DOINGS AND HAPPENINGS THAT MARK THE PROGRESS OF THE AGE

WESTERN

Harry Willis, 19 years old, confessed that he had murdered Harold Watson, also 19, by throwing him in front of a speeding Missouri Pacific passenger train one mile west of Olmitz, northwest of Great Bend, Kan. Willis is from Circleville, Ohio. Watson's home is in Denver.

Perry Bowles of Littleton, Colo., was shot at the State Fair grounds in Salt Lake City during the presentation of a Wild West show. Roy Kivet, Cheyenne, Wyo., cowboy and fellow performer in the rodeo show, was arrested and is said to have admitted the shooting, pleading self-defense.

Proposed new schedules applying wheat rates on wheat bran which now takes corn rates on traffic from and to destinations in New Mexico and other southwestern points and various western bran line points, resulting in ordered suspended from August 30 to December 28, by the Interstate Commerce Commission in New York.

Kid McCoy, former pugilist, pleaded not guilty in Los Angeles to one charge of murder, three of assault with intent to commit murder and four of robbery. The murder trial was set for Oct. 29. The charges against McCoy grew out of the death of Mrs. Theresa Mors, August 12, and a shooting affray in and near her antique shop the next day.

Fires again have broken out in force in California's national forests, and from reports received in San Francisco appear to be about to make their fourth great offensive of the season. Five fires, all of considerable proportions were burning in the state. Three have covered thousands of acres in the Sierra national forest, one of them being Bear creek and Mariposa, the other two in Beatjack country.

A 10[illegible] million dollar program of film play production and building activities has been arranged for the coming year by the motion picture concerns operating in and about Los Angeles, it was announced in Los Angeles by Joseph M. Schenck, coincident with his re-election as president of the Motion Picture Producers' Association of California. Of this amount, Schenck said $72,000,000 will be spent in the production of the 630 pictures scheduled for filming during the year, and the remainder on new buildings and equipment.

WASHINGTON

Edward Albert, Prince of Wales and heir to the British throne, was the guest of President Coolidge at the White House for two hours and a half.

President Coolidge plans to make occasional speeches during his campaign as various situations arise, but after a conference with William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, it was said the executive had no detailed campaign plans. Butler reported the political outlook as "encouraging" and told Mr. Coolidge the committee desired him to proceed in the campaign "as you have been and as you see fit."

Secretary Weeks has approved a bill drafted in the War Department for recommendation to Congress which would authorize the awards of medals to governors, adjutant generals, members of local and district boards, medical and legal advisory boards and appeal agents who served in the selective service systems during the World War.

President Coolidge issued a proclamation lifting the embargo of the shipment of arms and ammunition from the United States to Cuba. The embargo was imposed last March when revolutionary movement was on foot in the island republic. Both the action taken then and the conclusion of the embargo had the full approval of the Cuban government.

Preparations are being made at the Navy Department in Washington for the concentration of naval forces in the Far East for the protection of American interests in China during the revolution now directed at Shanghai. The commandants of the marine corps was called upon by the navy to furnish a list of all marines available in the Far East for service in China.

Further concentration of American naval craft at Shanghai has been reported to the Navy Department by Admiral Thomas Washington, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic fleet, as a precautionary measure growing out of the threatened civil war between Chinese factions. The dispatch listed nine destroyers as at or en route for Shanghai, six additional boats having sailed yesterday from Chefoo, the summer base. To support these the Isabel, flagship of the river patrol, was ordered to Shanghai from her post at Kiukiang.

FOREIGN

The military rulers of Chekiang and Kiangsu have accepted the proposal of mediators to fix the limits of a buffer state in the vicinity of Shanghai, beyond which neither side will advance.

Germany has made her initial payment of 20,000,000 gold marks under the Dawes plan. The payment was received in Berlin by Leon Frazier, assistant to Owen D. Young, agent-general ad interim for reparation payments.

The Austrian tariff committee has authorized an additional import duty of 25 per cent on articles from countries which do not enforce the forty-eight-hour week when similar articles are produced in Austria under the forty-eight-hour enactment.

A telegram from Gen. Gregorio Ferrera, Honduran insurrectionary leader, received in San Salvador, says rebel forces in the department of Intibuca, commanded by Gen. Manuel Darias, have defeated government troops coming from the northern coast.

Fifty-six thousand men, including 25,000 traitors from the army, took part in the recent revolt headed by Adolfo de la Huerta and the cost to the Mexican government of suppressing the movement was approximately 60,000,000 pesos, President Obregon declared in his final presidential message to Congress.

The turnabout by forty-eight German Nationalist Reichstag deputies gave the Marx-Stresemann government a comfortable majority in favor of the London reparations agreements. The sensational flop by the reactionaries was ostentatiously concealed up to the time balloting on the railway bill began, both the bank and debenture laws having previously been adopted by rising votes.

Thirty-nine thousand tons of galvanized steel sheets are to be used as barriers to stop the ravages of locusts in the agricultural regions of northern Argentina. The Department of Agriculture signed a $5,000,000 contract for the material with the United States Steel Products Company. The sheets will be distributed to the farmers who will erect them when the locusts appear, each farmer digging a ditch in front of the barriers into which the marching locusts will accumulate and be destroyed.

Refusal of the United States government to follow the discussion of the convention on arms traffic control before the commission of the league assembly was one of the chief subjects of comment in Geneva. The comment became general when the league, after the reception of Washington's refusal, made public the text of the official invitation sent to Washington, which declared that the members of the council of the league were in agreement that the presence of a representative of the United States government would be of great value.

GENERAL

Joe Boyer of Detroit, injured in the Altoona speedway, died at an Altoona hospital.

President Coolidge returned to Washington and the cares of office and a campaign refreshed and rested from the two weeks' vacation with his father and family in his boyhood home at Plymouth, Vt.

Flushed, panting and happily excited, while beads of perspiration trickled down and soaked himself and his pony, Edward Albert, prince of Wales, indulged in his second game of polo at Syosset, L. I., and enjoyed every minute of it.

State troops patrolled the streets of Herrin following a renewal of klan and anti-klan rioting in which six men were killed and at least five wounded, one dangerously. Troops were sent from Carbondale and from Cairo, Mt. Vernon and Salem. Tension was reported high, but military authorities hoped to be able to cope with the situation.

Pre-war prosperity will return to Europe now that the Dawes plan is in effect, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon predicted in New York upon his arrival from abroad aboard the White Star liner Majestic.

