Memorial Day.

To-day, as per date of the LEADER, is Memorial Day.

The Toledo Blade says: "The custom of putting flowers upon the graves of the dead has been followed for centuries, and it was out of this that Memorial Day, sometimes called Decoration Day, arose. It is said that Mrs. Sarah N. Evans, with the wife and two daughters of Chaplain May, of the 2nd Michigan regiment, put flowers on a number of graves of soldiers buried at Arlington Heights, near Washington, on April 16, 1862, just one year after the fall of Fort Sumter. In May of 1863 they performed the same service in the same place; in May of 1864 they performed the same service at Fredericksburg, and placed flowers on the soldiers' graves there. The custom gradually extended and became general before the day was made a holiday by law in any State. The spring was selected because flowers are then abundant, and the 30th of May as the date because at that time flowers can be found anywhere in the latitude in which Union soldiers are buried."

We opine that there is more of sentiment than fact in what the Blade says. It may be all true, but behind that truth stands the uncovered fact that on the days named in the Blade's narrative, and upon all other days since the earth became winding-sheets for intrepid braves women instinctively repaired to the earthy couches and bespread them with flowry coverlets. Centuries before the late war the practice of placing flowers on graves and cenotaphs was in vogue with the ancients, especially, as we are told by song and story, among the Saracens. The practice was fathered by the impetus of love. Long before the "cruel war" women were wont to strew flowers on the graves of their children and other loved ones, as they will while the world stands and death goes on it's "grand rounds," sounding "taps" and "putting out the lights."

But to Gen. John A. Logan is the country indebted for the fruition of the idea involved in the proper celebration of Memorial Day. He it was who as National Commander of the G. A. R. appointed the date for the first Decoration Day—he it was who introduced the bill in Congress making the Day a holiday and fixing on the 30th day of May of each succeeding year as the one on which the graves of those who [illegible] their lives on the altar [illegible] should be overspread with [illegible], and the [illegible] Congress passed a [illegible] bill [illegible] homage paid those who resented insult offered the old Flag and flung their lives in the breach a bulwarks against the attempts of the fratricides.

The number of patriotic soldiers is fast becoming depleted while the ranks of dead ones are rapidly filling up. Soon the last survivor will have joined the grand army of immortals and none will be left to tell the tale of their heroism save history and those who heard the terrible story while sitting on the laps of their loyal ancestors. But the Flag will be a reminder of the struggle and an inspiration. The Banner has not shed a star, but has increased the number in and splendor of it's galaxy, and as the years roll by Memorial Day will grow in holy reverence. As passion, prejudice and political bias dies out patriotism will rekindle and burn with a fiercer, brighter light, and as Washington lost all detractors after his death and became canonized in the hearts of the people, so as the years fade and brighten, the memory of Lincoln and his compatriots will find grateful lodgment in the hearts of all the people.

This year the Day will be appropriately observed wherever patriotism lives and Federal soldiers sleep. White Oaks will do her share in the proper appreciation of the call for affectionate tokens of reverence for the memory of those who fell in battle, in prison or hospital, and for such as survived the struggle finally falling before the inevitable reaper—death.

OLD ABE.

The History of White Oaks' Celebrated Mine.

In the month of November, '79, J. M. Allen, O. D. Kelsey and A. P. Livingstone laid claim to a mining location on Baxter Mountain, which they designated as "Old Abe Lode," and the ground lying north and east of Baxter Gulch, which has lately become famous for its production of precious metals has been since popularly known as the "Old Abe claim."

Some work was done on the original location up to 1882, and one or two mill-runs were made on the ores therefrom, but the ore appeared in deposits and the then owners were unable to find any vein or lode from which these deposits had their source.

No assessment work was done on the claim in 1882 and 1883, and the new claimants, who about the first of 1884 had acquired considerable interests under the old location, went to work on the ground and afterwards made discovery of the vein which recently has proved a bonanza, and May 2nd, 1884, located the White Oaks and Robert E. Lee lodes, which together embraced a part of the ground formerly included in the Old Abe claim.

