THE MINERAL INDUSTRY AND TERRITORIAL MINING CAMPS.

MOGOLLON DISTRICT ACTIVE.

The Last Chance mine at Mogollon is being steadily operated with good results. The large amalgamation plant of the Last Chance company is running continuously, treating a large amount of high grade ore. The results of the past year's operation are the most gratifying to the company, and it is planning for larger and more extensive operations during the coming year. This company has done extensive development work during the past year, and by this means keeps a large body of ore blocked out, so that there will be no necessity of closing down the mill for want of ore. A large force of men are employed by the company, and every detail of the management is carefully looked after.

The Silver Bar Mining Company is working steadily, and good results are being obtained. The Silver Bar continues to produce a large quantity of high grade ore. Development work goes on, and new machinery is installed as required. The mine is in first-class condition, a great deal of development having been done during the past year. A force of twenty-five men is employed.

The Little Fan[illegible] being operated, a[illegible] are splendid. For [illegible] the owners of this [illegible] have been engaged in development work only. As a result, many hundreds of tons of rich grade ore were blocked out. The operators of the property are now taking out this ore and treating it. The Little Fanny will undoubtedly be a big paying proposition for many years to come.

The B O B Mining Company is not operating its property at present, but it is reliably reported that operations will begin soon after the first of the year. The property gave very satisfactory results during its operations the first of this year, but the water shortage in the summer caused the company to close down the mill temporarily. There is now plenty of water in the district, and all owners will do more or less development, while the large companies will actively operate their properties.—New Mexican.

SANTA RITA TO BE OPENED.

The Albuquerque Citizen says a Boston company is reopening one of the historic mines of New Mexico, the Santa Rita, near Silver City, a property which records show was worked by the Spaniards long before American prospectors entered the territory, which is now a part of the United States. In the archives at the City of Mexico are records that show that the Santa Rita mine was abandoned in 1780, after it had been operated for a long term of years. The cause of abandoning the mine, it is stated, was that a great cave-in had occurred, killing a large number of men.

The mine was guarded by a strong body of soldiers, who stationed behind adobe forts, the ruins of which can be still traced, [illegible] it was carefully sorted and the richer ores packed to Chihuahua or the City of Mexico on burros.

The Boston company owns about one square mile of mineral land surrounding the old workings. The mine is now being systematically developed, three shafts being in course of sinking, and a large area has been given out to leasers to work. A 90-ton concentrator and a leaching plant is at work on the old dumps, from which good values are obtained.

MINING INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

Acording to the report of the chief of the division of mineral resources of the U. S. geological survey, the total value of all of the mineral products of the United States for the last calendar year amounted to $876,008,046, which was an increase of practically forty per cent over the previous year, the most notable increase ever recorded in the history of the country.

It is undoubtedly true, says the Las Vegas Optic, that a greater number of large fortunes in comparison with the number of men engaged have been built up in mining than in any other industry in the country, and that in a shorter space of time.

In the the growth and development of the mining industry of the country, the territory of New Mexico has as yet taken little part. Yet we have known mineral resources of greater variety and it is generally believed in greater abundance than any state in the union. And the time is near at hand when the work of development of our mineral resources will be taken up on a scale commensurate with their actual [illegible] from the marketing of the products of its mines.

CERRILLAS DISTRICT.

Cerrillos, December 17.—The outlook grows brighter every day, so say old-timers in Cerrillos. There is much talk of the reported purchase of coal lands south of here. This will insure the construction of the Santa Fe, Albuquerque & Pacific railroad in the near future.

It is reported that the mill of the Baird Mining Company, as well as the new smelter of the Santa Fe Gold and Copper Company, will start up next week with a full force of hands.

CATTLE INFESTED WITH TICKS.

A car load of ticky cattle en route to Lordsburg, New Mexico, were held up a few days ago at El Paso. The cattle were shipped from Sherman, Texas, and passed by the inspector at Ft. Worth. On reaching El Paso they were found to be diseased, and will be held there until some time in January before they can enter New Mexico.

