Democrat.

Cremation Furnaces in Paris.

Four large cremation furnaces have been declared open at the great Parisian cemetery of Père la Chaise. The question is expected whether proper results should be contented by the Paris municipality, but there is such a strong feeling against it among the poor that the law will probably have to be abrogated. It is mainly the wealthy who go for cremation.—New York Sun.

Taxing Women Who Marry.

In Tashkend, says a traveler, the Chinese have imposed a tax on all women who marry. All merchants who visit Kashbar are obliged to take a wife. As soon as they leave the woman obtains another husband, and thus the tax affords a considerable revenue to the government.—Chicago Herald.

Paris' Cafe Trust.

Twenty of the leading restaurants and cafes in Paris are being united into a company. Its capital will be 7,500,000 francs in 500 francs shares, 10,000 of which are to be offered to the public at par.

Excellent Train Service.

The present schedule of train service on A. T. & S. F. R. R. from New Mexico is an excellent one.

A fast express leaves El Paso, Deming and Silver City early each afternoon, making the run to Raton, and from Wallace to La Junta, by daylight, arriving at Kansas City [illegible] of second day, and Chicago morning of third day after day of departure. This train carries Pullman palace sleepers from El Paso to Kansas City, and Los Angeles to Chicago, with daily tourist sleepers Los Angeles to Kansas City, making direct connection at La Junta for Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver, and at Barstow for St. Louis via the Frisco Ry.

The train from San Francisco with palace sleepers to Kansas City and tourist sleepers to Chicago leaves Albuquerque daily at 1 o'clock noon, makes direct connection at Wagon Mound, arriving in Kansas City evening of second day, and in Chicago the following morning. An additional Pullman sleeper is attached at Las Vegas, running through without change to Denver via La Junta and Trinidad.

The Santa Fe Route aims by its fast time, fine equipment and reasonable rates, to merit the patronage of the traveling public.

Free Reading Matter.

There are various schemes for supplying reading matter at a trifle above actual cost. What good do you think if you could get good literature free?

Drop a postal to G. T. Nicholson, G. P. and T. A., A. T. & S. F. R. R. Co., Topeka, Kan., and ask for a copy of "To Monterey in Palace Car." You can also procure free copies of "A Santa Barbara Holiday," "Guide to San Diego Bay Region," "Las Vegas Hot Springs Guide," and folders relating to Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

A JOURNAL FOR ADVERTISERS.

Is issued on the first and fifteenth days of each month, and is the representative journal—the trade journal of American advertising. It delights in the independent advertiser, who, after he has should advertise; how to write an advertisement; how to display it; what newspapers to use; how much money to expend—in fact, discusses to every point that admits of profitable discussion. Advertising is as art practiced by many but understood by few. The conclusions of PRINTERS' INK understand it, and their advice is based on an experience of more than twenty-five years in placing advertising contracts for many of the largest and most successful advertisers. A year's subscription entitles the fortunate subscriber to a complete set of back numbers, which will be sent on receipt of $1 for a year's subscription. Address:

[illegible] Blood Cure.

MR. LEE. "Why, Addie, you needn't cry about it! I only said Mrs. Allen was a very well-informed woman, and I wished you would follow her example."

MRS. LEE. "Yes, and last week you said you wished I could manage to look as stylish as Mrs. Allen,—and she makes all her own clothes. But she has what I haven't."

MR. LEE. "What is that?"

MRS. LEE. "Well, she gets all of her information from the Magazine they take. I admit that she knows all that is going on, and is bright and entertaining in conversation; but I could do as well as she does if I had the same source of information. She lent me the last number of her Magazine lately, and I learned more in one hour's reading, about various social matters and the topics of the day, than I would pick up in a month by my occasional chats with friends. It certainly covers every topic of interest, from the news of the day down to the details of housekeeping; and everything is so beautifully illustrated, too. Every time Mamie goes over to the Allens' she comes back and teases me to get you to take Demorest's Family Magazine; as the stories are so good. Even the boys watch for it every month, as a place is found for them also in its pages; and Mr. Allen swears by it. It is really wonderful how it suits every member of the family!"

MR. LEE. "Well, perhaps I had better send for a Specimen Copy; for, if it is anything like what you say it is, it will amuse and instruct the whole of us."

