CLOSE OF SUCCESSFUL SCHOOL YEAR

To-Night's Commencement Excercises Will Mark Closing of the Most Successful Year in History of School

TEACHERS FOR NEXT YEAR WILL BE SELECTED TODAY

With the Commencement Exercises which take place this evening the week's activities connected with the closing of school will be complete. This will mark the closing of the most successful year in the history of the school. Careful management and extreme caution in the selection of faculty has been in a large measure responsible for the rapid advancement which has been made. The Board of Directors will meet today to select the corps of teachers for next year. A number have failed to make application for re election and their places will have to be filled and possibly new teachers added to take care of the increased enrollment and the enlarged scope of the work in every department.

The afternoon of Tuesday was open house at the school building, and the display work of the various departments received much favorable comment. On every side were "eye openers" as to what pupils can do with efficient supervision. The manual training specimens and the handwork of all departments created much favorable comment. At two-thirty a programme was rendered, composed largely of pupils who have been neither absent nor tardy throughout the term of nine months. All acquitted themselves with credit.

Wednesday evening thirteen eighth graders received certificates of promotion to high school. These were, Sallie Johnson, Elmer Eaker, Pink Roberts, Richard McDaniel, Erva Adams, Pearl Kennedy, Frankie Gray. Gordon Pine Sam Bethea, Linza Branum, Isabelle Tinnon, Florence Lacy, Willie Reily. These promotion certificates were also awarded to Pearl Hyde, Perola Stevens. Laura Dalton, Lawrence Rowland and Homer Donaldson who have been doing part high school work this year.

Thursday evening the operetta "Marry Milkmaids" was performed with much credit. The audience followed with interest the musical development of the clever plot. The costumes were simple but attractive and some of the special make-up deserve especial commendation.

Tonight the graduation exercises bid to be of unusual interest. Hon. Rupert F. Asplund of Santa Fe will address the class on the subject of "Preparation and Preparedness" and will of course attach an educational significance to this militaristic subject. A number of choruses and piano selections will be rendered and high school promotion certificates will be presented by the Principal. Mrs. Ethel V. Jewett.

We repeat in conclusion that Supt. McCurdy and his able corps of assistants have given a good account of themselves as is fully evidenced by the successful culmination of the year's work for the term 1915-16.

OSCURO

Last Wednesday afternoon between the hours of 2:30 and 4 the public was invited to view an exhibit of the work of the children of the Oscuro school. The exhibit was held at the school house and consisted of drawing, writing and spelling lessons of the lower grades, maps, compositions, paper cutting and folding by the intermediate grades and manual training, domestic science, maps, physiology charts and painting by the higher grades and high school pupils Especially interesting features of the exhibit were the maps of the different states with samples of their principal products glued to them, the manual training work of the boys, consisting of windlasses, ferris wheels and miniature houses with cardboard furniture, the colored maps and paper folding work of the primary children and the domestic science work of the high school pupils, consisting of aprons, dresses and fancy work The physiology charts showed that this branch of study was being taught with thoroughness and the younger pupils showed promise and ability as well as careful instruction in their spelling and arithmetic papers. The patrons of the school showed their interest and appreciation by turning out in goodly numbers, and all agreed that the exhibit did great credit to both teachers and pupils, and that it was the result of a very successful year's work.

Joe Ashford is serving his country by doing duty as foreman of the petit jury. The work of the jury will probably take two weeks until all cases before the Court are given a trial, so Joe will have a lengthy vacation.

Lorenz Olsen came home last Sunday and stayed until Wednesday. Mr. Olsen is drilling a well on the Campbell place east of Carrizozo and reports rather slow progress on account of having to case.

There is a rumor afloat to the effect that a new mercantile company will soon start up in business in our burg.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Bryant are the proud parents of a son which arrived one day last week.

HOME MISSION MEETING

The Home Mission Society of the Methodist Church met with Mrs Andrew McCurdy Wednesday afternoon. A very intersting program was rendered after which refreshments were served A large number of the members were present and a pleasant hour was had.

CIVIC LEAGUE DANCE

The dance given at the Railroad Men's Club House last evening by the ladies of the Civic League proved to be a success financially as well as every one present having a good time. $87.00 was cleared which the League expects to spend in cleaning up the town.

Mrs. J. M. Gardner and children left the first of the week for a few months' visit with her parents at Richmond, Virginia. She expects to return by way of Jackson, Michigan, where she will visit for a few weeks with Mr. Gardner's parents.

Tom Fitzpatrick returned from El Paso the first of the week where he has been attending school for the past year, and will remain here during the summer months.

