NUMBER 42, IN OUR 28th YEAR — Ruidoso, Lincoln County, New Mexico — 88345 — FRIDAY, MARCH 29, 1974

PAGEANT COURT — Marsha Lee Payne (seated) of Ruidoso was crowned Miss Central New Mexico 1974 Saturday night at the annual pageant in the Ruidoso gym. She was also named Miss Congeniality by the eight other contestants in the pageant. Flanking Miss Payne are Yonna Cromeens, first runner-up, Cathy Hine, Miss Central New Mexico 1973 and Belinda Ball, second runner-up to the queen.

Ruidoso's Marsha Payne Crowned Miss Central New Mexico of 1974

Marsha Lee Payne, of Ruidoso, scoring high and winning the talent competition, was named Miss Central New Mexico 1974, Saturday night at the pageant sponsored by the Ruidoso Jaycees.

The 25 year-old Miss Payne's rendition of the popular song "He Touched Me" was loudly applauded by the audience and received the high marks of the judges to sweep the talent portion.

Minutes before she was named the winner of the sixth annual pageant, Miss Payne took another of the coveted honors by being named Miss Congeniality by the eight other contestants in the pageant.

Judged first runner-up to Miss Central New Mexico for 1974 was Miss Yonna Leme Cromeens of Ruidoso. Miss Cromeens was awarded the top marks by the judges in the evening gown competition on her way to the second place finish in the overall competition.

Miss Belinda Ball, also of Ruidoso, was named second runner-up to Miss Payne to round out the top finishers in the pageant. Miss Ball was also the winner of the bathing suit competition in the pageant.

In a separate category of judging, two other contestants tied for the Non-Finalist Talent award given by the judges. Miss Deanna Lindberg of Artesia, with a dramatic recitation about her "Old Dog Blue", tied with Donna Canada, also of Artesia. Miss Canada, a piano instructor, performed a musical number by Beethoven.

The Jaycees reported that a crowd of 300 people were on hand for the pageant which featured a top variety of talent and beauty.

In addition to the competition in events by the nine contestants from Ruidoso, Artesia and Truth or Consequences, the audience was given a final modern dance performance by the outgoing Miss Central New Mexico 1973, Cathy Hine. Miss Hine also gave a farewell speech.

Miss New Mexico 1973, Patti Nelms of Roswell, was mistress of ceremonies for the pageant.

As the winner of the pageant, Miss Payne, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Payne of Ruidoso, will receive a $400 scholarship. She also received an additional $50 scholarship for her selection as Miss Congeniality. Miss Payne is a real estate saleswoman for Douglass Real Estate and a native of Midland, Texas.

The first runner-up, Miss Cromeens, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cromeens of El Paso. She attended Ruidoso High School until her senior year and graduated from Eastwood High in El Paso last year. She won $200 for her finish in the pageant. Miss Cromeens is employed at Ray Heid's Ski Shop.

Miss Ball is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Earl Ball. She will graduate from Ruidoso High School this spring and she plans to use her $100 award when she attends Eastern New New Mexico University this fall.

Miss Payne and Miss Cromeens have elected to use a portion of their scholarships for private training in voice and dance.

Music for the pageant was provided by the Ruidoso High School stage band, under the direction of, and accompanied on bass by LeRoy Gooch. Teddi Sullivan, local night club entertainer, volunteered her time to accompany the band on the piano.

Conditions Great For 6th Annual Ski-Tee Tourney

Contestants and spectators alike will be taking to the slopes and the links this weekend following the kick-off dinner of the Sixth Annual Ruidoso Ski-Tee Tournament Friday evening.

George Marsh, coordinator of the annual event, a fund-raiser for the Ruidoso Junior Racers, announced Wednesday that he has seven four-man teams entered in the event so far and expects the tourney to be much larger than last year's nine-team entry.

Following anticipation about the ski area closing last week for several days, Marsh is excited about the 14-inches of new snow and excellent skiing conditions that have resulted at the top of the mountain.

Recent springtime weather has also left the Cree Meadows Golf Course in excellent condition for Sunday's golfing event.

Entry into the two-day, combined event tournament closes today (Friday) at 4 p.m. The tournament begins at 7 p.m. tonight with a buffet dinner at the Cree Meadows Club House. The meal is included in the entry fee of the contestants and the public is invited to attend also for $2.50 per person. Team pairings will be announced and Calcutta bidding will follow the meal.

Competition begins at noon Saturday with the slalom skiing at Sierra Blanca. The course is tentatively scheduled for the Sierra Blanca Trail under the gondola but the location will be posted at the ticket window.

Following the skiing, the winners will be announced at the wine party for entrants at the ski lodge. Spectators are also invited to this party for a small admission fee.

The golfing competition will tee off Sunday morning at the Cree Meadows course at 10 a.m. Teams will be broken up for this event. A beer party and putting contest will follow the golfing while tournament officials tally the scoring.

Winners of the tournament and the 42 trophies to be presented will be announced at the party shortly after the golf scores are turned in.

The entry fee for the event will be $20 and includes the buffet, both parties, green fees and lift tickets for the days of the events. Contestants will also receive a tee shirt.

Early entrants for the event will have their choice Friday of green fee or lift ticket to practice for the tourney. The price is included in the entry fee.

Contestants wishing to enter before the 4 p.m. deadline should do so at the Cree Meadows Club House or see George Marsh at the Ruidoso State Bank.

Our Little Miss

Ruidoso's Our Little Miss Pageant, with three classes for girls from age three to seventeen, will be held this Saturday night at the Ruidoso High School gym.

The pageant this year is sponsored by the Ruidoso High Warriorettes and under the direction of Fran Killen.

The pageant, which will begin at 7 p.m., will feature 25 contestants in the three age groups. Girls from ages three to six will compete for the Miss La Petite crown. Our Little Miss will be crowned from the seven to 12 year age group and the Ideal Miss will reign over the 13 to 17 year-old age group.

In an added feature of the pageant, Miss New Mexico Majorette, Donna Worley of Alamogordo, will perform during the show.

Winners of the La Petite and Our Little Miss competition will qualify for the state pageant which will be held in Roswell in June of this year. They will have their way paid by the sponsors of the pageant.

The Ideal Miss will qualify directly for the International Ideal Miss Pageant which will take place in Waco, Texas this June.

The three judges for the pageant this year will be Mrs. Marilyn Jackson of Roswell, Mrs. Evone Richardson of Tularosa and Mrs. Mabel Worley of Alamogordo.

Trailers Broken Into During the Weekend

Ruidoso police Monday morning investigated five mobile homes in the Pinecliff area of Ruidoso which had apparently been broken into over the weekend.

Lieutenant Jerry Foster, in vestigating the break-ins, told The News that they had apparently been broken into between approximately noon Sunday when one had been checked and noon Monday when the break-ins were found by Ruidoso police

He noted that all of the owners live out of town and none had been contacted yet. However, all of the trailers still had televisions and appliances left in them.

Foster said that drawers and closets appeared to have been rummaged through and the only apparent damage to the homes were broken windows where the burglars had entered. They are continuing to investigate the cases.

Ruidoso Downs Mayor DiPaolo Names Village Department Heads

The first regular meeting of the new administration of the Ruidoso Downs Village Council was held last Monday evening with the full board present. Mayor J. J. DiPaolo made appointments of heads of departments as follows: Trustee Albert Richardson, Recreation; Trustee George Hancock, Water; Trustee Neil Smith, Sanitation, and Trustee Noel Mullins, Streets.

DiPaolo also apointed Jerry Howden, village clerk and Mary Virden assistant village clerk. Named to the village beautification committee were: Ann Mullins, Barbara DiPaolo, Ann Primer, Alice Allison, Lisa Wyler and Linda Posey. The committee will choose it's own officers.

The council studied the village financial statement and DiPaolo noted that the village is in good condition. He also reported that village funds had been transferred to Security Bank. Judge Brisco West reported that a total of $1572 had been collected in fines from January 1 to February 28

Quinton Daniels ,engineer for the joint sewer project, gave a report on progress of the new project. He noted that the preliminary application for grant money had been made last December but, due to changes in Federal regulations, more paper work is now required and would be completed in about two weeks. If the project is approved, as planned, a total of 87½% of the cost will be paid by Federal and State grants. He also noted that an EIA grant application for water had been made and an answer should be received early in April.

Wayne Lewis, of the New Mexico Environmental Improvement Agency, discussed the local sanitary land fill and reported that a survey of the Ruidoso area had been completed and that the Ruidoso Downs survey was now underway. Following the survey, recommendations will be made to both villages concerning solid waste disposal problems.

The council approved a request from the Ruidoso Municipal School District board of trustees that a 2.255 levy be ceded to the schools. The agreement calls for the return of funds collected through the levy within the village limits to the village but would allow monies collected outside the village to remain with the school. The same request will be presented to the village of Ruidoso.

Don Rominhouse, Western States Telephone Co. representative, recommended updating of the village hall telephone system and fire phones for volunteer firemen. He noted that there would be very little increase in cost and that service would be greatly improved.

Mrs. John Francis, representing the Ladies' Auxiliary, requested that the ladies be recognized and remembered at budget time by the council. The ladies have been working to improve the community center and had requested funds to help with the project.

Village clerk Jerry Howden will be sent to a clerk's and mayor's conference slated for April 3, 4 and 5 at Farmington. Since there will be no pre-budget hearing this year, the council agreed that it is very important that the conference be attended.

DiPaolo also reported that a meeting of the New Mexico Municipal League will be held at the Villa Inn April 3 and asked that all council members attend.

The next regular meeting of the board will be held at the Village Hall at 8:00 p.m. April 8. Meetings are open to the public.

Village Officials Make Santa Fe Trip

Ruidoso Mayor Lloyd Davis, Jr., Manager Jim Hine and Building Inspector Chuck Brown returned Monday evening from a trip to Santa Fe, where they learned about a new federally sponsored program for flood insurance

The three left Sunday evening and attended the seminar Monday, which was sponsored by the State Planning and State Engineer's offices.

In order to participate in the program, the village must adopt certain ordinances and resolutions. With village participation, the insurance will then be available through local insurance agents.

Hine pointed out that the "catch" to the program is that if the village does not participate in the program, and a disaster does occur, Ruidoso would not be eligible for federal disaster relief in addition to the insurance program.

The federal program was prompted by disastrous flooding in the East last spring which caused damage in the billions of dollars and left thousands homeless.

SCHOOL BOARD MEET

A special, informal meeting of the Ruidoso Municipal School Board of Trustees and the Salary Policy Committee of the Ruidoso Education Association will be held Tuesday, April 2, 7 p.m. at the school administration offices.

Additional Support Told For Watts Line

According to Richard Cothrun, chamber of commerce manager, the following businesses and individuals have added their support to the Chamber Watts line for information and reservations: Win, Place & Show, Lamplighter Motel, Alto Crest Lodge, Teepee Cabins, High Country Agency, Richard Cothrun, Black Forest, Tastee-Freez, El Corral Motel and Woodland Ridge Apartments.

The service provides toll free information service from eight surrounding states by prospective visitors to Ruidoso.

Chamber of Commerce Names Six Directors

Six new board of directors members were elected by the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce this week with votes tallied by chamber members at the office at 5 p.m. on Tuesday. The new directors will serve for a term of two years.

