FOSTER'S FORECASTS.

A Great Storm Period Predicted.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., May 9,

EDITOR HERALD:

A storm wave of only ordinary force will be due to leave the Pacific coast about May 15, cross the Rocky-Allegheny valley from 16th to 18th, and reach the Atlantic coast about the 19th. The low barometer of the storm wave will pass across the continent south of the 40th degree of north latitude, and the cool wave and frosts following it will reach farther south than is usual at this time of year. This storm will become quite severe on the Atlantic coast about the 19th, and following it will occur the coldest weather of the month. My last telegram gave particulars of the storm wave due to cross the continent from the Pacific to the Atlantic coasts from 9th to 13th.

These forecasts give the key to the weather that will occur at any place on this continent within the dates mentioned, but to appreciate the accuracy and benefits of the forecasts the reader must bear in mind the nature of storm waves and how they affect the weather within and all around them. The storm wave consists of two parts, a high and a low barometer, that always move together across the continent, and, in this latitude, around the earth. The low barometer is called the storm centre, and is from 500 to 3,000 miles in diameter, and within these storm centres the wind blows in a circle contrary to the movement of the hands of a watch when placed with the face up, while outside of the low barometer the wind blows toward the centre of its right-hand quarter as you face it. About one-third, the outside edge, of this low barometer consists of very clear weather and the bluest of skies, and this must always be recorded as a part of the storm wave, as it is a sure indication that the storm is not far away. Another third, inside of this clear belt, is occupied by a cloud belt in which the rain and snow occur, and the clouds move with the wind around the low barometer. The centre of the low barometer has but little clouds, not much wind, and the weather warm and sultry. If the reader will keep this whirling storm centre in mind and note my forecasts, the future of the weather may be known nine times out of ten. The high barometer follows the storm centre and brings clearing cooler weather, and these high and low barometers follow each other around the earth from west to east and cause all changes in the weather. South of 30 degrees north latitude the movements of these barometers are different and constitute the tropical hurricane.

Beginning with the first week in May of this year and ending with the last week in June, 1892, will constitute the greatest storm period since 1832-3 and it will be at its greatest force during the coming winter. The winter will set in early and with its unusual cold and great snow storms and blizzards, will be what is termed a very hard winter. These winter storms will begin in the northern tier of states with great severity in October and an early winter very severe all over the continent will follow. The force of the storms will increase very gradually and the May storms will not be so marked as those later on. We will probably have an occasional tornado, but destructive storms will not attract general attention till after June 8th when the great battle of the elements will begin in earnest and every month will bring its noted storms. June is not always a month of great storms but it will be this year and should my predictions be verified as to that month the public will give more attention to what I have said as to the eleven months that follow it. October and November are the months that usually bring the tropical hurricanes that are sometimes very disastrous on the Gulf of Mexico and occasionally do damage as far north as Tennesee and Arkansas. The great hurricanes that visited the lower Mississippi and the coast of the Gulf of Mexico in 1832-3 will be repeated next October and November.

Wherever you find an old man who followed flat boating on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers in 1832-3 you will find an oracle who can reveal much history about the hurricanes of the lower Mississippi river at that time. Portions of Florida were greatly damaged by the hurricanes sixty years ago.

I do not desire to create any unnecessary sensation about this very great storm period, but no harm can come by being prepared for the very severe winter and the storms it will bring. Hundreds of thousands of people who read my weather forecasts every week will have great faith in the predictions made in this letter, for they know that I am very careful and seldom mislead them. The forecasts are not based on any superstition or secret, but on what I know to be, and what any person may know to be, real physical causes.

The causes of this period of great disturbances will be the equinox of Saturn in October and the equinox of Jupiter next January. Jupiter's equinox occurred in August and Saturn's in October, 1832, and hence the great storms of that and the following year. The equinoxes of these planets cause great electric disturbances in our solar system, just as do the equinoxes of our earth in March and September; but on a larger electricity is the force that causes all storms, and the sun and all the planets throw an electric force far out into space over their equators, as do the dynamos, and consequently when any planet passes its equinoctial the electric tensions of the sun and of that planet are disturbed and simultaneously the electric force of every planet in the solar system is unbalanced, which affects the electric currents of the earth.

