CARRIZOZO BOYS TAKE BOTH.

By taking both game from the Fort Stanton team last Saturday and Sunday the Carrizozo boys won the right to be called the best team in Lincoln county, and in fact, in this entire section of country. It was the second of a double series—the two former games standing one and one—and the winners feel proud of their victory. Not that either game was close or at any time doubtful, for they proved so easy that, as some rooter expressed it, "It was a shame to take the money." The victory was all the more pleasing because Fort Stanton brought the strongest team across the divide with which she ever confronted us, while Carrizozo played the same nine with which she had formerly met Stanton.

Saturday's game was certainly discouraging to the visitors; for they succeeded in getting only one run to Carrizozo's ten. The feature of the Saturday game was the stick work on the part of the Carrizozo boys; for they landed on the ball so often and so hard that the Stantons thought they had run up against the Sluggit Corners; and, on the other hand the visitors seemed to be unable to locate the sphere when it passed over the oyster. Will Gallacher pitched for the home team, and the score is the best evidence that few safe hits were made on him. Bell, the Fort Stanton pitcher, who justly has a good record as a twirler, failed on this occasion to maintain his reputation, and was batted off the face of the earth. Many good plays were made on both sides, and, notwithstanding the score, few errors were marked against either team. While Bell's pitching was discouraging to the Fort Stantons, there certainly could be little fault found with his batting. He made some magnificent hits—two two-baggers and one or two three baggers—but in each instance failed to complete the circuit because the batters that followed fell down at the plate.

The Sunday game had much the same result; yet in the scoring, Fort Stanton showed up better than the day before. The game stood eight for Carrizozo and four for Stanton, a result attained by both teams partially by errors. The Sunday game sounds better to speak about, yet more glaring errors were committed than in the previous game. In the latter game Powell went into the box for Stanton, and did well for two innings when his arm gave out. Bell again took his place in the box, but his arm had lost its cunning, and the local boys found no trouble in connecting with his fanciest curves, a number of two and three base hits being made, and a home run by John Gallacher. This is one of John's old specialties, but up to the last two games his batting average was not up to the standard. With the home run, however, returned his old-time accuracy with the stick, which raised the courage of his mates, and gave the Stantons the rattles. Others made good hits also, but no home runs. Stanton did some good work in the second game, but was unable to keep up with the fast work of their opponents.

The games being played on home grounds it was only natural that the home team had the best of the "rooting." They were there on both occasions, and made such noise that the punctures in the atmosphere have not yet entirely healed. But Fort Stanton was not neglected, as some of the best single-handed rooters that ever came down the pike looked after her interests, notably one, who shouted for his own side and badgered the other fellows until some thought that Fort Stanton had a regiment of rooters on the ground. His name was Sevier, and the ferocity of his rooting was certainly in keeping with his name.

AN UGLY CUSTOMER.

In a bottle of alcohol in this office may be seen as ugly and vicious-looking a thing as crawls. It was killed Tuesday evening outside the door of this office. It is a species of scorpion, and is what is generally known as a vinegerone. It measures three inches in length and about one inch across the widest part of the body. The head resembles that of a crab, and is armed with long pincers. It is certainly a dangerous-looking customer, and had approached within a few inches of where we were sitting, when a well-directed kick put an end to its nocturnal rambles. Its bite is said to be more deadly than that

STRUCK GOOD WATER WEST OF THE MAL PAIS.

Water has been prospected for very many times, and in many places, throughout that extensive country lying west of the Mal Pais, but without success. A great deal of money has been spent in the endeavor, until it was generally believed that no water existed there. Now, east of the Mal Pais water in abundance can be found almost anyplace at from thirty to sixty feet, but the Mal Pais was generally accounted the dead line.

Notwithstanding the number of wells drilled, and the equal number of failures, a man named Murray this year determined to make a final effort, and with the aid of a forked stick selected a spot. He commenced drilling early in the spring, and at a depth of 250 feet struck a vein of water. He erected a small gasoline engine and for several weeks has been elevating about twelve gallons a minute without reducing the depth of water in the well. It is the intention of Murray to build a reservoir, and replace the engine with a wind mill. If the water holds out, it will be worth many thousands of dollars.

Now that it has been demonstrated that water can be got west of the Mal Pais, there will probably be many more wells drilled. The water struck in the Murray well is pronounced of the best quality, free from alkali and as soft as Bonito water.

HOW IS THIS FOR DRY FARMING NEAR CARRIZOZO.

O. C. Davis, who is farming on the flat about eight miles east of town, brought some sample products in Saturday, and left them in this office, where those interested in dry farming may see them. He has twenty-five acres of barley, nine acres of corn, nine acres of millet and oats, three acres of sugar cane and kaffir corn, two acres of beans, and one acre of pumpkins. Some of his pumpkins measure three and a half ft. in circumference, and his squashes measure two feet in length; the sugar cane is over nine feet high, and his corn will produce forty bushels to the acre, and his other feed stuff will turn off many tons. These crops were raised without irrigation, and no rain had fallen in the vicinity for seven weeks and two days. Successful farming without irrigation means much to this valley, and the above results furnish ample proof that good crops can be raised in this valley without irrigation if the land is properly tilled.

F. Carey, a stockholder in the Carrizozo Cattle Ranch company, arrived here Wednesday direct from his home in Guernsey, England. Mr. Carey came across the Atlantic in the White Star liner Adriatic, and hopes to return in about a month on the Lusitania, the fastest ocean vessel afloat, and the pride of the Cunarders. These vessels are floating palaces, where every want of man is supplied with the same precision as in the finest hotel in the land. This is the fourth trip Mr. Carey has made to this country, and he says he becomes more delighted at the wonderful changes he sees on each trip.

CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO.

The Vulgarly of Waste.

