DISTRICT COURT.

The first trial of a criminal nature heard at the present term of the Lincoln county district court, came up for trial Monday of this week. The defendants were Felix and Jose Perea, brothers, charged with assault to kill and assault with a deadly weapon. During the taking of the testimony the district attorney entered a nolle prosequi of the graver charge, and the case proceeded. The case went to the jury at 10 o'clock in the evening, and under instructions of the court returned a sealed verdict about one o'clock. The verdict was read next morning, and it was that Felix was not guilty and that Jose was guilty as charged, with a recommendation for clemency.

Practically all of last week was devoted to the disposition of civil matters, in which the services of the petit jury were not required. One civil case of a minor nature was heard before a jury last week a horse being the stake and replevin the nature of the case.

The grand jury has been running along, returning quite a number of indictments and turning off a large volume of business. When the News man left Lincoln Tuesday morning, thirty-five true bills had been returned, and nineteen no bills. A great number of the indictments are for minor infractions of the law. The grand jury expected to conclude its labors and adjourn yesterday.

A BOLD ROBBERY.

Sometime Friday night a room in the hotel annex, in which a large amount of painting material was stored, was broken into, and a considerable portion of the stuff stolen. The robbery was discovered the following morning, and on investigation it was found that 100 pounds of white lead, four bolts of canvas and about twenty rolls of wall paper were missing. The padlock with which the door was fastened was either picked or broken off and was missing. Wagon tracks showed that two trips had been made to the annex during the night. The tracks of a man wearing large-sized shoes, leading from the annex to where the wagon stood, were visible next morning. Where the stuff was taken to is not known, as all trace of the wagon disappeared when it reached the open street. The material belonged to the painting department of the railroad company, and was placed in the annex for the convenience of the painters who are painting and papering the railroad hotel. The thief might have helped himself to oils, colors, brushes, etc., but probably did not need them, and took just what he did need and no more. The officers are working on two different clues, one is that the stuff was taken out of town in a wagon, and the other is that the wagon was only used as a blind, and that the material is still here. In either case they believe they will recover the property and land the thief.

A PATHETIC DEATH.

The wife of F. M. Johnson died Saturday morning, aged 30 years, after a lingering illness extending over five years, and the remains were interred the same afternoon in the local cemetery. She came here from southeast Missouri about four months ago in the hope that a change of climate would help her, but became worse and sank gradually from her arrival until death ended her suffering. She leaves, besides a husband, a boy about seven years and an infant about eight months, who will have to start out on their journey through life heavily handicapped, without the influence and advice of a mother to guide their footsteps along the life's thorn-strewn highway. A father, no matter how good, cannot take the place of a mother. It is a pitiable case, and deserving the sympathy of some philanthropically-inclined person who would take charge of the children, educate them and give them an even start in life's race. The husband and father desires us to express his gratitude to the kind people of Carrizozo who assisted in looking after his helpless little ones and nursing his wife during her last illness.

FINE RAINS.

Almost every portion of Lincoln county has been blessed with good rains the past week, although in each instance they have been local, not general. On Monday a fine rain fell at Lincoln and below, and the Ruidoso country also had a good wetting. Monday night rain fell in various sections of the county, the lightest fall being around Capitan. A very heavy rain fell at White Oaks Tuesday, and at Carrizozo and the nearby mountains the fall was heavy. Almost every day a shower falls in some parts of the county, and the indications are that the general season of moisture has made its appearance, and all nature will smile.

Gun That Makes No Noise.

There is surely a terrible responsibility resting to-day upon the shoulders of Hiram Percy Maxim, the son of the inventor of the machine gun. So writes P. Harvey Middleton in the Technical World Magazine. For he has patented a gun which will kill a man with no more noise than the hissing of a snake. Armed with this silent weapon a murderer could shoot down his victim without attracting the least attention, and only on examination would the cause of death be revealed. On the other hand a single policeman using the noiseless gun could disable every member of a gang of burglars before they recovered from their surprise. It is an invention which may lead to the re-equipment of the armed forces of the world, and the revolutionizing of modern methods of warfare—will perhaps even hasten the happy day when there will be no war, for the very best safeguard against war is the invention of weapons of such terrible power that armies will never dare to stand against each other. "War," said Bismarck, "is the greatest enemy of war, and will eventually put war out of existence." In the next great war skirmishers may use noiseless rifles, enabling them to creep along an enemy's front and shoot down unsuspecting pickets one after another, and not until their dead bodies were discovered would the alarm be given. The extended front of a whole army, concealed in the underbrush or behind rocks, could work terrible havoc among the opposing forces before its position could be located. To the big game hunter the silent firearm will open up new horizons.

Perch Fishing.

And the other fishing days when you got up before dawn and stole down stairs to the dim kitchen. A drink of milk, a doughnut, and a triangle of pie, then you stole out quietly to the barn and got the spading-fork. Then the search, armed with fork and tomato-can, under the broad leaves of the rhubarb bed, back of the henhouse and down by the cow barn, until you had enough worms for the day's sport. Then, of course, you left the fork sticking in the ground—you never would learn to put things away—and started off. Through the garden and orchard, stopping long enough for a handful of currants and a pocketful of sopsy-vines—over the pasture bars, eating a handful of huckleberries or low-bush blackberries here and there. Into the wood road—very dark and still in the dawn—where you stepped along very quietly so as not to disturb the bears. You knew perfectly well there were no bears, writes a contributor of the Atlantic, but you rather enjoyed the creepy sensation. Then out through the deep wet meadow grass to the river, where the sun was now beginning to burn away the wisps of mist, and the red-winged blackbirds were making a tremendous fuss over their housekeeping. You reached the river bank at the pout hole, or the big rock, or the old willow (of course, you know the exact place), and then you started fishing.

