Jake Hicks, who has been laid up with rheumatism for several weeks, has so far improved under Dr. Paden's treatment as to be moved back to his ranch this week.

Don. McDonald is here visiting his family. He has been drifting among different, and indifferent, mining camps in Arizona and Old Mexico, since leaving here nearly ten years ago, and now drifts back to White Oaks, where he formely lived, and where he met and married his wife, then Miss Lois Anderson.

The Albuquerque Citizen says that the address of John A. Clark delivered at the opening session of the territorial Council was the best ever delivered in the Capitol and avery word was appropriate to the occasion. The Citizen is a great deal more than half right.

Ethel Walden, a typo from the News office Capstan, called here thisweek on her way to Alamogordo.

On coming home to dinner a well known citizen of this town, so it is reported, was met at the door by his wife, who with an unmistakeable trouble in her face told how the cat had slipped into the cupboard and eaten up the mince pie she had prepared for him.

"Never mind my dear" soothingly replied the dutiful husband, "I will get you another cat."

All kinds of rock work and real estate around White Oaks are bound to take a rise now in a very short time. Paul Mayer has just received a car load of giant powder and stored it away in his magazine up White Oaks gulch ready for a sudden upward tendency

James Simms returned Tuesday evening from Chicago where he had gone to attend a meeting of the stockholders of the Eagle mining company, and to promote an other Lincoln county entreprise. He says the wooden Indians still stand and offer a fellow cigars on the street, and their water wagons leak as bad as ever' but those street cars all scooting along hung up to a wire by a stick, and their railroad trains traveling on stilts, is what got him. But then it must be remembered that Chicago labors under the disadvantage of being a long way from White Oaks New Mexico.

Clerks of the different school boards throughout the county should see to it when issuing warrants, whether for teacher's salary or other purposes, that they invariably bear the consecutive number, as the Superintendent must necessarily have those in checking up his accounts with the county treasurer. Teachers on receiving warrants for their salaries should also see that the numbers on them are not omitted, and thus avoid vexatious delays while warrants are being returned for correction.

WOULDN'T IT MAKE MINNEHAHA?

The following from the Houston Post applies with equal force to a newspaper in a small town stuck in the mud and not even a dog fight or the sight of a hen scratching in the street.

"It is thus," said Hiawatha,
Hiawatha Scribbleanktum,
"When you're workingon a paper,
On a daily morning paper,
On a paper of the people,
And the people of the paper,
Hold you up for one full column,
Column of real bright things daily,
And your think tank goes plum empty,
Empty as a last year's bird's nest,
As a last year's waiscoat empty,
Empty as a Manchu landscape,
When the Japs have marched across it,
Empty as a young girl's promise,
Empty as an unbuilt garret,
Then you take your pencil thusly,
Take your trusty faber thusly,
Hold it with the blunt end upward,
Hold it with the point end downward,
Upward, downward, slightly-slanted,
With the point against the paper,
With the butt towards the heavens,
Then you gently move it thusly,
Backward, forward, upward, downward,
Looping many loops and angles,
Mking many hooks and pothooks,

Parodying Hiawatha,
Thus may you fill out your columns,
Fill you column in the paper,
Fill your paper column daily,
When your think tank's dry and dusty,
When your tank of thought is empty,
Do in short as I've done this da ,
Wouldn't that make nehaha?"

There is a rumor, a mere rumor it is said, that White Oaks had a hold-up during the past week, and though the holdup-ee was a young lady, it wasn't the kind of performance one would expect to take place Sunday evening in courting time, when the old folks have gone to bed, and the parlor lights are low. Particulars withheld.

Eagle Carries Off a Fawn.

Ed. Elrage came in from his ranch on Mule creek the first of the week, says the Silver City Enterprise.

Mr. Elrage tells of a strange sight he saw while on a hunting trip with Frank Davis to the head of Mule creek about a month ago. The two, upon reaching the crest of a hill, saw, about 500 yards ahead of them, at the foot of a gentle slope, a pair of deer with a young fawn. Hovering over the trio were two large eagles, which took turns about at pouncing down upon the fawn and pecking at it with their sharp bills in the hope, probably, of disabling it sufficiently to be able to get away with it. In this, however, they met an able foe in the buck, who, with lowered horns made sally after sally at the sharp-beaked birds as they swooped down upon the defenseless fawn, but the buck was at a disadvantage in not possessing a pair of wings to pursue the tormentors of his offspring. These tactics were kept up for several minutes until the eagles, deeming that they had tired the buck sufficiently to be able to steal a march on him, one of them dropped down quickly, over the fawn, grabbed it in its talons and rising steadily in the air made straight for a cliff about three miles distant. Elrage and Davis were spellbound for several seconds at the strange tragedy being enacted before them, but recovering their self-possession, they began firing at the eagle, which at this time was a quarter of a mile away. None of the shots took effect and they had to be satisfied with watching the bird of prey bag its game and carry it to its lair several miles distant.

Mr. Elrage vouches for the story and says it was one of the most curious sights it has ever been his fortune to see. He had often heard of eagles carrying their game in their talons to their nesting places, but always received the stories with a "grain of salt." He will do so no more. The fawn, he says, was about the size of a full grown Newfoundland dog.

Proposed Carlsbad Pipe Line.

Something of an excitement prevails at Carlsbad over fresh discoveries of oil. Thomas H. Teegarden of Los Angeles is at the head of a California company which proposes to make a thorough test of the oil conditions at Carlsbad and to develop the fields there for all ther may be in them. It is proposed to pump the oil in pipes to the railroad six miles distant and if the oil makes good to pump it into the city of El Paso by pipe line.

A number of rigs are now on the ground and drilling will be started in a few days.

During the next week or two over twenty carloads of additional machinery and about seventy-five men will be brought from southern California to the new field. A railroad will be built from the new field to connect with the Pecos Valley & Northeastern. Telephone and telegraph lines are now being installed. Test wells already sunk have proven that this territory is rich in a high grade fuel oil.

According to oil experts who have visited the new fields it is a country where oil can be had from the "grass roots," and in making filings the poorest man can file on just as much territory as the richest. The discovery means a change in the condition of many men who to-day are not wealthy, providing the seemingly well substantiated stories told in regard to these new discoveries prove well founded.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Albuquerque Eastern.

The morning Journal is advised on good authority that the first grading camp of the Albuquerque Eastern railroad on this side of the Sandia mountains will be established near the grounds of the Albuquerque Indian School to-day or to-morrow (January 3rd), from which work will be pushed on the grade toward Tijeras canon. It was announced some weeks ago that the camp would be moved into this side of the hills the first of the year, as as soon as the work on the line to the Hagan coal fields should be complete, and it now seems that the promise is to be fulfilled. The grading from the city to the canon will be comparatively light work and will probably be finished in quick time. It is not known definitely when track laying will begin out of Moriarity, but it is believed that this will be in the near future. The grading camp which will be moved here this week is the outfit which has been working for several weeks out of Moriarity.