When you see a housewife who keeps bread lying around until it molds; who permits mildew to get into the clothes; who allows her stockings and those of her family to fall to pieces for want of darning; who cooks up a lot of food which she ought to know will not be eaten and that will be cast into the garbage can; who "thrushes through" her best frocks by putting them on to do kitchen work, you may be sure she is "tacky." You will never find a woman of that description who is not cheap and who hasn't a common streak in her as wide as a gate. Well, it is exactly the same with a people or a nation, says the Kansas City Star. When you see a country reckless in the use of its resources and heedlessly destructive of the treasures with which it has been endowed by nature, you can depend upon it that it possesses the ingredients of cheapness and inferiority. We laugh a great deal about the proverbial disregard of the future commonly witnessed in our "colored brother" as long as he has a dollar in his pocket. But what essential difference is there between the complacency of the "Sengambian" with the price of a meal and a lodging ahead, and the blind indifference of a country and its people that go ahead despoiling timber lands, consuming coal with heedless extravagance, permitting vast quantities of gas and oil to get away, and taking no care whatever to make provision for any reinforcement of the supplies which it consumes. So, while the congress of conservation at Washington is in mind, let us not forget that the wastefulness habitually practiced by the American people is not only wicked and hopelessly stupid, but that it is likewise cheap and "tacky" and reveals not one trace of sane judgment or proper breeding.

Canada After Settlers.

The Canadian Dominion has not yet found it necessary to begin the conservation of resources, though the time may come sooner than is anticipated. Just now the principal effort appears to be to attract settlers and to open up regions which the railroad companies are desirous of having developed. The announcement comes from Vancouver that the government of British Columbia is planning to sell vast tracts of land, having decided to dispose of $5,000,000 or $6,000,000 worth this year. In the operations the government will have the active aid of one of the big railroad concerns. An American has been engaged to manage the deal, says the Troy (N. Y.) Times, and part of the project consists of laying out a model city, with paved streets, sewers, water system and other conveniences. Another feature of the plan will be the employment of a landscape gardener to arrange surroundings that will be ornate and attractive. All this is done with a view to making settlers feel at home and providing them with advantages such as are seldom found in a frontier region. The contrast with the experiences of the earlier pioneers in the United States and Canada is impressive.

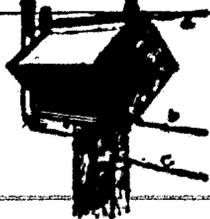

Altogether during the year 1906 there will have been under construction buildings directly or indirectly connected with Princeton university representing an expenditure of nearly $2,000,000.

DELIVERING MAIL.

Trolley System for Bringing Letters from the Road.

Where the house stands some distance back from the highway a trolley can be rigged up to save steps in getting the mail, suggests Farm and Home. The box is hung on two pulley door hangers, as shown in cut. A strong post, with a bent arm, is set next the highway, and a wire, a, suspended between it and the house, on which the box runs. A pulley is fastened in, or to, the post, and over it runs a cord, b c, to pull the box back and forth between the house and the road. The box is sent down to meet the carrier, who places the mail in it, and then it is quickly pulled back to the house.

HAY STACKING DEVICE.

Handy Device That Will Do Good Work Anywhere.

This handy device for stacking hay in the field can be set up anywhere in a very short time. It consists of two telegraph poles, two guy ropes, and an iron rod of cable, on which runs a carrier. By this method, says the Prairie Farmer, one can build as large a stack as he wishes, and do it quicker and better.

USE OF THE DISK PLOW.

The Twenty-Four Inch Size is the Best Says a Colorado Farmer.

According to H. M. Bainer of Colorado "the 24-inch disk plow can safely be recommended as being superior to any other size. The smaller size pulls easier, but it does not pulverize the soil so well.

"Do not try to cut a furrow wider than eight or ten inches with a disk. The wider the furrow, the deeper will the corrugations be and the poorer will be the work. It is better to use two 24-inch plows, each cutting eight inches in width than to use a single 28 or 30-inch plow cutting 16 inches. "The disk plow is capable of handling ground that has become too dry and hard for the moldboard plow. It is of somewhat lighter draft, does not require sharpening so often, cuts through trash better and does not clog so easily.

"The moldboard plow must be recommended as able to do the best work in all places where the moisture conditions are favorable. In nearly all irrigated and humid sections, and often in dry farming sections, this type of plow is much better than the moldboard. The disk can be recommended for hard conditions of soil."

Useless work on the part of the horse must be paid for in feed.

THE HAY CROP.

Some Suggestions for the Stacking in the Field.

Now that we have an unusually heavy crop of hay to secure, some farmers will be obliged to stack some of it. A foundation can be made of rails or poles laid close enough to hold the hay up from the ground and allow the circulation of air underneath to prevent the hay at the bottom gathering moisture from the ground and spoiling.

Begin the stack at the bottom considerably smaller than you intend to have the body of the stack. Lay the hay in the middle first and pack it very firmly and work outward until you get the size of the bottom. Carry it up a little ways and then begin to lay out a little at each course. Keep the middle fullest and pressed down, but do not walk close to the side while laying the outer course. I usually keep away from the edge three or four feet.

When you have enlarged the stack as much as you intend to, says the Orange Judd Farmer, carry it up evenly on the outside until you have fully two-thirds of the hay in that you intend to put in that stack, and then prepare to draw it in to top out. Keep the middle fullest and well packed and draw gradually until you have completed the top. Put a cap of marsh hay on, and put on hangers, as good hay is too valuable to be wasted by exposing it to the storms.

Keep in mind, from the beginning, that if you keep the middle of the stack the fullest and well packed, and the outer course looser, the hay will droop on the outside and shed the rains perfectly from top to bottom of stack. A man who has a mechanical turn of mind can make a stack that looks well and in which the hay will keep as well as in the barn. Hay for stacking needs to be perfectly cured before it is hauled.

CRIMSON CLOVER.

A Good Plant for Localities Not Too Far North.

This is sometimes called Italian clover and German clover. It is hardy enough for locations south of the Ohio river, but winter kills it in the north. It is a beautiful plant, and a mass of crimson clover has a pleasing effect in the flower garden. In the south a big field of crimson clover is a pleasant sight.

