THE LOST TREASURES.

Fred Roberts Writes About Grand Quivere, New Mexico.

In the boys and girls department of the Houston Post of last Sunday appears the following:

Nogal N. M.— Dear Haphammer: I wrote from White Oaks last winter a description of the Mal Pais, and intended to write again and tell you about Grand Quivira, which is a buried city at head of the volcanic eruption. Every reader of old Spanish history has heard of the lost treasures of Grand Quivira. Mention is frequently made of it in the old Spanish chronicles and many persons have sacrificed their lives seeking for its hiding place. According to the old Spanish chronicles Grand Quivira is situated about 175 miles northeast of El Paso, on the western border of Lincoln county New Mexico. The outlines of the once large city or Pueblo are still plainly visible. the walls of the old adobe church are still standing and the outlines of the other buildings are plainly discernable. History and tradition of this old town are both corroborated by the surroundings. The old Spanish history tells us that here was located the seat of government of New Spain, where all the wealth of the country was brought and turned in treasure vaults of church and state. According to the Spanish records Grand Quivira was a large Indian village at the time of the first Spanish conquest and was wrested from its Indian occupants about the year 1616. In 1661 came the great Pueblo Indian uprising, when the Spaniards were driven out of the country as chaff is driven before a wind. De Vargis, the writer of the chronicle says: "We traveled to the southward, fighting all the way. We have 270 burro loads of treasure. We buried it between two little hills, burning brush over the spot. The Spaniards were driven out of the country as far south as the Gulf of Mexico." Where are the two little hills De Vargis speaks about? Attempts to solve this problem have cost many an adventurer his life. All around Grand Quivira can be found holes dug in the ground where some poor deluded mortal has been seeking for the lost treasure of Grand Quivira. Every summer excursions are made to that place. It is a very pleasant place to camp. In my next I will tell you what life is in the mountains of New Mexico. With best wishes for all the Happy hammers, I am truly yours.

WHAT OUTSIDE PEOPLE ARE SAYING ABOUT US.

The Old Abe Mine at White Oaks Properly Worked.

Professor W. H. Seamon, grand lecturer for the Masonic Blue lodge and member of the firm of Seaman & Seaman, assayers in El Paso, was in Alamogordo last week, en route home from Eddy and Lincoln counties. To the News reporter Mr. Seamon said concerning his observations on the trip: "I am decidedly impressed with the marked improvement that the region I have visited shows in both agriculture and mining. In a mining way, there has been a number of good lead and copper properties opened, which, with little development, will doubtless prove mines of great value. Many of the properties in Lincoln county are too far from the railway at present, but with the advance of the road their value will rapidly enhance, even as prospects. From what I have seen in the country I am led to believe that the character of the ores is generally good and susceptible to treatment. What the properties need is work, and plenty of it. The work so far has in most instances, not been done in consecutive manner nor to good advantage.

"The demand for copper properties is now so great that anyone who desires to make money from it should exert himself to develop his property sufficient to sell it or get capital in to work it.

"At White Oaks I visited the Old Abe mine and found it in good shape. Levels are now developed down to 1,150 feet, and from the 800-foot level down to the lower one, drifting on the vein has furnished almost enough ore to run the stamp mill and cyanide plant. The drifting is the nature of development work and very little stoping has been done. The mine has been run at a small profit while this development has been going on. So long as this plan is followed the mine will continue to look better and better. The stamp mill has capacity of 50 tons per day and the cyanide is a 50 tons plant. There is now plenty of stoping ground, but it will be increased to furnish a large reserve fund of ore. The cause of the previous accident was due to extracting all the ore when a rich chute was opened regardless of further development. The mine could not be worked on a better plan than is being pursued at present. The Old Abe is an ideal property, the vein having an average width of eight inches and in places widening to six feet. The plant is equipped with the largest steam hoist in the territory. That the property can be worked at a profit and at the same time developed speaks well for it.—Alamogordo News.

BEEF CATTLE.

Never before in the history of the American cattle market has there been such a demand for all kinds of meat as at present. The Chicago Record of August 17th says: The demand for export cattle is enormous. Statement is made that prices of all cattle will be higher during the next year than now, but in three years when all the thousands of feeders find their way into the market, there will likely be a slump from 2 to 3 cents.