Army and police officials are preparing to care of 100,000 spectators at the East Boston air port on the day the World fliers arrive. Ten acres of the field have been carefully laid out to accommodate with a minimum of wasted space the automobiles which are expected to park there. The railway transportation lines are prepared to increase their schedules to handle visitors.

William T. Tilden II. is still the king of American tennis. The Philadelphia racquet wizard removed any doubts on this score when he swept to victory at Forest Hills, N. Y., over his veteran California rival, William M. Johnston, and won the national singles championship for the fifth successive year. It took Tilden fifty-eight minutes to batter his gallant but badly beaten little opponent into submission by scores of 6-1, 9-7, 6-2 and establish his pre-eminent position among American racquet stars.

Frederick A. Burton's Wise Counsellor, chestnut son of Mentor, by Rustle, at odds of 13 to 5, won the big international special from a field of nine starters at Belmont park, New York, beating Epinard, Pierre Wertheimer's great French thoroughbred to the wire by half a length. August Belmont's Ladkin was third, three lengths astern the speeding flank of Epinard. The time for the six furlongs was 1:11 4-5. The race carried a money value of $60,000 to the victor. Sixty thousand persons, including the Prince of Wales, saw the turf classic.

New Mexico State Items

The peach crop in the Orogrande country this season will be the best ever grown in that part of the state.

Little Louise, the eight months' old daughter of Mrs. Herminio Anaya of Tucumcari, was instantly killed when the auto in which she was riding turned over on the Montoya highway near Tucumcari.

Miss Wilma Loy Shelton, Albuquerque, was elected president of the Southwestern Library Association; Miss Metta Woodward, Woodward, Okla., secretary, and Miss Christine Sanders, Helena, Ark., treasurer.

The wheat harvest has started in the vicinity of Mora and Carmen Valley, and the crop promises to be the best in the history of that part of the state. The quality is good and the growers will get the top notch price.

E. C. Stevens of the White Plymouth Rock Poultry ranch at Alamogordo is building a hatchery of 3,200-egg capacity. This will mean that every three weeks beginning probably in January, nearly 3,200 baby chicks will be available to poultry fanciers of that section.

Fifteen purebred dairy Herefords from Las Vegas will be sent to the fair held at Raton, according to William Shillinglaw of the New Mexico Hereford Breeders' Association. Premiums totaling over $1,800 will be offered by the cattlemen of the northern part of the state.

The new highway between Clovis and Texico, known as Federal Aid Project No. 25, has been completed and was thrown open to the heavy traffic from the East last week. The road is one of the finest in the state and will carry much of the heavy traffic to the coast and other western points.

The United States Children's bureau will make a survey as to health and social conditions among women and children in two counties in New Mexico to be selected. Dr. Richard Bolt of Chicago will have charge of this work. He will have a staff of three or four assistants when the work is started.

Aztec will have one of the most modern water systems in the northern part of the state by the first of the year if the contract, recently let, is carried out. The bonds voted for the new plant were sold recently at par to Benwell & Co. of Denver, and the money will be available for the work at once.

According to a recent report by State Agricultural Statistician R. F. Hare, cattle ranges have improved 5 per cent during the past month. The average for the state is 85 per cent. However, through the Lincoln forest and the Mescalero Indian reservation range is estimated to be above 90 per cent and livestock is in excellent condition.

According to the report issued Aug. 16, the Clovis National Bank of Clovis has passed the half million mark in its deposits. In the same statement the bank shows cash and sight exchange and bonds in excess of its loans. Owing to the splendid crops all over Curry county this season, the officials of the bank believe that business during the coming year will break all records.

Jose Mauricio Baca of Taos, and the horse he was riding, were instantly killed when struck by a bolt of lightning, the first of the week, during a severe thunder storm. The boy was riding in the vicinity of the Arroyo Seco, when suddenly there was a flash and the bolt struck him on the top of the head, passing down through his body and into the horse. The boy's clothing was set on fire by the flash and his body badly burned.

H. M. Nell, of Winchester, Tenn., was arrested in El Paso by request of Alamogordo officers and brought back to Alamogordo to answer a charge of obtaining position and money under false pretenses. At a hearing before Judge Stillcup he was fined $50 and costs and permitted to leave town. Nell represented himself to be R. C. Mayo, Jr., of Memphis, Tenn., who was employed as the new principal of the Alamogordo high school.

The Las Vegas Land and Water Company closed a deal last week for the purchase of nearly 800 acres of land east of the city near the big Storrie project which formerly belonged to R. B. Davis and Judge D. J. Leahy. The land will be placed under irrigation at once and will add one-third to the size of the big project, which is one of the finest of the kind in the state. The land is being rapidly taken up and it is believed that by the close of another year there will be little, if any, land left for sale. Lettuce, alfalfa and other truck products will be the principal crops on the project and many of the new farmers are paying for their land out of the profits of the first year's crop.

A petition is now at the State Bank in Artesia which calls for a road bond election to the amount of $70,000 for a new highway between Carlsbad and Malaga. Should the bond issue carry, [illegible] $3,000 of this amount will be used to improve the road to the big cavern west of the city in the Guadalupe mountains. Owing to the fact that thousands of tourists will visit that part of the state to see the Carlsbad Caverns during the coming year, everything possible will be done to place the highways in the best possible condition.

RIO GRANDE TO BE SOLD

COURT WILL FIX AUCTION PRICE OF DENVER & RIO GRANDE WESTERN RAILROAD

INTERVENTION DENIED

WAY IS CLEARED FOR REORGANIZATION—INTERVENTION PETITION IS DENIED

Denver.—The Denver & Rio Grande Western railroad will be sold on the auction block within the next sixty days, and reorganized in accordance with a plan tentatively approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission before the first of next year, it was indicated definitely following a general conference between Federal Judge J. Foster Symes and attorneys and bondholders in the case.

That he will take action to fix the auction price for the road during the week of Sept. 14 was announced by Judge Symes following the conference, held for consideration of the views of those interested as to the amount to be fixed. When his final decision as to the amount of the upset price is reached, Judge Symes will sign a formal decree for the foreclosure, opening the way for the actual sale forty days later.

Under the reorganization plans tentatively approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the reorganization managers will bid in at the sale and after the discharge of the receiver control will be passed to the Missouri Pacific and Western Pacific railroads.

"It will all be cleared up by the first of the year," Judge Symes declared following the conference.

No further formal action in the case will be necessary other than the court's personal decision as to the amount to be fixed as an upset price. His decision will be based on the facts submitted at the conference, which was held behind closed doors, without further hearings.

