FAMOUS FRUIT BELT.

New Mexico Products Have a Wide Reputation.

Of all sections yet visited by farmers horticulturalists, stock growers and home-seekers in general none have proved so universally satisfactory as the New Mexico fruit belt, says the Durango Colo., Herald.

Not a complaint has been filed by visitors and not a single home-seeker who visited the Aztec Farmington section has failed to express either perfect satisfaction or to locate. If this favored section is now so attractive and interesting, what will it be when the thousands of acres of uncultivated lands are settled and seeded or planted in orchards and vines?

The record of the New Mexico fruit flavor and perfect growth is not local but extends to this and other counties, as the heavy fruit dealers in Chicago have shipped the products of our orchards to England and cities upon the continent where fancy fruit commands fancy prices. It is a pleasure to gaze upon the immense orchards, vast stretches of alfalfa and grain, waving corn and vegetable flowers that grow as that particular soil, and altitude alone can grow them. Irrigation is essential to the perfect growth of any and all products of the soil, as is evidenced by the superior quality of vegetables and food products generally grown in arid countries.

The Colorado vegetables, Utah celery, Idaho strawberries and New Mexico fruit are famous upon two continents and the demand is always in excess of the supply. As to other desirable advantages exclusive of those mentioned we may add pure water and a climate that acts like a charm upon all lung diseases.

A visit to the Aztec-Farmington section is money judiciously expended whether you locate or not. —Citizen.

What is said about the Aztec-Farmington section, is also true of portions of Lincoln county, no finer fruit is produced any where than in the mountain sections of Lincoln county and land almost for "the asking."

Tax payers wishing Spanish or English blank tax schedules can get them by applying at the office of the White Oaks Building and Lumber Co. B. F. GUNN, Assessor.

SANTA FE CREDULITY.

Santa Fe is certainly, and for many years has been, a good field for unsurpassable and preposterous liars, who find an incredible number of people to believe them. The alleged conspiracy case now being tried there is an instance. This creature Gardner lied when he accused Catron, Moore and Karnoff of inciting him to murder; and it is equally certain that he lies when he accuses Morrill and Bergmann of conspiracy. Yet in both cases he seems to have people there to believe him. We think the district attorney makes a mistake to prosecute against any one on the testimony of this self-confessed liar. He is no more worthy of belief when he accuses Col. Bergmann than when he accused Mr. Catron. He isn't even fit to go to a decent penitentiary, but we fear he will have to go back there for a time.—Citizen.

As usual those Democrats who have not feared to criticise the administration in its un-American policy of expansion have received the condemnation of the cuckoo element, and have received the complimentary title of "traitors" and the like—all of which is in keeping with the methods of the party now in power. If it is traitorous to severly criticise the policy of an administration then there are not enough loyalists in the country to people Dona Ana county. The fact, growing plainer every day, that in their opposition to trusts and expansion will lie the success of the democrats next year, it is very galling to the average republican, and if it were possible all of the democrats would be run out of the country. They may jump on to a luckless individual once in a while and force him to move, but thank fortune they have a little too big a job on their hands when they try to run all of the democrats out, and they will get plenty of plain truth just so long as democracy lives.—Las Cruces Democrat.

Colorado has a general and vigorous mining activity, New Mexico is keeping her pace, and the White Oaks country will yet be in the rank with Cripple Creek.

A Follower of Measles.—In many instances a persistent cough follows an attack of measles. In speaking of this Mr. Walter B. Beel, editor of the Elkin (N. C.) Times, says: "Three weeks ago I had an attack of measles which left me with a bad cough. I took several doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the cough entirely disappeared. I consider Chamberlain's medicines the best on the market." For sale by M. G. Padon.

An Epidemic of Whooping Cough.

Last winter during an epidemic of whooping cough my children contracted the disease, having severe coughing spells. We had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy very successfully for croup and naturally turned to it at this time and found it relieved the cough and effected a permanent cure.—John E. Clifford, proprietor Norwood House, Norwood N. Y. This remedy is for sale by M. G. Padon.