In my regular weekly letters I will give details of each storm wave that crosses the continent from a week to ten days in advance, and indicate when the most severe of these disturbances will occur. I have no secrets as to my meteorological theories, but give full explanations of what I regard as to the cause of every storm wave. The weather bureau publishes a daily weather map, which is a great aid in studying the past of the weather.

W. T. FOSTER.

The present rainy season in New Mexico shows the influence upon the climate of large bodies of water. The snowfall, of last winter, was unprecedented. As the snow melts, the air is filled with moisture, which precipitates itself in rain. The same results would be secured were the country dotted over with a large number of reservoirs and catch basins. The water in these would evaporate, charge the atmosphere with moisture, and produce rain with all the regularity of the central states. This will be the future of New Mexico.—Las Vegas Optic.

An autopsy performed on the body of young Potter, who was drowned in the bay at San Diego, developed the fact that he forfeited his life to the cigarette habit. It was found that he had a very pronounced case of what has come to be known as "cigarette heart." The smoke causes the valves of that organ to harden, and in time an extra effort of any kind results in the death of the victim.—Citizen.

There has been quarried in Maine a solid shaft of granite that will be the largest monolith in the world. It is without a crack or flaw, and is 115 feet long, and 10 feet square at the base. The largest Egyptian obelisk which is now at Rome, is 105 feet high, so that the Maine stone exceeds it by 10 feet. It is computed to weigh not far from 850 tons.—Ex.

On Monday of this week there was reported a large rainfall throughout the northern part of the territory, and it will be of untold value to the cattle and sheep.—Flagstaff Champion.

We had a glorious rain Monday afternoon and night, and again on Tuesday. As a consequence, the Pecos valley stockmen and the Pecos valley farmers are happy.—Roswell Register.

The unusual showers this month are turning the country green, giving the promise of early fat beef and a good calf crop next year, and generally gladdening the hearts of our stockmen.—Silver City Sentinel.

The fruit and grape crop in this county will be simply immense this season. The Rio Grande valley will soon be able to supply the Rocky mountain region with all manner of fruits grown in the temperate zone.—Alb. Citizen.

Another great find has been made on the Young American mine in the Magdalena mountains, Socorro county. A vein has been found going down in the lime that is fully six feet wide. The ore runs 56 ounces in silver and is growing richer as depth is attained.

Quite a heavy rain and hail storm passed over this section last Monday afternoon, and Tuesday morning the main range was enveloped in a heavy blanket of hail. The unusual amount of rain at this season of the year has not been before witnessed by the oldest inhabitant, and the country is growing.—Choride Black Range

The recent rain has been general in this country as heard from, and consequently the cattlemen are rejoicing. It means thousands of dollars to every big cattleman, and is worth in proportion to smaller holders. It will start the grass in good shape and a few rains during the summer will make the best of range.—Socorro Advertiser.

An Italian living at Gallup, attempted to pull Mrs. Sam Young, formerly of Socorro, from her horse when he met her on a lonely road, and got shot at four times for his gall. He was then arrested, fined and sentenced to jail. Mrs. Young is teaching school near Gallup and rides to and fro every day. It is safe to say that she will not be molested in the future.

The Range is reliably informed that two Apache Indians visited the V cross T ranch last week. Our informant tells us that the two Indians went to the home ranch of the V cross T and made it understood that they wanted something to eat and refused to converse in the common language of the land. When informed that they could not have the desired accommodations unless they asked for it in English, one of them said they wanted it d—d bad. They could speak good English, wore blankets and each carried a revolver, and claimed to be Apaches and said they were run away pupils of the Albuquerque Indian School; one was about twenty years old and the other about forty-five. About that same time three Indians visited the mess wagon of the U. S. outfit on the San Augustine plains. The Indians said they were Apaches and that they were on their way to visit the Navajos. They also wore blankets and carried six-shooters.—Bullion.

