Comedy Divorce in Arizona Town

Respondent All That Was Left of Mojave Indian After Mix-Up With Dynamite.

JOHN'S JOKES FELL FLAT

Flapper Named Starlight Was Co-respondent and Jury Included Such Prominent Citizens as Rattlesnake Charlie and Gold Tooth Nellie.

Oatman, Ariz.—This town is just quieting down after the decision in the divorce case of Oatman vs. Oatman.

John Oatman, a Mojave Indian, was sued by his wife Estelle. They were married in 1903 and have ten children. Six years ago John used dynamite in working a claim in the Oatman gold mining district. Through some misunderstanding with the dynamite John lost one eye and most of his scalp and was obliged to call in Doc Hoag—"Painless Hoag"—to pull out all that were left of his teeth and give him a set of artificial ones.

These, with a glass eye and a luxurious wig, made John practically as good as new. But Estelle seemed to feel from that time on that something was missing from the husband she once knew.

John's Little Jokes.

Something a little less than love seemed to fill John's heart too as the years rolled by. Bootleg peddlers found John a willing customer, and he tasted deeply, as Estelle said afterward, of coffin varnish, forty rod and sheepherder's delight. Buoyed up by these, John tried to make Estelle's life less humdrum by sneaking up behind her in the dark after he had stripped and rubbed phosphorus over his body. Instead of being pleased, she screamed. He then tried to amuse her by doing the old tribal dances of the Mojaves. This also fell flat. Nothing seemed to please her.

The ten children were little better. From time to time John would suddenly remove his glass eye and snatch off his wig, exposing his dynamited scalp, but they only bawled. Even this harmless amusement was denied him at last, for he had been in the habit of putting up his glass eye in a poker game. If he lost he simply ordered another by mail. But eventually the firm that sent them to him refused to give him any more credit and he was obliged to go about with no glass eye at all.

While he was in this pathetic condition his wife cooked up a dinner of jack rabbit for him one day and he ate it—under the impression it was fish. What made this truly serious was the fact that the Yavapai tribe, to which Estelle belongs, always eat jack rabbit, but the Mojaves never do. This has been understood for hundreds of years by both tribes and never violated until Estelle's act. The substitution preyed on John frightfully, and he worked into at night making home-brew from cactus.

About this time John and his wife's father, the old gentleman known as George Forest-of-Cattle, sat down on the dirt floor one night during Estelle's absence to stage a friendly little battle between tarantulas and vinagroes, which bite like tarantulas or worse, stocking the contestants in Estelle's best sugar bowl. John alleged afterward that the old gentleman secretly sprinkled cat powder all over John's tarantulas, thereby causing them to curl up and die at a critical moment in the fight, and that as a result of this underhand work he lost to his father-in-law all the money he made packing gold during the previous summer.

Aversion to Wife's Mother.

When Mrs. Oatman returned home John annoyed her by scratching matches on the soles of his bare feet. She wanted him to be nice to her mother, Mary Forest-of-Cattle, but he replied that no orthodox Mojave Indian ever looked at a mother-in-law, pointing out that he hadn't looked at the old girl since their marriage in 1903, and stated further that he didn't intend to look at her till the Colorado river froze over.

Shortly after this Estelle began to suspect that John was holding something out on her. He used to come in late at night whistling "The Sheik" through his false teeth and refusing to answer any questions.

Mrs. Oatman immediately suspected Starlight Ocatillo, a light corral flapper of the Yavapai tribe, who wore hers rolled down.

Mrs. Oatman put mud on her hair. She then began cutting down on the menu. From then on she fed John chile con carne and prunes, tortillas and prunes, enchiladas and prunes, frijoles and prunes and tamales—and prunes. For variety she served prunes.

John went out back of the house one day and built a covered pit. Working patiently, he got it filled with Gila monsters, lizards, vinagroes, scorpions, tarantulas and rattlesnakes. Estelle failed to fall into it, but this was simply because she was stronger than John.

The Last Straw.

John then moodily took to eating loco-weed. Cheered by its kindly stimulation he dragged Estelle out of the shack one scorching hot afternoon, hoisted her to the top of a candelabra cactus 25 feet high and tied her there among the thorns.

Late in the evening neighbors living two miles away heard her protests and cut her down; but Estelle was now convinced that her husband's affection for her was failing. She hired Lawyer Lucas and went into court.

