In the matter of the assessment of the property of the El Paso & R. I. Ry. Co. New Mexico Fuel Co. It appearing to the board that the said property is land and real estate and the assessment of said property as fixed by the board and as it now appears

The board adjourned to meet Nov. 23, 1909, at 10 a. m.

Man, Not Jail, Full.

A rather amusing incident occurred one day this week in which two ought to have been full, but only one was. One of the boys had been indulging too freely in the cup that cheers and was taken to the jail, which is a large structure but at that time empty, in order to allow the heated brain to cool and the unsteady legs to recover so that they could keep pace with the body. Just as they reached the building the prisoner said: "Whatcher going to do (hic) with me?" The officer replied that he had to go to jail for being drunk. "Huh!" said the prisoner, "If you put men in here (hic) for being drunk, (hic) looks like (hic) you'd have the (hic)d—m thing full!"

DIETING A RAILROAD ENGINE

Locomotives Kept Under the Care of High Salaried Food Experts.

Railroading is a pretty exact science and the big engine on the testing table at Altoona is only one of many evidences of the skill that is being brought to bear upon the operation of the great railroad properties of the country at the present time.

This engine goes upon diet, says Outing. Dr. Wiley down at Washington, with his young men sustaining themselves scientifically upon measured and selected foods, has something of the same method that is shown with the test engine at Altoona. Its supply of coal is carefully weighed and analyzed by sample.

An accounting of the amount consumed down to ounces is kept; the water supply is also examined and measured with great care. When the test is finished and the big captive engine has covered miles of theoretical grades with a long theoretical train hitched on behind the experts get busy with their pencils and begin to prepare the reports upon which their chief may rely when he goes ahead to construct another gross of 100 ton locomotives.

There is no guesswork about modern railroading. Many hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent each year in expert scientific tests of every sort, in the salaries of men who devote their entire time to this work, and the railroads reap the benefits of many more hundreds of thousands of dollars in operating economies.—Philadelphia Record.

HEAVIEST FREIGHT TRAIN RUN

The Pennsylvania Railroad Claims Record for 5,544 Tons for 127 Miles.

What is said to be the heaviest freight train ever hauled by one locomotive on any railroad in this country, and probably in the world, has been moved over the Pennsylvania between Altoona and Enola, near Harrisburg, Pa. A single locomotive, No. 1,113, pulled a train of 105 steel cars loaded with 5,544 tons of coal, for 127 miles in seven hours and 12 minutes, or at an average speed of 17.6 miles an hour.

This record movement marks the culmination of a series of tests made for the purpose of determining the hauling power of the most improved types of locomotives used in the regular freight service of the Pennsylvania over the best grades of the system.

That part of the line over which the test was made from Altoona to Enola presents at no point a greater grade than 12 feet to the mile. The latest link in the chain of improvements which resulted in this extremed reduction of grades and removal of curvature was completed and opened to service recently between Mount Union and Ryde.—Philadelphia Record.

Depew in Form.

Senator Depew, at a tariff dinner in Washington, was in superb form. His definition of memory set the table in a roar.

"Memory," said Senator Depew, "is the feeling that steals over us when we listen to our friends' original stories."

Delphic.

Neat was a Delphic utterance that the newspapers quote Mr. Harriman as offering to certain inhabitants of Bad Gastein who held stock in one of his railroads:

"You'd better keep it. It's all right. You will be surprised at what is going to happen."

The tip is good either way.—Life.

DR. SYNTAX CHINA

Worcester Woman the Possessor of Famous Collection.

Story of How Rowlandson Drew the Pictures and How Clews Came to Put Them on His Well-Known Dark-Blue Ware.

Boston.—Among the various kinds of old blue Staffordshire china there is none in greater demand or more difficult to find than that bearing the famous Doctor Syntax designs.

The pictorial ware can readily command a fancy price, for it is not uncommon for $40 to be paid for some of the plates and from $200 to $300 for some of the platters.

Mrs. Emma DeForest Morse of Worcester, Mass., is the fortunate possessor of nearly all the subjects, included in this series. It is not only a most remarkable collection, but it is by all means the largest and most complete known. Each one is a perfect specimen of the beautiful dark blue printed ware made between 1820 and 1830 by R. & J. Clews, the well-known English potters.

Doctor Syntax's three tours in search of the picturesque, of consolation and of a wife, were created by Rowlandson, the famous caricaturist, who made a series of drawings representing an old clergyman and schoolmaster in love with the fine arts and who traveled during his holidays in quest of the picturesque.

