THE WAR IS OVER

Japan Waives Indemnity; and Many Other Important Points, The Result a Diplomatic Victory for Russia.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 29—The following official bulletin was given to the Associated Press by Baron Komura's secretary in the presence of the Russian and Japanese peace plenipotentiaries, shortly after the adjournment of the morning session today:

"At the session of August 29, the peace conference arrived at complete accord on all questions, and it has been decided to proceed with the elaboration of the treaty of peace."

As soon as the momentous message had been put on the wires and flashed to every corner of the world, it was read aloud to the assembled correspondents and secretaries. Immediately a great cheer arose, and before the plenipotentiaries could get to their motorcars they were besieged by the crowd which, half wild with enthusiasm, insisted on shaking hands and embracing the envoys of the late belligerents.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 29—The Associated Press correspondent accompanied M. Witte to his room. He threw himself into his chair and after a few minutes to "pull himself together," he began to speak, slowly and deliberately, almost as if he were talking to himself.

"It seems incredible," he said, "I don't believe any other man in my place would dare hope for the possibility of peace on the conditions to which we have just agreed. From all sides, from President Roosevelt down to my friends in Russia, I received upon the last moment, even this morning, urgent representations that something should be paid to Japan." At this point M. Witte almost lost control of himself. He paused and then went on:

"The Japanese wanted to take our interned ships, and I have not consented. The Japanese wanted to limit our naval power in the far east, and I have not consented. The Japanese wanted a war indemnity or reimbursement of the cost of the war (aye, they demanded it) and I have not consented. The Japanese wanted the Chinese Eastern railway south of Harbin, but I gave them only the railroad in possession of their troops south of Chautafu. The Japanese wanted the island of Sakhalin, and I refused it, agreeing, however, at the last moment, to cede the southern half, and then only because I was commanded by my sovereign to yield, and obeyed. Not only do we not pay so much as one kopeck, but we obtain half of Sakhalin, in their possession.

"At this morning's session I presented my written proposition, which was the Russian ultimatum. It was accepted by the Japanese. I was amazed. Until I was in the conference room, I did not think it would happen. I could not anticipate such a great and such a happy issue. It was a complete victory for us."

Married at Roswell.

Ed J. Coe, formerly superintendent of schools for Lincoln county, stole a march on his friends, and quietly slipped away to Roswell, where he was married Sunday, the 20th ult. to Miss Maud Evans, daughter of Judge Evans. Rev. C. E. Lukens of that city performed the ceremony.

The young couple immediately took the train, swung around the circle from Roswell to Pecos, on to El Paso and landing in Capitan Saturday, the 26th. The happy pair drove out to the Coe ranch that afternoon.

Congratulations were extended to Mr. Coe when he reached Capitan, notwithstanding the manner of treatment he had accorded his friends.

The Dawson Road Again.

The Las Vegas Daily Optic is authority for the following statement concerning the Dawson road, and the point where it will connect with the Phelps, Dodge main line:

"The surveyors of the new line from Dawson to Torrance have now run their line to the northern limits of the city. The road will pass close to the front door of Mayor Olney and by the back door of I. G. Hazzard. Several lines will be run through the city to determine the most feasible route.

"Looks as though the country had been greased for us," said Chief Engineer Charles Henning, in speaking of the admirable grade which has been found. "Our grade doesn't go above six-tenths of a per cent and the curves will be surprisingly light. Every assurance may be felt that the road will speedily be built, as the only condition was an easy grade and that has been found all the way to the southern terminus."

"The company is asking nothing of the people and is willing to pay reasonably for all it requires. The survey is being very thoroughly made and platted. The company is already spending a good deal of money and it means business. The Phelps, Dodge company wants the road and is going to build a good one."

Reading that Roumania's queen rises every morning at 4 o'clock many a lazy girl will ask: "What's the use, after all, of being a queen?"

The Fiji king who called an automobile "the father of all devils" must have been much more than a generation removed from benighted savagery.

Tammany Chieftain Murphy recently wore knee breeches at a "function." The fact that he still lives proves that Tammany is not what it used to be.

It has been discovered that after they pass 40 most men cease to read books. By that time they have come to realize how hopeless it is to try to know everything.

Somebody has at last discovered that Byron was a plagiarist. Six lines scattered through some of his unknown poems are very similar to lines that were written by Burns, Scott and Tickell. This discovery may probably be listed as another triumph of the twentieth century.

