Will Approve Constitution.

It has been a mooted question whether or not President Roosevelt would approve the constitution recently adopted by the people of Oklahoma. The doubt has not been on account of failure on the part of the Oklahomans to adopt a constitution that recognized and endorsed a republican form of government, but because it conferred too much power on the people, which is sadly at variance with the president's one-man-idea. The president has decided, however, that there is no loop-hole for disapproval, and will at once issue a proclamation granting statehood, if the following announcement from Washington can be relied on:

"The president announced today (Sept. 26) that he will approve the Oklahoma constitution. Thus the last doubt is removed and Oklahoma assured of early statehood. As soon as the official copy of the document, accompanied by the certified report of its ratification at the recent election reaches him, the president will cause a proclamation declaring the new state admitted. The members of congress and senators elected September 17, accordingly will take their seats when congress meets.

"The president explained his decision as to Oklahoma by paraphrasing Lincoln and saying that 'If the people like that kind of thing, that's the kind of thing the people like.' The overwhelming majority by which the Oklahomans ratified their constitution convinced the president that it was what they wanted. After carefully considering his function in the situation, he concluded that he has neither power nor authority to gainsay them.

"The attorney general was of the opinion that the constitution could not be regarded as un-republican in form, and that in all essentials it was in harmony with the enabling act of congress. The president esteemed these two points the most important.

"The supreme court has never definitely passed upon the question of what is a republican form of government as prescribed for states by the federal constitution. A privately expressed opinion of many jurists, among them members of the supreme court bench, is that a republican form of government merely consists of a representative government.

"So the president concluded both that the Oklahoma constitution unquestionably provides a republican form of government and, excepting by a descent to mere quibbles, could not be attacked as inconsistent with the enabling act."

Goatmen Organize.

Last Saturday at 2:30 p.m., the goatmen of Lincoln county met in the Capitan schoolhouse and effected an organization.

Robt. A. Hurt was elected temporary chairman, and John W. Stephenson secretary. A committee of three was appointed to recommend permanent officers for the organization, and the following names were presented and were unanimously approved by the meeting: Robert A. Hurt, president; Elijo Marufo, vice-president; John W. Stephenson, secretary and treasurer, Executive committee: George Hagee, J. S. Hurst, Francisco Zamora, Henry Stutz and J. W. Stuart.

An enrollment of members was then taken, and fifteen names were secured.

A motion prevailed that the following members constitute a committee to prepare and present resolutions: J. H. Hobbs, Elijo Marufo, Henry Stutz and J. W. Stephenson, and the committee submitted the following report which was unanimously adopted:

"Recognizing the growth of the Angora goat industry and the amount of capital invested therein in Lincoln county, and believing that an organization is necessary for its protection and advancement, and in order to bring about uniform action, this meeting adopts the following:

"Resolved—First: That this association shall be known as the Lincoln County Angora Goat Association;

"Second: That its membership shall be composed of persons engaged in the goat industry either as breeder or dealer, and payers of taxes on this class of property in Lincoln county;

"Third: That this organization pledges its members to aid one another in every way possible in the disposition of his products, and, when possible, to join together in making shipments in order to secure carload rates.

"Fourth: That each and every member of this association pledge his individual effort to secure a more satisfactory grazing fee from the government; as it is conceded that the fee now in existence is almost prohibitive and bids fair to drive this growing industry from Lincoln county, which will compel those engaged in the business to seek other means of investment, and also result in a loss to Lincoln county as an important item of taxation.

"Fifth: That the Territorial Equalization Board should adjust the valuation of this class of property, and not, for the coming year, fix a valuation on goats 30 per cent higher than on other classes of live stock; and to secure these just demands and place this interest on a plane with all others, each and every member pledges his best effort."

Each member present was constituted a member of a committee to solicit members to the association.

The meeting authorized the chair to appoint a committee of five to draft by-laws and constitution, and this committee is composed of the following: H. Stutz, James Hobbs, George Hagee, J. G. Riggle and J. S. Hurst, and are to report at next regular meeting.

The association adjourned to meet at Capitan, subject to the call of the president, which will be about the 25th of October.

The regular quarterly meeting of the board of county commissioners will be held at Lincoln Monday next.

The Leslies Sentenced.

As reported in last week's issue the two Leslies (father and son), of this county, were found guilty in the district court at Alamo-gordo of illegally killing range cattle. Up to the time of going to press last week, the sentence imposed could not be learned at this distance, but a rumor was current that they were given 20 years each. This would have been an excessive punishment and out of proportion to the offense, the maximum penalty for which is five years.

This week we can state with authority that the sentences imposed were four years and two-and-a-half years respectively—the father getting the heavier and the son the lighter sentence.