The first-named was made in 1810 and taken to Mr. Ackerman, a print seller of the Strand, who, in turn, invited William Combe, a most prolific writer of those days, to furnish a text for the drawings, resulting in the schoolmaster's tour, as it was called on its appearance in the Poetical Magazine. Doctor Syntax instantly sprang into widespread popularity, to the extent that Syntax wigs, Syntax hats and coats soon became the proper thing.

Doctor Syntax was next reprinted in book form and after several editions had been exhausted, Combe & Rowlandson together prepared a second series called "Doctor Syntax's Tour in Search of Consolation." This was in 1820 and the following year came Doctor Syntax's laughable "tour in search of a wife," which undoubtedly contained some of Rowlandson's best designs.

It is said that Combe used to pin up the various sketches against a screen of his apartment in the King's Bench and write his verses as the painter wanted them. He was a most prolific writer and between the years 1773 and 1823 he wrote and edited upwards of 100 books, contributed to a score of journals and furnished, according to his own notebook, fully 2,000 columns of matter to the magazines and newspapers.

It happened that about the time of the vogue of Doctor Syntax, Clews was making his lustrous, dark-blue ware for the American market and he immediately seized the opportunity to add to his fame by reproducing the various Syntax designs with an accuracy that characterized the Clews china.

One series began with the doctor's preparations for his tour of the lakes, accompanied by his mare Grizzle:

At length the lingering moment came That gave the dawn of wealth and fame; Incurious Ralph, exact at four, Led Grizzle, saddled, to the door, And soon, with more than common state, The doctor stood before the gate. Behind him was his faithful wife. "One more embrace, my dearest life." Then his gray palfrey he bestrode, And gave a nod and off he rode. "Good luck, good luck," she loudly cried. "Vale! Oh, Vale!" he replied.

This story is distinctly portrayed within the limits of a dinner plate, or in the larger scope afforded by a platter. Then follows a list of calamities which befell the unfortunate traveler in rapid succession. First he loses his way and then he is stopped by highwaymen and finally bound by them to a tree. Here he remains in duration for a while, until liberated by two buxom matrons, who are seen on their trotting palfreys riding to his rescue.

The Syntax dishes are occasionally seen in colors, as in the case of the specimen in the Morse collection, which illustrates "Doctor Syntax's Travels." These are probably of a later period than the Clews china.

PLUM GOES TO A VIRGINIAN

Royal E. Cabell Appointed Internal Revenue Commissioner, Succeeding John G. Capers.

Washington.—Royal E. Cabell, for the last three years postmaster at Richmond, Va., has succeeded John G. Capers as commissioner of internal revenue. Capers retires to take up the practice of law. Mr. Cabell is only 32 years old, and is the youngest man ever appointed to the commissioner's chair. He is a graduate of Princeton and was admitted to the bar in 1901.

Much importance now attaches to the position Mr. Cabell holds, for under the new tariff law he will be charged with the responsibility of the collection of the corporation tax, in addition to several hundred millions of other revenue.

President Taft met Mr. Cabell at the Virginia Hot Springs at a meeting of the State Bar association the summer prior to his nomination for the presidency. They became very good friends, and this friendship has now landed in the lap of Mr. Cabell one of the most desirable plums.

The Wasted Eulogy.

"You'd think, a lot of people do," said the Sky Pilot, "that there are an awful lot of emoluments about this office, but there aren't so many. You don't get so much money on the side as they think you do. Now the other day I went to preach the funeral sermon of a man where the flowers cost nearly $200. I preached a mighty fine sermon, eulogizing him to the skies, and do you think they presented me with a five or a ten spot for my trouble? Not a penny. If I'd have known it I wouldn't have wasted quite so much eulogy over the remains of that dear departed."

The Perils of Propinquity.

"How did that freight boat of yours pay this season?"

"Not very well. Still, her record in one way was highly satisfactory."

"What way was that?"

"Out of the total number of guests carried in her cabins during the summer, twenty-six became engaged, and there have been seven marriages."

"An aviator cannot boast of his family."

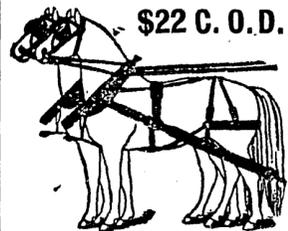

"Why not?"

"Because in his profession there is no cause for boasting of descent."—Baltimore American.

The October Century.