The last barrier in the way of the sale and reorganization was removed when petitions in intervention, filed in behalf of Howard Palmer of New York and Horace W. Bennett of Denver were denied by the court. The petitions were filed in an attempt to intervene in the suit in foreclosure brought by the Bankers' Trust Company of New York, trustee, in behalf of approximately 87 per cent. of the holders of a $38,000,000 issue of first mortgage bonds, which have been in default for two years.

Palmer sought to have the upset price for the road fixed at $42,500,000, an amount sufficient to repay in full the amount of the bonds and accrued interest, or to have the present Federal Court receivership continued for two years. In denying the petitions in intervention, the court declared the belief that no purchasers could be found if the upset price is fixed at $42,500,000 and indicated definitely that he would fix a lesser amount. He flatly refused to consider the suggestion for continuance of the receivership.

At the conference Palmer appeared in person before the court to press his insistence on his proposed high upset price, which he declared was based on estimates that the value of the road is at least $150,000,000. Other attorneys in the case argued for a smaller price, which will insure a buyer and culmination of the reorganization plan passed on by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Escapes Death in War Zone

Shanghai.—Mrs. Peter B. Kyne, wife of the famous novelist and creator of the Cappy Ricks character, and Miss Ruth F. Ohlsen, Kyne's secretary, had narrow escapes from death while touring the Chinese war zone. A shell dropped within ten feet of Mrs. Kyne but failed to explode. Accompanied by Carl Crow, a Shanghai advertising man, Mrs. Kyne and Miss Ohlsen, who are accompanying the novelist on a world tour, motored from Shanghai toward the front on which fighting has been in progress.

Prince Threatened With Death

New York.—A letter to the Prince of Wales, saying in part, "If you don't get out of the United States soon, you will meet a violent death," was received by the French consul general's office, it was reported to the police. The letter, which was said to be three pages long, and in most portions incoherent, was postmarked Syosset. The police, to whom the letter was given, sent a man to Syosset in an effort to locate the sender.

Held for Herrin Slaying

Herrin.—John H. Smith, garage owner and local Ku Klux Klan leader, was charged in the verdict of the coroner's jury with having shot and killed Chester Reid, one of six men who lost their lives in the Klan and anti-Klan fight here. The jury recommended that Smith be held over for the grand jury and a warrant charging him with murder was signed by Coroner William McGowen and placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Harry Walker for immediate service.

Mathews and His "Death Ray" Machine

F. A. Grindell Mathews, the English inventor of the famous "death ray" with which he stops airplane motors, etc., is seen at work in his laboratory. Mr. Mathews recently arrived in this country.

College Freshmen to Undergo Test

Psychological Check Is Devised by Educators.

Chicago.—Psychological tests, prepared from material furnished by five of the principal universities of the United States, will be given to freshmen of more than a hundred colleges and universities, and will present themselves to the field of education as an entirely new step to improve present methods of determining who are the brilliant and who the dull students.

The announcement, together with the description of the tests, which are said to be the most thorough of any in the history of educational psychology, was made by Associate Professor L. L. Thurstone of the University of Chicago department of psychology, authority on college and army tests.

Five universities, co-operating in the program, which is under the direction of the American council on education, have submitted to Dr. Thurstone the most complete and satisfactory tests for determining general and specific intelligence which their psychologists have been able to devise. The institutions thus co-operating are: University of Chicago, Princeton university, University of Minnesota, Dartmouth college and Northwestern university.

It has been generally admitted, according to Dr. Thurstone, that present-day entrance examinations and requirements are inadequate to indicate the bright students or eliminate the unequipped. A freshman may enter from high school with a fair record and then fail in college during the first year. It is essential to provide some method which will supplement the scholarship records from high school and which will determine accurately who should be allowed to enter. Each university requires that a freshman shall have a satisfactory high school average before it will admit him to college.

Outline of Tests.

The general nature of the tests is as follows:

Ingenuity in using the English language. (Submitted by Dr. H. T. Moore, Dartmouth college.)

Arithmetical reasoning. (Submitted by Dr. L. L. Thurstone, University of Chicago.)

Artificial language test to determine how quickly a student can adapt himself to new words and new grammatical forms. (Stuart C. Dodd, graduate student at Princeton university.)

Proverb test. The student is asked to match two lists of proverbs and to indicate those that have identical meanings. (Mrs. Thelma Gwinn Thurstone, University of Chicago.)

Reading test. The student is required to read and summarize paragraphs of fairly difficult prose. (A. W. Kornhauser, University of Chicago.)

"Opposites" test. The student is asked to make words of opposite meaning. (Dr. C. C. Brigham, Princeton university.)

Making quantitative estimates based on facts available to everybody: "How many automobiles in the world," etc. (Doctor Thurstone.)

Common sense situations. A test for the use of good judgment. (Prof. Cyril Burt, University of London.)

English grammar test. (Mrs. Thurstone.)

Not Sanity Tests.

"These are not tests of sanity," Dr. Thurstone explains, "but tests to determine whether a student is capable of doing college work.

"The work done in college will be compared with the intelligence records of the tests, and if it is not up to the intellectual standards these show, we can see that some factor other than lack of ability is holding the student back.

"If at the beginning it is shown that he is mentally unequipped for college, he can be refused admission. If, on the other hand, he is shown by the tests to be fully equipped mentally, and then turns out to be lazy, he can be excluded after the first semester.

"Sometimes outside interests and problems hamper college work. Again the tests will show those who ought to do good work. If they are not doing the type of work which the tests indicate, the college deans will be able to find out what is wrong. Often illness, love affairs, or financial difficulties prove obstacles in the way of standard college work. When the dean understands, he will be able to get at the problem and to aid in its solution."

Autoist Chokes Wildcat With Wire

Grand Junction, Colo.—Victor Douglas, a miner, was driving with a companion in an automobile near here recently when a wildcat crossed the road in front of them and climbed to a ledge on the cliff above the road. Douglas snared the beast with a long stick and baling wire.

The enraged cat sprang, but Douglas dodged and was able to keep it from closing in on him by whirling it around him at the end of the wire.

Finally Douglas began to grow dizzy, and, giving the wire a final swing, he hurled it against the cliff and dashed for his car. But the bobcat did not move. The men found it had been choked to death.

Berlin's Zoo Gets Abyssinian Animals

Hamburg. — The strangest cargo unloaded here in years was taken off the Norwegian freighter Randsfjord recently. It was a consignment of animals from Abyssinia for the Berlin zoo.

The cargo included dromedaries, jackals, panthers, leopards, 20 large apes, 24 porcupines, giant turtles with a combined weight of 2,600 pounds, and 60 smaller animals of prey of various descriptions.