Rev. J. M. Yingling, pastor of the Bedford Street Methodist church at Cumberland, Md., says: "It affords me much pleasure to recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I have used it and know others who have done so. I have never known it to fail. It is a sure cure when taken in time."—For sale by M. G. Paden.

WHITE OAKS ROAD.

To Reach Salado About the First of October

The White Oaks road is now laid to a point within a few miles of Nogal. The last station to be established is at Carrizozo and the work of construction is being carried on from here. The next station will be Nogal and then the terminus at Salado, which will be reached about the first of October. There are now stations at Tularosa, Three Rivers, Milagro and Carrizozo. The station of Nogal will be some distance off the present town and it is expected that the site of the town will be moved to the railroad.

Parties in from the front report that work is being rushed very rapidly, and the impression prevails that the road will not stop long if at all, at the Salado but will soon continue to Liberal, Kansas, to connect with the Rock Island and open a short route to Kansas City in accordance with the character secured about a year ago.

President C. B. Eddy, accompanied by H. J. Anderson and J. W. Oakford of Scranton, Pa., have just returned from a trip over the line. Messrs. Anderson and Oakford are among those interested in the railroad.—El Paso Times.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering.—Yours truly, Mrs. Geo. F. Bendick, Liberty, R. 1.—For sale by M. G. Paden.

Official Paper of Lincoln County

The Wheat Outlook.

The government report on spring wheat reduced the estimate about 15,000,000 bushels and raised the price about 3 cents a bushel, or to more than 70 cents. Subsequent private estimates restored the government reduction. The present price is several cents above that ruling a year ago although the stocks of wheat visible throughout the world are twice as large now as then. But a year ago we were facing the harvest of a record crop.

Last year after the harvest the government estimated the total crop in this country at 615,000,000 bushels. Later it admitted 650,000,000; still later, 675,000,000, while now it is known that the crop was 700,000,000. Our beneficient government continually misleads the bull side of wheat speculation into under estimating the crop. This is supposed to strengthen the government with the farmers.

It is the total crop of the world and not that of the country, however, that determines the price. The world's big crop of 1898 was 2,782,225,000 bushels. This was about 500,000,000 more than the short crop of 1897, and 250,000,000 more than annual average world's crop.

The best estimates for this year's crop put it 200,000,000 to 300,000,000 below the record product of last year, but still at about the average. The importing countries of Europe demand some 1,315,000,000, and this year they will produce about 950,000,000, leaving 365,000,000 to be imported. It is figured that the exporting countries can easily spare this amount. The reserves in all importing countries are now normal and in exporting countries they are above the normal.—Denver Republican.

That the above statement that it is the total crop of the world and not that of this country, that determines the price of wheat is unquestionable; yet, there are any number of narrow prejudiced party organs which contend that the price of everything in the market, particularly, wheat and cattle, which is governed wholly by supply and demand is the result of the clever management of the party in power. The greedy politician, that parasite on the face of American fame, is like the religious fanatic, who attributes every success or disaster that favors or befalls human nature directly to the virtue or wickedness of the individual or object effected.

A town of progressing and energetic, God fearing and upright people, which naturally enough contains a few crooks is destroyed by a flood, fire or cyclone, annihilating the property of, and killing a number of the very salt of the earth, as it were, missing the crooks on every side for the reason that their locality happens to be out of the path of disaster, the pulpit of the fanatic attributes to the anger of the Almighty, Who according to his (the fanatic's) argument is done to bring the crooks to repentance. This would be like killing God to convert the devil.

So with many prejudiced party journals in this country. If wheat jumps a few notches higher on the scale, no matter what the supply in other countries or how many Leiters have cornered the trade in this it is attributed to the power behind the throne at Washington. Should beef take a sudden jump in the market, these same knowing fellows come out in immense head lines, heralding the news to the people that the administration's prosperity has struck the stockyards, and they make more noise over it than would be occasioned by a Roman populace on the return of its victorious armies into the city.

All such stuff, which is only a waste of ink and energy, is about as kin to argument, as religion is like atheism; and should have just about as much effect on the rational conclusions of the average American as a dew drop would add to the swell of the tide on the Pacific.

