Real Hobo Is Friend of Work

Denver Dutchy Declares That Wanderers Bear Brunt of Many Heavy Tasks.

BEMOANS THE DEAR OLD DAYS

Old Thoroughbred Tramp Has Passed and Profession Has Petored Out—Only in Comics Do You See Tried and True Tramp.

Seattle, Wash.—Where are the tramps of yesterday?—those aptly dubbed "knights of the road," who, in halcyon days, were a common sight along stretches of railroad right-of-ways, throughout the country. Shiftless, happy-go-lucky fellows they were—readily identified as "wandering Willies," or members of the roving mendicant fraternity, by their make-shift hats, unkempt and usually unwashed stubble beards, ill-fitting patched trousers, nondescript coats, battered and tattered over-sized shoes, but, best of all, by the tools of their "trade," a tin can and bandana handkerchief bundle which they carried on the end of a short stick over the shoulders.

"Alas, poor Dusty Rhodes! I knew him well, Horatio!" moaned Denver Dutchy, a more or less retired veteran of the road, as he gently closed a grimy paper-bound edition of Emerson's Essays, which he had been reading for diversion while "beating it a division," several weeks ago in a box car from Pueblo to Denver, Colo., over the Colorado & Southern railroad. His traveling companion and confidante of the last three days, the reporter, a mere novice, whose experience as a hobo consisted of a trifling 23,000 miles covered at intervals during a period of four years, had asked for reminiscences of the old days when "box cars were box cars, and men were men," stirred by fond memories of the past, was visibly affected.

Bemoans Dear Old Days.

"Ah, will those dear days ever come again," he said almost sadly, shifting his weight as the train took a sharp curve and rumbled into a long, dark tunnel in the mountain side. When daylight again showed through the open door Dutchy continued: "I think not. The old thoroughbred tramp has passed, and the profession has petered out. Only in the comics do you see the tried and true tramp of yesterday.

"Tramp life is a different life now from what it was ten years ago. And what makes it different is this: The old-time tramp was on the road to do as little work as possible. When he needed a stake to hold him over the winter in the North there were plenty of jobs in almost any town where he could put in a few days' work and come clear with enough money to live for a few weeks. On the road he could always tackle a woodpile for some 'kind lady' and get fed. Then, again, the jungles in every town were always full of 'bos' who had plenty of food they had bummed or had bought.

"Getting was easy in those days," Dutchy went on. "But now! There are several million men on the road—tramps and bums all—but they're not on the road because they want to be. Unemployment has put them there. Homeless, penniless and sometimes friendless, they are beating it from one town to another looking for work.

Few Realize Hardships.

"People in the city with jobs don't know what a hobo is up against. For that matter few of them know what a hobo, in the true sense of the word, is. They don't know that a real hobo is a traveling workman who does some of the hardest and poorest paid labor in the United States. Who harvests the great grain crops of the Middle West each year? Hobos who drift in from all over the country harvest it. They also build the railroads, irrigation projects and other construction jobs; cut the timber in the often-lousy logging camps, harvest the ice crops, work in mines and oil fields, and perform other work that lasts for only a short time and which only the drifters will tackle. A hobo will only bum when he is down and out and can't work out a meal."

Denver Dutchy said many other things. Subsequent investigation finds that he is correct. The hobo is a worker.

Conditions on the road are pitiful. In parts of the country where the unemployment situation is not critical the life is not so hard, but in portions where it is, as in the entire Southwest, many hobos are leading a life that is really worse than that of a hunted animal. Railroad detectives and special agents chase them off trains and out of railroad yards and the local police order them out of towns or arrest them for vagrancy.

Drastic Laws Against Them.

Many states, especially Texas, have drastic laws under which a man must serve from one to eleven months on road chain gangs if found guilty of vagrancy. This punishment has made many men bitter against the police and citizens of many cities, and agitators and agents of several radical organizations are using this fact as an argument toward enlisting hobos to their various causes. In the Northwest, posted at nearly every important freight division point, are representatives of the I. W. W. who solicit and often succeed in enrolling hobos for "red cards" on the strength of this argument alone. They hold the federal administration responsible in a large measure for national unemployment.