The unloading proved no easy matter. The camels, for instance, simply lay down on the upper deck and refused to walk down the gangway. They finally had to be lifted off bodily with the aid of pulleys and cranes. A leopard managed to aim a vicious blow with his paw at one of the expert tamers of the zoo who had been hired to assist. A long scar on his forehead bears evidence that the leopard aimed straight. Every animal had to be inspected by an official veterinary before it was allowed to land.

BEST SABLE FIELD SAID TO BE IMPERILED BY OIL

Russia to Decide Between the Two Industries.

Moscow.—Sables or oil? That is the question which the Soviet government's planning commission must decide.

Far off in the northern Pacific the peninsula of Kamchatka protrudes from the mainland like a dagger blade separating the Bering and Hunter seas. For decades Kamchatka has been Russia's best happy hunting ground for sables. Every year 5,000 of the little blue-black animals, whose skins are valued at approximately $500,000, were hunted down on the peninsula.

Now an expedition led by P. I. Polevov, a geologist of the Soviet geological survey, has discovered oil on Kamchatka. The oil is of an extra fine quality and yields 75 to 78 per cent of kerosene, whereas the best crude product of the Baku field yields only 40 per cent.

The find is of paramount importance to the economic development of Siberia. Russia's unfathomable petroleum resources in the Caucasus are too far from this vast domain, while the oil fields in northern Sakhalien, which have been granted as a concession to the Sinclair company, are still occupied by Japanese troops. Considerable pressure is therefore being put on the Moscow authorities to appropriate a sum of money for the opening of the Kamchatka field. But here the sables interfere.

The oil deposits which Professor Polevov has discovered are situated just below the trapping grounds for sables. The sables from the entire peninsula rush into this trapping space during a certain season of the year when the three rivers of the district overflow their banks. The small fur-bearing animals seek refuge in the high open preserve especially set aside for this purpose by the government. A decree prohibits any manner of industrial or mining activities in the area. And the soft sables, seeking refuge, find death. Experienced hunters have no difficulty in trapping the creatures wholesale. Kamchatka supplies one-fourth of Russia's sables.

Will madame be able to step into one of those brilliant shops on Fifth avenue next summer and buy herself a wrap made of Kamchatka sables? It depends on the decision of the Bolsheviks in Moscow. Will they annul the decree and permit the sinking of wells, thus to drive the sables away, or will they be kind to the sables and help them reach Paris and New York?

Firstborn Said to Lead in Mental Deficiency

London.—Defenders of primogeniture, backbone of the English hereditary principle, received a formidable blow when Dr. Robert Hutchison stated before the British Medical association that two-thirds of the mentally deficient children he had had to deal with in his practice had been firstborn children.

Defenders of primogeniture point to the efficiency of innumerable European monarchs which history reveals, while the backers of Doctor Hutchison's contention mention Benjamin Franklin, who was the fifteenth child of his parents, history being mute regarding the achievements of the first fourteen children of Josiah Franklin.

Go to Church Sunday.

Next Monday is the date for the fall term of school to begin, this means that there will be some new people in town, please let the friends of these people invite them to the church services Sunday. We wish to extend a special invitation to the teachers and also the patrons of the school who have recently come to town to worship with us next Sunday and there after. There is but one place in town where church services are held and this should be well attended. These services are held for everybody and no matter to what church you belong, or if you belong to none, you are welcome here. Let us make next Sunday a record day in attendance.

A Booster.

One of the best boosters of this country and its products is Will Sears, of this city. Mr. Sears has done as much or more to make the Hondo apple famous than any one else. It is his custom to greet as many tourists as possible and present them with sample specimens of delicious fruit. Many transients who have accepted the gifts have found the flavor so good that they have written for more of the same quality.

If each of us would make an effort to do as Mr. Sears has done it would be only a short time until the famous Hondo apple would command the highest price in the markets. When you see a tourist call his attention to our assets and the chances are good that that tourist will become an Evangel for our general prosperity.

SCHOOL NOTES

The local schools will be ready for work Monday morning. The teachers that will have charge of the different departments have arrived and everything is ready for opening the doors of opportunity for the future men and women. A large attendance is expected on opening date and the school board predicts one of the most successful years of the school.

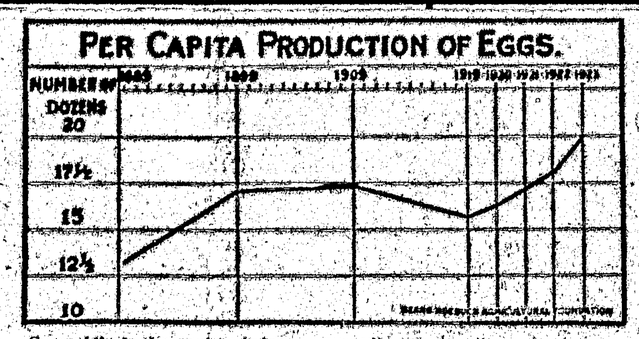
A list of the teachers for the coming year include some of the best educators that could be secured and are as follows: Superintendent, F. S. Copeland; Spanish, Miss Sarah Townsend; Commercial course, Miss Fleming. Other teachers are Mrs. R. J. Carter, Kathryn Spence, Genova Coffey, Myrtle McClure, Virginia Barrett Scott and Louis Cummins.

While our schools will not be so large as a certain metropolitan newspaper has said, nevertheless it is expected that there will be a sharp jump in attendance this year over last.

Several scholars from Fort Stanton will attend school here this year. A conveyance is now being prepared to transport them to and from the Fort.

Because of the crowded condition of the local school building, the Chavez building is being fitted up to house the lower and primary classes.

PER CAPITA PRODUCTION OF EGGS.



So rapidly is the poultry industry expanding that within a short time over production may cut the farmer's poultry dollar unless production can be maintained at a lower cost, according to the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation.

A recent survey shows that more than 5,000,000 farms in this country produce poultry and eggs. It is estimated that there were 421,000,000 chickens on farms before the hatching season started. This is an increase of over 50,000,000, or nearly 12 per cent over figures of a year ago and 121,000,000, or over 32 per cent increase since January 1, 1920.

Production of eggs increased 33.3 per cent between 1920 and 1923 while the population increased only 5.3 per cent. In the past five years the estimates of egg production have shown a close correlation with the estimated number of chickens on hand at the beginning of the year, the ratio being 4.6 dozens per fowl. If the same ratio holds good, egg production in 1924 will gain 10 to 12 per cent over 1923 when it showed a gain of 23 per cent over four years ago.

