CALL FOR DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The Democratic Central Committee, assembled at Albuquerque, New Mexico, on September 6, 1911, authorized the call for a state convention in the city of Santa Fe, New Mexico, on the 3d day of October, 1911, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the state offices provided for in the constitution and the representatives in congress.

The democratic central committees of the various counties are hereby requested to issue a call for holding, upon such notice and date as may be deemed expedient, county primaries or conventions for the purpose of selecting delegates to said convention, the basis of representation of which is hereby stated as one delegate for each one hundred or fraction thereof of fifty or more of the votes cast for the democratic candidate for delegate to congress at the election held in 1908, upon which basis the representation at said state convention shall be as follows:

We recognize that, under a territorial regime, the people of New Mexico have had little voice in the conduct of local, and none in national affairs; that political conditions have been such as to render it unnecessary for like-thinking people to align into political parties with reference to the fundamental principles of either state or national government; that with the advent of statehood full responsibility for local government and participation in national affairs is conferred upon the people; that the citizens of New Mexico are now free to establish such local government as they desire without coercion or dictation from sources beyond their control; that the time is now at hand when it is the plain duty of all citizens to demonstrate their patriotism and support those policies and principles which will best promote and advance the interest and welfare of the new state. Such policies and principles are endorsed and advocated by the democratic party of New Mexico, and we, therefore, invite all citizens regardless of former political affiliations who believe in the honest and economical administration of public affairs, and of securing to the people "equal rights to all and special privileges to none" to participate in the precinct and county primaries and conventions and thus aid in selecting delegates to said state convention who will carry out the pledges of the party.

W. C. McDONALD,
Chairman Democratic Central Committee of New Mexico.
Attest: S. Burkhart, Secretary.

J. H. Canning Becomes President.

A deal was consummated the past few days whereby John H. Canning, of this place, and A. B. Fall, of Three Rivers, are now the holders of certain shares of stock in the First National Bank, of Alamogordo, which were formerly held by eastern parties, and Mr. Canning was elected president of that financial institution. The First National has been without a head since the death of H. J. Anderson, which occurred some months ago. The new stockholders and officers will add vigor and strength to the First National and create a live interest in Alamogordo's financial circles. Mr. Canning does not intend to take active charge of the business for some time, and will retain his home in Carrizozo until toward the end of the year.

Democratic Central Committee.

Pursuant to call of W. J. Doering, chairman of the Democratic Central Committee of Lincoln county, the committee met at Capitan last Saturday. Twelve of the sixteen precincts of the county were represented by the regular committeemen. In addition to the several committeemen present a large number of Democrats from all parts of the county were also there.

Routine business was transacted, vacancies on the committee filled and the chairman authorized to call a county convention. The call appears elsewhere in this issue. The meeting was an enthusiastic and victory-winning one, and predictions of Democratic success in county, district and state were freely and confidently made.

GROWTH OF COMMERCE.

The great manufacturing nations, the great producing nations, such as Great Britain, Germany, France and the United States combined, have not more than one-sixth the population of the globe, and it can be said with approximate accuracy that the other five-sixths are to a very great degree their customers, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. Fully one-half of the world's population are as yet only fractionally supplied with articles necessary for civilized existence. The 70,000,000 of people to the south of us on the American continent when fully employed, as some day they will be, in producing from their lands, their forests and their mines, will make our manufacturers wealthy through their demands for what our own industrial districts can output. Commerce is pushing its way up every great and small river of South America, it is crossing the Andes over a thousand trails, and where but one railway across South America from ocean to ocean now runs, within a score of years there will be several other lines from the Pacific to the navigable waters of the great rivers of the north and the center. The world's commerce of today, huge as it seems, is small compared with that of the future either in tonnage or in value.

Discussion of women's manners in public will not down. Sometimes it is women who complain of being jolted in crowds or of being compelled to stand in street cars while men occupy the seats, says the Boston Globe. Sometimes it is men who murmur because some women in public often seem to ignore the fundamental rules of good breeding. It is noticeable that most of the criticisms of women's public manners are evoked by the conduct of a well-dressed or stylish and apparently well-to-do woman, seldom by the bearing of working women or girls. The woman who puts down a $20 or a $10 bill at the ticket office window, holds up a lengthening line while she counts her change and glares furiously if a man puts down his nickel before she has picked up the last bit of change; the woman who never moves along in a car to make room for another woman; the woman who deliberately takes up as much time as possible at the store counter while other customers are waiting—these women commonly look like persons of refinement. No doubt they are kind-hearted and gentlemanly in their own homes and in their own circles.

A New York woman who has had five divorces still favors matrimony. She probably finds that if one does not take it too seriously there is a lot of fun and excitement to be had from it.

A Baltimore preacher claims that Atlas, who held up the world, was a woman. If he succeeds in proving it we shall have to change the name to Atlasetta or Atlasine.

A Chicagoan eighty-three years of age has taken out a license to marry a lady seventy years old from whom he was divorced 35 years ago. They repented at leisure.

A school of music has been in operation for some time in Bangkok Siam. Now we know where some of the vaudeville songs come from.

EMBROIDERY ON BLOUSES IS OF DISTINCT VALUE.

Many Varieties That May Be Employed, and None of Them Hard to Girl Skillful With the Needle.

There has, in all probability, never been a season in which embroideries have played such an important part in the world of dress, for, nowadays, even the simplest of muslin blouses is beautified with needlework of every description. This fashion is really a godsend to the girl with a moderate dress allowance, if she is at all skillful with her needle, for quite a cheap cotton dress or blouse may be adorned with embroidery until it has all the appearance of a most expensive article. The embroidery can be almost any variety, from the plainest to the most elaborate, according to the taste and capabilities of the worker, and every description of fancy work may be utilized.

