MISS ANNA JARVIS

Bugles blow!
Proud the homage we show!

Our "Unknown One,"
His battle won,
Sleeps well in stately "Place in Sun;"
Columbia's son
In Arlington
Is shrined with Lincoln, Washington.

But, Oh, Oh,
If his Mother could know!

By JOHN DICKINSON SHERMAN

HELLO, good Americans all, regardless of sex, race, class or creed! Have you remembered that the second Sunday in May is Mother's Day? Well, it is, this year, and every year, by act of the Congress of the United States of America. The Congress also says: "Fly your Flag!" Then put a carnation in your lapel and you have started Mother's Day right.

If your mother is where you can lay hands on her, tell her you love her—and prove it.

If she isn't, telephone her; telegraph her, write her—if you don't go and visit her.

And if your mother has gone where you may some day join her—if you deserve it—do something that you know would please her—something worthy of her and of the day.

Mother's Day originated with Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, and it was celebrated by several cities in 1910. An act of Congress in 1914 authorized the President to designate by annual proclamation the second Sunday of May as Mother's Day, and to request the display of the American Flag on government buildings and private homes.

Mother's Day is set apart for special observance in honor of the home and motherhood. Its purpose is to recall the memories of mothers who have gone; to brighten the lives of those who remain; to stimulate men, women and children to honor home and parents. It is to be observed by acts of kindness to mother and father; by service in churches of all creeds, and by wearing a white carnation—emblem of the purity, beauty, fidelity and strength of mother love.

There is a Mother's Day International association, with headquarters in Philadelphia, which aims to make men and women realize their individual responsibility to right the wrongs of motherhood and childhood; in the name of mother to inspire men to carry forward work for the home which will promote the brotherhood of man, and to perpetuate and strengthen family ties by the establishment and observance of the day in all countries.

Christmas Day—be it said in all reverence—is doubtless in a way a Mother's Day to every woman. Sings "Iris" in "From Pillar to Post:"

His advent seems a thing apart,
Yet Love each day is bringing
Glad news. Each mother, in her heart,
"Magnificat" is singing:
Your little son upon your breast
Is God's dear child as truly
As Jesus was, when angels blessed
The baby Savior newly.

The well-known human heart is a curious thing, as has been said times too numerous to mention. Now, here's "P. D. Gog" in "A Line o' Type or Two"—from the signature it's fair to assume that he's a little, old, dried-up, highbrow professor:

Their old-fashioned sweetness,
Their simple perfect beauty,
Somehow reminded me of Mother.
I buried my face in their exquisite fragrance
And tenderly caressed their soft petals
With my cheeks and my lips
And then the pent up longing of my heart
Bedewed the lilacs with tear-pearls
Which glistened in the morning sun.
Mother! Oh, Mother . . .

Now, suppose the lilacs that "P. D. Gog" remembered so fondly bordered the path to a certain kitchen door. If so, it's a fair guess that the next moment he was smiling through his tears as he remembered himself, a hunky, low-browed youngster, crying out: "Oh, goody! Maw, kin I have a drumstick?"

One of the things that is worrying the sociologist these days is the disappearance in the cities of the old-fashioned home. This is an age of apartments and of dwellers who get their meals anywhere except at home. In such a scheme of existence a nearby delicatessen shop is, of course, an advantage. But, incidentally and confidentially, one wishes much for a vocabulary that could do justice to the emotions aroused by a delicatessen shop in the man who has memories of an old-fashioned kitchen and of "pies like mother used to make."

The Chicago Daily News recently reprinted from Eugene Field's famous "Column" of September 14, 1888, the story called "Col. Gates, Director." It purports to be told by a passenger in 1887 in the one sleeper of a train on the "Han'bu 'nd St. Jo'." The porter notified the passengers to be careful not to snore, as Col. Elijah Gates, a director, was aboard. Then a woman with a baby got on. There was no bunk for her, but the porter allowed her to sit back by the stove. Then the baby began to cry. Col. Lij Gates heaved himself out of his bunk and pompously informed the young woman that she must keep the child quiet. But the child kept on crying, and a second time the colonel went marching down the aisle and admonished the young woman. But the baby still cried, and then the colonel charged down upon the young woman for the third time. Here's the rest of the story as Eugene Field told it:

"Look-a-here, my good woman," sez he to the young woman with the baby. "As I was tellin' you afore you must do sumpin' to keep that child quiet. It'll never do to keep all these folks awake like this. They've paid for a good night's sleep 'nd it's my duty as a director uv the Han'bul 'nd St. Jo' to pertect agin' this disturbance. I've raised a family of 'leven children, 'nd I know as well as I know anythink that that child is hungry. No child ever cries like that when it isn't hungry, so I insist on your nursin' it and givin' us peace and quiet."