This sign of the pushing of work on the new railroad is the most encouraging Albuquerque has had for some time. Taken with the announcement that the Santa Fe Central is to be extended soon from Torrance to Roswell, it would seem to point to close connections for this city with all parts of New Mexico before the end of 1905.—Albuquerque Journal.

New Mexico Coal Fields.

Several thousand acres of coal land south of Durango, in Colorado and New Mexico, have been located or filed upon by several different corporations, syndicates and individuals, a great amount of surface exploration has been performed to establish the existence of coal in merchantable quantities.

It was known as early as last June that the Southern Pacific railway had agents in the Durango fields looking up coal territory for location. Later the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company sent agents to these fields, and it is understood that one of the large tracts of coal land near the La Plata river is held for this company now. A third large tract is believed to be held for the Phelps Dodge people, who have given repeated assurances that they will build a broad gauge road from Durango to El Paso, Texas.

Further prospecting or exploration of coal territory continues south of the Colorado-New Mexico line and on to the south of the San Juan river, as far as Bernalillo county. A great many people for themselves or as agents for capital, have been going in and out of the southern country for several months in search of coal and agricul-

The Scenic Highway.

The scenic carriage road in process of construction between Santa Fe and Las Vegas is thus described in a letter of James W. Abbott, special agent of the Mountain and Pacific Coast division of the office of Public Roads Inquiries of the Department of Agriculture of the United States:

"New Mexico has solved the most vital industrial problem of the age—how to utilize convict labor to construct highways. She may confidently challenge the nation to match her mountain road now under construction from Santa Fe to Las Vegas. Its standard of location and construction have known no equal in my field, which reaches from the Missouri river to the Pacific, and from British Columbia to Mexico.

"Not a Roman of old, not a master of to-day has builded a more excellent way. It winds through deep chasms and over dizzy heights, but everywhere it is wide and hard and smooth, supported by solid stone and with never a grade of more than five per cent. Few events in this life can be more pleasant than a drive, on one of our ideal days, upon this splendid road which leads away to the mountain wonderland that so few have been fortunate enough to penetrate."

Supreme Court Proceedings.

At the session of the Territorial Supreme Court at Santa Fe January 5th in the case of Emerterio Archuleta et al, appellees, vs. M. S. Otero et al. appellants, affirmed the judgement of the lower court.

The following were admitted to the bar of the territory:

David D. Temple of Artesia, James B. Lusk of Taos, Howard S. Bickley of Raton, John E. Griffith of Socorro, all of whom were admitted on certificates of practice in other states and territories.

The following passed the examination and were admitted:

Charles H. Spencer, Santa Fe; G. S. Reese, Portales; Oliver P. Easterwood, Clayton; Robert C. Reid, Roswell; George F. Ellis, Portales, and M. J. Hitson, Tucumcari.

George N. McCrary of Artesia, George D. Sutton of Aztec, W. F. Hendricks of Portales and A. M. Campbell of Roswell were granted thirty days' extension of temporary licenses for the purpose of appearing before the committee.

Solicitor General Pritchard called attention to the deaths of the following members of the Supreme Court bar:

C. E. Burg, Albuquerque; J. Franco Chaves, Progreso; Hugh Freeman, Carlsbad; George W. Johnston, Albuquerque; W. G. Ritch, Engle; L. S. Trimble, Albuquerque; W. M. Smith, Roswell; C. G. Hartley, Alamogordo.

The court appointed George W. Pritchard, T. B. Catron and A. B. Renehan to prepare and present resolutions.

In the sensational case of Maria, otherwise known as Kadish Koury, relator, vs. the judge of the probate court, Marcos Castillo of Santa Fe county, Patrocino Lopez and Michael Koury, the motion of the defendants for advancement of the case was denied.

Torrance County Organized.

A Santa Fe dispatch of January 3rd says: Many striking and singular events are recorded in the history of the development of the West, but yesterday was probably the first time in its annals that a county was ushered into official existence and organized on a railway passenger coach. Such was the beginning of the county of Torrance, the twenty-fifth of the counties of New Mexico.

The Thirty-fifth Legislative Assembly had decreed that the county seat of the new county should be Progreso. At that time Progreso consisted of the home ranch, now historic, of the late Col. J. Franco Chaves. The ranch building is not even pretentious. It is merely a small frame house. It is over a mile to the next place.

Soon thereafter the Santa Fe Central railway built a frame station over half a mile from the ranch and called it Progreso, but soon abandoned it, for there was no business to be gotten or to be created at Progreso.

The Board of County Commissioners met in the afternoon on a special train of the Santa Fe Central railway and there organized and qualified the other county officials. The next Legislature will remove the county seat to Estancia, the largest settlement in Torrance county.

The new county was formed out of parts of Valencia, Lincoln, Socorro, Bernalillo, Santa Fe and San Miguel counties and is situated near the center of the territory.

The commissioners adopted congratulatory resolutions to General Francis J. Torrance, in whose honor the county was named, and Senator W. H. Andrews, delegate-elect to Congress.

Norman Selby, known generally as Kid McCoy, contemplates making Albuquerque his future headquarters. He says in a letter received there that he may locate in Albuquerque. He writes from Dayton, Ohio.

John Zimmerman, surveyor of Santa Fe county, has signed a contract with the Las Vegas Grant commissioners to make a resurvey of the Las Vegas grant of 500,000 acres. He will get, at the option of the board, 2,000 acres of land or $1,500 in cash.

At Las Vegas on the 9th inst. Robert Stanley and John Scott were bound over to the grand jury by United States Commissioner Bunker on the charge of making and passing counterfeit coins. Nickels, quarters and half dollars of spurious make were found on the men and they were observed putting bad money into slot machines.

The Milwaukee and New Mexico Mining Company has filed incorporation papers at Santa Fe, the incorporators being John Dibblak, James M. Drought, T. H. Curtis, Adam Kaufman and Charles Woest, who are also the directors. The capitalization is $5,000 and the headquarters Milwaukee, Wisconsin, while the New Mexico place of business is at Tres Piedras, Rio Arriba county, Richard Cole being the [illegible]

At the meeting in Silver City of the New Mexico Educational Association the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, W. G. Tight; vice-president, Miss M. R. Kochler; secretary, Miss Sarah Ellis.

After a close vote between Las Cruces and Albuquerque for the next place of meeting, Albuquerque was chosen.

