SPRING MOVEMENT OF CATTLE.

The summary of the spring movement of cattle, recently issued as a bulletin by the National Live Stock association, will be read with interest by all stockmen. It is as follows:

The spring movement of cattle has been lighter than usual. The movement from the south was late starting and the bulk of the cattle moved went to the northwest, the movement that way showing an increase over last season of fully 30 per cent; but a falling off in the Missouri valley states of fully 60 per cent. This movement however, is fully 75 per cent below that of many years prior to 1898. Prices have ranged lower than a year ago on this class of cattle. The drouth in the south and other crowded ranges induced more liberal selling on the close of the season. All the cattle moving consisted of yearlings and a few two year-olds, there being nothing in sight above those ages.

The movement from the west was very light. This was due to two causes. In the first place there was less cattle to be moved, and in the second the scarcity of cattle on the Pacific coast has made such a strong demand at home that not only are the cattle on the coast remaining at home this season but the demand is drawing on the supplies in Montana, Idaho and Utah. This result has been a strong demand for this class of cattle, at prices rather higher than a year ago, and the outlook for the fall is not considered good for anything like an average run. The supply of feeders for the fall will come from Colorado, Utah and the Panhandle of Texas. There will be a few feeders from New Mexico and a few from Wyoming, but the first named sections will supply the big end of the demand.

Reports from northern ranges are to the effect that grass fat cattle will be late in moving and will be fewer in numbers than in previous years. Estimates in the decrease vary from 40 to 80 per cent. In eastern Colorado, western Kansas and Nebraska, there are more young cattle grazing than a year ago, but few of them are expected to be fit for beef but will rather go to market as feeders. All sections report almost no steers above the age of two years and the bulk of the feeders are expected to be young cattle."—Current.

AGENTS WANTED—FOR "THE LIFE AND Achievements of Admiral Dewey," the world's greatest naval hero. By Murat Halstead, the lifelong friend and admirer of the nation's idol. THE LARGEST FLAG.

The largest flag in the world says the Scientific American, is to be exhibited under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution. It was made during the Spanish-American war by Miss Josephine Mulford, of Madison, N. J. There are 325,000 stitches in the flag, one for each soldier and sailor engaged in the war. The flag is 100 feet long and 65 feet wide, and the blue ground measures 40x35 feet. The stripes are 5 feet wide and each star is 2¾ feet in diameter. There is also a sentimental interest connected with several of the stars of the flag, as they were made at places in the various States which are associated with the great events of American history. Thus, the Philadelphia star was partly made in the house of Betsey Ross, in the room in which she made the first American flag. Then it was worked upon at Carpenter's Hall, in the room where the first Continental Congress assembled, and partly while sitting in Hancock's chair in Independence Hall. The New Jersey star was made at Washington's Headquarters at Morristown; the Maryland star was made at Fort McHenry, in honor of Francis Scott Key; the Virginia star was made in Lafayette room in Washington's Mount Vernon home; the New York star was partly made at Faunces' tavern, where Washington bade farewell to his officers, and it was finished on board the flagship "New York." Each of the forty-five stars is embroidered with the name of the State it represents and the date of admission into the Union. They are all arranged in chronological order. According to The New York Times, the flag is to be presented to the nation on the first anniversary of the signing of the recent Treaty of Peace.

Has Been Repealed.

The New Mexico law setting a value of four dollars per day upon labor on mining claims for annual assessments has been repealed and it is now necessary to perform whatever number of days' labor that it will take, at the wages of the district, to amount to one hundred dollars worth. The amount or value of a days' labor is presumed by the United States courts to be the wages of the district where the claim is located, and the New Mexico statute was contrary to the holdings of courts in a number of cases. Thirty three and a third days' labor will be about the least that will pass for an annual assessment in this section.—Taos Cresset.

For An Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

From Sylvan Valley News, Brobard, N. C.

It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this medicine in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do no believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by M. G. Paden.

Pacific coast trasportation companies are reaping a rich reward for the small amount of dust they are investing in press dispatches telling of the immense riches coming out of the Klondike region this summer. A great deal more of the gold dust that comes out of the Klondike is of the paper and ink variety than ever reaches the mints. If some kind of a press censorship was established on this Klondike business it would be of great advantage to the country.