The most timely feature of the October Century is the Clermont chapter of "Fulton's Invention of the Steamboat," written by the inventor's great-granddaughter, Mrs. Alice Cray Sutcliffe. This second of two valuable historical articles is devoted to the Clermont's making, launching and history; and the narrative includes many of Fulton's own letters and manuscripts, now published for the first time, in addition to autographic plans for the Clermont, recently discovered. Other timely articles of the number include Mr. A. Barton Hepburn's discussion of the question: "Is a Central Bank Desirable?" contracting the rigidity of the United States currency with the flexibility of the currency of other nations; also two articles on the growing use of the "finger-print" system of identification in governmental and business circles. Charles B. Brewer tells of their use in the United States navy and elsewhere; and Jay Hambidge has much of interest to say on the remarkably successful use by the New York police of this new method of identifying criminals.

Roosevelt May Complete Work on Canal

WASHINGTON.—There appeared in the newspapers the other day a story to the effect that when former President Roosevelt returns to this country from his African hunt President Taft will request him to take charge of the Panama canal and complete that gigantic work.

Friends of the former president say it would be no surprise if the report turned out correct. Mr. Roosevelt, as is well known, took the greatest personal interest in the Panama canal and there is no gainsaying the truth that had it not been for the "little opera bouffe revolution" on the isthmus there would have been no Panama canal, and had it not been for Mr. Roosevelt there would have been no successful "revolution." But that is history now and the work of constructing the canal is progressing nicely.

Just about two years ago, when the country was discussing the question of the renomination of Roosevelt, a certain western senator in conversation said:

"I do not believe there is any foundation for the stories that President Roosevelt will be a candidate to succeed himself. I think he was sincere when he made his famous statement on the night of election, 1904. Now the question is, what will he do after he leaves the White House?"

"While I have not discussed the question with the president, I feel that the one great work for him to do, after leaving the White House, is to complete the construction of the Panama canal. He is just the man to carry this great undertaking to a successful conclusion. It would link his name with this great waterway and preserve it for all time to come.

"President Roosevelt has the energy, the force, the determination and the ability to push the work to a speedy completion. I do not know that the president would undertake this task, if requested, but I am satisfied that his selection and acceptance of the appointment would give general satisfaction."

Uncle Sam Wants More Army Surgeons

ARMY surgeons are asking why is it that young physicians are not anxious to become attached to the army. There is at present a lack of candidates who present themselves for examination for appointment to commissions in the medical corps. The examinations held a few weeks ago in all parts of the country by special boards convened for the purpose resulted in producing about one-half the number of provisionally qualified candidates needed to fill the existing vacancies.

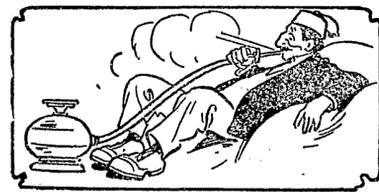

The initial pay of a new appointee amounts to more than $3,000 a year, which is much better than a young physician is likely to receive when he begins his practice in civil life upon graduation. The known advantages in the way of promotion and certainty of income and final retirement at the age of 64 years or before that time for disability would, it was thought, prove attractive.

The suggestion that the entrance examination is too exacting is not accepted as a reason by the authorities, who say the requirements are no more than should be within the capacity of graduates of the best medical schools.

One aid to the solution of the problem may be that of having a permanent examination board sitting in Washington, before which young men who are believed to be qualified may appear at any time during the year. There will be, as well, the usual semi-annual examinations. It is possible that the graduates have hitherto found it inconvenient to await before the regular board at the Army Medical school.

When they pass the physical and professional examinations they will be commissioned at once as first lieutenants in the medical reserve corps and detailed for duty at some army post, later coming to the school in the next regular class for training and the final examination which determines whether the reservist shall go into the permanent establishment and in what position he shall be commissioned. It is hoped by this means to restore the army medical corps to its full strength required to meet the demands made upon medical officers at home and abroad.

Persian Minister an Accomplished Host

GEN. MORTEZA KHAN, the Persian minister to the United States, is one of the tallest men in Washington, being six feet four inches in height. He also enjoys the distinction of being, outside the shah, the richest man in Persia. He is reputed to be worth at least $10,000,000.

He is a most accomplished and gracious host, and can both make and pour tea with an accomplishment and grace which is excelled by few leading noon receptions are a feature of the life of the capital.

When he came to Washington in 1906 he brought with him a rare assortment of rugs of almost inestimable value, some of them, it is said, being ladies in the land. His Friday afternoon, 1,500 to 2,000 years old. The sacred idols of Persia are represented in bronze and silver in his gorgeously furnished apartments.

He invariably uses orchids in a vase of cut glass as a centerpiece on the table of his dining room. The cloth is or oriental weave, and the plate is usually of gold. Innumerable other tables set with dainty dishes of delicious and delicate cakes, bonbons and fruits stand about the room temptingly in front of luxurious couches and cozy corners.

PAINT FAULTS.

