Mr. S. C. Wiener, one of White Oaks' enterprising and wide awake merchants, returned last Monday from an extended business trip. What he saw and bought to make the people of White Oaks glad, he can tell best himself,—confidentially.

Dr. Miller at the Congregational church next Sunday, will preach in the morning at eleven o'clock, "The most Wonderful Spring in the World" At night, 7:30 o'clock, "Ideas True and False. Every body is cordially invited. Please note the change of time at night from 8 o'clock to 7:30.

The farewell dance given by the young people at Bonnell Hall was very enjoyable affair in every way. The hands on the clock marked that morning was approching, when the music ceased and the happy couples who had kept time to it in waltz and two step, sought their homes for an hour or two of sleep.

Hon. J. E. Wharton, for many years one of White Oaks' popular attorneys and enterprising citizens, but now a resident of Alamogordo, is a visitor to our town this week. His numerous friends are glad to greet him. His visit to the OUTLOOK office was pleasant and cheering. He is one of the strong advocates for greater Arizona. J. E. likes big things.

Judge E. A. Mann and clerk J. D. Leahy were at Lincoln last week and held a special term of court, for the purpose of appointing and instructing jury commissioners in accordance with the new jury law. The Court appointed as commisioners, J. M. Penfield, R. Michacles and Jose Romero. These meet and select the required number of names and forward them to the district clerk,

Over in Capitan last Thursday night, a general all round bad man whose name at the time was Bob Rusher, rushed into Welsh and Titsworth's store for the purpose of helping himself to some of their property. Result. Bob rushed out of life with fifteen pieces of lead in his body. It is sometimes dangerous to rush into other people's business.

The young people of White Oaks had a most pleasant outing last Saturday. Early in the morning, dressed in their best "bib and tucker," they crowded into several hacks and were driven down to Carrizozo ranch, where arrangements had been made for a big lawn party. The occasion was the birthday of Miss Frances, daughter of the Hon. W. C. McDonald. It was such an affair Mrs. McDonald delights in. The genial hostess and her aids were at their best and made every one happy. The idea that prevailed throughout the day was, "Enjoy yourselves" and the young folks did so.

Dr. Paden and Geo. L. Ulrick returned Wednesday morning from a trip to Carrizozo Ranch.

Japan's champion heavyweight wrestler was introduced to Secretary Taft, but prudently refrained from opening professional negotiations.

J. Pierpont Morgan has returned from Europe with 127 suits of clothes. Russell Sage will be losing confidence in Mr. Morgan if he doesn't watch out.

Maryland is suffering from the ravages of a new variety of kissing bug. Or it may be that the seventeen year locust is developing a new form of attack.

Mrs. Langtry is going into vaudeville, principally because she needs the money. Still, she never did much twanging on the art-for-art's-sake string.

A new plot against the sultan of Turkey has been discovered at Kustenji, Roumania. The sultan can't complain that he is being neglected, anyway.

The dry weather is playing havoc with the New Jersey peach crop, but as long as the applejack crop promises to be all right, New Jersey isn't fretting much.

Pennsylvania produces more cherries than any other state in the Union. Statistics show, much to our surprise, however, that it is not the leading plum state.

A Philadelphia man was killed for kicking another Philadelphia man's dog. Since the awakening there the inhabitants of Philadelphia are just like other people.

The professional baseball player is described by a magazine writer as a morose, melancholy and suspicious being. Most umpires probably will corroborate this view.

There's comfort for the poorly-paid in the assertion made by Arnold White, the English writer, that "You cannot always judge a man's brains by the amount of his salary."

It is not true that Gov. Pennypacker of Pennsylvania is going to sell his noted collection of 15,000 historical books because he doesn't have time now to read anything besides the newspapers.

The only strange thing about it is that the price of "Fads and Fancies" wasn't fixed at $10,000 a copy. The people who subscribed for it don't seem to have stopped to consider the value of good money.

One hundred year old Mr. Warner of New York explains his case by the statement that he eats only two meals a day. He might live another 100 years by eating only one meal a day, but would it be worth it?

A woman in Orange, N. J., who wouldn't pay her rent because painters, driven away by bees, had not finished painting her house, found 200 pounds of honey between the walls. And now the painters must feel weary.

NEW MEXICO NEWS SUMMARY

Comparison of Land Entries.