Those elected were Johnny Jarratt, Frank Sayner, Sid Veatch, Ken Buckley, Betty Patton and Alton Lane. Officers will probably be elected at the next regular chamber board meeting.

Paul Harvey, one of the nation's top public speakers, is scheduled to appear at the Chamber of Commerce banquet, slated for May 18. Harvey will be honored by a feature race at the Ruidoso Downs Race Track and will be given a tour of the Ruidoso area on his visit

SAFEWAY STORE

A new sign on Sudderth Drive, at the Sid Courvelle property, notes that this will be the location of a new Safeway food store. No details are now available, but according to reports, construction of the new business is expected to be completed in 1975.

RUIDOSO INNKEEPERS MEET

The Ruidoso Innkeepers will hold a meeting Tuesday, April 2, 7:30 p.m. at the Chaparral Motor Hotel. Election of officers will be held and business of great importance to motel owners will be discussed.

All motel owners are invited to attend.

Filing Deadline Set For April 2, 5 p.m.

According to the election calendar issued by New Mexico Secretary of State Betty Fiorina, the last day for filing declarations of candidacy will be April 2, at 5 p.m.

The drawing for position on the ballot or voting machines will be determined, by lot, at 5 p.m. on April 2.

Coe-Curry DAV Sets April 2 Election

Election of officers is planned at the next regular meeting of Coe-Curry Chapter 23, Ruidoso, of the Disabled American Veterans, at 7:30 in the evening of April 2, at the Legion Hall in Ruidoso.

Romeo Klein, Adjutant of the local DAV organization, has said that he hopes all members will make a special effort to attend this meeting — and he also stated that all disabled veterans are most cordially invited to attend.

The local DAV chapter includes all of Lincoln County. Members from the Mescalero Apache Indian Reservation are included in the membership of the Coe-Curry chapter; and all disabled veterans of the Reservation are invited to attend the meetings and join the organization.

Chapter 23 of the DAV holds regular meetings at 7:30 in the evening of the first Tuesday of the month at the Legion Hall in in Ruidoso unless otherwise announced.

Man Gets Stiff Fine And Jail Time After Tuesday Night Chase

A Carlsbad man was fined $570 and sentenced to 120 days in jail Wednesday after a chase by Ruidoso police which ended when he turned over his truck.

Tommy Middleton, 25, appeared before municipal judge Sam Nunnally with five charges against him from the incident which began on Sudderth Dr. in front of the Ruidoso State Bank and ended next to the bus station.

According to police, Middleton nearly ran a Ruidoso patrolman off the road while driving wildly in front of the bank headed east.

The officer turned around and during the pursuit, Middleton was reported to have reached speeds in excess of 65-70 miles per hour below Carrizo Hill.

The pursuit ended when Middleton attempted to turn off Sudderth at the bus station, hit the curb and lost control. His pickup spun around and came to rest in a small ditch on its side. Police reported that Middleton didn't even know what had happened when he was taken from the truck.

He was charged with driving while intoxicated, reckless driving, attempting to elude an officer, faulty taillights and driving without a valid license. Middleton had earlier lost his license, issued by the court, to be used only to drive to work.

Judge Nunnally suspended 90 days of the jail time in the court session and Middleton was transferred to the Lincoln County Jail Wednesday afternoon to serve the remaining 30 days.

Unsuccessful Burglar Hits Bennett's Big 8

An unknown burglar or burglars escaped empty-handed early Saturday morning after they had attempted to steal a barrel of beef from the market at Bennett's Big 8.

According to Ruidoso detective Lt. Jerry Foster, the burglar broke out the glass in the back door to the store to enter. Once inside, he emptied a 30-gallon trash can. He then apparently went to the meat counter where he wrapped about $500 worth of meat in paper and placed it in the trash can.

The would-be thief then carried the can outside and set it just off the back ramp when he was noticed by a passerby.

The witness told police that he saw a man run back inside the store and then he notified police.

Corporal Gale Knapp and Patrolman Jim Rethmel responded to the call which came in at about 12:30 a.m. When they arrived, they entered the store through the broken door and after two checks, could find no one inside or around the store. When they found the meat cabinets open, they notified Lt. Foster and the owner R. A. Bennett.

With the meat recovered, nothing else was found to be missing from the store.

In a possibly related incident, Bennett told police that a back window to the store had been found broken out with a rock when they came to work Friday morning. The store did not appear to have been entered Thursday night.

LIBRARY DELAY — Construction on the new Ruidoso Library and Senior Citizens Center has been at a standstill for over a month now. Problems over specifications have arisen between the architect and contractor and some of the work might have to be redone. The contractor also blames bad weather and cold nights for the delay. Architect Rem Alley of Roswell attended Thursday's Ruidoso council meeting to discuss the problems and delay with the council.

Sierra Blanca DAR Chapter Has Guest Speaker March 21

The Sierra Blanca chapter of DAR (Daughters of the American Revolution) met Thursday, March 21, in the conference room of the Ruidoso State Bank with Mrs. M. R. Delnotal as hostess. Tola Underwood, chapter regent, presided and introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Mary Bedwell of Alamogordo, Southwest District Director. Mrs. Bedwell spoke on National Defense, "The Different Angle", stating that National Defense had many facets and she emphasized the most pertinent facts leading, "The nation seems to be weakening in morality; the world is full of crime due to lack of discipline and lack of religious activism plays a big part in causing accidents, and lax living seems apathy is widespread and people accept things and look right on saying they do not wish to get involved."

Accompanying Mrs. Bedwell to Ruidoso was Mrs. T. D. Brezel, Regent of the White Sands DAR chapter in Alamogordo. Mrs. Bedwell presented the Good Citizen Award to Miss Belinda Ball, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Earl Ball of Ruidoso, from the Sierra Blanca chapter. The award is presented to an outstanding local high school student annually. Mrs. Delnotal is chairman for the school program.

During the business meeting the group discussed plans for the observance of Founder's Day and the annual Mother's Day Dinner.

It was decided that the chapter will make a contribution to the local Girl Scouts and the chapter will also provide two scholarships for graduating seniors, as the club project for this year.

The ritual was held for new members which include Mrs. Robert Beavers, Mrs. Richard Cethrun, Mrs. David Williams, Mrs. Richard McEneny and Mrs. Charlotte Briggs.

Hospital Auxiliary Completes Paying For Hospital TV's

Mrs. Isla McLeod, president of the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital Auxiliary, reported this week that the Auxiliary has completed paying for the color TV sets for each of the local hospital's patient rooms, with the total amount paid $4,500. Arrangements are now being made for the installation of these sets, with the Auxiliary to assist with funds. When the Auxiliary voted to purchase the 19-inch color TV's in the meeting held Feb. 6, 1973, the hospital agreed to provide the cable hook-up for the sets. However, the hospital has had difficulty in getting qualified personnel to do the work for less than $11 to $13 per hour.

Runnels Introduces Legislation To Bring Smokey Home Someday

If U. S. Rep. Harold Runnels has his way, "Smokey Bear," the U. S. Forest Service's fire prevention symbol will be returned to his Capitan birthplace when he is called to "that great honey tree in the sky."

Congressman Runnels has introduced legislation in the House of Representatives that would direct the return of the famous American bear to the area where he was found during a forest fire nearly 28 years ago.

Capitan Mayor J. T. Johnson, supported by his village of 439 residents, wants to establish a permanent memorial at the community's Smokey Bear Museum and Park.

"Recent news stories in the national media have pointed out that Smokey, at 28 years of age, is elderly in the terms of a bear's life and may not be with us much longer," said Congressman Runnels. This news was received in Capitan with considerable concern. One article in the area news media I feel expresses the feelings of the residents of the Capitan area. It said, "Though Smokey belongs to everyone in the United States, the people of Capitan love him just a little more'."

In remarks submitted into the Congressional Record, Congressman Runnels told the story of how a motherless cub with badly burned paws was found clinging to a tree during a fire in the Lincoln National Forest. The cub, first tagged with the name of "Hot Foot Teddy" was selected by the Forest Service as their new symbol of forest fire prevention. He was flown to Washington, D. C. and has resided in the National Zoo.

The Congressman's resolution, if approved by the Congress, would express . . . "that it is the sense of the Congress that when Smokey Bear goes to that great honey tree in the sky it is just and fitting that he be returned home to his place of birth, Capitan, New Mexico, for proper burial and a permanent memorial among the cool green mountains where he was born."

When Capitan began their drive to ensure the return of Smokey to his home, Johnson first contacted Sen. Pete Domenici to enlist his support in the drive.

Senator Domenici immediately contacted officials of the National Zoo and the U. S. Forest Service in Washington and was told that Smokey was still in good health and could have several more years to live. He was told that there was no need to plan for his death at this time.

When Runnels learned of the drive through The Ruidoso News, he determined that now is the time for action to prepare for the death of Smokey, which could come on suddenly. He introduced the resolution in the House of Representatives last Thursday and it was referred to the Committee on Agriculture which oversees the activities of the U. S. Forest Service. The Forest Service has served as the guardian of Smokey since he was moved from Capitan.

The resolution, designated House Concurrent Resolution 449, reads as follows:

Concurrent Resolution

Whereas Smokey the Bear, America's most famous bear, is nearing the end of his important life; and

Whereas this extraordinary black bear was found by forest fire fighters nearly twenty-eight years ago in the Capitan Mountains of New Mexico clinging with burned paws to a tree, a cub only weeks old whose mother had been killed in a raging forest fire;

Whereas, this lonely, frightened cub was cared for and nursed back to health by a Capitan family in the New Mexico tradition of love and affection for all of God's creatures; and

Whereas, this cub, first called Hot Foot Teddy, eventually took up residence in our Nation's Capital where he became world famous as the symbol of forest fire prevention for the United States Forest Service; and

Whereas this world famous Euaretos Americanus has come to be the most celebrated resident of the National Zoo in Washington, District of Columbia, has been immortalized in song and verse, and has earned a special place in the hearts of all Americans, young and old; and

Whereas the people of Capitan, New Mexico, have over the years contributed their time, their resources, and their efforts to the Smokey the Bear Museum and Park in honor of this renowned symbol of wildlife conservation; and

Whereas the children of Capitan and their Parents have begun a drive to have their bear returned to the Land of Enchantment: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That it is the sense of the Congress that when Smokey the Bear goes to that great honey tree in the sky it is just and fitting that he shall be returned home to his place of birth, Capitan, New Mexico for proper burial and a permanent memorial among the cool, green mountains where he was born.

Due to a lack of volunteers to help with the Crisis line decal drive, all of the Ruidoso businesses were not contacted during the specified decal drive days. Volunteers are still going to these businesses to ask for donations. All businesses who were going to mail in their donations, if you would do so it will help in the estimated amount the program has raised.

The H.O.P.E. crisis line is still in dire need of volunteers to work at the crisis line center. Anyone interested in being a volunteer, please contact Barbara Bowersock, 257-7300. Training sessions will be held by Miss Bowersock for the new volunteers.

JOHNSONBURG, PA., PRESS: "The lowly copper penny, the last United States coin with any intrinsic value, is apparently about to go. Because of inflation and the demand for copper, the value of the metal is now worth more than the penny. During World War II, pennies were made of zinc-coated steel, but these were all called in and destroyed. So it is planned that next year poor old Abe Lincoln, E Pluribus Unum and all, will appear in aluminum and there he will remain until aluminum, too, becomes more valuable than the penny. Then the Great White Father in Washington will probably resort to wampum."

