YELLOW JACK AT NEW ORLEANS

Washington, July 23—Officials of the public health and Marine Hospital service are working in harmony with those in Louisiana in the efforts to prevent any spread of the yellow fever, from which an Italian died yesterday in New Orleans. Dr. A. H. Glennan, acting as surgeon general in the absence of Dr. Wyman, who is now in Honolulu, has dispatched surgeon G. M. Guiteras, from Cairo, Ill.; T. H. Richardson, from Savannah; and H. J. White, from Mobile, to proceed to New Orleans and assist the marine hospital officials stationed there. A thorough outgoing passenger medical train inspection service will be organized so as to prevent the departure of any persons who may have been exposed in any way to the disease. The application of the methods employed at Havana for stamping out the disease will include the destruction of mosquitoes and the screening of patients infected with the disease. Dr. Glennan said tonight the situation is well in hand, and he expressed the hope that the disease will not spread.

Bennington Gunboat Disaster.

Washington, July 21—The navy department has received a dispatch from Commander Young today saying that Lieutenant Peary and thirty-three men are dead; seventy-six wounded and twenty-one missing, and that many are expected to die before morning. He adds that there were 131 casualties altogether.

Disaster without Parallel in History of Navy.

Washington, July 21—Not since the ill-fated Maine was blown up in Havana harbor has the department been obliged to record a disaster to one of the American men of war so fearful as that of today when the gunboat Bennington was shattered, and most of her crew killed or injured by a boiler explosion. The engineers do not recall when a boiler has exploded aboard a warship of the United States navy. Mishaps have occurred in the boiler room, but with slight loss of life or injuries.

San Diego, Cal. July 24—The

Paul Jones' Body Laid to Rest.

Annapolis, Md., July 24—In a simple brick vault in the grounds of the Naval Academy today lies the body of John Paul Jones. With simple ceremonies attending the landing of the body from the cruiser Brooklyn, the naval expedition authorized to accomplish the transfer from the Paris cemetery, which has been the place of repose for more than a century, is completed. The body was brought ashore at 10 o'clock and forty minutes later the ceremonies attending the placement in the vault in the naval ground, was completed.

Jerry Simpson Near to Death.

A dispatch from Roswell under Saturday's date says:

Jerry Simpson is fully conscious and the fact that he may die any moment has not been kept from him. The announcement did not frighten him, and he stated tonight: "The doctors say that if I can manage to make it for two weeks there are chances for my recovery, but if the blood floods my heart I will pass off at once. It is simply a case that one of the vessels of the heart has burst and I must be kept quiet. I am feeling very bad." The disease is known as aneurism of the heart.

Balfour Will Hang On.

London, July 24—The government has no intention of resigning in consequence of Thursday's adverse vote. This was the gist of Premier Balfour's eagerly anticipated statement in the house of commons this afternoon. Although it had been generally recognized that such would be the decision of the premier, there was a feverish eagerness on all sides to hear the exact terms of the statement.

The house was literally packed. Every gallery available to peers and the public was crowded, and there had not been such an attendance of the members during the life of the present parliament.

latest summary of the situation regarding the Bennington is 54 identified dead, four unidentified dead; 46 wounded, one missing; 90 injured; one deserter. The most important development is that no member of the Bennington crew of 196 remains unaccounted for.

Lamont Dies Suddenly.

New York, July 24—Col. Daniel Lamont, secretary of war under Cleveland, died last evening at his country residence at Millbrook, Dutchess county, New York, after a brief illness.

Heart failure was the cause of his death. He was out driving with his wife in the afternoon and appeared to be enjoying the best of health. After dinner he complained of feeling ill, and Dr. Stewart of New York, who is a guest at the house, immediately went to his aid. The physician diagnosed the case as an attack of heart failure, and in spite of heroic treatment Mr. Lamont passed away within half an hour.

Retaliation by Chinese.

Washington, July 20—The department of state has received a report from Samuel L. Grace, American consul at Fuchau, China, on a meeting had by Chinese merchants at Shanghai, on May 6, to discuss the American exclusion laws, and Chinese boycott of American goods. The society most active in this question was the Jen Ching (Man Mirror) literary society of Shanghai. More than two hundred people attended and adopted resolutions declaring that they would stop consuming or ordering American goods; that natives who worked for American merchants, or who were engaged in the transportation of American goods, would ask for higher wages; that the privileges given the "Heshing company" for building a railway should be withdrawn and that any Chinese merchant found to deal secretly in American goods, not only would be fined but socially boycotted.

A thorough investigation of the sale of American goods especially of American kerosene oil and American clothes, was called for, and the support of impartial American newspapers and American missionaries in the effort to remove the exclusion laws was urged. The printed proceedings of the meeting have been spread widely through all classes of Chinese society.

Oil Field Afire.

Humble, Texas, July 23—Fire started in a tank belonging to the Texas Oil company, caused by lighting striking the oil. The fire was held under control all the afternoon, but began to spread tonight. At 10:30 o'clock tonight eleven of the twelve great tanks were ablaze and over one million barrels of oil consumed. Fifty men are surrounded by the flames; and their fate is unknown. One hundred teams are known to be cremated and a number of families have been burned out of house and home.