An interesting commentary upon the growth of different sections of New Mexico is furnished by the fact that the homestead and desert land entries in the county of Eddy, during the past fiscal year, exceeded those of the entire Santa Fe land district by 12,000 acres. Although the Roswell land district is smaller than the Santa Fe district, yet the entries made during the past fiscal year at the land office at Roswell exceeded those made at the land office at Santa Fe by 117,000 acres. The homestead entries covered 107,794 acres, Eddy county leading with 38,880 acres, Chaves being second with 35,985 acres; Roosevelt third, with 27,926 acres. Lincoln county, which is only in part in the district, has homestead entries amounting to 3,802 acres to its credit during the past fiscal year; Otero county, also partly in the district, 880 acres, and Torrance county, having only a narrow strip in the district, 320 acres. In desert land entries Eddy county is also a leader with 77,483 acres, Chaves coming second with 33,000 acres less, and Roosevelt county third with only forty acres. Eddy county is also a leader in lieu selections, having covered 7,627 acres, Chaves being a close second with 7,432.08 acres; and Lincoln and Roosevelt far behind with 403 and 280 acres, respectively. The territorial selections amounted to 29,849 acres and were located entirely in Chaves county. Eddy county during the past year led every other county in the territory as to the area of public land entered; Chaves county coming second in that respect.

The area of the Roswell land district is only about one-half of the Santa Fe district, covering 16,843,000 acres, while the latter covers 31,468,000 acres. Yet, the lands subject to public entry in the Roswell district, 13,270,752 acres, are almost equal to those of the Santa Fe district 13,347,857 acres. Chaves county has 4,993,088 acres still subject to federal entry, of which 2,016,673 acres are unsurveyed. Lincoln county has 1,955,200 acres of public land in the Roswell district, of which 88,687 acres are unsurveyed. Otero county has 1,423,233 acres subject to entry in this district, 1,377,549 acres being unsurveyed; Roosevelt county has 828,097 acres of public land, 76,320 acres being unsurveyed. Torrance county has 253,995 acres, all of which is surveyed. Guadalupe county has 50,432 acres in the district, all surveyed. The area reserved in the district is 1,105,929 acres, of which 563,620 acres in Lincoln county; 208,440 acres in Otero county; 200,261 acres in Chaves county; 127,308 acres in Roosevelt county, and 6,300 acres in Eddy county. The area appropriated in the district is 2,466,529 acres, or only one out of every seven acres, and is as follows: Chaves county leads with 1,080,251 acres, Eddy is second with 546,053 acres, and then comes Lincoln, 495,820 acres; Roosevelt, 299,995 acres; Otero, 21,327 acres; Torrance, 19,243 acres, and Gaudalupe, 3,840 acres.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Albuquerque Railway Shops.

An Albuquerque dispatch of August 19th says: R. B. Burns, chief engineer of construction of the Santa Fe coast lines, arrived here to-day from Los Angeles. He came on business connected with improvements which the Santa Fe will make in its shops in this city. He says that $200,000 will be spent next year here to enlarge the shops. The plans call for new machine shops, blacksmith shops, an addition to the round house, etc. Before the close of the present year the Santa Fe company will have expended $1,200,000 on its Albuquerque-Winslow division on improvements, building new steel bridges, reballasting track and purchasing machinery for shops.

William Frazer of Chilili, Torrance county, arrived this afternoon, says an Albuquerque dispatch of August 19th, and reported to Captain Fullerton of the New Mexico rangers that rustlers had made a raid on his ranch and driven off several hundred head of sheep. A company of rangers was immediately dispatched to the scene of the deprodation and has orders to stay out until it either captures or destroys members of the band. The band has been running off stock and robbing ranchmen for several months, but this is the boldest raid it has made. Frazer is one of the largest sheep men in the territory and says he will spend any amount of money to run down the rustlers.

The New Mexican of August 14th says: Prof. Hiram Hadley, superintendent of public instruction, left yesterday for the purpose of visiting the teachers' institutes now being held in various counties. His first visit is to Belen, where the teachers' institute for Valencia county is now in session. From there he will proceed to Las Cruces, Dona Ana county, thence to Roswell, Chaves county, and Carlsbad, Eddy county. He will then go to Tularosa, Otero county, where the joint teachers' institute for Otero and Lincoln counties will be in session. Thereafter he will go to Clayton, Union county, and to Santa Rosa, Guadalupe county, closing his trip at Las Vegas, San Miguel county. He will be absent two or three weeks.