It is a common occurrence nowadays to hear a man remark with disgust: "It is impossible to have good painting done these days; either the paint is not good or there are no good painters." This, however, is not true. There is good paint, and there are good painters. But the question is, bringing them together.

One cannot expect a satisfactory painting job without pure white lead. There is a way to make sure you are getting pure white lead without testing it. See that the keg bears National Lead Company's famous Dutch Boy Painter trademark, which is a positive guarantee of purity. However, anyone can test white lead. National Lead Company, 1902 Trinity Bldg., New York City, will send you a lead tester and painter's outfit, consisting of book of color schemes, specifications, etc., upon request.

HIS CHANCE.

"Hey, mister! Gimme a nickel an' I'll tell youse who trew dat peel down dere!"

They Didn't Have to Change.

During the years in which our pure food laws have been put into effect there has been a great hurrying and scurrying on the part of the food manufacturers to change their methods to make them conform to the law.

The Quaker Oats Company is a conspicuous exception. It was admitted that Quaker Scotch Oats was as pure and clean as possible and that it was an ideal food.

It is so cheap that any one can afford it and so nourishing that everyone needs it. The result of last year's experiments at Yale and other points where food values were tested is that Quaker Scotch Oats has been adopted by many persons as their food on which they rely for adding vigor and endurance of muscle and brain.

The Quaker Oats Company meets all demands in the way it packs Quaker Scotch Oats; regular size packages and the large size family package; the latter, both with and without china.

The report is now that we will be offered statehood, with a string to it—we must adopt a suitable constitution.

The territorial tax rate has doubled the past twelve years, and yet we hear a great deal about the economy of the republican administration.

Statehood will come when the east gets ready to give it to us. We are not making very strong calculations on the proposition, for we don't believe the east is ready.

The president seems to fear that New Mexico, if given statehood, will adopt a constitution like Oklahoma, and he can't stand for that. Our fear, if we are ever given the opportunity of framing a constitution, is that it will not be half as good as Oklahoma's.

The territorial rate of taxation has been lowered but once in 12 years, during which time the republicans have had full sway at Santa Fe. That slight decrease was made during the short time Mr. Hagerman was governor and the gang got rid of him as quickly as possible. The gang evidently believes with one of our former presidents, that "a cheap coat covers a cheap man." Economy is a good thing to talk about but the gang is willing for somebody else to practice it.

When a republican paper quotes figures on necessities and luxuries, showing the gross injustice of rates on necessities compared to luxuries, we take it that the paper is not prejudiced, but that truth compels it to arraign its own party. We quote this week from a republican paper, which is the most scathing denunciation of the recent tariff, which President Taft said was such a good law, that we have heard from any source. It gives a table showing that the tariff on sugar is nearly eight times greater than on diamonds; that champagne pays less than one-third the tax that is required on blankets; that wearers of stockings pay more than twice the rate of those who wear furs, and that dress goods wearers pay a rate three times greater than those who sail yachts. But, of course, this doesn't affect the average man, because he does not use sugar, wear clothing nor sleep under blankets, but does flaunt diamonds, wear furs, drink champagne and ride in yachts.

Death in Judge Cooley's Family.

Judge Cooley received a telegram Tuesday morning in the midst of court trial that his wife's sister, Miss Alice Dalton, was not expected to survive the day. He left that day noon. Miss Dalton lingered until yesterday morning at 7 o'clock. A brother is on his way from Boston, the old home, and with Mrs. Cooley, will leave with the body tomorrow for that city.

Miss Dalton had but recently arrived from Boston, to spend the winter with her sister, but immediately was confined to her bed with typhoid fever. The family had anticipated a very pleasant winter, and her death, under all the circumstances, is sadder than usual. The sympathy of all goes out to Judge Cooley and family.

A Little Court of their Own.

The inmates of the county jail have been holding kangaroo court this week, the victims being those who are unfortunate enough to be caught in the toils. The mandates of the court are implicitly obeyed and the fines levied readily paid. The victims must pay or stay, and as a result, the prisoners are enabled to purchase many delicacies and, for a time, forget their own difficulties in the discomfiture of others.

The county superintendent, in compliance with the law and instructions from the Territorial Superintendent, will request teachers and school boards throughout the county to see that children attending schools are vaccinated. The law provides a penalty for failure on part of superintendent or board to enforce this law, and no exceptions are permitted.

Court adjourned Tuesday, on account of serious illness in Judge Cooley's family. He left for Alamogordo that day. Court will reconvene next Monday.

Charles T. Sidlo, representing the J. H. Causey Co., bond buyers, Denver, appeared before the board of county commissioners Monday, in regard to the issuance of bonds. Mr. Sidlo expects to again be present when the board opens the bids on Tuesday, the 23rd., inst.

