THE WAY TO UTOPIA.

Utopia was discovered by "Sir Thomas More Knight, sometime Lord Chancellor of England, a man of singular virtue and of cleare, unspotted conscience (as witnessetn Erasmuas), more pure and white than the whitest snow, and of such an angelicall witt as England, he sayth, never had the like before, nor never shall againe, universally, as well as the laws of our Realme, as in all other sciences right well studied." His report of that blissful country has been pronounced the only work of genius of the age in England, and it has not lost its charm in three hundred and seventy-five years. Ralph Robinson, who translated it most happily from the original Latin into the English of Edward VI., was justified in entitling the book "a fruteful, pleasant, and wittie worke of the best state of publiqne weale, and of the newe yle, called Utopia." Concerning the wit of the "Utopia" there can be no question. More was a man of infinite humor, joined to an unaffected piety. The humor which did not forsake him before the headmans's ax plays insantly over the pages of his narrative of the travels of Raphaell Hythlodaye. The mariner thus surnamed (" skilled in nonsense") had " sailed in deede, not as a mariner Palinure, but as the experte and prudent prince Ulisses; yea, rather as the auncient and sage philosopher Plato." He had toiled over leagues of tropical desert until his eyes beheld the very pleasant land "Nusquama," or "Utopia," which being interpreted, is "Nowhere." Amaurote ("the dimly seen") is its chief city, by which Nephelogetes (" the cloud-dwellers"), and for enemies the Alaopolitans (" citizens of Blind Man's Town"). The "Utopia" is a masterpiece of wit, written by a man who knew the world, and sent forth this book, inspired by Colet and Erasmus, not as a sure prophecy of the form civilization must take in a thousand years hence, but as a quickner of human sympathy and a stimulus to tho't and to faith in man. More's fine fancy and playful wit have made him a plea for human brotherhood imortal. His far-seeing eye anticipated more than one of the greatest conqests of the modern spirit. Free public education for both sexes; the liberty of every man to worship God according to his own conviction; peace between nations; humanity in penal laws; healthful dwellings; well appointed hospitals; abundant recreation; shorter hours of labor for the benefit of all classes—in these great matters Utopia has been a model to our most advanced civilization. There can be no more damaging criticism on "Looking Backward" and its fantastic programme, put forward with such confidence and such pride of ignorance, than is evoked by a comparison of it with Sir Thomas More's "Utopia."

The building of ideal commonwealths is indeed, the favorite pastime to-day of many a hasty prophet who will not so far compliment our existing social and industrial order as to try seriously to understand it. Some of these bards could not pass an examination in the constitution of the United States. Six or twelve months are quite sufficient time for them to run up the pretty gingerbread work of the walls of these Utopias, to pave the streets with candy, and set fountains of sweetened honey running in all the public squares. The journey to this pasteboard city is made very cheap and every man can command a copy of the infallible guide-book. Where lies the road to Utopia, which strong men who are not ashamed to confess their love for the ideal, may take with confidence, if with modesty and follow to profit? I think we can learn much about this most important matter if we consider seriously how far Sir Thomas More's map has been found, after some four hundred years' experience, to be a correct prophecy of human progress. These intervening centuries have so far justified his faith that we may well believe him to have been on the wrong track in any direction where civilization has not approached, but departed from, his Utopia. We have established religious toleration; we have extended free education; we have abolished slavery; we have obliterated the inhuman laws that hung a man for theft as for murder; we are trying to make the reformation of the criminal classes the chief end in punishment; we have erected representative governments; we have reduced the hours of the laboring day, by custom or by law: and we have restrained the shortsighted selfishness of employers, compelling them to make their factories safe and sanitary. these reforms, to name no others, which Sir Thomas anticipated in principle, if not in detail, have passed through their Utopian phase, to become incorporate in the life of modern civilization. There is no highway to Utobia, though the approaches be many. Utopia itself is a magical city that arises from its foundations and moves onwards as we advance. Little respect for it could we have if it did not thus elude our hands—as little, possibly, as we should feel for an unprogressive heaven, after a few days residence! None the less should our march be steadfast toward it over "the solid ground of nature." The philosophical city, ever becoming, but never finished, in constant flux from good to better, can fall into no such inanity as a final best. Our own civilization, imperfect though it is in many respects wonderful, beyond the scope of Sir Thomas More's highest imagination. So in all probability will our fondest Utopia be put to shame by the realty of future days. But that realty will come sooner. not later, because of our conscious earnest striving.—N. P. Gilman, in Unitarian Review for July.

