Court News.

The mill in the justice of the peace court has been running steadily of late, the grist coming in with more than usual regularity. Saturday morning, Jimmy Dean and Billy Booth, junior, were brought into court, the former charged with disturbing the peace, and the latter with assault and battery. The assault and battery charge was not proven to the satisfaction of the court, but as it was evident that the boys had created a disturbance by engaging in a pugilistic mix-up, against the peace and dignity of the town, the court assessed a fine of five dollars and trimmings against each. Jimmy rustled the price, but Billy, being unable to raise the "mon," was taken to the county jail the following morning.

The first case on the docket Monday morning was an assault with a deadly weapon. Rolla Parker was the complaining witness and O. H. Wagoner the defendant. The charge, although a serious one, was quickly disposed of. The defendant in this case is the local manager of the telephone office, and the complainant is the "hello" boy in the same office. It appeared from the testimony that Wagoner had been out hunting on that day (Sunday) and returning to the office about eight o'clock in the evening, laid his shot gun, which was in a scabbard, on a table in the office, pulled a six-shooter from his hip pocket, presented it at the boy and threatened to shoot him. The Parker boy went home and telephoned the occurrence to an officer, who later arrested Wagoner. The defendant helped to convict himself by first admitting he had a gun but did not draw it, and later stating that he did draw it, but was only jesting. The court fined him $100 and costs, in lieu of which he was taken to the Lincoln jail. Wagoner since coming to Carrizozo has been well conducted, and his arrest and conviction was a surprise to those who knew him. It was evidently more of a thoughtless and foolish act than a vicious one.

All Monday afternoon the court was occupied hearing a civil suit—Vincent Real vs. Chas. Hinton. The suit was brought to recover $52.50, alleged to be due for digging a well. A jury was empanelled to try the case, both sides being represented by counsel. After hearing the evidence pro and con, and the arguments of counsel, the jury returned a verdict for $26, one-half the amount sued for. Both parties to the contest seemed satisfied with the verdict, thanked the jury, and departed in peace, but later Real decided to appeal from the verdict of the jury. The evidence developed the fact that the well was but a hole in the ground of undetermined depth, and held no water. However, "All's well that end's well."

A Temporary Jail.

The citizens of Carrizozo held a meeting Monday night, for the purpose of arranging for a temporary jail to hold prisoners during court. What prompted the meeting was that representations had been made to the judge, by the people of Lincoln, that the sheriff would be unable to hold his prisoners at this place. A committee, consisting of John H. Canning and George L. Ulrick, was appointed to wait on Judge Cooley. The committee visited Alamogordo Monday, and tendered the use of the Skating Rink for a jail, and volunteered to aid the sheriff in holding the prisoners here. Sheriff Stevens was present at the conference, and presented the claims of Lincoln and those of his own. At the close of the conference the judge announced that the offer of the Carrizozo people was acceptable, and clamped the lid on, informing all parties that court would be held in the new county seat on the date heretofore announced, to-wit: November the first.

Building Activity.

Carpenters and masons are all at work, and, as a number of new buildings are contemplated, they are looking forward to a busy period. One residence building of which we saw the plans, and on which work is expected to start soon, will be a ten-room bungalow, comprising two bedrooms 14x14, a bathroom, two closets, a dining-room 18x18, a reception hall 9x14, a parlor 16x17 a kitchen 12x12, a pantry 7x5, a front porch 8x28, a rear porch 8x30, screened. The building will be finished in up-to-date

THE CARRIZOZO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

All members of the Chamber of the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce are requested to attend the regular meeting on Wednesday evening, October 6th, at eight o'clock, in the Bank Building, when business of much importance to all will come up for discussion. All citizens are invited to attend this meeting and join this progressive body for the advancement and betterment of Carrizozo, the newly-established county seat of Lincoln county.

What helps the town helps you; therefore, it is the duty of all citizens, regardless of occupation or business, to assist morally, physically and financially, through our organization, in the up-building of Carrizozo. A great deal has been accomplished by the Chamber of Commerce within the past few months, but much more remains to be done.

Considerable work yet remains to be done, and now is the time to begin and boost, and boost hard, and all the time, for the best town in Lincoln county.

Boost for a public hall for entertainments, meetings, etc., for with a building of this kind we can have good musical and dramatic companies to stop at Carrizozo.

The shade-tree planting movement must be worked up to a point where the owner of every house will be expected to plant a certain number of shades. The growing trees we have now, with one or two year's growth, demonstrates what may be done, and what must be done, to beautify our town. Everybody will be expected to do their part.

Then, we must have cleaning days. Our streets and roads need our attention, and with other important matters coming up, we must all do our share. The meeting will take place in the Bank building Wednesday evening, and every citizen in Carrizozo, who can spare an hour, should make it a point to be present.

COMMITTEE.

style, probably in mission oak. This is only one of many in contemplation.

