KILLED IN THE YARDS.

A frightful accident happened in the railroad yards here Monday afternoon during a violent sand storm, in which Chas. L. Fite was instantly killed by the switch engine and three cars passing over him. It appears that an order had been issued to get the wrecking car and a crew ready to proceed to Ancho, where a wreck had occurred some hours previously, to assist in clearing the track. The deceased man was one of those ordered out, and was hurrying across the tracks to get a lunch to take with him when he met his death. The engine after passing the switch backed on to another track, which he was in the act of crossing. The wind was blowing a gale which seemingly prevented him from hearing or seeing the approaching engine. He was knocked down by the engine and dragged several car lengths.

One leg and arm were terribly crushed and the head and face were mutilated beyond recognition. When picked up he was dead. The remains were taken to the Spence furniture store, and an inquest held the same evening.

A jury was summoned, who, after viewing the body and examining witnesses, rendered the following verdict:

"We, the undersigned justice of the peace and jury who sat upon the inquest held this 8th day of February, 1909, on the body of Chas. Fite, found in precinct 14 of the county of Lincoln, Territory of New Mexico, find that the deceased came to his death by reason of being run over by a switch engine while crossing the track, said engine being operated by G. L. Boyd, on Feb. 8, at about 3.45 p.m.

Witness our hands this 8th day of February, 1909.

S. W. Perry; justice of peace;
M. G. Paden, J. H. Skinner,
George Spence, Clay Van
Schoyck, John Adams, C.
Spence."

The deceased had been several years in the employ of the company at this point, having come here from Alamogordo, when the division was changed. He leaves a wife and two children, the youngest being only three or four weeks old. The funeral took place Wednesday from the Spence Undertaking Parlors and was largely attended. Much sympathy is felt for the widow and orphans, in their loss of husband and father.

HALF MILLION DOLLAR SCHOOL BOND ISSUE

One of the most important measures ever enacted by a New Mexico legislature and a measure that is most likely to be most far-reaching in its effects upon the development of the territory, was enacted Tuesday when both houses made a special order of the bill to issue $500,000 in school bonds for the support and upbuilding of the common schools of the territory.

Both houses considered the bill in committee of the whole, the house in the morning, where it passed by unanimous vote, and the council in the afternoon, where there was one vote against this measure, and this one cast by Senator Hewitt, of Lincoln County, was not because of opposition to the bond issue, but because he objected to its passage without further time for its consideration. The reason for putting the bill through the legislature had practically unanimous approval and was because it was desired to get the bill before congress as quickly as possible in order that it may be approved at the present session.

The presence of Governor Curry and a number of other New Mexicans at Washington now and the fact that they desire to return home in a few days, made it necessary to pass the bill without any delay, in order that they might be able to present to congress the reasons for its approval.

GOVERNOR REFUSES REQUISITION FOR MULLEN.

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 8.—It is now up to Iowa to make a showing that J. W. Mullen of Alamogordo is a fugitive from justice and is guilty of violating the laws of that state. Governor Curry has refused to grant the requisition for Mullen and sustained the contention of Attorney J. E. Wharton to the effect that Iowa has not shown that Mullen is a fugitive or that he has committed any crime in the state of Iowa. The governor has admitted him to bail in the sum of $1,000 which was furnished at once and Mr. Mullen and his lawyer left here for Alamogordo.

Both Mullen and his attorney are not inclined to talk at length about the case, but both charge that it has been an effort to get Mullen out of New Mexico and into trouble while certain suits affecting the Sacramento Valley Irrigation company, in which he is interested are being tried in this territory. Mr. Wharton is confident that his client will not be taken back to Iowa, as he has been granted the right to respond to any showing which the state of Iowa may make in the case.

A WRECK NEAR ANCHO.

A southbound freight was wrecked about three miles north of Ancho, Monday afternoon about three o'clock, the engine and fourteen cars being ditched.

Engineer Cook and his fireman remained at their posts till the last moment and escaped from the wreck uninjured, but brakeman Hoffman sustained a fracture of the hip.

The train consisted of about forty heavy loads of coal and coke, and was in charge of Conductor Manny.

The section gang, in the course of making some repairs, had removed two rails and stationed a flagman to stop any approaching train, and it is believed that it was owing to the negligence of the flagman that the train was ditched. The train was traveling slowly at the time which probably averted a more disastrous wreck. A curve in the road prevented the train crew from seeing the danger until it was too late to stop the train, and the only thing left for the engineer and fireman to do was to reverse the engine and depend upon it to keep right side up.

The officials at the front were notified and a wrecking crew hurried to the wreck, but all traffic was delayed for several hours.

W. J. Doering was in White Oaks this week installing a lighting plant in the S. C. Wiener Mercantile store. The store presents an attractive appearance in the evenings since the new lights were put in, and the satisfied expression on the face of its good looking proprietor indicates that he is as proud of the new lighting apparatus as he is of his pet Reo.

