Charles Wesley's Seven Thousand Hymns

Founder of Church Indefatigable in His Sacred Writings—Commenced at the Age of Twenty-nine.

Wonder is always expressed and doubts arise when the statement is made that the Rev. Charles Wesley, a clergyman of the Church of England, actually wrote seven thousand hymns during his lifetime. This statement is verified by the publication over his own signature of thirty-nine books of poetry, sacred and secular. It is doubtful if there exists a hymn book adopted by any religious denomination which does not contain several of his sacred songs.

Thomas Moore wrote very few sacred songs, but of these few one stands out pre-eminent and will be sung till time be no more by the people of this whole earth. "This song, that always reaches the heart, is "Come, Ye Disconsolate," found in almost every hymn book and never accredited to the author.

The Rev. Charles Wesley must have been writing hymns all his life, and it is recorded of him that he wrote on horseback while traveling from place to place upon his duties in the church. In those days graphite pencils and flowing pens were unknown, and he wrote with a piece of soft lead he always carried with him on any old scrap of paper. He lived to be 80 years of age, and was born in 1708.

The hymns of Dr. Watts come next in number to those of Charles Wesley, namely, 697, but they mostly appealed to children, although never forgotten in later years.

The fact is that Wesley commenced writing his sacred hymns at the age of 29.

The Methodist hymn book in this country, as well as the Wesleyan hymn book in England, being so replete with the hymns of Charles Wesley is accounted for by the fact that both Charles and his brother John were clergymen of the Church of England, but John, taking exception to some part of the ritual of that church, went out to preach to the multitudes, and after he had organized what his followers called the Wesleyan church his brother Charles joined him and wrote the hymns, to which were added the favorite hymns of other sacred writers.

Was Down on Circumstantial Evidence

Man Arrested for Complicity in Bank Robbery Had Reasons for His Belief—Unfortunate in Love Affairs.

"As to circumstantial evidences, it's a queer thing," said the man in the brown suit. "Five or six years ago I was in a certain town for a night when a bank was robbed. Next morning I was arrested as an accomplice, it being contended that I was seen idling in front of the bank and evidently acting as sentinel to those within. Three different persons identified me as the man, and a fourth claimed to have seen me enter the hotel at a late hour by way of a shed and a window. I was locked up for examination, and with a chance of things going hard with me, when evidence began to come forward on my side.

"The landlord asserted and swore that I was sitting in the office at 10 o'clock p. m. Two servants swore they saw me going to my room half an hour later. A man having rooms opposite the hotel swore that he saw me smoking at my window at midnight. A guest of the hotel who had a room next to mine swore that my snores disturbed him from midnight till 2 o'clock and that he heard me turn over in bed at 3, and so I was honorably discharged from custody."

"But about it being queer?" was asked.

"Why, all the people on both sides were mistaken. I was not outside the bank at the times named and neither was I in the hotel."

"But you were somewhere?"

"Oh, of course. Fact is, I got mashed on the landlord's daughter and we sat up all night in a balcony and talked love and looked at the moonlight. Yes, sir, sat there all night like a couple of idiots, and though I declared I would die for her and she said she only wanted me and a humble cottage, she was married to a red-haired butcher within a year and I was being sued by a snub-nosed widow for breach of promise. I was simply observing, you know, that circumstantial evidence is a queer thing and I wish to add that a juryman shouldn't be influenced too much by it."—Tid-Bits.

Declares Longevity Due to Drink

Sprightly Centenarian Says Americans Eat Too Much and Drink Too Little—Offers His Life in Evidence.

Continual use of whisky, beer and tobacco is the reason Josiah Zeitlin, who celebrated his 100th birthday at his home, 136 Lexington avenue, Brooklyn, assigns for his long life and good health, according to the New York Herald.

"Americans eat too much and don't drink enough," he told his friends last evening.

"Drink a lot and drink regular," was his advice. "Don't give doctors a chance to work on you, and you will live longer. Don't drink too fast—that's the trouble with you in this country—and keep smoking something most of the time. I would have been dead years ago if I had followed doctors' advice and stopped drinking whisky and beer."