An Epidemic of Diarrhoea.

Mr. A. Sanders, writing from Cocoanut Grove, Fla., says there has been quite an epidemic of diarrhoea there. He had a severe attack and was cured by four doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says he also recommended it to others and they say it is the best medicine they ever used. For sale by M. G. Paden.

Surgeon General Wyman of the marine hospital service says there is not a single case of yellow fever at present in the United States. This would indicate says General Wyman that the cities in the susceptible fever districts are enforcing the most strenuous sanitary regulations and will not only be a great armament against yellow fever and other contageous diseases but will be of incalculable benefit to the general health of the inhabitants of southern cities.

The San Marcial Bee says "the School of Mines at Socorro is in better condition than ever before. The number of instructors is to be increased and the facilities for instructions greatly improved." From what we have been able to learn of this institution there must have been phenomical changes brought to bear on its management if the increase in its faculty is now a necessity, however, it is very gratifying news to learn that it is yet to be of some benefit to New Mexico.

Official Paper of Lincoln County

STATEHOOD.

The Globe Democrat indulges in the following comment on New Mexico:

"Gov. Roosevelt expresses surprise that New Mexico should be allowed to remain in the territorial stage until this day. Many other persons have expressed surprise also at this fact. As early as 1540 Coronado, from his post down in the present republic of Mexico, marched up through what we call New Mexico in search of the seven cities of Cibola (the present Zuni pueblos) and their mythical wealth. That was two-thirds of a century before the first permanent English settlement, that at Jamestown, was planted in the new world. Santa Fe was founded in 1582, and is the oldest town in the United States except San Agustin, Fla., founded in 1565. New Mexico was made part of the United States domain in 1848. It has had a territorial government since 1850.

Nobody supposed in those days half a century ago, when the movement began to admit California to statehood, that New Mexico would have to stay so long in a probationary condition. There was talk soon after that time of making New Mexico a state, but the lack of a sufficient American population kept it out. It had 61,000 white inhabitants in 1850, but nearly all these were native Mexicans, who were unfamiliar with the English language and with American political ideas. This objection does not lie against it now, however. New Mexico has a fair school system, has an alert and intelligent population, and has according to the estimate of its governor, about 282,000 inhabitants in 1899. The ratio of population to a member of the House of Representatives in the States is about 174,000. On this basis New Mexico would be entitled to two representatives in congress.

New Mexico has been kept out of the union in recent years by the free silver menace. It is assumed that if admitted to statehood it would join with the other states in its region and cast its electoral votes in favor of Bryanism. This peril has operated against Oklahoma, too, which has even more inhabitants than New Mexico. All the attempts which have been made to let both these territories in have been antagonized by this danger. The peril, however, from this source is passing away. After the close of the canvass of 1900, which will bury the silver iniquity for all time, the last atom of opposition to the admission of any of the present territories will disappear. New Mexico became a territory at the same time as Utah. After the authorities of the Mormon church, in 1890, accepted the situation prescribed by the Edmunds law of 1882, and abolished polygamy, the only objection to its admission was removed, and Utah became a state in 1896. The overthrow of the silver lunacy a year and a third hence will make the way clear for New Mexico's admission, if it does not get in earlier."

The reasons given above for the rejection of New Mexico's admission into the Union are minutely correct from a republican standpoint; and is characteristic of that party's rottenness in continually striving to effect legislation to suppress public opinion and silence the will of the people so as to further the interests of corporate wealth, trusts etc., and to make supreme the reign of the plutocracy of the country.

While many other reasons for New Mexico's rejection have been given by the republican press democrats have known them to be misrepresentations and as far from the truth as the real issue is void of justice. We are not in favor of statehood for New Mexico at this time, never have been, and will not be until the territory is in condition financially and otherwise to assume the responsibilities of state government; but our opinion in the matter is not founded on political prejudice as the above unquestionably is. If as indicated by the above article from the Globe Democrat, the people of New Mexico have been kept out of the Union simply because the majority of its inhabitants are advocates of silver money, no greater injustice could possibly be forced upon the citizens of a nation; and the republican party should be branded as an infernal nuisance and all sensible people should get out of it.

