DELINQUENT TAX LIST OF LINCOLN COUNTY, N. M.

Amounting to Not Less Than $25.00.

And notice of application to the District Court for judgment and sale for taxes for the year 1908 delinquent on June 1, 1909, with penalties and costs.

TERRITORY OF NEW MEXICO }
COUNTY OF LINCOLN. } ss

In accordance with chapter 22, of the laws of the Territory of New Mexico 33d Legislative Assembly thereof, I, the undersigned Treasurer and Ex-Officio Collector of Lincoln county, in the Territory of New Mexico, do hereby make, certify and publish the following notice and list of delinquent taxes amounting to not less than $25.00, with penalties and costs thereon, which became delinquent on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1909, the same being hereinafter set forth and containing the names of all the owners of all the property on which taxes are delinquent, the description of the property on which same are due, the amount of taxes, penalties and costs due thereon, and the amount of taxes due on personal property.

And notice is hereby given that I, the undersigned Treasurer and Ex-Officio Collector of said county of Lincoln, will apply to the District Court, held in and for said county, upon the next return day, to-wit: 8th day of November, A. D. 1909, the same occurring not less than 30 days after the last publication hereof, for judgment against the lands, real estate and personal property described in the following list for amount of taxes due thereon, together with the penalties and costs, and for an order to sell the same to satisfy such judgment.

And further notice is hereby given that within 30 days after the rendition of such judgment against such property, and after giving notice by a hand bill posted at the front door of the building in which the district court of the said county of Lincoln is held, to-wit: the Court House of the said county of Lincoln, at least ten days prior to said sale, I, the undersigned Treasurer and Ex-Officio Collector of the said county of Lincoln, will offer for sale at public auction, in front of said building, the real and personal property described in said notice, against which judgment may be rendered for the amount of taxes, penalties and costs due thereon, continuing said sale from day to day, as provided by law, until the same shall be sold. This list has not been published within 90 days after June 2, 1909, for want of time in which to prepare the same for earlier publication.

ICE CREAM FESTIVAL.

The ladies of the Home Mission Society will serve ice cream and cake next Tuesday afternoon and evening, at the building on El Paso avenue, third door east of the post office. Everybody come and bring the needfull, as that is what the ladies want in this case, so a depleted treasury may be replenished and some pressing obligations satisfied.

After all, the best way to avoid heat prostrations is to keep cool.

Eminent actresses still insist on losing their diamonds.

Some of the flies may have romantic natures, but never mind that.

It appears from official reports that there is also a made-in-Germany deficit.

A man was arrested in New York for kissing his wife in their own home while the shades at the window were up. This is but a step removed from arresting a man for kissing his wife on Sunday, which will probably follow as a blue law not to be overlooked.

Princeton university rejoices in a student who has discovered the first comet seen this year. That young man probably is destined to prominence in the astronomical world. He may not have hitched his wagon to a star, but towed by a comet he may get there just the same.

The mosquito is made almost a bird of prey by the dispatch from Cape Town which states that an overflow of the Orange river due to a heavy rainfall, has bred so many mosquitoes in the Gordonia northern district that three-quarters of the population are affected with malaria, which has been fatal in many cases. In some parts of the world the house screen is a sanitary necessity, both day and night, but the housefly is the chief danger in non-malarious countries.

A Veteran's Outfit

By Edwin L. Sabin

(Copyright, by J. B. Lippincott Co.)

Uncle Ezekiel Meadows was about to attend the reunion of his old regiment at Cincinnati, and his faithful wife was packing his valise. On the occasions of his rather infrequent excursions from home this was a duty which devolved upon her alone. At first Ezekiel had been accustomed to assist her with suggestions. But of late, since his hair had become gray and his limbs stiffer and his mind slower, he had been content to resign the whole proceeding into her trusty hands.

Now the valise, half filled, was on the bed (a newspaper between it and the spread), and around it were those articles, mentionable and unmentionable, which were to complete Ezekiel's traveling outfit. Leaning on the footboard was Ezekiel himself, blandly surveying the array, and presumably listening to the multitude of instructions that accompanied the packing.

"Now, 'Zekiel," continued Mrs. Meadows, "I've put in two pair of clean wristbands (cuffs), and they'll be plenty, because those you have on haven't been turned, you know, and you can wear 'em as they are on the train, and when you get there you must turn 'em, and they'll last you till Sunday. You understand, do you, 'Zekiel?"

Ezekiel started from a reverie into which he had fallen and said, hastily—

"Yes, yes."

"And, 'Zekiel, before I forget it I want to say that here in this corner—see?—I've tucked your skull cap, which you'll need in the sleeper. If the lock of the bag is towards you it's in the righthand corner nearest to you; so remember, and when you open the bag keep the lock towards you. Then you won't muss up everything looking for your cap. Under the cap are three pair of socks, which'll last you, for you put on clean ones this morning. You've got plenty of handkerchiefs, too, for I've washed enough. Are you listening, 'Zekiel?"

"Of course I am," replied Ezekiel testily.

