Dawson Dots.

Dawson, Colfax County, New Mexico, October — 1905.

A contract has just been let here for the unloading of 5,000,000 brick. Think of five million brick in one huge wall! When a builder intends to build a brick house, after deciding upon the dimension and makes out his order for brick; he will want from 10,000 to 40,000 brick, if for a very large building he should use 50 thousand brick; he could build twenty such buildings with one million. So it will readily be seen that an order for 5,000,000 brick would build one hundred very large brick houses, but this is not what these brick are for, Two million are fire brick and will be used for inside walls for the new coke plant. Over three hundred men and eighty or 90 teams are at work on this huge coke plant. This plant will be constructed on a modern plan, thus the smoke will be condensed and the gas instead of being allowed to escape will be kept under confinement and utilized to produce power instead of coal. The old mining town of Coalora in the Capitan district will be moved up here and rebuilt some three miles from the town of Dawson at a new coal field now being opened. Verily the captians of industry doth make the rude wilderness to bloom like the rose; for only three years ago this entire region was nothing more than a wilderness; what will three years more do.

Reports have just reached us that the St. L. R. M. and Pac. have started on the east end of their line from Des Moines, New Mexico, on the Colorado Southern penetrating this vast field of coal near Raton and keeping close to the foot hills (where the coal is deposited) and crossing the Dawson branch of the E. P. & N. E. five miles south of Dawson, then moving west and north west to Salt Lake City, Utah. This will open a coal and coke trade from Texas to Utah, and the great west. When this enterprise is completed we Myrtle Lodge Entertains.

Myrtle Lodge No. 19, K. of P. entertained a large number of friends at its castle hall Tuesday night of this week, as has been its custom since its institution.

At 8 o'clock the hall was filled to overflowing with a crowd of people, old and young, male and female, each seemingly in a pleasant frame of mind, and there for the purpose to see what was to be seen and to hear all that was to be heard.

Clement Hightower was introduced, and in his inimitable manner read the story of David and Goliath, which was the Irish version of the affair, and was slightly different from the Hebrew account that we have been accustomed to understand as the true one. This story was greatly appreciated by the assemblage. The lesson of friendship was next delineated on canvas and explained, which is one of the most beautiful scenes that can be presented, and was a feature that called forth its due meed of applause.

Next supper was announced, and tables had been prepared across the hall where the entire crowd was accommodated at once; and oysters, fish and all necessary concomitants were served, all told to pitch in, which all preceded to do.

After the supper the tables were torn down, the music began and those who delight in terpsicorean entertainment began the merry whirl, which kept up to a late hour.

Caught and Brought Back.

The two youths mentioned in last week's News—Thomas Price and Palmer Bone—were brought back to Capitan Monday by Martin Moore, who had followed them to Quay county where he arrested them last Sunday, the boys still being in possession of the horses which they rode away from Capitan the Saturday night previous. They were arraigned before Justice Haley Monday afternoon on the charge of unlawfully using other peoples' property, contrary to law, and each waived examination and were sent to jail to await the action of the grand jury, the elder boy in the sum of $500, and the younger in the sum of $200.

The horses ridden by these boys were in such bad condition when found by the officer that they had to be left where they were in order that they might rest up a few days. One of the horses belonged to the Marine Hospital Service while the other was owned by William Copeland.

This is a sad affair—both being quite youthful, one twenty and the other only twelve years old—but the saddest of all was the necessity for committing youths of that age to prison where they will naturally come in contact with the worst elements, and what to them was perhaps only an unthoughted act, and one that gave them an opportunity to get away from home, may result in them becoming hardened criminals before they reach manhood.

On the other hand they did about as much damage as two men could have done, and put the county to an enormous expense to apprehend them, and for the protection of society and the maintainance of order it becomes necessary to apply the law.

TINY PARKLETS IN PARIS.

No Spot is Too Small to Escape Greenery and Flowers.