It is probably true that should this territory be admitted it would send two silver senators and one silver representative to Congress, and if New Mexico waits for admission until gold standard congressmen can be elected to represent it, we would as well wait for the millennium.

THE WHITE OAKS RAILROAD.

Before The Panic Much Interest was aroused here by the Chamber of Commerce in what was known as the White Oaks railroad. It promised to develop a new and rich region that would contribute directly to our trade. Starting from Trinidad, or Las Vegas, it was surveyed to El Paso, keeping about one hundred miles east of the Santa Fe line, which runs down the Rio Grande valley. It was shown that coal, lumber, lead, iron, gold and silver resources would be developed into shipping importance all along the line.

Now that the hard times have passed quietly away new promoters are at work building a road with a new name, practically along the almost forgotten White Oaks route. The name is the El Paso & Northeastern. The promoters are the Eddy brothers, formerly of Salida, but latterly famous for enterprises in the Pecos valley where the flourishing town of Eddy was founded by them. They have just opened to travel one hundred miles of their railroad running in this direction from El Paso to a new town in the Sacramento mountains called Alamogordo, which has grown from a water tank to a bustling city of 2,000 within a few months. The construction of ninety miles more of this road to valuable coal fields is being pushed and the mines are to be reached by September.

In the Sacramento mountains a summer resort 9,000 feet above the sea, has been opened for the people of El Paso and the region round about. It is immensely popular as many hundred miles to the northward must be traveled to find a place as cool. The newly completed line is developing much business.

The general impression in New Mexico is that Rock Island capital is secretly back of the Eddy brothers and that their line will be rapidly built to Liberal in southwestern Kansas, when the mask will be thrown off and reveal the Rock Island with a direct line from Chicago to El Paso.

The Rock Island could make the business of this new line tributary to Denver by building from Trinidad to tap it. From Trinidad to Denver it has trackage rights over the Rio Grande. Denver must watch railroad developments in New Mexico.—Denver Republican.

Secretary Alger is now kept continually on the firing line and the Administration's big Journalistic guns are training on his position. Mr. McKinley and his cabinet seem to regret very much the turn affairs have taken for the reason that they consider that the dissatisfaction with the Secretary is in no sense due to his conduct of the affairs of the war department. That is to say the stench of that rotton beef scandal with the gross missmanagement of the war in Cuba and the many other deplorable blunders, which have made Algerism a synonym of every thing that is dirty and dishonorable, has been gratuitously overlooked, until the Secretary for the purpose of self aggrandisement formed an alliance with an administration critic, which is considered sufficient cause for a political boycott by the president and the rest of his cabinet. While there will probably be few to regret Mr. Alger's retirement, the manner in which he is disposed of only adds his to the other shady episodes of the administration.

Maximilian Luna has been appointed Lieutenant of a company of the 34th regiment of the U. S. A. to be raised at Ft. Logan, Colo., for service in the Philippines. Max. did not get enough of the fray in Cuba and will now cross steel with the Philippinos.

Albuquerque is to have a blanket factory. Messrs. Bearup and Edie are at the head of the enterprise. These gentlemen have for two years past successfully operated a wool scouring plant in Albuquerque and have now decided that a blanket factory to be operated on New Mexico wool will be a paying investment.

The $20,000,000 expended in the purchase of the Philippines is only a drop in the ocean as compared to the amount it will take to subdue the natives, the cost of the war has already reached $120,000,000, and it now seems, only well begun.

The highwayman who held up the Santa Fe at Folsom a few days ago was overtaken in the Mountains near Cimarron Colfax county by sheriff Farr of Walsenburg Colo. None of the banditti were killed or captured, though it is thought some of them were wounded.

That osculatory Hobsonian bird, beast or devil (The Kissing Bug), described as a cross between a Jersey mosquito and Texas tarantula has turned up in El Paso; and although there have been no fatalities among the fair sex, it is claimed that a Canine which received a very hot smack on the lip has since died very dead. It is believed that this horrible animal is migrating toward the Pacific Coast and should it reach Los Angeles, before that national meeting of school marms adjourns it may result in a general stampede which is likely to scatter them all over California.