Then the young woman began to sniffle.

"Law me, sir," sez the young woman, "I ain't the baby's mother—I'm only jest tendin' it."

The colonel got pretty mad then; his face got red 'nd his voice kind uv trembled.

"Where is its mother?" sez the colonel. "Why isn't she here, takin' care uv this hungry 'nd cryin' child like she ought to be?"

"She's in the front car, sir," sez the young woman, chokin' up. "She's in the front car—in a box, dead; we're takin' the body 'nd the baby back home."

The colonel didn't wait for no second thought. he jest reached out his big bony hand 'nd he sez: "Young woman, gi' me that baby," sez it so quiet 'nd so gentle like that it was the baby's mother that was speakin'.

The colonel took the baby and—now maybe you won't believe me—the colonel held that baby 'nd rocked it in his arms 'nd talked to it like it had been his own child. And the baby seemed to know that it lay agin' a lovin' heart, for when it heard the ol' man's kind voice an' saw his smilin' face 'nd felt the soothin' rockin' of his arms the baby stopped its grievin' and cryin' 'nd cuddled up close to the colonel's breast 'nd begun to coo and laff.

The colonel called the nigger. "Jim," sez he, "you go ahead 'nd tell the conductor to stop the train at the first farm house. We've got to have some milk for this child—some warm milk with sugar into it; I hain't raised a family of 'leven children for nothin'."

The baby didn't cry no more that night; leastwise we didn't hear it if it did cry. And what if we had heard it? Blessed if I don't think that every last one uv us would have got up to help tend that lonesome little thing.

Recovering.

"Tell me, John, have you read my new book?"

"Yes, but I feel a trifle better by now."—Copenhagen Klod-Hans.

Discoverer of X-Rays

Professor Roentgen, discoverer of the X-ray, spent his last years in poverty. He refused to patent his discovery, believing it so valuable that he should give it to the world without making a profit from it himself. His chief income when he died was a pension of $30 a year. He lived at the home of a friend. Germany had its millions for war, not a thaler for the scientist who did so much for the relief of suffering and the assistance of pure science. Count Zeppelin, it will be remembered, was a millionaire, Frau Krupp a billionaire many times over.

Collector in Hard Luck.

Apropos of Napoleon, a curious footnote to the history of the famous conqueror appeared in a New York paper under the heading, "Asks Police to Find Napoleon's Letter." The loser of the letter described it as having been written by Napoleon on August 18, 1805, to the Austrian general Mack, on the occasion of the latter's defeat. The French emperor, in admiration of the courage displayed by his vanquished opponent, presented him with a handsome gold clock and wrote a letter of appreciation to go with it. The clock passed through various hands after the death of General Mack, and had been bought in Berlin, with the authenticating letter, by an American collector. The collector lost his wallet, containing the letter, while on his way to his home in San Francisco.—The Outlook.

Antone Hoegley died in a Helena hospital of spotted fever, resulting from a tick bite.

Nine-year-old Eldon Jenson of Cornish, Utah, shot and killed his mother, Josephine Jensen, 40, while playing with a rifle. The youth told authorities he did not know the gun was loaded, and he is not being held.

Two girls, each 12 years old, who ran away from home at Missoula, Montana, were taken out of a box car on arrival at Helena, and are being cared for at the county jail. The girls, "out to see the world," were traveling eastbound when intercepted and had no particular destination in mind.

The Industrial Workers of the World general strike in the Pacific Coast states spread to longshoremen and transport workers at San Pedro, Calif., and it was reported 1,500 men had quit work there. In Oregon it was said the strike had not gained new adherents, but in Washington indications were that it had caused additional workers to leave their jobs.

Chief Two Leggins, head of the River Crows and one of the most famous Indians of the intertribal warfare, died at his ranch eight miles south of Hardin, Mont., of heart trouble, aged 70. In the early days he went on many war parties against Cheyennes, Blackfeet and Sioux. He was especially successful as leader of small parties in stealing horses from other tribes. Two Leggins was a particular friend of Gen. Hugh Scott, their acquaintanceship going back to the early '70s.