J. G. Riggle, probate clerk, was up from Lincoln Monday, to record the county commissioners proceedings that day. He started on his return to Lincoln, Monday evening, accompanied by his daughter, Genevieve, who has been visiting the Chew family at White Oaks the past two weeks.

Rev. G. C. Berryman, of Alamogordo, will preach Sunday at 11 and also at night in the Skinner building, which has been fitted up for a temporary court room. We understand that the Baptist congregation has called Rev. Berryman to this station and that they are considering the erection of a church building in the near future.

The grand jury has been in session since the first and has scoured the county from Dan to Beersheba for witnesses and has made many reflect on what they have been doing the past sixteen months. Fifteen true bills and about as many no bills had been turned into court Monday night, since which time they have made no report, owing to the absence of Judge Cooley.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Neid and children left yesterday for El Paso, from which point they will proceed to the Pacific coast. We would feel somewhat cut up over the departure of this estimable family if we did not recognize the propensity of Sam to wander back to Lincoln county. Sam has come and gone and come again, and will probably repeat. So we will not say farewell, but au revoir.

That Lame Back Means Kidney Disease

And to Relieve the Lame and Aching Back, You Must First Relieve the Kidneys

There is no question about that at all—for the lame and aching back is caused by a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder. It is only common sense, any way—that you must cure a condition by removing the cause of the condition. And lame and aching back are not by any means the only symptoms of derangement of the kidneys and bladder. There are a multitude of well-known and unmistakable indications of a more or less dangerous condition. Some of these are, for instance: Extreme and unnatural lassitude and weariness, nervous irritability, heart irregularity, "nerves on edge," sleeplessness and inability to secure rest, scalding sensation and sediment in the urine, inflammation of the bladder and passages, etc.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills are an exceptionally meritorious remedy for any and all affections or diseased conditions of these organs. These Pills operate directly and promptly—and their beneficial results are at once felt.

They regulate, purify, and effectually heal and restore the kidneys, bladder and liver, to perfect and healthy condition—even in some of the most advanced cases.

E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill., want every man and woman who have the least suspicion that they are afflicted with kidney and bladder diseases to at once write them, and a trial box of these Pills will be sent free by return mail postpaid.

Kidney Disease Shows Many Painful and Unpleasant Symptoms.

George S. Crowell, 1109 Broadway, Helena, Mont., says: "I was troubled with a disordered condition of the kidneys, some backache and irregular passages of secretions. This remedy helped me at once, strengthened my kidneys and corrected the disordered condition."

THE POSSIBILITIES OF RICE

Numerous Ways in Which It May Be Prepared and All Are Good.

While you are wondering, just as every housewife does these days, what in the world you are going to cook next that will be both appetizing and inexpensive, do you ever think of rice—plain rice?

There are so many ways one can use cold boiled rice. A favorite dish with the Italian housewife, and one that is well worth trying, for it is both economically and easily prepared, is called risotto. Cover the bottom of a well-buttered bake dish with finely chopped onion and put over it a thick layer of the cooked rice, then a layer of pimento, or sweet Spanish pepper, cut small. Then another layer of rice and a sprinkling of chopped onion. Cover with milk and bake slowly for an hour. Take out of the oven and sprinkle over the top half pound of grated cheese; bake for 15 minutes more, or until brown. Then serve.

Cold rice beaten with olive oil, lemon juice and cayenne pepper to taste, garnished with chopped parsley and served on crisp lettuce leaves, is an appetizing salad.

Grandmother would take a half teacupful uncooked rice, one egg, a dash of nutmeg, a cupful of sugar and beat them together in an earthen bake dish until the mixture fairly foamed. Then she would add three pints of fresh milk, put in moderate oven and bake slowly for two hours, stirring frequently. Serve cold.

The Home.

A cloth dipped into methylated spirits will be found useful in cleaning brown shoes.

When boiling halibut, cover the fish with minced green pepper. The seasoning will be found to be very delicious.

Green grape and elderberry make a delicious combination for a jelly. The proportion is twice as much as the elderberry as the grape.

It is difficult to keep bacon in the summer, but it will remain sweet if sprinkled with common soda and kept in a cool place. The soda keeps germs away.

To clean embossed brass make a solution of one ounce of oxalic acid and one pint of soft water. Apply with a soft brush and polish with chamois.

Don't rinse laces in blue water, under a mistaken notion that it will improve the color. It won't. Rinse in skimmed milk, which will give a soft creamy tint.

Fancy baskets in colors can be cleaned with water the same as any basket, but the colors are less liable to run if cold water and naphtha soap are used. Lined baskets can be cleaned in this manner.

