Around Town
—By Nosey Waters—

We got a big bang out of a visit in our office last week-end by H. F. Marr, 93-year-old retired newspaperman and printer, who worked on many of Texas' oldest newspapers. A printer for about 80 years, and a newspaperman almost as long, Marr saw and wrote about a lot of history in the Lone Star State. He is the grandfather of Mrs. Robert Pearson of Ruidoso. He came here from Corsicana with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Williams, Mrs. Pearson's parents.

Ruidoso Telephone Co. issued its August directory last week-end, biggest and best yet with 2,000 listings, including Ruidoso, Capitan, Ruidoso Downs and Mescalero . . . Guy Robertson of the phone company called us last week-end by dialing this number: 2954925522254-9514001—that's 20 digits—and our phone rang. He said you can dial anybody's phone in Ruidoso using the first 16 numbers he used dialing us, then use the customer's regular last four numbers . . . Speaking of phone numbers, here's a couple to write in your book. Chapel of Roses, the new funeral home here, was given its new number after the new phone book was printed, so you ought to write this in your book: Chapel of Roses 257-2078—(if no answer then dial 378-4608). On Thursdays, day or night, dial 257-4333, one of the owners told us to report . . . And here's two other new numbers not in your new phone book: Church of the Holy Mount (Episcopal) 257-4279, and Episcopal Vicarage, res., 257-4280 . . .

Our congratulations to the local folks who have shown such splendid support for the Lincoln County Art Association, which has already undertaken to sponsor an Arts & Crafts Fair here Aug. 21-24. The association has 50 charter members, quite a few patrons, and has several committees at work already on the fair. They are urging early entries of anything and everything in arts or handcrafts. An entry blank is printed in today's News . . . Have you noticed the myriad wild flowers this summer in our meadows and on our hillsides. There are hundreds of varieties . . .

A reader brought us the following chain of amazing parallels drawn by some student of history between the assassinations of Presidents Lincoln and Kennedy. The sequence has been published before, but we thought our readers might be interested in the coincidences. Here's the list.

1. Both Lincoln and Kennedy were concerned with civil rights issues.
2. Lincoln was elected in 1860, Kennedy in 1960.
3. Both were slain on Friday, and in the presence of their wives.
4. Their successors, each named Johnson, were Southern Democrats, and previously had served in the Senate.
5. Andrew Johnson was born in 1808; Lyndon Johnson in 1908.
6. John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of Lincoln, was born in 1839, Lee Harvey Oswald, Kennedy's accused assassin, in 1939.
7. Both Booth and Oswald were Southerners, and both favored unpopular causes.
8. Both Booth and Oswald were killed before trials could be held.
9. Both Presidents lost children through death while living in the White House.
10. Both were shot in the head.
11. Kennedy had a secretary named Lincoln; Lincoln had a secretary named Kennedy.

Unusual set of coincidences, to say the least.

Telephone users in the Ruidoso Downs area, and some of the Hollywood area of Ruidoso, who have new phone numbers now, have found they have to dial ALL the digits to get a Ruidoso number. Before when some of them were in the Ruidoso exchange with us (formerly known as CLearwater 7) all they had to dial was the 7 before the regular number, but now, since they are in the former ESsex 8 exchange, which was used by east Ruidoso Downs folks, they have to dial seven figures, starting with 257- for Ruidoso's exchange, to get phones up the canyon to answer. The same holds true for Ruidoso, as always—when we want to dial someone in the exchange down there, we have to dial seven digits, starting with 378- . . .

First Arts and Crafts Show Open To Artists, Hobbyists

Ruidoso's first Arts and Crafts Fair, scheduled for four days, Aug. 21 through 24, in the former Ruidoso Telephone Co. building on Sudderth here, is attracting widespread interest. Committees working on the project, sponsored by the Lincoln County Art Association, have held several meetings laying groundwork for arrangements, rules, methods of display, etc. Children as well as adults are invited to submit their paintings, sketches, handicraft or examples of their hobbies which require skills or talent.

What can you enter? Hooked rugs, ceramics, oil paintings, water colors, pen and ink, pastel, crayon sketches, sculpture, wood carving, weaving, the kinds of items are endless. A charge of $1 is made for the first entry by an exhibitor, and 25c for each additional item. A small percent is asked if an item is marked for sale and it is sold in the show.

There will be no admission charge for the fair, and hours it will be open are from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. on Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

President David Travis of the association said this week he was thrilled at the number of charter members. Memberships are $3 per year, with patrons contributing whatever amount they may wish. Besides the 50 charter members already enrolled, he said there were numerous patrons who have already made supporting contributions to the association.

Sponsors of the arts and crafts fair are hoping entries will come in early so they can determine in advance the amount of work needed to be done to arrange for exhibits. Entry blanks may be had at The Artisan's Shop or you may cut the one out that is printed elsewhere in today's News.

A total of 2,497 persons attended the three performances of the pageant, "Last Escape of Billy the Kid," presented at Lincoln, N. M., last Saturday and Sunday. Largest attendance was recorded for the Sunday afternoon performance. This was the first year the daytime show had been attempted. Preceding the Sunday afternoon performance, A Day in Old Lincoln, with Mark Storm as master of ceremonies, entertained the audience. Besides some ranchero singing by young Tony Sanchez of Lincoln, a fiddlers' contest produced some fine examples of old time fiddling. Winners were as follows: First place, W. A. Whatley, Lake Arthur; second place, Delbert Evans, Artesia; third place, John Clark, Roswell; runners-up, Barney Aldaz, Ft. Stanton and Loss Morris, Lincoln. CAPITAN WOMAN'S CLUB GETS AWARD FOR AIDING SMOKEY BEAR'S CAMPAIGN

In 1950 a tiny cub bear found clinging to a pine tree was rescued by men fighting a forest fire in El Capitan mountains, north of the village of Capitan, New Mexico. There were 17,000 acres of valuable timber destroyed by that fire. The tiny cub bear recovered and became the living symbol of the U. S. Forest Service poster Smokey Bear.

Capitan was inspired not to let the nation forget the reason for Smokey's plea, "Only YOU can prevent a forest fire." Under the leadership of the Capitan Woman's Club, combined with local civic organizations, the entrance portals were placed in Capitan, proclaiming it "The Home of Smokey Bear." The dedication took place in May, 1955 and was attended by people from many st ates. This started the program of the Capitan Woman's Club in Forest Conservation that has continued throughout the years.

In 1955 another ravaging fire burned 6,000 acres of forest land. The Capitan Woman's Club realized that a more intensive forest fire prevention program was needed. The results of a community meeting was the Smokey Bear Museum, a log cabin, dedicated to Smokey and serving not only as a stopping place for tourists but giving the story of Smokey and forest fire prevention material and suggestions to the public. Fired with great enthusiasm, Capitan villagers donated land, money and material for Smokey's museum.

In 1958 President Eisenhower presented a gold Smokey Oscar, its inscription reads, "To Capitan, New Mexico, Birthplace of Smokey Bear for Outstanding Support in Forest Fire Prevention by Association of State Foresters and U. S. Department of Agriculture Forest Service, 1958." November 1, 1958 saw the dedication of the Smokey Bear Museum with an all day program presented by the Capitan Woman's Club and attended by Washington, D. C. and New Mexico Forest Service officials. During the program the gold Smokey Oscar was placed in "his" niche, built specially for him in his log cabin museum.

In 1964 the Capitan Woman's Club was awarded the Ruth Bush Jones' silver bowl for its extensive program for Forest Conservation.

The museum is now open from May through Labor Day. There isn't any admission but the museum is kept open by the sale of Smokey Bear souvenirs, membership to Smokey Bear club, donations and fund raising drives. Anyone caring to make a donation may mail it to Mrs. Ralph Solether, President of Smokey Bear Club, Capitan, New Mexico, 88316.

ARE YOU DOING YOUR PART?

The tourist season is just getting underway in New Mexico and for residents of the state, their vacation season is beginning.

As thousands of New Mexicans leave the state on vacations, thousands of tourists pour in for their rest and relaxation.

Each year the tourist business becomes increasingly important in the Land of Enchantment. It's a steadily growing thing. Perhaps if each resident of the state who leaves on vacation this year makes an effort to attract others to New Mexico, the much needed tourist business will continue to grow.