Drowned in the Bonito.

Mrs. Laman Eidson was drowned in the Bonito, just above Lincoln, yesterday. Mrs. Eidson was a daughter of Henry Rogers, who lives on the south slope of Capitan mountains. She was going home from Lincoln, and attempted to cross the swollen stream on horseback, but the swift current carried her down and under. The body was recovered.

THE CAPITAN NEWS

CAPITAN, - - NEW MEXICO.

Panama mosquitoes are represented as being unusually fierce and voracious. It will be a waste of time to try the effect of benevolent assimilation on them.

Minnesota's census bureau warns its enumerators that women cannot be compelled to give their age. Does the bureau think it has discovered something new?

"Poverty," says Mr. Carnegie, "is a priceless heritage." Yes, and it is within reach of nearly everybody, even though it is not marked down from anything.

"Secretary Taft," says the New York Tribune, "can take his ease now in a hammock." It is to be hoped that the man who puts it up will be careful about the ropes.

Note from the diary of the amateur gardener: "May 27.—Not up yet; perhaps I planted them too deep. The good book, however, said two inches. But I am pretty heavy."

Nine out of every ten servant girls in Germany have money in the banks. We might say in passing that the servant girl has the only sure get-rich-quick scheme on earth.

A New York court has decided that a marriage contract entered into three years ago by an opera singer and a lawyer is null and void. Now they will not have to get divorced.

There must be money in private life. Russel Sage has announced his intention of retiring to private life.—Atlanta Journal.

There will be when Russell Sage retires.

The Chicago woman who is to have $400 a month alimony, even if she marries again, will probably not have to advertise in any of the matrimonial journals for the purpose of finding a new affinity.

Says the exacting president of Trinity college, Hartford, "Any man who makes money that represents another man's loss is a brigand." Then brigand is a milder term than has been heretofore supposed.

An automobile ran away in Portland, Maine, the other day and smashed itself to pieces without having killed anybody. Its makers should not omit this fact from the next advertisement they prepare.

Some New York people who recently sued Thomas W. Lawson for $25,000 have just paid him $11,000 to call it square. They are probably convinced now that there is something more than wind in frenzied finance.

Hon. Edward Atkinson boldly vents his assertion that $65 a year is enough for a woman to dress on. But if any woman in the United States dresses on that sum there is only one reason for it. She can't raise more than $65.

A Connecticut man who fell downstairs and broke both his legs finds now that he is getting well that his rheumatism, from which he had suffered for twenty years, has left him. The new cure is too violent, however, to be generally popular.

A Pittsburg girl has been awarded $14,000 damages for breach of promise. The unlucky Lothario should have suspected a shell game. She used to sign herself his Easter egg.

Stolen kisses are now announced as not a girl's ideal of love. Of course, any girl wants to know if a kiss is coming her way in season to enjoy it.

GAS AND WATER

IS ONE AS NECESSARY AS THE OTHER?

Citizens of Large Cities Say It Is.

New York, June 13.—In the recent agitation here about the price of gas, the demand for lower rates was supported by the argument that every resident is as dependent upon a supply of gas as upon a supply of good water.

It has come to pass that the day laborer uses gas as his only fuel for cooking, because of economy, and the rich man uses gas on account of its convenience. Gas for lighting, with modern improvements in burners, is cheaper, better and more satisfactory than any other kind of light. Gas sells at $1.00 per thousand cubic feet in large cities and from that to as high as $3.00 in smaller towns.

The consumer of gas in the country uses Acetylene (pronounced a-set-a-lene), and each user makes his own gas and is independent of Gas and Electric Companies. Acetylene is a more perfect illuminant than the gas sold by the big gas companies in the cities, and the cost to the smallest user is about the equivalent of city gas at 85 cents per thousand.

Acetylene is the modern artificial light, the latest addition to the many inventions that have become daily necessities.

The light from an acetylene flame is soft, steady and brilliant, and in quality is only rivaled by the sun's rays. If water and a solid material known as Calcium Carbide are brought into contact, the immediate result is the making of this wonderful gas. The generation of acetylene is so simple that experience or even apparatus is not necessary to make it. If it is desired to make it for practical lighting, and to keep it for immediate use, then a small machine called an "Acetylene Generator" is employed. There are many responsible concerns making acetylene generators. In practice, this gas is distributed in small pipes throughout buildings, grounds, or entire cities and towns, in the same manner as ordinary city gas. Acetylene is the only satisfactory means of lighting isolated buildings located in the country or suburbs at a distance from city gas or electric plants.

Untasted sweets are sweetest. There is a doubt, however, about this applying to kissing.

AN AWFUL SKIN HUMOR.

Covered Head, Neck and Shoulders—Suffered Agony for Twenty-five Years Until Cured by Cuticura.

