Between $13,000 and $15,000 in cash was stolen from two bank messengers of the Metropolitan bank of Seattle by armed bandits in front of the Federal Reserve bank branch in the heart of the business section.

Failing to procure surrender of territorial rights in Lincoln, at present the property of the Nebraska State League under baseball law, the magnates of the Western League voted to cross Lincoln off the slate, adopting a playing schedule of 163 games which includes Sioux City as a member of the circuit. The 1924 pennant race will open April 16 and close Sept. 20.

Thrilling rescue in mid-air saved Miss Rosalie Gordon, Houston chorus girl, from death while more than 5,000 horrified spectators gazed skyward at Ellington field, near Houston, Tex. Miss Gordon, who formerly was an aerial stunt performer, was attempting to make a parachute leap from a mile-high plane when the huge umbrella became entangled in equipment on the plane.

The steamer Columbia in the McCormick Steamship Company's service, ran aground on the north side of Coos bay jetty, near Marshfield, Ore., while en route for Portland from San Francisco. There were thirty passengers aboard and a crew of thirty-seven, including officers. Although it was believed the vessel will be a total loss all passengers were removed in safety.

Barbara LaMarr, screen actress, was cleared in Los Angeles of a charge of contempt of court on which a warrant for her arrest was issued by Justice Hanby. Miss LaMarr had been called as a witness in a suit in which her husband, Jack Daugherty, was one of the parties. She failed to appear at the hour set and the warrant followed. Later it was learned her absence was due to a misunderstanding.

W. H. Warren, who has been in the county jail in Los Angeles since Jan. 15 following his arrest in San Diego on a charge of passing a worthless check, has confessed that he killed his wife and 8-month-old baby in San Pedro last December, according to an announcement by sheriff's officers investigating the case. Warren, according to the reported confession, threw the bodies into a pit that later was swept by oil fire.

WASHINGTON

Attorney General Daugherty reported to President Coolidge that a stricter enforcement of prohibition already has inspired a "more wholesome respect for law and order."

The downward trend in general commodity wholesale prices was arrested in January, the average level for that month being just what it was in December. In another report made public dealing only with retail food prices, however, the bureau of labor statistics gave out figures showing an average decrease of 1 per cent in these commodities during the month ending Jan. 15

The American government's war debt policy remained unchanged after a conference of the debt commission. The commission failed to act on proposals that the debtor governments be reminded again that the United States is awaiting funding proposals.

The last ray of hope that the proposed Polar expedition by the giant navy dirigible Shenandoah might yet be made was believed to have faded when the House naval affairs committee definitely refused to take up the Hogan resolution giving congressional approval to the project. High naval officers are still clinging to the hope that President Coolidge may yet request that Congress authorize the expedition.

Secretary Denby has resigned and will retire from the cabinet on March 10. He informed President Coolidge that in view of his connection with the oil leases he did not desire to further embarrass the administration by remaining a member of it. The President in a letter accepting the resignation praised the official record of his retiring naval secretary and said he acceded to the request with regret.

Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, and Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian, both heading departments of the Republican administration, clashed in a battle over the bonus, that was overshadowed only by the fast-flying reports of changes in President Coolidge's cabinet.

President Coolidge has instructed Secretary of the Navy Denby to cease preparations for the North polar flight of the dirigible Shenandoah. Opposition to the required expenditure of $350,000 prompted the order.

FOREIGN

Dr. von Kahr, the Bavarian military dictator, has resigned and General Von Lossow, commander of the Bavarian reichswehr, has tendered his resignation.

Fires in four sugar plantations in Camaguey province, Cuba, caused an estimated loss of 11,000,000 pounds of sugar cane as it stood in the fields. While cane fields burn easily at this season and accidental fires are common, investigations are being made on the theory that some of these fires were of incendiary origin.

Owing to what he characterized as the "discourtesy" of the Egyptian public works department, Howard Carter, head of the excavation work at Luxor, closed Tutankhamen's tomb and abandoned operations. It is understood the crisis was precipitated by the refusal of the Egyptian government to permit the wives of the excavators to visit the tomb.

A decree prohibiting exportation from France of cotton and wool has just been published in Paris. Most of the combed wool produced is sold abroad, and it is feared several factories will be forced to close. The Lille Woolen Trade Association has telegraphed to Premier Poincare declaring the measure is likely to throw 15,000 persons out of employment.