DECA AWARDS — Ruidoso DECA students took two state awards and an honorable mention in competition with 400 other students at the New Mexico State DECA Leadership Conference held recently in Albuquerque. Winners ... Rue, 2nd place with Home F... Manual; DAnn Vyne, 3rd place with her Merchandising Information manual and Mike Seelbach, honorable mention in Advertising Layouts. Mike Seelbach was a candidate for State Vice-President; Lesah Parks and Sherri Arnett served as voting delegates. Miss Lynda Bates accompanied the Ruidoso students to Albuquerque.

School Scoop . . .

... of the third 9-weeks ... High School was ... March 25. Report cards come out Wednesday, the 27th. All students making the "A" or "B" honor roll should turn grades in to the office.

The R. H. S. Band has been taking time off from playing their instruments to follow along with Mr. Gooch in a little sing along exercise. This singing exercise is to help a student to determine the vocal range of each student's voice.

In addition, the students learn what note range there is by reading them on a written song. It was agreed that this sing ... of pace.

The cast of "The Miracle Worker" under the direction of Mr. ... Newsom, speech teacher, has made much progress in learning their lines.

Rick Mafit has been assigned to direct the blind girls in the play: Pam DiPaolo, Dawn Griffith, Kristi Perryman, Bobby Ann Ray and Kelly Taylor.

Other members of the Drama Club are designing costumes, scenery and props. The date and time of the production will be announced later.

Although Spring officially started last week, there are some conflicting attitudes directed at whether or not Spring is here. Around campus, one can observe the tell-tale signs of Spring such as sun-burnt faces and students avoiding classes to sit outside and soak in the sun. Feelings of spring-fever are evident as one can feel just a little bit lazy.

However, we can look at the other side of the situation due to the fact that it was cold and rainy on the official first day of Spring, and that the mountain received 14 inches of new snow. The sun bathers were disappointed and the skiers were elated. Over the weeknd, students went to White Sands and others went to Sierra Blanca. Now it is a little hard to tell which magic white stuff caused the sun-reddened faces around R. H. S.

National Honor Society has selected their new candidates for installation. Selection of membership is based on character, leadership, scholarship and service. All new members will be installed on April 9.

The Forestry class at R. H. S. is starting off the second nine weeks by studying maps and map reading. The class has already learned most of the map symbols and they will soon be ready to incorporate a compass in using maps. The course's instructor, Mr. Yost, is trying to arrange a field trip so that the students can show in the field what they have learned in class.

The Varsity boys' track team will travel to Jal this Friday to participate in the Gas Capital Relays. About 20 teams will be represented at the meet.

The Ruidoso High golf team will travel to Horizon Country Club for the Clint Invitational Golf Tournament, Friday, March 29. The team will consist of the five best qualifiers throughout the week.

The Lubbock Christian College Band was here Wednesday morning for a 40-minute show that started at 10:30 in the RHS Gym. The show was very entertaining to everyone in the audience.

Installation ceremonies for new National Honor Society members and recently elected 1974-75 Student Council officers will be held Tuesday, April 9, in the high school gym.

Students Attend Catholic Meet

Four students from Ruidoso High School and members of the Catholic Youth Organization attended a "Search" Conference in Artesia. Students attending the conference were Liz Garcia, Dorothy Rue, Dean Rue and Arlene Herrera.

During the conference held last weekend such activities were held as films, talks, singing, praying and general discussions. Forty-five students from all over the state of New Mexico attended the conference.

Girls Compete In First Meet

RHS girls will participate in their first track meet in Carrizozo, March 30.

The 18 girls will compete in the following events: the 50, 100, 220 and 440 yard dash, the 880 yard run, 220, 440 and 880 yard relays, the 880 medley relay, and hurdles in 50, 80, and 100 yards.

In field events they will compete in the shotput, and baseball and discus throws; also, the long jump, high jump, and the standing and running jumps.

Scholarships Offered Graduating Seniors

Scholarships from various colleges and universities are very important to interested seniors who plan to attend college next fall. The following scholarships have a deadline date of April 1; therefore, it is necessary to inform these graduating seniors of possible scholarships for which they may be eligible. All scholarship applications may be obtained at the counselor's office.

New Mexico State University

Physical Science Laboratory Scholarship:

The Physical Science Laboratory Scholarships are awarded to high school graduates who have a keen interest in the physical sciences, mathematics, engineering, ... administration ... other ... in the top 10 percent of their class are eligible for these $200 scholarships.

This PSL Scholarship requires a copy of the student's high school transcript, completed application for freshman scholarships, and the essay requested in this questionaire.

Each applicant must maintain at least a "C" average, (2.000) in order for this scholarship to be continued. The student must be enrolled full time in the area for which the scholarship is awarded for the first year. The successful applicants are not generally eligible for the NMSU scholarships or cooperative programs during the freshman year. Seniors must choose their proposed major with care.

Applications must be sent to: PSL Scholarship Committee, Box 3569, New Mexico State University, Las Cruces, New Mexico 88003.

Designated Academic Opportunity Scholarship:

The new Designated Academic Opportunity Scholarship for the College of Engineering is a program to help additional women and ethnic minority students to enroll in engineering studies.

These scholarships, sponsored by various industries employing engineering graduates from NMSU, will be available for applicants in the upper one-third of their class, have an ACT composite score of 19, and for those showing academic promise.

This sholarship will pay for the applicant's in-state tuition for their freshman year plus employ them with a summer job with a sponsoring industrial concern.

An ACT or PCS Needs Analysis form must be submitted to New Mexico State University. These scholarship applications must be mailed to: Dean of Engineering, New Mexico State University, Box 3449, Las Cruces, New Mexico 88003.

State Of New Mexico

Basic Educational Opportunity Grants:

A Basic Educational Opportunity Grant is being offered by the Federal Government in which the deadline has been extended from February 1 to April 1, 1974. These individual awards for the 1973-74 school year are averaging $260 with a maximum of $450.

To apply for a Basic Grant for the 1973-74 academic year, an "Application for Determination of Expected Family Contribution" must be obtained, filed out, and mailed to P. O. Box B, Iowa City, Iowa 52240. After notification as to his family's expected contribution, the applicant must notify the school of his choice, which calculates the amount of the Basic Grant to which he is entitled.

Other forms of federal student assistance, such as Supplemental Education Opportunity Grants, College Work-Study, National Direct Student and Guaranteed Student Loans, may be available in addition to Basic Grants. Receipt of a Basic Grant in no way limits a student's chances to obtain other financial assistance as long as that student needs additional assisance to pursue postsecondary education.

New Program Now In Progress by Office Occupations Class

The Intensive Clerical Office Class, taught by Miss Jean Spurlock, has started a new program on position simulation. The position simulation prepares the students for actual office positions. It consists of 20 hours of work, and began March 11.

The students are in the following positions: Lisa Winslow and Darlene Joyce, Legal Secretaries for Legal Aid Society; Theresa Gochenour, City Clerk; Debbie McDaniel and Barbara Richardson, Utility Clerks; and Figgy Griego, Clerk-Typist for the Albuquerque Technical-Vocational Institute.

The program prepares the students for the Lester-Hill Corporation program, which will begin soon.

Youth Week Slated By First Baptists

Sunday, March 31 will mark the beginning of Youth Week for the Ruidoso First Baptist Church. The week will begin with local youth involved in church services — Eddie Hernandez of Alamogordo will be leading the 11 a.m. worship service and a special service will be held Wednesday evening with youth leadership at 7 p.m.

The "One Way Singers" from Carrollton, Texas, will present a concert Saturday, April 6 at 7 p.m. and will be in charge of church services on Sunday, April 7. A concert will also be given at the Ruidoso High School Gym Monday, April 8 at 7 p.m.

Fellowships will be held after the Saturday and Sunday services and all area youth are invited to attend.

Rick Tate will serve as youth pastor during this special week.

Although the actual dates set for the 1949 Clean-Up Campaign for the Village of Ruidoso were April 1-15, work going on all up and down the canyon is beginning to "show", and perhaps the most noticeable and encouraging improvement is the repair work being done on the main canyon road by the State Highway Department, assisted by Pat Farrar, road commissioner for the Village, and employees of the city.

The road is being widened in downtown Ruidoso and laid out to provide for adequate drainage.

1974 Cheerleading Clinic Begins

Cheerleading Clinic will begin Monday, April 1, in the High School gym. Clinic will start everyday at 4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. for training girls in the cheerleading routines.

There are approximately 55 girls, sixth grade through eleventh grade signed up for the clinic. The clinic will last until Tuesday, April 9. Tryouts will be held in the gym the following Wednesday morning. The Varsity cheerleaders, along with the cheerleading sponsors will conduct the clinic.

