The committee on resolutions presented the following, which was adopted:

We, the democrats of Lincoln county, in convention assembled, once more affirm our allegiance to the principles of the democratic party, and endorse the national and territorial platforms.

We are proud of our standard bearers, both national and territorial, and pledge our untiring support to our candidate for delegate to congress from now till the polls close on election day.

We favor a just, honest and economical administration of our county government, with equal rights for all and special privileges for none; and we pledge each and every candidate to work for the best interests of the whole people.

The committee on permanent organization and order of business recommended the following for permanent officers: John H. Haley, chairman; Wm. S. Bourne, secretary and Juan B. Blea, interpreter; and the nomination of a ticket beginning with commissioners and concluding with sheriff.

The report was adopted, and A. H. Hudspeth, Martin Chavez and R. J. Copeland were appointed to escort the permanent chairman to his station.

The name of Robert H. Taylor was presented for commissioner from district No. 2, and there being no other nominations, on motion his nomination was made by acclamation.

For commissioner in the third district the names of C. W. Wingfield and W. W. Slack were placed before the convention. The ballot resulted in Wingfield receiving 34 votes and Slack 18. Mr. Slack withdrew and Mr. Wingfield was nominated by acclamation.

The names of J. I. Tipton and B. Robinson were presented for surveyor. The first ballot gave Tipton 30 votes, Robinson 21. On the second ballot Tipton received 32 and Robinson 19. Mr. Robinson withdrew in favor of Tipton and the latter was declared the nominee of the convention.

For probate clerk the names of W. E. Kimbrell and Lawrence H. Dow were presented. A ballot was taken but before it was announced a motion prevailed to make Mr. Dow the unanimous choice of the convention for clerk.

Three names were placed before the convention for assessor, to-wit: T. J. Graton, John C. West and Porfirio Chavez. There being no choice on first ballot, the names of Graton and West were withdrawn and Chavez nominated by acclamation.

John A. Haley was nominated for superintendent of schools by acclamation.

John M. Penfield was declared the nominee for treasurer by acclamation.

The names of John Cole, John W. Owen and Emil Fritz were placed before the convention.

The first ballot resulted: Cole, 25; Owen, 16; Fritz, 10. Second ballot: Cole, 21; Owen, 18; Fritz, 10. Third ballot: Cole, 21; Owen, 19; Fritz, 10. John W. Owen then withdrew his name and the convention proceeded to take the fourth ballot, which resulted as follows: Cole, 17; Owen, 11; Fritz, 24. Fifth ballot, Cole, 26; Fritz, 24. Sixth ballot: Cole, 28; Fritz, 24. Seventh ballot, Cole 36; Fritz, 16. Cole having received two-thirds of all the votes cast, was declared the nominee for sheriff.

A committee of five, consisting of A. H. Norton, Scipio Salazar, Wayne Van Schoyck, Martin Chavez and A. J. Gilmore were appointed to present a list of five names to represent Lincoln county in the Eighteenth Legislative district and a like number for the Eleventh Councilmanic district. RISE OF A REPORTER

WADE H. ELLIS, ATTORNEY GENERAL OF OHIO.

Man Who Wrote Most of Republican Platform May Be Made Head of Government Law Department if Taft is Elected.

Washington.—Faring forth from his old Kentucky home a youth of the name of Wade H. Ellis appeared on the Cincinnati horizon in the early eighties. He soon engaged himself in chasing the elusive local item for a newspaper there. In the little journalistic world of that Ohio city they still tell what a hard time young Ellis had. He frequently found himself in the awful presence of the local editor, trying to explain how the item had eluded him.

Time passed and a few months ago Ellis, still comparatively a young man, began to loom on the horizon of Washington. If he had indifferent success in hunting news, he had done better in hunting the octopus. President Roosevelt wanted to know about him. Ellis came to Washington for a consultation at the White House about federal trust busting, and soon thereafter President Roosevelt and Presidential Candidate Taft were in need of an apostle of terse and pleasing sentences. Such a one could be utilized in national platform building.

Wade H. Ellis.

They sent for Ellis. They came, joined in the consultations, and hiked away to the sad sea waves of Virginia Beach. There he composed the more important portion of the platform. During a lull in the stressful days of the Chicago convention he confided to a friend that he wrote his best after a plunge into old ocean.

And now after his name has been much featured for a few weeks in the political headlines, the erstwhile Cincinnati reporter from Covington, Ky., is discussed as the attorney general for the next administration. It is even whispered that he may come into his own in advance of numerous Ohio faithfuls and may not have to wait for the new president to review the inaugural parade on Pennsylvania avenue. That is probably untrue. No one in Washington is ready to believe that Attorney General Bonaparte will relinquish an office of which he is very much enamored. But Ellis may be, some say will be, Bonaparte's successor.

In 1903, when he was near the end of six years' service as assistant corporation counsel of the Queen city, some one was wanted to draft the municipal code which the Buckeye legislature was to enact. Ellis, with his reputation for balancing words splendidly, was chosen. He did the work admirably. There were many personal liberty advocates in Cincinnati whom the Republicans did not want to offend, but the convictions of other populous classes of the community had to be considered. Ellis, holding the office that President Hayes had once held in Cincinnati, dressed the code up in the most attractive verbiage. He was widely applauded by the Republicans.