"Then don't go round with a dirty handkerchief. Your collars—five of 'em, all you've got—are laid flat in the bottom of the bag. So remember, ad don't try to wear one a whole week. And here are two fresh suits of underwear, with—watch me, 'Zekiel!—a winter shirt extra, so as if the weather gets cold—and I 'spect you'll be out on the river nights, maybe—you'll be comfortable. I put in only two starched shirts, but when you are done wearing the one you've got on you must send it out to be laundered. That'll give you a change. Will you, 'Zekiel?"

Silence for a moment.

"Will you, 'Zekiel?" repeated Mrs. Meadows sharply.

"Yes, yes, yes! I said," returned Ezekiel.

Mrs. Meadows looked at his suspiciously, but resumed:

"You're to wear your gray coat on the train, and your best coat I'll put right on top of everything, and when you reach the hotel you must take it out the first thing and hang it up so as to smooth out the wrinkles. Now, 'Zekiel, do be careful and fold it neatly. Where are you going?"

Ezekiel had sidled off towards the door leading into the sitting room.

"I dunno," he said apologetically. "I thought I'd read the paper. You're all through, aren't you?"

Mrs. Meadows viewed him with scorn.

"Through!" she ejaculated. "When I was just starting in to tell you about your best coat! I don't believe you've heard a word I've been saying! Now, what was I talking about?"

"Martha, I've heard every word," asserted Ezekiel evasively.

Mrs. Meadows, unconvinced, nevertheless continued:

"This is the way to fold you coat, so it'll fit in the bag and the wrinkles'll come in the right places—see? Watch me, 'Zekiel. Lay it flat—so. Then fold the lapels over—so. Then turn up the tails—so. Then fix the sleeves so that the crease comes at the elbows—so. I forgot to say, first of all flatten the collar—that way—see? Are you watching, 'Zekiel?"

"Certainly I am, Martha!" mechanically assured Ezekiel, his eyes following her movements but his thoughts busied elsewhere.

"Then lay it smoothly in the bag—so," further explained Mrs. Meadows,

"I Guess I Was in a Hurry, Martha."

bringing her operation to a triumphant close.

After Ezekiel was on the train and was speeding towards his destination Mrs. Meadows suddenly exclaimed:

"There, if I didn't forget to tell 'Zekiel to be sure and fold his trousers over a chair nights, to keep 'em nice!"

But it was too late.

Ezekiel arrived safely at Cincinnati, met old comrades, participated in all the festivities of the programme, stayed until the very end, and came home conscious of having had a splendid time, but glad to be able to settle down once more in peace.

Mrs. Meadows, retaining her husband near her to answer her many questions, unpacked the valise.

"Mercy on me!" she cried, extricating the "best coat" from the space into which it had been rammed, and holding it up in cabbage-leaf condition. "Oh, 'Zekiel, after all the trouble I took to show you! Why, you just rolled it into a ball. Sakes alive, what a man!"

"I guess I was in a hurry, Martha," pleaded Ezekiel sheepishly. "I mighty nigh missed the train."

"Fiddlesticks!" retorted the incensed woman. "Now you can send this out and have it pressed—I'm not going to try to press it. Do you hear, 'Zekiel?"

"Yes, Martha," he replied, anxious to dismiss the subject.

"'Zekiel, where are you handkerchiefs?" she demanded, eyeing him sharply, after having rummaged the interior of the bag.

"They must be all there," he protested.

"Well, they aren't. I can find only one. You didn't go and leave 'em in the hotel, did you?"

Ezekiel shook his head and fidgeted. He was puzzled, and he realized that his plight was desperate.

"I know I didn't lose 'em," was all that he could say.

Mrs. Meadows darted at his best coat and felt in the tail pocket.

"'Zekiel Meadows!" she ejaculated accusingly as she drew out, one by one, seven handkerchiefs and displayed them to him.

He chuckled feebly. "I thought that coat seemed kind of funny behind," he explained.

"How many have you in your gray coat?" she demanded.

Ezekiel took it off, and in a deprecating manner explored its pockets, extending the search to his trousers also.

"I declare!" sniffed Mrs. Meadows witheringly.

"Now where's that other white shirt?" she queried with wrathful inflection.

"Ain't it there?" inquired Ezekiel in mild surprise. "You don't suppose I've got a shirt in my pockets, do you?"

"No telling," said Mrs. Meadows. "Do you reckon you sent it to the laundry and left it there?"

"No, I didn't need it laundered, so it ain't at the laundry," mused Ezekiel. "Can't be possible I didn't pack it, either, for I took special pains to look round the room before I went out."

"Then where is it?" persisted his wife, again poking through the miscellaneous pile which the valise had disgorged. She straightened up and peered at him over her glasses.

"'Zekiel Meadows!" she screamed, abruptly. "If you ain't got on two shirts!"

Ezekiel examined his shirt sleeves and fingered the openings at the wrists.

By jiminy, that's so!" he assented with slow astonishment.

"And, 'Zekiel, you're wearing your winter undershirt! I just believe you wore it all the time you were away too—and the thermometer up in the nineties."

"Well," confessed Ezekiel, reluctantly, commencing to disrobe, "I did think Cincinnati was the hottest place in all get-out, but I've been b'iled ever since I got back, so I reckon that perhaps I misjudged it."