Governor Otero not long since issued a proclamation excluding Texas cattle, alleging existence of ticks. New Mexico authorities have agreed to admit them, however, as soon as the inspector at El Paso releases them from quarantine. Stockmen in New Mexico are continually on the lookout for importations of diseased cattle into the territory from Texas. The ticks cause a fever and results in the death of the animal often, and is thought to be contagious.

IN THE COMBINATION.

New York, Dec. 19.—The announcement was made today of the absorption of the Guggenheim smelting plants by the American Smelting and Refining Company. The officials of the smelting company decline to make known how much it has been agreed to pay for the Guggenheim properties, but it is thought that $3,000,000 is the price.

Las Vegas wants a mining exchange. Such an institution is needed somewhere in the territory.

ADMINISTRATION'S FOREIGN POLICY CONDEMNED.

Ex-President Harrison's lecture before the students lecture association of Michigan University on the question of the relation of annexed territories and their civilized inhabitants to the United States, scores the administration's policy from alpha to omega. The St. Louis Republic's notice of the ex-president's arguments, says:

The lecture was, as General Harrison declared, not intended to be a legal argument on questions brought into discussion by the Porto Rican act, but rather a popular discussion of some of the views that have been expressed in relation to the inhabitants of our annexed territories.

The lecturer declared that we had done something out of line with our historical precedents—not in the way of expansion, but in the character of it. He said we had taken over peoples, rather than lands, as heretofore. He held to the view that the civilized inhabitants of the territories were citizens of the United States, and that the revenue provisions of the Constitution, relating to taxation for Federal purposes, applied to the territories.

The occasion for the recent departure from precedent was found, he said, especially in the character of the inhabitants of the Philippines. As to Porto Rico and Hawaii there would probably have been no occasion found for treating them otherwise than we have usually done.

The competiton of our home products, and especially the freedom of the Filipinos to settle in the states, were causes of alarm. These considerations, he said, might very appropriately have had influence when the question of taking over the Philippines was before us, but it was now too late.

He agreed that the provisions of the Spanish treaty, and of all treaties, were subject to the Constitution, and could not impair it, and if these islands became part of the United States, in the sense of the Constitution their people became citizens, and the revenue clause, which was especially under discussion in the Porto Rican case, applied.

He argued that the limitations in the Constitution upon the powers of congress, whether expressed in the affirmative or negative form, applied to exercise of that power in all places; that the very object in the section requiring duties to be uniform throughout the United States—which was to prevent congress from establishing anywhere under the jurisdiction of the United States favored ports—would be thwarted, if foreign goods might be admitted to Porto Rico free, and thence into the United States free.

He especially dwelt upon the liberty clauses of the Constitution as necessarily applicable to all civilized peoples owing allegiance to the United States.

COPPER ORES WANTED.

Messrs. Dye & Carpenter have been authorized and directed to examine any and all the copper veins and lodes reasonably accessable from the El Paso and N. E. Ry. and report upon the values, quantities and qualities of the ores. They are now engaged in in this work and have already been enabled to very agreeably surprise several holders of copper claims by their reports of values found.

This is such an opportunity for prospectors to learn the values of their copper ores without cost, as rarely occurs, and we hope the holders of copper prospects will avail themselves of it.

The above named Ry. is in the midst of what now gives promise of becoming one of the richest and most extended copper producing sections of the United States. This will be news to most of our readers.

Recent investigations and diligent prospecting have proven the White Oaks district in the vicinity of Lone Mountain to contain rich copper deposits, and is going to result in the opening of some valuable copper mines right in the door of our city. The discoveries have been found to be in well defined leads, carrying high values in copper, gold and silver. Thus a new industry is opening up for White Oaks, and 1901 will witness great changes for the development of the unlimited resources of the White Oaks mining district.

With gold, silver, copper, and coal mines at work on all sides of us our town must prosper.

NOTICE.

The beginning of the new year and the new century will find us at the old stand. We propose, during the coming year, to meet any and all prices that may prevail, and conduct our business on the same general lines as in the past.