A writer hit the nail on the head when he said "protection is the fecund spawner of trusts, and that a tariff which perverts the function of revenue-raising for governmental needs into levying tribute for one class on all other classes is legislative robbery." If we are competing with England in her home islands and colonies, we are not charging foreign consumers the exhorbitant prices our tariff legislation compels American consumers to pay. British manufacturers are being undersold at home and at a profit to American competitors who rob American consumers by the grace of the Republican brand of protection. While these conditions are a boon to the tariff protected industries which are rapidly merging into mammoth trusts, there is little in it for the millions of laborers who are forced to pay taxes into the pockets of the manufactures by tariff extortion in almost every article they buy and have no protection against the competition of the whole world in any article they sell.

IN UNION IS STRENGTH.

El Paso and Juarez will unite strength to make the Carnival a success. The bustling city of El Paso when her people get together on any enterprise, as they seem to be on this one, is capable of doing most anything. Juarez, Mexico, will surely contribute to the success of the Carnival, and besides her cash will be the means of taking many visitors to the two cities. The White Oaks country will be there and there is no reason why many hundreds of New Mexicans should not visit these international cities during the Carnival.

EL PASO SWALLOWS THEM UP.

Guy Collins, of Temple, Arizona, Mysteriously Disappears from El Paso.

Herald:—Another visitor to this city has mysteriously disappeared, and his friends can find no clue to his whereabouts.

Two weeks ago Guy Collins, a young man from Temple, Arizona, arrived in El Paso to spend a few days. He brought a letter of introduction from his father to H. M. Patterson.

After being here several days looking at the sights young Collins ran out of funds, and was supplied by Mr. Patterson. Father Collins, of Temple, also sent the young man money.

About a week ago the young man disappeared and Mr. Patterson concluded he had gone home. The day after his disappearance Mr. Patterson received a letter from the young man's father asking about his son, and yesterday another letter came from the father announcing that his boy had not come nor had he written.

Yesterday Mr. Patterson searched the city thoroughly and could not even find any one who had seen Guy Collins. The young man's father is very uneasy. The young man is about 22 years of age. He had about $40 on his person.

"It is strange," said Mr. Patterson yesterday, "how so many people mysteriously disappear from this city. They come here and in some unaccountable way get lost to the world, leaving no clue by which they can be traced. There is something very suspicious about it."

The many hard freezes in the middle western states last winter killed thousands of acres of wheat. Farmers planted the ground in corn last spring and now have the greatest acreage and the greatest yeild per acre ever known in this country. Corn will be cheaper than coal for fuel in Kansas this winter. It is a wonder some fellow does not attribute the immense corn crop to McKinley's prosperity.

George W. Beeman, a Judge of an Indiana district returned all his free rail road passes to the rail road companies from which he had received them, saying that the motives which prompt rail road companies to issue passes to judges and members of state legislatures is all wrong, and returns for such favors are expected and in the majority of cases granted in some form or other.

The Pacific Express Company has lately refused to carry money in large quantities between Thurber station and El Paso, fearing a holdup from toughs who are known to be ranging west of Thurber and whose actions indicate their intention of holding up T. P. trains.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing that it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the Throat, Chest and lungs are cured by it. Call on M. G. Paden Druggist, and get a free trial bottle. Regular price 50c. and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

Wonder What President McKinley Thinks

When he reads the illustrious headlines in many of these little republican wheelhorse yellow journals which are stereotyped and rehashed by the small fry of the fraternity all over this great country? The following is an example and was so displayed that the heading in a single column covered six inches of space over a dispatch of six lines of brevier: "Beef now away up. Price of steaks in Chicago continues to jump. Very great demand for export cattle continues,—McKinley prosperity has struck the stock yards once more."

What has McKinley prosperity to do with the prices of beef or beef cattle? See the sellish propensity of those little fellows to attribute the prices of steak to the republican party. It might be well to consider in the line of such argument if any reader should think it an argument—that the steak eaters of the country are decidedly in the majority over the numbers of steak growers. While the most ignorant cowpuncher well knows that politics have nothing to do with the price of beef, which is regulated solely by supply and demand, the moulders of these immense headlines, or disciples of the soft soaping union, should at least be taught that there should be some little relation between subject and discourse even in a republican journal.

Noah Ellis spent Saturday in the city. Mr. Ellis says the ranges around his ranch have not received sufficient rain yet and should no rain fall during this month the grass will be short for winter feed.

