Bryan in New York.

AGAINST IMPERIALISM.

Below we give a section of William J. Bryan's great speech at the $1 banquet in New York the 15th inst., this particular portion of his speech dealing with the Philippine question. His well known opposition to the trusts and the gold standard was enunciated as forcibly as ever, and his effort concluded on imperialism, as follows:

"There is another subject that is not included in the Chicago platform and is yet included in the principle it sets forth. The President in his message of 1898 asked for a standing army of 100,000 men. We have had no national convention since that time. But Democrats do not have to have a national convention to learn that the Democratic party is opposed to militarism in the United States.

Seventy thousand more soldiers needed than in 1896! Why? For internal protection? Why, what has happened since 1896—except the Republican Administration?

Does a Republican Administration make more soldiers necessary? When prosperity comes and confidence is restored is it necessary to have soldiers to point it out with bayonets?

But they tell us that they need them for outside service. Where? In Cuba? Oh, no, not permanently because the President has promised the Cubans that our occupation is only temporary, therefore he would not need soldiers permanently in Cuba. Nor are they needed in Porto Rico.

My own opinion has been that the people of Porto Rico should be permitted to choose for themselves between annexation and a republic of their own. But so far they have expressed no desire for a republic, and seemed to desire annexation. So that there does not seem to be any necessity for a large army there.

Where do we need a large increase in the army? In the Philippines? Why, my friends, the President in his Boston speech said that the question was to be settled by the American people, and until the American people settled it, how do you know it will need 70,000 soldiers there permanently?

But if we do, according to their argument, need 70,000 soldiers there permanently, then I ask you, my friends, what is the expense going to be? It is estimated that it costs $1,000 a soldier to keep the army in the United States, and $1,500 a soldier to keep the army outside the United States. So 70,000 soldiers would mean over a hundred millions a year.

Who pays the money? The Filipinos? Why, my friends, if we make the Filipinos pay the expenses of our army we will have to tax them several times as much as Spain ever taxed them.

But if not sixteen months ago forcible annexation could not be thought of, now 40,000 soldiers in the Philippines are on the way to carry forcible annexation to the Philippine Islands.

Sixteen months ago, contrary to our code of morality, now a religious duty; sixteen months ago criminal aggression, now manifest destiny. What a change in sixteen months.

I am not ashamed to stand to day where McKinley stood sixteen months ago, and denounce conquests as contrary to our code of morality. But, my friends, we must give the President credit for a remarkable retreat from Atlanta to Boston. I read his speech made at Atlanta, where he asked, "Who will haul down the flag?" and I read his speech at Boston where he said in substance, "If the American people will just take things out of my hands and settle it I will be everlastingly obliged to them."

And as I compared these speeches I was reminded of the retreat of Xerxes with his hosts, and that hereafter when we want to speak of a great retreat we will mention this retreat from Atlanta to Boston, rather than of Xerxes.

The opposition to imperialism has grown so rapidly that the President was constrained to deny any purpose to enter upon such a course. But the denial is of little value when the purpose upon the part of the Administration is so apparent. The proclamation issued to the Filipinos plainly indicates a purpose to govern them without consent and to tax them to suit our purposes rather than their own. According to the plan thus far outlined the constitutional guarantees which protect the people of the United States will not be extended to the Filipinos; our people will govern themselves; the Filipinos will be governed by the Executive through officers appointed by him. In this country we shall have a republic in the Philippines a despotism. A despotism is not relieved of its name because of its benevolence.

A government wherein authority rests on force and where the people have no voice in making and executing the laws under which they live is despotic in its form. When we pleaded for independence for the Filipinos we pleaded for our own people rather than for them. We believe in the doctrine of self government and are not only unwilling to deny it to alien races, but we fear that a denial of it in one part of the nation will lead to the abandonment of it entirely. The moment force is raised above reason, the moment might is substituted for right in the government of any part of this country, that moment decay attacks the fundamental principles of the republic. If the people become sufficiently indifferent to the doctrine of self government to permit its abandonment in the Orient they will not long defend it here. It is a significant fact those who in 1896 were willing to borrow a financial system from England are now foremost among the people who would borrow a colonial policy from England. How long before they would be willing to borrow the laws of entail and primogeniture and the splendors of a royal court and a titled nobility."

WORD "REBEL" TO BE OBLITERATED.

"There Are No Rebels" Says Rear Admiral Philip.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, April 18.—"The Civil War is over," said Rear Admiral John W. Philip, commandant of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, standing before a huge chunk of iron in the yard that was being repainted. "There are no rebels There never were any rebels. Let's forget the whole matter and paint it out."