"For twenty-five years I suffered agony from a terrible humor, completely covering my head, neck and shoulders, discharging matter of such offensiveness to sight and smell that I became an object of dread. I consulted the most able doctors far and near, to no avail. Then I got Cuticura, and in a surprisingly short time I was completely cured. For this I thank Cuticura, and advise all those suffering from skin humors to get it and end their misery at once. S. P. Keyes, 149 Congress Street, Boston, Mass."

HUNT FOXES WITH EAGLES.

Strange Sport That Is Enjoyed by Natives of Siberia.

A Siberian correspondent of London Sphere sends some photographs relating to a form of fox hunting which is probably unique. The hunting of foxes with eagles takes place among the Kirghese, in the southwest district of Siberia, known as the general government of the steppes. It is a favorite sport with the Kirghese and takes place in the autumn and early winter, when the foxes' coats are rusty and perfect, though hunting is not always confined to this period. The eagles selected for the purpose are powerful birds, of such weight that a small wooden support is carried by the eagle bearer. A well grown bird of more than usually fierce temperament will occasionally kill a wolf. Directly any game is seen the birds make their flight and swoop down with great precision. "One of these birds has, to my knowledge," writes our correspondent, "killed seventeen foxes in the last six weeks. I can vouch for this killing of foxes by eagles, for I personally took all these photographs and saw the whole sport from beginning to end. Years ago I wrote a letter to the Field, telling how foxes swarm up small pine trees in Florida when a 'kill' appears imminent. I have frequently seen them do so, but I was politely told what an Ananias I must be. So I fear that possibly you may desire to tell me the same thing. I can only assure you that it is a fact, which arouses no astonishment out here."

The Best of Life.

Not till life's heat is cooled,
The headlong rush slowed to a quiet pace,
And every purblind passion that has ruled
Our noisier years, at last
Spurs us in vain, and weary of the race,
We care no more who loses or who wins—
Ah, not till all the best of life seems past
The best of life begins.

To tell for only fame,
If handclappings, and the fickle gusts of praise,
For place or power or gold to gild a name
Above the grave whereto
All paths will bring us, were to lose our days,
We, on whose ears youth's passing bell has tolled
In blowing bubbles, even as children do,
Forgetting we grow old.

But the world widens when
Such hope of trivial gain that ruled us lies
Broken among our childhood's toys, for then
We win to self-control!
And mail ourselves in manhood, and there rise
Upon us from the vast and windless height
Those cleaner thoughts that are unto the soul
What stars are to the night.
—The Spectator.

Reckoned by Years.

There is a representative in Congress from the West whose special pride it is to recount the quaint observations of his 9-year-old daughter.

Not long ago, according to the proud father, little Ethel came to him one afternoon and informed him that she had just seen the President's wife walking with one of the ladies of the cabinet circle. "And, papa," said Ethel, "she isn't anything like as old as grandma!"

"Why, my dear!" exclaimed the congressman, "of course she isn't! Mrs. Roosevelt is a young woman! How in the world did you get any other idea?" "Well, papa," replied the youngster, "you yourself once told me that she was the first lady in the land!"—New York Times.

Chinese in New York.

There were 6,080 Chinese inhabitants of New York, according to the last census, but the popular estimate is that the actual number of Chinamen is twice as large. Though there is a rigid federal exclusion law and few births occur in the Chinese quarters, the Chinese population seems to increase.

His Health Was Wrecked Per-na Gave New Life.

HON. JOHN TIGHE.

Assemblyman Tighe's letter should be read by every brain worker leading a strenuous life.

Hon. John Tighe, No. 98 Remsen St., Cohoes, N. Y., Member of Assembly from the Fourth district, Albany county, N. Y., writes as follows:

"Peruna has my hearty indorsement as a restorative tonic of superior merit. At times when I have been completely broken down from excess of work, so that my faculties seemed actually at a standstill, Peruna has acted as a healing restorer, starting the machinery of mind and body afresh with new life and energy.

"I recommend it to a man tired in mind and body as a tonic superior to anything I know of and well worthy serious consideration."—J. Tighe.

Excess of work so common in our country causes impaired nerves, leading to catarrh and catarrhal nervousness—a disease that is responsible for half of all nervous troubles.

Peruna cures this trouble because it cures catarrh wherever located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

THE OPPORTUNITY OF TO-DAY

The opportunity for the man with little means is probably better to-day in the prairie states of the Southwest than ever before in the history of the nation. To be sure, there is not the vast open choice of land for the homesteads that existed in the '70s. The lands then taken up under Government laws are now prosperous farms and ranches. There is need of more hands to develop the country. In the Southwest, Indian Territory, Oklahoma and Texas, are vast areas of unimproved land not yet producing the crops of which it is capable. Practically the same thing is true of the towns. Few lines of business are adequately represented. There are openings of all sorts for wide-awake men. Are you one?

If you are interested, tell us what you want, how much you have to invest, and we will gladly furnish the information. Write for a copy of our paper, "The Coming Country." It's free. Address

Valuable Street Car Device.

