The Situation at Santa Fe.

The stir-up in the New Mexican political and official circles promises some sensations which will exceed in raciness anything which has ever transpired in that hotbed of political activity and intrigue. The special reports to the News carries the information that Clerk Bergere was asked to resign and did so. If this be true, we may expect almost anything in the way of a political and official upheaval to come to pass, for that same Bergere is the brother-in-law of Solomon Luna, "the man who has the say," and it is only reasonable to suppose that if Luna was unable to avert the disaster it is beyond the power of any of the others to do so. The fact that the republican party can find no one to fill the place, and a man from the treasury department having to act until a man from the east, it is said, is brought on, makes it look as though the republican party was pretty bad off for good honest timber out of which to manufacture officials.

It is also intimated that Acting Governor Reynolds may be implicated, and that an investigation may bring to light things far more sensational than have yet been published.

There is one thing which is significant, and that is the fact that after Governor Curry had changed his plans and the date was set for the inauguration, he was called by the president to a conference at Oyster Bay. This makes it look as though Roosevelt knew something of the intrigue which has apparently been going on in the New Mexico capital.

Another fact which carries with it a great significance is the six special agents of the interior department who are on the ground making an investigation, or rather getting the preliminary work done in order that when the investigation begins it may proceed with every facility and without the slightest hindrance.

There have been many things which have savored of the sensational including the action of Assist Attorney General McHarg in taking a hand in the Bursum case in connection with the land frauds, and forcing the attorney-general of the territory to sign papers in the intervention after official had gotten up a set of papers said to have been worthless.

The politicians are in a state of wild excitement over the turn affairs have taken, and well they should be.

The developments from day to day are being watched with the greatest anxiety, and that a political upheaval is to come no one doubts.

It will undoubtedly place the republican party in a bad light when the thing is over and it will do much to lessen its power in the territory.—El Paso News.

CAPITAN, - - NEW MEXICO.

Survival of the Fit.

What will induce the well-to-do to have more children is an increasing sense of their own individual welfare. The considerations which prevent such persons from having families of more natural size are those of crude, material amusement or else those of half-baked ideas of culture and development. If our well-to-do people are on the eve of a somewhat riper education, as we believe they are, the size of the family will increase just as living in the country, interest in beauty, freedom from the need of hectic amusement, and other signs of choicer standards are increasing. We have been rather grossly preoccupied with material accoutrements, says Collier's. We have had a fierce attack of "gadding." Our women have been carried into fantastic absurdities by the novel toys that have become accessible to them. We prophesy that the wealthy woman whose thought is devoted to chasing "interesting" things to do, or wishing she could write books or paint pictures, will soon be as ridiculous among educated Americans as Dr. Johnson's dancing dog. Let those families die out which are most interested in luxury or vanity or shallow freedom from responsibility: why not? Their place will be taken by those which tend, like evolution, toward differentiation of the sexes, not toward a fight against the difference and its consequences.

Aerial Transportation in 1914.

When Prof. Alexander Graham Bell says it is only a question of a brief period when there will be a perfected type of airship, by which it will be possible to cross the Atlantic in less than 20 hours, the rest of human kind will listen without contradicting, notwithstanding the apparent wildness of the prophecy. For Prof. Bell is a dreamer who has had a remarkable dream to come true. The United States supreme court decided that he is the inventor of the telephone. The man who conceived the telephone, and brought it to a degree of perfection that rendered it adaptable to everyday uses, will be listened to with respect when he declares that swift and controlled air navigation is only a little way ahead. Very likely, remarks Baltimore American, there will be lines of airships delivering passengers in our Banner exposition in the year 1914. Prof. Bell predicts that the perfected airship will rush with a speed of 200 miles an hour. At such a speed of getting there New York will be only one hour from our fair grounds, and London and Paris not over 16 hours away.

That American women are giving increased attention to athletics and to outdoor exercises of all kinds, with corresponding benefits physically, is evident. The fact that the American lady who won the tennis championship in England last year has gone over again, hoping to be equally successful this year, is made additionally interesting by the further announcement that a party of English women will return with her to compete in a number of contests here, including that for the international tennis cup. That will put American players on their mettle. Women are making records on the golf grounds, also, and in every form of sport, in which they choose to engage are developing expertness and getting practice which assure the most beneficial result.

HE ALSO WAS A COLLECTOR.

Cleveland Artist Came Back with a Counter Proposition.