The jury in their verdict recommended the prisoners to the mercy of the court, and Judge Mann, tempering justice with mercy, acted on the recommendation with the above result.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grayson and children left on yesterday's train for Tucumcari where they will make their future home. Mr. Grayson has been in the employ of the Marine Hospital, at Fort Stanton, for a number of years, and his wife has lived in this county almost from her birth. The family have many friends here who, while regretting their departure, wish them unbounded success in their new home.

Those who may be anxious to know how it feels to be "up in the air," can learn a thing or two by going to Albuquerque next week and taking a trip in the big balloon.

THE CAPITAN NEWS

CAPITAN, - - NEW MEXICO.

In Behalf of Touring Public.

Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou has planned an improved system of baggage inspection which is likely to increase enormously his popularity with the touring public. He believes that many of the annoying and embarrassing features now attending the search of baggage brought from abroad may be done away with, to the advantage of the service and without involving risk of loss to the government. Passengers on incoming ocean steamers, says Troy (N. Y.) Times, will no longer be "rounded up" in the cabin at the end of the voyage and be obliged to swear to the contents of their trunks, bags and suit cases, but blanks will be distributed early in the voyage and there will be opportunity for a leisurely preparation of a list of foreign articles. The statements will be placed in the hands of responsible officers, and each passenger will receive a coupon with a corresponding number. This coupon, handed to an inspector on the dock, will be the voucher for the passenger's good faith. There will be no swearing as to dutiable or nondutiable articles, and much time will be saved and inconvenience avoided. Of course the new system will not exempt anyone from penalties for smuggling. The government simply gives the passenger courteous treatment, expecting compliance with the laws in return.

A Wideawake Kaffir.

That cleverness does not always follow the color line is intimated in a story which comes from London and is told by the News of that city. The tale is to the effect that the head man of a Kaffir tribe in South Africa having bought an American broom observed that several of the stems had seed pods attached. The idea entered his intelligent brain that if those seeds would grow he could raise his own broom corn and perhaps start an important industry. He made the attempt and succeeded, and now has a considerable quantity of broom corn under cultivation and promising well. The facts are vouched for by the conservator of forests for the colony, and with this official indorsement the case should be established. If a Kaffir makes a whole field of broom corn grow where none grew before and puts his section in the way of getting its own brooms, why is he not a benefactor of high merit? And giving the Kaffir his due, is it not true that there are many white men who would not have had his bright thought or turned it to so good account?

There is a feeling this summer that fish stories are by no means up to former quality. Critical standards have become so severe that nobody feels like telling any kind of an animal story unless he has plenty of witticisms.

Mark Twain has finally succeeded in tearing himself away from England, though he would have liked to wait a few weeks until the British got around to laughing at the point of his jokes.

Interesting Bits of News Picked Up Here and There at the National Capital

WASHINGTON.—Apply at the recruiting office early and avoid the rush.

A move is on foot to increase the pay of United States soldiers and sailors, which was fixed more than 50 years ago, and it was expected that when the increase is granted there will be a rush of recruits.

It has been generally assumed that Uncle Sam's soldiers were by far the best paid in the world, and that belief has in large part been the cause of the failure of attempts made in the past to secure increases in pay.

But now, in connection with the systematic preparations that are being made to lay the subject of "something wrong in the army" before congress at the next session it has been discovered that this belief is founded in error and that several nations are much more liberal in the treatment of their soldiers than is the United States.

The fact will be brought to the attention of congress in connection with the subject of a general increase in the salaries of both army and navy.

NO TRIAL FOR TUCKER ON CHARGES OF WIFE

COL. WILLIAM F. TUCKER of the pay department of the army, husband of the daughter of Mrs. John A. Logan, who is now stationed at Chicago, will not be court-martialed on the charges preferred against him by his wife.

This is the opinion of army officers who are familiar with the contents of the report which has been made after a full and careful investigation of the charges. The inspector general of the army has had several of his best inspectors at work on the case, and testimony has been sought upon the Pacific slope and in the Philippines.

The report has been prepared and forwarded to Secretary Taft, who is at Murray Bay enjoying a vacation. It is expected that Secretary Taft will act upon the report before starting for the Philippines.

Army officers who are in a position to know the substance of the report say that the inspectors have not found sufficient evidence to warrant the department in ordering a court-martial. Mrs. Tucker has the

WITH 30,000 enlisted men in its service, dependent almost wholly on the aid they receive aboard ship, there is not a dentist in the whole naval service. This is the showing that Surgeon General Rixey will make to congress at its session this winter.

Gen. Rixey will urge three important measures, upon which he is now working, and which will later be incorporated in his annual report to be submitted to the secretary of the navy. He will urge in the strongest terms possible that congress pass a law authorizing the reorganization and enlargement of the naval hospital corps, the employment of a sufficient number

A Canadian sergeant, for instance, enters upon his service with a wage of one dollar per day, which increases according to the provisions of the longevity laws to $1.25.