The Mean Thing!

Mrs. Poyndexter was just dropping off to sleep, but her husband was wakeful. "I heard a story to-day," he began, "about—"

"Oh, don't bother me, Jason!" she murmured. "I'm sleepy."

"I was only going to say—"

"I don't want to hear it!"

"It's about—"

"Can't you let me go to sleep!"

"About Mrs.—"

"Mrs. who?" demanded his wife, sitting straight up, wide-eyed and interested.

"I've always noticed," said Mr. Poyndexter, yawning, "that the way to get a woman's attention is to tell her a story about some other woman."—Youth's Companion.

Some Privations of the Rich.

In recent generations the world's wealth has been increasing at an unprecedented rate, but, at the same time, life's pleasures have been falling more and more within the ordinary citizen's reach. Pessimists see that the rich are getting richer, optimists that the poor are coming to their own; but neither suspect the plight to which the cheapening of commodities and privileges has brought Dives. Truth is that, although there are more things to do and more surpluses than ever before, there are fewer means of getting one's money's worth out of a huge fortune.

end his days "like a good old man." For whatever may be the opinion of his former subjects, the ex-Sultan's confidence in his own virtues remains undiminished.

"Why do my people say and write such bad things about me and attempt to blacken my character?" he frequently demands. "Why do they revive everything that is bad and never mention all the good things I have done for my country? After all, the bad things were not due to me; they were the works of my councilors. Every man I had round me was bad—absolutely bad. I had no opportunity of choosing my advisers."

Very early in the morning Abdul repairs to a small ante-room overlooking a small portion of the main road. Here he takes up his position at the window. Almost his first occupation is to give orders to Emil Bey for his day's food. These orders are handed to an agent of the municipality, who is detailed off to do the necessary marketing. The cuisine is in the hands of one of Abdul's old cooks, who was specially brought for the purpose from Yildiz.

The dethroned monarch's favorite delicacy is shrimps, which just now are in season in Salonika. He is now being accorded the greatest liberty, with pens and paper being supplied him, and he is allowed, if he so desires, to walk in the garden at will. He has, however, up to the present, taken no advantage of this extension of liberty, preferring to remain cooped up in his little ante-chamber.

He sleeps badly and often paces the floor of his bedroom the whole night through. For this reason every afternoon he retires for a brief siesta. He takes little pleasure in the society of his wives and seldom sees them, with the exception of the mother of his son Hamil Effendi, who is in almost constant attendance upon him. His sole recreation lies in the newspapers, which are liberally supplied, and are read to him by his favorite wife. He takes the greatest possible interest in passing events, both at home and abroad, but outside of this he has no occupation and passes the day with the utmost monotony. Of late, however, he has had a desire to employ himself with amateur carpentering, and in accordance with this idea a full set of joiner's tools has been ordered from a Paris factory.

Various interesting conversations have been the outcome of Abdul Hamid's newspaper reading. When he had been read the account of the investiture of his brother as sultan amid the acclamations of the populace, he was considerably agitated.

"Why is it," he demanded, "that the people like my brother when they hate me?"

"Because," he was told, "the people do not like what you like, and like what you do not."

A grunt of disapproval was the ex-sultan's only response.

TO OPEN HARVARD HOUSE.

Tourists May Soon Visit Home of University Founder's Mother in Stratford-on-Avon.

New York.—The Harvard house, in Stratford-on-Avon, identified as the early home of the mother of John Harvard, will soon be formally opened to American tourists who visit the quaint old town. The exercises were planned for Independence day, but if the restoration is not completed by that time they will take place soon after.

For many years this historic structure, just north of the famous Garrick inn, has been known merely as the "old house on High street," and only through the recent efforts of an American, who is a Harvard graduate, has the house been identified as the home of the mother of the man who founded Harvard university. This American found that John Harvard's mother was Katherine Rogers, daughter of Thomas Rogers, a Stratford-on-Avon alderman, but where she lived he did not know.

It was through Marie Corelli, who lives in Stratford-on-Avon, that the house was finally purchased after having been withdrawn from the market because the bids were not high enough. She was on a summer cruise on Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht when she met Edward Morris of Chicago. To him she confided her hope that the house would some day belong to Harvard university. Immediately Mr. Morris grew enthusiastic over the idea. He authorized the novelist to purchase the place for him, and intrusted her, moreover, with the work of restoring the ancient building and bringing it back to its original sixteenth century style.

Invaded by Caterpillars.

A man living in the Rue de Minime, in Paris, summoned the fire brigade one night recently to rescue him from an army of caterpillars which had invaded his house from the neighboring park

COMFORTING.

Man in the Water—Help! Help! I'm drowning!
Droll Gent—What! you don't need help to drown, man.

Tuberculosis Conference.

Under the auspices of the Swedish National League Against Tuberculosis, the International Tuberculosis conference held its annual meeting in Stockholm July 8 to 10. Among the American speakers on the program were Dr. Hermann M. Biggs of New York and Dr. John C. Wise, medical director of the United States navy, who was the official representative of this country. Two subjects of special interest discussed were: "Care of Tuberculous Families, Especially of Healthy Children," and "Tuberculosis and the Schools."