The committees of experts who recently returned to Paris from Berlin, where they investigated the reparation problem, have begun the formulation of their reports. Dr. Schacht, president of the reichsbank, still is to be heard regarding the details of the organization of the proposed gold bank. The members of the committees are now exchanging texts setting forth their individual opinions with a view to a final agreement.

GENERAL

Funeral services for the Rt. Rev. Alexander C. Garrett, presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America, who died at his home in Dallas, Tex., were held last Friday.

A renewal of the present bituminous miners' wage scale for a term of three years was approved unanimously by the sub-committee of miners and operators of the central competitive field at Jacksonville, Florida.

Judge William M. Morning of the Court of Domestic Relations and Wallace G. Wallick, well digger, are dead and Minor Bacon, court reporter, is suffering from a slight wound under the right arm, the sequel to a tragedy enacted in Judge Morning's court at Lincoln, when Wallick, appearing to answer a charge of nonpayment of alimony, drew a revolver and began shooting.

Successful flotation of the $150,000,000 Japanese loan overshadowed all other developments in the bond market last week. Substantial over-subscription of the issue, which took the form of thirty-year 6½ per cent, priced at 92½ to yield 7.10 per cent, was reported by J. P. Morgan and Co., head of the nation-wide offering syndicate, within two hours after the sale was opened.

Joe Jackson, former outfielder for the Chicago club of the American League, emerged victor in his salary suit and $18,500 bonus claim, when a jury in Circuit Court in Milwaukee brought in a verdict awarding him $15,700.40. Judge John J. Gregory, however set aside the verdict after severely scoring the jury for the verdict in the face of the evidence presented and dismissed the action.

James J. McGrath, a promoter, was fined $1,000 in Chicago by Federal Judge Cliffe on a plea of guilty to transporting motion picture films of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight at Shelby, Mont., in interstate commerce. The pictures were brought to Chicago from Shelby and shown there, the federal statute providing for penalties for transportation of fight films between the states, but not for showing the pictures.

French francs dropped to a new record low level at 4.25 cents in New York, a decline of twelve points. The fall was apparently based on the difficulties of the French government in forwarding its fiscal program.

Lieut. Corliss Hoover Griffis, the Ohio boy who went into Germany after Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, draft dodger, and was imprisoned for six months and deported as an undesirable for his pains, couldn't have received a more rousing welcome if he had succeeded than the one given him in Chicago. Traveling from New York in a special car, he was accorded the honors of a conquering hero.

Sale of the Armour interests in the stockyards at South Omaha is about to be completed between J. Ogden Armour and a syndicate composed of present stockholders in the yards headed by W. Farnam Smith of Omaha, R. J. Dunham, representative of Mr. Armour, stated in Chicago. Armour and Company have no connection with the deal as the Armour interests are personal holdings of Mr. Armour.

Lieut. Dogenio Mendez and eight constabulary soldiers under his command, and thirty-five religious fanatics, including two of their leaders, were killed in a fight at Dalcto, Agusan province, according to a constabulary report received in Manila. Several other fanatics were wounded.

Thirteen lives were snuffed out in a few minutes in a fire believed to have been of incendiary origin which swept from basement to roof of a five-story tenement in the heart of New York's lower East Side Ghetto. Seven of those killed were children.

Following a shutdown of several days owing to the illness of some of the crew, drilling has been resumed at the Florida oil well near Deming.

Deo Wilburn, wealthy sheep man, was shot and killed at Alamogordo last week. Sam Lewis, a prominent cattleman, is alleged to have done the shooting.

Work on the new highway between Artesia and Lakewood is progressing rapidly and it is now hoped that the road will be opened to travel in the early spring. The road bed is made a width of eighty feet and graded so that the tourists may have plenty of room to travel.

According to reports reaching Raton, most of the machinery for the big sugar factory to be built at Maxwell, has been purchased and the work of installation will begin as soon as the shipment arrives. President Combs of the company has announced that the plant will be ready to handle the 1924 crop if all goes well.

For the first time in thirty-seven years the grand Masonic bodies of the state held the annual meeting in Raton last week. The meeting entertained delegates of the Grand Lodge, Chapter, Commandery, Grand Chapter and the Order of Eastern Star and the convention was one of the largest ever held in the state of the kind.

