Fourth Annual Fire Camp Is Set for Friday, April 11, in Mescalero Reservation

The Fourth Annual Mescalero Fire camp is set for Friday, April 11, rain or shine, Rein R. Sarlin, forest supervisor for the Indian agency, has announced.

Purpose of the training to be given in the camp is three-fold, Sarlin said. It offers pre-season training under actual conditions to fire plan overhead; to alert and give organized crew training to both "Red Hat" and local woods and mill crews, and to have local personnel meet and mix with neighboring co-operators.

Each position in the project-sized fire camp and on the fire line is doubly manned—with an Indian service and U. S. Forest service counterpart, Sarlin said. New men of either service are thus offered experience of the older men and in case of fires later in the season, these men will have acquired some preliminary practice, he stressed.

Check-in time will be 9 a. m. next Friday, and signs will be erected to direct the visitors to the camp site from both Pigeon tank on U. S. Highway 70, and from the Girls' school on Carrizo creek. A fire camp meal will be served at noon, provided by the Agency.

It is expected at least 150 men will be on hand for the course.

Among experienced instructors to be present will be Dean Earl of Alamogordo, Lincoln National Forest fire central chief; Bert Shields, Mescalero, Indian Service Fire chief, both of whom are fire bosses; and Charles Sutton, Lincoln National Forest engineer, and Marshal Woodward, Mescalero Indian service, who will be camp bosses.

Numerous fire, forest and conservation officials from Indian services, forest services and conservation agencies will be present, Sarlin said. This year, he received many advance inquiries about when and where the fire camp would be held.

Sarlin specifically directed an invitation to Ruidosoans, who, he said, should above all others, be on hand for the training. "When we have a fire in our region, we expect our homefolks to do their part, and for that reason, every able-bodied man should have some training in this work of fighting forest fires."

HEDGECOKE, RATLIFF AND BROWN WIN

Ruidoso's municipal election came out just about like most of the prognosticators had it guessed.

Top man in voting was R. H. Hedgecoke, who polled 235 of the 395 votes cast, for city trustee for a four-year term. He was on the Citizens' ticket.

W. D. Ratliff was re-elected as mayor, polling 214 votes on the Progressive ticket, as compared with 171 for David D. Swearingin on the Citizens' ticket.

Ralph Brown, Progressive candidate, polled the next high vote for trustee, getting 195, and nosing out incumbent D. B. Morgan of the Citizens' ticket, who received 186. Carmon Phillips received 155 votes on the Progressive ticket.

In the race for city clerk, Chas. A. Culver polled 187 votes; Herb Smith received 107, and Harold M. Graham, 57. They ran as independents.

Election judges were L. L. Butler, Luther Bynum and R. K. Knox and clerks were Grace M. Hobbie and Mrs. George Westall. L. F. Dryden served as challenger for the two tickets.

The new officers will take oath on May 1.

FINALS SET SATURDAY IN CONTEST

(By "Pop Neighbers" Renshaw)

Ruidosoans will have a chance to see a real amateur show Saturday night this week in the Buffalo Room at Navajo Lodge.

On that night all the winners in the last four weeks' amateur contests will gather again and will vie for winnings in the finals. This contest, sponsored by the Ruidoso Woman's club, has brought out some wonderful talent—and take a tip from us, this final contest should be a real one.

Last Saturday's show brought out still more good acts and we're sure there is plenty of real talent here yet that hasn't shown up . . . however, we are well pleased with our success in finding acts for this series of contests.

Among those on the show last week were: In the adult group—Mrs. Thelma Adams, Ruidoso contestant, sang her own composition, "Ruidoso is Calling Me," to guitar accompaniment; Miss Mary Lynn Hart, 15, and Miss Shirley Holmes, 15, did a good act of Western singing and dancing and displayed some fancy western costumes and guns; Miss Barbara Gazaway, 15, won first prize by doing a piano solo, playing "Robins' Return."

On the March 22 program we failed to report Miss Bety Ann Byers, 18, sang "To Think That You Have Chosen Me," to the piano accompaniment of Miss Gazaway.