A work train of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad arrived in Santa Fe last evening and went out again this morning. The train brought a lot of new ties to be laid at Santa Fe. The ties are for a narrow guage, but several of the workmen said that by next year they would be torn up again for the standard guage ties. The rumor that the Denver and Rio Grande railroad will build south from here will not down, and a distinguished prelate is authority for the statement that a high railroad official told him that the railroad would commence to push toward White Oaks next year and that Santa Fe would be maid division headquarters.—Albuquerque Journal-Democrat.

CUT AND IN.

Official position seems at a discount in Lincoln County just now or at least resignation must be contagious. R. Michaelis, treasurer and collector came around as was announced, though near the end of the session of County Board—and handed in his resignation. Henry Lutz, who has been associated in business with Mr. Michaelis, was appointed. Mr. Michaelis has made an excellent official and though his successor will probably acquit himself creditably, he may discover that he is a little short on experience when he assumes the responsibilities of the office. Following the treasurer's resignation came that of P. G. Peters member of the Board of Commissioners. Mr. Peters is one of Lincoln county's most influential citizens. He was appointed after the division of the County, and has only served about three months. His individual affairs so occupy his time that his resignation was imperative, was the reason for his giving up the office.

This will necessitate the appointment of another commissioner from the third district. Mr. J. Geo. Huber of Bonito City if available will likely be asked to accept the appointment.

The Company's Losses Are Probably $25,000.

A dispatch from El Paso dated July 12, says:

A fire broke out at 12:30 in the sampling works of the Kansas City Smelting and Refining Company, three miles above the city. The building and machinery in it, valued at $25,000, were destroyed. Had there been a wind the loss might have reached several hundred thousand dollars. The El Paso fire department was asked for help. An engine and hose cart were sent promptly by a special train. It is probable the smelting plant will suspend work for a few days.

"LIGHT."

Rev. Jno. A. Hollars from the Congregational Pulpit Sunday, 16th.

Text, Jno. 3:19-20.

And this is the judgment, that the light is come into the world, and men loved the darkness rather than the light; for their works were evil. For every one that doeth ill hateth the light, and cometh not to the light, lest his works should be reproved.

The above text cuts like a sword: it takes every prop from under man and leaves him to stand in the light of the naked truth, nothing cuts like truth: we love our friends and like to say pleasant things about them; still if we are true we will speak the truth. Jesus was the truest friend that this old world ever had—yes he is the very best friend that the world has to day. We cannot hide from God, he knows how to turn on the light; his words go straight to the heart; when Adam found that he was caught, he exclaimed, "The woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree and I did eat." Adam disobeyed God, and then tried to blame the woman. So far as we know Eve was the only woman in that part of the country, but it seems that Adam was perfectly willing to lay her upon the altar if God would only let him off. Adam had been persuaded, but God did not hold him guiltless.

Every man is more or less responsible for his own condition. If the great search light of God's truth could be turned in upon the souls of men: it would smash every trust in the country in thirty-six hours. The text says "that men love darkness better than light because their works are evil." Men who have been engaged all of their lives; in stealing bread from the mouths of widows and orphans, will not inherit the kingdom of heaven. The millennium will never come until men love light better than darkness.

Jonah tried to shirk—tried to hide from God,—he could not do it. He tried to hide from the truth, but he was found and brought back to the city of Nineveh. Let me say that if we miss heaven, it will be because we have chosen to do so, I know that conditions are such that it is hard for men to do right, but we must rise above our environments and dare to follow our better impulses. When the light is turned in, the darkness goes out. A man once came to Mr. Moody and said, "Now I have become converted I will have to give up the world." No said Mr. Moody, you give a ringing testimony for the son of God, and the world will give you up pretty quick. Light and darkness will not mix. Some men say that they do not attend church because they do not like the preacher. My friends are you sure that such is the case? others say that they do not attend church because the services do not interest them—not entertaining enough.—Let me say that a church service is not a "parlor charade," a church is not a concert hall, but a place where people go to worship God. The church of Christ stands as a monument of light; therefore we cannot expect men of dark deeds to praise the church.