John hired the other lawyer in Oatman—H. C. Topps, who used to be jigger boss on the graveyard shift in Death Valley's Funeral range, but who now owns and operates a ranch where he grows cactus spines for phonograph needles. Attorney Topps at once scored heavily by invoking an old French law that provides for three judges instead of one and seating two friends of John's on the bench.

The following jurors were selected: Rattlesnake Charlie Dix, Short-and-Dirty O'Connor, Hassayampa Hanna, Cactus Jasper (from Gila Monster Center), Holy-Roller O'Toole, Silver Tongue Sam Bayless, Flag Hat Shank, Hula Hula Kendedy, Painless Hoag, Doggy Newton, Cheekwell A. Pugh and Gold Tooth Nellie—formerly of the camp at Goldfields and now proprietress of Ye Olde Arts Shoppe.

Abduction of Starlight.

When court convened there wasn't an inch of standing room left. Mrs. Oatman had nine of her children on the benches, the tenth was at home listening to the radiophone.

The beautiful Starlight, named as the woman in the case, was called to the stand and charged with breaking up the Oatman home.

"I was abducted," she said.

"When?" asked Lawyer Lucas.

"Once in July," said Starlight, "and several times last February and March."

"I object!" yelled Attorney Topps. He was overruled.

"State concisely as possible the circumstances of your abduction," said Lawyer Lucas.

"Why," said Starlight, "I swam the Colorado river to have a conference with Oatman, and he abducted me.

The defendant was put on the stand.

"How much property are you worth, John?" said Judge Zadock Sheffield.

The defendant admitted that he had once owned mining claims, but had traded them off for a pair of overalls and a new straw hat, the claims subsequently produced $11,000,000 in gold. Pressed as to his present assets, he asserted that he still owned the overalls, but that his cerebrum plate cayuse had eaten the straw hat. The only gold he possessed, he testified, was what Painless Hoag had put into his false teeth to make them look natural.

John was sentenced to one month's work on the county highways, and after that to take a job at painting signs on the rocks along the road to read: "Where Will You Spend Your Eternity?"

The divorce application was dismissed, but as Estelle left the courtroom she was presented with a bouquet of mariposa lilies by the Ladies' Literary club of Oatman.

The jury was asked by Judge Zadock Sheffield what they wanted to do about Starlight. Rattlesnake Charlie Dix got the floor in a split second.

"If it please your worship," said he, "I aim to marry this gal."

"I object," shouted Attorney Topps. He was overruled.

Flag Hat Shank got under the wire first on the next heat. "There ain't none of us married on this jury," he said. "What's to prevent her from choosing any one of us?"

The question was put up to Starlight from the bench. "Do you want to marry one of these jurors," asked the court, "or be sent back to the reservation?"

"Not" said Starlight. "Go in heap big movies."

"Jury dismissed," said the court.

"I object," shouted Attorney Topps. "Who's going to pay the costs of this case?"

"Gentlemen of the jury," said the court, "all in favor of Attorney Topps paying the costs in this case will say 'Aye.'"

There were 11 "Ayes." Gold Tooth Nellie voted "No." It was carried.

HAD LIQUOR STILL IN JAIL

Discovered After Prisoners Got Drunk and Engaged in Free-for-All Fight.

Wichita Falls, Tex.—When Cass Tarver, a county jailer, was called to quell a free-for-all fight among the prisoners in the jail the other night he discovered that the belligerents were drunk. For a time it was a mystery to him and other officers as to where the liquor that had produced the intoxication had been obtained.

A thorough search of the cells and corridors revealed in an obscure corner a home-made still. It showed much skill and ingenuity in its design and construction, but at the same time it was of such simple material as to make its total cost less than $1.

The biggest thing about the still was two one-gallon cans which had contained disinfectants and had been carelessly left in the jail. Connecting the two cans was copper coil only eighteen inches long.

The prisoners conserved portions of potatoes served at their meals, bits of corn bread, canned corn and anything else from which alcohol could be produced, and this mixture made a mash which was placed in one of the cans.

The alcoholic vapor was condensed and finally ran through an old sock, partly filled with charcoal. The charcoal was secretly made in the jail by the prisoners from bits of wood which they managed to get hold of there. An old stove was used to heat the mash.

Dog to Get Medal.