The most popular kind is satin-stitch, rather heavily padded, and this may be adapted to an infinite number of designs, from flowing sprays of flowers to conventional and geometrical patterns. A pretty design is the one shown, which consists entirely of butterflies. This is quite easy to execute and may be carried out in that variety of stitches which is comprised under the heading of Mountmellick work. The bodies of the butterflies should be embroidered in satin-stitch, thickly padded, the stitches going evenly across and across. The wings are outlined with satin-stitch and then filled in with any stitch the worker pleases. A very effective method of working them is to cut large eyelet holes, the edges of which are overcast and then button-holed bars worked across them. This design is a very uncommon one, but looks singularly pretty when carried out with care and taste. The conventional design given in No. 2 is particularly well adapted for embroidering on one of the kimono and Magyar blouses, which are still enjoying a remarkable run of popularity, and may be carried out in white or in colors, according to the blouse itself.

Another idea for Mountmellick work is suggested in No. 3, the peacock's feather design, these feathers being worked apparently at haphazard, scattered over the front, back and sleeves of the blouse. Stem-stitch, buttonhole-stitch and feather-stitch are used in this design, while the eye of the feather is embroidered in satin-stitch. A very striking and handsome effect may be obtained by working this eye in color, the rest of the embroidery being, of course, in white, and a rather deep shade of Saxe or peacock blue will be found singularly suitable. A perfectly plain muslin or cotton blouse, which could be picked up for next to nothing at the summer sales which are with us now, could be ornamented with this design, which will be found perfectly simple to draw out and particularly quickly and easily worked. For those who are afraid of attempting a heavy pattern in satin-stitch there are a variety of charming and simple designs in stem-stitch or chain-stitch, which may be carried out by the merest beginner. Chain-stitch, worked in delicately colored washing silk or floselle, looks exceedingly pretty on a muslin blouse, having a wonderfully light and graceful effect.

Black Chiffon Collars.

The idea of wearing shapely collars of black hemstitched chiffon cloth is attractive. The collars are put on white blouses, on light colored marquisette gowns, on black frocks when they are overlaid with a shallow collar of white Irish lace or white chiffon cloth, also hemstitched.

These collars are not always in strict sailor shape. They vary considerably. The points may run out to the sleeves and the back and front, cut off in straight lines. Again, the collar may be as deep as a bib in the back and sharpened off to points in front. One can buy them in the shops, but it is better to get the hemstitched material by the yard and cut them according to the desire of the wearer.

Elastic for the Hair.

Girls have invented quite a clever scheme this summer to keep their locks in place in or out of the house by using the tiniest kind of hat elastic around the hair. It matches their locks and does not show. It makes a tiny ridge barely visible, where it tightens the hair, but the locks can easily be pulled up above it with a hairpin.

It keeps the hair from blowing down on the neck and over the face and gives a trim, trig look over the forehead and ears. It is not as substantial as a net, but it is much less trouble to put on and serves very well for those who cannot wear the other. The elastic is tied around the hair in a tiny knot without ends.

Follies of Investment.

The World's Work sets forth some of the absurdities that people for the most part intelligent will commit when they have money to invest. If a man is sick, he goes to a doctor; if in a row with his neighbors, he goes to a lawyer; if in spiritual trouble, he consults a minister or priest; if in business straits he calls upon the banker. If, however, he has a problem of investment on his hands, he calls upon merchants, lawyers, bankers, ministers and miscellaneous people quite indiscriminately—and with about the same practical results that he would get if he followed the same method in sickness, in legal trouble, in business trouble or in spiritual woe.

Pepper Sauce.

Grind one dozen and a half green, red and yellow peppers and a small solid head of cabbage in a meat chopper. They should be very fine. Add 5 cents' worth each celery seed and ground mustard with vinegar to make the consistency of catsup. This goes well with meats.

EVIDENTLY SHE WAS ANNOYED

Good Wife's Punishment, Intended for Husband, Poor Compensation to Revivalist.

A popular revivalist had been holding services at a town in Mississippi when a heavy rain came on, and he accepted an invitation to pass the night at the house of one of the townsmen. Observing the preacher's drenched clothing, the host brought out a suit of his own and sent his guest upstairs to don it.

The good man had made the change and was on his way back to the sitting room, when the woman of the house came out of another room, holding in her hands the big family Bible, out of which the minister was to be invited to read a chapter before the family went to bed.

She was not, however, in a very amiable frame of mind, for careful housewives are likely to be put out of sorts by the advent of unexpected company. Seeing the revivalist in his borrowed garments, she mistook him for her husband, and as he passed in front of her she lifted the book and brought it down sharply on his head. "There!" she exclaimed. "Take that for asking him to stay all night!" —Lippincott's Magazine.

Exhibition of Real Faith.

William Spill's little girl, who had been playing at making mud pies, aided by a tiny sprinkling can for a reservoir, ran to her father as he alighted from a car, bearing a package of dry-cleaned wearing apparel. Pointing to her muddy little boots Father Spill admonished his tiny daughter, impressing her with the value of a neat appearance.

That night the young lady offered her usual prayer with great earnestness. "And don't forget, dear Lord," she prayed fervently, "to dry-clean our street, and my shoes, for Jesus' sake, amen!"—Cleveland Leader.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

Washington Has a Plague of Cranks

WASHINGTON.—Every crank in the country that doesn't know what fool thing to do with himself gets on the train and tells the conductor to put him off at Washington—thinks he must see the president. If the wheels in the head of some lunatic in Bangor, Me., or Tombstone, Ariz., get to working overtime he heads for Washington to show the president the mechanism. If some long-haired lunatic in Oshkosh builds a wheelbarrow out of a soap box and a sifter rim he won't be happy till he's trundled it 'cross country to Washington and has the president come out on the front porch and look at it.

Every summer, before the president leaves, there's a perfect deluge of cranks that have ridden horseback from Dawson City or driven an ox team from some town out beyond the Rockies, says a White house attache. Recently we had two of these idiots in one day—three, to be exact. One was a man riding a burro from San Diego to Boston on a bet, and the other two were a man and his wife from some insane place out west. They had sworn on the bones of the saints or something that they would walk into every state in the Union within a twelvemonth; they had already been in seventeen, and, having thus acquired fame, came to Washington to show themselves to the president.