A MINER'S OPINION OF THE NEW CAMP OF SYLVANITE.

A. H. Norton of Jicarilla returned Saturday from a two-weeks trip to the much-advertised camp of Sylvanite. Norton is a practical miner and prospector, and knows a lode, lead, ledge or mineral deposit when he sees one, and although he traversed the camp from one end to the other he claims he failed to see anything worth looking at. However considerable work is going on, and new comers are arriving daily. Every foot of ground is staked within a radius of twenty miles. He did not wish to be understood as saying there was no gold there, as there may be, but as far as he could see it yet remains to be found. Water has to be carried ten miles on burros, and sells at fifty cents a bucket, and everything else in proportion. During his two weeks absence he traveled close to a thousand miles, visited several other mining camps, but nowhere saw better indications for gold mining than may be seen in this county.

Carrizozo News

CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO.

"Women should wear what they like," says a famous sociologist. They usually do, my dear, they usually do.

Germany has not said much about it, but last year she paid $30,000,000 to invalid workmen in the way of old-age pensions.

A New York athlete wants $20,000 damages from the girl who flitted him. This shows that no matter how strong a man may be, a girl can usually throw him.

Women in New York have formed an aero club. It is useless for the men to think that the women will be satisfied even when the men get off the surface of the earth.

Mr. Edison thinks the present type of aeroplane will not be the flying machine of the future. At the proper time Mr. Edison will drop a few guarded hints as to the future airship.

A judge in Indiana has decided that the letters "O. K." mean "All right." But think of the darkness which must becloud the Indiana mind when such a question has to be taken to court.

A crabbed old bachelor rushes into print to say that his idea of bravery is a Mormon. What that chap really needs is a wife who would wake him every morning by cracking a milk bottle over his head.

Clementine Roher, aged 16, threw herself into the Seine, opposite the Palais Bourbon, in Paris. Before assistance could be given she had regained the bank and informed the terrified spectators that she was rehearsing for suicide, as she proposed to take her life by drowning. She was arrested.

George Presbury Rowell of New York, prominent for many years in the newspaper advertising business, died a few days ago. He began the publication of the American Newspaper Directory in 1860. This publication made accessible for the first time to every one a complete list of newspapers. In 1888 he established Printer's Ink, a weekly publication.

Western newspapers, which already are ably conducted, are to be still better in the future, if the colleges can bring it about. Indiana university offers four courses in Journalism this year, and similar courses are arranged, or will soon be provided for, in the universities of Wisconsin, Illinois, Kansas, Nebraska, Washington and Missouri.

Here are some figures from a lumber camp up in Greenwood which gives an idea as to the appetite of husky woodsmen: There are 35 men in this crew, and the cook reports that he makes each day 300 large biscuits, 150 doughnuts, 36 pies, bakes six quarts of dry beans, with potatoes, vegetables, etc., in proportion. A large beef is eaten every five days.

Some English surgeons have received permission from the Egyptian government to make investigations among the mummies and other things in the Cairo museums in order that something may be learned of the almost prehistoric surgery. It is known that the early Egyptians were adepts in performing certain operations which are even now considered difficult.

The Boston Globe recently called attention to a family which will cast 37 votes for Mr. Bryan this fall. That record is eclipsed, however, by the discovery of the Potts family of Mishawaka, Ind., which will contribute 39 votes to Mr. Taft. The head of the Potts family evidently was a disciple of at least one of Mr. Roosevelt's policies before Mr. Roosevelt was ever heard of.

FOR COFFEE THAT IS GOOD.

Beverage Easy to Prepare if Directions Are Followed.

The secret of good coffee is an immaculately clean coffee pot, fresh boiling water and good material. It is better to pay a little more for your coffee and use less in quantity than would be necessary in the cheaper grades. The coffee pot should be thoroughly washed and scalded after every meal and coffee never allowed to stand in it. If it gets discolored, put a little baking soda in it once a week or so, fill with cold water and let it come to the boiling point. Take care that the spout and strainer are perfectly cleaned. Rinse and dry thoroughly. Unlike most cooking utensils which do better work when their newness has worn off, a coffee pot is better when new, whether made of tin, granite ware, nickel or aluminum. Many good housekeepers advocate frequent renewals from the ten-cent store, discarding the old coffee pots as soon as they become discolored and strong. These are better in the end than the most expensive coffee percolator that is not kept immaculate. The time-honored rule for making coffee is a tablespoonful for each person and one for the pot. Put the coffee in the clean pot, pour in a few spoonfuls of cold water to wet it, add a clean, freshly-broken egg shell if you have it, or a teaspoonful of the white of egg, pour on the boiling water and let it just come to the boil. Take away from the fire, give a second shake or stir the grounds down, then replace and let it come again just to the boil. Do this three times in succession, then push back on the stove to settle and clear. Some persons prefer to make the coffee by the cold water method. In this case cover the coffee with the required amount of cold water, allow it to reach the boiling point, then proceed as before. The coffee must not be allowed to boil hard, but merely reach the boiling point each time. If not perfectly clear when ready to serve, pour in a tablespoonful of cold water.