Mr. Moody says that, "they were going to have a great celebration at the opening of a saloon and billiard hall in Chicago, in the northern part of the city, where I lived. It was to be a gate way to death and hell, one of the worst places in chicago. As a joke they sent me an invitation and I went down and saw the two men who had the saloon, and I said: "is that a genuine invitation?" they said it was," thank you "I said," I will be around: If there is anything here I don't like I may have something to say about it. "they said" you are not going to preach? "I may." "We don't want you, we won't let you in." "How are you going to keep me out? "I ask: "there is the invitation." "we will put a policeman at the door." what is the policeman going to do with that invitation?" "We won't let you in." "Well I said; I will be there," "I gave them a good scare, and I said I will compromise the matter: "If you will let me pray here I will let you off. I prayed God to save their souls and smite their business. In three months time one of the men was converted and the business smashed up." When the light comes in the darkness goes out.

Normal Institute.

To the Teachers of Lincoln Co.

Under the laws of the Territory of New Mexico, all teachers in the Territory must attend one of the county normal institutes held this year. In compliance with this act, the school superintendents of Doña Ana, Otero and Lincoln Counties will hold a joint institute in Cloudcroft, Otero County, commencing July 17th, and continuing two weeks.

The purpose and intent of the law compelling the annual attendance of teachers at Normal Institutes is to familiarize themselves more thoroughly with the various methods of school work and instruction, and by an interchange of experience and theories, to result in a mutual benefit and interest to the teachers present, and in consequence, a more efficient school system in the Territory.

Instructors will be present at this joint institute from all the Territorial Educational Institutions The benefit resulting to the teachers present will be immeasurably greater than would result from an attendance upon a county institute in either county represented. Many teachers from other counties will attend this joint institute to avail themselves of its manifest advantages. The accommodations at Cloudcroft are of the very best, and the expense not larger than it would be in any town in Lincoln county. The joint institute has the approval and endorsment of the Territorial Superintendent of Public Instruction, and others interested in the educational advancement of the Territorial School System. Acquaintance with teachers throughout the Territory, and the general business and social features of the institute, will be a very large factor in future legislation, that will result in a constant advancing of educational qualifications in teachers, and encourage and protect those who are devoting their time and energy to educate themselves in the profesion of teaching.

It is desired that all teachers of Lincoln County will avail themselves of this opportunity to attend one of the best Normal Institutes ever held in New Mexico, and present themselves at Cloudcroft upon the 17th of July or as soon thereafter as possible. A large attendance is already assured from other counties.

Respectfully
WILLIAM M. CLUTE,
Supt. of Schools.

To The School Directors of Lincoln County.

In conformity with the laws of the Territory of New Mexico, you are hereby notified that no teacher for the coming school terms shall be employed unless the applicant possesses the following qualifications:

1st.—A teacher's certificate from Lincoln Co., or one from another county of the Territory.

2nd.—A certificate of attendance upon one of the county normal institutes of the Territory for the year 1899.

3rd.—A compliance with the act that compels all instructions to be in the English language.

No warrants for teachers who do not possess these qualifications will be approved hereafter.

Wm. Clute,
Supt. of Schools

NEW TAX LAW.

Provisions of the Law Enacted by the Last Legislature for the Enforcement of Collection of Taxes.

Section 1 provides that the probate clerk shall at once notify the assessor of conveyances of property recorded in his office, give full description of same and the names of grantor and grantee, and the assessor shall keep same on file in his office. Failure or neglect by the clerk or assessor to comply with this section constitutes a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not exceeding $500.

Section 2 provides that the assessor must file with the lists of each precinct his affidavit, stating the time he spent in each precinct on official duties.

Section 3 provides for a penalty for failure upon the part of any county officer to amend and conform the tax roll to the valuation finally fixed in certificate.

Section 4 provides that the character of all lands shall be designated upon the assessment lists separately.

Section 5 provides that under no circumstances shall the assessed value or levy or amount to be paid in taxes, as fixed by the board of county commissioners sitting as a board of equalization, or as finally determined and certified by the territorial board of equalization and by the auditor, be altered, abated, rebated or changed by any other means or device except by direction of a competent court.

Section 6 makes some corrections to section 4057 of the compiled laws of 1897.

Section 7 provides that the 20th fiscal year shall begin on the first Monday of March, 1899, and end on the 31st day of August, 1900, and thereafter each fiscal year shall commence on the first day of September of each year.