Some $1,200 were then expended in the running of a tunnel, which cut the vein and work was put in a shaft on this vein within the tunnel. The ore always assayed well and the locators never lost faith in the value of the property.

Last November, Mr. Watson, one of the owners, went to work with one assistant, and opened the same vein one hundred and fifty-two feet south of the old shaft, and found a rich body of ore within a few inches of the surface and this is where the present working shaft is located. This ore body continued down and remained in the shaft to a depth of seventy-five feet when it dipped sharply to the east and remained a few feet from the shaft until the sixth level was reached, two hundred and forty feet from the surface, where it again appeared in one side of the shaft and has since remained in the work to No. 7, two hundred and ninety feet.

A drift was run along the vein at No. 2, which tapped the old shaft and secured to the mine thorough ventilation for a long time to come. In this drift it has been demonstrated that the vein is not only continuous but will average about three and a half feet wide and work done on all the lower levels has fully confirmed what the drift on No. 2 demonstrated.

The latter part of December '90 the Gallagher Mill was rented and on the 18th of that month it commenced dropping its stamps on the ores of the White Oaks and Robert E. Lee.

At each level of the excavations as the work on the mine progresses downwards, the ores grow richer and the width of vein at No. 2 has been maintained.

Upon the commencement of the milling about fifteen hundred tons [illegible] fortunate owners have realized $98,000 in gold bullion.

The work of development is still being pushed as fast as men can do it.

The owners have adopted the rule from the start to employ only good, sober men on their property and now have a first class crew at work. They pay the highest wages, pay their bills on the first of each month, and whenever any of their employees are discharged, or desire to quit, they receive their checks on the spot. No pains or money are spared in making the works secure from accident and protecting those engaged there from injury.

Owing to the former claim of a portion of this ground under the name of "Old Abe," the present owners have adopted as their business cognomen that of "Old Abe Co.," and the mine is still known as the "Old Abe."

The title to the property is in the names of—

John Y. Hewitt.....one-third.
H. B. Fergusson.....one-third.
Wm. Watson.....one-quarter
M. W. Hoyle.....one-twelfth

Messrs Watson and Hoyle have special charge of the milling operations; Mr. Hewitt of the finances, and Mr. J. D. Grumbles superintends the mining.

With a harmonious ownership, a competent corps of managers and employees, and especially with such a mine, there can be no question as to the results of their enterprise, and while the income assured to the proprietors is flattering, the benefit to be derived from their work to the town of White Oaks and this portion of—in fact to all—the Territory can scarcely be over-estimated. Most of the owners are residents of White Oaks and the money derived from Old Abe is invested and expended here. Their work has already sent a thrill of new life along the veins of our business community, and a better feeling exists and a brighter future is anticipated.

As evidence of the purpose of the owners for the future, it need only be said that a sixty horse power steam hoist has already been ordered with one thousand ft. of cable with which to hoist the ores from a great depth. They are also arranging to build, the coming fall, a first class 20-stamp mill which will be erected at the mine and the water for its operation pumped from the valley to the mill.

THEY have a parot in Texas, 55 years old, which, until recently, was wont to swear like a lan l-pirate. A short time since it experienced religion and now it is committing the Lord's Prayer to memory. We know of several old parots here who can recite said prayer on Sundays and on prayer meeting nights. We once heard of a parot that could repeat:

God made man and man made money.
God made bees, and bees made honey.
God made Satan, and Satan made sin
God made hell and put Satan in;
Satan got mad—swore he wouldn't stay.
God said he should, for he couldn't get away

MEMORIAL DAY,

Saturday, May 30th, 1891.

PROGRAMME.