In spite of the much talked of depression in many parts of the west, the real estate business in Farmington is still on the gain and a large amount of property has been sold during the past two months. In addition to the many changes in resident property in the city many small tracts of land have been sold in the nearby sections.

Directors and stockholders of the closed San Juan County National Bank have held several meetings in Aztec recently and there is now every reason to believe that the bank will soon be opened. The voluntary closing of the institution January 31, was due to the heavy and rapid withdrawals but it is now thought that when the bank is again opened for business that it will be on a sounder basis than ever before.

The total pay roll of the combined mines of the Gallup district during the past year was over $2,000,000, while the total of the Santa Fe was nearly $500,000. According to the figures given out by the Harvey house the total paid to the employees was over $50,000, making over two and one-half million dollars paid into Gallup during the year. These figures were secured by the chamber of commerce and are reported to be correct.

The flow of gas struck in the Midwest well on the Jones Dome near Las Vegas the last of the week, is reported to be over 20,000 cubic feet per day, according to parties from Las Vegas who have visited the well site. The gas is very wet and burns well when lighted. Considerable excitement prevails over the big strike and even if oil is not found at a lower depth the gas will be a big thing for the city and surrounding country for lighting and fuel purposes.

Weather bureau office, Santa Fe, general climatic summary for New Mexico, January, 1924. Temperature and precipitation both averaged far below the normal—temperature 8.2 degrees below and precipitation 0.49 inch below. There have been, however, five colder Januaries in the last 34 years, and three dryer ones—1904 1912 and 1919. The snowfall has been lighter many times. All parts of the state shared in the deficiency in precipitation, but it was greatest in the Gila and southwest division.

The fifth annual convention of the Winchester Club of New Mexico will be held in Albuquerque March 11 and 12, according to information given out by the Albuquerque chamber of commerce. Salesmen from all over the southwest will attend the meeting and many of the sportsmen of the state as well as dealers in the Winchester line will also attend.

A tract of land three and one-half miles wide and thirty miles long, on the western boundary of the Mora grant in New Mexico, held by the government since 1848, is not the property of the United States, the United States Supreme Court decided last week. The State Investment Company and Edward B. Wheeler claimed the land and their contention was sustained.

Due to the large acreage of cotton which is to be placed in the section of the state around Glenrio during the coming season, it is possible that a large cotton gin will be erected at Glenrio to handle the product. Parties from Texas have been in the country for several days calling on the farmers and it is believed that the acreage next season will exceed that of the past by nearly 200 per cent.

The Clovis high school, under the direction of the agriculture department staged classes for a ten-day course in the raising of poultry. The school secured the services of Mr. L. C. Taylor of Gibsonburg, Ohio, as the instructor for the school.

Another big cotton farm is under way in the Mesilla Valley, the purchasers being I. H. Kahn and J. H. Levy. These two gentlemen have taken over a tract of over 400 acres north of Las Cruces and already are active plans for the spring planting.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

(©, 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

"To grow and keep in person as attractive as possible should be not only everyone's pleasure but should be also everyone's duty."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

An alarm clock is a fine thing to set in the kitchen when baking cake, pudding, bread or in fact any kind of food. One is so apt to forget how long the bread has been baking. Set it at the time one is to start getting dinner, too.

A cheap little slate with a crayon or pencil hung on the kitchen wall will help in doing the ordering. When any staple is getting low a note to that effect will call it to mind. A good reminder for work to do or engagements that might be neglected is thus handy.

If the hands are rubbed with a mixture of salt and cornmeal after peeling onions or handling fish, then washed in cold water the odor will be removed.

To remove obstinate mason jar covers on canned fruit dip them in boiling water for a minute or two, then unscrew easily.

Melt butter and heat milk when adding to mashed potato—then they will beat up light and fluffy.

Cornmeal mush will not become lumpy when cooking if the water is boiling and the cornmeal is mixed with a little cold water to pour into the boiling water. Stir until well-mixed and cook until thoroughly done. Add a tablespoonful of butter to the hot mush—it improves the flavor and it will fry better.

Do not put the dressing on salads that contain lettuce until ready to serve as it loses its crispness.

When baking potatoes clip the ends, wash well, then rub with any sweet fat. The skin will be thin and edible when baked. Roll the potato and crack to let the steam escape—this will make a mealy potato.