Well, Not Very Often.

The little daughter of a Republican candidate for a local office down in Philadelphia, when told that her father had received the nomination, looked serious for a moment, then her wee voice trembled a bit as she exclaimed:

"Oh, mamma! do they often die of it?"

Good Knowledge for Divers.

As part of the education of the English naval divers, the beginners are taught how to save themselves, should they become exhausted, by allowing their suits to fill with air and shooting rapidly upward to the surface, where they are dragged into the boat by the attendants.

SURPRISED HIM Doctor's Test of Food.

A doctor in Kansas experimented with his boy in a test of food and gives the particulars. He says:

"I naturally watch the effect of different foods on patients. My own little son, a lad of four, had been ill with pneumonia and during his convalescence did not seem to care for any kind of food.

"I knew something of Grape-Nuts and its rather fascinating flavor, and particularly of its nourishing and nerve-building powers, so I started the boy on Grape-Nuts and found from the first dish that he liked it.

"His mother gave it to him steadily and he began to improve at once. In less than a month he had gained about eight pounds and soon became so well and strong we had no further anxiety about him.

"An old patient of mine, 73 years old, came down with serious stomach trouble and before I was called had got so weak he could eat almost nothing, and was in a serious condition. He had tried almost every kind of food for the sick without avail.

"I immediately put him on Grape-Nuts with good, rich milk and just a little pinch of sugar. He exclaimed when I came next day 'Why doctor I never ate anything so good or that made me feel so much stronger.'

"I am pleased to say that he got well on Grape-Nuts, but he had to stick to it for two or three weeks, then he began to branch out a little with rice or an egg or two. He got entirely well in spite of his almost hopeless condition. He gained 22 pounds in two months which at his age is remarkable.

"I could quote a list of cases where Grape-Nuts has worked wonders."

"There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

One Year, . . . . . $1.50
Six Months, . . . . . $1.00

W. A. HALEY, . . . . . Editor.

The greatest railroad magnate the world ever knew—Edward H. Harriman—lies dead in his palatial mansion on the Hudson.

A great fuss is being raised throughout the country over the fact that Cook and Peary went to the north pole, placed their marks there and returned, all of which is of little interest to the people of this territory. The people of New Mexico are more interested in seeing all good citizens going to the poles on election days and placing a democratic mark there for good government.

President Taft will be in Albuquerque during the fair, and all who would like to see a real, live president may do so by attending the gathering in the Duke City during the week October 11-16. Reduced rates will be in effect on the railroads, and a few days spent in the territorial metropolis will harm no one; besides giving us all an opportunity to see a real, live one. Let's all go see the chief magistrate.

Our government has placed a ban on lotteries, denying them the privileges of the mail. This is considered gambling, because the question of money is involved, and is therefore immoral. Yet it does not hesitate to engage in a lottery itself when the prize is land, and notwithstanding the fact that the drawings hold much larger prizes, in the aggregate, than was ever handed over by the operators of the Louisiana Lottery, the biggest of its kind in the world.

The people of Lincoln county have an opportunity to let the outside world know something of the county's resources. The Resources Exposition at Albuquerque, October 11-16, will afford a splendid opportunity to make a showing of what we have. People from all parts of the country will be there, and many of them will be there for the purpose of seeing what the territory has and is. Lincoln county should be there with products from her ranches, farms, orchards and mines.

The north pole has been discovered—twice—so they say; Dr. Cook claiming the first honor and Lieutenant Peary the second. Both are Americans, and as that spot has been sought by all nations for centuries we may be pardoned for feeling and expressing a little pride. But now that this long-sought goal has been reached, what have we gained? The pole is still there, if it ever was, and we have been taught so long that it did exist that we will not question it; and yet the world glides on as before, and the only gain we see is the creation of two temporary heroes.

KILLED HIMSELF AT DENVER.

News reached here the first of the week, which has later been confirmed, that George J. Upchurch had shot and killed himself at the Brown Palace hotel, in Denver, on the 2nd day of this month. The rash act is supposed to have been the result of mental derangement.

Mr. Upchurch was for many years an employe of the V V Co., of this county, and for the past five years had been foreman for the company. He accumulated considerable money during the time he was with the company, and a short time before his death was negotiating for the purchase of the Jap Coe place on the Ruidoso, valued at $10000 to $12000.

The past year the deceased had traveled quite extensively, having visited Europe, Asia and touching points in Africa on his cruise through the Mediterranean. He was a man of about forty-five years of age and unmarried.

We have two Henderson wagons, size 3 $\frac{3}{4}$  in. which we will close out at a bargain. Also one Winona wagon, size 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ . going cheap.—Carrizozo Trading Co.

NOTICE.

It appearing that a certified copy of the order of this board, made on the 7th day of July 1909 calling an election to be held on the 17th day of August 1909, on the proposition to remove the county seat to Carrizozo in said county has been published for four consecutive weeks immediately prior to such election in the CARRIZOSO NEWS, a newspaper of general circulation published in said county, and by hand bills posted up at three of the most public places in each precinct at least four weeks prior to said election, held on the 17th day of August 1909.