Flowers and trees, blossoms and greenery, all over Paris—some of it is municipal gardening, some private taste, but no spot is too small, too obscure, too mean, to escape the universal greenery and flowers, says a Paris letter in the Chicago Evening Post. Looking into little courtyards, in squalid neighborhoods, we see evidences of love of flowers. Perhaps they are set about in pots, perhaps arrayed on window ledges, whatever the limited opportunity, the flowers are sure to be there. Ringing the bell at some high gate—well blinded to prevent the intrusion of vulgar curiosity—we are surprised, when the maid opens, to see the glory of trees and flowers lining the little court. There are gems of purest ray serene thus concealed all about Paris.

The government keeps pace with the people. Each little crook in the street has its tiny parklet, its trees and its flowers, its benches for the weary and its refreshing shade. Every church (and their number is limitless) has a corner of garden, where children play and nurses and mothers darn socks or do more elegant embroidery. Each three corners (and they are everywhere) has its miniature park, its fine lamp post, its fountain and its reposeful quiet. If no three-corners happens, the government takes things in its own hands and opens a little square, tree set, fountain set and man and child set. No beauty, no Paris!

Do the people appreciate it? Do they favor these expenditures of money for purposes of beauty? Go ask them. They are as proud of Paris as we are of our "Old Glory" or our Declaration of Independence. This is a city of fountains and statues, which the poor share on equal terms with the rich.

The Music Cure.

Vocal or instrumental music as a therapeutic agent has been found by Dr. F. S. Kennedy to be a useful aid in melancholia, insomnia, hysteria, family affliction, business reverses, delirium, pain and mental or physical fatigue. A German physician has used music to lessen the distress and after-effects of applying anesthetics.

HONEST PHYSICIAN.

Works with Himself First.

It is a mistake to assume that physicians are always skeptical as to the curative properties of anything else than drugs.

Indeed, the best doctors are those who seek to heal with as little use of drugs as possible and by the use of correct food and drink. A physician writes from Calif. to tell how he made a well man of himself with Nature's remedy:

"Before I came from Europe, where I was born," he says, "it was my custom to take coffee with milk (cafe au lait) with my morning meal, a small cup (cafe noir) after my dinner and two or three additional small cups at my club during the evening.

"In time nervous symptoms developed, with pains in the cardiac region, and accompanied by great depression of spirits, despondency—in brief, 'the blues!' I at first tried medicines, but got no relief and at last realized that all my troubles were caused by coffee. I thereupon quit its use forthwith, substituting English Breakfast Tea.

"The tea seemed to help me at first, but in time the old distressing symptoms returned, and I quit it also, and tried to use milk for my table beverage. This I was compelled however to abandon speedily, for, while it relieved the nervousness somewhat, it brought on constipation. Then by a happy inspiration I was led to try the Postum Food Coffee. This was some months ago and I still use it. I am no longer nervous; nor do I suffer from the pains about the heart, while my 'blues' have left me and life is bright to me once more. I know that leaving off coffee and using Postum healed me, and I make it a rule to advise my patients to use it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

BARROOMS IN THE BIG HOTELS

Are Being Driven From the Field by the Boudoir Buffet.

The magnificent hotel barrooms, which were a feature of Broadway life a decade ago, are being driven from the field by the boudoir buffet. Old-time hotels like the St. Nicholas, the New York, the Metropolitan, the Morton house, Union Square, Coleman, and others that made New York barrooms something to talk about a few years ago almost have gone out of existence. Barkeepers and mixers of special drinks that made them famous either have gone to another sphere or into other business, and there are none to take their places. To cite the most conspicuous example the famous elliptical bar in the Hoffman house, which Edward S. Stokes made the talk of two continents, has been taken away. The collection of expensive paintings, so famous that a special view hour each morning was appointed for women, has been dispersed. What was once the most magnificent barroom in the world in now a very commonplace cafe in comparison with the more modern New York hotels. There is a small barroom in another part of the hotel which bears about the same relation to the sumptuous Stokes menage as a pushcart does to a pony carriage. This is true of all the big hotels. The waiter and small table have put the barkeeper out of business. In many of the new boudoir bars if a customer steps up to the small bar and orders a drink he is asked to take a seat at one of the tables and a waiter will carry the drink to him. This usually involves a tip to the waiter that approximates one-half the price of the drink. The old-time barkeeper complains bitterly at the innovation of the foreign waiter in the barroom or cafe.

Death's Lullaby.