Manchester, N. Y.—Jack, a dog owned by Miss Ruth Clair Laberge of this city, is to be awarded a medal for his heroism in attempting to save the life of another dog, the Animal Rescue league announced. Jack swam to the rescue of the other dog as it was overcome by a heavy current in a brook, but failed to reach the animal before it went down. Jack is part German police dog and part terrier.

Within one month of the end of the fiscal year 1922, the government's ordinary receipts were $1,215,000,000 under those for the same period last year, according to treasury officials. Total ordinary receipts for eleven months were $3,020,000,000. In the same period last year they were $4,860,000,000. The loss is attributed almost entirely to shrinkage in income taxes.

The senate commerce committee unanimously agreed to incorporate in the rivers and harbors bill a provision committing the government to an ultimate expenditure of $1,304,000 for the construction of a deep-water harbor at Corpus Christi, Texas. The entire project calls for an expenditure of $5,000,000.

A reduction of $31,983,749 in the public debt of the United States in May was announced by the Treasury Department recently. The nation's total gross debt on May 31 was $23,136,938,997.

Avoidance of any extensive reciprocal trade arrangement with the United States is Canada's right course, former Premier Arthur Meighen, leader of the Conservative party, declared in a debate on the budget in the House of Commons. He was opposed to reciprocity, he said, "because the power to terminate it rests with the United States."

Great Britain is planning to pay the United States $250,000,000 annually for interest upon the money borrowed from the United States during the war, it was learned in London from a semi-official source. Beginning in October the interest will be paid in two installments, $125,000,000 in October and $125,000,000 in the last part of March or the first of April.

One hundred and seventeen children in one Russian famine district, fatally ill of glanders, were ordered shot by the local authorities to end their sufferings, according to a Helsingfors dispatch to the Daily News, London, quoting the Russian newspaper Krasnaya Gazetta. The dispatch explained that the Bolshevist officers ordered the executions on the grounds of common humanity. The children became infected from eating diseased refuse.

The French Olympic committee, with twenty-two federations represented, held a meeting in Paris and arrived at a decision to proceed with the organization of the Olympic games for 1924. The following communication was issued after the meeting: "The French Olympic committee has decided unanimously to continue with all the means at its disposal the organization of the games for 1924. It authorizes its president to make a declaration to this effect to the international Olympic committee and to the public authorities."

The Fourth of July is only a couple of short weeks off, and we want to ask you not to make a "date" until you have read what is to be "pulled off" at Fort Stanton on that day, and then make up your mind to come here and join us in the celebration. Make it a point to come over if you have to beg or steal a ride. You will never regret it. We faithfully promise you the time of your life.

This applies to everybody, everywhere; boys and girls, young and old. We can accommodate entire population of the state and then some, so DON'T MISS IT!

A General Committee, with Mr. W. A. Wunsch as chairman, has been formed, embracing the entire Lincoln County, with representatives in Carrizozo, White Oaks, Hondo, Lincoln, Capitan, Glencoe, Tinnie, San Patricio and Fort Stanton.

Carrizozo is represented by Mr. Boone, W. B. Payne of Capitan, represents that town.

Ft. Stanton committee includes Miss Belle M. Decine, representing the Red Cross, Messrs. Callow, Cornett and Joyce, representing the Seamen's Social Club, and W. E. Paine, representing the Y. M. C. A.

The Central Committee held its first meeting recently. Although the exact plans for the program could not be completed at this early date, it was decided to start the celebration at 10:00 A. M.

The program will include athletic stunts of various kinds: Horse races, Flivver races, Bucking Horse riding, Calf branding exhibition, Cow roping, a Ladies' Aero Polo Contest, etc., etc. Boxing or wrestling matches, and possibly baseball games will also be included. There will be plenty of eats and refreshments of course.

Efforts are being made to get an aeroplane from Fort Bliss to give us some thrilling exhibitions. If this is secured, will be one of the big features on the program, but not the biggest one. You must come and see for yourselves, space does not permit mention of everything.

The day will end with a big dance in the evening. The "Jazz Hounds" are hard at work getting in trim for the big event, and Jake, the leader, says they are going to knock 'em stiff!

Consolidation of Land Offices

Department of the Interior,
Washington,
June 2, 1922.