And it further appearing that the returns of said election held in said Lincoln county, pursuant to said order aforesaid, on the 17th day of August 1909.

The Board, acting as a board of canvassers, duly proceeded to carefully examine the poll books and certificates of each precinct in said county, and continued in session for the purpose of such examination, canvass and ascertainment continuously.

That said board having duly canvassed and ascertained the results of said election as shown by the face of said returns from the voting precincts of the county upon the question whether the county seat should be removed from Lincoln to Carrizozo in said county, do find as the result of said canvass and ascertainment that 900 votes were cast for Carrizozo, and 613 for Lincoln, and that the total number of votes cast upon the proposition was 1,513,—a majority of 287 of the votes cast being for the removal of the county seat to Carrizozo. It is therefore considered, ordered and declared by the Board of County Commissioners that Carrizozo is the county seat of the county of Lincoln, territory of New Mexico.

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can't help it. Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't tifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it. Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia.

Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it.

Ordinary pepsin "dyspepsia tablets," physics, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Pepsin is only a partial digester—and physics are not digesters at all.

Kodol is a perfect digester. If you could see Kodol digesting every particle of food, of all kinds, in the glass test-tubes in our laboratories, you would know this just as well as we do.

Nature and Kodol will always cure a sick stomach—but in order to be cured, the stomach must rest. That is what Kodol does—rests the stomach, while the stomach gets well. Just as simple as A, B, C.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say, that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 2 $\frac{1}{2}$  times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Geo. A. Huut and wife were in town yesterday from the eastern part of the county. Mr. Huut has but recently returned from Wellington, Kansas, to which point he had made a shipment of sheep.

P. C. Baird has finished taking school census of this district for the board, and reports a list of 341 children of school age. This shows over a 10 per cent increase during the past year, which speaks well for the growth of the town and community, especially when it is remembered that during that period every other portion of the county was at a standstill.

The dog-killer was abroad in the land Monday night, and has a successful "kill" to his credit. A number of worthless curs and homeless mongrels will never again howl as a consequence; but like all tales, it has another side to it. One valuable dog, possibly more, got the deadly dose. Scotty's fine dog, "Old King," a standard greyhound, is numbered with the slain. The number killed is reported at 27.

W. L. Gumm brought to town yesterday what was probably the largest, as well as the finest, wagon load of plums and pears ever hauled over the hill. The fruit was grown on the Bonito Park Fruit Farm at Angus, and included such favorite varieties as the large English blue plum, the Lincoln plum, the blue damson, and the German prune, besides Bartlett and Angeles pears, for all of which there was a waiting market in Carrizozo.

A man named Jerry Lucey, a denizen of Oscuro, was arraigned in the justice court of this precinct Tuesday morning charged with assault to murder. The complaining witness was named Harvie, and showed no external marks of the melee. The evidence went to show that both men had been drinking in a saloon at Oscuro. The men got into an argument, fell out and Lucey, in order to clinch his end of the argument, struck Harvie with a chair knocking him down. The defendant was bound over in the sum of $500 to await the action of the grand jury. Failing to procure bonds he was taken to the county jail.

Are you going? I am, and going to take on a few of the great bargains at Ziegler Bros. store.

Take care of your stomach. Let Kodol digest all the food you eat. for that is what Kodol does. Every tablespoonful of Kodol digests 2 1/4 pounds of food. Try it today. It is garranteed to relieve you or your money back. Sold at Paden's drug store and Rolland Bros.

CAPITAN.

Miss Helen Canning and Miss Noessel are spending the week with friends at Parsons.

H. Lacey has moved in from the country, and occupies the M. B. May residence.

W. R. Beatty of Oscura was a visitor in Carrizozo several days this week.

M. L. Hull returned last week from a trip east, and has resumed his position in the local yards.

The amount of home-grown fruits and vegetables marketed in this town causes the late comers to open their eyes.

Cliff Hulbert of Lincoln was in town Thursday with a load of fruit which he quickly disposed of at his own price.

R. E. Stidham has completed an addition to his dwelling on Tularosa avenue. W. D. Gray did the carpenter work.

The Rev. Jones of the Baptist church, Alamogordo, will occupy the pulpit in the Methodist church of this place on Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Gray and three children returned Sunday evening from an extended visit with relatives in Coryell county, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Kelly returned this week from an extended trip to the northwest, and visited the Yukon-Alaska Exposition at Seattle while there. Miss Gertrude, their daughter, will remain in Idaho for a time.

W. D. Martin was up from Oscura Wednesday. He reports the Oscura school in progress, with his daughter, Miss Alma, in charge.

Misses Lorena Sager and Nettie Lee returned Monday from Tularosa, where they had gone the previous week to visit the Misses Meek.

Miss Willie Hildebrandt, a sister of Mrs. F. C. Noessel, arrived Wednesday evening, and will take a position in the dispatcher's office as stenographer.

Dr. T. H. Williams, a dentist, of Chickasha, Okla., will be in Carrizozo on September 12, and remain for one week, prepared to do dental work.

