Ski Follies rehearsals set

Rehearsals for "Ski Follies", an annual production sponsored by the Sierra Blanca Racers Committee, will begin Sept. 24 at 7:30 p.m., at Chaparral Convention Center, committee members Ray Nunnally and Al Pearson have announced.

Toney and Barbara Raven, writers, producers and directors of last year's initial show, will once again direct the madcap musical revue with Jane Deyo repeating her performance at the piano. The production was first presented last winter at the Elks Lodge and at the high school.

"All persons who enjoy the team effort involved in producing a fun-type musical," Barbara Raven says, "are invited to join the first get-together of the cast-to-be members next Tuesday. Time is short as this year's performance is scheduled for about Thanksgiving."

Funds from the show are earmarked, she said, "to provide expense money for our ski teams, those deserving young racers who help publicize the Ruidoso ski industry and promote a superlative sport."

PROPERTY VALUES, FIRE PROTECTION KEY ISSUES IN ELECTION

Water bond up to people

In an exclusive, and informal, interview Tuesday, Mayor Lloyd Davis, Trustees Ab Gunter and Don Driver; Jim Hine, village manager, and Tom Jones, president of the Eagle Creek Water Association, discussed the Village Council's motives in bringing the $5 million General Obligation Bond issue to a vote of the people of Ruidoso in a special election Oct. 8.

Points brought out, to inform the voters that the council's decision to bring the matter to a vote is valid, included:

—The mayor and trustees of the village were elected by a majority vote to represent the people and to protect their interests.

—This election is being held to determine if the people want to continue to have an adequate supply of water available to meet future needs, including growth potential and fire protection.

—The proposed reservoir would involve approximately 37 acres of private property and 35 acres of Forest Service land, with a special use permit being required for the latter.

—The proposed reservoir would handle the needs of a permanent village population of 12,000 on a year-around-basis in addition to providing ample water to accommodate the seasonal influx of tourists.

—The village is totally dependent upon snow and rainfall to obtain storage water and the dam would permit storage of excess water during periods of heavy flow for use during drouth periods.

—The demand for water is constantly exceeding existing storage capabilities.

—During the 29 years of the village's incorporation, village councils have attempted to stay ahead of water needs . . . but to date they haven't even caught up.

—If Ruidoso has no water, it has no viable product (tourism) . . . and property values would decline sharply.

—Previous General Obligation Bonds have enabled the village to maintain the extremely low water charge rate of $3.55 for 2,000 gallons, a stable rate existing for between 15 and 20 years.

—The village's present treatment facilities cannot treat water fast enough to handle the increasing annual consumption . . . and couldn't handle the demand this summer.

—The proposed reservoir has been in the planning stage for the past 14 years and the tentative site near Flume Canyon was selected after a three year study of potential sites.

—Village reservoirs were reduced to a 10 to 15 day supply during June of 1974, reflecting the danger facing the village during drouths.

—To maintain a guaranteed water reserve to meet all emergencies, the village must be able to store its six cubic feet per second flow entitlement from Eagle Creek, when it is available for collection by the village.

—Demands for Eagle Creek water are increasing at a rate of 10 per cent annually on gross consumption, records disclose.

—The water use rate for 1973-74 stands at more than 100 million gallons above the 1968-69 demand.

—Once filled with 1,100 million gallons of water, an adequate supply to combat a major fire in the village would be assured.

—The village's major concern is the critical shortage of bulk water storage offered by the present water system.

—Financially, Ruidoso residents have the choice of subscribing to the $5 million bond issue, enjoying the same favorable water rate and ample water reserves . . . or facing a rising water rate because the present income from water sales is insufficient to meet rising maintenance costs within the existing system. In the long haul, the cost to users would balance out.

—Passage of the water bond would insure continuance of the favorable fire insurance rates (presently class 7), due to adequate water storage.

—Projections of water use over the past years have been borne out and those same projections forecast a usage of 1.5 million gallons daily by 1980, increasing to 2 million daily by 1990.

—There were 2,173 water meters in Ruidoso in June of 1969 . . . as of Sept. 17, there were 3,243 meters in use . . . an increase of 1,070 meters during the period. The figures include multi-purpose meters installed in condominiums, motels and similar housing facilities.

—The $5 million bond issue funds would be used solely to Speed limits, in the zones, are 20 m.p.h. in the section of Sudderth marked by the blinking yellow lights and in all other zones and areas the limit is 15 m.p.h. during school hours.

Since school opened citations for careless driving in the high school parking lot have been issued.

Second rabid bat found in Ruidoso

A report was received on Wednesday, Sept. 18 that a bat sent to the State Health Office had been declared rabid. The dead animal was picked up on the ground near the High School and sent by local authorities to the state lab.

The incident marks the second rabid animal found in Ruidoso and is a part of 29 rabid animals found in the state since January 1.

Residents are cautioned to be wary of any animal that acts strangely and to report such incidents to the proper authorities.

Voter registration

To clarify the question of voter registration in the Nov. 5 general election, following the issuance of out-of-date registration books by the Lincoln County Clerk's office, The Ruidoso News obtained the voter requirements from the Secretary of State's office this week.

To register, voters must be a resident of the county in which they will register for 30 continuous days prior to Nov. 5.

Voters must be a minimum of 18 years of age on or before November 5.

The deadline to register to vote in the Nov. 5 general election is 5 p.m., Oct. 7, with registration to be at the office of the county clerk or designated subsidiary offices.

Voters may register in New Mexico at any time but if registration is completed after Oct. 7, 1974, such voters will be ineligible to vote in the Nov. 5 election.

Electors who voted in the last general election, or those who have registered to vote since that time, need not register for this year's general election.

Bond reduced on charges against Fribergs, Hoolan

District Judge George Zimmerman last week reduced the total bond on two charges pending against Joseph Friberg, Lourdes Friberg, John Friberg and Robert Hoolan to $5,000 each.

There have been no changes in the charges: receiving, or being an accessory to receiving, stolen property valued in excess of $2,500 and unlawful possession of more than one ounce but less than eight ounces of marijuana.

A preliminary hearing has been tentatively set for Sept. 30 before Magistrate Austin Pritchett in Ruidoso or Magistrate Bill Payne in Carrizozo.

The original bond had been set at $10,000 on the property and $1,000 on the marijuana charges, by Magistrate Pritchett at the arraignment in late August.

Chamber nixes all political floats in Aspencade parade

The chamber of commerce board of directors voted not to allow any political floats or decorated autos in the annual Aspencade Parade at a meeting held last Monday evening in the Ruidoso Village Hall. The vote followed an inquiry if such vehicles would be allowed. Chamber manager Richard Cothrun also noted that tickets for the Aspencade barbecue were now on sale by members of the board and stated that the drawing for the Indian jewelry would be held at the barbecue. Price for the barbecue tickets will be $3.25 with the feed being catered by the Odessa Chuckwagon Gang, the same group who catered the Paul Harvey Banquet.

An endorsement was given to the proposed Animal Hospital for surgery on large animals. Alvie Cole had made the proposal at a previous meeting for such a hospital to be built on a non-profit basis, primarily for surgery on horses. He noted that only two such hospitals were available in this area, at Texas A & M and a Colorado college. The hospital would be built with donations.

Ken Buckley, chairman of the tennis committee, reported on progress of the program, which will be held this weekend.

Cothrun reported that a meeting had been held with U. S. Forest Service representatives concerning the winter sports area in Cedar Creek and that a site concept plan had been prepared by the forest service. He also noted that the county commissioners had agreed to improve the road to the area and it is hoped that it will be in operation by the winter of 1975.

Bank balance for all chamber accounts stands at $8,369.99 at this time.

ED WIMBERLY

Management change announced by Ruidoso State Bank

Ed Wimberly, president and chairman of the board of directors of the Ruidoso State Bank, has announced that he will resign as president of the bank on December 31, 1974. Wimberly has served as president of the institution since June of 1968 and has been with the bank since 1955.

Wimberly will continue in his capacity as chairman of the board of directors and executive committee, and noted that a new president for the bank has not been named as yet.

The Ruidoso State Bank was opened in 1953 and has expanded to its present size and opened branch banks in Ruidoso Downs and Capitan. Plans are now underway for the opening of a new branch in the Gateway Area near Gibson's Discount Center.

Wimberly cited other pressing business interests as the reason for his resignation. He is one of the major shareholders of Sierra Blanca Sports, Inc., which was organized in 1963 and consists of the Sierra Blanca Ski Shop, Mountain Ski Shop and ski shops in Breckenridge and Vail, Colo. The business has grown in gross sales to over $1¼ million in 1974.