In the children's group last Saturday night, we had the following youngsters competing: Miss Sofora (Fox) Fuchs, 14, of Green Tree, singing "The Bells of St. Mary," accompanied at the piano by Miss Betty Reese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Reese; William Eginк, 11, of Acapulco, Mexico, who sang "El Gavilan Pollero." Pat Rooney, 11, and Miss Dona Rose Surginger, 11, won first place in the children's group, singing a duet, "The Boy Who Stuttered and the Girl Who Lisped."

We feel all these talented entrants, winners and otherwise, have done a marvelous job in helping us to present our talent show, and we feel also we and they are all winners. It's up to us, now, not to stop at this point, but to get behind this group and show them our appreciation by backing them up with something more.

Our personal thanks are extended to each and all the contestants and to all you nice people who have made it such a pleasure to put on these shows.

We invite all of you to be with us Saturday night, April 5, and to help us pick the winners in this final contest.

A real show of Ruidoso support would be a lot of encouragement to these youthful aspirants. They are a real bunch of talented people and your support in their behalf might be the determining factor in helping to produce some of America's future stars.

Real interest has been created by this contest. Let's keep this interest going now! Thanks a million to you all.

Coaching—No coaching will be permitted.

Scoring—Scoring will be done by competitors from another relay and from another team other than one's own. When a competitor has completed firing a stage he must score a man on the following relay. If for any reason a competitor cannot score, it is his responsibility to get a scorer at once, and be ready to score when the following relay is ready to fire.

Sighting Shots—Two sighting shots will be permitted in each stage of all matches with the exception of match No. 4, which will be fired before the competitor leaves the line after firing match No. 3.

Trophies—All trophies in this match are floaters. The winner of a trophy may keep it for one year and engrave his name and score on it. Hearing Set On April 15 For Dr. Caylor

The attorney general's office has advised the State Board of Medical Examiners to remove its suspension of the license of Dr. Harvey C. Caylor, 69-year-old Ruidoso physician, who has been charged by federal narcotics agents with issuing prescriptions for narcotics for other than "use in lawful business or legitimate practice." The state board suspended Caylor's license last October. Dr. Charles J. McGoey of Santa Fe, secretary-treasurer of the board, said there was little doubt the board would lift the suspension shortly and set a revocation hearing for the physician for April 15. Frank Zinn, assistant attorney general, recommended the procedure after attorneys conferred with District Judge David Carmody.

The April 15 hearing of the physician, reported ill at Charleston, S. C., by the medical board will be on a motion to revoke Caylor's license to practice medicine in New Mexico, according to Zinn.

Ruidosoans, passing by the mill at 11:30 a. m., saw the large wall collapse.

The mill, built about 90 years ago, was the scene of one brief altercation in the famed Lincoln County war.

Apple Growers Organize; Buy Machine to Grade and Package Valley Product

By Dan Storm

A dream long held dear to the hearts of apple growers of the Ruidoso-Hondo-Bonito valleys seemed close to realization at a meeting of the White Mountain Fruit Growers, Inc., at the Bonnell ranch in Glencoe last Tuesday evening, March 25, when an order was placed for an apple grading, polishing, and packaging machine to be delivered to the Hondo Valley some time near the first of June.

This action climaxed several weeks of planning, study and work on the part of orchard men of the three valleys who are forming an organization which will enable Lincoln county apples to be sold on the national market, reaching the homes of America at their best: graded, conditioned, government inspected, packaged in the most modern way, and labeled.

Packing Plant

The equipment ordered will be installed in a packing and marketing plant to be established at some centrally-located point in the three valleys, most likely at Hondo. B. G. Robinson, building contractor from Artesia and ranch owner in the Hondo Valley, submitted a bid for a building to the organization. General discussion on the matter of a building was held and the question was assigned further study and research. Plans call for a construction 80 by 140 feet.

Modern Equipment

On hand to arrange for purchase of the grading and packaging machine were Ivan G. Ross, agricultural manager of the Food Machinery and Chemical corporation of San Jose, Calif., and Harold Sanburg, of Albuquerque, sales representative for the organization. Both men represent the John Bean Western Division of the corporation.

Sandburg stated the new equipment and plant would enable the three valleys' apples to take their rightful place in the nation's market, and added that with all the young orchards coming into bearing in Lincoln county the volume of fruit would be ample to insure success of the project. He said he had heard much of the high quality of local apples and said that now this fruit could be presented at its best.