There are two others for which plans have been submitted, one of which will be a six-room adobe with cement finish, and the other a two-story brick.

Those buildings will be situated west of Main street, which is the popular residence portion of Carrizozo on account of the absence of dust in the windy season.

K. of P. Grand Lodge Elects Officers.

The twenty-sixth annual convention of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of New Mexico convened at Socorro on the 27th ult., and was in session two days. The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:

W. H. Hill, Socorro, Grand Chancellor; H. H. Williams, Deming, Grand Vice Chancellor; Louis Galles, Albuquerque, Grand Prelate; C. M. Bernhard, East Las Vegas; Grand Keeper of Records and Seal; George L. Bradford, Dawson, Grand Master of Exchequer; Walter Q. Fawcett, Roswell, Grand Master at Arms; H. L. Bickley, Raton, Grand Inner Guard; Howell Earnest, Grand Outer Guard; Jno. A.

Haley, Carrizozo, representative to the Supreme Lodge, which next year meets at Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

At the Altar of Hymen.

Miss Ethel Craig and Ernest I. Burrell, both of Capitan, were joined in the bonds of wedlock on Sunday last, 26th ult., in the hotel parlor at Nogal, Justice of the Peace J. E. Koonce tying the hymeneal knot in his usual happy style. The bride and groom were accompanied from Capitan to Nogal by Mr. Pierce Perry and Miss Susan Ader. Immediately after the ceremony the customary dinner was served, after which the bridal party returned to Capitan, where a reception was given them. The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Craig of Capitan, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Burrell, also of Capitan.

Last Saturday at El Paso, Miss Eva Perea was married to S. H. Schumack. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Demetrio Perea, of this place, and is well known here and at Lincoln, her former home. Fred Velasco and wife, also one time residents of Lincoln, acted as best man and bridesmaid respectively. The couple will reside in El Paso.

FIGHTING FOREST FIRES.

Sometimes they do things very well in Michigan. As everyone is aware, Michigan, like New Hampshire, is very solicitous for her forests. Again, like New Hampshire, Michigan is disturbed from time to time by forest fires, and every loyal Michigander is expected to prove his willingness, whenever occasion may demand, to join his neighbors in fighting those fires, says the Manchester Union. In fact, a Michigan statute specifically provides punishment for refusal to assist in suppressing a forest fire. Never, however, until recently, has it been found necessary to invoke this statute, and then a man was sentenced to 90 days in the Detroit house of correction. It is, of course, conceivable that a rigid enforcement of such a law as that might work severe hardship in some individual cases. For example, it would be obviously unjust and inhuman to impress into fire-fighting service one whose physical condition plainly incapacitates him from that service, or one who is occupied with the care of the sick. On the other hand, it is always to be expected that careful judgment will be exercised in the enforcement of this law, as of any other.

That "unlucky 13" superstition is getting no end of sideswipes as a result of the increasing intelligence of the age. A married couple in Trenton, N. J., have just become the proud parents of their thirteenth baby, and instead of being considered a case of bad luck, the coming of the youngster seems to be regarded as uncommonly fortunate, says the Troy Times. At all events not only are the father and mother delighted beyond measure but they have received offers from all over the country to take and adopt the child, those offers evidently being inspired by the belief that the infant will bring good luck. One ardent bidder tenders the parents $10,000 for the little ones. As all offers have been declined the parents of the thirteenth evidently intend to keep the luck in the family.

Another step has been taken in the direction of improving waterways. The secretary of war has approved the plans submitted by a board of engineers for the construction of a sea-level ship canal across Cape Cod between Massachusetts bay and Buzzard's bay. This work is to be done by a company formed for the purpose, though the canal eventually no doubt will form a link in the intercoastal system which is now under consideration. The Cape Cod canal will shorten by many miles the distance by water from Boston to New York, besides enabling vessels to avoid the greater marine dangers of the outside route at certain seasons.

The Germans have chosen three sonder boats to represent them in the racing off Marblehead. They have been successful thus far in the handling of this type of racer, which depends for her speed on the prevalence of conditions for which she was constructed. Small yachts are more closely subject to weather conditions than are their big sisters.

The ice cream ptomaine does not seem to have been particularly lively this season. Perhaps the heroism of the public in braving its terrors has discouraged the ptomaine.

LATEST TEA TABLE FITTINGS.

Almost Endless Variety Is at the Command of the Housewife This Season.

New things for the tea table are seemingly endless in their variety. The "Brown Betty"—the teapot in a recent offering—is of a peculiarly lustrous china, as often blue or green as brown, and overlaid with bright silver. Of course, the creamer and sugar bowl match. Teacups are of generous size, low and broad, and of fragile porcelain. One never see nowadays the rather thick usual shaded cups that held about a thimbleful.

The spoons, to facilitate conversation, perhaps, have fancy bowls and handles representing everything almost in fact or fiction.