Lullaby, lullaby, lullaby life,
Hush thee to sleep, to sleep,
Why should you long for the struggle and strife,
Stay here and mourn and weep,
When you may sink in my arms and find rest,
Pillow your head on the earth's gentle breast
Lullaby, lullaby, lullaby life,

Lullaby, lullaby, lullaby life,
Close your weariful eyes,
Why should you linger in care and in strife
Under these sorrowful skies
Come to my arms and win quiet and peace,
Let all your troubles and fretfulness cease,
Lullaby, lullaby, lullaby life.

Lullaby, lullaby, lullaby life,
Briefly you spangled sun gleams,
Why should you love all this fanciful strife
Chasing the phantom of dreams?
Flee from the quest of but vanishing mirth,
Come and lie down in the arms of the earth,
Lullaby, lullaby, lullaby life.
—Chicago Chronicle.

Go Barehead to Church.

The custom of going bareheaded, which New York women have extensively adopted this summer, has spread even to the churches. At services which are held week evenings a large contingent of women attend, without hats. "I hope the custom will extend to the theaters this winter," said a West Side man. "Then women will not have to hold their hats in their laps. I always feel sorry for women when they take off their hats in the theater. Their hair is usually disarranged, and taking care of a hat all evening is a nuisance. A woman never looks prettier than with a scarf of lace or chiffon thrown over her head, and it is no trouble to take care of that. Women wear them in London and why shouldn't they in New York?"

A Sound Indorsement.

The home team having been ingloriously beaten when it had victory practically in its grasp, the disgruntled resident of Mosquito Summit, N. J., remarked sadly:

"I'm just getting dead sore on baseball because it is so infernally uncertain."

"Yes," coincided his little nephew, who was on a visit from Boston, "baseball, looked at from any point of view, is certainly a fluctuating quantity."

IMPORTANT FACTS FOR COW OWNERS

The mechanical Cream Separator has become a vital feature of every home dairy just as of every butter factory.

Its use means much more and much better cream and butter, as well as saving of water, ice, time and room.

The difference in results is not small but big. Few cows now pay without a separator. Dairying is the most profitable kind of farming with one.

98% of the creamery butter of the world is now made with De Laval machines, and there are over 500,000 farm users besides.

U. S. SENATOR TOWNE

Credits Doan's Kidney Pills with a Gratifying Cure.

Hon. Charles A. Towne, ex-U. S. Senator from Minnesota, brilliant orator, clever business man, brainy lawyer, whose national prominence made him a formidable candidate for the presidential nomination in 1904, writes us the following:

Gentlemen: I am glad to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. The remedy was recommended to me a few months ago when I was feeling miserable; had severe pains in the back; was restless and languid; had a dull headache and neuralgic pains in the limbs and was otherwise distressed. A few boxes of the pills effectually routed my ailment and I am glad to acknowledge the benefit I derived.

GOOD BLOOD FOR BAD

Rheumatism and Other Blood Diseases are Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"In the lead mines I was at work on my knees with my elbows pressed against rock walls, in dampness and extremes of cold," said Mr. J. G. Meukel, of 2975 Jackson avenue, Dubuque, Iowa, in describing his experience to a reporter, "and it is not surprising that I contracted rheumatism. For three years I had attacks affecting the joints of my ankles, knees and elbows. My ankles and knees became so swollen I could scarcely walk on uneven ground and a little pressure from a stone under my feet would cause me so much pain that I would nearly sink down. I was often obliged to lie in bed for several days at a time. My friends who were similarly troubled were getting no relief from doctors and I did not feel encouraged to throw money away for nothing. By chance I read the story of Robert Yates, of the Klauer Manufacturing Co., of Dubuque, who had a very bad case of rheumatism. I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, the remedy he had used. In three or four weeks after beginning to use the pills, I was much better and in three months I was well. The swelling of the joints and the tenderness disappeared, I could work steadily and for eight years I have had no return of the trouble. My whole family believe in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Both my sons use them. We consider them a household remedy that we are sure about."

What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for Mr. Meukel they are doing for hundreds of others. Every dose sends galloping through the veins, pure, strong, rich, red blood that strikes straight at the cause of all ill health. The new blood restores regularity, and braces all the organs for their special tasks. Get the genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at your druggists, or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

MINING METHODS OF AMERICA

Why Production Here is Larger Per Capita Than Aboard!