HEARD AT THE NATIONAL CAPITOL

The Results of the Primary in the State of Ohio Have Cast a Gloom in the Democratic Ranks

Washington, D. C., May 14—(Special Correspondence)—The primary results in Ohio have filled the Republicans with glee and the Democrats with corresponding gloom. The fact that nearly 25,000 Democrats in that state voted for Frank Monnett, who was known to be opposed to the policies of the present National administration, caused consternation among the Democrats of the Ohio delegation.

Another discouraging feature of the Ohio primaries is the fact that Senator Pomerene, who is a candidate for reelection, polled the least votes of any of the candidates for delegate. He was some 14 000 behind former Governor Cox. It is freely predicted at the capitol that Ohio voters will swing back to the Republican party and the recent primaries point unmistakably to this outcome.

According to gossip about the capitol, the recent primaries in Nebraska left a lot of soreness and bitterness in the ranks of the Democrats. Visitors from that state and men in Washington who are in touch with the situation there, say that the Bryan and anti-Bryan forces are already in each others hair and that it means but one outcome at the general election next November—that the state will give its vote to the Republican electors and that a United States Senator of that political faith will be elected There is also an indication of Republican gains in the congressional delegation.

NOGAL

James Gatewood and Miss Lillie Cochran quietly slipped away from Nogal last week and were married in Carrizozo by Judge Massie. Their many friends wish them a long and prosperous journey through life.

We are authorized to announce that a protracted meeting of the people of the Nazarine faith will begin in the Henley Chapel at Nogal next Sunday night, May 21st, and everybody is cordially invited

The prospect for a good crop of corn never was better than now. The ground is in fine condition and the stand of corn is the finest we have ever had in this section.

T. J. Moore is whirling about in his new Dodge which he purchased in Carrizozo from Dr. T W. Watson the local agent at that place.

There is quite a stir in the mining interest here. It now looks as though the camp was coming to life again.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Web Zumwalt Friday night a boy. Mother and baby are getting along nicely

Mrs. Bettie Emerson is quite sick.

Most of our people are in attendance at district court in Carrizozo.

GEN. ANGELES KILLED

THE SCOTT-OBREGON PROTOCOL APPROVED BY FIRST CHIEF CARRANZA.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

El Paso, Tex., May 9.—First Chief Carranza sent a message to Gen. Obregon Saturday night that he found the agreement with the United States satisfactory, except minor points.

Field Headquarters, near Namiquipa (by wireless to Columbus, N. M.)—A full squadron of 230 men of the Eleventh cavalry surprised and routed a much larger force of Villistas at Ojo-Azules, seventeen miles south of Cusihuiriachic, early Friday.

By actual count forty-two Mexicans were killed and a number wounded, but there were no American casualties.

The American command under Maj. Robert L. Howze, had been pursuing the Villistas under Generals Cruz Dominguez and Julio Acosta several days, when they encountered them encamped in the huddled adobe jackals of Ojo-Azules.

While the dispatches do not state, military men on the border believe that the band is the same as that defeated at Temochic, April 22, by Col. George A. Dodd's command.

Further reports from Maj. Howze stated that Gen. Antonio Angeles was killed.

Alpine, Tex.—Villista bandits, some seventy in number, forded the Rio Grande Friday night, and sweeping fifteen miles inland on American soil, raided the little settlement of Glenn Springs and attacked a detachment of American cavalry consisting of nine men of Troop A, the Fourteenth. Three troopers and a 10-year-old boy were killed, two citizens kidnaped and five are missing. Soldiers, Texas rangers and citizens are chasing the brigands and may cross the Rio Grande in pursuit.

THE SUDAN RISES IN HOLY WAR.

British Flee to Nile as Big Force of Arabs Under Ali Dinar March to Attack.

Berlin—(by Wireless to Sayville), May 9.—An uprising against the British in the Sudan is reported in dispatches from Constantinople to the Overseas News Agency.

Ali Dinar, the Iman of Darfur, with a force of troops and 8,000 camels, is said to be marching against the British forces in northern Sudan. The British, according to the advices, are retiring hastily toward the Nile.

The Constantinople reports state that Ali Dinar has proclaimed a holy war against the British and that he intends to cooperate with the Senussi tribesmen in their operations against the British forces.

Darfur has an area of about 160,000 square miles and is the westernmost state of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. The exact population is unknown, but estimates range from 750,000 to almost 4,000,000. The inhabitonas are known as "Furs" and are a mixture of negroes and Arabs. They profess the Mohammedan religion and are said to be somewhat fanatical.

POPE SEEKS U. S. PEACE AID.