Managers of electric railways in Cleveland have not idled their time in discussing the psychological phases of the fact that women—the majority of women—face to the rear when alighting from a street car. They have simply recognized the existence of the habit, and by the use of a practical device made its continuance nearly impossible. Just a rail put in such a position that it can be grasped by only one hand, and that the one that swings its owner head and eyes to the front, has done the trick, and it is believed that many accidents will be averted by its adoption. And if it does work as well as expected it seems a moral obligation is laid upon railway managers everywhere to protect their woman passengers from their own carelessness.

Financial Center at New York.

In a recent interview at St. Louis, United States Treasurer Ellis H. Roberts said: "I confidently believe that sooner or later London will cease to be the center of finance and New York City will become its successor. The financial interests of this country control more than one-fourth of the stock of all the mined gold in every civilized country in the world."

It Pays to Read Newspapers.

Cox, Wis., June 12.—Frank M. Russell of this place had Kidney Disease so bad that he could not walk. He tried doctors' treatment and many different remedies, but was getting worse. He was very low.

He read in a newspaper how Dodd's Kidney Pills were curing cases of Kidney Trouble, Bright's Disease and Rheumatism, and thought he would try them. He took two boxes, and now he is quite well. He says:

"I can now work all day, and not feel tired. Before using Dodd's Kidney Pills, I couldn't walk across the floor."

Mr. Russell is the most wonderful case ever known in Chippewa county. This new remedy—Dodd's Kidney Pills—is making some miraculous cures in Wisconsin.

RAILROAD RATE LEGISLATION.

Testifying before the Senate Committee at Washington, Inter-State Commerce Commissioner Prouty said in discussing the proposition to give to that Commission the power to regulate railway rates:

"I think the railways should make their own rates. I think they should be allowed to develop their own business. I have never advocated any law, and I am not now in favor of any law, which would put the rate making power into the hands of any commission or any court. While it may be necessary to do that some time, while that is done in some states at the present time, while it is done in some countries, I am opposed to it. * * * The railway rate is property. It is all the property that the railway has got. The rest of its property is not good for anything unless it can charge a rate. Now it has always seemed to me that when a rate was fixed, if that rate was an unreasonable rate, it deprives the railroad company of its property pro tanto. It is not necessary that you should confiscate the property of a railroad; it is not necessary that you should say that it shall not earn three per cent or four per cent. When you put in a rate that is inherently unreasonable, you have deprived that company of its rights, of its property, and the Circuit Court of the United States has jurisdiction under the fourteenth amendment to restrain that. * * * I have looked at these cases a great many times, and I can only come to the conclusion that a railroad company is entitled to charge a fair and reasonable rate, and if any order of a commission, if any statute of a state legislature takes away that rate, the fourteenth amendment protects the railway company."

CRUDE SURGERY OF PAPUANS.

How Operation of Bloodletting is Performed.

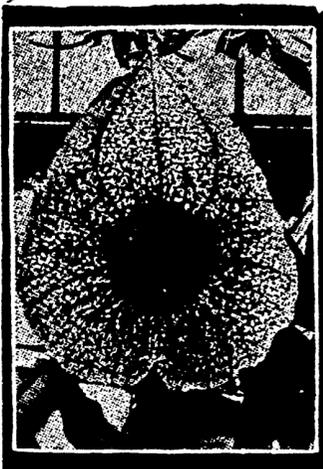

A curious form of bleeding is in general use among the Papuans of New Guinea, especially among the younger men. The bleeding is performed by two persons, who sit opposite each other. The operator takes a small drill of cassowary bone, attached to a bamboo shaft, and places the point on a vein in the patient's forehead, while the other end is held between the operator's finger and thumb. The drill is driven by a bow, the string of which takes one turn round the shaft. The turning movement of the bow causes the drill to revolve in alternate directions. The patient leans forward, and when the small hole is sufficiently punctured the drill is removed and the blood begins to flow profusely on the ground. A recent explorer states that he has seen as much as a pint allowed to escape. When faintness supervenes the wound is staunched with ashes or any convenient styptic and the patient sits up. If the ashes fail to act, cauterization with a hot cinder is practiced. Cases of heart disease or sudden death are unknown among the natives and this immunity may be due to the custom of blood-letting. It may be that this lends color to the theory of some physicians that the increase of heart disease and sudden death in civilized nations is due to the entire abandonment of bleeding, once certainly carried to excess.—Montreal Herald.

Insect Eating Flower.

An Aristolochia, pictured herewith, is remarkable both for its size and its insect catching qualities. This particular blossom measures over eighteen inches across and its stem is thirty-two inches long.

It belongs to a collection of plants left by a wealthy merchant in the city of Magdeburg.

There are 180 species of Aristolochia found in various countries, seven of which are native to the United States. In form and size the flowers vary greatly, but all are fashioned by nature in such a way that insects alighting upon them are immediately imprisoned in the petals. Some of the plants are said to be antidotes for snake poison.—New York Herald.

Artistic Work of Whittler.

As a humble tribute from a city employe with whom he did not even have an acquaintance, to Major Chas. S. Ashley has been presented a most remarkable image of himself.

The image was made by William Mercier, a water department laborer, who whittled it out with a jack-knife from a single block of wood. The statuette is about 20 inches high and the figure is complete to the minutest details. The right hand rests on a table on which are a book and a flowerpot, with leaves, stalk and flowers deftly carved with the knife.