We have no cause to find fault with our customers and trust that they have the same feeling towards us. It is usual, at the beginning of a new year, to make resolves of various kinds, and we have resolved that no one shall undersell us. You can very easily find out whether we are sincere in this by giving us a trial.

Thanking you for past favors and soliciting a continuance of the same, we are,

Yours to Please,
ZIEGLER BROS.

The lamb and the lion have lain down together at Capitan. Mr. Knuckles editor and publisher of El Capitan has taken unto himself a partner, J. H. Lightfoot, of the Miner, and they came out under a new name, Capitan Progress. "What is there in a name?" Mr. Knuckles, the republican of the firm is the manager and the editor, Mr. Lightfoot, is presumably to be the managed of the firm. A cross between a republican and a democrat in the same newspaper office is a little out of the ordinary, and will very likely produce a political music, however, the EAGLE wishes the new combination the ordinary newspaper courtesies, and it may be that in the course of time either the one or the other member of the new firm will become converted and the issue be all democratic or all republican.

EAGLE CREEK NEWS.

Well, the much quoted McKinley prosperity is still favoring this section of the country. There is considerable work going on in the mines in and around here. Lower Hale is working his claims on Eagle, and is showing up some good average ore.

John Hightower and Tom West are doing annual assessments on properties belonging to them. W. N. Hightower has leased and bonded A. C. Storms' Eagle Creek claims and is working a number of men with a view of making shipment soon. He will ship to the El Paso smelters.

C. Blackwell has sold his ranch and goats, and has gone to Texas to raise cotton.

J. W. Prude, the hustling Ruidoso merchant, has been handling an immense supply of grain this season. He handles the entire product of the Ruidoso farmers. The yield has been good, also the quality.

Jas. E. Cree, owner of the V. V. ranch, and his wife arrived a few days ago from Scotland, and will spend some time here with Mr. Cree's mother. They left their children at home in Scotland where they are in school.

D. Roberts has sold his ranch to a stockman by the name of Greer, of Pecos City. Mr. Greer will stock the ranch with sheep.

M. G. Tracy has gone to Carlsbad to spend the winter.

Master Peter Phillips is at home from Roswell, where he has been at school in Military Institute. He will return to school after the holidays.

The Misses Mae and Ula Gilmore are home to spend the holidays.

John Hightower started to Roswell last week with a load of Mohair. He secured 28 cents per pound in the Roswell markets last spring for his goat fleece and expects that much or more for this season's clip. Hightower has the finest grade of goats in this part of New Mexico. He began with 500 nannies and a few fine bucks and sheared the first season 1,400 pounds of Mohair. Some of his California bucks cost him $150 each. He raised 250 kids and last August sold 102 head of goats which netted him $450. He sheared again last fall and weighed up 1,600 pounds of Mohair. He has already been offered 23 cents for this year's clip. The cow and horse must take a back seat when compared to the goat business with the same capital invested. My advice to the small cowman would be to sell his cattle and invest the money in good goats—shearing goats.

JOHN W. OWEN,
Constable.

This Dec. 24, 1900.

Messrs Dye and Carpentar, Assayers, have charge of the Lady Godiva Assaying Labratory and Assay office and have facilities for examining and determining the values of all ores and coals.

IN THE JICARILLAS.

Joe Gallagher and Mr. [illegible] have abandoned their work over near Jack Mountain and the former with Ed Haskins and George Johnson is now working for Mr. E. H. Talbert on his Ed H. Lode claim in Juana Gulch.

Mr. A. H. Norton left on Monday last for the White Mts. with E. L. Ozanne to do the assessment work on the claims owned by the latter.

On Monday afternoon last, two gentlemen of the road waited on Mr. Frank Goddard at his ranch at the mouth of Ancho Gulch, covered him with a winchester and proceeded to appropriate such of the property of Mr. Goddard and Mr. Whitney Jones, as they fancied, clothes, money, watches, saddles, winchesters, blankets etc. after taking all they wished they invited Mr. Goddard to take a walk out into the timber with them, after going a sufficient distance they rode away with their plunder and allowed Mr. Goddard to return to his cabin. The matter was reported to the authorities on Tuesday night.

