Holland's for September.

The September number of Holland's Magazine, published in Dallas, Texas, has made its appearance, and is even an improvement on the August number—which is saying a good deal. The cover design is a simple but remarkably beautiful one—just a bunch of golden-rod in its natural colors. Handsomely lithographed on heavy white paper, the effect is most pleasing.

One of the leading articles of the month is "Tarpoon Fishing on the Texas Coast," by F. P. Holland, publisher of Holland's Magazine and Farm and Ranch. Mr. Holland is a true sportsman and his description of a popular sport will be read with interest.

The September issue of Holland's Magazine is primarily a fiction number, however. A strong racing story, "Love in the Home Stretch," is contributed by Lorena M. Page. Will Harding Mayes, in a well told tale, gives the remarkable experience of a life insurance agent in earlier years. "A Coon Flat Idyl" is a mountain story, written in the best vein of Frank H. Sweet, whose name is not unknown to magazine readers. Of unusual pathos is "The Deserter," by Leone C. Gale, which is offset by the humor of "The Indian Idol," by Mary E. Killilee. Ralph T. Yates tells of a summer resort episode in "The Perpicacity of Maud," and Milford W. Foshay has an exceedingly clever tale of the Chicago strike and the troubles of a strike leader. James O. Fagan contributes a stirring railroad story, "Freight Brakesman No. 13," while among the stories for young people are some excellent ones by Lenora Beck Ellis, Patricia Pelham and Elizabeth C. Buckham. Jake H. Harrison has an exquisite little poem, "To Edith," which is happily illustrated, and there are some good ones by Minta Rulon Roadhouse, Harry Van, Demark and others.

Among the special articles for the month are "Training Trick Horses," by Walter B. Whitman; "A Retold Tale," dealing with the rise of the Rothchilds, by Arnot Chester; "Baby Talk," by Hester Grey; "Flowers, Their Place and Power," by Wm. Lomas, and Mrs. Buchanan furnishes another installment of "Among the Wild Flowers."

Additional space is given to fashions this month, and the departments devoted to the fancy work table, and to the kitchen are full of useful hints and helps to the busy housewife.

Nearly every story and article is aptly illustrated, and the publishers of Holland's are making good their promises to issue the best magazine ever published in the South.

THE CAPITAN NEWS

CAPITAN, - - NEW MEXICO.

Every once in a while a Canadian court finds a spare moment in which to enter some different kind of ruling in the Gaynor-Greene case.

The Chicago Chronicle says the Turk is a nice man—when he is asleep but it is a more famous saying that "no man is a saint in his sleep."

Emperor Menelik of Abyssinia is said to have discarded his crown for an American hat, but he hasn't yet acquired our habit of talking through it.

The London scientist who evoked life from sterilized bouillon by putting in some radium has only proved that he didn't sterilize the bouillon completely.

A Boston editor is writing editorials on "Advice to College Graduates." Next thing you know that man will be nery enough to attempt to control his office boy.

A Tennessee congressman has been arrested because he got into a fight over a laundry bill. Down with the heathen Chinese and let us insist on the open door.

In St. Louis a few days ago a man and a woman were married on a merry-go-round while it was in operation. Later they will be likely to take matrimony more seriously.

President Wheeler of the University of California advises everybody to lead the "abundant life." Everybody would like to and would, too, if money weren't so blamed scarce.

Sunday is a day of rest, but just the same, the recorders of facts always prepare for a big grist of automobile, boat, bathing, trolley and accidents. We rest strenuously.

At a banquet in honor of Whitelaw Reid in London, Sir Henry Irving read a poem composed for the occasion by Sir Alfred Austin. Otherwise it appears to have been a rather cheerful affair.

Washington says the brewers, through increased taxes, are to pay for digging the Panama canal. And through the increased thirst produced by digging it, they'll sell enough extra beer to fill it.

Perhaps Lord Curzon's independent attitude and readiness to resign as viceroy of India is due to the fact that he will still have that bully good job as warden of the Cinque Ports to fall back on.

A Chicago woman wants a divorce because her husband developed a tendency to take an actress on tours in his automobile. She must be in a terrible hurry, or have cause to know that he is an unusually careful man at the wheel.

Down in New Jersey a judge has decided that a man must pay the bills contracted by his wife before their marriage. If this kind of law holds good some cautious men will insist hereafter in having a look at the receipts before starting for the church.

It is rumored that Lords Kitchener and Curzon have had a set-to over in India and that Lord Curzon will, as a consequence, resign his job. Well, he needn't care. Let him come over to New York and get $50,000 or $60,000 a year for taking charge of a subway or running a life insurance company.

Some amiable persons are about to ask Carnegie to give them $30,000,000 to promote universal peace. They seem to overlook the fact that there would be an awful fight to share in the distribution of thirty millions.

Damsel Very Much Shocked

She is a little woman who is visiting here for a month or two and those who know her well say that she is so proper and has such a sense of the proprieties that she will not mention even the legs of a table without blushing and stammering. At some observations, innocent in themselves but sounding vulgar and uncouth to her sensitive ear, she becomes so agitated that a dose of heartshorn or smelling salts administered under the nose is the only relief. Thus it was that she was shocked beyond redemption last week by a statement from a well-meaning Mexican who was trying to show her that his especial laundress was capable of turning out most exquisitely whitened and well done clothes. The little woman wears a great deal of white—waists and skirts—and she grew quite fidgety over the thought of how to get them done up to her entire satisfaction here in Mexico. In her extremity and with a desire to learn of the best laundress she could find she addressed a word or two to her Mexican guide. The guide knows English just sufficiently well to get himself misunderstood.