A joint meeting of the committees appointed by Kearney Post, G. A. R., and W. R. C., was held Monday afternoon, May 18, and arrangements made for a proper observance of Memorial Day, and the usual sub-committees assigned to duty. It was decided that the Post take charge of the services during the day and the W. R. C. the exercises of the evening. A general and cordial invitation is given to all to attend and take part in this patriotic ceremony, and especially all old soldiers whether they belong to the Grand Army or not.

The procession will form in front of the Congregational Church at 2 o'clock p. m. May 30, and go in procession to the cemetery, where the decorating services will take place. After these services are completed the procession will return and be disbanded.

The evening exercises, under the auspices of the W. R. C. will begin at 7½ o'clock, and consist of music and literary exercises commemorative of the Day, among which will be the memorial of the "Flowers" and crowning of a cenotaph to the unreturned.

A very pleasant and profitable evening is in store for all who will attend.

It might not be altogether safe to vouch for the genuineness of the following advertisements, but they are reprinted here for what they are wooth:

Memorial Day.

GENERAL ORDERS No. 2.

Headquarters Dep. of New Mexico, Grand Army of the Republic, Las Cruces, N. M., May 1, 1892.

The sacred duty we owe to the memory of our departed comrades in arms, in reverence, we come with reverent hearts and loving hands to deposit on their graves the fragrant offerings of loving remembrance by which we seek to preserve and perpetuate the glorious memory of their heroic deeds, their valorous endurance, their loyalty and their unselfish patriotism.

More than a quarter of a century has elapsed since the world witnessed the sublime and unparalleled spectacle of more than a million armed men, marshaled in defence of our National Unity, peacefully laying down their victorious arms, furling their tattered battle flags, and quietly resuming those duties as citizens of the Nation whose integrity their patriotic valor had preserved.

The mighty host of patriots is rapidly passing away; in a few short years none of them will be left to carry the badge we are proud to wear over our hearts, and our Grand Army will be mustered beyond the shores of the dark river.

The rapid decrease of our numbers emphasizes the sacred duty devolved upon the survivors of honoring the memory of their departed comrades by laying aside on this anniversary such other duties and tasks for the sole observance of

MEMORIAL DAY.

The Department Commander deems it unnecessary to call the attention of Posts to Comrades to the Rules and Regulations of our Order which make it the imperative duty of us all to observe this day. He confidently believes that every Comrade in this Department will regard it as a day of love to be celebrated in doing for the memory of departed Comrades means the which he expects his surviving Comrades to do for his memory when the time comes for him to be finally mustered out, when the last valley shall be strewn over his grave and taps have sounded his reveille to eternal rest.

It is earnestly recommended that on the Thirtieth day of May, the Post of the Grand Army of the Republic in this Department be visiting to decorate patriotic men and women, performing the solemn and impressive ceremony of decorating the graves of our dead, and by exhibiting the memory and their deeds, be a lesson of patriotism to those who are to take our place here when we are gone and to surrender to the only flag under the sun of the Union has found to be invincible.

By command of
ARTHUR J. FOUNTAIN,
Department Commander.

J. F. Bennett,
Assistant Adjutant General.

Free Railway Matter.

There are various schemes for supplying reading matter at a trifling above actual cost. What do you think if you could get good literature free?

Drop a postal to G. T. Nicholson, G. P. A. T. A. T. & S. F. R. R. Co., Topeka, Kans. and ask for a copy of "To Mexico by Palace Car." You can also procure free copies of "A Santa Barbara Holiday," Guide to San Diego Bay Region," Las Vegas Hot Springs Guide," and folders relating to Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Newspaper Tools.

Mr. Tickerman, editor of the Workman Cleveland, has taken some pains to collect and compile the decisions of the U. S. Courts on it is subject and gives to the Washington Post, as the result of his investigations, the following, which may be relied upon as correct:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered wishing to renew their subscriptions.

2. If the subscriber orders the discontinuance of his periodical, the publisher may continue to send it until all arrearages are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers and the papers are sent to the former address, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office or removing and leaving them uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is entitled to send it, and the subscriber will be responsible until he orders papers stopped and pays all arrearages, and sent to the publisher.