A local newspaper artist got a letter one day from a man over in Indiana who said he was making a collection of sketches, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. "I have drawings from well known newspaper artists in nearly every state in the union," the Indiana man wrote, "but I have none from Ohio. I have seen some of your work and I think it is good. If you will send me some little sketch for my collection I shall have it framed."

The artist noticed from the letterhead that the Indiana man was connected with a bank in one of the small towns in the state of literature. That gave him a hunch, and he wrote back as follows:

"I am making a collection of ten dollar bills. I haven't secured specimens from every state in the union, but I have several tens and a few twenties, and I am particularly anxious to have a ten dollar bill from Indiana. I notice that you are employed in a place where ten dollar bills are kept, and if you send me one for my collection I shall be glad to have it framed."

PURIFIED LIFE INSURANCE.

Benefits from New Law, Which Remains Substantially Unchanged.

Through the influence of Gov. Hughes, the New York Legislature decided to make no radical changes in the new insurance law. It was pointed out by Gov. Hughes that the New York law has already accomplished widespread reforms, with proportionate benefits to policyholders, and that it should be given a thorough trial before any amendments were seriously considered. It is estimated that the cost of the mismanagement of the past did not average more than 20 cents to each policyholder, while the benefits to present and future policyholders will amount to many times more and be cumulative besides. The speed craze of the big companies and the excessive cost of securing new business was the most extravagant evil of the old managements. Under the new regime the cost of new business has already been greatly reduced, along with other economies.

The showing made by the Equitable Life Assurance Society in its report for 1906 was a strong argument against meddling with the new law. In the Equitable alone there was a saving of over $2,000,000 in expenses, besides an increase in the income from the Society's assets amounting to as much more. The ratios of the Equitable's total expenses to its total income was 19.42% in 1904, 17.38% in 1905, and only 14.48% in 1906. The dividends paid to Equitable policyholders in 1906 amounted to $7,289,734, which was an increase of more than 9% over 1905.

While the Equitable made a better showing than any other big company, all reported radical economies and under such conditions the Legislature wisely decided to leave the law substantially as it stands.

Not Partial to Nursing.

Not long ago a young Irishman was seeking work in western Illinois, and among those to whom he applied was a farmer near Cairo.

The farmer was attracted by the Celt's frank, cheery manner, and, while he was not in need of help, he asked, after a pause:

"Can you cradle?"

"Cradle!" repeated the Irishman. "Sure, I can! But, sir," he added, persuasively, "couldn't ye give me a job out-of-dures?"—Harper's Weekly.

MANY PETTICOATS AMONG RURAL MAIL CARRIERS.

WASHINGTON.—Barred from becoming letter carriers by a technicality in the postal regulations, women are rapidly invading the ranks of the rural carriers, where there are no restrictions against them. An examination of the records of the post office department shows that there are 257 carriers in the rural communities who are women, and 1,000 substitute carriers are of the same sex.

Who was the first woman rural carrier is something that is unknown by the post office department. Several have claimed that honor. Women were delivering mail matter in the farming communities for Uncle Sam long before his officials who have charge of that branch of the postal service knew anything about it.

There is another way in which they have made inroads into the service. When a man is appointed a rural carrier he is allowed to name his substitute, and many name their wives, daughters, or other members of their families for this place. When a woman has served six months as a substitute, that is, as a bonded substitute, she will be eligible to appointment as regular carrier, and should there be a vacancy the department will give her the preference for appointment as regular carrier in the rural service.

While the regulations of the postal service make no specific provision against women as letter carriers in cities, there is a provision which has the effect of barring them from these positions. A uniform which must be worn by city carriers, consisting of a coat and trousers and cap of a certain color, is prescribed, and no woman has been brave enough to make application in the face of this.

The records of the department show that the women carriers in the rural free delivery service have made most excellent officers. They have shown pluck, perseverance and ability to perform their duties in all sorts of weather.

DON'T chew meat. Guip it in chunks.

Mastication has no part in the digestion of meat. There is some reason for believing that chewing will make meat indigestible. The saliva is an alkali. Acids are needed for the conversion of flesh into the elements that nourish the human body.

Too much chewing may raise the alkalinity of flesh used for food to such an extent as to seriously hamper the work of the stomach, which, alone, has to do with the disposal of animal matter.

This, in brief, is the gospel of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief chemist of the department of agriculture. His views were called forth by a report by Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale on the relative value of animal and vegetable foods.