Profitable poultry production at the present stage of expansion is dependent upon the present high level of demand. Up to date consumption has kept pace with production. In 1923 enough eggs were produced to furnish 20 dozen for every man, woman and child in the United States. This would mean 100 dozen for the average family of five.

Important Meeting.

What is expected to become a red letter day in Southern New Mexico is September 8, when representatives from the commercial bodies from towns in this part of the country met at Alamogordo and organized a co-operative body to be known as the Association of Southern New Mexico.

Representatives from Roswell Las Cruces, Silver City, Tularosa, Hatch, Capitan, Cloudcroft, Alamogordo and others gathered and organized themselves into a workable body for the commercial advancement of this part of the state.

The general theme of the meeting was charged with an abundance of speaches along the line of cooperation, in the matter of getting the tourist traffic, and endeavoring to hold him among us to his pleasure and our pleasure plus profit.

A committee was drafted to go into the proposition of issuing a joint folder setting forth our climatic conditions and scenic beauty and such a folder is now in process of being schemed.

It was the will of the delegates that a president, secretary, and treasurer be appointed by the meeting, which was done. An executive committee was also decided upon which would have the power to vice the future actions and expenditures of the organization. The members of the latter board are to be composed of one member from each of the commercial bodies signatory to the pact, being elected by the commercial body of his particular city.

The following officers were named: President, D. F. Briggs of Las Cruces; Vice President, O. Fred Arthur of Alamogordo; Secretary, Claude Simpson of Roswell; Treasurer, Charles Bonnell of Tularosa.

Republican Convention.

A delegate Convention of the Republicans of Lincoln County, New Mexico is hereby called at Capitan, New Mexico on the 15th day of September, A. D. 1924, at 2 o'clock p. m. of said day for the purpose of selecting (18) eighteen delegates for the Republican State Convention which meets in Santa Fe on the 23rd day of September, A. D., 1924 at 2 o'clock p. m. The business of the said convention is to place in nomination candidates for various Presidential, Senatorial, Congressional and State officials and for such other matters as may properly come before said convention.

The various County precincts shall be entitled to one delegate for each ten votes or major fraction thereof based on the vote cast for the Republican candidate for Congress from New Mexico, at the election held in November, 1922.

Precinct chairmen will call primaries in their respective precincts on Sept. 12, and all precinct chairmen and vice chairmen are requested and urged to give all publicity possible as to date, hour and place of holding said primaries.

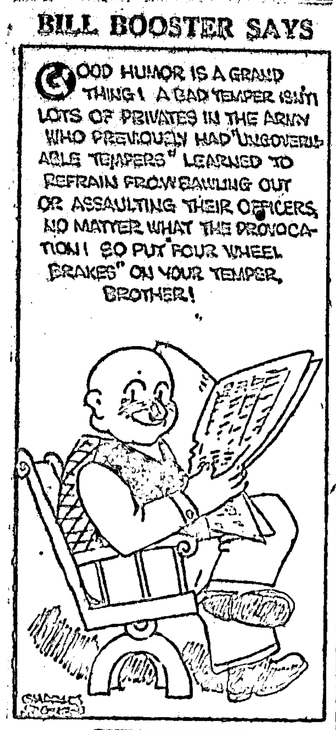
BILL BOOSTER SAYS



"LIKEWISE, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth."—Luke 15-10.

OLD BILL "Sourdough," the prospector sage of the Capitans, tightened the 'after" cinch of the lead animal, and punctured the tobacco-laden atmosphere with: "Fer'o'e'nsee, mules is a heap like polytieyens; brayin' a fore they's choosed fer service, an' complainin' when they's a duoty to be did.

WHEN THE SUN glided up wards from the domain of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce on the morning of Tuesday, September ninth, its rays fell upon the very youngest and huskiest of the breed of imitators and offspring of that "father of cooperation" which has become a shining example of the tone of mutual commercial advancement that can be derived from a pound of cooperative effort, under intelligent and unselfish guidance.

It was the divine Star that hung low over Bethlehem that guided the "Wise Men of the East" to the manger of Christian nativity. It was the Commercial "Star of Opportunity" that attracted the attention of the ambassadors of mutual prosperity to the fair city of Alamogordo, and directed them to the necessary cradle of self-denying cooperation.

It is the ambition of the infant to create a desire on the part of the tourists to come to this section, and the first official act of the new organization contemplated the issuing of a joint folder, setting forth the merits of Southern New Mexico as the ideal recreational and health center and a veritable scenic and climatic paradise. Getting the attention of the tourist, as in selling merchandise, is the first maxim of successful salesmanship. The creation of a desire for your goods, wares and merchandise gives you a decided advantage in selling. Millions of dollars are spent annually by successful business men for newspaper and other advertising, for the sole purpose of creating a desire for their commodities. When the desire is accomplished it is the next step of the salesman to deliver quality merchandise. With this end in view the delegates to the Alamogordo meeting pledged themselves to a campaign of willing and intelligent assistance of the visitor in our midst, by giving him honest and intelligent information concerning the best highways to the various points of interest with fairness to the tourist and without prejudice against any particular section.

Before selling our commodities to the public we must necessarily be sold on ourselves. We MUST believe in the merits of our goods if we would be successful in our efforts. We must profess allegiance to the mutual cause of the entire district of Southern New Mexico without favoring any integral portion thereof and become evangels in its name. Add to this a jumbo dose of mutual cooperation and a dash of "elixir of energy" and we shall soon doff our swaddling clothes and merge into lusty and vigorous young manhood, in every respect a worthy scion of that magnificient body of organized cooperation whom we are glad to imitate and whose success along this line gave precedent for our birth—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Precinct "9".

Pursuant to a call by the Republican Precinct Chairman of Precinct "9", for all Republicans to meet at the school building at 2 p.m., Friday, September 12, to elect delegates to the county convention which meets here Monday, September 15, a number of Republicans met and and transacted the business coming before the primary.

The meeting was called to order promptly. T. J. Simer was elected chairman of the primary and Mrs. Harry Comrey secretary.

A committee composed of G. A. Titsworth, Harry Comery, Mrs. Harry Comery, Mrs. Anna Wells and Mrs. J. T Gardenhire was appointed to nominate delegates to the county convention.

The committee on nominations submitted the following names as delegates:

T. J. Simer, Frank Garrod, Harry Comery, Mrs. Harry Comrey, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Julian Serno, Mrs. Gardenhire, Mrs. Anna Wells, Sam Wells, Francisco Duran, A. E. Rohde, Bob Swar, Henry Silva, W. H. Sevier and George A. Titsworth.