To the Register and Receiver at Tucumcari, New Mexico, and Fort Sumner, New Mexico,
Gentlemen:

The act of Congress approved May 24, 1922, an act making appropriations for the Department of the Interior for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, and for other purposes, prohits the expenditure of any money for the maintenance of any United States Land Office coming under the provisions of section 2248 or 2230, United States Revised Statutes, as determined for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1921.

Unless legislation authorizing the continuance of these and other land offices now pending in Congress shall be enacted prior to July 1, 1922, the Department is mandatorily required to close these two offices. Accordingly you are hereby notified that in the absence of such further legislation, the Fort Sumner land office district, with office at Fort Sumner, New Mexico, and the Tucumcari land district, with office at Tucumcari, New Mexico, will be discontinued at the close of business on June 30, 1922, and the lands, business and archives of said land districts and land offices transferred to and consolidated with the Roswell land district, with office at Roswell, New Mexico.

Respectfully,
E. C. Finney,
Acting Secretary.

Please give such publicity as you can without cost to the government.

United States Land Office,

"Helping The Paper."

Some people have an idea that when they pay a dollar a year for a paper they own the whole proposition, including the, and can run both to suit themselves. Occasionally a fellow comes in and pays up a year or two of arrears and then with a pitying look at the editor, as if he was going to lose his subscription said; "I guess you might as well stop my paper. I would like to help you, but I am getting more than I can read." Bless your life, sonny, the editor never loses any sleep over losing a subscriber. He wants all the subscribers he can get, the more the better, but he wants those who appreciate his paper and consider they are getting value received for their money. We do not want your subscription as a matter of charity. If you do not want the paper say so; it's a business proposition with the editor. We can pull the bell cord over a mule to perfection and if we can't run a paper that is worth the price, we'll quit. Don't subscribe for our paper as a matter of charity. It costs you $2.00 a year and you could not print one for $5.00.—Altoona (Kan.) Tribune.

Our Loved One.

This community grieves over the loss of one of her most loved and noble girls, Mrs. Velma Ellis. She has been in our midst ever since a little girl. But in the prime of life the Lord saw fit to "Pluck the Rose" from us. Tho' greatly missed we can not feel but that she is safe in the arms of Jesus.

Many friends and relatives stood with draped heads and tear stained faces as the remains were put away at the Mountain View Cemetery, May 27, 1922.

Oh! how we will miss our friend,
Who has gone to rest in the lovely mansion
For the loved and blest.
Oh, dear Velma! we will meet you
Over on that golden shore
Where there'll be no pain nor sorrow,
Where we'll part—no, never more.
There we'll meet you face to face,
Grasp your hand once more—
Friends, let's all prepare to meet her
Over on the golden shore.

Do the People Desire Better Government

I say that they do. I contend that there are more right minded people than there are wrong minded people in New Mexico. I know that party bias embarrasses and misleads and misleads many good men and women, but the great majority desire decency in government, a square deal for all and equality of opportunity every citizen.

These desirable ends can never be attained through ignorance of conditions. The people must know the facts. They must be aroused to militant action. They must compel political parties to be decent. This, a crystallized public sentiment, will do.

Pitiless publicity is the route to reform. My forced sale of the Albuquerque Morning Journal silenced the chief organ for the people in this state. Who has seen a strong word of criticism directed at conditions in New Mexico in any newspaper of general circulation in the state, since I signed a contract to sell the Journal?

The silence of the tomb has settled down upon New Mexico. The springs of publicity have been choked and have gone dry of a sudden.

But they will be reopened on June 22. On that date I begin the publication of Magee's Independent, a state-wide weekly paper, at $2.00 per year. The first issue will contain the facts constituting an amazing and scandalous story of misfeasance, if not malfeasance, in a state office.

If you want to know what is really going on in New Mexico it will be necessary to read Magee's Independent. Republican, Democrat or or Independent—all should know the facts. If you conclude that the remedy lies in cleaning up your own party, well and good. Think what you please, but make your thinking intelligent by basing it on the facts.

I need your help in the work I am undertaking for the people of the state. Use the blank below and subscribe today. Remit the money within 30 days if more convenient. Pay now if you can. But do not delay action until you are too late for the first issue. Act today

This is not a money-making enterprise. It is a state-making and decency-making undertaking. You should lend your aid by subscribing.

Eugenia Garcia, et al
Defendants.