The whole figure is painted in different colors, the flesh tints being, to say the least, striking. Mercier spent his leisure time for six months on this labor of love and was then so bashful that he sent a friend to present it to the mayor.—New Bedford correspondence Boston Herald.

Rain! Rain!

The dry, parched earth that for many weeks has sent up a silent appeal for a little moisture, at last succeeded in getting a supply of the needful, and is now so full of the extract from the clouds that, like the man who spent a night out with frieds, it can hold no more.

The early rains in the spring put everything in fine growing condition, but the six weeks dry spell withered the grass and produced a fear in the minds of the farmers that their corn crop would be without corn. This has been remedied, and the greatest crop in the history of the county will, no doubt, be the record of 1905.

Stock were never in better condition the whole season through, and the splendid rains that have been following almost uninterruptedly the past week, with more to follow, insure a bountiful hay crop and an abundant supply of winter feed. No need to ship out stock this season for fear of lack of subsistence, and the rainbow of promise to the stockman has a bright golden hue like unto that of the years 1897-98.

Growing grain, ripening fruit, fattening livestock and smiling faces are the conditions that meet one on everyhand in this part of New Mexico.

A REALLY GOOD LAW.

In the past, it has been the custom for large sheep owners to return their sheep, or at least make a claim to return their sheep, in the counties where they reside; and in so doing largely avoid taxation where they reside, and wholly escape taxation on the thousands of sheep grazing in other counties.

In this manner Lincoln county has furnished grass to a hundred thousand sheep annually from which she received no revenue whatever. And yet that was not the worst feature. The stockman living in Lincoln county and running their stock at home, saw the ranges eaten up by this large influx of sheep from other counties and their herds left to subsist on an overcrowded range.

This, under the new law, will be a thing of the past; for its declarations mean that each county must receive something in return for supporting these vagrant herds. It may require some time to bring about an exact and equal adjustment, but in time all irregularities and impositions will disappear, and every tub will have to stand on its own bottom.

On this subject, the Socorro Chieftain contains the following timely editorial:

"Bernalillo county authorities are trying to invalidate the law making sheep taxable in the county in which they graze rather than in the county in which the owner resides. It is argued that if the effort is successful it will add $100,000 to Bernalillo county's tax roll. The Chieftain begs leave to suggest that that argument contains, according to any respectable standard of equity or of decency, the best possible reason why the law referred to should be operative. Probably not less than two hundred thousand sheep belonging to non-resident owners have grazed in Socorro county for several years past and have added several thousand dollars for each of those years to the burden of taxation borne by the taxpayers of the county. These sheep have occupied the ranges to the exclusion of sheep of resident owners and have caused several cattlemen of the county to abandon their ranges and seek more favorable conditions beyond the boundaries of New Mexico. The law in its present form was introduced by Hon. W. E. Martin, was passed by an unanimous vote, is perfectly just to all concerned, and should be sustained."

Snow in July.

Just before the rainy season opened everyone was complaining of the hot weather, notwithstanding Blanco Peak, 15 miles southwest of Capitan, still contained some of its last winter's mantle. As a proof of the existence of snow on this highest point in Southern New Mexico, Messrs. Guy Herbert and Geo. L. Bradford made a trip to its summit, and on Saturday, July 22, brought to this office a small snowball. The spring rains and summer sun had alike proved unavailing in their joint efforts to reduce it to liquid form, and it retained its crystalline beauty until it came in contact with the warmth of a lower altitude.

THE MONTEZUMA MINING CO.

We are happy to note that the systematic development by the Montezuma Mining Co. of its properties on Eagle Creek, will shortly begin.

Plans for the same are now being worked out by the resident director of the company.

The properties, and especially, the "Lone Star," have, we understand, given promise of values somewhat above the average of gold ores in the neighborhood. Some streaks in the "Lone Star" vein having, we are told, assayed as high as thirty dollars a ton.

The management feel the utmost confidence in the future of the properties, and the intelligent development of such properties does much to benefit the country at large.

The management assures us that the work will progress as fast, and only as fast as there is money in the bank to pay for it. In the operation of this company no laboring man will have to wait for his money after he has earned it, and there will be no break down and no debts.

Fire Clay Find.

A special came in Saturday, bearing some officials and members of the new railroad company, to examine the fire clay deposits discovered in the coal mines at Coalora. They were General Manager Simmons, Mr. Dodge, of the Phelps, Dodge & Co., and Walter Douglas, son of the president of the road, accompanied by an expert, W. P. Thompson, superintendent of the Fuel company, also joined them here.

A large body of fire clay has been opened by Supt. McCartney in No. 4, also No. 1 contains the same character of clay. The party, it is said, was well pleased with the outlook, and have given orders to Supt. McCartney to load a car for a test shipment, which, if it proves satisfactory, will be supplemented by the extraction and shipment of six cars a week.

Should the quality prove good, this will mean the addition of another industry that will aid in the upbuilding of this section. The quality seems to be all that is required, and will, no doubt, increase with development. It may be the means, also, of a further investigation, on the part of the company, into the coal deposits, the main body, many think, having not yet been opened.

