NUMBER 43

Carrizozo Lodge No. 41 A. F. & A. M. Dedicated.

The institution, dedication and consecration ceremonies of the newly-chartered Masonic lodge of Carrizozo were conducted last Friday night, Nov. 26, under the direction of the District Deputy Grand Master, A. D. Goldenburg of Tucumcari, assisted by a number of Tucumcari's Masons.

The grand lodge of New Mexico was composed of the following officers: A. D. Goldenburg, grand master; Wm. F. A. Gierke, deputy grand master; C. H. Rankin, senior grand warden; J. C. Elkins, junior grand warden; G. W. Spence, grand secretary; Wayne Van Schoyck, grand treasurer; S. F. Miller, senior grand deacon; D. W. Glenn, junior grand deacon; Ed. Chew, senior grand steward; F. M. Goodin, junior grand steward; Dr. H. J. Miller, grand chaplain; I. I. Cavender, grand tyler.

The ceremony of installation being over, all repaired to the White House restaurant, where a banquet was served, and a few pleasant hours spent. Thirty-six members of the order were present.

The lodge starts off on its mission of fraternity and brotherhood under the most favorable conditions, and when the membership increases, as it is bound to do rapidly, Carrizozo lodge will occupy a prominent place among the Masonic lodges of the territory.

The first regular communication of Carrizozo Lodge No. 41, A. F. & A. M., as a chartered lodge, took place Saturday night in the Masonic hall.

The principal business before the lodge was the election of officers for the ensuing Masonic year and resulted as follows: Wm. F. A. Gierke, worshipful master; W. C. Miller, senior warden; S. F. Miller, junior warden; Wayne Van Schoyck, treasurer; Dr. G. Ranniger, secretary; E. H. B. Chew, senior deacon; Frank M. Goodin, junior deacon; Harry Chant, senior steward; G. B. Greer, junior steward; I. I. Cavender, Tyler.

The installation of the new officers will take place on St. John's day, the 27th day of December. All Master Masons are cordially invited to be present with their families and friends.

Eric Wm. Johnson was raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason.

Baird-Payne

On Wednesday afternoon, of last week, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Mattingly, at Fort Stanton, J. B. Baird and Miss Hallie Payne were united in marriage, Justice of the Peace,

J. E. Koonce, of Nogal, tying the hymeneal knot. The bride is the youngest sister of Mrs. A. V. Rogers, of Fort Stanton, and has grown to womanhood in this county. The groom is well known in this town, where he resided several years previous to going to Fort Stanton, where he has been employed for the past year and a half as stockman at the U. S. Marine hospital. Only the relatives and a few immediate friends were present at the ceremony. Mesdames Mattingly and Rogers served a wedding dinner at which a number of the friends of both parties were present. Later a reception and a ball was held at the Library hall, after which a luncheon was served. The happy couple came the following morning to Carrizozo to spend a week at the home of Mr. Baird's parents. They returned yesterday to Fort Stanton, where they will commence house-keeping. The News joins the many friends of Mr. Baird in wishing him and his bride long life and prosperity.

A Buggy Load of Rabbits.

Sunday morning last Frank Gray and Joe D. Adams, armed for bear, bird or jackrabbit, took a trip to Jake's Springs, southwest of here. They returned late in the afternoon with as mixed a load of bi-peds and quadrupeds as was ever seen in Carrizozo. The load comprised for the most part jackrabbits, plentifully interspersed with cottontails, a few sparrow hawks, and a number of other members of the feathered tribe which, in the gathering twilight, it was impossible to say to what species they belonged, but they certainly looked good enough to eat. The hunters encountered several large wolves, but failed to bring them down, although they claim to have crippled one of them. They would have enjoyed the hunt far better, if it were not for the piercingly cold east wind which prevailed during the day. The jackrabbits numbered 29, the cottontails about half that number, while the birds completed the buggy load.

Church Services.

Regular peoples' services next Sunday, Dec. 5, in the basement room of the bank building. The morning service at 11 o'clock, Dr. Miller's theme will be "Things That Cannot be Shaken, or Setting Aside of the Imperfect by the Perfect." At the peoples' night service at 7:30 o'clock his theme will be "The Four Great Questions of Life." Everybody is cordially invited to attend these services and will be given a hearty welcome. Sunday School at 10 o'clock a. m.

HURTS THE MARRIAGE AGENT

Decision of French Court Is a Distinct Blow to Long-Recognized Institution.

Having successfully brought off a match, a Parisian matrimonial agent claimed his fee from the bridegroom, which had been fixed beforehand at $100. But the customer, who had been willing enough to promise, was more than slack to fulfill and the agent went to law. His suit, however, has proved of no profit to him. The court was virtuously shocked when it heard the terms of the contract between plaintiff and defendant and in high indignation declared it null and void on the ground of immorality. "Forasmuch as the consequence of such a contract must be to cause the go-between to drop all consideration of the suitability of the projected union and to envisage only the fulfillment of the condition upon which the payment of his remuneration depended." In other words, the agent does not care a rap whether the pair lead a cat-and-dog life forever after, provided he touches his feet. The argument is one which must probably have occurred before now to any one who patronized a matrimonial agency.

The decision of the court is finely worded, but a legal writer points out that it is too general in its terms. It might just as well apply to a house agent as to a matrimonial agent. Does the man who finds you a flat, so long as he gets his fee, care any more how you like it when you live in it than the man who finds you a wife cares how you get on with her after the wedding? Yet the court will compel you to pay the man who found you your flat and dismiss the $100 claim of the plaintiff who got defendant a wife. The loss of the action is a serious blow to matrimonial agents. They will have in future to do business only for a cash deposit with order and must give up the cash-on-delivery system which attracted customers.

The New Society Walk.