Apple Bread.

Make up two quarts of dough as if for rucks; when it is light roll out a cake of it, half an inch thick; spread stewed apples over it and over that another cake rolled like the first; put in a pan to lighten for a short time; bake it; have some thin slices of stewed apples, tender, when the cake is baked; lay these apples all over the top, sprinkle them well with sugar, some small bits of butter, and either cinnamon or nutmeg; put it back in the oven long enough for the sugar to form a coating on the top; take it out, and when cold slice it up. This is an excellent bread for tea.

Chocolate Walnuts.

One cup sugar, two squares chocolate (melted), two eggs (beat white and yolks separately), one cup milk (sweet or sour), four cups flour, one teaspoon soda (level), one teaspoon vanilla extract, one cup walnuts (broken, but not too fine), one pinch salt. Mix in order given above. Roll out into quarter-inch thickness and cut with small round cutter (top of a salt shaker may be used); fry in deep fat a number at a time, and as soon as they rise to the top stir with long fork so that they will cook evenly. When cool roll in powdered sugar.

Rice and Apple Pudding.

One cup of rice, boiled in enough water to leave it moist. When done add pinch of salt and a heaping tablespoonful of butter. Put in baking dish layer of rice, then layer of tart cooking apples, sugar and a little nutmeg; then layer of rice and so on until dish is full, the last layer being of apples. Bake till apples are cooked. Serve with cream or the following sauce:

One tablespoonful cornstarch, one cup sugar, one heaping tablespoonful of butter and one pint of boiling milk or water; cook till slightly thickened; flavor with nutmeg.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

MATTERS OF MORE OR LESS IMPORTANCE IN THE HOME.

Simple Device to Keep the Portieres from Flying Open—Removing Spots from Tablecloth—Use for Old Towels.

Portiere Fasteners.—Many times it is advisable to close the portieres, either to keep the dust in or the chill out. Yet when touched by the slightest draft near the fire they will persist in flying open. Near the edge sew two or three small socket snaps.

They will never be seen and will hold the two lengths of curtains securely together.

Tablecloths.—A novel and sensible way of removing a few spots from an otherwise acceptable tablecloth is to slip underneath the cloth before removing it from the table a small sized bowl, and with a small pitcher of boiling water and a clean spoon pour the water on the cloth, letting it fall into the bowl held under, and with a little swishing of the spoon take out the spot. By carefully removing the cloth and hanging it on the line until dry it is again ready for further use and is freed from spots.

Old Turkish Towels.—Many object to the economy of cutting up the better portions of old Turkish towels for wash-rags, on the ground that the hem is cumbersome. Without a hem they ravel and the threads get down the waste pipe. A satisfactory way is to buttonhole stitch the edge with white darning cotton that sinks into the mesh and holds in the threads. The stitches may be a quarter of an inch apart and taken in deep from the edge. Thus employment can be furnished for the youngest member of the family.

Mending China.—One woman's way is to powder a small quantity of lime and, after adding the white of an egg, mix into a paste. Apply it quickly to the china to be mended and hold or tie the broken pieces firmly for a few minutes, so they may become set. China mended in this way will rarely break again in the same place.

Prunes.—One mother keeps on the sideboard an attractive glass dish filled with the best quantity of prunes steamed and then allowed to dry. Beside the dish is a little glass filled with toothpicks, and the children are thus provided with the very best article of food for between-meal nibbling. Even those who profess to dislike the much-abused prunes cannot resist the temptation to eat them.

New Dish Pan.—A brown napier-mache tub of small size is found by many to be far preferable to use as a dish pan than the ordinary tin or agate ware, for the reason that with its use delicate glasses and china are less likely to be broken.

A Dainty Pudding.

On a day when fresh fruit is not easily obtained, the following pudding is a welcome dessert: To two well-beaten eggs, add two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one tablespoonful of baking powder, a heaping cupful of flour and one-half cupful of raisins chopped very fine. Steam this for three-quarters of an hour and serve it hot with a sauce made as follows: After thoroughly beating the whites of two eggs, cream a cupful of sugar and one-half cupful of butter; beat this in slowly and flavor with vanilla.

When Boiling Puddings.

Place a small plate at the bottom of the sauce pan and when you put in the pudding to boil take care that it is on the plate. If the water should boil away no harm will be done. This pudding will turn out without sticking to the cloth.

BED-BOUND FOR MONTHS.

Hope Abandoned After Physician's Consultation.