In the midst of the anti-noise crusade in the cities the flat dwellers ought to appreciate the dumb-waiter's dumbness.

As we understand it, the rheumatic tide is going out of Admiral Evans' sea legs.

EVANS' GREAT WORK

ENVIABLE RECORD OF REAR ADMIRAL IN THE NAVY.

Includes Service in Two Wars and Two "Near Wars"—Retirement Due to Wound Received in the Civil War.

wars, the civil and the Spanish-American; two "near wars," the Chilean Imbrolio and the Bering sea sealing dispute; command of two fleets, the Asiatic and Atlantic, and accomplishment of the transfer of the latter force from the Atlantic to the Pacific via Magellan in the longest cruise ever attempted by a command of such size. As a flag officer he has had the most important sea command during the period that the new battleships were organized into a fleet and brought the new system of target practice to its present high stage of efficiency. He brings his service afloat to a close now because of ill health, which is partially due to the wound with which he began his conspicuous career at Fort Fisher in the civil war.

His life at the naval academy was an entertaining account of study, discipline and occasional escapades, cut short by the civil war, which called the midshipmen into active service. Then came the landing party at Fort Fisher, when Ensign Evans was shot in the leg and lay for hours on the sand dunes. He was sent to a naval hospital, where a surgeon determined to amputate his leg, and was only dissuaded by a revolver in the hands of his equally determined patient, who preferred to limp, as he has done, on that leg for 45 years rather than utilize a wooden limb. Another charm in the book was a peep behind the scenes which it gave to the reader. As commanding officer of the Yorktown the author remained in Chilean waters throughout the uncertain period following the Baltimore incident at Valparaiso. Here his role was diplomacy, placating the Chileans, but permitting them to see that the Yorktown meant business if trouble came. This was successful service, and when the next ticklish job came along, the Bering sea sealing dispute, which also brought a war cloud, Commander Evans was senior officer present in the North Pacific.

Near the close of 1903, when the secession of Panama had raised a great rumpus in South America, Rear Admiral Evans was ordered to proceed to Honolulu, which he did at an average of more than 13 knots for the battleships, the oldest of which was the Oregon.

This was a most creditable performance. A year later Rear Admiral Evans returned home, expecting duty on the lighthouse board, but President Roosevelt personally requested him to take command of the Atlantic fleet. He did so in March, 1905. It then consisted of six battleships. It now has 16.

The Atlantic fleet had gone through a period of uncertain policy. Under Rear Admiral Higginson there were complaints that the men did not get enough liberty or privileges, and it is a fact that desertions were numerous and re-enlistments few. Rear Admiral Barker filled in between the Higginson and Evans commands. The latter brought with him as chief of staff, Capt. J. E. Pillsbury, and the two took hold of the fleet with a firm grip. The men were promptly given as much liberty as possible, athletics of every description were encouraged, baseball and football leagues formed, regular schedules for boxing championships arranged in all classes, and rowing races were regularly held.

RAYNER AIDS COL. STEWART.

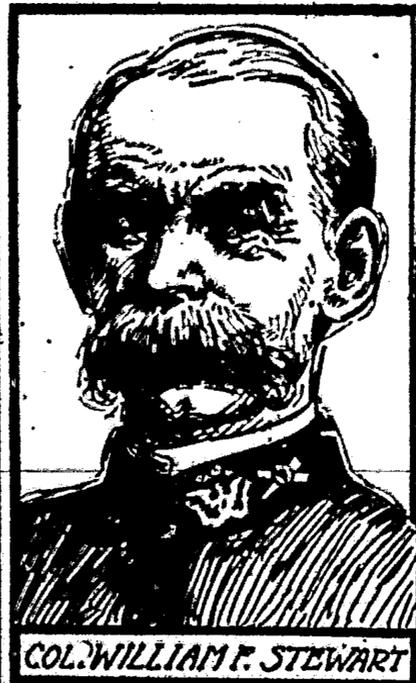

Requests Court of Inquiry for Officer Exiled to Abandoned Fort.

Washington.—Senator Rayner recently introduced a resolution "authorizing the president to convene a court of inquiry" to consist of five officers of the army to investigate charges and accusations against Col. William F. Stewart of the army.

Col. Stewart has been detailed to serve until retirement at the abandoned military post at Fort Grant, Ariz.

Personal peculiarities, chiefly a bad temper, causing constant friction with his enlisted men and associate officers, are cited as the cause of the displeasure of the war department officials and of the president toward Col. Stewart.

The officials do not disguise their wish to get him out of the army, yet they admit that the end could not be attained through court-martial. So they have adopted the plan assigning him to duty where there is no duty and in the most unpleasant surroundings to be found.

Col. Stewart is determined to serve his full time in the active service, of which he has three years remaining. He, therefore, has avoided committing any breach of regulations. When ordered to the abandoned post at Fort Grant, Ariz., he obeyed and immolated himself in the desert.

When ordered to the other abandoned post at St. Augustine, Fla., thither he went. He was then ordered back to Fort Grant.

Senator Rayner has looked up the precedents and finds that the case presents violations of American law unparalleled in time of peace.

QUEEN OF ACTRESSES PRAISES PE-RU-NA.

MISS JULIA MARLOWE.

"I am glad to write my endorsement of the great remedy, Peruna. I do so most heartily."—Julia Marlowe.