Notice of Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an execution issued out of the above named court on the 26th day of April, 1922, wherein the above named Plaintiff recovered a judgment against the Defendant, Eugenia Garcia, et al, on the 31st day of October, 1917, for the sum of $225.00 and cost of suit, now amounting to the sum of $322.80, I have levied on the following described property of the said Eugenia Garcia, to-wit:

That certain lot and house thereon known as the Eugenia Garcia property, situate in the Town of Arabela, Lincoln County, New Mexico, and described as follows:

Beginning 25 feet from the the Northeast corner of the building known as the Leopoldo Pacheco blacksmith shop; thence East 75 feet to a stone set in the ground, making the northeast corner of said lot; and, thence south along the line dividing the said lot from the property of the said Pacheco, a distance of 115 feet more or less to the land of Mariana Vigil; thence West along the line that divides said lot from the land of the said Mariana Vigil, a distance of 75 feet, thence north 115 feet to the place of beginning.

And I have also levied on one Schidt Pool Table and all the fixtures in the house on said lot.

Notice is therefore given that I will, on the 5th day of August, 1922, at the hour of 10:00 a. m. of said day, in front of the said lot in the town of Arabela, sell the said lot and house thereon and said pool table and fixtures, to the highest bidder; and unless the Plaintiff himself purchases the said property, will sell the same for cash to satisfy said judgment, interest and cost and cost of sale.

St. Louis, Mo.—"I had troubles that all women are apt to have, with pains in my back, weak, tired, nervous feelings and a weak stomach. I had been this way about a year and was unable to work or stand on my feet for any length of time. My husband's aunt told me how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done her and begged me to try it, so I did. All my pains and weakness are gone, my stomach is all right and I do my work at home and also work for Swift's Packing Company. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may publish my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. LULU LUCAS, 719A Vandeventer St., St. Louis, Mo.

Again and again one woman tells another of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

You who work must keep yourself strong and well. You can't work if you are suffering from such troubles. Mrs. Lucas couldn't. She tried our Vegetable Compound and her letter tells you what it did for her. Give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial now.

BETTER DEAD

OF A HORSE

By Lawrence E. Cash.

O MAN, my Lord and Master, hear Thou my prayer:

Water me, feed me, keep me clean and work me in reason. O Lord, when my day's work be done give me shelter from rain, wind and cold and a clean, dry bed in a stall wide enough for me to lie down in comfort. Do not tie my head in an unnatural position or cut off my tail, which is my only defense against flies. Do not, O Man, drive me rapidly down hill. O Lord, do be merciful and considerate of me in hot weather, and do not kick, strike or otherwise abuse me when I do not understand your desires. Prod me not with merciless spurs. Teach Thou me to understand Thy desires. Speak gently unto me, O Lord. Thy voice means more to me than whip and reins. I have a sense of humor. Play with me, and pet me, O Man, and I will gladly lead myself to Thee in willing service.

Have mercy on me, O Master, when I have colic, and do give me one spoonful of Di-Col-Q. It will relieve me quickly. When I have acute drench me with Di-Col-Q. And, O Master, when I be galled, have sores on shoulders or back, wire cuts, scratches, mange or swellings, apply Thou Di-Col-Q to mine affected parts and I will praise Thee for relief from mine afflictions. Di-Col-Q will enable me to do Thy bidding with delight.

O Man, Di-Col-Q is just as good for similar human ills.

Remember, O Lord, Di-Col-Q is made in mercy by New York Drug Concern, 601 Lafayette Street, New York City. Praise Thou this firm for their alleviation of beastly ills.

O Master, when I fail to eat examine my mouth for the cause. Do not work me when I can not eat. Be merciful unto me, O Man, and I will serve Thee and Thy family many years with a glad heart.

Finally, O Lord, when my youthful beauty and strength be gone, and my days of service ended, neither turn me out to starve and freeze, nor sell me to some cruel man to be tortured. O Man, if Thou be financially unable to care for me in my old days, take Thou my life in the kindest way.

Hear and answer my prayer, O my Lord, and YOUR God will reward you both here and in the hereafter.

With all reverence I so pray unto Thee in the name of Him, who was born in a manger.—AMEN.

Western Canada
Land of Prosperity

offers to home seekers opportunities that cannot be secured elsewhere. The thousands of farmers from the United States who have availed themselves of the generous offer to settle on FREE homesteads or buy farm land in her provinces have been well repaid by bountiful crops. Land is still available on easy terms.

