Harold ("Bonny") Willis, 15, will stand trial for the murder of Dr. Benjamin Baldwin. Juvenile Judge Harry H. Archbald of Los Angeles denied a motion of state's attorneys to dismiss the case, and the boy will be given a preliminary hearing March 25. Deputy District Attorney E. J. Tennison again will argue for dismissal on the ground there is insufficient evidence.

A belief that America must concern herself vitally with European affairs, despite her rejection of the League of Nations, as long as she aids in the financing of European governments, was expressed by William R. Sweet, former governor of Colorado, in San Francisco, in an address before the meeting of the Methodist Men's council of northern California and Northern Nevada.

The citizens' military training camp at Fort Logan, Colo., will be held from July 23 until Aug. 20, according to an announcement by Col. James A. Higgins, commandant at the post, who was recently appointed commander of the camp. Bonds already are available for taking care of 440 students of the camp, Colonel Higgins said, but added that there are hopes of increasing the number to 600.

The Delhi colony, a state sponsored land settlement project near Merced, Calif., has been a financial failure, a legislative conference committee reported in Sacramento. The colony was settled under an easy payment plan by residents of eastern and middle western states. The committee recommended to the Legislature that California quit the business of selling land to settlers and underwriting such projects.

An aerial wedding without rice or old shoes and an airplane crash without death or injuries featured the windup of a two-day air rodeo at Glendale, Calif. The wedding united C. D. Crouse and Miss Violet Thurston, who said "I do" to a justice of the peace while aloft in a plane piloted by a doctor. The crash wrecked Al Gilbertser's plane and threw him and his passengers upon the grass uninjured when Gilbertser ducked the ship too sharply in landing.

It has cost Harry F. Sinclair something like one million dollars already to prevent cancellation of the Teapot Dome lease and retain possession of this valuable piece of oil land, in the opinion of men who have closely followed proceedings since the Senate investigating committee got busy a little over a year ago. In contrast to this immense sum the government has spent only about $10,000 in its efforts to regain the land for the United States navy as a natural storage of fuel oil for its warships.

WASHINGTON

The Isle of Pines treaty, which has been pending for twenty years, was ratified by the Senate by a vote of 63 to 14.

The Senate rejected for a second time the nomination of Charles B. Warren to be attorney general. The vote was 40 to 39, compared with the tie vote, 40 to 40, on which the nomination was first rejected. Every one of the thirty-nine senators voting for the confirmation is a Republican. The opposition was a combination of Democrats and Republican insurgents.

Tax reductions of $500,000,000 a year beginning with the taxes payable next year, were forecast by Representative Green of Iowa, chairman of the House ways and means committee. The maximum surtax, Green indicated, will be reduced to 25 per cent, as proposed in the original Mellon plan rejected by the last Congress. The present maximum is 40 per cent.

The controversy between President Coolidge and the Senate over the attorney generalship ended abruptly with the nomination of John G. Sargent of Vermont for the post, and his prompt confirmation by the Senate. Mr. Sargent, a former attorney general of Vermont and a close personal friend of the President, was selected after Charles B. Warren of Michigan, whose nomination twice was rejected by the Senate, had declined to accept an offer of a recess appointment.

Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, present minister to China, was nominated by President Coolidge to be United States ambassador to Germany. Schurman will succeed Alanson Houghton, who was transferred from Berlin to London following the appointment of Ambassador Kellogg as secretary of state.

Assurance of the support and confidence of the Washington government was given to Baron Ago von Maltzan in his capacity of ambassador to the United States from Germany by President Coolidge in accepting his letters of credence at the White House.

FOREIGN

Prince George, youngest son of the king and queen, was operated on for removal of the tonsils. A bulletin issued in London said his condition was satisfactory.

Prof. August von Wassermann, director of the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute for Experimental Therapy and professor of internal medicine at the University of Berlin, the originator of the celebrated Wassermann blood test, died in Berlin a few days ago. He was 59 years old.

The Santiago correspondent of La Nacion reports that the mayor of Tacna has sent an official communication to the Chilean foreign office saying that a group of Peruvians thrice attacked a detachment of Chilean carabineers at Ticalaco, being repulsed by the Chileans.

Premier Herriot's talks with Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary, and Dr. Edouard Benes, the Czecho-Slovak foreign minister, opened a new phase of Europe's search for tranquillity which probably will take the form of lengthy negotiations through regular diplomatic channels.

International circulation of bogus $100 bills of the Imperial Bank of Canada totaling $250,000 has been discovered, the Toronto Mail and Empire stated recently. The newspaper asserts that for several months these bills have been returned to Canadian banks from British banks in various parts of the world.

Recent proposals to permit automobiles to pass through the London streets at greater speed than at present has brought about organization of the Pedestrians' Protective Society. Members of the association will oppose vigorously any steps to abolish "that important factor of public safety, the speed limit of motor vehicles," as has been suggested in pending legislation.

Peruvian dissatisfaction over President Coolidge's recent award in the Tacna-Arica arbitration has mounted to such disquieting proportions that there is much sober speculation in Washington as to what turn the situation eventually may take. The American embassy at Lima already is under a special guard of Peruvian soldiers after one assault from a crowd of anti-American demonstrators.

