Frank W. Gurney Dead.

A wire was received Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Gurney, of the Carrizozo Eating House, that her husband, Frank W. Gurney, had dropped dead on the streets of El Paso that afternoon at 4 o'clock, the result of heart failure. Mr. Gurney had gone down the day before to witness the ceremonies attendant upon the meeting of the presidents, and was in a cheerful mood and seemed to be in perfect health; and the announcement of his death came as a shock from a clear sky.

The deceased was walking along the street in company with his son, Frank, and Frank M. Clough, enjoying life and greeting friends, when, without a word of warning he fell, his son and friend supporting him to the pavement. A doctor was immediately summoned, but the vital spark of life had been extinguished, his inanimate body prostrate among thousands, his spirit had sought its Maker.

The weeping wife went on the first train, and was present at the funeral which took place in the Nagley & Kaster chapel, under the auspices of the Elks, assisted by the Knights of Pythias, in both of which orders he was a respected member. The remains were interred in the Evergreen cemetery, El Paso, and the many and beautiful floral wreaths that were laid on the casket attested the esteem of a large circle of friends.

Mrs. Gurney, accompanied by her son, returned Tuesday, and will continue the hotel business and take up the thread that has dropped from the nerveless fingers. The heart-broken wife and the sorrowing son have the sympathy of the entire community.

Frank W. Gurney was born in the city of New York 59 years ago last March, and was a distant relative of Abram S. Hewitt, former mayor of that city. In early life he came west, and was married in 1874, at Junction City, Kansas, to Miss Julia E. Carra, who with a son survive him.

Thirty years ago Mr. Gurney came to this territory, and most of that time had been engaged in the hotel business. He was with the Santa Fe, the Missouri Pacific and established the hotels along the line of the El Paso & Northeastern. He came to Carrizozo in April 1908, took charge of the Carrizozo Eating House, and by his industry, attention and courtesy made it one of the most popular places on the road.

He was more than a business man—he was a good citizen, an upright and enterprising member of the community. His hand was ever extended in charity, and no appeal in a just cause was ever by him disregarded. He was the friend of all; his genial smile, his warm clasp of the hand, his broad conception of life made it a pleasure to know him. We shall miss him, and long

"for the touch of the vanished hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still."

Judge Mechem to Preside Here.

We are informed, unofficially, that Judge Mechem, of the Seventh District, will preside at the November term of court here. Judge Cooley opened court at Tucumcari this week, and if he came here on the first term of court in Quay county closed, of necessity, last only two weeks. The probabilities are that two weeks will not be sufficient to clear the Quay county docket.

Then, too, the regular Otero county term convenes the 22nd of November, and if Judge Cooley presided here the term could not last beyond three weeks, and it is not believed that our lengthy docket can be disposed of in that time. So that, if the present understanding is consummated it will give us a longer term, if justified by business. In other words, with an abundance of money and sufficient time the Lincoln county docket promises to be wiped out for the first time since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary.

When this is accomplished we can start on a new sheet, and we may be reasonably certain of two terms a year, and keep right along with the procession. Our finances warrant the belief that we will not again be troubled with a shortage of funds. We have a large amount of money in the court fund, our valuations are increasing and we are in good financial condition.

LINCOLN LOCALS.

A lodge of the Alianza Hispano Americana has been organized in Lincoln by Supreme Secretary J. C. Merino, of Tucson, Arizona. The new lodge starts out under the best of conditions, and promises to become a strong factor in this community, as it numbers among its charter members the and most prominent citizens of the community. The officers are:

Octaviano Perea, president; R. A. Duran, vice president; Porfirio Chavez, secretary; J. J. Aragon, treasurer; Robt. A. Brady, L. A. Dow and P. Pacheco, trustees.

Aragon Bros. have lately sold 4,000 head of sheep to W. S. Prager & Co., of Roswell, at a good price.

Genevieve Riggle, daughter of Probate Clerk Riggle, left last Monday for White Oaks, where she will spend two or three weeks with the family of E. H. B. Chew out on the ranch.

Wm. F. A. Gierke left Thursday morning for Carrizozo, and from there went to El Paso to take in the meeting of the presidents, from which point he went to Albuquerque to attend the Masonic grand lodge as a delegate from the Carrizozo lodge. He is expected back the latter part of the week.

J. M. Miller, of Roswell, has sold to Fritz & Lutz, of Lincoln, 6,135 head of stock sheep for a good price.

Attorney Geo. B. Barber left Monday for Tucumcari to attend court.

Mrs. J. M. Penfield left Monday for El Paso to visit friends.

J. J. Aragon has returned from El Paso, and he can tell you tell you all that you want to know about the presidents.

CARRIZOZO - NEW MEXICO

Boston plans a pension bank for old maids. Here is another knock at matrimony.

What will a future civilization think when it digs up the bones of a monoplane?

Why will beautiful women run fat persons' races before the camera at every picnic?

It will not be necessary to enlarge the ocean just yet to make room for all the aeroplanes that fall in.

New York is still sending joy riders to prison, just as if it were tired of that form of alleged amusement.

This is a poor year for the sea serpent. At the summer resorts the night-flying airship has crowded it out.

A Philadelphia man who was going to commit suicide died of heart disease. He probably was scared to death.

Notwithstanding the success of the aeronauts there are still many people who prefer to keep their feet on solid ground.

Saving the children of the poor from disease and death is a profitable and economic, as well as humanitarian, undertaking.

It is written in the clouds that we shall yet see daring circus aviators looping loops in the air and turning upside down, far above the earth.

To show how far the science of flying has not progressed it is worthy of mention that aviators go to the contests by train with their wings stowed in the baggage car.

That girl whose doting father has given her a balloon knows a better way of looking down on other people than the one adopted by the girl who marries a rickety nobleman.