The First Presbyterian Church at Santa Fe has voted to erect a new $25,000 church building.

Governor Otero has appointed First Lieut. Walter R. La Londe, Company E, First regiment of infantry, to be captain, vice Estes Baca, resigned. The company is stationed at Socorro.

A dispatch from Las Cruces says that 50,000 acres of land in the Mesilla valley that are within the boundaries of the proposed Elephant Butte dam project have been pledged by the owners for the cost of the construction of the dam. There is no opposition in the Mesilla valley to the project and it will not be the fault of the farmers of that section if there is any delay in the construction of the reservoir.

In reply to an inquiry by Solomon Luna, president of the Sheep Sanitary Board, Solicitor General Prichard states that the board cannot impose a fine upon an owner who refuses or neglects to dip his sheep when ordered to do so. But the board can order the sheep inspector to take charge of the sheep and see that they are dipped, after which the cost can be collected by a civil suit in the courts, the board having a lien on the sheep until the cost is paid.

A Las Vegas dispatch says: Good Roads Commissioner James W. Abbott was a visitor to the scenic highway which the convicts are building between Las Vegas and Santa Fe to-day. He is highly enthusiastic and says that the road represents the highest standard of mountain highways yet achieved in this country. He is a hearty supporter of New Mexico's policy of using convicts on such public work. For several weeks he has been lecturing in the West on the utility of the plan and illustrating by means of stereopticon views.

New Mexico now has twenty-five counties within its borders. Some of them are larger than good sized eastern states. There is room for several new counties. There should be no opposition to their creation where the people want such, are sufficient in number and have enough taxable property to sustain a county properly, efficiently and economically. Small counties are better and more cheaply administered than are large ones. This has been proven in New Mexico since 1883 when the county of Sierra was organized. Since then eleven more counties have been created and all are doing well—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Of the twenty-four members of the Legislative Council, the following are natives of New Mexico: Maximinio Duran, Los Pinos; Jose Amado Lucero, Espanola; J. G. Martinez, Taos; Cristoval Sanchez, Ocate; Nestor Griego and Pablo Vigil, San Miguel county; Cornelio Sandoval, Sandoval; Seferino Crollott, Albuquerque; Sylvestre Myrabel, San Rafael; Florencio Luna of Las Cruces; R. L. Baca of Santa Fe; Roman Sandoval, Cerrillos. Of this number eight speak, read and write the English language and the other four understand it more or less, but could not get along in legislative business without the services of an interpreter.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Governor Ortero on the 3rd inst. pardoned Walter Wade of Raton. Wade was convicted before th District Court of Colfax county two and one-half years ago for murder in the third degree, having killed an unknown man in a street fracas, the man killed at the time having been in the act of throwing a brick at Wade. The pardon was recommended by Chief Justice W. J. Mills before whom the case was tried by District Attorney J. Lehy, who was the prosecuting officer, by a majority of the jurymen in the trial and by numerous citizens of Raton and Colfax county. The sentence was for ten years' imprisonment in the penitentiary, of which Wade had served thirty months. His conduct at the prison was exemplary and this counted greatly in his favor.

A dispatch from Folsom, New Mexico, dated December 28th, says: Maximiliano Martinez was assassinated while asleep in a chair in the Capulin Club saloon this morning at 5:25 o'clock. The assassin shot through the glass panel of the door of the saloon from the outside, the ball passing through the glass and the back upper rung of the office chair in which Martinez was crouching asleep and entered the upper part of the arm, passing entirely through it, entering the body and ranging through the lungs, causing death in an hour. An inquest is being held and nothing is known of what is being developed as to clews to the identity of the assassin. Martinez was under bond to appear at the March term of the District Court for an assault with a knife upon Lecadio Martinez on the 19th instant. Lecadio and his father-in-law were both in the saloon at the time of the shooting, so it is said.

Dr. P. M. Carrington, surgeon of the Marine Hospital Corps, who has been in command of the sanitarium at Fort Stanton, N. M., for the past four years and whose detail will expire in January, has just been designated for another tour of four years at the same institution by Surgeon General Wyman. The surgeon general has recently returned to Washington from a visit of inspection to Fort Stanton and he was so greatly pleased with the work of Dr. Carrington that he thought it would be for the best interest of the service to detail him for another four years as commandant of the institution. Dr. Carrington has in the opinion of the department done a great work in bringing the institution to the front and has proved himself an excellent executive official as well as physician, so the surgeon general did not care to change his detail, but decided to retain him where he is for another four years. This will make an eight-year detail for Dr. Carrington at Fort Stanton.

The Tokio correspondent of the London Times says: "The map of Port Arthur which the Russians produced on December 28th in support of their complaint that the Japanese fire was damaging hospitals, shows seventeen hospitals scattered throughout the old and new towns. American publishers use the English style of spelling. Here is an interesting bill, in full, which Penrose introduced by request, and is called a bill for the promotion of education:

"That it shall not be deemed an infringement of any copyright granted after July 1, 1905, for any person to reprint and republish any book, magazine, newspaper or periodical in which words like harbor, candor, armor and honor are spelled with the insertion of a "u" before the "r," or where such words as recognize, antagonize and authorize are spelled with an "s" instead of a "z," or where such words as inquire, inclose and indorse are spelled with the initial letter an "e," or where such words as stories and tories are spelled as to the final syllable "eys": provided that in the reprint what is known as the American way of spelling is adopted."

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in ¾-pound packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 ozs." Demand Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking. Defiance never sticks.

of New York was abolished more than thirty years ago—to be exact, in 1879. After this long disuse, the Globe says, a powerful movement has been started for its restoration. No less than eighty-seven of the principals of New York have joined in an appeal to the Board of Education for the right to reestablish the old method of enforcing discipline and inculcating in the youthful mind a love of learning.

Since the prohibition of the rod the only permitted ways of enforcing discipline have been by censure, marks, complaint to parents or transfer to truant schools. The principals, or the great majority of them, say that for refractory pupils this punishment is not sufficiently biting. They want authority to play upon physical fear as a motive controlling conduct. They point out that in many of the homes from which pupils come the rod, the slipper and the hand are diligently employed to stimulate obedience to and respect for parents.

Mrs. L. C. Glover, Vice Pres. Milwaukee, Wis., Business Woman's Association, is another one of the million women who have been restored to health by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: I was married for several years and no children blessed my home. The doctor said I had a complication of female troubles and I could not have any children unless I could be cured. He tried to cure me, but after experimenting for several months, my husband became disgusted, and one night when we noticed a testimonial of a woman who had been cured of similar trouble through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, he went out and bought a bottle for me. I used your medicine for three and one half months, improving steadily in health, and in twenty-two months a child came. I cannot fully express the joy and thankfulness that is in my heart. Our home is a different place now, as we have something to live for, and all the credit is due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Yours very sincerely, MRS. L. C. GLOVER, 614 Grove St., Milwaukee, Wis." Vice President, Milwaukee Business Woman's Ass'n.