Preliminary work on the tomb near the great pyramid at Giza, recently unearthed by the Boston-Harvard expedition and believed to date back to the reign of Pharaoh Sneferu, or about 3,000 B. C., is being completed, according to an official communication issued by the ministry of public works at Cairo, Egypt. It has been decided to close the tomb until the arrival of Dr. George A. Reisner, assistant professor of Egyptology at Harvard.

GENERAL

William "Bill" Doolin, notorious Kansas outlaw, who, in a quarter century of crime, always played a lone and fearless hand, finally surrendered near El Dorado, Kan., to save from a posse's bullets the woman he loved.

"Feeling fine, but just a bit under the weather," W. E. D. Stokes, millionaire hotel man, said in Chicago following his acquittal on charges that he conspired to defame his wife's character. It was Stokes' first victory over his wife, Helen Elwood Stokes, in their many years of litigation. Mrs. Stokes defeated her husband in his two suits for divorce.

A woman grew America's best ear of corn in 1924, judges of the National Seed Corn show of Chicago having awarded first prize of $1,000 to Mrs. Elsie M. Faliskie, Waverly, Ill., and announced that her entry was 100 per cent perfect. Another $1,000 prize was awarded to W. W. Montgomery, Fayette county, Ohio, for having entered 2,410 ears, the largest number offered.

Thirty-three men were killed in an explosion which wrecked mine 41 of the Bethlehem Mines Corporation, three miles west of Fairmont, W. Va.

The cattleman, long a colorful figure in the life of the West, is slowly passing, if the membership roll of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association may be taken as an indication. The association suffered a loss of 650 members during the last year, showed the annual report of its executive committee, submitted to the association convention at San Antonio, Texas.

Statements by Charles C. Fulman, head of a school of bacteriology, that he had given typhoid germs to William B. Shepherd, foster-father and chief heir of William Nelson McClintock, and knew they were intended for the "millionaire orphan," guided state's attorneys at Chicago in their efforts to obtain a murder indictment from the grand jury investigating McClintock's death from typhoid fever last December. The germs that killed McClintock were given to Shepherd upon his promise to pay $100,000 after settlement of the estate, Fulman told Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney.

C. C. Fulman, head of a school of science, under severe interrogation in Chicago, broke down and admitted that William B. Shepherd, held in custody in connection with the death of William McClintock, Shepherd's rich foster son, had promised him $20,000 to "keep his mouth shut."

Simplicity marked the funeral at New Haven, Conn., of Walter Camp, famous Yale football mentor, who died in New York. Private services were held at his home, only members of the family and a few close friends attending.

New Mexico State Items

Fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, did considerable damage to the Socorro State Bank recently.

Due to financial troubles the Florida oil well near Deming has been closed down indefinitely and no more drilling will be done until more money is raised.

The Dabany hotel, which has been under construction at Gallup for several months, is nearing completion and will be one of the best in that part of the state.

At a big meeting of the business men of Hagerman at the Presbyterian church last week plans were started for the formation of a Chamber of Commerce.

Out of a clear sky, says a state health bureau bulletin, came the announcement that ten deaths from diphtheria had occurred at Coyote, in Rio Arriba county.

Several miles of the main highway between Encino and Santa Fe are now receiving their finishing touches and when all the work is completed will be one of the finest roads in the state.

The assay house of the Rosita Gold Mining Company, operating near Baldy, was completely destroyed by fire last week and the loss is estimated at over $3,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

If the plans of the school board of Deming are approved by the taxpayers a new grammar school costing at least $150,000 will be erected during the coming year. A petition bearing a large number of names is now being circulated over the city calling for a special election in May when the residents will be asked to vote on a bond issue to carry out the plans.

The federal grand jury at Santa Fe indicted a number of prominent New Mexico bankers, including a group involved in the failure of the State Bank and Trust Company and the State National Bank of Albuquerque. Violation and conspiracy to violate the federal banking laws are alleged. Defendants named are J. H. Herndon, Roy McDonald, George A. Hageman, T. J. Mera and Dr. M. K. Wilder of Albuquerque; Cecil B. Bigelow, Henry T. Brower, Jr., former bank examiner; Guy W. Blakely, O. H. Smith of Roswell and W. D. Murray of Silver City.

The February industrial survey report issued from the office of the U. S. Employment Survey of the U. S. Department of Labor at Denver, Colo., states that partial activity in out-door work during winter months has caused the usual surplus of principally unskilled transient workers in New Mexico. This surplus will probably be decreased during the next few weeks by the resumption of outside construction work and early spring agricultural activities. The lambing season to commence during the next thirty days in the southeastern section of the state will require many additional workers. Industrial plants, including lumber mills at Dernalillo are running steadily with sufficient industrial labor available. Building and general construction is quiet as is usual at this season. Building mechanics supply. Construction of a planing mill and box factory at Dernalillo, costing approximately $75,000, is under way and affording employment to about 100 building tradesmen. Municipal improvement and highway construction work is inactive and will not be extensively resumed until the spring. Steady operations continue at the metal mines; labor in connection sufficient. Lumbering activities normal, especially at Dernalillo, with plenty of this class of help available. Railway shop workers continue to be afforded employment but five days a week.

Three miles of pipe line have been laid by the Gilmand Oil Company between the oil fields of Claytch and the Santa Fe tracks. The line will be ready for the first flow of oil in the next two weeks.