"Si, Senorita," he said, nodding his head as if it were attached with very flexible strings. "My lavandera, she wash much good clothes."

"Does she wash your collars?" asked the maiden from the Northland.

"Si, Senorita, she wash 'em all clothes of mine," and the Mexican displayed crisp edges of the collar as proof of the good work done.

"Does she also wash your shirts?" queried the girl, at the same time taking hold of his coat and viewing the shirt.

"Si, Senorita"—and the Mexican grew enthusiastic—"she wash 'em much good. She very good lavandera. You want to see, I show you my underclothes."

The young lady collapsed. They found her powdering her face in order to hide the blushes.—Mexican Herald.

Thief Asked for "Pointer"

Commander Takeshita, the Japanese naval attache at Washington, said at a dinner, anent an officer who had broken his parole:

"He who once dishonors himself will be always dishonorable. I do not believe in repentance. I do not believe that we sin and become good again. Sin leaves us ineradicably soiled.

"Hence it is futile to try to reform rascals and criminals. Covertly or openly, as the mood strikes them, these men answer our admonitions as the swindler answered the Yokohama judge.

"The swindler had come, footsore and weary, to the cottage of a poor man. There he had been entertained a month without payment. Finally, departing, he had borrowed the entire savings of the household that had sheltered him, pretending that, with this money for lawyer hire, he would be able to get an inheritance that had been withheld from him.

"So the hospitable poor man gave the swindler all his savings, and that was the end of the swindler, of course. But he was caught by the police a few months later, and at his trial he was proved guilty of having swindled a benefactor of his modest hoard.

"The judge, before sentencing the swindler, said to him reproachfully:

"How could you be so base as to swindle these honest folk who put confidence in you?"

"The swindler with a smile replied: "Your honor, I'll make it worth your while if you'll tell me how to swindle those who don't put confidence in me."

Atmosphere Is a Tonic

When the amazed European asks us what makes the sluggish mind of the immigrant stir and waken in the United States, and then to climb, at first hesitatingly, but soon with vigor and confidence, to the top round in the ladder of success, we are accustomed to reply, "It's in the air," and we are right.

The spirit which fired our fathers to cross the wide Atlantic, and which in less or equal degree still animates the thousands annually seeking our shores, is fed and fanned by the cold winds from the northwest.

The cold wave is born in the heavens, miles above our heads, usually over the Rocky mountain plateau. Suddenly a mass of bitterly cold air will tumble down upon Montana. It rushes down as though poured through an enormous funnel.

As it falls it gains momentum, and, reaching the earth, spreads over the Mississippi valley, and then over the Atlantic states, covering them like a blanket. It scatters the foul, logy, breath-soaked atmosphere in our towns and cities, and puts ginger into the air. We fill our lungs with it and live.

New waves are always coming, following each other in regular procession like the waves on a seashore.

It is fitting then that meteorology, the science of the weather, should be a distinctly American product, and that the people of the United States should have the best weather service in the world. The United States government spends $1,500,000 a year on the weather bureau, which is more money than all the governments of Europe combined spend for similar service.—Century Magazine.

On the Western Trail

Got a price on his head,
An' th' ranch boss, he said
He'd prefer him alive, but would take him dead.

Same ol' trouble, of course,
Drink an' Cap R. E. Morse
An' a dash fr' th' plains on another man's horse.

Knowed him since he's a lad,
Used t' bunk with his dad,
Ain't a natural tough, but in liquor he's bad.

Fill hi'self to his chin,
Soak hi'self to the skin,
An' then sit around waitin' a chance to mix in.

Say! Th' youngster could ride
Anything with a hide
On its back where th' hair was a growin' outside.

Roll a good cigarette
On his boss on a bet
When th' cayuse was buckin' an' never lost yet.

Sittin' there in th' camp,
Sort o' worn out an' damp,
An' his boss ga'n't an' d'ed fr'm a ninety-mile tramp.

Through th' snow an' the sleet,
An' he took liquor neat,
For th' stuff seemed t' be both his drink and his meat.

I dunno! Somethin' hot
Passed between 'em—a shot,
An' th' other man drawed summat slow-er'n he ought.

Well! It wasn't much loss,
But th' big buckskin boss
That he tuk when he skipped was th' pride of th' boss.

'Taint because that galoot,
That he killed was a beaut
Of a shot, had an' idee he knew how to shoot.

Ef he jest hadn't tuk
That especial ol' buck-
Skin th' boss broke hi'self 'twouldn't matter—wuss luck!

Got a price on his head,
An' th' ranch boss, he said
He'd prefer him alive, but he would take him dead.

"Cause a man ain't much loss,
But it's time, says the boss,
That all plainmen was learnin' a hoss is a hoss."

AIDS NATURE'S WORK

EFFECT OF ACETYLENE RAYS ON GROWTH OF PLANTS.

Grow to Twice Actual Weight of Those Exposed to Sunlight Only—Latest Victory for This New and Beautiful Illuminant.

The experiments recently made at Cornell University prove that the beautiful rays from the gas, acetylene, are as effective as sunlight on the growth of plants, and this may soon become a subject for serious consideration by all progressive cultivators of the soil.

The results of the experiments are astonishing, inasmuch as they show conclusively the great increase of growth attained by supplementing "The Light of Nature" with "The Light of Acetylene" during the hours in which the plants would otherwise be in darkness. For instance, a certain number of radish plants subjected to acetylene light during the night, grew to twice the actual weight of the same number of radishes given daylight only, all other conditions being equal, and peas had blossomed and partially matured pods with the help of acetylene light, while without the added light not even buds were apparent.