Other silver accessories are jam holders, for in the English fashion jam or marmalade is quite necessary at the modern tea. Then there is the wafer jar, and the tea caddy, usually in old Dutch silver. An attractive shape is octagonal with a round-hinged cover.

New tea balls and strainers are selected for their oddity or originality. One is a Chinaman's head, and there are spoons united like the Siamese twins, only more so, as they fit closely face to face, although they open like pincers to scoop up a fresh portion of tea, and when they are put, closed, into hot water, their contents diffuses as from the regular tea ball. Some of the new sugar tongs are provided with a point designed to harpoon a refractory bit of lemon which so many prefer to cream in their tea. And to further burden the table there are receptacles for the sliced lemon in cut or silver-mounted glass, pierced in many intricate designs, or showing a colored crystal lining.

The Home.

After scraping fish, rub the steel knife over an old lemon peel, and it will destroy all fish odor.

The white of one egg "cut" with white vinegar makes an excellent leather furniture polish.

Do not give the bird any fruit that is likely to attract bees to the cage or you may lose a valuable pet.

Soutache braid makes good laces for the baby's booties and it is also useful for lacing corsets and the chemise.

The curved butter knives for cutting little round pats of butter are more satisfactory if the knife is dipped into cold water or buttermilk before cutting the butter.

Kitchen faucets are quickly cleaned with any acid, such as lemon, salts of tartar, etc. Ammonia and washing powder are excellent cleaners.

Dish mops can be kept odorless only by putting them in a solution of soda water.

Do not attempt to use sour or moldy flour. Dry it out in the oven and save it for starch.

Southern Spice Pie.

Two cupfuls of sweet milk, three eggs (yolks), one cupful of sugar, four heaping tablespoonfuls of flour, one large lump of butter, one teaspoonful of cloves, one teaspoonful of allspice, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one teaspoonful of nutmeg, and one teaspoonful of lemon extract.

Mix and cook until thick. While this cools bake pie shells; then add the filling, using the whites of the eggs for frosting. Brown and serve cold.

Turkish Scrambled Eggs.

Beat half a dozen eggs up with pepper, salt and chopped parsley, stir in a tablespoonful of melted butter in a stewpan, and when lightly cooked arrange as a border around a hot dishful of chicken livers sliced and fried. Pour over all a piping hot tomato sauce flavored with onion.

A Realist.

"I am a great believer in realism," remarked the poet.

"Yes?" we queried with a rising inflection, thereby giving him the desired opening.

"I sometimes carry my ideas of realism to a ridiculous extreme," continued the poet.

"Indeed!" we exclaimed inately, somewhat impatient to reach the point of his witticism.

"Yes," continued the poet, "the other day I wrote a sonnet to the gas company and purposely made the meter defective."

At this point we fainted.

Look at the Names.

In 4 A. D. Fearaidhach-Fionfashtna was an Irish king, a "most just and good prince," who was slain by his successor, Fiachadh-Fion, who was treated to a similar fate by Finchadh-Fionohudh, "the prince with the white cows," who died at the hands of "the Irish plebeians of Connaught." Eochairh-Moidmeodhain was one of the half dozen who died of natural causes, and Flaithheartagh was one of the two to resign the monarch's scepter for the monk's cowl.—New York Press.

And Ma Fainted.

"Why did she refuse you?" she asked her son, with fine scorn.

"Well," the boy replied between his sobs, "she objects to our family. She says pa's a loafer, that you're too fat and that everybody laughs at Dayse Mayme because she's a fool and talks about nothing but the greatness of her family." (Chauncey threw water in his mother's face, but at three o'clock this afternoon she was still in a swoon, with four doctors working on her.)—Atchison (Kan.) Globe.

Prepared for the Worst.

"How long had your wife's first husband been dead when you married her?"

"About eight months."

"Only eight months? Don't you think she was in a good deal of a hurry?"

"Oh, I don't know. We had been engaged for nearly two years."

A Green One.

"Do you look for news of Howard's hunting trip in the sporting column?"

"No, in the obituaries."—Life.

Aid Fight Against Tuberculosis.

At the recent meeting of the National Association of Bill Posters, held in Atlanta, Ga., it was decided to donate to the campaign against tuberculosis $1,200,000 worth of publicity. The bill posters in all parts of the United States and Canada will fill the vacant spaces on their 3,500 bill boards with large posters illustrating the ways to prevent and cure consumption. The Poster Printers' association has also granted $200,000 worth of printing and paper for this work. This entire campaign of bill-board publicity will be conducted under the direction of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis in co-operation with the National Bill Posters' association.

They Were Good Mothers.

Elizabeth Cady Stanton is quoted as saying that a woman's first duty is to develop all her powers and possibilities, that she may better guide and serve the next generation. Mrs. Stanton raised seven uncommonly healthy and handsome children, says an admirer of hers, and the children of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe testify to the virtues of the noted woman as a mother. The eagle may be as good a mother as the hen or the goose.

Could She?