"Here's a land of plenty," they say. "You, a human being must wander through it starving, cold and tired with no place to lay your head. An alley cat or stray dog is better off than you are."

Few people realize what segregation of these two or three million idle men would mean. If there were not these hobos swarming in hordes over the railroads in every section of the Union, the unemployed permanent residents of most of the cities and towns would have less chance of getting positions. The city man should be thankful that there are hobos in times when work is plentiful.

Outlook Bad for 1922.

The outlook for 1922 is unfavorable, especially for the winter. With so many mines and mills shut down, and with the harvest season and construction jobs nearly over, it will not be long before several hundred thousand hobos will again have to "hit the road." Most old-timers predict a winter that will be worse than last year, one that brought much suffering.

Jails will have to be thrown open and winter quarters provided as well as bread lines formed.

Hobos everywhere advise youngsters not to try to beat their way anywhere at present, especially riding "blind baggage" on passenger trains. Mail guards have shot and killed so many suspects that it is unsafe.

Besides these hardships, there are more severe ones that tax a man's endurance to the utmost. In some towns throughout the nation the restaurants and homes have been pestered so much by hungry men seeking work that several men have actually starved to death in them.—Ted Seelman in the Chicago Daily News.

Board Bill Too Heavy, Prisoner Is Released

Arthur States of Lima, O., literally ate his way out of prison, where he was serving a term because of his inability to pay a fine of $1,000 on a liquor charge. He served only a few weeks when the county commissioners began figuring out results of the incarceration of States at a fixed amount a day to apply on his fine.

The board ordered him paroled with the understanding that he pay $7 a month on the fine. Eleven years will be required to liquidate it. His board had already cost the county $100. Commissioners figured that it would cost $1,220.50 to collect the fine for the state had he remained in jail.

Union printers will return to their former positions in the newspaper and job departments of the Billings Gazette, according to an announcement. Jack Brown, held on a vagrancy charge, was caught by a deputy as he was attempting to follow Anderson.

Isadore B. Blumstein, alleged by local police to be a notorious safe burglar, with a long criminal record, is accused of having burglarized, single handed, eighty vaults in the Paulsen building at Spokane in a first-degree burglary warrant sworn out by Detective Chester Edwards. There are now out for the arrest of the vault robber and the recovery of stolen bonds, rewards aggregating $9,500.

The public of the United States and the world at large has been "deliberately misinformed as to the results of prohibition in San Francisco," and "there has been a decided increase in the number of inmates in state corrective institutions since prohibition began," the Grain Trade Association of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce said in resolutions made public recently. The total monthly arrests in the city for intoxication have "steadily and rapidly increased since the first month of prohibition," the resolution said. They continued that not only has there been an increase in the number of inmates in state prisons, insane asylums and institutions for the feeble-minded, but a decided increase in serious crime.

WASHINGTON

Nullification of the decision of the Supreme Court, ordering dissolution of the Southern Pacific-Central Pacific combine would be of "untold disadvantage to the mountain and middle western states," according to a letter from Governor Shoup of Colorado, received by Senator Phipps. Similar letters and telegrams have been received by other senators from western and middle western states urging that no action be taken by any federal agency to nullify the purpose of the Supreme Court decision.

Representative Lemuel P. Padgett of Tennessee died at his home in Washington.

Brig. Gen. Oliver Lyman Spaulding, former assistant secretary of the treasury and for many years prominent in public affairs in Michigan, died recently at his home in Washington, aged 69 years. General Spaulding served throughout the Civil war with the Twenty-third Michigan infantry.

Haskell, head of the American relief administration forces in Russia; former Governor Goodrich of Indiana and other officials to decide the future program for Russian relief.

Warnings against unofficial promoters of colonization schemes in South America has been issued by the Commerce Department which added that such promoters have been particularly active in the Western states. Many Americans going to South America as colonists have found that they invested their savings in land in the remote wilderness, the department said.