MRS. LEE. "I see that W. Jennings Demorest, the publisher, 15 East 16th Street, New York, is offering to send a Specimen Copy for 10 cents, so we can't lose anything, as each number contains a 'Pattern Order' entitling the holder to any Pattern she may choose, and in any size—which alone makes each copy worth 50 cents; and I just want a Jacket pattern like Mrs. Allen's. The subscription price is only $2.00 a year; and I must say I can't see how they can publish so elegant a Magazine for so little money."

WHELLING THROUGH EUROPE.

A Bicycle Tourist Tells How Enjoyable Such Travelling Is.

One scarcely realizes, till he has tried it, how little is the exercise of a bicycle trip through Europe. To the practical American wheelman the first question is, "What does it cost?" From the experience of one who has been through the Transcontinental Portland and the cathedral towns of the Rhine, who has ridden up the Rhine and climbed up a dozen or more of the Alpine passes in Switzerland, and has spent nearly a month each in the cities of London and Paris, the cost is found to have been little more than it would have been to have continued in the dull routine of home life. To be sure, there is the last class of those who have only entered in tours. Once over here, while the travel by railway, mean of conveyance is so lacking with the to give and (credited class or to buy Cook's tourist's tickets or the regular costs, the wheelmen experience an increment [illegible] Besides, the price instead of being a matter of great [illegible] give the purse a means of enjoyable [illegible] Last year four [illegible] of each [illegible] the Pyramids, down through Italy and over to the Pyramids is to be under taken soon.

But as to the cost, so far, in dollars and cents. While the English hotels are as a rule, I think, more expensive than those on the continent, yet in either case, my expenses did not average over $2 a day. In fact, through Belgium and Germany they were but $1 a day. A wheelman travels so independently that he is not always obliged to stop every night at the larger cities, and I often could avoid them by riding eight or ten miles further to the small inn. I found plenty of good food and a comfortable bed for half the money. Such a mode of travelling does not allow of the putting on of any great amount of style, but my chief ambition was to see rather than to be seen of men. In London there are plenty of good, respectable, private boarding places to be found for $1 or $1.25 a day. To find them one needs only to inquire of some friend who has made an extended stay in London, or to apply to some American living there. I found a good place on Euston road, within a mile and a half, or a half cent combination, of Fleet street, for $7.50 a week. That included the regular attendance, a great breakfast at 8:30 and either or five course dinner at 6:30. The breakfast at 12, if I had, was extra, but it was usually more convenient to take a light luncheon wherever I happened to be.

It is proverbial that Frenchmen like Americans better than that any other class of foreigners. This was, perhaps, shown to be to certain extent when I was [illegible] in the [illegible] Paris [illegible] the Grand Cafe Continental, which, to the taste of the Grand Cafe Continental, which, to

LOVE'S HALLOWED GROUND.

Deep in a vale, where rocks on every side
Shut out the winds and scarcely let the sun
Between them dart his rays down one by one,
Where all was still and cool in summertide,
An infinity, with her whispering waves that sighed,
A little river, that had scarce begun
Her silver course, made bold to feet and run
Down leafy falls to woodlands dense and wide;
There stood a tiny plain, just large enough
To give small mountain folk right room to dance,
With oaks and limes and maples ringed around;
Hither I came, and viewed its turf askance,
Its solitude sun-beauty seemed aglow—
My Love had wandered there and 'twas holy ground!

Dinner Tables, Old and New.

The old English dinner table was a massive thing and was heavily loaded for dinner. There were huge joints, enormous game pies and the carcasses of poultry. It was considered the correct thing for the hostess to carve and to press the guests to gluttony and the host to pass the bottle several times too often. With such display of food there was little room for floral decorations. In the course of time the vegetables were banished from the table and handed by the attendants. Then the made dishes were dubbed entrees and were cleared off the table and brought in by the attendants piping hot.

Finally the meats were taken off, and at last the guests were permitted to eat or not to eat, without any influence on the part of the host or hostess, while at the same time the praising of the viands, which used to be the practice, no longer became proper. The appearance of the table, as well as the conduct at the table, has changed. The table is not so massive and the floral decorations are frequently of the most elaborate and costly description. People who cannot spend much money on floral decorations, yet devote time and taste to them, using such as may be picked wild, ferns, berries, etc., besides such cultivated flowers as may be obtained.—Good Housekeeping.