"When women get to voting," said the man, "they will have a great many more calls than they now have to put their hands in their pockets and give money to further important causes."

The woman looked thoughtful.

"I'm always willing, of course," she said, "to give money for a good cause, but as for putting my hand in my pocket—"

Her Intentions.

"Do you think your sister will marry me?"

"If you keep comin'."

"Have you heard her say anything about it?"

"I heard her tell ma that if you didn't stop comin' here so often she'd make things unpleasant for you."

IDEAS FOR LUNCHEON TABLE.

Delicious Meal Served by One Hostess That Can Be Very Easily Duplicated.

Stuffed potatoes are prepared from baked potatoes by cutting them in half so as not to injure the skins, removing the pulp and mixing it with butter, salt, pepper (sometimes adding grated cheese). One hostess who has toured around the world and eaten in every tongue served this ideal menu at a luncheon:

Cold Soup (Consomme).
Escaloped Cauliflower, Baking Powder Biscuit.
Broiled Chicken, Butter and Lemon Sauce.
Mashed Potatoes.
Asparagus and Lettuce Salad.
Cake with Strawberry Sauce.
Coffee.

The cold soup was served in cups, the cauliflower in ramekins. The salad was especially pretty. The asparagus tips were passed through a ring of pimentos (Spanish pepper in oil). On one side of the plate was a little rosette of lettuce. French dressing was served.

The dessert was a slice of pound cake over which was poured a sauce made of ripe strawberries prepared as for shortcake and sweetened with creamed butter and sugar flavored with vanilla. The hostess cut the cake and poured the sauce over it at table, so it had no chance to become soaked and soggy.

At a dainty Sunday evening tea the menu was cold consomme, a fruit salad, toasted crackers and cream cheese, and ice cream served in individual forms, and wafers. The fruit salad was served on a tall compote. Around the edge slices of apple stood up like a frill. In the center was a combination of grape fruit, orange, pineapple, and berries.

WAYS OF PICKLING ONIONS.

English Method Is a Good One, Though Another Can Be Used If Preferred.

Put desired quantity of small white onions into hot water and peel. When all are done, put into fresh salted water with a small piece of alum and leave over night. The next morning drain, cover with fresh water, adding a little salt and a piece of alum about as large as a hickory nut and leave a second day. Drain and put in jars, placing in each jar one or two blades of mace, one or two chillis, a few white peppercorns and a small quantity of horse radish. Pour in vinegar to cover, cork tightly and keep in a dry place. These will be ready in a month. This is the English way of pickling onions.

A little different way is to choose fine small onions, peel in hot water and let them stand in strong salt and water for two days.

Change the brine the second day. Heat more brine to the boiling point, add the onions and cook three minutes. Drain off the brine, rinse in cold water and leave several hours. Pack in jars, season with cloves, mace and whole peppers, and fill with scalding vinegar to which sugar has been added in proportion of one cup to a gallon of vinegar. Seal while hot. This can be used in a month, but is better if older. —Emma Paddock Telford.

Ice Substitute.

When unable to obtain ice, or when not convenient to a refrigerator, as on an upper floor or sick room, the following will be found a simple way of preserving an article of food, says the National Food Magazine:

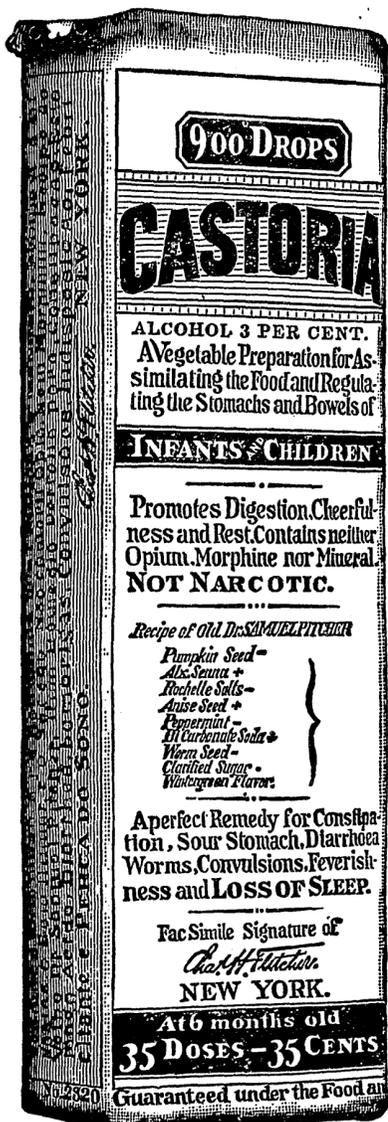

Place an inverted saucer or small fruit plate in a pan or other receptacle containing about three inches of fresh water and set on top of saucer, in its holder, the milk, butter or other article to be preserved. Invert a flower pot tightly caulked, over the food into the pan of water.