On the Atlantic seaboard it has been grown successfully as far north as Delaware. As a green crop for plowing under it is excellent.

Screen the windows in the cow stables. This will keep out both flies and mosquitoes.

What is the objection to rotating the barnyard where the stock is kept?

Pigeon Joins Recessional.

A little fellow who sings in the choir of a Long Island village church is the happy possessor of tame pigeons. One of them follows him to the pretty vine covered place of worship and during the sermon coos and flutters among the crimson ramblers at the open window. One recent Sunday when the recessional began the bird flew in and circled about the little fellow's head until he reached the choir room door. It then flew out and waited to escort its small owner home.

A SURGICAL OPERATION

We can state without fear of a contradiction that there are hundreds, yes, thousands, of operations performed upon women in our hospitals which are entirely unnecessary and many have been avoided by

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

For proof of this statement read the following letters.

Mrs. Barbara Base, of Kingman, Kansas, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For eight years I suffered from the most severe form of female troubles and was told that an operation was my only hope of recovery. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has saved my life and made me a well woman."

Mrs. Arthur R. House, of Church Road, Moorestown, N. J., writes:

"I feel it is my duty to let people know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female troubles, and last March my physician decided that an operation was necessary. My husband objected, and urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to-day I am well and strong."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, and backache.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Marriage to Dissolve Quartet of Belles

WASHINGTON.—With the marriage next fall of Miss Evelyn Walsh, daughter of the Colorado millionaire, to Edward McLean, son of John R. McLean of Cincinnati and Washington, a quartet of the most famous belles Washington has ever known will be dissolved. This quartet includes in addition to Miss Walsh, Mathilde Townsend, whose engagement to the Duke d'Albe of Spain is anticipated; Miss Katharine Elkins, who, in spite of the non-committal attitude of her parents, is expected to wed the duke of the Abruzzi, and Miss Isabel May, whom society long ago took for granted to be the fiancée of Count von Hatzfeldt, counselor and first secretary of the German embassy.

This quartette of girls have made Washington hum in the past two seasons.

Evelyn Walsh is very young, but she has had probably a wider social experience than any one of the quartette. Backed by her father's millions, she has been able to give any sort of entertainment her heart desired, and no figure has been too steep for her to pay when her fancy yearned for anything, from a new touring car to a fancy dress ball.

Katharine Elkins has never said that she would not wed the duke, and everybody who has watched developments in the romance confidently believe the royal suitor carried her promise to become his bride. Every preparation was made to formally announce the engagement, but it leaked out ahead of time, and then the family of Miss Elkins sealed their lips. But the announcement, which will probably come very early in the fall, will not be a surprise.

Miss Mathilde Townsend, who still holds sway as Washington's greatest beauty, is spending the summer at Bar Harbor with her mother, where they will entertain the Duke d'Albe some time this summer. The young Spanish nobleman has been in the train of the young American beauty for several years, and his coming to America this year is regarded as proof of his matrimonial intentions toward Miss Townsend.

With Miss Isabel May and the Count von Hatzfeldt it looks as if the fancy of Miss May more than anything else is responsible for the delay in an announcement. Miss May was formerly associated in her social career with the Countess Cassini, adopted daughter of the former Russian ambassador, and is almost too accustomed to having a good time to think of matrimony. Miss May's family is immensely wealthy and she has enjoyed undisputed reign here.

With the threatened dissolution of this lively young quartette of society belles Washington will have to look to other quarters for its interest before the next season is over.

Jackson Located Treasury with a Cane

THE work of removing the old soft sandstone or east front of the treasury building and replacing it with new granite recalls to several old residents the story told how the site for the building was selected.

Tradition has it that Andrew Jackson, who was then president of the United States, appointed a commission to select suitable ground for the erection of a United States treasury building, and that after the commission had, after looking over several tracts of land, failed to reach a decision as to which would be the best, the president himself selected the site.

It is said that one morning in 1822, while President Jackson was out walking, he met the chairman of the site commission at the junction of Pennsylvania avenue and the White Lot, and asked him if the commission had made any selection, and was told that it had not. He raised his walking stick in the air and with great force brought the end of it down and forced it into the earth several inches, exclaiming that the building should be erected on that ground, and subsequently it was.

It is also said that the spot where President Jackson stuck his walking stick into the earth was at the southeast corner of what is now the south front terrace of the ground surrounding the building, the ground then being part of the White Lot.

The building was commenced in 1838, under the direction of Robert Mills, architect, and was completed in August, 1839, being, therefore nearly 70 years old.

When the repair work is completed the building will be of solid granite, most of which was quarried in Maine and New Hampshire.

Big Force to Take Next Federal Census

DIRECTOR NORTH is preparing plans for taking the thirteenth census, although congress has not yet enacted the necessary legislation. He is arranging all the details and there will be no delay in beginning work when authority is given.

It will require 70,000 persons to take the thirteenth census. The approximate cost will be $14,000,000.

The task of making the enumeration of the 90,000,000 people in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico, and in Guam, Samoa and the Panama canal zone will be one of enormous proportions. It will be the most gigantic work of enumeration that has ever been attempted in this or any other country, and it is intended to reach the acme of correctness and thoroughness. Not merely a count and compilation concerning the population alone, it will include a census of agriculture, manufactures, mines and quarries.

A census of the Philippines will not be included, as one was taken in 1903, and it is doubted if the Philippine government would care to bear the cost of another enumeration so soon.

SAVAGE FLING AT AUDIENCE.

Inebriated Orator Resented Disapproval of His Condition.

"Like many a statesman of the past," said Senator Beveridge, "he drank too much. And one Fourth of July morning, on a platform hung with flags and flowers before the courthouse of a country town, facing an audience of farmers and their families that had come from miles around, the statesman arose to deliver the independence day oration in a slightly intoxicated state.

"He was not incapable of an oration, but his unsteady gait, his flushed face and disordered attire spoke ill of him, and the audience hissed.