Acetylene is already taking its place as an illuminant for towns from a central plant, for lighting houses, churches, schools and isolated buildings of all kinds, and it is being used successfully for many other purposes.

A striking and important feature of acetylene is the ease and small expense with which it can be made available compared with the great advantages derived from its use. The machine in which the gas is generated is easily installed.

California Rattlesnakes.

Rattlesnakes in large numbers have been reported as infesting the hill slopes just behind the University of California grounds, and there is a belief that the record-breaking rattler that was killed a few months ago was the mother of this large brood of young snakes.

E. A. Bailey was almost stung by a rattler that attacked him while he was surveying on the hills yesterday. A few days ago a party of boys were found playing with a dead rattler just behind the Greek Theatre.—San Francisco Call.

15 YEARS OF TORTURE.

Itching and Painful Sores Covered Head and Body—Cured in Week By Cuticura.

"For fifteen years my scalp and forehead was one mass of scabs, and my body was covered with sores. Words cannot express how I suffered from the itching and pain. I had given up hope when a friend told me to get Cuticura. After bathing with Cuticura Soap and applying Cuticura Ointment for three days, my head was as clear as ever, and to my surprise and joy, one cake of soap and one box of ointment made a complete cure in one week. SOME CURES FOR INSOMNIA.

The Victim of Disagreeable Trouble Must Study Himself.

Lying awake is often a habit. It is worth almost any effort to break up such a habit, says the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Insomnia is usually the result of one of three things—poor circulation, indigestion or mental distress. The person who studies himself carefully will be able to locate the difficulty and treat himself accordingly.

For poor circulation try warm baths, warm-water bottles, brisk rubbing, soaking the feeting and deep breathing.

For indigestion take a warm drink before retiring or when sleepless. Drink warm water, warm milk, weak tea or cocoa and breathe deeply.

For mental distress mere will power is the best. Close the eyes and as fast as the thoughts come drive them out. Carry on in the mind a house-cleaning process.

Sweet sleep and plenty of it will go a great way toward keeping women young. When sleep departs wrinkles come.

It is by sleep that we gain strength for another day. Sleep is to the brain and nerves what food is to the body.

Here are a few simple, tried rules for driving away insomnia:

Go to bed warm. Never go to bed with cold feet.

If the events of the day have been trying, read a short, light story before retiring.

Leave the window down at the top and protect the bed from drafts.

As soon as the body touches the bed relax the muscles, shut the eyes and make ready to sleep. Nothing drives away sleep more quickly than the thought that one can't sleep.

The Ranchwoman.

The success of Mrs. W. N. Sherman and the beauty of her hospitable home, the famous Minnewawa ranch in California, should be an incentive to every woman to hold fast to the home instinct while winning her way in the business world. In the face of much opposition and caustic comment Mrs. Sherman, soon after leaving an eastern college, bought a large tract of unimproved land near Fresno, determined by her own efforts to develop its possibilities.

Her success is indicated by the fact that Minnewawa is valued at over five times the original investment. During the busiest season there are over 400 people at work on the ranch and in the cannery. Since discovering that by personal oversight of the packing her grapes brought from $100 to $500 more per carload than when left to the supervision of others, Mrs. Sherman, very sagely concluded that a woman can be a real helper, even though she leave the care of the household to some one else. Mrs. Sherman has not confined her efforts to raising growing alone, but has a national reputation as a stock raiser and fruit grower.—Pitts-gram.

Eccentric English Rector.

A lady writing in an English review tells this story as a reminiscence of her own: "The brother of a once-famous dean of Christ church was rector of a small parish. His eccentricity was somewhat remarkable. He was a famous whip and drove a splendid team, of which he was very proud. He was fond of showing off how he could flick a fly from either of his leaders' ears without touching the horse. This accomplishment he transferred to a rather unexpected locality; for he always carried his whip up into the pulpit with him and woe to the unfortunate member of his congregation whom he detected nodding."

Question of Pose.

"She is determined to be a musician, but cannot decide whether to make a speciality of the violin or the piano."
"Has she no positive predilection for either?"
"Oh, yes; but some of her friends think she looks better standing and others that sitting is more becoming to her."

Our Seven-League Boots.

With the Pennsylvania railroad's eighteen-hour train to Chicago actually making the run on its first test in sixteen hours, the possibilities of trans-continental travel burst upon one's imagination with startling force. Chicago is something less than 900 miles from New York City. San Francisco is 3,000 miles distant. Without reckoning that competition in speed making, the introduction and development of the electric motor for general railway purposes and the other factors hastening this country to newer and faster transportation performances will probably further cut down the running time between New York and Chicago, it is a very simple calculation to conclude that it is not either impossible or improbable that a special train, or perhaps one regularly scheduled, could cover the space between New York and San Francisco—roughly three times that between New York and Chicago—in three times the hours needed for the trip from here to Chicago, or forty-eight hours, or two days! If the evolution of railway dashes across the continent is to be continued—and who can doubt that it will—it is not a far flight of the imagination to picture the time when all the United States may be regarded as suburbs of New York City, with the commuter wending his daily way to the great lakes or the Gulf of Mexico for a peaceful night's sleep afar from the roar of the metropolis.—New York Press.

Especially for Women.

