POLITICS AND THE PHILIPPINES

President McKinley in His Thanksgiving Proclamation Tells the Nation What to Be Thankful For.

Washington, Oct. 25.—The president to-day issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

"A national custom, dear to the hearts of the people, calls for the setting apart of one day in each year for special thanksgiving to Almighty God for the blessings of the preceding year. This honored observance acquires with time a tenderer significance. It enriches domestic life. It summons under the family roof the absent children to glad reunion with those they love.

"Seldom has this nation had greater cause for profound thanksgiving. No great pestilence has invaded our shores. Liberal employment waits upon labor. Abundant crops have rewarded the efforts of the husbandman. Increased comforts have come to the home. The national finances have been strengthened and made firmer. In all branches of industry and trade there has been an unequalled degree of prosperity, while there has been a steady gain in the moral and educational growth of our national character.

"Churches and schools have flourished. American patriotism has been exalted. Those engaged in maintaining the honor of the flag with such signal success have been in a large degree spared from disaster and disease. An honorable peace has been ratified with a foreign nation with which we were at war, and we are now at friendly relations with every power on earth.

"The trust which we assumed for the benefit of the people of Cuba has faithfully advanced. There is marked progress toward the restoration of healthy industrial conditions, and under wise sanitary regulations the island has enjoyed unusual exemption from the scourge of fever. The hurricane which swept over our new possession of Porto Rico, destroying the homes and property of the inhabitants, called forth the instant sympathy of the people of the United States, who were swift to respond with generous aid to the sufferers. While the insurrection still continues in the island of Luzon, business is resuming its activity, and confidence in the good purposes of the United States is being rapidly established throughout the archipelago.

"For these reasons, and countless others, I, William McKinley, president of the United States, do hereby name Thursday, the 30th day of November next, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed as such by all our people on this continent, and in our newly-acquired islands, as well as those who may be at sea or sojourning in foreign lands, and I advise that on this day religious exercises shall be conducted in the churches or meeting places of all denominations, in order that in the social features of the day its real significance may not be lost sight of, but fervent prayers may be offered to the Most High for a continuance of the divine guidance, without which man's efforts are vain, and for divine consolation to those whose kindred and friends have sacrificed their lives for our country.

"I recommend also that on the day, so far as may be found practicable, labor shall cease from its accustomed toil and charity abound toward the sick, the needy and the poor.

"In witness whereof I have set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

William McKinley."

Coming State Elections.

Elections will be held in twelve states this month. Ohio will elect a governor, lieutenant governor, judge of supreme court, attorney general, treasurer, auditor and member of the board of public works. There are five tickets in the field: Republican, Democratic, Prohibition, Union Reform and Nonpartisan, with Jones of Toledo on the latter.

Kentucky will elect a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general, treasurer, auditor, commissioner of agriculture and superintendent of public instruction.

Mississippi will elect a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, auditor, attorney general, superintendent of public instruction, revenue agent, land commissioner, clerk supreme court and railroad commissioner.

Nebraska will elect a judge of the supreme court and a regent of the state university.

South Dakota will elect a justice of the supreme court.

Maryland will elect a governor, comptroller and attorney general.

Massachusetts will elect a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of commonwealth, treasurer and receiver general, auditor of accounts and attorney general.

Pennsylvania will elect a judge of the supreme court, judge of the superior court and a state treasurer.

Virginia votes a legislature, full house and half senate, which will elect a successor to United States Senator Martin. No state ticket.

New York will elect members of the state assembly and one representative.

New Jersey will elect a legislature.

Used by British Soldiers in Africa.

Capt. O. G. Dennison is well known all over Africa as commander of the forces that captured the famous rebel Galishe. Under date of Nov. 4, 1897, from Vryburg, Bechuanaland, he writes: "Before starting on the last campaign I bought a quantity of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used myself when troubled with bowel complaint, and had given to my and in every case it proved beneficial." For sale by M. G. Paden, druggist.