Aside from knowledge gained by him as a chemist, Dr. Wiley has noted that the carnivorous animals do not chew their food. They tear it from the bones and swallow it in chunks. Therefore the learned chief chemist holds that if a man can get a chunk of meat down into his stomach, no matter how big it may be, he has done all that nature requires of him.

DON'T CHEW YOUR MEAT, SAYS CHEMIST WILEY

"Mastication is good for the development of the muscles," says Dr. Wiley, "but chewing of meat is unnecessary, if not positively harmful. With vegetables, however, it is impossible to do too much grinding. Every body knows, or ought to know, that all the digestion of vegetables is accomplished in the mouth and small intestines. If there is not enough mastication the work cannot be done afterward.

"But Fisher is a faddist; all of us are a bit afflicted in that way. He is trying to make over man so that he will not eat. He ought to know better than that."

FIGHT ON TRUSTS COSTS UNCLE SAM ROUND SUM

"TRUST busting" comes high and the taxpayers foot the bill. Special investigations of the Standard Oil, beef, harvester, tobacco, powder, fertilizer, and other combinations have cost enormous sums. Inquiries now being prosecuted into the lumber, watch and other trusts will draw heavily upon the federal treasury.

In the last four years the government has paid out nearly $390,000 in fees for special counsel. These are some of the largest items:

Beef case, $48,000.
Standard Oil (in court), $45,000.
Tobacco cases (under investigation), $42,000.
Paper case (concluded), $20,000.

Harvester Case (under investigation), $30,000.

Fertilizer case (in court), $15,000.

Coal and oil carrying railroads (under investigation), $10,000.

Powder case (under investigation) $7,000.

Turpentine case, $25,000.

Total, $242,000.

Fines paid the government, $30,000.

There are almost a dozen other investigations, which have cost a goodly price, but they are of lesser importance.

Kellogg and Morrison are paid $12,000 a year each. Judge McReynolds gets $16,000 a year.

GOOD IDEA FOR MATCHES.

Double Enders Popular Among Smokers in Mexico.

"Mexico may be behind us in some things, but she has us lashed to the wheel when it comes to making matches," said a man just in from the land of the Montezumas as he handed out a wax lucifer with a head on each end.

"I saw nothing but double ended matches while I was away, and I can tell you that they save one's record with the Recording Angel. If you dig down in your pocket and find one match the chances are that you are sure of a light, because if one end goes out the other is left. These old time matches, just revived, that splutter brilliant sparks may be all right when it comes to pleasing the baby, but the fellow who puts on the market a double ended match will find a ready demand."

BLACK, ITCHING SPOTS ON FACE.

Physician Called It Eczema in Worst Form—Patient Despaired of Cure—Cuticura Remedies Cured Her.

"About four years ago I was afflicted with black splotches all over my face and a few covering my body, which produced a severe itching irritation, and which caused me a great deal of suffering, to such an extent that I was forced to call in two of the leading physicians of ——. After a thorough examination of the dreaded complaint they announced it to be skin eczema in the worst form. Their treatment did me no good. Finally I became despondent and decided to discontinue their services. My husband purchased a single set of the Cuticura Remedies, which entirely stopped the breaking out. I continued the use of the Cuticura Remedies for six months, and after that every splotch was entirely gone. I have not felt a symptom of the eczema since, which was three years ago. Mrs. Lizzie E. Sledge, 540 Jones Ave., Selma, Ala., Oct. 28, 1905."

PROPER WAY TO WASH CHINA.

Delicate Material Should Have the Most Careful Handling.

The proper way to wash delicate china is to have two bowls, one with warm, soapy water, the other filled with cold water to rinse them in.

Take the cups and saucers one by one and wash them in the warm, soapy water, rinse well in the cold water, then let them drain on a board or tray.

Dry the china with a soft linen glass cloth to give it a good polish. For cups, saucers, and dainty plates washing soda is rarely needed in the water, and if there should be much gilt in the pattern of the china it should never be used, as soda has a most injurious effect on gilt, causing it to rub off altogether.

Supposing the cups are stained by cold tea or coffee being left in them, after pouring it away rub the inside of the cup with a little salt, and when washed afterward the stain will disappear.

There ought to be a china cupboard in every house in which to keep the china and glass.

It should be fitted with shelves, and there should also be small hooks placed along the edge of each shelf on which to hang cups and cream pitchers.

HINTS FOR THE HOME.

Little Things It Will Be Well to Bear in Mind.