The flower pot being porous, evaporation of the water keeps the temperature underneath at a low degree and a cooling process results.

What is Castoria.

CASTORIA is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. Dr. F. Gerald Blattner, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "Your Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, always obtaining the desired results."

Dr. Gustave A. Eisengraeber, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "I have used your Castoria repeatedly in my practice with good results, and can recommend it as an excellent, mild and harmless remedy for children."

Dr. E. J. Dennis, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have used and prescribed your Castoria in my sanitarium and outside practice for a number of years and find it to be an excellent remedy for children."

Dr. S. A. Buchanan, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used your Castoria in the case of my own baby and find it pleasant to take, and have obtained excellent results from its use."

Dr. J. E. Simpson, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."

Dr. R. E. Eskildson, of Omaha, Neb., says: "I find your Castoria to be a standard family remedy. It is the best thing for infants and children I have ever known and I recommend it."

Dr. L. R. Robinson, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria certainly has merit. Is not its age, its continued use by mothers through all these years, and the many attempts to imitate it, sufficient recommendation? What can a physician add? Leave it to the mothers."

Dr. Edwin F. Pardee, of New York City, says: "For several years I have recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

Dr. N. B. Sizer, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I object to what are called patent medicines, where maker alone knows what ingredients are put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use."

The Peary-Cook controversy, like the little brook, seems destined to go on forever. As a matter of fact, the pole is more magnetic than ever, for it is attracting the attention of the civilized world. If, however, the discovery had only been made during the Roosevelt administration, and presented to Theodore, what a beautiful "big stick" it would have made.

Considerable activity is noticeable in this town since it was declared the county seat of Lincoln county. New people are dropping in all the time, looking for locations, others for residence houses into which they can move their families when they arrive, while others with a view to getting in on the ground are looking around for business opportunities. Residence houses are in demand at a premium, and the demand is bound to increase with the population. To find a suitable building to hold court in and one to confine prisoners in during the coming term of court are easy problems compared to providing houses for seventy-five or one hundred families which are expected to move here before spring. One man whom we know, and who is preparing to move his family here, spent several days this week looking for a house and as far as we know without success. A dozen or two four-room houses could at present be leased or rented at the owner's price.

The enterprising citizens of Tucumcari have decided to hold a Quay county fair this fall. The people of Carrizozo should get together and make arrangements for holding a Lincoln county fair in the fall of 1910. This is a suggestion to the Chamber of Commerce, and we hope it will give the matter an impetus and push it along. No great things, of course, will be expected, but if next season is a favorable one, we can show the world some of the finest fruit that grows, and farm products, irrigated and non-irrigated, equal to those grown in Kansas and elsewhere. Our live stock exhibit could be made one of the best, and we could produce a mineral display that would create and stimulate the mining industry of the entire county. A list of sports could be added that would both attract and entertain. Lincoln county has been content to live in her shell too long. She took a stride for advancement this year; let's add to it another next year.

The national forest reserve has turned over about $26,000 to the territory of New Mexico, to be distributed to the school and road funds. This amount comes from the forest reserve collections, 25 per cent of which is returned to the counties wherein forest reserves are located, to go to the funds named above. Lincoln county's portion will be over $6,000, half and half to the school and road funds. This will give every child of school age in this county more than $1, and will aid quite materially in lengthening the school terms in the various districts. It will also replenish the road fund and give the board of commissioners sufficient means wherewith they may complete some good roads.

J. S. Williamson returned last night from El Paso, and went to Capitan on yesterday morning's train.

Henry Lacey has taken the position of local manager and line-man of the telephone system, made vacant by the resignation of O. H. Wagner.

D. del Curto, a prosperous sheep man of the White Oaks country, has purchased the saloon in the acorn town, formerly known as "Capt. Lee's Place."

Attorney George Spence and son went over to the Capitan mountains, where they have some mining claims.

F. C. Rolland and family, of Alamo, were visiting at the home of A. J. Rolland of this place the past week.

Attorney Wade was transacting legal business in Alamogordo this week, and stopped off at Os-curo on his return.

H. H. McWilliams, of Capitan, who has been in El Paso the past two weeks, came through this morning on his return.

The new pool parlor and billiard room opened this week in Wetmore hall—four tables—Joe Adams in charge.

Mrs. F. W. Gurney returned yesterday morning from El Paso, where she had spent the past week on a visit with her son.

Mrs. E. Darling came up from El Paso Wednesday and left the next morning in an automobile for Lincoln to visit her husband.

D. A. Smith, who left here for Ontario, Canada, some months since, returned to Carrizozo last week. He lost 20 pounds in weight during his stay in British America, which leaves him almost a skeleton—he tips the beam at just 242.

Road Supervisor Newt Kemp was over this week from Capitan on official business. The roads and streets need some "fixing," and we hope they will be put in good condition before court convenes in November.