He left Cincinnati for a time, but returned and interested himself in politics. At first he was very independent. He did not like George Cox, the Cincinnati boss, who, according to the orthodox Republican idea in that town, can do no wrong. The while he dabbled in politics, however, Ellis got back into newspaper work. Clients were not coming to him in such numbers, bearing fat retainers, that he was unwilling to accept the editorship of the Cincinnati Tribune. He filled the editorial chair for two years—till 1897—when he was elected corporation counsel. Then he began to embark on a promising career. It was so successful in drafting the Cincinnati municipal code that the Republicans made him attorney general of the state in 1904 and he is still holding that job.

A CYCLONE FREAK.

Surprising Trick Played by a Twister in Nebraska.

New York City.—On June 4 last the inhabitants of Buffalo county, Nebraska, and particularly of the town of Kearney, were besieged by no less than seven tornadoes. We are indebted to Edward C. Bricker for the accompanying photograph of one of the curious effects produced by one of those, and for the following brief information, says Scientific American.

That a number of houses should have been wholly and in part destroyed is naturally to be expected of any cyclone that is at all violent. But that it should pick up a castor from a table, twist off the handle and drive the spindle through the branch of a walnut tree is surely no common occurrence. Mr. Bricker assures us that before the storm the castor found a place on the table of Mr. G. F. Franks, that it was intact with the bottles in their intended positions; yet after the tornado the base was found in a walnut tree limb, exactly as it is shown in the accompanying photograph. The wind had unscrewed the top and taken off the turntable. One of the bottles was found with twigs densely packed into its neck, without a leaf stripped. The bottle, however, was broken.

Ministers and Their People.

The old idea that a minister should occupy a place apart from his charge has in large measure given way to the sentiment of a "practical age" and the so-called institutional church of the cities is but one manifestation of this idea. In the city the method by which a minister may come most closely to his people is a complicated matter, for the people under his spiritual guidance are of many occupations and many activities. In the country the question is a more direct one. Here the congregation is of one mind, of one line of thought.—Boston Advertiser.

FROZEN TEA NEW DAINTY.

introduced at Washington by Wife of Chinese Minister.

Frozen tea is among the delicacies of the season, and is regarded as delightful. The way Mme. Wu, wife of the Chinese diplomat and wit, serves it is interesting. The tea is made as carefully as if an empress was to imbibe it.

Freshly-boiled water is poured on the leaves and is permitted to steep for exactly six minutes, when it is poured into an ice-cold mold and put into the freezer.

Frozen tea is served with one tablespoonful of frozen unflavored cream and one of lemon ice on the regular frozen-dainty saucer. It is the coming ice and already is growing in popularity.

Another frozen food fad relates to nutmeg canteloupe. The meat of the melon is scraped out and frozen with a slight taste of sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg, and is then put back in the rind and served daintily with leaves and flowers at the edges.

A HOT SUPPER DISH.

Suitable for Simple Meal So Popular on Sunday Nights.

For the simple little supper that every one wants on Sunday nights when the maid is out and no one wants to work the following dish is most acceptable:

It is a regular chafing dish bit of cookery and is frequently concocted by clubmen for an after-theater supper.

Good-sized tomatoes are skinned, chopped into tiny pieces and put on the ice. Half a dozen eggs are beaten up, seasoned with salt and paprika and a small quantity of thick cream is slowly poured in and beaten up.

This mixture is poured into the hot chafing dish and flaked with a fork until it is nearly cooked, then the tomatoes are poured in, and if one likes the taste of green peppers, a few strands are added.

These are flaked in with the egg mixture and almost instantly served on hot plates.

Pickled Walnuts.

These must be picked when tender enough to be pierced with needle. Cover with very strong brine; keep the nuts in this for three days; drain and re-cover with brine. At the end of three days drain again and leave in fresh cold water for six hours. Bring to a boil a gallon of vinegar in which you put a cup sugar, two tablespoons each of whole peppers and cloves, one tablespoon allspice and eight blades of mace. Boil for ten minutes, put the nuts in a crock and pour the boiling vinegar over them. At the end of three days drain off vinegar, bring it to the boil again and pour back on the nuts. Cover and season for six weeks before eating.

Science in Housework.

There used to be a time when the young housewife was content to do things just as her mother did them, but in this day of scientific expedients the object should be to have a way of one's own, making sure that it is better than the old way before adopting it. Above all things the right state of mind should be brought to the problem of housework and the young housekeeper should make up her mind that her work must be well done, but that she is not going to be a drudge. Make it as interesting as possible by planning each thing to be done, not as a task, but as a problem to be solved by getting the best results with the least expenditure of energy.

Caramel Ice Cream.

For those who wish a change from the regular run of ice cream flavorings there is this recipe:

Three tablespoonfuls of sugar are added to the usual cup, and this is browned in a saucepan, then mixed with a little boiling water, enough to dissolve the sugar.

This is added to the cream mixture and all is good.

What is Pe-ru-na.

Are we claiming too much for Peruna when we claim it to be an effective remedy for chronic catarrh? Have we abundant proof that Peruna is in reality such a catarrh remedy? Let us see what the United States Dispensary says of the principal ingredients of Peruna.

Take, for instance, the ingredient hydrastis canadensis, or golden seal. The United States Dispensary says of this herbal remedy, that it is largely employed in the treatment of disprayed mucous membranes lining various organs of the human body.

Another ingredient of Peruna, scordalis formosa, is classed in the United States Dispensary as a tonic.

Cedron seeds is another ingredient of Peruna. The United States Dispensary says of the action of cedron that it is used as a bitter tonic and in the treatment of dysentery, and in intermittent diseases as a substitute for quinine.

Send to us for a free book of testimonials of what the people think of Peruna as a catarrh remedy. The best evidence is the testimony of those who have tried it.

USED CHURCH AS SCHOOLROOM.

