THE FOREST RESERVES.

Their History and the Reasons for their Creation, from a Governmental Point of View.

TIMBER AND WATER PROTECTION

On the theory that the management of land, not of forests, was chiefly involved, this law gave the Secretary of the Interior authority over the reserves, and provided that their surveying, mapping, and general classification should be done by the United States Geological Survey, and the execution of administrative work by the general Land Office.

The result was not satisfactory. The technical and complex problems arising from the necessary use of forest and range soon demanded the introduction of scientific methods, and a technically trained force, which could not be provided under the existing system. The advice and services of the Bureau of Forestry were found necessary, but under the law, could be but imperfectly utilized. The necessity of consolidating the various branches of Government forest work became apparent and was urged upon Congress by the president and all the executive officers concerned. Finally the act of February 1, 1905, transferred to the Secretary of Agriculture entire jurisdiction over the forest reserves except in matters of surveying and passage of title.

The regulations and instructions for the use of the national forest reserves here published are in accordance with the act last mentioned and with that of March 3, 1905, making appropriations for the Department of Agriculture, which changed the Bureau of Forestry into the Forest Service. They are based upon the following general policy laid down for the Forest Service by the Secretary of Agriculture in his letter of February 1, 1905, to the Forester:

"In the administration of the forest reserves it must be clearly borne in mind that all land is to be devoted to its most productive use for the permanent good of the whole people, and not for the temporary benefit of individuals or companies. All the resources of forest reserves are for use, and this use must be brought about in a thoroughly prompt and business like manner, under such restrictions only as will insure the permanence of these resources. The vital importance of forest reserves to the great industries of the western states will be largely increased in the near future by the continued steady advance in settlement and development. The permanence of the resources of the reserves is therefore indispensable to continued prosperity, and the policy of this Department for their protection and use will invariably be guided by this fact, always bearing in mind the conservative use of these resources in no way conflicts with their permanent value.

"You will see to it that the water, wood, and forage of the reserves are conserved and wisely used for the benefit of the home builder first of all, upon whom depends the best permanent use of lands and resources alike. The continued prosperity of the agricultural, lumbering, mining, and live-stock interests is directly dependent upon a permanent and accessible supply of water, wood, and forage, as well as upon the present and future use of these resources under businesslike regulations, enforced with promptness, effectiveness, and common sense. In the management of each reserve local questions will be decided upon local grounds; the dominant industry will be considered first, but with as little restriction to minor industries as may be possible; sudden changes in industrial conditions will be avoided by gradual adjustment after due notice, and where conflicting interests must be reconciled the question will always be decided from the standpoint of the greatest good of the greatest number in the long run."

REG. 26. Breeding stock entering either before or after the breeding season will be counted on an average percentage basis, which will be fixed hereafter by the forester to fit the conditions in each reserve. All stock six months old and over, at the time of entering, will be counted at the same rate as grown stock.

REG. 27. Any period in excess of the regular summer grazing season will be charged for at the rate for the entire year, but no charge will be made for the crossing permits required by regulations 22 and 23.

REG. 28. All grazing fees are payable for each year strictly in advance. When an applicant for a grazing permit is notified by the supervisor that his application has been approved, he will remit the amount due for grazing fees to the special fiscal agent, Washington, D. C., and upon return of the receipt to the supervisor a permit will be issued allowing the stock to enter the reserve and remain during the period specified.

Wild Hay.

REG. 29. Wild grass upon forest reserves may be cut for hay under permits issued by supervisors. A reasonable charge per acre may be made, to be fixed by the supervisor under general instructions from the Forester. Application should be made in writing to the supervisor, directly or through a ranger, stating the location and area of the tract desired and the price offered.

Applications or permits to cut hay need not be upon regular blanks. Supervisors anticipating business of this kind should report to the Forester and suggest a price per acre for his approval. Under instructions then received they will issue permits, retaining duplicates, agreed to and signed by the applicant, for office records. They will not permit cutting until the purchase price has been forwarded to the special fiscal agent.

Sale of Timber.

All timber on forest reserves which can be cut safely and for which there is actual need is for sale. Applications to purchase are invited. Green timber may be sold except, where its removal makes a second crop doubtful, reduces the timber supply below the point of safety, or injures the streams. All dead timber is for sale. (See Appendix, p. 101).

The prime object of the forest reserves is use. While the forest and its dependent interests must be made permanent and safe by preventing overcutting or injury to young growth, every reasonable effort will be made to satisfy legitimate demands.