Ross explained that the equipment was the most modern of its kind and that it was used in all the leading apple-growing sections not only of the United States but of other parts of the world. Canada and Mexico, he stated, were users of the machinery. France is one of the main users of the equipment, the speaker informed, and went on to say that Argentina was calling for so much of the equipment that orders could not be filled on time. Mr. Ross said that he had often wondered why orchardists would spend time and money growing trees, pruning, spraying and picking and then let the whole thing drop just at that critical point in the grading and merchandising.

He stated that the machine would handle 1,800 bushels daily—the estimated peak load of the season, and explained that the equipment could later be altered so as to increase the capacity if necessary. Explaining that uniformity of size was an important factor in the sale of apples, Mr. Ross pointed out that a uniform box of smaller apples will command a higher price than mixed large and small apples. The machine, he said, would grade ten different sizes of fancy apples, and apples would be graded A, B, and C, according to color. Another grading would be according to size, form and color. A feature of the machine is a brush cleaner and polisher, important in giving the apple cleanliness and beauty.

Scientific Packages

Harrison Beauchamp of Beauchamp and Wint Packers of Pecos, Tex., was introduced as the packing, shipping and marketing expert of the White Mountain Fruit Growers, Inc. Beauchamp exhibited pasteboard cartons with trays for each individual apple, and explained that this type of container insures protection from bruising and also does away with the danger of the whole bushel being ruined if one apple should spoil.

The current price of apples would be wired in every morning of the apple season, Beauchamp said, and mailed in the next day from the Government Agricultural office. An expert would be on hand to assist the orchardist in determining when his apples had the right sugar content for most advantageous harvesting. The speaker emphasized that the whole procedure of scientific harvesting, grading, packaging, shipping and marketing would be an incentive for the growing of first class fruit and would also act as a protection to all the orchardists.

Pfingsten Expresses Appreciation

A. T. "Bert" Pfingsten, Hondo, president of the local fruit growers organization, expressed his appreciation for the interest shown both by the orchard people of the three valleys and those present at the meeting, and urged the gathering to explain to their neighbors the importance of the project. Mr. Pfingsten said that this organization was long needed and would be the making of the apple industry in Lincoln county.

He said, "I would like to see everyone in our county who grows an apple to have an interest in this organization. It is for the benefit of all, and we need the support of all the people in the three valleys."

He urged all orchardists to take as much financial interest in the organization as they were able, because help given the project early will be of the greatest benefit; in starting the local apple industry on the road to prosperity. It was strongly brought out that the Lincoln county apples are the best in the world and deserve a break.

Members of the executive board of the organization beside Mr. Pfingsten are: Tom Babers, San Patricio; Ralph Bonnell, Bonnell ranch, Glencoe; Elzy Perry, Glencoe; and Fred McTeigue, Hondo.

Those present at the meeting were: Kenneth Nosker, San Patricio; Ralph Bonnell, Glencoe; Mrs. Ralph Bonnell, Glencoe; A. T. Pfingsten, Hondo; Juan Montes, Glencoe; Earl Allison, Green Tree; Elbert Jones, Green Tree; Johnny Montes, Glencoe; LeRoy Perry, Glencoe; Mrs. Gladys Nosker, Glencoe; E. G. Ballots Discussed, Candidates Talk At Town Meeting

A spirited discussion of how to vote the municipal ballot in Ruidoso in Tuesday's city election consumed most of the time in Monday night's "town meeting" held in the Youth Center here. Various speakers, including one of the election judges for the voting, outlined procedure for the voter to make sure the voter would not make his ballot illegal in checking various squares and circles. It was generally agreed that wording of instructions on the ballot might mislead some voters in marking their ballots wrong, thus causing judges to throw them out as illegal.

George Zimmerman, Carrizozo, and Ruidoso attorney, served as master of ceremonies for the meeting. About 60 persons attended.