B. F. Darbyshire, freight and passenger Agent, Texas Pacific, at El Paso and Harry Alexander, Asst. general freight and passenger Agent, El Paso and Northeastern, were in the city Tuesday looking after business for their respective companies.

Miss Mina Everett of San Francisco, who has recently accepted the charge of the Baptist mission at Las Vegas, is in the city. She lectured at the Congregational church last Thursday evening on the subject of missions and at the Methodist church Sunday on the same subject.

The sale of cord wood, mining timbers, cables and soforth, belonging to the Vanderbilt Gold Mining Co. at Nogal, was made last Saturday. This property was attached for debt incurred during the Wood administration of that mine and is the conclusion of legal proceedings which have extended over a period of several months.

NOTICE.

Any one wishing to purchase a ranch in the Oscura country with excellent range and water sufficient for 3 to 5 hundred head of cattle can get prices by applying at this office.

Miss Lula McDonald of Burnet, Texas, is visiting friends here. Miss McDonald was a teacher in the public schools here in 95—6 and 96—7 terms, and is kindly remembered by the patrons and greatly loved by her former pupils in White Oaks. Miss McDonald now holds a position in the high schools of her home town, Burnet, Texas. She will visit here for a month.

NEW GAME LAW.

The last session of the legislature changed the game law of the territory as follows: For Lincoln county the act makes it unlawful to kill, wound, snare or trap any quail, wild turkey and etc., or to kill, wound or in any way destroy any antelope, deer, elk or mountain sheep, except that said birds or animals, the animals being with horns, may be killed with a gun during the months of October, November and December. This date also applies to all the southern counties, but in the more Northern counties the season opens one month earlier.

Development work has been commenced on the Rockford, Cashier and Clipper gold properties at Nogal. Those properties belong to Col. Theo. W. Heman of this place and work will be rapidly pushed on the group until they are put in condition to begin shipping ore over the Northeastern. While this group of mines have been known to be valuable for a great many years it has not been practicable to operate them for the reason that it is a smelting proposition. At the surface considerable free milling ore was encountered but with depth was discovered to become more and more refractory, and richer with every foot. In the next twelve months the Northeastern will be hauling car load after car load of ore from this country to the smelters, and all kinds of mining machinery into it.

J. A. Eddy and Party Looking Over This Section On the Line of the Northeast Extension.

TONAGE WANTED.

White Oaks Will Be The Chief City on the New Line Between El Paso and Liberal Kansas —Natural Advantages Unsurpassed.

J. A. Eddy of the E. P. & N. E. passed through Monday en route to the Gallinas where he has gone to investigate the mineral and timber resources of that section of the country. The Northeastern people are looking for tonage in every part of the country adjacent to this road. It is very encouraging to know they have turned their attention to this, the Jicirilla and Gallina sections for it is evident they would have no object in securing properties in these places if they did not intend to build the road on to a northeastern connection.

While White Oaks is backed by sufficent resources to insure its future growth and substantial development, still, the more country that is opened up adjacent to us the greater and more rapid will be the advancement.

Of course the conservative business man knows that tonage is what the railroad people want, and when the argument is advanced that the coal trade alone would pay a railroad company to build into this section of New Mexico, it is known to be backed by moonshine. Coal, to be sure, is one of, if not the principal factor, but this country abounds in all kinds of mineral, good timber and the very finest quality of building stone, all of which will soon be finding its way to outside markets. Stock and fruit, also, not to be surpassed any where are among the chief industries.

The Gallinas, where Mr. Eddy and party are now occupied, is one of New Mexico's most promising copper camps; and has a half dozen properties which will ship ore as soon as the road is extended to within reach of them. The section also, has a quantity of excellent timber, which can be used by the railroad Co. in the construction of the line on to a north eastern connection.

When this road goes on to the northeast and connects with the Rock Island at Liberal, Kansas, as it certainly will, White Oaks will be the principal town on the road from El Paso to the Kansas line, and with its numerous natural advantages will in a short time be among the first rank of New Mexico's chief cities. Besides the mineral resources, which alone would make it a splendid city, the location is most favorable. It is the proper distance from towns on the line of the new road; it is surrounded by mountains on every side which makes it one of the most picturesque little cities in the Rocky Mountains; natural water works can be had at a very little expense, from which volumes of water could be thrown over the tallest building that any architect of the age could construct; an unlimited quantity of the best soft coal in America can be had for a price little exceeding the cost of handling it. There is no question about water, fuel, building material, wood, stone and brick, healthful climate, &c. and the best location in the world for a man who has some capital to begin on to make a fortune.