Whether the administration tariff bill will be enacted before the November elections has again become the subject of private discussion at the capital. There is a more or less general belief now in the Senate that the measure cannot be brought to a final vote in that body before Sept. 15, and there are those who believe the ironing out of differences between the Senate and the House in conference will be such a slow and tedious process that it cannot be completed before Congress goes home for the fall campaign.

The end of the season homeward movement of Americans has been accelerated by an official announcement by the French bureau of statistics that the cost of living is doomed to rise 25 per cent within the next few months. Many who had intended to remain for some time have changed their minds and the booking passage.

The whole Chilean cabinet resigned recently following the retirement of Armando Jaramillo, minister of the interior, and Angel Guarilio, minister of justice. The resignations were precipitated by disagreement with the government's policy concerning the recent protokol signed in Washington with Peru, for settlement of the Tacna-Arica controversy.

The body of City Receiver Clement Denize, Port Au Prince, Haiti, was found recently, a wound in the head indicating he had been murdered. This follows closely the attempted shooting of Mayor Edouard Mandonce, for which a minor city official is under arrest, and which was regarded as a development from the mayor's activities in unearthing alleged local graft.

Eugene Jova, acting American consular agent, captured by bandits at Sagua la Grande, Cuba, and held for $20,000 ransom, escaped recently, but was badly wounded as he made his break for liberty. There were five dagger wounds in the young man's body when he was found in a ranch house in which he had sought shelter, but he was able to give the authorities information which was expected to lead to the capture of the bandits.

O'Connor, assistant manager of the American Smelting and Refining Company's smelter at East Helena, Mont., that the wage scale at the plant would be increased 50 cents a day. DENVER MARKETS.
Cattle.

Receipts, 842. Trade was active from the start in the cattle division of the local live stock market, and the entire offering was sent across the scales at an early hour for prices which were considered a good bit higher than the close of last week. Buyers were quick to place bids in the steer section of the market and the feature of the trade was the sale of one load of heavy grassers for $8.80. Most of the stock in that division found outlet at prices in the range of $7.75 to $8.25. Choice corn fed steers are quoted as high as $9.50 or possibly a little more. Choice baby beef from feed lots is wanted by dealers at prices in the range of 9 to $9.50.

The female section of the market had a very healthy tone, but receipts were light and little business was transacted. Good to choice fat cows from pastures are quoted from $5.50 to $6, and bulk of the fair to good grades have been selling at $4.50 to $5.25.

Hogs.

Receipts, 1,025. The fair-sized offerings put before buyers in the hog division of the local market was quickly cleared at stronger prices. Top for the day, which was $10.35, was paid by packers for one attractive load of stock. Bulk of the attractive light butcher stock changed hands at prices in the range of $10 to $10.25, but had there been more mixed heavy loads at hand the low end of the bulk would probably have been around $9 or $9.25. Prime heavies were quoted at $9 to $9.50, and most of the heavy mixed loads sold from $8.75 to $9. Packers rough heavy sows were quoted at $7.50.

Sheep.

Receipts 2,057. One of the best offerings received here in some time was disposed of quickly on the local market at fully steady prices. Two loads of fairly attractive killing lambs sold at $11.75, and choice well-finished lambs were quoted up to $12. The inquiry for ewes was very good and the few offered were sold to very good advantage. Choice handy weight ewes sold for $3.50, and fair kinds were quoted from $3.50 to $3, with good to choice stock at $3 to $3.25.

Won't Jail Volstead Prisoners.

Santa Rosa, Calif.—Refusal of John M. Boyes, sheriff of Sonoma county, to accept as prisoners in the county jail two persons arrested in Santa Rosa on charges of violating the Volstead act, led to the statement by prohibition enforcement officers that an attempt would be made to force the sheriff to accept federal prisoners hereafter without process of any kind. Sheriff Boyes was firm in his position that he would render his bondsmen liable were he to acquiesce in the insistent demands from prohibition officers who are appearing continually at the Sonoma county bastile with strangers, asking that they be incarcerated without warrants for violating the dry law.

