THE CAPITAN MOUNTAINEER

FOURTH YEAR NUMBER 47. CAPITAN, NEW MEXICO, MARCH 15, 1918. SUBSCRIPTION PRICE $1.50 A YEAR.

LEGISLATIVE NEWS

Special Correspondence to the Capitan Mountaineer.

Santa Fe, New Mexico.—The fight on the State mounted police of the State reached a new phase on Wednesday when Senator H. L. Kerr introduced another bill which takes all the appointing power in connection with the organisation out of the hands of the Governor and place it in the Cattle Sanitary Board. Under the present system, the police are appointed by the executive and half of the expense of maintaining them is paid by the state, while the remaining half is paid by the Cattle Sanitary Board, and the members of the Association are becoming more and more averse to contributing their money toward the support of an organization in which they have no voice in the naming of the men to be appointed. The levying of money from private interests for the payment of the police is regarded as an outrage, and the bill introduced by Senator Kerr would place the nominating power in the hands of the board, which would be willing to pay the entire cost of the maintenance of the organization if it would have the appointment of its own men as inspectors, and the bill also provides that the organization, as managed by the board, would fulfill the same duties as it is supposed to perform now.

By a vote of 25 to 23 the House passed a bill on Monday to abolish the road tax $3 that has been levied in the past. The strongest argument advanced in favor of the bill was that the collection of the tax at present is unjust, as it does not reach everyone in the state who is liable her the tax, and it was stated by one of the advocates of the measure that not more than forty per cent of the people in New Mexico actually paid the road tax.

The bill providing for the creation of the Girls' Welfare Board passed the House on Wednesday. Under the terms of the bill a board consisting of five resident women of the state shall be appointed to look after delinquent girls, and $20,000 a year will be allowed for the work to be done by the board. No cases against delinquent girls may be tried by justices of the peace, but they must be decided by the judges of the district courts, who may conmit them to the care of the members to be appointed by the Governor.

The old bogey of the bilgual bill was effectively laid laid by the committee on Education, which brought in a substitute bill which does away entirely with the compulsory features of the original bill that were so obnoxious to the members of the legislature and to the people of this state. Under the terms of the substitute, every high-school and the higher educational institutions of the state shall furnish a course in Spanish as a part of their curriculum, and standard text books shall be used in teaching the language. Anyone applying for a position as teacher of Spanish shall have a diploma from a recognized institute of learning or shall pass an examination before a competent examining board.

It is largely due to the Democratic press of the state that it was modified and re-drawn in its present from, for the newspapers all over the state were insistent that it be defeated in its oriinal form.

Democaatic members of the Legislature have come out strongly in favor of an increase in the amounts involved in the Workman's Disability Compensation Act, and are supporting a bill which has been introduced in the lower house to raise these amounts. The members of the minority party feel that the compensations set fonth in the original bill are not adequate, and are therefore supporting the changes which will bring this bill in line with similar provisions of the other states of the Union. Such action would mean much to the working men of the state, especially to those engaged in hazardous occupations where disability is frequent, and where the libility of the employer should be more rigid.

From Navajo Bend.

Dish Face Dan had Miss Daisy Withorspoon arrested this morning for naming one of the samity dogs after Snakey Ed. I think the Pup come clear.

Ned Tubbs returned from the Oil Fields yesterday and reports the usual flattering results from fights in that region. Ned says a poor man has no business there unless he is already worth a fortune.

No business news this week except the Wampus Creek bank caved in near the Old Miser's house, and the said Old Miser has not decided yet which he is best—to move his house back apiece or pull the creek away further.

The Old Needle Doctor has returned from the East where he says has been studying a remedy that will help the Flu dispose of more people. He was called at once to the Shinnery where one Krazy Kriss's Squaws had been waiting for his return before she attempted suicide.

The badger fight pulled off in honor of the tenderfoot who arrived late in the week, was a failure. The handle of the vessel came loose when the animal was jerked and the fight was called off.

Our school teacher who has had his appendix cut out four times, is arranging to teach a class in "table" manners.

Our Merchant Prince has stocked up and has had a fresh army yarns and other lies among the soft drinks he has on sale is a fine lot of hard cider.

Ferry From England to France.

Train ferries across the channel to France have for some time been used for the transport of supplies and are now also being used regularly for passenger traffic. The development is one of the greatest importance on account of the present saving of time and labor effected by not having to change from cars to boat, and the train ferries will serve a no less useful purpose when peace is once more established.

Soldier's Terrible Experience.

In a hospital in Egypt I saw a wounded Turkish prisoner who had had such a terrible experience that his nerves had completely given way. While lying wounded with a bullet through his foot he had been attacked by a black serpent from three to four feet in length. After a desperate struggle he succeeded in strangling the creature, and then fainted.—Exchange.