On motion, seconded and carried, it was decided to vote on the delegation as a whole.

No further business coming before the Primary, a motion to adjourn was carried.

Must Other Birds Go Way of Wild Pigeon?

The friends of wild life protection have not been able to convince the secretary of agriculture or the chief of the biological survey that the need of reducing the bag limits on migratory wild fowl is pressing. In 1857 a select committee of the senate of Ohio was similarly skeptical, says the New York Herald Tribune. Regarding the slaughter of the carrier pigeon, it reported:

"The passenger pigeon needs no protection. Wonderfully prolific, having the forests of the North as its breeding grounds, travelling hundreds of miles in search of food, it is here today and elsewhere tomorrow and no ordinary destruction can lessen them, or cause any to be missed from the myriads that are yearly produced."

The last passenger pigeon died in 1914 in the Cincinnati zoological garden. If there were no restriction whatever on duck shooting no ducks probably would be found in America in the next century outside of museums.

Baby Vamp

Walking along Hollywood boulevard one morning, an elderly lady with her little granddaughter passed before the window of a confectioner, and the old lady was importuned for a nickel for a delectable bit of display.

Speaking a little more loudly than she probably realized, the old lady said: "Grandma has no money."

A man passing overheard, and quietly slipped a coin into the hand of the little one, which was at once exchanged for the coveted morsel.

That afternoon she said: "Grandma, let's you and I go down on the boulevard and you talk out loud."—Los Angeles Times.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS

There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest for the reason that it has proven to be just the remedy needed in thousands upon thousands of distressing cases. Swamp-Root makes friends quickly because its mild and immediate effect is soon realized in most cases. It is a gentle, healing vegetable compound.

Start treatment at once. Sold at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing, be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

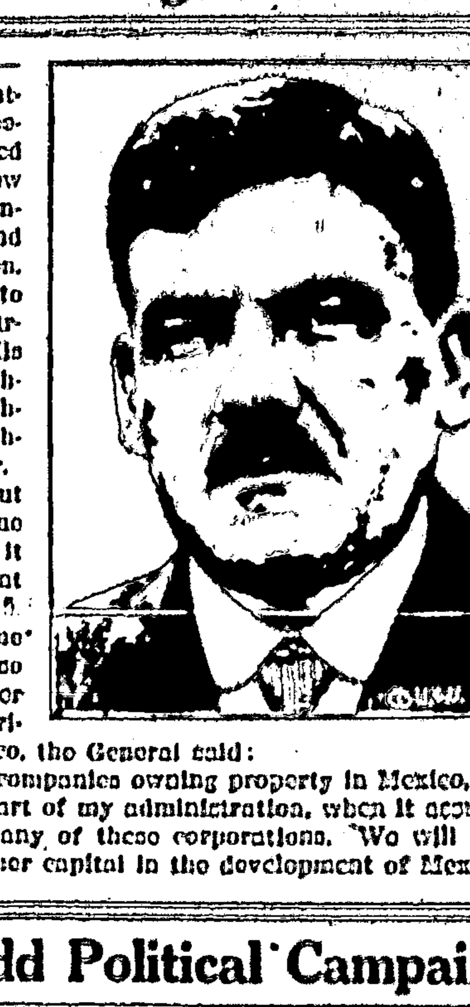
If Alice Should Write Her Memoirs

It is said that society in Washington is talking rather excitedly and a little apprehensively about a rumor that Mrs. Nicholas Longworth is engaged in writing her memoirs. If the daughter of T. R. should tell the story of social and political Washington as she has known it the book would be the best seller for a long time to come. The former Alice Roosevelt has the ability, the sense of humor, the spice of malice and the daring to tell it well. It would be an uncomfortable book for some people, probably; but a mighty interesting one for most. Perhaps Mrs. Longworth remembers the day when all sorts of yarns about her own irrepressible self were being related. She may feel that it is now her turn to get even.

Yes, Alice has plenty of nerve. In the famous 1912 convention she was an interested and most partisan spectator. In that convention, Elihu Root presided and directed the operation of the steamroller. The T. R. supporters greeted each bang of the gavel, each adverse ruling with bitterly derisive cries of "Toot, toot!" Returning to Washington on the same train with the senator, Alice encountered him in the aisle. He stood aside to let her pass, but the daughter of T. R. rose on tip-toe as if to whisper to him. The senator gravely and politely inclined his head toward her; whereupon she "toot-tooted" in his ear.

Soft Words From the "Tiger of Mexico"



Gen. Plutarcho Elias Calles—"Tiger of Mexico"—and its President-elect, is making a trip to Europe before his inauguration. He passed through the United States, from New Orleans to New York, had a consultation with Samuel Gompers and talked more or less for publication. He will spend some time in Paris to enable the women in his party to purchase the latest gowns and hats. His party of nine includes his two daughters, Natalie and Ernestina; his brother, Rodolfo, with his wife and daughters, Lydia; another brother, Arthur.

The general was optimistic about Mexico's future. He said he was one of the first "drys" in Mexico and it was largely through his efforts that Sonora, his state, went dry in 1915. He hoped to see prohibition become effective throughout Mexico and also to see the gambling along the border done away with. Concerning American oil companies operating in Mexico, the General said:

"I am absolutely in favor of oil companies owning property in Mexico, and there will be no disposition on the part of my administration, when it assumes office, to take over the property of any of these corporations. We will welcome American capital as well as other capital in the development of Mexico."

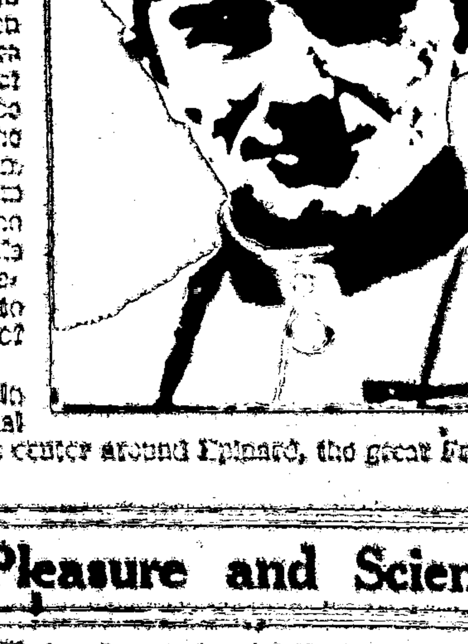
Texas Woman's Odd Political Campaign

Politics is a queer game, but it would be hard to find a more picturesque primary campaign than that in Texas, where Mrs. Miriam W. Ferguson ran for the Democratic nomination for governor as a vindication of her husband, James E. Ferguson, the former governor, who was impeached in 1917. Her husband managed her campaign and they spoke from the same platform. Previous to her marriage in 1899 she was Miss Miriam Wallace of Bell county.