With all his senses in almost perfect condition Zeitlin steps as sprightly as the average man at 60. He came to this country to live with a sister, in Lexington avenue, eighteen years ago, from Lodz, Poland, where he made a comfortable fortune as a merchant. He follows his own inclinations and not a prescribed routine of life. As a rule he retires at about 10 o'clock and arises about 5 o'clock. His first act every morning is to drink a glass of whisky. He takes it slowly. Then he smokes a couple of cigarettes made of Egyptian tobacco. At 6 o'clock he is ready for a glass of beer, eats a light breakfast and then smokes a black cigar. Following this he takes a walk for a few blocks.

By 8 o'clock he is ready for another glass of whisky. This is followed by two or three cigarettes. At 10 o'clock another glass of beer is due. At noon he eats a sandwich or two, taken with two glasses of beer. During the afternoon he smokes, drinks and reads, sipping his toddies and beer. About 6 o'clock he eats a light supper, always accompanied by a liberal supply of drink.

Mr. Zeitlin spends little time indoors during pleasant weather.

Suspicious.

The following item appeared in the Bacon Ridge Banner:

"One night last June the editor heard someone prowling about in his chicken coop. Not having any shot handy he loaded the gun with quinine pills and blazed away. The intruder was peppered, but managed to crawl away. As there is only one man in the village who has not had the ague this season we have our suspicions."

FRUITFUL FURNACES

INTENSE HEAT PRODUCES PRECIOUS STONES.

Scientists Have Succeeded in Plucking Real Diamonds and Rubies from the Crucible of the Furnace.

Recent advices from France state that Prof. Moissan, the eminent scientist and inventor, has actually succeeded in making genuine diamonds and rubies. He employs for this purpose the electric furnace, which has been so improved that a degree of heat can be produced, approaching the extreme temperatures, which were undoubtedly a factor in the formation of minerals and gems in the interior of the earth.

The rubies obtained are of large size, weighing 10 or 15 carats, and in quality and color equal and even surpass those found in the earth. The natural forces attending the formation of diamonds seem to have been more complicated, and so far the diamonds resulting from the efforts of the scientists have been very small, but still they are positively identified as the carbon crystal—the diamond. They are remarkably clear and bright, and on a small scale as fine specimens as nature's own product.

The electric furnace has enriched chemistry with a whole series of new compounds. Probably the one of most value to mankind at large is Calcium Carbide. The simple application of water to Calcium Carbide generates the gas Acetylene, which is now being commonly used for lighting.

The peculiar merits of Acetylene light are its brilliance and high candle power, ease of installation, economy and its adaptability for lighting buildings of every description, regardless of their location.

English Land Purchase Urged.

The very small proportion of owners to the total number of tillers of the soil is generally believed to be one of the greatest drawbacks to the British agricultural industry, and the extension of the Irish land purchase scheme to the other parts of the kingdom is urged as a remedy by persons who have studied the subject.

DISFIGURED BY ECZEMA.

Wonderful Change in a Night—In a Month Face Was Clear as Ever—Another Cure by Cuticura.

"I had eczema on the face for five months, during which time I was in the care of physicians. My face was so disfigured I could not go out, and it was going from bad to worse. A friend recommended Cuticura. The first night after I washed my face with Cuticura Soap, and used Cuticura Ointment and Resolvent, it changed wonderfully. From that day I was able to go out, and in a month the treatment had removed all scales and scabs, and my face was as clear as ever. (Signed) T. J. Soth, 317 Stagg Street, Brooklyn, N. Y."