Timber cut from forest reserves may be handled and shipped like any other timber, except that it will not be sold for shipment from regions where local consumption requires the entire supply, or is certain to do so in the future. Also, the law prohibits export from the state of timber cut from any Idaho forest reserve or from the Black Hills Forest Reserve in South Dakota.

Any one may purchase except trespassers against the law or the regulations governing the reserves. There is no limit, except the capacity of the forest, to the quantity which may be sold to one purchaser, but monopoly to the disadvantage of other deserving applicants will not be tolerated.

The time allowed for the removal of timber depends upon the amount purchased. It will always be sufficient for reasonably diligent work, but speculation by holding for rise in value

THE CAPITAN NEWS

CAPITAN, - - NEW MEXICO.

A cadet at Annapolis has succeeded in stretching himself two inches. Usually it is the father of the young man who is subjected to the elongation.

New York has had to rope off a section of Broad street in a ring, to keep "curb brokers" properly corralled. Now all they need is gloves and a referee.

Artfully taking advantage of the prevailing excitement Mr. Rockefeller slips ten millions into the general educational fund and makes his getaway in safety.

George Lindsay of Brooklyn has refused to obey the court's order to kiss Mrs. Lindsay once a day. Mrs. Lindsay is pretty, and lives at 125 Dresden street.

Lord Curzon proposes to resign the position of viceroy of India. If he does he will be the only husband of an American wife known to voluntarily turn loose a fat office.

Corea's emperor declares that the United States is his country's best friend. Maybe, maybe; but Japan, with a jiu-jitsu grip on Corea's neck, insists that she is the country's best chum.

Army worms have made their appearance in parts of Pennsylvania. This visitation, however, will be over in a few weeks, while Gov. Pennypacker will hang on for a year and a half yet.

The Hon. Iz Durham has resigned his office of insurance commissioner of Pennsylvania. He had to do that or be left hanging up in the air. The city of Philadelphia was slipping out from under him.

A Boston author claims that in twenty years he has received $18,000 for the literature he has produced before breakfast. But he doesn't claim to have been in the habit of taking his breakfast early.

Justice Brewer of the Supreme Court said recently: "Japan, it would seem, has made the goddess of liberty her hired girl." Let us hope Japan will not be compelled to discharge her for staying out at night.

There is a new word, "euthenics," to signify "beautiful living." It was coined by some women professors in the Adirondacks. It would be a good thing if the use of the word would inspire the application of its meaning.

A Chicago woman poured hot tea down her husband's back because she was suspicious that he was flirting with another woman. Married men should impress it upon their spouses that they ought to be like Caesar's wife—above suspicion.

If Luther Burbank would only devote his attention now to making cherries grow abundantly on bushes not more than ten feet high, he would reduce the number of these painful stories in the papers about people who fall out of cherry trees.

A Brooklyn clergyman recently preached a sermon on kindness to animals, having a big Newfoundland dog in the pulpit as an object lesson. The edifice is reported to have been crowded. Yet there are preachers who wonder how they may get the people to go to church.—Chicago Record-Herald.

One of the funniest sights ever vouchsafed to Harvard men was Secretary Taft trying to use an umbrella. It sheltered a little circular oasis, but all around was large damp desert.

Where Equality Truly Reigns.

The vice president of the United States went into a barber shop at his old home in an Ohio village to get shaved. He was busy talking with some of the politicians when the barber said: "If you want to get shaved you must postpone your conversation. This is my busy day and I can't wait." The vice president did not dismiss the barber. He dismissed the politicians and meekly crawled into the chair.

This is the law of the barber shop, inexorable, inflexible and immutable. It is subject to no repeal or amendment. High or low, rich or poor, the call of "next," like the bell of Macbeth, summons the customer to the chair or to the door.

The law of the barber shop is the essence of democracy. It is the equitable treatment of the rich and the poor alike that makes of the striped pole the palladium of our liberties.

We may think that equal and exact justice has departed from the court and the Senate. So long as it reigns supreme in the tonsorial parlor it is a sign that the fires of liberty are still burning.—Leadville Herald Democrat.

Better Than Ice Water.

For those who believe that ice water is unhealthy the "olla" of the Latin countries and Mexico is earnestly recommended in this hot weather. The "olla"—the Mexicans pronounce it like "olya"—is a porous earthen jar. Its pores are continually sweating little beads of water, which, by the principle of evaporation, keep the liquid within at a cool temperature, half-way between that of hydrant water and that of ice water.—New York Sun.

Rockefeller's Gifts.

John D. Rockefeller's known gifts are now totaled at $51,272,666. The two largest items are the $13,000,000 which he has given at one time and another to Chicago university, and the $10,000,000 gift to the general education board announced the other day.