Mrs. Ferguson got 140,000 votes and stood second to Felix D. Robertson of Dallas, 160,000 votes. So Mrs. Ferguson apparently earned a place in the run-off primary.

James Edward Ferguson, her husband, has had a varied career. He was born in Bell county, Texas, in 1871, had a district school education and spent two years on the Pacific coast and in Colorado as a laborer, teamster, miner and foreman of railroad construction gangs. Next he was a farmer in Bell county. He was admitted to the Texas bar and practiced in Belton and Temple. Next he organized a bank. Then he entered politics by being elected governor in 1914 on a "business man's ticket."

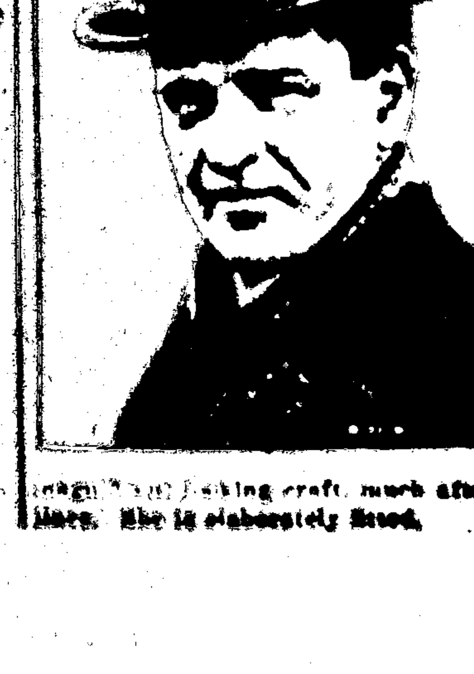
Earl Sande Says He Will Ride Again



The racing public—and it is a large one—reads every word that is printed concerning the condition of Earl Sande, convalescing in the hospital at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., after his fall at the Saratoga track. Cables from all over the world show the concern felt in this internationally famous jockey of the Rancocas stable. An X-ray photograph showed a broken rib and a leg broken in two places above the knee. It was feared at first that Sande's leg would have to be amputated. Then it was said that he would never be able to ride again. Sande grinned and said he'd "fool 'em all." At this writing there seems no reason why he should not resume his riding, though he has planned because of increasing weight, either to ride abroad or to enter the ranks of the trainers.

Sande, of course, will not be in shape to ride in the international races in the East and Kentucky that center around Epinard, the great French horse, now in training at Saratoga.

Would Combine Pleasure and Science



Commodore W. K. Vanderbilt (portrait herewith) intends to put his palatial yacht, the Ara, to scientific use as well as pleasure. He and a party of friends are embarking upon a cruise which will carry them halfway around the world. The trip will be not only recreational but will have a two-fold scientific purpose. He intends to make an extended study of oceanography. He probably will bring back many new specimens for the Vanderbilt Marine museum on Long Island.

The party will include J. Gordon Douglas, George Wolsey, Davis Barnes, John P. Grier and Dr. James R. Lincoln. The trip will require about six months, during which they will touch at France, Spain and at many Mediterranean ports.

The Ara, 214 feet over all and driven by Diesel motors, is the largest power yacht afloat. She is a magnificent fishing craft, much after the fashion of navy vessels, with cruiser lines. She is elaborately fitted.

Toads Killed by Motorists

The common American toad is in danger of extermination by motorists, according to biologists of the Department of Agriculture. In the vicinity of Washington alone hundreds of toads are found dead on the roads every morning. They are attracted to the highways at night by the automobile lights and are killed as they hop along the roadway. Experts say this slaughter is very unfortunate, because the toad is of great value to the community. Many obnoxious insects and worms are a regular item on the toad's menu. An examination of the stomachs of over 500 of these toads revealed the fact that nearly 80 per cent of their food is composed of worms, ants, snails, spiders, millipeds and other insects.—Pathfinder Magazine.

BACK ACHY?
Lame and achy in the morning? Tortured with backache all day long? No wonder you feel worn out and discouraged! But have you given any thought to your kidneys? Weak kidneys cause just such troubles; and you are likely to have headaches, too, with dizziness, stabbing pains and other kidney irregularities. Don't risk neglect! Use Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!
A New Mexico Case
Mrs. J. D. Cutler, Portales, N. M., says: "My kidneys acted irregularly and my back pained and ached. Often when I got up in the morning there was such a soreness across my kidneys I could hardly get out of bed. I became nervous and had dizzy spells. A box of Doan's Pills gave me more benefit than anything I ever used."

Edible After Twenty Years

The question as to the life of the meat of a hickory nut, the length of time it will last before it becomes strong was discussed pro and con at McRae, Ark., when a hickory nut of the "scaly bark" variety, given to Mrs. Fiesto Ernest by a friend in 1904 and kept by her as a souvenir since, was opened and the meat of the nut discovered to be perfectly preserved and edible. No one in that section has any recollection of such an old nut and the twenty-year-old "scaly bark" is believed to establish a new record in that line, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Mrs. Lucretia Monroe Foster of Theresa, N. J., celebrated her one hundred and third birthday by doing her own housework.

MINERAL MIXTURES FOR STEERS PAY

During the past winter the Iowa experiment station fed a bunch of two-year-old steers weighing around 950 pounds to see if simple mineral mixtures paid.

One lot of seven steers was fed shelled corn, linseed oilmeal, corn silage and clover hay. Another lot of seven steers received in addition to the above, one ounce per head daily of a mixture containing 49.99 pounds of high calcium limestone; 49.99 pounds of spent boneblack and .02 pound of potassium iodide. Still another lot, in addition to the standard ration, received two ounces per head daily of the following: high calcium limestone, 24.99 pounds; spent boneblack, 24.99 pounds; potassium iodide, .01 pound, and powdered sulphur, 50 pounds.

The mineral-fed lots showed a slightly better daily gain, approximately the same daily feed consumption and almost the same cost of 100 pounds of gain as the steers fed the check ration. The estimated selling price was 25 cents a hundred pounds more on the mineral-fed lots, making the margin per steer over feed cost after crediting hog gains at $0.75, $5 more than the check lot for the first lot and $4.33 more than the check for the lot which received sulphur.