A FEW CUTTING REMARKS

The purpose of a saw is to cut. It should cut easily, cut cleanly, and cut with every movement. I prefer an Atkins Saw. Its blade is "Silver Steel", recognized the world over as the finest crucible steel ever made in ancient or modern times. It is hard, close-grained and tough. It holds a sharp cutting edge longer than any other saw. Its blade tapers perfectly from thick to thin, from handle to tip. Thus it makes leeway for itself, runs easily and does not buckle. Its temper is perfect. When bent by a crooked thrust, it springs into shape without kinking. The Atkins Saw cuts—and does it best of any. We make all types and sizes of saws, but only one grade—the best. Atkins Saws, Corn Knives, Perfection Floor Scrapers, etc., are sold by all good hardware dealers. Catalogue on request.

HIS EDITORIAL QUICKLY READY.

New York Paper Tells Good Story on Southern Journalist.

A certain editorial writer on the staff of a Southern newspaper was inclined to dilatoriness during certain periods of conviviality, and caused thereby much concern in the breast of the foreman of the composing room just prior to the moment when the forms must go to press. But the writer was a part owner of the paper and could not well be discharged, since he occupied the position of managing editor. Many times the editorials were late and the paper delayed in going to press, but the delinquent writer always made good after a fashion. Finally he hit upon a scheme when he was called upon at the last moment for "copy" that may, in all justice to expediency, be called the art of genius.

The hour was very late and no leading editorial had gone to the composing room. In frantic haste the foreman sent for the editorial writer, and only after half an hour was he located—in a nearby saloon and much the worse for his dalliance there. He grasped the intelligence that he had forgotten his leading column, and made his way as fast as he could to his office. Snatching a piece of copy paper in one hand, he caught up a copy of the New York Times with the other, and from it clipped a leading editorial, which he pasted on the paper. Then he wrote:

"We cannot agree with the New York Times when it says:"

The editorial of the Times was copied, the paper went to press, and the editor back to the saloon.—New York Times.

Forcing the Youthful Mind.

There is very general cry that children are becoming every day less childlike, that they are being pressed far beyond their strength. Of course, the fanatics tell us that it is not so, that all this outcry is the outcome of misplaced sentiment and of ignorance of the true inwardness of educational methods. But this we know, that forced minds are very like forced plants—curiosities, perhaps, but not such as the experienced cultivator keeps as "stock." Nature is very jealous for her nurslings. You may fool considerably with adult specimens, even to the degree of making them hideous; you may experiment almost indefinitely with this, and the other kind of pruning, grafting, but let a cold wave or a hot wave but once blow upon your tender nurslings and they are gone without hope of resurrection.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Where Oil Was Needed.

He was dying, so the schoolbook says, dying in Algiers; There was lack of antiseptics and dearth of woman's tears; But a Red Cross man approached him and he murmured soft and low That up upon his cistern some oil would have to go. Now, this soldier of the legion knew English words a few, And to him the sound of "cistern" was not exactly new. Still the word conveyed but little to his unresponsive mind. And he asked in simple language for a plain reply in kind. Then they spoke in accents soothing, how this oil the germs would kill, And the wicked stegomyia would become the same as nil. But still they had to tell him and make it to him plain That he had been mistaken and that no one who was sane Could ever think that "cistern" the same as "system" meant— That never oil—excepting cod—was on the "system" spent. And so he died a peaceful death and never was dismayed When ward clubs came in his back yard and kerosene was sprayed. —New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Distinguished College President.
Rev. David H. Buel, the new president of Georgetown University, is a son of Col. David H. Buel, U. S. A. He was graduated from Yale in 1883 and has been successively instructor in classics at Holy Cross college, classics and higher mathematics at St. Francis Xavier college, professor of physics at St. John's college and of physics and mechanics at Georgetown university.

Curious Facts About Suicide.

Prof. William B. Bailey of Yale has brought out some interesting facts based on 29,344 cases of suicide, covering the period from 1897 to 1901, says Leslie's Weekly. Using the 10,000 unit, he finds that 7,781 males and 2,219 females found life intolerable, and, despairing of mending, ended it. This leaves the ratio of cowardice 3 1/2 to 1 in favor of feminine courage. Almost two-thirds of the suicides occurred between the ages of twenty and fifty. Curiously enough, there are more married than single suicides. While married men are more likely to take the plunge than married women, single, widowed and divorced women are more prone to kill themselves than unattached males. Business losses are more likely to drive people to suicide than ill health, insanity, disappointment in love or strong drink.