China and Japan are glaring at each other again, Turkey declines to let the powers run the Cretan affair, and the dove of peace is flying recklessly about looking for a safe perch until the next international peace congress.

The deposed monarch of Persia declines to quit his job until he is paid his back salary. He neglected to take time by the forelock and lay in something for a rainy day, as did the ex-sultan.

A Vancouver magistrate fined himself for violation of the speed laws. So the Roman sense of duty has not perished, but gives occasional faint flickers in these degenerate latter days.

The rules of society are somewhat relaxed during the summer season, so that a dry goods clerk will find nothing to prevent him from masquerading as a prince if he has the clothes to do it on.

Medical inspection in the English schools shows a physical degeneracy among children which is alarming the country. England would not be easy in its mind if it were not alarmed over something.

England's national nervousness finds new expression. Every time there is a scare of any kind they go to work over there to build more Dreadnoughts. If they keep on they will soon be monopolizing ocean room.

According to Greek opinion, the Turk is "still dreaming of the hour when Greece, her knee in suppliance bent, will tremble at his power." The Turk, however, has troubles of his own at present, too lively to permit of his doing much in the way of dreaming.

FRENCH STIRRED BY GUILLOTINE

GUILLOTINING OF PARIS PATRICIDE PRESENTS A DRAMATIC SPECTACLE.

TROOPS LINE THE STREETS

Execution Had More Resemblance to Clever Disappearing Lady in Music Hall Than to a Real Tragedy—Executioner Perfect in Duty.

Paris.—The French mind being pre-eminently logical, there is a demand for a change in the method of executing death sentences. The law provides that they be performed in a public place.

In practice no member of the public, strictly speaking, saw anything of the recent guillotining, the only eyewitnesses being 150 journalists, a dozen mounted gendarmes, and 20 policemen.

The difficulty of finding a place for the guillotine since La Roquette prison was pulled down always has been preferred as an excuse for the practical abolition of capital punishment which Paris enjoyed or suffered in the last decade.

That this difficulty no longer exists was shown when the guillotine was erected in the middle of the yard of Sante prison.

Some 1,200 soldiers were on duty, barring every road around the prison. They assured that no one approached except those possessing police passes.

About 3:45 a. m. Executioner Deibler's men began erecting the guillotine. Without the sound of a hammer and without a spoken word of command, the machine was put together by the light of a candle flickering in an old-time lantern.

The lantern only was used when Deibler wished to test by a water level that everything was exact. Within an hour one of his assistants extinguished the light and all was ready. The knife was run up to the top, but no test drop was made, so confident was Deibler in his men and the machine.

The dawn of a summer day revealed the maroon colored "wood of justice." Its position among trees robbed it of much of its terrors.

Shortly it was fully daylight. The prison van came round the corner up the boulevard and stopped opposite the guillotine. Two men let down the back, which formed steps from the vehicle, down which came first the prison governor, then a priest, and then a figure which might have been Lazarus coming from the grave. It had its hands fastened behind its back and a loose covering hanging from its shoulders. The body was naked except for linen trousers. Over the face hung a black veil, thin enough to allow the features to be visible.

The code prescribes that patricides must be taken to the scaffold with bare feet and veiled head.

Duchewin, the condemned, was 28 years old, but the livid face might have been that of a man any age over 60. It was the face of a man without the consciousness or feeling of any kind, a man for whom the bitterness of death already had passed.

Deibler's aids seized the cloak and veil and conducted the condemned three paces between the van and the machine, laid him in place, and the knife fell.

Within 15 seconds from the time the prison van stopped the knife had fallen.

WOMAN'S GRAVE IS OPENED

Theory Is That Italian Horse Thieves Desired to Bury Comrade Who Had Been Killed.

New York.—Detectives and policemen have been hiding in the woods near the cemetery of the Church of the Madonna at Fort Lee for five nights, armed, eager to arrest whoever was responsible for digging a five-foot trench in the grave of Sarah Carney and exposing to view the skull and several of the bones.

She was a sister of John Carney, a school janitor in that town, who made the discovery. His mother and sister were both buried in this grave and on a recent evening he visited it. The following morning he again visited the grave and saw the skull and bones.

The police were notified and Prosecutor J. S. Mackay was asked to aid in the investigation.

Justice Reilly gave out this statement when asked concerning the strange act:

"Three Italian horse thieves were interrupted while attempting to rob the barns of Brosnahan Bros. in Fort Lee, the other night. One who said he was James Marraia was caught and lodged in the Hackensack jail, despite the efforts of his bloodhound to chew up the leg of James Daly, one of the captors.

"Another of the thieves was shot by Edward Kaufer and the trail on the sidewalk was plainly visible for two blocks. It is our candid belief that this wounded thief died and that his friend dug the hole in the Carney grave, intending to give him a cemetery burial, as is their custom, but dare not do it publicly, fearing arrest."

Boy Shot While Playing Indian.

Des Moines, Ia.—Ray Atchison is dying at Oskaloosa from a wound inflicted by Charles Meaber, a playmate, while the boys, with several others, were playing "Indian" at the Meaber home. Meaber found an old and rusty revolver and when Atchison and an "attacking" party approached the house he was shot through the head. Meaber was arrested.

Rat in Hair Saves Life.

Roanoke, Va.—A "rat" in her hair saved the life of Bertha Delina, a young woman, who shot herself in the head in an attempt at suicide the other night. When the physicians at the hospital pulled the hair from the wound the bullet came out with the mass of false adornment. The woman will recover.

WOULD GET WEALTH QUICKLY

Farmer Had Nothing But Contempt for the Moderation of the Street Magician.

A patent medicine salesman upon the streets of a small Maine village was giving a free sleight-of-hand performance in order to collect a crowd. Presently he took a handkerchief from his pocket, held it by one extreme corner, shook it, tossed it into the air, caught it in his hand and took from it a 25-cent piece.