Mrs. Enos Shearer, Yew and Washington Sts., Centraalia, Wash., says:

"For years I was weak and run down, could not sleep, my limbs swelled and the secretions were troublesome; pains were intense. I was fast in bed for four months. Three doctors said there was no cure for me and I was given up to die. Being urged, I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Soon I was better and in a few weeks was about the house, well and strong again."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

TRUET

WOMAN'S REALM

SOME SHOE STYLES

PLAIN LEATHER AND CLOTH BOTH BEING WORN.

Women Have a Great Variety to Choose From This Season—Dainty Pieces of Footgear Replace Mannish Styles.

The plain leather shoe will continue to be in good style, but its successful rival is the cloth shoe with the curved patent leather vamp and heelpiece.

It is most becoming to the foot and is a return to an old style when women insisted upon footgear that made their feet look dainty and small. Recently women have not cared whether their shoes wore No. 4 or No. 6, as it was not fashionable to have them small. The few women who continued to wear French kid and high heels to show off their feet were looked upon as quaintly vain.

But we are coming back to all these old-fashioned vanities this season. False hair, cosmetics, very white hands, slim figures are all symbols of a revolution in the minds of women about what they consider pretty.

The athletic type has made place for the French type, or what has always been known as the old-fashioned kind of woman. While she is still to be mannish in her short skirts, cut-away coats, plaited shirt waists, link buttons and leather belts, she is going to be very womanish about the size of her hands and feet, her white skin and the curl of her hair.

Bootmakers, seeing the signs of the times, have departed quite a bit from the broad-voled, heavy leather shoe and are showing all manner of dainty pieces of footgear to make a woman's foot look smaller than it is.

Among these is the smart boot with soft patent leather vamps, slightly pointed, with heel pieces to match. Both of these curve in and vanish under the instep instead of going in a straight line from toe to heel. The latter always lengthens the size of a foot and the former shortens and curves it.

CIRCLES ABOUT THE EYES.

Rest and Attention to General Health is Necessary.

Many people, brunettes especially, are troubled with dark circles under the eyes. Generally these circles occur as the result of overfatigue or some internal disorder. Those who are troubled in this way should avoid excesses of all kinds. Often the liver is at fault. A dose of Rochelle salts or Karlsbad salts, a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, will be beneficial to the general health, besides doing away with the dark circles.

Massage will give tone to the skin. Slightly smooth the skin, while exerting gentle pressure with the forefinger and middle finger of each hand applied to the corresponding eye. Also rub with a circular movement the wrinkles and crows' feet that come at the corner of the eyes. A few of these movements night and morning, when the face is being washed, will greatly help such conditions.

One Sash for Many Frocks.

You will not be in it if you do not wear a sash this winter. They have hit the public in full force and are to be seen on street suits as well as on ball gowns.

The economical girl cannot afford to own a sash for every frock, so she chooses one in black or white satin that will do duty on several occasions.

To get the best results with this she makes it up on a boned foundation; otherwise, it will soon become stringy. Besides making the foundation a good fit with leatherbone it is well supplied with hooks and eyes.

The outer part is then adjusted firmly, but so loosely as not to have a stiff, ready-tied look.

Queer Things in Clothes.

Skirts cut to instep in front with trains at back.

Coats longer in back than front. Entirely different sleeves in one gown.

Tucks running six ways on one frock.

Skimpos entirely one-sided and made of three materials.

BECOMING COIFFURE.

A becoming coiffure, seen at the theater of fine jet, with two choux of jet and black plaited tulle.

To Embroider Gowns.

Handworked gowns are within the means of women who know how to do some of the fashionable quick embroidery which embellishes many of the most expensive of the thinner costumes. A black chiffon cloth gown which looked like an expensive model had large water lilies decorating the bottom in a band almost 18 inches in width. The flowers were worked with rather heavy black silk, and occasionally there was a thread of silver. Another effective pattern, and one that is easy to do, is a row of disks about two inches across. A single or a double row of these used as a border on a net gown will be found unusually attractive.

Seam Down Front.

Most of the new skirts have a seam down the front. This is on the bias and it makes the skirt fit better. The fullness is pushed toward the front instead of the back. The seam is untrimmed, unless one wishes to add satin buttons.

IT DID.

Mr. Holesale—So old Pepperpot had a kick coming on that last bill of goods, eh? Wouldn't that make you sore?

Mr. Litewale (the salesman)—It did me, sir. He kicked me out.

Uncle Ben Liked Her.

A Kansas City girl recently married a man who lives in one of the smaller near-by towns, and went there with him to live. The bridegroom was naturally eager that his relatives should like his bride and as one, an old farmer, voiced no complimentary opinion in his hearing he at last asked:

"Uncle Ben, what do you think of my wife?"

"Wal, for a fact, George," responded the old fellow, "you shore outmarried yourself."—Kansas City Times.