The American sergeant gets $18 a month at first, and the expenses are larger than the Canadian non-commissioned officer, because of the considerable difference in the scale of living and the lower tariff rates upon the necessities of life in Canada.

Even Cuba pays her soldiers three times as much as the American private. The Cuban rural guard gets the pay of a New York policeman. Other countries than these two exceed America in the pay allowed their soldiers, and data is being gotten together to make up a strong case to demonstrate to congress that the real reason for the numerous desertions from the American army is not dissatisfaction with the hard work, or dislike for some particular officer, nor even the lack of a simple and well regulated canteen, but the small wage paid to the soldier compared with the compensation in civil life.

civil courts open to her for redress if she desires, and may sue for a divorce without consulting the officials of the war department, but officials say the department goes slowly in all matters affecting the private affairs of army officers, and that the family skeleton is not paraded except upon occasions which cannot be avoided.

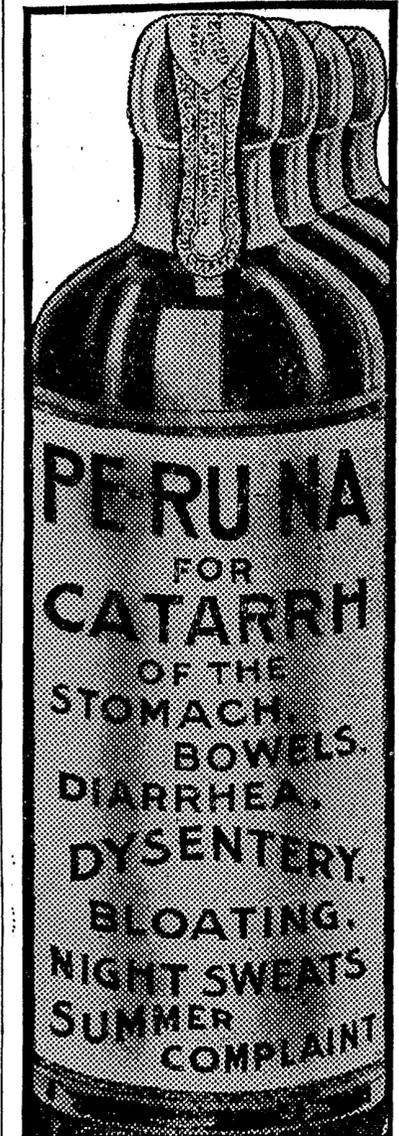

"It would be highly improper for us to say anything at this time," said Mrs. Logan. "We do not know that the report has been prepared. We must await its publication and know officially of its contents before we can make any statement."

Mrs. Tucker shares the opinion of her mother and will not discuss the case in advance of the publication of the report. Neither she nor Mrs. Logan would at this time give any expression concerning plans for further proceedings in the event the report is, as expected, adverse to the charges made against Col. Tucker. If they contemplate the institution of civil proceedings in the courts that fact will not be discussed until after the report is published.

NAVY WITHOUT DENTISTS; TEETH OF SAILORS BAD

of dentists to attend to the needs of the enlisted men in the service and the creation of a corps of women nurses. In his last report Gen. Rixey showed, and also when he appeared before the house and senate naval affairs committees, that a very large percentage of the sickness in the navy was directly attributable to the lack of dentists aboard ship and at the various naval stations. He said he considered this one of the most important matters upon which congress could act, as the whole ability of the sailors properly to perform their duties was dependent upon their physical state.

BOON TO THE COOK

SOME APPETIZING DISHES OF SWEET CORN.

Delicacy Can Be Utilized in Many Different Ways—Proper Method of Frying—Corn Pudding a Delicious Confection.

There is no product of the soil that can be utilized in so many different ways, and always so appetizingly, as sweet corn. Now that it is in season, we can get it at its best,—fresh from the market gardener,—but, even if we buy it in cans, we have the comfortable assurance that it will respond gracefully to the efforts of any cook who understands how to handle it.

Fried Corn.—If there are any Delineator readers who have never eaten fried corn there certainly is a culinary delight in store for them. At the first opportunity, therefore, let them take some young, tender green corn—a dozen ears will not be too many for a family of four or five—and let them see that the corn is scraped carefully from the cob. Let the corn be cut through the center of the kernel, so that all the pulp and juices may be extracted without the removal of any of the hulls. Over the corn a very little flour should then be sifted, with salt and pepper to taste. In the meantime, let some slices of fat bacon be placed over the fire in a frying-pan, to remain until all the grease has been extracted. When this has been done the meat should be removed and the corn put into the pan to fry in the bacon fat until it has become deliciously brown and tender, but it must be stirred almost constantly during the 15 or 20 minutes that it will take to cook it. If not, it will burn.