Benedict Sends President Wilson Plea That America Avoid Break.

Washington.—Monsignor Giovanni Bonzano, the apostolic delegate, called at the White House Saturday and delivered a message for President Wilson from Pope Benedict.

White House officials at first refused to discuss the message, and so did the apostolic delegate. Later, it was stated that it bore on the submarine issue.

Fear that a break between the United States and Germany would impair the ability of the United States to aid in restoring peace in Europe is said to have influenced Pope Benedict in communicating with the President.

The message, taken in connection with the suggestion in Germany's last note, that she was ready to consider peace on certain terms, caused deep interest among officials here.

Up to the present, so far as could be learned, there has been no intimation from the allied governments that peace overtures would be welcomed.

When Housework Drags

Keeping house is hard enough when well. The woman who has a bad back, blue, nervous spells, and dizzy headaches, has a hard lot, for the family tasks never let up. They are as harmless as they are effective and may be used for children with weak kidneys, too.

A Colorado Case

Mrs. D. L. Griffin, 806 Marion St., Denver, Colo., says: "I had awful pains in my back, sides and hips. I couldn't sleep well and often had to get up and sit in a chair. My joints swelled, so did my feet and ankles. The kidney secretions caused me terrible suffering. Four doctors failed to help me and finally I took Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured me, restoring me to good health."

THE closing of the year is properly considered an opportune time for balancing books, carrying forward profit and loss, and determining for the future. We may safely say, however, that no human soul can strike a thoroughly satisfactory balance of accounts unless Jesus has been partner and counsellor. And every one finding himself perplexed and discouraged, we would have know how to begin the new year aright, by entering into covenant relationship with the Redeemer, who declares, "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy-laden; and I will give you rest."

Creedal Image of God.

Today's Study is full of helpful instructions. The very first lesson is that "God so loved the world." The difficulty in the past has been that we have not emphasized the Love of God. How could we, when our eyes of understanding were misdirected by our creeds away from the God of the Bible to a creedal image picturing the Heavenly Father in most Satanic colors—more loveless than any demon we can possibly imagine.

But while we have gotten away from "the doctrines of demons," as St. Paul calls them (1 Timothy 4:1), Christendom still holds up those horribly slanderous creeds before the world, hindering them from getting even a glimpse of "the Love of God, which passeth understanding," and giving them, instead, terrible misrepresentations of Divine injustice.

But God's people are awakening to the Truth, and gradually gaining courage to assert it. We are now met with the difficulty that the world has so thoroughly believed our blasphemy of the Divine character that they can scarcely believe the gracious Message of the Bible—the Message of Divine Love.

Our text illustrates our former blindness. It does not say, as once we supposed, that God gave His Son to save us from eternal torture. Quite to the contrary, it declares that His mission was to save from perishing. When brute beasts die, they perish. God has made no provision for their resurrection. Mankind would have likewise perished, had it not been for God's Mercy and provision in Christ.

Because of Jesus' death there is to be a resurrection, not only of the just, now in harmony with God through faith, but also of the unjust—the unjustified, whose eyes of understanding have not yet opened to see the grace of God. Thus we read, "As all in Adam die, even so all in Christ shall be made alive." "Since by man came death, by a man also [Christ Jesus] comes the resurrection of the dead"—"every man in his own order."

"The Better Resurrection."

The chief resurrection to glory, honor and immortality is only for those called during this Gospel Age, who lay aside every weight and run the race with patience. These saintly ones will constitute the Royal Priesthood, who with Jesus as Royal Chief Priest, will bless the world, resurrecting mankind from sin and death conditions, during His Messianic Reign.

The Divine Plan is purposely so arranged that none can obtain everlasting life except through personal relationship to Christ, the Redeemer, and faith in His redeeming blood and obedience to His counsels. This being true, the heathen are yet unsaved. None living before Jesus came into the world are saved. The great mass of our friends and neighbors, yea, of our own families, are still unsaved; for they have not come into vital relationship with the Savior. "He that hath the Son hath life; he that hath not the Son shall not see life."

"Testified in Due Time."
—St. Paul.

"Testified in Due Time."