Proceedings That Somewhat Astonished the Sexton.

The sexton of one church that keeps open doors all day long didn't know whether to regard the matter in the light of a desecration or a devotional exercise. He paid no attention when the three women, watched by a man who stood at the lower end of the aisle, walked the length of the church and back again. Even when they made the trip a second time he scarcely gave them a thought, but when the trio started around the church a third time and the man called out, "Step a little more briskly, please," he began to wonder, and presently made inquiry.

"I hope you won't be offended," the man replied. "I am a physical culture instructor. I am teaching these young ladies to walk. I have already taught them to walk in the street, in the drawing room, in the theater and every place else they are likely to find themselves. I am now teaching them to walk in church. Very few women can walk there properly. Some lope, some swagger, some skip, others adopt a milking gait. All these styles are very inappropriate for church. A dignified, subdued gait alone is suitable for devotional purposes. Church is the best place for pupils in walking to receive practical instruction, therefore I have brought them here."

"Great fathers!" gasped the sexton. "What next?"

But he said no more till the walking exercise was ended. Then he followed the class to the door.

"I hope," he said, "you will practice the lesson learned to-day by coming here to church once in a while."

OCULIST A MAN OF RESOURCE.

Has a Blind Beggar Woman to Advance His Business.

Enterprise takes various forms, even in Warsaw. A young oculist, finding that patients were few and far between, hit upon an original means of advertising.

He engaged a blind woman who sits and begs by the Church of the Holy Cross to hold a light board whereon are written his name, address, professional qualifications and consultation hours.

As the church is in the busiest thoroughfare of the town the notice attracts a good deal of attention. The beggar herself says she is quite satisfied with the results, as many people notice her who would otherwise pass by, and as the doctor has added his assurance that she is hopelessly blind benevolent old ladies throw copper into her tin, sure that their money is not wasted on an impostor. It is not yet known whether the number of patients has increased.

NIGHT TRIP IN AIR

TWO WOMEN TRAVEL 126 MILES BY BALLOON.

Are Enthusiastic Over Their Exhilarating Experience — Ascend at Philadelphia and Land Near Elkton, Maryland.

Philadelphia.—After a successful flight from this city to a point 2,000 feet in the air above Lancaster, Pa. and thence southward, the balloon Philadelphia, which sailed from this port at 10:24 o'clock one Saturday evening, recently landed quietly at 9:15 next morning four miles from Elkton, Md. In this ship of the skies were two women, among the first to make a balloon trip in America. Miss Minnie Applebach and Mrs. M. E. Lockington, both Philadelphians. They came down enthusiastically, convinced as one of them put it:

"If horseracing is the sport of kings, ballooning is the sport of emperors."

It was under the auspices of the Philadelphia Aeronautical society that the ascension was made. The pilot was George H. Simmerman, assisted by Dr. Thomas E. Eldridge, both experts and both with Mrs. Lockington aboard the same balloon when a few weeks ago its ill-starred flight was ended by a swift descent in the Schuylkill river.

Not one mishap, however, occurred to mar the present trip. The highest altitude attained was 10,300 feet at eight o'clock in the morning, while the balloon was crossing the Mason and Dixon line into Maryland. The temperature was never so low as to cause discomfort and the descent was made with scarcely a jolting of the car.

"It was the most exhilarating experience of my life," emphatically declared Miss Applebach.

"It is the sort of thing," supplemented Mrs. Lockington, "that will make the most wretched forget all troubles. We traveled 126 miles in all, and though I have traveled a good deal on earth I never enjoyed any journey so much or anywhere nearly so much as I enjoyed this one."

"At the start as the ropes were cut," said Miss Applebach, "we shot straight up. The moon had not yet risen; the stars were obscured and it seemed as if we were taking a sudden plunge into an unknown world.

"As soon, however, as we had gained an altitude of 2,000 feet we struck a strong current of fresh air and it began to carry us northeast. The current continued for the better part of the night and brought us into the neighborhood of Lancaster, Pa., and no one can appreciate by hearsay the wonders of the ride.

"About four o'clock, just as we approached Conestoga, the sun leaped into view. We were between 2,000 and 3,000 feet above the surface of the earth. As the sun rose, its rays warmed the gas in the balloon and we ascended until we reached an altitude of 9,000 feet. It was then that we came into a new current of air that carried us southeast and landed us without incident on a farm near Elkton, Md."

Town Hunts for Snake.

Greenfield, Ind.—A hunting party, headed by Frank Minor, was organized in this city to go after the monster snake that has been seen in the Brandywine creek bottoms, near this city. The hunt was unsuccessful.

The reptile, which is described as 15 feet long, and with a body as large as a gas main, has stricken terror to the cattle on the farm, and a dog was so frightened a few days ago by the sight of it that the animal ran a mile.

The men who have seen the snake are reliable, and there is no doubt but a reptile of unusual size is at large. It is possible that the snake escaped from a prison.

WHAT THE TRADE MARK MEANS TO THE BUYER

Few people realize the importance of the words "Trade Mark" stamped on the goods they buy. If they did it would save them many a dollar spent for worthless goods and put a lot of unscrupulous manufacturers out of the business.

When a manufacturer adopts a trade mark he assumes the entire responsibility for the merit of his product. He takes his business reputation in his hands—out in the limelight—"on the square" with the buyer of his goods, with the dealer, and with himself.

The other manufacturer—the one who holds out "inducements," offering to brand all goods purchased with each local dealer's brand—sidesteps responsibility, and when these inferior goods "come back" it's the local dealer that must pay the penalty.