G. O. Shields of Eddy, N. M., in a letter to the New Mexican, dated May 11, says: The artesian well borers who have been at work here for some time encountered, on Saturday last, at a depth of 520 feet, a stratum of pure salt, which proved to be forty feet thick. This is one of the most important discoveries ever made in the Pecos valley, as a plant will doubtless be put in at an early day, to mine this valuable material.

The Albuquerque Fair Association is making preparations to make the territorial fair, which commences at that place September 14th, the best that has yet taken place and have sent letters to the several boards of county commissioners urging upon them the importance of appointing some suitable person to canvass their respective counties to wake up an interest among the farmers, miners and others to get them to agree to send exhibits.

The Indians of the Pueblo of Isleta begin their communal spring rabbit-hunts, on Sunday, the 10th inst, and will probably continue the exciting sport through four Sundays. Several hundred Indians join in the hunt which is a series of surrounds, each enclosing several hundred acres. The only weapons used are boomerangs, which the swarthy Nimrods throw with astonishing precision and force, bringing jack rabbits on the run and quail on the wing.—Optic.

Another one of Foster's Storms.

St. Louis, May 21.—A special from Moberly, Mo., says: A most destructive wind and hail storm passed over this place, yesterday. Hail stones as large as eggs fell, completely demolishing crops of every description. The wind blew a perfect tornado. The hail fell in such quantity as to completely fill fields, drowning small stock during the storm, which lasted about an hour. The darkness was truly appalling. It is believed that the damage in this vicinity will reach 300,000. Fortunately, no lives were lost. All telegraph wires were torn down.

Agreement to Surrender.

San Francisco, May 23.—The Evening Bulletin says; It is informed through unquestionably reliable sources that the congressional party of Chili. otherwise known as insurgents, has entered into an agreement with the United States government to surrender to the United States the Itata and her cargo; that the Charleston will not pursue the Itata any farther, but proceed to Callao, and that the Itata will be handed over to the American authorities.

Among the astonishing discoveries of the chief Protection organ as to the effects of the McKinley law is the alleged fact that "prices of necessaries of life affected by the tariff have not been enhanced." Speaker Reed's "shopping women" found differently. But if prices on domestic manufactures have not been advanced, and are not to be, how will the protected monopolists be able to pay the higher wages which it was the professed object of the law to ensure?—N. Y. World.

The western congress, now in session at Denver, in point of numbers is one of the most successful meetings ever held in the west. New Mexico has a strong delegation present, and if no other result is achieved will advertise the great resources of the territory in a way that should do great good.

New Mexico was heard from in a flattering manner at the Denver congress. The delegation from this territory made a good impression at the Rocky mountain metropolis, and good results will come from this work.

Quite too many killings in New Mexico, gentlemen of the jury, quite too many. The newspapers that come to us this week from all sections of the territory show that crime is on the increase. Let justice awaken and take a hand in righting this matter.—New Mexican.

The jury's verdict in the Mafia affair, while it did not give satisfaction to the exacting Italians through out the country, is generally considered to be the only reasonable solution possible to reach under the circumstances. The indictment of an entire community would have been simply preposterous, and the sooner foreign criminal associations discover the fact, the better it will be for all hands concerned. If Umberto cannot control the lawless element among his own subjects, why should an indignant populace in an American city be blamed for resorting to extreme measures. The men killed by the mob of exasperated citizens of New Orleans, were, with a few possible exceptions, outlaws, who left their country for their country's good. Under similar conditions in their own country they would not have been arrested, but would have been hunted and shot down like beasts of prey by Italian soldiery. Italy will get no satisfaction for the killing, nor will she ask any.—Ex.

The following Harrison joke is told by the Washington correspondent of the Brooklyn Times: "President Harrison showed that he is not devoid of the quality of humor yesterday. He has made 139 speeches during his tour across the continent and had made up his mind to finish up with an even 140. But it was raining pitchforks and there was little chance of such a gathering at the Washington depot as might give him a fair excuse to work off the extra speech. He was equal to the emergency. He sounded the three sixes through the train and assembled the whole crowd, passengers, brakemen, conductors, porters and candy boys in his car and delivered a farewell address that completed the record. It was hard on the audience. They had listened uncomplainingly to every one of the preceding 139 speeches, and they might have been spared the additional infliction. But it was the president's last chance and he made the most of it."