It is not difficult to understand the manufacturing supremacy of the United States when one compares our coal production statistics with those of foreign countries, says the Boston Transcript. The country having a cheap supply of fuel for steam purposes will lead in manufacturing. There are employed in the coal mines of Great Britain nearly 900,000 men, and they produced last year a coal product valued at $100,000,000 more than that of this country. Yet with less than 525,000 coal miners in the United States we produced 50,000,000 tons more of coal than did Great Britain. With us there is an average production per miner of a little less than 1,000 tons of coal per annum. Great Britain produces 287 tons per capita, Germany 242 tons, France 198 tons, and Belgium 166 tons.

These figures show the immense superiority of the American coal miner, yet mine owners testify that it is due to methods rather than men, as the British miners who come here make our best workmen. The difference is that Great Britain largely clings to the antiquated method of pick mining, while here steam has taken the place of muscle and powder has been substituted for picks. In the thicker coal seams there is no longer any pick work and the physical exercise of drilling is no longer necessary.

Yet there is another side to the matter. The mortality from accidents in the Illinois coal mines last year was 2.87 per 1,000 men employed, which is one and one-half times the percentage of fatal accidents in British mines. It is evident that some means should be taken to reduce the death rate and it has been suggested that blasts should not be made while the miners are still at work, but should be set off after hours by men chosen for this dangerous occupation.

Some Words of Counsel.

Gallant rescues of fair young ladies by brave young men are the order of the day at the bathing resorts. In the routine of romance, as the accounts commonly run, there are tears of gratitude, the hasty avowal, and the happy wedding day. Now, if this sort of casual life-saving is to take rank as a summer industry, ought it not to be kept free from sentimental consequences? Ought the dashing young hero as he plunges through the waves to catch the beautiful young heroine by the hair as she goes under for the third time to be burdened with doubts as to whether his income is sufficient to support two? It is likely to chill the stoutest heart that ever breasted the sea to have to ask itself at so critical a moment whether the drowning girl may not belong to a different social set, whether her parents may not have plans for her future. A man may stand ready, as a matter of course, to brave any perils to save a woman's life and still desire leisure to consider whether the time has come to abandon his bachelor habits and live in a flat.

Other Days.

I must forsake the noisy town, the city's din and rush,
 And rest a while in distant woods and hear the hermit thrush;
 I long to lie upon the grass and revel 'mid the flowers,
 To dream strange, dreams of life and death within the lonely bowers.

I long to stroll through the village lanes, the lanes I used to know,
 And see the acorns that were familiar in the long ago;
 The boys I knew in other days are men, save those who died,
 And memories are drifting fast to dearer oblivion's tide.

I long to see the school house as it stood in days of yore,
 To play the games we playmates played—we'll play them nevermore!
 I long to see the river flow around the village's bend,
 To view the changes time has wrought, to see the story's trend.

O, flow on, Time, and do your work, flow on your endless way,
 'Tis well we essay not to stop your heedless, mighty sway;
 Yet 'mid the lights and shadows and the turmoil wild and vast,
 There comes to me a wish for scenes now blended with the past.

—C. Maurice Elfer, in Playune.

Tumors Conquered Without Operations

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Cases of Mrs. Fox and Miss Adams.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive menstruation accompanied by unusual pain extending from the ovaries down the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation; secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound right away and begin its use and write Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Read these strong letters from grateful women who have been cured:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (First Letter.)
 "In looking over your book I see that your medicine cures Tumor of the Uterus. I have been to a doctor and he tells me I have a tumor. I will be more than grateful if you can help me, as I do so dread an operation."
 —Fannie D. Fox, 7 Chestnut St., Bradford, Pa.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (Second Letter.)
 "I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine.

"Eighteen months ago my monthlies stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician, and was told that I had a tumor on the uterus and would have to undergo an operation.

"I soon after read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After taking five bottles as directed, the tumor is entirely gone. I have again been examined by the physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It has also brought my monthlies around once more; and I am entirely well. I shall never be without a bottle of Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the house."

 —Fannie D. Fox, Bradford, Pa.