A good example of the kind of protection afforded the public by a trade mark is that offered in connection with National Lead Company's advertising of pure White Lead as the best paint material.

That the Dutch Boy Painter trade mark is an absolute guaranty of purity in White Lead is proved to the most skeptical by the offer National Lead Company make to send free to any address a blow-pipe and instructions how to test the white lead for themselves. The testing outfit is being sent out from the New York office of the company, Woodbridge Building.

Ouch!

Col. Charles Cooley, the president of the American Federation of Aero clubs, said the other day of an aeronautical pilot:

"He is really too absent-minded to pilot a balloon. He used, you know, to be a railroad conductor, but he had to give up the work; he was too absent-minded for it, too.

"On his train, one day, as he passed through the cars taking up the tickets, a joking passenger, instead of proffering his pasteboard, solemnly proffered his forefinger.

"Never noticing anything out of the way, the conductor punched a little chunk out of the side of the finger and passed on."

CURED HER CHILDREN.

Girls Suffered with Itching Eczema—Baby Had a Tender Skin, Too—Relied on Cuticura Remedies.

"Some years ago my three little girls had a very bad form of eczema. Itching eruptions formed on the backs of their heads which were simply covered. I tried almost everything, but failed. Then my mother recommended the Cuticura Remedies. I washed my children's heads with Cuticura Soap and then applied the wonderful ointment, Cuticura. I did this four or five times and I can say that they have been entirely cured. I have another baby who is so plump that the folds of skin on his neck were broken and even bled. I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and the next morning the trouble had disappeared. Mme. Napoleon Duceppe, 41 Duluth St., Montreal, Que., May 21, 1907."

Baseball Technicality.

A few weeks ago some boys were playing ball in an apartment house yard. A colored waiter came out of the kitchen and in a very cross manner told them to stop right away. One boy, who had gone to get a drink came back and found the others making ready to leave; he asked, wonderingly, "What is the matter?" and another one calmly answered, "the game was called off on account of darkness."

Instruments of Torture.

"You don't seem to be keeping up very well this summer," said Father's Care to Mother's allpiper.

"True," acknowledged the handy speaker, regretfully, "I've been falling astern lately."

THE INTERSTATE FAIR

Denver.—All indications point to the first annual Colorado Interstate Fair and Exposition to be held in Denver next week as being by far the largest exhibition of the kind ever given in the West.

The fair opens Monday, September 7th, with a grand military demonstration. Governor Buchtel, President Charles E. Stubbs of the Fair association, Mayor Speer of Denver and other prominent men will speak. The entire detail of United States troops from Fort Logan, together with several thousand of the Colorado militia, will participate in the opening ceremonies. It is Labor Day and the labor organizations will also have a celebration. It has been arranged that Denver shall be decorated and illuminated all week.

Pain's fireworks forms the attraction at the fair grounds for Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights and upon these nights there will be no special attractions in the city.

Friday night will be an illuminated automobile parade through the principal streets of the city, and out to the fair grounds. It is expected that 3,000 autos will be in line.

Saturday night will be a masked carnival on the streets of Denver, with a masked ball in El Jebel Temple.

Every department at the Interstate Fair is filling rapidly and the display will be one of the most remarkable ever gathered in the West. In the mining exhibits alone will be twenty tons of selected ores.

In the horse and cattle departments will be the finest animals in the world. This department will be the largest ever seen west of the Missouri river and some famous animals will be exhibited.

There will be special running and harness races every afternoon, and also a horse show in front of the grand stand. This horse show is open to the world and promises to be by far the best ever seen in the West.

Knabenshue, the airship man, will be here with his great passenger carrying airship, and H. G. Powers is gathering together a Midway similar to the Pike at St. Louis, and to be known as the Great Divide, that will be replete with new and striking attractions.

Gargiulo, the great band master, and his band will give concerts twice every day, and in addition will be a score of other bands, so that music will be one of the big features.

It is promised by the fair management that there will be something going on every minute, so that the seventy-five thousand people expected will have plenty of entertainment.

Pro or Con.

"It's very annoying," declared Mr. Wyss. "A distant relation of Gunson's died last week."

"Can't you write him a letter of sympathy?" suggested Mrs. Wyss.

"That's the trouble," complained Mr. Wyss. "I don't know whether to extend sympathy or congratulations. The distant relation left Gunson a million dollars."

For Jane's Cat Only.

A cat belonging to Mrs. Jones had caused great annoyance to the small boys of the neighborhood by killing some of their pets, so they decided to set a trap for it. Dwight, a little boy of 7, with a very tender heart, was much afraid some innocent cat would suffer, so printed the following notice and pinned it on the trap:

"This is for Jane's cat only."

Beneath His Station.

A young lady went into a well known establishment a few days ago and said to the shopwalker, "Do you keep stationary?"

"No, Miss," replied the shopwalker, "if I did I should lose my job."

Ancestral Food.

Mrs. Gunson: "Aren't the Tellums somewhat old-fashioned?"

Mrs. Wyss: "Very. They always have oatmeal for breakfast."

No matter how homely a girl may be, she doesn't think people justified in describing her in plain language.

Out of Babes' Mouths.

"Mamma," exclaimed four-year-old Dorothy one day, "I'm so full of happiness that I couldn't be happier unless I was bigger."

"Small Margie while at church heard the choir sing, 'Rock of Ages, Cleft for Me.' Upon her return home she was heard singing, very seriously, 'Rock the Babies, Kept for Me.'"