ENJOYING THE WOMAN'S CLUB BRUNCH — Gladys Knox, Dell Knott, Gladys Berger, Jodie Keyes, Barbara Duff and Walterine Hughes.

Ruidoso Woman's Club meet; brunch, review of history program

The Ruidoso Woman's Club held its first meeting of the year Wednesday, September 11, in the newly remodeled building.

At 11:30 a.m., a delicious brunch was served by the Club officers: Barbara Duff, president; Dell Knott, 1st vice-president; Walterine Hughes, 2nd vice-president; Gladys Knox, treasurer; Ellen Sanders, secretary; and Sue Crews, parliamentarian.

After brunch, Mrs. Duff called the meeting to order; and read the history of the Woman's Club — It was organized April 14 and federated April 16, 1932. It was the first organization in Ruidoso, with the exception of a few church groups. The organization meeting was held in the home and office of Stella Campbell and Madeliene Burdett, in what is now the Woman's Club building.

Mrs. Ora Tully, president of the Glencoe Woman's Club and Mrs. J. D. Atwood, of Roswell, state president, helped organize and federate the Club. Mrs. Bob Boyce (now Mrs. Tom Rigsby) was the first president. The motto, "Banded for Fellowship"; the flower, the Indian Paint Brush; and the colors, Indian Paint Brush red and Pine green, were adopted at that time.

In the first few years, the Woman's Club paid for school lunches and provided playground equipment. They furnished milk for the lunch program for many years after that; and held bazaars donating the proceeds to the March of Dimes. They took part in the first Sun Carnival Parade in El Paso, entering a float named "The Spirit of the Mountains". They started a library by setting aside space and building shelves in their building to accomodate donated books; and kept the library open to the public at specific times. They bought an incubator for community use, which was kept at the fire station. The Glencoe Woman's Club became affiliated with them in 1955.

Madeliene Burdett was honored as a charter member. She made a very interesting and informative talk on the replanting of trees after forest fires, with the suggestion that the Woman's Club look into it.

Edwina Garcia, of the Counseling Center Division of South west Mental Health Center made a talk concerning her work, and answered questions. She is at the Hope Crisis Line headquarters at the Christian Church every Wednesday.

Following the meeting, there was an Open House to show off the newly remodeled clubhouse. Norma Phillips played background music on the piano. Gladys Berger and Allene Luck presided at the punch bowls, with Ruth Longabaugh and Mary Muhn at the Guest Book. Past Presidents were hostesses.

A scrap book was on display with outstanding pictures of development of the circle and two triangles above the Post Office, and various other activities, with the many citations and achievement awards received from the state and national Federated Woman's Clubs.

Monday, Sept. 16, after the the Covered Dish Luncheon, attended by 36, Richard Cothrun, Manager of the Chamber of Commerce, gave a talk and displayed $1635 worth of turquoise jewelry to be given away during the Aspencade and asked the Woman's Club members to help with the tickets.

Weight Watchers hold Monday meeting

The Ruidoso Chapter of Weight Watcher's International held their weekly meeting at the American Legion Hall on Monday evening at 7:30. This was their Anniversary Meeting as it was one year ago that the first meeting of the Ruidoso Chapter was held.

In the past year, members of Weight Watchers of Ruidoso, and their many out of town guests during the summer months, boasts of a total weight loss of 522 pounds.

Weight Watcher members are allowed to attend any meeting of the WWI anyplace in the entire world wherever meetings are held. The Ruidoso Chapter was proud to have enjoyed as their guests during the summer months, members from Austin, El Paso, Lubbock, Amarillo, Fort Worth and Odessa, Texas, and also from Vaughn and Silver City, New Mexico. Present local members include the towns of Ruidoso, Alto, Capitan, Nogal and Mescalero.

On Monday, September 9, Mrs. Sally Avery of El Paso, Texas was presented her Weight Watcher Goal Pin for achieving her WWI weight goal. Mrs. Avery has been a frequent visitor to Weight Watchers this summer while vacationing here in Ruidoso.

Mrs. Delphi Shakra, Director of Nursing of the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley General Hospital, has been the lecturer for Ruidoso Weight Watchers during the summer months. Mrs. Shakra has lectured the group on the values of proper nutrition and the dangers of obesity and improper diet.

Mrs. Shakra announced to the group that beginning Monday, September 23, Mrs. Helen Craig of Alto will be the new lecturer for the Ruidoso Chapter. Mrs. Craig is a Charter member of the Ruidoso Chapter and was proud to tell the group that she had gone from a size 18½ down to a size 12 in the past year. "The beauty of the program," states Mrs. Craig, "is that I never, never go hungry — and I still lose weight."

Open meetings are scheduled to be held on September 30, October 7, and October 14, to which the public is invited. This is a program for men and boys as well as women and girls. Specially designed programs for men, youth and women will be stressed. It is stated by WWI that men are usually better losers of weight than women and stick to the program better, probably because they do not spend so much of their time in the kitchen.

To be eligible to join Weight Watchers you must be at least ten pounds overweight and truly want to lose weight. This is a group of people with the same problem working toward the same goal. There is no charge for the Open Meetings on the above mentioned dates.

25 Years Ago

September 9, 1949

Dr. Snow of Roswell, the one who caught "The Fish" of the 1949 season had it in the deep freeze at the Ruidoso Clubhouse, which caused a parade of fishing enthusiasts through there Monday to view the 22 inch, four pound trout, and return to fishing with renewed hopes. Several others recognized the trout, and claimed to have hooked him "but he got away."

Sunday, September 4, Tom Jones, George Trimble, R. H. Hedgecoke, Dink Gann, Joe Coe, Pete Parker, L. C. Davis, S. G. Knoll, Claude Peterson and George Limacher, all of the Ruidoso Gun Club, attended the Big Bore Rifle Match given by the New Mexico Military Institution at Roswell.

Ruidoso took first place thereby winning the beautiful trophy put up by the N.M.M.I.; the Roswell team took second place.

The local boys also won a number of individual medals. Jones was high man on the Ruidoso team which gave him the Club Championship medal; he also won second place in the off hand match. Trimble won first at 1000 yards, and first at 600 yards. Hedgecoke took first on the 200 yard kneeling rapid fire, Gann got third tyro in the off hand match, and Davis took third tyro at 600 yards. The boys repored a well run match and a very good time.

An expression of appreciation for the traditional hospitality of the George Coe ranch was made Wednesday, August 31, when Arthur Allison of Roswell gave a chicken barbecue and picnic for the Will Coe and Elzy Perry families.

The picnic took place in the evening under the walnut and wild cherry trees of Tunstall Park. Thirty-five chickens were barbecued in an open pit by Mr. Allison, and the guests each had half a chicken or more along with cake, ice cream, pies, watermelon and coffee.

Tunstall Park is situated at Tunstall Spring in the mesa country a mile or so south of the original George Coe farm. The spring is so named because of the murder, at the head of its canyon, of J. H. Tunstall, February 18, 1878.

The farm itself is now divided between the only two living children of Mr. and Mrs. George Coe; Will and his family making their home on the north side of the river and Mr. and Mrs. Perry on the south side. Mrs. Perry was, before her marriage, Mayme Coe.

Mr. Coe in a conversation explained that the historical color of the spot, together with its natural charm, had given him the idea of making it a picnic ground and family memorial of the pioneer days on the George Coe Ranch.

15 YEARS AGO

September 11, 1959

Letters of protest from individuals in Ruidoso to the State Game Department over abolishment of the game refuge adjoining the village limits on the northeast brought several officials of the department here this week to confer with civic leaders.

The officials met with Mayor Jack Hull, Chamber of Commerce President Carl Morrison and others at the C of C building, Tuesday afternoon.

Fred Harrington, big game biologist, located at Ruidoso for the last three years said, "Three refuges have recently been abolished and will be available for the hunting of big game, Ruidoso, Jack's Peak and Jicarillo. These refuges were established in the past so that game could reproduce within these protected areas and repopulate surrounding areas. However, at the present time, a surplus of game, deer in particular, already exists in the adjacent areas.

"With these refuges in existence, it is impossible to achieve a proper harvest in order to balance the deer with their existing food supply," Harrington said.

New fees for building permits in Ruidoso were passed in Ordinance No. 108 in the last Village Board of Trustees meeting. Other business included discussion of an ordinance for charging fees for Ruidoso Airport use for upkeep of the airport; presentation by Melvin Knox of a petition asking annexation of the land to be occupied by Ruidoso's Radio Station KYAP on the hill south of downtown Ruidoso; a request from D. B. Morgan that a body buried on private land near the cemetery here be moved into the cemetery. A burial was made in a plot of ground mistaken as being in the cemetery, he said.