Another Case of Tumor Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
 "About three years ago I had intense pain in my stomach, with cramps and raging headaches. The doctor prescribed for me, but finding that I did not get any better he examined me and, to my surprise, declared I had a tumor in the uterus.

"I felt sure that it meant my death warrant, and was very disheartened. I spent hundreds of dollars in doctoring, but the tumor kept growing, till the doctor said that nothing but an operation would save me. Fortunately I corresponded with my aunt in the New England States, who advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before submitting to an operation, and I at once started taking a regular treatment, finding to my great relief that my general health began to improve, and after three months I noticed that the tumor had reduced in size. I kept on taking the Compound, and in ten months it had entirely disappeared without an operation, and using no medicine but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and words fail to express how grateful I am for the good it has done me."
 —Miss Luella Adams, Colonnade Hotel, Seattle, Wash.

Such unquestionable testimony proves the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and should give confidence and hope to every sick woman.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all ailing women to write to her at Lynn, Mass., for advice.

FOREST ADDITION.

Lincoln Forest Reserve Increased by the Addition of almost 200,000 Acres.

BARREN AREAS ELIMINATED.

Forest Supervisor Clement Hightower has received from the Department the following order:

"On October 3rd the President signed a proclamation creating an addition to the Lincoln Forest Reserve, a copy of which, together with maps and a report by an agent of the Forest Service will be sent to you as soon as they can be prepared. You will at once assume temporary charge of this addition, retaining your headquarters at Capitan, acquaint yourself with its people and general conditions, and as soon as possible make a detailed report on all matters of importance. As soon as practicable you will proceed to mark the boundaries of this new area added to your reserve."

The exact amount of land added is 194,880 acres, but the reserve is decreased at the same time by the elimination of 154,700 acres, consisting of the treeless tracts west of the White Mountain slope, and also a large area north of the Capitans and the Tisons, which, after deducting the eliminated area reduces the actual increase to only 39,820 acres.

As a result of the elimination on the western boundary a small tract in the extreme southwestern corner of the reserve is now detached from the main body of the reserved lands. It, however, still constitutes a part of the reserve.

The additions consist of a tract of 40,580 acres, embracing the eastern end of the Capitan mountains and a larger tract containing 154,300 acres, lying directly north of the Mescalero Apache Indian Reservation and adjoining the forest reserve on its eastern boundary.

The chief object in extending the reserve over this additional area in the region between the Sierra Blanca and Capitan mountains is to protect the forest cover at the sources of the principal feeders of the Hondo River, rising in this region. The success of the Hondo reservoir project, which is now in progress under the reclamation service, and which is of importance to the Pecos Valley, depends upon the conservation of these headwaters. Regulation of their flow is also essential to prevent silting, which constitutes a most serious obstacle in connection with the storage waters in that region.

Forest Supervisors' Examination.

A civil service examination will be held at Santa Fe, on the 25th of this month for forest supervisors, to supply the increasing demand for supervisors in the reserves now in operation and those that have recently been created.

Applicants desiring to take the examination may make application to Clement Hightower, supervisor of the forest reserve.

At least two from Lincoln county will take the examination, and possibly there will be more.

Arch Parker Arrested.

The sheriff of Crockett county, Texas, requested the officers of Lincoln county to arrest and hold Arch Parker on the charge of stealing a horse in that county.

Wm. Reily, deputy sheriff, and L. F. Avent, territorial policeman, had each received instructions from the same source, and the officers met at Carrizozo Monday on the same bent. Parker was duly arrested, the sheriff of Crockett county notified, and Parker placed in the Lincoln jail to await the coming of the man who wants him for the transgression of the Texas laws.

Patrick F. Garrett, ex-sheriff of Lincoln county, and at present Collector of Customs at El Paso, and Emerson Hough, of Chicago, the eminent author who has written so entertainingly of this section of the country, came up from El Paso Wednesday and left yesterday for Roswell and Fort Sumner. Mr. Hough is gathering material for a new story, and is going over the ground with Mr. Garrett to familiarize himself with the scenes.

QUEER CRADLES.

What Children Are Rocked In—Just as Happy.