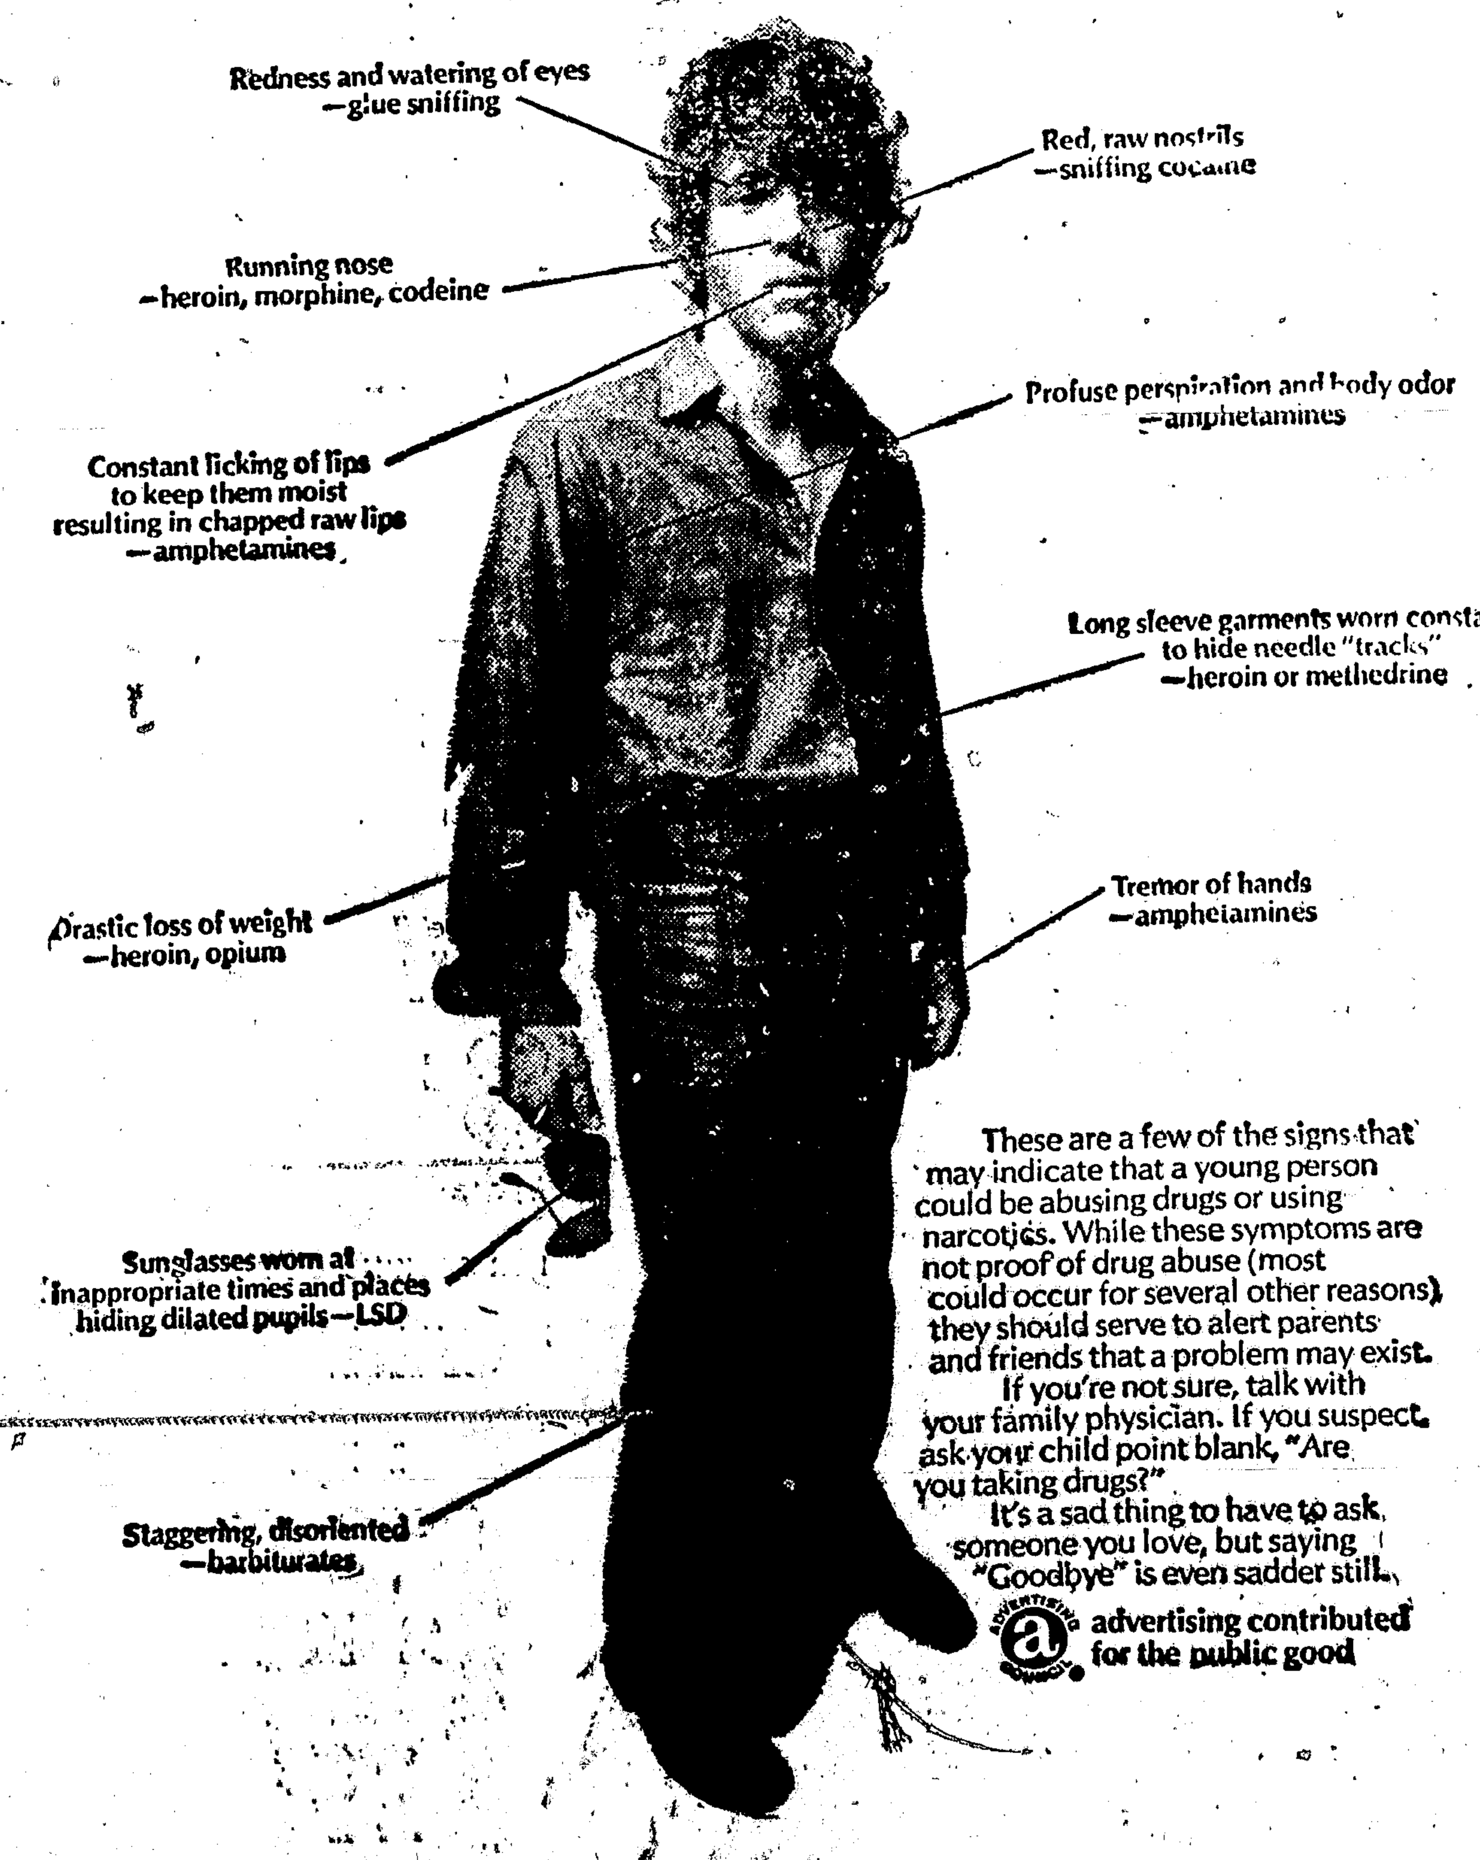
Diagram of a drug abuser



These are a few of the signs that may indicate that a young person could be abusing drugs or using narcotics. While these symptoms are not proof of drug abuse (most could occur for several other reasons), they should serve to alert parents and friends that a problem may exist.
If you're not sure, talk with your family physician. If you suspect, ask your child point blank, "Are you taking drugs?"
It's a sad thing to have to ask someone you love, but saying "Goodbye" is even sadder still.

High Sides

By HARLAN EVERETT

I was sure glad to hear from Congressman Harold Runnells' office last week that he had gone ahead and introduced legislation to return Smokey Bear to his birthplace in Capitan when he dies.

Senator Pete Domenici had been told by the National Zoo and Forest Service that Smokey should live for several more years and he apparently decided against taking any action now.

That's fine. But with Congress' past record, I don't think that it is the way to go. If we wait until Smokey gets sick and dies to introduce the necessary legislation, he'd probably be in the ground for months before the measure got out of committee and approved. And I'd guess that that would probably be somewhere near the National Zoo or the Forest Service's nerve center back there on the Potomac.

Now is the time to start planning and I think it's great that Rep. Runnels took action now. Heck, even if Smokey does live for two years or more, I'm not that confident that Congress would get around to his legislation by then.

But more important, the people of Capitan should know if Smokey is going to get to come home to rest sometime before. If they are going to spend their own money, as well as the state's, for a fitting memorial to Smokey, they need both time and the assurance that he will be brought back.

I'm one hundred percent behind the people of Capitan in this project and hope this whole thing is finalized soon so the town can begin preparing for the return of an old friend.

Some of you are probably wondering by now, why, with all of the troubles we have now, I'm so concerned about why we get Smokey Bear back to Lincoln County.

Well, since long ago I totally lost confidence in big, centralized government as the best way to run our country, I have been waging my own small war to return self-determination and self-confidence to the people of this super country.

This self-determination and self-confidence has been gradually and deeply eroded, in my opinion since the 1930's, by the ability of our leaders to take both power and wealth away from states, counties and municipalities by taxation and legislation. These offiicals, both elected and non-elected bureaucrats, as well as a few crusaders such as Ralph Nader, who determine what is best for us all and then force it upon us via the courts, have been hoarding all of this power in Washington and divvying it back out to us in small doses.

It seems that a great number of us now look to Washington in much the same way a small child looks to his mother and father for everything that he needs to live, as well as wisdom. This really bugs me when we are the very source of that power and wealth. Yet, we have had it taken from us for so long that we have forgotten the source.

Smokey Bear has become important, and in line with the current thinking of our leaders, everything that is important belongs in Washington; let the little people of the country begin thinking that they, too, are imporant because they get some of these things back.

Washington is already filled with probably more than a million people living off us and billions of dollars worth of buildings we have paid for. In my little war, if everything has to flow to Washington, I would like to see the channel work in both directions. At the same time, let's work, and support those who are working to slow down that flow to Washington.

The backbone and strength of this greatest of all nations is in the people. It is not in "non-leaders" who devote their total energies to hounding a man from our highest office by innuendo and a cooperative media.

Let's get some of our confidence back and demand some leadership and self-government from our leaders, or let's replace them with some who will help us grow stronger instead of weaker.

The other evening, watching a network newscast, I got so mad I could hardly see straight.

For at least 28 minutes of a 30-minute newscast, I was bombarded by a procession of hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of government salaried personnel, both elected and hired, who had been meticulously searching for ways to discredit the president with the public.

One had scrutinized GAO files to discover how much money had been spent in the vicinity of the Western White House. He then went on for several minutes to imply how irresponsibly it had been spent, without ever giving specifics.

I wonder why he didn't just go ahead and include the payroll from the huge Camp Pendleton Marine Base adjacent to the home since Marines are sometimes put on standby for riot control. He well might have.

I also heard reports from endless government lawyers, detectives and congressmen who had been going over files, tapes, tax returns, scraps of paper and "unidentified sources" and were real close to finding something "really big" that is going to cause the President to resign in a rush.

Even though I think I live pretty well within the law, I'm afraid that I would be in jail for the rest of my life by now if these boys would check me as close as they are checking President Nixon.

I get almost as mad at the media for their coverage as I do with the politicians who have now got their necks out so far, that they have to get Nixon to resign at any cost.

I can't believe that the networks and wire services can find nothing else to do but sit around Washington waiting for these conspirators to throw them a tasty morsel like a stray cat waiting outside for the chicken bones.

If the media isn't in on this political muckracking scheme, they have either gotten so lazy that they prefer to just sit around ouside offices waiting for someone to toss them more scandal, or else their entire staff is on vacation. There are certainly plenty of people who seemingly would go to any length with implication and innuendo just to keep the coals hot and the President's rating low.

If the case is so strong against the President, why don't they have the confidence to leave it to the wisdom of our judicial system. A system which has had a dynamic impact in creating change in our country? Why do they insist on trying the myriad cases in the media where there is no presiding judge to determine fairness and legality and seldom a defense attorney to object?