St. Paul, commenting upon the fact that Jesus died a Ransom-price for all, declares that this will be testified in due time. (1 Timothy 2:5, 6.) God's due time for the testimony to reach the world evidently has not yet arrived. The testimony began when Jesus "brought life and immortality to light through the Gospel." "So great salvation began to be spoken by our Lord."—Hebrews 2:3

IMPORTED COMMODITIES

Commodities imported for consumption in this country during the 10 months which the Democratic tariff law was in effect prior to the war amounted to $1 405,000,000, as compared with only $1,260,000 during a corresponding period under the preceding Republican administration This was an increase of $145,000,000, of more than 10 per cent Democrats prefer to believe that the increase was not sufficient to indicate a menace to American industry. It should be remembered, however, that one reason why the imports were not larger was that the industrial depression brought on by Democratic economic legislation made it impossible for Americans to buy extensively either of goods produced at home or those produced abroad At the same time that the Democrats opened our markets to the foreign producer, they impaired the buying power of the American consumer Moreover, European factories had not perfected arrangements for shipment of goods to American markets before the war began. English and German factories had been planing an enlargement of their productive capacity in anticipation of having a larger market due to the removal of the American protective tariff Had the war not intervened they would have realized fully on their plans for increased output.

RURAL CREDIT LEGISLATION

The anxiety of the Democratic administration to push rural credits legislation on the eve of the election arouses suspicion that there are two incentives which have induced the administration to endeavor to fulfill its platform pledge on this subject. First, the legislation can be enacted but its effectiveness cannot be tested before the election shall be held, and the rural voters will be asked to take it on faith. Second, the rural credit system will afford opportunity for the appointment of a large number of employees, who, presumably, will be exempted from the provisions of the classified civil service law, as was done in the case of the Federal Reserve Bank system.

THE GLASS INDUSTRY

The manufacture of glass is an industry which has become established in many states of the Union It was developed under a protective tariff system and gives employment to large numbers of people as well as furnishing a market for considerable raw material which would otherwise go to waste. Although the Republican tariff averaging about 45 per cent advalorem was sufficient to encourage the establishment and operation of factories in this country, the duties were not prohibitive as indicated by the fact that imports during a 10 months period under these rates amounted to $4,707,000 The Republican tariff was manifestly competitory. The Underwood tariff act reduced the duty to about 31 per cent, and, as a result, our imports increased for the 10 months under which the law was in force before the outbreak of the war, to $6,671,000. or an increase of about $1 830 000 This means that in a period of 10 months Democratic legislation enabled foreign producers to send to this country glass products in such increased quantity as to take away $1,830,000 and deprive American workmen of that amount of employment. The farmer and the laborer engaged in other occupations than glass manufacture did not buy glassware one cent cheaper than before The importer and the middle man profited by the Democratic reduction and the United States Treasury lost a portion of the revenue which should have been received

MEMORIAL DAY PROCLAMATION

In this year of so much strife and struggle and foreboding the day that commemorates the honor and respect and love of a nation for those who risked all in defense of their country, ought to be of unusual significance. No one can see far into the future but all must see there signs that should stimulate the heroic determination of all who enjoy and appreciate the blessings of citizenship bestowed by those who made sacrifices not in vain.

It is time for all, north and south east an west, native and adopted sons, to bow the head and bend the knee in reverence to those who have gone, and to greet the Stars and stripes with hearts minds and lives dedicated to the honor and glory and integrity of the nation that stands for the sovereinty of individual manhood:

Now therefore, I, WILLIAM C. McDONALD, Governor of the State of New Mexico, do hereby proclaim Tuesday, May 30th, 1916 as memorial Day in the State of New Mexico. Let all observe this day in such a manner that it shall strengthen the loyalty of men and women and impress the rising generation with the responsibilities and duties of the highest type of American Citizen. Not in outward show and protestation but in the hearts of her people must lie the safety of the nation I urge that every person in New Mexico bare the head from 12 m. to 12:05 p. m. Memorial Day. Give these five minutes to memory and for impression

Done at the Executive Office this the 12th day of May, A. D., 1916.

Witness my hand and the Great Seal of the State of New Mexico.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. NEW FUND SEEKS AID FOR EUROPE'S BLIND

The thousands of French, Belgian and British soldiers who have been blinded in the European War are in a pitiable condition, according to an appeal of American bankers, philanthropists and business men, through the B. F. B. Permanent Blind Relief War Fund, 590 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

The appeal was issued locally, by Frank J. Sager, Casheir of the Exchange Bank, who is Sub-Treasurer of the Fund in this locality and who will receive all local contributions.

Unable to work at former trades, these numerous blinded war victims cannot support themselves and their families. Their governments, overburdened with more immediate problems, are able to do very little for them, the appeal states.