Do not place a bed against the wall. Draw it out into the room, even if it is placed against the wall during the day. If one faces the wall he inhales his own breath over and over, which is very unhealthy.

How to Cook Lima Beans.

Navy beans are just as good as lima beans in this: Cook fresh-shelled lima beans in boiling water until tender, press through a sieve, add salt and pepper and a tablespoonful of butter to each pint of pulp. Stir in two well beaten eggs and bread crumbs enough to make a mixture thick enough to roll. Wrap in greased paper and at serving time bake in quick oven for 20 minutes. Serve with tomato sauce.

Wine Jelly.—Soak one-half package of gelatin in one-quarter cup cold water until soft, add one cup wine, one cup sugar, juice of one lemon, one pint boiling water. Strain and put on ice until hard.

Snake Story.

"Before he went fishing," said the town story-teller, he swallowed 'bout a pint an' half of snakebite remedy, an' of course you know what that is? Well, after the snake bit him, the reptile cut all sorts o' capers, but the remedy went straight to its head. Last thing it tried to do wuz to swaller its tail, an' it got itself in the form of a hoop, an' I'm a liar ef the children didn't roll it around all day!"—Atlanta Constitution.

HUMOR BURNED AND ITCHED.

Eczema on Hand, Arms, Legs and Face—It Was Something Terrible.

Complete Cure by Cuticura.

"About fifteen or eighteen years ago eczema developed on top of my hand. It burned and itched so much that I was compelled to show it to a doctor. He pronounced it ringworm. After trying his different remedies the disease increased and went up my arms and to my legs and finally on my face. The burning was something terrible. I went to another doctor who had the reputation of being the best in town. He told me it was eczema. His medicine checked the advance of the disease, but no further. I finally concluded to try the Cuticura Remedies and found relief in the first trial. I continued until I was completely cured from the disease, and I have not been troubled since. C. Burkhart, 236 W. Market St., Chambersburg, Pa., Sept. 19, 1908."

The Style.

"My! but the old lady from Holland is mad! Somebody ought to tell her it is not considered the thing to show such emotion in public."

"Why, she is just in the style."

"In the style?"

"Certainly. She is merely showing off her Dutch cholera."

Women Give Away the Millions Men Have Fought For

NEW YORK.—How is the American woman spending the fortune which the American man is amassing?

How does the American wife or daughter act as almoner for the American multi-millionaire?

Writers there have been, both American and foreign, who have declared that the American man's money went to create a nation of human butterflies. But social history goes to prove that the average wife or daughter of the average American man of enormous fortune stops between butterfly flights in social realms to study the desires and ambitions of husband and father as to the disposition of the millions he is so industriously acquiring.

Mrs. Leland Stanford was the pioneer in executing the charitable designs of her husband. She spent $33,000,000 for the educational advancement of California at Stanford university alone.

Mrs. Russell Sage is a close second, with $65,000,000 at her command, which she is dispensing at the rate of about $25,000 per day, or about $25,000,000 in the three years following her husband's death. Russell Sage gave 50 years of his life to acquire $65,000,000. At her present rate of expenditure Mrs. Sage will spend it all in carrying out her husband's plans for the betterment of the human race in five years. She has endowed the work of the Russell Sage Foundation, whose mission is to better the condition of the poor through investigation and education. She has lifted mortgages from churches and schools, endowed chairs of learning, built and equipped industrial schools for girls, lifted the debt from hospitals and shown interest in New York city to the extent of renovating the governor's room in the city hall, purchasing "The Oxbow" for the Metropolitan Museum of Art, planting a mile of rhododendrons in Central park and installing a Tillinghast window in the building of the New York Historical society.

Work of Miss Helen Gould.

Miss Helen Gould comes third in the list, with more than $10,000,000 in gifts from the enormous fortune left by her father, Jay Gould. While her unostentatious charities had always been a matter of interest, it was not until the war with Spain that the nation became widely interested in her gifts. At that time she sent her check for $100,000 to the United States government to be applied to the general relief work among United States soldiers, and within three months, as a member of the Women's Relief association, she increased her gift by some $27,000.