ME TOO

The "Tail Enders" That Follow Genuine Articles.

It is sometimes interesting to watch the curves imitators make to get the public to buy imitations of genuine goods.

Every now and then some one will think there is a splendid opening to fix up something like Postum Coffee and advertise the same way and take some of the business.

An imitator is naturally ignorant of food values and how to skillfully make a cereal coffee, on scientific lines.

Such men first think of preparing something that looks and tastes like the original, with no knowledge of how the grains should be treated to prepare them so that the starchy part is transformed properly and the valuable nourishing elements made digestible.

Such imitations may be foisted on the public for a short time, but the people are critical and soon detect the attempt, then the imitators go out of business.

Something like 400 of these little factories have been started in various parts of this country in the past 9 years, and practically all of them have gone the "long journey." Just lately a new one has come to life and evidently hopes to insert itself in public favor by copying the style of the Postum advertising in the papers.

This is a free country and every man who makes an honest product and honestly labels it has reason for some recognition, but the public has the right to know the facts.

Postum is the one original and genuine Cereal Coffee, made skillfully and for a definite purpose. It has stood through all the wars of the imitators, has won the approval of the Physicians and the people.

People who really seek to free themselves from the coffee habit and at the same time to rebuild the soft gray matter in the nerve centers, and thus reconstruct the nervous system, broken down by coffee, can rely on Postum.

There's a reason.

HIS THOUGHTS FAR AWAY.

Good Stories Told of Absent-Minded Ohio Man.

"Sweet" Brown, carpenter and jobber, has suddenly sprung into prominence as the most absent minded man in southern Ohio, and the stories that are being told of his forgetfulness indicate that his mind and his body are at least as far apart as his home and Cincinnati, which is sixty miles.

Brown's last achievement, chronicled in his home paper, was performed a short time ago. He was building a corn crib for a farmer at the edge of town, and finished it with himself inside, and the saw outside, so he had to call for help, being unable to pry loose the boards he had nailed on with his light hammer.

He explained that he was thinking of something else.

One of his remarkable feats was told by a woman for whom he was doing some repairing. He located a leak in the roof and then climbed onto the top of the house to fix the shingles, but was unable to find the spot, so he again ascended into the garret, marked a large chalk mark around the leak, and went back up onto the top of the house to fix it.

The cistern in his pasture lot ran dry, and he was forced to drive his cow along the road a quarter of a mile to a spring for water while the cistern was being repaired, and one morning he opened the pasture gate, walked out, trudged down to the spring, and then discovered he had forgotten the cow.

His neighbors declare that when he dies he will forget to attend the funeral.—Chicago Tribune.

A Universal Love Song.

Within a rose clad cottage
Beside a southern sea
A mother sat a-singing,
And her song came to me
Upon the scented south wind—
The seagull soared above,
While to her fair-haired baby
She sang this song of love:

"I love you when you're laughing,
I love you when you weep;
I love you when you're waking,
And I love you when you sleep.
You don't know how I love you,
How you I do adore,
And every day, you dove, you,
I love you more and more."

Within a wind-blown wigwam
By Lake Temagami,
A mother sat a-singing
Unto her babe one day,
The wild deer bounded by her,
The wild hawk soared above,
While to her brown-skinned baby
She sang this song of love:

"I love you when you're laughing,
I love you when you weep;
I love you when you're waking,
And I love you when you sleep.
You don't know how I love you,
How you I do adore,
And every day, you dove, you,
I love you more and more."

Immigration Problem.

Mr. Metcalf, secretary of commerce and labor, holds that the immigration problem is the most serious that faces the country, its chief difficulty being the question of distribution. Recently he received a letter from Louisiana saying that state alone can give employment to 100,000 workers in the field. The western portion of the Mississippi valley stands in equal need, but concentration in the cities goes on steadily.

Biddy Had Cooked the Egg.

Four-year-old Helen is a very restless little girl. One day, when her mamma was cooking, she became so troublesome that mamma said: "Helen, run out and see if biddy has laid an egg."

Helen ran out, and soon returned with an egg still warm, saying very fast: "Mamma, mamma, you needn't cook this egg; biddy cooked it her own self. See, it's all hot!"

Toronto University Residence.

A movement for a university residence for men at Toronto has been launched with a gift from E. C. Whitney, of Ottawa, of $15,000. It is proposed to obtain the sum of $200,000 and to erect four or five residence halls, each accommodating fifty or sixty men.

MISS ELLA OFF, INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

SUFFERED FOR MONTHS

Pe-ru-na, the Remedy That Cured.