Then there's the lunatic who tramps across country on a wager that he can go from ocean to ocean on a dollar and thirty-seven cents. There must be a hundred of him every year, and he generally brings a letter to the president from the mayor of the little town he comes from. And these are just a few of them; if I'd put down the names of all this breed of cranks that turn up here to see the president in six months it would be longer than the list of applicants for a vacant consulship. The trouble is, the president, in many instances, can't get out of seeing the crank.

Inspectors Are Busy Watching Frauds

THE efforts of the government and the various states to provide pure food for the people of the country has brought about a higher quality of foodstuffs, but it has not deterred the inventive genius of the country from trying to work out schemes for substitutes and adulterations.

Probably the worst adulteration that has come to the attention of the department is a butter emulsion which will cause the butter to absorb its exact weight in water and still prevent the butter eaters knowing it. Take a pound of butter and a pound of water and a spoonful of this emulsion, work the three together for about ten minutes, and there is two pounds of butter and no water. The average housewife could not tell the difference between this watered butter and the real article.

A man in Tennessee has developed a scheme by which he can make a pure apple cider vinegar at an actual cost of four cents a gallon, and using one apple for each gallon. The fraud could not be detected except by an actual chemical test. The same chap also has a scheme for making apple butter with one apple to the gallon of butter and at a cost of one-fourth the real article.

A man in Rochester, N. Y., developed a plan of treating sawdust with molasses to use in adulterating spices. One part of the real spice and three parts of sawdust made the product, which could not be detected by the eye or tongue.

There are numerous other schemes for increasing the weight of parched coffee, preserving eggs, useless baking powders, making mincemeat and tomato catsup at reduced cost by using little meat or tomatoes. The grocer, to get the recipes, must pay for them. The price is usually $10 and a pledge to secrecy.

Scurrying Little Senate Messengers

VISITORS in the galleries of the senate chamber are always interested in the bright little messengers who scurry about bent on errands for the senators. These pages live officially in an age limit. They must be no less than twelve nor more than sixteen years old. His seventeenth birthday is usually a sorry day for the page boy for it may be long before he can have so good an income; certainly many years before he can earn so much with so little physical and mental effort.

The boys are employed during the sessions of the senate at $2.50 a day; and that means 20 or 21 days a month, whether the senate is in session every day or not. There are now fourteen pages on the floor of the senate, and four riding pages. The latter receive $950 a year, their pay going on whether the senate is in session or not. The pages are never removed on account of politics. The boys of the senate wear knee breeches, neat little roundabouts, silk stockings and well-polished shoes. Their faces and hands are clean, their hair carefully brushed and each one of them looks as if he had just come out of a bandbox.

Sometimes the boys are not dismissed when they reach the age limit. Exceptionally bright pages have been retained as riding pages, whose duty it is to carry messages for senators to executive departments and to all points in the national capital. Others have been promoted to the position of deputy sergeant-at-arms of the senate, or as superintendent of pages.

J. E. KOONCE.

We wish to call the attention of our readers to a letter appearing in the News. The letter is written by W. C. McDonald, chairman of the Democratic Central Committee of New Mexico, and is addressed to O. A. Larrazolo, in response to a letter written by Mr. Larrazolo to the chairman. Our readers recall the sensation of the past few weeks, when Mr. Larrazolo resigned from the membership of the Democratic Central Committee, and in so doing announced his determination to, in future, affiliate with the Republican party. Mr. Larrazolo's letter, stating his reasons for a change in his political attitude, was given to the public, and the chairman's reply is given equal prominence. The chairman's letter needs no comment—its strong enough and pointed enough to to swim alone.

For Superintendent of Schools.

In its proper place will be found the announcement of J. E. Koonce for the office of Superintendent of Schools. The announcement is made subject to the action of the Democratic party. The subject of this sketch is an old school man, having devoted twelve years to actual teaching, covering every department of the work. After teaching a number of years, Mr. Koonce took a two-years' course in the Texas Normal College, from which institution he holds a diploma. Later he took an additional two-years' course in the Peabody Normal College and also holds a diploma from that institution. He is, therefore, one of the best qualified men in Lincoln county in knowledge, training and temperament for the position to which he aspires. He is a man of splendid habits and splendid attainments, is honorable, conscientious and worthy, and if elected to preside over the destinies of the schools of Lincoln county, will devote his time, his energy and his talents to the upbuilding of our school system, and from an intimate acquaintance, extending over a period of twenty years, we believe, render efficient service to the county and its people.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

CHURCH UNION.

Carrizozo is meeting some problems on her way, and this is one of them: In the very beginning of the town, it was recognized that to multiply churches in a village would be to divide religion and most likely to destroy real spiritual power. Other small towns have tried various plans, with rather indifferent success. Practically, Carrizozo put the proposition up to the highest bidder. The Methodist church bid $2,200.00 for church and parsonage, with the probability of making it $2,700.00. This was from Methodism outside of Carrizozo.

In addition to this, as near as possible, all denominations to be represented on the Board of Stewards, who are really the governing power of the local church. That, too, without in any way severing their connection with their own church.

This board, for the new conference year, was elected last Monday night; and is as follows: Frank J. Sager, A. W. Adams, Samuel Miller, Clarence Spence, Charles L. Schreck, W. E. Baskin and C. R. McCalmont. Of these, three are Methodists, three are Presbyterians and one a Disciple. The trustees elected for life are Paul Bentley, Dr. R. C. Burton, A. W. Adams, Frank J. Sager and F. W. Jones. Of these, three are Methodists, one a Disciple and one a non-church member.

Excepting possibly the pastor, only, the most important office in the local church is the Sunday School Superintendent. This office is held by a Disciple.