Inventions in Dental Surgery.

The dentists in this city are divided into two parties, one for maintaining inviolate the present code of ethics, and the other for reforming it. The conservative party is comprised chiefly of men of the old school, men to whom professional courtesy is of higher importance than silver certificates. Most of the reformers are young men who prefer dollars in pocketing. The two elements are at war on the subject of the patentability of modern inventions in dental surgery. The conservatives contend that under the code all inventions are made for the good of humanity, that patents restrict the use of inventions, and, consequently, humanity suffers. The reformers believe that the laborer is worthy of his hire; that if a dentist spends ten years in perfecting an invention he is entitled to all he can make out of it. The name of Bonwill occurs often in the discussions on the subject. He is a reformer of the reformers. The little machine that stands beside the chair of every dentist in Christendom is mainly the creation of his inventive genius, and he has reaped a liberal reward of $60,000 from the patent. Yet no one can say that he has not benefited humanity.—New York Tribune.

Stage Lights and Shadows.

The audience in a theater think as little of the men whose work enables them to witness the stage performance as railway passengers do of the engineer who conducts them safely to their journey's end. They see the show, and if they enjoy it they never trouble themselves to inquire what causes produce such brilliant effects. But for every light in the auditorium, and for every shade of illumination behind the scenes, they are indebted to the humble gasman, who stands by his jet in the wings near the footlights. Here, by means of a number of little hand wheels he regulates every gas jet in the theater. Before him is a plot of the play, and he listens for his cues as anxiously as any actor in the company. A false move on his part, such as the turning of a wheel at the wrong time, may ruin the whole scene. A sunlight effect may be spoiled by a flood of dazzling light, or total darkness may obscure the stage.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

A Hint to Smokers.

It is remarkable that people smoke so much tobacco, in its various forms, that is impregnated with deadly nicotine, when by a simple method, which would not detract one whit from its good quality, but would remove all that is objectionable, the tobacco could be made free of this poison. Moisten the tobacco a day in a shallow trough and then dry it in the sun if for chewing, if not, dry by the most convenient means and the weed is robbed of all its poisonous properties and of bitterness. It is even as sweet as the fumes would not offend the most sensitive lady, because it has no fumes. Besides, the vessel in which it is burned does not become nauseous, a valuable thing for a man who prefers a meerschaum pipe to cigars.—Bergt. McNamee in Globe-Democrat.

Cremation Furnaces in Paris.

Four large cremation furnaces have been declared open at the great Parisian cemetery of Père la Chaise. The question is now agitated whether gaslight bodies should be cremated by the Paris municipality, but there is such a strong feeling against it, that as the government the idea will probably have to be abandoned. It is usually the wealthy who prefer cremation.—New York Sun.

Taxing Women Who Marry.

In Tashkend, says a traveler, the Chinese have imposed a tax on all women who marry. All merchants who visit Kashkar are obliged to take a wife. As soon as they have the woman obtains another husband, and thus the tax affords a considerable revenue to the government.—Chicago Herald.

Paris' Cafe Trust.

Excellent Train Service.

The present schedule of train service on A. T. & S. F. R. R. from New Mexico is an excellent one.

A fast express leaves El Paso, Deming and Silver City early each afternoon, making the run to Rincon, and from Wallace to La Junta, by daylight, arriving at Kansas City the second morning of second day, and Chicago morning of third day after day of departure. This train carries Pullman palace sleepers from El Paso to Kansas City and Los Angeles to Chicago, with Pullman tourist sleepers for Angeles Kansas City making direct connection at La Junta for Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver, and at Bucklin for St. Louis via the Frisco Ry.

The train from San Francisco with palace sleepers to Kansas City and tourist sleeper to Chicago leaves Albuquerque daily at noon, arriving at Kansas City evening of next day and in Chicago the following morning. An additional Pullman sleeper is attached at Las Vegas, running through without change to Denver via La Junta and Trinidad.

The Santa Fe Route aims by its fast time, fine equipment and reasonable rates, to merit the patronage of the traveling public.

WHEELING THROUGH EUROPE.

A Bicycle Tourist Tells How Enjoyable Such Traveling Is.