CAPITAN NEWS

MRS. JUNE HOUSE
Phone 354-2542

The Capitan Tigers were defeated by the Alamogordo Sophomore Tigers last Friday night. The score was 14-6. The offense that had scored 71 points the previous week could only get 6 points on the board.

The game was marred by many flags thrown by the officials. In fact, by unofficial count, an official emptied his back pocket twenty-four times, with each side being the victim almost an equal number of times. A total of four football players were ejected from the game — two from each team.

Game captains were John Lucero and Kenny Cummins. Defensive starters were ends Benjie Trujillo and Pat Griego. Guards were John Lucero and Ricky Richardson. The linebackers were John Taylor, Tránkie Montoya and Ricky Phillips. Cornerbacks were Kenny Cummins and Wayne Ware. And, the defensive halfbacks were Mike Renfro and Mike Beltran.

The first time Alamo had possession of the ball, they marched 70 yards downfield for a touchdown. The conversion attempt failed.

On Capitan's next possession, they were able to get a drive going. Capitan stayed on the ground during this drive with Renfro and Montoya making most of the yardage. However, disaster struck at the 10-yard line as Capitan fumbled and Alamo recovered.

In the last few seconds of the first half, the teams traded pass interceptions on two successive plays. But, the one touchdown by Alamo was the only scoring in the first half. Half-time score was 6-0.

Capitan opened the second half by kicking off to Alamo. On the kick-off, Alamo fumbled at the 30-yard line and Trujillo recovered for Capitan. The Capitan offense could not take advantage of the break. A field goal attempt was blocked and Alamo once again had possession of the football; this time at the 16-yard line.

The defense rose to the occasion and forced Alamo to punt again after just three plays. Capitan took over near midfield after the punt return. After a two yard gain by Montoya a penalty for illegal motion sent Capitan back five yards. The next play was a screen pass from Cummins to Montoya. Montoya caught the pass near midfield and made a beautiful run to the end zone. He ran over several defenders who tried to stop him but this was one of the more determined runs of the entire evening. All was for naught as back at the line of scrimmage there was a piece of red marring the green turf. Capitan was guilty of illegal procedure and instead of 50 yards forward and 6 points, it was 5 yards backward for the Tigers.

The loss was apparently too much for the Tigers and they were soon forced to punt. There was a fine run back of the punt but a penalty, this time against Alamogordo, put the ball on the Alamo 15-yard line.

On this series of downs, Alamo threw the long bomb down field. They had been trying to catch the Capitan defenders napping and this time they succeeded. The Alamo player was finally stopped at the 5-yard line by a tremendous effort by Beltran. Beltran came all the way across the field to finally catch the ball carrier and momentarily stall the touchdown.

With the help of a "half the distance to the goal line" penalty, the Tigers from Alamo scored. The two-point conversion was good, making the score 14-0.

The third quarter ended with the score still at 14-0. The Tigers couldn't take advantage of an interception or a recovered fumble by Mike Beltran in the third quarter.

Finally in the fourth period another recovered fumble, this time by Henry "Ace" Griego of the Tigers, led to the score by Capitan. Helped downfield by penalties, Capitan got on the scoreboard as Montoya went the final two yards to the end zone. The extra point attempt by Beltran was blocked as the Alamo defenders came crashing thru. The game ended with the score still at 14-6.

Cited by Assistant Coach Richard House as "Defensive Player of the Week" was Mike Beltran. Beltran made three pass interceptions, recovered a fumble, and made two touchdown saving tackles.

The Hagerman Bobcats come to Capitan this Friday, September 20. Hagerman is considered one of the best Class A teams in the state. Hagerman runs the wishbone on offense as does Capitan. Hagerman has a top left-handed quarterback who can really throw the football and who can run with the ball as well. To complement the quarterback is one of the better running backs around. Hagerman has won its first two games of the season. It will be a tough ball game for the Tigers.

Come to Tiger Stadium on Friday night and back the Tigers all the way.

The Tigers have had one serious injury during the practice sessions. Joe David Cummins has his arm in a cast. He will have the cast on at least five weeks. Hope it heals real fast, Joe David.

The Capitan Junior High football season was to get underway on Thursday, Sept. 19. Capitan played the Carrizozo Junior High team in Carrizozo.

The Capitan team was slow to begin practice as they lacked sufficient number to field a team. Finally, seventeen boys are ready to begin play.

Those on the team are Adam Aldaz, Byron Carpenter, Ricky Clifton, Clayton Davis, Larry Dunn, Lonnie Dunn, Kevin Fredekind, Farrel McKay, Ronnie Montes, Wesley Pounds, Tim Proctor, Manuel Ramirez, Ray Staggs, Scotty Townley, Alex Trujillo, James Woolly and John DeWeber.

Get out to the games and support these Junior High teams if you possibly can. The next game is set for Saturday, Oct. 5 in Capitan against the Ruidoso Junior High. Game time is 10 a.m.

Capitan Athletic Club

The Capitan Athletic Club held an organizational meeting Wednesday night, Sept. 11, in the school Cafeteria.

The first order of business was to accept a full slate of officers. They are — President, Norman Renfro; vice-president, Richard Phillips; secretary, Reba Barber and treasurer, Joan Pumphrey.

The purpose of this organization is to help support with money and action, athletics for boys and girls in Capitan High School.

There is a membership fee for each member who joins. See the treasurer, Joan Pumphrey, if you care about athletics in Capitan High.

Meetings will be held every first and third Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Ideas for making money were discussed. Then projects on which to spend the money were discussed.

The initial money making campaign will be a Rifle Raffle! The drawing for the rifle will be Nov. 16 at 12:00 noon at the Smokey Bear Restaurant in Capitan. This is the middle weekend of the hunting season, so the winner will have an opportunity to use the rifle this season. The rifle will be a Remington 700 Series BDL, bolt action with a K-4 Weaver scope.

Tickets will be ready for the public to buy very soon. When the tickets are printed, there will be further information. Keep watching for this announcement.

Money raised from the drawing and other projects will be used to buy blazers for the athletes of Capitan High School, both boys and girls.

A constitution for the club was adopted. The secretary will have copies of the constitution.

Another activity that the club will be promoting is the First Annual Lincoln County Boys' and Girls' Basketball Tournament. This tournament will be held in Capitan during the basketball season.

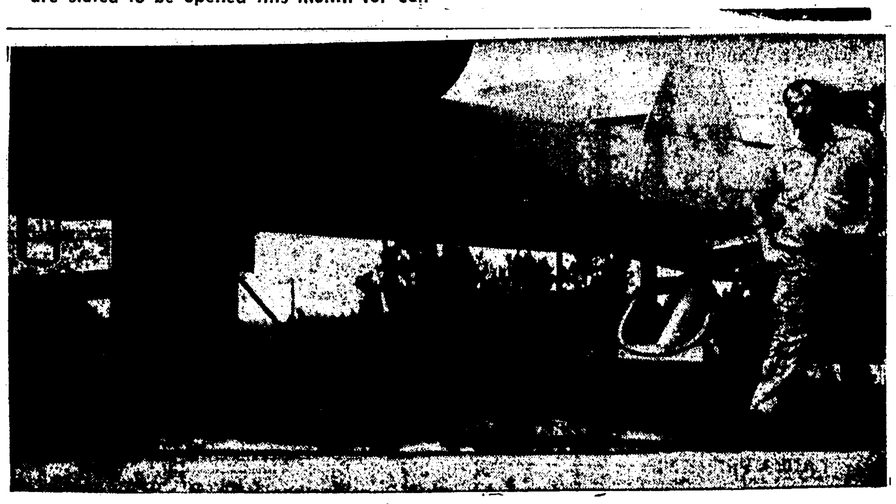
RUIDOSO STATE BRANCH BANKS — This artist's conception is one of the two branches of Ruidoso State Bank that will be built in Ruidoso Downs and the Gateway area. Bids are slated to be opened this month for construction. The Gateway Branch will be located just west of Gibson's and the Ruidoso Downs Branch will be next door to the post office.



THE FIRST COATING OF ASPHALT, visible under the flames of this 15 million BTU burner, was being laid last week by contractor Armstrong and Armstrong on Ruidoso airport runways. The supervisor, right, was striding purposefully toward The Ruidoso News photographer, to inquire: "What's with all the pictures?" (Ruidoso News Photo)

We sell "quiet and beauty".

In assessing the just-completed summer season, we would note that we have been extremely fortunate here in Ruidoso. Track handle set an all time record, building has continued at a rapid pace, and almost all businesses in the village have had a good year. All this following the gas shortage last winter — and even then we had a good winter season. We should count our blessings and prepare to give our visitors even better services for the year ahead of us.