Champion, Mich., July 24th.—(Special)—A case of especial interest to women is that of Mrs. A. Wellett, wife of a well known photographer here. It is best given in her own words.

"I could not sleep, my feet were cold and my limbs cramped," Mrs. Wellett states. "I had an awful hard pain across my kidneys. I had to get up three or four times in the night. I was very nervous and fearfully despondent."

"I had been troubled in this way for five years when I commenced to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and what they caused to come from my kidneys will hardly stand description."

"By the time I had finished one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills I was cured. Now I can sleep well, my limbs do not cramp, I do not get up in the night and I feel better than I have in years. I owe my health to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Women's ills are caused by Diseased Kidneys; that's why Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure them.

Sidney Justus, fruit dealer, of Mentor, Ohio, says:

"I was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills of a severe case of kidney trouble, of eight or ten years' standing. I suffered the most severe backache and other pains in the region of the kidneys. These were especially severe when stooping to lift anything and often I could hardly straighten my back. The aching was bad in the day time, but just as bad at night, and I was always lame in the morning. I was bothered with rheumatic pains and dropsical swelling of the feet. The urinary passages were painful and the secretions were discolored and so free that often I had to rise at night. I felt tired all day. Half a box served to relieve me, and three boxes effected a permanent cure."

For the past four months the undersigned has nominally had control of the CAPITAN NEWS, and at the same time practically nothing to do with the Eagle Printing Co., which formerly published the ALAMOGORDO JOURNAL and the CAPITAN NEWS. Yet conditions were such that no announcement of the change could be made until this week.

With this issue the management of the NEWS falls exclusively into the hands of the undersigned, and the Alamogordo Journal becomes the property of Silas May, formerly business manager of the Eagle Printing Co., and Mr. May will move the Journal plant to Tucumcari, where he will begin the publication of a paper. S. M. Wharton, formerly editor of the Journal goes to Tucumcari as editor.

In assuming control of the NEWS no change is contemplated, and its future course will follow the lines it has pursued in the past. As the county grows and improves the NEWS will be with it, and will ever be found doing all that is possible for Lincoln county and its people.

The patronage accorded the NEWS in the past has been most satisfactory, and it will be the purpose of the present publisher to retain all old customers and add new ones to its list by fair dealings and meritorious work.

BERNALILLO COUNTY OFFICERS REMOVED.

The removal by the governor of Thomas S. Hubbell, sheriff; Frank A. Hubbell, treasurer, and Slavio Vigil, school superintendent, all Bernalillo county officials, relieves that county of a bad set of officials, and at once places the territorial executive upon a higher moral plane than he has occupied since his term as governor began eight years ago. It was freely predicted, and generally believed, that the governor would not have the courage to oust this notorious element from office in the leading county of the territory, but he proved equal to the occasion and deserves all the more credit therefor.

It has been an undisputed fact that for years the Hubbell combination has run the county of Bernalillo according to their own sweet will, and it has been asserted, and their removal seems to establish the fact, that they have not at all times conducted the county's affairs in an honest manner. In fact, the charges made by District Attorney Clancy, and upheld by Governor Otero, go to show that a system of grafting was inaugurated and practiced by them, that was not at all conducive to good government.

Still this was not all. The management of Bernalillo county affairs reached the ears of the Federal authorities at Washington, and one Federal Judge lost his job by allowing his court to be run, apparently, by this same gang of politicians. They had such a political hold upon the county and the administration of justice as well, that it was impossible to indict them, much less ever bring them to trial for their misdeeds.

This conduct on the part of the officials of Bernalillo county was a far reaching argument against statehood; for it was argued that if the most progressive and richest county in the territory was unable to overcome this "grafting" propensity of its officials, what could be expected of other communities of the territory with less advancement.

The charges against these officials were made two years ago, and the public prints of the territory have been full of their wrong-doings. The following constitutes the charges then made, and finally acted upon by the Governor:

"Frank A. Hubbell was accused by the district attorney of misappropriating the sum of $12,000 collected under the tax levy of five mills for general county purposes in 1903 and which thus became a part of the fund of the year 1904. Mr. Hubbell was charged with unlawfully paying out that money for the current expenses of 1903, in violation of a territorial law making such procedure a misdemeanor. Mr. Hubbell was further charged with withholding over $3,000 liquor and gaming license collected by his brother, the sheriff, and which, by law, should be divided between the general school fund and school district expenses. Other small grafts were placed to the account of Mr. Hubbell by the district attorney.

"The sheriff was charged with padding the expense account for maintenance of county prisoners; allowing certain saloons to do business without a license, and other violations of statutes made and provided, which charges Mr. Hubbell denied in toto.

"Slavio Vigil, the school superintendent of the county, whose fame as an educator has been rather eclipsed by his fame as a financier, was charged with gathering in $675 of the taxpayer's money for visiting county schools 135 days, at $5 a day in the year of our Lord 1903, when the schools had only been in session sixty-five days. As there appeared to be a slight discrepancy here, the district attorney laid the matter before the territorial executive. The worst of Slavio's offense was that the grand jury warned him to return the profits on his enterprising financial coup and he disregarded the warning. Mr. Vigil, by the governor's action, still further stands convicted of securing other moneys from the county for imaginary expenses connected with his alleged administration of the county schools. In short, Slavio padded them frightfully."

W. M. Fergusson and Mr. Saunders were down from the Mesa Tuesday. Billie brought down a few stalks of corn which we will add to the farm exhibit to the Territorial Fair.

The citizens of Capitan have declared war on the weeds, and peace will not be concluded until they are humbled.