Postage Stamps to Be Changed.

Washington.—Postage stamps ranging in denomination from 1 cent to $5 are to undergo radical changes as to design and color, with a view to preventing losses by the Postoffice Department due to lack of distinctive features, it has been announced.

All stamps ranging in denomination from 1 to 7 cents now bear the portrait of George Washington, while an etching of Benjamin Franklin appears on those ranging from 8 cents to $5.

The department contemplates retaining the Washington and Franklin portraits upon certain of the stamps, but, it was said, will substitute portraits of leading figures in American history on the others.

The department was of the opinion, it was explained, that different designs and colors would enable postal employes to detect more readily short paid matter. The department in time would save thousands of dollars, officials said.

The state admitted that it had little evidence against him and moved dismissal of the charges. Judge Thomas Taylor, Jr., granted the motion.

This startling point in the trial came a few minutes before John Miller, confessed driver of the "death car," took the stand in his own behalf as the first witness for the defense.

Three defendants now remain: "Big Tim" Murphy, "Frenchy" Mader, and Daniel McCarthy.

Bubonic Plague in Hawaii.

No Action Taken Against Dodge Ships.

London.—Washington's request for "reciprocal" search of ships flying the British flag outside a twelve-mile zone, where such ships were suspected of carrying whisky cargoes to United States territory, in violation of the prohibition law, was brought to the attention of Parliament recently. Premier Lloyd George told the House of Commons that such a proposal had been made and that it is now being considered, but that the indications were that no action would be taken.

Seven Points of Supremacy

1. The sole leather used in "FOOT-FITTERS" is of the best quality obtainable. Even the insoles are cut from standard outsole leather.

2. "FOOT-FITTERS" are the only shoes in the world having full length vamps and sole leather toe caps. This feature prevents ripping at the tip and makes a smooth outer and inner surface.

3. The insoles are shoulder channelled so that they fit tightly against the outsole. There is no need or room for a cork fillet. A small piece of duck is used to prevent squeaking.

4. The Calfskin inside counter pocket is of great value, for it saves the wear on the socks. There is no rough surface to rub against.

5. "FOOT-FITTERS" heels are ¼-inch longer than generally used. They give additional support to the arch and increase the comfort and wear of the shoe.

6. The vamp is reinforced with 8-oz. duck. This absorbs the moisture from the feet, this keeps the vamp from cracking and holds the shoe in shape.

7. Talmadge "FOOT-FITTER" shoes are called "FOOT-FITTERS" because they fit the feet snugly. Built on combination lasts they support the feet like a Carter's bandage—"FOOT-FITTERS" give Comfort, Service and Appearance.

Capitan, N. M.

Mr. Melton Jones, of near the Gap school house, will leave next week for Colorado to enter hospital for treatment.

District Attorney Benson Newell is in town today, looking after duties of his office. Mr. Newell and family are spending a few months at their summer home on the Ruidoso.

Capitan continues to gradually grow. Prof. Keonce bought two lots this week and has contracted to have a four room dobe residence built on them. Leo Mc Pato will do the dobe work and George Arnold will do the carpenter work.

Mrs. Rankin and family, of Watrous, N. M., are visiting the Feltz family near Capitan. Mrs. Rankin being a sister of Mr. Feltz. Mr. Rankin is a prominent merchant and stockman in his home town.

Mr. B. W. Rentfro came over Wednesday from his ranch in the Mal Pais country. He left for home Thursday afternoon, intending to make the return trip that evening and night, a distance of 60 miles. It had been more than four years since Mr. Rentfro had visited his old home town and he received many hearty greetings from friends here. He still owns considerable property in Capitan and his friends are hoping that he will return in the not distant

A daughter was born Wednesday night to Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Cardwell of Capitan.