Newspapers laid around the stove when frying cakes or broiling steaks will save many a spot on the floor. The papers may be gathered up and burned and much work be saved.

When cooking steak add the seasoning after the steak has been seared over on both sides. Salt draws out the juices of the meat if added before it is cooked.

Potato peelings put into the furnace or kitchen stove will keep the fires clean.

Dry, hot bran is a good cleaner of furs. Rub it in well then brush and hang the furs out to air.

A pretty salad may be made of small tomatoes. Peel and cut down to resemble a flower, fill the center with a spoonful of dressing and serve on lettuce.

Hot honey is a good cough sirup; mixed with horseradish freshly grated it is still more efficient.

"The sky is always blue,
The clouds are only passing vapors,
floating,
Like sorrows brooding o'er you,
dark and gloating,
Beyond them heaven is smiling,
tender, true.
The sky is always blue."

GOOD THINGS FOR THE TABLE

For a change from the ordinary bread the following will be liked:

Southern Grist Bread.—Mash until smooth one cupful of cold, well-cooked hominy. Into this stir one well-beaten egg, one tablespoonful of lard, a little salt, one cupful of milk, and lastly one pint of uncooked hominy. Spread this in a well-greased baking pan and bake half an hour. Cut into squares and serve hot with butter.

Apple Sauce Cake.—Take one cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of butter, one cupful of thick unsweetened apple sauce, one cupful of raisins, one and one-half cupfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful of cloves, a teaspoonful of soda and one-fourth teaspoonful of grated nutmeg. Mix and bake slowly in a medium oven.

Sponge Bananas.—Cover the bottom of a baking dish with small sponge cakes or with pieces of cake, cover with a layer of bananas, sprinkle with sugar, the juice of an orange, chopped nuts of coconut. Bake fifteen minutes, serve with a custard or thick cream.

Chicken, Mississippi Style.—Pass through a meat chopper one-fourth of a pound each of fresh veal and pork, two slices of bacon, the liver of a chicken, half a green pepper, two sprigs of parsley, a teaspoonful of scraped onion, a tablespoonful of worcestershire sauce, half a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of cayenne; mix all well and use to stuff a chicken. Baste often and cook in a hot oven until tender. Serve with sweet potatoes.

Cranberry Bavarian Cream.—Wash a quart of cranberries and put to cook, while hot press through a sieve. To one pint of pulp add one-half cupful of sugar. Soak a quarter of a box of gelatin in one-quarter of a cupful of water and dissolve over hot water, then add to the berries. Turn into a bowl and beat until cold and beginning to thicken, then add one-half cupful of rich milk and beat again. Lastly add one cupful of thick whipped cream. Rest well and mold.

TAKE CARE OF SOWS AT FARROWING TIME

This is the time of year when the swine grower receives his greatest harvest, and for this reason special precautions should be taken.

A week before the sow is due to farrow she should be separated from the herd and placed in a pen by herself so that she will become accustomed to her new quarters. The caretaker should make her accustomed to being handled. The sow may easily be trained to lie down by scratching her on the side. This little "stunt" is very helpful in quieting the sow after she has farrowed and in preventing her from lying on and crushing her pigs. The herdsman should make it a point to be present when pigs are farrowed. With an old sack or cloth each pig may be dried. Apparently dead pigs may be revived by rubbing and blowing in the mouth and nostrils. The pigs may be kept in a box or basket until the sow is through farrowing, after which they may all be turned with the sow.

The pen or house for the brood sows should be not less than 6 by 8 feet. Greater dimensions are decidedly preferable. Often when the weather is good sows do best outside, as they have more room and they crush fewer of their pigs.

There should be enough bedding and not too much. If too much bedding is supplied, the pigs may become entangled and be crushed when the mother lies down.

Just how much the sow should be watched immediately after farrowing will depend on the temperament of the sow, the condition of the pen, the weather, and various other factors. Sometimes sows do better when left alone, and sometimes they must have attention. This should be left to the skill and judgment of the herdsman.

For the first 24 hours after farrowing a sow should not receive food, but should be offered water.

It is not necessary or wise to invite all the neighbors in to see the litter the first few days. This causes undue excitement at a time when the sow needs to be quiet.