ROSWELL NOTES.

From the Register.

Litell & Osburn, our brick men, will soon have a kiln of 250,000 brick.

The White Oaks Leader has a better print than usual this week. A result of the absence of the editor.

Mr. U. Ozanne, late mail contractor between Carthage and Lincoln, was in town last week, looking up the probabilities of a stage line from Roswell to Eddy. If he can make the arrangements he contemplates he will buy out the present contractor and establish a daily line between this point and Eddy, whose main feature will be speed and comfort.

Mr. Bush, of New Orleans, Col. Milne's partner in the cattle business, accompanied by Dr. Chamberlain, of Chicago, arrived in Roswell, Saturday. They found Mr. Milne considerably improved, and the doctors advised taking him to Chicago for treatment. They started for that city last Tuesday, via Las Vegas. Mrs. Milne accompanied her husband. We join with his friends in wishing him a speedy recovery and quick return. J. H. Morrison accompanied them as far as Las Vegas.

Bill Nye writes to the bald-headed man who asks his advice on hair restoratives, as follows: "Take your hair restorative money and buy a town lot in a growing town that supports its home paper and advertises, and go ahead, and you will be fixed, and the man who is fixed don't care whether he has any hair or not."

The Alta California, Sanfrancisco, gives the following take-off:

Mr. Seeds of Iowa, is appointed and confirmed to plant the seeds of law and equity as a federal judge New Mexico. We congratulate Seeds, and the pod he grew in, but what has become of that promise to appoint Territorial officers inside the Territorial citizenship?

The ladies of Chicago will receive and entertain the Federation of Woman's Clubs in 1892.

THE DOLLARS OF OUR DADDIES.

The Dollar of our Daddies boys, is what we want to get,
They found it good. they liked it well, and it will suit us yet.

Some more good silver dollars bright is what the people need,
And longer they will not submit, to rules of Gold-Bug greed.

The gold ring, they have had their day, 'tis now the nation's turn,
And Senators and Congress too, must give men what they earn.

For easier 'tis, for men to get a dollar at a time,
Than wait for showers of golden coin, that banks and vaults confine.

The business men, the men who toil, the men who have to spend,
They ask the money they have earned. and not what Banks may lend.

So 'Rah for silver dollars, boys, we'll have money once again,
We're going to have free coinsge soon that fact is very plain.

The gold ring will no longer shave, the the great Almighty Dollar,
We'll have our rights, we'll have our own, and they can squirm and "holler."

So Hip Hurreh! Boys, Hip Hurrah! just let old Wall street bellow.
Monopolists have had their day. 'tis now the other fellow,

Jicarilla Mining District.

About two weeks ago G. D. Huseman, the inventor of the dry washer for mining, and William Schoale of St. Louis, arrived in the city, and in company with J. Schwartz, the painter, made a visit to the Jicarilla mining district, in order to thoroughly test the new patent, and Mr. Schwartz, who returned home yesterday, the other gentlemen proceeding on to St. Louis, states that the experiment proved a grand success. He will have one of the washers on exhibition in the city in a few days and will show callers how well it works. Regarding mining, Mr. Schwartz reports that very little mining has been done in the Jicarilla district for months past on account of scarcity of water, but those who have claims are holding on to them in hopes that a favorable season will come and that they will then be rewarded for their patience.—Albuquerque Citizen.

Master Workman Powderly has come out in an address to the Knights of Labor strongly denouncing the force bill. He says there is more intimidation in four lines of the law than in all the southern outrages that have occurred since the war. He calls on the knights to voice their sentiment and suggests that the name of every congressman who voted for the bill be published to the world and the citizens who are opposed to such high handed methods should scratch them on next election day.

THE INTERPRETER,
White Oaks, N. M.