Prof. W. J. Klopp returned Thursday evening from a seven weeks vacation, most of which time he spent in Colorado Springs, Colorado. He returns in fine spirits and anxious for the time to arrive when he will again take up his school work.

Eugene Dow, one of the prominent farmers and ranchmen on the Bonito near Lincoln was in Capitan the first of the week.

Mr. Brack Sloane, living near Ancho, has been appointed Commissioner in District No. 8, by Governor Mechem, to fill the vacancy caused by resignation of Henry Lutz Jr. Mr. Sloan is said to be an excellent citizen well qualified for the office and that a good appointment has been made.

The name of ex-Sheriff Porfirio Chavez is frequently mentioned as a suitable man to receive the Republican nomination for Commissioner in Precinct No. 1. Mr. Chavez would make a splendid commissioner. He is a man of ability, has been tax assessor and sheriff of the county and knows the duties of the office of commissioner and would honestly and fearlessly perform them. No jobs or schemes could be put over him.

Ralph Dow has resigned the chief deputyship in Sheriff Harris' office, and received the appointment of railroad detective at Carrizozo. This is a better position than the deputy sheriff's place as it pays a salary of $1,800 a year, the other job paying a $1600 per year.

Dick Burch made a trip to the Corona and Gallo country this week. He reports that the crops in those sections are very unpromising and the range very poor and unless rain comes soon the stockmen will be compelled to move their cattle out of the country to where they can pasture for the winter.

R. A. Duran, candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, was over from Encinoso, this week. He feels very much encouraged at his prospects as he finds his strength is developing in the different parts of the county.

Mr. Clement Hightower, of Hondo, returned a few days ago from his visit to Cattron and Socorro counties. He has recently been favorably mentioned as being the logical candidate for the Republicans to put on the ticket for state school superintendent.

Prof. Keonce made a trip up to the head of the Ruidoso during past week, and reports crops fairly good, the range in fine condition and cattle fat.

Mr John Gardenhire is erecting another rent house on his lots near Mrs. Boone's residence.

Mr. Wm. Kelley and family, of Tucumcari, are visiting Mr. J. Sliner and family, of Capitan, Mrs. Kelley being a sister of Mrs. Sliner. They came through in an automobile and report crops short all the way.

Mr. C. C. Martail is quite sick at the home of his son in law Mr. J. Sliner.

Considerable hay was brought here this week.

A New Style in Campaigns.

Editorial From the El Paso Times August 5, 1922.

While it is not yet definitely determined who will carry the Democratic banner in the New Mexico contest for the seat now held in the United States senate by Andrieus A. Jones, of East Las Vegas, there is something about H. B. Holt's campaign for the Republican nomination that is bound to cause both Democrats and Republicans of his state to look upon him with an increasing degree of respect.

For years we have watched with interest the political disturbances of our neighboring state and on several occasions it has seemed that New Mexico politics were not always polite.

With the advent of Mr. Holt, things have taken on a changed aspect. He seems to be carrying his campaign along the main line of his announced platform. In his formal announcement he asserted that he was for construction and in soliciting the support of his Republican friends, he is building upon his own fitness for the high office he seeks.

And he is not attacking the fitness of anyone opposed to him.

Singularly enough, Mr. Holt has not been the subject of any attack himself. It may be that the Republicans like the Holt method and accepting him as the man who can set their house in order and erase the many local dissessions and differences with which they have been so long beset.

Of course, Mr. Holt is a Republican. He has the misfortune to belong in the camp of our friends the enemy, but it does seem to be worthy of comment that after a man has been in active politics in his state for 20 years, can announce himself as a senatorial candidate and not have a single editorial pen wielded against him in an unfriendly way.

The pace that Mr Holt has set in New Mexico politics this year is one that the Democrats can well purtile. A state gains by candidates who can conduct a campaign without backbiting or mudslinging.

The Democratic State Central Committee has issued a call for the State Convention to meet in Albuquerque August 31, and there is to meet in the same city on August 30.

What Is It Worth to Change a Tire?

On the road changing a tire is not an especially pleasant task.