The Southern Pacific Company has begun laying additional yard tracks in Calexico, Calif., involving the expenditure of over $100,000. This work was ordered last December, but postponed in January, when a tax order of the Mexican government resulted in cessation of freight hauling in Lower California. This order was lifted recently, and, according to railway men, more than $1,000,000 worth of improvements will be resumed by the Southern Pacific Company.

Two repentant runaway wives sat in the county jail at Los Angeles, weeping in the arms of their husbands because, in place of being allowed to return to their homes, they must serve long terms in the penitentiary. They were Martha Deckman, 22, the wife who left her husband on a Kansas farm to "get a kick out of life," and Delbpa Ament, who didn't "get along" with her spouse and so left him in Oregon and came to Los Angeles. Both were sentenced by Superior Judge Shenk to serve a maximum of ten years in the penitentiary on grand larceny charges growing out of a series of boulevard holdups in which they were the companions of four boys.

WASHINGTON

Representative J. Stanley Webster of Washington was appointed by President Harding to be United States judge for the eastern district of Washington.

A suggestion that the Senate may propose some reservations of its own before it assents to "joining a court elected by the council and assembly of the League of Nations" was advanced by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman of the foreign relations committee, and Senate floor leader of his party.

Since prohibition became effective in the United States exports of Scotch and Irish whisky from Great Britain to Mexico and various West Indian islands off the American coast have increased 2,000 per cent. The totals were: 1919, 70,220 gallons; 1920, 321,620 gallons; 1921, 834,615 gallons; 1922, 609,500 gallons, according to figures compiled by the Commerce Department.

President Harding has decided to permit transportation to the United States of the 500 Russian refugees who recently landed in the Philippines after a stormy voyage in their own ships from Vladivostok. Plans for bringing the refugees to the United States on an army transport were mapped out at the conference of the President, Secretary Weeks and John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross.

A decision was handed down by the Supreme Court under which the Federal government will be permitted to compel the Yuma County Water Users Association to begin the payment of installments to reimburse it for money advanced in the lower Colorado irrigation work. The court found that water users located on the Yuma project in Arizona could be charged with a cost of $75 per acre, which they resisted on the ground that the original contract with the government contemplated a charge of only $35 an acre.

James Larkin, the Irish labor agitator, deported from the United States as an undesirable alien, arrived recently at Kingstown. He was cheered by a crowd on the pier.

The autographed manuscript of the diary Captain Cook kept during his first voyage to the South Seas in 1769 has been sold at auction for £5,000 to W. W. Ifould, librarian at the public library, Sydney, N. S. W.

Switzerland has repaid the United States during the last year $10,000,000 on account of loans floated there in 1919 and 1920, it has been officially announced. The national debt of the country increased 90,000,000 francs last year and now totals 2,110,000,000 francs.

The day of the handbook operator is over in Canada as a result of the anti-gambling act just passed in the House of Commons. It prohibits newspaper publication of betting information or the circulation of such information except at the race track during the actual race meet.

A scientific expedition financed by the government has solved a mystery of fifty years' standing by its discovery in Kursk of a magnetic iron ore field. The ore was found at a depth of 600 feet and in such quantities as to arouse the hope that it may develop into one of the world's largest fields.

Mexico is spending this year $500,000 on its air service and it proposes to spend next year $3,000,000 or more. The object is to make the air fleet the eyes of the army wherever a revolution threatens. It is believed that the increase in the air service will largely decrease the costs of the army, which are still heavy. Scores of Mexican airplane officers are in training in Mexico City, in the United States and Europe.

Francisco Perez Rivera, matador of Mexico City and Barcelona, Spain, was gored badly by a wild bull imported from Sonora at a bull fight at Mexicali. Chagrined by his failure to defeat the animal, Rivera, it was said, attempted to commit suicide in the ring, according to reputed matador custom, but was prevented by picadores. These diverted the attacks of the bull from Rivera and rescued him after he had been injured.

The people of Manitoba will be asked to vote not only for the establishment of government liquor stores to dispense liquor for beverage purposes, but also on a petition put forward by the Beer and Wine League for the sale of beer and wine with meals in hotels. Separate referendums will be taken, acording to a decision reached by the Manitoba Legislature. The referendum submitted by the Moderate League of Manitoba, calling for establishment of government liquor stores, will be voted on June 1, while the beer and wine question will be settled by the electorate, probably in September.