Everyone in some way benefits from each dollar a tourist spends in New Mexico, just as residents of other states benefit from each dollar New Mexicans spend on vacation.

If each New Mexican remembers his home while on vacation and the beauty of New Mexico and spreads the word where ever he happens to be, someone is going to be interested, interested, enough perhaps, to want to visit New Mexico.

For Santa Fe and much of northern New Mexico, tourism is a major industry. It could probably be a much larger industry if everyone worked at it.

We tend to rely too much on chambers of commerce and development groups to attract tourists and new businesses.

In addition to promoting home while away from home, there are other ways residents can promote tourist travel.

Getting tourists to visit the state is only one phase of the operation. Keeping them in New Mexico and getting them to return another year is a major task.

Courteous treatment by a well informed public while the tourist is in a given area will bring a tourist back.

Few are the tourists who will return to a community when the residents of the community don't know much about their town or where to find things of interest.

The tourist who receives poor service at a hotel, motel, restaurant or even drive in, will never be seen again.

Residents of any community who can quickly answer questions about their community, points of interest and even out of the way places where tourists can relax, can be virtually assured that any tourist they help will some day return. And when that tourist returns home, he'll tell his friends about the treatment he recieved in New Mexico. His friends will be influenced in their choice of a vacation spot according to the treatment he received.

The beauty of the state as a tourist attraction speaks for itself. Getting and keeping a thriving tourist business is the responsibility of everyone.

At home or away, look up, not down .... promote your town. Santa Fe New Mexican.

LAMB STEW . . by jim

Philadelphia — In a city many people have pets although there's little room for them to roam like in the mountains.

Birds and fish are popular of course. But lots of folks raise cats and dogs. There are some unusual ones too.

The people across the street raise snakes.

And up the block is a family that raises (I swear) vampire bats. (To feed the bats I think they throw a fat child into the cage every four days.)

We have a slightly neurotic Siamese cat.

The Siamese cat caused a few stirs on a cross country trip a few years back.

At a small town in Arkansas, a youth at a service station looked at the brown Siamese cat in our car and breathlessly called to his boss. "Hey, Ed. Come here and look at this fox. Yes sir, that's the funniest looking fox I ever saw."

The cat was also accused of being a squirrel and a racoon before we left the south.

And in Mississippi, one fellow asked what our pet was. I guess I mumbled, "That's a Siamese cat." He answered, "Why shore. I knowed it all along. That's one of them Chinese cats. I had an aunt oncot who raised Chinese cats."

I've had my share of unusual pets, too.

One that ranked high on my affection scale was a pink-eyed, pink-nosed, pink-tailed white rat named (surprisingly) Pinky.

My mother was never very close to Pinky and she invoked all kinds of restrictions against him. He was barred from my bed, in fact, he was forbidden to enter the house.

I kept making overtures to her in Pinky's behalf, hoping she'd grow to like him.

One day she admitted she disliked him because of his bare, pink tail. "If you'd just let me paint it with finger nail polish, it might be pretty. Maybe I could get to like him."

She picked up a bottle of nail polish and started toward us.

Pinky saw her coming and wriggled free of my grasp and escaped . . . forever.

The hunt for him was cut short when we moved to another town. About a year after we moved we heard our old home town was succumbing to a plague of rats, some of them white.

Maybe it wasn't fear that caused Pinky to flee that day. Maybe it was another emotion . . .

But the zaniest of all pets is a handsome, but cowardly sable collie named (are you ready?) Laddie.

Actually he was never my dog. He belongs to a sister. And she's welcome to him.

Laddie hates to go barefooted. Sent to fetch the paper, he picks his way down the sidewalk like it was covered with broken glass.

He's also afraid of the dark, and at night has even been known to scare himself by his own barking.

One summer, as part of a science fair project, tadpoles dwelled in a fishbowl just outside the backdoor. The object was to observe as they changed to frogs.

One evening the family was sitting around the supper table. Through the open back door came "slurp, slosh, slurp"—the unmistakable sounds of an overheated dog slaking his thirst.

"Oh, no," we cried and rushed out the door just in time to see Laddie finish off the fishbowl water, tadpoles and all.

He licked his lips; his eyes narrowed in contentment; a smile played about the corner of his mouth as he answered our stares: "Burp."

(Ed Note: He wagged his tail continuously for two days after that, too.)

The members of the Chamber of Commerce did a fine job in their turn out for C. of C. day at the Sierra Blanca Recreation Area. It looked good to see so many local people in the Lincoln National Forest.

• • •

It is very difficult for most local business people to leave their work even for a short drive in the forest during the summer. But if you can, you will come back refreshed and maybe have a new outlook on what the Lincoln National Forest has to offer you and the many visitors to the area.

• • •

Allen and Fran Lualiin were among those at the 11,700 foot Lookout Point Sunday. Fran took advantage of the bench at the Lookout Point, while Allen scanned the beautiful scenery with field glasses, or was he looking for good deer country?

• • •

Many wild flowers are in bloom at this time of the year. One of our visitors last week was Mike Baad, botanist from the University of Michigan. Baad said that there have been over 4,000 flowering plants classified that are common to the mountains of New Mexico and Arizona. Some of these you can expect to see now are the Richardson geranium, Indian paintbrush, Jacob's ladder, harebell (the bluebells of Scotland), lupine (in Texas the lupines are called bluebonnets) and Western wallflower. These are just a few of the most common flowers, there are many more.

Members of the Veteran's Motor Car Club of America, Albuquerque Chapter visited the Lincoln National Forest this last week-end in their 1915 and 1935 model cars. Nice to have them and hope they return soon.

Your Minister Writes . . .

By REV. JAMES G. SAYLOR

Excessive Self-Evaluation or Humble Recognition of God's Truth

Say what you will, there is no escaping the facts that we live by one rule or the other. If we are not living in humble recognition of God's truth, with its emphasis on self-surrender and Godly service, we most assuredly are living with too great a self-evaluation. God is interested in linking us with something greater than we are. A noted author, minister and lecturer said there was a time in the early years of his ministry when he was considering accepting the invitation of a fine congregation in a lovely village. He had come to hold the conviction that he alone was suited for the place. He said he would have delighted to go there. Then, he silently accepted the fact that it was brought out by a succession of events that God did not have the same opinion as the pondering minister. It was quite plain that it was not God's plan for him to go to that congregation's field of labor. Especially, was he held back with the inflated opinion he had of himself. Years later, he once more visited that congregation with the wide outstretch and influence it had made on a large area. There he observed the results of a very faithful pastor's labor . . . a pastor who had given the best years of his life to that one field of ministry. The visiting pastor who had received the call years ago, by virtue of the experiences gained on the scene, quietly recognized that God had been right.

Many times, God allows us years to come to realize that he knows us better than we know ourselves.

Coming to wholly and humbly know oneself is a joyous gift from God. If we come to the much talked about, "Recovery of the Person" and satisfying of the "Hungers of the human Heart", such as security, companionship, recognition and achievement, we shall have to start with self-effacement and self-surrender.

Only God Is Sufficient

Cultural, social and economic patterns of life as we know them here appear to many people to be sufficient themselves. It is entirely possible for one to be born, cared for during life and buried without one having to exert very much energy, initiative, imagination or interest in life, as a whole, or of other individuals. But God has plans for personalities, people and progress. No matter who we are, where we live or what we do, there is always opportunity for discovery of God, self, life's work and fulfillment.

A book catalog lists and describes a book with the title, "Persons Can Change," and it carries this message, at least in substance.

"The deep conviction of the Christian faith is that persons have the capacity for changing themselves with the help of God. Past examples show that persons have changed, can change and must change."

"For I say to every man . . . not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath granted to every man the measure of faith." Romans 12:3.

SCHOOL BUS DRIVERS ATTEND CONFERENCE IN SILVER CITY

Among Ruidoso school bus drivers expected to attend the annual conference of bus drivers in Silver City this week were Mrs. Alice Allison, Wayne Estes, Dude Browning, Leon Farrar, George Creel and Kenneth Nosker, School Supt. George White told the News last week. White is to appear on the program, to speak on school board policies regarding school buses and bus drivers.

Bus drivers of Hondo, Capitan, Carrizozo and Corona schools were also expected to be at the conference, White said.