It is sincerely hoped that the new walk indulged in by several of the younger members of the smart set will not be generally adopted. It is certainly neither a thing of beauty nor a joy forever. In fact, it is distinctly awkward, and its only interest can lie in the idea that it attracts attention. This it does, and, unfortunately, for this reason, it is being copied by the sensation mongers. Frankly, it is the exact gait of the Japanese geisha girl. Why, then, is it necessary for the well-bred and supposedly refined American girl and younger matron to imitate women of this type? For, this latest fad originated with one of the acknowledged leaders of the inner circle of the fashionable world, and is being copied by her coterie, as well as the hoi-polloi who delight in anything for a novelty.

Dairymen, Take Notice.

A New Jersey farmer has discovered that music pays in the dairy business. He employed a Swiss milkmaid who yodeled, and the daily supply of milk increased. The milkmaid left, the cows moped and the milk supply decreased. He bought a phonograph and installed it in the stables and when he put in the kind of music the cows liked they gave down freely. Some tunes made them dry up. Here is a hint for dairymen.

At Work on Flying Machines.

An expert in mechanics who comes in frequent contact with inventors says that there are not fewer than 400 men in New York city experimenting with flying machines, and that while most of them are working on impossible projects, some of them are likely to develop valuable ideas.

MAN OF FUTURE TO HAVE ONE EYE

SINGLE OPTIC TO BE LOCATED IN MIDDLE OF FOREHEAD.

NOSE ALONE IS THE BAR

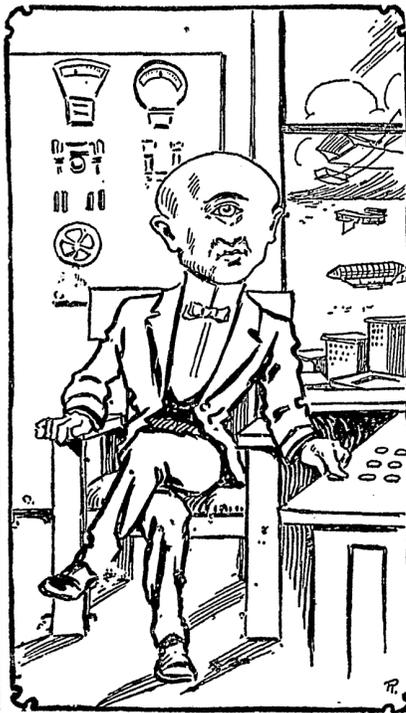

Prof. George W. Gould, After Much Study, Points Out Trend of Race Toward a Cyclopean Eye.

Ithaca, N. Y.—The perfect man of the millennium period will have but one eye. He will be cyclopean, like the fabled creature in Greek mythology.

The one eye may be located in the middle of the forehead. Were it not that the nose hides from the right eye a considerable part of the world to the left side, it is probable that the trend toward a single or cyclopean eye would be greater than it is at present.

Such are the astonishing conclusions of Prof. George M. Gould of Ithaca, who has given many years to the study of the eye.

Of the drift of the human race toward one-eyedness, or cyclopeanism, Dr. Gould says: "In the localization of the speech-and-writing center in the brain, and of the origin of righthandedness, the blunder of those who preach ambidextrousness, or both-handedness, is as maleficent as may be easily imagined.

"In reference to the disadvantage of a high nasal bridge in man, it should be noted that the Oriental types have a higher wall between the eyes than the Teutonic races, who are now the chief carriers of an advancing civilization.

"In the statues of the classic Greek and Roman sculptors, the lines of the nasal crest, joining the tip of the nose and the forehead, is a straight one."

The eye, Dr. Gould says, has given the human race, in its evolution from the lower types of life, more bother than any other organ or function in its struggle to adapt itself to changed conditions and environments. There are now about 438,000 nerve fibers in the human optic nerve, and between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 retinal cone cells at birth. When the infant is born, its eye, he says, is incomplete, the adult having twice as many retinal cone cells as the babe. The number of "retinal rods" has been estimated as high as 130,000,000. Upon these retinal rods, as upon so many bunched finger tips of a blind man, he says, is laid the warm picture, made by light, of the external scene. The difficulty in developing the eye, he says, is what has delayed the perfect development of the body mechanism.

The eyes of the primeval types of life, Dr. Gould says, looked outward one from the other in divergent lines of vision. Man, through a long range of evolutionary types, is approaching parallelism of vision—with his two eyes looking out in two close parallel directions, in which each field of vision is partly included in the other.

BANKER'S WIFE IS TORTURED

Michigan Woman Found Bound and Gagged in Woodshed—Robbery Probable Motive.

Lansing, Mich.—Mrs. W. B. Scott, wife of a banker of this city, was found in the woodshed of her home gagged and suspended by the wrists from a rafter so that her toes just touched the floor.

The woman said she had been hung there by two masked men and had been tied up for four hours before her husband and a neighbor found her. She was utterly exhausted when cut down and suffered severely from the shock.

According to the story told the police, Mrs. Scott, hearing a noise, entered the woodshed in her night clothes just after the men had opened the door and stepped into the shadows. They seized her and threw her to the floor. After procuring a clothes line from the yard they bound and gagged her and hung her to the rafter. They then entered the house and searched for money, which they did not find.

Mrs. Scott said the men who attacked her were masked, but one of them resembled a man who had called at her house and represented himself to be a Pinkerton detective. The house was for sale and on the pretext that he was looking for a house to buy he was shown through.

It is thought the marauders supposed Scott was away from the house. No serious injury was done Mrs. Scott, although she was badly bruised by the men when they bound and gagged her.

Life Saved by Church Members.

Winsted, Conn.—While a church meeting was in progress in New Milford, near here, cries of "Help me! Save me!" suddenly disturbed its deliberations, and Rev. N. E. Howold and all of the members of the congregation who were present dashed into the street. There, immediately in front of the church, they saw the figure of a man hanging and writhing high in the air. At first they were at a loss to know what was the trouble, but presently sparks were seen flying around the swaying figure. A telephone message was sent to the lighting plant, the electric current was shut off, and the man was taken down. It developed that he was W. A. Parcells, a lineman.

