An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

During the early part of October, 1896, I contracted a bad cold which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feard that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expel something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was imediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—B. Official Paper of Lincoln County

WHY WHITE OAKS SHOULD EXPECT A RAIL ROAD.

For the reasons that White Oaks is the center of one of the richest mining sections of New Mexico, in coal, copper, gold, silver and iron, in abundance, and that it is a live, hustling town, it should have a railroad, and that it will soon, there is not the slightest doubt in the mind of any one at all familiar with all the conditions. The Northeastern will go there, either by direct line or branch, and the people of White Oaks may as well rest assured of this. The promoters and owners of that enterprise are not going to remain out of one of the best towns of its territory and thereby antagonize the citizens of that place, many of whom are influential in both business and political affairs; and control considerable capital as well. If the road people hold back awhile and refrain from divulging their plans it is because they have an object in view which might be defeated if their intentions were known. The Santa Fe company has also an eye on that section, and between the two White Oaks will surely get a line. It is a misnomer to call the Northeastern the "White Oaks Route" as long as it is out of that city.—Industrial Record.

GOLD AT LINCOLN

The Roswell Register received a letter from J. J. Jaffa, secretary and treasurer of the Lincoln, Trading Company at Lincoln, the county seat of Lincoln county, saying that the Chinaman formerly employed by J. F. Patterson, of this place in his harness shop, and a Mexican had discovered ore just across the Bonito River, opposite the town last Sunday, which, upon being pulverized and burned, showed to contain silver in large quantities from $1500 to $2000 to the ton. It also showed traces of gold, claimed to contain as high as $20 to the ton. The town was wild with excitement, a number of claims being located that day and a large number the next day. The letter closes "This is no fake, but absolute facts."

Governor Otero's report to the Secretary of Interior for 1899 has been received at this office. The document is larger than usual and is calculated to be of a great deal of advantage in bringing New Mexico with its varied resources of wealth prominently before the people of other sections of these United States.

EAGLE CREEK NOTES.

Destined to be One of the Most Prosperous Stock and Mining Districts in New Mexico.

Correspondence

Just a line from Eagle Creek to let the world know that we are in the swim and pushing on toward prosperity.

Mr. Burditt has moved to the Ruidoso.

John Hightower is shearing his fine Angoras at his lake ranch.

George Tracy has rented the conner ranch this year.

John Hightower and Tom West have given Culverson & Still an option on their claim, the Comanche Chief.

The Farmers are preparing for the spring plowing. Stock is in good shape for the rest of the winter.

Now that the day for ten foot holes is past keep your eye on this camp for producing mines. It will soon be Eagle Creek, not Cripple Creek.

Special Land commissioner Hobbs of the Roswell land office, with an eye for government timber, paid A. C. Storms a visit last week.

The mining properties here are receiving their due share of attention from the capitalists who are at present scouring the country in search of investment.

Messrs. Wells and Rice of Chicago have paid the camp several visits of late, and we understand that within ten days they will put miners at work on the commercial, owned by captain Krouse of Lincoln.

Culverson & Still have procured a working bond on one of A. J. Holder's claims. They have a good whim and pump on the ground, have already timbered a 40 ft. shaft and are now preparing to sink a hundred feet.

FOR THE BABIES.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. SPEAKS WELL FOR OUR PUBLIC SCHOOL.

At the teacher's examination held here two weeks ago by Supt. of Schools, Jno. A. Haley, Miss Mabel Walsh, the fifteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walsh, took the examination, and was awarded a first grade certificate. Miss Walsh has been a pupil of the White Oaks schools for the past two years, and is now a member of one of Prof. Coombs' advanced classes.

She is an exceptionally clever young lady and has applied herself with great deligence during the time she has been a pupil of the White Oaks schools. She secured a general average of 97 per cent, which is the very highest grade ever attained before a Lincoln county board of examiners.