THE ILLITERATE EAST.

Nebraska is the banner state for education. Only 3.11 per cent of the population over 10 years of age are unable to read and write. Wyoming is second with a percentage of 3.41; Iowa third 3.61, and Kansas fourth; 3.99. Compared with this percentage of illiterates in Massachusetts 6.22, exactly double that of Nebraska. In New York state it is 5.53 and in Connecticut a little less, 5.28. In Ohio it is 5 24 and in Illinois 5.25.

Official Paper of Lincoln County

When the cuban soldiers are paid off they will have money to burn and there will be a hot time all night in Havana.

We gave Spain $20,000,000 for the Philippine Islands We should have made a better bargain if we had given her $20,000,000 to keep them.

President McKinley has gone to Kentucky to bathe the nicotine out of his system. hope when he has done so, that he will tell us what he thinks of the Philippine question.

Las Vegas it seems will capture the Rough Riders reunion as the people of that city have offered to pay all expenses of the Rough Riders who attend—Las Vegas is all right.

There is probably not any great number of men in this country who would rather be right than president, but there is any amount of them who would rather be rich than vice president.

The disposition to be made of the Philippine Islands is a matter to be settled hereafter say the Republicans. As that is the case, the only use we can now put them to is to keep them for our army to practice on the Filipinos.

So far as the war in the Philippines is concerned, it should be brought to a close by treaty with the Filipinos if we can get what we want and are entitled to. We don't want their islands except a naval station, but we want trade privileges secured to us which will give us all the advantages which we should get from ownership of the islands, without any of the expense and disadvantages. Of course, the war should not stop until the Filipinos do right—and accept our terms as to these things; but so soon as we can get these things the war should end. If the object be to make them a colony or territory of the United States then it should never have begun.

EXPANSION.

The question of expansion now so much talked about, simply means the extension of the limits of this government,—that we shall acquire foreign territory and govern the people by military rule as colonists, or that we shall admit them into this government as citizens and give them either a territorial or state government. "Simply this and nothing more." As for the Philippines, they must be held, if at all, as colonies or territories of the United States. To now admit them as a state is out of the question, those who oppose expansion, contend that there is no authority given in the constitution to hold such territory as a colony and thereby deny to the people inhabiting it, the right of self government and in the second place, that the cost of holding and governing, them as a territory and making the inhabitants citizens, would be far more than the benefit received. Those who oppose expansion, simply demand that the people of these islands be allowed to establish their own government and that the United States hold only sufficient land for naval purposes in the event of war with any foreign power and that we also secure trade privileges and indemnity money expended in acquiring the islands. Now, are you an expansionist? And do you want to make these Filipinos citizens and allow them to send congressmen to Washington after awhile, when they shall be admitted as a state, or states, to help make our laws? Or do you want this government to go into the business of establishing colonies and expend millions of dollars each month to maintain a large army and navy to whip the natives into submission to government by force of arms? Those who think the men who wrote the constitution of the United States knew what they were doing and were not a set of old fogies, are opposed to expansion, while the fellows who claim to have more patriotism than George Washington and that the constitution is a back number, are all expansionists.

The commission to inquire into the truth of the charges made by General Miles against the meat packers who supplied the American army in Cuba with canned roast beef, that the beef was embalmed, as every body expected, has reported that the meat was all right. Such report is absolutely false, as every one knows who read the testimony and was made to defend the millionaire meat packers. The commission dared not make a a manly report and so tried to make such a one as would fool the people by making it as evasive and straddling as possible. This report is understood to be such a one as was desired by the administration; and yet, many papers assert that it is criminal to criticise the President and his advisers. When men in high offices try to deceive the people in order to shield such cattle as these meat packers and Secretary Alger, the great incompetent, they forfeit the respect of people who believe in old fashioned honesty and fair dealing with matters effecting the welfare of the country.