The transport Senator, with 1,700 soldiers, including the Fifty-first Iowa volunteers and other soldiers to that number, thought to have been lost in a typhoon in the Indian ocean, arrived at San Francisco last week.

Parties at Dawson City, Alaska, have discovered a 15 foot vein of coal. That is a great find in a community where the mercury falls 50 degrees below zero for six months at a time. Coal sells for $30 a ton in Dawson, and at that price is much cheaper than wood.

A friend in need is a friend indeed. That is exactly what Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is. It is the mother's help when she is suddenly awakened in the night by the ominous husky cough, and labored breathing, of her babe. It is the safe resort of the youth or adult when he has "caught cold" and there is coughing and irritation of the mucous membrane of the throat. It allays the irritation and cures the cold. For sale by M. G. Paden.

Bishop Potter says: We may have territorial expansion and material prosperity, and for a time, it may be, we shall have that possession which, in the mere dream of it, has begun to inflame our people with a strange inebriety—I mean world wide supremacy—but in the winning of it we shall have lost every distinguishing characteristic of a free and self-governing people. Is it worth while?

Admiral Dewey has declared his visits to Philadelphia and Atlanta off under advice of his physicians. The admiral will retire to a home of his own on Rhode Island avenue, Washington, D. C. It is claimed that the state of his health is such that necessitates his retirement for an indefinite period. It is current rumor that there is some significance underlying his decision to deny himself to the public for a time. The truth of this, however, remains to be verified.

The British victory at Glencoe, in the Transvaal, was won at a terrible cost to the British forces. A remarkable proportion of officers were among those who fell in the desperate contest with the Boers. One hundred and sixty men of the Eighteenth Hussars and a section of the mounted infantry sent in pursuit of the retreating Boers have not been heard from, and it is presumed that they have been either captured or killed. It is claimed that Irishmen bore the the brunt of the battle at Glencoe. President Krugers' proclamation warning the Boers to leave Johannesburg and ordering the release of prisoners in jail is thought to mean that he has planned to destroy the town. The heavy mortality of British officers in the battle at Glencoe is attributed both to the bravery of English officers and to the marksmanship of the Boers.

Official Paper of Lincoln County

Thursday, the 30th of November, has been set apart by the executive for Thanksgiving. See the president's proclamation on the first page of this issue

The statement given out by Senator Depew regarding the late Cornelius Vanderbilt's will shows his fortune to have been $70,000,000. Bushels of money, tons of gold.

There are 400 pupils enrolled in the Roswell public schools. The present accommodations are not sufficient and the construction of a new school building is being considered.

The city of Carlsbad sunk a well 900 feet trying to obtain artesian water. The water rose to within thirty feet of the surface, but a flow could not be obtained at that depth and the experiment was abandoned.

J. D. Lea, formerly of the Roswell Record, has gone to Clifton, Arizona, where he will enter a partnership with C. E. Bull in the publication of the Copper Era. Clifton is said to be a rapidly growing mining district.

The Woman's National Industrial and Patriotic league of Washington, D C., has decided to build a home for Admiral Schley at the national capital. Now that Dewey and Schley have been provided for, where does Sampson come in?

Roosevelt is stumping Maryland for the republican ticket. Most men would be kept busy as executive magistrate of New York state, but Roosevelt has time for everything from the writing of a magazine article to the stumping of doubtful states for his party outside of the time necessary to look after the gubernatorial machine of his state. There are only a few Roosevelt's though, and they won't last long.

The Texas state government has demanded of Mexico the extradition of Leonardo Gonzales, who is charged with the assault and murder of an American woman, named Mrs. P. Laura, at Sanderson, Texas. The American authorities point to the surrender of Mrs. Rich, an American, to the Mexican government under extradition as a precedent, and assume that the same course will be followed by Mexico. Under the new treaty the discretionary power to surrender a citizen to another country is reposed entirely in the executive, hence this duty will devolve upon Diaz to decide.