Corn Pudding.—A corn pudding is another dish that will never be forgotten after one has eaten it. To make it, take a dozen ears of tender corn and remove the kernels as for fried corn. Beat separately the whites and yolks of four eggs. Add the yolks to one tablespoonful of granulated sugar and two tablespoonfuls of butter that have previously been rubbed together. Beat very lightly, then add one quart of sweet milk and a teaspoonful of salt. Mix together thoroughly, then add the corn and beat again until the blend is perfected. Add the whites of the eggs, which must have been beaten to a froth, stirring them well into the mixture. Bake the mixture in a slow oven for about an hour, keeping a piece of brown paper over the top of the baking-pan to prevent the pudding from getting too brown. As an accompaniment to the roast nothing could be better than such a corn pudding.—Charles E. Jordan, in The Delineator.

How to Cover Jellies.

There are three methods in common use:

1. Dip a round of paper in either alcohol or brandy, lay this on top of the jelly as soon as it is cold, then put the tin cover of the glass over the top.
2. Dip a round of paper in slightly beaten white of egg; cover the glass with this and press down over the glass till the paper adheres closely. For this method the paper must be large enough to overlap the top of the glass at least half an inch on all sides.
3. Cover the jelly when cold with melted paraffin wax, having the wax a quarter of an inch thick, as it contracts when cold and if too thin a portion of the jelly will be left uncovered. The wax melts at a very low temperature, so that if put in a cup and the cup placed in hot water for a few minutes it will be liquid enough to use.

Grape Jelly.

Equal parts of grape juice and apple juice. Boil 20 minutes, add for each pint one pound of granulated sugar and boil five minutes more.

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

How a Veteran Was Saved the Amputation of a Limb.

B. Frank Doremus, veteran, of Roosevelt Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., says: "I had been showing symptoms of kidney trouble from the time I was mustered out of the army, but in all my life I never suffered as in 1897. Headaches, dizziness and sleeplessness, first, and then dropsy. I was weak and helpless, having run down from 180 to 125 pounds. I was having terrible pain in the kidneys, and the secretions passed almost involuntarily. My left leg swelled until it was 34 inches around, and the doctor tapped it night and morning until I could no longer stand it, and then he advised amputation. I refused, and began using Doan's Kidney Pills. The swelling subsided gradually, the urine became natural and all my pains and aches disappeared. I have been well now for nine years since using Doan's Kidney Pills."

Wouldn't Take His Place.

Hearing of the sudden taking off the stage of life of a leading Thespian while he was playing in Chicago, a New York Rialtoan out of a job telegraphed the manager as follows:

As the message was sent collect it elicited the following reply: "Thanks. I wouldn't take his place for twice that amount."

The Modern Child.

Five-year-old Nellie had been naughty all day. Finally her mamma, a very portly woman, sat down and drew the little culprit across her ample lap to administer the long delayed punishment. Nellie's face was fairly buried in the folds of her mother's dress. Before the maternal hand could descend Nellie turned her face to say: "Well, if I'm going to be spanked I must have air."—Harper's.

What Caused the Lynching.

Out at Stafford the other day a group of farmers met a train, and when a tall, sunburned man stepped off the car they all grabbed him and shook his hand warmly. The man looked them over calmly and then said: "Gentlemen, I am sorry to disappoint you. I know you think I am a harvest hand, but you are mistaken. I am a lightning rod agent."—Kansas City Star.

A Nice Sentence.

"You have a pleasant home and a bright fireside, with happy children sitting around it, haven't you?" said the judge.

"Yes, sir," said the prisoner, who thought he saw a way out of the difficulty.

"Well," said the judge, "if the happy children sit around the cheerful fireside until you return, they will stay there just 42 days."

ANOTHER ROOSEVELT DEMOCRAT

Our old friend W. A. McIvers, whom the democrats of this district elected to the legislature in 1902, has written a letter to the Santa Fe New Mexican in which he announces himself a Roosevelt man, and says the president must be reelected, for, to use his words, "We can't afford to try a new man at this time." In saying this, Mr. McIvers acknowledges, not without shame, perhaps, that he has always been a democrat.

Now, our friend Mac has probably sufficient reasons, though he failed to give any, why he thinks it necessary to have four years more of the present executive, but the statement that he has always been a democrat yet is a Roosevelt supporter indicates that his feelings are governed by personal rather than a fixed political belief. He may admire the president—many democrats do—but if he can swallow the president's policy of concentration, if he ever was a democrat, or believed he was, he certainly is not now.

It is true, the president has uttered many things that have been attractive and popular, such as curbing trusts, advocating an income and an inheritance tax, etc., but it is equally true that those points, which we agree, have caused him to be looked upon by the common people with a degree of favor, had their origin with and were advocated by democrats before Mr. Roosevelt came into public life as New York city's police commissioner. He could properly be called a plagiarist; for he has confiscated Bryan's writings and utterances and used them as his own. And further, what has Roosevelt accomplished along these lines that he "must be elected?" We admit he is a great talker, but, as a matter of fact, has it got beyond that stage? In other words, is our friend Mac ready to forsake the substance for the shadow?