C. E. Smith, of the car repair department, left for Springfield, Mo., Thursday on receipt of a telegram announcing the serious illness of his brother.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Reilly went to Capitan Friday and returned Monday. They went to visit Mrs. Reilly's father, S. T. Gray, who was dangerously ill.

H. B. Roberts, a ranchman from the White Oaks country, was brought to Carrizozo last Sunday evening, and sent to the Alamo-gordo hospital to be operated on for appendicitis. The operation is reported to have been successful and the patient doing well.

H. E. Pine, government sheep inspector, returned Wednesday from the Patos country. He has been busy the past month supervising the dipping of many large flocks of sheep.

John Adams has purchased the Rose dwelling on Capitan avenue from Geo. Spence. The household effects were moved into the building Wednesday and the family is now there.

The Most Rev. J. B. Pitaval, archbishop of Santa Fe, will be in Carrizozo next Friday, 17th inst., for the purpose of confirming the Catholic children of this precinct.

Albert Ziegler, of the firm of Ziegler Bros., returned from the eastern markets yesterday morning, where he made large purchases of general merchandise, including a fine line of fall toggery, overcoats, etc. Read their add in this week's issue. It tells the story.

Wm. J. Littell came in this morning from a two week's visit to his mother in his "Old Kentucky Home." He accompanied his brother, Atwood, to White Oaks today, and, after a short stay there, will return to his home in El Paso.

D. M. Cox was down from Ancho yesterday on school matters. A new district has been created at Ancho, and a school building is under way.

S. T. Gray, a prominent citizen of Capitan, and well known throughout the county, suffered a paralytic stroke last week, and his life was despaired of for a time. We are glad to report that he is now much improved, and hopes soon to be able to attend to his accustomed duties.

Frank E. Theurer, county surveyor, returned this week from Corona, where he was engaged the past month. Besides running land lines for a number of claimants, he made a survey and plat of an addition to the Corona townsite. Our neighbor on the north is making preparations to spread. May she grow and prosper.

A letter was received this week from a sister of Chas. Payne, the man whose dead body was found a few miles from town recently, inquiring for particulars about her brother's death. From the tone of her letter the deceased came of good family, was respectably connected in Texas, being a lineal descendant of the American patriot, Tom Paine.

HOT WEATHER IDEAS

LUNCHEON Dainties WHEN THE THERMOMETER SOARS.

Grilled Lamb Is Excellent and Quickly Prepared—Salmon Croquettes—Another Recipe for Jellied Chicken—Minced Lamb.

To grill a piece of lamb, score the top, brush it over with the beaten yolk of an egg, dredge it with salt and pepper, cover with a layer of bread crumbs and bake, basting with butter every 15 minutes. When it is done garnish with currant jelly and serve with caper sauce.

To make salmon croquettes, mix a large can of salmon with three good-sized boiled potatoes that have been mashed, add bread crumbs, a beaten egg, vinegar or lemon juice to moisten, and season with pepper and salt. Shape into croquettes, roll in egg and crumbs and fry in deep hot fat.

For jellied chicken have on hand three pounds of chicken that has been boiled and cut from the bone in strips. Mix a quart of rich chicken stock that has been boiled down and cleared with a teaspoonful each of lemon juice, chopped parsley, a dash of celery salt and a quarter teaspoonful each of salt and paprika. At the last stir a teaspoonful of granulated gelatin that has been dissolved. When the jelly begins to thicken add the chicken and turn it into a mold. To have the chicken scattered evenly through the jelly stand the dish containing the jelly in a pan of ice and turn in the jelly layer by layer, covering each with chicken as soon as it begins to thicken.

To make minced lamb remove all the good meat from what remains of roast lamb and mince fine. Put the bones and bits of skin in a saucepan and cover with a pint of water. Add one onion, one-half carrot cut small, a few sprays of parsley and two mint leaves and simmer for one-half hour; add any gravy left from roast and strain. Thicken with one teaspoonful of butter, add a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of cayenne, and the minced lamb. Let it come to a boil and serve.

Sauces for Omelet.

For a cream sauce melt two even tablespoons of butter in a small saucepan, add one and one-half even tablespoons of flour, one-quarter even teaspoon of salt and a few grains of pepper. Stir until smooth, then add one cup of hot thin cream and cook two minutes. Milk may be used instead of cream.

When time is limited use a ten-cent can of tomato soup such as requires diluting. For the sauce do not dilute much but add a teaspoon of onion juice, a speck of ground cloves and a little more pepper and heat. This will take the place of the sauce made from canned or raw tomatoes in an emergency.

Scotch Shortbread.

Half a pound of fine pastry flour, half a pound of potato flour, and half a pound of butter.

Beat the butter to a cream, and then beat in the sugar, and by degrees add the flour. Knead till the whole becomes a smooth dough. Divide it into several portions. Put it on a pastry board and flatten it with the hands, using the thumbs instead of a rolling pin. Make the surface quite free from cracks. When about a quarter of an inch thick cut into fancy shapes, pinch up the edges and bake in a slow oven till very lightly colored.

Scour the Irons.

One point in which the novice in ironing often fails lies in not having the irons perfectly clean before beginning work. To do really good work, begin by scouring the irons thoroughly with soap and water; then dry thoroughly with a soft rag. They must not be dried on the fire, as this creates an immediate rust, which works off on the clothes.