Grant is said to be the banner county of the territory in the way of paid-up taxes. In this connection the Independent remarks: "It is not right that the property owners of Grant county should pay their taxes and other counties in the territory collect only a small proportion of the amounts due. Let the law be enforced and all the delinquents be made to come to the front." Second the motion, Mr. Independent.

The English and the Boers have had battle in front of Ladysmith in the Transvaal republic. Ladysmith is a point of vantage for whoever holds it in this war, and the English made a determined stand here against the combined strength of the flower of the Boer army. The result of the battle was the total annihilation of two English regiments under command of General White, and the full and complete surrender of Ladysmith. The Boers lost in killed and wounded 900 or 1000 men.

President McKinley has resigned to the Almighty credit for the manifold blessings bestowed upon the American people during the past year in his Thanksgiving proclamation. It was different in his speeches made during his recent campaign through the west, when he distinctly claimed that each and every one of these blessings were due to the beneficent policy of the administration. It is well enough for Mr. McKinley to take a day off for Thanksgiving, but from that day to the close of the campaign in 1900 the Almighty will receive little credit for any achievement which will serve to increase the prestige of the administration and its president.

DENIES IT BUT.

The Albuquerque Journal Democrat of October 28th has the following to say about Mr. Eddy, diamond drills, coal, etc:

Mr. Eddy, of the White Oaks road, denies the stories put afloat some time ago to the effect that the vein of coal being worked by his company near Salado, is "pinching out," and states that the vein maintains its full size to the end of the longest entry. The report, he thinks, about the vein "pinching," came from the fact that some "faults" have been encountered, on account of which the diamond drill had to be resorted to A "fault," in coal mining, means that the tunnel, or "entry," comes to a place where a section of the earth has sunk, and the miner comes up against a face of solid rock, or, in other words, the entire vein suddenly disappears. The sunken section may be the one upon which the men are working, or it may be the one in front of them, and to determine this question it is necessary to bore down and also up through the rock, to find the vein. This was what the diamond drill was procured for, and this is the work that is going on at the Salado mines at the present time, according to Mr. Eddy's published statement.

"He calls attention to the fact that "faults," which are frequently encountered in coal mining, do not signify a diminution, or "pinching out" of the vein, which is very true, but at the same time they are very far from encouraging features, because they make a great deal of trouble for the miner, and materially to the cost of mining, and sometimes render the operation of a mine impracticable. The Santa Fe railway company struggled for a long time with such a condition as this in its mines at San Antonio, and finally had to abandon the field because the expense of mining made the cost more than it was worth. It is possible, or even probable, that the mines now being opened at Salado are in the same coal field which the other company tapped at San Antonio, and the danger is that the same general characteristics will be found to exist at both places.

SMALLPOX.

The Dona Ana County Republican of the 28th ult, says:

Smallpox is already rampant in different parts of New Mexico. Several cases have been reported here, but on investigation it was disproved. Now is the time to begin active precautions to prevent an epidemic. It is predicted that should a siege of smallpox become prevalent in New Mexico this winter, it will almost certainly be of a virulent type. If you are not vaccinated, do so immediately.

Lincoln county has not had an epidemic of smallpox for a number of years. There were a few cases, however, in this county last winter. Since the epidemic is already reported in other counties of the territory, it would be well for the inhabitants of Lincoln county to use every precaution to keep it out. White Oaks is always on the alert to prevent its reaching this locality, and other towns would profit by using the same amount of diligence to prevent the spread of this loathsome malady.

THE ENGLISH PARLIAMENT.

Queen Victoria prorogued the English parliament on the 17th ult. Following is the queen's speech to the house of lords and commons:

"My lords and gentlemen, I am happy to be able to release you from the exceptional duties which have been imposed upon us by the exigencies of public service.

"I congratulate you on the brilliant qualities which have been displayed by our brave regiments upon whom the task of repelling an invasion of my South African colonies has been laid. In doing so I cannot but express my profound sorrow that so many gallant officers and men should have fallen in performance of their duty."