A Riddle.

An English paper recently asked its readers for an answer to the following riddle:

What does a man love more than life, Hate more than death or mortal strife;

That which contented men desire, The poor have, and the rich require; A miser spends, the spendthrift saves, And all men carry to their graves?

All sorts of answers were sent in, but the correct one was declared to be "Nothing."

Hadherway.

The oddest named country home is in Jackson county, according to a Columbian who is a friend of the owner. The name as it appears at the front gate is "Hadherway," and never fails to attract attention from passersby. For years the wife wanted to leave Kansas City and go to a farm. When the family finally moved they named the home "Hadherway."—Columbia Herald.

UPWARD START

After Changing from Coffee to Postum.

Many a talented person is kept back because of the interference of coffee with the nourishment of the body.

This is especially so with those whose nerves are very sensitive, as is often the case with talented persons. There is a simple, easy way to get rid of coffee evils and a Tenn. lady's experience along these lines is worth considering. She says:

"Almost from the beginning of the use of coffee it hurt my stomach. By the time I was fifteen I was almost a nervous wreck, nerves all unstrung; no strength to endure the most trivial thing, either work or fun.

"There was scarcely anything I could eat that would agree with me. The little I did eat seemed to give me more trouble than it was worth. I finally quit coffee and drank hot water, but there was so little food I could digest, I was literally starving; was so weak I could not sit-up long at a time.

"It was then a friend brought me a hot cup of Postum. I drank part of it and after an hour I felt as though I had had something to eat—felt strengthened. That was about five years ago, and after continuing Postum in place of coffee and gradually getting stronger, to-day I can eat and digest anything I want, walk as much as I want. My nerves are steady.

"I believe the first thing that did me any good and gave me an upward start, was Postum, and I use it altogether now instead of coffee." "There's a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkg.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

During the Honeymoon.

She looked at him appealingly. "You don't love me any more," she pouted.

"Don't love you any more!" he echoed in astonishment. "Why, only a minute ago I kissed you I don't know how many times."

"But you stopped to take breath," she demurred.—Young's Magazine.

Secrets of Trade.

"A hammock large enough for two?" echoed the dealer. "Do you want it with or without?"

"With or without what?" asked the girl.

"Crowding," replied the dealer, smiling at her ignorance.

Then she gave her order in a whisper.—Philadelphia Ledger.

In a Receptive Mood.

"Do you accept articles here?" asked the caller with the long hair as he entered the country newspaper office.

"Sure thing!" replied the whitened editor. "What ye got—kindling wood or vegetables?"—Yonkers Statesman.

The Last Thing He Did.

The Powder Manufacturer—"Fancy old Bill, of all people, going into the gunpowder shed with a lighted candle. I should have thought that that would be the last thing he'd do."

The Workman—"Which, properly speakin', it were, sir."—The Sketch.

The Constant Sex.

Ted—What's that high-slow name you have in your note book?

Ned—For the life of me I can't recollect whether it's the name of a girl I was engaged to last summer or that of the Pullman car I rode in.

Whiskey straight makes a man crooked.

HARD ON THE TOPERS.

Among the house bills introduced in the territorial legislature this week is a bill to license drinkers of intoxicating liquors. The bill provides that each man who desires to drink intoxicating liquors must pay $5 for a license, the money to go in the school fund for indigent pupils. The license must contain full description of the person to whom issued such as color of eyes and hair, height, age, etc., must appear on the back thereof and no license will be transferable. The saloon-keeper is required to use due diligence in finding out that the holder of the license is the right party and if any liquor dealer sells liquor to any person without a license he is liable to a fine for each and every offense ranging from $5 to $50 or must serve a jail sentence if such fine is not paid. The bill is now in the hands of the committee on education for consideration.

One hundred years ago today Abraham Lincoln saw the light of day in a little log cabin in Kentucky. He, in early childhood, was taken to Indiana by his parents, and later went to Illinois, in which state he gained a national reputation in his contest with Douglas for the United States senatorship in a series of joint debates being the first of that character in our history. Defeat was his portion, but it brought him the nomination and election to the presidency in 1860. During his incumbency negro slavery was abolished and the secession of the southern states, by the most stupendous war in the annals of any country, prevailed. The south, therefore, claims the honor of his birth, the north his achievements and, since the passions of war have subsided, the entire country unites in paying homage to his memory. Born in poverty and obscurity, he lived to serve the people in the highest and most dignified position within their power to give, and died by the hand of an assassin, at the crowning moment of his career, a week after the cessation of hostilities between the Union and Confederate armies.

HOME.

Home is the greatest school of life. Few can receive the honors of a college education, but all are graduates of home. The learning of the university may fade, its knowledge may moulder in the halls of memory, but the simple lessons of home impressed upon the hearts of childhood, defy the rust of years and outline the vivid picture of life. "Mid pleasures and palaces we may roam. Be it ever so humble, there is no place like home."