To perfume underlinen put a lump of orris root into the boiler on washing days. The clothes will be deliciously fragrant even after ironing.

To clean a copper kettle, cut a lemon in half, dip it in salt, and rub the kettle with it. The kettle should afterward be carefully rinsed in cold water, and given a final polish with a clean, soft cloth.

If chiffon ties and veils are merely tossed and crushed without being soiled, they can be made fresh if laid under a damp cloth and an iron applied.

If dirty, they may often be washed, but this process must be carried out speedily with a warm, soapy lather.

Squeeze dry, but do not wring. Squeeze and swish through the water, but do not rub.

Gently press and shake in place. If starch is required, gum water and rice water are the only reliable stiffeners. One is made by adding a few drops of gum to warm water, the other by straining the water off boiled rice.

Strawberry Charlotte Russe.

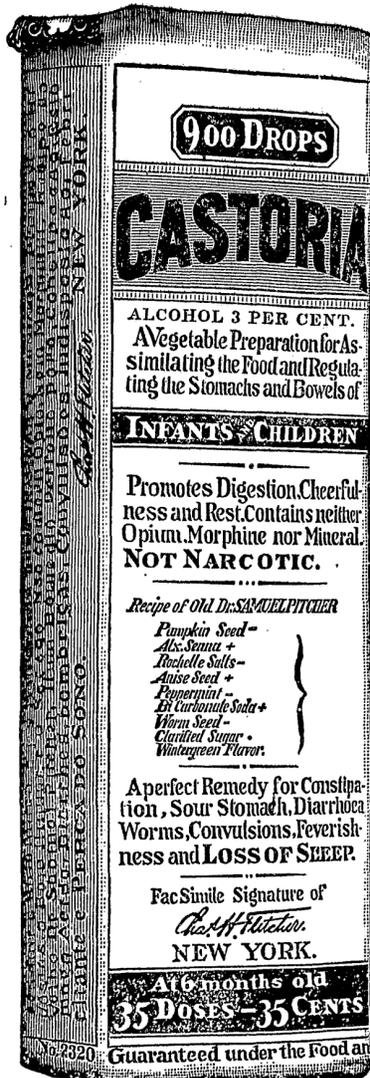

Line the bottom of a plain square mold with white paper and the sides with split lady fingers. Next soak one ounce of gelatine with half pint of cold water. When soft, place this over the fire until dissolved. In the meantime, press a quart of fresh strawberries through a sieve and add one cup of powdered sugar. When the gelatine is cold, mix it with the berries and sugar, and add one pint of whipped cream sweetened to taste. Pour this mixture into the mold and place on ice. Eat very cold with delicious cakes.

Golden Orange Cake.

Cream one-fourth cup of butter, add one-half cup of sugar slowly and continue beating, says a writer in Good-housekeeping. Add the yolks of five eggs, beaten until thick and lemon colored, and one teaspoonful of orange extract. Mix and sift seven-eighths cups of pastry flour with one and one-half teaspoons of baking powder, and add alternately with one-fourth cup of milk to the first mixture. Bake in a buttered and floured tin.

How to Wash the Jabot.

For doing up the dainty jabots with their fan plaits baste the plaits in place before washing and dip into strong warm suds. If this is not enough, scour a little with soft brush while lying flat on a marble.

Former Delegate to Congress Rodey, who was defeated for re-nomination by the unprincipled gang at Santa Fe, arrived at Oyster Bay last week with Capt. Curry. Rodey remarked that in his opinion the situation in New Mexico was "the worst, from the standpoint of discord, intrigue, and crookedness, that could be found in any of the dependencies or territories of the United States."

The "graft" epidemic is spreading. It has already reached our sister republic on the south. The mayor of Ciudad de Juarez, Mexico, has skipped, gone to parts unknown, a fugitive from justice. His chief clerk is also conspicuous by his absence. The specific charge against the mayor of Juarez is smuggling by the train load, but, it is stated, that investigation may disclose many other similar charges, and that a number of people in high circles may be asked for a reckoning by the federal authorities of that republic.

The New Mexico republican politicians who failed to get what they wanted, and who are accountable for the overthrow of Gov. Hagerman, are now sorry that they spoke. Several officials at Santa Fe have had charges filed against them and their resignation demanded. It looks as if the half dozen special agents from Washington are getting busy, and that some prominent officials of the territory will have to face something worse than forced resignation from office.