"Gentlemen of the house of commons, I acknowledge with gratitude the liberal provisions you have made to pay the expenses of the military operations in South Africa.

"My lords and gentlemen, I trust that the divine blessing may rest on your efforts and those of my gallant army to restore peace and government to that portion of my empire, and to vindicate the honor of this country."

Why Women Are Nervous.

(British Medical News.)

The frequent cases of nervous prostration or utter collapse of the nervous system under which women "go all to pieces," as the saying is, have caused much thought and investigation on the part of physicians.

Certain inorganic substances are well known to cause various forms of nervous diseases which are readily traced to the poisons producing them. Further research leads to the belief that alum is a prevailing cause of so-called nervous prostration, for the symptoms it produces on the nervous system after its absorption into the blood are very remarkable indeed. Experiments physiologically made upon animals by Orfila, Professors Hans Mayer, Paul Seim and others, show that alum frequently produces no visible symptoms for many days after its introduction into the body. Then follow loss of appetite and other alimentary disturbances, and finally a serious prostration of the whole nervous system. The most prominent physicians now believe that "nervous prostration" and many affections of the nerves from which both men and women suffer are caused by the continued absorption of alum into the system.

It is probable that many medical men are unaware of the extent to which salts of alumina may be introduced into the body, being under the impression that the use of alum in bread is prohibited. Alum, however, is still used surreptitiously to some extent to whiten bread, and very largely in making cheap kinds of baking powder. In families where baking powder is generally used great care should be exercised to procure only those brands made from cream of tartar. The alum powders may generally be distinguished by the lower price at which they are sold.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave 'General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning" writes Mrs. S. H Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from Pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cure her of Consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung Disease. Only 50c and $100. Trial bottles free at M. G. Paden's drug store.

From Richardson.

Miss Luz Serrano of Lincoln, is a guest of Mrs. McTeague. A dance given in her honor Monday evening was attended by the Block ranch 400.

J. H. Steele of The Capitan Sheep Company, has purchased upwards of 5,000 lambs from native sheepmen this fall, at prices from $1.25 to $1.55.

Five hundred pounds of potatoes were taken from a patch on the top of the Capitan mountains by a person or persons having no right to them. As it is a day's work to reach the top of the mountain and another day's work with some burros to get down with the potatoes, the futility of this effort may be imagined.

Felis Perea was up this week before our local justice on a charge of assault and battery on Crusita Sanches, and was dischaged for want of sufficient evidence.

J. J. Chittenden of Picacho, has brought his family to dwell among us.

The school directors are preparing for a five months' school session.

John Campbell and O. G. Harris and family came in last week from Morgan county Missouri. Mr. Harris is a brother-in-law of B. L. Hurst of this place. He and Mr. Campbell have located here and have been employed in the Old Abe company's coal mine.

It will not be a surprise to any who are at all familiar with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, to know that people everywhere take pleasure in relating their experience in the use of that splendid medicine and in telling of the benefit they have received from it, of bad colds it has cured, of threatened attacks of pneumonia it has averted and of the children it has saved from attacks of croup and whooping cough. It is a grand, good medicine. For sale by M. G. Paden.

The mask ball given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Gumm Tuesday night was one of the most enjoyable social events of the season. About twenty five couples were present, most of whom were in mask. Excellent refreshments were served at 12 o'clock, after which the dance was resumed, ending some two hours later.

John A. Haley, superintendent of schools, conducted a regular examination for teachers at the school house here last Saturday. A teacher by the name of Woolverton, of the Ruidoso country, and E. S. Combs, principal of the White Oaks public schools, were the only applicants. Mr. Haley was called away on business at noon and the examinations were left in charge of Miss Ula Gilmore, member of the board.

Old Abe coal has been going to the railroad all this week. Mr. Hilton has some 15 or 18 teams engaged in the hauling. They have freighted about four car loads to Carrizozo already. Even this number of teams add considerably to the business appearance of things, and should Mr. Hilton put 150 teams to work and haul four or five cars to Carrizozo every day, it will add wonderfully to the general prosperity of the community.