Mr. F. I. Marsh, A. H. Norton, and J. F. Mains, spent Christmas in White Oaks.

Considerable activity prevails in the Jicarillas just now finishing assesments for the year 1900.

Several samples of Jicarilla ore have recently been collected and others will be to be placed on exhibition in the El Paso Chamber of Commerce at the miners Convention. Those miners and prospecters having good mineral bearing properties can have their ores placed on exibition at the coming convention if they will kindly leave their samples properly labled with name of claim and owner plainly written—at the EAGLE office in White Oaks.

F. M. Johnson, Edgar Johnson, Joe Gallagher, E. H. Talbert, Mr. W. and Noel Whitmore visited White Oaks on Wednesdays The two latter being on their way to the Oscuras to do assessment on their valuable copper properties.

Mr. Geo. Weisher has recently struck very promising rock on the Knickerbocker lode claim owned by himself and C. C. Hedges. The rock is a porphyry, thickly seamed, the seams being heavily mineralized, and pans well in free gold.

Some samples of ore from the Hawkeye; owned by W. S. Ross were sent to the EAGLE office recently to be placed on exhibition at El Paso. The ore is a fine grained iron oxide floury in texture and closely resembling scotch snuff in color, which is replaced below by a harder rock richer in gold. Samples sent show numerous flakes of free gold. There is every indication that this claim carries a large body of gold ore and only development is required to make it a paying proposition.

The news of a killing at Capitan Christmas, has reached us this morning. A man was shot in the neck with a Winchester and instantly killed. Nothing further could be obtained.

Oscar Hyde is in from the ranch. He says cattle and horses on his ranch are doing well and will go through the winter in good condition. Hyde brought in a sample of wool taken from 23 different goats, that measured on an average 7 inches. By sparing time it will be, he says, about 9 inches long.

When you feel that life is hardly worth the candle take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets. They will cleanse your stomach, tone up your liver and regulate your bowels making you feel like a new man. For sale by M. G. Padon.

AFTER JANUARY 1ST 1901

The One-Price meat market will only be open, on Sundays, from 6 o'clock to 10 o'clock.

CHRISTMAS MARRIAGES.

Clifford Hulbert and Miss Daisie Nabours were married at the bride's residence here Christmas morning at 7 o'clock. Only a few friends were present. Rev. L. L. Gladney officiated. They left immediately for Lincoln to be present at the marriage of Clifford's eldest sister, Miss Edna Hulbert. The EAGLE could not get the name of the fortunate Kansan who has followed Miss Hulbert to New Mexico to claim her as his bride.

Miss Daisie Nabours is one of our most amiable young ladies, and at present holds a position in our public schools and is greatly esteemed by all who know her. Mr. Hulbert is one of our most energetic and straightforward young men. The EAGLE joins their many friends in wishing them a happy future.

A BENIGHTED HUNTER.

Great excitement reigned throughout the city last night for an hour or more. It was announced that Rev. L. L. Gladney, pastor of the Methodist church was lost in Carrizo mountains, and searching parties were organized and sent out in every direction to to find him. Rev. Gladney's horse got away from him during the day, and left him to return home on foot, which threw him two hours later getting home than he told his family he would return. Many expected some accident had happened to the minister. Some that he had accidentally shot himself, or had fallen on the rocks and had sustained injuries which disabled him etc. However, about 9 o'clock he returned home on foot, as tired and hungry as hunters usually are, and was totally unaware that the populace were so concerned about his safety. Guns were fired signaling his return home, and the parties in the woods gave up their search for the benighted hunter.

THE LADY GODIVA.

It is now settled, says Supt. B. H. Dye, that the Godiva will resume operations. Everything is ready to begin the water development and Wm. Lane has been employed to sink for water. The kind and character of mill put in will be determined by the amount of water the company can develop. But there is little question that the amount of water needed will be secured, and the erection of a pumping plant and the laying of a pipe line to the millsite will soon be in operation. The water supply is the only thing remaining unsettled. The mine will be in operation in a short time.