Six months' training, on the other hand, the bankers, business men and philanthropists say, can educate almost all of these thousands of now useless blind men in practical, paying trades, in which they can support themselves and at least partially support their families. Work of this kind has already been begun by C. Arthur Pearson, the Blind English newspaper proprietor and philanthropist, at St Dunstan's in England, by M. Rene Valiery Radot through "Les Amis des Soldats Aveugles" in the "Maison du Covalescence" in France, and by Miss Winifred Holt of the Comite Franco American pour les Aveugles, of which the Hon Joseph H Choate is President The B. F. B Permanent Blind Relief War Fund seeks to assist, develop and enlarge these efforts.

The American bankers, business men and philanthropists who are issuing the appeal include Frank A. Vanderlip, President of the National City Bank, August Belmont, the Hon. Elihu Root, Vincent Astor, the Hon. Robert Bacon, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, U. S. Senator Thomas P. Gore, the Hon. Myron T. Herrick, Otto H. Kahn, Joseph Widener and George A. Kessler.

These gentlemen and their associates intend to organize an American Fund of sufficient proportions to conduct thoroughly throughout Europe, the work which Mr. Pearson, at St. Dunstan's M. Rene Valiery-Radot through "Les Amis des Soldats Aveugles, in Paris, Miss Holt of the Comite, and kindred institutions are now doing locally.

The first work of the Fund will be to enlarge and modernize all the present blind institutions of Europe by means of financial donations, as well as assisting the work of Mr. Pearson in England, M. Vallery Radot and Miss Holt, in France. The Fund later intends to organize in various European cities additional modern equipped blind schools, blind workshops, blind employment exchanges and agencies for commercializing blind products, so that all this particular class of war-victims may be saved from their present hopeless and helpless situation, and may be rendered self supporting for life.

"Self respecting, able-bodied, passing daily through a living death, these thousands of blinded war-victims are being slowly killed, not by their injuries, not by starvation, but by the apparently permanent hopelessness of their situation. Six months' training, on the other hand, will educate each one of them in some trade not requiring sight. A single contribution of several hundred dollars will go far to make one of these blinded soldiers self-supporting for life", the appeal states.

The appeal is being sent to one hundred and twenty thousand people of prominence throughout the United States.

The patronage of their Majesties, the King and Queen of Great Britain, and the Queen Mother, Alexandra, as well as M. Raymond Poincare, President of France, and King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, has been obtained for the distribution of the appropriations from the Fund in their respective countries.

Among the ladies who are active in the Fund's work in Europe and America are Lady (Arthur) Paget. Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Mrs John Astor, Mrs. Peter Cooper Hewitt, Mrs George A. Kessler, Mrs R. Valentine Webster. Acting as Honorary Treasurers, with Mr. Vanderlip, are Sir Edward Holden, Chairman of the London City and Midland Bank, and M. Georges Pallain, Governor-General of the Bank of France.

Mr. Pearson, the English newspaper proprietor, who is on the Fund's Executive Committee, is now living at St. Dunstan's with one hundred and thirty blinded soldiers and sailors to whose rehabilitation he is devoting his life.

This Fund, although specifically organized to aid the blind of three nations, will ultimately contribute benefactions upon every blinded person throughout the entire world, its officials say. According to statistics, the world, a year before the War broke out, contained 2,500,000 blind. The number of blind who will be added to this total by the war cannot be estimated until years after the war itself is over.

COUPLE STARVE TO DEATH

Out of Work, Husband and Wife Give Up Fight—Woman Dies Days Before Man.

Passaic, N. J.—With nothing to eat and after they had searched for weeks for employment, Steven Farley and his wife gave up their struggle. They were found by Policeman Vander Hoven, who broke into their home. They lay in each other's arms in bed.

The woman had been dead for days. Farley died as he was being rushed to St. Mary's hospital. He was about fifty years old and his wife forty-eight.

The Farleys were old residents here. Farley was born in New York City. Mrs. Farley, it is believed, also came from New York.

Farley, a mechanic, lost his position shortly after the European war showed its effect on the mills here. For several weeks he could obtain no employment whatever. The couple were too proud to beg for help, and not even their closest friends knew of their need.

They had not attempted suicide, the authorities at the hospital say. Death in each case was caused by starvation.

Why Darts Penetrate.

The steel darts which are being dropped from hostile aeroplanes are capable, it is said, of penetrating a piece of teak one inch thick, the Pall Mall Gazette remarks. In all probability this is understating their effectiveness, for the acceleration due solely to the action of the earth's gravity would cause the dart to arrive on the ground at a high rate of speed. Assuming it to be released 5,000 feet above the earth—lower than which the aviator runs the risk of being brought down—it would be traveling at nearly six hundred feet a second at the earth's surface, or at more than a quarter of the speed at which a bullet leaves the British service rifle.

Children Do Good Work.