Ground soy beans and soy bean oilmeal as substitutes for linseed oilmeal were also tried out. The check ration consisted of shell corn, corn silage, clover hay and linseed oilmeal. In the test one lot received ground soy beans in the place of linseed oilmeal and the other received soy bean oilmeal. After crediting hog gains at $0.75 a hundred the check lot showed a margin over feed cost per steer of $3 more than the lot that received ground soy beans and $4.43 more than the lot fed soy bean oilmeal. In the case of the ground soy beans the rate of daily gain was lower and the cost of 100 pounds of gain higher. The soy bean oilmeal lot showed practically the same daily gain and cost of 100 pounds of gain as the linseed oilmeal group but the estimated selling price was lower. Linseed oilmeal was valued at $45, ground soy beans at $45 and soy bean oilmeal at $50 per ton.

Soy bean hay when used to replace red clover hay produced steers that made a margin over feed cost $4.63 less than the clover fed lot. Clover hay and soy bean hay were both valued at $20 a ton.

Unnecessary Expense to Grind Beans for Swine

Fattening hogs will eat whole soy beans more readily than ground soy beans, according to C. M. Vestal of Purdue University. A series of experiments just finished at the agriculture college shows that a lot of pigs fed ground beans made an average daily gain of 1.53 pounds during a 70-day test. They ate 301 pounds of corn and 60 pounds of soy beans for each 100 pounds gain. A lot fed on whole soy beans made exactly the same daily gain. They ate 282 pounds of corn and 63 pounds of soy beans for each 100 pounds gain. The feed cost for 100 pounds gain was $3.77 for the ground soy beans and $3.52 for the whole soy beans, with corn at 70 cents a bushel, ground soy beans at $1.50 a bushel and whole soys at $1.45 a bushel.

In a check experiment with three lots of hogs, the lot fed on ground soy beans made a daily gain of 1.64 pounds with a feed cost of $3.65 per hundred pounds gain. The lot fed on whole soys made a gain of 1.60 pounds daily with a feed cost of $3.69 per hundred. A third lot fed on unthreshed soy beans made an average daily gain of 1.44 pounds at a feed cost of $3.63. These figures show that grinding beans for hogs is an unnecessary expense.

Live Stock Hints

Keep the pigs well supplied with shade and fresh water.

* * *

Guard rails in the pig pen keep the sow from crushing her young.

* * *

Sun and light make for sanitation in the pig sty.

* * *

One of the most successful methods of curing sweet clover hay is to allow the plants to wilt in the swath, then windrow with a side-delivery rake and, a few hours later, place in small upright cocks.

* * *

See that the pigs have a clean trough for their feed will cause digestive troubles.

* * *

Provide shade and water for all classes of live stock to prevent them from suffering from the heat.

* * *

Keep the sow and pigs in clean dry quarters. Filthy quarters are responsible for nearly all pig ailments.

* * *

The fattening of cattle on pasture is a practice that has been increasing each year for the past several years.

* * *

One prominent breeder has stated that if the boar is an average boar he is half of the herd, but if he is a real poor one or an exceptionally good one he is all of it.

* * *

A sow that walks a mile and gets a few bunches of clover or timothy and two ears of corn, is better off than the one that lies around in the lot and gets three ears of corn. She has the stamina, even though she may not be quite as fat and sleek. And she makes a much better brood sow.

AFTER BABY ARRIVES
Many Mothers Weak, Nervous
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps to Restore Health

A great many letters similar to the following recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a wonderful medicine for bringing the new mother back to normal health and strength.

It is an excellent restorative, contains no harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by a nursing mother.

Thousands of mothers who have regained their strength by taking it are its best recommendation. Why not take it yourself?

Now Well Again
Milwaukee, Wisconsin.—"After I had my second child I felt sick and nervous and could not do much. Then after the other baby came I was worse than ever. I suffered this way for a long time and did not know what to do. I was looking over my cook books, and found one of your little books and I sat down and read every page. Then I bought a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took four bottles of it before I stopped, and now I am well again. I always recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends."—Mrs. JOHN MITZKE, 773 8th Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

Buffalo, N. Y.—"My health got worse after my little girl's birth, and my mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it had done her so much good. I had headaches and tired feelings, with no ambition, also pains at times so it hurt me to walk. With the Vegetable Compound I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and I have been greatly helped. I do hope you will use my letter as a testimonial as it will help other women."—Mrs. GEORGE SHOEMAKER, 349 Emslie St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Followed Friend's Advice
Vienna, South Dakota.—"After my second child was born I was completely run-down and didn't care for anything. I had sharp pains in my sides and a white discharge and was nervous and weak. I didn't seem to care how I neglected my work. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it for two months the first time and one month the last time. It has helped me in a great many ways and the pains have left me entirely. I certainly wish you to know how much benefit I have received."—Mrs. G. W. FREEMAN, Vienna, South Dakota.

Such letters and a successful record of fifty years should convince every ailing woman that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine she needs. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Antelope Disappearing

Antelopes, the graceful, shy little animals whose tender flesh used to delight the early settlers of the prairies and large herds of which once grazed on the site of Saskatoon, Sask., are doomed to early extinction, in the opinion of Fred Bradshaw, chief game guardian of Saskatchewan. He states in his annual report that only 250 head are left.

A Deep-Laid Plan

"I see you have bought a gramophone. I thought you couldn't stand the sound of things!"

"I can't. But my mother-in-law is staying with us, and she hates them more than I do."—London Tit-Bits.

Must Have Jarred Captain's Dignity

Rear Admiral W. E. R. Martin, in "The Adventures of a Naval Paymaster," tells this story:

While the author was serving in the old Bellerophon at Barbados, a remarkable personality, known as the queen of the washer-women, paid them a visit. Her name was Jane Anne Smith—a tall negress dressed in spotless white, wearing a turban.

She came alongside in her own boat, pulled by six men. With a sweep of her arm she brushed aside the sentry on the gangway who asked her business, and marched straight on board. The first person she saw was the commander, George Primrose, on the quarter-deck. In two strides the gigantic negress gathered him to her breast and kissed him, in front of all hands, exclaiming joyously:

"Oh, Massa Primrose, Jane Anne 'member you when you was little midshipman, so high."

Butterflies Plug Radiators

Swarms of beautiful red butterflies are reported to have seriously hampered automobile traffic along southern California highways by filling crevices in the radiators, thus causing overheating of the engines. In some cases, motors were badly damaged when drivers pushed on without sweeping the insects off or investigating the cause of the trouble, and many vehicles were stopped while the butterflies were removed. Scientists attributed the swarms to lack of food supply in the mountain regions, where a dry winter had caused many plants to wither and die. The insects therefore migrated to the valleys.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.