Campmeeting.

Rev. S. W. Lane from Floyd, New Mexico, also Ex-President of the Methodist Protestant church, will hold a campmeeting near Mr. Dobbins' place one mile and a half north of Coalora (at an harbor). The meeting will begin Friday night before the second Saturday in August. Come one, come all and let us work together for the salvation of souls. Lario, of 751 Twentieth avenue, ticket seller in the Union Station, Denver, Col., says: "You are at liberty to repeat what I first stated through our Denver papers about Doan's Kidney Pills in the summer of 1899, for I have had no reason in the interim to change my opinion of the remedy. I was subject to severe attacks of backache, always aggravated if I sat long at a desk. Doan's Kidney Pills absolutely stopped my backache. I have never had a pain or a twinge since."

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in 3/4-pound packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 ozs." Demand Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking. Defiance never sticks.

A girl can be so pretty as to make you think she doesn't need any sense.

At the conference of the managers of the New York Central Lines, held in New York June 6th, all lines being represented by their General Managers and Passenger officials, it was decided, beginning with the regular summer change, Sunday, June 18th, to quicken the speed of the "Twentieth Century Limited" so as to make the time between New York and Chicago eighteen hours instead of twenty hours, the New York Central Lines having made the twenty hour time during the past three years, and having also made the run between New York and Chicago in twenty hours with their "Exposition Flyer" for the one hundred and eighty days of the Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893, twelve years ago.

The New York Central Lines make the point that the New York Central has had in service the "Empire State Express," which has been the fastest train in the world for its distance, 440 miles for fourteen years, having held the world's record for that time, and for three years and 180 days having held the world's record for a thousand mile train in twenty hours.

The proposed schedule of eighteen hours is simply the extension of the time of the "Empire State Express" through from Buffalo to Chicago, the time having been made for fourteen years between New York and Buffalo. On this new schedule, the train will leave Chicago at 2:30 p. m., arriving Grand Central Station, New York, at 9:30 next morning, and returning, will leave New York 3:30 p. m., reaching Chicago 8:30 a. m. following day.

At the same time, the "Lake Shore Limited" will be quickened up an hour, and will make the time from Chicago to New York in 23 hours instead of 24, leaving Chicago 5:30 p. m., by the Lake Shore and arriving New York 5:30 p. m., by the New York Central.

The "Southwestern Limited" train, No. 11, which now leaves Grand Central station at 1 p. m., will, beginning June 18th, leave at 2:04 p. m., saving an hour to an hour and a half on the present journey to St. Louis and Cincinnati.

INDIANS IN CRITICAL REVIEW.

Have Never Been Acknowledged as Reliable Historians.

The Oregon Historical Society has placed the mark of its disapproval on the Indian yarn which had Lewis and Clark resting under a large oak tree that is still standing at St. Helena. As neither of those illustrious explorers carved his initials in the tree, and there is nothing but the Indian story to lead to the belief that they ever visited the spot, the tree will not be brought to the exposition. The Indian as a chronicler of events or a recorder of history has never been much of a success. Too frequently his untutored mind has enabled him to grasp the idea that a thrilling lie would win larger rewards of fire-water than a commonplace statement of fact. There are two classes of Indians with which the American public is more familiar than any of the others. One of these can be found in front of tobacco stores with a bunch of cigars in his wooden hand and the other is continually before us in the public prints as the owner of an exceptionally valuable gold brick.

Both of these Indians have distinctive traits of the real Indian, in that there is considerable sham about them. Small children will cry at the sight of the cigar store Indian and his tomahawk, and feeble-minded speculators looking for a sure thing will buy gilded bricks from the blanketed pirate in the forest, although neither of these Indians is the real thing. But to return to the historical Indian, who is ever ready to turn out tradition and history in accordance with the wishes of the one who carries a black bottle or other attraction dear to the Indian mind. What a part these saddle-colored children of the forest have played in clothing so many historical incidents with the garb of fiction!—Portland Oregonian.

Fools All the Doctors.

"There is a hale and hearty looking old chap walking about town," remarked a New York physician lately, "who for years has had a complication of diseases which make him most interesting to the profession. The ailments of which he shows undeniable symptoms are rarely seen in combination and the state of his inner workings is a matter for speculation among the doctors who have examined him.

"The old fellow himself loves to tell that when he first asked medical advice, some twenty years ago, the physician, a famous practitioner in those days, wrote across the diagnosis he had put down on paper: 'This man cannot live thirty days. I should like to be present at the autopsy.' That great doctor has been dead these many years and the dying patient still smiles cheerfully and seeks a cure for his malady. Queer, isn't it?"

A Sovereign Remedy.

Sing ho, the smart suburbanite— He is a knowing man! No aches or pains can him a fright Because he has a plan To send such things to right about. Whenever he feels ill He straightway gets the bottle out And takes a quinine pill.

No fever e'er can make him fret, The grip alarms him not; He takes a pill when he is wet And one when he is hot. And when he's troubled with the gout Or has a sudden chill He simply brings the bottle out And takes a quinine pill.