It is thus that Carrizozo is settling one of the real problems of the small American town.

As pastor of this United Church, I desire the hearty cooperation of all. More than this, I want suggestions from everyone as to how we may make this organization a real success.

We have Sunday school at 10 a. m., preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. every Sunday. Come and find a hearty welcome.

Jicarilla Happenings.

We are enjoying beautiful Indian summer days in the Jicks.

A fruit wagon came up the canyon Saturday, bound for the settlements along Ancho Gulch.

Albert Ross came near losing a good horse one evening last week. It fell into a placer hole and was released with difficulty.

Mrs. Olerboltz and little daughter have been visiting here all the week, returning home to Carrizozo Sunday.

A. H. Norton returned Sunday from the Democratic convention at Capitan.

Mr. Andy Mayes came in from the upper country, Thursday, and returned home Friday by way of White Oaks.

Mr. Dawson came near being burned out one day the past week. The roof caught fire from the stovepipe and was well on the way to destruction when work began to extinguish it.

Mr. Phil Reasoner is among the successful gardeners of this place. He has an immense crop of cabbage and will realize somewhere in the neighborhood of a thousand heads.

Mrs. Eve of this place is anticipating a visit from two daughters from Denver, Col.

We learn that the postmistress, Miss St. John, will give up the work and return to her home in Carrizozo very soon.

John Dale began drilling a well the past week in Jauna Gulch, near his field, and expects to get water soon at a depth not exceeding 100 feet.

We hear that one of the Mace boys was thrown from a burro a few nays ago and very badly cut about the head.

There will be preaching the first and third Sundays of each month at the school house, Rev. Perkins of Ancho officiating. There was a good gathering at Sabbath school last Sunday and a neat sum collected for the literature and to reimburse the preacher.

Messrs. Bruce and Hays have returned from Capitan, where they have been working for the last month.

Lincoln Locals.

Quite a large number of Republicans from this precinct attended the meeting of the County Central Committee at Capitan last Thursday.

C. L. Kennedy, of Jicarilla, was in town on business, Friday and Saturday.

Alfredo Gonzales and family have been visiting for several days with Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Norman.

Robert Brady spent Saturday at San Patricio as attorney in a law suit held at that place.

Judge Bellamy visited over Sunday with the family of John Cole, near San Patricio.

The family of J. J. Aragon are spending a week in camping in the Capitans.

Robert Hurt, County Assessor, was in town the past week.

LOCAL NEWS

Commissioners Meet.

The board of county commissioners met yesterday and are yet in session this morning. The board met to pay off the last estimate of Contractor Bechtel, which has been held up for almost a year because of an injunction. The payment is a little in excess of $7,000. The contractor is expected to arrive tomorrow or the day following, and will recommence work on the county buildings. The roofing and inside work are about all that remains to be completed on the courthouse, but the main structure of the jail building is yet to be done.

School Opens.

The Carrizozo public school opened with a large attendance, which has been increased during the week. The school employs six teachers—namely: Charles L. Schreck, principal; Mrs. Lorinda B. Spellman, Mrs. Nora Massie, Miss Lella Laws, Miss Jane Brockway and Mrs. W. L. Gumm. The prospect for a successful term was never brighter.

The News this week contains principally political matters, and will be largely devoted to such matters the next sixty days. Politics furnish the medium for most discussions, hence we make no apologies for dealing with such an interesting subject to the exclusion of other things.

Mrs. J. J. Hollem was in town Tuesday from Alto.

Lute A. Skinner was down last Saturday from the Mesa.

Harry K. Allen was down from Nogal Tuesday, purchasing supplies from our merchants.

Joe Morgan, a prominent ranchman of Otero county, was in Carrizozo this week.

Thos. J. Moore came down from Nogal Saturday, and went up the line the same evening.

O. T. Nye, deputy clerk, came over from Lincoln yesterday to attend the meeting of the board.

Henry S. Campbell, wife and son returned last Friday from an extended visit to Indiana and adjoining states.

B. F. Goff made final proof on his homestead this week. He has a valuable tract of land adjoining the townsite.

W. R. White, chairman of the board of county commissioners, went to Alamogordo Friday and returned the following day.

Watt Gilmore was in town yesterday from Eagle Creek. He reports fine grass in his section and an abundance of rainfall the past few weeks.

The new light plant, installed by W. J. Doering in the Methodist church, will be used for the first time Sunday night. All are invited to be present.

Otto Goetz, the architect on the county buildings, arrived yesterday evening from El Paso. He will return to El Paso today, but will be in Carrizozo next week.

George Murray returned Saturday morning. George left here in the spring for Texas, and was just able to creep about because of a rheumatic attack, but is now much improved.

J. F. Kimbell and family returned Sunday from a week's outing on the Ruidoso. They report a small catch of fish and a pleasant outing, except that their trip was slightly marred by an excessive rainfall.

T. J. Johnson returned on last Friday's No. 3 from Chicago. Tom spent about three weeks in the Windy City in the interest of a Lincoln county proposition, and reports satisfactory results from his conference.

Roy Cofer, formerly in the employ of the railroad here, but for the past two years in other parts, returned this week and expects to make Carrizozo his headquarters. He is representing the Amarilla Life Insurance Company.

W. B. Wagoner returned Monday from El Paso. Mr. Wagoner had just been discharged from the Providence Hospital, having suffered an attack of typhoid fever. He has resumed his duties at the postoffice, but is still quite weak from his recent illness.

Costly Venison.

Dear Sir: A Roswell jeweler, hungry for venison, killed just a small deer of Uncle Sam's. Only $500 and cost is the bill. Sheriff Stevens of Lincoln county is Uncle Sam's collector and is after the cash.

Fred Higgins on Trial.