From that time on Miss Gould's interest in American soldiers and jackies has never flagged. Wherever the United States flag floats her name is cheered by the men who serve under it. The Naval Y. M. C. A. branch on Sands street, Brooklyn, was built at her expense as a memorial to her parents. Later she met the expenses of building a large addition, and the entire output for this one institution is said to approach closely to $1,000,000. To the naval Y. M. C. A., at Norfolk, Va., she gave $25,000. The railroad men's Y. M. C. A. next aroused her interest, and she gave $150,000 to build a new home for the Y. M. C. A., at St. Louis, Mo., this also a memorial to her father. Among her gifts, cited to show the breadth of her interests, may be mentioned innumerable donations to the Salvation Army, $5,000 given to the establishment of a University hospital at Charlottesville, Va.; $15,000 to the Y. M. C. A. at Tarrytown, N. Y.; $10,000 for the American College for Girls at Constantinople; $10,000 to the evangelists who had been conducting tent meetings in various parts of New York city and who were face to face with financial failure; $9,500 for a club house at Tarrytown, with gymnasium and cooking school for the poor; $40,000 to endow a chair of biblical literature at Mt. Holyoke college, in memory of her mother; $10,000 for a scholarship at Vassar to be named for her mother, Helen Day Gould; the endowment of a church for Indians at Guthrie, Okla.

Gould Millions Well Spent.

Over $10,000,000 of Jay Gould's legacy to his daughter have gone for charity, and almost invariably as a memorial to father or mother. Miss Gould is assisted in her work by a staff of trained social workers.

Mrs. Thomas F. Ryan, wife of the traction magnate, comes next to Miss Gould in the size of her gifts to churches and charities. A devout Catholic, her gifts to the church have amounted to many million dollars. Nearly $1,000,000 went to the building and furnishing of the Cathedral of St. Peter at Richmond, Va. At Washington, D. C., she established a branch of the order of the Perpetual Adoration, building for the order's use a chapel and convent. Five French nuns were installed there, one of whom is always engaged in prayer before the altar. The chapel cost $200,000, and under its altar Mrs. Ryan has built a crypt in which will rest the members of her family. Aside from her church charities Mrs. Ryan is particularly interested in the fight on the white plague and has endowed sanitariums and consumptives' colonies in Arizona and the Catskills. A Virginian by birth, she has presented to her native state suitable monuments to mark the scenes of all battles fought in Virginia.

In recognition of her gifts to the church Pope Pius X. bestowed upon Mrs. Ryan the title of "Countess," but she has never availed herself of the privilege. Another gift at the hand of the Vatican, which she does use, is the privilege of owning a traveling chapel, which was installed in her private car, "Pere Marquette." This is the only traveling chapel in America, and there is only one other in the world, the property of the queen dowager of Spain.

Mrs. Vanderbilt's Charities.

Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, formerly Mrs. Rutherford, has just given $1,000,000 for the erection of model tenement houses for the use of city sufferers with tuberculosis. These tenements will be built on plans especially drawn for Mrs. Vanderbilt and the scheme includes outside staircases, roofs arranged for the accommodation of convalescents, with loggias, toilet rooms and a sun screen of glass; balconies that can be transformed into outdoor sleeping rooms and air passages from street to street, insuring perfect ventilation. These apartments will not be rent-free. They may even prove an interest-paying investment for the Vanderbilts, but they will be under the patronage of the Presbyterian hospital authorities, who are making a tremendous fight on the White Plague.

Another section of the Vanderbilt fortune is going into English social work. The duchess of Marlborough, formerly Consuelo Vanderbilt, has established in London a much needed home for the wives and children of prisoners serving long sentences. She is also interested in the West Ham hospital, London, and it is whispered that under the influence of the Church Army she is becoming a most absorbed social worker among the poor and wretched of London.

Miss Morgan in Good Work.

Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of J. Pierpont Morgan, is a typical social worker of to-day, devoting her gifts and energies to the educational movement for the working classes. As a member of the National Civic Federation she investigates conditions under which women labor, and she has donated much of the funds necessary to establish clubs and restaurants for working people, such as the new club rooms and restaurant for street car employes on Third avenue and the restaurant for workers at the Brooklyn navy yard, where food is sold at cost and men are made comfortable with baths and gymnasiums. Miss Morgan's idea is to help the poor and those working on small salaries to help themselves, to create better conditions, not merely to alleviate.

Two young New York women, Miss Dorothy Whitney, who inherited a large portion of the William C. Whitney fortune, and Miss Mary Harriman, daughter of the late railroad king, are interested in the Junior league work among New York's public school children, and will donate the money to start dental clinics for poor children. Miss Harriman has recently equipped an old Staten Island ferry boat and donated it to the Red Cross committee of Brooklyn to be used in the fight on the White Plague. It will accommodate 100 patients and three meals will be served daily on the floating hospital.

Interested in Woman Suffrage.