The appointment by President Harrison of Hon. E. P. Seeds, of Iowa, to the Judgeship of this Judicial District, is a good one from the standpoint of personal fitness, judging from the many favorable notices the gentleman receives from the Press of Iowa, regardless of party. The Republican platform of the Chicago convention that nominated Harrison was outspoken in the plank, that these appointments should go to the Territories, but like a good many other declarations has been signally ignored. Now, the new Judge could, in a great degree, mitigate this dereliction, and at the same time, perform a commendable act by appointing as the Clerk, a resident of the Territory, and more especially a resident of the district. Theodore W. Heman, of this place; by a large number of personal friends, has been prevailed upon to make application for the position of Clerk of the Court and has a numerously signed petition which was signed by a majority of the citizens of the town where he resides, and and also, the endorsement of the most prominent men in the territory, and especially his immediate party friends. That Col. Heman would make a good clerk, goes without saying; he possesses the faculty necessary and essential to make a popular and successful clerk. While the INTERPRETER, as a Democratic organ, will have but little weight in the matter, we would like to see the Col. get there, and of all the men in the republican fold, if party service is of any avail, he is deserving of at least this small consideration from the party. Col. Heman has done much for the town in which he resides—public spirited and a liberal contributor to projects beneficial to the community and territory. He was a conspicuous and able member of the late constitutional convention, and there distinguished himself with a very creditable record, gratifying not alone to the party that sent him, but to his immediat neighbors and friends.

We think that Judge Seeds will pay heed to the wishes of a large majority of the residents of the territory and especially of this district and give us the boon of the clerk's office. Chief Justice O'Brien, while from Minnesota, appointed Otero of San Miguel as the clerk of his court has set the example. If we are to have our laws executed by Iowa and Minnesota legal lights, in all due respect let a resident clerk keep the records. Now, to a few of our citizens and especially to our republican friends, do not let the green-eyed monster or envy control your actions—do not make a personal fight of this affair to the disgust of our stranger Judge Seeds—unite on some goood citizen and secure the clerk's office for a home man. It is no disparagement to take notice that another name has been mentioned, that of R. E. Lund, of the law firm of Watson & Lund. What inducement the gentleman has we have not been informed, but as Col. Heman was put forward first by his party associates, we have spoken thus favorably of the Col. Too many fish in the pan spoils the cooking.

A few of the g. o. p. got together last Tuesday in Santa Fe and again certified to their peonage to Tom Catron and a few political bosses by denouncing the Perkins School bill. You know Tom said "the schools be d———d," and he stood over the Santa Fe meeting, whip in hand, until it had adopted a resolution voicing his sentiments. Mr. Catron gave as his reason for the above un-American remark, "that he did not propose to pay taxes to educate a lot of d———d paupers around Cerrillos." If Mr. Catron owns more land than the average man he should pay more taxes, and the money so collected could not be better expended than by establishing schools. We are not very particular as to where the law comes from, just so it fills the bill, and as our legislature has refused to pass a suitable law we are in favor of letting congress take the matter in hand. Perhaps the Perkins school bill can be improved, but it is a better one than any we could get through our Territorial legislature; we are in favor of letting it pass. The Perkins School bill will cause Mr. Catron to go down into his pocket for a few mills on the dollar inore taxes and the Republican party is rushing to his aid, and will, if possible, defeat a good school law in order to save him a few dollars. We suppose the reason for this to be that a few Republican editors expect to get their hand in Catron's bar'l in the very near future and don't want any of its contents wasted for any such foolishness as public schools.—Socorro Advertiser.

There will never be a decent Republican party in the South until the Republican war upon the South, as a section, comes to an end; until the republican party in and out of congress treats the South as it treats the East and West; until, in short, it refuses longer to use the South as a political truck patch of rank campaign vegetation, surrounded by a wall of sectional prejudices and surmounted by the bloody shirt, as at once a scare-crow and ensign. The moment, however, that external pressure is withdrawn from the South, the whites will divide up, and with them the blacks, each set of whites taking care of his own set of blacks and seeing that their votes are duly cast and fairly counted. Then, and by no other route and process, will the negro come by his rights, and all this hullabaloo about abstract constitutional law, which nobody denies, is of a piece with the same sort of thing, which in 1860, claimed that slavery was a constitutional right and could go wherever it pleased, and that all efforts to limit, or abridge it, were treasonable.—Courier Journal.