The force of the current was not sufficient to kill him, and the only injury he sustained was the burning of the fingers of both hands to the bone.

"She does?"

"At least, I suppose so. The other day I told her that Miss Petty, of whom she has a very poor opinion, had offered to make me some caramel for the fair, and what do you think she said?"

"What?"

"Oh, fudge!"

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Gardiner, Maine.—"I have been a great sufferer from organic troubles and a severe female weakness. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation, but I could not bear to think of it. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash—and was entirely cured after three months' use of them."—Mrs. S. A. WILLIAMS, R. F. D. No. 14, Box 39, Gardiner, Me.

No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial.

This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and renewer of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female ills, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

STERILIZE THE JAR

IMPORTANT POINT IN PROCESS OF CANNING.

To Neglect of This Is Due the Spoiling of About Half the Fruit Put Up—The Process of Cold Canning.

BY JESSICA E. BESACK.

Director Department of Domestic Science and Art, National Corn Exposition, Omaha, Neb.

Hand in hand with the canning of fruits and vegetables should go the knowledge of sterilization. This means more than washing and rinsing of a jar, even when this is done with more than ordinary care. Soap is excellent, but alone it is not sufficient to sterilize a jar and its cover. Boiling water is necessary and it is needed for a longer period than simply rinsing.

About half the fruit which spoils and thus adds expense to the cost of housekeeping, spoils because the jars and covers are not properly sterilized.

To sterilize a jar, immerse it with the cover in a pan of cold water, put the pan on the stove and boil for at least ten minutes. If the jar is removed from the water before using, turn it upside down to keep out the air. Rubbers should never be used the second time. The hands and all clothing about the jars should be perfectly clean.

The process of cold canning is coming into favor rapidly and will soon replace the old methods of canning altogether. This process leaves the small fruits in their natural shapes and more of their color is retained than where the fruit is cooked.

Sugar is not at all necessary for successful canning by this method, in fact if a large quantity is used it will draw out and change the flavor of the fruits. Excellent results have been obtained by adding to water only about as much sugar as is contained in the fruit. All that is necessary is to put clean fruit in a sterilized jar and pour water over it until the jar is filled, seal and set in a pan of water which must be brought to the boiling point. Clean fruit in clean jars will not spoil. "Clean" means free from molds or ferments that fall from the air, and if the fruit is clean in this sense, there will be no necessity of using the "powders" which housewives are sometimes induced to buy. Upon analysis these powders are invariably found to contain injurious chemicals if not positive poisons.

One of the best fruits for cold canning is Hawaiian pineapple. It is a good fruit on which to try the process. Simply peel it and slice in a sterilized jar. Pour over it sterilized and slightly sweetened water, to which has been added a pinch of salt. The salt brings out the flavor of the fruit in quite an unexpected way.

Tomatoes may be treated in the same way or they may be sliced and covered with equal parts of water and vinegar. A can which had been sealed five years was recently opened in the domestic science laboratory of Columbia university and the color was as bright and as perfect as on the day the can was sealed.

How to Polish Linen.

To give a fine polish to linen use lukewarm water instead of cold to break down the starch. When it has been reduced to the required consistency by boiling water add a pinch of fine salt and stir several times with a wax candle. This will make the iron run smoothly and give a polish to the linen that nothing else can impart.

Tart Pies.

Make a rich pie crust, cover a deep pie plate and bake light brown in a quick oven. Slip onto a fancy plate. When cool fill with sliced bananas, oranges, strawberries or any fruit that needs no cooking, cover with whipped cream sweetened and flavored.

Cook—Never mind, call me Lily!

BABY'S WATERY ECZEMA.

Itched and Scratched Until Blood Ran—$50 Spent on Useless Treatments—Disease Seemed Incurable.

Cured by Cuticura for $1.50.

"When my little boy was two and a half months old he broke out on both cheeks with eczema. It was the itchy, watery kind and we had to keep his little hands wrapped up all the time, and if he would happen to get them uncovered he would claw his face till the blood streamed down on his clothing. We called in a physician at once, but he gave an ointment which was so severe that my babe would scream when it was put on. We changed doctors and medicine until we had spent fifty dollars, or more and baby was getting worse. I was so worn out watching and caring for him night and day that I almost felt sure the disease was incurable. But finally reading of the good results of the Cuticura Remedies, I determined to try them. I can truthfully say I was more than surprised, for I bought only a dollar and a half's worth of the Cuticura Remedies (Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills), and they did more good than all my doctors' medicines I had tried, and in fact entirely cured him. His face is perfectly clear of the least spot or scar of anything. Mrs. W. M. Comerer, Burnt Cabins, Pa., Sept. 15, 1908."

The Soft Answer.

At a dinner in Bar Harbor a Boston woman praised the wit of the late Edward Everett Hale.

"Walking on the outskirts of Boston one day," she said, "he and I inadvertently entered a field that had a 'No Trespassing' sign nailed to a tree.

"Soon a farmer appeared.

"Trespassers in this field are prosecuted," he said in a grim tone.

"Dr. Hale smiled blandly.

"But we are not trespassers, my good man," he said.

"What are you then?" asked the amazed farmer.

"We're Unitarians," said Dr. Hale."

Quaker Scotch Oats

In an article published in the Youth's Companion of September 23rd, 1909, Dr. Browne, the great medical authority on foods, says, about brain and muscle building—

"There is one kind of food that seems to me of marked value as a food to the brain and to the whole body throughout childhood and adolescence (youth), and that is oatmeal.

"Oats are the most nutritious of all the cereals, being richer in fats, organic phosphorus and lecithins."

He says oatmeal is gaining ground with the well-to-do of Great Britain. He speaks of it as the mainstay of the Scottish laborer's diet and says it produces a big-boned, well-developed, mentally energetic race.