One million flowering plants have been planted along the curbs of streets in Oakland, Cal., by the school children of the city this year under an organized movement directed by their elders.

One thousand or more American municipalities have made radical changes in their charters in the last four or five years, to make their laws and organization conform to present ideas of municipal service to the public.

Best Not to Copy Too Closely.

"After the general change of the political situation in the middle ages that took away the city-planning activities from the princes, and either annihilated them or put them in the hands of the citizens, those citizens in very many cases turned out to be very ordinary, short-sighted, and uneducated bourgeois." Therefore, continues Dr. Werner Hegemann, German expert, it behooves city planners of today not to take too seriously the work of city planners of yesterday. Beauty is all very well, but there are other things to be considered.

A Wide Range.

A young woman with an aspiration to shine in the chorus applied to Andreas Dippel, who has managed opera singers all his life, for a position in his company. "To sing in a chorus of mine," said Mr. Dippel, "you must have a good voice." "Oh, but I have one," replied the girl. Mr. Dippel led her to the piano and asked her to demonstrate her vocal powers. Sitting at the instrument and then swinging around, she smiled sweetly and asked: "Shall I sing 'The Chairs in the Parlor All Miss You,' or something light?"

American Surgeons in the War.

The satisfactory work done at American hospitals in two German cities has induced the German government to ask for more American surgeons of whose skill their German fellow surgeons "speak in terms of the highest appreciation." That is praise from a high source, and it is matched by the recognition given the work of American surgeons in French hospitals.

Refugees Prove Relatives.

Belgian refugees, a boy and girl, were adopted by a man and his wife of Abercynon, Wales. The children now prove to be those of the wife's dead sister, who went to Belgium as a governess some years ago. A locket which was found on the little girl led to the discovery.

Ireland's Stirring Song.

The origin of the unofficial anthem of Ireland, "St. Patrick's Day in the Morning," is most obscure. The earliest known copy appears in Rutherford's "Country Dances," published in 1745, but it is said to have been played by the Irish pipers at the battle of Fontenoy in 1745, and was probably current for some time before this. The tune is found attached to various rollicking old English songs. The Cumberland song of [illegible] Barbary Bell, [illegible] to wear a red c[illegible] for her s[illegible] ung to a ver[illegible] Pat[illegible]," the words [illegible] being [illegible] "Patri[illegible]

Willie's father was trying to impress upon him the tremendous progress that science and invention have made in the past fifty years.

"Just think, Willie," he said. "When I was a boy there were no telephones, no electric lights, no talking machines, no moving pictures, no X-rays, no wireless telegraphy, no—"

"Gee," interrupted Willie. "What an awful lot of hicks everybody must have been!"

Upset Her.

People who don't know about food should never be allowed to feed persons with weak stomachs.

Sometime ago a young woman who lives in Me. had an attack of scarlet fever, and when convalescing was permitted to eat anything she wanted. Indiscriminate feeding soon put her back in bed with severe stomach and kidney trouble.

"There I stayed," she says, "three months, with my stomach in such condition that I could take only a few teaspoonfuls of milk or beef juice at a time. Finally Grape-Nuts was brought to my attention and I asked my doctor if I might eat it. He said, 'yes,' and I commenced at once.

"The food did me good from the start and I was soon out of bed and recovered from the stomach trouble. I have gained ten pounds and am able to do all household duties, some days sitting down only long enough to eat my meals. I can eat anything that one ought to eat, but I still continue to eat Grape-Nuts at breakfast and supper and like it better every day.

"Considering that I could stand only a short time, and that a glass of water seemed 'so heavy,' I am fully satisfied that Grape-Nuts has been everything to me and that my return to health is due to it.

"I have told several friends having nervous or stomach trouble what Grape-Nuts did for me and in every case they speak highly of the food."

GERMAN REPLY ON U-BOAT POLICY

ORDERS GIVEN NOT TO SINK SHIPS WITHOUT WARNING AND SAVING HUMAN LIFE.

Teutons Complain That President Seeks to End German Method of Warfare While Merely Protesting Against England's Violations of Neutrality.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Berlin (by wireless via Sayville, N. Y.), May 6.—Following is the text of the note of the German government in reply to the American note respecting submarine warfare, delivered on Thursday by Gottlieb von Jagow, the foreign secretary, to Ambassador Gerard:

The undersigned, on behalf of the imperial German government, has the honor to present to his excellency, the ambassador of the United States, James W. Gerard, the following reply to the note of April 20, regarding the conduct of German submarine warfare:

The German government handed over to the proper naval authorities for early investigation the evidence concerning the Sussex as communicated by the government of the United States. Judging by the results that the investigation has hitherto yielded, the German government is alive to the possibility that ship mentioned in the note of April 10 as having been torpedoed by a German submarine is actually identical with the Sussex.