Ores have been cut in the Godiva recently that gives 17 per cent of copper, 400 ozs. of silver and 90 ozs. of gold. This insures a good future for the Godiva company.

The EAGLE has just received news from Schelerville that a 54 inch lead of rich copper ore has been struck in the new Homestake shaft. The company of which Mr. McIver is manager will soon begin the shipment of ore from this property. Shipments will begin in January. Stockholders of the Schelerville company have, most of them returned home for the holidays, but a number of them will return to Schelerville in April to reside, by which time it is expected to have the properties in practical working condition.

The Goddard Bros. who are improving a stock ranch in Canyon [illegible] about 17 miles north of town, were held up and robbed by a party of bandits Christmas morning. The highwaymen took groceries, tools, supplies, winchesters, clothes, etc., leaving nothing that they could convert to any use. Officers are after the robbers, and nothing will be left undone to apprehend them.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Judge M. H. Bellomy is the victim of a severe cold.

Will Owen is afflicted with a light attack of pneumonia.

John Harris came in from Silver City this week to spend the holidays with home folks.

Messrs. Poston and Campbell were up from the Carrizozo ranch to spend Christmas in the city.

Leslie Ellis and family, of Lincoln, are in the city, visiting Mrs. Ellis' father, John M. Keith, her sister, Miss Pearl Keith, and other relatives.

The young men of the city had a great game of foot ball, Christmas day. Most of them haven't done anything since.

Cadets Brent Paden and Richard Taliaferro are home from school at Roswell to spend the holidays. The boys are making good records this year. Paden's general average being 80 per cent, which is considered excellent.

MINES AND MINERALS

Is a mining periodical for prospectors, miners, mine officials, mine owners, mining engineers and mining students. It is devoted exclusively to mining and metallurgy. It was established in 1981 and has a larger circulation than any other mining publication in the world. This is due to the fact that it has always been the aim of the editors and publishers to make it the best mining publication. It is in no sense a stock-jobbing, or boom organ, and publishes no articles except those pertaining directly to the mining industry. It is the most practical mining journal in the world, up-to-date and constantly improving. Typographically it ranks with the handsomest technical publications and is the only mining publication having its own force of illustrators. The best ideas of the leading practical mining men of the world are presented in plain language and can be understood by men whose early education was limited equally as well as by men with college educations. The journal is profusely illustrated and in proportion to its size and quality, at $2.00 per year, it is the cheapest technical publication in the country. We have arranged a clubbing rate with Mines and Minerals whereby our subscribers can secure the White Oaks Eagle and Mines and Minerals for $2.50 per year. Subscriptions can begin at any time.

A BRIGHT FUTURE FOR COPPER.

The Mining and Metallurgical Journal says:

The difference between the iron and copper mining industries is a radical one, says a writer in the Seattle Times, much as the two lines of mining resemble each other at first sight. The iron trade has been aptly called the barometer of American business interests, and, like the real barometer with its column of mercury, the fluctuations are numerous and at times sudden and severe. The average iron mine can be reopened on short notice after long idleness, but the reopening of a copper mine is a matter of years. The iron miner must adjust his efforts to the requirements of the market for the near future, while the producer of copper is necessarily working with a view to the general average of conditions for a decade to come, being unable to adjust his efforts as a whole to the minor fluctuations of the copper market. The big mine can, of course, adjust production to immediate demand to some extent, but the fluctuation in output of even the largest mines are comparatively slight. The stimulus of very high prices enjoyed by the Lake Superior copper mines for the past two years has resulted in increasing the annual production of the red metal less than ten per cent per annum. John Stanton, of New York, the veteran authority on the American copper trade, estimates the increase of product of copper for the entire United States at not more than ten per cent for the year 1900, the increase for the first half of the year being but nine per cent. This increase is barely sufficient to provide for actual requirements, and the increased production of foreign lands is scarcely as great as the average in this country.