W. H. Fisher has been busy building new fences and additions to his dwelling south of town. Mr. Fisher's place is now one of the most attractive homes in the community.

Just when everybody said the rainy season was over, some heavy clouds made their appearance Monday morning, and about noon the bottom fell out: result; another proof that a prophet has no honor in his own country.

The NEWS prints this week a petition, copies of which have been sent to various parts of the county for signatures. It is a formal protest against the latest ruling of the Forestry department, and asks a revocation, or modification, of the regulation to take effect January 1, 1906.

A great deal of gramma grass has seeded in this country this year—more than any time since 1898—and with a favorable season next year there should be far more grass on the range than has been in late years. During the late bad years much of the turf died, but it will largely be replaced by this year's seeding.

The weather remains cloudy and damp, and considerable rain has fallen during the week. This condition makes it unfavorable for haying, and may cause quite a loss in this respect.

The preliminary hearing of Antonio Cordova for the killing of Balbino Sedillo was held at Lincoln last week before Justice Brady, and Cordova was held to the grand jury in the sum of $1,000, which he gave. The killing occurred at Las Palas three weeks ago.

The Eagle Mining & Improvement Co. have their Huntingtons set up and at work on the Parsons mine. The company contemplates putting three more mills in right away, and this, with the mills the company now has running, will crush between 300 and 400 tons of ore daily. It seems that perseverance and patience are going to finally win for the Eagle Co., and the people of Lincoln county welcome the prospect of a mammoth, dividend producing mining company.

The Japanese are Disappointed.

Yokohama, Sept. 6—Peace terms are not known exactly, but it is rumored that the abandonment of indemnity will cause a general and profound disappointment. There has been no demonstrations.

Word from Nagasaki says that peace news was received without enthusiasm in the chief centers of Kiu Shu province. There is a general feeling of chagrin that Japan has been deprived of the rightful fruits of her victory. The diplomatic failure is considered to be due to the negotiations commencing prematurely.

Press telegrams outlining the peace terms are further inflaming the sentiment against the settlement. There has been no violence although as a precautionary measure the police reserves have been increased. The government continues silent. The conservative element predicts that the country will approve the settlement when the conditions are thoroughly understood. Minor radical papers advise the refusal to ratify the treaty through various expedients. The bulk of the people continue apathetic.

Sidney Bieber, fire marshal of the District of Columbia, but who has been at Fort Stanton the past summer, has been placed on the retired list as a result of disabilities, received in the line of duty, at a salary of $90.00 per month. Capt. Phillip W. Nicholson succeeds to the position. Regret is expressed by the Washington authorities at Mr. Bieber's enforced retirement.

James McCartney, superintendent of the Coalora coal mines before the mines closed down, is preparing to make a new opening. The coal extracted from this new opening will be used to supply the Fort Stanton contract, and the vein may develop a marketable quantity of coal.

Telegraphy on Trains.

Wonders never cease and science produces most of the wonders nowadays. Wireless telegraphy has been an accomplished fact for about five years, so the public has become rather familiar with it, at least by hearsay, but now comes an entirely new application of it which will probably revolutionize the method of controlling railway trains as completely as the railway itself revolutionized transportation methods. By means of wireless telegraphy it is now possible for an engineer to be warned of the approach of another train on the same track. The whole process is automatic. The transmitting instrument on one train sends a signal which is recorded in the cab of the other by means of a bell and colored lights, showing the engineer at a glance approximately how far away the first train is, and whether it is coming from in front or behind.

With such a system working effectually the last vestige of danger of collisions would be removed. There would be no more frightful smashups which occur so frequently through the misreading of orders. Every engineer would know at all times whether he had a clear track ahead of him, and thus one of the greatest elements of danger in railroading would be removed.

The possibilities of wireless telegraphy are only beginning to be realized, and it is quite certain that in a few years the invention will take its place as one of the most useful products of electrical science—Colorado Springs Gazette.

On Feeding Children.

Two important hygienic prizes—$1,000 for the best work on feeding a child from birth until two years old and $600 for the best study on the supply of milk to a great city—have been offered by Dr. Henry de Rothschild of Paris and are open to competition until next June.

CHANGED HUSBAND.

Wife Made Wise Change in Food.

Change of diet is the only way to really cure stomach and bowel trouble.

A woman says:

"My husband had dyspepsia when we were married and had suffered from it for several years. It was almost impossible to find anything he could eat without bad results.

"I thought this was largely due to the use of coffee and persuaded him to discontinue it. He did so, and began to drink Postum Food Coffee. The change did him good from the beginning, his digestion improved; he suffered much less from his nervousness, and when he added Grape-Nuts food to his diet he was soon entirely cured.

"My friend, Mrs. —, of Vicksburg (my former home) had become a nervous wreck also from dyspepsia. Medicines had no effect, neither did travel help her. On my last visit home, some months ago, I persuaded her to use Grape-Nuts food. She was in despair, and consented. She stuck to it until it restored her health so completely that she is now the most enthusiastic friend of Grape-Nuts that I ever knew. She eats it with cream or dry, just as it comes from the package—keeps it in her room and eats it whenever she feels like it.

"I began eating Grape-Nuts food, myself, when my baby was two months old, and I don't know what I should have done without it. My appetite was gone, I was weak and nervous and afforded but very little nourishment for the child. The Grape-Nuts food, of which I soon grew very fond, speedily set all this right again, and the baby grew healthful, rosy and beautiful as a mother could wish. He is two years old now and eats Grape-Nuts food himself. I wish every tired young mother knew of the good that Grape-Nuts would do her."