Plans for what is believed to be the best safety organization in the Southwest are now being worked out by the safety department of the Phelps-Dodge Corporation and will be placed in effect at once at Dawson.

John H. Gaunt, former banker and postal official at Reserve, N. M., was given two years in Leavenworth and a fine of $5,000 by U. S. District Judge Neblett of Santa Fe. Mr. Gaunt received the heaviest punishment of the trio of defendants who had pleaded guilty last week to violation of the U. S. postal laws by conspiracy to get a $300 money order paid without paying in the money for it. The other two defendants were sentenced as follows: Nell Smith, assistant cashier of the bank at Reserve, one year and one day in Leavenworth; Mrs. Ida Jones, assistant postmaster at Reserve, fine of $500.

The complete crop returns for Chaves county have just been completed by the Raton Chamber of Commerce and show that the average yield per acre for the entire county was [illegible], or an increase of about $15 per acre over the returns for 1923. The total return from all farm crops was $2,373,[illegible].

New buildings under construction in Carlsbad at the present time will represent an outlay of over $100,000 when completed. One of the contracts is a fine addition to the Masonic temple which will cost over $10,000.

TORNADO SWEEPS ILLINOIS TOWNS

WRECKED CITIES IN FLAMES FOLLOWING WAKE OF STORM

HUNDREDS ARE DEAD

WHOLE VILLAGES ARE WIPED OUT IN GREATEST TORNADO IN HISTORY

Chicago.—A tornado tore through southern Illinois after leaving eastern Missouri and then caused considerable damage in Indiana before it died out to the northeast after collecting a reported toll of 3,001 persons dead or injured on the basis of estimates available from the storm-swept regions where communication was largely destroyed.

While darkness and prostrated wires made the collection of data difficult, estimates which came in through various sources with ever increasing totals placed the total dead at 637 and the injured at 2,674.

The destruction of property was enormous, several towns being almost entirely wiped out, and such populous places as West Frankfort and Murphysboro having lost whole blocks of buildings. In the town of Parrish only three persons were said to have escaped injury or death out of a population of 500.

The wind was so powerful at Parrish that bodies were carried more than a mile, it was reported. At Murphysboro where the dead totaled 160, a schoolhouse was blown down over the heads of 215 pupils, while at De Soto late estimates placed the dead at 100 and the injured at 500 out of a total population of 700.

A schoolhouse at De Soto was razed and only three of the 250 occupants escaped unhurt, while eighty-eight bodies were taken from the ruins.

Reports say that 700 persons were killed at Parrish and West Frankfort alone, but other information placed the loss in these towns somewhat lower.

The storm was not so severe in Missouri, where it received its impetus from the Ozark mountains, owing to a low barometer pressure from Arkansas, but it laid waste a number of towns and many farms before it jumped the Mississippi river into Illinois.

Relief was almost as quick in its action as were the elements in destroying so much property and so many lives.

Relief trains bearing doctors, nurses, wreckers and goodly supplies of medicines and food were dispatched from Chicago and St. Louis, as well as other points, within a few hours after the disaster became known.

Governor Len Small ordered troops and the medical corps of the Illinois National Guard to proceed to the devastated regions at the earliest possible moment.

Whirling and swirling with such irresistible energy that it crushed large buildings like egg shells and razed reinforced mine tipples, the disaster inflicted on the towns in its path was meteoric-like in its fury.

Almost in a moment the inhabitants of the towns struck were crushed to death or buried, maimed, under the debris of buildings that crumbled like cardboard houses.

Citizens, after a period of bewilderment, quickly rallied in an effort to rescue those who had not been slain and attempts were made to get word to unaffected towns asking for aid.

According to advices received here the storm apparently struck first at Gorham, on the Mississippi river, at the western edge of Jackson county and swept northeastward, through the towns of Bush, Hurst, Murphysboro, De Soto, Colyville, Benton and West Frankfort.

Darkness descended over the devastated area shortly after the wind had twisted its way to the northeast and the streets of the towns demolished, and streets were filled with inhabitants clamoring over the piles of wreckage seeking missing friends and relatives.

From the records of the jumbled timbers came the cries of injured persons, who were pinned beneath the wreckage, while the bodies of the slain could be seen far down in the debris where it was impossible to extricate them.

The churches and school houses were turned into hospitals and morgues and despite the difficulties faced by the rescuers, hundreds of persons were gathered into these places, of refuge before darkness settled over the scene.

Where electric light plants had not been put out of commission, lights were so arranged that the rescue work might continue during the night.

In other towns bonfires were lighted and automobile and hand searchlights were brought into use to aid the workers. Such roads as could operate trains put on specials to convey many of the injured to nearby towns where hospital facilities were available.

In spite of the wide sweep of the storm after crossing the Mississippi river several of the best trains running between the southern resorts and Chicago escaped its fury, but the scores of passengers were delayed somewhat in reaching their destination as the trains had to feel their way through the storm region for fear that the timbers might have been thrown across the tracks, or bridges torn down.

By the margin of only a few miles the tornado swept to the north of Herrin, Ill., where troops have been called so frequently to quiet fighting among its citizens.