In farming should he hurt his toe, His back or ankle sprain— A pill is just the thing, you know, To chase away the pain; The surgeon he may safely flout, He pays no doctor's bill— Just gets his faithful bottle out And takes a quinine pill.

A natural theater, that is to say, a theater in the open air, will be established at Champigny, near Paris. It will be remembered that the ancient amphitheaters at Arles, Beziers and Nimes have been reopened, and the plays are attended by large crowds. In former years there were hundreds of such open-air theaters scattered all over France.

NAMES BEST DOCTOR

MR. BAYSSON PUBLISHES RESULTS OF VALUABLE EXPERIENCE.

A Former Pronounced Dyspeptic He Now Rejoices in Perfect Freedom from Miseries of Indigestion.

Thousands of sufferers know that the reason why they are irritable and depressed and nervous and sleepless is because their food does not digest, but how to get rid of the difficulty is the puzzling question.

Good digestion calls for strong digestive organs, and strength comes from a supply of good rich blood. For this reason Mr. Baysson took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the cure of indigestion.

"They have been my best doctor," he says. "I was suffering from dyspepsia. The pains in my stomach after meals were almost unbearable. My sleep was very irregular and my complexion was sallow. As the result of using eight boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, about the merits of which I learned from friends in France, I have escaped all these troubles, and am able again to take pleasure in eating."

A very simple story, but if it had not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills it might have been a tragic one. When discomfort begins with eating, fills up the intervals between meals with pain, and prevents sleep at night, there certainly cannot be much pleasure in living. A final general breaking down must be merely a question of time.

Mr. Joseph Baysson is a native of Aix-les-Bains, France, but now resides at No. 2439 Larkin street, San Francisco, Cal. He is one of a great number who can testify to the remarkable efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the treatment of obstinate disorders of the stomach.

If you would get rid of nausea, pain or burning in the stomach, vertigo, nervousness, insomnia, or any of the other miseries of a dyspeptic, get rid of the weakness of the digestive organs by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by druggists everywhere.

Proper diet is, of course, a great aid in forwarding recovery once begun, and a little book, "What to Eat and How to Eat," may be obtained by any one who makes a request for it by writing to the Dr. Williams Medical Co., Schenectady, N. Y. This valuable diet book contains an important chapter on the simplest means for the cure of constipation.

New Tuberculosis Cure.

A new remedy for tuberculosis, discovered by Professor Levy of Milan, consists of hypodermic injections of a preparation of which the main ingredient is allotropic iodine. After ten or fifteen injections an astonishing increase in the weight of the patient results, and after forty or fifty injections a complete cicatrization of the tubercles takes place and is followed by a complete cure.

Professor Levy, after successful experiments with cattle, made his first experiments two years ago with human patients with favorable results. Twenty persons so far have submitted to the injections, some of whom were in an advanced stage of tuberculosis of the lungs. While definite reports of the results of these experiments are not available, marked improvement is reported in all cases and complete cures in those in which the treatment has been carried to forty or fifty injections. Professor Levy has not disclosed fully all the ingredients of his preparation.

President's Memorial Address.

In a stirring address delivered at the unveiling of a big statue of General Henry W. Slocum in Brooklyn on Memorial Day, President Roosevelt paid a splendid tribute to the men who composed the northern armies, but did not forget those of the southern hosts.

Significant in the light of recent events was his assertion that: "If our navy is good enough we have a long career of peace and prosperity before us, and only likelihood of trouble ever coming to us as a nation will arise if we let our navy become too small or inefficient. A first class navy, first class in point of size, above all first class in point of efficiency and the individual unit, as units in combination, is the surest and cheapest guarantee of peace."

"The surest way for a nation to invite disaster is to be opulent, aggressive and unarmed."

FEED YOUNG GIRLS.

Must Have Right Food While Growing.

Great care should be taken at the critical period when the young girl is just merging into womanhood that the diet shall contain all that is up-building and nothing harmful.

At that age the structure is being formed and if formed of a healthy, sturdy character, health and happiness will follow; on the other hand unhealthy cells may be built in and a sick condition slowly supervene which, if not checked, may ripen into a chronic disease and cause life-long suffering.

A young lady says:

"Coffee began to have such an effect on my stomach a few years ago, that I was compelled to quit using it. It brought on headaches, pains in my muscles and nervousness."

"I tried to use tea in its stead, but found its effects even worse than those I suffered from coffee. Then for a long time I drank milk alone at my meals, but it never helped me physically, and at last it palled on me. A friend came to the rescue with the suggestion that I try Postum Coffee."

"I did so, only to find at first, that I didn't fancy it. But I had heard of so many persons who had been benefited by its use that I persevered, and when I had it brewed right found it grateful in flavor and soothing and strengthening to my stomach. I can find no words to express my feeling of what I owe to Postum Food Coffee!"