Women should not fail to profit by the experience of these two women; just as surely as they were cured of the troubles enumerated in their letters, just so certainly will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure others who suffer from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability, and nervous prostration; remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

An Indiana Lady Tells of a Wonderful Cure:—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: It is a pleasure for me to write and tell what your wonderful medicine has done for me. I was sick for three years with change of life, and my physician thought a cancerous condition of the womb. During these three years I suffered untold agony.

"I cannot find words in which to express my bad feelings. I did not expect to ever see another well day. I read some of the testimonials recomending your medicine and decided to write to you and give your treatment a trial.

"Before I had taken half a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I began to sleep. I have taken now six bottles and am so well I can do all kinds of work."—MRS. LAURA HINKLE, Salem, Ind.

Puccini's music.

magazine, Gicho Sakurai writes under the title "The Yellow Blessing." He believes that, for various reasons, which he lays down in detail, what the Russians call the "Yellow Peril" will be really a blessing for the world. In brief, the argument is to the effect that, first the present war has proven that Asiatic races are not morally and physically inferior to Europeans; second, that they are not inferior to the West in matters of lofty moral ideas and humanitarian conception; third, that it is their vocation to spread the humanitarian principles more widely than they have ever been spread before; fourth, that the Japanese soldier is really fighting for constitutional government and against despotism; fifth, that a Japanese triumph will mean a triumph for religious freedom as against Russian religious bigotry; sixth, that one of the causes of Japan's victory is the education which is given in Japan without any distinction of caste or creed; seventh, that this war is holding up before other Asiatic races a good example of what education and liberal ideas can do; eighth, that with the termination of the war, Oriental nations will be in a position to improve their condition along the ways of peace; ninth, that a Japanese triumph will be of immense advantage to the commerce of the Orient; and, tenth, that the Russian people will themselves be benefited by a Japanese victory.

Oldest Living Thing.

An old yew tree stands in the churchyard at Fortingal, in Perthshire, which De Candolle, nearly a century ago proved to the satisfaction of botanists to be twenty-five centuries old, and another is still standing at Hedsor, in Buclas, which is 3,240 years old. How de Candolle arrived at an apparently correct estimate of the enormous age of these living trees is a simple thing, and the principle is doubtless well known to-day to all. The yew, like most other trees, adds one line, about the tenth of an inch, to its circumference each year. But the oldest living thing in the world to-day, so far as known, is a cypress tree in Chapultepec, Mexico, that is 6,260 years old.

Especially for Women.

Champion, Mich., Jan. 9th.—(Special)—A case of especial interest to women is that of Mrs. A. Wellatt, wife of a well known photographer here. It is best given in her own words.

"I could not sleep, my feet were cold and my limbs cramped," Mrs. Wellat states. "I had an awful hard pain across my kidneys. I had to get up three or four times in the night. I was very nervous and fearfully despondent.

"I had been troubled in this way for five years when I commenced to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and what they caused to come from my kidneys will hardly stand description.

"By the time I had finished one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills I was cured. Now I can sleep well, my limbs do not cramp, I do not get up in the night and I feel better than I have in years. I owe my health to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Of the United States Treasury Recommends Pe-ru-na.

Another Prominent Physician Uses and Endorses Pe-ru-na.

DR. LLEWELLYN JORDAN, Medical Examiner of the U. S. Treasury Department, graduate of Columbia College, and who served three years at West Point, has the following to say of Peruna:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from your wonderful remedy. One short month has brought forth a vast change and I now consider myself a well man after months of suffering. Fellow sufferers, Peruna will cure you."

A constantly increasing number of physicians prescribe Peruna in their practice. It has proven its merits so thoroughly that even the doctors have overcome their prejudice against so-called patent medicines and recommend it to their patients.

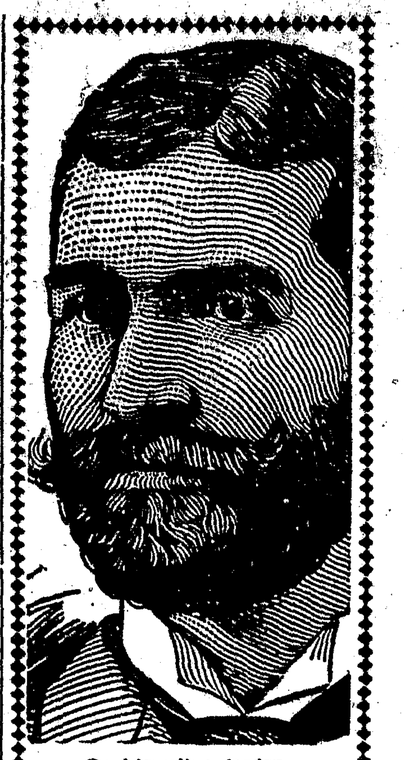
Peruna occupies a unique position in medical science. It is the only internal systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession today. Catarrh, as everyone will admit, is the cause of one-half the diseases which afflict mankind. Catarrh and catarrhal diseases afflict one-half of the people of United States.

Robert R. Roberts, M. D., Washington, D. C., writes:

"Through my own experience as well as that of many of my friends and acquaintances who have been cured or relieved of catarrh by the use of Hartman's Peruna, I can confidently recommend it to those suffering from such disorders, and have no hesitation in prescribing it to my patients."—Robert R. Roberts.

Catarrh is a systemic disease curable only by systemic treatment. A remedy that cures catarrh must aim directly at the depressed nerve centers. This is what Peruna does.

Peruna immediately invigorates the nerve-centers which give vitality to the mucous membranes. Then catarrh disappears. Then catarrh is permanently cured.



Dr. Llewellyn Jordan,
Medical Examiner United States Treasury.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartmann, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Eagle Carries Off a Fawn.

Mr. Elrage tells of a strange sight he saw while on a hunting trip with Frank Davis to the head of Mule creek about a month ago. The two, upon reaching the crest of a hill, saw, about 500 yards ahead of them, at the foot of a gentle slope, a pair of deer with a young fawn. Hovering over the trio were two large eagles, which took turns about at pouncing down upon the fawn and pecking at it with their sharp bills in the hope, probably, of disabling it sufficiently to be able to get away with it. In this, however, they met an able foe in the buck, who, with lowered horns made sally after sally at the sharp-beaked birds as they swooped down upon the defenseless fawn, but the buck was at a disadvantage in not possessing a pair of wings to pursue the tormentors of his offspring. These tactics were kept up for several minutes until the eagles, deeming that they had tired the buck sufficiently to be able to steal a march on him, one of them dropped down quickly, over the fawn, grabbed it in its talons and rising steadily in the air made straight for a cliff about three miles distant. Elrage and Davis were spellbound for several seconds at the strange tragedy being enacted before them, but recovering their self-possession, they began firing at the eagle, which at this time was a quarter of a mile away. None of the shots took effect and they had to be satisfied with watching the bird of prey bag its game and carry it to its lair several miles distant.