Monday night, in the stilly hours, which commence in this burg about 9 p.m., a nerve-wrecking noise, somewhat akin to the racket made at a Chinese funeral, disturbed the usual tranquility of this place. Tin cans, tom toms, and cow bells were rattled, and bugles were blown. The seeming unearthly noise, on investigation, proved to be only a chiravari party disturbing the peaceful slumbers of a newly-wed couple. The disturbance continued until the groom appeared and "set 'em up" to the serenaders.

The Ball Game.

The ball game Sunday was witnessed by a large and interested crowd of spectators. It was decided in favor of Fort Stanton, the score being 16 to 14. It was a good game and well played. The high scoring of both teams may be partly accounted for by the fact that the ball used was not the regular league ball, but a lively substitute with a rubber core, which the batters slugged clean outside the domain of the fielders. Therefore the merit of the players should not be judged from the standpoint of the score. The Fort Stantons were in good form, also the home team, who, however, made a few faux pas in the eight inning that cost them the game. In the seventh inning the game looked like Capitans by a wide margin.

There has been some talk of playing the Carrizozo team on their own ground, provided the latter agree to play a return game the following Saturday, and to make it worth while for them the Fort Stantons will give them a game the following day, Sunday. The proposition will, it is believed, be acceptable to Carrizozo, who desires a little trying out before seeking new worlds to conquer.

At Hymen's Altar.

A quietly-arranged marriage took place at Lincoln Monday, the Rev. Father Germa of the Catholic church of that place performing the ceremony. The contracting parties were Miss Rose Buford and Mr. Thomas Hobbs, both of Fort Stanton. The bride has resided in this county less than a year, having come here from the east, and is highly spoken of by those who know her. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hobbs of the Southwestern Hotel of this place, and is, comparatively speaking, an old-timer in Lincoln county. He has been an employe of the Marine Hospital at Fort Stanton for the past several years, and is deservedly popular among his acquaintances. An informal reception was held in the evening at the home of the groom's parents at Capitan, after which an inviting repast was served.

This paper joins with the many friends of the couple in wishing them long life and happiness and a full measure of prosperity, and the further wish that their joys may be many and their troubles small ones.

WINE OF DANDELION

ONE OF THE BEST OF ALL KNOWN TONICS.

With or Without Alcohol It is a Pleasant and Healthful Drink—Some Different Ways of Preparing It for Use.

The bright golden dandelion blossoms, not the roots, make an excellent tonic wine or cordial. Choose them from a clean piece of grass, rinse quickly to expel any insects, then cover with boiling water. Let this stand in a warm place, but not to cook fast, for about five minutes, to insure a strong infusion. Now press hard to extract all the juices. When strained and measured you must sweeten to taste—it will take quite a good deal of sugar—and add brandy. Allow one pint of brandy to every four gallons of the dandelion sirup. Put it in glass jars or bottles until fermentation ceases, then rebottle and seal. Wines are usually kept filled up as they "work," so that the fermenting material on the top can fall outside. When it has ceased working bottle it freshly and seal it.

A dandelion wine that has no spirit added and is not fermented makes a very pleasant and healthful drink. This recipe was obtained from a woman who makes it for customers in the suburbs. It is an old English recipe. She also makes fine English plum pudding, and these little sales add to her small income obtained from keeping a tollhouse.

Take two heaping quarts of dandelion flowers, add four quarts of boiling water. Let stand for 24 hours. Strain and add three pounds of sugar and two lemons sliced thin. Boil all for 15 minutes and bottle. If not desired very sirupy, then scant the sugar allowance. An orange could replace the lemon if desired.

This is the easiest of the several recipes given.

A dandelion wine that has yeast added to it to start fermentation, also obtained in Pennsylvania, is made from three quarts of dandelion blossoms, three pounds of white sugar and one gallon of water and two oranges and two lemons.

Place the blossoms in an earthen jar or deep bowl. Pour the water over boiling hot. Let them stand uncovered. Next morning strain and add the sugar and boil this sirup for half an hour. Pare the lemons and oranges very thin, rejecting all the inner white portion. Bruise the parings thoroughly and add to the above ingredients.

When cooled until about lukewarm, add one-fourth of a yeast cake. Let all stand a week or ten days to ferment. Strain and then bottle. Do not cork it tight until it has done working.

The color is light amber.

Easily Made Skirts.