"There," he remarked, "you see I take this quarter from the handkerchief, although you saw for yourself that the handkerchief was empty. I can get another this way," he added, and apparently plucked one from the air.

"Gosh!" an old farmer in the little audience muttered; "that feller must not keer much fer money. If I could do a thing like that, you bet I wouldn't stick at quarters—I'd take a half dollar every time!"—Exchange.

BABY HORRIBLY BURNED.

By Boiling Grease—Skin All Came Off One Side of Face and Head—Thought Her Disfigured for Life.

"My baby was sitting beside the fender and we were preparing the breakfast when the frying-pan full of boiling grease was upset and it went all over one side of her face and head. Some one wiped the scald with a towel, pulling the entire skin off. We took her to a doctor. He tended her a week and gave me some stuff to put on. But it all festered and I thought the baby was disfigured for life. I used about three boxes of Cuticura Ointment and it was wonderful how it healed. In about five weeks it was better and there wasn't a mark to tell where the scald had been. Her skin is just like velvet. Mrs. Hare, 1, Henry St., South Shields, Durham, England, March 22, 1908."

Consumptives Need Not Leave Home.

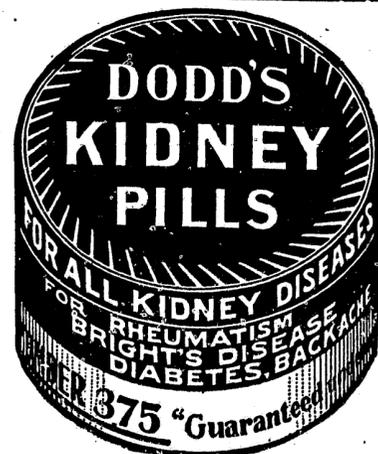

Consumption can be cured, or arrested, in any section of the United States, and the percentage of cures in the east and the west is nearly the same. Any physician, therefore, who sends a person to the southwest without sufficient funds, or in an advanced or dying stage of the disease, is guilty of cruelty to his patient. Renewed efforts are being made to stop this practice, and to encourage the building of small local hospitals in every city and town in the country. Attempts are also being made in Southern California and in Texas to exclude indigent consumptives or to send them back to the east.

FILLETS OF MEAT ON TOAST

Either Steak or Mutton May Be Used in Preparation of This Somewhat Novel Dish.

If mutton, divide a piece of loin taking as many as are required; trim off all fat and bone. There will only be the little round fillet left. Melt a good-sized piece of butter or drippings in, and put in one onion, one carrot and one turnip. Cut into slices and then add the meat. Cover with a piece of thick paper which has been spread with drippings before putting on the cover and let contents fry gently for a quarter of an hour. Then lift cover and pour over about half a pint of thick brown gravy (left over gravy will do). Now put stewpan in a moderate oven and let meat cook about two hours. Turn it once during this time and add a little more gravy if needed. Cut a thick slice of bread from a stale loaf, remove crust, trim it nicely and then with a sharp knife remove the center, leaving a border about an inch and a half thick; then fry bread case in hot butter until a golden brown. When the fillets are done (have mashed potatoes ready), arrange them neatly around the bread and keep hot until gravy is ready. For gravy remove all fat from the surface; then add a tablespoonful of catsup, a little flour and hot water, if there is not enough gravy. Fill center of bread ring with mashed potatoes and pour on the gravy. Garnish with lettuce leaves, sliced tomatoes or parsley and on each fillet a little chopped carrot; use round steak in the same way, only cut the fillets and pound and rub each piece with a little lemon juice.

The Home.

An ordinary polish for silverware is made of alcohol and whiting. It will also serve excellently for polishing plate glass and mirrors.

A few drops of alcohol rubbed on the inside of lamp chimneys will remove all trace of greasy smoke when water alone is of no avail.

A neglected grate or one which has been red hot should be rubbed over with a cut raw potato before it is blackened. The result will be a brilliant polish.

To remove mildew wet the cloth in soft water and then rub on plenty of soap and salt. Hang on the line in the sun and air for a day or two. This is said to be an infallible recipe.

By using a teaspoonful of alum to a quart of water for starching calicoes and gingham the colors will keep bright and fresh, which is desirable in dresses that are washed often.

In serving a number of persons at tea or reception, silver and dishes often need to be washed. The hostess should see to it that there is a big supply of dish towels, otherwise she will be mortified by damp spoons and plates.

Baked Ham.