New Mexico Democrats.

Santa Fe, N. M., August 4.—At the meeting of the democratic territorial central committee, held here to-day, it was decided to hold the territorial convention on the 3d of September, at Silver City. The claims of Albuquerque were strongly pressed by Messrs. Fergusson and Albright, but Silver City secured the prize on the ground that no territorial convention had ever been held in the extreme southern part of the territory.

Resoluiions were adopted asking the democratic members of congress to support, and if possible, secure the passage of a bill settling land titles in New Mexico.

The local democracy held a grand mass meeting to-night. It was largely attended and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed, not only in the meeting, but throughout the city.

The "Leader," a so called newspaper, "struck off" at White Oaks, commenced a scurrilous attack upon the INNERPRETER in an issue, July 19th, in an article entitled "Amusing and Sickning," in which the gallant editor, so called 'Majah,' amused himself by using the common, foul vocabulary incident to that sheet. We must apologise to our readers for paying any attentention to it, which we did in the issue of July 25th. We thought the Major was mild when he calls us the "Interrupter" and a "small soul," but now like the fish mongger of London, his billingsgate has gone to the extreme, by calling us "swelled legs" and "swelled head," which swolen condition we cannot deny and hope the gallant Majah may never be afflicted in the same way. Our physicial condition we do not desire to parade before the public. Major is entitled to all the credit he can procure in this manner of indecent and foul laguage. One benefit derived from Major's "swelled leg" article in his last effort, was an acknowledgement to several gentlemen for courtesy heretofore shown, which was better late than never. What particularly offended the Major, was the slight allusion we made concerning his composition of obituaries. We owe an apology in this respect and frankly acknowledge that if Major can do anything to the "Queen's taste," he is immense when it comes to obituaries. To the "Philadelphia Ledger" we also suggest, that they can make a point by perusing some of Major's prosaical efforts. Major does not write poetical baby notices, such as the Ledger is renowned for, and we are surprised when he finds fault with our previous allusion to the Ledger. Major and the Ledger do not write the same kind of obituaries, and we hope the gallant Majah will accept this as an amende honorable for our previous statement. For fear, however, that the gallant Majah will forget his cunning article entitled "Amusing and Sickning," we extraet the following from the last issue of the Kingston Shaft, which will possibly relieve us for a while from his foulness, while he gives his attention to the Shaft. We hope our readers will excuse our dereliction in paying the attention we already have to the Major:

Major Caffrey, the editor of the Lincoln County Leader, visited Las Vegas last week. He is booming statehood with an empty valise and a paper collar. It is believed that it would have been best for him had he steered clear of Vegas, for the last time he was there, he would have been "run in" for a vagrant if it had not been for the courtesy of Russ Kistler, of the Optic, who, out of professional etiquette, went to the pew and proclaimed that "all men are equal," and that the profession must be protected wherever found.

Pursuant to the call, the Democrats of Precinct No. 8, met in caucus on last Saturday. Hon. John Y. Hewitt was chosen chairman and G. R. Young, secretary. Caucus elected the following named to act as comittee to select delegates: O. F. Dyer, J. R. Saltenstall and J. P. C. Langston. The following named were elected delegates to attend the County Convention, to be held at Lincoln on the 14th inst.: John Y. Hewitt, W. M. Wharton, A. Ridgeway, W. C. McDonald, G. R. Young, O. F. Dyer, Ed. M. Keeley, Paul Mayer, J. R. Saltenstall. The proceedings were harmonious and much interest was manifested by the large number present. White Oaks Democrats will be on hand early and late in the coming election. The selected fully represent the party and will do all in their power to place a County ticket in the field to win.