Half the time may be saved and a much smoother fit be secured by first plaiting each gore according to directions before sewing seams together. All plaits may be machine stitched excepting hip gore, where all the fitting should be done by simply lapping plait on that seam. Paste gores only as far as hip length until fitting is done. Then sew seams on under side from hip down to do not press open, but press in the plait that comes on that seam. There will be no puckers at seams and a full plait skirt may be made in half the time it takes when first sewing the gores together and then plaiting in the old way.

SUFFERED TORTURES:

Racked with Pain, Day and Night, for Years.

Wm. H. Walter, engineer, of Chatsworth, Ills., writes: "Kidney disease was lurking in my system for years. I had torturing pain in the side and back and the urine was dark and full of sediment. I was racked with pain day and night, could not sleep or eat well, and finally became crippled and bent over with rheumatism. Doan's Kidney Pills brought quick relief, and in time, cured me. Though I lost 40 pounds, I now weigh 200, more than ever before."

SYMPATHY FOR THE FISH.

Upton Sinclair's Amazing Parable on Charity of the Rich.

Upton Sinclair, in an address before a body of Chicago Socialists, said of charity:

"The average charity, the charity of the rich, seems rather futile to me. The rich oppress the poor enormously, then they help them slightly. It is like the young lady angler.

"Why," said a man to this young lady, 'do you always carry a bottle of liniment with you on your fishing excursions?'

She sighed.

"I am sorry," she said plaintively, 'for the poor little fish. And so, when I take one off the hook, I always rub its cut mouth with some liniment.'"

The Lie According to Mr. Dooley.

"A lie may be as simple as th' thruth. Th' fact iv th' matter is that th' rale thruth is niver simple. What we call thruth an' pass around fr'm hand to hand is on'y a kind iv a currency that we use fr' convenience. There are a good many counterfeiters an' a lot iv th' counterfeits mus' be in circulation. I haven't anny question that I take in manny iv thim over me intelchool bar ivry day, an' pass out not a few. Some iv th' counterfeits has as much precious metal in thim as th' rale goods, on'y they don't bear th' governmint stamp."—From Dissertations by Mr. Dooley.

Whew!

"Really—er—I'm afraid you overheard what I—er—said about you," stammered the gossip who had been caught redhanded. "Perhaps I—er—was a bit too severe—"

"Oh, no," replied the other woman, "you weren't nearly as severe as you would have been if you knew what I think of you."

WENT TO TEA

And It Wound Her Bobbin.

Tea drinking frequently affects people as badly as coffee. A lady in Salisbury, Md., says that she was compelled to abandon the use of coffee a good many years ago, because it threatened to ruin her health and that she went over to tea drinking, but finally, she had dyspepsia so bad that she had lost twenty-five pounds and no food seemed to agree with her.

She further says: "As this time I was induced to take up the famous food drink, Postum, and was so much pleased with the results that I have never been without it since. I commenced to improve at once, regained my twenty-five pounds of flesh and went some beyond my usual weight."

"I know Postum to be good, pure, and healthful, and there never was an article, and never will be, I believe, that does so surely take the place of coffee, as Postum Food Coffee. The beauty of it all is that it is satisfying and wonderfully nourishing. I feel as if I could not sing its praises too loud." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pags. "There's a Reason."

His Idea of a Good Time.

The retired contractor sighed as he got into his dress suit and thought of the elaborate dinner and the opera that were to come.

"Some day," he said, "I'll git real despr'it, an' then do you know what I'll do?"

"Something terrible, no doubt," replied his ambitious wife.

"I suppose it wouldn't look well in print," he admitted, "but I can't help that. What I'll do will be to throw away these high-priced cigars, put on some old clothes, go out an' come in by the back way an' smoke a quarter pound of cut-up chewin' tobacco in a cob pipe while I'm talkin' things over with the coachman in the barn."—The Bohemian.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. WORKING WOMEN, WHAT THEY SHOULD KNOW

MRS. SADIE ABBOTT

MRS. PREE MCKITTRICK

Women for the most part spend their lives at home, and it is these women who are willing and ambitious that their homes shall be kept neat and pretty, their children well dressed and tidy, who do their own cooking, sweeping, dusting and often washing, ironing and sewing for the entire family, who call for our sympathy.

Truly the work of such a woman is "never done" and is it any wonder that she breaks down at the end of a few years, the back begins to ache, there is a displacement, inflammation or ulceration of the abdominal organs, a female weakness is brought on, and the struggle of that wife and mother to continue her duties is pitiful.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, is the exact medicine a woman needs whose strength is overtaxed. It keeps the feminine organs in a strong and healthy condition. In preparing for childbirth and recuperating therefrom it is most efficient. It carries a woman safely through the change of life and in making her strong and well assists her to be a good wife and mother.