Mr. Elrage vouches for the story and says it was one of the most curious sights it has ever been his fortune to see. He had often heard of eagles carrying their game in their talons to their nesting places, but always received the stories with a "grain of salt." He will do so no more. The fawn, he says, was about the size of a full grown Newfoundland dog.

Proposed Carlsbad Pipe Line.

Something of an excitement prevails at Carlsbad over fresh discoveries of oil. Thomas E. Teagarden of Los Angeles is at the head of a California company which proposes to make a thorough test of the oil conditions at Carlsbad and to develop the fields there for all ther may be in them. It is proposed to pump the oil in pipes to the railroad six miles distant and if the oil makes good to pump it into the city of El Paso by pipe line.

A number of rigs are now on the ground and drilling will be started in a few days.

During the next week or two over twenty carloads of additional machinery and about seventy-five men will be brought from southern California to the new field. A railroad will be built from the new field to connect with the Pecos Valley & Northeastern. Telephone and telegraph lines are now being installed. Test wells already sunk have proven that this territory is rich in a high grade fuel oil.

According to oil experts who have visited the new fields it is a country where oil can be had from the "grass roots," and in making filings the poorest man can file on just as much territory as the richest. The discovery means a change in the condition of many men who to-day are not wealthy, providing the seemingly well substantiated stories told in regard to these new discoveries prove well founded.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Albuquerque Eastern.

The morning Journal is advised on good authority that the first grading camp of the Albuquerque Eastern railroad on this side of the Sandia mountains will be established near the grounds of the Albuquerque Indian School to-day or to-morrow (January 3rd), from which work will be pushed on the grade toward Tijeras canon. It was announced some weeks ago that the camp would be moved into this side of the hills the first of the year, as as soon as the work on the line to the Hagan coal fields should be complete, and it now seems that the promise is to be fulfilled. The grading from the city to the canon will be comparatively light work and will probably be finished in quick time. It is not known definitely when track laying will begin out of Moriarity, but it is believed that this will be in the near future. The grading camp which will be moved here this week is the outfit which has been working for several weeks out of Moriarity.

This sign of the pushing of work on the new railroad is the most encouraging Albuquerque has had for some time. Taken with the announcement that the Santa Fe Central is to be extended soon from Torrance to Roswell, it would seem to point to close connections for this city with all parts of New Mexico before the end of 1905.—Albuquerque Journal.

New Mexico Coal Fields.

Several thousand acres of coal land south of Durango, in Colorado and New Mexico, have been located or filed upon by several different corporations, syndicates and individuals, a great amount of surface exploration has been performed to establish the existence of coal in merchantable quantities.

It was known as early as last June that the Southern Pacific railway had agents in the Durango fields looking up coal territory for location. Later the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company sent agents to these fields, and it is understood that one of the large tracts of coal land near the La Plata river is held for this company now. A third large tract is believed to be held for the Phelps-Dodge people, who have given repeated assurances that they will build a broad-gauge road from Durango to El Paso, Texas.

Further prospecting or exploration of coal territory continues south of the Colorado-New Mexico line and on to the south of the San Juan river, as far as Bernalillo county. A great many people for themselves or as agents for capital, have been going in and out of the southern country for several months in search of coal and agricultural lands.—Durango Telegraph.

The Scenic Highway.

The scenic carriage road in process of construction between Santa Fe and Las Vegas is thus described in a letter of James W. Abbott, special agent of the Mountain and Pacific Coast division of the office of Public Roads Inquiries of the Department of Agriculture of the United States:

"New Mexico has solved the most vital industrial problem of the age—how to utilize convict labor to construct highways. She m confidently challenge the nation to match her mountain road now under construction from Santa Fe to Las Vegas. Its standard of location and construction have known no equal in my field, which reaches from the Missouri river to the Pacific, and from British Columbia to Mexico.

"Not a Roman of old, not a master of to-day has builded a more excellent way. It winds through deep chasms and over dizzy heights, but everywhere it is wide and hard and smooth, supported by solid stone and with never a grade of more than five per cent. Few events in this life can be more pleasant than a drive, on one of our ideal days, upon this splendid road which leads away to the mountain wonderland that so few have been fortunate enough to penetrate."

Torrance County Organized.

A Santa Fe dispatch of January 3rd says: Many striking and singular events are recorded in the history of the development of the West, but yesterday was probably the first time in its annals that a county was ushered into official existence and organized on a railway passenger coach. Such was the beginning of the county of Torrance, the twenty-fifth of the counties of New Mexico.

The Thirty-fifth Legislative Assembly had decreed that the county seat of the new county should be Progreso. At that time Progreso consisted of the home ranch, now historic, of the late Col. J. Franco Chaves. The ranch building is not even pretentious. It is merely a small frame house. It is over a mile to the next place.

Soon thereafter the Santa Fe Central railway built a frame station over half a mile from the ranch and called it Progreso, but soon abandoned it, for there was no business to be gotten or to be created at Progreso.

The Board of County Commissioners met in the afternoon on a special train of the Santa Fe Central railway and there organized and qualified the other county officials. The next Legislature will remove the county seat to Estancia, the largest settlement in Torrance county.

The new county was formed out of parts of Valencia, Lincoln, Socorro, Bernalillo, Santa Fe and San Miguel counties and is situated near the center of the territory.

The commissioners adopted congratulatory resolutions to General Francis J. Torrance, in whose honor the county was named, and Senator W. H. Andrews, delegate-elect to Congress.

Norman Selby, known generally as Kid McCoy, contemplates making Albuquerque his future headquarters. He says in a letter received there that he may locate in Albuquerque. He writes from Dayton, Ohio.

John Zimmerman, surveyor of Santa Fe county, has signed a contract with the Las Vegas Grant commissioners to make a resurvey of the Las Vegas grant of 500,000 acres. He will get, at the option of the board, 2,000 acres of land or $1,800 in cash.

At Las Vegas on the 9th inst. Robert Stanley and John Scott were bound over to the grand jury by United States Commissioner Bunker on the charge of making and passing counterfeit coins. Nickels, quarters and half dollars of spurious make were found on the men and they were observed putting bad money into slot machines.