If a man changes his politics, that is no crime; if he has a personal admiration for a man, it is his privilege to say so; but for a man, proclaiming himself a life-long democrat, to assert that we have only one man, and that man an advocate of centralization; a man who pits his will against that of the constitution; a man who, while exercising the functions of executive, has usurped the powers of the legislative and judicial departments; a man who has issued more executive orders and had them executed as law by an ever-increasing army of officials than all of his predecessors combined, and who if reelected would consider these powers approved and accepted as a further license to smash things, besides it would be a departure from established ideals and a perversion a republican form of government; then we say, a man so advocating such a thing acknowledges that his whole political life has been a mistake, or else he has been a democrat only by environment.

We believe, however, that Mac has been caught by the president's assumption of a bonhomie manner and accepts it for bonne foi, and the further fact that the president is a hail-fellow-well-met, always attractive in a man, and when the subject of Roosevelt's reelection is mentioned is ready to exclaim, aussitot dit, aussitot fait!

Assistant Attorney General Cooley announces that Governor Hagerman's connection with the Pennsylvania Development company involves no moral turpitude, and that the government has no intention to prosecute him. The people of New Mexico realized such a condition all along, and that the president was equally wise, yet Hagerman had to go.

Governor Curry left Santa Fe Sunday for St. Louis, where he went to join President Roosevelt and twenty-two other governors, and the whole push will float down the Mississippi. The governor is expected at Albuquerque Monday, the day of the opening of the Big Fair, and, as he is a hustler, he may accomplish the feat, though he will have to "go some."

It is rumored that a branch of the pipe line from the Bonito will be extended to Capitan to supply locomotives when on this side of the hill. This will be a good thing for Capitan, as our people can take "a little of the same" with their Carrizozo neighbors.

Dr. Watson of Lincoln visited Capitan this week on professional business.

We have just received a nice line of boys' suits.—CAPITAN MERCANTILE COMPANY.

Wm. S. Bourne left yesterday for Carrizozo, and will go as far as El Paso before returning.

For Sale—1500 head of shearing goats. Address Julian Taylor, White Oaks, N.M. 830tf

Jim Goodall, a "mixologist" from Carrizozo, was circulating among friends here this week.

FOR SALE—1500 head of shearing goats, from four years old down.—Address 9-6-8t HENRY STUTZ, Lincoln.

Mrs. George Dingwall came down Saturday from Dawson, and is visiting relatives here.

Bucks for Sale—Registered Angora Bucks from the famous J. C. Hightower flock sired by Hoerle buck imported from South Africa. Address—Stuart & Stephenson, Alto, N.M. 9-6tf

F. M. Hobbs has leased the Capitan hotel. He took charge Monday and expects a share of the public patronage.

A special term of district court will be held at Lincoln next week, commencing Monday, 7th inst.

Sheriff Owen, accompanied by Judge Bellomy, were up from the county seat Monday. The judge proceeded to Carrizozo.

W. L. Gumm and son, Dean, left on yesterday's train for El Paso. Mr. Gumm says he goes on business, but that Dean goes to see the circus.

Mrs. Z. A. Serrano and daughter, Miss Lucy, of Lincoln, accompanied by little Harry Moeller left yesterday for El Paso, where they will spend the winter.

Miss Maggie Dingwall and brother Master Don, returned to Carrizozo yesterday after spending a week in Capitan. They intend to return to Comanche, Texas, soon.

A number of local teams have been engaged to haul pipe from the railroad to the site of the pipe line. The hauling will commence immediately and continue as long as weather conditions permit.

W. H. Hurt, manager of the Bonito Townsite company, was transacting business in Capitan Monday. He reports business moving along quietly but steadily on the Bonito. Great things are expected, however, when the projected smelter is placed on the P. O. R. company's property. If the smelter makes good (of which there is little doubt) then look for a boom in realty and mining in that district.

The Southwestern Hotel at this place has changed hands. Mrs. Hanie, a former lessee, assisted by her son Robert and wife, will conduct it in future. The Southwestern is the pioneer hotel in Capitan.

Mrs. N. M. Peebles left on Monday's train for Moody, Texas, where she will spend the winter and spring. She expects to return next summer, however, and escape the hot weather prevailing in lower altitudes.

Among the delegates appointed by Governor Curry to the Farmers' National Congress, which meets at Oklahoma City on Oct. 17, we noticed the names of two of Lincoln county's progressive farmers, viz: L. Hale of Ruidoso and Martin Chavez of Picacho.

Among those from this place who will take in the sights at the Territorial Fair at Albuquerque next week, are G. W. Fisher, M. L. Moore, W. M. Riley, Clement Hightower, Jno. A. Haley, W. S. Bourne and Mrs. Pons, the latter as a delegate to the grand lodge of Rebecahs. There will probably be many others also.