If there is heroism in the field there is equal heroism in many a home which the world knows nothing about, which only angels see: There are fathers who grandly struggle against the tides of fate, and never lose the secret of their despair whose young dreams have all faded, but who patiently bear their allotted burden with what tries to be resignation. There are noble women whose domestic afflictions would crush them if they were not heroines, who silently suffer and make the most of their disappointed years. They sing in the minor, but still they sing, so the world thinks them happy when they are only brave.

There are men whose nightly return to their homes always means needless misery to their households. They find fault with their dinners, with their household bills, with the children and with everything else. They make sarcastic remarks that burn and scarify the sensitive souls of their wives. They carry home the worries of business. They "take it out" of their families for everything that has gone wrong in the day's work, and some are cowards enough to revenge upon the innocent and helpless those wrongs and affronts which they have not had courage enough to resist and resent upon the offender.

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can help it, Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have suffered with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it. Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia.

Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it.

Ordinary peptic "dyspepsia tablets," physics, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Peptic is only a partial digester—and physics are not digesters at all. Kodol is a perfect digester. If you could see Kodol digesting every particle of food, of all kinds, in the glass test-tubes in our laboratories, you would know this just as well as we do.

Nature and Kodol will always cure a sick stomach—but in order to be cured, the stomach must rest. That is what Kodol does—rests the stomach, while the stomach gets well. Just as simple as A, B, C.

Fire destroyed a large amount of lumber in the yards of the saw mill company at Alamogordo Tuesday. About one hundred and fifty thousand feet of lumber was consumed.

Arthur C. Ringland, district forester in charge of the third district, with headquarters at Albuquerque, was in Carrizozo Sunday. He went to Capitan the following day to consult with the officials in charge of the Lincoln National Forest, and before returning will visit the Mescalero Reservation, which the government will likely turn over to the department of forestry. Mr. R. spent the years 1905 and 1906 at Capitan and is well known throughout this county.

WOMAN RUNS RANCH

MRS. R. GRUMBLES IS NEW MEXICO CATTLE QUEEN.

Widow with Seven Children Successfully Manages Large Place—An Expert with the Lariat and Branding Iron.

Memphis, Tenn.—Mrs. R. Grumbles of Carrizozo, N. M., is a resourceful little woman, a good mother, an immaculate housekeeper, a business woman, a ranch owner and "the cattle on a thousand hills" bear her mark and brand. Her ranch home is five miles north of the town. It is a beautiful little home in the valley, nestled at the foot of the mountains, where the odor of the cedar floats through her cool rooms, lending additional restfulness to the place. Virginia creepers and bitter sweet vines shade the gallery and a sweet eglantine brier grows close to the door. Other roses thrive and the "salt cedar" waves its long plumes of pink flowers gracefully to the mountain breeze.

Mrs. Grumbles went to New Mexico 20 years ago with her husband, and 17 of those years have been spent at her Carrizozo ranch. She was left a widow 13 years ago, with seven children, five daughters and two sons. The youngest daughter is now 13 years old—a typical western girl. She goes with her brothers to drive the cattle sometimes and on these occasions wears a khaki-colored divided skirt with tan stockings and russet shoes, a comfortable blouse and a sun bonnet. She can ride like a fairy and her rosy cheeks and blue eyes are witching in the extreme.

The day it was the writer's pleasure to visit there she was seated demurely embroidering a center-piece. The walls of the home are hung with pictures. There is an organ, a graphophone and other musical instruments and Indian relics gathered from the mountains and from the ruins of ancient dwellings.

Would we stay for dinner? Of course we would. The long table was draped in white and was laden with a wealth of good things. There was a nice roast of home-killed beef, potatoes and sweet corn, and for dessert the most luscious peach preserves and cake. Then there was the good, sweet butter and milk.

Mrs. Grumbles finds good sale for her butter and keeps a large pen full of cows in the pasture nearby for their milk. Once a week she has a beef butchered and sells it in town.

Mrs. Grumbley attends to all the business of the ranch, even to the most minute details, and she has all well in hand. Difficulties she encounters not a few, and her share of care and sorrow, but with it all she is calm and serene, doing her duty under all circumstances. She is a fine marksman, and when in the season she can bring down a fine deer or bag a fine fat turkey before breakfast. There is not a cowboy on the plains that can excel her in throwing the lariat, and when she has to she can mark and brand the calves with a deftness that would put many a young lubber to shame. It is not often, though, that she has to lend a hand in this way, but in the cattle business, as in every other business, there come times when it is a necessity to do these things.

NEW PROFESSION FOR WOMEN.

Bill Posters of Paris in Skirts Attract Attention.