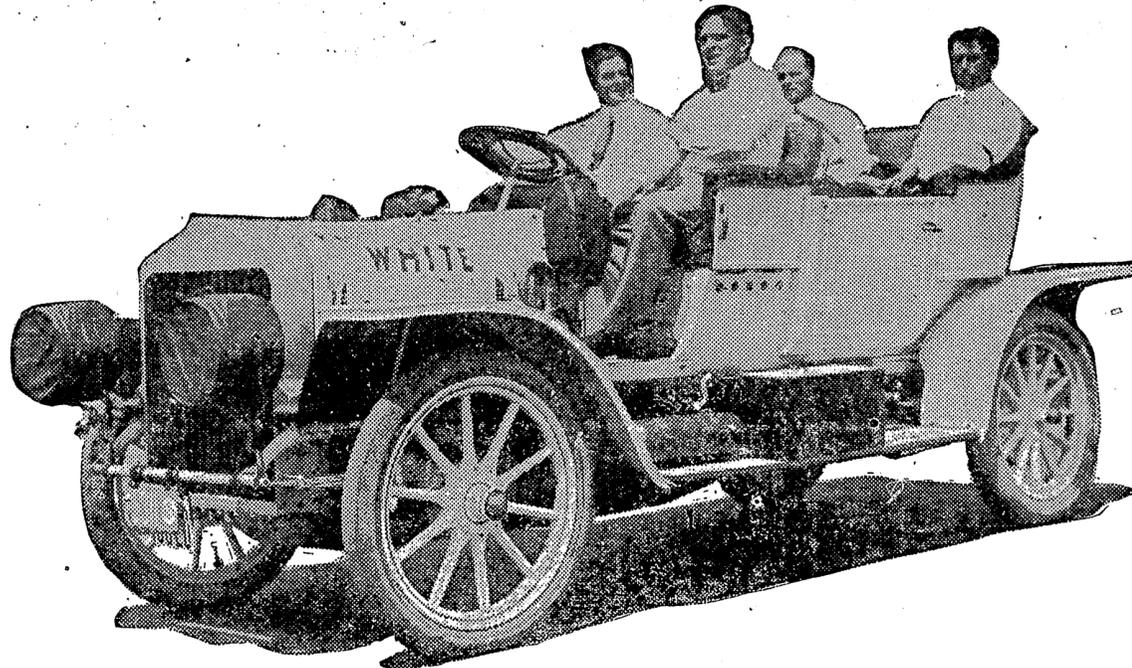

Make a thick paste of flour and cover the ham with it, bone and all; put in in a pan on a spider or two muffin rings, or anything that will keep it an inch from the bottom of the pan, and bake in a hot oven. If a small ham 15 minutes for each pound; if large, 20 minutes. The oven should be hot when it is put in. The paste forms a hard crust around the ham and when cooked the skin comes off with it. Ham is very nice cooked in this way.

Boneless Birds.

Cut up one veal cutlet in pieces about two inches square and pound until flat. Dust with salt and pepper. Lay on a bit of parsley and roll with tiny strip of bacon. Skewer, or tie with strings; roll in flour, then brown in butter for five minutes. When brown pour in saucepan and simmer gently until tender.

Remove birds and strings. Add a little cream to gravy, thicken with little flour. Pour over birds.

White Steamers Use Kerosene as Fuel

THE WHITE STEAMER WHICH MADE A SUCCESSFUL PUBLIC DEMONSTRATION OF KEROSENE AS FUEL ON THE RECENT 2650-MILE GLIDDEN TOUR.

The most interesting announcement ever made in connection with the automobile industry was undoubtedly that made a month or two ago to the effect that the new models of the White Steam Cars could be run on kerosene, or coal oil, instead of gasoline. Everyone at once recognized that the use of the new fuel would add materially to the advantages which the White already possessed over other types of cars. There were some people, however, who were sceptical as to whether or not the new fuel could be used with complete success, and, therefore, the makers of the White Car, the White Company, of Cleveland, Ohio, determined to make a public demonstration of the new fuel in the 1909 Glidden Tour.

From the standpoint of the public, no test more satisfactory could have been selected. First of all, the distance covered on the Glidden Tour, from Detroit to Denver and thence to Kansas City, was 2650 miles. This was certainly more than sufficient to bring out any weaknesses, if such had existed. Still more important was the fact that the car was at all times while on the road under the supervision of observers named by those who entered other contesting cars. Therefore, it would have been impossible for the driver of the White to have even tightened a bolt without the fact being noted and a penalty inflicted. At night the cars were guarded by Pinkerton detectives and could not be approached by any one.

The complete success of the new fuel while on the 2650-mile public test and the advantages gained through its use were well described in the following dispatch which the correspondent of the New York Sun sent to his paper at the conclusion of the tour:

"A feature of the tour which was watched with special interest was that the White Steamer used kerosene, or 'coal oil,' as fuel instead of gasoline. The new fuel worked splendidly throughout the 2650-mile journey, and all claims made in its behalf were fully proven. First of all, as regards cheapness, the White driver secured kerosene all along the route from 6 cents to 10 cents cheaper per gallon than was paid for gasoline. Secondly, the new fuel was handled without any precautions, and it was not unusual to see kerosene being poured into the fuel tank while the crew of the car and an interested crowd stood by with lighted cigars and cigarettes. At the finish of the tour, the White was the only car permitted by the authorities to enter Convention Hall, where the technical examination took place, without draining its fuel tank. Thirdly, the new fuel proved to be absolutely without smoke or smell. Fourthly, kerosene could be purchased at whatever part of the route was most convenient, and not once during the trip through the ten States of the Middle West was there found a grocery store where kerosene was not readily and cheaply obtainable. Finally, the amount of fuel used on the trip showed that kerosene is at least fifteen per cent. more efficient, gallon for gallon, than gasoline. The car in other respects made a most creditable showing, and there was the usual rivalry among the observers to be assigned to the White so that they could ride with the maximum of comfort. The only adjustments or repairs charged against the car during the long trip were tightening a lubricator pipe and wiring a damaged mud guard. These penalties were not inflicted until more than 2000 miles had been completed with an absolutely perfect score."

A particularly interesting feature of the new White Steamer is that either kerosene or gasoline may be used as fuel. The necessary adjustments so that the fuel may be changed from kerosene to gasoline, or vice versa, may be made in a couple of minutes; but so completely successful has kerosene proved to be, that it is not believed that any purchasers will care to use gasoline.

The White Company report that the demand for their new steam cars—both the $2000-model and the $4000-model—exceed their most sanguine expectations. It is evident that the combination of steam—the power which everyone understands and has confidence in—with kerosene—the fuel which everyone has on hand and can handle without any danger—is thoroughly appreciated by up-to-date purchasers of automobiles.

TAFT ON STATEHOOD.

President Taft spoke at Albuquerque Friday, and, of course, his subject was statehood. While he promised, in a perfunctory way, to do what he could to advance the cause of statehood, he intimated very broadly that we should not be in too much of a hurry, and his speech, as a whole, must have been a distinct disappointment to all earnest advocates of statehood. The following excerpts are taken from the address:

"I am glad to see you. I am glad to be here to say what I am going to say about that thing which is uppermost in your minds. You seem to be able to guess what it is. Every baby in this territory seems to be trained to speak the first word: 'Statehood.'