Section 8 provides that there shall be exempt from taxation a family homestead to the value of $200, provided such homestead is actually occupied by the head of the family, or in the event the head of the family is not the owner of real est to then $200 in value of the following property: Farming implements, wagons, teams, oxen, milch cows, goats and household furniture.

Section 9 amends certain portions of section 4062 of the compiled laws of 1897.

Section 10 provides that on the first day of January of each year half of the unpaid taxes for the year last past, and on the 1st day of July in each year the remaining half of the unpaid taxes for the year last past shall become delinquent, and THERE SHALL BE ADDED ON THE 2ND DAY OF JANUARY AND JULY one per cent of the amount of such delinquent taxes as a penalty. Unless the taxes are paid on or before the first day of the following month an additional penalty of four per cent will be added. Upon the first delinquency above provided for the collector shall immediately notify, in writing, the tax payer and of the fact that one per cent has been added and that an additional penalty of four per cent will be added if not paid on or before the first day of the following month. Such penalty shall have the full force and effect of the original tax and in no case shall it be abated or reduced. Any failure on the part of the collector to add such penalty and collect the same shall subject him to removal from his office and to pay double the amount of such penalty.

Section 11 provides that the word "interest" in section 4067 of the compiled laws be stricken out and the word "penalty" be substituted therefor.

Section 12 relates to the credit of taxes between the territory and the counties.

Section 13 provides for the manner of settlement between the collector and the county.

Section 14 repeals a number of the sections of the compiled laws of 1897.

Section 15 provides that within 90 days after any tax shall become delinquent the collector shall prepare and cause to be printed a list of the names of the owners of all property upon which the taxes, amounting to not less than $25, have become delinquent, together with a description of the property, amount of taxes, penalty and costs due opposite each name. A separate statement shall be made for personal property. The collector must append and publish with the delinquent tax list a notice that he will apply to the district court for said county, upon the next return day, which date shall be specified and occurring not less than 20 days after the last publication of said notice, for judgment against said property for the full amount due and for an order to sell the same to satisfy such judgment. The collector shall also give notice in such advertisement that he will within 20 days after the rendition of judgment and after having given notice by a hand bill posted at the front door of the court house at least ten days prior to the day of sale, offer for sale at public auction in front of the said building the property described in said notice against which judgment was rendered for taxes, penalties and costs. The advertisement herein provided for shall be sufficient notice to the persons, firm or corporation mentioned as owners of such property. The said delinquent tax list and notice shall be published not less than once a week for a period of four consecutive weeks.

Section 16 provides that if by neglect of the officers to make returns or from any other cause real estate cannot be duly advertised and offered for sale within the prescribed time such sale may be had at any other time, the officer so doing shall set out in such advertisement the reason for such delay.

Section 17 prescribes the manner in which the district attorney and other officers shall enforce and carry out the provisions above described.

Section 18 further prescribes the manner of procedure in the district court.

Section 19 provides that taxes levied thereon shall be a lien against real estate or personal property until the taxes shall have been paid. In all cases taxes against real or personal property shall be deemed a personal obligation of the person in whose name the property was assessed and personal judgment shall be rendered against him therefor.

Section 20 provides that in entering up judgment the clerk shall add to the amount of taxes, penalties and costs, as shown by delinquent tax list, five per cent, which shall be the court costs of such proceeding.

Section 21 provides that appeal may be taken from the judgment of the court to the Supreme Court of the Territory.

Section 22 provides that the collector, in person or by deputy, shall attend at the court house on the day specified in notice of sale of property for taxes and shall, between the hours of 10 o'clock in the forenoon and 4 in the afternoon, offer for sale separately and in consecutive order each parcel of property included in the list attached to the order for sale, or so much thereof as may be necessary to realize the respective amounts due. The sale shall be continued from day to day until all the property is sold or until the amounts due shall be realized. Provided the sale must be completed within sixty days of the commencement thereof. In case any property ordered to be sold is in too large a tract to be conveniently sold the collector shall offer same in smallest tract in acres for which any one shall bid the amount of taxes and penalty. Such tracts to be nearly as may be a square body. Where property sold shall realize more than enough to pay the amount due the surplus shall be paid over by the collector to the owner of such property. The property shall be struck off to the highest bidder for cash. When a property is put up a second time and there be no purchaser in good faith bidding upon same the property shall be struck off to the county as the purchaser.