Persistent reports that there is to be a wholesale exhumation of the bodies of House of David followers at St. Joseph, Mich., who have died were strengthened when Homer S. Quay, assistant attorney general, caused an investigation to be made of the records of approximately forty deaths. Of the forty who died six came to their ends through "causes unknown."

The American State Bank at Kansas City failed to open a few days ago. A notice announced it was in the hands of the state finance commissioner.

The Chicago Symphony Orchestra Company announced that the organization would be disbanded unless some agreement is reached on the wage scale for the coming season. The musicians, affiliated with the Chicago Federation of Musicians, have demanded a $15 a week increase. The company claims revenues are not sufficient to pay this increase to the 100 musicians employed.

The Hippodrome, the home of big spectacles and New York's greatest playhouse, closed its doors for good recently and no longer will its audiences, each representing half the states in the Union, wonder where the diving girls go when they disappear into the huge tank and never are seen from the front to reach the surface. About 40,000,000 persons are computed to have entered the vast auditorium during the eighteen years of its existence. The Hippodrome was erected on the site of the old Sixth Avenue car barn. The great playhouse will make way for a business structure.

William E (Pussyfoot) Johnson, dry leader, said that "neither party will venture to make the modification of prohibition an issue," adding that Congress and the country would continue getting dryer.

Every Man To His Trade

——IS NOT SUCH A BAD IDEA——

You don't go to the carpenter to have your shoes fixed, nor to the mason to get a bite to eat.

Even so, when you need medicines or anything of the sort the drug store is a pretty safe place to get them. You are safeguarded. Sometimes even you will misspeak, asking for the wrong thing, perhaps a deadly thing. The trained druggist will catch you at it, learn what you should have and see that you get it. Safety first.

For drugs, to the drug store. Lots of other things you need are found only there, too.

A Pioneer Citizen.

Uncle Ben Robinson was down Monday from his home on the upper Bonito, near Parsons, where he has lived ever since he came here from Eastland county, Texas, thirty-five years ago, and there he has reared a large family, made a good living, and prospered besides. Uncle Ben is quite a politician and is very aggressive in the expression of his opinions. Thomas Jefferson, Grover Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson being his cherished ideals. He is also great admirer of Henry Ford and says Ford should be President. Anyway, Mr. Robinson is fine big hearted old fellow—a typical pioneer. He's hoping that his tribe may live forever. He reports fruit prospects good on the upper Bonito.

We understand that a Roswell party has recently erected a new hotel near the Wingfield's store on the Ruidoso, with eighteen rooms. A good hotel is needed there as the Ruidoso is becoming a very popular summer resort. Nice natural shade trees and running water, together with this delightful summer climate are certainly great attractions and people abroad are beginning to realize it.

School Pic-Nic.

Last day of school pic-nic, May 18th, from 12 o'clock until 6 o'clock p. m.

There will be races and speaking. Dinner on the school house grounds at 1 p. m. Every one bring dinner to serve pic-nic style—every one come.

Mrs. W. H. Fisher made a business trip to the county seat this week in connection with the estate of her late husband, Mr. W. H. Fisher, in the Probate court.

Willie Hale and wife, of Duran, are here visiting relatives. Mr. Hale formerly worked at Fort Stanton.

We will give dinner free to all customers whose purchases amount to $10 or more cash.
W. B. Payne.

J. W. Linam of the Alto community was in town Monday and called at this office. He stated the farmers of that vicinity are finishing planting corn. He also said there would be quite a crop of Irish potatoes planted and that the prospects for a fruit crop are very good.

Mrs. W. H. Fisher has purchased the large room which was attached to the back end of the Howard Hall which was lately torn down. She has moved the building on a lot just south of the Liberly Garage and is having it put in a good state of repair.

Charles and Mrs. Walker were in the first of the week from their beautiful ranch home on the north side of the Capitan.

A change has been made in the schedule on the Roswell and Carrizozo mail line. The mail now leaves Roswell at 10 a. m. and arrives at Capitan at 2:50 p. m. No change, however, is made in the time of the mail going to Roswell from Carrizozo.