Miss Ella Off, 1127 Linden St., Indianapolis, Ind., writes:

"I suffered with a run-down constitution for several months, and feared that I would have to give up my work. On seeking the advice of a physician, he prescribed a tonic. I found, however, that it did me no good. On seeking the advice of our druggist, he asked me to try Pe-ru-na. In a few weeks I began to feel and act like a different person. My appetite increased, I did not have that worn-out feeling, and I could sleep splendidly. In a couple of months I was entirely recovered. I thank you for what your medicine has done for me."—Ella Off.

NO MORE HEADACHE

GENERAL WEAKNESS AND FEVER
DISAPPEAR TOO.

How a Woman Was Freed from Troubles
That Had Made Life Wretched for Many Years.

The immediate causes of headaches vary, but most of them come from poor or poisoned blood. In anæmia the blood is scanty or thin; the nerves are imperfectly nourished and pain is the way in which they express their weakness. In colds the blood absorbs poison from the mucous surfaces, and the poison irritates the nerves and produces pain. In rheumatism, malaria and the grip, the poison in the blood produces like discomfort. In indigestion the gases from the impure matter kept in the system affect the blood in the same way.

The ordinary headache-cures at best give only temporary relief. They deaden the pain but do not drive the poison out of the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills on the contrary thoroughly renew the blood and the pain disappears permanently. Women in particular have found these pills an unfailing relief in headaches caused by anæmia.

Miss Stella Blocker recently said: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did me a great deal of good. I had headache nearly all the time. After I had taken three boxes of these pills I became entirely well."

"How long had you suffered?" she was asked.

"For several years. I can't tell the exact date when my illness began for it came on by slow degrees. I had been going down hill for many years."

"Did you have any other ailments?"

"I was very weak and sometimes I had fever. My liver and kidneys were affected as well as my head."

"How did you come to take the remedy that cured you?"

"I saw in a southern newspaper a statement of some person who was cured of a like trouble by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My physician hadn't done me any good, so I bought a box of these pills. After I had taken one box I felt so much better that I kept on until I became entirely well."

Miss Blocker's home is at Leander, Louisiana. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists. Besides headache they cure neuralgia, sciatica, nervous prostration, partial paralysis and rheumatism.

Months.

"I wish you would publish this letter so that others suffering as I have may be helped. For months awful sores covered my face and neck, scabs forming, itching terribly day and night, breaking open, and running blood and matter. I had tried many remedies, but was growing worse, when I started with Cuticura. The first application gave me instant relief, and when I had used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment, I was completely cured. LUNAR RAINBOW IN GEORGIA.

Unusual Phenomenon Reported to the Scientific American.

A curious and unusual phenomenon, in the form of a rainbow for which the moon instead of the sun furnished the light, was observed here, on the night of June 19.

A heavy rainstorm, accompanied by considerable thunder, occurred just before moonrise. As the clouds retired to the west the luminary rose and the bow was first observed, only the extremities for about 25 degrees being visible, the moon at that time being concealed behind a small cloud. For about twenty minutes the bow increased in brightness, and at the end of that time could be clearly traced throughout its entire length. At each end the red and blue colors could be plainly distinguished, but the remainder of the arc showed only as a light streak across the clouds.

The conditions for the phenomenon were almost ideal, the moon being but a few days past full, the cloud screen occupying the proper position, and, as it occurred just at moonrise, the bow was seen well up in the heavens. After the clouds had almost entirely melted away, leaving only a slight haze through which the stars shone, portions of the bow could still be clearly discerned.—Poulan correspondence Scientific American.

Turkish Coffee Seller.

A familiar figure in Turkish cities. He wears a yoke, one end of which supports a furnace, the other a coffee urn, cups, etc. The broken statue means that the photograph was taken in Angora, "where the cats come from," in Asia Minor. Under the name of Angora it was a flourishing city in the time of Julius Cæsar. It has only recently been connected with Constantinople by a railway.