The latest postal laws are said that newspaper publishers can sue at any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under these rules the man who takes his subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then orders it discontinued, or orders the postmaster to enter it "refused," or have a postal sent notifying the publisher, leaves himself liable to arrest and fine the same as for theft.

Excursion Train Service.

The present schedule of train service on A. T. & S. F. R. R. from New Mexico is an excellent one.

A fast express leaves El Paso, Deming and Silver City early each morning, making the run to Bernardo, and from Willard to La Junta, by daylight, arriving at Kansas City evening of second day, and Chicago morning of third day after day of departure. This train carries Pullman palace sleepers from El Paso to Kansas City, and Los Angeles to Chicago, with Pullman tourist sleepers Los Angeles to Kansas City making direct connection at La Junta for Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver, and at Barstow for St. Louis via the Frisco Ry.

The train from San Francisco (with palace sleepers to Kansas City and tourist sleepers to Chicago) leaves Albuquerque daily at about noon, makes distance to Wagon Mound, arriving at Kansas City evening of next day, and at Chicago the following morning. A tourist sleeper also is attached at Las Vegas, running through without change to Denver via La Junta and Trinidad.

"Hello! Tom. Glad to see you, old fellow! It's almost ten years since we were married. Sit down; let's have an experience meeting. How's the wife?"

"Oh! she's so-so, same as usual—always wants for something I can't afford."

"Well, we all want something more than we've got. Don't you?"

Memorial Day.

General Orders No. 2.

Headquarters Dept. of New Mexico, Grand Army of the Republic, Las Cruces, N. M., May 1, 1897.

The sacred duty devolves upon the memory of our departed comrades in a new and again invites us to come with reverent hearts and loving hands to deposit on their graves the fragrant offerings of loving remembrance by which we seek to preserve and perpetuate the glorious memory of their heroic deeds, their valorous endeavors, their loyalty and their unselfish patriotism.

More than a quarter of a century has elapsed since the world witnessed the sublime and unparalleled spectacle of more than a million armed men, marshaled in defence of our National Unity, peacefully laying down their victorious arms, furling their tattered battle flags, and quietly resuming those duties as citizens of the Nation whose integrity their patriotic valor had preserved.

This mighty host of patriots is rapidly passing away; in a few short years none of them will be left to carry the badge we are proud to wear over our hearts, and our Grand Army will be reunited beyond the shores of the dark river.

The rapid decrease of our numbers emphasizes the sacred duty imposed upon the survivors of honoring the memory of their departed comrades by laying aside on stated occasions and occasions for the due observance of

MEMORIAL DAY.

The Department Commander deems it unnecessary to call the attention of Posts or Comrades to the Rules and Regulations of our Order which make it the imperative duty of us all to observe the day. He confidently believes that every Comrade in this Department will regard it as a day of love to be separate in doing for the memory of our departed Comrades in the manner which he expects his surviving Comrades to do for his memory when the time comes for him to be finally mustered out, when the last volley shall be fired over his grave and taps have sounded his reunion to eternal rest.

It is earnestly recommended that on the Thirtieth day of May, the several Posts of the Grand Army of the Republic in this Department invite to cooperate with them patriotic men and women, for the solemn and impressive exercises of decorating the graves of our dead, and, by exalting the memory and their deeds, inspire to love of country and sacrifice for the good of others those who are to take our places here when we are gone and shall surrender to the only flag the nation of the Union has found to be invincible.

By command of
Albert J. Fountain,
Department Commander.

Official:
J. F. Bennett,
Assistant Adjutant General.

Free Public Letter.

There are various schemes for supplying reading matter at a trifle above actual cost. Write and you think if you could get good letters are free!

Drop a postal to G. T. Nicholson, G. P. and T. A., A. T. & S. F. R. R., Topeka, Kan., and ask for a copy of "To Mexico by Palace Car," "Your own pro-rata description of "A Santa Barbara Holiday," "Guide to San Diego Bay Region," "Las Vegas Hot Springs Guide," and folders relating to Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Newspaper Items.