The Pueblo Indians of New Mexico own over 900,000 acres of land upon which they pay no taxes. This land on an average is worth certainly $1 per acre. Were it taxed, it would make an addition of at least $1,000,000 to the taxable wealth of the territory. The people of New Mexico lose a good deal in items of this kind. Having a few thousand Pueblo Indians in their midst, is not altogether an unmixed blessing.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Boy Mail Robber and Forger.

A Roswell dispatch of August 19th says: Olin Nokes, a bright boy fourteen years of age, was bound over to the grand jury to-day on a charge of rifling the United States mail. He worked the combination of a box in the postoffice here, secured a letter containing a United States pension check for $24, forged the name of M. [illegible] letters and that he has secured many checks, and in one instance money. The lad was placed in jail in default of bond. His parents, who are highly respected, refused to aid him. His father said that the law must take its course, as the boy was past his control. He is an intelligent lad, and the reading of dime novels is given as the cause of his downfall.

Ernest New and Ray Miller, two boys who were assisting him in spending the money when apprehended, have been arrested, and Judge Baily states that they will be bound over to the grand jury Monday.

In an explosion in the Strawberry mine, in the Bromide district, north of Santa Fe, last night, says a dispatch of August 22d, Richard Cole and Walter Moyers were badly injured. Cole will probably die, but Moyers may recover. The men were drilling into a charge of powder which had failed to explode. The Strawberry mine is owned by Michigan parties.

A Santa Fe dispatch of August 22d says: Santiago Delgado, a ten-year-old son of Juan Delgado, was to-day terribly injured, perhaps fatally, in stepping from a carriage. He stepped into the spokes of a rear wheel in alighting, when the team started again and he was carried around the wheel three times before rescued. His right leg was amputated this afternoon near the hip joint.

There is one item in the crop bulletin of New Mexico issued this week by the Territorial Climate and Crop Service that should receive serious attention. It is the mention of the fact that lots of fruit is going to waste this year. There is no more reason for fruit to waste under modern methods than there is for gold or silver going to waste. True, fruit is more perishable and in value more fluctuating, yet, it represents money and work, and by cooperation and with slight forethought, returns could be had from the tons of fruit that are going to waste this year in New Mexico orchards. Evaporators and distilleries should take care of part of the waste. Another part should be fed to stock, while sun-dried fruit, cider and vinegar always command a market. In the big industries of the day the profit lies in the utilization of the waste products and profits in horticulture are apt to be in making use of all the fruit in years that the trees bear well.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

The surveyors of the United States reclamation service, who have been locating reservoir sites in the La Plata valley intended to reclaim 100,000 acres of land north of the San Juan river in San Juan county, have finished their work and taken their outfit to Durango, Colorado, where it will be sold at public auction. Their work will enable the reclamation service to estimate the cost of the irrigation project in that section so that it may be determined what the project will cost and thereafter to fix the price of land to settlers.

During his recent visit to Rio Arriba county, Traveling Auditor Charles V. Safford visited the town of El Rito, where the buildings for the territorial reform school are now in course of construction. The location is about a mile from the town and is beautiful. The building is located in a very pretty little valley and shows well both near and at a distance. It is roofed and plastering is now being done, as well as the laying of floors, putting in of windows, etc. A fine well is on the premises, from which water will be pumped for the use of the building and surrounding grounds. The contractors are pushing the work, as they desire to turn the building over to the board on or before November 1st.

The men who "blazed the way" and drove out the Indians and outlaws from the Pecos valley of New Mexico have formed a society at Roswell, to be known as the Old Settlers' Society. To be eligible for membership the only requirement is that the applicant has been a resident of the Pecos valley of New Mexico for twenty years or more. Over 100 registered Saturday and the list is gradually growing. The men who have been in the Pecos for twenty years or more are the most prosperous and influential men of southwestern New Mexico. They are professional men, bankers, sheep owners, cowmen, ranchmen, merchants, capitalists and officeholders. J. J. Hagerman is entitled to first place, having been born in Las Cruces in 1871.

News reaches the New Mexican that Denver & Rio Grande surveyors are making a preliminary survey for a broad gauge railroad from Fort Garland, Colorado, to the town of Questa in northern Taos county, a distance of about fifty miles. The line is through a comparatively speaking, open country, passing through the thriving towns of San Luis, Colorado; Costilla, New Mexico, thence to Questa, from Questa to connection with the present narrow gauge road of the Denver & Rio Grande at Embudo, through the Red River canon, and the canon of the Rio Grande. It would not be a difficult matter to build the road, as there would be a water grade through the canon for a distance of about fifty miles. The line would be about five miles in the Red River canon and then would follow the Rio Grande to Embudo.