The friendly warmth of the mountain village is still evident to our visitors and they will return as long as it remains so. Take your time and talk to some of your customers and you'll find that you will enjoy it as much as they. We still have many areas where our guests may go for solitude, quiet and the cool of our beloved mountains.

With the uncertain situation in our country, we have the beauty and quiet of our mountains and our friendly atmosphere to sell. Most people are seeking a place to "get away from it all" and as long as we can provide such a place, our growth and prosperity will continue. We must be sure that our atmosphere is not destroyed by disorderly growth but we should still allow the maximum of freedom that is possible.

Mescaleros honored as most progressive

The Mescalero Apache Indian Tribe, one of the most progressive in New Mexico, is being specially honored by the 1974 New Mexico State Fair.

An exhibit in the Pueblo Building at the Indian Village documents the tribe's wide-ranging interests. A tall blue and white teepee just outside displays Mescalero costumes and jewelry.

The tribe's enterprises include forestry, a ski area, a soon to be opened resort and one of the best-equipped machine shops in the state.

The Mescalero resort sits near a 100 square-surface-acre lake and will feature an 18-hole golf course, sailing, horseback riding, water skiing and will serve as headquarters for the tribe's big game hunting area. When completed next May, facilities will include a 140 unit hotel with convention rooms.

Sierra Blanca, a ski area run by the tribe near Ruidoso, is one of the most popular in the state. Mescalero administrators claim the ski area shows more profit than any other of the state's five ski resorts.

Hydraulic filters are but one of the products manufactured by Marvel Engineering, the tribe-run machine shop. Marvel owns more engineering and manufacturing equipment than any other shop in the state, according to tribal information.

Forestry is yet another of the businesses run by the 2100-member reservation population. Their timber and sawmill operation runs on a sustaining yield basis with an 80 year cycle.

In food production, the Mescaleros are the largest private cattle producers in New Mexico. Their fish hatchery provides food for reservation residents. The surplus is distributed to northern pueblos, according to tribe officials.

Besides the tribe's economic accomplishments, the exhibit also includes a display of the tribe's multi level housing program. Five different types of housing are being built on the reservation land and will have financing provided through FHA and conventional means. Also on display, as a tribute to the tribe's history, is a collection of foodstuffs and some crafts traditionally produced by tribe members.

A crew of ten Mescaleros will be on hand at the Pueblo Building and outside in the teepee to answer visitors' questions. Said Tribal Chairman Wendell Chino, "We appreciate the privilege and the opportunity to have these exhibits. We want to thank the New Mexico State Fair Commision for supporting the Indian Village."

The displays will be open for the remainder of the fair — the Biggest Show in New Mexico— which continues through Sunday, Sept. 22 in Albuquerque.

Water bond . . .

provide raw water storage and treatment plant, with necessary transport lines. Not one dime could be spent for any other purpose than to provide water.

—Periods of drouth, such as during 1971 and 1974, clearly indicate that the village cannot rely on rainfall or snow to supply day-to-day water needs.

In a personal comment Don Driver said: "We are 7 to 10 years behind our needs for water. The village council is elected to foresee problems . . . and to do the job they were elected to. The council is bringing this issue before the voters for their decision. It is the responsibility of the board to advise the community of cases of need, in this instance, water, and to leave the final decision up to the voters."

Tom Jones noted that the Eagle Creek Inter-Community Water Supply Association was formed in 1954 by the incorporated villages of Ruidoso and Capitan, to purchase the Eagle Creek Water Rights and water supply system from the Southern Pacific Railroad, and to engage in the business of storing, developing, transporting and selling water to the member villages. Only incorporated municipalities with water treatment facilities are eligible for membership in the association.

A further association purpose, Jones said, is to engage in research and development activities of all types relating to water.

The Association is operated by a board of directors appointed by the member villages, with three directors named from each village. The directors serve without compensation and all are ex-village officials or present council members familiar with village problems.

(Tom Jones, association president, has served on this board for 18 years and was recently appointed to serve an additional six year term. Jones has long advocated that Ruidoso should have adequate raw water storage.)

Voter eligibility in this election requires a minimum age of 18 by election day, if properly registered and qualified. It is not necessary to be a property owner to vote but there is no absentee voting on a General Obligation Bond issue.

"What we need," Gunter said, "is a mandate from the people . . . a large voter turnout . . . to advise the board of the voters' wishes so that the board can take proper action."

"There is no point in doing anything" (concerning the water problem), Davis said, "unless we run with this project NOW!"

District Attorneys attended seminar

New Mexico District Attorneys and staff members, numbering about 60, attended a seminar on polygraphs and insanity defense and prosecution at Cloudcroft Lodge Sept. 12-14.

Staff members were briefed on children's codes and matters concerning non-payment of welfare responsibilities.

Speakers from several universities in the southwest and members of the Albuquerque District Attorney's office, as well as private investigators, conducted the sessions on lie detectors.

Forest Service tells mining regulations

Regulations to protect the environment during mining and prospecting operations for such metals as gold, copper and lead on National Forest lands went into effect September 1.

The announcement was made by Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz following public comments on a final environmental statement and incorporation of several changes as a result of this comment. He said the final regulations were printed in the August 28 Federal Register. More information on the new regulations is available at all Forest Service offices.

Secretary Butz said the regulations will apply to the 140 million acres of National Forest lands subject to locations and entry under the US Mining Laws of 1872. They have no effect on the development of oil, gas and coal deposits, which are already regulated under the Mineral Leasing Laws.

The Forest Service first published the mining use regulations on December 19, 1973. After receiving and considering public comment on the proposal, the regulations were reviewed. The revised regulations were opened to public comment on July 16. A final Environmental Impact Statement on the regulations were filed with the Council on Environmental Quality on that date also. Among suggestions adopted in the revised regulations was one that leaves no doubt that the Forest Service will, in analyzing each proposed operating plan, consider the economics of the operation, along with other factors, in determining the reasonableness of the requirements for surface resource protection.

The new regulations require that under certain conditions miners and prospectors give the USDA's Forest Service advance "notice of intent" that they plan operations on National Forest lands. If the Forest Service determines that such operations will cause significant disturbance to the surface resources, it will require the operator to submit for approval a plan showing how he expects to conduct the mining or prospecting. The regulations also specify that any operator required to file a plan of operations shall furnish a bond commensurate with the expected cost of rehabilitating the area after prospecting or mining.

Forest Service Chief John R. McGuire said the new regulations provide the Forest Service with a major means of meeting its environmental responsibilities to protect the surface resources of National Forest System lands during the mining operations. He said the regulations also benefit mining operators, in that they clearly spell out the operators' rights and obligations when conducting such activities.

Letter to Editor

To Whom It May Concern:

We would like to take this opportunity to tell you what a beautiful country you have around Ruidoso, N. M. We came down for the All-American and also went on a four day trail ride. People would not believe the marvelous country unless they see it for themselves. You people are also very gracious. We visited many of them, the man who caught "Smokey the Bear," the Wards at Lincoln, Bud Crenshaw — at White Oaks, the people at the O Bar O Ranch and all the people who took us on the trail ride. We hope when other people come down they will take a look at the country around them as we said once, it is beautiful.

Mescalero Happenings

By JO KAZHE.

Our little girl, Joby, celebrated her first birthday recently, with a cake and ice cream party. Helping her celebrate were Mrs. Dorcie Kazhe, Mr. and Mrs. Berle Kanseah, James and Waddell, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Kazhe, Missy, Joey, Lonnie and Irvin, Kim Kazhe, Karlene Kazhe, Mariole Kazhe, Pam and Buddy and Sarah.

Ms. Sandra Shanta became the bride of Mr. Ron Britton on September 14, in a ceremony performed at Head Springs in Mescalero. Mr. Britton is the Director for the Housing Department. We congratulate them and wish them a long, happy marriage.

Miss Pam Kazhe celebrated her 18th birthday on Monday, September 16. Pam is a student at the Alamogordo Beauty College.

Mescalero has an exhibit booth at the State Fair in Albuquerque, so when you visit the fair, stop and find out what the exhibit is all about.

The New Mexico Council of American Indians, Inc., will present the Mescalero Apache Tribe with a plaque for effort and progress. The plaque will be presented at 2:30 p.m., September 18, in the Indian Village at the State Fair.

A Tribal holiday was declared for Wednesday so that Tribal members could attend the plaque presentation and Indian Day at the Fair. A chartered bus took elder members of the Tribe to the Fair so that they might enjoy the festivities also. Ms. Adrianne Hanks was a leader in helping to coordinate the schedules, exhibits, etc.

STUPH & JUNK . . . by Cale Dickey

Dark doings . . .

Every housewife . . . well, most housewives . . . er, some housewives I've known . . . when faced with a batch of green tomatoes, promptly array them on a window ledge . . . one receiving the maximum amount of sunlight of all in the house . . . and eagerly await the ripening process.