His experiments prove that good oatmeal such as Quaker Scotch Oats not only furnishes the best food for the human being, but eating it strengthens and enlarges the thyroid gland—this gland is intimately connected with the nourishing processes of the body.

In conclusion he says—

"It seems probable therefore that the bulk and brawniness of the Northerners (meaning the Scotch) has been in some measure due to the stimulation of the thyroid gland by oatmeal porridge in childhood."

The Scotch eat Quaker Scotch Oats because it is the best of all oatmeals.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

The Gubernatorial Change.

Last week we stated that the new appointee for governor, Chief Justice W. J. Mills, was credited with being a member of the gang and everybody in New Mexico knew what that meant. We do not wish to be understood as voicing the sentiment that the gang contains no good men, but we do say that it does number among its adherents so many that certainly cannot be classed in that category that we are doubtful of every man who owes allegiance to the gang. Further than this, we have the authoritative statement that Judge Mills was entirely acceptable to Solomon Luna, the uncrowned King of Valencia county, and the force behind the corrupt ring of New Mexico politicians; and still further that Mr. Luna and others intimated—some say ordered—President Taft not to appoint Judge Abbott to the position.

Now, there was nothing against Judge Abbott, save he had made a good Judge and had fought clear of the intrigues and dark doings that characterized republican rule in this territory. He would not do and the president was bluntly told so. And the president, good fellow that he is, agreed, and as a result we have a man who the plunderband says will make us a splendid governor. We trust that they are correct in the statement, but we must "Beware of the Greek's beaming gifts." Ex-Governor Otero says its a good appointment and that it means statehood. Whether we get statehood or not we would like to have good government in the meantime, and meantime is likely to be quite awhile.

We trust that the new government will prove to be all his friends claim for him, but we are afraid: "More strange than true; I never may believe These antique fables, nor the fairy toys."

The mid-winter carnival of horse-racing opened at Juarez on Wednesday. Stalls to accommodate 1600 horses have been erected close to the grounds, and it is estimated that there are already 800 thoroughbreds there, and others are arriving by the carload daily from the east, south and west. The meeting will continue up to March. It is believed by many that the city of Juarez will eventually become a second Monto Carlo.

A prophet seldom finds honor in his own country. Henry George, the father of the "single tax" theory and author of "Poverty versus Protection," many years ago in order to equalize taxation advocated taxing land values and not improvements. For instance: Two people own adjoining town lots; one improves his lot by erecting a building on it, and is taxed for the improvements. The other holds his lot until others increase its value by surrounding it with buildings, and escapes taxation. The English House of Lords this week vetoed the government's budget, which was framed after the ideas of the great American economist. This means a dissolution of parliament and a general election will be called, and the budget will go before the people for their endorsement or rejection. Should the people endorse the government it will then be up to the new parliament to put a crimp in the power of the House of Lords. As that great commoner, Wm. E. Gladstone, said on one occasion when a bill was sent to the upper house for its approval: "If the lords veto this bill it will be bad for the people and bad for the lords." The House of Commons can by a vote curtail the powers of the lords, or abolish it altogether. We will anxiously await the result of the election.

ONCE A SCHOOL TEACHER ALWAYS.....

There was a time in our history when Great Britain insisted upon the right to search American vessels, on the ground that "Once an Englishman always an Englishman." That question was not fully settled by the war that followed, and yet, while Englishmen may still contend for the principle, they have not endeavored to enforce it, so far as we are concerned, since 1815.

The same feeling clings to the profession of school teaching. Many, it is true, wander far a-field, leaving the profession for more lucrative employment—for it is a well known fact that school teachers' purses are invariably empty—but when other pursuits thus claim the teacher, the interest in the school room is never lost, and old teachers who have not been engaged in the work for years take advantage of every opportunity to attend teachers' meetings, take part in the discussions and, in fancy, tread again the paths of by-gone years. The clinging remembrance that some good has been accomplished, some advancement made and that he or she had a small part in it inspires noble thoughts and leads to brighter and better things.

The school teacher is the pioneer that blazes the trail for the future of our country, and the great men and women have to thank the humble school teacher that first planted their feet upon a solid foundation and pointed the way to success and happiness. With this understanding, then, it is easy to see that once a school teacher always a school teacher, in spirit if not in fact. The profession has a charm that lingers as long as life endures, and Moore supplies the reason, though dealing with another subject, in his "Farewell":

Long, long be my heart with such memories fill'd!
Like the vase in which roses have once been distill'd:
You may break, you may shatter the vase if you will,
But the scent of the roses will hang round it still.

Or those other sublime and beautiful lines by the same author:

The heart that has truly loved never forgets,
But as truly loves on to the close,
As the sunflower turns on her god, when he sets,
The same look which she turn'd when he rose.

"Fifteen hundred Poles down in Kansas," is the way a telegram was headed in the El Paso Herald one day this week. At first glance it appeared as if they had just arrived from the fair land of Poland, but on reading the body of the dispatch it showed that they were just ordinary telegraph poles blown down by the storm.

LINCOLN LOCALS.

County Treasurer Dr. T. W. Watson, left last Sunday for a business trip to Carrizozo.

Attorney A. H. Hudspeth was here last Sunday and went to Roswell Monday on some legal business.

W. G. Lernery, formerly of the Laws Sanatorium, left last Monday for Albuquerque, where he will make his future home.

Wm. F. A. Gierke returned about noon Monday from Carrizozo, where he had been taking in the institution of the new Masonic lodge.

Forest Supervisor J. H. Kinney, his father and brother, of Winfield, Kan., came in from Roswell last Sunday and went immediately to Capitan.

J. A. Pendleton, secretary of the California Industrial Co., of Los Angeles, spent several days this week looking after his mining property in the Capitan mountains.