A public well is badly needed here. Strangers, and the traveling public generally, have to race around over town for an hour some times after keys, etc., before a horse can be watered. There is a good well back of where the old Brothers hotel stood, and $10 or $15 will clean it out and box it up ready for use. Why not use it? The owners of the lot will not object until ready to build on the same and by that time other arrangements can be made.

The Old Abe Company's Gold and Coal Mines.

The EAGLE is indebted to John Y. Hewitt for the following information concerning the company's mines now in active operation here:

What is commonly known as the "Old Abe mine" comprises the "White Oaks Lode" and "Robert E. Lee Lode" mining claims in White Oaks Mining District, Lincoln county, New Mexico, and about one mile from the town of White Oaks. These claims aggregate about 1600 feet in length by 600 feet in width and are patented. On the two claims named are situated the main working shaft, the hoist, shops, store rooms, water reservoir and a 20-stamp mill.

The water supply, for the entire works, is derived from a well, 190 feet deep, in the canyon 5,400 feet from the mine, which furnishes ample water for all purposes without returning or using it over. The well is situated on the "Owl Lode" claim, in process of patenting and owned by the Old Abe company.

The company has its own coal mine—160 acres—about two miles southeast of the town and three miles from the mine and well. The coal seam shows a four-foot face of excellent coal, from which is mined the fuel required for steam and blacksmithing purposes (at a cost, delivered, of less than $2 per ton) and the supply for domestic purposes in White Oaks, as well as the Lady Godiva Gold mine, now in active operation. In addition to this, coal from the mine, is being shipped to El Paso, the demand there for this grade of coal being such as to warrant a haul of fifteen miles by wagons to the nearest station on the El Paso and Northeastern railroad. Adjoining the "White Oaks Lode" the company owns an unpatented placer claim, where is situated a 50-ton cyanide plant in complete working order. From the mill the tailings are conducted, in sluice boxes, to settling tanks from which, after being drained, they are removed to the leaching vats for treatment.

On December 18, 1890, milling of Old Abe ores was commenced in a small way and continued on rented mills until the spring of 1893, when the company's 20-stamp mill was completed and has since worked the product of the mine.

In March, 1895, a fire occurred which destroyed the shaft house and adjoining buildings, as well as much of the timbering of the working shaft, then something more than 650 feet deep. A year later this shaft collapsed at the 300-foot level, rendering it useless for future work and a new one was made necessary.

The new shaft was completed to the depth of 800 feet in the early part of 1898, and development below the old workings has progressed as rapidly as the facilities of the company made it practicable. This shaft is in every way substantial and safe and has now, November 1, 1899, reached a depth of nearly 1200 feet, with stations at each 50 feet from the 800-foot level to the bottom. At each of these levels is a drift along the vein (which is pronounced to be a true fissure), these drifts ranging from 150 to 350 feet in length.

The ore bodies range in width from 5 inches to several feet and in value from a trace to almost pure bullion, either extreme being rare.

The mine has produced a total of $709,227 95 up to October 1, 1899, $99,230.17 of which has been taken from the new shaft. There is estimated to be something more than twice the amount remaining in the ground already opened and reserved.

The company has recently added a new hoist to its plant at a cost of about $6,000, and also a cyanide plant of about the same value. Its coal mine is now developing into a valuable property, producing a grade of coal far superior to any other in New Mexico and equal to the product of any known mines of semi-bituminous coal.

Mining in Old Abe is done almost entirely with air drills, very little hand steel being used.

The mill, hoist, air compressor, pump plant, cyanide works and, in fact, all the appliances for extracting and treating the ores, are up-to date, first-class and in good and complete order for the work required.

Shot His Horse.