Section 23 prescribes the manner in which conveyance of property sold as above described shall be made and provides that the former owner of such property shall have the right to redeem same within 3 years from the date of sale by paying to the purchaser the amount paid therefor with interest at the rate of one and one-half per cent per month from date of of sale.

Section 24 provides that in case of sale of personal property under this act the title shall immediately vest in the purchaser without any right of redemption to the former owner.

Section 25 prescribes the duties of persons, firms and corporations in making returns as to proper description of property, etc.

Section 26 provides that where property shall be bid in by the county the duplicate certificate of such sale shall be void by the collector to any person who shall pay the face value thereof with accrued interest and if the same cannot be sold at private sale within one year the same shall be offered at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, when making delinquent tax sales for the next succeeding year.

Sections 27 and 28 provide for the manner in which property sold under this act shall be subsequently assessed or transferred.

Section 29 provides that the property of unknown owners the proceedings shall be the same as provided against the property of known owners.

Section 30 provides that live stock or personal property brought into the territory after the 1st day of March of any year and before the first day of June of such year shall be subject to taxation in this territory.

Section 31 provides that where delinquent taxes are less than $25 it shall not be necessary to include in the publication the notice of application to the district court for judgment, but shall be the duty of the collector upon such taxes becoming delinquent on the 2nd day of January of each year to advertise the property in some newspaper of general circulation to be sold on the first Monday in May thereafter in the manner hereinbefore provided and upon all the taxes becoming due and delinquent on the 2nd day of July of each year the property on which tax is levied shall be advertised to be sold in the same manner on the 1st day of November thereafter. The collector shall issue certificates under this section the same as provided wherein judgments and execution are issued and shall have the same force and effect.

Section 32 provides that sheep owned by residents of this territory shall be listed and assessed in the county wherein the owners reside, and further provides against false returns.

Section 33 provides that any officer referred to in this act who shall fail or omit to perform any of the official duties herein prescribed shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor in office, for which he may be prosecuted before the judge of the district court upon the affidavit of any tax-payer. The district judge shall upon, after five days after citation shall have been served on the accused, to hear the proof and if the accusation shall be found by the judge to be true and sustained by sufficient proof he shall render judgment against the accused removing him from office. The judgment so rendered shall in no event be appealed form, and the vacancy thus caused shall be filled by the board of county commissioners except where a county commissioner or district attorney may be removed, when only the governor shall fill the vacancy.

Section 34 provides that all acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed, Provided, that the provisions of this act shall not be applicable to property heretofore assessed.

THE delights of an evening spent around a well-lighted reading table are not half understood. An illustrated magazine with its wealth of illustrations, its stories of adventure and love, its descriptions of travel which carry you to the remotest ends of the earth, and its instructive articles for young and old—these are the first requisites for your own enjoyment and the entertainment and proper education of your children.

To secure for you the best and most interesting of the great illustrated magazines at the lowest possible price has been the aim of the editor of this journal. That we have succeeded we leave our readers to judge. A special contract recently entered into with The Cosmopolitan, which seeks to become better known in this neighborhood, has enabled us to offer you a year's subscription to the greatest of the illustrated magazines together with a year's subscription to this journal,

Both Together One Year for Only $2.10

In this way you secure your own home paper and an illustrated magazine at a price that is only about a fourth of what some of the illustrated magazines sell for. For three years The Cosmopolitan has undisputedly claimed that it reached the largest clientele possessed by any periodical, daily, weekly or monthly, in the world. It was The Cosmopolitan which sent Julian Hawthorne to India to let the world know the real horrors of famine and plague. It was The Cosmopolitan which established at its own cost a great Free Correspondence University which now has over 20,000 students on its rolls. It was The Cosmopolitan which offered a prize of $3,000 for the best horseless carriage and prizes for best plans for public baths, and best arrangement of sewer and pipe systems for cities. It was The Cosmopolitan which set the presidents of great schools and universities seriously discussing the defects of existing educational systems. It is The Cosmopolitan whose enterprise is always in the lead in advancing the world's civilization.