Church and State.

A few days ago the French Chamber of Deputies passed a bill which practically effects a separation of church and state. The situation is thus explained by the Brooklyn Eagle:

"The bill abolishes the concordat or agreement with Rome, into which Napoleon and Pius VII. entered in 1801, and withdraws from the Catholic Church, and from other religious denominations, the annual contributions made to their support by the state treasury. In 1904 these contributions included 40,681,903 francs for Catholic worship, 1,577,500 francs for Protestant worship, and 160,500 francs for Jewish worship. 'The republic,' says the text of the new bill, 'assures liberty of conscience and guarantees the free exercise of religion, subject to the restrictions of public order. The republic neither recognizes, pays stipend to nor subsidizes any sect, but provides funds for college, hospital and asylum chaplains. Otherwise the public worship budget is abolished and public establishments connected with religion are suppressed.'"

Gypsies on the Sea.

In the archipelago of Mergul, off the coast of Lower Burma, Asia, lives the "sea gypsies." Instead of carts they own covered boats, in which, with their families, dogs, cats, chickens and pets, they float about on the sea and wander from island to island. By day they fish or harpoon turtle or dive for oysters. But every night they put back to the shore. If the weather is bad at sea, they land with their dogs and then poach, catching porcupines, squirrels, armadillos, hog, deer, and the like, of which they make savory stews, as American gypsies do.

FROM SAME BOX

Where the Foods Come From.

"Look here, waiter, honest now, don't you dip every one of these flaked breakfast foods out of the same box?" "Well, yes, boss, we duz, all 'cept Grape-Nuts, cause that don't look like the others and people know 'zackly what Grape-Nuts looks like. But there's 'bout a dozen different ones named on the bill of fare and they are all thin rolled flakes so it don't make any difference which one a man calls for, we just take out the order from one box."

This talk led to an investigation. Dozens of factories sprung up about three years ago, making various kinds of breakfast foods, seeking to take the business of the original prepared breakfast food—Grape-Nuts. These concerns after a precarious existence, nearly all failed, leaving thousands of boxes of their foods in mills and warehouses. These were in several instances bought up for a song by speculators and sold out to grocers and hotels for little or nothing. The process of working off this old stock has been slow. One will see the names on menus of flaked foods that went out of business a year and a half or two years ago. In a few cases where the abandoned factories have been bought up, there is an effort to resuscitate the defunct, and by copying the style of advertising of Grape-Nuts, seek to influence people to purchase. But the public has been educated to the fact that all these thin flaked foods are simply soaked wheat or oats rolled thin and dried out and packed. They are not prepared like Grape-Nuts, in which the thorough baking and other operations which turn the starch part of the wheat and barley into sugar, occupy many hours, and result in a food so digestible that small infants thrive on it, while it also contains the selected elements of Phosphate of Potash and Albumen that unite in the body to produce the soft gray substance in brain and nerve centers. There's a reason for Grape-Nuts, and there have been many imitations, a few of the article itself, but many more of the kind and character of the advertising. Imitators are always counterfeiters and their printed and written statements cannot be expected to be different than their goods.

This article is published by the Postum Co. at Battle Creek. Additional evidence of the truth can be supplied in quantities.

NURSE DID FANCY WORK.

He Was Middle Aged and Wore a Heavy Brown Mustache.

There was a sick man in a bachelor apartment the other day and a nurse was needed. It was not deemed desirable to have a woman nurse, as three men occupied the apartment together. So a man nurse was employed although there was some fear expressed that the tenderness and gentleness of a woman nurse might be missed.

But the masculine substitute, who was a middle-aged person in glasses soon proved that he was not going to be brutal.

"May I have one of those big boxes that the roses came in?" he asked soon after settling down. "They'd be so splendid for my embroidery."

"Embroidery?" repeated the person addressed. "What do you mean by that?"

"Why, my centerpieces," he repeated, pulling at a heavy brown mustache. "It would be just the thing for them. I really can do wonderful embroidery. Some time I'll bring some around."

He kept his word and one night sat under the lamp embroidering a large centerpiece while his patient slept.

The next day he asked what was going to be done with a basket in which some fruit had been sent.

"Be just the thing for my knitting," he murmured in explanation.