"He held up his hand. They were silent. Then he laughed scornfully and said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, when a statesman of my prominence consents to appear in such a little, one-horse town as this, he must be either drunk or crazy. I prefer to be considered an inebriate."—Washington Star.

What Women Have Done.

Mrs. M. F. Johnston of Richmond, Ind., gave an interesting account at the Boston biennial of the G. F. W. C. of the Art association of that city, which is ten years old. Five hundred dollars is appropriated each year for the purchase of a picture, and the council gives $100 for the annual exhibition. The standard in pictures and crafts has changed, she says, and in the next few years much is expected that will give the children the opportunity of greater culture and knowledge of art.

HEALTH AND INCOME

Both Kept Up on Scientific Food.

Good sturdy health helps one a lot to make money.

With the loss of health one's income is liable to shrink, if not entirely dwindle away.

When a young lady has to make her own living, good health is her best asset.

"I am alone in the world," writes a Chicago girl, "dependent on my own efforts for my living. I am a clerk, and about two years ago through close application to work and a boarding house diet, I became a nervous invalid, and got so bad off it was almost impossible for me to stay in the office a half day at a time.

"A friend suggested to me the idea of trying Grape-Nuts, which I did, making this food a large part of at least two meals a day.

"Today I am free from brain-tire, dyspepsia, and all the ills of an overworked and improperly nourished brain and body. To Grape-Nuts I owe the recovery of my health, and the ability to retain my position and income." "There's a Reason."

Thought She Knew Him.

A short time ago a surgeon had three leg amputations in a week. The unusual number caused talk in the surgeon's household, and his little daughter Dorothy was greatly interested. A few days after the last operation, the surgeon's wife and little Dorothy were rummaging in the attic. In the trunk was found a daguerrotype depicting a girl about eight years of age. The portrait through a peculiarity of pose, showed only one leg of the subject, the other being doubled up under her.

"Whose picture is that, Mamma?" asked Dorothy.

"Mine; it was taken when I was a child not much older than you are now."

"Did you know papa then?"

"No, dear. Why do you ask?"

"I thought maybe you did, 'cause you've only got one leg."—Dellneator.

Put More In.

One morning, just before starting to school, little Bobbie, aged six, years, was watching his mamma put up his noon lunch. Suddenly he said: "Mamma, I wish you'd let Katie put up my lunch instead of doin' it yourself. Won't you?"

"It's no trouble, my dear."

"I know."

"Then, why—"

"'Cause, mamma, she's got a better appetite than you, an' she puts more in."—Dellneator.

Hotter Than Hades.

A Hot Springs, South Dakota, man met a fellow from Phoenix, Arizona, recently and writes "Smoke Wreathes" to tell of a little discussion they had about the weather.

"How's the weather in Phoenix?" asked the Hot Springs man.

"Hot," replied the Arizona man.

"How hot?"

"Well, it's so hot that a Phoenix man who died last week and went to Hades found it so chilly there he had to send back for his overcoat."—Denver Post.

FOR COMMISSIONER

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for nomination for Commissioner for the Third District subject to the action of the Democratic County Convention.

W. W. SLACK, Alto

The power to "manipulate" congress, with which Mr. Andrews' friends credit him, is a strong point, if true, and the word "manipulate" just fills the bill. If his adherents would simply shift the scene, and assert that in his "manipulation" of Pennsylvania friends his success was Napoleonic few would question the assertion. Oh! he's a "manipulator," all right.

The cardinal difference between republicanism and democracy is on the broad lines of centralized power and local self-government, the democratic party advocating the latter. In other words, the republican party is striving to deprive the people of the right to govern their local affairs, while the democratic party encourages them to exercise this right to its fullest extent.

W. W. Slack of Alto announces his candidacy for commissioner of the third district in this week's issue, subject to the will of the democratic party. Mr. Slack has been a resident of the Eagle Creek country for a number of years, and has been engaged in farming, stock raising and the lumber business. He is also interested in a saw mill in the Gallinas, and has a large business acquaintance up and down this portion of the county. He is a man of industry and integrity, and the capacity he has shown for conducting his own affairs renders him capable of taking an active part in the conduct of the county's affairs—a condition necessary for a successful and economic county commissioner.

BRICE NAMED IN NINETEENTH.

The democratic district convention, composed of delegates from the counties of Lincoln, Chaves, Eddy and Roosevelt, met at Hagerman, N. M., on the 7th inst., for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent the nineteenth district in the next territorial legislature. The convention unanimously nominated Attorney Charles R. Brice, of Carlsbad, and, as the district is democratic by about 4,000, there is no question as to his election.

Mr. Brice is a well known lawyer of the Pecos Valley, and a man of recognized ability and integrity, and will ably represent the nineteenth in the New Mexico legislature.

Special Master's Sale.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the decree of foreclosure and order of sale made and entered by the District Court of Lincoln County, New Mexico, on the 19th day of August, A. D., 1908, in a certain case pending in said court wherein William Kahler is plaintiff and B. H. Ross and the "Carrizozo Publishing Company," a corporation, were defendants, that I, John W. Owen, the Special Master named in said decree, will on the Third day of October, 1908, sell at public auction to the highest bidder or bidders at the front door of the Carrizozo Publishing Company's building in the town of Carrizozo, New Mexico, at 10 o'clock a. m. of said day, the property described in said decree and therein directed to be sold, to-wit: Lots 15 and 16 of block 18 of said town of Carrizozo, with a cement concrete house situated on said lots, together with one gasoline engine situated in one of the rooms in said concrete house, decreed by said decree to be a fixture and made part of said lots, tenements and premises.

Said property will be sold as directed by said decree for cash, with the right of redemption at any time within 90 days from and after the 19th day of August, 1908, thereafter all right of redemption will be barred by virtue of said decree. There will be due by virtue of said decree, on the day of sale, the sum of Eight Hundred and Forty-two Dollars and Eighteen Cents ($842.18), with interest at 6 per cent per annum from the 19th day of August, 1908, until paid, together with clerk's costs and costs of sale. Dated at Carrizozo, New Mexico, this 22nd day of August, 1908.