Ruidosoan Earns NMSU B. S. Degree

New Mexico State University has awarded 502 degrees to students who completed degree requirements during the fall semester and the interim session at the university.

The graduates, members of the class of 1974, will be recognized during the 81st annual commencement exercises May 11.

One hundred-one of the graduates who received bachelor's degrees earned them with honors by maintaining a 3.2 of a possible 4.0 overall gradepoint average. Fourteen were graduated with high honors, which designates an overall gradepoint average of 3.75 to 3.9. Seven students received degrees with highest honors by maintaining at least a 3.9 overall gradepoint average. Four students earning associates degrees were named meritorius graduates for having earned at least a 3.2 average in their last 45 credit hours at NMSU.

In addition, 14 students received doctorate degrees.

New Mexico State University is a land grant college founded in 1888 with a current enrollment of more than 9,000 students on its main campus in Las Cruces. An additional 2,000 students attend the university's four branches. NMSU has Colleges of Agriculture and Home Economics, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration and Economics, Education, and Engineering, and a Graduate School.

Receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in Agriculture was Harry White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lineol White of Ruidoso.

Saturday Morning Nominations Slated For Booster Meet

According to Bill Elliott, president of the Warrior Booster Club, a report from the nominating committee will be given at the regular meeting slated for tonight (Thursday) and nominations will be called from the floor.

Names to be placed in nomination will be: president, Bill Elliott; vice president, Charles McClellan; secretary, Laura Durham; treasurer, Ruth McGuire; and for directors, Penta Pool, Hoyt Hardwick and Max McCoy.

Officers will probably be elected at the next regular meeting following the nomination and will assume their offices immediately after the All-Sports Banquet, which is slated for April 30 at the Chaparral Motor Hotel.

The High School Athletic Department will act as advisors to the club.

Booster club members and other interested parties are urged to attend this meet.

John Bigbee
State Rep. Candidate District 50

Re-Election Sought By John Bigbee To Legislature Post

John Bigbee, now serving his third term as State Representative of District 50, has announced his intention of seeking re-election to that post on the Republican ticket, subject to the June 4 primary election.

Bigbee, a member of the Land Use Advisory Council, which is studying the possibilities of legislation on land use, notes that he feels that this legislation will be of vital importance to land owners in the state. He is also pushing for the opening of all meetings of legislators to the public.

He owns and operates a ranch at Encino and his three children — twin daughters, Diane and Amy, and son Matt—attended school there. His wife, Povy, attends the legislature with him and assists him in many areas, although she is not a paid staff member.

Bigbee is a member of the board of a local NRCD and serves on the Board of Directors of the Torrance County Cattlegrowers Association.

District 50 consists of portions of Torrance, DeBaca and Lincoln Counties and all of Guadalupe County.

Paul Pacheco
For Lincoln County Commissioner

Pacheco Announces For Commission Post

In making my candidacy for re-election as County Commissioner of District One a matter of public record let me review some of the highlights this past year.

Lincoln County has now entered into Class C category. No longer are we to be considered one of the smaller counties. Along with the throes of growing pains have come the demands for additional services.

It became apparent after the first few weeks that the job of administering the business of the county on a day to day basis was imperative. With this in mind the Board of County Commissioners after considerable deliberation hired a county manager. In this selection we were fortunate to find someone with the qualifications that exceeded our expectations. It was also gratifying to fill this position with one of our own county residents.

One of the developments that has brought forth strong responses has been the subdivision regulations. Lincoln County has adopted regulations that concur with the Act passed by the legislature and is now law. It is a sincere belief on my part that the subdivision regulations, though not perfect, will ultimately benefit our entire State for decades to come.

All of us are aware of the reappraisal program and the problems which have affected each and every county as a result. The transition has not been easy for our county. It is also well to remember that whatever the undertaking the results are no better than the effort and input that goes into it. In this respect I would like to mention that in our county, reappraisal was already a fact before the present Board of County Commissioners took office.

In closing let me compliment the Planning and Zoning Committee for the interest they have shown in a trying and hard task which is assigned to them. To the Road Department I would like to impart the good feeling of a job well done.

Bill Payne
For Magistrate Division 1

Bill Payne Seeks Re-election As Magistrate, Div. 1

Bill G. Payne, Carrizozo, announces that he shall seek re-election for the office of Lincoln County Magistrate, Division 1. He was elected in 1970 assuming office January 1, 1971. He is a Democrat.

Payne is a native of Arkansas, a graduate of the University of Missouri with a B. A. Degree in Political Science and a J.D. Degree in Law. He has practiced law in Alamogordo and Carrizozo since graduation from Law School in 1964. He served Lincoln and Otero Counties in the District Attorney's Office in 1966-1970. He has been a resident of Carrizozo for six years.

His wife, Mary Ellen, is the Extension Home Economist for Lincoln County. They have 3 children and are members of the St. Rita Catholic Church in Carrizozo.

Payne is active in community affairs, having served as President of the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce and the Carrizozo Rotary Club. Payne was recently elected Mayor of Carrizozo.

For New Mexico State Senator

Conway Announces For Re-Election to State Senate

State Senator John E. Conway, Republican, Otero and Lincoln Counties, today announced that he would be a candidate for re-election to the New Mexico State Senate, District 39, subject to the Republican primary. Senator Conway is the Minority Floor Leader.

Conway was elected to the State Senate in 1970 and was chosen by his colleagues as Minority Floor Leader in 1972. He is the Chairman of the New Mexico Judicial Council and serves on the Judiciary and Corporation Committees. During 1972, he was the Vice-Chairman of the Interim Committee on Equal Rights and presently serves on two Interim Committees, the Probate Code and Insurance Study.

In making his announcement, Senator Conway said, "I have appreciated the opportunity to represent the people in my district for the past four years. I believe that I have voted their feelings in Santa Fe and I sincerely hope that I will be re-elected to a second term."

James Sanchez Seeks Legislative Post

James Sanchez, 33, a lifelong resident of Lincoln County, has announced that he will seek the Republican nomination for New Mexico House of Representatives, District 50, in the June Primary election. Sanchez is one of a family of seven children, six of whom earned degrees while working their way through college.

Sanchez now serves as head of the Student Counseling Department of Ruidoso High School and Junior High School and is Vocational Education Coordinator for the Ruidoso School District. He also operates a farm and apple orchard in the Hondo Valley.

He says, in making his announcement, "I have been very interested in serving in the New Mexico House of Representatives for a number of years. Over six months ago, after seriously considering the elective position in light of my own familiarity of District 50, the people, the opportunities for the youth, the employment status and the tourist industry that are so similar within the district, I decided to seek the office and do my best to serve the people.

"During the last several months I have traveled throughout the district and have made a concentrated research study within the district regarding the various types of employment and businesses. I feel an honest closeness to the people who work in the fields, on the farms and ranches and with those in the tourist industry; as I, too, have worked in the fields, on the farms and ranches and likewise in the tourist industry," said Sanchez.

James Sanchez
For Representative District 50

Sanchez attended both the Ruidoso and Hondo School systems and was graduated from Hondo High School in 1959. He attended New Mexico Highlands University and earned an Associate Bachelor of Science degree in Electrical Technology in 1961. Working his way through college, he earned his electrician journeyman status, which he still retains.

He earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in Industrial Education from Highlands in 1966 and was immediately employed by the Ruidoso School District. From 1966 to 1970 he served as both teacher and athletic coach.

In 1970 Sanchez returned to college at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, earned his Master's Degree in Psychology, Guidance and Counseling in 1971 and returned to the Ruidoso School District, where he has served since in his present capacity.

He is a commissioned officer in the Army Reserve, in which he has served for the past ten years; a member of both the New Mexico Counseling Association and the New Mexico Psychological and Guidance Association; a member of the Board of Directors of H. O. P. E. (Telephone Crisis Line for drug control and other related problems) and also a professional consultant for the Fort Stanton Institution.

Sanchez has also served as a counselor for men in the Project New-Gate for the New Mexico State Penitentiary.

In concluding his remarks, Sanchez said, "I have been in public service most of my adult life and want to continue. My interests are in education, agriculture, and tourism, which I earnestly feel are also of major concern to the communities that make up District 50."

Sanchez is the son of Mrs. Sam Sanchez and the late Sam Sanchez of the Hondo Valley.

HOSPITAL COUNCIL MEET — Hospital officials and administrators in the Southern New Mexico Hospital Council (SNMHC) met last week at the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley General Hospital. In addition to routine business of the council and reports from the New Mexico Hospital Association (NMHA), discussion at the meeting centered around the Economic Stabilization Program and the Cost of Living Council and their effects on area hospitals. Participating in the meeting were (clockwise from left) Charles Thomas, Eastern New Mexico Medical Center in Roswell and president of the NMHA; Bob Branks, Memorial Hospital in Clovis; John Carr, Carrie Tingley Hospital in Truth or Consequences; John Mills, Carlsbad Regional Medical Center and secretary of the SNMHC; Mike Kirk, Roosevelt General Hospital in Portales and president of the SNMHC; Dan Scott, assistant executive director of the NMHA from Albuquerque; T. D. Smith, Gerald Champion Memorial Hospital in Alamogordo; Roland Walsh, Ruidoso-Hondo Valley General Hospital and president-elect of the NMHA, and Jack Newsom, Memorial Osteopathic Hospital in Roswell and president-elect of the SNMHC.

Editor, Ruidoso News

Dear Sir:

It's a tragic thing to watch a wonderful, clear, splashing, noisy stream lose its sparkle. It is happening here — to our Ruidoso River. If you don't believe me, go down the valley and look at it. A few years ago, barring drouth and an occasional raging flood which turned it into a monster, that stream could have rivaled a Coors commercial. Now, it is green—choking with moss. Instead of rocks, I saw half an orange peel go floating by.

Apparently, the only real cure would be to do away with people — and being a people myself, I'm not for that.

Sewer systems and properly constructed septic tanks help; and we need to push the construction of a new, large sewer system to serve both Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs. At least that much more of the stream would not be contaminated. However, I'm told that while sewer systems purify the water, they cannot take out the nutrients which encourage the growth of algae. The effluent from the sewer system would be great for irrigating farms, or for recreational use. I believe this effluent belongs to Ruidoso, so the possibility of diverting it for some such purpose might be worth looking into. If it were put into a lake, it would be wonderful if science could devise a way of precipitating the nutrients out for use as fertilizer and letting the non-polluting water go on down the stream. If used for agriculture, maybe it could be exchanged for a water right.

Concerning detergents, phosphates make the moss grow. Borax and other ingredients, I understand, are bad in their own way. So — I'm going to NOT be loyal to one detergent because "my mother and my grandmother used it," but skip around among all of them — especially those which claim to be bio-degradable. If it does any good, it may be only a "drop in the bucket," but without that first drop —

People below the sewer system need to be sure they are not contaminating the stream; and if they do it willfully, they need to be prosecuted. Raw sewage and things dumped in for the water to carry off must not be tolerated.

If all the land owners, with the possible help of service clubs in Ruidoso would rake the moss out — it would be back again right away. (One of the land owners tried it). The moss would be a fine, probably inexhaustible source of fertilizer. Maybe someone would like to go in the business?