One scarcely realizes, till he has tried it, how little is the expense of a bicycle trip through Europe. To the practical American wheelman the first question is, "What does it cost?" From the experience of one who has been through the Trossachs of Scotland and the cathedral towns of England, who has ridden up the Rhine and climbed half a dozen more of the Alpine passes in Switzerland, and who spent nearly a month each in the cities of London and Paris, the cost is found to have been little more than it would have been to have remained in the dull routine of home life. To be sure, there is the last item of those who have only enjoyed limited means. Once over here, while the traveler by ordinary means of conveyance is obliged to pay the price of second or third class on the boat, and buy railway tickets or the regular rates, the wheelman enjoys an independence which is almost equal to that of walking upon the ground. Besides, the cost is instead of being a matter of [illegible] is by reason of the perfect freedom of the wheel, for the means of enjoyable [illegible] not only does not [illegible] the [illegible] the [illegible] the

LOCAL ROUNDUPS

Bucks sometimes makes a name,
But printers think so black and solemn.
Will give a man peculiar fame,
When put in this peculiar column.

G. A. R. Monday night.

A GENERAL dance will be given to-night at Athletic Hall. All are invited.

PFLUGER has purchased White man's Fairbank's Scales and is preparing to plant them in front of his hardware store.

Some head of cattle from the Carrizozo ranch passed through town on Tuesday last en route to Liberal, Kan. The recent rains have greatly improved the stock on feed in this region.

Our amiable M. D. and Undertaker look smiling as the watermelons and other mortuary fruits reach town and disappear by the wagon load. Nothing like keeping an eye on business.

FROST and Wixted have just completed assessment work on the Sacramento Mine in Tortalete Canon and they report finding some excellent ore in the tunnel, which indicates a rich lead when it is thoroughly prospected.

THE South Homestake is constantly yielding good ore and the mill is kept busy night and day.—A clean up is now in progress that promises well for the last run.—Work is being pushed to develope the vein and open up the ore deposits.

THE North Homestake shaft is now down nearly 82 feet. A drift is being run from the bottom of the shaft, south, which, when completed, work will be resumed on the shaft and only a few weeks will be required to reach the 900 foot level. The indications improve with the increasing depth.

A FINE brood of ducks hatched last Saturday night The variety is not known to science. They do not thrive well and carry their heads rather low. There seems to be something in the climate of this locality which does not agree with them. When their feathers commence to grow they may take a change for the better. A nurse wanted.

THE eleven month's old child of Walter Church, of Nogal, has been very sick for several days at the Southwestern Hotel of this place. Teething, and the ills of infancy connected therewith, are the cause. Dr. Paden is in attendance and all is being done which professional skill and kind nurses can do and yet the results are doubtful. Mr. and Mrs. C. have the sympathy of the entire community in this, their hour of trial and suspense.

A Sure Winning Ticket.

The Lincoln County Convention assembled at Lincoln on Wednesday last to nominate a ticket calculated to meet the approval of the political and popular sentiment of the people. The LEADER had two correspondents on the field and they report the following ticket.

D. W. Roberts' nomination by the Democratic convention was endorsed and no other name given for nomination for sheriff.

Probate Clerk—Geo Sena.
Probate Judge—Jose Montana.
Assessor—A. T. Gunter.
Supt. of Schools—N. W. Lane.
Co. Treasurer—W. Rosenthal
County Commissioners—R Baldanado, Jose Vega.

Delegates to Dist. Convention—G. L. Ulrick, T. C. Tillotson, T. W. Heman, Ed. Eubrick, A. Schinzing, D. C. Nowlin, S. M. Garst, I. Frederichs, J. J. Dolan, D. Perea, Escico Sanchez, E. McB Timoney, Juan De La Garcia, Jose Sandoval, Florencio Gonzales, C. B. Ayres.

Co. Central Committee—John A. Woodland, Chairman—D. Perea, Sec.—Escico Sanchez, Agaleto Gagallos, C. Muoiz, E. Lucero, Juan Chavez y Trujillo, Wm. Turpin, C. B. Ayres, T. C. Tillotson, S. M. Garst.

The Convention Resolved—That we in convention assembled do most heartily endorse the official course of our late Chairman of the County Central Committee, Mr. Geo. L. Ulrick, and that we extend to him our thanks for his manly and judicious efforts in behalf of the Republican party of Lincoln County.

Resolved further That these resolutions be entered in the minutes of this Convention to be published in our county papers.