Las Cruces, N. M., Sept. 13.—The case Fred Higgins, the territorial mounted policeman, who shot and killed the jailor of the Dona Ana county jail last spring, will come up for trial in Silver City on September 14. At the preliminary examination witnesses testified that Lambert Reinhart and Manuel Candelario were drinking and singing in a saloon one night. Higgins, a mounted policeman, but a stranger here, arrested the men and took them to jail. There was a misunderstanding at the jail which led to the death of Tranquillo Lopez, the jailer.

A nice shower of rain, lasting about two hours, fell in this vicinity Thursday evening, which refreshed the atmosphere and vegetation in general.

BREAD MADE WITHOUT FLOUR

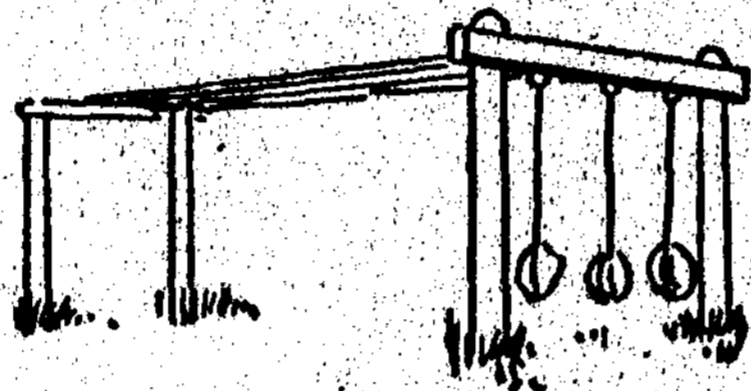

Ingenious French Idea That is Said to Have Produced Excellent Results.

In France bread has been made without flour in a machine that transforms the wheat directly into dough. This machine shows a large screw turning loosely in a case, on the inner surface of which is a screw thread running in an opposite direction. Between the main threads on the cylinder are smaller threads, and the depth of the groove becomes progressively smaller from one end to the other, so that it will hold the entire wheat grain as it enters the machine, at the same time accommodating only the pulverized wheat at the exit.

The wheat is prepared by a thorough washing, after which operation about a pint of tepid water to a pound of grain is added, the whole mixture being allowed to stand some six hours. Then the grains of wheat have swollen to twice their size. The mixture is then treated with yeast and salt, and is poured into the machine. It falls between the threads of the moving screw and of the fixed contrary screw, which simultaneously crush the envelope and body of the grain, making of them a homogeneous mixture that forms a smooth paste.

Bread made by this process contains a succession of holes whose size increases as they approach the crust, which is thin. The odor given off is said to be most agreeable.

KEEP CLOTHES LINE TAUT

The best clothes line from hemp or cotton will stretch during the damp weather. To save the trouble of tightening the line frequently, an easily constructed device may be used.

The posts must be set solidly in the ground, and well trampled with fine gravel or broken rock or crockery. Fasten the lines to the cross-pieces at one end and let them run through small pulleys at the other end. The loose end should drop down about two feet from the cross-piece and a weight attached to it which will always keep it taut and trim.

Delicious Spanish Chicken.

After washing and cutting up a chicken, put on to boil in plenty of water. Thirty minutes later salt to taste. One hour before the chicken is done put one cup of rice in with it to boil slowly. Ten minutes later put Spanish-dressing in with chicken and rice. (Add no more water.)

Recipe for Spanish Dressing—Chop very fine two large onions and four cloves of garlic, add one-fourth teaspoon of cayenne pepper, fry in olive oil until a light brown.

Sunshine Cake.

Beat the whites of seven eggs about half, add one saltspoon of salt and one-third teaspoon of cream of tartar and beat to a standing froth; stir in lightly one cup of sifted sugar, add the beaten yolks of five eggs, flavor with orange or lemon juice, fold in two-thirds of a cup of flour, turn into a bright ungreased pan having a tube in the center and bake from 40 to 50 minutes.

To Clean the Roast Pan.

On taking up roast and gravy, fill the pan half full of water to which a teaspoon of soap powder has been added; set on back of stove to keep hot. When you come to wash it you will find the work already done.

If you burn a loaf cake let it get perfectly cold, then with grater grate away the burnt part and unsightly edges. In this way you make a perfect shaped cake for icing.

PREROGATIVE OF HER SEX

Bride Had But Exercised Recognized Privilege That is Universally Granted.

A young couple had been courting for several years and the young man seemed to be in no hurry to marry. Finally, one day, he said:

"Sal, I canna marry thee."

"How's that?" asked she.

"I've changed my mind," said he.

"Well, I'll tell thee what we'll do," said she. "If folks know that it's thee as has given me up I shanna be able to get another chap; but if they think I've given thee up I can get all I want. So we'll have banns published and when the wedding day comes the parson will say to thee: 'Wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife? and thou must say: 'I will.' And when he says to me: 'Wilt thou have this man to be thy wedded husband?' I shall say: 'I winna.'"

The day came, and when the minister asked the important question the man answered: "I will."

Then the parson said to the woman: "Wilt thou have this man to be thy wedded husband?" and she said: "I will."

"Why," said the young man furiously, "you said you would say 'I winna.'"

"I know that," said the young man, "but I've changed my mind since." —Mack's National Monthly.

Tit for Tat.

A young man, who had not been married long, remarked at the dinner table the other day:

"My dear, I wish you could make bread such as mother used to make."

The bride smiled and answered in a voice that did not tremble:

"Well, dear, I wish you could make the dough that father used to make."

Unexpected.

Suddenly the umpire called time. "Aw, what's the matter!" demanded the catcher.

"Somebody in the grand stand applauded me," he said, wiping the blinding tears from his eyes, "and I wasn't prepared for that. . . . Play ball!"

STRONGER THAN MEAT
A Judge's Opinion of Grape-Nuts.

A gentleman who has acquired a judicial turn of mind from experience on the bench out in the Sunflower State writes a carefully considered opinion as to the value of Grape-Nuts as food. He says:

"For the past 5 years Grape-Nuts has been a prominent feature in our bill of fare.