Fertile Land at $15 to $30 an Acre will yield similar to that which through many years has yielded from 40 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre, oats, barley and flax also in great abundance, while raising horses, cattle, sheep and hogs is equally profitable. Hundreds of farmers in Western Canada have raised crops in a single season worth more than the whole cost of their farms. Why such success comes, opportunity, independence, good schools and all the comforts and conveniences which make life worth living.

Cotton.

Spot cotton prices advanced 40 points during the week, closing at 20.91c per pound. July futures at New York up 56 points, closing at 21.20c.

DENVER MARKETS.

Cattle.

A new top for the season was established in the sale of one load of steers at $9. These steers, which averaged around 1,030 pounds, were shipped in from Fort Collins. They came from the same feed lot as the steers which sold recently for $9.60. The choice to fancy grade steers were generally quotable at $8.60 to $9, good to choice kinds from $8.25 to $8.50, and attractive animals from $7.75 to $8.25.

Good to choice cows sold from $6.50 to $7, and attractive animals from $6 to $6.50. It was thought possible that choice heifers might sell as high as $7.75.

The trade on feeders and stockers was not at all revived. Demand for such stock is very limited at present, and the quotations stay close to steady, with the best light steers selling generally at $7.

Hogs.

City butchers paid the top price of $10.20 for one load of choice hogs and a load of good grade went the same way for $10.15. Bulk of sales ranged from $9.50 to $10, and packers heavy throughout hogs sold from $8.85 to $9.50. Drives met with a fair trade at $9.60 to $9.85 and dealers were quoting the rough heavy stags at $7.50. No pigs were present, but a good inquiry prevailed and dealers were quoting the choice light stockers at the fully steady price of $9.75 to $10.

Sheep.

Packers are quoting choice clipped lambs at $11.50 to $12 and choice spring lambs at $13.50 to $13. It was the opinion of traders that choice clipped ewes would have sold for $3.50 to $4.

Denver.—Hot lead from Patrolman William Pundt's revolver summarily ended the banditry of an unidentified man less than two minutes after he had held up and robbed Stanley C. Crouch of $101.15 in a Continental Oil Company filling station at Thirty-third and Fleming streets, recently.

The highest honor in the gift of the National Association of Real Estate Boards came to J. F. Kopick of Denver, when he was elected president for the long term at the electing for officers recently in San Francisco.

Help That Aching Back!

If your back giving out? Are you tortured with backache and stabbing pains? Does any exertion leave you "all played out"? Feel you just can't keep going? Likely your kidneys are to blame. Overwork, strains, hurry and worry tend to weaken the kidneys. Backache is often the first warning. Headaches and dizziness may come, too, and annoying bladder irregularities. Help the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills—the remedy recommended by thousands. Ask your neighbor!

A Colorado Case

A. Bruton, taxidermist and shoemaker, 10 Main St., Delta, Colo., says: "My back was lame and hurt me when I stooped. My kidneys were disordered and the secretions unnatural. The drinking of snow water when I was in the mountains brought this trouble on. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and tried them. Doan's benefited me in every way and I haven't had any symptoms of kidney trouble for a long time."

She Said Something.

Every day new examples of the versatility of the very young come to hand. The latest is about the little girl who forgot her manners when she was handed a piece of candy. "Aren't you going to say anything to me?" asked her mother. And the tiny youngster threw her arms around mother's neck and exclaimed:

"I'll tell the world, mother, you're some kid."

You can join the "Edgeworth Club"

There are thousands of members, most of whom don't realize they belong. There are no initiation fees. No dues. No assessments.

Nearly every man who smokes a pipe is either a member or a prospective member. (We say "nearly" because there are some men who find Edgeworth not just right for them.)

Any pipe-smoker becomes a member of the "Edgeworth Club" as soon as he starts to smoke Edgeworth.

It won't dawn on him at first, perhaps, but after he has smoked a few cans he will notice other Edgeworth smokers.

He will find a comradeship that he shares with them—not easy to explain or understand, but real and lasting.

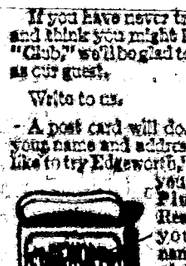
Suddenly he knows he belongs—that he is a life member of the "Edgeworth Club."