JOHN W. OWEN,
Special Master.

We buy in car load lots in the market, at bed rock prices, for spot cash, and can sell as cheap for cash as any one that wants to make a small profit.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

John Cole was up from the Lincoln country a couple of days this week.

Nicolas Perea and Jose Serrano left this morning for Cedar Hill, Chaves county, with two wagon loads of men who go to enter the employ of Miller & Stone, sheepmen. There were twenty of them.

Geo. A. Titsworth came over from Capitan Sunday to meet Mrs. Titsworth and little son, who have been visiting at Sparrows Point, Maryland, the past two months. They returned to Capitan the same afternoon.

Howard Hall has accepted a position with W. C. McDonald in handling the latter's townsite, and after a brief visit to Kansas City, for which point he will leave tonight, he will be found at his desk in front of the News office.

F. R. Maxwell and Edwin N. Vessel, two young men from Roswell, arrived in Carrizozo Tuesday, and remained two or three days. They are looking for a business location, and are well pleased with the outlook at Carrizozo, and may return and embark in business here after visiting other portions of the territory.

George Lee, who filed on a homestead three miles east of town, brought to this office yesterday morning a few stalks of corn grown on his place. The stalks are small, but the ears are of fair size, and this is only another evidence that this flat is productive. George admits he did not give his corn the cultivation it should have had, and that it was grown without irrigation.

Edward J. Coe returned, Tuesday night from Douglas and other points in Arizona, having disposed of a car of apples in our sister territory. Ed says the fame of the Lincoln county apple had preceded him, and that they commanded fancy prices, though he had to whack with the commission men. The railroad rate to Arizona points is somewhat exorbitant which, however, a promise was given to amend.

Mrs. Emma Peters of Capitan desires, through the columns of this paper, to thank all those who assisted so faithfully during the sickness of her little son. This is the little boy who, a few weeks ago, sustained a fracture of the hip by being thrown from a sled. He is getting along nicely, and it is believed that the fractured bone will knit, and leave no trace of the injury.

During my absence in California, my real estate and insurance business will be in charge of W. F. A. Gierke, who is authorized to receive all collections and receipt for the same.
9-4-2t. GEORGE ROSLINGTON.

NEW HAY.—I have just received a car of nice bright hay.—C. C. Bourne.

A BIG BLAZE.

About 11.30 o'clock Saturday night the town was aroused by the firing of guns and the sight of flames issuing from the building on Alamogordo avenue owned by Vincent Real, and occupied by Wingfield & Queen as a billiard and pool hall. The flames soon spread to the Gleason building, known as the Club room, and it went also. The further progress of the flames was stayed by the effective use of water, carried in buckets and tubs by the many willing hands present. Other nearby buildings were threatened, but the wind was favorable, and the crowd worked with a will to save them. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The loss is estimated at $5000, with insurance amounting to $3000, as follows: Vincent Real, building, $1,000; Wingfield & Queen, furniture and fixtures and stock, $1,000; W. H. Gleason, building, $1,000. Furniture and other goods stored in the Gleason building went up in smoke, but the casks of beer stored therein were rolled out of the building.

NEW DEPOT--OTHER CHANGES.

Work on the new depot will soon begin. Bills for a part of the material have been received, a representative of the contractor was here yesterday and a force of men will be put on at once. The new building will be something like the Three Rivers depot, only larger, and the old depot is to be remodeled and used for a freight depot. The trainmaster and chief dispatcher, with their forces, and the agent and his crew, as well, will have commodious quarters, and, all told, the building will add materially to town's appearance.

The old sixty-five foot turn-table has been replaced by a seventy-five foot table, and the new table holds the largest engines with ease. The ashpits are about completed, are fire-proof, cement being the material used. Practically everything about the shops is of the same permanent character, and little fear is felt on the score of fire.

QUAY COUNTY NOT ALONE.

"Do you know of any case of unfair dealings on the part of Mr. Andrews either with his friends or anyone else?"—Albuquerque Sun.

You bet we do. He came to Quay county about three weeks before the convention claiming credit for securing the land office for Tucumcari. Knowing the republicans would not listen to him, and that his claims would not get the desired instructed delegation from this county, he offered to pay all the expenses of the delegates to Santa Fe, and give the county central committee $500 to send an instructed delegation for him. Now if you want to know a few big and little crooked tricks of Mr. Andrews, ask some of the leading republicans here. — Tucumcari Sun.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By Virtue of an Execution issued out of the District Court of the Sixth Judicial District of the Territory of New Mexico, in and for Lincoln county, dated the 11th day of August, 1908, in a suit therein pending, numbered 1197, wherein W. H. White is plaintiff and the Pittsburg Ore Reduction Company is defendant, in which cause judgment was rendered on the 11th day of July, 1908, in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant, I have levied upon and taken into my possession the following goods and chattels—the property of the defendant, to-wit: One assay scales, one Advance pump with 750 feet of one-inch and half-inch pipe, three sets of stocks and dies 1/2 in. to 2 in., one pipe vice No. 3, one saw, one pipe cutter No. 2, one pipe chain tong, two blacksmith hammers, one bid, one hudy, one pair of blacksmith tongs, one sledge hammer, rubber packing 1/2 in. No. 6, one cross-cut saw, one jack screw, two packages spiral packing, one lubricator for pump, five brass cocks, two stuffing boxes for pump, 43 feet of 3/4 in. round iron, one pump bridge strap, one Buffalo sarge No. 200, one coal scoop, two picks, seven sledge handles, seven pick handles, one folding bed, seven iron bedsteads, twelve cotton mattresses, nine sheets, seven window shades, three rocking chairs, 23 quilts and comforts, nine pair of blankets, seven bed springs, 23 feather pillows and cases, one rug, one folding cot, four cots, one bureau, one wash stand, two bowls and pitchers, two looking glasses, three towels, one water jar and cup, two dining room tables, 11 chairs, one five gal. oil can, two coffee mills, granite pass, two flat dishes, three round di. bow, seven dinner plates, five soup plates, four breakfast plates, six bone dishes, six b. fry dishes, two cups and saucers, three water glasses, one soapstone, two granite kettles with tops, one tea pot, one slup jar, three granite wash pans, one kitchen cabinet, one sausage grinder, one egg beater, one dipper, two nutmeg graters, knives, forks and spoons, two cook stoves, two tea kettles, two coffee pots, three dish pans, two bake pans, two stew pots, three fry pans, one meat grinder, tin cups, four sheet iron heaters.