Hundreds of telegraph poles were twisted off and many orchards were rent bare of limbs, while the coal mine tipples were twisted into masses of splintered timbers.

Vincennes, Ind.—Fifty or sixty persons were killed in Princeton, Ind., twenty-five miles south of here, when the tornado struck that city, according to unconfirmed reports received here.

Most of the casualties are said to have occurred at the Heine Pickle Company factory, which was reported to be demolished. All available doctors, nurses and ambulances in Vincennes have been rushed to Princeton, Ind.

Springfield, Ill.—Illinois Central operators at Christopher drove to West Frankfort and declared the dead are strewn about the streets and blocks of buildings are in ruins according to word received at the railroad offices here. The town of Parrish was said to have been literally blown away.

First aid to reported tornado stricken cities of Murphysboro and West Frankfort was ordered by Governor Small and Adj. Gen. Carlos H. Black.

Cairo, Ill.—Mayor Hill of Carbondale, Ill., in a telephone call to W. H. Wood, mayor of Cairo, early appealed for assistance in "every form" for the storm-swept section about Carbondale. He urged especially that relief workers be rushed to the scene.

According to advices received here over railroad wires, the armory and hospitals at Carbondale were filled to capacity with the bodies of persons killed by the tornado which struck several southern Illinois towns and relief workers found it necessary to send other bodies to Duquoin.

St. Louis, Mo.—Passengers arriving in St. Louis on a Mobile & Ohio train which passed through Murphysboro, Ill., reported that the city is "completely down and in flames." Water mains have bursted, they said, and there are no electric lights. As the train stopped to take on fifty refugees, citizens by the hundreds were seen running frantically through the streets, some clad only in blankets. Estimates of the dead in Murphysboro ranged from 100 to 150. Chester, Gorham and Duquoin were reported as "pretty well hit."

Chicago.—A relief train loaded with workers, doctors, nurses and supplies was sent from here under the auspices of the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross. Nurses from that organization and the Salvation Army augmented the body of other workers. The Illinois Central railroad also sent a special relief train from here, on which eight trained nurses and a Salvation Army officer were passengers. The central division headquarters of the American Red Cross, until recently had been here, but is now located at St. Louis and most of the relief work was directed from there.

Evansville, Ind.—At least 200 persons are believed to be dead as the result of a tornado that struck southern Indiana, ruining the towns of Princeton, Griffin, Owensville and Poseyville, according to conservative estimates available here.

Whitaker Well Spouts Oil

Fort Collins, Colo.—The gush of oil from the Whitaker well broke the bounds of its casing and spurted high over the derrick. A spectacular sight was viewed when the heavy black oil spouted high over the derrick, which towers eighty-four feet above the ground. After spraying the derrick for twenty minutes, the flow was controlled and diverted into two four-inch pipes. The pipes were immediately filled.

Three Held for Bombing Mine

Fairmont, W. Va.—Three men were placed under arrest in connection with the explosion at Mine 41 of the Bethlehem Mines Corporation, in which thirty-four men were entombed. Their arrest followed the report of a possibility that the disaster had been caused by the explosion of a bomb.

Roundhouse Held to Satisfy Judgment

Kansas City.—No easier payment of $20,000 judgment to a boy who lost a foot in an accident on the road, I. K. Fardhall, United States marshal, seized the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul roundhouse here. Judge Albert L. Reeves, of the federal court, ordered the seizure at the request of the boy's attorneys, who pointed out that the railroad went into a receivership. The railroad must give bond for twice the amount of the judgment before the roundhouse will be released.

Senate Adjourns

Washington.—The Senate has ended its special session, which began March 4. With the ending of the session, which made history by its fight with President Coolidge over the Warren nomination, Congress finally cleared out of Washington for a recess expected to last until December. Since the adjournment was taken after a long list of nominations, received from the White House but a few hours before, had been disposed of in rapid order.

TRANSPORTATION OF FILMS ILLEGAL

"TEX" RICKARD FOUND GUILTY OF TRANSPORTING FIGHT PICTURES

FOUR ARE CONVICTED

PENALTY OF TWO YEARS IN PRISON AND $10,000 FINE PROVIDED

Trenton, N. J.—George L. (Tex) Rickard and four of his co-defendants in Federal Court charged with conspiracy to violate the laws to transport prize fight films illegally, were found guilty by a jury here. A sixth defendant, James Dougherty of Philadelphia, was acquitted.

The conspiracy trial was an echo of some of the sensational proceedings brought out by the Wheeler senatorial committee last year, for it was at one of that body's sessions that a former government agent gave testimony which resulted in the indictments found against the six by a federal grand jury at Newark last May.

Those convicted beside Rickard, were Fred C. Quimby, New York motion picture producer; Teddy Hayes of Los Angeles, former secretary to Heavyweight Champion Jack Dempsey; Jacper C. (Jap) Mums, Washington and New York newspaper man, and Frank R. Flournoy, Madison Square Garden matchmaker.

Rickard was held guilty on one count of conspiracy and on two charging transportation of films of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight from New Jersey to New York and later to Chicago. Quimby and his corporation—Quimby, Inc.—were held to be guilty of conspiracy in one count and three counts charging transportation.