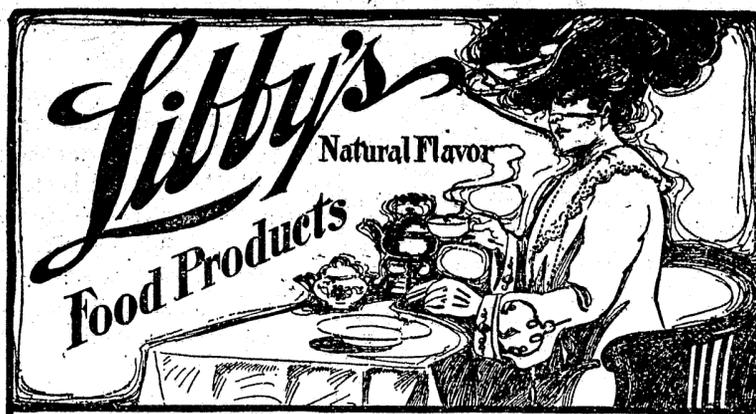

Ferret as Foster Mother:

A Preston, Eng., correspondent reports an extraordinary incident of animal life. Twelve months ago a farm laborer, living in the neighborhood, found a nest of young wild rabbits, and threw them to a couple of ferrets, one of which was expecting a family. Three of the little creatures were immediately dispatched, but the fourth was discovered a few days later nestling up to the ferret, which had clearly adopted it. The ferret was employed at its usual work of rat and rabbit hunting, but the attachment, thus strangely begun, continued, till when the lid of the box being left open, the rabbit, now full grown, escaped to its native burrows. Two days later it was found struggling to enter the hutch and rejoin its foster parent. The door was opened to it, and, to the laborer's astonishment, the ferret welcomed her lost companion with the liveliest tokens of delight and satisfaction.

Deer Tried to Steal a Ride.

A strange deer story comes from Thetford. As a freight train was passing through a strip of woods yesterday morning a deer jumped from a thicket, landing on a flat car and, falling between the car and caboose, broke its neck.

The carcass was taken to Lyndonville and placed on exhibition.—St. Albans Messenger.

RATE LEGISLATION.

Some kind of rate legislation is expected at the hands of this winter's congress. The president has heeded the demand of the people for relief, the house is willing, and if the senators can be cajoled, bluffed or driven into action a rate bill will be enacted. Some members will support a measure of partial railroad control, not because they favor it, but on the theory that relief of some kind must be given the people or in the end the demand will grow stronger and the people be less easily satisfied.

Heavy Sentence.

Judge Mann, on Monday of this week, sentenced Elisha Leslie of this county to five years imprisonment in the territorial penitentiary, and to pay a fine of $500, together with the costs of the case.

Leslie was convicted last week at Alamogordo of stealing and killing cattle belonging to the El Capitan Cattle company, of Richardson, this county. Robt. Leslie sr. and Robert Leslie jr., father and brother respectively, of Elisha, who were indicted for the same offence, were not tried at this term of court owing to lack of funds.

Lands Withdrawn from Entry.

The following is copied from the Roswell Record:

"It seem practically assured that Uncle Sam is to take up the Carlsbad dam project, and that means that the project is to live, and prosper.

The following telegram was received at the government land office in Roswell today: 'Withdraw for irrigation purposes under second form withdrawal the following described lands; township 21 south range 26 and 27 east; township 22 range 26, 27 and 28 east; townships 24 and 25 south, ranges 27, 28 and 29 east. A letter follows giving subdivision. (Signed) J. H. Fimple, acting commissioner.'

This message means that the lands described are to be withdrawn from settlement under the desert land act, but they can be settled by homesteading, with five years' actual residence thereon. The letter that is to follow will probably place some exceptions in the lands described.

"Parts of the townships mentioned or parts of some of them at least, will probably be excluded from the order.

"The real significance of the telegram is that the lands excluded will no longer be regarded as desert land, and that means that the government will have water for them."

Fined $25,000.

Chicago, Sept. 21—Four officials of the Schwarzschild-Sulzberger Packing company, of Chicago, were fined an aggregate of $25,000 by Judge Humphrey in the United States district court here today. The defendants were Samuel Weil, of New York, vice president of the company; B. S. Casey, traffic manager; Vance B. Skipworth and Chas. E. Todd, assistant traffic manager. Weil was fined $10,000 and the other three $5000 each. With the entering of the pleas the declaration was made that the life of Weil was in jeopardy unless the case was immediately settled. He is said to be a nervous wreck. The plea was entered, it is declared, after a complete understanding had been reached between counsel for the defendants and Attorney General Moody.

Being apprised of the condition of Weil, the attorney general agreed that the jail provision of the law should be waived and only a fine imposed if he pleaded guilty. The charges against the defendants were that they conspired in presenting to the railroads supposed claims for damages which were in reality claims for rebates, this being known to the roads and this arrangement being made to keep outsiders in ignorance of the rebate business.

WELDING COPPER.

It is a Matter of Personal Skill and Cannot Be Taught.