Mr. Tuckerman, editor of the Workingman's Cleveland, has taken some pains to collect and compile the decisions of the U. S. Courts on this subject and gives to the Washington Post, as the result of his investigations, the following, which may be relied upon as correct:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered wishing to renew their subscriptions.

2. If the subscriber orders the discontinuance of his periodical the publisher may continue to send it until all arrearages are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and papers are sent to the former address, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are only bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it, and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice is sent and payment of all arrearages is made.

The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can arrest any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under these laws the man who takes his father's paper to run along for some time and then orders it discontinued, or orders the postmaster to take it "refused," or have a postal sent notifying the publisher, leaves himself liable to arrest and fine for the same offence.

Excellent Train Service.

The present schedule of train service on A. T. & S. F. R. R. from New Mexico is an excellent one.

A fast express leaves El Paso, Deming and Silver City early each morning, making connections at Bernalillo, Albuquerque and Lamy with trains for Santa Fe, Las Vegas, Raton, Trinidad, Pueblo, Denver, Colorado Springs and points north and east. Walker to Las Junta, by daylight, arriving at Kansas City evening of second day, and Chicago morning of third day after day of departure. This train carries Pullman palace sleepers from El Paso to Kansas City, and Los Angeles to Chicago, with Pullman tourist sleepers Los Angeles to Kansas City making direct connection at La Junta for Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver and at Barton for St. Louis via the Frisco Ry.

The train from San Francisco with palace sleepers to Kansas City and tourist sleepers to Chicago leaves Albuquerque daily at noon, arrives Dalies at Kansas City evening of next day, and Chicago the following morning. An auxiliary Indiana express is attached at Las Vegas morning through without change to Denver via La Junta and Texas.

"Hello! Tom. Glad to see you, old fellow! It's almost ten years since we met. Sit down; let's have an experience meeting. How's the wife?"

"Oh! she's so-so, same as usual—always wanting something I can't afford."

"Well, we all want something more than we've got. Don't you?"

"Yes; but I guess I want mine big enough. I started to keep down expenses and now I'm 'mean,' and she's tired of coaxing and never having anything to show for it—being your wife down street, and she looked as happy as a queen!"

"I think she is; and we are to room old fellows have to be. My wife can make a little go further than anyone I ever knew, yet she's always surprising me with some 'dainty contrivance' that adds to the comfort and beauty of our home, and she's always 'merry as a lark.' When I ask how she manages it, she always laughs and says 'Oh! that's my secret!' But I think I've also covered her 'secret.' When we married, we both knew we should have to be very careful, but we made one condition—she would tell me her troubles. And she was right! I couldn't do without it myself for double the subscription price. We read it together, from the title-page to the last word; the stories keep our hearts young; the epitomes of important events and scientific matters keep us posted so that I can talk intelligently of what is going on; my wife is always trying some new idea from the household departments, she makes all her dresses and those for the children, and she gets all her patterns for nothing, with the Magazine; and we saved Jennie when she was sick with the croup, by doing just as directed in the Baltimore Department. But I can't tell you half!"

"What wonderful Magazine is all?"

"Demorest's Family Magazine, of course."

"What! Why that's what I'd wanted so bad, and I told her it was expensive, so—"

"Well, my friend, that's where you made a grand mistake, and one you'll better write at once as you can. I'll take your subscription right here, on my wife's recommendation. I'll have Jennie [illegible] My cold wave was the point, and I got a big club. Have a copy with me now for Mrs. Lad for clubs. Go like wildfire. If you don't see in it what you want, you've only to write to the publisher and tell him what you want, and he is a man who always gives you satisfaction. He will make special terms for you, either for a club or for part of it. Better subscribe for it and send New York Dispatch [illegible] Cured Dyspepsia [illegible] Address, W.