Cuticura's Efficacy Clearly Proven.

"When about two and a half years old my daughter broke out on her hips and the upper parts of her legs with a very irritating and painful eruption. It began in October; the first I noticed was a little red surface and a constant desire on her part to scratch her limbs. She could not sleep and the eruptions got sore, and yellow water came out of them. I had two doctors treat her, but she grew worse under their treatment. Then I bought the Cuticura Remedies and only used them two weeks when she was entirely well. This was in February. She has never had another rough place on her skin, and she is now fourteen years old. Mrs. R. R. Whitaker, Winchester, Tenn., Sept. 22, 1908."

How an Angry Woman Looked.

The other day we saw an angry woman in a street car and her face was anything but a pleasant picture. She was angry at the conductor, entirely without cause, and that made her look more terrible than if she had had a real grievance.—Nebraska Journal.

Law of Attraction.

The attractions of men to women and women to men are full of the most perplexing inconsistencies and contradictions imaginable. It is, for instance, a physical law that magnetism is not simple attraction of one thing for another, but the difference of two opposing forces of attraction and repulsion, of which the former is the greater. The same law holds in relation to the attraction of men and women for each other, in which, as a rule, the masculine is the superior force.—T. P.'s Weekly, London.

It is a mother's duty to keep constantly on hand some reliable remedy for use in case of sudden accident or mishap to the children. Hamlin's Wizard Oil can be depended upon for just such emergencies.

YELLOWSTONE PARK LAND OF THE GEYSERS

"A VERITABLE WONDERLAND"

In all the world there is no tourist resort comparable to Yellowstone National park. It is unique among the scenic regions of the world because, in addition to most of the attractions of the others, it has, besides, the most wonderful natural phenomena known to scientists. Its streams and valleys are not surpassed in beauty by any in the Old World. Its roadways and hotels are equal to those of the favorite resorts of continental Europe. Its area includes, in addition, wonderful geysers, hot springs, and the Grand canyon of the Yellowstone. Of that mighty gorge, noted for its riot of color, for artistic and beautiful nature-harmony, there is nothing men have written that is adequately descriptive. Words are trivial and weak when one experiences the overwhelming sensation produced by a first glimpse of its wonders. In all the world there is no more startling scene.

Yellowstone National park is the scenic gem of the northwestern hemisphere. It lies partly in Montana and partly in Idaho, but largely in Wyoming, among the greatest peaks of the American Rockies. It comprises 3,312 square miles, with a forest reserve adjoining it.

The first man to see and know any portion of what is now the Yellowstone park, was John Colter. Colter had been with Lewis and Clark to the mouth of the Columbia river, and on his return in 1806 severed his connection with those explorers and retraced his course to the headwaters of the Yellowstone. During the summer of 1807, he traversed at least the eastern part of the Yellowstone park country, and the map in the Lewis and Clark report, published in 1814, shows "Colter's Route in 1807."

The next known of the region was in 1842, when an article describing the geysers was printed in the Western Literary Messenger of Buffalo, N. Y. The author was Warren Angus Ferris, an employe of the American Fur Company who, with two Pend d'Oreille Indians, visited one of the geyser areas in 1834.

Many of the mountaineers and fur trappers of the period long before the civil war, knew of the locality. James Bridger, a noted guide and explorer, and Joseph Meek, an old time mountain man, often told of the geysers and hot springs.

Folsom and Cook of Montana, made an extended tour of the country in 1869, but the real discovery of the park came in 1870, when several western pioneers with Gen. H. D. Washburn as their leader made an extended exploration of the region. To the Washburn party is to be credited the initiative which ultimately resulted in the region becoming a national park.

Transportation within Yellowstone National park is by stage coach exclusively. Even automobiles are not permitted within its boundaries. The wilds have been but little touched by influences which would destroy their charm.

Between Gardiner, at the end of the railway, and Mammoth Hot Springs, the site of the first of the hotels, large coaches, hauled by six horses are used. Beyond Mammoth Hot Springs the four-horse coach is the vehicle generally employed.

Each day's journey through the park unfolds new scenes. The landscape changes with amazing suddenness. Each wonder spot, when passed, is found to be but the preface to something more inspiring.

With each succeeding year the wild animals in the park become a more interesting feature of it. Here is really the only place where the public in general can freely see the animals of the forest and the wilds in their natural state. The animals evince less and less timidity and, while not common, it is not an unusual sight, as the coaches drive along, to see an elk or a deer or two slaking their thirst in the stream or several quietly and unconcernedly feeding in the woods near the road.

The effort to increase the buffalo herd by outside purchase and to corral the animals where they can be fed and protected has met with success. There are now about 100 bison in the park.

There are about 2,000 antelopes and from 100 to 200 mountain sheep in the park, most of them living on and around Mount Everts near Mammoth Hot Springs. Both sheep and antelopes are more wary than the other animals, and, to a great extent disappear in the spring. In the fall, winter and spring, both antelopes and sheep are found in large numbers on the hills and flats above Gardiner and Mammoth Hot Springs. They are fed by the authorities at Fort Yellowstone, which serves to domesticate them in some degree, and in recent years many antelopes remain to graze during the summer on the large alfalfa field at the park entrance.