Any remedy that benefits digestion strengthens the nerves. The nerve centers require nutrition. If the digestion is impaired, the nerve centers become anemic, and nervous debility is the result.

Peruna is not a nervous nor a stimulant. It benefits the nerves by benefiting digestion.

Peruna frees the stomach of catarrhal congestions and normal digestion is the result.

In other words, Peruna goes to the bottom of the whole difficulty, when the disagreeable symptoms disappear.

Mrs. J. C. Jamison, Wallace, Cal., writes:

"I was troubled with my stomach for six years. Was treated by three doctors. They said that I had nervous dyspepsia. I was put on a liquid diet for three months.

"I improved under the treatment, but as soon as I stopped taking the medicine, I got bad again.

"I saw a testimonial of a man whose case was similar to mine being cured by Peruna, so I thought I would give it a trial.

"I procured a bottle at once and commenced taking it. I have taken several bottles and am entirely cured."

She Said So, Anyway.

The young man who was endeavoring to win the favor of Bobby's pretty sister met the boy on the street one morning, and greeted him with much cordiality.

"Er—do you think your sister was pleased to know I had called the other day?" he was at last forced to ask, bluntly, after several efforts to guide Bobby's conversation in that direction.

"Sure!" said Bobby, with gratifying promptness. "I know she was. I heard her say so.

"When she came home mother said, 'Mr. Brown called while you were out,' and she said, 'He did? Well, I'm glad of that!'"—Youth's Companion.

BRAID MUCH WORN

MOST POPULAR TRIMMING OF THE MOMENT.

Vogue of Many Years Ago Has Been Restored to Favor — How Its Freshness May Be Maintained.

Fashions and fads move in circles, but not in nearly half a century has braid enjoyed the vogue of the present season. It appeared in small quantities on winter frocks of 1907-8, and by spring it was generally shown in all the shops.

Just now, with summer gowns on the work tables and overflowing the Narrow and Wide Braid for Outlining Jacket and Skirt of French Novelty Cloth Suit.

wardrobes, it is everywhere the most striking feature of midsummer modes.

Cloth and silk dresses are encrusted with it, vests and vestees are almost solidly braided and thinnest of fabrics, like habitue silks, mulls, all-over laces, batistes and nets, are fairly weighed down with it.

In a way this is rather a fortunate form of trimming for the home dressmaker, for if she masters the somewhat simple art of braiding flatly and without puckering the fabric beneath, she can secure very elaborate effects at little cost. On the other hand braid illy applied or carelessly combined with other trimmings will ruin an otherwise effective costume.

The new braids come in all widths and weights and weaves, from the finest of wash soutaches to the most marvelous of silk braids interwoven with lace or hand-embroidered motifs on silk.

The novelty braids show most elaborate patterns and often three or even four colors in combination. Much tinsel thread is also shown in the newer braids intended for trimming silk or net frocks, while the wash braids are combined with heavy, washable laces.

Incidentally, all wash braid should be shrunk before it is applied to tub frocks. Otherwise the trimming will probably shrink and the fabric will not, thus giving the entire gown the appearance of having been drawn out of shape by the application of the braid.

Soutache braid either matching or harmonizing with the fabric is first aid to the home dressmaker, and if it is to give best results a simple pattern must be chosen and carefully outlined by the use of perforated paper or accurate measurements with a basting thread.

For instance, perhaps you are making a circular skirt with a shaped sounce above which you want a braided pattern. If the material is silk or linen, shape your sounce, baste it under the upper section of the skirt which is to be braided on the edge, and hang the skirt perfectly.

Then rip off the sounce section, marking clearly where it is to be attached, and proceed with your braiding. If you want a square scalloped effect on the upper section, cut it in square openings, absolutely even in shape and size, face on the under side, outlining with braid, and then inside of each square or scallop braid an accurate geometrical pattern.

This may be a diamond, each successive line of braiding making a smaller diamond until in the center you have just a knot of braid. Or you can interlace or cross your braid. Or you can trace a small Greek key or wall of Troy pattern inside each of the squares.

The bodice must be similarly braided. If you have diamonds or braid on the skirt, outline your chemise or yoke with smaller braid diamonds with two or three fine lines of braid running on either side. If you use an interlacing or crossing pattern, then trim the bodice with buttons made of the cloth and criss-crossed with the braid.

Sporting Hats.

Sporting hats of fine panama are extremely fascinating and they are in favor, as are the various varieties in fancy straws and chips which answer for summer wear. But the white duck sailor—broad and straight of brim, stiffened to perfection in the pressing process—is the smart wear with the light spring woollens, coat and skirt suits, where white generally enters into the designs of stripes, blocks or plaids that are in cross-bar lines. These hats are trimmed either with a two-inch silk hatband in white or in single colors, quite as simply as a man's straw hat, or they have a crown twist of soft white satin ribbon with a fetching choux on the side of the same ribbon. Some of the pale-colored ribbons are seen also, as there will always be some one who will insist on a blue or a pink trimming, but the best style permits nothing but white.—Vogue.

Keep Shields in Place.

Fasten tapes to lower corners of shield in sailor suits; pass under arms and tie in back. Place buttons two inches from edge and on each side and work buttonholes in outer blouse to correspond with these and the button where shield closes at base of the neck.

FIVE MONTHS IN HOSPITAL.

Discharged Because Doctors Could Not Cure.