Hayes was held guilty on two counts, conspiracy and transportation. Mums on two counts, charging illegal transportation and one count alleging conspiracy, and Flournoy on one count only, that of conspiracy. Dougherty, a manager of prize fighters, was found not guilty. At the conclusion of the government's case, but one charge that of illegal transportation, remained against Dougherty. On the conspiracy charge, the law provides a maximum penalty of two years' imprisonment in a federal penitentiary and a fine of $10,000, or both. For transportation of the fight film from one state into another the defendants may be fined $1,000 on each count.

California Backs River Pact

Sacramento, Calif.—Ratification of the Colorado river six-state compact was voted by the Assembly of the California Legislature. The resolution provides that California's approval to the treaty shall become effective when Congress has granted authority for the construction of the Boulder high type dam. The vote was 57 to 18. Supporters of unqualified ratification declared that to attempt to qualify California's approval of the six-state compact would nullify the entire agreement.

Cowboy Arrests Brother

Prescott, Ariz.—Lawton Champie, noted broncho rider and holder of the Prescott championship medal, arrested his brother, Charles Champie, on a charge of illegally herding sheep on a cattle range. Lawton Champie, who is a special deputy sheriff, warned his brother, and when his warning met with a remark that this was a "free country," he brought him to jail here. The brothers remain friends in spite of the incident.

Palm Beach Swept by Fire

Palm Beach, Fla.—Fire destroyed the famous Breakers hotel, wiped out the smaller Palm Beach hotel, and for hours held a threat of destruction over the entire northern section of this celebrated winter playground of the wealthy. Beginning in the Breakers, the fire was fanned by a brisk sea breeze and raged for hours. In addition to the hotels, from which numerous wealthy patrons were compelled to flee with little thought of saving their possessions, a number of cottages were burned and the property loss was estimated between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

Coleman Given Berlin Post

Washington.—Nomination by President Coolidge of Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, new American minister at Peking, to succeed Alanson B. Houghton as ambassador to Germany, and his prompt confirmation by the Senate, completed the realignment of major diplomatic assignments in Europe.

Senate Ratifies Nineteen Treaties

Washington.—Nineteen treaties were ratified by the Senate between Dec. 10 and size the adjournment, establishing a record. It was declared by Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee. Since Mr. Borah assumed the chairmanship after the death of Senator Lodge, eighteen treaties were reported favorably and ratified by the Senate. The committee calendar was cleared except for the Lausanne treaty which went over until the next session.

It is good to rub and polish the brain against that of others.—Montague.

TASTY FOODS

Rice is such a wholesome food that different ways of serving it are always appreciated.

Imperial Rice.—Put three cupfuls of milk into a double boiler, add one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and one-half cupful of well-washed rice. Cook until the milk is all absorbed, then add one-third of a box of gelatin soaked in cold water and dissolved over heat. When the mixture is cold and beginning to thicken, add one-half cupful of powdered sugar, one teaspoonful of of lemon juice and the same of orange juice and a little of the grated rind, and lastly fold in one cupful of cream whipped stiff. Turn into a well-lined mold and set away in a cool place.

Oysters a la Richelieu.—Put one tablespoonful of butter in a saucepan and when well melted add one-fourth of a teaspoonful of paprika, two tablespoonfuls of chopped celery and cook five minutes, then add two dozen large oysters free from liquor. Cover and when plump add two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and the same of orange juice, then serve.

Lenten Cutlets.—Use one pint of flaked fish, one cupful of milk, two tablespoonfuls of butter, two of flour, a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of cayenne, a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, a teaspoonful of onion juice and a grating of nutmeg. Put the milk over the fire to heat, add the butter and flour well mixed to the milk, cook until smooth and thick, then add the beaten yolk of an egg, cook a moment, take from the fire, add the seasonings, then mix with the fish and sauce and set aside to cool. When cold form into cutlets, dip into egg and crumbs and fry until well browned.

Apricot Floats.—Take one-fourth pint of leftover apricots, four tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, the whites of two eggs. Press the pulp of the apricots through a fine sieve. Beat the whites of the eggs very stiff, add the sugar, add the fruit pulp, a tablespoonful at a time and beat constantly until stiff enough to hold its shape. Set aside to chill. Fill individual serving dishes one-third full of cream and drop a tablespoonful of the apricot float on top of each.

Baked Fish With Sauce.—Stuff a large fish of any kind with bread stuffing and serve with the following: Place in a double boiler one beaten egg, one tablespoonful each of butter and vinegar, one-half cupful each of water and fish stock; one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of white pepper, and one teaspoonful of dry mustard. Cook until the consistency of custard. Put through the meat chopper one small onion, one large cucumber pickle and a few sprigs of parsley. Add these to the sauce; let heat through and serve with the fish.

Something Good.

A choice chicken salad which will be cherished in any family is the following:

Radio Chicken Salad.—Take four pounds of chicken, reserving one pound of the white meat for a garnish. Dice the three pounds with two pounds of diced cooked veal, one small head of cabbage chopped, two bunches of celery, one can of pimentoes, two large green peppers, six small sweet pickles, all chopped; one teaspoonful of salt and onion juice, and a pint of mayonnaise. Add the finely cut white meat (with a few reds of mayonnaise to decorate) to top of the salad.