The Indianapolis News sums up the report as follows:

"The canned beef was not good for steady diet, but the packers were all right. Eagan was in the wrong in buying so much of the canned beef, but the beef was good and the packers were all right. General Miles ought to have reported his views and suspicions about the beef as soon as he had any; but the beef was excellent, and the packers did their whole duty. Multitudes of witnesses say the beef made them sick, but it is not proved to the board's satisfaction that the beef had anything to do with the health of the troops, inasmuch as the beef is found by chemical analysis to be good, or even better and the packers were all right. Some of the under officers did not do their full duty in inspecting commissary supplies as carefully as they should, but really no harm was done as the canned beef was of excellent quality, and—what is more important—the packers were all right. That seems to be about the substance of the beef inquiry's report. But the people have read the evidence, too, and have a good deal more [illegible]

AN ANCIENT MANUSCRIPT UNEARTHED NEAR LAS VEGAS.

TOLD A STORY OF TRAGEDY AND HIDDEN WEALTH.

An entertaining story concerning the discovery of a cave and a lot of Spanish documents, together with a probable "find" of of a quantity of gold in bars of bullion, has been floating subrosa around Las Vegas for several days past says, the Optic.

A son of E. Gallegos, who lives near Las Vegas Hot Springs, in company with several other boys were exploring a small cave in that vicinty, when their attention was attracted to a plain slab which had the appearance of having been placed in position against the wall. The boys in their eager search removed the slab, and a small opening which had evidently been hollowed out for a purpose, and in the bottom of this small shaft found an ancient manuscript. Young Gallegos carried the papers home and gave them to his father who afterwards submitted them to Kihlberg, an expert Spanish scholar and antiquarian. Mr. Kihlberg found that the document was written in both Latin and Spanish. He gained enough of the story as told therein to learn that something like 300 years ago a party of Spanish and French colonist from Mexico had been attacked by Indians near this locality and all of the party save four had been killed. Subsequently one of the survivors died and he was buried close to the cave in which the documents were stored. The three persons remaining feared that they would never reach their country or fellow countrymen again and gave certain directions to be observed by the finders of the document in case they should perish.

The document stated that in a certain direction from the cave and at a certain distance, the grave of the man who had been buried would be found. According to certain other directions that were embodied in the manuscript, a quantity of gold and silver in the shape of bars of bullion would be found in the same locality. It was requested that the finders of the treasure forward a certain percentage of it to the heirs of those writing the document.

Guided by the manuscripts the mysterious grave, the site of which was marked by a flat rock on which was carved a hand, was easily found and the fragments of the skeleton of a man unearthed, but the gold and silver were not there. Mr Kihlberg who had deciphered the papers offered Gallegos $300 for his find, and T. B. Catron of Santa Fe being informed of the circumstances offered $1,500 for the papers. Mr. Manzanares of the firm of Browne-Manzanares Co. was taken into the confidence of Gallegos and they are continuing the search for the valuable treasure.

This story will probably be interesting to a number of men who have spent more or less cash in an old cave in Lone mountain during the last few years in search of the same treasure or a similar one to the above mentioned. The same amount of capital and labor expended in careful prospecting would doubtless prove a great deal more remunerative than the search for buried wealth—wealth probably never buried, or if buried, long ago taken up by some one who had better means of determining its whereabouts than information found in deciphering old latin and Spanish manuscripts. We have too many men in this country who are looking for something they havent earned.

The democrats stood by the president in the war with Spain and they are willing now to stand by him in the Philippine war; but they would like to know what we are fighting for. If the President has a policy he has not disclosed it—the only policy, therefore, which the administration has, is to whip them—kill all of them and treat with them after they are dead. Of course he could not treat with them now, for he don't know himself what he wants to do with either the Filipinos or their islands; so of course the war must continue until the Filipinos are all crippled, killed or jump into the ocean, and all because the President can't decide what to do with them. In the meantime the people foot the bills, yet, it is a sin and rank treason to criticise the administration.

MEMORIAL DAY PROCLAMATION.