J. W. Craig, of Capitan, an old hotel man, has leased the Burrell House in this town, and will take charge on the 1st. He has a large number of acquaintances here, and consequently looks forward to a liberal patronage.

Rev. J. I. Seder, superintendent of the New Mexico anti-saloon league, with headquarters in Albuquerque, was in Carrizozo this week, and delivered a lecture in the M. E. church hall Wednesday night.

Sol C. Wiener has disposed of his mercantile establishment at White Oaks to Allen A. Lane and Juan L. Reyes, of the same place. Mr. Reyes, who has been connected with the business for many years, will continue to conduct the business.

P. T. Long returned yesterday morning from a swing around the circle, and will spend a few days with his family. Mr. Long represents a Boston shoe house, and his itinerary extended from the Hub to the cities of the Atlantic seaboard and gulf.

E. E. Wright, the Hondo merchant, passed through this place Saturday en route for the Palomas springs in Sierra county. He was taking an old friend from the lower end of the county who is stove up with the "rheumatiz" to Palomas to test the virtue of its celebrated waters.

A force of men have been at work for some time at the mouth of the south fork of the Bonito sinking a 30-foot ditch 400 feet in length to catch the underflow. The ditch extends downward to bedrock, and will be lined with cement, covered in and connected with the main pipe.

The Nogal reservoir has again sprung a leak. Most of the water has been run out and about 300 head of cattle are turned in every morning to tramp down the edges and bottom. This work will be continued for several weeks, when it is believed the leakage will be sealed and the reservoir become water tight.

W. R. White of Nogal and the News editor returned yesterday from Socorro, for which point they left Sunday morning to attend the grand lodge meeting of the Knights of Pythias. Mr. White and his wife, who was visiting here during his absence, went out home yesterday afternoon.

FOR LAUNDRY WORK

METHODS BY WHICH STAINS MAY BE REMOVED.

Discolorations from Different Sources Require Varied Treatment—Texture of Material Is Also to Be Considered.

All stains are best removed immediately when possible as they are more difficult to dislodge if allowed to dry.

Milk and meat stains should be washed out with warm water, but fruit, tea, chocolate and coffee are removed with boiling water. Place the stained linen over a bowl and pour boiling water on the stain, holding the teakettle high enough to let the water fall with some force on the stain. Old tea stains will sometimes yield to boiling water if they are first saturated with glycerine. When stains have been overlooked until dry and set by soap suds in washing, they often require special treatment.

Sulphur fumes are an effective bleaching agent. Take an old plate and a tin funnel, place them where the air will carry away the fumes from the person working on the stain, wet the stain with cold water, put it over the small end of the funnel, which is turned down over the sulphur burning with a small coal on the plate. Keep wetting the stain and the fumes which rise will bleach the spot from the linen. Wash and rinse well. Fruit stains can often be removed from the hands by the use of fumes from a lighted match.

To remove iron rust, saturate the spots with lemon juice and salt and lay in the sun, repeat when dry or until spot is removed.

Grass stains may be removed by rubbing with molasses, then wash as usual. On unwashable material, wet the spot with alcohol and rub toward the center with a white cloth.

Peach stains are the most obstinate to remove. Acid or jarelle water are frequently the only means of removing them if allowed to become fixed. Ammonia should be applied after using any acid and then the fabric should be well washed and rinsed.

To remove paint on flour sacks, rub well with soft soap, then put to soak in warm suds. The next day wash and boil.

Blood stains should be softened in cold water, then soaked in warm suds.

To prepare jarelle water, put into a granite-ware saucepan one-half a pound of sal. soda, two ounces of chloride of lime, pour over this one quart of boiling water and allow to dissolve. When the water has dissolved all it will, pour the clear water off, bottle and set away for a stain remover and a bleacher. Add more hot water to the remaining part and bottle in the same way. In using jarelle water, place the stained portion of the goods over the bottom of a platter and apply the jarelle water with a brush or swab. Rinse quickly in clear water, then in ammonia. If the stain has not disappeared, treat in the same manner again, being careful to use the ammonia that the fabric may not be injured.

NELLIE MAXWELL.

Marzipan Biscuits.

Required: Almond paste, apricot jam, icing, a few pistachio nuts.

Make the almond paste the same as for raspberry fingers, but roll it out rather thinner. In the place of raspberry jam spread a little sieved apricot jam. Stamp it into neat rounds. Ice, and decorate them with a few shreds of pistachio nuts.

Sponge Cake.

Place upon the stove one-half cup milk, one tablespoon butter. Beat two eggs together with one cup sugar, stir in one cup flour, one teaspoon of baking powder, then add hot milk and butter, one teaspoon of vanilla. Beat thoroughly. This makes a fine grained cake and is inexpensive.

BAD DREAMS Caused by Coffee.

"I have been a coffee drinker, more or less, ever since I can remember, until a few months ago I became more and more nervous and irritable, and finally I could not sleep at night for I was horribly disturbed by dreams of all sorts and a species of distressing nightmare.