Every housewife knows that mushrooms not only grow, but ripen to gourmet delectability in the dark. In the dank/dark.

Every housewife who grows tomatoes knows that they must be given tender loving care . . . nurtured from seed to plant to fruition.

Every housewife knows that fruits ripen . . . to the peak of flavor . . . in the healthy rays of a bright shining sun . . . assuming that all factors are equal . . . rainfall, temperature and soil conditions . . . lack of bugs and fruit parasites.

But now science has disclosed a real eye opener about ripening tomatoes . . . it's enough to shake a person's faith in old wives tales . . . tomatoes that need a touch of ripening will ripen only in the dark . . . so go ahead, shove those skeletons in your closet to one side . . . stuff your greenish tomatoes into a light proof bag . . . and presto . . . if'n they don't spoil first . . . they'll ripen beautifully.

And if'n that won't curdle the sauce that brightens your chili . . . try a slug of milk.

No water hole . . .

Yes, it is possible . . . the voters in the Oct. 8 election just might put their "X" on the spot to defeat the proposition to tax themselves to the tune of $5 million over the next 20 years . . . just to see what'll happen if the village dads can't have a whack at providing a virtually inexhaustible supply of water for our use.

By the persons concerned in bringing this water bond issue to a vote, more than considerable thought has been given to the question . . . they've weighed the odds . . . reflected upon the past . . . looked ahead to determine the village's needs, based upon charts, graphs, statistics and every other available growth factor at their disposal. And they've determined, if Ruidoso is not only to remain its status quo, but to prove to that everyone's share of the abominable tax load will be lightened, however infinitesimally or grossly, that there is naught to be done except dig that hole in the ground, dam it and fill it with eleven hundred millions of gallons of water . . . and that's a reservoir to be reckoned with.

This brings up the moot question . . . taxes. Taxes can be done without . . . too bad the same can't be said for water.

Who is there that dares prognosticate what the voters will do . . . once they've drawn the curtain on the booth . . . and they think ahead to the taxes they'll be paying . . . taxes that'll insure a water supply . . . as weighed against taking their chances . . . and seeing what'll happen.

From a practical standpoint, the water bond issue must pass . . . from a monetary standpoint it might go down to defeat . . . yes, Virginia . . . Si se puede.

Turmoil time . . .

Politicians . . . yclept adventurers . . . will soon be doing their thing . . . descending upon the voters like hordes of locusts . . . wheedling, cajoling, promising . . . condemning, threatening, interpolating . . . and they'll attend political rallies where the climate is favorable . . . and they'll jump to conclusions . . . and on their opponents.

And when the storm blows over . . . who loses . . . who gains? Well, now . . . if you've viewed the political scene long through cynical eyes . . . you'll know that to the victors go the goodies . . . so go ahead, tally up the list of victors . . . subtract that from the balance of the electorate . . . and you shouldn't have the least bit of trouble figuring out who the losers are. But come next election, you can —

BRIEF BIT: 'Tis a good thing the golden of the soon to be turning aspens isn't like the gold of the goldenrod . . . true beauty to eschew if it makes you a-choo . . .CD

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Tree Litter

From time to time, when the west wind blew, twigs and leaves from Fred Miller's poplar tree would flutter down into a neighbor's back yard. Resentful, the neighbor finally took the matter into the courtroom.

"It is up to Miller to keep his litter out of my yard," he told the judge. "If there is no other way, then let him cut the tree down."

But the court refused to mix in. Noting that the tree was located entirely on Miller's land, the court said he could not be blamed for the natural process of shedding.

Generally speaking, the law will not interfere with natural growth on private property.

Thus, another man was held entitled to maintain four large maple trees on his land even though they kept a neighbor's house in the shade. The court said his freedom to use his own property outweighed the indirect annoyance to the neighbor.

On the other hand, the neighbor may have a valid complaint when the injury he suffers is more substantial. Thus, when branches actually spread across the property line, most courts give the neighbor the right to chop them off at the boundary.

Furthermore, a neighbor usually has grounds for a suit if a tree threatens his safety. Another case involved a badly decayed elm, standing near a back yard fence. The next door neighbor, fearful of an impending accident, warned the tree's owner of the danger — to no avail.

One morning, during a storm, a heavy bough split off and fell across the fence, smiting the neighbor on the shoulder. Under these circumstances, the owner of the tree was held responsible for the neighbor's mishap.

The court said he had no more right to keep a dangerous tree on his property than to keep a dangerous building.

RENTING OUT YOUR HOME

Your home becomes a business if you rent it out either for a year or some seasonal period such as the summer. The costs of running the property are subtracted from the rent to determine the net income from the operation—just as would be done in any other business. Among the expenses that can be charged off are interest on the mortgage, maintenance and repairs, agent's fees, utilities if you pay them, insurance premiums, annual depreciation, and improvements.

If you sell a house you rented as against a home occupied by the owner — there are important tax differences.

Depreciation claimed must be subtracted from the cost of the house. You can't defer the profit from the sale by buying another house. However, you can charge off a loss on the sale against your income for the year.

Tax-wise, renting out your home is a whole new ball game. So as not to pass up any moneysaving deductions, I suggest you put your return in the hands of a good accountant.

MRS. B—

By CECELIA BARRON

I received a book in the mail which is very informative. It is the MaGaffey Genealogy. It may not be of interest to anyone if they are not a McGaffey — which I am not. My father's sister married a McGaffey. But as I read through the names of who begot that one, and which begat this one, I came to various notations of how these people lived and prospered, since before the Mayflower, and it is very interesting.

First, I want to say the McGaffeys originated in Ireland and Scotland so far as there is any history of them; and were hard fighters and workers. The writer, George W. McGaffey, states that more famous people came out of Scotland than any other country; and backs it up by giving page after page of writers, musicians, statesmen and dignitaries. It seems there was no work too difficult to undertake; too, you may be sure they never heard of welfare, food stamps, and government compensations or handouts of any kind.

The writer gives the various wars and battles of the famous patriot, Sir William Wallace and beloved Bruce of Scotland, who wrestled their country from England, March 4, 1327, at the battle of Bannockburn. A very interesting account is given of the death of Bruce: how his heart was extracted and embalmed, delivered to Sir James Doughlas, to be carried to Palestine and buried in Jerusalem; but Doughlas was killed on his way, by the Moors in Spain, and the sacred relic of Bruce was brought back to be buried with his body in the monastery of Melrose.

What does all this have to do with the McGaffeys? Some of the McGaffeys' ancestors took part in these battles and were superb fighters. On down through the 15th and 16th centuries they were plagued by one restriction after another — even the church, and fled to Ireland.

In the year 1718, some families sailed from Londonderry, Ireland to Portsmouth, New Hampshire and established a colony. In the years 1720 to 1730, the McGaffeys joined them. Then the McGaffey history starts in the colonies of America. Thus, the ancestors of the McGaffeys of today who are scattered throughout the United States, lived in turbulent times.

In 1734, one Neal McGaffey was killed by Indians; one John McGaffey lost his life in the Revolutionary war and his name is on a monument in the cemetery at Lyndon Centre, Vermont; one was drowned crossing Taylor's Bayou, near Sabine Pass of Texas.

Some ancestors went to Texas, some to Michigan, Ohio and other central states. A very few went to California and one even migrated to the Philippine Islands. Some were lost at sea; but the most surprising of all history: so many died in infancy. It seems many died of what was called Sherman's consumption. Some went to Colorado Springs, Arkansas, or Hot Springs, New Mexico for treatment.

But I think that New Mexicans will be interested in a Lucius Kimball McGaffey, who came to Roswell about 1891, at an early age and engaged in real estate and the insurance business; and was on the high road to success when he was elected as a delegate from the fifth Texas district to the National Convention at St. Louis. To quote the writer: "At nearly forty he is still unmarried. None of the dusky maidens are sufficiently attractive to lure him from his bachelorhood." People of Roswell will note a street named McGaffey.

Amasa Bemis McGaffey, brother of Lucius, at the age of 34 came to New Mexico and worked in the A. T. and S. F. RR for several years. But in 1901 he was made western manager for the Hyde Exploring Expedition, trading with Indians at trading posts, scattered over the Indian reservations. In 1903 he was made president and manager, and was also elected president of the Fair Association.

Mr. McGaffey's duties as president required him to make trips with an Indian escort to the trading posts. At the time of this writing of the book, he was located at Albuquerque, in a store of Navajo blankets and Indian goods, considered to be one of the finest in the world. In 1894 Mr. McGaffey married Mabel F. Fox of Albuquerque and they had three children.

