The Albuquerque Journal-Democrat is recalcitrant, hot and aspish, white with warmness, over the recent division of the territorial printing crib, and has announced its intentions of becoming an independent republican paper, and expects to say things in the future about people and doin's. All right Journal; you have been subject to these prestos in the past, so go after them all and be any old thing just so you don't again attempt to be democratic, that would not only spoil the business relations under your present management, but might injure the democratic party.

At the Eagle Office.

The Eagle has just got in and shelved the finest stock of stationery ever brought to White Oaks. We have all grades and colors and sizes of Envelopes, Letter Heads, Bill Heads, Ladies Calling and Gentlemen's business and professional Cards, finest grades and latest patterns, ready cut and strictly up-to-date. We also have just put in many new type faces and are prepared to do all kinds of job printing. Try the Eagle Job Office and you will get good service.

Fifty Thousand Envelopes.

Do you like Amber, Golden Rod; Old Hickory Blue; Opaque Lined; white wove or Manila Envelopes, we have all these varieties in stock, and we want to sell them. They cost you $3.50 to $6.50 per thousand, printed.

The Cattlemen.

The 27th. annual convention of the Texas cattle Raiser's Association convened at El Paso March 10. About six hundred delegates were present and it is estimated that at least 3,000 cattlemen including their families and guests are attending the stock show at El Paso.

Geo. F. Albright has resigned the business management of the Albuquerque Journal-Democrat.

The new county of Leonardwood has just been created with Santa Rosa as the county seat.

Great interest exists in Boston and other eastern cities over gold discoveries in Labrador. They claim it will prove another Klondyke.

The late snow storm was the worst in the Texas panhandle ever known. The loss of cattle is variously estimated at from 25 to 40 per cent.

SPAIN ALSO HAS TROUBLES

CLAIMANTS ASK DAMAGES AGGREGATING $61,62,0797 REMEMBER THE MAINE.

President Roosevelt has extended for six months, from March 2, '03, the life of the Spanish treaty-claims commission, which since its first meeting on April 8, 1901, has been engaged in examining claims submitted to it under the law of March 2, 1901, creating the commission. The extension of the lifetime of the commission was made on a showing of the necessity therefor presented by William E. Chandler, president of the commission.

Mr. Chandler, in a letter to the president dated Jan. 17, says that the total number of claims presented to the commission is 542 and the amount claimed, $61,062,077. Of these claims 152 are for damages in Havana harbor in February 15, 1898; twenty-two are for personal injuries received in various ways from Spanish authorities; fourteen are for damages on account of both personal injuries and property losses; and 354 are for damage to real and personal property.

Admitted to Practice Law in the Supreme Court of the United States.

On February 26, 1903, at washington D. C., J. E. Wharton was admitted to practice law in the Supreme court of the United States. A class of eight lawyers was admitted on this date no two of them being from the same state. Congressman Reed of Arkansas being one of this class.

There is a move on foot now, and a number of Lincoln county people at Santa Fe in its interest, to divide Lincoln county. It seems those interested desire to create a new county with Carrizozo as a county seat town, as has already been done with Tucumcari and Santa Rosa. Look out for a division on an east and west line

Prof. F. A. Jones and P. C. Bell have sold their iron properties in the Oscura mountains to the Colorado Fuel and Iron company. The price is not given, but it is understood that a handsome sum was paid for the property.

New Counties are in line with this sessions' program of legislation. There is yet 6 or 7 days more to continue the good work.

Statehood.