PINS FAITH TO BATTLESHIP.

Capt. Mahan's Conclusions Drawn from Battle of Sea of Japan.

Capt. A. T. Mahan, writing for Collier's on "The Battle of the Sea of Japan," discusses the value of submarine boats as exemplified by Admiral Togo's attacks upon the Russian fleet. He says:

To recapitulate: After allowance has been made for the demonstrated superiority of the Japanese in training and experience, it seems clear from Togo's use of his vessels, and from such details of the action as have so far been received, that the superiority of the battleship and of the gun, for the main purposes of naval warfare, has not been shaken. On the contrary, by an account attributed to a Japanese, it appears that the remaining Russian battleships, after the loss of the Borodino and in the subsequent confusion, though already much mauled beat off after dark, using their searchlights, two attacks by the whole flotilla of the enemy's destroyers, acting in two squadrons; and Japanese attacks have not heretofore, in this war, been found easy to repel. Should the official accounts confirm this, it will approach demonstration that uninjured battleships, manned by watchful seamen who keep their head, will in the long run suffer from torpedo attack only in the same proportion as military force suffers from other incidents of war. Let it be mentioned also that the torpedo vessel, from the delicacy of its constitution—a box of machinery—and from the narrowness of its coal supply, will always be most numerous and efficient in home waters. This advantage in this case fell to the Japanese, and it may have contributed to determine Togo's choice of position. This particular consideration shows that, in the broad view of naval policy, the function of the torpedo vessel is defensive, although its local action is offensive.

I have not seen any indication which to me seemed conclusive, or even probable, of the employment of the submarine in these engagements; but neither does there appear any certain reason why any one who so prefers may not attribute to them such amount of the damage done as to him seems likely.

Happy Love.

Since the sweet knowledge I possess
That she I love is mine,
All nature throbs with happiness
And wears a face divine.
The woods seem greener than they were,
The skies are brighter blue;
The stars shine clearer, and the air
Lets finer sunlight through.
Until I loved I was a child,
And sported on the sands;
But now the ocean opens out,
With all its happy lands.

The circles of my sympathy
Extend from earth to heaven;
I strove to pierce a mystery,
And lo, the clue is given.
The woods, with all their boughs and leaves,
Are preachers of delight,
And wandering clouds on summer eves
Are Edens to my sight.

My confidants and comforters
Are river, hill, and grove,
And sun, and stars, and heaven's blue
deeps,
And all that live and move.

O friendly hills! O garrulous woods!
O sympathizing air!
O many-voiced solitudes!
I know my love is fair,
I know that she is fair and true,
And that from her you've caught
The changeful glories ever new
That robe you in my thought.
Brief, from the armor of my heart,
Rolls off like rustling rain;
'Tis life to love; but double life
To be beloved again.—Charles Mackay.

Eyes and Sunlight.

Sunlight, as distinct from sun heat, is of benefit to human eyes. Unless refracted from white cliffs or stretches of sand, or by other means, it does not cause any impairment of vision, says the Chicago News. It is the natural provision of the sense of sight, and is in harmony with the natural period for work and pleasure—that is, the day. So soon as we introduce artificial light we deal with that which needs caution. A dim light injures vision, because the eye alters its shape to receive the feeble rays. On the other hand, a strong artificial light will produce inflammation of the eye surface and worse.

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains sixteen ounces—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in three-quarter-pound packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a twelve-ounce package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 ounces." Demand Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking. Defiance never sticks.

Let Common Sense Decide

Do you honestly believe, that coffee sold loose (in bulk), exposed to dust, germs and insects, passing through many hands (some of them not over-clean), "blended," you don't know how or by whom, is fit for your use? Of course you don't. But is another story. The green berries, selected by keen judges at the plantation, are skillfully roasted at our factories, where precautions you would not dream of are taken to secure perfect cleanliness, flavor, strength and uniformity.

From the time the coffee leaves the factory no hand touches it till it is opened in your kitchen.

This has made LION COFFEE the LEADER OF ALL PACKAGE COFFEES.

NAMES BEST DOCTOR

MR. BAYSSON PUBLISHES RESULTS OF VALUABLE EXPERIENCE.

A Former Pronounced Dyspeptic He Now Rejoices in Perfect Freedom from Miseries of Indigestion.

Thousands of sufferers know that the reason why they are irritable and depressed and nervous and sleepless is because their food does not digest, but how to get rid of the difficulty is the puzzling question.

Good digestion calls for strong digestive organs, and strength comes from a supply of good rich blood. For this reason Mr. Baysson took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the cure of indigestion.

"They have been my best doctor," he says. "I was suffering from dyspepsia. The pains in my stomach after meals were almost unbearable. My sleep was very irregular and my complexion was sallow. As the result of using eight boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, about the merits of which I learned from friends in France, I have escaped all these troubles, and am able again to take pleasure in eating."

A very simple story, but if it had not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills it might have been a tragic one. When discomfort begins with eating, fills up the intervals between meals with pain, and prevents sleep at night, there certainly cannot be much pleasure in living. A final general breaking down must be merely a question of time.

Mr. Joseph Baysson is a native of Aix-les-Bains, France, but now resides at No. 2439 Larkin street, San Francisco, Cal. He is one of a great number who can testify to the remarkable efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the treatment of obstinate disorders of the stomach.

If you would get rid of nausea, pain or burning in the stomach, vertigo, nervousness, insomnia, or any of the other miseries of a dyspeptic, get rid of the weakness of the digestive organs by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by druggists everywhere.