When a baby is born in Guinea all sorts of funny things happen to it. Its mother buries it in the sand up to its waist, so it cannot get into bad mischief, and this is the only cradle it knows anything about.

The little Lapp infant is cradled in a shoe—his mother's. This is a big affair covered with skin and stuffed with soft moss. This can be hung on a tree or covered up with snow while mamma goes to church or any place where babies are not invited.

The baby of India rides in a basket which hangs from its mother's head or from her hip, or in a hammock. In some parts the baby's nose is adorned with a nose ring, and in others its face is wrapped in a veil like its mother.

The Chinese baby is tied to the back of an older child.

The Mongolian infants travel about in bags slung on a camel's back.

In some countries the mothers lay their babies where a stream of water falls on their heads. This is to make them tough, which it does unless the babies die as a result of this treatment. Another mother covers her baby's head with paste, while the Tartar baby is covered with butter. The Turkish baby is salted—perhaps to keep it sweet—while the worst fate of all falls to the lot of the newly born children in Bulgaria. Their mothers put a hot omelette on the little ones' heads to make them solid and protect them from sunstroke. The Bulgarian baby doesn't like it any better than you would. He makes a great howl about it, but it is not a bit of use. His mother thinks she knows better about some things than he does, so he has to submit, which he does with a very bad grace indeed.

The Maid of Other Days.
Oh, vanished maids of grandma's day,
What darksome lives were those you led!
Obliged in youth to pick your way;
Uncertain paths to keep and tread;
No experts had you to advise,
To counsel, caution or direct,
Your maiden steps, no mentors wise,
Or faithful watchers circumspect.

When grandpapas a-calling came,
No chats with girls were yours to tell—
The judgment of some worthy dame—
The time to sound the curfew bell;
And all in vain you sought the truth—
They tell it now—if 'twas a sin,
When after dark a comely youth
Had seen you home, to ask him in.

You never learned—oh, vanished fair!—
You could not had it been your wish—
The latest way to best prepare
Your luncheon in a chafing-dish.
And e'en perhaps you never read
The fact that hungry companies
Would rather starve than not be fed
From Mrs. Cookem's recipes.

You could not tell, I'll wager now,
Of countless things the etiquette;
In spite of which, somewhere, somehow,
You got your start; and yet—and yet
It really is a problem quite
To find what saved you from the bad;
You had no "Hints" to guide you right;
Your mothers, they were all you had.
—Arthur H. Folwell in The Sunday Magazine.

King of the Penguins.
The "emperor" penguin, one of the discoveries of Capt. Scott's recent antarctic expedition, was the subject of an interesting illustrated lecture by Dr. Wilson before the recent ornithological congress in London. The bird stands about four feet high, weighs eighty pounds or more, and with its black coat and erect posture has, when seen at a distance, a truly startling resemblance to a dwarf man. These "emperors" of the penguin world live upon the great girde of pack ice which surrounds the antarctic continent, and seem to depend daily for their food on crustaceans caught in the crevices of the ice. The female lays a solitary egg, which is caught on the great web feet, so that it never touches the ice, and is held there covered with the mother's body until hatching occurs.

FRENZIED ADVERTISING.

In these days of frenzied advertising, it is hard for all of us to tell the real thing, and it naturally follows that the safest way is to pin our faith to those articles and products which are backed and guaranteed by the oldest and most reliable concerns.

The Pillsbury Company of Minneapolis, with a world wide reputation for BEST quality, guarantees to you that in buying their ideal breakfast food, "Pillsbury's VITOS—the Meat of the Wheat," you actually purchase a product which is free from impurities, and at the same time a most economical food. It is truly the white heart of the wheat kernel, sterilized, nothing added, nothing taken away; no flavoring, no cooking, and a two pound package will make you twelve pounds of delicious white food. Figure the economy of this.

If you are looking for the best, and are willing to accept the statements of the largest and most respected of firms, whose products are the yardstick by which all competitors measure their lines, you will not hesitate.

Ask your grocer to-day for "Pillsbury's VITOS—the Meat of the Wheat."

When a girl has pretty teeth it is a sign she will let everybody see them.

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in ¾-pound packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 oz." Demand Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking. Defiance never sticks.

About the hardest crop to raise on a farm is the children.