J. E. Wharton who went to Washington in the interest of statehood, returned home last Friday. He says: "Very soon after our arrival at Washington, we realized that there was no show for the omnibus bill. We were told this by both friends and enemies, of the measure, and we then set to work to secure if possible, the passage of the compromise measure uniting New Mexico and Arizona as one state. In my judgement this could have been done, if Mark Smith, the democratic delegate from Arizona, and the Arizona legislature, had not opposed it. The Arizona council finally changed in favor of the compromise, but it was then too late to do any thing. The status of the statehood matter is simply this: If the people of New Mexico and Arizona want statehood by uniting the two territories into one state, they can get such a bill passed next winter. If they will not accept such a compromise, they must remain as territories indefinitely, for there is no show at all for these territories to be admitted as separate states. The talk about a constitutional convention and the forming a constitution next summer is wholly unwarranted, and would do no good whatever. The same opposition to separate statehood that defeated the omnibus bill will defeat separate statehood for the next ten years. The fight made this winter shows how easy it is for the minority to defeat any legislation to which they are unalterably opposed, as they are to the omnibus statehood bill, and the opposition will be just as strong to any bill, granting statehood to New Mexico and Arizona separately.

The republicans in congress, however, have practicably agreed to the compromise, and no doubt a bill will be introduced early in the next session admitting Arizona and New Mexico as one state. If this is done, the bill will pass unless the democrats in the senate present a solid opposition as a few of them would not be able to defeat it. If, however, the democrats of New Mexico and Arizona signify a willingness to accept statehood this way, there would be no great opposition and the bill would pass. This is the real situation and the sooner the people understand it, the better off we shall be. If the fight for separate statehood is continued, the result will be as it has always been; but if a fight is made for the compromise and the people of the two territories urge the passage of such a bill, it will pass next winter and we can organize a state government in 1904. Whether the people will accept the compromise and get statehood, or go on for ten years longer making a hopeless losing fight.

The Dead Congress.

The old rule, that we should speak only good of the dead, is not going to be very highly respected by the American people when they come to speak their minds about the congress which went to its account yesterday. As a fair index to the state of the public mind on this matter take the following, from that straight republican paper, the New York Press:

"This nation has not had many congresses whose opportunities to do things both useful and honorable were fairer than those of the body now expiring in confusion. It never had any which failed more miserably. It has been in conflict with the president; it has been a betrayer of the public. For nobody has it done so much as for interests and influence which are dangerous to the general welfare and destructive of republican institutions.

"For the dying congress there are no mourners among the people of the United States. Good riddance when it is gone' may we have better deeds from and a sweeter memory of its successor"

Garrett's Trouble.

Collector of Customs, Pat Garrett, has been having some trouble with Carralitos cattle company of Mexico and it at one time looked like Mr. Garrett would be compelled to undergo an investigation from the government because of charges put in by the Carralitos company. The whole history of the affair in a nut shell, is this: Up to the time Garrett assumed the duties of Collector of Customs at the port of El Paso the Carralitos Cattle company were in the habit of exporting Mexican cattle off their Carralitos ranches at custom prices fixed by their own representatives. When Garrett came in he treated the Carralitos people just like every body else and they, of course don't like his methods of doing business, hence the trouble.

Struck Water.

The New Mexico Oil and Development Company has struck water in the well being sunk near Flat Top Mountain. The strike was made at a depth of 240 feet. The water is strongly impregnated with sulphur and is decidedly similar to the Carrizozo well. The water rose 100 feet immediately after it was struck.

The drill is now in blue clay which is considered to be a very favorable oil indication and which forever destroys the theory that oil, if any ever existed, was burned up by the Mal Pais eruption, as in that case the clay should be a redish brown cast instead of blue.

Funeral Obsequies.

The funeral of Col. Geo. W. Stoneroad took place from the Methodist church last Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The funeral sermon was delivered by Rev. G. G. Hamilton, pastor of this Methodist church. The ceremonies were conducted by members of the Masonic order. The funeral was largely attended by the people of both Jicarilla and White Oaks. Mrs. A. A. Jones, a niece, of the deceased and her husband, of Las Vegas, were present.

Rev. Hamilton's sermon was forceful and impressive. The last tribute of respect and esteem was paid by the people who knew him, to a most worthy citizen. Upon his headstone the following inscription would be appropriate: He dared to do right.