Simple Little Rack to Load Swine Saves Time

Many times now there is more than one place to load hogs from on the farm, says a writer in Farm Life. There is a tendency to get away from the stationary house for feeding and use the individual pens for the hogs.

Here is a little plan that saves a good deal of time and labor in the year if a lot of hogs are to be marketed.

Most farmers have some sort of a chute for driving the hogs into that could be fixed up with the wheel attachment that shows in the sketch. An old set of wheels from a heavy buggy or a cart or something of that kind is attached to the middle of the loading chute and the whole thing can be wheeled around from one place to another by one man. The wheels should be set so that when the end of the chute is on the ground the wheels will be raised from the ground while the upper part is into the end of the wagon box or rack that is to be used to haul hogs with.

February Colts Develop Rapidly With Good Care

Where a good warm barn and care can be afforded for the spring colts, most farmers find it pays them to have the foals come early. This gives the mares a chance to get into good health during the late winter, and they can be used in the spring work after foaling.

Early breeding, in March, brings colts the following February. This enables the colts to get to early pastures, and they develop faster the first year. Care has to be taken with early breeding, however, as colts can easily contract pneumonia if they haven't good warm quarters for the late winter winds and rains.

Late colts also have some advantages over early ones, the main one being that there is little worry of the foals weakening by running in the open, and late breeding is desirable where there are poor barn facilities. Late foaling usually makes it poor management to try to use the mares in spring work, however.

Fall Pigs Crowded Will Make the Cheapest Gains

Fall pigs should be crowded as fast as possible for the spring and early summer markets. Early gains are the cheap gains in the case of the fall pig because corn usually advances in price rapidly during the spring and summer. Self-feeding is a very satisfactory way to feed fall pigs, allowing them to help themselves to both corn and tankage as they see fit. It is wonderful how economically they will balance their ration when self-fed.

San Patricio Locals.

W. M. Rielly of Carrizozo was in the valley last week accompanied by deputy marshal Miguel L. Romero of Albuquerque, extending invitations and free transportation to Santa Fe, to some of our citizens.

George Romero of this locality, some time ago while making a chemical test of zea maise, a plant indigenous to the country, and certain other ingredients alleged to have a stimulating effect upon the human system and a tendency to put the "kick" in white mule, was discovered by an inquisitive government official who declared that George's operations were contrary to certain Federal laws and George together with his chemicals, laboratory and all was rudely taken before a magistrate and compelled to give bond for his appearance at court to explain the results of his test. Last week he, in company with a number of others engaged in the same practice were free transportation to Santa Fe; his wife and four or five small children now being cared for by relatives anxiously await his return.

A. W. Roberts and son are running two trucks daily between their truck farm at this place and Tularosa, whence they ship by rail to El Paso, their immense crop of fruit and vegetables. they have been engaged for nearly a month and will not finish shipping out their produce before March first.

Beginning early Sunday morning, the second big snow storm of this year began falling and continued most of the day. About six inches in the level in the valley and considerable deeper in the mountains, adding greatly to the prospect for a fruitful year for the farmers and stockraisers.

Postmaster John C. West, has been quite ill for several days and Candido Chavez has been taking his place in the postoffice. We understand that Johnnie's illness is not of a serious nature and hope that he may soon recover.

Random Thoughts Along The Way.

Clement Hightower.

Some time ago, my boy came home from school and said he had to write a composition on heroism intimating that he would like to have some suggestion as to who had performed some outstanding act of heroism. The name of "that fellow Rowan" and "Carrying the Message to Garcia," came at once to mind and was suggested; the main features Rowan's perilous exploits were recalled, but no detailed account was at hand. Within a day or two a magazine was recieved and the first thing caught the eye on the inside of the cover was an announcement the "Roycrofters" offering this famous "Preachmens" of Elbert Hubbard's free. Over FORTY MILLION copies of this inspiring fragment were printed and distributed before the Fra's tragic end with the sinking of the LUSITANIA. Every school in the Country should have a copy and every teacher should read it to the pupils at intervals till all are familiar with its lesson, and willing to "Carry the Message to Garcia".

Two or three months ago a county official in a county west of the Rio Grande was requested by letter to supply some information from his office at an early date, at an early date, as delay might prove disasterous. The reply has just been received and the main items unanswered, but containing a lengthy account of having been requested to become a candidate for a State office and intimating that if success of the party demanded it, he might allow (?) his name to go before the convention. This sort of public official is not confined to any party or locality. He is not the kind to carry a message to Garcia.