The capitalist does not have to wait to see what will result from sinking a shaft on an ore lead in the White Oaks gold mining district. He only need examine those already down, some of them more than a thousand feet, to see that the ore improves with every foot of depth. The investor does not have to determine by expensive process whether his ore is refractory with depth, he can ask those who are operating mines here and settle that question in a minute. It does not cost thousands of dollars expense to find out whether the amount of gold which escapes from the plates in milling can be saved by the cyanide process, as either of the two plants in operation can and will tell, explain and show him in a few minutes.

There is no haphazard guess work about mining at White Oaks it only takes money to do business here, and when more people who have money begin operating with those who are now engaged in mining in a modern way this will be one of the greatest camps in the west. Why not? The gold is here, the methods of taking it out so as to secure the greatest returns are already known, the cyanide process has proven successful, the character of the ore is known to be richer with depth, the leads are well defined, the quantity is here, the necessary advantages such as fuel and water for operating mines, mills &c. are on the ground and may be obtained at a very reasonable cost, labor is not more expensive here than elsewhere, railroad transportation is at the door—in fact the curtain which has hidden this section from the outside world has been drawn aside; forever taken away, disclosing to any and all who care to look the very richest mineral country yet undeveloped in the Rocky Mountains.

GRAY GLEANINGS.

Correspondence.

Gray, N. M., Aug. 22, 1899.

C. B. Eddy and J. A. Eddy with a number of other gentlemen, came to the mines on the 9th inst., and returned the next day.

Miss Lu Connell of Nogal, stopped over in Gray on her way to and from Lincoln, where she went to make final proof of her homestead last week.

A man, whose name we have not learned, but who belongs to the grading force at the mines, had his leg broken Friday by a kick from a mule. Dr. Lane, of White Oaks was sent for to take charge of the case.

Mrs. Lesnet and children of Lincoln, spent Saturday night on Mrs. L's homestead near the Salado.

Walter Gray and Miss Beulah Gray, of Gray, and the Misses. Benson of the Capitans, attended camp-meeting at Bonito on Sunday.

D. Webb, of Roswell, who is on a camping trip in the mountains, came in last night to make a little visit here.

Ernest Halstead and brother Harry of Ft. Stanton visited in Gray on Sunday.

Grading on the main and side tracks, is now going on at the mines, besides much other work, and every thing is business.

ANOTHER HOLDUP ON THE SANTA FE NEAR FOLSOM.

The Albuquerque Citizen of the 17th Inst Published the Following

Trinidad, Colo., Aug. 17.—As passenger train No. 1, on the Colorado & Southern, was proceeding south between Folsom and Des Moines about 9:30 o'clock last night, train robbers attempted to hold up the train but were frustrated in their attempt.

The first warning the trainmen had of the attempt was when the engineer was ordered to uncouple the engine and baggage car from the train. The conductor suspecting trouble, went forward and immediately opened fire on the robber. The holdup returned the fire and shot Express Messenger Fred Bartlett through the left side of the face badly shattering his jaw bone. Frank Harrington, the conductor, also received a very slight wound in the fleshy part of the arm.

ROBBER CAPTURED.

A special train left Trinidad about 4 o'clock this morning with a posse for the scene of the attempted hold-up, and found one man, a few yards from the track, badly wounded, who acknowleged that he was the party who made the attempt. He said he was alone, and it was his first attempt at the business. He gave his name as George Stevens, and said he lived at Panhandle. He will be brought to Trinidad today. This is the third attempt to hold up this train within two years.

The largest wool deal made this season in a lump to one party that The Optic has heard of was recently made by Charles Ilfeld to eastern parties, being negotiated by Thomas Ross. It consists of 4,000 bags of wool, or between 800,000 and 900,000 pounds. Its transportation to the cars will make 325 transfer loads and it will take seventy cars, or three trains to haul it to its destination. Although the price was not stated, it is pretty safe to assume that, with the prevailing price of wool, not less than $100,000 was involved in the deal. It took the clips from the backs of approximately 200,000 head of sheep to produce this amount of wool and it would take 400 men about ten days to shear that number of sheep. As a wool market Las Vegas is undoubtedly the best city in the southwest and the amount of wool handled here has been steadily increasing for several years past until now over one half of the clip of the territory is marketed in this city and the importance of this can be understood when one stops to consider that New Mexico ranks second among the states of the union in point of wool production and number of sheep.