TAKES SPECIAL COURSE

Mrs. Kathy Travis, teacher at Ruidoso Elementary School, has returned from Highlands University after participating in the two-week workshop in supervising and teaching science in the elementary school, Dr. John S. Johnson, director of the Summer Sessions, has announced.

Directing the workshop is George Fishbeck of Albuquerque, who is known to thousands of youngsters from coast to coast for his TV science programs. Eighty-nine teachers are registered in the workshop.

Ruidoso Teacher Has National Science Foundation Course

Walter C. Williams, Jr., a science teacher from Ruidoso municipal schools, is one of 47 instructors from throughout the United States who are studying the earth sciences in a National Science Foundation program this summer. The program at the Colorado School of Mines in Golden, Colo., concentrates on the topics of geology and chemistry. "This gives us an opportunity to combine a field science with a laboratory science," a teacher commented.

Earth science is a subject which includes these two fields, together with those of geography, astronomy and related subjects. It is becoming increasingly important as a study which orients the junior high student toward the fields of science, it was stated.

Raymond E. Walker, Carrizozo, was high bidder on 60,000 Christmas trees offered for sale by Lincoln National Forest in the Mayhill Ranger district, it was anounced this week.

Nogal Notes

By ROSALIE DUNLAP

A lot of traffic is going through Nogal this summer. I don't know how much is detour traffic due to the construction on Indian Divide and how much is just increased traffic with tourists and others wanting to get away from the heat and into the cool, cool mountains.

The country around Nogal and Capitan is finally greening up. It looks so good after being dry so long. There is still a lot of Lincoln that is dry.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hust of Tularosa were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Zumwalt Thursday last week. They were enroute to Roswell to visit with Dolly's brother, Jesse Peacock, who is in St. Mary's hospital. Also Marion was going to try to get a new leg.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Zumwalt and John Lee attended the REA meeting in Cloudcroft Saturday. John Lee won a Toastmaster as a door prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dunlap and family of Wilcox, Ariz., were Sunday overnight guests of his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunlap.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee of Alamogordo took his mother, Mrs. Molly Bosh, to Ft. Bayard over the weekend to see her husband, Henry. It was hoped Henry could come home but he was unable to.

We had a new family in Nogal, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hayes and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Quinn, Jr. and family visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Quinn, Sr. Their children, who had spent several weeks with their grandparents, returned home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Snow and family arrived in Nogal Monday evening. Jim was discharged from the service last week after serving over 20 years. They spent Thursday through Sunday with their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Snow in Page, Ariz., before coming on to Nogal. As of now their plans are indefinite.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Quinn and daughter, Mrs. Ethel Shelton, Naturith, Colo., spent the weekend with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Quinn and Mrs. Lena Kennedy.

Gary Snider of Morgantown arrived in the Mert Zumwalt home a week ago Sunday for a week's visit. This Sunday he and his family left for home. Mrs. Snider is the former Jane Zumwalt and she and her son had been visiting in Nogal for the past month.

A group of teen-agers from Carrizozo were out Monday to welcome Tedy Lynn Snow back. Among them were Marsha and Meg French and Buddy Groves.

Ralph Dunlap is busy putting up a rock wall in the front of his place. It is going to look very nice.

Ralph and Wayne Dunlap left Monday morning for the annual 4-H State Camp, or Conference as it is now called.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Guck were Paul Wyld and L. W. Patterson of Albuquerque. Both men were former Capitan Forest Rangers.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Guck were Lyda Peebles of Alamogordo and Aileen Lindamood of Alto.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Umstod of Oklahoma were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Shorty McCrory.

John Lee was a Roswell called Monday.

Construction of U. S. Highway 385 on Indian Divide is progressing nicely. Right now it is rugged and rough going but it will be so nice when it is finished.

AT GOLFERS' SUPPER — Ruidosoans joined with golf tournament contestants and their families in an outdoor buffett supper here Monday night when Mr. and Mrs. Sunny Edwards and their son and his wife, the Stormy Edwards, played host. An estimated 350 people enjoyed the repast served at the close of the qualifying rounds that day.

RUIDOSO HAS VISITOR WHO GAINED HIGH POST IN BOYS' NATION

Visiting in Ruidoso last weekend from Santa Fe was Danny Romero, young high schooler of that city and who is currently serving as Southwest District Governor of Kiwanis International sponsored Key Clubs, made up of teen-age community leaders. He was here to attend a training conference for Key Club district executives, and came to Ruidoso from Washington, D. C., where he had been sent to Boys' Nation, sponsored by the American Legion. He was picked with one other New Mexico youth for the Boys' Nation honor, and while in Washington was one of 14 appointed as cabinet members. He was named to the Secretary of Interior position—the highest such office ever held by a New Mexico delegate, it was reported. A Colorado youth was elected President.

We've got more space than ever now for our customer's convenience. And don't forget we have the largest selection of used furniture in Ruidoso. Gambles, the family store in the Gateway with the big yellow roof.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Vic:

For some 15 years I have been most interested in seeing a college in Ruidoso, and hope our community someday will realize this dream. A college here will bring students from a wide area, because of our scenery and climate, and we can have a sports program much different from any other—with winter sports the major attraction. The kinds of sports this school could sponsor would be more for individual enjoyment that for team effort.

For an economic lift for the community, there couldn't be a finer industry. Parents and friends of students visiting here would provide a steady cash income for the community.

With the space age now on us, and with New Mexico having such a great part in this development, we would likely attract some of the biggest brains of this new era we are in. Ruidoso is missing a chance to be recognized nationally in the educational field if we don't pursue this possibility at this time.

Oh, Ruidoso, you're for me,
Your climate surely does agree
With my mid-western malady—
Sinusitis.
We like your mountain air so light,
Your natural air-conditioned night,
The way we sleep neath blankets, tight,
Delights us.
We find you folks remarkably
Sincere in hospitality—
You're what the South is "Said to be"!
So gracious.
'Tho we failed to pick a winning steed—
'Tis our contribution to the breed
For fun is all that's guaranteed
At Races.
Well, now we're back in our hot clime
But we'll return another time.
'Til then, we hope you like our rhyme.
We like you fine.

Anchorage, Alaska
July 30, 1964

Dear Vic:

Will you please print this newsletter for us? I will never get around to writing all our friends, this way each and every one can enjoy the high spots of our tour.

Leaving Denver, we traveled 87 north, stopped at Cheyenne. The hills in Wyoming was a carpet of green, really beautiful. Can't say much for Montana, at least the part we crossed. Great Falls was interesting. Our first stop in Alberta was Calgary and Glazier National Park, didn't spend much time there, plan to see it on way back. Then on to Edmonton—then on to Dawson Creek, B. C., where we leave our trailer. The pavement ends 87 miles west out of Dawson Creek. Boy, it's a good thing we did park the little tin house there for the rest of the way was dirt roads (rough). Crossing the Continental Divide out of B. C. into Yukon Territories, we had to go 495 miles this day before we could find a decent place to stop and it was all in the mountains, never did see so many curves, seemed we were going in circles all day. Actually we were. I got so car drunk when we would stop I had to hang on to something to walk, the natives would stare at me. I'm sure they thought I was plastered, (but good), ha-ha. Anyway, this day Roy didn't get any help on driving. I told him I was going to name that day's drive the 500-mile Corkscrew Cowtrail through B. C. and Yukon. Next day the trail sorta leveled out but was awfully dusty.

When we finally reached the Alaska border we had pavement, but it was shot too—had to drive 25-30. We still have 1,000 miles to go. I tell you one thing, if we ever come to Anchorage again we will fly for sure. Anyway, we wound our way for 12 days hard driving. Arrived at Anchorage July 26th, 4:30 p.m. The time here is something, we would stop, go to bed at 8:30 and the sun would be 2 hours high yet, then sun shining in A. M. 3 o'clock, so actually it somed odd, but we were so bushed, didn't bother us.

The Anchorage area where the earthquake hit worst is really depressing. We made that tour, of course, Roy made pictures of some lovely homes which sank into the earth, only rooftops showing, some lop sided, some smashed to splinters, some all way out in Cook Inlet. This I wished I had not seen. Why our children insist on staying I'll never know. Guess that's youth. Anyway, we planned on staying a month, but doubt if we can.

We will go back to Dawson Creek, get our trailer and take off on 2/97 South by way of Prince George to Vancouver, B. C., then on to Seattle, then to Hoodsport, Wash., for soome salmon fishing. If that isn't good, we plan to go back to Brooking, Oregon, where we had such wonderful salmon fishing last year.