"The crisp food with the delicious, nutty flavor has become an indispensable necessity in my family's everyday life.

"It has proved to be most healthful and beneficial, and has enabled us to practically abolish pastry and pies from our table, for the children prefer Grape-Nuts, and do not crave rich and unwholesome food.

"Grape-Nuts keeps us all in perfect physical condition—as a preventive of disease it is beyond value. I have been particularly impressed by the beneficial effects of Grape-Nuts when used by ladies who are troubled with face blemishes, skin eruptions, etc. It clears up the complexion wonderfully.

"As to its nutritive qualities, my experience is that one small dish of Grape-Nuts is superior to a pound of meat for breakfast, which is an important consideration for anyone. It satisfies the appetite and strengthens the power of resisting fatigue, while its use involves none of the disagreeable consequences that sometimes follow a meat breakfast." DAIRY

CLEANLINESS IN THE DAIRY

Sanitary Condition of the Cows Has Much to Do With Bacterial Content of the Milk.

The cows as well as the dairy barn must be kept clean. Experience has shown that the sanitary condition of the cows has as much to do with the bacterial content of the milk as any other factor. The method used in certified milk dairies is first to place

Cow-Tail Holder.

The cows in a stall according to their size, to have sufficient bedding to keep them clean and comfortable to keep the hair short in the region of the udder, groom the cows every day, to wash them before every milking with clean, warm water and a brush, and just before milking each cow to clean the udder again with a clean, wet towel.

During fly time the tails of the cows to be milked are fastened with cow-tail holders, such as the one shown in the illustration. The pincers snap around the cow's tail and the rubber band is passed around the leg on the chain.

After the cows are washed, a small chain is fastened across the stanchions under the cow's necks to prevent them from lying down; after they are milked, the chains are unfastened and the cows are allowed to lie down.

The manure is not removed immediately before milking, and nothing is done which will raise a dust, as dust is one of the most prolific sources of milk contamination.

Rape in the Cornfield.

It is a good practice to sow some rape in the cornfield but it is wise also to sow at the same time some crimson clover seed. The rape will be good for fall hog pasture and the clover will thrive better with some shade from the rape and will make the winter cover and a fine crop for the spring turning for corn or other hoed crop.

Silo Has Advantage.

The man with the silo is the man who has the advantage at this time of year when the dry spell strikes. Milk flow that is once decreased by dried up pastures can never be restored until the next freshening. Don't let the milk flow decrease.

DAIRY COW IN THE SUMMER

Fly Pests and Drought-Stricken Pastures Are Discouraging—Keep Animals Comfortable.

(By R. G. WEATHERSTONE.)

The late summer months are the most critical time of the year for the dairy cows and the most trying time for their owner. Fly pests and drought-stricken pastures are discouraging to a dairyman. Everything possible should be done to reduce the loss and suffering of the cattle during this period. I find that it pays to keep the cows inside during the heat of the day and feed supplemental forage crops and a little grain feed.

The sight of a herd of cattle stamping files in a drought-stricken pasture does not speak favorably of profits and comfort. I have never been in favor of growing acres of forage crops and catch crops for soiling purposes, for on the average farm it is not necessary.

However, it does pay to hold over an abundance of ensilage and cut either alfalfa, clover or corn to feed the cows when the pastures are failing. No catch crop exceeds these regular crops in the amount or quality of forage yielded per acre and when they are harvested in the ordinary way they will furnish the best feed for the herd during the winter.

In trying to save tons of hay and bushels of grain for winter feeding many men allow dollars of immediate profit to slip through their fingers, by holding back these crops for winter feeding when their animals are suffering and falling away in flesh condition.

It is far more sensible to cut and feed a portion of the green feed than it is to take the land out of the regular rotation and grow supplemental crops that are less desirable for soiling purposes. It seems difficult to impress it upon the average man's mind that the best winter feeding crops are the best selling crops.

MORE MILK FROM HOLSTEIN

Breed Does Not Always Indicate Good Milkers—Selection Should Be Made From Individual.

The breed does not always indicate good milkers. There are poor cows in all breeds and the selection should be made on the merits of the individual cow. However, the average Holstein cow will probably produce more milk than other breeds, but with a lower fat content than the Jersey or Guernsey, says a writer in an exchange. Should you desire to build up a good reputation for table milk in your town, it might be well to have two breeds. I have known of instances where half the herd were Holsteins, to furnish the quantity, and the other half of the herd were Guernseys or Jerseys, which helped to bring up the fat content of the milk when mixed before bottling for market. This will increase the per cent. of fat in the milk as well as give it a better body and color.

Excellent Type of Holstein.

Mottled butter is generally due to improper working.

NOTHING BUT AN AMATEUR

Fair Damael's Questions That Revealed Callow Lover in His True Light.

"Do you really and truly think I am beautiful?" she asked.

"You are simply divine," he replied. "But there are other girls whom you think more beautiful than I."

"No, I don't think there is a more beautiful girl in the world than you."

"There are other girls you think are just as beautiful, though."

"You are more beautiful than any other girl I ever saw."

"I suppose there are plenty of girls whom you consider almost as beautiful as I am."

"I think you are far more beautiful than any other girl that ever breathed."

"Well, why didn't you say that in the first place?"

"That was what I meant, if I didn't exactly say so."

"O, well, go on. My goodness! Must I suggest everything nice that you say to me?"

"What more can I say?"

"Heavens! I'm not going to sit here giving you lessons. I thought the way you started out that you had made love before."

PIMPLES COVERED HIS BACK

"My troubles began along in the summer in the hottest weather and took the form of small eruptions and itching and a kind of smarting pain. It took me mostly all over my back and kept getting worse until finally my back was covered with a mass of pimples which would burn and itch at night so that I could hardly stand it. This condition kept getting worse and worse until my back was a solid mass of big sores which would break open and run. My underclothing would be a clot of blood.