I have also levied upon the following real estate to-wit: The mining claim known as and named the Silver King, situated on the east bank of Rio Bonito in the Bonito Mining District, Lincoln county, New Mexico, together with the hoist, boiler and house thereon, and all appurtenances. Now, notice is hereby given that I will, on the 10th day of October, 1908, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day at the Pittsburg Ore Reduction Company mill, on a part of the John H. Skinner homestead in Bonito Mining District, Lincoln county, New Mexico, offer at public auction and sell to the highest bidder for cash the goods, chattels and real estate so levied upon, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said execution and costs, care of property and expenses of sale.

There will be done on said execution on the day of sale the sum of $227.50, together with costs and expenses of sale.

CAPITAN.

Mrs. S. T. Gray returned on Monday's train to Capitan, after a week's visit with her children at this place.

Will Rawls and family returned Tuesday from Tucumcari where they have been visiting relatives the past month.

Attorney Easley of Estancia stopped off between trains Tuesday on his return from court at Alamogordo.

F. M. Crockett and Paul Griffith were up from the Oscura country Wednesday, on the way to Bonito to visit their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Henley are the happy parents of a bouncing baby boy. The young fellow arrived Saturday morning.

The editor and family enjoyed a fine dinner Sunday as guests of F. W. Gurney, host at the popular railroad eating house.

O. H. Roberts of Denver, Colo., was in town this week. Mr. Roberts is a financial representative of the Racine Saddlery company of Denver.

Andrew Purcella was up from the 7X ranch Monday buying supplies. He made this office a call and ordered the News sent to his address at Oscura.

Tom McDonald, a stockman of the Mocking Bird Gap country, was in Carrizozo Saturday, greeting friends, and incidentally enjoying the sport of that day.

Rev. J. Allen Ray, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, at this place, went to Tularosa Tuesday to hold a series of meetings. He is expected home tomorrow.

Mrs. W. C. McDonald and daughter, Miss Frances, will leave tomorrow for Denver, Colorado, where Miss Frances will enter Wolfe Hall Seminary.

Mrs. D. W. Roberts came in Wednesday evening from Estey City, and is visiting her nephew, A. T. Roberts and family. She expects to remain until Monday.

Martin L. Goodin had a severe attack of stomach derangement Saturday and Sunday, and suffered quite severely. He had just come up the day previous from the I — X ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Read and George R. Hyde arrived in Carrizozo yesterday on their return from San Marcial, where they had been attending a camp meeting the past two weeks.

Mrs. Geo. B. Barber returned Wednesday night from Austin, Texas, where she had gone the previous week to place her daughter, Miss Bernice, in St. Mary's College. Mrs. Barber went to her Lincoln home yesterday.

Wm. S. Bourne was over from Capitan a couple of days this week. His mother, who is quite aged, and has been ill the past month, he reports much improved but still very weak.

Prof. D. S. Collins arrived Monday from Stanley, New Mexico, and is ready to enter upon his duties as principal of the Carrizozo public school, as soon as the building is completed.

George Braune was over from Bonito Monday with a load of very fine vegetables for this market. His potatoes, turnips, cabbages, beets, etc., are unexcelled, even among the noted products of the mountains.

Monroe Howard and Perry Humphrey were over from Little Creek Saturday and Sunday. These boys were interested spectators of the two days' amusement—the battle between the Fort Stanton and Carrizozo ball teams.

W. E. Dudley, sergeant of the New Mexico Mounted Police, was in Carrizozo Saturday and Sunday. His services were requested on that occasion, not to quell a riot but to umpire the two games of ball, and the sergeant says the work was much more strenuous than are his regular duties.

F. F. Jennings, a prominent attorney of Willard, Torrance county, stopped over a day at Carrizozo this week on his return from Alamogordo, where he had been attending a session of the United States court.

The Carrizozo Cattle Ranch company shipped thirteen cars of fat cattle Saturday to the Kansas City market. W. D. Gray accompanied the shipment, which consisted of steers and cows, and was one of the fattest bunches to leave this section this season.

One chicken thief less in the country this week. Frank Gray used a rifle with good effect Tuesday morning, and put a prowler out of business that had been visiting his chicken roost. The thief was a big gray wolf, that had left his lair in the Mal Pais, and made one too many raids.

P. T. Long, who sells Courtney shoes, arrived Saturday, and is making preparations to receive his family, which is expected soon, and will occupy his homestead north of town as soon as they arrive. Tuesday night Mr. Long delivered an interesting address to a number of Pythians and their friends, and offered his services in the institution of a lodge of that order here.

HAVE COOL DINING-ROOM.

Apartment May Be Kept Pleasant with a Little Care.

A cool dining-room is one of the greatest blessings one can possess in summer, but if one's room is not cool on account of its location it can be kept cool with not a great deal of difficulty. Air the house thoroughly in the morning before the sun gets hot, and then close the windows to the very bottom and pull the shades all the way down.

Close the door leading into the kitchen to keep the odor of the cooking out of the dining-room. If the room despite these precautions gets hot and sultry wring some cloths out of cold water and hang them in front of the window, which you have partially opened, and allow the breeze to blow through the wet cloths until they are dried. Quickly close the windows and place a dish or pail of cold water in the middle of the room. As soon as the water becomes warm remove it from the room.

Even on the most sultry, muggy day this method will seldom fail to cool and refresh the air of the room. Adding a drop of two of oil of lavender to the water will give the room a delicate, indistinct odor and will drive away any flies which chance to be there.