The Milwaukee and New Mexico Mining Company has filed incorporation papers at Santa Fe, the incorporators being John Dibbink, James K. Drought, T. H. Curtis, Adam Kautzman and Charles Wocst, who are also the directors. The capitalization is $5,000 and the headquarters Milwaukee, Wisconsin, while the New Mexico place of business is at Tres Piedras, Rio Arriba county, Richard Cole being the New Mexico agent.

At the meeting in Silver City of the New Mexico Educational Association the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, W. G. Tight; vice-president, Miss M. R. Koehler; secretary, Miss Sarah Ellis.

After a close vote between Las Cruces and Albuquerque for the next place of meeting, Albuquerque was chosen.

The First Presbyterian Church at Santa Fe has voted to erect a new $25,000 church building.

Governor Otero has appointed First Lieut. Walter R. La Londe, Company E, First regiment of infantry, to be captain, vice Estan Baca, resigned. The company is stationed at Socorro.

A dispatch from Las Cruces says that 50,000 acres of land in the Mesilla valley that are within the boundaries of the proposed Elephant Butte dam project have been pledged by the owners for the cost of the construction of the dam. There is no opposition in the Mesilla valley to the project and it will not be the fault of the farmers of that section if there is any delay in the construction of the reservoir.

In reply to an inquiry by Solomon Luna, president of the Sheep Sanitary Board, Solicitor General Prichard states that the board cannot impose a fine upon an owner who refuses or neglects to dip his sheep when ordered to do so. But the board can order the sheep inspector to take charge of the sheep and see that they are dipped, after which the cost can be collected by a civil suit in the courts, the board having a lien on the sheep until the cost is paid.

A Las Vegas dispatch says: Good Roads Commissioner James W. Abbott was a visitor to the scenic highway which the convicts are building between Las Vegas and Santa Fe to-day. He is highly enthusiastic and says that the road represents the highest standard of mountain highways yet achieved in this country. He is a hearty supporter of New Mexico's policy of using convicts on such public work. For several weeks he has been lecturing in the West on the utility of the plan and illustrating by means of stereopticon views.

New Mexico now has twenty-five counties within its borders. Some of them are larger than good sized eastern states. There is room for several new counties. There should be no opposition to their creation where the people want such, are sufficient in number and have enough taxable property to sustain a county properly, efficiently and economically. Small counties are better and more cheaply administered than are large ones. This has been proven in New Mexico since 1883 when the county of Sierra was organized. Since then eleven more counties have been created and all are doing well—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Of the twenty-four members of the Legislative Council, the following are natives of New Mexico: Maximinio Duran, Los Pinos; Jose Amado Lucero, Espanola; J. G. Martinez, Taos; Cristoval Sanchez, Ocate; Nestor Griego and Pablo Vigil, San Miguel county; Cornelio Sandoval, Sandoval; Seferino Crollott, Albuquerque; Sylvestre Myrabel, San Rafael; Florencio Luna of Las Cruces; R. L. Baca of Santa Fe; Roman Sandoval, Cerrillos. Of this number eight speak, read and write the English language and the other four understand it more or less, but could not get along in legislative business without the services of an interpreter.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Governor Ortero on the 3rd inst. pardoned Walter Wade of Raton. Wade was convicted before th District Court of Colfax county two and one-half years ago for murder in the third degree, having killed an unknown man in a street fracas, the man killed at the time having been in the act of throwing a brick at Wade. The pardon was recommended by Chief Justice W. J. Mills before whom the case was tried by District Attorney J. Lehy, who was the prosecuting officer, by a majority of the jurymen in the trial and by numerous citizens of Raton and Colfax county. The sentence was for ten years' imprisonment in the penitentiary, of which Wade had served thirty months. His conduct at the prison was exemplary and this counted greatly in his favor.

A dispatch from Folsom, New Mexico, dated December 28th, says: Maximiliano Martinez was assassinated while asleep in a chair in the Capulin Club saloon this morning at 5:25 o'clock. The assassin shot through the glass panel of the door of the saloon from the outside, the ball passing through the glass and the back upper rung of the office chair in which Martinez was crouching asleep and entered the upper part of the arm, passing entirely through it, entering the body and ranging through the lungs, causing death in an hour. An inquest is being held and nothing is known of what is being developed as to clews to the identity of the assassin. Martinez was under bond to appear at the March term of the District Court for an assault with a knife upon Lecadio Martinez on the 19th instant. Lecadio and his father-in-law were both in the saloon at the time of the shooting, so it is said.

Dr. P. M. Carrington, surgeon of the Marine Hospital Corps, who has been in command of the sanitarium at Fort Stanton, N. M., for the past four years and whose detail will expire in January, has just been designated for another tour of four years at the same institution by Surgeon General Weyman. The surgeon general has recently returned to Washington from a visit of inspection to Fort Stanton and he was so greatly pleased with the work of Dr. Carrington that he thought it would be for the best interest of the service to detail him for another four years as commandant of the institution. Dr. Carrington has in the opinion of the department done a great work in bringing the institution to the front and has proved himself an excellent executive official as well as physician, so the surgeon general did not care to change his detail, but decided to retain him where he is for another four years. This will make an eight-year detail for Dr. Carrington at Fort Stanton.

of New York was abolished more than thirty years ago—to be exact, in 1879. After this long disuse, the Globe says, a powerful movement has been started for its restoration. No less than eighty-seven of the principals of New York have joined in an appeal to the Board of Education for the right to reestablish the old method of enforcing discipline and inculcating in the youthful mind a love of learning.

Since the prohibition of the rod the only permitted ways of enforcing discipline have been by censure, marks, complaint to parents or transfer to truant schools. The principals, or the great majority of them, say that for refractory pupils this punishment is not sufficiently biting. They want authority to play upon physical fear as a motive controlling conduct. They point out that in many of the homes from which pupils come the rod, the slipper and the hand are diligently employed to stimulate obedience to and respect for parents.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: I was married for several years and no children blessed my home. The doctor said I had a complication of female troubles and I could not have any children unless I could be cured. He tried to cure me, but after experimenting for several months, my husband became disgusted, and one night when we noticed a testimonial of a woman who had been cured of similar trouble through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, he went out and bought a bottle for me. I used your medicine for three and one half months, improving steadily in health, and in twenty-two months a child came. I cannot fully express the joy and thankfulness that is in my heart. Our home is a different place now, as we have something to live for, and all the credit is due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Yours very sincerely, MRS. L. C. GLOVER, 614 Grove St., Milwaukee, Wis." Vice President, Milwaukee Business Woman's Ass'n.

Composition on the Seasons.