While in town this week Uncle Ben Robinson furnished the MounCapitan some mining news from his part of the country. He said that there are parties parties preparing to go to work on the Modero claim owned by H. Consbrook on the Bonito, and already installing machinery preparatory to commencing operations. Uncle Ben says that several years ago, 600 ounces to the ton was taken out and since that time ore from that mine has assayed as high as 1200 once on sample sent off by George Hoover. He said there are private parties holding lease on the William Hightower property on Eagle Creek. Other parties have lease on the Hightower and Bloyd's Gavaland property. The Eagle Creek and Gavaland properties are silver and zinc propositions and run as high as 80 ounces silver.

Boycott 'Em.

Governor Jonathan Davis of Kansas has issued a proclamation to all the Housewives of Kansas calling on them to "cut out" using as much sugar as possible in order to bring down the price of sugar. This is a splendid idea, and if it was practiced by all or practically all the women in the other states of the Union sugar would "come down a hooping." When such table commodities as sugar and other necessaries are cornered by unscrupulous speculatoas and profiteers there is one of two things to do—that is a National Boycott or to place those responsible in a Penitenlary for a long term of years.

Cowboys' Re-Union.

Las Vegas one of the best, largest and most progressive cities of the state will again stage another one of her excellent celebrations, on July 2nd, 3rd and 4th—this being the ninth annual exhibition to be pulled off. Five thousand dollars in prizes will be given away to the successful winners in various contests, besides many small prizes are to be given away by the business men of the town. The first citizen of the state—Governor Jim Hinkle who is an old time cowboy, will address the people and will be the central figure. Pioneers with a hankering for the old days will have a chance to talk the old talk and tell the old tales to their hearts content, and in an atmosphere redolent with the frontier at that. Their slogan is—"A Warm Welcome in a Cool Climate."

A Child of Fortune.

You can't always tell what will happen. For instance, here is the story of a man who determined to commit suicide: He went to the store and bought a rope, a can of coal oil, a box of matches and a dose of arsenic and a revolver. He went down to the river and pushed his boat from the shore and waded down to where a limb hung over, and he got up in the bow of the boat and tied one end of the rope around his neck and the other end to a limb, saturated his clothing with coal oil, lighted a match and set his clothing afire, took the dose of arsenic, put the muzzle of the revolver to his temple, pushed the boat from under him and fired. But the bullet glanced and cut the rope above him and he fell kerwallup into the river and the water put out the fire; he got strangled and coughed up the arsenic, rose up and walked out and declared himself a candidate for the legislature, on the reform ticket.—Exchange.

The two men, Smith and McCully who recently escaped from the Torrance county Jail at Estancia, who while at large it is alleged killed a Santa Fe brakeman near Grants, Valencia county, have been captured by Santa Fe Ry Special Officers in Arizona, and have been placed in the Valencia county jail at Los Lunas. Smith confessed to Sheriff Joe Tondre of Valencia county that he killed the brakeman, claiming he committed the deed in self defense.

Lieutenants John A. MacReady and Oakley G. Kelly of the United States Aerial Service broke the World's record recently by performing the longest and quickest non-stop aer plane flight. They flew from New York to San Diego, California, a distance of 2,625 miles in a large Army Monoplane of the T-2 type propelled by a 400 horse power Liberty motor in 26 hours and 50 minutes with out stopping.

Thomas P. Gable former State Game and Fish Warden has purchased the St. Regis Hotel in El Paso and will hereafter make that city his home

Mr. Gable is a pioneer citizen of this state and has lived the most of the time of his long residence in Colfax county. He is said to have been one of the best Wardens New Mexico ever had—having served under three Governors—George Curry who first appointed him, O. A. Larrazolo and M. C. Mechem.

A California party has purchased 320 acres of land on the Ruidoso and will soon commence the erection of a large number of cottages for the accomodation of tourists visiting that section every year. The land was purchased of Mrs. Purington of California.

Ike Wingfield the Ruidoso merchant we understand is preparing to do quite a business this summer. In addition to his store he will have a meat market and will supply first class meats to his customers. He put up a large amount of ice the past winter so he can keep his meats, butter and milk cool for the trade.

Mr. Wingfield has also secured donations from public spirited citizens of Roswell the sum of $375.00 to help pay for fixing the road in that vicinity. The county has agreed to put up two dollars for every one Mr. Wingfield can raise.

Yes, an Orphan.