G. A. Bloom, president of the Bloom Land and Cattle Co., was here last Saturday and went to Picacho to look after his interest in that company. He left Sunday for his home in Trinidad, Colorado.

Sheriff Stevens and wife very charmingly entertained the future generation by arranging a children's party last Saturday night. The little folks came from everywhere and from all appearances not less than 50 children were present on this occasion. The little guests commenced to gather shortly after supper and held the undivided attention of the hostess till after midnight. All manners of games had been arranged as well as a dancing party as all the little ones report a splendid good time and cannot speak too highly of their hostess. Delightful refreshments were served during the evening and all expressed a desire to have another party in the near future.

The masquerade ball held at Humphrey Bros.' hall last evening was well attended, quite a large number of ladies and gents from outside points being present. It was a highly enjoyable affair. The frolic lasting till midnight.

That Lame Back Means Kidney Disease

And to Relieve the Lame and Aching Back, You Must First Relieve the Kidneys

There is no question about that at all—for the lame and aching back is caused by a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder. It is only common sense, any way—that you must cure a condition by removing the cause of the condition. And lame and aching back are not by any means the only symptoms of derangement of the kidneys and bladder. There are a multitude of well-known and unmistakable indications of a more or less dangerous condition. Some of these are, for instance: Extreme and unnatural lassitude and weariness; nervous irritability, heart irregularity, "nerves on edge," sleeplessness and inability to secure rest, scalding sensation and sediment in the urine, inflammation of the bladder and passages, etc.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills are an exceptionally meritorious remedy for any and all affections or diseased conditions of these organs. These Pills operate directly and promptly—and their beneficial results are at once felt.

They regulate, purify, and effectually heal and restore the kidneys, bladder and liver, to perfect and healthy condition—even in some of the most advanced cases.

E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill., want every man and woman who have the least suspicion that they are afflicted with kidney and bladder diseases to at once write them, and a trial box of these Pills will be sent free by return mail postpaid.

Mining Application No. 020698.

United States Land Office,
Roswell, New Mexico,
November 11, 1909.

Notice is hereby given that Chicago and Santa Fe Smelting and Mining Company, by John Y. Hewitt, its attorney-in-fact, whose postoffice is White Oaks, Lincoln county, New Mexico, has this day filed its application for a patent for the Hawkeye Group of mining claims, consisting of the Hawkeye Lode for 1270.90 feet, and the Red Rose Lode for 1254.15 feet of said veins, bearing gold, together with surface ground as shown on the plat on file in this office, situated in Jicarilla Mining District, Lincoln county, New Mexico, and described by the field notes on file in this office as Survey No. 1388, in unsurveyed township No. 5 S, range 12 E, New Mexico Principal Meridian. Said Survey No. 1388 being described as follows, to-wit:

HAWKEYE LODGE.

Beginning at corner No. 1, whence the standard quarter section corner on the south side of section 34, township 5 S, range 12 E of New Mexico Principal Meridian, bears south 27° 53' west 5573.95 feet.

Thence north 16° 24' west 1289.7 feet to corner No. 2.

CAPITAN.

Miss Hettie Eaton of St. Louis is a guest of Mrs. F. W. Gurney of the Carrizozo Eating House this week.

W. M. Ferguson, of the Mesa, shipped several carloads of fat cattle to the Kansas City market yesterday.

Miss Alma Martin was up from Oscuro, Saturday. The meeting of the Teachers' Association was the attraction.

Manuel A. Otero, who is teaching the school at Raventon, attended the Teachers' Association here Saturday.

J. J. McCourt, representing the Armour Packing company, was up from El Paso this week on his monthly rounds.

G. B. Greer was over from Parsons Friday and Saturday, attending the Masonic dedication and installation.

Three special trains of troops passed this town Tuesday enroute to California, from which point they will embark for the Philippines.

Frank Goodwin was up from Three Rivers Saturday, having come to attend the dedicatory exercises of the Carrizozo A. F. & A. M. lodge.

The ladies of the Home Mission society will hold a Christmas bazaar on Friday, the 17th inst., in some store room later to be decided on.

F. L. Atkinson, clerk of the Corona school board, was down Monday, consulting with the treasurer and superintendent with reference to the sale of Corona's school bonds.

Miss Cherille Wells was in the city Saturday, attending the Teachers' Association. Miss Wells is teaching above Glencoe on the Ruidoso.

The visiting teachers, and home teachers, and friends as well, were entertained last Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. White.

Dr. G. Raniger was a visitor from Oscuro Saturday. He is a member of the local lodge of Masons, and attended the regular meeting while here.

Miss Callie Thompson, principal of the Corona public school, was here Saturday, in attendance upon the Lincoln County Teachers' Association.

Fireman Gunn has taken a lay off and gone to El Paso, where he will take in the sights during the opening week of the mid-winter race meeting at Juarez.

Snow has fallen to the east and north of us, but only "spitted" a little here. The weather, however, has been decidedly raw, and overcoats were brought into play.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. H. Boyd announce the marriage of their daughter, Lena Gertrude, to W. P. Loughrey, which will take place sometime during the present month.

Miss Marguerite Gallacher and Miss Pearl Taylor were down from White Oaks Saturday, attending the Lincoln County

Teachers' Association, of which both are members.

C. L. Kennedy was down from Jicarilla Saturday in attendance upon the Teachers' Association. Those who failed to hear the Professor's dissention on "Dry Farming" missed a treat.

Geo. Roslington, formerly a resident of this place, but now connected with the Occidental Life Insurance Co., of Albuquerque, in a managerial capacity, was in Carrizozo Saturday.

Prof. F. A. Walker, wife and children arrived Saturday morning from Colorado. Prof. Walker has been engaged to teach the White Oaks school, and went to that point Saturday afternoon.

J. E. Koonce, who adjusts the scales of justice in the Nogal precinct, was down Saturday, and took an active part in the discussions at the Teachers' association. Mr. Koonce, however, once presided in the "little red school house," and his interest in education never flags.