He introduced the following candidates, who made brief remarks: Truman Spencer, Jr., Carrizozo, Democratic candidate for state senator from Lincoln county; George Fuchs, Ruidoso, Republican candidate for Lincoln county commissioner of District 3; Edith Shechan, Ruidoso, Democratic candidate for county trueasurer; R. H. Hedgecoke, Citizens' ticket candidate for Ruidoso city trustee; Carmon Phillips, Progressive ticket candidate for Ruidoso city trustee; Bracell Fresquez, Capitan, Democratic candidate for county tax assessor; Clyde Atwood, Democratic candidate for Lincoln county sheriff; C. A. Culver and Herb Smith, independent candidates for Ruidoso city clerk; and W. D. Ratliff, Progressive ticket candidate for mayor.

Letter To Ye Editor

Ruidoso, New Mexico
March 29, 1952

Dear Editor:

In the recent edition of the Ruidoso News, Mr. Dan Swearingin saw fit to publish, or have published, under the heading, "A Statement of Facts," the agreement reached by the Village and the Executive Board of the Ruidoso Water Users' Association.

Under the caption "Agreement In Full" Mr. Swearingin states the Village has done everything possible to fulfill their part of the Agreement. Let us examine the record and see just what the Village has done.

In their application to the State Engineer for a change of method of use and point of diversion, they claimed they were abandoning 13.42 acres of irrigated lands. I found upon investigation that the Village actually owned only 18.23 acres of such lands. Consequently we protested this act, and at the hearing before the State Engineer recently in Carrizozo, counsel for the Village admitted without argument that we were right, and the acreage was corrected to the amount actually purchased. Under article 1 of the agreement, the Village agreed to purchase a right applicable to the land in question, and in claiming an excess of irrigation land, violated the agreement between themselves and the farmers, and I am proud to say that I had a part in uncovering this breach of faith. Under article 2 of the agreement the Village agrees to make provisions for ample storage for such waters to be taken from the Rio Ruidoso. THEY HAVE FAILED TO PROVIDE THIS STORAGE.

Thus by their own acts they have rendered the agreement worthless. I consider my position very fortunate indeed, for I can face the people in my community who have been dependent upon me for the preservation of their water rights, and I can face them with a clear conscience, and it is not necessary for me to provide alibis or mask my failures by not disclosing the full, true text of the record.

The attempt by the Village to take 5.19 acres of water from the farmers of the Ruidoso Valley was at best a stupid trick, and I consider it a personal insult to my intelligence. However, if the Village cares to adhere strictly to the agreement to which they so carefully signed, and provide ample storage, as they agreed to do, why I am still ready to fulfill our part of the agreement. Until such a time as they do just exactly what they said they would do under the terms of the agreement, which Mr. Swearingin was so kind as to publish, I am afraid that I will continue to deny them many things, but I would hardly say that I was wrong, would you?

Sincerely yours,
J. V. Tully, Farmer, Ruidoso Valley

Mrs. Dosca Copeland of La Luz has been named Home Demonstration Agent-At-Large, serving five southern New Mexico counties, according to an announcement by Otero County Extension Agent Walter Wade. Mrs. Copeland will direct home demonstration work in Luna, Hidalgo, Otero, Lincoln and Sierra counties.

There has previously been no home demonstration agent in any of the five counties, and while Mrs. Copeland will be unable to conduct a full program in any of the five, she will direct the home demonstration program thro' club leaders and demonstration. Truck Wrecks Glencoe Station

A tractor-truck, owned by Darrell J. Henthorn of Shamrock, Tex., jack-knifed on four inches of snow on U. S. Highway 70 about 6:30 last Thursday morning, and knocked down three gasoline pumps, water pipes and signs at Jean Edward's Buckhorn station in Glencoe. Mrs. Edwards, just getting dressed inside the store, said it was a rude beginning for her birthday. "Gasoline was flowing everywhere, our power was shut off, the water shut off and the drive-way in general pretty completely messed up," she said. "We were afraid any minute the waste gasoline would become ignited and the whole place would blow up."

Fire department volunteers from here, powerline workmen, state police and others converged on the scene and brought order out of chaos in a short while. Melting snow minimized the danger of fire, State Policeman A. B. Munsey said.

The truck had been travelling east when it skidded. It did not overturn.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Juan Chanez of Tinnie, a daughter, March 29.

Out-of-State Auto Licenses Are Not Legal

Persons living in New Mexico and who are gainfully employed in this state, must buy New Mexico motor vehicle license tags, State Policeman A. B. Munsey warns. "We have found quite a few people here who have gone into other states to buy their 1952 tags, so they could save a few dollars on the purchase," he said. "They are violating the law, and we must arrest and charge them so," he added.