The celebration of the feast of San Lorenzo at Picuris, Taos county, last Thursday, was attended by over a thousand visitors from Taos, Chimayo and other nearby points. Horse races, foot races, cock fights, and games were the features of the day. In the evening a grand balle was held. One resident had improvised a merry-go-round, which practically coined money. The people of the mountain valleys on the western slope of the Taos range and Truchas peaks, are in a happy frame of mind. They have many thousand acres in wheat, corn and oats ready for harvest and such a harvest, not even the oldest inhabitant remembers. Corn and wheat are six feet high; every available piece of ground had been planted in the spring; insect pests have done no damage and the fields of waving grain, [illegible]

Artesia, in Eddy county, is to have an electric light plant.

A strike of molybdenite has been made near Santa Fe.

Last week at the Indiana colony near Alamogordo in Otero county, the third well in a month was put down. The three wells are 80, 115 and 132 feet deep, respectively.

The peach crop is now occupying the attention of the fruit growers of the Pecos valley and they are busy picking, sorting and shipping the crop, which this year is fine in quantity, size and flavor.

The board of trustees of the Gallup schools will make a number of changes in the school building this summer and improve the outside surroundings. An addition of two years will also be made to the present high school course.

One clause of the Archbishop Capelle's will is as follows: "My property, real and personal, situated in the territory of New Mexico, I will and bequeath to the Very Rev. Anthony Fourchegu, administrator of the archdiocese of Santa Fe during the vacancy of that see."

Gordon Griest, who killed Rosalia Padilla at Las Vegas by shooting her a few days ago, had a hearing before Chief Justice Mills and was bound over to the grand jury under a $1,000 bond. The defense failed to sustain the plea that the boy did not know the gun was loaded.

The cattlemen of Grant county are protesting against the ruling made by the Department of the Interior that from and after January 1st next cattle owners whose animals graze on the reservation will be charged an annual grazing fee, amounting to from 15 to 50 cents per head.

The Santa Fe grades in northwestern New Mexico average one per cent., and it is the road's intention to reduce the immense grade over the continental divide to six per cent. This will result in a great benefit, as now the grade is so steep that heavy freights experience difficulty in getting over it and must have assistance.

Governor Otero has appointed the following delegates to the convention of the National Prison Association at Lincoln, Nebraska, in October: John R. McFie, H. O. Bursum, Mrs. H. O. Bursum, A. L. Morrison, J. E. Wood, Rev. A. M. Harkness, Mrs. A. M. Harkness, Mrs. Agnes James and Jose D. Sena.

Hilario Rand, who was arrested in El Paso about three months ago on the charge of killing a woman at Las Cruces during a parade in that town about five years ago, but who was released because of the expiration of the limit of fugitive's bond, is now under arrest at Phoenix, Arizona, and the Dona Ana county officials will endeavor to procure extradition papers for him.

Work has been commenced on the new wing to the Loretto academy at Las Cruces, Dona Ana county, and when finished the institution will possess one of the most commodious buildings in the southwest. The new wing will be about 40x100 feet in size, with an ell of the same dimensions. The citizens of Las Cruces subscribed $2,000 towards the $15,000 needed for the addition.

The surveyors of the El Paso & Northwestern reached Las Vegas August 19th. From Dawson a grade that exceeds six-tenths of one per cent. in only one place has been found. From Wagon Mound the new line will practically parallel the Santa Fe. The officials of the road announce positively that the line will be built and that work will begin as soon as the survey is finished.

Word was received in this city this afternoon, says an Albuquerque dispatch of August 19th, that A. Kempenich, an old and wealthy merchant of Peralta, Valencia county, dropped dead of heart failure to-day while standing in front of his store. He was a pioneer of the territory and is survived by a widow, two children and a brother, L. Kempenich, one of the leading merchants of this city.

The Santa Fe Railway Company has completed its plans to begin work on a two-story brick office building at Las Vegas. All the company offices and the division headquarters are now established in the Castaneda hotel. Now the offices must be moved to the new depot by November 1st, when the whole Castaneda will be devoted to hotel purposes. The Santa Fe also will build a new freight depot.

President Luther Foster, of the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts at Mesilla Park will visit Estancia some time during the summer and make an address to the people of the Estancia valley on the subjects of dry farming and intensive cultivation. It may be arranged for Professor Foster to make his address during the session of the Torrance county fair this fall.