Aragon Bros., of Lincoln, have just completed a warehouse, and made other improvements in their store building, which became necessary to house their large stock and in order to accommodate their growing trade. This firm has a good patronage, and endeavors to keep constantly on hand all classes of goods demanded by the public.

The company engaged in excavating for the pipe line from the South Fork to Carrizozo have already completed about six miles of trench, and through the hardest section of the survey. From now on progress will be rapid, as the ground is of a sandy nature and comparatively free from large rocks. A force of about fifty Mexicans and twelve Americans are employed on the work.

Keep your children at home and visit as little as possible. A contagion—scarlet fever—has developed in the community, and the greatest care is needed to keep it from spreading, if, indeed, it is not already too late. If a child shows symptoms of fever, separate it immediately from the other children until a physician can be procured and the case diagnosed.

AS THE BOY UNDERSTOOD.

Probably to His Mind Conflict of Authority Was Vital.

In one of the Atlanta Sunday schools recently the lesson for the day had to do with Mammon and the corrupting influences of great riches.

Toward the close of the exercises, says Harper's Magazine, the superintendent called upon the infant class to repeat the golden text, which had special reference to man's inability to serve his Creator and the money god at one and the same time. The class failed to respond as it should, when the superintendent, noticing his own young hopeful in the ranks, who had that very morning been drilled thoroughly on the text, called to him. The response was immediate, though a slight departure from the original, for in a voice that was distinctly heard in all parts of the room there came the following modification:

"Ye cannot serve God and mamma!"

NO RELIEF FROM ECZEMA

For Over Two Years—Patent Medicines, Quack Cures and Doctors Fail—Cuticura Succeeds.

"I was very badly afflicted with eczema for more than two years. The parts affected were my limbs below the knees. I tried all the physicians in the town and some in the surrounding towns, and I also tried all the patent remedies that I heard of, besides all the cures advised by old women and quacks, and found no relief whatever until I commenced using the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent. In the Cuticura Remedies I found immediate relief, and was soon sound and well. C. V. Beltz, Tippecanoe, Ind., Nov. 15, '05."

Evidently Frank Has a Cinch.

The following letter was picked up in the streets of Longmont the other day, says the San Francisco Call: "My Darling Frank: I swallowed the postage stamp that was on your last letter, because I knew that your lips had touched it, and, oh, Frank, I felt so happy afterward. Put two stamps on your next letter."

SORE SHOULDERS

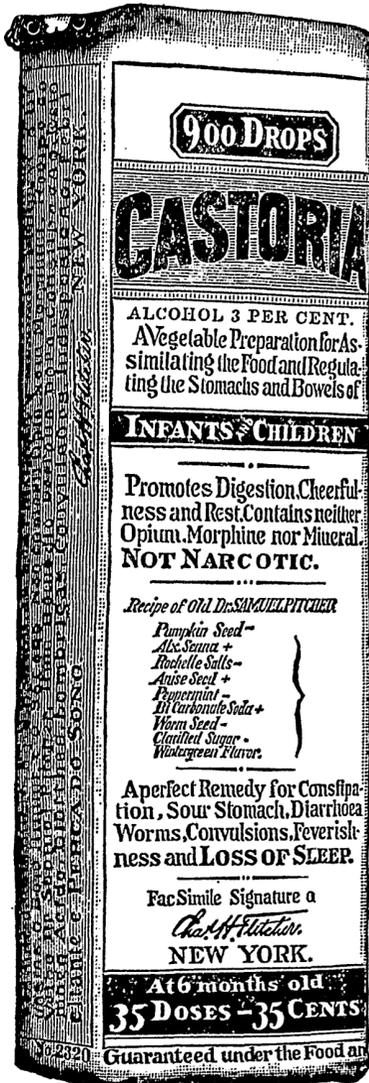

I would like very much to personally meet every reader of this paper who owns any horses that have sore shoulders and tell him about Security Gail Salve. This is impossible so I am going to tell you through the paper. You and I both know that horses working with sore shoulders are in pain, and that they can't do as much work without running down as when they are free from pain. I also know perfectly well that Security Gail Salve will cure these shoulders, but you do not know it. If you did you would buy a box of your dealer at once and cure them up, for you have no doubt often wished that you knew of something you could rely on. You can rely absolutely on Security Gail Salve. It will do its work every time, or if you prefer to try it first, I will mail you a sample can free. Just write for it—it will go to you on first mail.

Also I want to tell you that Security Antiseptic Healer is as good for barb wire cuts as Security Gail Salve is for harness galls. Dealers carry them in 25c, 50c and $1.00 sizes. Use them for your needs; I guarantee you perfect satisfaction. Frank B. Dennie, President, SECURITY REMEDY CO., Minneapolis, Minn.

What is Castoria.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. F. Gerald Blattner, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "Your Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, always obtaining the desired results."