Out of state tags are good for only 24 hours, he said, and he urged all local residents, living here, to secure New Mexico plates if they have out-of-state tags on their cars or trucks.

OPPOSITE MEANING IS GIVEN IN ERROR IN AD IN THE NEWS

Opposite meaning of one paragraph of the contract is given by omission of one word from the statement of agreement between the Water Users association of the Valley and the Village of Ruidoso in the half-page advertisement inserted in last week's News by Dan D. Swearingin. The missing word is given in the paragraph below in parenthesis:

8. It is further understood between the parties hereto that this agreement is entered into in a spirit of Compromise and that this contract may (not) be used as evidence in any litigation pending between the Association, its members and the Village.

We are sorry the omission occurred and understand that persons representing both parties knew the word was left out by accident.

ABOUT 1,100 UNQUALIFIED VOTERS REMOVED FROM LINCOLN REGISTRATION

An estimated 1,100 unqualified voters listed on the Lincoln county voting registeration records, were to have been "purged" from the list during March, state officials reported. Due notice was mailed to those believed to be not qualified. A great portion of the list to be removed included those who have not voted in the last two years, and persons who have moved out of the county, and a small portion, of course, are those who have been convicted of a felony and have lost their right to vote.

News Items From— TINNIE

(By Alma Rogers)

Talk about Lovers' Lanes, we are going to have a real spooners' drive when they get the Tinnie canyon road done. They are making real good headway on it now. They will soon be ready to start graveling part of it.

Everyone had a big smile on this past week as we had another light snow which we need very much to make a little green grass this spring.

We see lots of wool going by to town from the shearing pens but from all accounts there isn't much of a market for wool at this time. Everyone is putting their wool in storage until the market gets stronger. We suppose it would be asking too much to ask Harry to use a few good wool coats in place of mink to pass out to his faithful followers and help the wool market out a little.

They say mighty oaks from little acorns grow. We believe they should try planting some other kind of timber in our national capitol for a while such as peanuts or pinons and see if we can't raise a different kind of timber for awhile. Seems like the oak tree is getting so many limbs no one can keep track of them any more, and they keep raising taxes to get props to hold the limbs up and now all the props are giving out. The poor old Donkey has been pulling and trying to hold the tree up. Maybe a big elephant could hold it up a little better for a change.

Geo. Butts is really being a good boy these days. He is on the water wagon for sure. We see him going by several times a day hauling water for the highway.

Wilbur McKnight is pretty busy these days trying to get a bridge across the Hondo at Alamo canyon. Seems to be having trouble getting a right-of-way without buying a ranch or two, but we are betting he will get the job done before he quits. We are pulling for you Wilbur.

Most of our sick folks are able to eat again, so we don't have any griping to do this week about everyone being sick.

Mrs. W. N. Hodges, who is visiting her son in Arkansas, is reported to be improving and will be home again before long.

The Maybys have given their home a new look this spring. They have painted everything a light red and from the highway, it looks very nice.

Our Band Booster club held an enchilada supper Friday evening to raise money for the Hondo High band and they had a real nice turn out. Everyone reported a real good feed. We knew it would turn out OK, because Our Mrs. Frank Titsworth was one of the boosters of it.

See Emma Sevedra and little sister and Lola Romero all headed for Roswell. Guess we will have to check up on those gals.

Just received word that Opal Butts turned their Buick over up by Bingham but luckily no one was hurt bad, for which we are all thankful.

ATTENDS HAIR STYLING DEMONSTRATION

Jerry Oravets, operator of Village Beauty Shop here, Sunday attended a demonstration on hair styling and cutting held in Roswell. The demonstrations, given by the noted Vernon Isabel of Ft. Worth and Jess Lee Young, Lubbock, were sponsored by Unit 7 of the Hair Dressers and Cosmeticians association. Jerry says a banquet was held in connection with the gathering.

BASKET LUNCH SET AT BAPTIST CHURCH

A basket lunch will be held at noon Sunday, April 6, at Ruidoso First Baptist church. Members and friends of the church are invited to attend the services and bring a basket, to enjoy the fellowship with others, the pastor, Rev. T. L. Merriott, said.