Here is the story:

For nearly thirty years, now, there has been displayed before the commandant's office at the navy yard, where thousands of visitors have seen and inspected and shown great interest in it, a trophy of the Civil War. It is a great, massive bulk of iron, queer in shape, weighing many tons. The inscription, painted on it in large letters, which all might read told how it had been the ram of the "rebel" vessel Mississippi, captured by the union naval forces. The Mississippi was one of the most dreaded of confederate vessels, being similar to the ram Tennessee and the iron clad Merrimac.

The big chunk of iron has to be painted about once a year in order to keep it in a presentable condition and to prevent the accumulation of rust. Workmen engaged in the annual spring cleaning up about the navy yard were at work last week, and in course of their labor came upon the ram. They had started to repaint it when Admiral Philip came along.

The officer who ordered his men to remain quiet when they had just achieved a great victory over Cervera's squadron off Santiago, and uttered those immortal words, "Don't cheer boys; the poor devil's are dying!" stood silent and thoughtful, watching the painters at work on the ram. His mind ran back thirty years to the time when, as a young mid-shipman, he had remained loyal to the union, which was torn by the bitterest strife, to the hard fighting he and others had gone through; to the foe who, mistaken though he might have been, yet showed by his courage and chivalrous acceptance of the inevitable outcome that he was a brother.

"Painters," the Admiral called out, while traces of moisture were suspiciously noticeable about his eyes, "when you repaint that inscription, just leave out that word 'rebel.' There are no 'rebels now; there never were any."

The ram still lies there at the door of commandant's office. But printed in bold black letters across the face is the simple inscription:

"The ram of the Mississippi."

The Best in the World.

We believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best in the world. A few weeks ago we suffered with a severe cold and a troublesome cough, and having read your advertisements in our own and other papers we purchased a bottle to see if it would effect us. It cured us before the bottle was more than half used. It is the best medicine out for colds and coughs.—The Herald, Andersonville, Ind. For sale by M. G Paden.

STRATON'S MINE SOLD.

Colorado Springs, Colo., April 20.—The Gazette says it has received a cablegram from London confirming the sale of W. S. Straton's Independence mine at Cripple Creek to the Venture company for $10,000,000.

Pneumonia is one of the most dangerous and fatal diseases. It always results from a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will quickly cure a cold and perhaps prevent an attack of pneumonia. It is in fact made especially for that ailment and has become famous for its cures over a large part of the civilized world. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. Can you afford to neglect your cold when so reliable a remedy can be had for a trifle? For sale by M G. Paden.

Official Paper of Lincoln County

Joseph B. Coghlan.

Thirty years ago the subject of this sketch, now commander of the cruiser Raleigh, was found guilty of criticising a superior officer and the sentence passed upon him was that he should never be promoted. Had it not been for this sentence, instead of now being only Captain, he would probably be enjoying the rank and privileges of Admiral Dewey.

That discipline is necessary to reach a state of efficiency is not to be denied, and no doubt Captain Coghlan's language was an infraction of the rules: whether or not it should have subjected him to so severe a sentence may be another question. At any rate the Captain of the Raleigh has fought gallantly ever since, with the knowledge that his gallantry would avail him naught, and at the battle of Manila his ship was in the thickest of the fight, the first shot of that famous battle being fired by the Raleigh.

Naval operations having about ceased in the Philippines, Admiral Dewey sent Coghlan and his ship home, thinking that in the warmth of the Captain's reception the powers that be would remove the bar to his promotion. Coghlan came, saw and conquered; and at a reception in New York the other night made use of language that was not complimentary to the Germans who were at Manila during the Spanish-American war. Ninety per cent of the American people believe with the Captain that the Germans were meddling where they had no business, and were open to censure.

The German Ambassador made a protest, and now it is currently reported that Coghlan is to be deprived of his command for uttering what a great majority of Americans believe to be true. The Administration, however, does not seem to appreciate a man like Coghlan, but makes pets out of men like Sampson and Carter.

THE CZAR ABDICATES.

The retirement of Speaker Reed from the Halls of Congress and his giving up the speakership, the second office in importance in the government, to become a member of a New York law firm is the talk of the hour and has led to a great deal of discussion as to who his successor will be and as to his future political aspirations. It is suggested by some that his removal to New York is for the purpose of securing the support of that state in his candidacy for the presidency.