Proper diet is, of course, a great aid in forwarding recovery once begun, and a little book, "What to Eat and How to Eat," may be obtained by any one who makes a request for it by writing to the Dr. Williams Medical Co., Schenectady, N.Y. This valuable diet book contains an important chapter on the simplest means for the cure of constipation.

WHY DO AMERICANS SUCCEED?

Why do we lead all the nations of the earth in prosperity, happiness and individual contentment?

Why are we, as a people, regarded as an invincible power of impregnable strength?

And why do we compel the admiration of the whole world—at times grudgingly given, but given, anyhow? It is because we are free and independent in the truest meaning of the words.

We think for ourselves, act for ourselves, govern ourselves more than the people of any other nation.

We are absolutely self-reliant, a national trait that renders us independent of all other nations. Independence is the keynote of our supremacy.

And this is the reason why up-to-date grocers and storekeepers appreciate the fact that Americans of both sexes have strong wills of their own, and do not need interested advice.

Every up-to-date grocer knows perfectly well that for more than a quarter of a century Lion Coffee has been the leading package coffee and a welcome drink at the tables of millions of American homes.

He knows—and everybody else knows—that it has always kept its old friends and steadily made new ones.

Good, reliable, trustworthy grocers willingly acknowledge this, and all independent housekeepers will insist upon having Lion Coffee and no other, no matter what kind of an argument grocers of obstinate principles may advance.

Americans want the best, and they get the best and purest in Lion Coffee.

Should you contemplate drowning yourself make the attempt in shallow water, so that you can wade out when you change your mind.

Don't you know that Defiance Starch besides being absolutely superior to any other, is put up 16 ounces in package and sells at same price as 12-ounce packages of other kinds?

MUST HAVE CHARMED LIVES.

A Brood of Larks Hatched Out in Nest on Racetrack.

A pair of larks which built their nest on the racecourse at Keele park, Staffordshire, and are raising a little family, have been taken under the special protection of the Grand Duke Michael of Russia, who is now in residence at Keele park, says the London Express.

When the steeplechase races were held at Keele park the larks' nest was discovered on the racecourse near the winning post.

Despite the races, the large number of carriages and the crowds of people who had passed over the course, the nest had escaped injury.

Marks of horses' hoofs and carriage wheels were found perilously close to the larks' little home, and in one case a wheel had evidently just grazed the outer edge.

The Grand Duke Michael was told of the strange discovery and went to inspect the nest. There was another day's racing, but it was thought useless to have the nest removed, and so it was again left to the care of Providence.

Again, on Thursday, great crowds thronged the racecourse. Race horses and carriages crossed and recrossed the spot selected by the birds, but again the nest escaped scathless.

When the nest was examined recently it was found that three young larks were hatched out and the parent birds were busy feeding the youngsters.

The grand duke was informed of the birds' preservation and he at once issued instructions to the men on the estate to carefully guard the larks and their home.

Use Little Milk or Cream.

The government investigators find that comparatively little milk is consumed in most southern cities. The amount per capita in Richmond is not quite one-half a pint, which is about as high an average as in any other southern city, while at Pensacola it is as low as one-fifth pint, and in Mobile less than one-tenth pint. What is true of the consumption of milk is even more true of the consumption of cream. It can be said, according to these investigators, that practically no cream is sold in the south for use, as it is used in other parts of the country. For instance, they declare, that "to buy cream for use in coffee or with fruit is unheard of"—a statement that appears somewhat exaggerated. The making of ice cream is set down as the principal use of cream in Southern cities.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Ruins of Old Roman Town.

Rooting up the foundations of an old building in the hamlet of Gourgom, near Meude, has brought to light the buried ruins of a great city of Roman Gaul, of which all vestiges had perished. This was the city of Veyrune, known to have been in existence in the third century of our era, and believed to have been overwhelmed by some great catastrophe. The very site was unknown. A detail of some interest connected with the discovery is that the buried ruins are almost under the spot where Du Guesclin died. There has been found among them a fine silver urn containing a large number of Roman coins, almost fresh from the mint and beautifully preserved. They bear the effigies of the Empress Julia, Maximian, Alexander, Severus and other emperors.—London Globe.

DEMAND FACTS

About What You Eat.

When it comes to food, demand to know the facts about what goes into your stomach.

Not only that it is pure, but that you are not deceived in the description of its contents and condition. Some flaked breakfast foods that have thus far failed are now being advertised in close imitation of the Grape-Nuts advertising, thinking in that way to finally make a success of the failure.

But false statements of the merits of human food will never on earth build up a business. These flaked foods are not pre-digested. They are not fully cooked and the starch in them is starch still, and has not been turned to sugar as claimed.

Chemical analysis tells the truth and the analysis of the famous chemists of the world show Grape-Nuts the only prepared breakfast food in which the starch part of the wheat and barley has been transformed into sugar and therefore ready for immediate digestion. Why is this true? All the thin rolled flake foods are made by soaking the grains of wheat or oats in water, then rolling, drying and packing. These operations do not cook or pre-digest the starch.

Contrasted with this pretense, observe the care, method and skill in making Grape-Nuts.

The barley is soaked about one hundred hours, then it is slowly warmed for some days and sprouted, the diastase being developed and part of the starch turned to sugar (and later on all of it), then the grains are baked and the sprouts stripped off. Then comes grinding, sifting and mixing with the creamy colored flour made from white and macaroni wheat. This mixture must be skillfully made in right proportions. This blended flour contains just the ingredients demanded by nature to rebuild the soft gray substance in the nerve centers and brain, but how to make the food easy to digest, that was the question.