C. J. Campbell has placed a large blackboard in the Carrizozo Bar on which the results of each day's racing at Juarez will be chalked up. Also the starters, jockeys and weights for the current day. This will be appreciated by a large number of the patrons of that place, who are interested in the ponies.

A cold wave Sunday was the opening of the winter season in the southwest. It was followed by a snowfall, extending from Colorado to the Panhandle, Texas. The fall was general throughout New Mexico, with the exception of the extreme southern part. Trains from the east were from 12 to 20 hours late. At Santa Fe and Las Vegas from ten to twelve inches fell. It is estimated that the snowfall is worth thousands of dollars to cattle and sheepmen, and especially to the dry-farming districts, which depend on early winter snows for moisture.

BACKACHE IS KIDNEYACHE.

Usually There Are Other Troubles to Prove It.

Pain in the back is pain in the kidneys, in most cases, and it points to the need of a special remedy to remove and cure the congestion or inflammation of the kidneys that is interfering with their work and causing that pain that makes you say: "Oh, my back."

Thompson Watkins, professional nurse, 420 N. 23rd St., Parsons, Kan., says: "For some time I was annoyed with sharp twinges across the small of my back and irregular passages of the kidney secretions. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills, I am free from these troubles."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

CLEANING BLACK SILK DRESS

Method Requires a Little Time, But the Result Will Be Absolutely Satisfactory.

Take the dress entirely to pieces and shake each piece; then spread over a deal table a newspaper, or sheet of clean paper, and on it lay a breadth of the silk. Brush it well on both sides with a fine soft brush—a hat brush would very well answer the purpose. Shake it again, fold together in half, and place on one side of the table. In the same manner shake, brush and shake again each piece of silk. Remove the paper, and place on the table a clean paper. On the paper place the breadth of silk once more, and into a clean quart pudding basin pour a half-pint of cold water, adding half a pint of good sweetened gin, which is better for the purpose than unsweetened, as the sugar stiffens the silk. These are the proportions for any quantity required. Have ready a piece of black crape, or black merino, about a half a yard square; dip it into the liquid, and thoroughly wash over the best side of the silk. Be careful that it is well cleaned, and if possible wash from edge to edge, and wet it well all over. Then fold over the silk in half; then again, till the folds are the width of those of new silk. Place it in a clean towel and clean each piece of silk in the same manner, laying one piece on the other, remembering that the last piece done must be the last ironed. Let the silk lie folded in the towel until a large iron is well heated; but be careful that it is not too hot. Use two irons. Open the towel when the iron is ready, and place the silk that was first cleaned on an old tablecloth or sheet folded thick; and then iron the wrong side quickly, from edge to edge, until dry. Fold the silk lightly to the width of new silk.

This simple process cleans, stiffens and makes silk look new.

To blacken brown boots rub the blacking well into the shoes with a raw potato and then polish.

Soak silver knives, forks and spoons in sour milk over night and all the surface and creases will be bright as new.

If light kid gloves are not too badly soiled they may be cleansed by rubbing them thoroughly with cracker crumbs.

A little sugar added to the soap will greatly increase the lather and cleansing power. It will also remove all dirt and chemical stains.

An attractive garnish for veal or chicken loaf is to put sprigs of cress on top of the loaf and at the ends of the platter, then surround it with stuffed olives.

A good furniture polish may be made of paraffin oil and turpentine. Kerosene, too, is good, while crude oil may be used to darken wood that has not been varnished.

When two thin glasses are stuck together, set them in rather warm water and pour cold water in the upper glass. The expansion of one and contraction of the other loosens the glasses.

A little soap rubbed on the bottom of a squeaking door, or on the sill, will sometimes remedy the trouble. If the difficulty lies in the hinges, dip a feather in kerosene and apply, swinging the door to and fro gently.

Luncheon Dish.

A tasty luncheon dish to serve instead of meat is made by frying thin slices of bacon until they are crisp.

Turn into the pan cold boiled potatoes cut into dice, season and sprinkle with chopped parsley and fry until a golden brown. Just before taking from the fire turn into the pan three or four eggs, whites and yolks beaten together, and scramble.

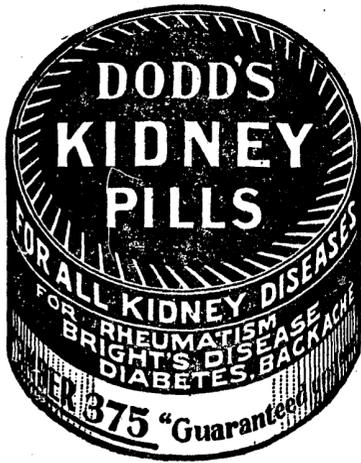

Joke Medicine.

He is a very practical, serious-minded man of business. The other day he met a friend, and related to him an alleged joke, and at its conclusion laughed long and heartily.

The friend looked awkward for a moment, and then said:

"You'll have to excuse me, old man, but I don't see the point."

"Why, to tell you the truth, I don't just see the point myself. But I've made it a rule to laugh at all jokes; I think it's good for the health."

RECIPE FOR STUFFED TROUT

Formula That Has Been Handed Down in One Family for Many Generations.

Wash the trout and dry thoroughly between linen towels. Stuff with the following ingredients: One pint of breadcrumbs moistened thoroughly with melted butter, two tablespoonfuls of sherry wine, juice of one lemon, grated rind of half a lemon, one teaspoonful each of finely chopped onion, parsley and pickles, salt and pepper to taste; add a light sprinkle of thyme, sage and majoram. Have ready some thin slices of pork cut from the fat part of pork chops, which give a fine flavor to the fish; cut to fit around stuffed portion of trout and pin together with wooden toothpicks.