He got the basket and the next night knit a pair of gray wool socks. So nobody need ever try to prove that women nurses have all the gentleness on their side.—New York Sun.

A Mother Song.

Under my heart nestle closer and tighter,
Out in the darkness the world rushes on.
The bonds of the world shall grow slighter and slighter
While we hold communion here; I and my son.

Tenderest love brought thy body to being,
That will I foster in fullest control
But the father Omnipotent, all-wise, all-seeing,
Breathed on that body and gave it a soul.

Flesh of my flesh, thou'rt the child of Ambition,
In my Dream-chariot Pride holds the rein,
Thou, by my loving, relentless tuition,
Shalt fashion in stone all my castles of Spain.

Yet, in my heart, hold I fear of that morrow
To whose irresistible coming I yield.
Alas! must my loneliness, labor and sorrow
Find thee, ere the Reason for pain, be revealed?

Child of the World, thy new Kingdom's before thee!
Long is the pathway that millions have trod,
Wilt thou reproach that in travail I bore thee,
And gave thee to men when I took thee from God?
—Margaret Horton Potter in Harper's Bazar.

Give Russia the Credit.

It is a singular fact that Russia is the country which first gave the greatest encouragement to the woman doctor. The Woman's Medical Institute in St. Petersburg, on its foundation, was hailed as the only place in the world where a woman could take out medical degrees. But, in 1886 Minister Warrowsky closed it. Now it has suddenly come to life again, the czar has given it an endowment, and its students have all the privileges hitherto accorded men. Why and wherefore? Because the war is taking all the men doctors, and if their places are not filled the unhappy empire is at the mercy of any epidemic that may come along.

Dean Hole and His Verger.

Dean Hole was famous as a joker. His chief verger at Rochester cathedral was a gentleman named Miles, the original of Dickens' Tope, who had been connected with the cathedral for seventy-three years. Mr. Miles was the youngest of twelve. Said Dean Hole one day:

"Miles, what a pity you never saw your eldest brother!"

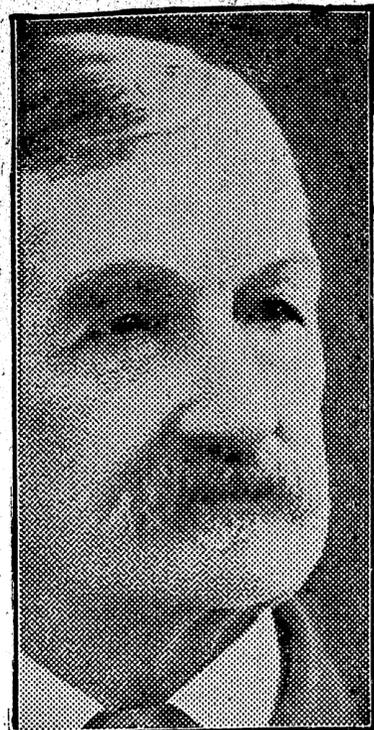

"I did, sir, often," said Miles.

"But you couldn't," replied the dean.

"Why not, sir?" queried Miles.

"Because," said the dean, "there were always ten miles between you."

Sufferings were protracted and Severe—Tried Every Known Remedy Without Relief—Serious Stomach Trouble Cured by Three Bottles of Peruna!

Capt. W. W. Jackson, 705 G St., N.W., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I am eighty-three years old, a veteran of the Black Hawk, Mexican and the Civil Wars. I am by profession a physician, but abandoned the same.

"Some years ago I was seriously affected with catarrh of the stomach. My sufferings were protracted and severe. I tried every known remedy without obtaining relief.

"In desperation I began the use of your Peruna. I began to realize immediate though gradual improvement.

"After the use of three bottles every appearance of my complaint was removed, and I have no hesitation in recommending it as an infallible remedy for that disorder."—W. W. Jackson.

THE TEACHER'S FOE

A LIFE ALWAYS THREATENED BY NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

One Who Broke Down from Six Years of Overwork Tells How She Escaped Misery of Enforced Idleness.

"I had been teaching in the city schools steadily for six years," said Miss James, whose recent return to the work from which she was driven by nervous collapse has attracted attention. "They were greatly overcrowded, especially in the primary department of which I had charge, and I had been doing the work of two teachers. The strain was too much for my nerves and two years ago the crisis came.