Levi P. Brockway, 8, Second Ave., Anoka, Minn., says: "After lying for five months in a hospital I was discharged as incurable, and given only six months to live. My heart was affected, I had smothering spells and sometimes fell unconscious. I got so I couldn't use my arms, my eyesight was impaired and the kidney secretions were badly disordered. I was completely worn out and discouraged when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, but they went right to the cause of the trouble and did their work well. I have been feeling well ever since."

WHERE THE DANGER LAY.

Listeners in Greater Peril Than Was Ambitious Musician.

There was never a more conscientious young man than Eben Soule, and when he found how much absorbed he had become with the mere idea of playing in the town band, he consulted his minister. "Do you reckon I could give up all that time to music without falling from grace?" he asked, anxiously.

The good old Methodist had a saving sense of humor. He saw that his parishioner was much distressed between his wishes and his conscience, but the minister smiled on him, nevertheless.

"It's the horn you're asked to play, I hear," he said. "Ever had much experience with it, Eben?"

"Never tried it but once, but I like the sound of it first-rate," said the young man.

"M'm!" said the minister. "Well, I think you needn't be afraid of falling from grace on account of it, but I do hope you'll manage things so your family and neighbors won't have to pass through the fiery temptation of hearing you practice too often, Eben."—Youth's Companion.

The Seven Prophets.

"The late Duke of Devonshire," said a diplomat, at a Washington dinner, "kept a stud and took a calm and dual interest in the races.

"There was a certain sporting paper that kept a large staff of prophets and always prophesied the outcome of important races. The duke, for some reason put great reliance in these prophets and their prophecies. He always read the paper, and he continually recommended it to his friends.

"But once at Goodwood, at the day's end, a man came up to the duke and said:

"What of your paper now? Did you see it this morning? Six prophets prophesied that six different horses would win, and here only seven ran, and the winner was the seventh, which no prophet had selected. Well, what have you to say now?"

"All I have to say," the duke answered calmly, "is that there's room for another prophet on that paper."

THE NOMINEES AND PLATFORM.

The democratic national convention finished its labors at Denver last Friday and adjourned.
W. J. Bryan, of Nebraska, as was announced in our last issue, was named for the presidency on the first ballot, receiving 892 1/2 votes to Johnson's 46 and Gray's 59 1/2. John W. Kern, of Indiana, was nominated for vice president by acclamation. A strong platform was adopted, yet its strength lies in its clear cut phrases with an absence of radicalism; and withal a plain, substantial declaration of principles, without dodging or equivocation, and barren of meaningless expressions. We may have occasion, from time to time, to quote from the Denver platform and compare the extracts with the expressions of that of the republicans adopted at Chicago; but shall not attempt to reproduce it in its entirety, as space will not permit.

The platform and candidates have been enthusiastically received by all sections of the country, with the exception of the extreme east, and even there the action of the convention has been ratified; yet the leaders are making few promises in that section. Labor leaders and laboring men are very much pleased with the declarations of the platform, and the candidates have been assured that labor will cast its fortunes with democracy. Capital, while dealt with in strong terms, has nothing to fear from the declarations in the democratic platform, if honestly acquired and legitimately directed; but unlawful combinations and trusts are denounced, and this class will bitterly oppose the election of the democratic nominees; for they realize that they must go out of business if the democrats succeed. They do not fear Taft, and herein lies the difference between the two men.

Every man who clings to the Roosevelt ideas can certainly say little against Bryan. The "interests" denounce both Roosevelt and Bryan, and yet Taft says he will carry out Roosevelt's policies. In view of the fact that the combinations of wealth that denounce Roosevelt and Bryan and are Taft's heartiest supporters indicates that the ex-secretary is just talking when he proclaims his intention of carrying out Roosevelt's policies. These "interests" and all men know where Bryan stands, and that is the reason corporations will try to defeat him. Their support of Taft must convince anyone open to conviction that Taft is not a sincere advocate of Roosevelt's policies. This seems the only logical conclusion.

The republican territorial convention will be held at Santa Fe on the 18th of August.

RAILROAD AND SHOP NEWS.

The water service crew are here working on the tanks at the shops.

Nick Miller of Topeka, Kansas, went to work yesterday morning in the shops as a machinist.

T. W. Sharp, machinist, has been unable to appear in his usual place in the shops on account of sickness.

Chief Engineer J. L. Campbell was up from El Paso yesterday, looking after conditions along the line.

Canteloupe shipments from California have about ceased, but trains are now passing through with similar shipments from Arizona points.

The material for ballasting the track will be slag from the El Paso smelter. The work train will begin hauling the material next week.

Firemen Gwin and Dozier were sent to Tucumcari yesterday. They will be chalked up on the extra board and run out of Tucumcari.

O. Sadler, special agent, came up from El Paso Sunday. He went to Lincoln Monday, returned the following day and went up the line.

The work train is still in the vicinity of Three Rivers, repairing bridges and raising the roadbed. The raise in some places is as much as ten feet.

C. F. Wheeler and his crew, who have been painting company buildings here for the past month, expect to complete their work and go to Alamogordo next week.

W. K. Collier, clerk in the general foreman's office, who is visiting at Childress, Texas, writes that he will return about the first of August. He says he is having the time of his life.

The pay car came up from El Paso yesterday, distributing little blue slips of paper that made the boys happy. The car goes to Tucumcari today and to Dawson tomorrow.

A WATCH PRESENTED.