Postal Savings Banks.

The annual report of the British postoffice savings bank for last year shows that the total amount due depositors on December 31st last was over £148,000,000. During the year the cash received from depositors was more than £40,000,000, and the repayments nearly £42,000,000. The interest accruing during the year was £3,500,000.

Cure to Stay Cured.

Wapello, Iowa, Sept. 11th (Special)—One of the most remarkable cures ever recorded in Louisa County is that of Mrs. Minnie Hart of this place. Mrs. Hart was in bed for eight months and when she was able to sit up she was all drawn up on one side and could not walk across the room. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. Speaking of her cure, Mrs. Hart says:

"Yes, Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me after I was in bed for eight months and I know the cure was complete for that was three years ago and I have not been down since. In four weeks from the time I started taking them I was able to make my garden. Nobody can know how thankful I am to be cured or how much I feel I owe to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

This case again points out how much the general health depends on the Kidneys. Cure the Kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills and nine-tenths of the suffering the human family is heir to, will disappear.

What Galls the Westerner.

One thing that annoys and humiliates a western man in New York City is the way in which he is herded with the crowd. Out West a man is an individual. He feels that he is somebody—a responsible citizen, a factor in the community, a person more or less worth while, entitled to a certain amount of respect merely as a man, and regardless of wealth or social position or political power. But in New York, unless one is somebody very important, he is nobody at all. He is a mere unit in the mob, of no more moment than one ant in a hill.—San Francisco Bulletin.

PAINFUL PERIODS

AMERICAN WOMEN FIND RELIEF

The Case of Miss Irene Crosby Is One of Thousands of Cures Made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that menstruation is the balance wheel of a woman's life, and while no woman is entirely free from periodical suffering, it is not the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely.

Miss Irene Crosby

Thousands of American women, however, have found relief from all monthly suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science. It cures the condition which causes so much discomfort and robs menstruation of its terrors.

Miss Irene Crosby, of 313 Charlton Street East Savannah, Ga., writes: "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a true friend to woman. It has been of great benefit to me, curing me of irregular and painful menstruation when everything else had failed, and I gladly recommend it to other suffering women."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. Thousands have been cured by so doing.

The president still adheres to his original purpose that something must be done at the coming session of congress in the way of regulating railroad rates. The main opposition will come in the senate, where the railroads and all classes of corporations are firmly entrenched. The real leaders in the senate, such as Senators Aldrich Foraker and Allison, will put all the obstructions in the way of the President that it is possible, and with the fetich of "senatorial courtesy" they can accomplish much, or rather they can prevent any legislation unfavorable to their interests. So giving President Roosevelt all the credit possible for his untiring labors and good intentions along the lines that tend to better the conditions of the common people, it must be admitted that his task is an unpleasant one, and therefore the more deserving on his part. Here's hoping that he will bring the vested interests to time.

The El Paso Evening News, under the able management of J. F. Mitchim, has grown very materially in influence and favor during the past year, and is now one of the leading papers of the southwest. During the year just past it has become the county as well as the city organ, and has improved its news service to an appreciable extent. The present manager, J. F. Mitchim, is a former well known Missouri newspaper man, and knows how to reach the wants of the people.

Sir Henry Irving, the celebrated English actor, died in London on the night of the 13th inst., just after returning from the theatre. His career was one of the most remarkable of the modern stage, and while his efforts were principally in England, yet he was quite well known on the continent and in America. He was knighted by Queen Victoria in the eighties, for his success in his art, and has been a popular favorite for a quarter of a century.

The Department Replies.

Sometime ago a number of petitions went in from this place which contained most of the names of the residents of Lincoln county affected by the Lincoln Forest Reserve, and which was duly sent from this office to the Secretary of Agriculture at Washington.

The petition has elicited a reply, and the following is what the secretary himself says: Mr. John A. Haley, Capitan, New Mexico.