Dutch Dish.—Add to one pound of veal or fish leftovers a quarter of a pound of bread soaked in beef extract and water or beef tea, one slice of onion chopped fine, one-fourth of a teaspoonful each of salt and cloves, three tablespoonfuls of melted butter, peel, grated from half a lemon and the well beaten yolks of three eggs. Mix well then cut and fold in the well-beaten whites and bake three-quarters of an hour.

Spinach Masked With Eggs.—Steam two quarts of well-washed spinach until tender, then drain and chop fine. Season with one-half teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of butter and one cupful of medium-thick white sauce. Place the spinach in a buttered glass baking dish, cover with three hard-cooked eggs, sliced or quartered, and pour over one cupful of medium-thick white sauce. Sprinkle the top with half a cupful of grated cheese and bake in a hot oven for twelve minutes.

Beef a la Mode.—Take a thick piece from the under part of the round, let stand a day in a marinade, using half vinegar and half olive oil, a chopped onion, eight peppercorns, a bay leaf and a little chopped parsley. Baste often, turning occasionally so that every part of the meat is seasoned. When ready to cook, drain and sear on all sides in a hot kettle, then half cover with boiling water and simmer for four to seven hours. Some may like a sauce made from the marinade, thickening with flour.

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D.D., Dean of the Evening School, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(©, 1928, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for March 29

CLOSING PERIOD OF CHRIST'S MINISTRY—REVIEW

DEVOTIONAL READING—Rev. 1:9-18.

GOLDEN TEXT—"Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and today and forever."—Heb. 13:8.

PRIMARY TOPIC — How Friends Cared for Jesus and Paul.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Helping the Missionaries by Our Gifts.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Living Lessons From the Quarter.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Closing Scenes in Christ's Life.

The lessons of the quarter have been so rich and full that perhaps the best method of review will be to summarize the outstanding teachings of the quarter. The following suggestions are offered:

Lesson I—The so-called triumphal entry was the official presentation of Jesus of Nazareth to the Jewish nation as their Messiah. He was the predicted king coming in the name of the Lord (Psa. 118:26).

Lesson II—Coming judgment is absolutely certain. The judgment portrayed in this lesson is that of the nations living on the earth when Jesus comes. The judgment pronounced—reward or doom—will be on the ground of the attitude of the nations towards Jesus as expressed in their treatment of His brethren, the Jews.

Lesson III—Before Jesus went to the cross He instituted a memorial of His broken body and shed blood. This should be gratefully and strictly observed by believers until Christ comes again.

Lesson IV—Many are the trials through which the believer must pass as he goes through this life. The sure cure for "heart trouble" is the assurance that Jesus has gone to prepare a place in His Father's house, and will come again and receive His disciples to Himself.

Lesson V—Jesus is the true vine and believers are the branches. Abiding in Him will result in fruitfulness, success in prayer, fellowship in the love-life of God, fullness of joy and love-life like that of God.

Lesson VI—It is not the purpose of God that Christians should be taken out of the world at once which they believe on Christ because the world needs their influence and testimony. Christ needs them as His representatives and they need the trials of the world to strengthen the grace of God in their hearts. Those whom God has given to Christ are eternally secure even though they must pass through great trials.

Lesson VII—The agony of Gethsemane was due to the fact that Jesus was bearing the burden of the sins of the world.

Lesson VIII—The heart of this lesson is that Christians should be obedient to civil authority because human government has been ordained of God. The more loyal the believer is to Jesus Christ, the more loyal he will be to rightly constituted authority (This lesson has no logical connection with the others of the quarter and should be omitted where time is limited).

Lesson IX—Jesus Christ gave clear proof that He was the Messiah promised in the Scriptures, but the wicked nation rejected Him and chose a murderer instead. Both Pilate and the nation went down under the guilt of the rejection of Christ.

Lesson X—Christ on the cross is the supreme expression of unselfish love, a revelation of the moral nature of the world, and stands as an exhibition of a great section of the world in any generation.

Lesson XI—Christ's resurrection is an absolute certainty. This unquestioned fact certifies that He is the divine Son through whom we get eternal life.

Lesson XII—The various appearances of Jesus Christ after His burial demonstrate the reality of His resurrection, confirm the truthfulness of the Scriptures and reveal Him as not only the supreme and grand center of the Scriptures, but the supreme interpreter of them.

Goodness Outshines Genius

Man is created for virtue. He is his supreme endowment coupled with his capacity for affinity to God. Here and there a trumper sounds. From the higher battlements of Eternity, summoning him to noble living. If he refuses to obey the summons he slides in the scale of being. He surrenders manhood to accept animalism. The degree in which a man is striving after virtue and obedient to the law of duty determines his real value. "Goodness," says Hancock, "outshines genius, as the sun makes the electric light cast a shadow."—Rev. R. H. Downs, D.D.

SCHOOL NOTES

By E. S. COPELAND.

Montie Gardenhire, a member of this year's graduating class, is attending a Forestry Training Camp on the Ruidoso this week. He expects to enter that service at the end of the present school year.

Some good work is being done in the typewriting department. Halbert Denson has completed thirty-six lessons since the first of January, and Helena Peters has attained a speed of forty-one words per minute.

An epidemic of sore eyes seems to be making the rounds. Its just one thing after another, but then, so is life for that matter.

Pearl Pungsten has been to Carrizozo for a few days having her eyes tested and glasses fitted.