The German government begs to reserve further communication on the matter until certain points are ascertained, which are of decisive importance for establishing the facts of the case. Should it turn out that the commander was wrong in assuming the vessel to be a man of war, the German government will not fail to draw the consequence resulting therefrom.

The Sussex Case.

In connection with the case of the Sussex the government of the United States made a series of statements, the gist of which is the assertion that the incident is to be considered but one instance of a deliberate method of indiscriminate destruction of vessels of all sorts, nationalities and destinations by German submarine commanders.

The German government must emphatically repudiate the assertion. The German government, however, thinks it of little avail to enter into details in the present stage of affairs, more particularly as the government of the United States omitted to substantiate the assertion by reference to concrete facts.

The German government will only state that it has imposed far-reaching restraints upon the use of the submarine weapon, solely in consideration of neutrals' interests, in spite of the fact that these restrictions are necessarily of advantage to Germany's enemies. No such consideration has ever been shown neutrals by Great Britain and her allies.

The German submarine forces have had, in fact, orders to conduct the submarine warfare in accordance with the general principles of visit and search and the destruction of merchant vessels recognized by international law, the sole exception being the conduct of warfare against enemy trade carried on enemy freight ships encountered in the war zone surrounding Great Britain. With regard to these, no assurances have ever been given to the government of the United States. No such assurances are contained in the declaration of February 8, 1916.

The German government cannot admit any doubt that these orders were given or are executed in good faith. Errors actually occurred. They can in no kind of warfare be avoided altogether.

Allowances must be made in the conduct of naval warfare against an enemy resorting to all kinds of ruses whether permissible or illicit.

But apart from the possibility of errors, naval warfare, just like warfare on land, implies unavoidable dangers for neutral persons and goods entering the fighting zone. Even in cases where the naval action is confined to ordinary forms of cruiser warfare, neutral persons and goods repeatedly come to grief.

The German government has repeatedly and explicitly pointed out the dangers from mines that have led to the loss of numerous ships.

The German government has made several proposals to the government of the United States in order to reduce to a minimum for American travelers and goods the inherent dangers of naval warfare.

Unfortunately the government of the United States decided not to accept the proposals. Had it accepted, the government of the United States would have been instrumental in preventing the greater part of the attacks that American citizens have met with in the meantime.

The German government still stands by its offer to come to an agreement along these lines.

Cannot Give Up the Submarine.

As the German government repeatedly declared, it cannot dispense with the use of the submarine weapon in the conduct of warfare against enemy trade. The German government, however, has now decided to make a further concession, adapting methods of submarine war to the interests of neutrals. In reaching this decision the German government is actuated by considerations which are above the level of the disputed question.

The German government attaches no less importance to the sacred principles of humanity than the government of the United States. It again fully takes into account that both governments for many years cooperated in developing international law in conformity with these principles, the ultimate object of which has always been to confine warfare on sea and land to armed forces of belligerents and safeguard as far as possible noncombatants against the horrors of war.

But although these considerations are of great weight, they alone would not under present circumstances have determined the attitude of the German government.

For an answer to the appeal by the government of the United States on behalf of the sacred principles of humanity and international law, the German government must repeat once more, with all emphasis, that it was not the German, but the British government which ignored all accepted rules of international law and extended this terrible war to the lives and property of noncombatants, having no regard whatever for the interests and rights of neutrals and noncombatants that through this method of warfare have been severely injured.

In self defense against the illegal conduct of British warfare while fighting a bitter struggle for national existence, Germany had to resort to the hard but effective weapon of submarine warfare.

Argues on British Blockade.

As matters stand, the German government cannot but reiterate regret that the sentiments of humanity which the government of the United States extends with such fervor to the unhappy victims of submarine warfare are not extended with the same warmth of feeling to many millions of women and children who, according to the avowed intention of the British government, shall be starved, and who, by sufferings, shall force the victorious armies of the central powers into ignominious capitulation.

The German government, in agreement with the German people, fails to understand this discrimination, all the more as it has repeatedly and explicitly declared itself ready to use the submarine weapon in strict conformity with the rules of international law, as recognized before the outbreak of the war, if Great Britain likewise was ready to adapt the conduct of warfare to these rules.

Several attempts made by the government of the United States to prevail on the British government to act accordingly failed because of flat refusal on the part of the British government.