To Bake—Place some of the pork fat in a large pan, try out to a light brown, remove scraps, dip the trout into the unbeaten yolks of eggs and lay on the pan entirely separate from one another. Bake in a quick oven, basting with the pork fat to a light brown. When done place on platter, garnish with slices of lemon and sprigs of parsley and sprinkle lightly with chopped parsley. Serve with water-cress and stuffed potatoes.

DELICIOUS FRITTERS OF CORN

Good in Late Months When Delicacy Gets Too Old to Eat from the Cob.

When corn in the fall gets too old to eat from the cob it can still be made into delicious corn fritters. As a rule these are made heavy with flour and are fried in lard so as not to be delicate. The recipe given makes them tender and delicious.

To eight ears of corn, grated, take two eggs and a little salt. Separate whites and yolks. Stir the latter into the corn and just before frying add whites which have been beaten to a stiff froth.

Have plenty of butter sizzling hot in a skillet and drop the fritters in, a tablespoon at a time. Cook until a delicate brown. Turn with a cake turner to brown on both sides.

These fritters are so soft that they break unless carefully handled. They should be cooked and served immediately. Fresh lots are passed as in serving hot cokes.

Spiced Ginger Cakes.

These are wholesome and delicious for afternoon tea or the lunch basket. It is well to have a goodly number, for they go like proverbial "hot cakes." Warm together in a big earthen bowl one pound of butter, or butter and lard mixed, and a pint of black, rich molasses. Add one pound of light brown sugar, a half cupful of cream, two tablespoonfuls of ground ginger, two tablespoonfuls of cloves, two grated nutmegs, a saltspoonful of salt and a tablespoonful each of allspice and cinnamon. Sift together three pounds of flour that has been already twice sifted, two teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar and a teaspoonful of soda. Add to the batter, and, lastly, fold in a cupful stoned raisins and currants mixed, a half cupful thin sliced citron, and a cupful nut meats. Bake in small pans, in a quick oven.

Head Cheese.

Take a pig's head (upper parts only, using the lower halves for roasting), thoroughly clean and let lie in salt water over night. Put on to boil in plenty of water and boil until the meat drops from the bones. Strain the liquor it was boiled in and set away to cool. When cold, remove the fat, when the liquor will be ready to add to the meat, which must be looked over carefully, to remove any small bits of bone, and chopped very fine. Season to taste with salt, pepper and sage. Put on again to boil for about five minutes. Then pour into dishes and set away to cool. If sage is not liked, add any flavoring desired. — October Woman's Home Companion.

Fair School Teachers Blissfully Unaware of Contents of Box on Which They Rested.

"While in Paris this summer another girl and I went out to Versailles one afternoon," said a school teacher who had just returned from abroad. "It was dusk when we reached the railway station, and as there was no waiting room we sat down on two crates that were out on the platform among a lot of others. We noticed that the station employes kept staring at us with a persistence that was annoying. Presently a man in a shabby uniform with a bucket on his arm approached us. He touched his cap deferentially and said—in French, of course:

"Mesdames, pray do not let me disturb you, but I am forced to open the boxes on which you are seated in order to feed the boa constrictor and other serpents that are within."

"When we recovered from our fright we found we had been seated in the midst of a huge collection of snakes that had just arrived from their native jungles en route for the zoo near Versailles."

Good to Her Husband.

"George, dear," said Mrs. Dovekins, who had come downstairs in time to pour the coffee, "I'm going to walk to the car with you this morning. Aren't you glad?"

"Very glad, indeed, lovey. It's so nice of you to think of me and to get up early for the purpose of making it unnecessary to walk those dismal three blocks alone. How much do you want?"

Prison for Obstreperous Tramps.

Tramps who spend the week-end at Salisbury (England) workhouse are deprived of their clothes on Sundays and are compelled to remain all day in the cells in a shirt provided by the guardians. One tramp named Thomas demanded his clothes, and because he could not get them assaulted the porter and smashed the windows. The Salisbury magistrates sent him to prison for 21 days.

Editorial Amenities.

"It was red and I pulled it out," growled Cretcher.—Everybody's.

A BANKER'S NERVE

Broken by Coffee and Restored by Postum.

A banker needs perfect control of the nerves, and a clear, quick, accurate brain. A prominent banker of Chattanooga tells how he keeps himself in condition:

"Up to 17 years of age I was not allowed to drink coffee, but as soon as I got out in the world I began to use it and grew very fond of it. For some years I noticed no bad effects from its use, but in time it began to affect me unfavorably. My hands trembled, the muscles of my face twitched, my mental processes seemed slow and in other ways my system got out of order. These conditions grew so bad at last that I had to give up coffee altogether.

"My attention having been drawn to Postum, I began its use on leaving off the coffee, and it gives me pleasure to testify to its value. I find it a delicious beverage; like it just as well as I did coffee, and during the years that I have used Postum I have been free from the distressing symptoms that accompanied the use of coffee. The nervousness has entirely disappeared, and I am as steady of hand as a boy of 25, though I am more than 92 years old. I owe all this to Postum."

"There's a Reason." Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. Grocers sell.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Two Sides to Everything.

A little boy was given too much underdone pie for his supper and was soon roaring lustily.

His mother's visitor was visibly disturbed.

"If he was my child," she said, "he'd get a good sound spanking."

"He deserves it," the mother admitted, "but I don't believe in spanking him on a full stomach."

"Neither do I," said the visitor, "but I'd turn him over."—Success Magazine.

15,000 ACRES

—OF—

Government Land

NOW READY FOR SETTLERS

In the Sunny San Luis Valley

UNDER THE CAREY ACT

At 50 Cents per Acre to the State Exclusive of Water Rights

DRAWING TO BE HELD AT ANTONITO, COLORADO

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF THE STATE LAND BOARD

This 15,000 acres of choice land is open to every citizen of the United States, male or female, over 21 years of age, regardless of where they are now living.

This land will be allotted by drawing to be held at Antonito, Colorado, Thursday, November 4th, 1909.