Tenth grade English is evincing quite an interest in the ancient and honorable art of debating. Several questions of momentous importance have been threshed out recently.

We had a visit recently from Miss Vina Robertson who is the state director of vocational home economics. She spent a day in inspecting our department and expressed herself as well satisfied with the work done here.

Plans are formulated for getting the senior play well under way. The play will be selected within a few days and rehearsals started. Mrs. Copeland will direct the production.

The school program at Lincoln last Friday night was well attended and successfully performed. The management and directors are to be complimented.

With the advent of the big league training season, practice in the great national pastime has begun upon the local field. Several loads of sedimentary and igneous rocks have been trucked away, several cords of wood transported to regions more remote, and the grounds put in more usable shape for the young devotees of the famous American game.

Once more the teachers have adopted the policy of "Watchful Waiting" for the precious pay checks that mean food and raiment for the faithful servitors of the public.

"The gentle rain from Heaven" paid the parched earth a delectable visit of a few minutes duration Monday afternoon.

Some good handiwork can be seen in the grade rooms. Easter designs are now in the ascendency.

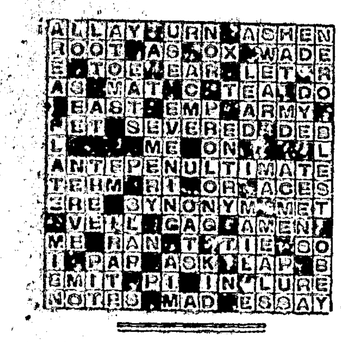
Solution of Last Week's Puzzle



VOL. 1, NO. 2 edition of The Southwestern Dispatch, a new weekly publication that has been launched at Roswell, has reached our desk. It is an eight page, all home print affair, bristling with timely and entertaining editorials, and is chock full of live oil and local news from New Mexico's oil metropolis.

FORT STANTON

Misses M. K. Palmer and N. Webb will entertain the No. 2 bridge club Wednesday evening.

Dr. T. B. H. Anderson has been called to Charlottsville, Va. owing to the serious illness of his father.

An informal dance was held at the Nurses' Home Saturday evening. Everyone witnessed a good time.

Messers J. Rainier, G. Jorgensen and G. Brown motored to Glencoe Sunday, where they were entertained by the Coe family.

Mrs. M. K. Wilkinson and Misses Anna Gartman and May Robinson motored to Lincoln Sunday with the Rev. H. K. Stanley.

On Saturday night April 4th there will be another dance at the Fort under the auspices of the Amusement Committee. A unit of the Roswell Night Owls will furnish the music.

Misses Kincannon and Kinnan and Dr. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Hebert, and Messers McNeil, K. T. Byrne Joe Gentry and Frank Welling, made a merry dinner party at the Bonita Inn Sunday.

On Monday afternoon of April 6th the New Mexico Military Institute baseball team will play the Fort Stanton Nine at the Fort field. These two teams are playing in Roswell, Saturday, March 28.

Several of the nurses were entertained by the Misses Rice at Lincoln Saturday evening. Meadames Andrews and Penfield and Miss Grady of Lincoln, and Mrs. Tassyoulis of Capitan, were also present.

Everyone greatly appreciates the kindness of the Rev. H. K. Stanley for the pleasures they have derived through the use of his new car, which he has put at the disposal of the nurses every Tuesday and for the patients most any time.

A meeting was held last Friday in the O. T. Dept. to form a Fine Arts Club. Mrs. Gensler was appointed Hon. Presiding Officer and T. Mahon for Chairman. Three committees were formed to take care of Music, Drama and Painting, and there is now a movement under way to stage a Drama which will be given in the near future. Meetings will be held each Friday at the O. T. Dept. at 5 p. m.

Practical Mother Got Real Value for Money

There is an elderly artist in Washington who appreciates fine millinery. His young married daughter, however, was practicing economy when a hat, a beautiful affair, arrived for little Marie from her devoted grandparent, whose eye and purse had surrendered to this bit of baby apparel the moment he saw it in a department store.

"That hat is too extravagant for this family," remarked the young mother. "I'll take it back and see what I can get for it."

A few days later the grandfather called to see the baby in the new bonnet. "Do let me see how she looks in it," he said. "And how did you like it?"

"Very much, father, thank you. They gave me two hats, two dresses, a sweater and 49 cents in change for it."

Tactless

I was invited to an ultra-smart wedding. The groom, a particularly handsome chap, had a brother whom I had never met. During the festivities I happened to observe an extremely awkward, homely boy coming down the stairs.

Laughingly turning toward my hostess, I asked who the gawky youth was coming down the stairs.

Turning to look at the person referred to, and without the change of a muscle, she replied. "That is my son."—Chicago Tribune.

Health and good looks
—the reward of internal cleanliness.

IF YOU do not keep clean internally your looks and health are undermined together. A clogged intestine breeds poisons that reach every part of the body. These poisons ruin the complexion and undermine health. Constipation brings on such ailments as headaches, bilious attacks and insomnia, each of which sapes your health and vitality.

Avoid Laxatives—say Doctors

Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, says a noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition.

Medical science has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless.

Take Nujol regularly and adopt this habit of internal cleanliness. For sale by all druggists.