A Los Angeles mechanic has rediscovered the lost art, said to have been possessed by the ancients, of welding copper. But from his own description it would seem that the recovery is not permanent, and that the secret will die with him, as his efforts to impart it to others are not attended with success. When asked to explain the manner in which he made the discovery, says the Los Angeles Herald, he said:

"I began five years ago to weld copper just as I weld iron. Copper welding is an art, not a science, and everything lies in the eye, in the ability to take the metal from the fire at just the proper moment.

"I have been experimenting in welding processes for over twenty-five years, and since I discovered the welding color, I have tried to teach it to my men, but without success.

"They are unable to distinguish color variations under fire, which is the one essential, and which is perfectly simple and easy for me. In this lies the great trouble in teaching the process, and this trouble is increased by the fact that copper is a dead metal and contains no carbon."

It is very likely that the art among the ancients was not general, and that specimens which have been found in the ruins of ancient cities were the product of individual craftsmen, who discovered and used it, and it died with them, for the very reason set forth by Mr. Thos. A. McNeill, the Los Angeles man using it, in his statement to the Herald.—Nogales (Ariz.) Oasis.

EVER TREAT YOU SO?

Coffee Acts the Jonah and Will Come Up.

A clergyman who pursues his noble calling in a country parish in Iowa, tells of his coffee experience:

"My wife and I used coffee regularly for breakfast, frequently for dinner and occasionally for supper—always the very best quality—package coffee never could find a place on our table.

"In the spring of 1896 my wife was taken with violent vomiting which we had great difficulty in stopping.

"It seemed to come from coffee drinking but we could not decide.

"In the following July, however, she was attacked a second time by the vomiting. I was away from home filling an appointment, at the time, and on my return I found her very low; she had literally vomited herself almost to death, and it took some days to quiet the trouble and restore her stomach.

"I had also experienced the same trouble, but not so violently, and had relieved it, each time, by a resort to medicine.

"But my wife's second attack satisfied me that the use of coffee was at the bottom of our troubles, and so we stopped it forthwith and took on Postum Food Coffee. The old symptoms of disease disappeared and during the 9 years that we have been using Postum instead of coffee we have never had a recurrence of the vomiting. We never weary of Postum, to which we know we owe our good health. This is a simple statement of facts." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

PALACES OF THE SULTAN.

They Bring to Stranger's Mind a Vision of Arabian Nights.

In spite of the extreme lack of architectural beauty, there is a certain picturesqueness and softness in the Constantinople street scene which forms a pleasing background to the stately palaces of the sultan, says A. Maundeville in the Era Magazine. Perhaps it is merely the contrast between the dingy wood-colored houses of the people and the pure white marble or gilded stucco of the royal buildings which bring to the stranger's mind a vision of enchanted palaces of the "Arabian Nights." The soft tints of shade, the wavering reflections in the Bosphorus, the fancy that a pair of black, dreamy eyes may be looking out through the lattice windows, the charm of the mysterious, the horror of the tragedies which rumor says have been enacted within the palace walls, the curiosity to know if there is really a trap-door and just how beautiful was the Circassian slave girl who lost the favor of her imperial master and suddenly disappeared in the dark subterranean stream connecting with the Bosphorus, and a thousand other fancies tend to enhance the vision. And the architect may tell you that the palaces have not the proper proportions, that the details do not harmonize with the size or form, that there are hundreds of private houses in America more magnificent, more durable, of better architectural design and with finer surroundings; but in spite of it all the palaces of the sultan have an irresistible charm which wraps the stranger in intense admiration and always remains with the old resident at the Turkish capital.

The Secret Chamber.

Into the secret chamber of my heart
Wherein no mortal enters, Lord, come
Thou,
And make Thy dwelling place ere day depart.

The glory fades on yonder mountain crest.
The long, slant shadows creep across the way;
Even now the clouds are golden in the west;

It will be nightfall soon; for, faint and far,
The pallid moon, a silver crescent, hangs
Above the low reach of the horizon bar.
The night is lonely and beset with fears:
Come, Thou, O Lord, come in and dwell with me
Through the long darkness till the dawn appears!

O Thou who didst create the human heart,
Didst Thou not make one sure place?
It is high sanctuary where Thou art!

Thou knowest, ah, Thou knowest! Words are weak;
When the tongue falters and the lips
are dumb,
Thou knowest all the yearning heart would speak.

I wait Thy presence, O Thou Guest divine!
Take then possession, O Thou Guest divine!

Definite Directions.

Where time is not money, ideas of distance are always uncertain and frequently confusing.

"About how far is it to Gourdville?" asked a stranger of a North Carolinian, who sat on the veranda, holding up the front side of the house.

"Two hoots and a look, reck'n," was the laconic reply.

"Well, how far is that?" queried the stranger, impatiently.