The deer, of which there are hundreds, are increasing in number, and the pretty animals are seen more and more each year. During the fall, winter and spring, like the sheep and antelope, they are a familiar sight around Fort Yellowstone and Mammoth Hot Springs.

It is the elk, however, that are found in almost countless numbers, and during the summer they are not infrequently seen. They seclude themselves, more or less, however, in the timber and valleys.

The bears are found near the hotels and it requires no exertion, beyond the walk of a few rods, to see them.

In portions of the park, naturally those somewhat retired and secluded, there are many beavers and they are flourishing and increasing. One place where these industrious animals may be seen is near Tower fall, where there are several colonies of them. Here, among the brooks in this beautiful part of the park, they may be found, with their dams, houses, ponds, and slides, swimming about in the water or cutting down trees on land, laying in their store of food for the winter.

As a place where one may indulge in angling at little or no hardship, the park heads the list. In 1890 the United States fish commission began stocking the waters of the park. Since that year several hundred thousand trout have been "planted" in the park lakes and streams, and these have greatly multiplied.

REWARD FOR HONESTY.

He was a conscientious office boy and he had always been taught to emulate the great George Washington and never tell a falsehood.

"Boss," he said, timidly, as the noon hour approached, "I want to get off this afternoon."

"Oh, you do, eh?" said the old broker, peering over his glasses.

"Yes, sir, and I haven't any grandmothers."

"Well, you are an exception, indeed."

"And I'm not sick."

"Extraordinary; very extraordinary."

"In fact, sir, I want to get off to go and see the ball game."

The old broker's face brightened.

"Well, Willie, I must say that you are the most honest boy I ever met."

"Thank you, sir."

"Yes, and come to think of it, I want to see that game myself. I was afraid to leave the office at first, but now that I see you are such an honest boy I know my business couldn't

THE OBJECT HE HAD IN VIEW

Farmer Had Not Much Expectation of Turkeys, But He Was Not Losing Anything.

A Rhode Island farmer set a bantam hen on 14 turkey eggs, and great was the scandal thereof throughout the neighborhood. Friends from far and near dropped in for to see and for to admire the freakish feat.

"Sa-ay, Silas," asked envious Hiram Haggars, "haow many turkeys d' yew call'ate ter git outer them aigs?"

"Oh, shucks!" Silas answered. "I ain't call'atin' t' git many turkeys. I jest admire t' see that pesky little critter a-spreadin' herself."—Harper's Weekly.

A Baseball Preacher.

It was just at the beginning of the baseball season when an Episcopal clergyman, who is an ardent and enthusiastic lover of the great American game, inadvertently remarked at the end of the portion of Scriptures which he read:

"Here endeth the first innings."
Then he woke up.

WANTS HER LETTER PUBLISHED

For Benefit of Women who Suffer from Female Ills

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. My pains all left me, I grew stronger, and within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

"I want this letter made public to show the benefit women may derive from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JOHN G. MOLDAN, 2115 Second St., North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. For 20 years she has been helping sick women in this way, free of charge. Don't hesitate—write at once.

The Fire Station.

A fire station house was erected this week to house the fire engine and chemicals. The work was done by volunteers, so the cost of construction was nothing. The building, with the exception of the frame, is built of iron sheeting. It is small, but sufficiently large for the engine, hose and chemical apparatus, and stands on Alamogordo avenue.

Those who contributed the labor were: Frank E. English, F. W. Brockway, Noel B. Whitmire, Chas. Brasseur, Ben. Humphrey, John G. Scoggin, Andrew Bond, E. S. Long and William Brown. E. M. Bunker will do the painting. S. A. Neid furnished the stone for the foundation. Many hands made light work and the job was finished in a day.

Supplies for the chemical apparatus have been placed in the building, and all is now ready in case a fire should occur.

The volunteer fire laddies, of whom S. W. Perry is chief, will take the engine out occasionally in the evenings for a practise run, until they become familiar with the work, and should a fire occur the chief expects to see each man at his post attending to his particular part, with as little confusion as possible.

Commissioners' Proceedings.

The board of county commissioners met at Lincoln on Friday, Sept. 3, 1909, at 1 o'clock p.m.

The board met in special session for the purpose of receiving and examining the assessment rolls for the year 1909.

Present—R. H. Taylor, chairman; C. W. Wingfield and R. A. Duran, members; Robt. Brady, deputy sheriff, and J. G. Riggle, probate clerk.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The assessment rolls for the year 1909 were examined and approved.

The board adjourned sine die.

The dignity of the justice court in this precinct was rudely shaken one day this week when a prisoner from Oscuro who was arraigned for a hearing refused to plead on the ground that, contrary to the laws of the territory made and provided, he was being tried in a kangaroo court. The court not being favorably impressed by the shape of the prisoner's head, overlooked the contempt and sent him to the county jail to await the action of the grand jury on the original charge.

Good rains have fallen in various portions of the county the past week, but only showers have blessed this vicinity.