Moreover Great Britain again and again has violated international law, surpassing all bounds in outraging neutral rights.

The latest measure adopted by Great Britain declaring German bunker coal contraband and establishing conditions under which English bunker coal alone is supplied to neutrals, is nothing but an unheard-of attempt by way of exaction to force neutral tonnage into the service of British trade war.

Declares the U. S. Is Not Fair.

The German people know that the government of the United States has the power to confine the war to armed forces of the belligerent countries in the interest of humanity and maintenance of international law.

The government of the United States would have been certain of attaining this end had it been determined to insist against Great Britain on the incontrovertible rights to freedom of the seas.

But as matters stand, the German people are under the impression that the government of the United States while demanding that Germany struggling for existence shall restrain the use of an effective weapon and while making compliance with these demands a condition for maintenance of relations with Germany, confines itself to protests against illegal methods adopted by Germany's enemies.

Moreover the German people know to what considerable extent its enemies are supplied with all kinds of war material from the United States.

It will, therefore, be understood that the appeal made by the government of the United States to sentiments of humanity and principles of international law cannot, under the circumstances, meet the same hearty response from the German people which such an appeal otherwise always is certain to find here.

If the German government, nevertheless, is resolved to go to the utmost limit of concessions it has been guided not alone by the friendship connecting the two great nations for over one hundred years, but also by the thought of the great doom which threatens the entire civilized world, should the cruel and sanguinary war be extended and prolonged.

The German government, conscious of Germany's strength, twice within the last few months announced before the world its readiness to make peace on a basis safeguarding Germany's vital interests, thus indicating that it is not Germany's fault of peace is still withheld from the nations of Europe.

The German government feels all the more justified in declaring that responsibility could not be borne before the forum of mankind and in history if after twenty-one months of the war's duration the submarine question under discussion between the German government and the government of the United States were to take a turn seriously threatening maintenance of peace between the two nations.

As far as lies with the German government, it wishes to prevent things from taking such a course. The German government, moreover, is prepared to do its utmost to confine operations of the war for the rest of its duration to the fighting forces of the belligerents, thereby also insuring the freedom of the seas, a principle upon which the German government believes now, as before, that it is in agreement with the government of the United States.

Warning to All Ships Ordered.

The German government, guided by this idea, notifies the government of the United States that German naval forces have received the following order:

"In accordance with the general principles of visit and search and the destruction of merchant vessels recognized by international law, such vessels, both within and without the area declared a naval war zone, shall not be sunk without warning and without saving human lives unless the ship attempt to escape or offer resistance."

But neutrals cannot expect that Germany, forced to fight for existence, shall for the sake of neutral interests, restrict the use of an effective weapon if the enemy is permitted to continue to apply at will methods of warfare violating rules of international law.

Such a demand would be incompatible with the character of neutrality, and the German government is convinced that the government of the United States does not think of making such a demand, knowing that the government of the United States repeatedly declared that it is its intention to restore the principle of freedom of the seas from whatever quarter it has been violated.

Accordingly, the German government is confident that, in consequence of the new orders issued to the naval forces the government of the United States will also now consider all impediments removed which may have been in the way of mutual cooperation toward restoration of the freedom of the seas during the war, as suggested in the note of July 23, 1915; and it does not doubt that the government of the United States will now demand and insist that the British government shall forthwith observe the rules of international law universally recognized before the war, as are laid down in the notes presented by the government of the United States to the British government December 28, 1914, and November 5, 1915.

Should steps taken by the government of the United States not attain the object it desires, to have the laws of humanity followed by all belligerent nations, the German government would then be facing a new situation in which it must reserve to itself complete liberty of decision.

The undersigned avails himself of this opportunity to renew to the American ambassador assurances of highest consideration.

If you Suffer from Backache, Lumbago, Kidneys or Rheumatism, Take Hot Water and "ANURIC"

American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, when your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night, when you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your druggist—"ANURIC." Because of uric acid in overabundance in the system, backache, pains here and there, rheumatism, gout, gravel, neuralgia and sciatica result. It was Dr. Pierce who discovered a new agent, called "Anuric," which will throw out and eradicate this uric acid from the system. Dr. Pierce believes "Anuric" to be 37 times more potent than lithia, and consequently you need no longer fear muscular or articular rheumatism or gout, or many other diseases which are dependent on an accumulation of uric acid within the body. Send Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., 10c for trial package or $1.00 for full treatment "Anuric."

Dr. Pierce's reputation is back of this medicine and you know that his "Pleasant Pellets" for the liver and his "Favorite Prescription," for the ills of women have had a splendid reputation for the past 50 years. Adv.