"In every respect it has worked a wonderful improvement—the headaches, nervousness, the pains in my side and back; all the distressing symptoms yielded to the magic power of Postum. My brain seems also to share in the betterment of my physical condition; it seems keener, more alert and brighter. I am, in short, in better health now than I ever was before, and I am sure I owe it to the use of your Postum Food Coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

THEY HAD MET BEFORE.

When Arnold Daly and His Leading Lady Exchanged Reminiscences.

Arnold Daly, who has made such a good thing of Bernard Shaw and who speaks of bringing that lively Irishman to this side next winter, is involved in the following:

Miss Louise Closser, who played Prossey the typewriter in "Canada" last season, told the story at a well-known dramatic school the other day.

"When I resolved to go upon the stage," said Miss Closser, "being still a young thing, I went to Mr. Frohman's office, steadying my nerves at the door by repeating over and over again 'Perseverance is the price of success' and such-like bracing sentiments. In that way I got as far as the anteroom. There I saw an office boy sitting with his feet upon the desk and a newspaper before him."

"Is Mr. Frohman in?" I asked.

"'Naw,' said the office boy, without changing his position or raising his eyes."

"Then I'll wait," said I. I waited an hour in silence. Then it occurred to me to put a simple question. I addressed the still absorbed office boy.

"When will Mr. Frohman be in?"

"'He ain't goin' to be in,' he answered shortly. 'He's in Europe.'"

"Naturally I retired after that."

When I went into Mr. Daly's company last winter I told him the story.

"Were you that girl?" he said. "I was that office boy."—New York Times.

SNAPSHOT PRIZED BY ACTOR.

Camera Caught Sir Henry Irving in the Act of Sneezing.

Sir Henry Irving has in his possession a photograph taken many years ago, in which he is the center of a small group of people, which he says nothing would make him part with. The occasion on which the photograph was taken was the landing of Sir Henry Irving and some of the members of his company from an Atlantic liner, and a snap-shot artist who was there took a picture of the group just before they left the vessel.

The weather was cold and raw, and just as the camera was about to snap Sir Henry started to sneeze. The photograph represented him, well in the foreground of the group, with his face drawn and contorted, in the very act of sneezing.

In showing the photograph to some friends one day Sir Henry remarked:

"I prize that photograph more than any I ever had in which I appear, because it represents me in an entirely unconventional light."—New York Times.

Kipling and Fame.

"Rudyard Kipling visited my apartment once," said a New York publisher. "He sat in that chair there. He was in the height of his fame at the time. It was before the outburst of the Winston Churchill historical novel and the Conan Doyle detective story. This brusque, jerky young man was probably, just then, the most brilliant star in the literary firmament."

"He talked beautifully. On his departure I escorted him down on the elevator to the ground floor. Then when I got into the elevator again to go back to my rooms, I couldn't resist saying to the elevator man:

"Did you notice that short, thick-set gentleman in spectacles who came down with me?"

"Not particular. Why?" the man asked.

"That," I answered, "was Rudyard Kipling."

"Rudyard Kipling?" the elevator man exclaimed. "Rudyard Kipling, the great African explorer?"

Genoa's Vessel Tonnage.

During the year 1904 the number of vessels entering the port of Genoa was 6,151, with an aggregate tonnage register of 6,018,256. Not one of these vessels carried the American flag, although the freight and passenger traffic between Genoa and the United States is considerable.

TWO OPEN LETTERS

IMPORTANT TO MARRIED WOMEN

Mrs. Mary Dimmick of Washington tells how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well.

It is with great pleasure we publish the following letters, as they convincingly prove the claim we have so many times made in our columns that Mrs.

Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., is fully qualified to give helpful advice to sick women: Read Mrs. Dimmick's letters.

Her first letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I have been a sufferer for the past eight years with a trouble which first originated from painful menstruation—the pains were excruciating, with inflammation and ulceration of the womb. The doctor says I must have an operation or I cannot live. I do not want to submit to an operation if I can possibly avoid it. Please help me."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, Washington, D. C.

Her second letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"You will remember my condition when I last wrote you, and that the doctor said I must have an operation or I could not live. I received your kind letter and followed your advice very carefully and am now entirely well. As my case was so serious it seems a miracle that I am cured. I know that I owe, not only my health but my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to your advice. I can walk miles without an ache or a pain, and I wish every suffering woman would read this letter and realize what you can do for them."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 59th and East Capitol Streets, Washington, D. C.

How easy it was for Mrs. Dimmick to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and how little it cost her—a two-cent stamp. Yet how valuable was the reply! As Mrs. Dimmick says—it saved her life.

Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of just such letters as the above, and offers ailing women helpful advice.

Act Unconstitutional.

Santa Fe, N. M., July 24—
Judge John R. McFie of the first judicial district court today filed his decision with the clerk of the district court in the Martin relief law case, past by the last legislature February 4, 1905. Judge McFie decides that the law is unconstitutional because it is in violation of the third section of the act of congress known as the "Springer act," approved July 30, 1886.

Also, that the tax levy authorized by the Martin relief act, on all taxable property of the territory, to purchase seed grain and supplies for farmers temporarily embarrassed in 13 counties only, is unauthorized and void, the same being for private and not for public purposes.