Edwin Wallace Parker, who was a missionary to India and Henry A. Keach, owner of fine Red Poll stock farms in Wyoming and Colorado in 1868 to 1895, were husbands of girl descendants of the McGaffeys.

Also, J. A. McAfee married a descendant in 1901, went west, and built the first concrete structure in Stockton, California; a two-story building of ten rooms with ground dimensions of 50x40 feet. The walls were twelve inches thick with the foundation walls 14 inches. An interesting notation is: the cost of constructing the walls did not exceed the cost of laying brick, which was $6.00 per eight hour day. It would be nice if we could get it built for that price today. I wonder if the building is still standing?

I came across a Mrs. Johnston, married to a descedant of George and Rachel McGaffey Fellows. Mrs. Johnston possessed much literary ability and wrote many books too numerous to name, besides writing for several magazines. She did much traveling; partly in search of material for her books and on account of her son's health. She spent a winter tenting on a desert near Phoenix, Arizona, and the summer of 1903 on a ranch in Texas. "Joel, A Boy of Galilee" had the honor of being translated into Italian and published serially in Rome.

Then there was one Mrs. Spring, who graduated from the Women's Medical College in 1898 and was a successful doctor in Chicago.

Some of these lives were so interesting, I could hardly put the book down until it was finished; and I am tempted to follow up in other writings.

Interpretive program set for Carlsbad

After many years of planning and several seemingly insurmountable problems which delayed its completion, Carlsbad Caverns National Park finally has a space-age electronic communications system interpreting cavern features to park visitors.

The innovative system is not intended as a replacement for park rangers and technicians in the cavern, but rather as a supplement to enhance the individualized service provided by park personnel.

Planning for the electronic interpretive system was started in 1968 — more than six years ago — when it was realized that increasing travel would eventually require either a new method of showing the cavern to visitors, or, as an alternative, the imposition of limits on the number of visitors permitted to tour the cavern each day. Individual tour groups often exceeded 500 visitors, even with 14 "complete" three mile long, three hour tours scheduled each day. On occasion, individual groups swelled to over one thousand visitors!

Funding for the new interpretive system was obtained in 1973, and late last fall a call was issued for bids. The bid was a complete package, calling for installation, operation and maintenance of the system by the successful bidder. Provisions were also made for a 90 day trial period on a portion of the system before final awarding of the contract for the full installation. Telesonic Systems, Incorporated, of Fairfield, New Jersey was awarded the contract after being named the successful bidder.

For the visitor utilizing the system, only one component is visible. This is the receiver, or portable listening device, which is issued for use by each visitor during the cavern trip. It comes with either a wrist or neck strap and is placed to the ear much like the receiver of a princess style telephone. The messages are received automatically while walking along the trail. There is no need to stop, push a button, or plug into an outlet.

The messages are transmitted from a central console in the visitor center through small wires buried in the trail surface throughout the cavern, with long rectangular loops forming antennas or "zones of sound" at various intervals.

A choice is offered of either an adult English language program, a Spanish language version, or a special children's program. There are 43 separate messages along the three mile trail, offering interesting tidbits of information on the park's history, geology, plant and animal life, along with safety, protection, and conservation messages. The messages are designed to give the visitor the basic park story, and yet to stimulate questions from visitors for uniformed park personnel located along the cavern trail. Interesting "historical" quotes are also included.

Each receiver has its own volume control and a channel selector for dialing the program desired.

Telesonic Systems, contractor for the program, went to considerable expense to custom design and manufacture the totally new equipment to meet the needs of the park operation. With the field of electronic communication changing so rapidly, even further improvements and refinements of components are anticipated within the next few years.

Reaction to this new visitor service has been quite favorable so far, both from the public and park personnel. With visitor interest being further stimulated by the system's messages, park officials are hopeful that uniformed personnel on duty will be contacted more frequently with an increase in the number and the scope of questions from the public concerning the cave features.

The park staff encourages visitors to come and try out the new system.

The regular park entrance fee, or an annual Golden Eagle or Golden Age Passport, includes the use of the receivers, with no separate charge being made.

The SILVER LINING

by DANIEL A. STORM

The Gold and Purple Caravan of Autumn Time Begins to Move

Although it will not be Fall by the calendar until the twenty-third, yet there is a dreamy enchantment in the air, a deep contentment in your soul that lets you know that "The King of Seasons" has begun his royal music for the colorful Autumnal march.

You have noticed that the seasons of Summer and Winter for the most part move very little. In Summer there is not too much change in leaf and grass and sky. And in Winter the snow may be a white cover for the world or just be shining patches here and there in the shades of the evergreens on the hillside — not too much change from day to day.

In Spring and in the Fall you wake up each morning in a different world, each day has a brand new charm waiting for you.

Spring is rapid in its step, hurrying like a child happy in his play. There is much to be done—blossoms to flower forth, grass to be brought up from the ground, leaf buds to unfold into leaves.

Autumn is like someone in the golden age of life, ever so happy with each moment, and traveling slowly so as not to miss any of the joys of this harvest time — lingering here and there, beside this sparkling brook and this mossy stone, and that bright flower deeply appreciating all things great and small of this gold and purple day.

The gold of this season is seen on every hand: the sunrise and the sunset, the sun flowers along the way and their smaller cousins, the yellow autumn daisies, and the goldenrod, that emblem of the fall.

The purple is in the color of the mountains this time of year turned a colorful shade as seen from across the valleys and the foothills, meadows, mountain mesas and upland plains. Then there is that purple daisy growing on its stem two, three and four feet high — true Autumn purple with a golden center, the New England aster of song, story and poem.

Here in New Mexico we have a touch of purple all our own across the meadows: the gramma grass, now fully ripe, the miniature golf clubs waving like myriads of tiny pennants fringed in their golden pollen.

One of the delights of Spring and Fall in this part of the world is that the seasons go traveling in space as well as time.

Spring begins in the lower country, with blossoms and new leaves, starting at Roswell to the west and Tularosa to the east, and gradually moves day by day to the top of the mountain.

Fall, of course, travels the other way, making its beginning high in the mountains and traveling down and down turning leaves as it goes, first the aspen and mountain maple high up on the mountainsides; on down to the oaks and walnuts and box elder — to the cottonwoods and the willow trees along the Pecos River, and the apricot and fig leaves in Tularosa and LaLuz.

The Kid Comes Down To The River

Just before the best rains of the year Sept. 6, all the calves came down with their mothers. And I had a feeling in my bones that when they went back they would be gone a while, what with Autumn rain and then heavy snow. Quien sabe?

Last but not least was the littlest calf, "Kid McCoy," alias Bully the Kid. He is twice the size he was when he went up, thanks to the ripening grass. His little mother was beaming with pride at her first born. Nearby were his body guard, Hill Top Bill and his athletic instructor, The Bandit.

This early September sunshine has a real punch, a low side swinging blow that hits you in the burr of the ear and burns your nose worse than the midsummer sun which comes down from straight up above..

These ripening rays feel good as they soak into your bones after a cold September morning. And as you go by the orchards you can almost see the gold and red apples growing, as they take in the glorious Autumn sunshine.

Remember to visit our apple growing neighbors and get some apples for the winter. The Jonathans are getting ripe now, with the Golden Delicious soon to follow. Then right away come the Red Delicious, Winesap and Rome Beauty.

The apples, fresh from the tree, right at your door-step are as healthful and full of flavor as any in this wide world.

The Storm Ranch Coylie, Shady Logan, is very fond of apples, and is always sure to eat several during the season.

Although strep throat is similar to the common "sore" throat, it is a serious illness that can easily be passed from one person to another and can develop into serious diseases if untreated.

New Mexico is geographically located in what is called the "strep belt" and statistics show a high incidence of the illness statewide.

Strep throat is hard to recognize from symptoms. Some people feel sick in general and may have a cold, high temperature, or severe sore throat. Others will have less severe symptoms and some will have no symptoms at all.

The only way a strep infection can be diagnosed is by a throat culture, taken by a trained medical person who swabs the back of the throat and tonsils with a cotton-tipped stick. The bacteria he collects with the stick are then grown and identified. The process is quick, painless, and accurate.

If a person is found to have strep throat, he will be treated with penicillin or, if the patient is allergic to penicilin, another antibiotic will be prescribed. Strep throat can be kept from spreading or developing into something more serious only if it is detected and treated.

However, if strep throat is left untreated, it can cause such serious illnesses as rheumatic fever and certain types of heart and kidney disease. Although not everyone will develop these diseases, it is important that every infected person receive treatment since there is no way of telling which person will develop serious illnesses.

Strep throat spreads quickly among groups. If one member of a family has the infection, other persons in the family are likely to have it too. Any family member who thinks he might be infected, should have a throat culture taken.