"Now, in as far as lies in me as the chief executive, recommending legislation to congress and exercising a legitimate influence in that regard, the constitutional function being to recommend and veto, I first will say that I will not veto a bill letting New Mexico in.

"And second, that I shall recommend that the promise of the republican platform, upon which I had the honor of being elected as president, should be carried out in good faith, and that the territories of Arizona and New Mexico shall be admitted to the union so that we shall have nothing but states between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

"Now my friends, with respect to New Mexico. You have here, in a sense, the oldest community in the United States; you have been struggling since the 15th or 16th centuries for statehood, but you were promised statehood, if I recollect it, in the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo; at least there was a provision there looking to taking this country and making it a part of the United States, as a state. You have a population large enough, but, my friends, when you think of statehood it is like the aspiration of a boy to become a man, and to become the head of a family, and all the independence that it gives.

"But it also entails some burdens. When you become a man you have got to support your wife, your children, if you are lucky enough to have them. So it is as to statehood; you have got to select your own officials. You think that is easy, and you do not like to have them selected by somebody else, but perhaps the time will come when you will get some officials selected by somebody that differs with you.

"The majority might be such that you won't like the majority. That sometimes happens. Then you will have to stand it. You cannot then put it on to Washington. You cannot say if they only understood what the needs of New Mexico were then we would have good officials all the time, you have got to do the selecting yourself. You have got to pass a constitution that shall serve as a fundamental law, for a hundred years, it may be, because constitutions are not easily amended.

"And you are going to have introduced into that convention a great many men who are going to try to make people good and just by statute; that are going to accomplish everything by law and who intend to put so many limitations on your legislature that it cannot move at all.

"And now you have got to meet that issue, and if you want to get in with a constitution that bucks and gags you, and ties you in every way, that is the kind of a responsibility you have got to assume, but I hope you won't.

"The trouble is when you are making a constitution you will take any old thing if you can only get statehood. I know that. Well, there ought to be a provision by which you should first vote on your constitution, and then vote on your officers, and I hope you have the strength of character enough to vote down a poor constitution and wait until you can get a good one by a new constitution.

"Anxious for that I ask you to be most careful when you make up your constitution and when you select your first state officers.

"Now my friends, you have got a great state here. I would not guess it by passing through it as I have today—it looks to be very much like a desert with a few scrubby growths on it.

"How statehood will come, it would be unwise for me to prophesy. Of course you want it tomorrow morning. I sincerely hope that you will get an enabling act, and I intend to use all the influence I can to secure the passage of an enabling act at the next session of congress.

"I am in favor of deliberation with respect to the process by which you come into the union. I am so convinced that it is better for you to take a little time in getting up your constitution and determining among yourselves whether it is what you want, that you can well afford to delay six months or a year in the course of coming into the union, better than to be hustled in and find yourselves hampered by ill-digested fundamental law.

"Now, you do not like that, but I am just telling you the truth, and if it turns out that you are hustled in and do not have a fundamental law such as you ought to have you cannot say that I did not warn you against that trouble. But that in the course of this administration you will come in as a full-fledged state, and come in with a good constitution—I sincerely and profoundly hope—and I mean to bend every effort that I can to bring it about."

We have on exhibition in our front window a fruit that is common to a great many countries, but this one is uncommon in that it was grown on the sky-line, 7,000 feet above sea level, and on a dry land farm. This is not the only uncommon feature about this fruit—popularly known as a punkin—but it also has size to recommend it. It is 2 feet long and measures 4 feet and 2 inches in circumference. It was grown by H. E. Keller, on the mesa beyond Nogal. Mr. Keller also brought a sample of his potatoes, a sight of which makes an Irishman's mouth water, and excel or equal the famous Greeley potato.

Some Punkins.

We have on exhibition in our front window a fruit that is common to a great many countries, but this one is uncommon in that it was grown on the sky-line, 7,000 feet above sea level, and on a dry land farm. This is not the only uncommon feature about this fruit—popularly known as a punkin—but it also has size to recommend it. It is 2 feet long and measures 4 feet and 2 inches in circumference. It was grown by H. E. Keller, on the mesa beyond Nogal. Mr. Keller also brought a sample of his potatoes, a sight of which makes an Irishman's mouth water, and excel or equal the famous Greeley potato.

CAPITAN.

Clark Hust was down from his ranch yesterday.

Mrs. J. W. Craig went to Capitan yesterday, and will return today.

Milton Read, a substantial citizen of the Capitan country, was in Carrizozo yesterday.

The big crowd that went to El Paso last week has returned full of — — joy, hope and inspiration.

Paul Mayer was in Carrizozo a short time Monday, on his return to White Oaks from the upper country.

Dr. Walker's office building on Tularosa avenue is just about completed. It is quite a neat, comfortable building.

Demetrio Perea is making preparations to open up an eating house across the track. He will be ready for business next Monday week.

E. H. B. Chew was down from White Oaks a short time Saturday. Mr. Chew informed us that the White Oaks public school would begin next month.

A number of our citizens went to Oscuro Saturday to attend justice court, Judge Scoggin, of this precinct being disqualified, as he was a party to the action. The case, we understand, was dismissed.

A. J. Rolland made a business visit to Alamogordo yesterday, returning last night.

W. E. Schei, representing the Denver Post, is here in the interest of his publication.

Hon. John Y. Hewitt returned from El Paso Sunday night, and went to White Oaks the following morning.

H. B. Dobbins and family returned last week to their home near Capitan. They have been at Lampasas, Texas, the past six months.

Judge Cooley passed through Sunday night, on his way to Tucumcari, where he opened the regular term of court for Quay county Monday.

W. L. Gumm has contracted to deliver the Capitan coal slack to El Paso parties. He has secured a rate from the railroad company that will justify its shipment. The amount on the dumps at the old workings is estimated at 4,000 tons.