When Your Grocer Says
he does not have Defiance Starch, you may be sure he is afraid to keep it until his stock of 12 oz. packages are sold. Defiance Starch is not only better than any other Cold Water Starch, but contains 16 oz. to the package and sells for same money as 12 oz. brands.

HARDWOOD DISAPPEARS.

Problem of the Supply Twenty Years Hence a Serious One.

"Where the American people will draw their supply of hardwood from in 1925 or 1950 is a perplexing question," said William J. Tisdale of Bay City, to the Milwaukee Free Press. "Walnut has practically disappeared from the face of the earth, commercially speaking, and oak, ash and cherry will go the same way in another quarter or half a century. They are fast being cut down and nothing is done to renew the supply. The day is not far distant when the world will look to the vast forests of Siberia, South America and Africa for hardwood, and even this apparently limitless supply must some day be exhausted. There is a big quantity there yet, as the manufacturing in those regions is quite limited, but when the sawmills of America get to work on them they can't survive long. There are many mills in Michigan and in other states that use up fifty acres of lumber in one day and get away with twenty-five square miles of it in a year. That is fast work, and the forests of this planet are limited. It is estimated that in a few years, say four or five, the supply of oak, ash, cherry and mahogany will be as completely exhausted as is that of walnut at the present time. Unsettled countries must then contribute their hardwood freely to the furniture factories of America, and oak or ash kitchen cabinets will be unknown in the homes of people of moderate means."

Could Get No Rest.

Freeborn, Minn., Sept. 18th (Special)—Mr. R. E. Goward, a well-known man here is rejoicing in the relief from suffering he has obtained through using Dodd's Kidney Pills. His experience is well worth repeating, as it should point the road to health to many another in a similar condition.

"I had an aggravating case of Kidney Trouble," says Mr. Goward, "that gave me no rest day or night but using a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills put new life in me and I feel like a new man."

"I am happy to state I have received great and wonderful benefit from Dodd's Kidney Pills. I would heartily recommend all sufferers from Kidney Trouble to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a fair trial as I have every reason to believe it would never be regretted."

Dodd's Kidney Pills make you feel like a new man or woman because they cure the kidneys. Cured kidneys mean pure blood and pure blood means bounding health and energy in every part of the body.

"My proudest boast," said the lecturer, who expected his statement to be greeted with cheers, "is that I was one of the men behind the guns." "How many miles behind?" piped a voice in the gallery.

To the housewife who has not yet become acquainted with the new things of everyday use in the market and who is reasonably satisfied with the old, we would suggest that a trial of Defiance Cold Water Starch be made at once. Not alone because it is guaranteed by the manufacturers to be superior to any other brand, but because each 10c package contains 16 ozs., while all the other kinds contain but 12 ozs. It is safe to say that the lady who once uses Defiance Starch will use no other. Quality and quantity must win.

AN ANCIENT SHIP.

Interesting Curiosity Is Nelson's Famous Ship Victory.

There are few more interesting curiosities in the world than the model of Nelson's famous ship, the Victory, which was made by French prisoners of war at Portsmouth more than a century ago. This model is owned by a resident of Bedford, England. The story in connection with it is that when a number of French prisoners were confined in one of the prisons at Portsmouth they occupied themselves in building this model. The material used in its construction was taken from the bones of the meat supplied to the prisoners, and the time occupied in the work was five years. The model is three feet eight inches in length and has 100 workable guns.

Her masts, yards and booms are in mammoth ivory, while the eyes of her rigging and strapping of all blocks are scored, the dead-eyes and blocks numbering about 1,000. She is equipped with six boats, viz., the admiral's galley, aft; the big launch, starboard barge, port pinnace and first and second cutter, port and starboard, accompanied with four anchors, two sheet and two bow, as in Nelson's day. In fact, this model is a faithful reproduction of the famous Victory at the time of Nelson's success. A brass tablet indicates the spot where Nelson fell, and the steps, too, are there down which the fallen hero was carried. To-day the model is in a state of perfect preservation and is kept in a glass case. The owner informs the writer that the model is valued at 1,000 pounds sterling.—New York Herald.