"Twicet as fur as yo' kin holler an' as fur as yo' kin see beyond thet."

"But I'm consumptive, and can't 'holler' at all," urged the traveler.

"How am I to tell anything from such a direction as that?"

"Better look twicet an' not holler at all," was the answer. "Gourdville ain't wuth hollerin' about nohow."—Golden Days.

Willing to Try It.

"So you've got that tired feeling?" said Cobbs, who was loafing in Dobbs' office on his busy day. "Don't you think a change of scene would do you good?"

"Wouldn't doubt it a bit," answered Dobbs. "Take a four-hour trip down to the lake front, and see if it doesn't help me."—Detroit Tribune.

Coin That Named Portland.

Frank W. Pettygrove of Seattle has the penny that named the city of Portland, Oregon. On the toss of this coin depended the question whether the Willamette metropolis should be known as Portland or Boston. Twice the coin turned "tails," and the town was named after Portland, Maine, the former home of Mr. Pettygrove's father.

A. L. Lovejoy of Massachusetts, a member of the party that laid out Portland, desired to name it Boston, after the most important city in his state. Pettygrove wanted to name it Portland, after the most important city in Maine, his native state. They agreed to toss a penny, heads to mean Boston, tails to mean Portland, the best two in three to be the choice. Pettygrove won the first toss; Lovejoy won the second, and the third proved to be tails, and Portland it was.

The younger Pettygrove still has the identical penny, and would not take any amount of money for it. His father kept it for a pocket piece, and it has been handed down to the son, who bears his father's name. It is dated 1835, and is one of those large coins in vogue at that time, about the size of the quarter of the present day.

Voice from Arkansas.

Cleveland, Ark., July 31st.—(Special)—Nearly every newspaper tells of some wonderful cure of some form of Kidney Disease by the Great American Remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and this part of Arkansas is not without its share of evidence that no case is too deeply rooted for Dodd's Kidney Pills to cure.

Mr. A. E. Carlile, well known and highly respected here, tells of his cure after nearly a quarter of a century's suffering. Mr. Carlile says:

"I want to let the public know what I think of Dodd's Kidney Pills. I think they are the best remedy for sick kidneys ever made.

"I had Kidney Trouble for 23 years and never found anything that did me so much good as Dodd's Kidney Pills. I recommend them to all sufferers."

There is no uncertain sound about Mr. Carlile's statement. He knows that Dodd's Kidney Pills rescued him from a life of suffering and he wants the public to know it. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all Kidney ills from Backache to Bright's Disease.

Thousands of Women ARE MADE WELL AND STRONG

Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Rests Upon the Fact that It Really Does Make Sick Women Well

Thousands upon thousands of American women have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Their letters are on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office, and prove this statement to be a fact and not a mere boast.

Overshadowing indeed is the success of this great medicine, and compared with it all other medicines and treatments for women are experiments.

Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished its widespread results for good?

Why has it lived and thrived and done its glorious work for a quarter of a century?

Simply and surely because of its sterling worth. The reason no other medicine has even approached its success is plainly and positively because there is no other medicine in the world so good for women's ills.

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womankind is not because it is a stimulant—not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and reconstructer ever discovered to act directly upon the uterine system, positively curing disease and displacements and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures, and physicians who have recognized the virtue in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due. If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience that it will effect a cure.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhœa, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration, or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Anyway, write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It's free and always helpful.

EVIL OF PRESENT DAY.

Mental Faculties Greatly Disturbed by Noise.

"Noise, in my judgment, is one of the most powerful and most successful disorganizers of the mental faculties in the world," said a thoughtful citizen to a representative of the New Orleans Times-Democrat, "and when we reflect on the enormous increase in noises of all kinds, we will probably be convinced that the time is rapidly coming when the race will be in no small danger mentally on account of noise. Progress is noisy; necessarily so, I suppose. But when I speak of progress of the noisy type, I, of course, mean material progress. We can't build, in a material sense, without making noise. Intellectual progress even is not always along quiet lines. But I was thinking of noise in a lighter aspect. Have you not noticed how some men become mentally reckless on account of loud talking? Have you not noticed that children will sometimes shriek themselves into a highly nervous state? They become, mentally disorganized on account of the noise they make. I was a rather close observer of a man at a game of baseball the other day. He started to yelling gently and gradually worked his way up to the altitude of the shrieking rooster. Before that game ended that fellow was as mad as a March hare. He had been crazed by his own voice. Noise is a dreadful distractor, when you come to think of it, and the trouble about the noisy 'rooster' at a ball game is that in driving himself to the madhouse he is likely to take a few other fellows with him."