It certainly would not do to mix in drugs, for there is a certain failure sure to come to the person depending on drugs to digest food. They may do for a temporary expedient, but pure food and digestible food is the only final resort and safe way. So to change the remaining starch part and prepare the other elements in this blended flour it is made up into massive loaves like bread, the inside being dark cream color and quite sticky to the touch. These loaves are sliced and again go through long cooking at certain temperatures. Then the rock hard slices are each one carefully inspected and ground ready for packing and use, having gone through 10 or 12 hours in the different operations.

When finished, each little granule will show a sparkling substance on its surface. A magnifying glass will bring it out clearer and develop little pieces of pure dextrose sugar, not put on "or poured over" (as the head of a large Sanitarium once stated in his paper, thus exposing his appalling ignorance of food processes), but this sugar exudes from the interior of each as the starch is slowly turned to sugar in the process of manufacture. This kind of sugar is exactly like what is found in the human intestines, provided the starch of the grains, potatoes, bread, rice, cake, etc., has been perfectly digested. But many are weak in that form of digestion, and yet need the starches, so Grape-Nuts supplies them pre-digested and ready to go quickly into the blood.

Visitors are shown freely through the works and can follow the steps of making Grape-Nuts from the grain to the finished product. The proportions of different kinds of flour, and the temperatures are not disclosed and it seems impossible for others to steal these secrets of the makers. But purity, cleanliness and skill are shown in every corner of the immense pure food factories. People who care for results from choicely selected food, those who want the food to rebuild the soft gray substance in brain and nerves that give the go, the vigor, the life, will understand why the imitators who try to copy the announcements about Grape-Nuts have failed in the past.

There's a reason for Grape-Nuts and a profound one.

In saving money the real secret is not to lose it through the hole at the top of your pocket.

OKLAHOMA OPPORTUNITIES

The completion by the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway of over 250 miles of railroad in the Oklahoma Territory, opens up a rich agricultural country of excellent possibilities, and gives direct connection between St. Louis, Hannibal and Kansas City with Oklahoma City, Shawnee, Guthrie, El Reno, Enid and other Oklahoma points. Along the new lines are located new and growing towns, Cleveland, Jennings, Cushing, Agra, Fallis, Luther and Maud, situated right in the district of rich farming lands, offering the best of opportunities for safe and profitable investments. The field is new and the prices of farm lands are low.

Few lines of business are adequately represented. There are openings of all sorts—for mill and manufacturing plants, for small stores of all kinds, for banks, newspapers and lumber yards. Mechanics and professional men, both are in demand. TELL US WHAT YOU WANT, how much you have to invest and we will gladly help you about a good opening.

KIDNEY TROUBLES

Increasing Among Women, But Sufferers Need Not Despair

THE BEST ADVICE IS FREE

Of all the diseases known, with which the female organism is afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal, and statistics show that this disease is on the increase among women.

Mrs. Emma Sawyer.

Unless early and correct treatment is applied the patient seldom survives when once the disease is fastened upon her. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most efficient treatment for kidney troubles of women, and is the only medicine especially prepared for this purpose.

When a woman is troubled with pain or weight in loins, backache, frequent, painful or scalding urination, swelling of limbs or feet, swelling under the eyes, an uneasy, tired feeling in the region of the kidneys or notices a brick-dust sediment in the urine, she should lose no time in commencing treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it may be the means of saving her life.

For proof, read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Sawyer.

"I cannot express the terrible suffering I had to endure. A derangement of the female organs developed nervous prostration and a serious kidney trouble. The doctor attended me for a year, but I kept getting worse, until I was unable to do anything, and I made up my mind I could not live. I finally decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a last resort, and I am to-day a well woman. I cannot praise it too highly, and I tell every suffering woman about my case." Mrs. Emma Sawyer, Conyers, Ga.

STOCKMEN OF LINCOLN COUNTY PROTEST THE LATE RESERVE RULING

To The Honorable James Wilson,
Secretary of Agriculture,
Washington, D. C.

BUREAU OF FORESTRY.

We, the undersigned citizens of Lincoln County, of the Territory of New Mexico, and property owners in, upon and near the Lincoln Forest Reserve, do hereby respectfully petition your Department for the revocation, or modification, of Regulation No. 25, in the pamphlet issued by the Department in July, 1905, with reference to grazing permits after January 1, 1906; and the following reasons are assigned as the basis for such action:

1. Lincoln County is first of all a stock country.
2. The tax rate is naturally very high in a sparsely settled Territory, owing to lack of wealth to produce taxable values.
3. To add a tax for grazing of 35c to 50c per head to the already burdensome Territorial tax, would make the stock industry an unprofitable one, and necessarily drive many stockmen out of business, or to other countries.
4. Much of the stock will run a part of the time on the Reserve and at other times on the open range; thus at all times making the enforcement of this order a source of great difficulty, and at other times work an injustice upon the stockman.
5. The Reserve is so located--cutting the county in the centre--that it would be almost impossible for stockmen to keep their stock off, even though they do not desire the Reserve as a range.
6. The Reserve contains some of the best grazing lands in the county, and the enforcement of this order, which many think prohibitive, will reduce the grazing area to such an extent that a large stock loss to the county must result.

We therefore, respectfully ask that you give these conditions your earnest consideration, and that you may find it consistent to grant this request shall ever be our prayer.