While deer hunting Tuesday morning in the Jicarilla mountains near Red Lake, Lin Branum accidentally discharged his rifle and killed his horse. Lin was looking for the game with gun in hand when his horse suddenly stopped and at the same time threw up his head, striking the gun, which was discharged by the blow and took effect in the horse's head behind the ear, killing him in his tracks.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm Cures Others Why Not You?

My wife has been using Chamberlain's Pain Balm, with good results, for a lame shoulder that has pained her continually for nine years. We have tried all kinds of medicines and doctors without receiving any benefit from any of them. One day we saw an advertisement of this medicine and thought of trying it, which we did with the best of satisfaction. She has used only one bottle and her shoulder is almost well.—ADOLPH L. Justice Court.

The Justice court was occupied Monday and Tuesday in the trial of a replevin case in which the El Capitan Land and Cattle company was plaintiff and Robert Leslie and his son, Lishla Leslie, were defendants. There were six head of cattle in the controversy which were claimed by the El Capitan company. The company alleged the ownership through the purchase of the LEA brand of cattle, and claimed that the defendants had burned the LEA brand so as to make it read TAY. A jury was selected, and after hearing the evidence of both parties awarded the cattle to the El Capitan company.

There are other replevin cases against the defendants in which the justice court has no jurisdiction, and will be heard at the next term of the district court. The principal of these cases is Jose Vega's, who has brought suit for forty head of cattle found in Lishla Leslie's pasture and which he claimed were taken from his herd and burned by Leslie. Vega's brand is J B and Leslie's cattle are branded R U B 7, that is, the number which Vega claimed. If Vega's brand was burned, it may easily be seen how it was done by making an R in front of the J and then make a U out of the J, when the brand R U B will be made, and to finish up, the tail of the R may be so extended as to make the —— under the J B brand of Vega's.

Robert Leslie was also tried on a charge of the larceny of cattle and was bound over by the justice to await the action of the grand jury.

A number of stockmen were in as witnesses in the case on the one side or the other. Among them were Noah Ellis of the I—X ranch, W. C. McDonald, Carrizozo ranch; Edward McTeague, Thomas Pridemore and others from the Block ranch; T. C. Jacobs and son-in law, Thomas, of Capitan, and Jose Vega of Nogal.

The Philippine Purchase.

The imperialist organs were not slow in seeing the significance of Judge Day's admission that our title to the Philippines rests upon a purchase. They insist that the islands became ours "by conquest."

One single question disposes of this claim: If we made a conquest of the islands, why haven't we got them? Why, after eight and a half months of war, are we still repelling attacks in the suburbs of Manila, and fearful of an uprising in the city itself, as Monday's dispatches reported? Would the capture of New York by a foreign foe complete a "conquest" of the United States?

Judge Day, as president of the American commission that made the treaty of peace with Spain, certainly knows the terms on which we secured our claim to the Philippines. And he says:

"By the cession for a consideration we obtained an indisputable title. * * * It was not changed by the American Commissioners acting on the president's instructions) that the United States had a right to the Philippines as a matter of conquest. The United States has never undertaken, so far as I know, to wrest from a foreign country lands or possession simply by right of conquest.

"Had we been disposed to do so," adds Judge Day, "it must be remembered that we were in possession only of the city, bay and harbor of Manila under the protocol," and that "the capture, after the signing of the protocol, by Gen. Merritt and his forces, whatever its legal effect may have been, included no more territory than we were entitled to hold under the protocol."

Judge Day claims that this title by purchase is "indisputable," but the inhabitants of Luzon have disputed it quite successfully thus far. The president in his Pittsburg speech took the same ground as his commissioner, saying that "peace brought us the Philippines by treaty cession from Spain." Waiving the important point that Spain could not cede that which she did possess—that what she sold us was really, as Mr. Bryan says, only "an option on a war"—Mr. McKinley has put this free Republic in the position of having purchased "sovereignty" over 10,000,000 unwilling people, and then sending for their subjugation the largest army ever employed by the United States except in the civil war.

These are the exact facts as to the Philippine purchase.—New York World.