Paris.—Not many days ago the French woman made her latest and most sensational invasion into domains of masculine activities. She appeared on the boulevards dressed in a coarse linen blouse with glue pot slung over one shoulder and a canvas bag full of hand bills strapped to her waist—in brief, she made her debut as a professional bill poster.

When the crowd of curiosity seekers and idlers thinned around the pioneer "colleuse d'affiches," she deigned to turn an attentive ear to the group of obsequious Parisian reporters around her.

"But, messieurs, you are keeping me from my work," she exclaimed. "If you want to hear me talk, you must hold the glue pot for me and hand me these," she unstrapped her pack and pointed to the many-hued posters within. "Ah, messieurs," she went on "you may laugh, but I shan't tell you why I became first 'colleuse' for nothing.

"Let me say first that I am well pleased with my new profession—easy work, life in the open air—and the public seems to appreciate my talents as much as if I were the favorite too dancer of the Folies Bergere. I can't complain of an uneventful career. Best of all, the field isn't overcrowded—at least not yet. There is no tiresome red tape to go through with before you are given the right to draw one dollar for your services.

"You may well believe that when I mention red tape I know what I am talking about. Once it was the dream of my life to work in the post office. But after I had pored many months over geographies, histories and spelling books, I failed on my examination. Then I tried for the telephone service, thinking how happy I should be with my $1.60 a day and a secure pension ahead. I passed, but when I went up for my place I was told that I was one centimeter under regulation height. Then I was indeed in despair. When I saw "Wanted—Woman bill poster" in the paper I lost no time in presenting myself. I am well pleased, but the 'patron' wouldn't be if he caught me frivolling my time like this. Au revoir, messieurs." And she gathered together her bills and marched off with her ladder.

It is hard work, but Mary says she "loves" it and that she believes it has benefited her health greatly.

SEVERE HEMORRHOIDS

Sores, and Itching Eczema—Doctor Thought an Operation Necessary—Cutticura's Efficacy Proven.

"I am now 80 years old, and three years ago I was taken with an attack of piles (hemorrhoids), bleeding and protruding. The doctor said the only help for me was to go to a hospital and be operated on. I tried several remedies for months but did not get much help. During this time sores appeared which changed to a terrible itching eczema. Then I began to use Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, injecting a quantity of Cuticura Ointment with a Cuticura Suppository Syringe. It took a month of this treatment to get me in a fairly healthy state and then I treated myself once a day for three months and, after that, once or twice a week. The treatments I tried took a lot of money, and it is fortunate that I used Cuticura. J. H. Henderson, Hopkinton, N. Y., Apr. 26, 1907."

TALK OF NEW YORK

Gossip of People and Events Told in Interesting Manner.

Election Night a Wild One on Broadway

NEW YORK.—Never in history did Broadway, center of New York's celebrating crowds, hold such a mass of people as slowly moved up and down its sidewalks from early evening on election night until dawn the next day. Between the flatirons, from Madison square to Longacre square, the walks and the street itself were filled with a densely packed election throng. The police, who lined the curbs, worked the crowd into some sort of order. Those bound uptown were herded on the east side of the street, while the west side was reserved for those going in the opposite direction. Noise was the most prominent characteristic of the crowd, but this was almost equaled by the people's good nature. The carnival spirit was high. Men and women laughed when enormous tin horns were blown in their ears, when they were showered with confetti, when "lickers" were thrust into their faces, and even when hats were broken and plumes were torn off.

The greatest crowds gathered in front of the uptown newspaper offices, where bulletins of the election were flashed on gigantic screens. If there was any noise-making device that was not present on the street it was because enterprising fakery failed to know of it.

Tin horns, old-fashioned police rattles, shrill whistles, enormous cowbells, automobile horns, and 1,000 other ear-cracking inventions were on every hand, while the skies rained confetti.

Thousands of people visited the theaters, in practically all of which election returns, most of them invented for the occasion, were read between and during acts.

No New Ruler of Gotham Society Likely

IN social circles there is much discussion these days of the question of Mrs. Astor's successor as society's leader. Among the names mentioned are Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mrs. Clarence Mackay and Mrs. Ogden Goelet. All of these matrons are leaders of their especial coteries, and have taken prominent parts in social affairs here and abroad. There is a prevailing belief, however, that the "400" of old has ceased to exist as a unit, and that it will henceforth be in many divisions, with leaders for each.

Frederick Townsend Martin, successor to the late Ward McAllister as leader of New York society, said there will be no successor to Mrs. Astor.

"I do not think there will be a successor to Mrs. Astor as the ruler of New York society," he said. "Her illness was so protracted that for some years society has gone ahead without her. It is true her influence was very marked at all times, but she did not participate actively in affairs, and marked changes have occurred since her reign ceased to be absolute."

"Society is no longer a unit. When it was dominated by Mrs. Astor there was perfect unanimity and harmony. Now it is divided into many cliques, and I do not believe any one person will ever succeed in bringing these together again."