Anyway, this is something about which we should all be concerned. If we, who may be upstream from where the effects of pollution are showing, don't care, we may find ourselves downstream from an uncaring upstreamer some day — and we'll deserve it.

Sincerely,

Emadair Jones

COUNTY OF LINCOLN ACCOUNTANTS' COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

We have examined the financial statements of the County of Lincoln, New Mexico for the year ended June 30, 1973. As part of our examination we reviewed and tested the agency's system of internal control to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the system as required by generally accepted auditing standards and regulations of the New Mexico State Auditor.

Our study and evaluation of the agency's system of internal control for the year ended June 30, 1973, was not designed for the purpose of expressing an opinion on internal control and it would not necessarily disclose all weaknesses in the system. Our test examination did not disclose any items, in our opinion, requiring disclosure in this report.

While our examination was made primarily for the purpose of formulating our opinion on the current year's financial statements, the supplemental data as presented in the schedules has been subjected to the same auditing procedures and in our opinion are stated fairly in all material respects when considered in conjunction with all financial statements and resulting opinion thereon taken as a whole.

REVENUES AND EXPENDITURES — Revenues have been properly accounted for. We recommend that the County Treasurer distribute "Taxes Paid Under Protest" 90 days after date of receipt unless court action has been taken by the payor. We observed that the exenditures were made in accordance with statutes covering purchasing and vouchering of claims, with the exception of other receivables, as shown on Schedule 7, representing overpayments of per-diem caused by a misunderstanding of the schedule of hours for reimbursement and payment for out-of-state travel to El Paso, Texas without state approval.

FINANCIAL RECORDS, FINANCIAL REPORTING AND BUDGETARY CONTROLS—We found the financial records, financial reporting and budgetary controls to be accurate, functional and meeting requirements.

INTERNAL ACCOUNTING CONTROL — The system of internal accounting control is adequate and it is functioning effectively.

RECONCILATION WITH FISCAL OFFICE — The financial records and reports reconcile with the County Treasurer and bank depository records for all funds. We encountered some difficulty in the reconciliation of general county funds cash balances. The previous audit report did not include all warrants outstanding, and charged to the budget of that year. We reflect these amounts on Schedule 2 prior to reporting transaction of the year under audit in this report. We noted that there were adequate budget balances, by fund, in the prior years to cover these disbursements.

COMPLIANCE WITH STATUTES, LAWS, RULES AND REGULATIONS — We believe the county to be in compliance with statutes, laws, rules and regulations under which they are functioning.

SIGNIFICANT VARIATIONS IN FINANCIAL ACCOUNTS — There were no significant variations in financial accounts, other than stated above in the reconciliation of general county funds balances for the prior year.

FRAUD AND DISHONESTY — The tests that we made of the accounting records did not show any evidence of fraud or dishonesty.

EFFICIENCY IN FINANCIAL OPERATIONS AND MANAGEMENT — We did not notice any lack of efficiency in financial operations and management of the schools.

We held an exit conference with the County Clerk, Mrs. Barbara Lovelace and County Manager H. T. Fillingim, Jr.

MOVILLE, IOWA, RECORD: "All you hear these days is impeachment and speculation as to when the President is going to resign or be forced to resign if certain ... (politicians) have their way. It looks to us like the time and tongue-wagging going into Watergate could be used to promote more essential matters that need pertinent attention. Between the rumors and tall tales being told by both sides ... you don't know who to believe these days!"

Peril At The Bank

Henrietta was waiting to cash a check at the neighborhood bank when a man in the next line began firing a pistol. One of the bullets struck her in the leg. Later, after getting more facts, she decided she was entitled to collect damages from the bank.

"It was a holdup," Henrietta explained in a court hearing, "and the man ordered the teller not to move. Instead of obeying, the teller dived down behind the counter. That is when the holdup man started to shoot. If the teller had not panicked, I would not have been injured. And a bank is legally liable for the negligent acts of its employees."

But the court turned down her claim, refusing to condemn the teller for his instinctive reaction.

"His life was in jeopardy," said the court. "He cannot be held to perfect judgment under the circumstances."

Although a bank does owe extraordinary care for the safety of your money, it owes only ordinary care for the safety of your person. If you get hurt on the bank's premises, you cannot collect damages unless you can prove negligence.

Thus, in a more everyday situation, a bank was held not liable to a man who slipped on its front step. The step, although somewhat worn, was no more hazardous than one might encounter almost anywhere.

Of course, reasonable precautions must be taken. In another holdup case, a man with a bomb told bank officials he would blow the place up if they did not hand over $10,000.

They managed to stall him for almost 20 minutes. Yet, they neglected to warn an unsuspecting customer to get out of harm's way.

Finally the bomb did go off, injuring the customer. In due course, a court held the bank liable. The court said even though the bank was not to blame for the bombing, it was indeed to blame for not giving the customer fair warning of his peril.

Your Social Security

"Monthly social security benefits will be increased in two steps, starting with checks which will be delivered April 3," James Flemons, social security claims representative, stated today.

The overall increase will amount to 11 percent for most beneficiaries. Seven percent of that will be included in the April 3 checks and the other four percent will be included in the July 3 checks.

"People getting social security don't have to do anything to get the higher payments," Flemons stressed. "The increase will be added to the checks automatically."

The amount of yearly earnings subject to social security deductions has been increased from the first $10,800 to the first $13,200 for 1974. People earning over $10,800 will pay more in deductions this year, but they also can expect higher social security benefits in the future as a result.

Flemons may be contacted at the Ruidoso City Hall on April 9 from 10 to noon and 1 to 2 p.m.

WRESTLING TOURNEY — It began with Nob Hill students going to the high school to see a wrestling match and getting so enthusiastic that Coach Phil Yost decided to give the youngsters some pointers. It ended with a wrestling tournament for fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh graders held March 16. Thirty-seven youngsters were entered in the tournament. (Ruidoso News Photo)

Toll Free "Hotline" Slated by DOD

Travelers planning to drive in New Mexico this year will have their plans simplified thanks to a new hotline being installed by the Tourist Division of the New Mexico Department of Development.

Tourist Director Fabian Chavez announced that starting on April 1, prospective tourists in any part of the United States may call toll free to New Mexico to get factual, up-to-the-minute information on where they can buy gasoline in the state.

"This is a cooperative effort with such organizations as the New Mexico Hotel-Motel Association, the New Mexico Restaurant Association, the New Mexico AAA and the Holiday Inns of America," Chavez said.

"These organizations and the Department of Development will compile current information on the gasoline situation. A member of our staff will man the hotline during working hours and prepare a taped answer for nights and weekends."

The toll free number to New Mexico, which will go into operation on April 1, will be 1-800-545-9876, Chavez said.

"Although the principal use of the line will be to give information on gasoline supplies," Chavez said, "we will also be able to give tourist information about upcoming festivals, rodeos and other events. And in the winter we can give up-to-the-minute reports on ski conditions."

Chavez said that he is in the process of contacting tourist divisions in the states surrounding New Mexico in order to discuss the possibility of setting up a regional network.

"What good is it for a motorist to call from California and ask how our gas situation is if he can't get gas in Arizona?" Chavez asked.

"Governor Bruce King recognizes the importance of the tourist industry to New Mexico," Chavez said, "and he has established a program of management of our fuel supplies to assist the industry should any shortages occur."

The SILVER LINING

by DANIEL A. STORM

Snow on the First Day of Spring

You might remember that last time I told you that the hill out in front of the house, just to the south — I call this the "Winter Sunrise Hill" because this is where the glorious sun of winter first shines into the vale; this hill was full of robins the day before the first day of spring. They were singing all kinds of songs, and I could not tell what kind of weather they were forecasting.

It turned out that they were telling us that all kinds of weather was on the way. Toward evening here came sleet, rain, and freezing mist out of the north. Then in the morning, here was a beautiful snow welcoming in the first day of Spring.

So the robins were right, after all. And the old saying: "The bringer of good news is always welcome," comes in here. The moisture was a tremendous help, and already by now — a week later — many a spring flower is smiling up from amongst the new grass. One of the most beloved of the early Spring flowers is the Mountain Daisy, white with petals touched with red. They arrive early and stay with us most all summer. This same little flower is to be seen over hill and dale and by the wayside all over America and in many places across the water -- England, Scotland, Germany, Sweden, Norway, Finland, and most any place where there are four seasons.

Here are a few lines from the poem, "To a Mountain Daisy," by Robert Burns.

"Cauld blew bitter-biting north
Upon thy early, humble birth;
Yet cheerfully thou glinted forth
Amid the storm.
Scarce reared above the parent-Earth
Thy tender form."

A Summer of Flowers

I do not know why, but something tells me we are going to have some early moisture and a very green summer. I have been listening closely to my weather forecasters, the robins; and I thought I heard them saying something about rain.

Also the very earliest flowers call the tunes for the ones that bloom later on in the summer. The dandelion, spring daisy, wild verbena and other advance guards of the flower world are showing a lot of strength and color; and this sets the pattern for the flowers that show their colors on through the summer and fall.

We have some of the favorite flowers of the world here in Lincoln County and a very wide variety — all the way from the yucca and cactus flower in the lower reaches of the slope, up to the Scotch Blue Bell, Violet, Forget-Me-Not and the "Fairy Flax" on high.

"Blue were her eyes
As the Fairy Flax"

This is from the poem, "The Wreck of the Hesperus" by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. And I would like to bring you just a few lines from the poem, "Flowers," by the same beloved poet.

"Everywhere about us they are glowing,
Some like stars to tell us Spring is born;
Others, their blue eyes with tears o'erflowing,
Like Ruth among the golden corn.
"In all places, then, and in all seasons,
Flowers expand their light and soul-like wings,
Teaching us by most persuasive reasons,
How akin they are to human things.
"And with child-like, credulous affection
We behold their tender buds expand;
Emblems of our own great resurrection,
Emblems of the bright and better land."

A message from Jack Frost

Dear Friends Of Lincoln County

In response to numerous requests and after consulting with my people in Anchorage, Valdez, and Nome, Alaska — I was able to drop you a little tid-bit of snow the other day. The people in these regions felt they had enough snow to do them a while.

They would like to make a little trade with you folks — in the form of some of your warm, sunny New Mexico weather, some time, I hope this meets with your approval.

I am not sure how many visits I will make down your way this spring, but rest assured that I will do all in my power to see that you have a good summer

With every good wish, I remain, yours,
ever the same,

Carrizozo Lions Give 25 Year Award To Charter Member

L. Z. Manire was guest of honor at the regular meeting of the Lions Club of Carrizozo March 19, at the Recreation Center.

Charles Pfingsten, Zone Chairman, was master of ceremonies and presented a 25-year award to Mr. Manire, who was one of the original members of the Carrizozo Lions Club. Mr. Manire served as secretary for the club 23 of the 25 years of his membership.

The Carrizozo Lions Club was also presented with a 25-Year Award from the Lions International, the world's largest service club.

A steak dinner was served to the members and guests by the Recreation Center. Entertainment was provided by a Mariachi Band from Capitan and Old Mexico.

After dinner was served the doors were opened to the public to enjoy the lively music of the band.