ED. INTERPRETER:—Having a chance to send this note to you today, I will make good my promise. We are having plenty of rain in this part of the world and grass is fine; cattle are getting fat—it is no trouble now to find a fat beef anywhere on the range. Crops are looking fine; cattle men are all feeling good, and everything and everybody in this section of the country, seem to be in a prosperous condition. There is no one sick in my neighborhood, no one has died, and no one has been killed; therefore, this is all I know at this writing. Yours truly,

L. P. BURER.

Whelan & Co., at Lincoln, have recently refitted and generally overhauled their hotel. With the excellent stable accommodations, it is now, as always, the very best place to stop at when at Lincoln. Se their new ad in another column.

The six new coaches have come and are now regularly run on the Mail line. The facilities are now complete for the traveler and rates reasonable.

Our White Oaks people, who of late visited Roswell and Pecos country, are enthusiastic about the many improvements and the bright future in store for that section.

Mrs. Geo. B. Barber was in town a good part of the week, from her ranch. Mrs. Barber went out to the round up the first of the week and is well pleased with the manner in which it is progressing.

John A. Brown and wife drove down to the Crrizozo ranch, Sunday last, and were very much interested in reviewing the round-up.

At Albuquerque last week, the popular chief clerk, John H. Canning, long with post trader DeLaney, was quietly married to a young lady from the east, the Episcopal pastor performing the ceremony. The happy couple during their honeymoon were at Las Vegas Springs, and are at present at home to their numerous friends at Ft. Stanton. The INTERPRETER extends congratulations.

The rain on Monday fell for about four hours and was the best of the season—general throughout Lincoln County and of incalculable benefit. The hay crop is now an assured one of immense proportion, and the range men were never so happy—abundance of feed for all winter.

The Republican League is out and out against the Perkins' School law, and this will be the Republican programme while Tom Catron and Maj. Caffrey are in charge of this body. Discharge these old fossils and infuse young blood.

The Democratic caucus on Saturday last, at Nogal, selected the following delegates to attend the County convention, the 14th inst: J. E. Wharton, Sebe Gray, and Rufe Russell.

The young men who are occasionly out late at night, and of late, quite frequent, should endeavor to confine their noise within bounds. Complaint is frequently made by citizens who desire to rest, and the aforesaid young men will find themselves summarily attended to, if the nuisance continues. The matter has been bro't to the attention of the officers, who have served notice that the nuisance must abate.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes

Mr. Dempster and Son, of Chicago, of the firm of Sweet, Dempster & Co., wholesale Hat & Glove men, was interviewing our merchants on Tuesday last and received some good orders.

The coming county convention to be held at Lincoln on the 14th will be fully attended by the delegates who were chosen by the various precincts. The convention will be called upon to place before the people the names of the next county officers, and appoint delegates to attend the Legislative convention to be held at Roswell the 21st inst. The Democrats in Territorial convention will assemble at Silver city Sept. 3rd, and by that time the democrats will have all their candidates in the field. Our republican friends can then go ahead and try and crawl into any loose hole left open. Democrats were never more sanguine and united, while the republicans are all broken up into cliques. Of the issues and questions before the people, the republicans are unable to make a statement—one minute it is the constitution to be voted for, pro and con—the next, something else—the only thing they seem to be of a unit on, is against the Perkins school bill and a desire for office at any cost.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, has been used by mothers for children teething for over fifty years with perfect success. It relieves the little sufferer at once, produces natural, quiet sleep by freeing the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, soothes the child, softens the gums, allays pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

MR. LEE. "Why, Addie, you needn't cry about it! I only said Mrs. Allen was a very well-informed woman, and I wished you would follow her example."

MRS. LEE. "Yes, and last week you said you wished I could manage to look as stylish as Mrs. Allen.—and she makes all her own clothes. But she has what I haven't."

MR. LEE. "What is that?"

MRS. LEE. "Well, she gets all of her information from the Magazine they take. I admit that she knows all that is going on, and is bright and entertaining in conversation; but I could do as well as she does if I had the same source of information. She lent me the last number of her Magazine lately, and I learned more in one hour's reading, about various social matters and the topics of the day, than I would pick up in a month by my occasional chats with friends. It certainly covers every topic of interest, from the news of the day down to the details of housekeeping; and everything is so beautifully illustrated, too. Every time Mamie goes over to the Allens' she comes back and teases me to get you to take Demorest's Family Magazine, as the stories are so good. Even the boys watch for it every month, as a place is found for them also in its pages; and Mr. Allen swears by it. It is really wonderful how it suits every member of the family!"