"Finally, after hearing the experience of numbers of friends who had quit coffee and were drinking Postum, and learning of the great benefits they had derived, I concluded coffee must be the cause of my trouble, so I got some Postum and had it made strictly according to directions.

"I was astonished at the flavour and taste. It entirely took the place of coffee, and to my very great satisfaction, I began to sleep peacefully and sweetly. My nerves improved, and I wish I could wean every man, woman and child from the unwholesome drug—ordinary coffee.

"People really do not appreciate or realize what a powerful drug it is and what terrible effect it has on the human system. If they did, hardly a pound of it would be sold. I would never think of going back to coffee again. I would almost as soon think of putting my hand in a fire after I had once been burned.

"A young lady friend of ours had stomach trouble for a long time, and could not get well as long as she used coffee. She finally quit coffee and began the use of Postum and is now perfectly well. Yours for health."

WILL HONOR HAMLIN

Native State to Celebrate Centenary of His Birth.

Known as "The Great Commoner" and Won Hearts of People by Fight Against Slavery—Vice-President Under Lincoln.

Paris Hill, Me.—In Paris Hill, a spot so picturesque that it has been called the "Switzerland of Maine," the centenary of the birth of Hannibal Hamlin, vice-president of the United States during Lincoln's first term, will be celebrated on August 27. The exercises will be held in connection with the first old-home week in Maine, and will bring to the birthplace of the most beloved son of the Pine Tree state not only distinguished statesmen of the day, but also soldiers who fought in the civil war and men who were conspicuous in the affairs of the state of that period. This gathering perhaps will be one of the last of men who gained fame in the fight for the freedom of the negro. The Loyal Legion of Maine will erect a bronze tablet to Hamlin, and the exercises promise to be unique and to emphasize the services of such a man to his country.

No more picturesque spot could be found in the country than the Paris Hill. The view from the old home in which Hamlin was born takes in the Androscoggin valley, which, broken by forests and villages, stretches to the ranges of hills and mountains that almost encompass Paris Hill. The foothills of the White mountains are discernible to the west, and on a clear summer day the White mountains themselves can be seen in the distance.

Hannibal Hamlin, historians say, is Maine's greatest man of the nineteenth century. The Pine Tree state has had her favorite sons. James G. Blaine was one; Thomas B. Reed was another, but none of them ever caught at the tendrils of the hearts of the men of Maine as did Hamlin. "The Great Commoner," he was called, and Reed, who for years fought him bitterly in politics, but who after a chance meeting with him became his ardent admirer, said of him: "He never learned to tell a lie or to be dishonest. He simply couldn't lie."

Hamlin won the hearts of the people by his bitter fight against slavery and he proved his courage by leaving the Democratic party when it fell into the control of the supporters of slave traffic. He could have been candidate for the presidency in 1856, but refused it. He accepted the nomination for vice-president in 1860 on the ticket with Lincoln and became Lincoln's trusted counsellor and adviser in the four years of the struggle between the north and the south. To him Lincoln showed his "Emancipation Proclamation" before issuing it and received from him suggestions in the wording of it which he accepted. That he was not nominated for vice-president for Lincoln's second term and therefore did not become a president of the United States is almost as strange a political accident as the one that put Roosevelt in the presidential chair at the death of President McKinley.

Hamlin was a member of the house of representatives at 32, and at 33 he lost election to the United States senate because of his attitude on the slave question. His defeat only roused him to greater activity against the growth of slavery. He was elected to the United States senate in 1848 and re-elected in 1850. In 1856 he was elected governor of Maine. He was hailed as one of the fathers of the Republican party in 1860 and he could not decline the nomination for the vice-presidency.

Although holding office as vice-president he enlisted at the outbreak of the war as a private himself. He refused a commission, but trained with the soldiers and inspired them by his acts. He went with them to the front and while he engaged in no battles he traveled with the army as personal representative of Lincoln. He reported to Lincoln as to the condition of the army and always was Lincoln's friend and counsellor.

SPAIN'S KING A YACHT RACER.

Alfonso Has Engaged Capt. Stephen Barbrook, a British Seaman, as Sailing Master.

London.—Tollesbury, a little seaside town in the county of Essex, England, is bursting with pride over a signal honor which has been bestowed on one of its sons—Stephen Barbrook. He has been appointed captain of the king of Spain's new racing yacht, Hispania, and has just departed from his native town to wrestle with the Spanish language and a—partly—Spanish crew at San Sebastian. When his mastery of the language is complete, he will be able to mix strange Spanish oaths in his talk quite after the manner of the old Elizabethan sea captains.

His chief task at present is licking the "Hispania" and her crew into shape for the Cowes regatta, at which her royal owner has entered her for several races, and he will be assisted in his task by several Tollesbury men, who have gone with him as part of the crew. The course is well known to him, for as recently as last year he steered Sir James Pender's Brynhild to victory there, and besides he has won some four hundred prizes in the last four years in yacht racing. So, if the Hispania behaves herself, and "the little cherub that sits up aloft" does likewise, his Spanish majesty stands a good chance to carry off some prizes during the coming yachting season.