Protecting the Mails.

Under the above head the St. Louis Republic says:

"If the press reports from El Paso, Tex., tell a "plain, unvarnished tale," there is urgent need of a new Postmaster in that far away city on the Rio Grande, where President Harrison was recently received with a pleasant international welcome.

The dispatches from El Paso say that Postmaster Smith seized the whole mail edition of an El Paso paper the other day because it contained a synopsis of the Louisiana Supreme Court's decision respecting the New Orleans lottery. If this is true, Postmaster Smith is a good subject for prosecution in the Federal courts for unlawful interference with the United States mails. The statute against the transmission of lottery advertisements does not confer upon postmasters the right to act as censors upon the news columns. This is a fact that any postmaster who forgets it needs to be forcibly reminded of.

If it is also true, as reported, that post office detectives were allowed to take from the El Paso office and break open a number of sealed letters, this is another strong reason why President Harrison should promptly require a thorough overhauling of the El Paso post-office.

The anti-lottery law does not pretend to authorize the opening of sealed letters by raiding detectives, no matter to whom addressed. If such a power were conferred, or if its exercise were allowed to go unpunished, the usefulness of the mails would be practically destroyed no letter but could be opened "by mistake" or upon some other pretext.

Some vigilant precautions are necessary to prevent the mails from being abused for immoral or pernicious purposes. But no unlawful exercises of authority can be tolerated on the part of officials charged with executing the laws for protecting the mails, or their irresponsible meddling will speedily become worse than the original abuse. The postmaster or the post office inspector who exceeds his authority to the extent of opening sealed matter in the mails becomes at once an exceedingly dangerous criminal."

The New Orleans Times-Democrat of the 17th., instant says:

"There is fortunately no dispute as to the facts or that Postmaster Smith has clearly placed himself within range of the law, and is subject to fine and imprisonment. The Revised Statutes are very specific on this point, as follows:

"R. S. 3890. Any postmaster who shall unlawfully detain in his office any letter or other mail matter, the posting of which is not prohibited by law, with intent to prevent the arrival and delivery of the same to the person to whom it is addressed, shall be punishable by a fine of not more than $500 and by imprisonment for not more than six months; and he shall be forever thereafter incapable of holding the office of postmaster."

UNUSUAL.

The "rainy season" which we are enjoying during the present month is something that has not been experienced in this country before for many years. Ever since the first American immigration to this part of the territory—some ten years ago—the month of May has always been absolutely rainless, and not only dry but very hot; indeed, all the American settlers had come to regard May as one of the dryest and hottest months of the year. But natives of the territory inform us that this was not always so. Hon. F. A. Manzanares, of Las Vegas, who was in the city yesterday, said to a representative of The Citizen, that this weather reminded him of old times. He stated that it had only been during the last ten years that such dry, hot weather had prevailed in the spring. He said he remembered distinctly that when he was a boy there were usually seasonable rains during the mouth of May, and large portions of the high table lands, which have been for some years past utterly destitute of vegetation, were then reckoned as among the best grazing lands in the country.

It is the experience not only of New Mexico but of the world in general, that there are no permanent climatic changes, but seasons of rain and drouth, heat and cold, move in cycles, and though we may pass through a protracted period of wetter or dryer, or hotter or colder seasons than we used to have, if we are only patient the whirligig of time will bring us round again to the same old order of things. Let us hope, then, that New Mexico has passed the period the period of dry and hot springs, and that we are to have better growing seasons hereafter.—Citizen.

Flood Sufferers.

Reports from New Mexico continue to tell of damages and destruction by the Rio Grande floods. They tell of thousands of poor people whose little crops have been destroyed, whose homes have been washed away, who are left without food. and who, unless help is given them, will soon be hungry.

The disaster has come upon the people of New Mexico at a time when prompt relief to the suffering can be afforded by neither the territorial nor national legislature.—Public assistance can come only from the counties. And the number of destitute reported is so great in some instances, that the resources of the counties are hardly adequate to their relief. Private charity will likely be needed to supplement the public aid. If this should prove to be so, organized movements will likely be started in New Mexico for this purpose.