Governor Otero Calls for Proper Observance of the Day.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE
Santa Fe, N. Mex.
May 17, 1899

Long cherished customs in our states and territories has established, and a grateful union has enacted, that one day in each year be set apart as sacred to the memory of our patriotic soldiers and sailors who have given up their lives in the service of their country; a day in which to recall their many sufferings and sacrifices, and to recount their valorous deeds, for the emulation of our youth, and keep the memory of our departed ones and their heroic example ever green in the hearts of all.

Since the day was last observed we mourn the loss of hundreds of patriotic heroes who lost their lives in our recent war with Spain, and it would seem but meet that the next day appointed should meet with a more general observance than any heretofore, and with a spirit and reverence fully becoming the occasion.

Now, therefore, I, Miguel A. Otero governor of the territory of New Mexico, do recommend that upon Tuesday, the 30th day of May, A. D. 1899, the people of the territory refrain from all unnecessary labor and all public amusements, and join with the survivors of the Grand Army of the Republic in the due observance of this day.

Let us on that day not only pay tribute to the memory of the heroic dead, but have a thought and care for the heroes who survive and are still among us, remembering that duty to the survivors is praise to the dead.

Miguel A. Otero,
Governor of the territory of New Mexico.

By the Governor:
Geo. H. Wallace,
Secretary of New Mexico.

MEMORIAL DAY, 18,

By Isaac W. F. Eaton,

Of Diglow's Light Artillery, Army of the Potomac.

We gather where our soldiers sleep
In spring's departing hours,
The memory of the brave to keep,
And strew their graves with flowers.

One sleeps beneath the northern pine,
Crowned with the victor's wreath
Another where the Southern vine
Weeps o'er the dust beneath.

But soft the azure skies surround,
And white the lilies bloom,
To deck the lowly Southern mound
Or wreathe the Northern tomb.

For he who rests beneath the palm
Strove in a hero's part;
Misguided may have been the arm,
But valiant was the heart.

Now, but one foe their sons do brave—
One cause their bosom thrills.
Look! see one flag above them wave
Upon the Cuban hills.

O, gray-haired heroes! ye who stand
Where once did paths divide,
Place ye the wreath with clasp'd hand—
Your dead sleep side by side.—

Frank Leslie May Fo.

Wonder if William J. Bryan was president, if we would know what his policy was in regard to the Philippines? Will undertake to say that not only would we know what his policy was, but the Filipinos would have known before they began fighting what to expect from the United States! But, with McKinley as president, we are as ignorant as the Filipinos as to his policy.

To atone for the millions extorted from the laboring classes Mr. Carnegie has declared his intention to devote the majority of his tremendous wealth to philanthropy and thereby justify the defence in his case when he joins issue with St. Peter on the other side of the river Styx.

Nogal was the scene of a regular free for all fight Sunday. A party of Mexicans at work on the big cut in Indian Canyon participated and a number of broken noses and empty purses, and two recruits at the county bastile is the result. The railroaders had a pay day Saturday and having more money than they knew what to do with fell upon the above plan to get rid of it.

How to Look Good.

Good looks are really more than skin deep, depending entirely on a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver is inactive, you have a bilious look; if your stomach is disordered, you have a dispeptic look; if your kidneys are affected, you have a pinched look. Secure good health, and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bitters" is a good Alterative and Tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils, and gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at M. G. Paden's Drug Store 50 cents per bottle.

NOTICE OF ELECTION.

Notice is hereby given to the qualified voters of district No. 8 Lincoln county, New Mexico, that an election will be held in said district on Monday the 5th day of June 1899, at the room East of store building formerly occupied by E. G. F. Uebrick; for the purpose of electing three (3) school Directors for said district, to serve for one year from date of election.

The election will be held by the school directors, beginning at 8 o'clock a. m. and closing at 5 o'clock p. m.

At this election only legal voters residing in, and paying taxes in said school district are qualified to vote.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man Any one who has had an attack of sciatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the infliction is demonic enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by M. G. Paden.

"A Man's Discontent Is His Worst Evil."

Spring is hardly the time for discontent, unless perchance it is caused by one's own carelessness. By this time every one should have looked after human house-cleaning in changing the surcharged blood from an impure, clogged state to one of cleanliness and purity.