The dust or mud, the grease and grime, the tedious delay—all are things we like to avoid.

But the time to think about these things is when you buy the tire—not after the blow-out occurs.

For some tires blow out much more easily than others.

Outward appearance counts for little.

It is the material in the tire and the construction of it that determines its strength.

Goodyear recognizes these facts and all Goodyear Tires are made of long staple cotton.

Take the 30 x 3½ Cross Rib Clincher Tire here illustrated, for example.

It is made of Arizona cotton, the fibres of which average 1½ inches long.

Many 30 x 3½ clincher tires are made of short staple cotton from ½ inch to 1½ inches long.

This means less strength and greater danger of blow-outs—more tire troubles.

Yet this high grade guaranteed Goodyear Tire costs only $10.95.

You can buy some tires for even less than this but none with the fine materials and construction of this one.

Can you afford to take a chance on more frequent tire troubles for the sake of the slightly lower price of cheaper tires?

HOW BOOKS ARE DISINFECTED

Method Employed in France Is Said to Be the Most Successful Yet Devised.

The danger of contagion from books that have been in the hands of persons suffering from various diseases has led to the invention of methods of disinfecting, of which none appears to be more effective than that devised by a member of the municipal council of Paris.

This process consists of two features. In the first place, the books are placed in a "heater," where a strong current of air opens every leaf, and an aspirator sucks out the dust and deposits it in aseptic water. Then they are suspended in a disinfector, the covers being bent back and held by clips, so that the leaves are widely opened, and placed over a heater, which for a long time subjects them to a temperature of 167 degrees Fahrenheit. The paper is not damaged, and the efficiency of the process is said to be well demonstrated.

HAD STUDIED HIS SUBJECT

Little Bobby's Essay Showed He Knew Practically All There Was to Know About Doors.

Little Bobby Jones was told to write an essay on "Door," and the effort which he sent in was as follows:

"Most houses have all the doors that they need, and no house is complete without at least one. The two main differences between a door and a gate is: first, their opposite location; and, second, that people have much less respect for a gate, and would rather kick it than knock on it.

"But a gate is more useful than a door because it does everything that a door can do, and, besides that, it can be climbed over, and often is.

"The door handle is a small but important part of the door which people never appreciate until it comes off. Most people never notice the door handle unless it is brought to their notice on account of having jam spread all over it.

"Doors are great things to give people privacy, and would give them still more if it wasn't for the keyholes."—Exchange.

The Salary of M. P.'s.

The salary of an M. P. is £400 (nominally $2,000) a year, on which he has hitherto paid income tax. As an income this is inadequate, but in the days of anti-waste campaigns both ministry and house of commons shrink from increasing it. But the law officers of the crown suddenly discovered that an M. P.'s expenses may legitimately be reckoned against his income, so that the poorer of them will now pay no tax at all. A happy issue, relieving the poor M. P., endearing the government to his grateful heart and throwing no odium on parliament ministry, since it seems that this is the ordinary law and always was, although no one suspected it till a few weeks ago.—New Republic.

DECLARED HIMSELF AT ONCE

New Yorker Saw Pearsing Possibility of Near Future and Gave Wife Due Warning.

Visitors to Central Park the other day saw a new angle of the family put out for an airing, reports the New York correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. A young woman was out with her variegated parrot. The bird strolled majestically about the lawn, but quickly came back and perched on the young woman's finger whenever she called. His comings and goings to and from the finger gave the parrot its prescribed exercise, whether it wanted it or not.

The young woman didn't seem to mind the crowd that gathered about to watch. In fact she seemed rather proud of the attention she and the bird were attracting. Jiggers, whose family pet is a dog, happened along with his wife and stopped to look.

"I suppose the next thing," he remarked to his wife, "will be that I'm to take the canary up to the park for a walk. Right here I announce the answer: Nothing doing!"

Quarrelsome.

"Before we were married her people said we would never get along."

"Well?"

"Well, they were partly right."—Detroit Free Press.