"I was prostrated mentally and physically, sent in my resignation and never expected to be able to resume work. It seemed to me then that I was the most miserable woman on earth. I was tortured by nervous headaches, worn out by inability to sleep, and had so little blood that I was as white as chalk.

"After my active life, it was hard to bear idleness, and terribly discouraging to keep paying out the savings of years for medicines which did me no good."

"How did you get back your health?"

"A bare chance and a lot of faith led me to a cure. After I had suffered for many months, and when I was on the very verge of despair, I happened to read an account of some cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The statements were so convincing that I somehow felt assured that these pills would help me. Most people, I think, buy only one box for a trial, but I purchased six boxes at once, and when I had used them up, I was indeed well and had no need of more medicine.

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enriched my thin blood, gave me back my sleep, restored my appetite, gave me strength to walk long distances without fatigue, in fact freed me from all my numerous ailments. I have already taught for several months, and I cannot say enough in praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Miss Margaret M. James is now living at No. 123 Clay street, Dayton, Ohio. Many of her fellow teachers have also used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and are enthusiastic about their merits. Sound digestion, strength, ambition, and cheerful spirits quickly follow their use. They are sold in every drug store in the world.

It's well enough to keep on the right side of a girl, and yet her heart is on her left side.

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in ¼-pound packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 ozs." Demand Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking. Defiance never sticks.

Darky Explains His Ineffectual Efforts to Commit Suicide.

There was a man in Atlanta who once suspected a colored man in his employ of tampering with the contents of his wine cellar, especially with a certain brand of fine whisky. The employer decided to adopt measures to verify his suspicions. He allowed the demijohn holding his "private stock" to become empty; then, instead of refilling it, he placed his pet brand in bottles, labeling each one "poison."

One evening, on returning home unexpectedly, he caught his servant in "flagrante delicto." Seizing the bottle from the darky's hand the Atlanta man exclaimed, in a tone of horror, "Great heavens, Sam! do you know what you have been doing? This bottle is marked 'poison!'"

The negro took the bottle and surveyed it closely. Then he sniffed at it. A melancholy smile flitted over his dusky countenance. "Tain't pizen, sah," he said, dejectedly. "Ise been fooled ag'in."

"Fooled again?" repeated the master, indignantly. "What do you mean?"

"Well, sah," continued the darky, in the same tone of depression, "it am dis way. I knowed from de fust, from de way you acted 'bout dat demijohn, dat you had yo' suspishuns ob me; an' dat sho' made me feel pretty blue. I got distressed, an' didn't care. Why, sah, fo' mos' two weeks now Ise been tryin' to commit suicide outer dat bottle."—Woman's Home Companion.

Got Even With Judge Sewall.

Judge Sewall and Joseph Story were dining together at an inn, when a jolly son of Erin appeared at the door and called for dinner. The landlord told him he could eat when the gentlemen had finished.

"Let him dine with us," whispered Judge Sewall, "and we will have some fun with him."

The Irishman took his seat at the table.

"You were not born in this country?" said Story.

"No, I was born in Ireland."

"Is your father living?"

"No, sir."

"What was his occupation?"

"Trading horses, sir."

"Did he ever cheat any one?"

"I suppose he did, sir."

"Where do you suppose he went to?"

"To heaven, sir."

"Has he ever cheated any one there?"

"He has cheated one man, I believe."

"Was he prosecuted?"

"He was not, sir."

"Why not?"

"Because they searched the kingdom of heaven for a lawyer to take the case and couldn't find one."

Burial of Napoleon.

Yes, bury me deep in the infinite sea,
Let my heart have a limitless grave;
For my spirit in life was as fierce and free
As the course of the tempest-wave.

As far from the stretch of all earthly control
Were the fathomless depths of my mind;
And the ebbs and flows of my single soul
Were as tides to the rest of mankind!

Then my briny pall shall engirdle the world,
As in life did the voice of my fame;
And each mutinous billow that's skyward curled
Shall seem to re-echo my name.

That name shall be storied in annals of crime
In the uttermost corners of earth;
Now breathed as a curse—now a spell word sublime,
In the glorified land of my birth.

Ay, plunge my dark heart in the infinite sea,
It would burst from a narrower tomb;
Shall less than ocean his sepulchre be
Whose mandate to millions was doom?

"But, sir, that would surely be more suitable for a young lady."
"I know what I want," was the prompt reply; "I am a tailor, and the paper is for my customers."