Discontent will no longer reign if the wise course is pursued of taking that marvelous Spring Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is a blood purifier par excellence and by its action takes away all danger of any blood diseases and kidney or liver troubles. It never disappoints.

Run Down—"I am a wounded veteran of the civil war. I get all run down by spring time and not able to work. Hood's Sarsaparilla always cures me. My wife praises it for curing nervousness and rheumatism." J. A. Robinson, Colchester, Conn.

Scrofula—"My wife was afflicted with scrofula for fifteen years Scabs formed on sores. Hair was matted. Her skin was rough, itching and burning. Six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla worked a complete cure." M. E. Stevens, Charlotte Center, N. Y.

Asthma—"I was troubled with asthma for many years, being worse spring and fall. No medicine availed until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which completely cured me. Many others heard of my cure and they use Hood's." C. L. Rhodes, Etna, Ohio.

Female Troubles—"I would have welcomed death any time as a relief from catarrh of the womb and other serious troubles. The best physicians said my case was helpless. I stopped taking everything else and took Hood's Sarsaparilla. New life came to me and I gained until I am perfectly well and strong." Mrs. Emma J. Fisher, Lonedell, Missouri.

Backache—"I was miserable and tired, had no appetite and felt sore all over. My back ached so that when I stooped I could hardly straighten up. First bottle Hood's Sarsaparilla helped and three bottles made me strong and well." J. J. Egbbanner, 928 Meldrum Ave., Detroit, Mich.

I consider it not only a pleasure but a duty I owe to my neighbors to tell about the wonderful cure effected in my case by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I was taken very badly with flux and procured a bottle of this remedy. A few doses of it effected a permanent cure. I take pleasure in recommending it to others suffering from that dreadful disease.—J. W. Lynch, Dorr, W. Va. This remedy is sold by M. G. Paden.

HOW'S THIS?

During the past six weeks White Oaks merchants and business men generally, have received more than 350,000 pounds of freight. This represents more than 17 car loads, among which is general merchandise, grain, miners', supplies, mining machinery &c.

Paul Mayer alone has received 90,000 pounds up to Tuesday of this week; other business men have received from a few thousand pounds to a car load and a half. The Old Abe Co. has been second to Mayer, having unloaded something over 65,000 pounds, of which the new hoist weighed 45,000 pounds.

Traveling men have always said that White Oaks did more business than any town of its size in the territory and the above figures prove beyond a doubt that their statements are applicable at the present time at least.

No attempt has ever been made to boom White Oaks, and lengthly lies discoursing on the subject of flowing rivers of milk and honey, fountains of perpetual youth and stories of glittering gold, have not been necessary to establish this as one of the most substantial little towns in New Mexico. Our business men are intelligent and prosperous and have a reputation in business circles that would be a credit to a town many times larger than white Oaks.

It is a universal saying among those who visit White Oaks that they have never seen an inland town possessed with the energy and morality that characterizes this. The town has outgrown many complicated mining entanglements and gigantic schemes forced upon it by unscrupulous promoters but the time has come when their tricks are vain and their ways have been brought to wide open daylight. Our resources are of such character that the completion of the railroad now building is going to bring us capital for development. A vigorous mining activity is now ahead of us and the county's stock interests were never better.

During the next twelve months more capital will be turned loose here than in any other section of New Mexico, and the expenditures will be of such a nature that almost every inhabitant will be benefited thereby. A great prosperity is expected.

GEORGE WILLIAMS MURDERED.

A WOMAN IN IT.

Last Friday night at the lake 13 miles west of Roswell Geo. Williams, colored, was murdered. Williams lived at Picacho and was in the employ of Martin Chaves. He, Martin Chaves and Geo. Kimbrell were en route to Roswell with wool, and were camped at the lake for the night. They were seated around the camp fire eating supper when Williams was fired on, by an unseen assassin from under and back of one of the wagons, which was only a few yards from where the party were seated. Two shots were fired both of which struck Williams in the body killing him instantly. Neither Chaves nor Kimbrell saw the assassin, he evidently retreating as soon as his bloody deed was finished.