Rev. A. Foltz of Roswell will shortly run an exhibition car through the central and western states to advertise the fruits and products of the Pecos valley. The exhibit on the car will be a magnificent one and will include products and fruits from every section of the valley. Cars of this kind have been taken from the Pecos country before and have proved to be very profitable as an advertising scheme.

Deputy Sheriff J. L. Lopez on the morning of August 19th recaptured near Glorietta the two convicts who scaled the wall at the penitentiary the night before and escaped. The men had taken to the Santa Fe railroad track and were walking toward Las Vegas when captured. They are Edgar Lindsay of Dona Ana county and Jack Hall of Las Vegas, both two-year men, who had but a short time to serve. They will lose their good time allowance.

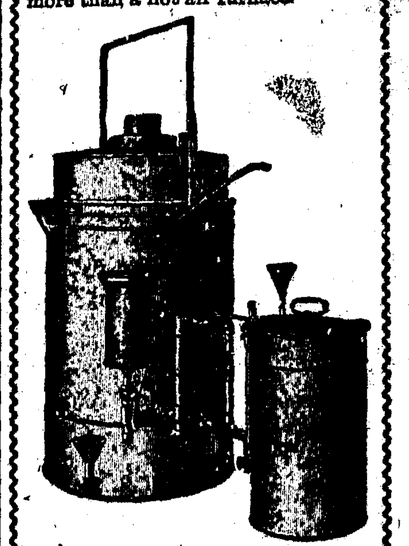
A desperate encounter occurred on the ranch of J. P. Fletcher, four miles south of Albuquerque. Fletcher went to a closet to get some clothes, and as he opened the door a burglar sprang out and grappled with him. Both rolled to the floor and the burglar was getting the better of Fletcher, when his wife rushed in and beat off the robber with a stove poker. After the burglar had been beaten into unconsciousness he was bound and [illegible]

Gas Light for Country Homes.

Small country homes, as well as large ones, may be lighted by the best light known — ACETYLENE GAS—it is easier on the eyes than any other illuminant, cheaper than kerosene, as convenient as city gas, brighter than electricity and safer than any.

No ill-smelling lamps to clean, and no chimneys or mantels to break. For light cooking it is convenient and cheap.

ACETYLENE is made in the basement and piped to all rooms and outbuildings. Complete plant costs no more than a hot air furnace.



PILOT Automatic Generators make the gas. They are perfect in construction, reliable, safe and simple.

Our booklet, "After Sunset," tells more about ACETYLENE—sent free on request.

Dealers or others interested in the sale of ACETYLENE apparatus write us for selling plan on PILOT Generators and supplies—it is a paying proposition for reliable workers.

SALT RHEUM ON HANDS.

Suffered Agony and Had to Wear Bandages All the Time—Another Cure by Cuticura.

Another cure by Cuticura is told of by Mrs. Caroline Cable, of Waupaca, Wis., in the following grateful letter: "My husband suffered agony salt rheum on his hands, and I had to keep them bandaged all the time. We tried everything we could get, but nothing helped him until he used Cuticura. One set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills cured him entirely, and his hands have been as smooth as possible ever since. I do hope this letter will be the means of helping some other sufferer."

Dr. Melvin M. Page, Page Optical Co., Erie, Pa., writes:

"Taking too many iced drinks in New York in 1895 sent me home with a terrible attack of kidney trouble. I had acute congestion, sharp pain in the back, headaches and attacks of dizziness. My eyes gave out, and with the languor and sleeplessness of the disease upon me I wasted from 194 to 122 pounds. At the time I started using Doan's Kidney Pills an abscess was forming on my right kidney. The trouble was quickly checked, however, and the treatment cured me, so that I have been well since 1896 and weigh 188 pounds."

Young Russian's Pathetic Gratitude to Japanese Officer.

A Japanese officer, writing of the scenes after the battle of Mukden, gives the following incident: "Among the wounded Russians upon the field was a boy of barely 16 or 17, a drummer boy, shot through both legs. He held a rosary in his hands, praying. Poor mite, the pity of it! He was a Pole, I believe, as he spoke German. He was so thirsty that my bottle was not enough for him, so another half of the bearer's bottle was given to him, too, and he had some biscuits. I had a strong yearning to ask him about his home, but he was weak, and his spirit needed keeping up. 'Your wound is nothing,' I said. 'The Japanese hospital attendant will be here soon and take you away. And soon you will be able to go home to your parents.'