Anyway, to this point our tour has been quite an experience, with good luck all the waq. Roy seems to be fine, only both of us bushed. Best regards to all our friends.

Sincerely,
Butch and Roy

P. S. You probably won't have space for all this messy letter, but print what you can.

V. M. C. C. A. Visits At Alto

The Veterans Motor Car Club of America—Albuquerque Chapter — made a stop at Lindy's Country Store Sunday afternoon. The caravan had been in Lincoln on Saturday on their way to Alpine Village and at the time they stopped here they were on their way north to Albuquerque.

Quite a crowd gathered to look over the cars and it was very interesting to see how many people remembered cars like that—to say it dated some of us is putting it mildly—but it was fun to see them anyway.

The President of the Albuquerque club, Archie Lewis, was driving a 1930 Model A Ford Touring car and was kind enough to give me the names and owners of the cars. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Trapp were driving a 1929 Model A Ford Sedan; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nether were in a 1928 Model A Ford Sedan; Mr. and Mrs. Vick Benischek had a beautiful 1929 Chrysler Coupe; Lloyd Casperson was driving a 1926 Ford Model T Touring car and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Claxton were driving my favorite—a 1915 Buick 6—a sport model in blue with the inside done in blue and white with the two jump seats in the back.

Clean-Up Day At Angus Cemetery

Aug. 8 the annual clean up day at the Angus cemetery will be held. Everyone is asked to bring their tools to help clear up and clean up the grounds as well as a lunch so that all who come may stay the day.

Mrs. Bob Moore and sons, Bobby and Joey, were over Sunday from Ruidoso on their way to Lincoln for the pageant.

The Leck Cowdens—from Lecks For Fun in Ruidoso—stopped by Sunday on their way to Sierra Blanca Ski Area.

The Lockes of Locke Realty Co. were visitors at the store on Sunday.

Mmes. George Dingwall and Pete Johnson came up from Carrizozo Sunday to visit with the Alan Johnsons at Eagle Creek Lodge and the Lindamoods at the store.

Maggie Randel and Hattye Coffee were here from El Paso the past week-end enjoying the cool mountains in their Eagle Creek home.

Mrs. T. B. Hood was over last week a couple of times entertaining her grandson, Joe Short of Las Cruces who is visiting his grandparents in Ruidoso. The program each day they were here was a picnic and a bit of fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Gib Graves of El Paso who are visiting his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Ryan in Ruidoso came over to see us Thursday.

Ed 'Guck' was over from Nogal Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Yates of Grassland, Tex., are vacationing here at present.

The Reagan Legg family returned to Midland Sunday after enjoying a vacation at their Eagle Creek home. While they were here they had a birthday party for their son, Houston, who was one year old. The guest list included all the young children at the Lodge as well as a few grown-ups.

We have been quite pleased in the community the past week due to one very good rain and several showers. Only hope we get more this week.

Mrs. Lyda Peebles came up from Alamogordo Sunday and enjoyed lunch and a visit at the Charlie Peebles' ranch on Little Creek. In the afternoon she came by the store to pick up Mrs. F. B. Lindamood and they made a drive to Nogal to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ed Guck.

Angus & Bonito

By EULA CORDER

Nice showers fell in the Angus Bonito area this past week. Wednesday 3/4 of an inch was recorded at Angus and on Saturday another 1/4 of an inch. The hillsides are looking like their own selves, green and fresh. Many visitors from West Texas and New Mexico enjoyed the week-end in the mountains camping, fishing and picnicking. Also many enjoyed the Billy the Kid pageant at Lincoln.

Staying at the High Country Lodge at Alto for several days are Mr. and Mrs. Art Mhoon from Lovington and Mr. and Mrs. James Dowels and son Tim from Wichita Falls, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bragg and boys from Elk, N. M., were by the store Sunday on their way back home. The folks had brought Earl's grandfather, Tom Bragg, back to his daughter at Nogal. Tom had spent two weeks with the young folks at Elk.

At the Texas Tee-Pee cabin in the Valley Heights addition are Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Adams and son and friends from Wheeler, Tex. The folks are having a family reunion and by the middle of the week they are expecting 18 or 20 to be here.

Staying in the Dero LeFevers' cabin in the Valley Heights addition this past week were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rogers and four children from Fontana, Calif. The folks thoroughly enjoyed their week's stay in the cool, tall pines. They toured all the points of interest in this area while here, Bonito Lake, Sierra Blanca Ski Area, Monjeau Lookout, the Indian reservation and many other places. On Sunday the folks spent the day at Old Lincoln town and attended the fiddlers' contest and Billy the Kid pageant and enjoyed both very much. At noon they ate at the Wortley Hotel and reported the food excellent. The folks liked our area so much they plan to come back next summer and stay longer. We always look forward to new and old friends returning to our beautiful mountains each summer.

Terry Coe from Silver City is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Runnels, Sr. at Bonito City. Terry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Coe and Danny are at Yellowstone National Park for a vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Potter and children and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Pannell and children from Lovington spent the week-end at their place at Angus.

The general camp meeting of the Nazarene District starts Monday the 4th. The folks are gathering from West Texas and New Mexico for this annual camp meeting at Angus. A big improvement at the camp ground is the paving of all the streets in the camp. Really is nice.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Sparkman from Lovington are spending their vacation at their Idle Moments cabin. Sparky's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sparkman from Midland, Tex., are visiting with the folks.

Gathering at the Nazarene Camp Grounds to attend the camp meeting and also a family reunion is Mrs. Mary Bailey from California and her children. Mrs. Bailey is a sister of Dan Jones. Mrs. Bailey is 83 years young and enjoyed the drive from California with two of her daughters. She said it wasn't such a hot drive as a cloud went in front of them most of the way. She always enjoys the camp meeting and visiting with her many friends, because she lived in this area many years ago and raised her children here.

MAGAZINE ACCLAIMS RUIDOSO

Can a little mountain village in the West find happiness wedded to a tourist boom?

This is the question asked in a story of Ruidoso, N. M., in the forthcoming issue of Venture, a new hard-backed Travel magazine of world travel published by Cowles, publishers of Look. The story then goes on to acclaim Ruidoso as "a resort town in the best sense."

Describing the little mountain village as the capital of the most rapidly developing vacation area in the Southwest, the article attributes the hamlet's growth to the invasion of increasing numbers of pleasure-bent West Texans.

It describes modern Ruidoso as a "stretched out string of fast-growing, up-to-the-minute village, with one excuse for existence, one single purpose: recreation.

"Most resort towns are hideous blemishes on the clean earth. Ruidoso is lucky in its location—deep in a national forest, adjoined by an Indian Reservation."

Fort Stanton school news: Our summer school ended July 31. We've all enjoyed our summer school and I'm very happy because I am to be discharged sometime in August.

We have had quite a bit of rain here at the hospital, although some of the employees tell me that we haven't had rain in quite sometime around the surrounding area where they live.

A new boy was admitted to the hospital on Wednesday, July 29. His name is Gilbert Trujillo and he is five years old.

Some of the children who didn't go to school last year will enter school on Aug. 24.

I have enjoyed my stay at Fort Stanton while getting well. I feel grateful to everybody who made my recovery possible.

This will be my last report for our school news but three of the older girls will take my place on reporting the news. Their names are Alice Casarez, Maxine Alirez, and Sally Medina.

Adios, Skippy Solano

CONVENTION SET

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society will sponsor a three-day convention in Roswell Aug. 21-23. J. W. B. Dobbins, presiding minister of the Capitan congregation said such a gathering is held twice a year for Jehovah's Witnesses, terming it a "circuit" convention. The assembly site is 30 N. Kentucky at North Junior high school auditorium. During the three days there will be 10 hours of sessions. The district supervisor for Jehovah's Witness, John P. Sutherland, is to be chairman of the meeting and will be keynote speaker. An attendance of 600 is expected. Sixteen congregations in three states are to participate.

FILLS PULPIT HERE

The Rev. Lawrence Stueland of Las Cruces replaced the Rev. William R. Brown, who is on vacation, at the Episcopal Church of the Holy Mount Sunday, Aug. 2. The Rev. Stueland was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Alexander at their home on the Bonito.