THE SOUTHERN STATESMAN.

Some of our northern confreres have of late criticized Senator Bailey of Texas, somewhat severely because he does not class, they say, with Edward Livingston or John C. Calhoun.

First remember that times have changed since the great New Yorker was senator from Louisiana, or when the great senator from South Carolina was the champion of state rights.

The issues of those days are dead and buried, one of them in the graves of five hundred thousand men. We deal today with new issues and new men.

In intellectual ability Senator Bailey may not compare with Webster, Calhoun, Livingston, Clay and the giants of the past, though this is doubtful.

But if the fact be admitted it is conceded that he is able, eloquent, earnest and honest. That he is in sympathy with the progressive issues of the American peasant.

That among southern statesman and southern people he is a leader upon the vital living questions of the present hour.

What more do we require? and in this connection it is pertinent to say that whether southern statesmen are or are not inferior to their predecessors of the past, no one of them have been even accused of violation of a public trust; there are among them no Mitchells or Burtons. No one of them have been accused of subordinating postal reform to the interests of his corporation, as may be said of the senior senator from New York.

None of them is accused of drawing a salary for his influence with the lobby, as is said of the junior senator from the same great empire state.

The leaders of the south have at least been true to their people, and to their own honor, and no greater praise can be given public men in these latter days.

STATEHOOD OF SOME KIND.

The Arizona Star, a daily and weekly publication of Tucson, Arizona, has considerable to say about statehood; and, as a matter of course, it favors statehood, for Arizona, yet it urges Arizonans to accept joint statehood with New Mexico, if that is the kind offered by congress.

The Star deals with the subject in the following manner:

"There are but two classes of people in Arizona who are engaged in the statehood fight. Those who want statehood, and want it with earnestness enough to take the very best that congress will give us. The other class who want statehood for their own special use, and will not accept self government in any other form than that which suits them—personally. These latter people will be disappointed. Those who want self government, because it is an inalienable right, because it is in accord with American principles; because self government is the ambition of every patriotic American citizen, will receive what they want and what they are hoping for.

"The people who want statehood far out number those who are opposed to statehood. Hence, Congress will pass an enabling act giving the people of Arizona and New Mexico the power to erect a sovereign state.

"If the consensus of opinion of the masses of the citizens of Arizona was known on the statehood question, it would be found to be for statehood under the most favorable conditions possible. But self government at any hazard, even if this end can only be realized through the merger of the two territories. The citizens of Arizona are composed of citizens from nearly every state in the union. They know what self government means. They want self government, singly, if possible, but they want statehood, and will accept joint sovereignty in preference to no statehood at all. Self government is one of the fundamental principles of the American citizenship. Arizonans are American citizens, and they feel they are intelligent enough and loyal enough for self government.

"Better, far better, to take half the representation in congress and the senate than no representation at all. Better enjoy half the electoral vote in choosing the president than no votes at all.

"Our people believe in representative government. They believe in enjoying a voice in electing the president. In having a voice in making our federal laws, rather than to be totally ignored.

"This is the right spirit. Let us fight for the very best terms we can secure. Having done this, we have done our whole

"Single statehood, if possible, but if this is impossible, then take statehood jointly with our sister territory. Arizona and New Mexico were one in the past. What harm can come to either to be joined in one destiny in the future, especially so until Arizona enjoys half million population, when we may become a single sovereign state, but until that time let us accept the very best congress will give us."

A Home Wedding.

At the home of Rev. and Mrs. F. M. Wylder, parents of the bride, were married Wednesday evening, Thos. High to Miss Lucy Wylder, Rev. F. M. Wylder, performing the ceremony.

The wedding was a quiet one, only the Misses Reads and two sisters of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Simmons, of Comanche county, Oklahoma, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Anthony, of Elida, N. N., being present, outside of the immediate family. The young couple will go to Oklahoma where they will make their home.

An Appreciated Boquet.

Boquets so seldom come our way, even from those we have most reason to expect them, that we are constrained to reproduce the following from a distant subscriber:

Farmers and the Trusts

Of all producers the farmer is hit the hardest by the trusts. They catch him coming and going. And the trusts lives and grows because of railroad rebates, the "protective," tariff, and national bank control of our money system. Evidently the remedy is to cut off these special favors which build up and perpetuate the trusts.