The Daily Standard, published at Imperial, California, contains the following item concerning an old-time citizen of Lincoln county, who left here five years ago:

"Mrs. J. H. Weber left for the coast this morning to remain indefinitely, having disposed of her household goods. Before leaving Mrs. Weber presented through the Golden Rule Chapter Order of Eastern Star the gold watch and chain belonging to her deceased husband, Lieut. J. H. Weber, to Marshal John M. Keith. Mr. Keith was an intimate friend of Lieut. Weber's and the presentation was a token of friendship existing between the two friends. Mrs. Weber also desired to show her appreciation of the efforts shown by Marshal Keith in the part he has taken in enforcing the liquor ordinance of Imperial."

The ladies of the M. E. church will give an ice cream social on Thursday, July 23, afternoon and evening, in Wetmore's hall.

John Grayson came in on No. 1 from Tucumcari this morning. His family has been visiting Charles Henley's family the past month. John looks as jolly as of yore, but not quite as fleshy.

Mrs. W. D. Gray and children returned last night from Mineral Wells, Texas—one day late. The doctor was called in yesterday, but the old gentleman is better this morning, and the family feels confident of his ultimate recovery.

The American Title and Trust company—see their new ad in this issue—has filed articles of incorporation. The company's place of business is Lincoln and territorial agent is Peter A. Schmidt; capital stock $3,000, and the incorporators Wm. F. A. Gierke, Carrizozo; Peter A. and Minnie A. Schmidt, Lincoln.

Said lands were listed upon the applications of the persons mentioned below, who have a preference right subject to the prior right of any such settler, provided such settler or applicant is qualified to make homestead entry and the preference right is exercised prior to August 22, 1908, on which date the lands will be subject to settlement and entry by any qualified person. The lands, when surveyed, will probably be within Sec. 12, T. 10 S., R. 11 E., N. M. P. M., and are bounded and described as follows. Beginning at a granite boulder, whence the F. S. M. SAVED BY A BURRO.

Sol C. Wiener, foreman of the grand jury, is maintaining his reputation as an entertainer of the fair sex, even though the cares of state hang heavily on his shoulders. An automobile went from Carrizozo to Lincoln Monday, the passengers intending to return that evening; but the foreman heard the honk, honk of the incoming car, adjourned the session of the grand jury, drafted the chauffeur and his car and commanded the former occupants to await his return, they protesting mildly.

By the time the auto had received its burden of fair freight, by the way, the only kind the foreman really likes to please, the evening sun was sinking; but nothing daunted, the intrepid foreman ordered the driver to turn the machine down the river. Notwithstanding the severe strain on the machine, going from Carrizozo to Lincoln, it obeyed the hand of its operator and struck a gait that made the foreman smile and the ladies gasp for breath.

The beautiful Fritz ranch was reached in safety, and the foreman got busy showing his fair friends the fields of waving grain and alfalfa, the fat, sleek stock, dispensing with lavish tongue his knowledge of rural life. These sights, in the growing darkness, however, began to pall; and the foreman, ever ready to please, shouted "All aboard for Lincoln!" The nose of the machine was turned up the river—there dates the beginning of the foreman's troubles. The chauffeur coached the machine with crank and lever; he also used gentle language to persuade it to move; but to no avail: its overworked mechanism would not respond to the touch of the driver, and things began to take on a sky blue color. The crowd was up against it; it was dark; it was raining, and Lincoln, their destination, was somewhere in the distance. They were confronted with a condition and not a theory. What was to be done?

The fertile brain of the foreman was working over-time, and he at last announced a solution. They would go to the Fritz home, seek shelter for the night and in the morning secure some means of reaching Lincoln. In response to their request for shelter, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Fritz, who are among Lincoln county's best people, replied, that, out of consideration for ladies and their plight, they would house them for the night, notwithstanding the doubtful standing of their escort; but that under no condition would the foreman be accommodated in their home. The ladies accepted the offer and the foreman, crestfallen, turned away, thinking a reclining position in the auto would be his for the remainder of the night. The dulcet tones of a Rocky Mountain canary—colloquially a burro—perforated the mist-laden atmosphere and afforded an inspiration. Cutting a club, for both a guide and persuader, the music-making animal was easily caught, mounted and the start made for Lincoln. He reached Lincoln, safe, if not sound, before the sun showed his head, and appeared among his compeers smiling, as though the events of the night had been only a passing dream; yet acknowledged to a few intimate friends that that portion of his anatomy which came in contact with sections of the songster's vertebra was devoid of small portions of the epidermis. Emil Fritz hitched a pair of big bays to the machine and towed it into Lincoln, bearing only its fair cargo of the night before: the batteries were recharged and the machine ready for business; but not for the foreman—he had donned his official robes and entered the portals of the grand jury room.

The treasury statement July 1st shows a deficit of $60,000,000. It is too much, perhaps, to hold the republican party responsible for a long eleven years' rule; yet we remember some kind of statement having been made at the beginning of that rule to the effect that deficits and panics were connected with democratic administrations only.

Who said Carrizozo was dull? Geo. Roslington has just platted a new addition—the Highland Park—and placed the lots on sale.

CAPITAN.

J. H. Greer, well known here, was over from Capitan this week, renewing acquaintance.

Miss Abbie Meek is reported to be quite sick, and under the care of a physician.

Mrs. Mack McKinney, who has been ill for several weeks, is very much worse this morning.

P. G. Peters went to Capitan on yesterday's train, to look after his interests at that point.

Robert H. Taylor, chairman of the board of county commissioners, was down from White Oaks two or three days this week.

George Murray is building an addition to his house on his homestead south of town. S. J. Woodland is doing the work.

Mrs. J. H. Skinner returned yesterday from Capitan, where she has been for the past week visiting with her mother, Mrs. L. W. Bourne.