Harry's father was bald, and one day the little fellow said: "Papa, it wouldn't do for you to fall asleep in the desert, would it?" "Why not?" asked his father. "Cause an ostrich might sit on your head and hatch it out," explained Harry.

A clergyman made an unusually long call at the home of a parishioner recently. He talked and talked, until finally little Edna, who was present, whispered: "Mamma, did the preacher forget to bring his 'amen' with him?"

Slightly Mixed.

Senator La Follette, in a recent interview, said of a certain political economist:

"His ideas are mixed and topsy-turvy. They remind me of a student they tell of in Heidelberg. This student, the morning after a corps meeting, a meeting whereat he had drunk by actual count fifty-three large mugs of beer, awoke to find himself in bed, but half undressed, with his feet resting on the pillow.

"From the low footboard the student regarded for a moment his large feet propped side by side on the white pillow. Then he muttered:

"Himmel! Here I've been thinking all night that I had the toothache, and it's my shoes that have been pinching me."

Episcopal Wit.

"Our graduates of the famous University of Oxford, are entitled to wear the Oxford hood.

"At a certain service another bishop, also an Oxford man, nodded toward the officiating clergyman and whispered excitedly to Bishop Burgess:

"Why, look, he has got an Oxford hood on."

"So he has," said Bishop Burgess.

"But he is not entitled to it. He has no Oxford degree," exclaimed the first bishop. "Why, the man is wearing a lie on his back."

"Hush," said Bishop Burgess. "Don't call it a lie. Call it a false hood."

For President of the United States:
WILLIAM J. BRYAN.
For Vice-President of the United States:
SAMUEL W. KERN.
For Delegate to Congress:
O. A. LARRAZOLO.

For Carrizozo, and sent in token and capable representative to Washington, one who was not connected with the Penney-land Development number steal.

The county democratic ticket is certainly an excellent one, and the strongest the party has put in the field for many years. It could not be improved by the change of a single name. You can honestly give it your full support. It will be elected from top to bottom.

The great question the people will have to decide here month whether this country will remain a republic a government of the people, for the people, or become an oligarchy? Democracy stands for the former and Roosevelt and his man Taft for the latter.
The people will rule.

Every man on the democratic county ticket is a good man and should be elected by large majorities. Larrazolo especially should get an unusually large vote in this county this year, as a great many republicans say they will not vote for Andrews.

It is less than five weeks to election day. Bryan is gaining all along the line, Taft is falling behind, and the republican party is becoming more democratized as the great day approaches. The fig is about up. The latest publicists concede New York to the democrats. Foraker, in Ohio, is attacking Roosevelt and Taft, and stampeding the republicans,
and it is now probable that Taft will lose the electoral vote in that state.

The election of W. J. Bryan is daily becoming more assured.
The Federation of Workingmen of the state of New York last week endorsed the action of Samuel Gompers in urging workingmen to support the democratic ticket. The labor interests of the empire state are now a unit for Bryan and Kern, while local labor leaders in all the large cities of the country are successfully appealing to their followers to put aside politics and support the democratic party, which stands pledged to right their wrongs by enacting legislation favorable to the wage earners.

Ten years ago when Pedro
Berea was the republican candidate for delegate to congress, the slogan was, "we will get statehood at the short session if Pedro is elected." A great many people believed it, and Pedro was elected.
Last week—just our year later—
the governor returned from a visit to Washington and sprung the same old story that did service ten years ago, and regularly every two years since. Six years ago it was Kinley and statehood;
four years ago it was Andrews and statehood, and this year it is Andrews and statehood. It won't work this year—it's run the line.
Larrazolo's majority is estimated all the way from 4,000 to 5,000.
The difference of opinion is confined to a question of majority, and few republicans whose opinions are worth anything, believe Andrews has even half a chance.

The New Mexican unable to conceive anything against the character or record of the Hon.
O. A. Larrazolo, sincerely refers to him as the "noble Spaniard." Mr. Larrazolo is an American citizen, educated in Santa Fe where he later taught school;
has lived for the past 28 years between New Mexico and Texas; was appointed deputy district and county clerk of El Paso county in 85; the same year he was appointed clerk of the U. S. district court for the western district of Texas, was elected clerk of the district court of El Paso in '86, and re-elected in '87, and one year later was elected district attorney of the 36th judicial district of Texas, and in '92 was re-elected, all of which offices he filled with credit and distinction.
For the past 12 years he has made his home in Las Vegas, where he now resides with his family. He is conceded to be one of the ablest lawyers in the territory, and an accomplished debater —an essential qualification for a delegate to congress. As a gentleman, a jurist and citizen his character is above reproach. Can the same be said of W. H. Andrews, his opponent? No. Our readers are familiar with his record. If Mr. Larrazolo is of Spanish origin, he is nevertheless a splendid type of an American citizen. The people of New Mexico, whether Irish, English, Spanish, German, or Pennsylvania Dutch, are all citizens of this great commonwealth.

Political and Non-Political.

Would you know how Bryan stands on the great issues of the campaign—predatory wealth, class legislation, guaranteeing of bank deposits, gambling on the Stock Exchange, trusts, tariff, asset currency, ship subsidy, imperialism, labor and capital, etc.? There is only one way to know Bryan's position accurately, and that is to get it direct from his own pen. He voices the sentiment of the rank and file of all parties without fear or favor. 320 pages, silk cloth, gold back. $1.25 postpaid.

The price of this great book is $1.25, but in order to place it in the hands of everybody, democrats and republicans alike, I will mail it, at the actual cost to me, on receipt of $1.00. Write for it today.

JONES TALIAFERRO, White Oaks, N. M.