TOM WATSON'S MAGAZINE,
"the magazine with a purpose back of it," was established to teach the best way of abolishing these special privileges, and, hence, of rendering the trusts powerless to rob the public. It is a big monthly magazine of 128 pages, with illustrations, cartoons, Mr. Watson's brilliant editorials, special articles, a serial story, novelettes, short stories and poems, by the world's best writers. Regular price $1.00 per year; 10 cents per copy, at all newsstands. Every farmer is interested in knowing the best way to cure the trust evil and how to bring it about. Now in its second volume, TOM WATSON'S MAGAZINE is firmly established, and its circulation is growing rapidly; but we want to add a hundred thousand subscribers to our list in the next month or two.

SEND US THREE NAMES
Of reading farmers in your neighborhood, together with this advertisement and 25 one cent stamps—or a silver quarter securely wrapped—and we'll enroll you for a four months trial trip subscription. Or five of you may club together, sending a dollar bill and 25 good names and addresses, and get five trial trip subscriptions. Learn how to clip the Trust's wings.

DRINK MADE NULL AND VOID.

How Johnson Sides Was Vindicated by Nevada Legislature.

"With Indiana and Arkansas passing freak legislation, what can we expect next?" asks the chap that is always trying to dig up matters which are likely to disturb a fellow of the New Orleans Times-Democrat. "But did you ever hear of the act of the Nevada legislature? I do not think there ever was anything like it. It seems that one Johnson Sides, an Indian, educated at an eastern college, returned to his tribe to preach about the crime of drinking spirits of any kind. He proved to be a splendid temperance advocate of grand power and made many converts until— Well, one day Johnson Sides was caught taking a drink. He said afterwards that it was because he had the stomach ache. Some people were so impolite as to doubt this and intimated that perhaps Mr. Johnson Sides had been in the habit of having attacks of stomach ache all the time that he was lecturing against intemperance. This made Mr. Sides feel bad. It not only took away his drawing power as a temperance advocate, but almost broke his heart. He thought about it deeply and he thought about it long. Suddenly he received an inspiration. He went to a friend, a member of the Nevada legislature, and had a long talk with him. As a result the following appears on the minutes of that body:

"Senate joint concurrent resolution No. 11—Resolved by the senate, the people of the state of Nevada concurring, that the drink of whisky taken by Johnson Sides on the 17th day of September, in the city of Virginia, county of Storey, be and is hereby declared null and void."

"And thus was Johnson Sides vindicated."

On the Right Track.

Dr. Weir Mitchell relates the sad case of a young woman from Baltimore affecting literary fads who attended a reception given by a Philadelphia woman in honor of a well-known writer.

The young woman from Baltimore was introduced to the whole roomful of more or less celebrated individuals, and it seemed to be a circumstance on which she prided herself that she could remember an amazing proportion of the names of those present. When, however, she came to say farewell to a certain rather distinguished young man, who, by the way, was probably the only person there who was not of a "literary" turn, she remarked:

"Do you know, I've remembered very nearly all the names, but when it comes to yours I must confess that I'm entirely at sea."

With a smile the young man replied, "Then you're not far from wrong. My name is Atwater."—New York Times.

Golden Calves.

"I was a good-sized boy," said Dr. Adolphus F. Schaeffer, vice president of the New York City Mission and tract Society, on a recent occasion, "before I had my first brand new pair of pants. They came down past No. 1, 2 and 3 before they got to me. I was taught that it didn't matter what I had on my legs, so long as I had something reasonably creditable in my head. As I look back over my classmates in college there's only one of the rich fellows that's ever amounted to anything. It was the poor boys that had to hustle that have been heard from. Many rich fathers who were poor themselves send their sons to college and lavish money upon them, and when they look at the result they feel like using the words of Aaron:

"I poured gold into the furnace, and there is come forth this calf."—New York Times.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and A FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Union is Strength.

"A man is but a cluster on the great human grapevine. He begins to dry up the moment he is cut off from his fellows. There is something in the solidarity of the human race which cannot be accounted for in the sum total of all the individuals. Separation from the mass involves a mighty loss of power in the individual, just as there is a loss of cohesion and adhesion involved in the separation of the molecules and atoms of the diamond. The value of the gem is in the close contact, the compactness, and the concentration of the particles which compose it. The moment they are separated its value is gone. So a strong, effective man gets a large part of his strength from the vital connection with his fellows.—Success Magazine.