Tollesbury is a home of sea dogs. Capt. Barbrook's father is one of the oldest of them, and now surely the proudest. His son has loved the sea since his boyhood; took to it like the smallest duckling to the neighboring pond.

IN AGONY WITH ECZEMA.

Whole Body a Mass of Raw, Bleeding, Torturing Humor—Hoped Death Would End Fearful Suffering.

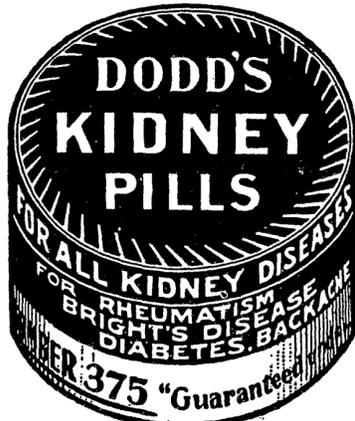

In Despair; Cured by Cuticura.

"Words cannot describe the terrible eczema I suffered with. It broke out on my head and kept spreading until it covered my whole body. I was almost a solid mass of sores from head to foot. I looked more like a piece of raw beef than a human being. The pain and agony endured seemed more than I could bear. Blood and pus oozed from the great sore on my scalp, from under my finger nails, and nearly all over my body. My ears were so crusted and swollen I was afraid they would break off. Every hair in my head fell out. I could not sit down, for my clothes would stick to the raw and bleeding flesh, making me cry out from the pain. My family doctor did all he could, but I got worse and worse. My condition was awful. I did not think I could live, and wanted death to come and end my frightful sufferings.

"In this condition my mother-in-law begged me to try the Cuticura Remedies. I said I would, but had no hope of recovery. But oh, what blessed relief I experienced after applying Cuticura Ointment. It cooled the bleeding and itching flesh and brought me the first real sleep I had had in weeks. It was as grateful as ice to a burning tongue. I would bathe with warm water and Cuticura Soap, then apply the Ointment freely. I also took Cuticura Resolvent for the blood. In a short time the sores stopped running, the flesh began to heal, and I knew I was to get well again. Then the hair on my head began to grow, and in a short time I was completely cured. I wish I could tell everybody who has eczema to use Cuticura. Mrs. Wm. Hunt, 135 Thomas St., Newark, N. J., Sept. 28, 1908."

HAMLIN'S WIZARD OIL GREAT FOR PAIN

THE OIL THAT PENETRATES

A Big Fish Story.

The biggest fish story of the season comes from that famous trout stream, the south fork of the Rio Bonito, but whether it is a fish story or a gold story the reader will have to draw his own conclusion. While on his way to Socorro last Saturday, W. R. White stayed over long enough to call at this office and say "How-do," incidentally relating a little experience he had lately while on a fishing trip. White (his friends call him "Sally" for short), Will Ferguson, L. R. Lamay and another, making four in all, lately went on a fishing trip to the south fork of the Bonito, a favorite camping place for fishing and outing parties. They had good luck with the speckled fellows until they ran out of bait, and everyone who ever fished on that stream knows that the next best bait to a grasshopper is a grub called a helgamite, which is found under the rocks in the stream: so they proceeded to look for helgamites. Now, the mountains on each side of the stream have long been known to contain gold, and a stream running between mountains is a natural place to look for placer gold. Well, the boys waded in, turning over rocks in search of the grub, until they came to a place where some of last years campers had thrown a lot of empty delicatessen cans in the creek. Turning them over they found some helgamites adhered to the cans, but noticed also that the cans, which must have been a bright color when thrown in the creek, were of a deep yellow. On closer examination they discovered that what caused the transformation in the color of the cans was innumerable particles of gold sticking to them. The cans were carefully removed from the creek and scraped and the scrapings put in a plate and washed in the creek. In less than a day they had cleaned up about one-fourth of cup of the yellow stuff. Needless to say all fishing was called off. The following day they staked eight placer claims, and put them on record. Next year they expect to make a clean-up that will discount the wildest dream of a Klondiker. They will pay one dollar a hundred for all the tin cans furnished, which they intend dumping in the creek this year and panning them next year. They also intend to make application for a patent for the process, which will be known as the "Tin Can Gold Saving Device," and after cleaning up all the creeks worth cleaning, form a company for the manufacture and sale of the process. The only explanation the boys give as to how tin cans catch gold is that a combination of mercury and cyanide of potassium is used in plating the cans, both of which chemicals have an affinity for gold. If the device accomplishes what is claimed for it, it will put the sluicing and dredging processes out of business. What Sally wonders at most is why that inventive genius, Thomas A. Edison, did not devote more study to tin cans and less to electricity.