Beard Growing Contest Set By JayCees

This year's Aspencade parade will have a new feature if Ruidoso's clubs accept the Junior Chamber of Commerce's challenge. The JayCees have challenged all other clubs to a beard growing contest. The winning club would have the greatest number of beards percentage wise for their number of members. The winning club's president would be pushed in a wheelbarrow in the Aspencade parade by the losing clubs' presidents. Many of the clubs' presidents have expressed dissatisfaction with the challenge because of the JayCee's president Dave McCall's size, but most of the clubs at this writing appear to like the idea, a spokesman for the organization said.

This year the JayCees are also sponsoring a beard growing contest for the community. Trophies and gifts will be awarded for the longest beard, the most original beard, the most effort with least results, the club or civic organization with the most members growing beards, and for the bushiest beard. The rules state that you must register at the Chamber of Commerce building on or after Aug. 11th. And you must be clean shaven when you register. There will be no charge for registering, but it will cost $2.50 not to shave. Purchase this "Little Shaver Badge" at the Chamber, too, it was announced.

Subdivision Annexed; Clean-Up Talked By Trustees

Bids were opened for a tractor-loader by the Village of Ruidoso trustees, Thursday night, July 30. Two bids were received, one from the Myers Company of Albuquerque for $12,347.50 and the second from the Neal Williams Company of Albuquerque in the amount of $11,750. Present for the regular meeting Thursday night were: Mayor G. H. Stoneman; Trustees, Bill McCarty, Guy Robertson and C. M. Whitlock. The trustees voted to accept the low bid presented by the Neal Williams Company.

The trustees also voted to approve the transfer of ownership of the liquor license from Bizzell of the Buckaroo Bar to B. J. Aday. Trustee McCarty introduced resolution 260 calling for annexation of Highwood Subdivision and a portion of Paradise Canyon requested for annexation. Trustee Robertson made the motion that resolution 260 be adopted which was seconded by Whitlock and passed with all "ayes". Revised plats of Highwood Subdivision and Pine Top Hills Subdivision were also approved.

Trustee Robertson stated that he is pleased with C. K. Chew's work as health and sanitation officer. He said that the Village is getting excellent cooperation from the newspaper and several service clubs in meeting the "litter bug" and other health hazard problems. Robertson said that a village-wide clean-up drive will be initiated at the close of the summer season.

Visitors who appeared before the Trustees included members of the Lincoln County Humane Society, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, Carl DeBord and Ed Hyman.

Mosaic Medallions Installed In Oval On Sudderth At P. O.

The two mosaic medallions placed in the oval traffic median near the post office on Sudderth Drive last week were made by Mrs. Jim Whipple and Mrs. Carl Erickson. Mrs. Erickson, chairman of the Ruidoso Women's Club committee for that project, stated that the wagon wheel rims of the medallions were furnished by Tom Holbert. The reinforced concrete work was done by Tom Jones and the design of the chaparral, New Mexico State bird, was made by Bill Leftwich. The medallions representing the New Mexico State flag and the New Mexico State bird are made of Venetian glass mosaic tile and are a part of the Ruidoso Women's Club project to beautify the Village of Ruidoso, Mrs. Erickson said.

Three Employees Of Bennett's Foodliner Hurt In Accident Series

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bennett, operators of Bennett's Foodliner, were keeping their fingers crossed this week in hopes nothing like last week would be happening again to members of their crew.

Three workers in the store, including their son, Teddy, were injured in separate accidents. One of the accidents occurred at a local drive-in theatre where their son attempted to halt a car that was rolling unattended, and was crushed against another vehicle. Moer than 50 stitches were necessary to close a severe gash in his leg. Another employee, Frank Hamar, had about half a dozen stitches in an arm to sew up a gash from a knife he was wielding in the meat market at the Foodliner, and D. D. Swearingin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan D. Swearingin, had to have stitches on fingers of his right hand to close some punctures that occurred when his hand was caught in a meat processing machine at the store.

All involved were reported recovering rapidly this mid-week.

Stormy Edwards Is Medalist

Defending champion, Jack Williams of Plainview, Tex., and seven others advanced to the second round of the annual Cree Meadows Invitational Tournament here Tuesday afternoon in the championship flight.

Williams downed Jess Claiborne, Lamesa, Tex., 6 and 4 in the Tuesday afternoon championship round while Roane Pruett ,Austin, Tex., defeated Grover Clift of Lamesa, Tex., 4 and 3, Don Wilson, Mineral Wells, Tex., nipped Butch Morrison, Austin, Tex., 2 and 1; George Marsh, Jr., Austin, downed Bill Aldridge, Alamogordo, 3 and 1; Ralph Petty of Ruidoso dumped Kino Ortiz of Carrizozo, 2 and 3; Tim Nesbitt, Clovis, defeated LeRoy Gooch, Ruidoso, 3 and 2; Tommy Hornbuckle, Albuquerque, won over Charles Edwards, Lancaster, Tex., 3 and 2. Stormy Edwards, medalist for the tournament with a 68 Monday was defeated on the ninteenth hole by Earl Drake of Fabens, Tex.

In qualifying rounds Monday, Stormy Edwards combined rounds of 36 and 32 to take the medalist trophy over Don Wilson who fired a 69.

Two outstanding area golfers were unable to make the cut for the championship flight in qualifying rounds Monday. Bill Mullican of Alamogordo, who last week tied for second place with his partner in the Odessa, Tex. Pro-Am, could only manage a qualifying round score of 79. Mullican's specially built golf clubs were stolen Sunday at Odessa which probably contributed to his high qualifying score. Another prominent golfer, Manny Martinez, El Paso, also failed to make the championship flight with a qualifying score of 77.

Paired for the second round this Wednesday were Jack Williams and Roane Pruett; Don Wilson and George Marsh, Jr.; Earl Drake and Ralph Petty, and Tim Nesbitt and Tommy Hornbuckle.

Entries numbered 144 golfers for the four-day tourney which ends this Thursday.

Season football tickets and Booster Club reserved seats will be sold separately this year, but members of the club will be selling the season passes for the Ruidoso Municipal Schools.

Last year's reserved seat holders will be contacted by the local members in the next two weeks to enable the reserved section members to retain their same seats.

Prices for the two tickets will be $5.00 for the season football ticket and $5.00 for the reserved section.

LITTLE LEAGUE PLAY-OFF GAME SET FOR TUESDAY

The News was unable to receive a report on the final game of the regular season of the summer recreation softball league this week.

The JayCees and Shier's were to meet Monday night this week to determine the championship with a tournament slated for Tuesday night. However, our news source was unable to be contacted.

The Braves and Giants are slated to wind up the season this Wednesday afternoon at Denton Field in Ruidoso Downs as the two teams meet to decide the Little League championship.

The Giants downed the Dodgers Monday this week, 16-15 to go into the final game to decide the top spot.

The Braves and Giants now hold a 6-5 season record while the Dodgers have a 7-5 mark for the summer play.

$53,750 Futurity For Thorobreds On Tap Saturday

The luck o' the draw favored both the management and most of the favorites here when 81 juvenile quarter horses were named through the entry box for Friday's newest and richest of all combination horse racing stakes—the $300,000-estimated Ruidoso Rainbow.

A total of eight Trials, 10 starters in each, will dominate Friday's "fast-draw" action here, with only the 12 fastest individually-timed finishers, regardless of placings, to graduate to the $150,000-estimated Futurity version of the Rainbow, to be run here Sunday, Aug. 16. All starters in Friday's Trials automatically remain eligible for next year's 3-year-old running of the $150,000-estimated Ruidoso Rainbow Derby.

The momentum and drama figures to pick up with each and every Trial Friday, climaxed by the "Cinderella colt," Clyde Wesley's Comet, JYr., facing perhaps his toughest and most important test in the 10th and featured division of the all-out qualifiers.

It has been rumbled that Comet, Jr. may not fancy the 400-yard distance of the Rainbow Trials and finale, but Wesley, a 32-year-old Baton Rouge, La., soda jerk on the brink of discovering the pot o' gold at the end of the Rainbow, insists he isn't too concerned over the fact that his unbeaten colt, winner of four starts, has not been tested over 350 yards in competition.