The Catholic church, the great power in organized charity, is the strong church in the territory to the south of us. It probably numbers among its members the majority of the sufferers by the flood. Therefore, if there be need of extended charitable effort to save from cruel want, that church will doubtless undertake the work. If it should do so, its appeals should meet with prompt and generous response from all the people, not of New Mexico alone, but of Colorado also. Charity knows neither sect nor creed, nor state nor sectional lines.—Denver Sun.

It is strange how a dying general becomes at once the greatest soldier that ever lived. He always does—is greater in death than in life. There's nothing to parallel it except the transformation powers of the railway engine, which never fails to make the veriest scrub yearling a registered Polled-Angus or Holstein-Friesian four-year-old, worth a hundred dollars, at least.—Ex.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Charles Littell is building a barn on the Three Rivers ranch.

L. W. Stewart has been very sick since his return from Socorro, but is now slowly improving.

The soda fountain at Brown & Uebrick's was in working order Wednesday morning, and in the afternoon they were kept busy serving thirsty customers.

Oranges and Lemons at Young & Taliaferro's.

There is very nearly a flour famine in White Oaks, only one store in town—Mr. Weed's—where flour can be bought.

Just received—New lot of Preserves, Jellies and Fruit Butters, in bulk—Stewart of White Oaks.

A new stock of goods will soon roll into Young & Taliaferro's. They, as well as other White Oaks merchants, say that business is looking up and that everything indicates a fair degree of prosperity for the coming season.

William Watson, of White Oaks, has been in attendance on the Commercial Congress at Denver, having been appointed a delegate by Governor Prince.

Strained and Comb Honey at Y. & T.'s.

Brown & Uebrick have had their store painted outside and in a general "spring cleaning" until everything shines like a new pin.

The grip continues to hold its own in White Oaks. Mr. Joseph Biggs is just recovering from a severe attack of this disease, and several children are still sick.

Fresh lot of very fine Evaporated and Dried Fruits—Stewart of White Oaks.

Dr. Bearup has had his hands full of business ever since he came to town and has a month's work engaged. He will remain until everybodys' teeth have been attended to.

Mr. T. W. Corey is lying dangerously ill with heart trouble brought on by a second attack of grip. Dr. Paden considers his case very critical.

Emil Ozanne, of White Oaks, is painting and making various repairs and improvements in the buildings at Carisoso ranch.

Our thanks are due Mr. Eubrick of the firm of Brown & Enbrick for several bottles of soda pop which he brought to the INTERPRETER office Wednesday afternoon. Having tested the article and found it excellent we can safely advise all the thirsty to buy and drink.

We sell Schilling's best Spices, Extracts, Baking Powder, Tea and Coffee.—Y. & T.

Wm. Watson, of White Oaks, a large owner in the celebrated Old Abe mine, was in Denver with his bride, a most handsome and winsome young lady, the daughter of Rev. Lund. Mr. Watson says that a four-foot vein of coal has been discovered in the town of White Oaks.—Optic.

Mr. Goodman, of the firm of Goodman, Ziegler & Co., came in from San Pedro Wednesday morning.

Mr. Ridgeway is taking a new departure by adding a dry goods department to his grocery store. He already has on hand, boots, shoes, gloves, etc., and a variety of notions, also a lot of calicoes arrived by the last freight wagons.

Celery Salt, Mince Meat, Honey Maple Syrup, N. O. Molasses—Stewart of White Oaks.

Just arrived at Goodman and Ziegler's, an assortment of untrimmed straw hats, in new and fancy shapes. Also, a fresh stock of outing cloths and French flannels, lisle-thread and silk gloves, a great variety of ginghams and a lot of summer underwear.

The members of the base ball clubs should not forget to call and look at the base ball suits at $1.00 each.

Among other ornamental fixtures we always keep on hand the best looking clerk in the town.

Goodman, Ziegler & Co.

When you want some ranch butter like "Grandma" makes, go to Young & Taliaferro's.