D. C. NOWLIN,
Chm. Com. on Resolutions.

E. W. Parker was Chairman of the Convention and Sam. Garst, Secretary.

While Capt. Roberts—the regular nominee of the Democratic party was not nominated he was formally endorsed, and being a clean man and the chief deputy of our present Republican Sheriff, we heartily endorse him unless a fortuitous circumstance should present revealing a better and cleaner man. At present writing Capt. Roberts suits us.

THE Republican primary election in this town on last Saturday night was not so harmonious as it might or should have been, yet it is hoped that the outcome will prove of profit to the party and possible benefit to the handfull of discomfitted insurgents whose policy is rule or ruin and impotently resorted to tactics which would, or at least should bring the blush of shame to the adamantine cheek of a New Orleans sewing machine agent. The time has gone by in Lincoln County when the Republicans will tamely submit to any one man controlling their political destinies, no matter if his name is so ponderous as to exhaust the English alphabet save when they formally delegate power to such leader. We were a Republican publisher and voter when those "men in buckram" were following Falstaffian leaders of the Democratic school, and their efforts to transplant Democratic methods as well as their persons into our party will be stubbornly resisted by all lovers and patriotic defenders of the principles of the Republican party, and we will do our share in the work of relegating to the rear all men wearing unclean political records or manners.

M. WHITEMAN is home from Roswell again.

Political Wall-Flowers.

Communities are rapidly learning very valuable lessons in popular government which are being presented every day. Submission to the legitimate claims of the majority is a vital element in a Republican government. This power of the majority ought to be used with guarded care and conscientious scruples. But when defied, or the legal rights of the majority are being tampered with for personal and selfish ends, against the best interests of the popular view it is the right, aye, it is the duty of the majority to relegate such minority demagogues to the quiet of oblivion and arrange them ingeniously into a bouquet to be known as the "Bouquet of Political Wall Flowers," not only to keep them where the will of the people will be safe from their demagogic trickery but as an object lesson to all aspirants for position and favor in the hands of political organizations that those who may be suffering from the disease of demagoguery may take heed and be governed accordingly. Self appointed dictators, self styled leaders should be placed against the wall, there to remain until they learn to estimate their value on the basis of public valuation. Down with demagoguery.

REV. DR. BLISS, Secretary of the New West Education Commission, has officially notified the people of this community and vicinity, through E. W. Parker, that the New West Academy of White Oaks will open it's second Academic year about Sept. 1st., under the Printipalship of Miss Abbey F. Hull, the former popular teacher. This is the best of news for the educational interests of Lincoln County. This school offers the best inducements for an education such as cannot be obtained in the public schools, and under the most successful of teachers and conditions which cannot be excelled. Board can be had in White Oaks for all desiring to avail themselves of this school at reasonable rates. The tuition rate is $2 50 per month for a single scholar, or $2 00 for more than two from the same family. Any further information will be gladly given by addressing the LEADER. Let one and all of the friends of a higher education for this section interest themselves in this enterprise and do it at once.

WE are in receipt of a private letter from Col. H. Melne, dated Chicago, Aug 12, in which he says the trip from Roswell to Las Vegas was a wearing one and he arrived at Chicago a very sick man, but after [illegible] days [illegible] there and [illegible] [illegible] he good news to [illegible] in Lincoln County who feared his hold on life was fast and surely weakening

IF the Democrats did'nt nominate a Lincoln County ticket last week, they certainly nominated a Lincoln ticket. Here it is:

Sheriff—D. W. Roberts.
Assessor—Geo. Curry.
Clerk—Will. Taliaferro.
Probate Judge—M. Cronin.
Treasurer—Scipio Salazar.
Supt. Schools—J. E. Wharton.
Commissioners—Paul Mayer, Roman Lujan and J. F. Hinkle.

The candidate for sheriff from White Oaks did'nt get there, but he dictated the nomination, which was all the power displayed by outside local forces, and Lincoln won in that deal and shuffle.

THE Republican Committee of this precinct for the next two years is E. McB. Timoney, Jos. Grosbeeler and Jas. Reid.

THE Republican delegates to Lincoln on Tuesday left under a furious rain storm. Well, there'll be a cold storm in November which will envelope the Democrats when they will whine in the language of the poet: * * * * Ain't it cold?"