Carrizozo Marine Receives Promotion

Pfc. William W. Wetzel, son of Mrs. C. L. Wetzel of Carrizozo, N. M., was promoted to his present rank at the U. S. Marine Corps Air Station in Iwakuni, Japan.

A 1973 graduate of Carrizozo High School, he joined the Marine Corps in August 1973.

N. M. Youths Offered Environmental Jobs

New Mexico young people concerned about their natural environment will have an opportunity to do something about it this summer.

The U. S. Youth Conservation Corps will employ 177 young men and women for eight weeks to work on conservation-type projects on Federal and State properties. As part of this experience, the young people will also receive 80 hours of specialized environmental education.

Interested young people are urged to contact their high school counselors or the local office of the New Mexico Employment Security Commission for further information.

About one-third of the young people will have the opportunity to live and work in a resident, co-ed camp situation. These camps will be operated by the U. S. Department of the Interior's Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife at Dexter and the Bureau of Land Management at Las Cruces and Socorro.

Enrollees in these camp programs will be paid $308 for the eight-week experience. The larger number of young people will live at home and work on nearby projects in National Forests and New Mexico State Parks. They will be paid slightly more since they will not be provided food and housing.

The U. S. Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture will operate non-resident camps in Carson, Cibola, Lincoln and Santa Fe National Forests.

The New Mexico Parks and Recreation Commission will have young people working in Bottomless Lake, Carlsbad Zoological/Botanical, Coyote Creek, Elephant Butte Lake, Heron, Kit Carson, Morphy Lake, Rio Grande Gorge, Santa Fe River, Storrie Lake, and Villanueva State Parks.

4-H Horse Project Rating Clinic Set In Lincoln April 7

Lincoln County 4-H Horse Project members will have their first meeting April 7, at 10 a.m. at Lincoln. The purpose of this clinic is to rate the 4-H members as beginning horsemen, intermediate horsemen or advanced horsemen according to their ability.

Basic training for beginners will be given along with demonstrations for horsemen of all ages and levels of advancement. Mrs. Barbara Bird of Hondo and Mrs. JoAnn Evans of Lincoln will give the demonstrations and basic training. They have ridden and shown in both English and Western classes throughout the Southwest with countless trophies and honors to their names. They have given their time to the 4-H youngsters of Lincoln County to help develop a 4-H riding club and train the horse lover in the proper control and training of the horse.

Each participating horse group in Lincoln County will host a 4-H horse show of activity in their area during the year. The purpose of this club is to establish a county horse project throughout Lincoln County in which all the 4-H riders in the county will be able to get together and participate.

After the instruction session and riding clinic the riders will enjoy a playday. There will be a balloon race, egg-spoon race and dollar race along with other games. All boys and girls between ages 9-19 are invited to come to Lincoln to participate on April 7. They may join their local 4-H club at the same time. For further information concerning the rating clinic for horseback riding and playday, call JoAnn Evans (Hondo) 653-4688 or County Agent's Office, Carrizozo, 648-2471.

"BALLOON" MORTGAGES

We've come a long way in mortgage financing, and the homeowner should be rather grateful. During the early 1930's many homeowners lost their homes because they were unable to meet the mortgage payments. Many of these mortgages were of the straight term, or "balloon" type, characterized by level payment of interest for three to five years, with the payment of the balance of the entire loan on a certain future date. Many borrowers were forced to request extension of payments, were refused and lost their homes.

The unhappy experience of the Depression brought about a great change in the field of mortgage financing. For one thing, "balloon" mortgages are gone. Today, most mortgage loans are of the amortizing or self-liquidating type. Level monthly payments are used to pay BOTH the principal and interest. After the final monthly payment is made, there is no balance, and the home is owned free and clear. Hats off to the mortgage lenders!

The center also has satellite branches in Carrizozo, Capitan-Lincoln and the Hondo Valley and operates on a system of reciprocating programs between them.

MRS. B—

By CECELIA BARRON

Did you ever wonder where all of our medicines came from; or the many chemicals that are used in various commercial products? Mrs. Bratton was so kind to bring me one of the Crescent books on herbs and other medicinal plants. It would take days to name the many plants, seeds and rhizomes that are beneficial to mankind; therefore I will discuss only a few, by their common name. Most plants that are used for medicine are not edible, in fact some are quite poisonous, such as:

The yew and a type of juniper tree are poisonous.

A plant called cuckoopint or lords-and-ladies is also poisonous.

The autumn crocus is toxic and should not be used as a herbal remedy.

The different varieties of oleander must be regarded with caution, but all parts of the plant are used as a treatment for the heart.

Purple foxglove supplies digitalis, which is a powerful drug in treatment of the heart, but when used over a long period of time, digitalis can have a toxic effect. The roots of the lily of the valley can be dried and ground into powder, which has the same effect on a weak heart as digitalis.

All parts of the hemlock plant are poisonous, but are used under extreme care for chorea or parkinsonism and as a sedative and analgesic.

The mezereon or spurge laurel has beautiful flowers and berries, but are very toxic, as are other parts of the plant. It is used to treat certain types of ulcer. Some species yield gums, oils and dyes; while a milder species has leaves, sold as bay leaves, to flavor meats and vegetables.

Milk vetch is the main source of gum tagacanth, and used widely in both medicine and the food industry. Another species is called loco weed and is poisonous to cattle, horses and other animals, causing spinal paralysis.

The castor oil plant beans are used as an oil base for eye ointments and many emollients, such as zinc and castor oil cream; but the beans themselves in their natural state are poisonous.

The periwinkle or myrtle is used to treat intestinal trouble and leukemia and is poisonous; as is the nightshade or belladonna, but is useful as medicine. The jimson weed is another species of the toxic night-shade family. It contains a narcotic poison similar to belladonna.

Even the common bind weed is used as a purgative.

One of the most valuable and abused of all medicinal plants is the opium poppy. It originated in the East, where it has long been used as a narcotic drug. Today it is cultivated all over the world. The most extracted drugs are: morphine, heroin and opium; and are highly addictive and dangerous. However this does not detract from their enormous value in conventional medicines.

Marijuana, or marihuana, is the hemp plant and is habit forming. When smoked like cigarettes, it has a psychological and euphoric affect. Commercially, it is used to make rope, cordage, paper, sailcloth, etc. It is commonly called the hangman's rope, but I find nothing on its medicinal value. The U. S. restricts its cultivation.

The pomegranate yields grenadine syrup, and is connected with the Greek myth of Persephone, the goddess of fertility.

Even though cloves of garlic can be used as a potent antiseptic for colds, influenza and bronchitis—aside from the very small amount used in cooking—are dangerous to children.

The onion has had therapeutic properties such as: cure of insomnia, anemia and reduction of blood pressure; however its main use is as a diuretic and to alleviate intestinal discomfort. Recently doctors have found that onion helps keep down the amount of fat in the blood, which may make it useful in control of heart disease. For centuries, the French have given both garlic and onion to their horses for circulatory complaints. Years ago, mothers made a syrup of onion juice and honey to give their babies. Also I have heard of a man who always carried an onion in his pocket, and took a bite of it when entering a sick room. He was never ill himself. I am sure society would not approve of this, but it is society that is making us ill; then we have to be treated with the very thing we objected to in the first place.

Jimson weed is of the poisonous night shade family and contains a narcotic poison similar to belladonna.

Potatoes and tomatoes have medical value, but the potato can be poisonous if the green part is not discarded.

Chicory is often used in coffee. The leaves can be eaten as a salad and is used to counter high blood pressure.

There are two kinds of artichoke. One is eaten as a salad and the Jerusalem artichoke is a sunflower with tuberous, potato like roots but starchless and grown for human and stock food. It is a source of insulin which yields fruit sugar.

Many species of violet are used in the treatment of bronchitis and is a purgative and emetic.

The wild rose is used as a gargle for inflamed throat, as well as perfumery. The fruits are called rose hips and are a very rich source of vitamin C.

The common dandelion roots have been used in herbal remedies for many years, while the leaves may be eaten as a salad.

Bark of the cinchona is a source of the drug quinine, which is used to combat malaria, and is in many drugs today.

A popular soothing drink in Europe, called saep is made from tubers of the early purple orchid. Also a reference book gives: vanilla, derived from a climbing orchid, with pod-like capsules. These can cause a disease called vanillism, when handled or breathed continually.

Sassafras, a laurel with a fragrant root and bark; used for tea and to make root beer.

True sarsaparilla or smilax roots are used for medicine and beverages.

In a book, "The Secret Life of Plants," the author claims: plants respond to music, harsh or tender treatment as do babies, and they are continually emitting sounds which he has recorded on a machine. When we approach or touch a plant, it moves; although the eye can not detect it. What about the quaking aspen, trembling when there is no wind? Perhaps they are shaking in their boots, afraid they will be 'cut, drawn and quartered before sunset', to be burned in society's fire place.

My daughter-in-law brought me a glass of passion fruit jelly. She said the passion flower grew wild in Arkansas. A seed catalog gives; Passion vine, with magnificent flowers, having details of the crucifixion of Christ, of red, rose, blue or white color; followed by purple or yellow egg shaped edible fruits. My reference book gives: a native plant of southern U. S.; has purple and white blooms with fruit called maypops.

I remember my mother having a vine growing on a trellis, she called balsam apples. I have wondered if it was the same as passion flower. Never-the-less, the jelly is exotic and delectable.

The Aloe Vera is not a yucca plant, but related to the Easter lily, the common onion and asparagus. It has long been a useful plant in the Southern countries; as far back as 400 B. C. the bitter Aloes were used. Finally its popularity spread to southern U. S., where it is cultivated commercially. Aside from being a thing of beauty, the Aloe is being researched for its usefulness in industrial preparations.

SANTA FE — The Democratic governor derby found Tibo Chavez of Belen, Jerry Apodaca of Las Cruces, Odis Echols of Clovis and Bobby Mayfield of Albuquerque leading a crowded 7-man field.

Candidates will file Tuesday (April 2). The primary election is June 4. Sen. Apodaca, 39, drew 885 to a $25-a-plate fund-raising dinner for his campaign in Albuquerque.

Apodaca, a businessman, says an infusion of new people in politics is boosting his bid. He trails Chavez closely in current polls. Sen. Chavez campaigned in Lea, Roosevelt and Curry Counties last week.

Sen. Echols continued to pile up strength in populous Albuquerque. Albuquerquean Drew Cloud, the latest governor entry, was helped by mass volunteer support.

Mayfield, an attorney now and former Dona Ana County farmer, campaigned in nine counties in one week. He says he is a moderate with a conservative image. Mayfield has special strength in conservative areas.

Sandoval County is rated a tossup between Sens. Apodaca and Chavez in the Democratic governor primary. Sen. Ted Montoya of Sandoval strongly supports Apodaca. Ted's brother, Tom, of Pena Blanca backs Chavez. Their brother is U. S. Sen. Joseph Montoya.

Ted says it is the first family split in a governor race since 1942 but the division is friendly. Joe Montoya is publicly neutral in the race.

Former State Rep. George Blocker of Jal says the price of "new" oil has jumped in a year in Southeastern New Mexico by 200 per cent from some $3 to $10 a barrel.

An oil jobber, Blocker says "old" oil, categorized by the Federal Power Commission, is selling at $8 a barrel. Twenty-nine drilling rigs were operating last week in Lea County.