Youthful in years, but of determined spirit, was the little Bowdoinham, Me., girl who was required to write a composition on the seasons. Much displeased at her task, when driven to it, she produced the following unique article: "There are four seasons, spring, summer, autumn and winter. Some like one best, and some like another; but for my part, give me liberty, or give me death!"

Turns Up Gold Nugget.

A farmer at Brokenback, near Maldon, in Victoria, while plowing, recently turned up a nugget of gold weighing 52¾ ounces. The country is chiefly granite, and gold was not known to exist in the neighborhood. Quartz was attached to the nugget, although in places it was water-worn. No further discoveries have been made.

Long Way Round.

A curious example of artistic evolution is found in the case of Sig. Puccini's opera, "Madame Butterfly." Originally an American book, it was converted into an English play, from which it became the libretto to an Italian opera, and now it is being returned to its original tongue to fit Sig. Puccini's music.

magazine, Gichi Sakurai writes under the title "The Yellow Blessing." He believes that, for various reasons, which he lays down in detail, what the Russians call the "Yellow Peril" will be really a blessing for the world. In brief, the argument is to the effect that, first the present war has proven that Asiatic races are not morally and physically inferior to Europeans; second, that they are not inferior to the West in matters of lofty moral ideas and humanitarian conception; third, that it is their vocation to spread the humanitarian principles more widely than they have ever been spread before; fourth, that the Japanese soldier is really fighting for constitutional government and against despotism; fifth, that a Japanese triumph will mean a triumph for religious freedom as against Russian religious bigotry; sixth, that one of the causes of Japan's victory is the education which is given in Japan without any distinction of caste or creed; seventh, that this war is holding up before other Asiatic races a good example of what education and liberal ideas can do; eighth, that with the termination of the war, Oriental nations will be in a position to improve their condition along the ways of peace; ninth, that a Japanese triumph will be of immense advantage to the commerce of the Orient; and, tenth, that the Russian people will themselves be benefited by a Japanese victory.

Oldest Living Thing.

An old yew tree stands in the churchyard at Fortingal, in Perthshire, which De Candolle, nearly a century ago proved to the satisfaction of botanists to be twenty-five centuries old, and another is still standing at Hedsor, in Buclas, which is 3,240 years old. How de Candolle arrived at an apparently correct estimate of the enormous age of these living trees is a simple thing, and the principle is doubtless well known to-day to all. The yew, like most other trees, adds one line, about the tenth of an inch, to its circumference each year. But the oldest living thing in the world to-day, so far as known, is a cypress tree in Chapultepec, Mexico, that is 6,260 years old.

Especially for Women.

Champion, Mich., Jan. 9th.—(Special)—A case of especial interest to women is that of Mrs. A. Wellatt, wife of a well known photographer here. It is best given in her own words.

"I could not sleep, my feet were cold and my limbs cramped," Mrs. Wellat states. "I had an awful hard pain across my kidneys. I had to get up three or four times in the night. I was very nervous and fearfully despondent.

"I had been troubled in this way for five years when I commenced to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and what they caused to come from my kidneys will hardly stand description.

"By the time I had finished one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills I was cured. Now I can sleep well, my limbs do not cramp, I do not get up in the night and I feel better than I have in years. I owe my health to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Of the United States Treasury Recommends Pe-ru-na.

Another Prominent Physician Uses and Endorses Pe-ru-na.

DR. LLEWELLYN JORDAN, Medical Examiner of the U. S. Treasury Department, graduate of Columbia College, and who served three years at West Point, has the following to say of Peruna:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from your wonderful remedy. One short month has brought forth a vast change and I now consider myself a well man after months of suffering. Fellow sufferers, Peruna will cure you."

A constantly increasing number of physicians prescribe Peruna in their practice. It has proven its merits so thoroughly that even the doctors have overcome their prejudice against so-called patent medicines and recommend it to their patients.

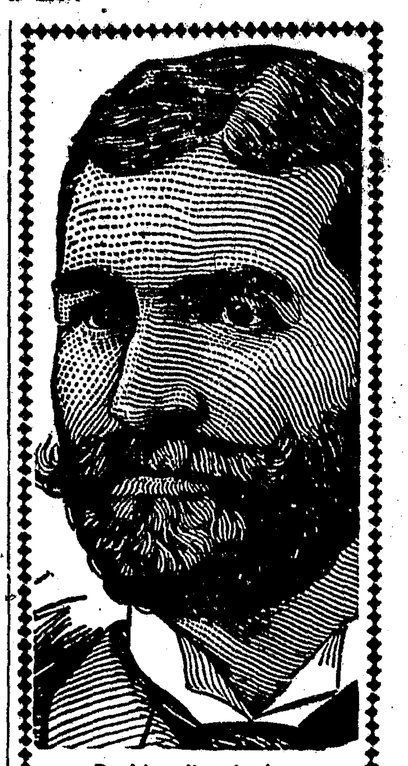
Peruna occupies a unique position in medical science. It is the only internal systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession to-day. Catarrh, as everyone will admit, is the cause of one-half the diseases which afflict mankind. Catarrh and catarrhal diseases afflict one-half of the people of United States.

Robert R. Roberts, M. D., Washington, D. C., writes:

"Through my own experience as well as that of many of my friends and acquaintances who have been cured or relieved of catarrh by the use of Hartman's Peruna, I can confidently recommend it to those suffering from such disorders, and have no hesitation in prescribing it to my patients."—Robert R. Roberts.

Catarrh is a systemic disease curable only by systemic treatment. A remedy that cures catarrh must aim directly at the depressed nerve centers. This is what Peruna does.

Peruna immediately invigorates the nerve-centers which give vitality to the mucous membranes. Then catarrh disappears. Then catarrh is permanently cured.



Dr. Llewellyn Jordan, Medical Examiner United States Treasury.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartmann, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE WHOLE PEOPLE.

President Roosevelt, from latest reports has become tired of congressional dilly-dallying and useless obstruction to legislation and is trying to inject some of his own strenuousness and activity into both branches of that body. He has been calling them to the White House by squads and details in order to impress upon them personally the urgent needs for certain kinds of legislation. Among the measures which he considers should have right of way might be mentioned

Railroad Legislation.
Tariff Revision.
Controlling the Trusts.
The Panama Canal.

He has given members to understand that the matter of controlling transportation must be fought to a finish and that congress will not be allowed to dodge the issue by failure to enact needed legislation.

In the matter of regulating the trusts the fight will be bitter and protracted, but eventually the President and the people will succeed in placing them under reasonable restriction, so that competition in trade will have a fair show.

The President also wants decided changes made in the management of the Panama canal The chief of these is that the high priced engineers now on the canal commission be relieved and that they devote their time to overseeing the actual work of digging the big ditch.