The Home.

Salt sprinkled around the drains is a simple and inexpensive disinfectant.

If hooks for the bathroom, kitchen and pantry are dipped in enamel paint there will be no trouble from iron rust.

Maple sirup which has fermented and become sour can be freshened by heating to the boiling point and adding a little soda. Stir thoroughly, then skim.

It is said if the upper sash of a window is drawn down to the sill, the lower one pushed to within two or three inches of the top of the window, it will give a good circulation in a sleeping room, yet the draft will not be noticed.

To clean swansdown make a warm soap lather and in this gently knead the swansdown till clean. Then rinse in fresh cold water to which a little blue has been added. Shake well and hang in the air to dry, shaking from time to time to make the down fluffy.

Lemon Ginger Beer.

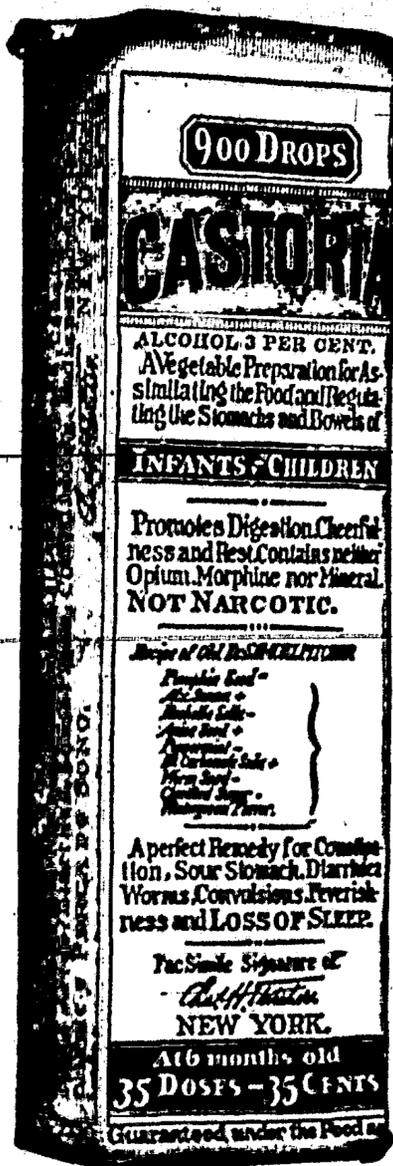

This beverage should be made a couple of days before using. Pour two gallons cold water over a half-dozen lemons sliced thin, add a pound and a half sugar and a scant ounce ginger root. Let this come to a boil then add a tablespoonful cream of tartar. Strain and set in a cool place. When nearly cold, add a yeast cake dissolved in a little lukewarm water, stir thoroughly, then set in a cool place over night. In the morning mix well and bottle, corking air tight, and lay the bottles on their sides in a cool place. A small bottle of Jamaica ginger extract may be used in place of the whole ginger, if preferred.

Changing the Bed Linen.

Arrange to change the bed linen on the day you sweep your bedrooms. The soiled sheets may thus be drawn over the newly made beds to keep the dust from the spread and pillows. It will take but a few moments to remove these sheets and shake out of doors before consigning them to the clothes hamper.

Jelly for Invalids.

Here is a fine way to make jelly. Put in glass jar one-half box granulated gelatin and teaspoon of gum arabic, two cloves, three tablespoons of sugar, two tablespoons of lemon juice, one cup of port wine. Stand in a kettle of hot water. Heat until all are dissolved, strain in shallow dish, chill, cut in one-half inch squares.

SHIP OFF TO RESCUE.

HOPE IS TO SAVE FOUR MEN MAROONED ON ALASKA ISLAND.

Quartet Was Dispatched by a Commercial Company to Trap Foxes on Chirikof a Full Year Ago.

Seattle, Wash.—Four men marooned for the last year on Chirikof Island, a rocky mountain top jutting out of the sea to the south and east of the Alaska peninsula, are now safe in Squaw Harbor, Alaska, or dead of starvation. Three weeks ago the schooner Hunter was sent to their aid by the Alaska Commercial company, but it will be several weeks at the earliest, before news of their fate reaches here.

The four men were sent out by the company to trap foxes on the island one year ago and fitted out with provisions enough to last them for a few months. Additional supplies were promised them immediately. At the end of three months the schooner St. Paul was stored with provisions and started for the relief of the imprisoned trappers, whose supply of food. It was judged, was almost gone. The St. Paul never returned.

After a delay of two months another schooner was sent out for the island, and with orders to search for the St. Paul, or news of her. This second craft, also, has disappeared, overwhelmed, it is thought, in one of the violent storms that raged for several days after her departure.

Then a small steamer was supplied with provisions and started out, but a short distance at sea she became disabled and returned to port at Squaw Harbor, where she has been since under repair.

Meanwhile friends of the four trappers in Squaw Harbor and Unga became frantic with the thought of their old comrades alone for over a year on the barren island, with food enough to last them but a few months, and the schooner Hunter had gone to make the fourth attempt to rescue the men. It is hoped that the trappers will be able to kill enough foxes on the island to supply them with food, but as the isle is small, it is feared that they killed off all the animals in the first few months of their imprisonment, before it became apparent to them that their supplies were not to arrive on time.

Chirikof Island is extremely difficult of approach, being surrounded with submerged rocks, and friends of the men believe that the rescuing schooners were wrecked while trying to make land. If this is the case, the quartet on the island may have been re-enforced by the crews of the vessels.

This news came from Alaska on the brigantine John D. Spreckels, 23 days from Unga, which also brought word of the death of two men in Alaska waters by drowning. One of these was "Dirty Face" Andrew, a well-known character around Unga, whose real name was Andrew Larsen.

In company with Martin Anderson, a fellow fisherman, Larsen started from Unga in a sailboat on May 4 bound for Sand Point. Outside of Unga, as darkness came on, they ran upon the rocks off Cross Island, and Larsen was drowned.