"Covering him up with blankets and coats taken from the Russian dead, I was just walking away when he cried out after me. 'A moment, officer, a moment. Kind officer, I have something to give to you—this book. It was given to me by my father when I was leaving home for the front. I have nothing more valuable to offer you, sir. It is the most precious thing I possess.' And he kissed my hand repeatedly, crying bitterly.

"I accepted the book, and without a word turned away to find another sufferer. I would not have broken down for a colonelcy before those bearers and my own men. The book was entitled 'Himmelsbrod; or Ein Gebetbuch fur Jugend' (Bread of Heaven; or, A Prayerbook for the Young)."

NOW THE MANHATTAN SMASH.

New Drink That Pleases Both the Eye and the Palate.

"Now, the Manhattan smash, made first by Tom Powers, is made in a champagne glass," says the Kansas City Times. "You pour three different colored liquors into the stem of the glass; so. You must do it carefully so they don't mix. Then you drop a cherry into the bowl on top of the stem and shut the liquors in; they don't mix with the top drink at all. They're there just for the color effect. But they come down in the end and give you the tang that makes the Manhattan smash the ordinary Manhattan—with a difference. Then you take a long glass and smash an orange in it, fill it with broken ice and over that the ordinary Manh[illegible] Last you must pour that into [illegible]ur champagne glass without disturbing the cherry or the liquors in the stem. And when that is done," said the barkeeper, handing the glass to his friend, "you have the manhattan smash. Try it."

The guest held the glass with its murky, orange-tinted bowl up to the light. At the base of the bowl lay the red cherry "shining like a good deed in a naughty world," and under t[illegible]at the stem of three colored liquors. He drained the glass. "It's Manhattan," he said, "and a sensation." Half a dozen men along the bar counter had listened to the exposition with curious interest. The curious guest turned with an ineffable light in his face.

The Wail of the Weary.

I hope they won't hold any more expositions,
I'm weary of pictures and buildings and things;
Of tales of attendance—sublime suppositions—
And songs that the money bought boomer man sings.
I'm sick to my soul of the "liberal arts building";
Of "mining and forestry," "fishery hall";
I'm weary of architects' faking and gilding—
Confound the old half-tones, I'm tired of them all!

I'm tired to death of the bum reading matter
Sent out with the pictures without any charge;
I'm filled with ennui at the wearisome chatter
Dispensed with the pictures both little and large.
They all look alike since the one in Chicago;
There's nothing unique about them any more.
Each boomer is busily making his jaw go
And wearying every one down to the core.

I hope they won't hold any more expositions,
I'm dopy on half-tones of buildings and things;
Of failed-up attendance—sublime suppositions—
And tales that the money bought barkerman brings.
I'm awfully sick of the "fisheries building,"
Of "mining and bee raising," "dairy maids' hall";
I'm tired of architects' faking and gilding—
Confound their old pictures! I'm sore on them all!

Carried Pet into Battle.

A Japanese officer tells this story of the battle of Mukden: "In one of the engagements I found a pretty little Pekinese spaniel wandering about between the two battle lines. It came to me when I whistled; it evidently belonged to some Russian officer and was tame and affectionate. I am keeping it for myself. I suppose the owner is not likely to return to claim it. Once when we charged a Russian shelter trench successfully the little fellow could not keep up with us with his short legs and long coat, so with my kanemitsu (sword) in my right hand I held the little creature, panting, under my left arm, and charged. The grave sergeant-major laughed. Well he might."

Booker Washington's Daughter.

Miss Portia M. Washington, daughter of Booker T. Washington, was one of the twenty-five young women who were graduated at Bradford Academy, Haverhill, Mass., this year. Miss Washington is the first colored woman to receive a diploma from the institution. She took a course in music and will shortly go abroad to study

Booker T. Washington's appearance at dinner recently in the great dining room of the United States hotel at Saratoga caused a mild sensation among the diners. Mr. Washington was the guest of John Wanamaker, former postmaster general, and acted as escort of Mrs. Barclay Warburton, Mr. Wanamaker's daughter, while Mr. Wanamaker walked to the table with J. R. E. Roberts. As they walked down the long line every eye was directed upon the distinguished negro educator and the former Cabinet officer. Comparatively few of those present recognized either of them and there was a general buzz of comment and a craning of necks.