"I tried various remedies and salves for nearly three years and I was not getting any benefit. It seemed I was in eternal misery and could not sleep on my back or lean on a chair. I was finally given a set of the Cuticura Remedies and inside of two weeks I could see and feel a great relief. I kept on using Cuticura Soap, Ointment and also the Resolvent, and in about three or four months' time my back was nearly cured and I felt like a new being. Now I am in good health and no sign of any skin diseases and I am fully satisfied that Cuticura Remedies are the best ever made for skin diseases. I would not be without them." (Signed) W. A. Armstrong, Corbin, Kan., May 26, 1911. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page book, will be mailed free on application to "Cuticura," Dept. 27 K, Boston.

Distressing.

"Here is the account of a poor woman who lost both arms in a railroad wreck."

"It must be dreadful to go through life without any arms."

"Yes, indeed. And much worse for a woman than for a man."

"How is that?"

"Well, a woman without any arms can't reach around to feel if the back of her collar and the back of her belt are all right."

CHAIRMAN McDONALD'S REPLY TO LARRAZOLO.

Head of the Democratic Party in New Mexico Comments on the Apostasy of O. A. Larrazolo.

Hon. O. A. Larrazolo, Las Vegas, N. M.

Dear Sir:—I have your letter of Aug. 29th, addressed to me, as chairman of the democratic central committee of New Mexico, announcing that you have withdrawn from the democratic party and are now a republican.

The democratic party three times conferred upon you its highest honor, the nomination for congress. It loyally supported you in each campaign. You now desert it, at what you believe to be a critical time, to become a member of the republican party, which you admit has robbed you of that office by outrageous frauds, and which has systematically resorted to the most scandalous vilification and ridicule of yourself and the Spanish-speaking people and made flagrant appeals to race prejudice for partisan advantage.

Your letter does not intimate that you have changed your views upon the fundamental principles of democracy, which you have so often endorsed, or that you have embraced the republican doctrines of governmental policy, which you have so often denounced. You allege as the only reason for your desertion, that the democratic party is intolerant and prejudiced against "your people," and you attempt to sustain your position by charging.

First: That, by reason of race prejudice, Chaves, Eddy and Roosevelt counties did not loyally support you in 1906, and that thereby you were defeated.

Second: That the democratic minority on the committee of elections in congress, did not make a full report exposing the frauds by which you admit you were robbed of the office of delegate in congress, committed by many of the very men with whom you have now associated yourself.

Third: That no Spanish-speaking delegate was sent to the constitutional convention from any of the nine democratic counties.

To the thinking mind all these grievances, if true, would not justify your desertion of the party which has honored you so often.

It is not true, however, that you were defeated by a defection, caused by race prejudice in the eastern counties.

In Chaves county you received 284 more votes in 1908 than in 1906. Only three men on the ticket received more votes than you—Mr McBees for council, 63, and two other candidates 15 and 16 respectively. The other nine candidates received less—Mr Herbert for assessor 380 less, Mr Ballard for sheriff, 221 less, and so on down the line. The average majority for all candidates except you was 471. Yours was 502.

In Eddy county the republicans made nominations for only three offices. The democratic candidates for these offices received an average majority of 673. You received 684.

In Roosevelt county your majority, it is true, was not as large as the average majority. You received however 834 more votes than 1906 and your majority was 133 greater. Your total majority in these three counties in 1908 was 121 greater than in 1906.

These facts conclusively show the incorrectness of your statements that you were defeated by the defection of votes in these counties from race prejudice.

You were really defeated by defection in the republican counties where the Spanish-speaking voters largely predominated. In your own home county of San Miguel a majority of 783 in 1906 was changed to minority of 704 in 1908. In Mora county a majority of 150 in 1906 was changed to a minority of 212 in 1908, and in Union county a majority of 206 in 1906 was changed to a minority of 161, a difference to your disadvantage of 2,216 in these three counties. If you had held in 1908 your vote of 1906, in any one of these counties, you would have been elected.

It is said that after the election of 1908, you repeatedly declared that you would never address the voters of San Miguel county again on account of their treatment of you in that campaign.

Remarkable loyalty to the party and to you is shown by the result in the eastern counties when the nature of the campaign against you is considered. All over the territory, as you yourself state, the principal fight was on the head of the ticket. Statehood was earnestly desired everywhere and the republicans deceived many persons by their time worn war cry "A vote for Andrews is a vote for statehood." As subsequent events have shown, Mr. Andrews was the most determined opponent statehood had, under the only method by which we could get it and the democratic party has given it to us in spite of the combined efforts of the national and local republican organizations to defeat it, but, at the time that was an especially strong appeal to the eastern counties, and some voters were misled by it.

Not satisfied with this issue, the republican party made a most violent and scandalous appeal in these counties to race prejudice. You were universally ridiculed in the republican papers as the "noble Spaniard," and in many other ways aspersions upon the English speaking people, calculated to arouse race prejudice, and falsely attributed to you, were generally published and circulated by the republican organizations. The republican central committee, of which H. O. Bursum was then, and is now, the chairman, mailed into these counties three days before election and too late to be counteracted thousands of copies of what purported to be a letter from you to a citizen of your race, denouncing the "Gringos" as oppressors and despoilers of the Spanish speaking people, and calling upon them to combine and overturn these "Gringos." George Curry, then governor of New Mexico, and other republican campaigners, openly appealed to the people of these counties to vote against you solely because you were a Mexican. Thousands of new voters there who did not then know that the settled policy of the republican organization for years had been to arouse race feeling for partisan advantage, believed these statements. In spite of all, the vote for you increased there.

As none knows better than you, the democratic party has for years stood upon the broad principle that there is but one class of citizens in New Mexico and has bitterly denounced the continuous attempts of the republican party to draw distinctions between the Spanish-speaking and the English-speaking citizens, and to engender enmity between them.