The "Real Bryan" is a marvel of eloquence, logic, inspiration, fire and simplicity. Every paragraph is eloquent; every sentence a gem; every page reflects the power of the man who has done so much to revolutionize the thought of the Nation and to purify the policies of the country.—Iowa Unionist, Des Moines.

A DENIAL BY MR. LARRAZOLO.

To the Voters and to the People of New Mexico:

My attention has just been called to the following article appearing in the Roswell Register-Tribune of September 18th inst., in which this language is attributed to me:

"Is it, my countrymen, that we are to be cast aside as unworthy by those who have overrun our land, make light of our traditions, sneer at our customs and revile our religious ceremonies? Have we not felt the heel of the gringo upon our necks these many years? Shall we not make a supreme effort to take our rightful place in legislative halls? And can you do that in any other way than by rallying around the standard of one of your own blood, your own customs, your own religion? What has the domineering, grasping Americans ever done for us? Nothing but abuse our confidence, steal our lands and our mines and grind us deeper into the dust of the highway. Vote for a man of your own blood, a man of your own faith, a man who loves the Mexican and hates the despised and heretical gringo." Further comment on the above is unnecessary.

It is almost humiliating to be compelled to take notice of such malicious and scurrilous charges as are contained in the forgoing article. I would pass the same by with the silent contempt that it deserves, were it not for fear that a few of the people who have recently come to New Mexico, and who are but slightly, if at all, acquainted with me, should construe my silence into an admission of the charge therein. This is the third race that I have made in this territory for delegate to congress, and I have on different occasions discussed political issues in all the principal towns in each and every one of the counties of this territory. My political opponents have attended all my meetings and have heard my addresses, and this is the first time that any such charge has been made against me. It is needless to say that the accusation is a willful, deliberate and malicious fabrication, coming from the opposition. Were it not so, the time and place where such language was used by me would have been quoted by the writer, and that such a charge is made only proves the desperate position to which the opposition has been driven. Not only have I never used any such language, not only do I not entertain any such unpatriotic feelings, but the people of this territory will bear witness to the fact that my best efforts have always been directed to eradicate race prejudice from the minds of the people and establish a brotherly feeling among all classes of our citizens.

Very respectfully,
O. A. LARRAZOLO.

NEW SHORT COATS

COPY THE STYLE OF THE ARTISTIC LINEN DUSTERS.

Comfortable for Outings and for Cool Weather Days — One Seen Trimmed with Bright Red Turkey Cotton.

Young girls at the summer resorts have copied the artistic linen dusters in short straight coats, to be worn for outings and for cool weather days.

They have also gone down the line until they have reached the children's department, where brilliant effects with the natural color as the foundation have been worked out.

One young girl's coat made of an extra coarse grade of rough linen is trimmed with bright red turkey cotton.

It is single-breasted, cut off a few inches below hips, is fastened with army buttons and has immense revers running from shoulder to hem of the material with a two-inch binding of turkey red.

There is a high military collar of the material with a wide, sweeping turnover of red, and the sleeves, which reach to the wrist, have four-inch gantlet cuffs of linen with wide binding of the crimson.

There are four pockets, two deep ones below the waist with wide red flaps fastened with gilt buttons, and two small ones at the bust without flaps.

A very clever little coat for a little girl was made up of this rough linen in empire effect with a box-plaited back, single-breasted in front and three capes cut circular and running to the high waist line in points back and front.

Two of these were of the linen, but

DRESS FOR LITTLE GIRLS.

This pretty little dress is in blue linen. It is a tunic pattern, plaited from the neck to edge of skirt, the plaits stitched only to the waist. The square neck is set into a band of embroidery insertion, mitred sharply at the corners. A tab of the embroidery is laid on the center boxplait, and also slashes the sleeves.

the center one was of bright apple green. There was a high turnover collar on this made of the green, tied in front with a rosette and ends of bright green taffeta ribbon four inches wide.

Under the arms around the figure was a narrow green leather belt run through slides of natural linen, and fastened in front with a slender buckle of green kid.

There has been an immense revival this season of old-fashioned wash net, both in the narrow widths called footling, and in the wide all-over pieces, which come perilously near mosquito netting.

It is used for trimming, for frocks, for shirtwaists and for hats. It is not expensive, it goes to the wash as easily as muslin, and, what is more to the point, comes home looking as well.

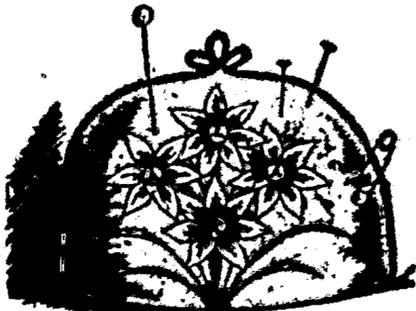

Those who suffer from the heat have gone in for this sheer fabric for morning shirtwaists instead of muslin or madras.

Those are made of the all-over variety, which takes little to make into a plaited blouse. To see a woman wearing one on a hot day is as cooling a sight as a lump of ice.

They are made with box plaits from shoulder to waist and groups of tiny tucks between. The material is so thin that this folding of it does not add to the heat or the weight.

The only outside trimming used is a bit of good clumsy lace to make one of the wide turnover collars, which are worn down on the neckband, or up at the edge of a two-inch foundation.

SIMPLE, BUT VERY PRETTY.