Sir:—Your letter of October 6, inclosing petitions relative to grazing rates for the Lincoln Forest Reserve, has been received.

The matter of fixing the rates will be taken up as soon as the grazing expert of the Forest Service, who is now in the field, returns. The advantages and disadvantages of each locality will be taken into consideration, and the rates, when fixed, will be reasonable and just. The petitioners may be assured that their statements will be duly considered. Very respectfully,

JAMES WILSON,
Secretary.

The congressional committee that has recently visited Arizona and New Mexico, according to single statehood advocates, has experienced a change of heart, and are now ready to support a measure in congress allowing the two territories in as states. The single statehooders, however, do not take into consideration that your Uncle Joe Cannon had a sore head, or something, and unfortunately could not come along, and the further fact that he of all others, must be won over to single statehood before even a bill to that effect can be considered in congress. The News still maintains that joint statehood is the only measure that will be passed by the coming congress, and the people had just as well make up their minds to support that measure or fight it out. It is Arizona the Great, or it is nothing.

The republicans of the city of New York have refused to endorse the candidacy of District Attorney Jerome for re-election, and in doing so have lessened that gentleman's chances for success. This is really to be regretted; for if honesty, integrity and fearlessness ever demanded vindication at the hands of the people this is one of the times.

Man Found Dead.

E. R. Cline, who was over from White Oaks Tuesday, informed a News reporter that a man had been found dead at Red Lake Sunday. Some Bar W cowboys found him on that date, and reported to the Justice of the Peace at White Oaks, who summoned a coroner's jury and left for Red Lake Monday to investigate the conditions.

At the time our information was given it was not known who the dead man was or how he came to his death. The inquest will no doubt bring to light the identity of the deceased and the manner of his death. The parties finding him reported that the dead man was quite well dressed, but did not examine carefully the body, therefore did not know how he met his death.

LATER:—Sheriff Owen and Judge Bellomy passed through yesterday and gave the News the latest information concerning the dead man found near Red Lake.

From papers found on the body his name evidently was William Dodican, and he had a railway ticket in his pocket which indicated that he had come from Watertown, New York, and was on his way to San Francisco.

NOISES IN HER HEAD

Mrs. Reagan was a Nervous Wreck, But Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Brought Sound Health.

"Before I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," said Mrs. Mary Reagan of No. 86 Kilburn street, Fall River, Mass., recently, "I was in and out of bed all the time, but now I stay up all day and do all my own work."

"I was badly run down from overwork. One day noises began in my head and almost made me crazy. My head felt as if a tight band had been put around it, and the pressure and the sounds made me so uneasy that I often had to walk the floor all night."

"My stomach was in bad shape, and I had smothering sensations. At such times my body seemed bloodless, my hands were like chalk and my face turned yellow. The doctor said I had dyspepsia in the worst form. Then my nerves gave way and I was completely prostrated. I frequently suffered from smothering sensations."

"The first box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that I used quieted my nerves so that I could get a good night's sleep, which was a new experience for me. Before I began to use them I was a nervous wreck and trembled at the slightest sound. I was so weak that I had to sit down and rest every few steps when I went up stairs. Now I can run up a whole flight at once. The smothering sensations have gone and the noises in my head have stopped entirely. My appearance has greatly improved, for friends who were alarmed on my account before, now say: 'How well you are looking!' My husband spent over a hundred dollars on treatment for me that was worthless, but a few boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills brought me sound health."

Sold by all druggists, or sent, post-paid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $3.50 by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

NAMES HAD NOT CHANGED

Londoner Astonished at the Complaint of Visitors.

Americans in London are apt to be confused by the fact that the same thoroughfare bears many different names as it pursues its oftentimes crooked course through the fascinating old city.

Two young Chicago women, wandering through what they affectionately called "Dickens' London" last summer, went into a bun shop to ask the nearest way to one of the less frequented spots that the great writer has made sacred to all lovers of his stories.