Twenty eight years ago Billie Ferguson, Lincoln county's premier road builder, came to White Oaks from Carthage as a passenger on the buckboard that carried the U. S. Mail between those points over the same route upon which he is now engaged in constructing a highway for automobile travel from coast to coast. As "Dessert, mountain, rock and sand compose the topographic features," of that route, it would have been hard to have convinced Billie at that time that he would at a later day be building a highway along that trail.

From Mrs. Peppers.

To the Editor of the Capitan Pappor.

I saw the article in yesterdays papper concerning the Tax Payer. We are one of them. Also concerning the schools I think it is a dirty shame that we are forced to pay such High Tax as well as School Tax, and there is no law to force the officers to keep it in the Treasury to pay our County expenses. I have children almost ready to pass the 8th grade and on account of the short term of schools it will throw them a year behind and not only my two, but every one elses two or three. We tax payers have paid untill we can't pay on account of the high cost of living and low prices for produce, and a waste of money among the office holders of Lincoln county I am interested very much in the schools for my own children's sake and others also. I would like for some one to answer me on this subject.

Why You May Need—

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

There are three main groups of prospective buyers of Chevrolet automobiles and commercial cars.

First, are all who know from comparisons or through the experiences of friends that Chevrolet provides the utmost dollar value in modern, economical transportation of people or merchandise.

Second, the large group of people with modest incomes who have the false impression that so good a car as Chevrolet is beyond their means.

They do not realize that due to engineering excellence and full modern equipment, Chevrolet operating and maintenance costs average so low that during the life of the car, it delivers modern, comfortable, fast transportation at the lowest cost per mile, including the purchase price.

Third, the smaller but very important group of car owners of ample means, only a small percentage of whom as yet realize that Chevrolet as an extra car virtually costs them nothing, due to the reduction in their transportation expenses effected by it.

We respectfully suggest consideration, investigation and comparison of Chevrolet with any other car at any price.

African Ruler Devises Language of His Own

A few years ago Njoya, king of Fogumban, in the Cameroons, became jealous of the particularly good set of secret languages of neighboring tribes, and invented from French, English and German words a code tongue of his own which is reserved for the exclusive use of the "cabinet" and upper administrative officials.

The interesting feature of this state language, which was discovered and studied by a Frenchman, Lieutenant Clopet, is that, instead of meaning their usual equivalent, the European words have entirely different code significations. "Le mission," for instance, means "to see," and "frâne" means "the king." "Ordinaire" means "we," "savant" means "an egg," "lomon" means "a hill," "left" means "which," and "English" means "a head."—Manchester Guardian.

Couldn't Say

"Astounding cheek, hasn't he?"

"Don't know, darling. Didn't dance with him."—Judge.

Not for the Occult

The lady had just lost her husband and had gone to a summer hotel to rest. She often dreamed of her husband and she would sometimes get up in the middle of the night to see if he wasn't walking about. Any little disturbance caused her to be frightened. One night mysterious raps were heard on the walls of the summer hotel.

"Great goodness," cried the frightened woman in room 13. "I wonder if that could be my departed husband?"

"No," growled the man in room 14, "it's the people on the other floors killing mosquitoes with their slippers."—Kansas City Star.

Scent in Gems

The perfume of precious stones was discussed in a lecture in Genoa recently, says the New York World, by the French jewel expert De Honestier. Some stones, such as the emerald, he said, give a subtle, pleasant scent when reduced to powder, while others, among them diamonds, have a disagreeable odor.

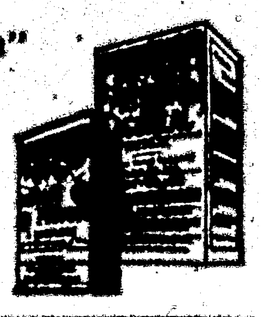
"I'll Take a Chance!"

THE thought that goes with the cup of coffee at the evening meal is a disturbing one. "It may keep me awake tonight!"

The something [caffeine] in coffee that keeps so many folks awake nights, is entirely absent in Postum—the delicious, pure cereal beverage. The difference means a full night's rest and a bright tomorrow.