A very pretty and simple form of pincushion is shown in our sketch, and one also that can be made with little trouble. It is the shape of a miniature tea-cosy, edged with a silk cord and embroidered on both sides with a pretty floral design. It can be easily stuffed with small pieces of Berlin wool, or filled with bran, and the bottom should be stiffened with a strip of cardboard covered with silk or velvet. Pale yellow daffodils worked on leaf green satin would make a pleasing decoration for this pincushion, with a cord in a darker shade of green. Similar ideas might be carried out with moss-roses and rose-buds worked on a soft blue ground, clusters of forget-me-nots on white, or sprays of mauve and white lilac on palest yellow.

Box for Trousseau.

Every fall bride will want a box to hold the articles of her trousseau as they are gathered together. Beautiful boxes of cedar may be purchased for little, and are made in a very convenient way. Instead of the lid lifting up, as did the box of great-grandma so long ago, the front may be dropped down, revealing two drawers to hold the things. The box locks securely and the effect is very neat.

Dark cedar boxes are ornamented with the bride's initial in German letters of solid brass placed on the sales lid.

Aunt Mandy Was Thoroughly Satisfied with New Husband.

Aunt Mandy is an old colored woman who for years has done washing for several families. She has had several matrimonial experiences, and when her last husband died one of her customers attempted to console with her.

"I was very sorry to hear of your husband's death, Aunt Mandy," she said.

"Ya'as, ma'am," said Aunt Mandy. "He was a pow'ful good man."

"What did he die of?"

"Ah really don't know, ma'am."

"You don't know. Gracious! Couldn't the doctor tell you?"

"Ah didn't have no doctah, ma'am," said Aunt Mandy. "He jes done died a natch'ral death."

It wasn't long, however, before Aunt Mandy had another husband.

"I hear you are married again," remarked her patron one day.

"Ya'as, ma'am," giggled Aunt Mandy. "I was done married las' Sunday."

"And in your new husband equal to the last?"

"Ya'as, indeedy, ma'am," said Aunt Mandy. "He's jes as equal, if not equaler."

Whistling in English Streets.

In England whistling is very common among all classes, and, indeed, it is rare in London to see a butcher or a grocer boy on his daily errands whose lips are not purced up for the purpose of emitting the whistling notes of the comic song of the hour. So prevalent is the habit that in hotels, and even in clubs, requests are posted up to "refrain from whistling."

HER GOOD FORTUNE

After Years Spent in Vain Effort.

Mrs. Mary E. H. Rouse, of Cambridge, N. Y., says: "Five years ago I had a bad fall and it affected my kidneys. Severe pains in my back and hips became constant, and sharp twinges followed any exertion. The kidney secretions were badly disordered. I lost flesh and grew too weak to work. Though constantly using medicine I despaired of being cured until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Then relief came quickly, and in a short time I was completely cured. I am now in excellent health."

PICNIC FOR THE PUP.

His Devotion to Duty Rewarded by Strange Luxuries.

A Boston bulldog owned by George H. Clapp was so determined to capture a woodchuck which he had chased into its den that he followed after and staid in the hole all night.

When the dog had got his jaws about the enemy he found that he could not get out owing to the small size of the animal's hole.

Rather than lose his prey the dog retained his hold on the woodchuck over night, and was helped out by his master in the morning. The dog was nearly exhausted, and revived after feeding and drinking in a curious manner.

He consumed about two quarts of unguarded ice cream, which had been set aside for a party, and capped the climax by falling into a bucket of lemonade.—Worcester (Mass.) Telegram.

Appreciates Teachers' Work.

One woman says that when her children bring home their school reports at the end of the month she always finds five minutes in which to write a personal letter to the teachers. If there is something that the children have learned that surprised her she writes a note of thanks and appreciation, and if the reports are unsatisfactory she writes offering to help the teacher in any way she may suggest. Needless to say, the teachers are appreciative, as any one will know who has ever taught school.

TALK OF NEW YORK

Gossip of People and Events Told in Interesting Manner.

Mrs. Thomas Ryan Planning New Gift

NEW YORK.—Mrs. Thomas Fortune Ryan, who already is famous for her lavish generosity to the American Catholic church, is contemplating another magnificent gift to Georgetown university, Washington.

This college is the alma mater of Mrs. Ryan's sons, and she is devoted to its interests. She has built a fine hall, called Ryan hall, which serves as the college refectory, and she has given magnificent china and silver with which to furnish it. Recently she expressed the wish to have the college entrance more in keeping with the dignity and standing of the institution.

At present two streets filled with squalid brick tenements crowd to the very door of the campus. She will purchase these two entire squares, transform them into a park and place a handsome iron railing with a massive gate, a copy of some famous gates in Florence, to guard the entrance.

Mrs. Ryan spends much of her time in her Washington home, on the corner of Eighteenth and I streets. It formerly was the residence of Mrs. Harriet Lane Johnson, presiding lady of the White House under President Buchanan, her uncle. Mrs. Ryan has not kept up the hospitable table traditions of her mansion.

Her life is as retired as a nun's. She gives a few dinner parties during the season, principally to the dignitaries of the Catholic church and to old friends who are passing through the city. She keeps no reception day and her home is closed to all those who call for social purposes only. Her time is spent in organizing charities and in answering letters and reading reports of work she has in hand.

In her Washington home she maintains a chapel with a chaplain from Georgetown college to attend. It is only a small circular room built for a breakfast room, but probably not in the country can a richer oratory be seen. The gold altar vessels and the handsome silk vestments were made from the jewels and the dresses of Mrs. Ryan's only daughter, a girl who died about ten years ago when about 16 years of age. During Christmas this chapel is open to children and the friends of Mrs. Ryan.