A good-natured clerk gave them minute directions, to which they listened attentively and with strong efforts to be intelligent when he spoke of the "top" of the "bottom" of certain streets, told them to go "straight away" and that the place was only "ten minutes off."

"Thank you so much," said the younger girl, "but I'm afraid that we may lose our way after all. Your streets here have such a perplexing way of changing their names every few minutes that we are never really sure just where we are."

"Why, madame," remonstrated the clerk, in a tone of mingled reproof and pity, "these streets don't change their names. They have had the same names for hundreds of years."—Lippincott's.

Clover Blossoms.

Let's rest here in clover deep!
Vain regret and care will keep!
Woo the sky, with all its blue,
Shimmer of the sunshine, too!
Song of river, laugh of child;
Steep the soul and bathe the feet
In the clover blossoms sweet!

Let's forget all weary things!
Woo the blossoms and the wings
Where the bending azure meets
Argosies of silver fleets!
All the world is full of joy;
Take it as a child its toy—
Fling its fever and unrest
Down to the deep ocean breast.

Of life's yesterdays. Today
God's glad promises hold sway,
In the river's rush and ken
Of the happy hearts of men!
Woo the sky, with all its blue,
Shimmer of the sunshine too;
Steep the soul and bathe the feet
In the clover blossoms sweet!

Wading in the clover sea
We'll clasp hands with memory!
Let her lead us swift along
By the golden chain of song;
Leaning, listening the refrain
Of the robin's trill again!
Ah, the voices, loved of yore,
Say not they will come no more!

Speaking with us 'tis meet
Mid the clover blossoms sweet;
They've forgot the angel's kiss!
Knowing only that we miss
Tender tones we called our own
On the throne of love and home!
So we steep our souls to-day
In the blossoms o'er the way!

Hyde Sought Ambassadorship.

It is now stated on excellent authority that James Hazen Hyde once marshaled influences that are generally most potent in public affairs to secure for himself appointment by the President as successor to Gen. Porter as United States ambassador extraordinary in Paris. The matter was seriously undertaken and most earnestly pushed. It was not a joke or a half-hearted movement, but a dead set was made on President Roosevelt. All the wires he could have manipulated were pulled. Some of the biggest men in the country backed him. President Eliot, of Harvard, spoke a good word for him. President Roosevelt sent for this favorite of so many. The chief magistrate looked over the aspirant and put him through his paces and the end was that President Roosevelt bluntly declared: "This man will not do." So ended the hopes of Hyde.—Chicago Chronicle.

BOOKS IN BRITISH MUSEUM.

Students Crowd Its Reading Room and Investigate Various Subjects.

In the reading room of the British museum the desks are crowded with students all day long, and in addition to the books of reference some 20,000 in number, which fill the open shelves of the room, from 3,000 to 4,000 volumes are given out every day. Theology in a wide sense, including the Bible, biblical literature, church history and works on the religious rites and ceremonies of all races and creeds, is easily at the head of the list, with about 300 volumes. Topography comes next, with about twenty fewer, and of these books on London amount to a quarter, books on English topography to another quarter, the other half being for the rest of the world. History and biography come next, English history being mostly in demand, and books on France and the French province second.

Essays, criticisms and miscellaneous literature take the fourth place and are followed by fiction—not less than five years old—moral philosophy, poetry and the fine arts, the drama, law and philology, political economy and so on down to politics, mathematics and chemistry, which have about forty volumes apiece, and lastly works on naval and military subjects, which seldom have more than three or four volumes each. It is a curious list and throws a useful light on the sort of studies taken up by the readers in the museum.—London Globe.

Progress in Steam Turbines.