Dr. Gustave A. Eisengraeber, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "I have used your Castoria repeatedly in my practice with good results, and can recommend it as an excellent, mild and harmless remedy for children."

Dr. E. J. Dennis, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have used and prescribed your Castoria in my sanitarium and outside practice for a number of years and find it to be an excellent remedy for children."

Dr. S. A. Buchanan, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used your Castoria in the case of my own baby and find it pleasant to take, and have obtained excellent results from its use."

Dr. J. E. Simpson, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."

Dr. R. E. Eskildson, of Omaha, Neb., says: "I find your Castoria to be a standard family remedy. It is the best thing for infants and children I have ever known and I recommend it."

Dr. L. R. Robinson, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria certainly has merit. Is not its age, its continued use by mothers through all these years, and the many attempts to imitate it, sufficient recommendation? What can a physician add? Leave it to the mothers."

Dr. Edwin F. Pardee, of New York City, says: "For several years I have recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

Dr. N. B. Sizer, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I object to what are called patent medicines, where maker alone knows what ingredients are put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use."

SETTING THE BRIDE AT EASE.

"Widder's" Sympathy Went Out to Fellow Passenger.

A couple recently married had just entered the train that was to bear them to the mountains on their honeymoon, when they became aware of the close scrutiny of them by a female passenger, who had evidently "spotted" a bride and groom. The young wife, on opening her handbag, let fall some rice on the floor, and the woman smiled. The other passengers regarded the couple with interest. Seeing that the bride was every moment becoming more flushed and uncomfortable by reason of their scrutiny, the woman in the goodness of her heart, leaned across the carriage.

"Never mind, my dear!" she said. "I'm a widder now, but by this time next week I'll be in the same fix myself!"

Depends on the Dogs.

Asa Goddard, of the American Automobile association, was recounting in Worcester some of his touring adventures.

"One summer morning," he said, "the approach of a great flock of sheep obliged me to pull off the narrow country road. I halted my car, and watched with interest the passage of the sheep, the intelligent dogs and the shepherd.

"I had a short talk with the shepherd about his odd and difficult trade. 'Look here,' I said, 'what do you do, driving sheep like this on a narrow road, when you meet another flock coming in the opposite direction?'"

"Well," said the shepherd, "ye just drive straight on, both of ye, and the one that has the best dogs gets the most sheep."

What Did She Mean?

Mrs. Armitage had a negro servant who continually prated of a certain Mrs. Reed for whom she formerly worked. Weary of hearing Mrs. Reed quoted so often, the mistress asked one day:

"Well, Samantha, what kind of work did you do at Mrs. Reed's, anyway?"

"Well, honey, I cooked foh hah, I did, an' I cleaned foh hah, an' swep' foh hah, an' I washed hah pussonee appea'ance."—Lippincott's.

High-Priced Meat

may be a

Blessing

If it gives one the chance to know the tremendous value of a complete change of diet.

Try this for breakfast:

A Little Fruit

A dish of Grape-Nuts and Cream

A Soft-Boiled Egg

Some Nice, Crisp Toast

Cup of Well-made

Postum Food Coffee

That's all, and you feel comfortable and well-fed until lunch.

THEN REPEAT,

And at night have a liberal meat and vegetable dinner, with a Grape-Nuts pudding for dessert.

Such a diet will make a change in your health and strength worth trial.

PUDDING OF TWO FRUITS.

Pineapple and Oranges Used for This Dessert Dish.

For family of two or three use four medium oranges and half of a fresh pineapple (it is not so good with the canned shredded pineapple). Cut the oranges, after peeling, into slices about half an inch thick "across the grain;" be sure and cut them this way; then pull the slices apart into small pieces, which will be triangular in shape and of uniform size. Put a layer in your pudding dish, then a layer of the pineapple, which should be first peeled, the "eyes" taken out, and cored. Cut in small pieces, or pick off with a silver fork. Next sprinkle sugar over the fruit, proceed in this way until your dish is two-thirds full, then set away in a cool place. Now beat the yolks of two eggs with one-half cup sugar and three-quarters cup of milk; stir into the sugar one-half tablespoon of sifted flour before adding to eggs and milk; cook in double boiler until about as thick as thick cream. When cool pour over the fruit. Beat the whites of the two eggs to a stiff froth with a tablespoon of powdered sugar, and heap on top, then set into the oven, which should be hot, until just a pretty golden brown in spots. Do not add the sugar to the meringue until it is very stiff. When making the custard, flavor with a teaspoon of vanilla, and just a drop of almond in the meringue makes a pleasant flavor. The juice of a lemon squeezed over the fruit pleases some tastes. Serve very cold. This is a delicious pudding, easy to make and not so awfully expensive. It is good without the pineapple, or with oranges and bananas combined.

New Millinery Notes.