Be that as it may, Tom Reed is as big a man to day, and is so recognized by the people, as if he were sitting in the presidential chair; and a great deal better and wiser man than the one now warming that chair. That Reed is a partisan no one will dispute, and the democrats have had occassion to rate him soundly for his arbitrary and partisan rulings during the three terms that he has ruled the house with an iron hand, gaining for him the title of "Czar", but none ever questioned his honesty or doubted his patriotism. He has one of the strongest personalities of any man who ever sat in the national house of representatives and no member of his party ever deserted him on the floor; a measure he proposed always going through, one he opposed was as surely killed.

Reed is not a schemer nor is he what is termed a "slick" politician, but his supremacy in his party was gained and maintained by his solid good sense, his bulldog tenacity and his outspoken manner of dealing with any legislation, either for or against. He never attempted and never was accused of occupying both sides of the fence on any question; that is contrary to his nature, and when the administration was faltering and trying to avoid some public question, Reed pursued the even tenor of his way and it was by his efforts solely that the administration was relieved of many embarassing situations.

Politically Reed's principals according to Democratic theory are wrong and the continuation of those principles put into practice will produce disaster, as evidenced by present conditions; but if the Republicans are to continue in power it is to be regretted that Thomas Bracket Reed is to leave the stage of public action and his place to be filled by an inferior man in mental capacity and honest and straightforward dealings.

There have been many Republican presidents, but there has been but one Tom Reed, and if Republicans are to win the victory next year it would be to the interest of the people that Reed was at its head; for with him at the helm all duplicity would cease and a substantial firm policy would be adopted and pursued.

To the Czar, then, we cry all hail and hope he may be able to defeat President McKinley for a renomination.

LANG AND CARTER—A CONTRAST

One Railroaded Out of the Army—The Other Convicted a Year Ago, Retains His Place.

(Special to the World.)

WASHINGTON, April 20.—It is of interest at this time to compare the case of Lieut. Clarence Lang, who has just been railroaded out of the army, with that of Capt Oberlin M. Carter, who was convicted about a year ago of embezzlement, but who through political influence has retained his position in the army and has thus far escaped the penalty imposed by the court.

Lieut. Lang, upon receiving a commission in the army, married the daughter of an enlisted man. For this he was ostracized by military circles.

On April 4 an investigation was ordered into charges preferred against him by a fellow officer, who had found him at a hotel in Washington under an assumed name, accompanied by a woman not his wife. Further proceedings may be given as follows:

April 8—Court-martial recommended.

April 10—Court-martial begun.

April 13—Found guilty.

April 15—Gen. Merritt reviewed case.

April 18—President reviewed case and approved sentence.

April 19—Sentence made public and Lang dismissed.

Here is Capt. Carter's case.

August, 1897—Accounts examined and report made to War Department.

Nov. 20, 1897—Court-martial recommended.

Dec. 6, 1897—Court-martial ordered.

Jan. 2, 1898—Court-martial convened.

May 13—Court-martial ended; sentence, dismissal, imprisonment five years, $5,000 fine and public disgrace.

June 28—Record sent to Secretary of War.

July 15—Sent to President for final action.

Since then the papers in the case have been sent to the Attorney-General for review, and have passed back and forth between the White House and the Department of Justice, and are still pigeonholed.

Arkansas has passed an anti-trust law, Texas is considering one and has probably passed it by this time, and Missouri is to follow suit. The Federal Attorney General said that he had no authority to control the trusts, that province belonging to the several states; and the states are taking him at his word and enacting rigid anti-trust laws.

The Quay conspiracy trial came to a close the other day and the senator was acquitted by a jury of his peers. The governor at once appointed Quay senator, the legislature having adjourned without an election. The appointment, however, will produce no results; for the senate is the judge of its own members and it has refused to recognize appointments by governors when legislatures fail to elect.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

In the district Court in and for the County of Chaves and Territory of New Mexico.

Joyce Fruit and Co., Plaintiff. vs. Thomas G. Boone, Defendant. } No. 268. Civil Action. Attachment.

Notice is hereby given that by authority and command of a Writ of Vendition Exponas issued out of the said Court, in the above entitled cause, and to me directed, commanding me that of the lands and tenements, goods and chattels of the said defendant, therein referred upon attached and taken into my possession under that certain writ of attachment issued out of said court herein, as appears by the records of said court. I do cause to be made to satisfy the said plaintiff his judgment herein adjudged to him and his costs and interest etc., as set forth in the said Writ, to wit: the sum of $[illegible] damages, $10.00 costs of his said suit together with interest thereon from the 7th day of March A. D. 1899 ($1.56) and the further costs incident to the taking, keeping, advertising, selling etc., the said property now estimated at $136.15 making in all $[illegible].