Skaters and dancers are notified that the Rink will be at their disposal for only three nights before court. Tomorrow night and Tuesday night will be given to skating, while next Thursday night the last dance in the Rink before court will take place. The building is undergoing alterations for a temporary jail, and, for a time, merrymakers will steer clear of its precincts.

Attorney Geo. B. Barber, of Lincoln, came over on Monday's Capitan train, and left that evening for Tucumcari to attend the Quay county district court.

The extra tiling for the Dr. Paded drug store and hospital have arrived, and the walls are almost finished. It will have one of the most beautiful fronts of any building in town.

R. Irminger and daughter, Mrs. Boone, who have their ranch near Capitan, delivered two car loads of stock cattle to J. H. Charles here this week. They sold their steers to Mr. Charles also, but instead of shipping them they were driven to the V V pastures.

Charles McMasters, Gordon Gunn, L. R. Wade, Vic Jones and Wm. Kahler left Tuesday morning for the Capitan mountains, in search of recreation and sport. The quintette contains some good marksmen, and they should not return empty handed.

The hunting party, that went out above the head of the malpais last week, returned Tuesday with the carcasses of three deer. There were four in the party and not enough deer to go round; the claims of Gray and Goff to one each not being questioned, but Little and Adams could not agree as to who slew the third. At any rate, they and a number of their friends had venison.

Messrs. Campbell, Anderson, Bell, Graham, Jones and another sportsman left Monday morning for a week's outing in the Capitan. They went loaded for bear, and if they return without bruin's pelt their standards as sportsmen will be lowered.

The celebrated Jap Coe fruit farm on the Ruidoso has been sold to George Poole, of Williamson, county, Texas; consideration $7,000.00. This farm does not embrace a large acreage, but is recognized as a most valuable piece of property.

J. Johnson, of Salt Lake City, and son, S. M. Johnson, of Charlotte, North Carolina, arrived last night. The younger Johnson came here seven years ago, and was at that time so favorably impressed with our healthful climate and undeveloped resources that the idea of establishing a school in the mountains of this county took root. He developed and disposed of some property in Charlotte, thus securing means whereby the present project may be consummated. He left today for the east side of the mountain and, if successful in securing a desirable location, will be followed later by a number of families from the east.

And All with Company There.
"Now, children," said the mother, as a whole roomful of company had come in, "suppose you run off and play by yourselves."

"All right, mother," replied Edith. "Can we go up and play Hamlet and Ophelia?"

"Certainly," smiled the mother, while her guests looked on at the tableau.

"Goody!" replied Edith; then, turning to her sister, she said: "Now, Maude, you run up to mamma's room and get all her false hair that you can find."—Judge.

Enough Till Eternity.

The biggest marble quarry in operation in the world lies almost within a stone's throw of the heart of West Rutland, Vt. Around its mouth is a stock of 12,000 pieces of finished marble. There is a great gap in the hillside. The marble crops out as bare of soil or vegetation as a billiard ball. You can walk over that hill and never step on anything but marble, and after two score years of blasting and drilling they don't know how deep the deposit lies. It seems there's enough marble in that one hill for an eternity.

Not Ambiguous at All.

The donkey is—or has been—associated with party politics in other countries besides our own.

In one of England's elections a candidate for parliament, the late Lord Bath, called attention to himself by means of a donkey over whose back two panniers were slung, bearing a ribbon band on which was printed: "Vote for Papa."

It must be added, however, that in each pannier stood one of Lord Bath's daughters.—Youth's Companion.

SENSE ABOUT FOOD Facts About Food Worth Knowing.

It is a serious question sometimes to know just what to eat when a person's stomach is out of order and most foods cause trouble.

Grape-Nuts food can be taken at any time with the certainty that it will digest. Actual experience of people is valuable to anyone interested in foods.

A Terre Haute woman writes: "I had suffered with indigestion for about four years, ever since an attack of typhoid fever, and at times could eat nothing but the very lightest food, and then suffer such agony with my stomach I would wish I never had to eat anything.

"I was urged to try Grape-Nuts and since using it I do not have to starve myself any more, but I can eat it at any time and feel nourished and satisfied, dyspepsia is a thing of the past, and I am now strong and well.

"My husband also had an experience with Grape-Nuts. He was very weak and sickly in the spring. Could not attend to his work. He was under the doctor's care but medicine did not seem to do him any good until he began to leave off ordinary food and use Grape-Nuts. It was positively surprising to see the change in him. He grew better right off, and naturally he had none but words of praise for Grape-Nuts.

"Our boy thinks he cannot eat a meal without Grape-Nuts, and he learns so fast at school that his teacher and other scholars comment on it. I am satisfied that it is because of the great nourishing elements in Grape-Nuts."

"There's a Reason."

It contains the phosphate of potash from wheat and barley which combine with albumen to make the gray matter to daily refill the brain and nerve centers.

It is a pity that people do not know what to feed their children. There are many mothers who give their youngsters almost any kind of food and when they become sick begin to pour the medicine down them. The real way is to stick to proper food and be healthy and get along without medicine and expense.

TRIFLES TO TEMPT

SOME SPECIAL AND VERY GOOD SUMMER DESSERTS.

Few After-Dinner Dainties Better Than Baked Alaska—Clear Wine Jelly Also Good—To Make Shrimp Salad.

An ideal summer dessert is baked Alaska. To make it, pack a round mold with vanilla ice cream. Cover and bind the seams of the mold with strips of muslin dipped in melted paraffin. Repack in ice and salt, and stand aside for at least two hours. At serving time turn the ice cream on a folded napkin on a platter. Beat the whites of four eggs until light, add four tablespoons of powdered sugar, and whip until light and dry. Cover the ice cream thoroughly with this meringue and dust well with powdered sugar. Stand the platter on a cold board and run the whole in a hot oven for a moment to brown. Serve at once.