Two New York matrons promise to spend goodly segments of their fortunes to advance the cause of votes for women. These are Mrs. Clarence Mackay, who has personally assumed the expenses of headquarters for the Equal Franchise society, of which she is the founder, on the twenty-ninth floor of the Metropolitan Life building; and Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, who, as the leader of the Equal Suffrage party, has assumed the responsibility of headquarters at 505 Fifth avenue. Mrs. Mackay, before entering upon her career as a leader in the franchise fight, gave large sums to support Long Island charities, to the building of a new church for Trinity Episcopal parish at Roslyn, L. I., and to its new parish house. Large sums she gave also for the betterment of the public schools of which she was a director and to arouse patriotism in the minds of public school children in New York city and its environs.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont donated $100,000 to the Nassau hospital at Mineola, L. I., and has been interested in diet kitchens among the poor of New York.

Miss Giulia Morosini, who inherited the bulk of the many millions accumulated by her father, Giovanni P. Morosini, the New York banker who died a year ago, spends large sums playing the perpetual role of Lady Bountiful for the benefit of needy ones, and particularly children in the Bronx. And at Christmas time she is Lady Santa Claus, distributing wagon loads of dolls and dollar bills and other gifts among the poor. Her donations to charitable and other worthy institutions are large.

A young woman who is making Pittsburg sit up and take notice of her methods of spending money is Miss Helen Frick, daughter of a multi-millionaire father, who is himself a most liberal giver. Miss Frick's name is on the endowment list of Kingsley Settlement House and nearly every flourishing charity in Pittsburg, but it is in individual cases that her liberality shines most clearly. Her loyalty to her native city, from which she will not be lured by New York, London or Paris, is a cause of rejoicing among Pittsburg social workers.

Fights Infectious Diseases.

The two American billionaires, John D. Rockefeller and Andrew Carnegie, still order the management of the charities, but their women folk are by no means idle. Mrs. Rockefeller has always been a home-loving woman who left charities, their investigation and relief, to her husband, but Mrs. Harold E. McCormick, formerly Edith Rockefeller, has her own methods of conducting charity work. With her husband she endowed a new "Journal of Infectious Diseases" with $125,000, shortly after the death of her son, Jack, from scarlet fever. Her interest in the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research has also been very great. But her individual charities are to her the most absorbing. The Baptist church, of which she is a member, has been her chief beneficiary and many a tired church worker and unappreciated pastor has received from her a check representing a long rest or a trip abroad.

In Pittsburg the name of Margaret Carnegie is not unknown, for in the name of his little daughter Mr. Carnegie has endowed many social movements, including Kingsley Settlement House, hospital beds, etc. The Margaret Morrison Carnegie School for Women, part of the Carnegie institute scheme of education, is named for his mother and it is generally thought that Margaret Carnegie, aged 12 years, will be trained to carry out her father's scheme of benefactions.

He that would have the fruit must climb the tree.

NECESSARIES VS. LUXURIES.

One of the claims made for the new tariff bill by Senator Aldrich and other sponsors was that it bore down strongly upon the luxuries, thus making the rich who consume them, pay more for them, while at the same time it greatly reduced the rates on the necessities, the things that the great middle class use, thereby reducing the prices upon them.

The News was curious to learn whether this was true or not. It listed eight articles that are distinctly luxuries, and it also listed eight other articles which are distinctly necessities. Here they are:

Yarns	138.12

BUSY GUBERNATORIAL BEE.

Since the announcement of Gov. Curry's resignation, all kinds of men have been mentioned as his successor, and there are many others who have not been named who would not turn the job down. The hardest jab we've seen on the candidates and the retiring governor is from the Tucumcari Sun, and the editor must have had a serious billious attack when producing the article. The article is herewith reproduced, without comment or endorsement, merely because it is somewhat of a gem—not particularly literary—but nevertheless worth reading:

Down to date only eleven Republican candidates have heard the buzz of the Gubernatorial bee and have become active in trying to secure the commission soon to be laid down by Governor Curry. They are, Levi A. Hughes, Paul A. F. Walter, J. M. Cunningham, H. O. Bursum, Nathan Jaffa, J. R. McFie, M. A. Otero, A. L. Lawshe, Solomon Luna, F. R. Andrews and W. H. Pope. It is expected that Battling Nelson will make his announcement soon and complete the dozen.

In this list there are some who ought to be "stood up and shot as undesirable citizens" and public enemies. But there are some good men among them, and the best man of the whole lot is Judge W. H. Pope of Roswell. We have kept ourselves acquainted with his work and find that he has done more to secure law and order than any other man in New Mexico. He has a high sense of honor and is in every respect a gentleman. He is qualified for the office and none in New Mexico could fill it better. He is as superior to the present incumbent as the eagle is to a humming bird, and would redeem the Republican party from the perfidy of which it has been guilty in New Mexico and end the reign of graft.

The Sun seconds the nomination of Judge William H. Pope, of Roswell, if a democrat may be allowed to do such a thing.