Despite the many flourishes of trumpets and the tens of thousands of dollars expended in the columns of the press, advertising the numerous Calumet and Heclas in embryo, which were to make their shareholders wealthy on small investments, the production of all the new mines, together with the increased output of the old mines, did not exceed ten per cent last year, will not exceed the same amount this year, and probably will show no greater gain in 1901. The immediate future of the copper market seems assured. With a strong and steady demand for all the copper that can be mined the price of the metal, high though it may be, is supported by the logic of demand and supply. What may be the future of the copper market in five or ten years is a matter of conjecture. The high price is stimulating production, and while, from the peculiar conditions surrounding copper mining, it is impossible to open new mines rapidly, the nature of the business is such that a strong stimulus once applied is more lasting in its effects than in industries where supply can more readily respond to demand.

TWICE-A-WEEK REPUBLIC.

Every Monday and Thursday a newspaper as good as a magazine—and better, for it contains the latest by telegraph as well as interesting stories—is sent to the subscriber of the Twice-a-Week Republic which is only $1 a year.

The man who reads this paper knows all about affairs political, domestic and foreign events; is posted about the markets and commercial matters generally.

The woman who reads the Republic gathers a bit of information about household affairs and late fashions and recreation in the stories that come under both the headings of fact and fiction. There is gossip about new books and a dozen other topics of especial interest to the wide-a-wake man or woman.

John Norris, an employe of the Pinos Altos Gold Mining company, was killed in the Gillett shaft by an iron cage falling down the shaft on top of him, breaking his skull. Norris was a single man, about 40 years of age.

SENATE AMENDS ARMY BILL.

Washington, Dec. 10.—A subcommittee of the senate committee on military affairs completed work on the army reorganization bill and will report to a full senate committee a complete substitute for the house bill. Probably the most important change is in the provision regarding the artillery arm of the service. The subcommittee recommends the retention of the present regimental organization of artillery and does not give its assent to the corps organization proposed by Secretary Root and accpted by the house. The house canteen provision was amended so as to permit the sale of beer at canteens. The maximum strength of the army is to be 100,000.

Among the tens of thousands who have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for colds and la grippe during the past few years, to our knowledge, not a single case has resulted in pneumonia. Thos. Whitfield & Co., 240 Wabash avenue, Chicago, one of the most prominent retail druggists in that city, in speaking of this says: "We recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for la grippe in many cases, as it not only gives prompt and complete recovery, but also counteracts any tendency of la gripe to result in pneumonia." For sale by M. G. Paden.

LETTER LIST.

No one can reasonably hope for good health unless his bowels move once each day. When this is not attended to, disorders of the stomach arise, biliousness, headache, dyspepsia and piles soon follow. If you wish to avoid these ailments keep your bowels regular by taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets when required. They are so easy to take and mild and gentle in effect. Buy at Dr. Paden's

If you would have an appetite like a bear and relish for your meals take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets. They correct disorders of the stomach and regulate the liver and bowels. Twenty-five cents at Dr. Paden's.

THE PECOS VALLEY
EXCURSION RATES.

If tickets enough are sold to justify, the Pecos System will run the sleeping car "El Capitan" to Salt Lake City and return to accommodate those attending the annual convention of the National Live Stock Association January 15-18, 1901. The car is a first-class sleeper equipped with eight sections and eight reclining chairs. A conductor and porter will attend the car, and a full line of newspapers and periodicals will be provided. The car will be open at Salt Lake City, so that passengers can sleep there during the convention.

The rate from Roswell, N. M., to Salt Lake City and return will be $59.30 for a lower berth and $54.30 for an upper berth. If berth is occupied by two persons, the rate for each will be $49.30 for lower and $46.80 for upper berth.

No free transportation will be honored in this car. This contemplates a nine days trip, and is a rare opportunity to witness the beautiful scenery of Colorado and Utah. The rate is very low for the service performed, and no pleasanter way to attend the convention will be available. Space is limited, and tickets should be purchased and space reserved at once.