Some Lea County gas is being sold on old contracts at 16 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. But other gas is priced at 50 to 60 cents. Oil field crews are in short supply. Activity would be much greater if labor was available.

The State Supreme Court ruled Sen. Ted Montoya is not required to stand for election until 1976. The court quashed an application by Alameda attorney Louis S. Marjon to list the State Senate seat on the primary election ballot this year.

The Senate district spans all of Sandoval County and part of Bernalillo and Rio Arriba Counties.

Gardner Bridge Co., Albuquerque, was apparent low bidder on a bridge on N. M. 18 over Carrizo Creek, 15 miles south of Clayton, in Union County, at $477,778. The Highway Department engineer's estimate was $469,509.

Co-Con Inc., Albuquerque, was apparent low bidder at $238,136 on a bridge over Ute Creek, 16 miles northeast of the NM-102-NM-39 junction at Bueyeros in Harding County. The engineer's estimate was $241,593.

The state will release $5 million to cities and counties in quarterly installments, starting July 1. The 1974 Legislature appropriated the money from the state general fund.

Among allocations to counties: Colfax, $10,782; Curry, $46,723; DeBaca, $4,921; Guadalupe, $7,957; Hidalgo, $5,644; Lea, $41,285; Lincoln, $13,927; Luna, $15,315; Quay, $13,961; Sandoval, $53,755.

Sierra, $10,659; Taos, $67,643; Union, $8,336 ,and Valencia, $117,077.

Among municipal allocations: Belen, $23,735; Bernalillo, $9,921; Capitan, $2,160; Carrizozo, $5,526; Cimarron, $5,167; Clayton, $14,424; Clovis, $140,231; Corona, $1,230; Corrales, $17,717; Cuba, $2,042; Deming, $41,058.

Also, Des Moines, $1,004; Eunice, $12,997; Folsom, $369; Fort Sumner, $7,613; Grady, $590; Grenville, $103; House, $585; Jal, $12,805; Jemez Springs, $1,752; Logan, $2,214; Lordsburg, $16,909; Los Lunas, $4,788.

Maxwell, $1,934; Melrose, $3,130; Questa, $5,389; Raton, $34,262; Red River, $989; Ruidoso, $10,905; Ruidoso Downs, $3,455; San Ysidro, $895; Santa Rosa, $12,229; Springer, $7,746; Taos, $12,180, and Tatum, $4,832.

New Mexico received $99,500 in grants to build a modern domestic water system in the Town of Lincoln — $73,600 from the Economic Development Administration and $25,900 from the Four Corners Regional Commission.

The proposed system would provide domestic water service and fire protection capacity for historic Lincoln. State Planning Officer David King said acquisition of funds stemmed from a new State Planning Office study on Lincoln.

A $15,000 technical assistance grant was approved for a Valencia County water-waste water plan and program. A study will determine future requirements and problems of Los Lunas, Belen and southwest suburban Albuquerque.

The State Development Department's Economic Development Division held a quarterly regional economic development meeting Tuesday (March 26) in Lordsburg. Other scheduled regional meetings: Clovis, April 3; Clayton, April 4, and Santa Fe, April 8.

Gov. Bruce King appointed Clovis attorney Rueben E. Nieves to the State Corrections Commission. Nieves has been in law practice in Clovis since 1949.

Public school budget hearings will open April 8 at Belen. School budget hearings for Jemez Springs and Cuba are set at Jemez Springs April 15.

Sen. Apodaca opened a 10-day campaign tour to Sandoval, Colfax, Taos and other Northern New Mexico counties.

Ruidoso Is Your Home . . . KEEP IT CLEAN!

You are steadily traveling along one of New Mexico's long stretches of highway and you see an accident scene just ahead; you are the first help to arrive.

Realizing that your first aid skills are rusty, you immediately begin to check off what you are going to do as you pull over and park safely.

You have left enough room so that the ambulance can quickly pull in as close to the accident scene as possible. Since it is almost dark, you have turned on your hazard lights so no one will hit you from the rear. You have also had the foresight to note the time . . . an important detail to medical personnel.

Quickly, you turn off the engine of the accident car, and station a companion 500 yards up the road as a flagman to warn on-coming cars of the danger. You are now set to go to work. You are protected from any legal problems in helping the victims under New Mexico's Good Samaritan Law.

You check each victim to be sure he is breathing, and you survey the immediate area to make certain no one has been thrown from the car. You know that those who are not breathing need to have their air passages open. This can be done by simply tilting the head back. If the victim does not start breathing, begin mouth to mouth resuscitation.

A woman is having difficulty in breathing. You carefully clear the airway by sweeping your finger over the tongue and back of the throat. You remove a piece of broken tooth, some blood and vomit which was interfering with respiration. As this victim's breathing improves, you go on to help a child who is bleeding from a head cut. You press over the cut area with a clean cloth, and make the child comfortable with his head up.

Since there is no danger of fire, you leave the delicate and often dangerous job of moving the victims to the trained ambulance drivers. You have done the best you can without adding to the victims' injuries. Don't you hope that someone like you stops if you have an accident?

The information contained in this article could help save someone's life. You can get this information in a handy brochure to carry in your car's glove compartment. The brochure is available free of charge by writing the New Mexico Regional Medical Program at 2701 Frontier N. E., Albuquerque, New Mexico 87131. It is written in English and in Spanish and contains basic life-saving information as well as an accident report form which can be of great help to medical technicians, doctors and police authorities.

Lincoln Forest Tells Total 13 Blazes

Thirteen forest fires have occurred to date in 1974 on the Lincoln National Forest, including one blaze of 208 acres. Acting Fire Control Officer Larry Allen announced today that fire danger is very high, with some windy days in the extreme class.

Bad fire conditions are occurring earlier than usual this year, due to the general lack of winter moisture and unusually warm spring weather. Forest Service officials expressed concern that fire conditions may be explosive by the April turkey season, if a break in the weather does not occur. "If the present drying trend continues, it will be necessary to prohibit campfires outside of designated campgrounds by April 1st," said Acting Forest Supervisor Richard Jourden.

Presently the Lincoln Forest Service has two B-17 retardant dropping airplanes, two small patrol planes, one Allouette III helicopter, and approximately 90 firefighters on base. Six of the nine lookout towers are manned. In addition to numerous small pumper units in pickup trucks, two 600 gallon ground pumpers are on alert.

Over the last five years the Lincoln Forest has averaged 114 fires per year, with an annual burn of 940 acres. The largest fire in recent history was the 26,000 acre Circle Cross Fire of 1953.

The public is urged to use extreme caution while enjoying these public lands and to report all unattended fires to the nearest Ranger Station.

Lincoln Nat'l. Forest Ranks 2nd in Nation In Deer Population

Once again the Lincoln National Forest ranks second in the nation in mule deer population, according to a report recently released by the Forest Service in Washington, D. C.

It was estimated by officials of the Forest Service and the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish that the Lincoln provided habitat for 68,150 mule deer in 1973. This number was exceeded only by Nevada's Humbolt National Forest with 87,000. Range and Wildlife Staff Officer Larry Allen noted that the Humbolt has over 2½ million acres as compared to the Lincoln's slighdy over one million.

All three mountain ranges of the Lincoln have abundant mule deer populations. Other significant game species include white-tail deer, antelope, elk, black bear, barbary sheep, mountain lions, turkeys and javelinas.

A detailed habitat survey of the Guadalupe Mountains was recently completed by an interagency crew under the direction of the U. S. Forest Service, National Park Service, Bureau of Land Management and New Mexico Department of Game and Fish. The resulting management plan will give direction to the interagency effort to manage this important big game range according to Allen.

A similar survey and plan is currently underway in the Capitan Mountains.

SUPERIOR, NEBR., FARMER-STOCKMAN OF NEBRASKA: "One of the problems with the interest of the majority of the people in our environment and ecology generally is the fine balance between being practical and being a nut. The latter has his place because it is usually he who stirs up the interest, creates emotionalism and gets things started. It is the practical person who must sort out what is reasonable, what is possible, what is best."

Chatter from the Lanes

by Gutter Gus

BOWLING

Six weeks are left in the leagues, and at this time all the teams are beginning to fight for every game. There is no team at this time that can be assured of first place in any of the leagues.

We would like to give congratulations this week to Harold Rushing. Bowling in his first league this year, Harold carries a 140 average. On the Wednesday Nite Mixed League, Harold had a 530 series. This was 110 pins over his average for three games. Keeping it all in the family, Juelan Rushing, on the same team, carries a 130 average. Juelan bowled a 479 series, 89 pins over her average. This is good bowling, especially when they are both just breaking in new bowling balls.

Flames of the Lanes

MEN — Howard Hassell, a 246 game on the Wednesday Nite Mixed League, bowling for Sierra Development.

Jeff Van Rosenberg, a 624 series on the Thursday Men's League, bowling for the Swiss Chalet.

WOMEN — Georga George, a 213 game and a 560 series on the Wednesday Nite Mixed League, bowling for Sierra Development.

Many splits were picked up this week. The 3-10 by Diana Ballard (2). Roxie Langford, Jim Clements (2), Len Bergeron, Ray Burgess and Smith Allen. The 2-7 by Susie Coy. The 4-5 by Willie Beasley. The 5-6 by Linda Clements. Shirley Taylor picked up the 5-7. Art Stuve and Dovey Powell picked up the 5-10. The 5-6-10 by Elva Campos and Bob Taylor. The 5-8-10 by Linda Clements and Susie Coy. The 3-5-7-9 by Irene Chitwood.

Special credits this week to Shorty Schira for the 4-7-10, and to Rick Coy for the 6-7-10.

By AL LANE

Good to see that the Ruidoso Jaycees' Miss Central New Mexico Pageant went off so well last Saturday night. One of the largest crowds that we have ever seen at a pageant watched the girls go through the event like old pros. Real good talent and pretty girls make good entertainment. Congratulations Jaycees on a job well done! . . . Clipping from the Vail Trail on streakers "WARNING to any potential Vail Streaker. We will not give any free publicity to either man or girl for such performances in this community."

"If you want this kind of publicity you must purchase suitable ad space and furnish your own picture without any face mask or cover."

"All poses must be full front shots as you, as a streaker, have already exposed yourself as an ass."

"Ads must be paid for, in cash in advance."

. . . We note that thieves broke into Bennett's Big 8, after the second try, last Friday night —making one attempt on Thursday night. They appeared to be after only meat. We would assume that a barbecue had been planned for the weekend by the undesirable characters. . . . There appears to be a goodly amount of interest developing in the Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary project for a Ruidoso museum. We wish to express our full support for the girls and sincerely hope that some action can be taken as soon as possible. Many of our good citizens have exceptional items that we are sure would be loaned to the museum to be shown, if a suitable place can be found for the museum. As time goes on, more and more of our historically significant items will disappear from the area — so time is important to the project. If you wish to help with this project, in any way, please contact one of the ladies on the committee. . . .

WEST POINT, MISS., TIMES LEADER: "The foot of necessity can fall heavy on the accelerator of action. Remember how long the Congress debated the Alaskan pipeline proposal? Then came more serious talk of an oil shortage . . . and zip . . . the pipeline bill sailed through both houses. Still, at best, it will be some three years before needed oil from those northern Alaskan slopes will be flowing this way."