Objections All Removed.

A Chicago lady wrote to a farmer over in Michigan where she spent last summer with her family and told him she would like to come again this summer, but that she objected to the kitchen methods of his hired girl and to the swine being kept too close to the house. She received an answer which contained the following: "You may cum all right. Hannah has went, and there hain't been no hogs on the place since you left last summer."

"Look Pleasant."

What would be the effect upon civilization if everybody would keep constantly in mind that suggestion of the photographer, "Look pleasant?" The most difficult part of the photographer's work is the effort to get the subject before the camera to rid himself of the cold, stiff, set expression of his face and to replace it by a genial, kindly look or a smile. He is not willing to reproduce the sitter until he succeeds, because he knows that the change of expression will transform the photograph.

How the habit of looking pleasant would revolutionize our natures, and civilization itself! If we could only get rid of the hard, eager, worried look habitual to many of us, not for the few seconds we stand before the camera, but for all our lives, how bright the world would grow!—O. S. Marden in Success Magazine.

Reads Like a Miracle.

Moravia, N. Y., July 17th.—(Special)—Bordering on the miraculous is the case of Mrs. Benj. Wilson, of this place. Suffering from Sugar Diabetes, she wasted away till from weighing 200 lbs. she barely tipped the scales at 130 lbs. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. Speaking of her cure her husband, says:

"My wife suffered everything from Sugar Diabetes. She was sick four years and doctored with two doctors, but received no benefit. She had so much pain all over her that she could not rest day or night. The doctors said that she could not live.

"Then an advertisement led me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and they helped her right from the first. Five boxes of them cured her. Dodd's Kidney Pills were a God-sent remedy to us and we recommend them to all suffering from Kidney Disease."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all Kidney Diseases, including Bright's disease, and all Kidney aches, including Rheumatism.

CHINESE COOLIES TRAVEL FAR WITH HEAVY LOADS.

Their Cheerfulness and Endurance Under Hard Labor Calls Forth Admiration of British Traveler—Need Little Food and Less Sleep.

Wheelbarrows are used to a great extent in China for the transportation for long distances of passengers and freight. Lieut. Col. C. C. Manifold of the British Army writes as follows of the wheelbarrow men in the upper Yangtse provinces: "The plain of Suicho is as densely populated as any part of China and a great trade in locally manufactured cloth is carried on from its neighborhood and sent all over the country. The only transport used, until the railway or a navigable affluent of the Han river is reached, is the wheelbarrow. There is no doubt that a good cart road could be easily made, but whether it is due to the fact that draft animals are not bred in any numbers or that from time immemorial wheelbarrows have been used, these latter alone hold the field and no attempt has been made to construct roads suitable for any other form of wheeled vehicle. These wheelbarrows, however, are by no means to be despised as a means of transport. Hundreds of them were passed by us, each loaded with at least five and often seven or eight of the bales of narrow cotton cloth made in the surrounding districts, each of these bales weighing about seventeen pounds. One man would wheel a barrow carrying 350 pounds and make his twelve to twenty miles a day, more than double the amount which the government pack mule is allowed to carry in India, and the same human beast of burden will go on making the journey cheerfully day in and day out, without any halts for lameness or sore backs.

"My admiration for the Chinese coolie is unbounded; there is no man in the world who does the same patient, laborious work so cheerfully. Farther on, when we came to the mountainous watershed country, where only back loads are possible, I became still more confirmed in this opinion. Often after a long and weary day with the surveyors, in the course of which we would have climbed up from 5,000 to 8,000 feet, and made several such ascents and descents, having, perhaps, been on the move from 5 in the morning until dusk, we would come in, rather inclined to pat ourselves on the back at the thought of what a hard day's work we had successfully accomplished, only to find that the Chinese coolies had made as good time, each man having covered nearly as much ground with a load of 100 pounds on his back. This done on a few bowls of rice and bean curd, for a wage of less than ninepence (18 cents).

"Then, on their arrival, one might have thought that the coolies would have been glad to rest; but it, as was often the case where accommodation was limited, I slept in the same house, I found to my annoyance that to retire to bed was far from their thoughts and that my sleep was often disturbed by the noise they made as they sat up gambling long past midnight and yet they would be again on the road before 6 in the morning, having risen to make up their loads and get their food cooked before 8 o'clock."

Astor's Idea of Farming.