Another delicious dessert for hot weather is a clear wine jelly. Soak a half box of gelatine in a half cup of water. Add one-half pound of sugar and 2½ cups of boiling water. Stir until the gelatine is dissolved. Then add the juice and grated rind of one lemon and one orange, a cup of sherry, one-half cup of brandy and one-half cup of Maraschino. Add last the beaten whites and crushed shells of two eggs. When all has boiled a few minutes strain through very fine cheesecloth into a mold and set on the ice. Serve with a large bowl of whipped cream or vanilla ice cream and whole Maraschino cherries.

Shrimp salad is delicious and is made by cutting a cup of shrimps into dice and mixing with half a cup of celery chopped, a half cup of chopped tart apple and a half cup of broken English walnut meats. Season with salt and pepper and a dash of paprika and serve on crisp lettuce leaves with mayonnaise.

An Excellent Trifle.

An excellent trifle can be made by cutting stale sponge cake into slices then spreading them with raspberry jam.

Arrange them in a pretty glass dish. Sprinkle over them some crushed macaroons. It must be well soaked with wine. Sherry, with a few spoonfuls of brandy, is the nicest mixture with which to soak it. Then heap roughly all over in some whipped and flavored cream.

Decorate the top with glace cherries cut in halves and pieces of shredded almonds. Instead of the cream you might put some good custard, and heap on it stiffly whipped whites of egg which have been sweetened and flavored.

Hanging Pictures.

Remember, it is the picture that counts, not the frame. Have as few gilt frames as possible.

Group the pictures according to their kind. A jumble of water colors, prints, and oil paintings with gilt, silver, white, and wood frames on the same section of the wall can hardly be carried artistic.

Frame oil paintings in gilt and water colors in narrow wood. Often a gilt mat is desired with water colors. Etchings and engravings look best in narrow, dark wooden frames, and photographs and prints should have a frame of wood harmonizing with the darkest tone in the picture.

Recipe for Railway Cake.

Ingredients: Three ounces of flour, two ounces of sugar, two ounces of butter, a pinch of salt, milk, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one egg, and salt together, then add beaten egg, melted butter and sufficient milk to mix; then add baking powder; put in a greased tin, and bake in a moderate oven for about twenty minutes. This has been tried with unflinching success by the sender.

PATIENT SUFFERING.

Many Women Think They Are Doomed to Backache.

It is not right for women to be always ailing with backache, urinary ills, headache and other symptoms of kidney disease. There is a way to end these troubles quickly. Mrs. John H. Wright, 606 East First St., Mitchell, S. D., says: "I suffered ten years with kidney complaint and a doctor told me I would never get more than temporary relief. A dragging pain and lameness in my back almost disabled me. Dizzy spells come and went and the kidney secretions were irregular. Doan's Kidney Pills rid me of these troubles and I feel better than for years past." Sold by all dealers. 50c. a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Care in Preparing Food.

In recent years scientists have proved that the value of food is measured largely by its purity; the result is the most stringent pure food laws that have ever been known.

One food that has stood out prominently as a perfectly clean and pure food and which was as pure before the enactment of these laws as it could possibly be is Quaker Scotch Oats; conceded by the experts to be the ideal food for making strength of muscle and brain. The best and cheapest of all foods. The Quaker Oats Company is the only manufacturer of oatmeal that has satisfactorily solved the problem of removing the husks and black specks which are so annoying when other brands are eaten. If you are convenient to the store buy the regular size packages; if not near the store, buy the large size family packages.

Brooklyn Flag Factory.

One of the biggest official flag factories in the world is in the Brooklyn navy yard. Between eighty and one hundred women work there all the year round making flags for the use of Uncle Sam's fighting ships. They use up 120,000 yards of bunting a year and fashion 418 different kinds of official flags. The flags cost $90,000 a year.

LOW COLONIST FARE TO THE WEST AND NORTHWEST.

Union Pacific Passenger Department announces that Colonist Fares will be in effect from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, 1909, to all points in the West and Northwest.

This year the West looks more promising than ever. Now is the time to secure land at low prices, and, at the same time, to visit the many interesting points in the West and Northwest, at which liberal stopover arrangements may be made.

A better estimate of raw lands can be made now than formerly, because these lands are in proximity to new farms that are producing wonderful crops.

For descriptive literature, write to E. L. Lomax, G. P. A., U. P. R. R., Omaha, Neb.

"There's one good thing about husbands, anyway," says Mrs. Pestus, "and that's that most of them belong to somebody else."

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Willimantic, Conn.—"For five years I suffered untold agony from female troubles, causing backache, irregularities, dizziness and nervous prostration. It was impossible for me to walk upstairs without stopping on the way. I tried three different doctors and each told me something different. I received no benefit from any of them, but seemed to suffer more. The last doctor said nothing would restore my health. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see what it would do, and I am restored to my natural health."—Mrs. ETTA DONOVAN, Box 299, Willimantic, Conn.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

WOMAN'S REALM

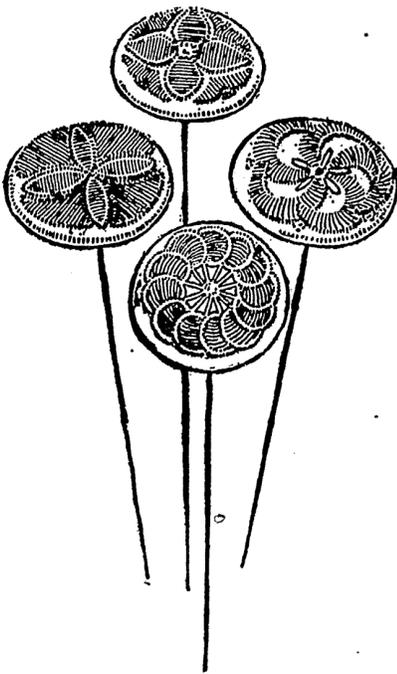

ODDITY IN HAT PINS SIMPLE WALKING COSTUME

NEW KIND WILL BE POPULAR AT CHRISTMAS TIME.