The opening will be under the supervision of the Colorado State Land Board, and no special advantage will be given to any one. All who register will have an equal opportunity. Names will be registered at the office of the Toltec Colonization Company, 501 Boston Building, Denver, Colorado, where the books are now open.

The numbers will be put in a barrel, and the first number drawn will have first selection, and drawing will continue until the land is all allotted. When a number is drawn, if the holder does not file, all money will be refunded immediately.

The Carey Act permits one person to file on land for another by proxy, so that by giving a power of attorney, applicants may secure land through an agent and need not attend the drawing personally, or go to the land until they make final proof, which may be done within six months or any time within three years.

This is the most liberal act under which you can obtain government lands.

LAND ALL UNDER COMPLETED CANAL AND RESERVOIR SYSTEM.

This is the first Carey Act project in Colorado to be offered to settlers with canal and reservoir completed, and water ready to be turned on the land.

SEND FOR OUR FREE BOOKLET containing full information about the lands, surroundings, crops and answers to the most important questions usually asked by settlers. Our literature has been examined and approved by the State Board of Land Commissioners of the State of Colorado.

BOOKS NOW OPEN FOR REGISTRATION.

Call at our office or write us at once. You will have to act quickly to take advantage of this opportunity, as the drawing will be held on November 4th.

Lincoln County Teachers Meet.

The Lincoln County Teachers' Association met in regular session in the Carrizozo school house Saturday. A number of teachers from various parts of the county attended the session and the townspeople swelled the crowd in the afternoon. The programme was carried out, practically as published, though some substitution was necessary. Some excellent talks were made, and the general discussion developed many ideas that will be of benefit to teachers. Lack of space, as well as the absence of notes, prevents the reproduction of the addresses of Mr. McDonald and Dr. Miller, as it does also of the interesting discussions of the day. However, the paper by Miss Elsie Kauffman Mountz, on "Literature," which was an able exposition of the subject, and most beautifully written, and which, by request, we secured for publication, is herewith presented.

LITERATURE.

In one sense literature comprises all the books ever written; books on philosophy, science, text-books on all subjects, as well as poetry, essays and fiction. But by general understanding there has come to be a division in the world of books; and the department of poetry, fiction, and the elegant classics is separated from the more profound and scientific order of writings. This first department is sometimes called pure literature, or polite literature. The French have a better word than we; they say belles lettres, meaning beautiful literature.

It is worthy of a more prominent place in our schools than it now occupies. Many studies while they develop the intellect have scarcely any influence on the heart—notably mathematics.

One live person is of more value to one than a thousand inanimate objects. It is human nature that people like to read about: the plots, the adventures, the sweet love scenes serve only to bring out the human traits of the character. Under the pen of a ready writer the mystery and yearning of love is touched with fresh charm; the beauty of a summer night, and the thrill of a kiss take on new witchery.

The real music of verses may be illustrated by the following:

"Now thou art gone; but still in dreams
I hear thy voice and soft foot-fall;
Again I live the happy time
When life was love and love was all.
"And though another one may claim
The tones and glances that are thine;
May claim thy love, yea, even thee—
No matter what, thou still art mine."

We might go through Europe writing newspaper letters about the cathedrals, art galleries, the beautiful snow-capped peaks of the Alps, and nobody will read more than ten lines. Why? Because there is nothing there to touch the heart.

But go into some peasant's cottage and describe the family and their mode of life; the old mother watching over her sick girl, the boy eating his breakfast of chestnuts, the father tilling his little garden. This touches the heart and the pocket. What made Shakespeare and Thackeray and Dickens great? First their knowledge of human nature and ability to tell it in an interesting way.

Mark Twain and Alice Hegan Rice make us laugh. Ella Wheeler Wilcox in "Maurine" and Dickens in some of his works make us weep, but since laughter lightens hearts and tears brighten vision, their books will be welcomed round many an evening lamp.

No one can study the better part of our literature without being much refined, or having the finer feelings of our natures quickened. This is especially true of poems. The poet makes even common things seem rich; and if he puts a noble spirit in his verse, makes life seem purer and higher. How many have felt the thrill of patriotism quickened by Scott's "Breathes there a man with soul so dead," &c?

Some one has said "Let me make the songs of a nation and I care not who makes the laws."

The songs of a nation are an important part of its literature. Think of the souls inspired by "America" and the "Star Spangled Banner."

Our hymns are no small part of our church literature. Could we wisely dispense with them?

The literature of our country and other countries is all that is purest and best preserved for us. The wealth of Greece—the wealth of Rome is gone forever. Their literature remains and will continue as long as time shall last.

Alfred the Great of England was one of the first men to begin the education of the masses and that previous to this the English Literature was mostly legendary and poets read and sang their verses and only the rich and great were educated.

Civilization in its youth dealt in epic and visionary heroes, just as children do, and has grown from its cradle songs to something more substantial. In order to understand the English Language and Literature thoroughly, we need a certain familiarity with the geography and history of England and other parts of Europe.

The cheapness of literature, or books, brings it within the reach of all. So the poor can enjoy it as well as those possessed with abundance. The teacher's duty is to guide in the choice of books.

The great standard of Literature, as to purity and exactness of style, is the Bible. Besides giving us the history of all time, it furnishes the best thoughts of the best men that ever lived. The poetry of David, the prophecies of Israel, the proverbs of Solomon, the story of Ruth, Johnathan and David, the writings of Him "who spake as never man spake." These will endure. They have inspired, encouraged, blessed and comforted millions. Their influence will continue and as the ages roll on, they will continue to bless mankind, with increased ratio until there is not another heart to bless.

which have influenced their own and future generations, but none but what have been made sweeter and better by drinking at the fountain of all life.

So LITERATURE should be studied in all schools as being the one study that influences our lives more than any other—that makes for our destiny here and reaches to eternity.