Mrs. Astor's townhouse at 824 Fifth avenue, has long been one of the more notable of the avenue's objects of interest to the sightseer visiting New York, and seeking out the abodes of the social mighty as feasts for the eyes. Her establishment, Beechwood, at Newport, has ever been the place of magnificent entertainments.

Heavy Exodus Makes Flat Rents Fall

RENTS of flats are falling. People did not rush back from their summer vacations to crowd into dingy homes as usual. Vacant flats are seen everywhere in the old centers. Prices are down ten per cent. in many sections.

Owners held their rentals firm this fall. Although their vacancies during the summer had been larger than in any other year, they thought that the rush back to town would fill their houses.

But the October moving day startled them. There was less moving than in any of the last five years. And persons who moved went away from the old districts, as a rule, to make their homes in new buildings such as those on Washington Heights.

Registration figures show that more than 100,000 persons have moved out of Manhattan during the past two years. Aside from this big shift, 50,000 more have moved into the Washington Heights districts.

Nor does the movement away from old crowded city home districts show the entire two-year loss in flat-house tenantry. Over 200,000 immigrants a year, or 400,000 for the past two years, would have sought homes in New York if conditions had been like those of the four preceding years. Most of them would have crowded into immigrant sections, thus causing an overflow that would have driven older residents from other neighborhoods.

But, instead of gaining 200,000 immigrants a year, New York has lost nearly 100,000 immigrants since the panic. They flocked home, carrying over $50,000,000 in savings.

From the immigrant movement alone New York has 300,000 less people than would have been here if conditions had been normal. Nearly all would have been crowded into the older tenement districts, for immigrants are clannish, and keep together in spite of the higher rents which they are forced to pay because they do not spread out. And the movement of older families away from congested centers, as is shown by the registrations of schools and voters, has taken another 100,000.

Like a Dream.

A bubble of air in the blood, a drop of water in the brain, and a man is out of gear, his machine falls to pieces, his thought vanishes, the world disappears from him like a dream at morning. On what a spider-thread is hung our individual existence. Fragility, appearance, nothingness. If it were not for our powers of self-detraction and forgetfulness, all the fairy world which surrounds and brands us would seem to us but a broken specter in the darkness—an empty appearance, a fleeting hallucination. Appeared—disappeared—there is the whole history of a man, or of a world, or of an infusoria.—Amiel.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

Mrs. Arthur R. House, of Church Road, Moorestown, N. J., writes:

"I feel it is my duty to let people know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female troubles, and last March my physician decided that an operation was necessary. My husband objected, and urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to-day I am well and strong."

CORONA NOTES.

School is running along nicely since the scarlet fever died out. The attendance at present is about seventy-five, and a good interest is manifested by all. If the students continue to fall in line as fast as they have for the last two weeks a third teacher will be necessary.

When Corona gets its new school building there will be plenty of room for all pupils. It will be one of the most commodious school buildings in the county.

Following are a few of the grades of the pupils at end of first term:

Algebra—L. Simpson and Hattie Brown, E; Lucy Beaty and Mae Brown, F; Florence Fort and Lottie Parker, G.

Spelling—Loe Simpson, Hattie Brown, Bessie Dishman, Etta Holcomb, Ollie Beaty, Martha Simpson, Mitchel Sloan, Bert Penix, Joe Holcomb, E; Florence Forte, Mae Clements, Lottie Parker, Lucy Beaty, Richard Suttmeier, Jonnie Potter, Elwood Bond, Ha Simpson, Emma Sultmeier, Dora Clements, and Lessie Haynes, G.

Flag Day will be celebrated by the pupils on the 12th. It will be the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln.

The railroad pipe line has just reached this place. There is a reservoir in connection which will hold an abundance of water.

Several mining companies have commenced work on their properties in the Gallina mountains, close by, and the indications are that Corona will be the center of the mining district. Preparations are underway for an ore-crushing mill at one of the mines, which means that a large force of men will be put to work. It is firmly believed by those best acquainted with geological formations that the Gallinas will prove to a rich mining belt when the necessary depth has been reached.

WHERE IS MY BOY TONIGHT?

Where is my boy tonight? You are his father or mother, and if you desire to lay your hands upon your boy within five minutes any night, you wouldn't know where to find him. He's in the street somewhere, or at the depot jumping on freight trains, but just where, with whom, in what engaged, what plotting or what executing for the shrewder ones who plot for him, you could not tell for the life of you. He has a good home and he ought to be there at night. He desires to be somewhere else with the boys, and you lack the moral courage to insist that he shall be where he should be. You hope that he will escape the pitfall, but you know the chances are against him. Why don't you do the boy the kindness to keep him home nights? The time will come when he will thank you for it or reproach you for not doing it.

The boy's friend,

P. C. BAIRD.