While he is not in favor of a new tariff law, as has been represented by the stand-patters, he is in favor of a reformation of certain schedules that have outlived their first purpose--those which protect monopolies--and those articles which need no further protection. He can see no reason why this work, as above outlined, should not be taken up by congress without delay, and has said to members: "Gentlemen I do not think there is any such word as 'Impossible' in the lexicon of congress. I think these measures ought to be pushed. So do you. First get together and decide that you will do something and let me know and I will see that you have an opportunity to act even if an extra session of congress has to be called."

The real election for President of the United States really took place on January 9th., when the Electors met and declared Theodore Roosevelt duly elected to that high office. Right down in the inner conciousness of nine tenths of the fair minded citizens of this great Nation, who are not blinded by intense partisanship, there is a feeling that no mistake was made when he was chosen to direct the affairs of the greatest and freest government on earth for the coming four years.

The Rev. Sam Jones, in an address at Dallas, Texas, recently thus describes, in his characteristic way, the vigorous manner in which the President is now conducting the affairs of the government "I like Roosevelt any how. He is a combination of the mule and the billy goat, kicking at one end and butting at the other." He is a man of push and vim, and I don't believe we need have any fear of him.

THE LEGISLATURE IN SESSION.

The thirty sixth New Mexico Legislature organized itself last Monday according to program. John S. Clark, of Las Vegas, was made president of the Council. and Carl A. Dalies, of Belen, speaker of the House.

The minor officers of the Council: H. P. Owen, chief clerk; F. P. Chaves, enrolling and engrossing clerk; Matias Baca, Sergeant at arms, and Rev. J. L. Snively, Chaplain. In the House Geo. W. Armijo, was made chief clerk, Florencio C. de Baca, enrolling and engrossing clerk, Marcelino A. Ortiz, sargeant at arms and Adrian Rabeyrolle Chaplain.

Each of the presiding officers, made very neat, timely and eloquent speeches upon assuming the gavel, and if the acts that are to follow comes within forty rods of the good intentions of the speakers as therein expressed, the grist will be a vast improvement over that ground out by any New Mexico Legislature which has preceded it. Legislatures are something like men, the evil they do live after them, but the good seldom comes to a show down in the statute books.

Take these sentences from Mr. Clarks speech as characteristic of the whole: "Yet it behooves us to remember that while we are the majority, we are not the whole people. A minority, respectible in numbers ability and wealth, have little representation on this floor. It is therefore incumbent upon us to be more regardful of their rights privileges and desires; to be more careful of their interests, more heedful of their opinions, than we would be, did nearly one half of this chamber contain their party leaders."

Mr. Dalies spoke in about the same strain though going into Statehood matters a little more extensively, winding up with these words.

"Progress is, and must continue to be our watchword and to this end we as legislators must work with zeal, remembering at all times that we are here as the servants of all the people of New Mexico. Let us then study the advanced conditions as we find them to day, and meet them by such, prudent, equitable and just legislation as will further the growth of our territory and the prosperity of its people, giving birth to such laws as will redound to the credit and good name of this assembly."

The people of the whole territory would most heartily applaud these good intentions, and hope to see them bear fruit in the way of better

THE STATEHOOD WRANGLE.

The statehood question appears to be getting into such a ferment and tangle that neither the people nor our law makers can unravel it for a year to come.

Oklahoma now threatens that if they do not get an enabling act this session of Congress, they will call a convention, to frame a constitution and submit it to the next congress for its approval, following the precedent adopted by several of the other states. This would throw the expense of all the preliminary work on the people of the territory, which would be considerable, besides there would be a possibility, finally, of having it turned down by the eastern wiseacres in that body.

As there seems to be a comparative unanimity on the part of the people of Oklahoma and the Indian Territory in regard to being admitted as a single state the possibilities are that they may be segregated from the bill now under consideration, and allowed to come in before the close of the present session.

With New Mexico and Arizona, the case is different. There has been such a strong opposition developed in both territories to a forcible, unjust and odious combination and withall so many amendments have already been attached to the Hamilton-Roey bill that the measure bids fair to die with the present congress.

This is as it should be. There never was any valid reason for the introduction of the bill in its original form except that born of collusion and cowardice. Collusion on the part of its sponsors with the avowed enemies of western dominance and enterprise, in order to minimize representation. Cowardice on the part of a vacillating and overweening Delegate who tamely surrendered during the panic of a first defeat, and is now found fighting in the ranks of those who without justice or forbearance, but by might alone, would force upon two great American commonwealths a measure in every way obnoxious to a vast majority of their people.

To those weak sisters who imagine they can see in the failure of this joint statehood measure another decade or two of territorial incubation and nonentity, we wish to say:

"Let not your hearts be troubled", this question of admission to single statehood has worn out one congress, and is all the more apt to come up to vex the next with stimulate persistence and disturbing force until we prevail. Our cause is just and righteous, and is bound to win.

In the meantime we are doing pretty well as it is and when this new endowment comes to us we will be all the better prepared for full American citizenship.

Col. Max Frost says, in a recent issue of the New Mexican. "There would be many a dry eye in New Mexico and Arizona over the defeat of the joint statehood bill."

A good deal of dry humor about that. Here's to you Max, over that sentiment. Let's go and irrigate.

President Roosevelt in his remarks to a public school up in Massachusetts a short time ago spoke in high praise of the advantages of this system of education, which he believed to be most beneficial because of the democracy there inculcated. In his remarks the President said that if a boy had not pluck, common sense and decency he was of a pretty bad set. He admonished them that they must not in any sense become "prigs" but to be strong, to be decent and to be resourceful. "Boys and men," he said, "possessing these qualities will not be snobs. There are in our civic and social life worse creatures than snobs but no creature is more contemptible". The President exemplifies his precepts by sending his own children to the public schools in Washington, D. C.

Chapter 17 laws of 1901, territory of New Mexico, providing for the vaccination of school children, requires, every school teacher "to see that all children in his district, are successfully vaccinated, or have been vaccinated within one year previous" It further makes it a criminal offience for any teacher to allow a child within the school house without showing a certificate of having been so vaccinated It might be well for our present legislature to give us some light as to what a "successful" vaccination means. The only interpretation at present adinissible seems to be that a child is to be vaccinated until it takes, effect, and it must be vaccinated every year thereafter until vaccine takes, in order that the pupil may show the required certificate, which presupposes that it must be kept out of school while the thing is working.

Gov. Otero's message to the legislative assembly is said to contain over 20,000 words and covers about every point of general interest to the whole people of the territory. The governor seems to have studied the needs of the civic and industrial departments thoroughly, and while his recommendations do not coincide with the views of the Outlook in all respects, they are in the main well considered and worthy of careful consideration.