Twins Have Fun with Process Server

COUNT IGNATZ and Count Carlos Gombossi are twins. Their friends at the Waldorf, which they frequent, say the Gombossis look as much alike as two Hungarian hussars in uniform.

Mrs. Loretta Phoney has begun suit in the supreme court against Count Ignatz for $50,000 damages, alleging breach of promise. Her counsel, Louis Schwartz, gave the papers in the case to J. W. Staff, a process server. The other day Mr. Schwartz, his clerk, Kerz Taffe, and Staff went to the Waldorf cafe. Twirling his mustache and talking to friends, stood Count Ignatz. A little distance from him was Count Carlos, twisting his mustache and talking to friends.

As Staff, papers in hand, hurried toward Ignatz Gombossi, the count grasped the situation instantly. "Do not bother me," he said, haughtily, waving Staff away. "I am Count Carlos Gombossi. My brother, Count Ignatz, whom you seek, probably, is over there."

Ignatz strolled from the cafe; Staff hurried over to Count Carlos, who grasped the situation, too.

"Yes," said he, readily accepting the papers, "I am Count Ignatz Gombossi. Oh, it is the young lady's suit, is it?"

To give his twin brother a good start, Count Carlos leisurely looked over the papers, then, throwing them on the floor, rushed from the cafe and ran at top speed east on Thirty-first street. Staff overtook Carlos at Madison avenue.

"Ah, you are not clever," exclaimed the count, laughing hilariously. "We have thrown the dust in your eyes. I am Count Carlos Gombossi," and he handed the process server his card.

But, seeing one Gombossi run, Schwartz and his clerk grew suspicious and hastened after the other.

"We will serve both," said Schwartz, "then there can be no mistake."

They caught up with Count Ignatz at Forty-second street. Staff rejoined them. Ignatz, laughing, confessed to his ruse and the papers were served on him.

Descendant of Kings a Gotham Cook

A DAUGHTER of the Montezumas is in this city mastering the art of domestic science. She will carry it back to Mexico and at the bidding of her government introduce it into that country of romance and tradition.

Mme. Guadalupe de Haro is the name of this beauty, who has coal black hair, deep brown eyes and a complexion of creamy white, and who proudly says she is thoroughly Mexican and a descendant of the Montezumas. She has been in New York a year and a half studying household arts night and day as taught in public and private schools and colleges. She is now studying in the summer school of the University of New York.

Mme. Guadalupe de Haro is the daughter of a great financier, born to wealth and luxury. Through adversity her husband lost his fortune and died and the widow had to work for a living.

Mexican women of degree take little interest in the economy of their households. Such things are left to the servants. So when Mme. de Haro faced the necessity of earning a living she awoke to her helplessness. Through study and inquiry she found that there was a woman's world of activity that she had never dreamed existed. Then came the offer of her government to send her to New York to study domestic science and she accepted it gladly.

Not Guilty. "Now, Mrs. McCarthy," said counsel for the defense, "please tell us simply as you can your version of this affair. It is alleged that you referred to Mrs. Callahan in disparaging terms." "Not a bit of it. I didn't say anything about disparaging nor dispragrus nor anny other garden truck, except that I said she had a nose lolike a squash and her complexion was as bad as a tomato in the lash stages. Yez can see for yerself if it ain't the truth."

MR. FOREMAN'S FINE SHOWING.

A very fine sample of millet, grown by M. B. Foreman on his ranch three miles west of town, was left at this office this week and is now on display. He also left a sample of peanuts and a delicious watermelon, equal to the famous Rocky Ford article. The melon is not on display, for obvious reasons. Although grown on the dry-farming plan, the samples will compare favorably with those grown under ditch. Mr. Foreman claims most of his growing stuff is equal to that grown in other sections with irrigation, and says that when the science of dry-farming is better understood, every 160 acres for miles around will be under cultivation and producing. It is not to be understood that this land will produce large crops without labor, but that it will respond liberally to the hand of the energetic farmer without the aid of irrigation. From the samples on display at this office there is little room to doubt the statement.

A SATISFACTORY TICKET.

An unusual amount of interest was manifested here Saturday in the result of the democratic convention at Lincoln. When the names comprising the ticket were flashed over the wire general satisfaction was expressed on the choice of the convention. The ticket is a stronger and better one than was expected, and those who predicted acrimony were disappointed. The unsuccessful candidates warmly shook the hands of the successful ones, and promised to do everything in their power to elect the whole ticket. No more suitable men to fill the respective offices could have been found within the bounds of Lincoln county—men who may be relied upon to faithfully discharge the duties of the offices to which they aspire.

A TEST RUN.

The Eagle Mining Company at Parsons started in thirty days ago on a test run with cyanide tanks. The work is in charge of an expert named Patton, and the conditions are that 200 tons of ore a day be tested for sixty days. At the end of which time, if it be demonstrated that the test has been successful, it will be continued. So far the indications are said to be flattering. The ore is treated without sorting, and is being mined and delivered at the mill for less than thirty cents a ton, and as it carries values running from two to five dollars a ton, the profit on each day's run will be considerable. The cyanide ran short last week, but a consignment of it was received here from California this week, and was hauled to Parsons yesterday. Considerable interest is manifested in the result of the sixty days' test. If successful it will mean a great deal for the company and a great deal for the people living at Parsons and along the Rio Bonito.

A conservative estimate of Larrazolo's majority in November is 4,300. It has been figured at double that.

TEN DOLLARS REWARD will be paid for the recovery of a dark-brown mare, 8 years old, star on forehead, white hind feet, T on right thigh, known as the Burrell mare.—H. J. LITTLE, Carrizozo.