The examination was well up to the average on the branches required by the New Mexico law for teacher's certificates. The branches for the New Mexico course, exclusive of Physiology, which is compulsory in the territories and in the District of Columbia, are as follows: Orthography, Penmanship, Reading, U. S. History, Geography, English Grammar and Arithmetic.

Not only Mr. and Mrs. Walsh, Prof. Coombs, her present teacher, and Mrs. W. L. Gumm, who was her instructor during the last school year, but all who are interested in the general progress of the public school, should feel complimented with the manner in which this young lady has acquitted herself in this her first public effort to demonstrate the skill and accuracy with which she imparts the information gained under the instructors of the White Oaks public schools.

There are many men and women who are successfully battling with the business difficulties of life whose educational advantages were never extended beyond the limits of the public school, which is now the most available means of securing a practical education open to the youth of the country who do not—unfortunately? possess the requisite amount of the coin of the realm to enable them to spend a half a life in the higher institutions of learning. And even those who have the time and money to go on to the limits of our colleges and universities, may spend a few years advantageously in the well conducted public school.

PREVENTED A TRAGEDY.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long. of New Straitsville, Ohio, prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Eevery bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at M. G. COPPER IN THE SAN ANDRES.

Many Lincoln County People Interested in That Lively Camp.

The EAGLE's Bonito correspondent, who has just returned from that district says:

Mr. Burnham, of Providence, Rhode Island, has some copper and lead claims near Capitol Peak, which have been showing up well lately. One hundred feet of work has shown up so well that Mr. B. has let other contracts.

Messrs Campbell and Phillips, the latter known as "Lucky Bill" in Lincoln County are contractors on the Burnham groups.

J. H. Alward of Detroit, Mich., has bonded the old Crawford groups and has done considerable development work. These claims, though always considered good, have more than fulfilled expectations. All veins in this district are true fissures and not blankets.

J. W. Donnely has charge at the Alward camps and thinks that the future copper camp is "right thar."

Robert Bourne and others have some claims adjoining the Alward groups, that for the amount of work done are certainly promising. Good, strong veins, with lots of mineral all through them.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N.Y.

The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation.

With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.

MRS. RICH CONVICTED OF THE MURDER OF HER HUSBAND.

Sentenced to 14 Years in the Penitentiary

The trial of Mrs. Rich, for the murder of her husband at Juarez, Mexico, last spring is ended in her conviction to fourteen years imprisonment in a Mexican penitentiary.

There has been much ado about this case and so much newspaper talk has given it an international interest. A review of the crime by the El Paso Herald of Jan 27, is in part as follows:

The murder for which Mrs. Rich was tried was committed on the morning of April 27th, 1899 just three days after the new extradition treaty went into effect. Rich was shot with a pistol and the bullet went through the body and was never found. Neither was the pistol found.

According to the contention of the prosecution the crime was committed about 5 o'clock a m in the apartments occupied by Rich and his wife, and was the result of jealousy on the part of Mrs. Rich. No one heard the shot. The authorities of Juarez knew nothing of the shooting until they read the accounts in the El Paso papers.

About 6 o'clock in the morning, Dr. F. W. Gallagher received a telephone message from Juarez to come at once. He replied he was busy and would not be able to go until later. The answer was that he must come at once. Shortly after this Dr. Jesus M. Guerra, a well known physician of Juarez, was called by Mrs Rich to attend her husband whom he found lying in bed desperately wounded. Seeing an operation would be necessarry, Dr. Guerra went to summon another physician to assist him. Dr. Guerra was told the shooting was an accident and did not consider it necessary to report it to the authorities. About 8 o'clock, before Dr. Guerra's return, Mrs Rich again telephoned for Dr. Gallagher who went over and found Rich in bed wounded.

Not wishing to know too much, the physician asked no questions, but seeing an operation would be absolutely necessary, he told Mrs. Rich he must be brought over to the hospital before anything could be done. Mrs. Rich assented and the doctor returned home. A little later Rich and his wife arrived at the Hotel Dieu in El Paso in a hack.