Williams recently married a young Mexican woman at Picacho and it is thought that his murder is the finale of the bad blood caused by the marriage.

CLIMATE and CROP SERVICE.
U. S. Department of Agriculture N. M. Sec.

The weather for the past week ending May 15, continued dry and windy generally, while the days have beed warm, but the nights cool. Light showers occurred over northern sections on the 8th, which greatly revived vegetation in those parts, but over the territory generally crops and ranges are suffering from the drouth, and some central and eastern localities are threatened with a scarcity of stitch water.

Corn planting progresses satisfactorily, and in the south is about finished. Spring wheat, oats and alfalfa, as a rule, are making a fair growth, although somewhat later than usual owing to the cool nights and lack of rain. The frosts not only damaged alfalfa in central sections, but it is thought will considerable delay the first cutting. In the warmer valleys of the south, the first cutting of alfalfa has already begun.

Special reports on the fruit prospects indicate that central sections suffered most from the frosts. In the lower Pecos valley apples and peaches promise a good crop, although the earlier frosts proved disastrous to plums, cherries, apricots, etc. In the lower Rio Grande valley fruits generally are very promising. Higher up the valley, in the vicinity of Albuquerque, and to the eastward, the blooms and young fruit generally were killed on all trees, and in the vineyard districts it appears that even the vines are dead. Further north the damage does not seem to be so great, many orchards appearing quite promising, although peaches, apricots and apples generally suffered greatly.

The lambing season, owing to the continued drouth and cold nights is proving very unsatisfactory. Reports indicate that over central and northern sections expectations average from 40 to 60 per cent. The recent showers, however, have brought more favorable conditions to northern counties. Range cattle while in fair condition, are not improving as they should at this season.

Ft. Stanton—F. B. Coe—Fine weather; corn has good stand, and and the acreage is large; oats growing well. Water is getting scarce, but stock is still in good condition.

Tularosa—Frank I. Otis—Good crops are assured this year; not as large as heretofore, but abundant and of good quality. On account of the cool weather, however, crops are late. Frosts came too late to do injury.

The Rio Grande is lower just now at this point than it was ever before known to be at this season of the year, while at Las Cruces it is said to be totally dry. There is a whole volume of argument there in favor of storage reservoirs.—Journal-Democrat.

COPYRIGHT 1898 BY COSMOPOLITAN MAGAZINE

THE delights of an evening spent around a well-lighted reading table are not half understood. An illustrated magazine with its wealth of illustrations, its stories of adventure and love, its descriptions of travel which carry you to the remotest ends of the earth, and its instructive articles for young and old—these are the first requisites for your own enjoyment and the entertainment and proper education of your children.

To secure for you the best and most interesting of the great illustrated magazines at the lowest possible price has been the aim of the editor of this journal. That we have succeeded we leave our readers to judge. A special contract recently entered into with The Cosmopolitan, which seeks to become better known in this neighborhood, has enabled us to offer you a year's subscription to the greatest of the illustrated magazines together with a year's subscription to this journal,

Both Together One Year for Only $2.10

In this way you secure your own home paper and an illustrated magazine at a price that is only about a fourth of what some of the illustrated magazines sell for. For three years The Cosmopolitan has undisputedly claimed that it reached the largest clientele possessed by any periodical, daily, weekly or monthly, in the world. It was The Cosmopolitan which sent Julian Hawthorne to India to let the world know the real horrors of famine and plague. It was The Cosmopolitan which established at its own cost a great Free Correspondence University which now has over 20,000 students on its rolls. It was The Cosmopolitan which offered a prize of $3,000 for the best horseless carriage and prizes for best plans for public baths, and best arrangement of sewer and pipe systems for cities. It was The Cosmopolitan which set the presidents of great schools and universities seriously discussing the defects of existing educational systems. It is The Cosmopolitan whose enterprise is always in the lead in advancing the world's civilization.