That the actual displacement of the reciprocating steam engine by the steam turbine for many purposes is proceeding at a rapid pace in this country is indicated in the statement that a single company, manufacturing but one of the several types of steam turbines in the United States, took orders within the last half year for turbines for generating electricity having a capacity of 82,000 kilowatts, or nearly 110,000 horse power. Three of these engines are for a Brooklyn power station and will be the largest ever constructed. It is interesting to note in this connection that wonderful as is the transformation in power-mechanism, there are engineers who predict a still more radical change in the not distant future in the development of power from gas engines. This form of engine has been developed to a marked extent in Europe, especially in Germany, and American and English engineers are just beginning to awake to the possibilities in this direction. According to one authority, "we may yet see steam engines and turbines sent to the scrap heap."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Thought Aunt About Due.

Sir Edward Monson, the veteran English diplomat, who is now visiting America, served under Lord Lyons on Washington under Lincoln's administration, and has many interesting stories of Lincoln to relate.

"A distinguished old woman," he said the other day, "once called on Lincoln and railed and stormed over some fancied wrong that she had suffered at the government's hands.

"Mr. Lincoln listened to her politely, he talked to her in the kindly way he talked to everyone, and then, after she was gone, he turned to me and said:

"Little Edith heard the other day that a neighbor had shot his dog because it had grown old and cross. She studied the matter out awhile and then she looked up in her mother's face and said:

"Mamma, when do you think papa will shoot Aunt Martha?"

The Egotistical Lecturer.

"Your address upon beauties of the Shinto religion did not seem to interest the audience," remarked one of the committee to the lecturer.

"Yes, I was talking way above their heads," he said pompously.

"There must have been some other reason. I was way up in the gallery and it went over my head, even up there."

A WOMAN'S SUFFERINGS.

Weak, Irregular, Racked with Pains—Made Well and 36 Pounds Heavier.

Mrs. E. W. The urinary passages were also quite irregular. Monthly periods were so distressing I dreaded their approach. This was my condition for four years. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me right away when I began with them, and three boxes cured me permanently."

How China Boycotts America.

Since the boxer uprising nothing has happened to stir up the people of China so much as the present agitation against the United States, says a Chee-Foo correspondent of Leslie's Weekly. This is a commercial demonstration made in view of the renewal of the treaty between these two countries regarding the entrance and residence of Chinese subjects in the United States. The present movement is one to boycott all American trade, all schools conducted by Americans, and all American employers in all the ports of China. It ranges from Singapore on the south to Tien-Tsin on the north, and from Shanghai on the east coast to Ichang in the west, a thousand miles up the Yangtse river. It is most virulent at Canton and Shanghai. The powerful Chinese merchant guilds are pushing the matter, and as they have branches in every port city of China they wield considerable power. Even the old Empress Dowager, who probably had never spent a thought before on the difficulties of a Canton coolie entering the Golden Gate, has been led to express her sympathy with her "ill-treated children."

The student class, who are much concerned in the treaty, have taken up the movement eagerly, and as a result one mission school in Shanghai had to close its doors, and several other larger institutions were depleted of a large number of students because of this boycott. Meetings are held to agitate the subject, and placards are distributed or posted in conspicuous places.

STRONGER THAN MEAT.

A Judge's Opinion of Grape-Nuts.

A gentleman who has acquired a judicial turn of mind from experience on the bench out in the Sunflower State, writes a carefully considered opinion as to the value of Grape-Nuts as food. He says:

"For the past 5 years Grape-Nuts has been a prominent feature in our bill of fare.

"The crisp food with the delicious, nutty flavor has become an indispensable necessity in my family's everyday life.

"It has proved to be most healthful and beneficial, and has enabled us to practically abolish pastry and pies from our table, for the children prefer Grape-Nuts and do not crave rich and unwholesome food.

"Grape-Nuts keeps us all in perfect physical condition—as a preventive of disease it is beyond value. I have been particularly impressed by the beneficial effects of Grape-Nuts when used by ladies who are troubled with face blemishes, skin eruptions, etc. It clears up the complexion wonderfully.

"As to its nutritive qualities, my experience is that one small dish of Grape-Nuts is superior to a pound of meat for breakfast, which is an important consideration for anyone. It satisfies the appetite and strengthens the power of resisting fatigue, while its use involves none of the disagreeable consequences that sometimes follow a meat breakfast."