"Modern Artillery and Automatic Guns."

A special dispatch from Ladysmith tells the World that in an action near there the "Boers would not stand up before the Maxim guns."

Who would? Who could? The modern machine gun, Gatling or Maxim, pours out a stream of missiles just as a fire hose pours out a stream of water. Whoever attempts to "stand up" before the literal stream of bullets is instantly struck down.

In the World's Editorial Forum today Mr. Maxim himself says:

"I anticipate that the Boers will not attack the British in mass and in the open, for such a course would be simply suicide in the face of modern artillery and automatic guns.

"It proved so in the battle of Glencoe, where the Boers did not indeed "attack the British in mass and in the open," but did suffer themselves to come for a brief time under the fire of "modern artillery and automatic guns," with fearfully destructive results.

"This is the terror of modern warfare, but it is also its chief amelioration. With modern arms in play it is simply impossible for any vigorously prosecuted war to last long. One side or the other must be quickly put out of the fighting by the very excessiveness of the slaughter. And the torture and misery and waste of war are in precise proportion to the length of time that war lasts. "Modern artillery and automatic guns" are peacemakers terrible but effective.—New York World.

Decision As to Coal Claims.

Commissioner Binger Hermann, of the general land office, has decided in a case arising in Colorado that it is unlawful to take coal from public lands under the coal declaratory statement, and that parties purchasing coal thus obtained can be held responsible for the value thereof until the government has recovered full satisfaction for the amount of trespass. This means that claimants have not the privilege to mine coal for sale or speculation, and that the purpose of a coal declaratory statement is to protect the claimant in preference to right of entry of mines opened and improved by him.

That "Little Insurrection."

In his stump speech No. 45, in South Dakota, Mr McKinley said:

We have a little insurrection in the Philippines which I trust will be very promptly suppressed.

Following this came a Washington dispatch saying:

The combined military and naval forces of the United States in the Philippines, when all the troops and ships now under orders reach their destination, will aggregate more than seventy thousand men and forty five war vessels.

A list of the regiments and ships was given. Is not this considerable of a force to put down a "little insurrection?" The army in the Philippines is more than double the size of our entire standing army before our war with Spain. It is three times the size of the force required to whip Spain in Cuba and Porto Rico. And it is three and a half times bigger than the armies under Scott and Taylor that conquered Mexico.—New York World.

Sir Thomas Lipton has announced his intention to compete for America's Yachting cup again next year.

It is generally conceded that the purchase of the Ortez grant by the Edison company, and the erection of an extensive plant at that point for the purpose of working the rich placers of that district, will result in the inauguration of a general mining boom throughout that section of country, says the Journal Democrat.

THE GREAT PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN OF 1900.

The policies of the great political parties are now being formed and the candidates discussed. The voice of the people as recorded by ballot at the approaching Presidential election will probably decide the policy of the nation for the next decade. Every citizen must study the great questions that are to come before the people. This can only be done through the medium of a great newspaper. Now is the time, therefore, for every voter to subscribe for the best and most reliable newspaper obtainable. The Semi-Weekly Republic covers the whole field of political news. While it is Democratic, it publishes the news in regard to all political parties without prejudice. Its telegraphic and cable news service is superior to that of any other paper. Its special features are the best. In fact, it is the paper for that large class of readers who cannot afford or do not have access to the daily papers.

Attention is also called to the Republic's Sunday Magazine. Its half tone illustrations are alone worth the subscription price. It is made up of special articles by the best literary talent, embracing a variety of subjects of current interest. News features of absorbing interest are illustrated and enlarged upon. For the benefit of the ladies the latest fashions are handsomely illustrated. The Republic Sunday Magazine is always interesting to every member of the family.

The subscription price of the Semi-Weekly Republic is $1.00 per year. The Republic Sunday Magazine $1.25 per year. Both papers are now being offered at the very low price of $1.50 for one year. To secure this low rate both must be ordered and paid at the same time.