Edgeworth smokers are generally good, likable chaps. It isn't smoking Edgeworth, of course, that makes them so. They happen to be the kind of men who choose Edgeworth.

If you have never tried Edgeworth and think you might like to join the "Club," we'll be glad to introduce you as our guest.

Write to us.

A post card will do. Just send us your name and address and say "I'd like to try Edgeworth," and we'll send you free samples of Plug Slice and Ready-Rubbed. If you'll add the name and address of the dealer you usually buy your tobacco from, we'd appreciate the courtesy.



Edgeworth comes Ready-Rubbed or Plug Slice.

Edgeworth Ready-Rubbed is already rubbed for you. You pour it straight from the can into the bowl of your pipe.

Both kinds pack nicely, light quickly, and burn freely and evenly.

Edgeworth is sold in various sizes to suit the needs and means of all purchasers. Both Edgeworth Plug Slice and Edgeworth Ready-Rubbed are packed in small, pocket size packages, in handsome tin humidors and glass jars, and also in various handy in-between quantities.

For the free samples address Larus & Brother Company, 20 South 21st Street, Richmond, Va.

To Retail Tobacco Merchants: If your jobber cannot supply you with Edgeworth, Larus & Brother Company will gladly send you prepaid by parcel post a one- or two-dozen carton of any size of Edgeworth Plug Slice or Ready-Rubbed for the same price you would pay the jobber.

Petersburg Resident Says She Had About Lost Hope of Getting Better—Now Well and Happy.

"Tanlac has been such a blessing to me I can't help singing its praises," said Mrs. T. J. Archer, highly esteemed resident of 1147 Shepard St., Petersburg, Va.

"I had indigestion so bad I couldn't eat a thing without being in misery for hours, and the pain around my heart caused by the gas seemed all I could stand. I constantly had headaches and awful spells of dizziness. Then to make matters worse rheumatism in my arms, shoulders and knees almost drove me to distraction, and for three months I couldn't do a stroke of work.

"I had just about decided it was no use to take any more medicine when my husband brought me a bottle of Tanlac. Now I never have a touch of indigestion. Headaches and dizzy spells are a thing of the past, and rheumatism has left me entirely. I never have known a medicine to equal Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

Unkind Remark.

A scenario writer experienced great difficulty in getting his plots accepted. As a rule, they were so uninteresting that a complete hearing was seldom granted. At last he managed to persuade a weary producer to listen to the synopsis of his latest play.

"Imagine," he began, "midnight, all silent as the grave.

"Two burglars force open library windows, and eventually commence operations on the safe. The clock strikes one—"

"Which one?" yawned the producer.

HAD NAVAL OFFICER GUESSING

Peculiar Combination of Names Seemed to Be Almost Too Much Out of the Ordinary.

While Lieutenant Commander H. E. Parsons, navy recruiting officer at Houston, Tex., was sitting at his desk a few days ago a young man entered and said he wanted to enlist.

"What is your name?" the officer asked.

"Bryan Dry," was the reply.

"You are a namesake of William Jennings Bryan, I take it," suggested the officer.

"Yes, sir."

"What is your home address?" was the next question.

"Moonshine Hill."

Persons found on further inquiry that there is a Moonshine Hill in Texas and that Bryan Dry was one of its young inhabitants. Without more questioning, the applicant was signed up for a term of service in the navy.—Kansas City Star.

To Honor Canadian Heroes.

Six thousand soldiers' graves, located in 1,200 cemeteries, scattered throughout Canada, are to be marked with suitable headstones by the Imperial war graves commission and will receive perpetual care. These are the graves of members of the Canadian expeditionary force and the royal air force who died in Canada on the way to or from the front. Included within the number to be cared for are the graves of a few alien enemies who died while under internment during the war, and which, under the terms of the peace treaty, must be looked after.

Twenty years after, one looks at his diploma with a sort of pensive amusement—but kindly, too.

Tin Can.

An old lady was crossing the street the other day. A dog ran into her with such force that it knocked her down. Just then a light auto ran over her. A gentleman witnessing the accident came to her assistance. He said: "Lady, did that dog hurt you?"

She looked at him a little dazed and replied: "No, the dog didn't hurt me, it was the tin can tied to its tail."

Proved.