A very new idea in millinery is the underbrim facing or lining. While very frequently this lining is in the same color as the hat, the French are using it in a contrasting color of silk or mousseline. If the heavy silk is used this facing is put on plain, but with the finer silks and transparent mousselines and chiffon the material is shirred over a featherbone cord at the edge. A very smart hat of this type seen in one of the most exclusive shops recently was of a fine white chip with underbrim facing of very soft white satin shirred to within an inch of the edge of the brim. On the left side of the crown were posed two huge white roses with green foliage, and around the crown, overlapping each other, were large white velvet leaves, which form sort of a crown banding, the leaves being placed rather precisely. The bandeau in the back was trimmed with loops of wide white satin ribbon. Still another black chip showed the facing of deep plum-colored silk, while the trimming consisted of pink ribbon on the bandeau and shaded pink roses on the crown.

French Tomato Salad.

This is rather a novelty in salads, and one that is generally liked:

Peel and chop fine two small apples and two medium-sized onions. Take six or eight tomatoes, peel and chop about half of them, mixing the pulp with the apples and onions. Rub a few breadcrumbs on a clove of garlic, and add them to the salad, also two cold boiled potatoes, which have been sliced and chopped. Add to the salad a tablespoonful of vinegar, two of oil, and a little powdered sugar, salt and pepper. Mix all thoroughly together, and let stand about an hour. Cut the remainder of the tomatoes in slices, and also two hard-boiled eggs, and arrange on the top of the salad, which may be garnished with nasturtium flowers and leaves if liked.

Green Corn Pudding.

Take two quarts of grated corn, one-quarter of a pound of butter, one pint of milk, two eggs, one tablespoonful of flour, salt to taste, beat well together. Bake three-quarters of an hour in a slow oven.

The Aged Babe.

W. H. Trimmer of Molino, Florida, says there are no happy faces in New York. Mr. Trimmer, an aged, healthy, cheerful man, visited New York last month and the strained, worried look of the New Yorkers shocked and displeased him.

"You live too fast," Mr. Trimmer said to a reporter. "That is your trouble, fast living. Your very children have an aged air. Why—"

He gave a loud laugh. "Did you ever hear about the New York child and the christening? No? Then listen.

"There was a young couple on the east side that postponed the christening of their first born till the little fellow was three years old.

"He was, of course, very wise for three. He had gotten about a lot. In short, he was a New Yorker.

"And the morning of the christening, in the hushed and crowded church, when the clergyman took the white-robed babe in his arms and sprinkled its small face plentifully with water, it grimaced and spluttered and shouted up angrily in the good priest's face: 'Hey, cheese it, will ye? If ye do that igin, I'll biff ye one.'"

Crossing the Rio Grande.

(From St. Louis Republic.)

The Rio Grande is a great, historic stream, it is nobly impressive in very wet weather, without regard to its historical and international importance. At this time of the year, however, there are places in it where Secretary of State Root might have advanced internationally to the middle of the stream from the Texas bank and there grasped the hand of Senor Rincon Callardo, who might have advanced internationally from the Mexican side to welcome him, without either of them wetting their clothing above the knees.

This fact is important commercially and politically. The Rio Grande is not formidable as a natural barrier between St. Louis and its Mexican trade. It does not interrupt Mexican desire to trade. When Secretary Root crosses it at low water and is welcomed on the other side by Senor Callardo, there is more than courtesy behind the fine Castillian syntax of the assurances of distinguished Mexican esteem for people on this side of the Rio Grande.

Mexico feels and responds to the impulses of development on this side of the river. The river does not stop them. In spite of the river and of artificial restrictions along the river, Mexico is increasing its tonnage of St. Louis goods and of American goods in general. But if it were not for the artificial restrictions along the Rio Grande, especially on this side of the river, it would soon be taking and paying for five tons where it takes and pays for one now. As a result, it would develop with an approximation to the rapidity with which Texas is developing.

Secretary Root's own syntax at the Rio Grande was elevated. It rose to Castillian dignity and met the requirements of Castillian courtesy. But this was the point, and it did not touch the point, though it is to be hoped it will do so finally.

Territorial Game Laws.

It is unlawful to kill, or in any way injure, any elk, mountain sheep, beaver or ptarmigan. The offense is punishable by a fine of $100.

The 1905 session laws protect antelope, pheasant, bob-white quail and wild pigeon for a period of five years from the passage of the act.

Native or crested quail may be killed with gun only during the months of October, November, December and January.

Deer with horns may be killed with gun only from October 15 to November 30. This is an act passed by the last legislature, and it willed that the deer season has been placed 30 days later than under the old law.

Turtle doves may be killed from July 15 to May 1, the closed season being two and one-half months.

Wild turkey, mountain grouse, or prairie chicken may be killed with gun only during the months of October, November and December of each year.

The minimum fine for violation of any of these provisions is fifty dollars.