Suspicion was at once directed to Mrs Rich as the author of the crime. A long history of the family was dug up to show the state of feeling existing between the husband and wife and it was shown that they had quarreled the evening before about a woman in whose company Rich was. While in the hospital Rich stated to different parties that his wife had shot him and just before his death, the prosecution alleges, he made a sworn statement to that effect.

The arrest of Mrs. Rich followed. It was done by the state authorities, and was, in the opinion of lawyers, absolutely illegal. Her attorneys waived a preliminary hearing when she was arraigned before Justice Spencer, intending to sue out a writ of habeas corpus in the district court. Mrs. Rich, however, refused to sign the necessary papers and declared they were betraying her. Hence she remained in jail until Consul Mallen, on behalf of the Mexican government, applied for her extradition, and for the first time in history the United States was called upon to surrender one of its own citizens to a foreign government.

The woman's conduct while in jail convinced many persons that she was insane. She engaged half a dozen lawyers in succession and discharged each, under the pretence they were trying to betray her. Judge A. G. Wilcox represented her before the commissioner and she treated him the same way.

The commissioner decided she must go back to Mexico and in spite of many vigorous protests the state department confirmed this decision and she was taken across the river by the United States marshal wrapped in an American flag.

Since then she has imagined every one to be conspiring against her including the judge, her lawyers and every one who has tried to help her. She had no money to engage a lawyer and refused to accept one appointed by the court, so the trial was postponed again and again until Attorneys Richardson and Balderama were induced to take charge. She has been very abusive especially to the former judge of letters, Lic. Francisco Dominguez.

Mrs. Rich is a native of Chicago and of German parentage. Prior to her marriage she was a variety actress and appeared in the part of a pugilist. She claims to have traveled with the "Black Crook" and other companies.

Her husband, John D. Rich, was of an excellent family, and his father, George Rich, is bank cashier at Fort Dodge, Iowa. He was a wayward son who left home in early life and had been a number of years in Mexico. He met his wife during a visit to Chicago and they were married at Las Cruces in 1893. Rich was for seven years agent of the Mexican Central at Torreon and at the time of his death he kept the railroad hotel and the International Grocery in Juarez.

A Traitorous Backnumber.

Once upon a time there was a man—a man honored and respected by his countrymen—who delivered himself of an utterance that was hailed as statesmanlike, patriotic and welltimed:

"Cromwell and Caesar have recently found apologists. The judgment of conturies is reversed, long established maxims are overthrown and the only genuine lovers of liberty were the Phillips, the Caesars, the Cromwells, the Marinses and the Syllas of former ages! It is time for slumbering patriotism to awake when such doctrines as these are put forth from the capitol and from popular assemblies. Regardless of all imputations, and proud of the opportunity of free and unrestrained intercourse with my fellow citizens, I would address every man in the Union and entreat them by their love of liberty, for the sake of themselves and their prosperity—in the name of the human family intrested in the fulfillment of the trust committed to their hands, to pause. I would prostrate myself before divinity and implore Him, if it be necessary to chastise this people with the rod of His vengence, to visit our beloved land with famine, with any scourge other than military rule, or a blind and heedless enthusiasm for mere military renown."

But the man who gave utterance to the above is dead. It was well for his fame that he died before there came upon the stage of action such intellectual giants as Hanna, Platt, Hay, Day, Quay Beveridge, Demby, Greggs, Gage, Roossevelt, Dick, Nash and Davis to dim his renown and out shine his ability. He was a big man in his time, but he would of course be a pigmy by the side of the great statesmen named in foregoing sentence. Well for him he died many years ago, for were he alive today and giving utterance to such sentiments he would be a "copperhead" a "traitor," a "little American," an "alarmist," a "Tagal."

The above quotation is from a speech delivered in Baltimore in 1828. The speaker was Henery Clay.—Omaha World Herald.