Hon. A. H. Hudspeth, Lincoln county's delegate at the democratic national convention, returned from Denver Tuesday and left for his home at White Oaks the same evening.

Chas. A. Fox, John H. Canning and Jno. A. Haley made a trip to Lincoln this week in the auto wagon. They were the innocent cause of Foreman Wiener's downfall while at the county seat.

Will Rawls took a party of four to the upper Ruidoso on Monday on an outing and fishing trip. The party will remain several weeks. From the amount of fishing tackle and "bait" taken along there is liable to be something doing in the piscatorial line.

Mrs. T. H. Craig and her two daughters, of Roswell, are visiting Mrs. E. S. Long, and will remain during the month. Mrs. Craig is a sister of Mrs. Long and this is their first meeting in eight years.

Hon. J. E. Wharton of Alamo-gordo returned from the Denver convention Sunday, and went to Lincoln Monday to attend the session of district court where he will look after the interests of his numerous clients.

The Epworth League will give its monthly musical entertainment in the Bank building Wednesday evening. The success that attended the League's last entertainment insures a large audience on evening of the 22nd. A select program has been arranged.

W. W. Arnold is sporting a beautiful black eye this week, the result, he says, of coming in forcible contact with a stick. Mr. Arnold's statement as to the character of the weapon is not doubted—the only question is, in what manner?

The board of directors have not yet chosen a corps of teachers for the Carrizozo public school. They have a large number of applications, and are making haste slowly. They expect to employ four teachers, and conduct an eight or nine months term of school.

Ira O. Wetmore, president of the townsite company, says he did not voluntarily engage in the rooming house business, but he found one of the company's buildings occupied this week which he thought was unoccupied. Some tourists had taken possession and were making themselves comfortable.

J. J. Harrison, A. S. Simpson and their two boys came down from Tucumcari Sunday, outfitted here and went to the South Fork for a few days' fishing. Mr. Harrison is a real estate man in Tucumcari and a kinsman of our fellow townsman, J. H. Boyd, and Mr. Simpson is vice-president of the First National Bank of Tucumcari.

E. S. Long, the tinner, returned Wednesday from Parsons, where he has been doing some sheet metal work for the Eagle Mining company. Mr. Long says Eagle company is endeavoring to get its machinery ready for operation by the first of August, at which time the mills will begin grinding on the ore from the Hopeful mine.

W. C. Stacy, whose home is in Ackerman, Mississippi, was in Carrizozo yesterday, delivering a number of large wall maps, or survey of the world. The map is 4x5 feet; on one side is a map of the United States and every county in each state is printed in colors. On the reverse side is a map of the world, showing the different land divisions, subdivisions, steamship lines, the differences in time, etc. Eighteen copies of the map were delivered to Carrizozans.

A NEW ARRIVAL.

Word was received here this week from Capitan that a daughter and heiress was born to W. H. Ormie-Johnson of that place last Monday. Mr. Johnson is a six-foot-two Englishman, engaged in stock raising, and is blessed with a fair share of worldly goods, but feels richer than Croesus since Monday. Report says that at the time of the arrival he was perched on top of a wind-mill fixing the halyards on which to raise the national flag in honor of the event. In about 17 years hence some of his countrymen from beyond the herring pond, looking for an American heiress, may come along and deprive him of his treasure. The News tenders congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Johnson.

To the Public.

Having purchased the interest and good will in the old livery stable, situated half a block west of the railroad hotel, of Bourne & Reily, I solicit a share of the public patronage. I will conduct therein a wagon yard and feed stable. It is not my purpose to become a competitor of the men to whom I sold my livery business some months ago—I am not re-entering the livery business—I am simply opening a feed stable only.

CZAR'S LITTLE SON

CZAREVITCH ALEXIS IS A LIVELY YOUNGSTER.

Heir to Throne of All the Russias Has Attained Dignity of Knickerbockers — Does Not Enjoy Playing Soldier.

St. Petersburg. — Despite early prophecies that he would grow up a sickly child or possibly die before attaining manhood, the Czarevitch Alexis, son and heir to the czar of all the Russias, the child who is destined to sit on one of the most dangerous thrones in the world and exercise autocratic rule over a nation of nearly 150,000,000 people and a territory of nearly 9,000,000 square miles, the third greatest empire in the world in point of population and the second in extent, is to-day as bright and hearty a little lad as could be found in any American household. He has almost reached the mature age of four, and has already put babyhood behind him. He now appears dressed in a natty sailor suit of blue with knickerbockers and big boots to protect his feet while playing out of doors.

Alexis finds little enjoyment in the supposedly favorite game of king's sons, playing at soldiers.

He finds the tin men and tiny fortresses too tedious. He wants to romp with other children and, if allowed his own way, would spend the day playing with boys in the garden, street, or anywhere, as long as he could have fun, active fun, and lots of it.

Alexis' happiest moments are probably spent on his father's yacht, where, free from danger of death at the hands of revolutionaries, he can romp with the loyal sailors at will.

Alexis was born at the blackest period of the Japanese war, when the nation was plunged in the depths of humiliation, the much despised Asiatic crumpling up the armies and destroying the ships of the empire that had deemed itself invincible, the high officials of the court exposed as grafters who had delivered their country into the hands of the enemy, and the people in a state of almost open rebellion. It was a gloomy time for the czar, but it was illumined by the coming of the little stranger who is to become one of the most important personages in the world.