Mrs. Sadie Abbott, of Jeannette, Pa., writes: "I suffered severely with pain every month and also a pain in my left side. My doctor prescribed for me but did me no good; a friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I wrote you in regard to my condition. I followed your advice and am a perfectly well woman. The pains have all disappeared and I cannot recommend your medicine too highly."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

Mrs. Pree McKittrick, of La Farge, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"For six years I suffered from female weakness. I was so irregular that I would go from three weeks to six months, so I thought I would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

"Now I am once more well and can do my work without a pain. Any one who wishes can write to me and I will answer all letters gladly."

Women should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the greatest number of actual cures of female ills. Every suffering woman in the United States is asked to accept the following invitation. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of her vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Nothing Doing.

"I have a little book here that I think will interest you," said the agent, as he sat down on the farmhouse porch to rest. "It is entitled, 'How to Be Your Own Lawyer.'"

"Reckon I don't want no sich fool book ez that," replied the old farmer. "They ain't no sense in a man larnin' how t' rob hisself, by grass!"—Chicago News.

No Chance for "Uncle."

"Mr. Archibald," said the kind old landlady, "didn't I hear you say that you always soaked your overcoat every spring to keep germs out of it?"

"You certainly did, ma'am," chuckled the young man, who was in the habit of putting his overcoat up for the price of a straw hat.

"Well, you won't have to worry over the germs this season."

"Think not?"

"No, indeed. I thought about soaking the overcoat and I reached the conclusion that it was too mild to kill the germs, so I just put it into the wash-boiler and boiled it."

And the dear old lady is still wondering why the young man changed his boarding house so suddenly.—Chicago News.

SKILLFUL "TRUST BUSTER"

Cordenio Arnold Severance, the government attorney who has unearthed such valuable evidence in the Harriman railroad deals that the department of justice has resolved to start criminal suits, is a young western attorney who had achieved an enviable reputation as a corporation lawyer when he enlisted with the government forces. Mr. Severance was born and raised in Minnesota and has held a number of offices, including that of state senator.

Mr. Severance's law business extends all over the country, from Massachusetts to California. He has been counsel for various railroads in the northwest, also for a number of Chicago packers, for the United States Steel corporation, and numerous other business industries. He was employed by the interstate commerce commission in the recent investigation into the Harriman railroads. In connection with latter proceeding he took testimony in New York, Chicago, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and ably argued the matter in Washington, and his skillful handling of the last-mentioned investigation was especially commended.

As a partner of United States Attorney Frank B. Kellogg, Mr. Severance was associated with him in all the important trust investigations in which that lawyer figured so successfully, notably the Western Paper trust and the workings of the Standard Oil company.

Mr. Severance is immune from the common disease of running for office. He delights in social intercourse and his genial disposition has won him a prominent place in leading clubs of Minnesota, Duluth, Chicago, New York and Brooklyn. Whether telling a humorous story or pursuing an octopus, Mr. Severance enters into the spirit of the thing with all the vim and enthusiasm that even strenuous President Roosevelt could ask.

EASY GOING MONARCH

King Carlos of Portugal is the happiest, most easy-going and pleasure-loving ruler in Europe. The only cloud upon his horizon has been a parliament which persisted in trying to make laws and run the country. Life was not worth living, decided the jolly monarch, with such a pest always on hand, so he sent the lawmakers home and proclaimed that he would run the country alone for three years.

The private life of Portugal's monarch is rather interesting, because it is more like that of a private gentleman than the daily round of a sovereign. As he rises at five in the morning, he contrives to get all his work done before mid-day, then five days of the six he gives over the afternoon and evening to his one amusement—sport. He has explored every corner of his kingdom in his motor car, and a short time since, when driving through some out-of-the-way place, he had rather an amusing experience. Arriving at a small town, he found a crowd waiting, but no one recognized him. In fact, the chief point of interest at that moment was an old woman, who had had her basket of eggs upset by those who jostled her. The king, with his usual good nature, approached and asked what was the matter. "They say the king is coming through here, so these idiots are waiting to see him. One cannot even do one's daily labor, with this crowd watching for a fat, lazy fellow, who does no work and spends his time in eating."