On the other hand, the republican party, as you know, has in every campaign appealed to race prejudice—in the eastern counties denouncing Spanish-speaking people, and in the Spanish speaking counties denouncing the citizens of eastern New Mexico as Oklahoma and Texas democrats and as enemies of the native people to deprive them of their political rights.

Your second complaint is equally groundless. Your statement shows that you were robbed by the republican organization of your election to congress by shameful fraud which was upheld and endorsed by the republican congress in the face of undisputed proof of your election. You complain that the democrats on the committee on elections did not make a report showing how outrageously you had been defrauded of the office by the republicans. As you know, any report by that committee could not have changed the result. The democrats were in a hopeless minority in congress, and the republican majority ruthlessly disregarded the evidence and seated your opponent, not because he was elected, but because he was a republican and a so-called American, and because you were a democrat and a Mexican.

The republican members of that committee, as you know, threatened that unless the democratic minority withheld a report showing the true condition of affairs, the usual appropriation of $2,000 to the defeated candidate would not be made by them. You also know that the minority members did, for that reason, withhold that report, and that you did receive the $2,000.

These alleged grievances, which seem to be your principal ones, all occurred nearly three years ago. Since that you have accepted further honors from the democratic party and were its candidate to the constitutional convention in the fall of 1910, upon the progressive democratic platform. You stood upon that platform and proclaimed in every speech that its adoption was the only salvation of the Spanish-speaking people. Afterwards, when a constitution which embodied no one of the progressive principles for which you and your party stood in the campaign, was formed by the republican party, you, in company with the leaders of that organization, which, as you declare, had robbed you of the office of delegate in congress, supported upon the stamp that constitution, upon the only ground that you feared that if this constitution, which protected the rights of your people, was not adopted, the Americans in the future would take away those rights.

The democratic party in congress, by the Flood resolution, has submitted to the people of New Mexico, an amendment to the constitution, which, if adopted, not only secured to the Spanish-speaking people all the rights which they were given under the constitution, and makes that constitution practically unamendable, so far as it relates to those rights, but also removes the obnoxious language clause embodied in the enabling act, passed by the republican congress. Notwithstanding the republican party, both nationally and locally, has most bitterly opposed this amendment, and is now opposing its adoption, you have affiliated with that party, after the securing of those rights by the democratic party.

You have waded to announce your desertion of that party for nearly three years after the occurrence which you allege are the cause for such desertion. Since the happening of these grievances you have accepted honors from the democratic party, and as late as December, 1910, attended the territorial democratic convention as a delegate, and you also, in the closing days of the constitutional convention, declared yourself a candidate, either for judgeship or governorship. Since that time also the rights of the Spanish-speaking people, which you feared might be invaded in the future, have been safeguarded even more securely than by the constitution which you supported. Your republican friends seem to have known of your intention for many months, because as early as last April one of your new republican associates announced in Washington to the chairman of the committee on territories, that you had decided at that time to become a republican.

On the other hand, on August 19, 1911, in a conversation with me at Las Vegas, you left me under the impression that you were still a loyal democrat. This action of yours savors strongly of insincerity.

Your third charge that in the democratic counties, no Spanish-American delegates were elected to the constitutional convention, seems to be as insufficient as the other charges to justify your position.

As you know, a large percentage of the Spanish-speaking people of this territory are affiliated with the republican party. In some of the democratic counties the Spanish-speaking population does not equal one-tenth of the English-speaking population. In these counties, although the Spanish-speaking people are largely republican, the republicans in those counties failed to nominate a single Spanish-American candidate for delegate to that convention, and yet you ask men to believe that you have deserted the democratic party because of its intolerance in this regard, and have, for that reason, joined the republican party, which is culpable, in that particular, to a much larger extent for the reasons stated, than the democratic party.

In conclusion I desire to say that, in order to find some excuse for your action, you have ignored the fact that the republican party, during the last twenty years, has, in almost every campaign, appealed to race prejudice, and that the democratic party has never done so. That the republican party in congress has treated the Spanish-speaking people with the greatest ignominy and contempt, as is shown by the Beveridge report, which ridiculed your people and declared them unfitted for statehood, by the enabling act, which humiliated your people by the enactment of the language qualification for holding office, a distinct violation of the rights guaranteed you as American citizens under the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo; by the minority report of the committee on territories, signed by all the republican members thereof, including W. H. Andrews; by the Nelson amendment to the Flood resolution and the Smith resolution, by each of which it was sought by the republicans in congress to still retain, as a condition of your citizenship, the humiliating language included by them in the enabling act, and which was eliminated only by the decisive stand of the democrats in congress.

You also forget that in the last thirteen elections for delegate to congress, extending back to 1882, the nominee of the democratic party has nine times been a Spanish-speaking citizen and the nominee of the republican party has been only three times a Spanish-speaking citizen. That in the last election you carried every one of the English-speaking counties, except one, and lost every one of the Spanish-speaking counties, except one. That you were nominated three times for congress by a democratic convention, in which the English-speaking element largely predominated, and that your last nomination for congress was made in Roswell, in the center of those counties against which you have made your false charges, and by a convention in which there were at least two English-speaking to one Spanish-speaking delegate.

From your letter to me and from private letters shown me by other persons, it is plainly to be seen that you expect to make your campaign against the democratic party upon the basis of race prejudice alone, as you make no pretense that you have joined the republican party upon a change of principle. There is no other issue upon which you can appeal to the people if your letters are to be basis of the campaign which you say you intend to make in behalf of the republican party.

Any man or party which appeals to race prejudice is a public enemy and should be so treated by the community at large, irrespective of race or politics.

A sudden change in party affiliations, especially by one who has been a standard bearer of his party, is unusual, and when made for reasons having no foundation of substance, the suggestion inevitably arises that there must be motives not disclosed.

Your resignation was, by the committee, unanimously accepted.

Very truly yours,

W. U. McDONALD,
Chairman of the democratic Committee of New Mexico.