We Are Sorry To Say

That Womans Suffrage was defeated in the House of Represesentatives at Santa Fe recently. Why should'nt the ladies be allowed to vote? They are our mother and sisters and are averaging it up all around are on a par with the men when it comes to intelligence. The Junior Publisher of the Mountaineer is strictly for Woman's Rights because he believes it is right and just that woman should should have equal rights with us men in public affairs and has no patience with that old stone age theory that she will lose her modesty and dignity because she walks to the polls and casts her vote. She will on the other hand elevate our politics and conditions will be bettered by her having the privilege of casting a vote, the women are exercising the right of franchise in a great many states and those states are progressing better today than ever before. Another thing the writer was raised in the South where they allow old big black buck niggers to vote and then say that your mother, wives, daughters and sisters, white women cannot vote is an insult to every white woman in the land, and as Isidoro Armijo Representative from Dona county says; "I hope the Republican party will be defeated at the next election if we kill this bill."

Representative Blanchard of Lincoln County was one of those that lead the fight in behalf of Womans' Rights which shows his broad mindedness and we are proud to have a man of his calibber to represent us in the Halls of the Legislature at Santa Fe. The ladies will certainly come into their own sooner or later in this State—that is a mortal cinch and you who are opposed to Womans' Rights had just as well hop into the band wagon, if you do not when they do get to voting you are most likely to feel sheap.

What do you think about a public well in Capitan where people can water their stock when they come to town? Good suggestion is'nt it?

New Thing In Diplomacy.

Just recently, one of the allied powers, in the process of setting its house in order, or, rather, going carefully over the ground to see what needed most to be set in order, tackled its diplomatic service. It found many things that were out of date, and many other things that never had been in date, and it determined to make many reforms.

Perhaps the most significant was the one which provided that in future a working knowledge of stenography should be an essential part of the diplomatic equipment. More and more, surely is it being proved true that the ambassador of the old order passed with the advent of the telegraph and telephone.

Some one once said, indeed, that ambassadors nowadays had become clerks; an exaggeration, of course, but the latest "requirement" lends color to the view.—Christian Science Monthly.

Farm Gardens.

The farm garden idea did not start with our entry into the war, but had its inception in 1914, when the Women's Farm Gardens association was formed. At first the association busied itself to obtain positions for women in farm and garden work. After we got into the war and the dangers of a food shortage threatened, the association began work along the lines of the department of agriculture in England, which encouraged the tilling of small pieces of land, going so far as to give out allotments to those who will till them. The boy scouts and other bodies have done much this year along the line of war gardening.

United States Life Insurance.

The people of the United States carry more than $30,000,000,000 of life insurance, the largest record of any country in the world. Of this $30,000,000,000 is government insurance for soldiers and sailors.—Leslie's.

The Useful Penny.

Introduction of the penny transfer in the operation of the Indianapolis street car system, which caused the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company to supply itself with 8,000 pennies the first day, brought to the mind of J. J. Mahoney, superintendent, a story of the eighties when Tom Johnson, afterward mayor of Cleveland, was treasurer, and a supply of pennies in the hands of the company helped to stop a run on a bank. Mr. Mahoney has been connected with the Indianapolis street car system for a long, long time.

In those days passengers dropped a nickel fare in a box and sometimes they put in five pennies. The company was usually overstocked with pennies, and had to send them to the United States mint to get rid of them. The pennies were put in bags. It happened that the company had a lot of bags full of pennies when a run started on a bank. There was a great throng of people at the bank demanding and getting back their deposits. Through an understanding, the bank and the street car company resorted to camouflage. Several street car employees were called in and directed to carry the bags of pennies into the bank. It was an impressive sight, as bag after bag was passed through the cashier's window, and Mr. Mahoney says it had the desired effect.

Japanese newspapers, according to Prof. F. L. Martin of the University of Missouri's school of journalism, divide their news into "hard" and "soft." The hard news consists of serious, important events. The soft news includes all sorts of "human interest" incidents. What is called the "third page" of the soft news department consists of trivial stories which would be called gossip in this country. Here is a sample of "third page" soft news:

"Since Etsunaka, a resident of Osakusa, has separated from her master, a coal dealer, she has lost a good opponent for her noted powers of quarreling. The neighbors are breathing freely again at the prospect that they need no longer hear embarrassing quarrels which have made the neighborhood famous. The reaction has been so great that Etsunaka has been downhearted. She says: 'I feel sick now that I have no one to quarrel with.'"—Outlook.

American Women Have a Different Outlook, Says Mrs. Vincent Astor

"Doing serious work in a serious time has given the American woman a different outlook on life.

"Women will never return to the old life and continue to do only the perfunctory things that the niceties of a social atmosphere has laid down as her routine for years and years.

"Service with the troops, service in the home lines behind the troops, has opened a new day for her.