The king laughed, presented her with a coin to pay for the eggs, and to "remember the fat lazy fellow by," and a moment more the royal car had vanished in a whirl of dust before anyone knew it had arrived—save one dumb-struck peasant woman.

HAD NO OPPOSITION

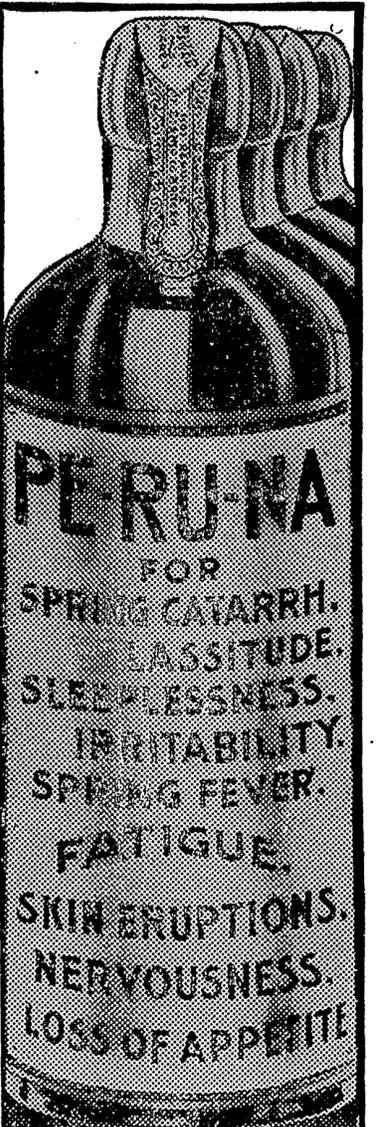

To run for office and be elected without opposition is an unusual thing in American politics. This rare distinction has befallen D. R. Anthony, Jr., who was nominated for congress by the Republicans of the First district of Kansas to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation of Congressman Curtis to the United States senate.

Mr. Anthony received a remarkable political indorsement in that he was unanimously nominated by his own party, and the Democrats of the district met and resolved to make no nomination against him.

The new congressman is editor of the Leavenworth Daily Times, and is a son of the late Col. D. R. Anthony, one of the pioneers and historical characters of Kansas' struggle to be a free state. He is also a nephew of the late Susan B. Anthony, and a brother-in-law of Capt. Koehler, the army officer who recently had a clash with Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood in the Philippines.

As showing the trend of politics in the western states, Mr. Anthony's platform calls for revision of unfair tariff schedules by the friends of the protective principle, stands for government control of the railroads as advocated by President Roosevelt, and declares for the curbing of criminal trusts and monopolies.

Jap Clark Found Guilty.

The trial of Jap Clark for the murder of J. M. Chase, a peace officer, at the Torrance depot about two years ago, was concluded last Saturday at Estancia. After being out 36 hours, the jury returned a verdict of murder in the second degree against Clark, and a verdict of acquittal for W. A. McKean, who was charged jointly with Clark with the murder.

Clark and Chase had a dispute of long standing. They met at the Torrance depot, the dispute was renewed and Clark shot and killed Chase. McKean was Clark's companion at the time and was accused of being an accomplice.

The minimum penalty for murder in the second degree is ten years and the maximum life imprisonment.

Jap Clark is well known in this end of the county, having worked for the Block cattle company for years as a cowboy. Some three years ago at Picacho, in a dispute about the ownership of a horse which Clark was riding at the time, he was shot three times in the body with a winchester, and narrowly escaped death.

"The Old World and It's Ways."

"This is the title of a new and profusely illustrated book by Col. William Jennings Bryan, recounting his noted journey around the earth and through Europe, which was so widely heralded through the American press.

The book is an illustrated and descriptive record of that journey, which is so memorable in current history. The journey embraced a period of a year, and covered practically all the nations of the earth.

Col. Bryan traveled with camera and pencil, and not only described, in brilliant phrase, what he saw, but further illustrated his journey by photographs. The photographs constitute a striking pictorial presentation and lend especial interest to the book. They number 240, and they show in picture the world as he saw it. They constitute just that many striking object lessons of the people of all countries in their cities, towns and villages—in their homes and everyday occupations.

The book will interest every reader as a unique presentation of a wonderfully interesting journey. It is sold only through solicitors. The Thompson Publishing company of St. Louis, Mo., are the fortunate publishers. They advertise for agents in another column of this issue.