I. Sounded Just That Way.

During a recent examination in American history in one of Hartford's schools the question was put: "What was the Mayflower compact?" This is the thoroughly logical reply of one good little American: "The Mayflower and the Speedwell started together from England, and the Speedwell went to peaces, and sunk, and they put all the people into the Mayflower, and so the Mayflower come packed."

New Material for Paper.

Samples of the papaya, or Mexican pawpaw, have been sent to American paper makers to be tested for its adaptability for the manufacture of high grades of paper. To judge from its appearance, it seems probable that no decorticating machinery would be required in its treatment, as the fibrous material is devoid of woody elements to all appearances.

Size of Indian Territory.

The Indian Territory is nearly as big as Indiana. It has 20,000,000 acres of arable land, 3,000,000 acres of good timber, 2,000,000 acres under which there is oil and gas, and 800,000 acres of coal. It has not much less than 1,000,000 people by this time, large and growing towns, well-tilled farms and a good railroad system for hauling their produce.—St. Louis Republic.

REMEDIES USED BY MILLIONS

Truth About the Popular "Proprietary Medicines."

The recent campaign against the use of proprietary medicines, conducted in the columns of The Ladies' Home Journal and Collier's Weekly, has evoked an answer from the Committee on Legislation of the Proprietary Association. The committee says: "In considering the question raised by recent attacks upon proprietary medicines, every reasonable man will admit that there is a wide and legitimate field for the manufacture and sale of medicines already prepared for general use and easily obtainable at all times, and everywhere. As a matter of fact these medicines are not patented at all, and the popular use of the word 'patent' in connection with them is a misnomer. Any pharmacist will tell you that practically the only 'patent' medicines in use to-day are those which are manufactured either by foreign or domestic pharmaceutical houses, and which are now almost exclusively dispensed by physicians or designated by them in their prescriptions.

"The medicines which are now the subject of wholesale attack by Mr. Bok and Editor Haggood are the old-fashioned family remedies properly described as 'proprietary medicines.' They are the favorite remedies among millions of people all over the country; and, notwithstanding the constant effort of some physicians to create prejudice against them, no one ever yet heard of any of the millions of users of such remedies asking for legislation or other action adverse to them."

"De man dat thinks he knows it all," said Uncle Eben, "generally turns out to be a victim of misplaced confidence."

will show to the world what the great southwest is good for. Besides our mining resources this is a fairly good agricultural belt. Fruit, grain and vegetables can be grown here, and the mining population will create the best of home markets.

In all this great west and southwest where mining has been the chief industry, the miner has been the pioneer and the advance agent of the industries. Formerly the state of Colorado was only a mining region for 30 years, but today it is the leading state in agricultural products. When the resources now stored up in New Mexico become known to the world we can boast of the same and not until then can we expect statehood.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICE.

With the October number Bob Taylor's Magazine enters upon its second volume; and the number shows a uniformity of excellence which places it in the front rank of the national magazines of eminence and prestige.

The contents for October are admirably diversified, comprising poetry, fiction, biography, history, science, and essays on many interesting subjects.

The frontpiece is a gem—an illustrated poem entitled "A Southern Night," by Carl Holiday. Other poems of merit are: "Sunset on Mobile Bay," by Ethel Morrison Lackey; "The Haunted House," by Wm. McD. Goodman; "The Kentucky Magnolia," by Lula Clark Markham, and "A Burro's Revolt," by Harry Ellard (the "poet lairiat").

The fiction is entertaining and of high class. It includes "A Couple of Models," by John Leick Tait; "The Story of the Daughters," by Anne McQueen; "The Old Fiddle," by A. P. Starke; "Sis Sapphie's Mohnin," by Annie Booth McKinney; "The Guide," by Joseph A. Altscheler; "Percy Encounters Moral Responsibilities," by Eva Williams Malone, and "The Foreign Wife," the continued story attracting so much attention which has reached such an exciting point that readers can hardly wait for the installments.

Gov. Taylor's contributions are Tayloresque, as usual, that is to say, unique and inimitable. His subjects in this number are: "Genius," "Sectional Lines," "Light and Love," "On the Life and Character of Zebulon B. Vance," and the seventh installment of his famous lecture, "The Fiddle and the Bow."

Taken all in all this number is one of which its publishers may well be proud.