Mr. Washington preached at Saratoga three times, first in the Presbyterian church, then in the Baptist church, and late in the evening in the American Methodist church.

Reflects in America.

It is reported that the separation of Norway and Sweden will make a new line of political cleavage among the American citizens of the Northwest. The sons and grandsons of the Scandinavians who make up the bulk of the population of the states west of the Great lakes and at the headwaters of the Mississippi want to import their quarrel from the Old World, and be no longer Republicans and Democrats, but Norwegians and Swedes.

The Reason Why.

Drummond, Wis., Aug. 21st (Special)—Whole families in Bayfield County are singing the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills and the reason why is given in experiences such as that of Mr. T. T. Wold, a well-known citizen here.

"I had such pains in my back that I did not know what to do," says Mr. Wold, "and as I came across an advertisement of Dodd's Kidney Pills, I sent for a box. That one box relieved me of all my pains. My wife also used them and found them just what she needed. I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills as a sure cure for Backache and other Kidney Troubles."

Backache is one of the earliest symptoms of Kidney Disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure it promptly and permanently and prevent it developing into Rheumatism, Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's Disease.

The Icon of Russia.

An icon is a holy picture or mosaic, blessed by a priest of the Greek church, and carried by the devout as a talisman to ward off evil. After the icon has been blessed by a priest, it is then regarded not only as an ornament, but as an accessory in the worship of the Greek church. Almost every soldier wears an icon on his bosom, and when he prays he takes out his icon, and opening it, kneels down before it as if it were an altar. Every Russian regiment has its special icon, which it carries like a banner when the regiment goes into battle.

Newspaper for the Blind.

The "Braille Weekly," a sixteen-page newspaper for the blind, and the first of its kind ever issued, has just made its appearance in Edinburgh. As its name indicates, the paper is printed in the raised characters invented by Braille, a blind Frenchman, who died in 1852, whose system is the one in general use by blind persons the world over. A recent improvement in the embossing process renders the cost of production very moderate, and it is believed sufficient subscribers will be obtained to make the new venture a success.

The paper contains editorial, war and foreign news, together with sporting intelligence and various light features. Special permission has been given by the leading agencies of the United Kingdom for the reproduction of telegrams and articles, and, as far as possible, nothing has been left undone to give the blind the newspaper advantages possessed by those who have the blessing of eyesight.

WRONG SORT

Perhaps Plain Old Meat, Potatoes and Bread may Be Against You for a Time.

A change to the right kind of food can lift one from a sick bed. A lady in Welden, Ill., says:

"Last Spring I became bed-fast with severe stomach trouble accompanied by sick headache. I got worse and worse until I became so low I could scarcely retain any food at all, although I tried every kind. I had become completely discouraged, had given up all hope and thought I was doomed to starve to death, till one day my husband trying to find something I could retain brought home some Grape-Nuts.

"To my surprise the food agreed with me, digested perfectly and without distress. I began to gain strength at once, my flesh (which had been flabby) grew firmer, my health improved in every way and every day, and in a very few weeks I gained 20 pounds in weight. I liked Grape-Nuts so well that for 4 months I ate no other food, and always felt as well satisfied after eating as if I had sat down to a fine banquet.

"I had no return of the miserable sick stomach nor of the headaches, that I used to have when I ate other food. I am now a well woman, doing all my own work again, and feel that life is worth living.

"Grape-Nuts food has been a godsend to my family; it surely saved my life and my two little boys have thrived on it wonderfully." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

THE TURN OF LIFE

A Time When Women Are Susceptible to Many Dread Diseases—Intelligent Women Prepare for It. Two Relate their Experience.

The "change of life" is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and the anxiety felt by women as it draws near is not without reason.

Every woman who neglects the care of her health at this time invites disease and pain.

When her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy, or congestion of any organ, the tendency is at this period likely to become active—and with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden. At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

These symptoms are all just so many calls from nature for help. The nerves are crying out for assistance and the cry should be heeded in time.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life. It invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system. It has carried thousands of women safely through this crisis.

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and it will be furnished absolutely free of charge.

Read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I had been suffering with falling of the womb for years and was passing through the Change of Life. My womb was badly swollen; my stomach was sore; I had dizzy spells, sick headaches, and was very nervous.

"I wrote you for advice and commenced treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you directed, and I am happy to say that all those distressing symptoms left me and I have passed safely through the Change of Life, a well woman. I am recommending your medicine to all my friends."—Mrs. Annie E. G. Hyland, Chestertown, Md.