And whereas the said defendant has not paid and satisfied said sums or any of them, now therefore, I will, on Friday the 5th day of April A. D. 1899 at the hour of Nine of the Clock in the forenoon of said day, at the Store house of said defendant in the Village of Nogal in the County of Lincoln expose for sale by public Auction, and will then and there sell to the highest and best bidder for cash that certain stock of general merchandise, so levied upon under said attachment and found in the possession of the said defendant and all such goods as formed part and parcel of the said levy, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the said Execution with the costs thereto added as aforesaid—and of this sale.

Witness my hand this 3rd. day of April A. D. 1899 at the said County of Lincoln.

"One Swallow Does Not Make a Spring."

No, it is the myriads of birds that announce the opening of bright days. They bring us promise of renewed health and strength. They teach us a lesson, which is to set our human house in order by thoroughly cleansing our blood, in fact, making it new, pure and bright.

There is only one real specific with which to accomplish this, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla, America's Greatest Spring Medicine, which never disappoints. As a purifier, its work is thorough, and good health is sure to follow.

Scrofula—"My little daughter, at three months, had terrible scrofula eruptions, scratching till the blood came. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured a year ago. Skin is now white, smooth and soft." Mrs. Willur Wells, Warren, Conn.

Neuralgia—"I had dreadful neuralgia. Was miserable for months. Neighbors persuaded me to use Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me perfectly." Mrs. Fred Turner, Barre, Vt.

Tired Feeling—"I had that tired, dull feeling, dyspepsia, headaches and sinking spells, but Hood's Sarsaparilla made me a new man. I never was better than now. John Mack, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Poor Appetite—"Spring finds me with a weakness and lack of appetite. I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla highly as a strength builder and creator of appetite." J. F. Ward, Labelle, Ohio.

Dyspepsia—"I know a positive relief for dyspepsia and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cured me. My neuralgia also stopped." W. B. Baldwin, 164 Oak Street, Binghamton, New York.

Running Sores—"We feared our little brother would be a cripple from a running sore on his foot. He grew worse under hospital treatment. Mother gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla and now he is entirely cured." Miss Mary Mascarie, Aurora, Ind.

Impure Blood—"My work was a burden to me until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla. Poor blood was the cause. Have gained flesh and have color in my face." Mrs. A. A. Howard, Taunton, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, the non-irritating and only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Three individuals, joint owners of a mining prospect in this camp, thought they had uncovered some good ore and decided to have it tested. They took the rock to a local assayer and the assayer gave them a certificate showing a value of $19,700.00 in gold to the ton. The assayer could not understand why such looking rock should run so high, but giving it a thorough test convinced himself that no mistake had been made. Later on it developed that other parties were guilty of perpetrating a practical joke on the prospectors. They had, while the assayer was not looking, wet the rock and dipped it into a crucible that had been used in making an assay on some cyanide bullion, and particles of gold adhered to the rock, thus giving returns that made the trio feel like millionaires: but oh, what a rude awakening.

The Sure La Grippe Cure.

There is no use suffering from this dreadful malady, if you will only get the right remedy. You are having pain all through your body, your liver is out of order, have no appetite, no life or ambition, have a bad cold, in fact are completely used up. Electric Bitters is the only remedy that will give you prompt and sure relief. They act directly on your liver, stomach and kidneys, tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new being. They are guaranteed to cure or price refunded. For Sale at M. G. Paden's Drug Store. Only 50 cents per bottle.

Walter Cluff, of Provo, Utah, and H. R. Streeper, of Centerville, Utah, Mormon missionaries, came to White Oaks last Thursday evening in a rather primitive way—walked from San Antonio. They registered at Hotel Ozanne and remained in the city until Saturday morning when they "hit" the road for Roswell in the same manner in which they came—traveling as did Christ, so they said; afoot, without money and without price. They failed to secure a hall to lecture in; therefore Mormonism was not publicly propagated in this place, and we have yet to learn of any converts to the order on the quiet.

New lines received this week: Ladies and Misses' Shirt Waists and Wrappers; men's fine and working Shoes. For nice, desirable goods call on S. M. Wiener & Son.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four Doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman. Trial bottles free at M. G. Paden's Drug Store.

Regular size 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded.

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF CATTLE.

In compliance with provisions of an act, in relation to brands, Approved Feb. 16th. 1899. Notice is hereby given that all brands in actual use, must be filed to be re recorded in the Office of the Secretary of the Cattle Sanitary Board, at Las Vegas, N. M. within six months from the date of this publication.

The circular letter required by the act, together with an application blank and instructions, will be mailed to every person in whose name a brand is now on record, whose Post Office address is given: and will also be sent for distribution to County Clerks, Post Offices, Merchants, Inspectors, &c. &c., and be furnished from the Secretary's Office on application.

Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

Kenna, Jackson Co., W. Va.

About three years ago my wife had an attack of rheumatism which confined her to her bed for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance, her limbs being swollen to double their normal size. Mr. S. Maddox insisted on my using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I purchased a fifty cent bottle and used it according to the directions and the next morning she walked to breakfast without assistance in any manner, and she has not had a similar attack since.—A. B. Parsons. For sale by M. G. Paden.

Bert Timoney leaves in a few days for Roswell where he goes to take charge of his father's business. Capt. McB. Timoney has been appointed to a position at Manila, hence the necessity for Bert's presence in Roswell. The particular branch of the service to which the Captain has been assigned is the military postal department, and he is to report for duty within thirty days.

HARD ON CORPORATIONS.

The following is an abstract of a part of a new statute passed by the last legislature. It was secured from Attorney Hugo Seaburg by the Colfax County Stockman, and applies to all corporations, foreign or domestic, doing business in the territory: "All corporations are required to file on or before the first day of July of each year, with the secretary of the territory, its annual balance sheet for the preceding year or such part of it as the company had been in existence, which statement must show its gross [illegible] income, gross expenses and dividends, and which statement is to be signed by the president and secretary and sworn to before an officer competent to take acknowledgments of deeds, and $1 is to be paid to the secretary of the territory for filing and registering the statement. Failure to comply with this requirement for three successive years acts a forfeiture of the corporation charter, and the secretary of the company, after notice to the company, enters such forfeiture in the record of book of the annual statement sheets.

Upon payment of the required fee the secretary of the territory furnishes copies of these balance sheets to persons applying for same.

Conflicting laws are repealed and this law is now in force."

MINING LAW.

An act to promote and encourage the development of the mineral resources of the territory of New Mexico, reads as follows:

Sec. 1. That no tax shall be assessed, levied or collected upon any mining claim in this territory, located under the mining laws of the United States; nor upon any shaft or workings therein until after patent shall have been duly issued therefor by the United States: and for one year thereafter, but nothing herein contained shall be held or construed to exempt from taxation as now provided by law, the improvements upon such mining claim other than the shaft and other workings as aforesaid, nor the net product of any such mining claim.

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage.

CATTLE SANITARY BOARD.

At the meeting of the cattle sanitary board at Las Vegas last week, among other things the board authorized the secretary to issue a circular letter to the cattlemen of the territory and a draft of the document was prepared on the spot. The letter relates to the re-recording of brands and a copy will be sent to every brand owner in New Mexico. It calls attention to the necessity for the re-recording, quotes the law on the subject and explains that the object of the work is to obliterate from the books all brands that are obsolete or that have been placed there by designing persons for purposes of fraud. The board will therefore receive applications from all owners of brands. The proper blanks will be sent to all the owners and others will be placed in the hands of the various county clerks, postmasters and inspectors. In the case of re-recording brands, all the expense that the owner will be placed under is for a ten cent internal revenue stamp. In the case of new brands not of record, the owners must accompany the application with the usual fee.

COPYRIGHT 1899 BY COSMOPOLITAN MAGAZINE

THE delights of an evening spent around a well-lighted reading table are not half understood. An illustrated magazine with its wealth of illustrations, its stories of adventure and love, its descriptions of travel which carry you to the remotest ends of the earth, and its instructive articles for young and old—these are the first requisites for your own enjoyment and the entertainment and proper education of your children.

To secure for you the best and most interesting of the great illustrated magazines at the lowest possible price has been the aim of the editor of this journal. That we have succeeded we leave our readers to judge. A special contract recently entered into with The Cosmopolitan, which seeks to become better known in this neighborhood, has enabled us to offer you a year's subscription to the greatest of the illustrated magazines together with a year's subscription to this journal,

Both Together One Year for Only $2.10

In this way you secure your own home paper and an illustrated magazine at a price that is only about a fourth of what some of the illustrated magazines sell for. For three years The Cosmopolitan has undisputedly claimed that it reached the largest clientele possessed by any periodical, daily, weekly or monthly, in the world. It was The Cosmopolitan which sent Julian Hawthorne to India to let the world know the real horrors of famine and plague. It was The Cosmopolitan which established at its own cost a great Free Correspondence University which now has over 20,000 students on its rolls. It was The Cosmopolitan which offered a prize of $1,000 for the best horseless carriage and prizes for best plans for public baths, and best arrangement of sewer and pipe systems for cities. It was The Cosmopolitan which set the presidents of great schools and universities seriously discussing the defects of existing educational systems. It is The Cosmopolitan whose enterprise is always in the lead in advancing the world's civilization.