With Ken Chapman up, Comet, Jr.'s immediate problem, therefore, will be to turn back the likes of such good ones as the Lee Brothers' Calif Rocket, A. B. Green's Fancy Charge, and Hugh Huntley's Nippy Bars in a Trial finale that could throw a monkey wrench into the calculations of fans who like to guess the qualifiers as the Trials progress.

The all-important tests will be run as the third, fourth, fifth, sixth,

ANYONE FOR A SODY?—Clyde Wesley, 32-year-old Baton Rouge, La., owner, shows how he performed as soda jerk before a Cinderella purchase of Comet Jr. catapulted him prominently into the picture for the first running of the $300,000 Ruidoso Rainbow Futurity, trials for which will be run this Friday at Ruidoso Downs.

Young Louisianian Has Entry In Rainbow That's A Sizzler

The general belief is that horse racing is the Sport of Kings . . . for royalty . . . a rich man's plaything.

But if anyone in Baton Rouge, La., is waiting for 32-year-old Clyde Wesley to serve 'em a "two bit malt," they're going to have to be patient. At least until after Friday's Trials here for the inauguration of the world's richest combination stakes, the $300,000 Ruidoso Rainbow Futurity-Derby.

It is quite possible, too, that the parched throats may even have to wait 'till after the sixth running of the $250,000 All-American Futurity come Labor Day. It all depends on the racing fortunes of a sleek, bay quarter horse terror named Comet, Jr.

You see, Wesley is a "soda jerk," temporarily on leave, and the way things are going he may wind up instead with the champagne set of horse racing.

And it wouldn't disappoint Clyde one bit, since he and his wife, Johnnie (that's right, Moishe), have five children Mark 11, Patricia 10, Matthew 9, Ronda 7, and Emile 4.

Lest we forget, Comet, Jr., a mere 2 year-old, also is a most important member of the family. In four starts for Breeder-Owner Wesley and youthful Trainer Ken Teutsch (pronounced something like "Tice"), Comet, Jr., has yet to taste defeat while amassing a juvenile bankroll of $15,403.

Surprisingly Wesley, who also has dabbled in plumbing, the service station business, and home-building, reveals there is almost as much money in soda-jerking. "The big chain I worked for in Louisiana grossed between $1,400 and $1,600 while selling an average of 1,000 soda per day."

The cost of rearing such a large family, however, had its ups and downs, and Clyde was virtually without ready cash when he actually came into possession of Comet, Jr. The latter hadn't even been born in fact when Wesley bought the mare, Bunky's Vicky, on the time-payment plan, from "Red" McMurray for $1,500. "She was big as a house then, and looked like she was going to have triplets," said Clyde.

Two weeks later the obscurely-bred Comet, Jr., arrived on the scene and in less than a month Wesley disposed of a house he had on the market and had his "stable" paid off.

The rest is history in the past-performance lines of Daily Racing Form. Comet, Jr. now has won five of six starts, including almost $14,000 for winning the Goliad, Texas, Futurity.

If he continues successfully in the Rainbow Trials, this "midget-sized Tonto Bars Hank" will be supplemented to the All-American. And preparing or the future, Clyde has a full sister to Comet, Jr., by Custus Comet, that recently arrived at a Chapel Hill, Texas ranch.

A REPORT

FROM YOUR
UNITED STATES SENATOR

Edwin L. Mechem

OF NEW MEXICO

2203 Senate Office Building
Washington 25, D. C. 20510

This will be a report on my actions on your behalf since coming to the Senate 18 months ago.

Some decisions have been difficult, accompanieid even by much reluctance. On others, the path of good government has seemed plain.

I can't expect you to agree with all I've done; our society has to many cross-currents for that.

But as I look back over these historic months, I pledge you anew:

As your Senator, I have tried and will continue to try to serve you—not myself—with fairness, intelligence, progressive outlook and integrity.

I invite you to go beyond this report to the Congressional Record, the Congressional Quarterly and other responsible sources for further information. Indeed, I hope you will do so.

My Duty Is To The Constitution

My record on your behalf reflects certain principles. My first loyalty as required by my oath of office is to the Constitution.

That means defending the rights and authority of the states. It means upholding the separation of powers among the Legislative, Judicial and Executive branches of the federal government. It means opposing any proposal which in my opinion jeopardizes or frustrates the intent of the Constitution. It means insisting on your right to change that Constitution by duly spelled out methods of amendment and in no other way.

The methods of amendment are designed for just one purpose: to provide a foolproof way of determining beyond doubt that what appears to be a predominant sentiment among the American people actually exists.

This is your safeguard. Nothing will ever induce me to surrender it.

Three Issues: Three Broad Areas of Concern—

Three issues in these 18 months point up the sharp political differences in our country. Each has generated more heat than light. Each personifies, to some extent, the opposing viewpoints between which you must soon choose.

They're the income tax cut, the nuclear test ban treaty, and the Civil Rights Bill. For convenience, I'll use them as take-off points to outline positions I've taken for you in three areas: Money, Foreign Policy, Government Power. I'll be glad to send you my earlier Reports on request.

It's Your Money . . . and Your Future—

Nobody in Congress is more eager than I to lower your tax load. I've watched your dollars shrink. I've seen your tax money thrown away. For example:

The Comptroller General tells Congress:

"In our examination of the administration of the accelerated public works program by the Area Redevelopment Administration, Department of Commerce, and other federal agencies, we found that grants of over $21 million had been made for 85 projects in areas which were no longer burdened by conditions of substantial unemployment at the time the grants were consummated . . . In our opinion, funds appropriated to assist areas burdened by substantial unemployment should not be used to assist areas which have sufficiently recovered from their unemployment burdens to lose their eligibility."

That's your money. Such examples are endless. They total billions.

Your Remedy:
Cut Off The Money—

Now let me speak bluntly: your lever to insure proper use of your money is the ability to stop or slow its flow from your pocket to the government. That lever must be used by your agents in Congress.

You have let your Congressmen allow that lever to grow rusty from too little use. A majority in Congress goes right on writing checks against your account, buying more government on your credit card—and voting itself a 33 per cent increase in pay to $30,000 which your children will pay for because it's borrowed money we're using. I opposed that as unjustified and unearned.

The simple truth: When Congress lets the Executive branch go deeper and deeper into debt in times of prosperity, it is depriving you of your most effective tool to control your own government.

As Governor I've known how hard it is to finance state and local governments when federal taxes are near confiscatory levels.

Nevertheless, to me it's immoral and dishonest to reduce income taxes while increasing spending—which we've been doing despite the claims of "frugality"; to reduce taxes while plunging deeper into debt during good times—which we're doing; to drive the buying power of your savings down, down through policies our best experts say can well speed existing inflation — which we're doing.

I'll be no party to jeopardizing your financial security—and your ultimate independence—in needless gambles on unproven theories.

Few people realize that the civil service retirement fund is $36 billion in the hole, going deeper at the rate of $1.5 billion—yes, billion—each year.

I opposed the blank-check ritual of deepening the debt limit—now $324 billion. I supported all efforts to hold unessential spending down, to tighten spending controls, to avoid costly new program starts at a time when we're not even paying for what we have. I voted against the Mass Transportation Act, a loosely-drawn bill which will cost you billions someday. I voted to make the Area Redevelopment Administration spend what it had before getting more of your money.

About Our Stance In The World—

You face this choice: To keep the U. S. a self-governing nation of free people, or to merge her into a world government. If you let things slide along, the decision will be made by others.

The issue in the test ban debate was not who wants war and who does not; it was mainly whether we can trust the Soviets. They have proved we cannot.

In the light of evidence which I considered responsible, I voted against the test ban treaty because it seemed—and still seems—to involve greater risks to this nation than the risks we run without a pact.

I supported military pay raises, full space program appropriations, Alliance for Progress money and military construction funds. I supported a go-ahead on Nike-Zeus parts production. I opposed use of your money to guarantee credit to the Communists—in vain, as it turned out; we're doing that now and selling products to them, too. Through United Nations funds, we are even helping Cuba.

I supported a one per cent cut in defense appropriations—since justified by long overdue economies in that $50 billion a year wonderland. I opposed increasing the already substantial funds for the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, some of whose proposals are shaky.

After attempts failed to tighten up the fantastically wasteful and complicated foreign aid program, I voted against it. Its backlog of unspent money—your money—was huge. Properly administered aid is one thing; the hodgepodge that masquerades as "foreign aid" today is another.