Anderson managed to grasp a rock and to this he clung during the night. At low water, when the men were wrecked, the rock stood a few inches above water, but at high tide waves broke over it continually with such force that the sailor was swept into the sea-time and again. But he managed to fight his way back to the rock, and in the morning he was picked up by a native in a dory. Shortly before this a fisherman was drowned at Johnson's Harbor.

CUTICURA CURED FOUR

Southern Woman Suffered with Itching, Burning Rash—Three Little Babies Had Skin Troubles.

"My baby had a running sore on his neck and nothing that I did for it took effect until I used Cuticura. My face was nearly full of tetter or some similar skin disease. It would itch and burn so that I could hardly stand it. Two cakes of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment cured me. Two years after it broke out on my hands and wrist. Sometimes I would go nearly crazy for it itched so badly. I went back to my old stand-by, that had never failed me—one set of Cuticura Remedies did the work. One set also cured my uncle's baby whose head was a cake of sores, and another baby who was in the same fix. Mrs. Lillie Wilcher, 770 Eleventh St., Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 16, 1907."

Costly Popularity.

France's cruiser Leon Gambetta is named after the famous politician, who died on December 31, 1882. In the times of his intense popularity Gambetta had an experience which he was wont to tell against himself. In Paris admirers unyoked his horses and dragged the carriage to his house. Gambetta would narrate this with an air of pride, and he would add, with a smile: "But I never saw my horses again!"

WOULD EXTERMINATE CATS.

Massachusetts Man Says Felines Are Menace to Health.

Boston.—If Edward Howe Forbush, state ornithologist, has his way, there will be not a cat left within the state of Massachusetts next year. In his report to the governor for the fiscal year just ending, after dilating on the depredations of felines in general, he winds up with the startling request that the legislature empower him to kill all the cats within the state. He says:

"To get the most good out of the state we must kill the cats. They destroy thousands of birds each year, working irreparable injury to crops, besides, through infection, being mainly responsible for the spread of cholera, diphtheria, tuberculosis, small-pox and sundry diseases."

Sarcasm.

"Much obliged to you, son," said old Titefyst to the youngster who had run several blocks on an errand for him, "here's a penny for ye."

"Don't tempt me, pop," replied the bright boy, "if I took all dat money I might buy an auto wid it an' git pinched fur scorchin'."—Philadelphia Press.

To Raze a Big Indian Mound

West Virginia Man Says Sentiment Can No Longer Save It.

Moundsville, W. Va.—D. F. McFadden, who owns the historic mound here erected by the race antedating the Indians, and which gave the place its name, announces that sentimental considerations are no longer adequate to prevent him from removing that pile of earth and its contents to give place to modern improvements.

Several years ago McFadden was tempted to cut the property up into building lots, but he was induced to delay. A subscription was started among school children to purchase the mound, but the amount raised was too small. The owner again intimated he could not afford to allow the property to remain in its present shape, paying taxes upon it and getting no returns. Various plans for purchasing the mound have been suggested, but no definite steps have been taken and now McFadden announces he will start to remove the mound unless he is given positive assurance that it will be purchased from him at a fair price.

When the work of removal starts, if it does, it is expected that the bones of many human beings, together with implements and utensils of the Mound Builders, will be disclosed. Many valuable historical specimens have already been taken from the mound, which covers the space that would be occupied by an ordinary city block. It is 800 feet in circumference and about 75 feet high.

Pardon in Mails 18 Years.

Columbus, O.—Eighteen years after George Swanson completed his one-year sentence in the penitentiary for violating the United States pension laws, having been sent up from Youngstown, a full and complete pardon arrived at the institution the other day, signed by Benjamin Harrison, then president of the United States, and William F. Wharion, his acting secretary of state. The original letter containing the pardon was received here the other day from St. Louis. It is dated at Washington, September 3, 1890, at 6 p. m. It was stamped at Columbus, September 4, in the evening. It is probable that the letter has been lying in some post office for years.

A SURPRISE.

To the surprise of every one in and around White Oaks, a quiet wedding occurred at the residence of John Y. Hewitt of that town last Monday afternoon, at which Miss Florence McDougal, daughter of Judge and Mrs. H. C. McDougal, of Kansas City, Mo., was married to Mr. Ralph Roosevelt, also of Kansas City, no one being present except the contracting parties, Judge McDougal and Mr. Hewitt and the officiating clergyman.

Nearly two months ago Judge McDougal, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Florence, came to this county to inspect his mining properties in the Gallinas and to close a contract of lease on the same, and a few days later visited his long time friend, Mr. Hewitt, at whose home they have remained since that time.

The engagement of Mr. Roosevelt and Miss McDougal has existed during several months and soon after her arrival at White Oaks it was decided to have their marriage take place there, and the wedding referred to was the result.

On Monday night Mr. Hewitt gave a party at the Rink in honor of the event and in compliment to his three guests, at which Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt were introduced to the many friends and admirers the bride had become acquainted with during her visit.

Besides a large number of White Oaks friends there were present from Carrizozo, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Canning, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Sager, Misses Lorena and Esther Sager, Dr. and Mrs. M. G. Paden, Brent Paden, the Misses Johnson, George L. Ulrick and Walker Hyde. Dancing was continued till 2 o'clock Tuesday morning and all seemed to enjoy themselves.

Judge McDougal left for his home in Kansas City Tuesday, the bride and groom remaining for a few weeks outing when they will establish their home either at Kansas City or Springfield, Illinois, where Mr. Roosevelt is connected with a large smelting establishment.

SLOT MACHINES MUST GO.

Santa Fe, N.M., Sept. 4.—The supreme court today handed down a decision holding that slot machines constitute games of chance and are therefore under the ban according to the anti-gambling law passed by the last legislature. The case came up as a test case from the sixth district and the ruling of the territorial tribunal reverses the decision of the lower court, which held the slot machine was not a gambling device in the meaning of the law, and sustains the contention of the territory which prosecuted the cases in question, that the slot machines are within reach of the territorial law.