A new member of a southern legislature asked one of the older men for an interview so that he might introduce his niece's boy, for whom he wanted a job as page. The boy proved to be a dull-witted fellow thirty-five years old who probably was unable to get a job in the little country town where he lived. The new member said:

"There's just three reasons why this boy ought to have this job as page. He ain't got no father; and he ain't got no mother; and he's a orphan."—Youth's Companion.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says, "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by parcel post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

It takes time and a good deal of resolution to keep one's eye on "the beautiful in life."

Find What CANADA has to offer YOU!

If your dream of success seems like a hopeless ambition, if you are discouraged trying to get ahead on high priced land, if your present location fails to give you opportunity, there is a new deal for you, a new chance in the fertile, virgin farms of Western Canada, where wheat produces 20 to 40 bushels to the acre, where the 1923 crop was biggest in history, where oats, barley and hay and fodder crops are the basis of a great dairy industry, and a man's work brings him success and prosperity.

Low Priced Land—the Last Great West

In Western Canada you still can buy virgin prairie land at $15 to $30 per acre, on long terms if desired, near to town, railroads, etc.—land such as has for many years produced the world's prize winning wheat, oats, barley, flax, rye, alfalfa. Canada had no "war time" land boom; prices are not inflated—you get in on the ground floor.

Taxes Favor the Farmer as Values Increase

The tax laws of Western Canada encourage the producing farmer. The tax on land is reduced when it is brought under cultivation—while on your buildings, machinery, improvements, personal property, automobile, there is no tax at all. A single crop is often worth more, acre for acre, than the cost of the land.

Rent Now—Buy Later Pay Out of Profits

Canada welcomes the industrious settler. What you have now isn't so important. If your capital is small, or you cannot sell your present holdings to advantage, rent a fertile Canadian farm and "try it out" for a season or two. Make a good wage, increase your capital, and buy later. Farms may be rented from successful settlers on easy terms; in some cases with option of purchase.

Buy on Exceptional Terms—32 Years to Pay

For the benefit of those wishing to buy land a national non-profit sharing organization—the Canada Colonization Association—has been established with head office at Winnipeg, and United States office at Fort Dodge, Iowa. This Association offers selected land convenient to railways—much of it at $15 to $30 per acre—on very small cash payment; no further payment until third year; balance extended over thirty years, but purchaser may pay up and obtain title at any time if desired. Interest six percent per annum on deferred payments.

Special Excursion Rates to Western Canada

In order that you may inspect the land—see for yourself—judge of its value and fertility—special excursion rates of information will leave United States points on the first and third Tuesday of each month. Single fare plus $2 for the round trip, available from all principal centers. Take advantage of these low railroad rates to inspect for yourself the opportunities which Western Canada has to offer you. Seeing is believing. The nearest Canadian Government Agency will give you all information. The men in charge are Government officials, interested only in the service of the prospective settler. We belong you find your opportunity. Let us know something of your position and receive free book with maps, and information how special railway rates can be arranged for a trip of inspection. Mail the coupon.

FREE HOMESTEADS are still available in some localities. Canada welcomes TOURISTS—Come and see our country for yourself. No passports required.

Harris Declares Tanlac Ended Long Standing Stomach Trouble—Gains 15 Lbs.

"I've got to hand it to Tanlac, for it has made me stronger and healthier than I have been in many a day," said Jasper Harris, 710 W. 13th street, Kansas City, Mo., well known fireman in the yards of the St. Louis, San Francisco railway company.

"Before taking Tanlac, I had hit such a tough grade I hardly had steam enough to pull it. My appetite was gone, I suffered with stomach pains, heartburn and palpitation, and was losing weight. I was terribly bilious and headaches and dizziness made me wretched. My sleep was restless, my back felt sore, and I ached all over so bad it nearly killed me to fire my engine.

"I can't emphasize too strongly how good Tanlac is, for the treatment has put me in the pink of condition. I have gained fifteen pounds now, and feel like a two-year old. Tanlac is the best medicine ever put in a bottle."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

Iron From Cuba.

Along the north shore of Cuba, near the sea at its eastern end, in three areas which formerly appeared to be simply expanses of barren ferruginous soil, recent exploration and test have shown that there exist deposits of a very pure iron ore, amounting to 2,000,000,000 or 3,000,000,000 tons. When deprived of the large percentage of water which it contains, this ore will yield from 40 to 45 per cent of iron. Ore from this source has already been exported to the United States.