Embroidered Linen or Canvas Circles Are Fastened on the Disk Tops—Buttons Can Be Made in the Same Way.

A new kind of hat pin, which will probably figure largely among the handiwork made for Christmas presents, is embroidered. These hat pins are very simple to work and may be made in colors harmonizing with any kind of hat with which they are to be worn and can be studded with beads or imitation jewels and be made quite resplendent.

First of all, take a piece of linen or canvas, trace out the requisite number of circles and stamp or trace a design, which may be as rude or as elaborate as you like, the badly drawn ones being barbaric, the well drawn ones being art nouveau in their subsequent effect. The designs can be worked in a frame, which is the most satisfactory method of keeping the rounds in shape. Half a yard of linen would probably be sufficient for a set of hat pins and buttons, for the buttons can be made as well as the hat pin heads, but in estimating the amount of material required remember that you will need double the quantity necessary for embroidering the top of the hat pin, as each button or pin must be neatly finished at the back with a circle of plain linen turned in and invisibly hemmed around the edges. One of the two circles is placed over the top of the hat pin, which should be of the plain disk variety that is now so abundant, and the hat pin is run through the middle of the other, which is brought up and sewn to the top, the edge being covered with a narrow bit of gold cord. The embroidery is carried out in silks, gold thread and beads. The idea for buttons and hat pins is novel and distinctive.

Sweaters Longer.

Sweaters have increased in length until now some models shown reach almost to the bottom of the dress skirt, but the shorter models remain the more practical and proper.

Effective Combination of Cinnamon Colored Cloth Given with Tight Jacket and Crinoline Hat.

Simple, but very effective, is the walking costume shown here. It is in cinnamon colored cloth; the skirt has a wrapped seam up center front, three rows of stitching are worked round foot, and three up each side the seam to about the center. The upper part is trimmed with black buttons and simulated buttonholes of cord. The jacket is tight-fitting, the deep dart on the shoulder giving a very good fit there and on bust. The double-breasted waistcoat is of silk; buttons and cord loops form the trimming.

Hat of black crinoline, trimmed with chiffon and pink roses.

Materials required for the costume: Eight yards 46 inches wide, 1 1/4 yard silk 22 inches wide for vest, five yards lining silk for jacket, four yards double-width sateen for skirt lining, about eight dozen buttons.

Dainty Collarettes.

The latest of the one-piece dresses are finished with lingerie collars, though not of the Dutch or Priscilla variety. The new ones are merely bits of fine embroidery worn around the line of the guimpe, particularly if it is pointed in front and round at the back. Many of these appear upon linen and foulard frocks, and when the collar is deep it looks very much like a berth or a fichu.

Of course, these tiny things are quite unnecessary, but when they are immaculately clean and fresh they give a dark frock a daintiness that it cannot of itself possess.

To Remove Perspiration Stains.

It is not generally known, but peroxide of hydrogen is invaluable for removing perspiration stains from white satin coat sleeve linings; but great care must be taken that it does not touch the cloth part. No rim is left when dry to show that anything has been used, and there is absolutely no after odor. This same fluid is also invaluable to remove the discoloration that linen collars leave on the neck, and it does not irritate the skin.—Vogue.

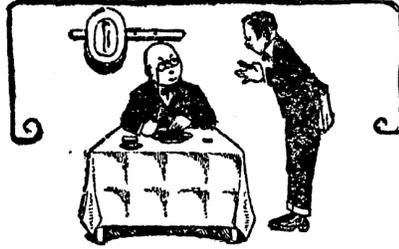

When a girl thinks she has a broken heart it's a sign it can stand a lot more smashing.

VALUE PAINTED ON.

Well painted is value added whether the house be built for one thousand dollars or ten thousand. Well painted means higher selling value, and higher occupying value—for there's an additional pleasure in living in the house that is well dressed.

National Lead Company assist in making the right use of the right paint by sending free upon request to all who ask for it, their "Houseowners' Painting Outfit No. 49." This outfit includes a book of color schemes for either exterior or interior painting, a book of specifications and an instrument for detecting adulteration in paint materials. Address National Lead Company, 1902 Trinity Building, New York City, and the outfit will be promptly sent to you.

A Question of Grammar.

Hetty's uncle, who was a school teacher, met her on the street one beautiful May day and asked her if she was going out with the Maying party.

"No, I ain't going."

"Oh, my little dear," said her uncle, "you must not say 'I ain't going,'" and he proceeded to give her a little lesson in grammar. "You are not going. He is not going. We are not going. You are not going. They are not going. Now, can you say all that, Hetty?"

"Sure I can," she replied, making a courtesy. "There ain't nobody going." —Lutheran.

Adjustable.

Aunt Anne, an old family dorky, was sitting with knees crossed in the kitchen, when the young daughter of the house entered and, impressed with the hugeness of the old woman's feet, asked what size shoe she wore.

"Well, honey," replied Aunt Anne, "I kin wear eights; I generally wear nines; but dese yer I've got on am twelves, an' de good Lawd knows dey hu'ts me!"—Everybody's Magazine.

How England Got New Zealand.

How New Zealand became a British possession is one of the romances of colonization. Seventy years ago it was a sort of no man's land, but it leaked out that France contemplated annexation. There was a race from Sydney between a British and a French man-of-war, the former winning by a few hours and securing New Zealand for the British crown. A few years previously a French adventurer, Baron de Thierry, at the head of 100 followers, whom he had recruited in Sydney, had proclaimed himself "king of New Zealand," but the baron had not sufficient funds to maintain a monarchy. His subjects deserted and his reign collapsed.—London Chronicle.