Letters from G. R. Young have been received in which he states that he arrived at Las Vegas with several thousand pounds of wool and pelts in good condition, and a flock of over 1000 sheep, all of which sold readily at satisfactory prices. Mr. Young and Rob are expected home early next week.

Water was struck in Charles Hamilton's well at a depth of 50 feet.

A copy ofthe laws enacted by the last Territorial Legislature has been sent to the INTERPRETER, for which the sender has our thanks.

The light attendance at the dance at Young & Taliaferro's hall, last Friday night, was owing to a mistake about the hall. It was generally understood that the ball was to be in Athletic hall, and many in the upper part of town, who wished to attend, seeing no lights there supposed that the dance was postponed on account of the rain.

If you want to see genuine Kentucky blue-grass again, look into Mrs. J. A Brown's yard. She has many old-fashioned plants growing there, such as tiger lilies, hollyhocks and peonies.

Creamery Butter 3 lbs. for $1.00 at Y. & T.'s.

The Woman's Relief Corps held a regular meeting Tuesday, 25th.

Some juvenile bit of depravity entered Mr. Littell's front yard, the other day, and made off with a quantity of choice moss rose buds, just opening. We heartily echo Mr. Littell's wish, that he could lay his hands on the offender.

The public school, Miss Annie McGrew, teacher, closed with appropriate exercises, last Friday. The next day, Miss McGrew gave her pupils a picnic in the woods north of town, but the inevitable picnic shower came up and drove everybody home.

M. Whiteman, of Roswell, is again to be seen on our streets. As he omitted the important duty of reporting to the Interpreter on his arrival, we are unable to inform the public what his business is here, nor how long he will remain.

Capt. Stephenson, Mr. Maddeh and Mr. Gardner of the Park, were in town, this week. Crops in the Park are very backward in consequence of the cold weather.

A queer lot of hen's eggs are lying in the show case at Ridgeway's store. No two are alike in size, shape or color. The smallest is about as large as a robin's egg, and the largest is nearly the size of a goose egg but is flattened at both ends. Another has a strange looking figure marked in the shell, which may be intended for a crown or for a circular saw, and yet another is drawn down to almost a sharp point at one end. We forgot to ask the name of the owner of this extraordinary breed of fowls.

Nicholas Bastion has this year resigned the position he has so long held, that of foreman on the Block cattle ranch, and moved into White Oaks. He is living in the Miller house, on the south side of town.

This office was visited Thursday evening by several young ladies. It happened that our devil had his face washed, but their sudden and unexpected appearance unstrung his nerves so badly that he has been unable to set a stick of type since.—Roswell Register.

Well, thank fortune, we have no girls in White Oaks homely enough to scare the devil.

M. H. Bellomy, lately a resident of White Oaks, but now assistant clerk at the Indian Agency on the Mescalero reservation, came to White Oaks with Mrs. Rhodes and children, last Sunday. They, with Mrs. Kempton, gave the Interpreter a call, Monday. Mrs. Rhodes, who is the wife of the Agent and is matron at the Agency, says that she finds life very pleasant on the reservation. Her duties as matron bring her into close association with the Indian children, who are bright and tractable, and she has become much attached to them. Her quiet energy, which was very evident even in a brief interview, and her pleasant voice and manner, show that her success in her vocation is not entirely due to the good qualities of those with whom she has to deal.

Mr. Lee. "Why, Addie, you needn't cry about it! I only said Mrs. Allen was a very well-informed woman, and I wished you would follow her example."

Mrs. Lee. "Yes, and last week you said you wished I could manage to look as stylish as Mrs. Allen,—and she makes all her own clothes. But she has what I haven't."

Mr. Lee. "What is that?"

Mrs. Lee. "Well, she gets all of her information from the Magazine they take. I admit that she knows all that is going on, and is bright and entertaining in conversation: but I could do as well as she does if I had the same source of information. She lent me the last number of her Magazine lately, and I learned more in one hour's reading, about various social matters and the topics of the day, than I would pick up in a month by my occasional chats with friends. It certainly covers every topic of interest, from the news of the day down to the details of housekeeping; and everything is so beautifully illustrated, too. Every time Mamie goes over to the Allens' she comes back and teases me to get you to take Demorest's Family Magazine, as the stories are so good. Even the boys watch for it every month, as a place is found for them also in its pages; and Mr. Allen swears by it. It is really wonderful how it suits every member of the family!"