Kentucky Yarn.

Out on the veranda of a little Kentucky hotel several "colonels" were sipping mint julep and telling yarns about the weather.

"When Ah was up in thaw mountains, sah," said a lanky old gentleman, "it began to rain one afternoon and before thaw shower was ovah thaw was fish all ovah thaw ground. Bass, trout and carp fell right out of the clouds, sah."

The old gentleman who was rather corpulent placed his glass on the table and said:

"Cunnel, that thaw was a pretty good yahn, but it don't tech thaw experience I had fohty miles south of Frankfort. Why, sah, it began to rain thaw one day and fish came down by thaw ton. But that isn't thaw strangest of it. A thundah stohm arose, th' lightnin' struck thaw field, fried thaw fish just as nice as if they were fried in youah own kitchen an'—"

But the other "colonels" fled.

A Maid of Honor in Fact.

The late Lady Bloomfield was a maid of honor and published a book of reminiscences relating some very intimate incidents of her years at court. The result, the London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian tells, was that the queen forbade her ladies to keep dairies while they were in waiting, and from that rule grew one of the neatest repartees that the heart of the professional diarist could desire. A young lady who had just been appointed a maid of honor was receiving congratulations at a party, and her host said: "What an interesting journal you can keep!" The girl told him that journal keeping was forbidden, and the answer was: "But I think I should keep one all the same." "Then," said the girl, "whatever you were you would not be a maid of honor."

Forbidden Guest.

The following verse from a recent poem on "Our Christmas Guests" discloses a delicate little hint:

Come from that darkened corner! You're the imp who in my ear
For thirty years has whispered, with feverish lips of fear,
'That the thing to get was money, the stuff that men most prize;
Don't think I'm longer blinded by the glamor of your lies.
For you're a mighty liar, and the thing to keep is health,
And it has a value greater than all your boasted wealth;
And another one is honor, and some more are truth and right;
I can hardly bear your presence amongst my guests to-night.

The Secret of Good Coffee

Even the best housekeepers cannot make a good cup of coffee without good material. Dirty, adulterated and queerly blended coffee such as unscrupulous dealers shovel over their counters won't do. But take the pure, clean, natural flavored LION COFFEE, the leader of all package coffees—the coffee that for over a quarter of a century has been daily welcomed in millions of homes—and you will make a drink fit for a king in this way:

HOW TO MAKE GOOD COFFEE.

Use LION COFFEE, because to get best results you must use the best coffee. Grind your LION COFFEE rather fine. Use 4½ tablespoonsful to each cup, and one extra for the pot. First mix it with a little cold water, enough to make a thick paste, and add white of an egg (if egg is to be used as a settler), then follow one of the following rules:

1st. WITH BOILING WATER. Add boiling water, and let it boil THREE MINUTES ONLY. Add a little cold water and set aside five minutes to settle. Serve promptly.

2d. WITH COLD WATER. Add your cold water to the paste and bring it to a boil. Then set aside, add a little cold water, and in five minutes it's ready to serve.

3 (Don't boil it too long. Don't let it stand more than ten minutes before serving. DON'T use water that has been boiled before.)

TWO WAYS TO SETTLE COFFEE.

1st. With Eggs. Use part of the white of an egg, mixing it with the ground LION COFFEE before boiling.

2d. With Cold Water instead of eggs. After boiling add a dash of cold water, and set aside for eight or ten minutes, then serve through a strainer.

Insist on getting a package of genuine LION COFFEE, prepare it according to this recipe and you will only use LION COFFEE in future. (Sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages.)

(Lion-head on every package.)

Regulation 25. Grazing.

In view of the importance of this subject it will be published out of its regular order and allowed to run for more than one issue of the NEWS that the people may have ample opportunity to read and understand the ruling.

Other regulations will follow in their regular order:

Reg. 25. On and after January 1, 1906, a reasonable fee will be charged for grazing all classes of livestock on forest reserves. In the beginning the minimum price charged will be as follows, depending upon the advantages and locality of the reserve: From twenty to thirty-five cents per head for cattle and horses for the regular summer grazing season, and from thirty-five to fifty cents per head for the entire year; from five to eight cents per head for sheep for the regular summer grazing season; and from eight to ten cents per head for goats for the regular summer grazing season.

These prices will be gradually advanced when the market conditions, transportation facilities, and demand for reserve range warrant it, but the grazing fee charged will in all cases be reasonable and in accordance with the advantages of the locality. An extra charge of two cents per head on grown stock only, will be made for sheep and goats which are allowed to enter the forest reserves for the purpose of lambing and kidding.