Keep Resinol on hand for cuts, burns, rashes etc.

Oakland, Cal., March 3:—"About four years ago I had a rash on my ankle caused by the heat. It itched all the time and I could get no relief. I tried many things, but nothing did any good until I tried your Resinol Ointment. That cured me in a very short time. I always keep a jar of it on hand now for cuts, burns and other small ailments." Are You a Suffering Woman?

Fort Smith, Ark.—"I had been almost a physical wreck for nearly twelve months. I had feminine trouble and stomach trouble, was down and not able to go when I began taking Dr. Pierce's medicines. I took the 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Golden Medical Discovery' at the same time (alternately) and began to feel better in a few days. I continued to gain weight and strength and in a short time was entirely well and am still enjoying good health." Mrs. Otto Flint, 513 North Eighth Street.

LIVE STOCK NEWS

CORN STANDS ALONE AS GREATEST FEED

Corn stands unchallenged as the greatest single feed for all classes of live stock. From this plant comes the grain which affords the greater part of the concentrates in all sections where the plant grows well. In addition to this, the leaves and stalks go to make silage and stover, which comprise a large part of the roughage used in wintering the different classes of live stock, says Prof. L. V. Starkey, chief of the animal husbandry division at Clemson college, in discussing the value of corn as a live stock feed.

However, great as the corn plant is, it is not without its limitations and deficiencies. Corn is low in protein, and the protein which it has is incomplete and of poor quality. Corn is also deficient in minerals. Probably the most outstanding objection to corn in South Carolina is the fact that it is high in price. This objection will never be overcome until the yield per acre is increased.

The wise farmer will not feed corn alone to his live stock, explains Professor Starkey, but will supplement it with feeds which make up the protein and mineral deficiencies. For instance, corn and soy-bean hay or pea-vine hay will make a well-balanced feed for horses and mules. Corn and soy-bean pasture, after the pods are filled, will make a well-balanced ration for swine. Corn silage and cottonseed meal with straw for a roughage will make a balanced ration for wintering beef cattle, and silage and legume hay will make a splendid ration for sheep.

There are times when other feeds are cheaper than corn, and the winter of 1923 is one of those times, thinks Professor Starkey. For example, rice meal is worth about 90 per cent as much as corn for hog feeding and can be had much cheaper than corn. Pound for pound oats is worth as much as corn for horses and mules. Farmers having wheat oats are well fixed. If cottonseed meal is cheaper than corn, it may be used as the sole concentrate for wintering beef cattle where a carbohydrate roughage is fed. Velvet beans at $25 a ton are decidedly cheaper than corn.

It is a wise farmer who studies the relative values of feeds and balances the rations accordingly. These times of high prices are hazardous to those who make mistakes, but profitable to those who follow correct methods.

Sheep Bulletin Issued by Minnesota Expert

Maintaining a flock of from 50 to 100 breeding ewes as part of the live stock on the average quarter-section or half-section farm is the best sheep production plan for the average Middle West farmer, says Phil A. Anderson of the division of animal husbandry, University of Minnesota, in a bulletin on "Sheep Raising in Minnesota."

"A small flock for the average farm will fit in best with average farm conditions," says Mr. Anderson. "The beginner will be safest in starting with grade ewes. Management, care and feeding of the small farm flock are not difficult or burdensome and afford an attractive enterprise that might be turned over to the boy as a means of giving him a share in the management of the affairs of the farm."

Mr. Anderson's bulletin treats of the selection of breeding ewes, of summer grazing, sheep managing and handling, fattening sheep and lambs, marketing, etc. Copies can be obtained without cost on request to the division of publications, University Farm, St. Paul, Minn.

Horses Poorly Cared For

Many farm horses are cared for so poorly during the winter that they are unfit for work in the spring. Poor care in winter often weakens them and lowers their resistance. As a result losses from disease occur in the winter or in the spring when they go into hard work. Idle horses, with the exception of growing and breeding stock, can be carried through the winter on a large extent on roughages.

Live Stock Notes

Warm water for stock pays big dividends on the feed used.

* * *

Dock and castrate the lambs when about ten days of age.

* * *

A live stock sermon in six words: Better sires, better stock, better success.

* * *

Too much bedding in the hog house causes the hogs to sweat badly. There should be just enough to keep hogs from piling up.

* * *

Nearly every farmer in the corn belt has or needs a feed wagon for fall and winter hog feeding.

* * *

Cattle that are not used to sweet clover hay do not take to it so readily at first, but they soon learn to like it.

* * *

Prairie hay and corn is a poor combination of feed for a pregnant ewe. She is growing a fleece that is very rich in nitrogen or protein, at the same time she is developing a lamb. This requires muscle and bone building feed.

* * *

A horse cannot do full work in the spring if he has been starved through the winter by getting too little feed or not the right kind even, though he is fed up on good feed when he goes to hard work in the spring.

* * *

Most men have the time during the winter to give their horses the necessary attention they need.

* * *

Muddy pig pens are more expensive than good feeding floors, for records show that pigs fed on clean floors gain twice as much as those fed in the mud.

ACHES AND PAINS ALL OVER BODY

Mrs. Proctor Reports Great Benefit by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sharpsburg, Pa.—"I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all suffering women. I have taken four bottles of it and I feel 100 per cent better.