Mr. Lee. "Well perhaps I had better send for a Specimen Copy; for, if it is anything like what you say it is, it will amuse and instruct the whole of us."

Mrs. Lee. "I see that W. Jennings Demorest, the publisher, 15 East 14th Street, New York, is offering to send a Specimen Copy for 10 cents, so we can't lose anything, as each number contains a 'Pattern Order' entitling the holder to any Pattern she may choose, and in any size—which alone makes each copy worth 30 cents; and I just want a jacket pattern like Mrs. Allen's. The subscription price is only $2.00 a year; and I must say I can't see how they can publish so elegant a Magazine for so little money."

If you have not examined the new illustrated monthly which has had so phenomenal a success during the past year, it is worth your while to do so. An increase in Circulation from 16,000 to 50,000 copies in 12 months means that there must be some attractive features about the Cosmopolitan Magazine.

It gives 1536 pages annually by the ablest writers and over 1400 illustrations by clever artists. No magazine has ever advanced more rapidly in public favor. Buy a copy at the newsstand.

FOR ORE THIEVES!

The common experience of this camp shows that much is lost by the mine operators by the stealing of gold in specimens, if not in amalgam and bullion. Therefore the "Old Abe" Co. offers a standing reward of Three Hundred Dollars for the arrest and conviction, or for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person guilty of stealing any of the property of the Old Abe Co., even the smallest specimen of ore. The rule of this company is to mill all specimens. Therefore none of the ore from this mine can be honestly held as specimens. And as the receiver, with guilty knowledge, is as guilty in law as the thief, this offer applies to the holders of Old Abe specimens.

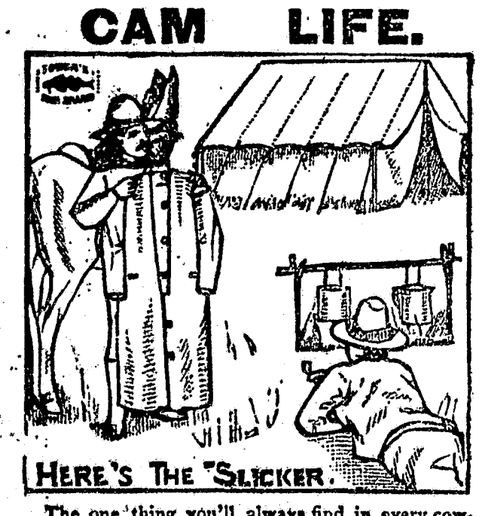
CAM LIFE.



HERE'S THE "SLICKER."

The one thing you'll always find in every cowboy's outfit when he goes on the spring round-up is a "Fish Brand" Pommel Slicker. They make the only perfect saddle coat, and come either black or yellow. They protect the whole front of the rider's body, being made to fit round the outside of the saddle entire. When used as a walking coat, the extension pieces neatly overlap each other, making a regular overcoat with a double stormproof front. When riding, the saddle is dry as a bone, from pommel to cantle, and the rider is entirely protected in every part of his body. These "Slickers," being of extra width, make fine blankets for camp. Beware of worthless imitations, every garment stamped with "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you can have the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered without extra cost. Particulars and illustrated catalogue free.

HEED THE WARNING.

It is not infrequently the case that itching pimples and irritating "cat boils" are the forerunners of larger boils, or the most serious carbuncles. Invariably Nature puts out her danger signals, and they should be heeded at once. The pimples and little boils show that the blood is not in a good condi ion and nature is trying to relieve the system A few doses of Swifts Specific at this juncture will accomplish wonders. The eruption will be healed and the system cleansed of its impurities. The modern paraphrase of the old saying, "A stitch in time," etc., is that "Timely stitches will save nine pairs of breeches." The modern form has a touch of humor that does not modify the truth of it. In that vein, we may say that a course of Swift's Specific prevents ills terrific.