I voted against increasing to $312 million our share in the International Development Ass'n., which has specialized in soft loans—80 per cent to India.

I'll continue to do all I can to keep the U. S. strong and independent, protecting her rights to self-government and reserving her cherished generosity for causes consistent with our heritage.

All Eyes Look Toward Washington—

Your choice: Either we follow the Constitution and govern ourselves as close to home as possible—with a moderate mixture of local-national rule—or we merge all policy-making into a central national government.

If you let things continue as they're going, others will have made your decision beyond recall—for one huge government. If you think your voice in government is small now, you haven't seen anything yet.

I voted against the Civil Rights Bill because I feel your rights, regardless of your color, race, creed or occupation, are endangered by Titles II and VII. They require considerable stretching of the Constitution you've sworn me to uphold. I supported the other nine titles and helped enact them separately, where presented in other legislation. I voted to extend the Civil Rights Commission and to ban racial discrimination in tax-supported programs.

As your Senator, I've tried to judge reasonably between the responsibilities of the federal and state governments. I supported federal money for job training and federally impacted schools. I supported loans for college students and backed the Wilderness Bill and various water and resource development programs.

I sought to have livestock imports restricted within reason—a most serious problem in New Mexico. I fought unsucessfully for a cotton program aimed at gradually freeing the farmer from government interference. I supported all attempts to make farm legislation conform to our free enterprise system. I opposed tighter wheat controls and voted against a cotton-wheat price support bill which offers the same old ideas that cost you $37.7 billion in 30 years without solving a thing.

When you hear promises of what you'll get from the government, bear in mind: the price is similar back-scratching favors elsewhere. You or your children will pay for them someday. Nothing comes free.

It Boils Down To This—

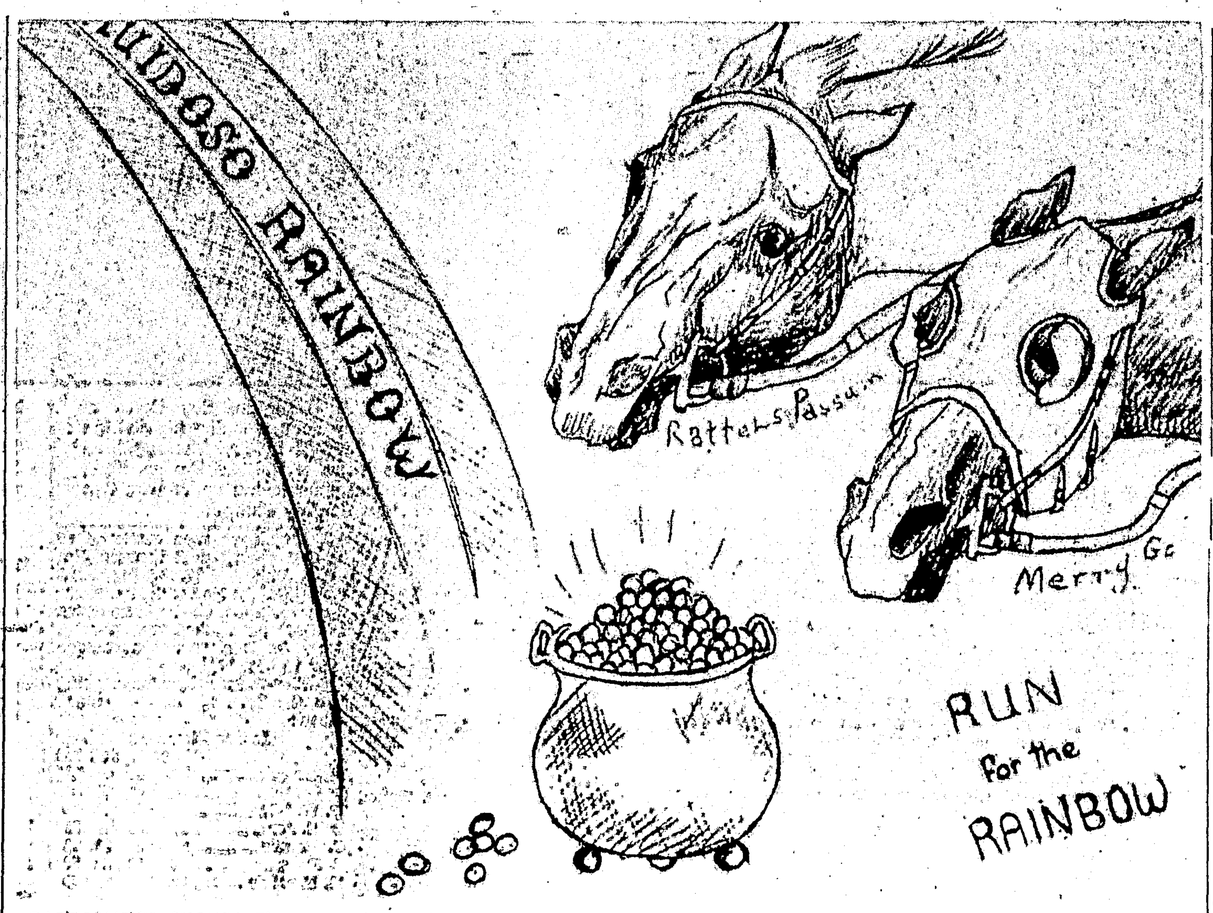
I have supported efforts aimed at providing the services which fall within the government's legitimate domain, with emphasis on limiting the government to its proper scope. My goal: To preserve your rights to make your own decisions as a free, self-respecting citizen.

I believe the government can do a better job—helping those it should help and doing what it should do—if it attends to its proper business and leaves the rest to you and your local levels of government. I think you should not be forced into drab uniformity with all other states.

And I most ardently believe that you will be happier with liberty than without it. Think about it, won't you?

Sincerely,
EDWIN L. MECHEM

(Paid For By Lincoln County Friends and Supporters of Mechem For U. S. Senator)



PARTISANSHIP SHOWN—The young lady who sketched this pen and ink drawing foretelling the new rich race, The Rainbow upcoming in August, can't be blamed for sketching a couple of quarter horses she knows very well in this picture. She's Penni Norwood. The Jerry Norwoods have Merry Go entered in the Rainbow, and friends of theirs, the Ike Donleys, have Raffles Passum. Friends of the artist say the likeness is extraordinary.

$53,750 Purse For Futurity

Undefeated Evil Spirit, a 2-year-old son of Norooz that may be getting too big for his New Mexico-bred britches, stands out as an overwhelming favorite here Saturday when he heads a field of 12 juveniles scampering after the 16th running of the $53,750 Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity.

Actually untested in all four of his lifetime starts here, Evil Spirit, flashing the silks of L. W. Barnhill of House, N. M., was a ridiculously easy winner of his division of four Futurity Trials here last week.

The first three finishers from each Trial qualified for the Futurity and in the shake for post positions, Evil Spirit, one of the finest New Mexico-breds to come on the scene in many moons, plucked No. 8 in the even dozen field. Trained by D. I. Buechler, Evil Spirit, winner of his five and one-half furlong Trial in 1:07 3/5, again will be ridden by D. W. Whited.

Trainer Ralph Tschirhart's double barrelled entry from Omaha, E. L. Kelley's My Charge and Charles N. Holt's Cloud Chief, drew No. 1 and 7 positions, in that order. Another entry, Carl Mercer's Miss Boom Boom and Black Dray, came up with Nos. 2 and 10, respectively.

Seeking to duplicate their stunning upset victory of last year with Ringsby Rocket, will be Trainer Jim Martin with J. W. Ringsby's Noble Music, another shifty winner from Ak-Sar-Ben. To be ridden by Don Castle, Noble Music will break from the No. 3 position.

Other leading threats include R. B. Feffer's and Roy Hatch's pride of Phoenix, Start Talkin; Ralph Lowe's Tempted Lady, Jewel Castor's Prayer Cap, and Frank Estes-H. B. Atkinson owned Silver Joey. Along with Noble Music, Start Talkin, and Tempted Lady also were Trial winners last week.

In a crackerjack quarter horse supporting feature Saturday, Vandy's Flash, venerable 10-year-old holder of the world's 17.5 seconds world record for 350 yards, makes his seasonal debut in the 400-yard Brigand Memorial.