The czar had longed for a son, but fate had given him four daughters in succession. The interesting event occurred not in the great Peterhof palace, but in Alexandra villa, one of the smaller palaces in the magnificent Peterhof park. The arrival of Alexis was announced by the booming of the guns of the imperial yacht which was lying in the Baltic just opposite the palace. The faithful subjects of the czar waited to count the guns. The first 21 guns did not signify anything, for that number are fired for a girl, but when the guns kept booming it was to announce the arrival of an heir to the throne. The guns of the fortress of SS. Peter and Paul took up the message and a long chain of forts carried it on, until the whole people of Russia heard the glad news.

Alexis is a manly little fellow in appearance, and if he had had the good fortune to be born of American parents he would, in all probability, have become one of the greatest railroad men in the world, for his tastes all lie in that direction. He delights in working models of all kinds, and particularly in that of the imperial train which was presented to him by his father last Christmas. It is altogether probable, however, that he will have to turn his attention to the study of military matters, languages and state ceremonials to fit him for his future high position, for that is the routine of all the royal children of Europe, the dreariest, dullest routine for a child that could be imagined.

AN AMPHIBIOUS CRAFT.

"Alligator" Boat Which Travels on Both Land and Water.

Kansas City. — A remarkable craft has just made its appearance on the upper Mississippi and Missouri rivers. This boat is amphibious in the literal meaning of that word, being equally serviceable on land or water and traveling as a boat or as an automobile. It is so built that it can be used as a launch, a houseboat, a freighter or a tugboat on the water, and it also can climb out on the bank and travel overland, load itself on a flat car and do other things that no normal boat is expected to accomplish.

Though now to the United States this queer craft has been in use for ten years or more in Canada and there are now 80 of the same type being operated in the lumber regions of the northwest. The type is called "alligator," because of its peculiar crawling motion, its ungainliness and its ability to travel both on land or water. The motive power is in the boat itself. The "alligator" is a steamboat and a steam winch combined. The engine drives the paddle wheels like an ordinary boat. If desired, or when a land journey is necessary the power is applied to drive a cable drum located in the bow of the boat which holds a three-eighths-inch steel cable used in warping the craft upon the bank and across the land space which is to be traversed. Land travel is provided for by two steel runners on the bottom of the boat six feet apart, and a block and tackle contrivance which is operated by means of the cable drum. To guard against tipping the boiler is of special design and is suspended on an axle in the center. A screw on the front end enables the fireman to tip it forward or backward according to whether the boat is going up or down hill. The craft will take a grade of one foot in three without difficulty. The boat can make between one and two miles a day on land, but travels considerably faster on water.

Curious Indian Custom.

The following curious custom is recorded by J. Owen Dorsey in his monograph on the sociology of the Omaha-Indians:

"In the spring when the grass comes up there is a council or tribal assembly held to which a feast is given by the head of the Hanga gens. After they decide that planting time has come and at command of the Hanga man a crier is sent through the villages. He wears a robe with hair outside and cries as he goes. 'They do, indeed, say that you will dig the ground! Hallo!' He carries sacred corn, which has been shelled and to each household he gives two or three grains, which are mixed with the seed corn of the household."

After this it is lawful for the people to dig up the soil and plant their crops.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

SON OF ADMIRAL EVANS

Although Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans relinquished the command of the battleship fleet a short time ago, yet there is another member of the family in the naval service and at present attached to the battleship Louisiana, with the fleet at San Francisco.

This officer is Lieut. Frank Taylor Evans, the only son of the former commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet. Resembling his father in looks, the younger Evans had made a very creditable record since his entrance in the navy, 14 years ago.

He was born in Switzerland, while his father was attached to the European fleet in the 70's. September 6, 1894, he was appointed to the naval academy at Annapolis. Completing his four-year course of instruction at the academy in 1898, he was graduated from that institution.

In April of that year, and just before the outbreak of the Spanish war, he was assigned to the battleship Massachusetts, commanded by Capt. Francis J. Higginson. He served on the Massachusetts through the war, taking part in the bombardment at Santiago, San Juan and in a number of engagements in Cuban waters. He remained on the Massachusetts until 1899, when he was transferred to the gunboat Nashville. In 1900 he was assigned to the Brutus on the Asiatic station.

When the battleship Alabama was completed in 1901 he was assigned to duty on her. April 4, 1900, he was advanced to the grade of ensign. He remained on the Alabama until 1902, when he was assigned to the Kentucky on the staff of Rear Admiral Francis J. Higginson, commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic squadron.

He made the trip on the Louisiana, when she took President Roosevelt to Panama, and also on the cruise from Hampton Roads to San Francisco. He was promoted to the grade of lieutenant on July 1, 1904.

"FIDDLER BOB" TAYLOR

Robert Love Taylor, better known throughout Tennessee as "Fiddler Bob," devoted his maiden speech in the United States senate recently to an attack upon the Republican party and the executive. Some of his similes were very effective, as when he compared the federal power and the states to the centripetal and centrifugal forces that rule the universe, and when he said this of the railways:

"They are only one string of the harp of a thousand strings upon which our modern Orpheus is playing the triumphal march of federalism."

Senator Taylor got his nickname of Fiddler Bob from the campaign he waged in 1889, for election to the United States congress. He had nothing to aid him but his wits and his fiddle, but being a mountaineer himself he knew how to reach the hearts of the people of the hills. He set out for the mountain regions carrying his fiddle and wherever he stopped he brought it out and a dance was organized right away. The young folks danced to his music while the older ones were won by his merry chatter. He was elected. His next ambition was to become United States senator and he made the run. He received a telegram that he had been elected by a majority of one, but later he received another that one of his supporters had changed his vote and elected his opponent. Taylor said nothing, but he made the run for governor of the state, this time having his own brother for an opponent, which gave to the contest the sobriquet of "War of the Roses." The ancient fiddle was effective and Bob was elected. He was twice re-elected. His opportunity to achieve his final ambition offered itself at last election and he ran for the senate once more, being triumphantly elected this time.