"The war couldn't have been won without women. Even the Y. M. C A., hitherto exclusively musculine, had to ask women to help its war work.

"War has taught me things I never knew before. I learned to sweep floors, fry eggs, wait on table and unload trucks and most of all I learned a great deal about the valor, moral courage and splendid spirit of the American youth."

—MRS. VINCENT ASTOR.

"Slackers" Overworked.

Every once in a while some gink comes along with a game he wants to put over on the public and if you don't fall for it he yells "slacker." Every once in a while some book agent wants to sell you a history of the war that is not worth a darn and if you don't buy it, he yells "slacker." Every once in a while some fellow wants to sell fertilizer to the farmer and wants the local press to advertise it for patriotic reasons, and if you don't fall for it, they yell "slacker," and on the line. Every shark, thief, every skin game artist, now is working that word over time. It is time to halt and stop the use of it except where it applies. It was not intended as an epithet to use in your private business and not to apply to those that don't fall for your private game.—Bainbridge (Ga.) Post-Searchlight.

The editor of the Mountaineer is in receipt of a letter from Geo. W. Smithson, formerly one of Capitan's well known and popular citizens. Mr. Smithson is now residing in Clarksville, Tenn., where he is engaged in the grocery business and is doing well. The Clarksville Daily Leaf Chronicle of March 1, states that during the 24 working days in February 9,213 customers were waited on in Mr. Smithson's store, which was an increase of 1,980 over his January record. As he is doing a strictly cash business, this is evidence he is on the highway of prosperity, which is well deserved. The Mountaineer editor will always have kindly feeling for Mr. Smithson, who during their acquaintance proved a valuable and steadfast friend.

It is reporteed that the Government is intending to take some action in regard to the Post at Fort Stanton. One report is that the entire establishment will be removed to either Fort Baird or Camp Cody; another is that it is only contemplated to move the soldiers from Fort Stanton, and that the marines will be kept there. However, it is evident that there is some important change to take place, as Dr. McKeon, the commandant at Fort Stanton, has been sent off on a trip of inspection, and it is further reported that Fort Stanton is not mentioned in the appropriations her the coming year. The abandonment of Fort Stanton would probably result in between 30,000 and 40,000 acres of land being opened to settlement, a good deal of which would be classed as agricultural land, and the balance as fine grazing land.

Dr. Hay reports J. T. Hodo, at the Block Ranch, quite sick this week, but at the present time is improving.

A little son of Henry McFarland, who lives near Spindle, had an arm broken one day this week while at play. The bone is said to have been broken in two places near the elbow.

A. F. Stover and W. B. Rose have formed a co-partnership in the mercatile business at San Patricio. They are both good and popular business men and will no doubt have a fine trade.

The regular school election in this district is advertised to be held at the school house Monday April 7th. Two directors are to be elected to take places of C. C. Merchant and W. O. Norman.

The Sherman Live Stock Co., of El Paso shipped a car load of hogs from Capitan yesterday, which were bought at Fort Stanton. The hogs will be put on feed after reaching El Paso.

Albert Rhode at the Liberty Garage is doing a splendid business and the work he turns out is giving general satisfaction. His place is head quarters for most of the local car people and he gets a fine trade from the traveling public.

Bob Hurt made a trip to Carrizozo last Friday to meet his cousin, James Montgomery of Memphis, Texas, who had stopped off at Carrizozo. While there they made a trip to the Gran Quivera country.

Geo. R. Hyde says his new house will be ready for occupancy early next week, when he will establish bachelor quarters in it, which will also have his work shop in one room. George will be glad to have his friends pay him social calls in his new quarters when work hours are over, also have them make business calls at any time.

John B. Burch spent a day or two this week out at R. A. Hommentt's ranch near Angus. The trip, like talk of these two old pioneers evidently was full of interest as they both have lived in the wild west all their lives. They are both from Texas and still show a decided partiality for the Lone Star State, but about twenty years ago they moved to New Mexico and their experiences here embrace much of its local history.

Ed Harris, in the employ of the live stock sanitary board was in Capitan Tuesday on his way to the Block Ranch. Ed says he finds very few violations of the law now, but he is putting in most of his time going through the ranges that he would rather keep people out of trouble than to get them into it but, where they persist in violating law they will have to meet the consequences.

Elisha Leslie called on the Mountaineer while in town one day last week. He stated that he is engaged writing a book, which is to be a history of this part of New Mexico for more than thirty years past. It is not to be a garbled edition of some prior history, but it will be written from Elisha's own experience and recollections and will contain several hundred hundred pages. He is now hunting a publisher to print the book and expects to have it out in a few months.

Pay Your Poll Tax.

The Mountaineer is requested to give notice that each man in School District 28 is charged with an annual poll tax of $1.00, which is now due. Every dollar of this tax goes into the district and all are requested to pay the same at once.