The struggle for Thoroughbred handicap championship honors at the meeting flares anew here Sunday when arch rivals Mom For Sure, Jungle Dancer and Hody tangle again the $7,500-added Jim Carter Handicap at seven and one-half furlongs.

To date, this trio has met on numerous occasions, with Mom For Sure, owned by Mrs. Marjorie Wallace of Sugarland, Tex., coming out on top with four feature race victories to his credit. Helping to make it a "battle royal" will be such other speed dealers as Better Eye, Performance Boy, Bob's Slave, Speedy Pearl, Red Flicker, Doodle Gal and Sun Joy. Supporting features Sunday will be the Maury Powell purse, honoring the long-time southern Californian sportswriter, newspaperman and the Lone Star Beer Dash.

Rich Week-End Starts Thursday

K. L. Jenkins' Dino Rocket looms the most likely to successfully blast off one of Ruidoso Downs' biggest and richest week-ends of racing here Thursday.

An impressive line-up of six shifty 3-year-olds will go postward in Thursday's five and one-half Ben Jenkins Memorial, including Bye Bye Night, Desert Bluebell, Fresh Doll, Not A Dream, Princess Parade and Miss Sand Dunes.

Following Thursday's racing, mucho dinero will be on the line the rest of the week-end, starting with Trials (no less than eight are indicated) on Friday for the inaugural running of the world's richest combination stakes — the $300,000-estimated Ruidoso Rainbow Futurity-Derby

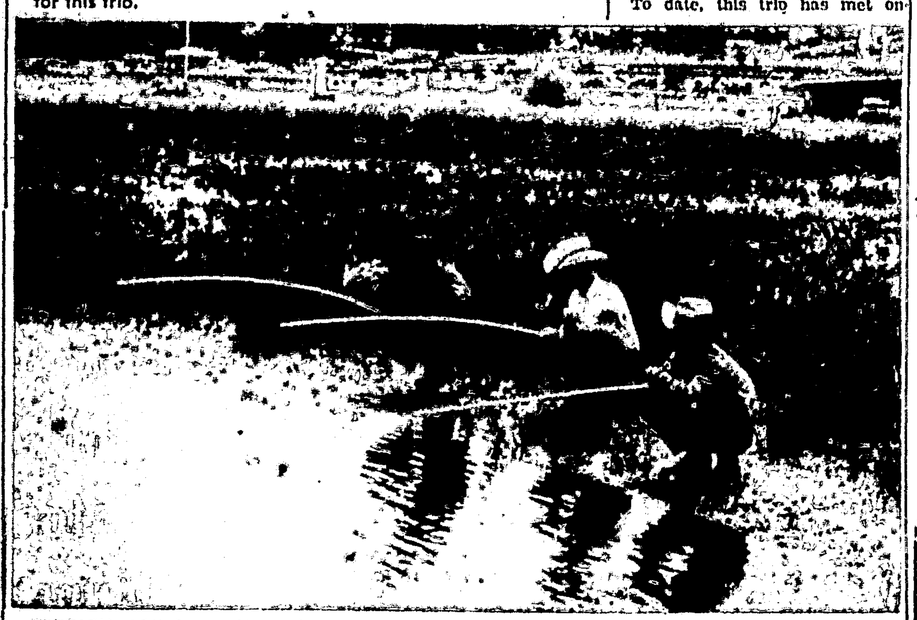
Approximately 100 flashy 2-year-old quarter horses are pacing their stalls for Friday's Trials for the juvenile version of this stakes, a unique "doubleheader" that automatically makes this year's nominees eligible to next year's Ruidoso Rainbow Derby for 3-year-olds.

Saturday, the 12 finalists to qualify from last weeks four Trials will go for the big moolah in the 16th running of the $53,774 Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity.

Rounding out the week's activities Sunday will be the seven and one-half furlong $7,500-added Jim Carter Oil Company Handicap, fashioned for the finest Thoroughbred sprinters on the grounds.

Supporting Thursday's feature will be a combination 870-yard speedfest, headed by the speed-balling Berlin, Nevada Lasses, Margarette Clare, Chicaro Diamond and Bambi Dear.

H'MMM?—What to do when a jockey gets suspended seems to be the problem confronting (left to right) Jack Wallace, Robert Thomas and D. W. Whited. They can work horses in the morning while under suspension, but the long afternoons of the seven calendar days presented another problem for this trio.



PROBLEM SOLVED — Since their income is somewhat limited while they're in the 'penalty coop,' jockeys Thomas, Wallace and Whited hit upon the idea of a bit of fishing in Ruidoso Downs infield lakes. It's a good way to pass away the idle hours and, by chance, a good catch, would help keep the family cupboards from becoming bare.

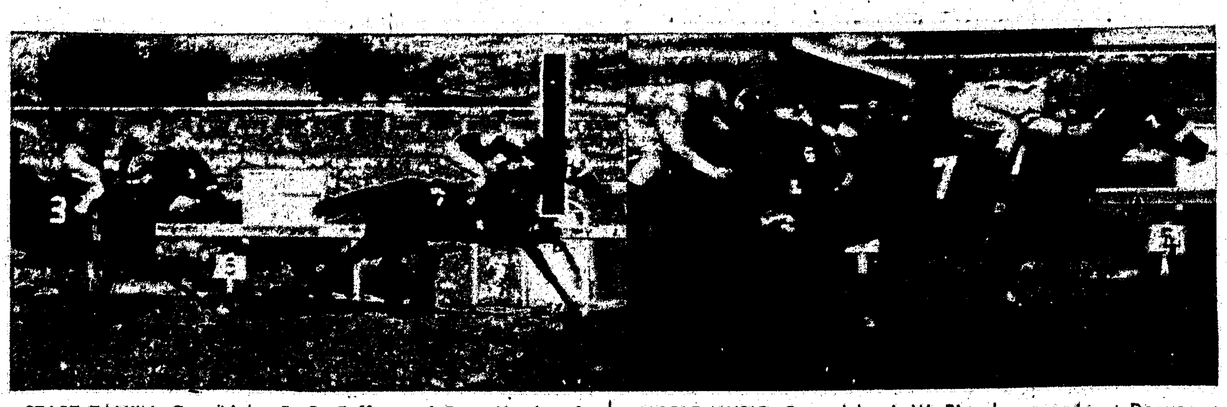
NO CONTEST! That's what it was when L. W. Barnhill's undefeated Evil Spirit, pride of House, N. M. breezed to an easy victory last week in her division of four trials for Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity to be run this week-end. Winner of all four of her lifetime starts, Evil Spirit, ridden by D. W. Whited, is shown romping away from Silver Joey and Cloud Chief to set himself up as overwhelming favorite in Saturday's rich finale.

TEMPTED LADY — Winning all by herself for owner Ralph Lowe, of Midland, Tex., as she won her division of four Trials last week-end for $53,774 Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity to be run this Saturday at Ruidoso Downs. Tempted Lady was riden by Jockey Elbert Minchey.



START TALKIN—Owned by R. B. Feffer and Roy Hatch of Phoenix, Ariz. had plenty to say about winning his division last week of four Trials for $53,774 Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity to be run this Saturday at Ruidoso Downs. CROSBY NAMED DOWNS' 'JOCKEY O' WEEK

While Pete Moore continues to pad his lead in the jockey standings with 54 winners in 39 days of racing, his pursuers keep picking up weekly recognition awards.

This time, Harley Crosby, 25-year-old booter from Oklahoma, made off with "Jockey of The Week" honors, winning four races, plus a second and third in only 13 mounts, his prize conquest coming aboard Vernon Pool's Chaundell in Sunday's running of the $33,600 Ruidoso Quarter Horse Derby.

The trainer's race continued to be a ding-dong duel between Jim Curry and Joe H. Wade, deadlocked for the lead with 17 winners each. However, on the basis of his 17-18-18 across-the-board record, Curry holds a "nose" advantage over Wade's 17-15-14.

Jockey-trainer standings going into the final 23 days of racing follow:

FAST STRIPPER PEELS OFF FAST SCHOOLING RACE WIN

Bud Warren's Fast Stripper put on anything but a burlesque act here Tuesday when she zipped to the fastest victory in the weekly schooling races.

Ridden by Harley Crosby, Fast Stripper stepped 350 yards in 18.6, a tick faster than Hancock's Zeff's 18.7 for Ramon Figueroa in the only other trial run.