John Jacob Astor thus forecasts in Collier's Weekly the homely service of the automobile: "The farmer whose horses have plowed all day, and who, with his family, naturally needs recreation when the work is done, will invoke his automobile that, as a stationary engine may have been cutting feed, sawing wood, or what not, switch the motive power to the driving wheels and with a joyful 'All aboard!' be off to the nearest town, though it may be miles away." Evidently what John Jacob doesn't know about farming isn't worth telling.—Boston Transcript.

A WOMAN'S MISERY.

Mrs. John La Rue, of 115 Paterson Avenue, Paterson, N. J., says: "I was troubled for about nine years, and what I suffered no one will ever know. I used about every known remedy that is said to be good for kidney complaint, but without deriving permanent relief. Often when alone in the house the back ache has been so bad that it brought tears to my eyes. The pain at times was so intense that I was compelled to give up my household duties and lie down. There were headaches, dizziness and blood rushing to my head to cause bleeding at the nose. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills benefited me so much that I continued the treatment. The stinging pain in the small of my back, the rushes of blood to the head and other symptoms disappeared."

Hanna and the Poor House.

An Ohio manufacturer tells this story of Mark Hanna. The Senator often walked through his mill, explaining this and that. One day while on such a tour he heard a boy say: "I wish I had Hanna's money and he was in the poor house." The senator smiled grimly, and on returning to his office sent for the boy. "So you wish you had my money and I was in the poor house, eh?" he said. "Now, supposing you had your wish, what would you do?" The youngster, one of the ready-witted Irish variety, said with a droll grin: "Well, I guess I'd get you out of the poor house the first thing." This adroit answer brought the lad an increase of pay the next week.

Negro Turning White.

A correspondent of the San Francisco Call says: The latest freak of nature and marvel of the medical scientists is the change of color which is gradually creeping over the body of a negro porter, Charles Hugo Bell, in Colusa. Mutation began several years ago. The spots of white have spread to the face and hands. Although the victim of this strange disease suffers no ill effects at present, he has been advised that as soon as the complete change takes place death will ensue. At present he is employed at hard labor and enjoys life, but is the subject of much curiosity.

Bell was born in Columbia, Georgia, in 1866. His parents were full-blooded negroes, coming direct from Africa as slaves to the United States.

COMES A TIME

When Coffee Shows What It Has Been Doing.

"Of late years coffee has disagreed with me," writes a matron from Rome, N. Y.; "it's lightest punishment was to make me 'logy' and dizzy, and it seemed to thicken up my blood.

"The heaviest was when it upset my stomach completely, destroying my appetite and making me nervous and irritable, and sent me to my bed. After one of these attacks, in which I nearly lost my life, I concluded to quit and try Postum Food Coffee.

"It went right to the spot! I found it not only a most palatable and refreshing beverage, but a food as well.

"All my ailments, the 'loginess' and dizziness, the unsatisfactory condition of my blood, my nervousness and irritability disappeared in short order and my sorely afflicted stomach began quickly to recover. I began to rebuild and have steadily continued until now. Have a good appetite and am rejoicing in sound health, which I owe to the use of Postum Food Coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

EASTERN VISITORS.

You are welcome to Colorado. But why stop here when there is a new short line of railroad open through to the Pacific Coast. It is the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad, better known as the "Salt Lake Route." All Colorado roads lead to Salt Lake City, and stop-overs are allowed in that interesting spot. Pajalial vestibuled train—the finest from a Utah terminal—leaves Salt Lake City every evening at 8:30 o'clock. Every Colorado ticket agent has coupons over this new railroad, and be sure and see that they read via this line. Write J. L. Moore, D. P. A., Salt Lake City, for illustrated booklet.

Cure For The Blues

ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED

Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: She has been feeling "out of sorts" for some time; head has ached and back also; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart-beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her menstrual period she is exceedingly despondent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up: you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Mrs. Rosa Adams, of 819 12th Street, Louisville, Ky., niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C.S.A. She writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I cannot tell you with pen and ink what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with female troubles, extreme lassitude, 'the blues,' nervousness and that all-gone feeling. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it not only cured my female derangement, but it has restored me to perfect health and strength. The buoyancy of my younger days has returned, and I do not suffer any longer with despondency, as I did before. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a boon to sick and suffering women."

If you have some derangement of the female organism write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.