Postum for Health

"There's a Reason"



Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in the jar), prepared quickly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in pkg. form) for those who prefer the flavor brought out by boiling fifty minutes or more. The cost of either form is about one-half cent a cup.

FUND FOR FOREST ROADS AND TRAILS IS APPORTIONED

Washington, D. C.—Twenty-eight states in which national forests are located wholly or in part will share in the distribution during the current fiscal year of the $1,000,000 fund appropriated by Congress annually for the construction of roads and trails within the national forests in co-operation with local authorities, according to a statement issued by District Forester Allen S. Peck of the Rocky Mountain district. The apportionment was recently approved by the chief of the forest service and the secretary of agriculture and will extend to Alaska and Porto Rico, which will also share in the distribution of this fund commonly known as the section 8 fund.

Last year twenty-seven states shared in the federal moneys, Pennsylvania having been added to this year's list following the establishment of the Allegheny National forest in that state. This particular fund is expended only under co-operative agreements with states and local authorities and should not be confused with other road-building funds expended upon roads and trails within the national forests.

Following are the states and the amounts each will receive: Arizona, $54,209; Arkansas, $9,782; California, $120,622; Colorado, $97,537; Idaho, $114,704; Montana, $64,659; Nevada, $17,164; New Mexico, $37,945; Oregon, $120,630; South Dakota, $7,423; Utah, $63,819; Washington, $83,744; Wyoming, $43,201. Alaska receives $40,010.

Florida, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Porto Rico will together share in $10,030. Alabama, Georgia, Maine, New Hampshire, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia will together share in $23,507. The sum of $100,000 is reserved for administrative and equipment expenditures and special contingencies.

Duroc Futurity Year to Outsiders

Pueblo.—Manager J. L. Beaman of the Colorado State Fair and the National Duroc Association, which each year has furnished half the funds for the Duroc futurity class at the State Fair, have made arrangements to throw the event open to breeders throughout the United States. In the past the Duroc futurity has been limited to Colorado breeders alone, causing difficulty in filling the class. Before deciding to throw the event open, Mr. Beaman issued questionnaires to breeders in the state.

Arrested on Mann Act Charge

New York.—Claude Hoxie, former city clerk of Omaha, Neb., and Denver detective, was arrested as he came off the Cunard liner Percugaria on a Kansas City warrant charging violation of the Mann act. Department of Justice agents who made the arrest declared the third marriage took place before the expiration of the legal interval after his divorce from the second wife.

Bond Duplication Denied

Washington.—Charges brought by Charles B. Brewer, Department of Justice attorney, of bond duplication in the bureau of engraving were answered "once for all" by Secretary Mellon, who in a letter to the President asserted the accusations were unfounded and with the integrity of the public debt undisturbed. The letter to the chief executive was "a clear statement of facts," and the secretary said that any public uneasiness may be dissipated.

One Thing He Knew

Jones was late again as usual. When he strolled coolly into the office at 10:30 the "boss" was storming up and down.

"Do you know what time we begin work here?" he asked the late arrival with deep sarcasm.

"No, sir. I can't say I do, exactly," he replied, "but they're always at it when I get here."—Des Moines Register.

School Laws in Switzerland

In Switzerland if a child does not attend school on a particular day the parent gets notice from the public authority that he is fined so many francs; the second day the fine is increased, and by the third day the amount becomes a serious sum. In case of sickness the pupil is excused, but if there is any suspicion of shirking a doctor is sent to the house.

A High Style

The ready wit of Henry Erskine, at one time lord advocate of England, has been preserved in many laughable stories. Mr. Walter Jerrold in "A Book of Famous Wits" records several of his amusing sallies. One day Erskine met a verbose friend and, perceiving that his ankle was tied up with a silk handkerchief, asked what had happened.

"Why, my dear sir," came the answer, "I was taking a romantic ramble in my brother's grounds when, coming to a gate, I had to climb over it, by which I came in contact with the first bar, and have grazed the epidermis on my skin, attended with a slight extravasation of blood."

"You may thank your lucky stars," said Erskine, "that your brother's gate was not so lofty as your style, or you must have broken your neck!"—Youth's Companion.

"Dark" Stars

The United States naval observatory says: "A dark star is an invisible or very feebly luminous star. As it is impossible to estimate the proportion of stars that are 'dark,' it is conceivable that these may greatly outnumber the visible ones.