Another Woman's Case.

"During change of life words cannot express what I suffered. My physician said I had a cancerous condition of the womb. One day I read some of the testimonials of women who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it and to write you for advice. Your medicine made me a well woman, and all my bad symptoms soon disappeared.

"I advise every woman at this period of life to take your medicine and write you for advice."—Mrs. Lizzie Hinkle, Salem, Ind.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle it will do for any woman at this time of life.

It has conquered pain, restored health, and prolonged life in cases that utterly baffled physicians.

Next week Denver will put her best foot forward. She will be dressed in holiday attire. The spirit of patriotism will be on the crest of the wave. The boys of '61 will crowd her streets, and sing the songs of the days when they followed Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and Thomas. Men's hearts will be stirred once more when they sing "We'll rally round the flag boys," and "We're coming Father Abraham." The big city of the Rockies will make the boys feel as they did when their step was quick and elastic, and the blood of youth was in their veins. Old battles will be fought over again, and stories of Shiloh and Atlanta, of Chicamagua and Antietam and Gettysburg, will be repeated for the hundredth time as the boys sit around the campfires face to face with the comrades of long ago. The occasion is the thirty-ninth annual encampment of the G. A. R.

The Alamogordo Journal winked out quietly and serenely last week, after a short but rather strenuous life. It went into a slow but insidious decline soon after the last November election, when Otero county very unexpectedly flopped over into the Republican ranks, thus depriving it of the hyomel so necessary to the life of a successful newspaper. May it repose in peace along with the ghosts of so many journalistic ventures gone before here in New Mexico. Friend Wharton has our sincere condolence. He did his duty as he saw it and deserved better success.

The Alamogordo News is responsible for the statement that Elias May will take the Journal office and material, known as the Eagle Printing Company, to Tucumcari and resurrect it as the Tucumcari News, and it will be republican in politics with S. M. Wharton as editor. Ye gods! Can the leopard change his spots?

THE TEACHER'S INSTITUTE.

The Teacher's Institute of Lincoln and Otero counites, at Tularosa, closed with the examinations last Friday. Thirty-five teachers were present, of whom only twelve were from this county. A good deal of hard work was done and much interest manifested throughout. The tendency was all for the betterment of our public schools by raising the efficiency of the teacher by instruction in methods and school government. More attention was paid to instruction in primary work, the kind most needed, than heretofore.

Both Professor Hadley, Territorial Superintendent, and Macarthur of the Agricultural College were present on separate days, and each favored the Institute with a talk during the forenoon and a lecture in the evening. They were unstinted in their praise of the work being done. Prof. Hadley was good enough to say that no where in the territory had he found a better class of teachers, or such earnest, intelligent workers. It seemed to be the unanimous verdict that neither county could have done quite so well by holding separate institutes, and many very pleasant and congenial friend hips were made among the teachers there assembled.

The quaint old town of Tularosa, with its adobe walls and broad shady avenues, was an ideal place for holding a meeting of this kind, and the fruit and melons every where in evidence will leave the memory of a lingering luciousness on the lips for many days to come.

To those of our patrons who are in arrears there can be no better opportunity than the present to square accounts and begin even for another year. It is taken for granted they have had value received, or they would have notified this office to the effect long ago that they did not want to receive something for nothing. Should any or them claim, however, that they have not had the full value of their subscription during the past year, the paper will be cheerfully discontinued upon proper notification of that fact and they will at once be relieved from any further obligation in the matter, and the paper discontinued.

The Standard Oil Co. declared a dividend of $6.00 per share on the 15th. The total distribution is $5,000,000, of which J. D. Rockefeller gets $2,400,000. His entire dividends from the Standard Oil for 1905, are estimated at $16,000,000 and his total income at $26,000,000 per year. What will he do with it? Buy mules? That is what one prominent lobbyist said he did when he visited the legislature.

Judas betrayed his master for thirty pieces of silver. How many of our legislators and other officials, state and county, betray the interests of their constituents and sell their independence for a railroad pass? And how many of them charge their taxed constituents for the fare for which the railroad provided the pass.

Why can't some one put up a new hotel or lodging house at Carrizozo? The one now running there is simply playing a hold up game. People going or returning are compelled to wait at the depot for a portion of the night or go to this place and get skinned. Two dollars for a bed for a man and his wife, especially when it has just done duty for an outgoing passenger, is about the limit of ones tension and temper.