Studies have shown that one child with a strep throat can infect most of the other children in his class at school in a short time. This can be prevented from happening, however, if the school has a "Strep Throat Culture Program". This program was used in one New Mexico school and the number of children with strep dropped from one-third of the school to a very small number in only a few months.

A "Strep Throat Culture Program" can be directed by the school nurse with the help of volunteers who have gone through a short training program. Each child has a regular throat culture taken. If a child is found to be infected, he does not attend class until he has been treated for 24 hours. A "Strep Throat Culture Program" is about the only way to keep infection from spreading among students.

Strep throat, although it is highly contagious and may result in serious illness, can be effectively treated and controlled if it is diagnosed by trained personnel. Any person who thinks he might have strep throat should seek medical attention at once.

ALBUQUERQUE — Democrat governor nominee Jerry Apodaca says his latest poll shows him 20 per cent ahead of Republican Joe Skeen.

Sen. Apodaca of Las Cruces told a caucus of Democrats of U. S. House District 2 the poll results were Apodaca, 56 per cent; Skeen, 36, and undecided, 7.

But Apodaca conceded he trailed former Sen. Skeen, a Lincoln County rancher, in Southeastern New Mexico. He said the poll showed him ahead of Skeen in Bernalillo County, 59 to 29 per cent.

Archie Sanchez, 40, of Los Lunas, was elected to the New Mexico delegation to the national Democratic convention at Albuquerque. Sanchez owns a farm. He polled 61 votes.

Mrs. Charlotte Jarratt, Ruidoso, and William Black, Luna County, were unsuccessful candidates. The national convention will be held Dec. 6-8 at Kansas City, Mo.

Curry County Democratic Chairman Mike Garrett, Clovis, was an unsuccessful candidate for delegate. Garrett and Lee Nance of Clovis were nominated for alternate but did not win in balloting.

U. S. Rep. Peter Rodino, D-New Jersey, commented on President Gerald Ford's pardon of former President Richard M. Nixon in a speech at a $50-a-person fundraising dinner at Albuquerque.

Rodino, House Judiciary Committee chairman, said: "While I do not question President Ford's authority and I appreciate the qualities of mercy and compassion, I am troubled by his recent action, by his explanation, his shortcutting of the regular legal procedures and his seeming lack of confidence in our judicial system."

Congressman Rodino said at a press conference the Judiciary Committee will not revive impeachment proceedings against Nixon. He said the committee's proceedings have accomplished their objective — removal of the President.

The major New Mexico Democratic Party fundraiser drew 504 persons and grossed $25,000. Senate Majority Leader Tibo Chavez, Belen, was master of ceremonies.

Sen. Apodaca said his Santa Rosa supporters raised $1,605 for his campaign by direct solicitation. Apodaca carried Guadalupe County in the Democratic governor primary. He polled 499 votes to 348 for Sen. Chavez who ran second statewide.

Guadalupe County Democratic Chairman Frank Encinias predicted Apodaca will carry Guadalupe over Skeen in the general election by a heavy margin. Encinias campaigned four days in Quay County for Skeen.

Sen. Odis Echols, D-Clovis, said 17 complimentary press tickets were the only unpaid tickets for the Rodino fundraising dinner. Echols is state Democratic party treasurer.

The race for the U. S. House in District 1 in Guadalupe County may be close. Lt. Gov. Robert Mondragon, the Democratic nominee, was born in La Loma, Guadalupe County. U. S. Rep. Manuel Lujan Jr., the Republican incumbent, has run well in Guadalupe previously.

Mondragon lathered Lujan's voting record in a speech at the state Democratic convention. Mondragon said: "He is a Congressman 3 days out of 4. He only votes 75 per cent of the time. And when he votes he might as well not have voted."

Mondragon said Lujan has voted for big corporations. He whacked big gains in after-taxes profits of corporations.

Vaughn Mayor Christine Brixey and Vaughn Town Clerk-Treasurer Josephine M. Sisneros attended the New Mexico Municipal League convention in Las Cruces. Apodaca and Skeen addressed the convention.

Sen. Bob Ferguson of Artesia, the Democratic lieutenant governor nominee, campaigned in Fort Sumner, Clovis and Lea County. Ferguson returned to campaigning after surgery on a knee injured in a fall that aggravated a previous injury.

Clovis Republican John C. White whacked Democratic State Land Commissioner Alex Armijo, Santa Fe, in a letter. White, running for Armijo's job, had demanded Land Office telephone logs earlier.

White told Armijo: "Every man is presumed innocent until proven otherwise, but at this point it would seem you have something to hide as to calls made from your office to support Phil Lucero in the primary."

An Espanola attorney, Lucero is the Democratic land commissioner nominee. He is on leave from the Land Office staff to campaign.

White told Armijo: "I cannot understand why a man with your record would gamble with a possible indictment for misuse of state funds."

Sen. Apodaca campaigned in his hometown Las Cruces and Gallup. Soundings showed he will carry Dona Ana and McKinley Counties by big margins. Both counties are heavily pro-Democratic.

Skeen will campaign this week in McKinley, Bernalillo, Curry, Los Alamos, Valencia, San Juan and Chaves Counties. The Skeen campaign organization was reshuffled to strengthan Joe's drive.

State Republican Chairman Murray Ryan said in mid-August William Marchiondo and Charlie Davis, both Apodaca supporters, might push for legalized gambling if Apodaca is elected as governor.

Ryan said: "They would be astute enough to get the camel's nose under the tent." A House member, Ryan represents Sierra and Grant Counties.

An Albuquerque lawyer, Marchiondo wrote Rep. Ryan a scorching letter. Marchiondo said: "This sort of conduct was aired thoroughly at the national level and I know that the Republican and Democratic electorate, with few exceptions only known to you and those who think like you, have rebuked this strategy thoroughly."

The state Democratic convention formally opposed legalized gambling on a motion by Apodaca, seconded by Ferguson.

Your Social Security

"Social security is a popular topic these days. Some writers and broadcasters take frequent digs at the system; others take a more favorable approach to the subject. One question sometimes asked is: "What percentage of the people get nothing from social security?" Here is a statement from Mrs. Christine Graves, social security field representative.

"Virtually everyone who has worked under social security with any regularity has had social security protection regardless of whether he actually received a benefit. Only about 10 percent of those who work long enough to be insured, die without getting monthly benefits themselves and without leaving any dependents who are entitled to benefits.

"But, it is not true to say that these people got nothing out of the program. Look at them when they started working, at say age 21," Mrs. Graves continued. "None of them knew which was going to die and leave a large family, which was going to be disabled after a few years, which was going to live on and collect retirement benefits for many years. So we all pay under these plans to protect ourselves against these risks, which may occur for any of us. The insured worker who dies without ever having retired and collected benefits has nevertheless had the benefit of valuable insurance protection for many years.

"Anyone who doubts the value of social security should talk to several of the 1,540 individuals who receive monthly benefits in Lincoln County," Mrs. Graves concluded.

Year-round fishing is available at Nogal and Alto Lake with seasonal casting at Bonito Lake and along the Ruidoso River. State parks at Three Rivers (Indian pictographs) and the Valley of Fires State Park (The Malpais) invite visitors all year around. Touring the countryside is a pleasure any time, from the heights of Sierra Blanca at 12,000 feet to the desert of the Tularosa Valley.

Warriors tumble to Socorro Friday

The AAA Socorro Warriors proved to be rude hosts last Friday night as they spanked the Warriors of Ruidoso 33-6 in a rain-swept game.

Although scoring first, Ruidoso couldn't keep pace with the more experienced Tribesmen of Coach Castaneda as Socorro tallied in every quarter of the game.

Ruidoso got a break early in the ball game as Danny Brown pounced on a Socorro fumble on the Socorro 33 yard line, Ruidoso found the Socorro defense tough and gave up the ball on downs after driving down to the Socorro 11-yard stripe.

Ruidoso's TD came midway in the first quarter when Mike Seelbach fell on another Socorro fumble on the host's 25-yard line. Danny Brown picked up four yards to the Socorro 21, then Stiles had his turn, picking up seven yards on a Ruidoso first down to the 14-yard marker. Quarterback Parks ran for 3. With a third down and nine, Socorro was called for pass interference on the Socorro 7-yard line From that point Danny Brown was called on and he delivered the first TD of the night (giving Ruidoso a brief 6-0 lead). A pass for the PAT was no good.

Ruidoso couldn't get their offense geared throughout the rest of the game, although they hung in gamely, but experience they lacked as Socorro tacked on touchdowns in every quarter to hand the Ruidosoans their first loss of the season.