MR. LEE. "Well perhaps I had better send for a Specimen Copy; for, if it is anything like what you say it is, it will amuse and instruct the whole of us."

MRS. LEE. "I see that W. Jennings Demorest, the publisher, 15 East 14th Street, New York, is offering to send a Specimen Copy for 10 cents, so we can't lose anything, as each number contains a 'Pattern Order' entitling the holder to any Pattern she may choose, and in any size—which alone makes each copy worth 30 cents; and I just want a jacket pattern like Mrs. Allen's. The subscription price is only $2.00 a year; and I must say I can't see how they can publish so elegant a Magazine for so little money."

Kansas City Markets.

On Friday, the 25th, 137 corn-fed New Mexico steers, 1,127 lbs., sold at $3.

In Kansas City, on Monday, 140 Arizona steers, averaging 1,023 lbs. sold at $2.70.

On Monday, in Kansas City, 147 corn-fed New Mexico steers, averaging 1,022 lbs., sold at $2.92½.

There is quite a good demand for breeding ewes and stock sneep. They bring from $3.00 to $3.50.

The ruling price of stockers and feeders in Kansas City market, Monday last, was $2.25 to $2.80. Trade quiet.

Stockers and feeders are not in very good demand just now, but the selling price ranges from $2.50 to $3.25, for fair to choice.

There were a number of Arizona steers on the market Friday; 39 averaging 1,132, 42 averaging 1,177, and 79 averaging 1,122. All sold at $2.60.

On Tuesday's market a lot of corn-fed New Mexico steers sold; 16 averaging 1,114, at $3.40, 72 averaging 964, at $2.84, 40 averaging 1.320, at $3.65.

Tuesday's market report said: The dry hot weather suffocated the feeder trade. Cattle sold to-day as much as 30 cents lower than the best time last week. The lack of demand was the trouble.

If the bull goes first to the pasture, it will rain; if the cow precede him the weather will be uncertain.

Sheep are said to ascend hills and scatter before clear weather, but if they bleat and seek shelter it will snow.

If the cows fail in their milk look for stormy and cold weather. If they bellow in the evening it will snow before morning, and when the cow stops and shakes her foot there is bad weather behind her.

If cattle lie down early in the day expect rain, also when they lick their fore feet, lie on the right side, scrath against posts, when they refuse to go to pasture in the morning and when they low and look at the sky.

Hogs run with sticks and straws in their mouths before cold weather, and carry leaves and make them warm beds. There is an old proverb that "pigs can see the wind," as they are restless and squeal loudly before a storm.

HIS SON CURED.

MR. W. H. HINMAN, a prominent and influential citizen of Mount Vernon, Ill., writes as follows, under date of March 11, 1890; "One bottle of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) cured my son permanently of a stubborn case of Blood Poison that defied the best medical treatment available. I have recommended S. S. S. to others for blood troubles and diseases of the skin, and have never known it to fail to cure in any case.

BLOOD POISON CURED.

I was troubled for years with a Blood Poison in its very worst form. I was treated by the very best of physicians of Louisville, Ky., and Evansville. Ind., but they failed to benefit me in any way A few bottles of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) cured me sound and well. This was over four years ago, and there has been no return of the disease since, or any symptoms of it. I have recommended it to others for blood poison, and in every case they were permanently cured."

A gentleman having asked how a certain kind of soup was made, received the following lucid directions: You must get an ox cheek, a tongue, two shins of beef, two pigs' feet and a tail, a cabbage, twenty carrots and a sheep's head. You must get eight gallons of boiling water and put your head in, boil for a while longer, and put your tail in, then you must put your feet in, and then your cheek, then you must boil a little longer, and put your tongue in, and if you have not good soup then it will be your own fault.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in general practice of medicine for 'most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of succes as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and I would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, of they would take it according to directons. Yours truly,

L. L. GORSUCH, M. D.,
Office, 215 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.