Experts have estimated that the South's cotton crop this year will reach 12,000,000 bales. The yield last year was something over 11,000,000 bales and prices were as low as 4 cents a pound, yet the South insists on growing more cotton each year.

Hasty preparations for war are going on in the Transvaal, and all hope of a peaceful settlement with that country has been abandoned by Great Britain.

FOREIGN CAPITAL INVESTING IN NEW MEXICO LANDS.

The Grant Company has completed the sale of a tract of land comprising a hundred thousand acres in the southern part of Colfax county to William Wilson, of London, and W. S. French, of Silver City, New Mexico. The tract extends from the Vermejo south to within two miles of Springer, and from the Ponil country to the east side of the Grant. The new owners will fully stock the land with cattle, which will necessitate the removal of a number of prominent men who have been leasing. They will make many improvements such as ranch houses, reservoirs, ditches, etc. The purchasers are to be congratulated on having bought the finest large tract of grazing land to be found anywhere in the west.—Raton Gazette.

This nugget of truth is nosing its way through the editorial columns of the western papers. "A child born; the doctor in attendance gets $10, the editor gets 0. It is christened; the minister gets $5 and the editor gets 00. When it marries the minister gets $10 and a piece of cake, the editor gets 000. In course of time it dies; and the doctor gets from one to five hundred dollars, the minister gets perhaps another $5, the undertaker from $25 to $250. The editor prints a notice of death and obituary two columns long and gets 000, besides lodge and society resolutions, a free card of thanks and a lot of poetry. No wonder the editor gets rich.—X

A Member of the Ketchum Gang Captured Near Carlsbad By Sheriff Stewart and Posse.

Carlsbad, New Mexico, Aug. 16.—John Thompson, a member of the Ketchum gang who held up the Colorado Southern near Folsom on the 14th of July, was captured twenty miles northeast of Carlsbad at day light this morning by Sheriff Stewart, of Eddy county, and a posse. He made a fight, shooting two of the posse. He continued to fight after he surrendered and was knocked in the head.

His partner escaped, with a posse in pursuit.

Thompson has four bullet wounds in the body, through and through, just healing over, made by steel bullets, shows him to have been in a hard fight lately, but he refuses to talk. He is about six feet in height; weighs one hundred and seventy-five pounds, red complexion and slight sandy beard. It is not known whether his right name is Thompson.

THE delights of an evening spent around a well-lighted reading table are not half understood. An illustrated magazine with its wealth of illustrations, its stories of adventure and love, its descriptions of travel which carry you to the remotest ends of the earth, and its instructive articles for young and old—these are the first requisites for your own enjoyment and the entertainment and proper education of your children.

To secure for you the best and most interesting of the great illustrated magazines at the lowest possible price has been the aim of the editor of this journal. That we have succeeded we leave our readers to judge. A special contract recently entered into with The Cosmopolitan, which seeks to become better known in this neighborhood, has enabled us to offer you a year's subscription to the greatest of the illustrated magazines together with a year's subscription to this journal,

Both Together One Year for Only $2.10

In this way you secure your own home paper and an illustrated magazine at a price that is only about a fourth of what some of the illustrated magazines sell for. For three years The Cosmopolitan has undisputedly claimed that it reached the largest clientele possessed by any periodical, daily, weekly or monthly, in the world. It was The Cosmopolitan which sent Julian Hawthorne to India to let the world know the real horrors of famine and plague. It was The Cosmopolitan which established at its own cost a great Free Correspondence University which now has over 20,000 students on its rolls. It was The Cosmopolitan which offered a prize of $3,000 for the best horseless carriage and prizes for best plans for public baths, and best arrangement of sewer and pipe systems for cities. It was The Cosmopolitan which set the presidents of great schools and universities seriously discussing the defects of existing educational systems. It is The Cosmopolitan whose enterprise is always in the lead in advancing the world's civilization.