Ruidoso's running game was hampered early in the ball game as starting halfback Danny Brown came to the sideline with a bruised shoulder, dampening Ruidoso's running game considerably. His replacement, junior running back Mike Seelbach, suffered a more serious injury late in the game, coming out with a hip injury that will perhaps keep him sidelined for 6 to 8 weeks.

This Friday night the Warriors will again be out of town as they travel to Dexter to test the Dexter Demons in another non-conference battle. This should prove to be a close AA battle, giving the Ruidoso team some much-needed experience.

WARRIOR DRIVE — Colly Parks carries the ball and evades a Socorro player in a drive at the first of Friday's action that earned the Warriors their only touchdown. The steady rain during play made for difficult action in the ball game. (Ruidoso News Photo)

Letter to Editor

I'm gonna write a little verse,
Although the language may seem terse,
But my hayfever's getting worse—
(So I'll state my needs).
I live in Ruidoso Downs,
But I have lived in other towns
Where mowing-machines make the rounds
(And cut the weeds!)
Beautification does enhance
And all the cacti, trees and plants
Will be an asset, if perchance
(They really live??)
My civic pride is under strain
Perhaps 'tis but my addled brain,
But all that money down the drain,
(What will it give?)
My itchy eyes and runny nose,
So sore from constant "blows and blows"—
Awaken me whene'er I doze,
(I long for rest!)
How better far it might have been
To buy a second-hand machine,
Cut weeds, and thus improve the scene,
(T'would have been best).
I'm sure that all that money spent,
To beautify was good "intent",
But surely citizens weren't meant
(To gasp and wheeze?)
Well — what I've said just ain't my fault—
Please take it with a grain of salt,
But right now I will have to halt!
(I'VE GOT TO SNEEZE!)

Ten Speed Shift

by Galen Farrington

Last spring I wrote a word or two about safety but some people seem to have either forgotten my pearls of wisdom or just didn't see them the first time around. What prompted this second writing is an incident that occurred over the weekend.

A friend and I were in a large American station wagon driving at a reasonable rate of speed through Paradise Canyon when a bicyclist appeared around a bend on our side of the road coming directly at us. It was only because of our slow speed and the quick reflexes of the youthful driver (no, not me!) that an accident was avoided.

Let me try and explain why riding on the left (against traffic) is not right. One: it is in direct violation of the road law. Two: (a problem) car "A" is traveling at 25 mph, bike "B" is traveling at 20 mph. In a head-on collision the result is the sum of the speeds, 45 mph (almost sure death for a bicyclist). In the event of a run-on, the result is the difference of the speeds, or a mere 5 mph. But even more important is that a driver has that possible split second for evasive maneuvering and thus avoiding a collision. And that one-sixth of a second may save your life.

As I drive at night, I am appalled at the sight (non-sight?) of bikes without reflectors or lights and wearing dark colored clothing. Night riding can be safe and is rather enjoyable on cool evenings. But prepare yourself. For night riding I suggest at the minimum a headlight (that works), and rear reflector. At night I ride with the above, plus a tail light and pedal reflectors. My headlight is a Schwinn model, the Super Sport, and is brighter than many motorbike headlights I have seen in recent years.

I would recommend the generator type of lighting system because it is maintenance free and consistently powerful. Battery sets cost less but cannot endure the bouncing that they will be subjected to on a well used bike.

I see bicycle riders going through stop signs without a trace of slowing, much less stopping. Stops are for your protection. The state didn't place them in strategic locations because of an excess of red paint and six sided metal. They serve a purpose. Obey and live.

On the subject of maintenance, be sure your bike is functionally effecient. If I had my say, every bicycle that was to be operated on public roads would undergo a safety inspection because bicycles are not toys — contrary to popular belief.

A prime cause of bike accidents not involving autos is faulty braking. I can remember one morning when a cyclist joined me for a ride. I made a quick stop at an intersection and he rammed into the rear of my bike because he "ran out of brakes." I have noticed very few bikes with proper braking and it really disturbs me to know that someone will crash because his (or her) brakes could have been made safe with a five minute adjustment. Oh, incidentally, safety levers are not safe. Without a doubt, they have provided a tremendous false sense of security, but they cannot function as they should.

As I mentioned before, a bicycle is not a toy. It is a machine that is subject to similar rules and regulations that govern auto traffic on our nation's roads. Don't be too shocked one day when a policeman hands you a ticket for failing to yield or signal a turn or for reckless weaving in traffic. As I see it, laws are made because man is a very foolish creature — he only practices self preservation when his back is against the wall. When enough people get killed on bicycles we will see laws that will back us up against the wall and we will fight back. But it will be too late because man has this insatiable desire to rule out of existence all that is enjoyable because, also, it is too dangerous.

So, at this point I might say, "Ride smart and stay free or ride foolishly into oblivion" — enjoy with care.

Ain't It The Truth

Been noticin in the paper where the Govement is goin to give a bunch of them deflectors some kind ov reprieve. Golly, it sort of seems unfair not to give em all the benefits some of us country boys got fer beein too silly to deflect or maybe figerin we were indebted to our country fer the fun of livin here.

If your home caught on fire and everybody deflected or maybe a big bear wuz tryin to get in yore house to eat you up an everybody had deflected wouldnt we be in a hell of a shape. I hate to see the boys go across the pond and fight a war they didnt start just as much as anyone but also do I hate to see our local boys have to go out in the woods and fight a forest fire that none of us had anything to do with its startin.

Ive always been proud to be an American because anytime we wuz needed we were available to help anyone in any situation and I hope we always will remain that way and not let this deflection get infectin.

WARM TONES POPULAR

According to a survey recently completed, the American public is now using predominantly earth colors in decorating their homes. Browns, beiges, gold and off whites appear to dominate. The new, rich colors are appearing on walls of rooms, where in the past they have been used primarily for carpet and furniture.

Lighter colors are now being used for furniture and rattan and rustic wicker appear to be back in vogue.

Outside colors have not been changed as drastically as inside but the trend is now for more freedom in choice of outside house colors.

Wimberly slated for Washington, D. C. calls

While in Washington, the group will also call on the Controller of Currency, the Chairman of the board of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Treasury Department, and the American Bankers Association.

Wimberly was also a member of the official group for the visit in 1973.

DECORATING WITH RUGS: Rugs, as well as stitcheries, banners and various methods of fabric collage, are competing with paintings for prominent wall space in many homes. Both commercially-produced rugs and hand-made rugs make beautiful wall decorations. These include hand-hooked or hand-punched rugs, tufted carpeting, hand-woven rugs and tapestries, and the knotted or Rya rug.

Hand-hooked or hand-punched rugs or wall hangings are constructed similarly to a tufted carpet. Yarn is forced through a backing, usually burlap, creating various heights of the yarn. The textural effect is plush and luxurious. Commercially-made tufted carpeting now comes in bright colors and patterns. Many of the patterned designs make an excellent choice for a wall hanging. Both hand-woven and commercially-woven rugs and tapestries are currently popular as decorative objects. Authentic hand-woven Oriental rugs are becoming collectors' and investors' items because their value increases with age. The design and style of these rugs go well with both traditional and contemporary furnishings.

The Rya rug is easy to make and very durable. A specially made, loosely woven jute is used as a backing. Three threads of yarn are used for each knot, and the same type of knot is used throughout the rug. The materials for a rug three feet by nine feet may cost about $65. However, an imported machine-made rug of the same size may cost $200, and an imported hand-knotted rug could cost from $800 to $1,000.

Latch hook rugs are easy and fun to make and can be done by children, also. More information and instruction on various techniques can be obtained by visiting the Lincoln County Extension Office.

How much of the average supermarket bill actually goes for food? Less than you might think. A familiar grocery list might read like this: Chicken, flour, eggs, detergent, ground beef, pie pans, napkins orange juice, baby food, cigarettes, pears, dish towels, jelly, macaroni, milk, soup, soap, onions. If you look carefully, you'll see that six of these items are not foods. This is usually the case. We look at our total bill and say, 'This is what I am paying for food.' But really it is not.

It might be an eye-opener for you to list items bought during the next visit to the supermarket and divide the purchases into "food" and "non-food" categories. If you are similar to the average American shopper, you may find that close to 30% of your purchases are 'non-food' items.

FINANCING—
At a time such as this when mortgage money for the purchase of a home is increasingly hard to find and when and if you do find some, very likely the interest rate will be prohibitively high, you might try a different approach. Some lots can be bought and financed with an interest rate you can live with. While you wait for housing money to become available, you might buy and start paying out the location for your house.

MOBILE—
This mobile home is on pavement, not too far into Ponderosa. Has 2-bedrooms and is furnished. A 16 x 20 room has been added with exposed beam ceiling and an excellent fireplace. A 10 x 32 screened porch makes a good game room.