OPPOSES REVOLVING DOORS

Louis Lepine, prefect of police, by issuing the ordinance forbidding the use of revolving doors in restaurants, hotels and other public buildings capable of holding more than 100 persons, on the ground that they are dangerous in case of fire or panic, has again demonstrated that he is the wielder of the "big stick" in Paris.

The order has aroused the indignation of those who have installed these doors at great expense, but the prefect is used to grumblings and mutterings. To use an American expression, he allows their complaints to go "in one ear and out of the other."

That the edict will stand goes without saying, for the office of prefect is more important than that of a cabinet minister. He is appointed by the president and is answerable neither to parliament nor to Paris.

M. Lepine is supported by a small army in carrying out his edicts. He controls 50,000 troops, 12,000 police and 8,000 guards.

M. Lepine was born in Paris in 1846, became a lawyer and entered the "administration" in 1877 as sub-prefect, and has risen through all the grades to prefect, to which he was appointed in 1893. So well has he met the requirements of his strenuous office that every president since that time has re-appointed him. He was in charge of Paris during the Dreyfus troubles, with its rioting and violent possibilities.

DAD AND HIS MEMORY.

Old Gentleman Really Had Very Little to Brag About.

It was a severe trial to Mr. Harding that his only son's memory was not all that could be desired. "Where in the world he got such a forgetful streak from is beyond me," said the exasperated father to his wife on one occasion.

"What has he forgotten now?" asked Mrs. Harding, with eyes downcast and a demure expression.

"The figures of the last return from the election on the bulletin-board," and Mr. Harding inserted a finger in his collar as if to loosen it, and shook his head vehemently. "Looked at 'em as he came past not half an hour ago, and now can't tell me."

"As I said to him: 'If you're so stupid you can't keep a few simple figures in your head, why don't you write 'em down on a piece of paper, as I do, and have done all my life, long before I was your age?'" Youth's Companion.

TORTURED SIX MONTHS

By Terrible Itching Eczema—Baby's Suffering Was Terrible—Soon Entirely Cured by Cuticura.

"Eczema appeared on my son's face. We went to a doctor who treated him for three months. Then he was so bad that his face and head were nothing but one sore and his ears looked as if they were going to fall off, so we tried another doctor for four months, the baby never getting any better. His hand and legs had big sores on them and the poor little fellow suffered so terribly that he could not sleep. After he had suffered six months we tried a set of the Cuticura Remedies and the first treatment let him sleep and eat well; in one week the sores were gone and in two months he had a clear face. Now he is two years and has never had eczema again. Mrs. Louis Beck, R. F. D. 3, San Antonio, Tex., Apr. 15, 1907."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Useless Society.

Mrs. Jones often declared that she enjoyed a little chat with their fish-dealer because he was a man of such original ideas, but one day, says London Opinion, she returned from market somewhat puzzled by his remarks.

"I said to him, just in the way of conversation," declared Mrs. Jones, "that I had heard that a man becomes like that with which he most associates."

"That's ridiculous, Mrs. Jones!" he answered. "I've been a fishmonger all my life and can't swim a yard."

The Modern Nomad.

"Did you ask that man why he paid rent instead of owning his own home?" asked the real estate agent.

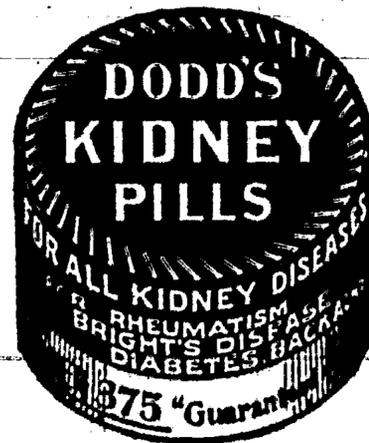

"Yes," answered the other. "He said he didn't. He kept moving."

A Matter of Time.

It was the day of the ball game, and Willie, the office-boy, approached the head of the firm, and stammered: "If y-you p-p-p-please, sir—"

"Come, hurry up!" said his employer. "If you have anything to say, say it. Don't take half a day."

"But that's just what I was going to ask you if I could take," said Willie. —Harper's Weekly.

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF.

Last week F. W. Brockway announced, through the columns of the News, his candidacy for the office of sheriff of Lincoln county, subject to the action of the democratic party; but, as stated at that time, the announcement came too late to receive mention, and we promised to take the matter up this week. Mr. Brockway is a native of Michigan, went to Colorado when a boy and came to Lincoln county in 1885, settling at Picacho. There he was married and resided for the greater portion of the time he has been a citizen of this county, engaged in farming and the handling of machinery. Two years ago he moved his family to Carrizozo, bought property, built a residence and has followed the profession of carpenter and builder. During all these years that Mr. Brockway has lived in this county, he has been regarded as an honest, upright man and an excellent citizen. In politics he is a loyal democrat. Mr. Brockway announced for the office of sheriff at the solicitation of friends who have confidence in his ability to faithfully, fearlessly and impartially perform the duties devolving upon the chief executive officer of the county. If nominated and elected sheriff, the News has no hesitancy in saying that it believes the statement of Mr. Brockway's friends will be verified.
