Baptist Benefit Entertainment.

The entertainment for the benefit of the Baptist church at Real's hall last Friday night was delightfully presented to a crowded house. The preparation of the program required a great deal of labor, and the costumes, while not expensive, were fetching and often ludicrous.

Napanea, in which six young girls appeared garbed in Navajo blankets, singing that popular production, brought forth its due mead of applause. Ching a Ling a Loo, Miss Peters, assisted by Messrs. Gibbons and Gauchat, was quite attractive in costume as well as the song and its rendition; and "Auntie Doleful's Philosophy," by Miss Cox, and the song, "It's Time to Close Your Drowsy Eyes an' Sleep," by Vaughn Wilson were well worth hearing.

The Commedietta, representing a young girl's boarding school, and the over-weening desire of the attendants to see a "man" brought about a most laughable situation. An epidemic of small pox had broken out, and the principal called in "Dr. Devine" to vaccinate the girls. Each girl planned to greet the doctor in her most peculiarly attractive manner; but when the doctor did arrive and proved to be in skirts, the disgust, yea, almost horror, depicted on the faces of the young ladies produced side-splitting laughter.

The song and chorus, "Under Southern Skies," pantomime, "Life" or "From the Cradle to the Grave," "Kentucky Watermelon," and closing with a beautiful tableaux, "Morning, Noon and Night," were all to the good, and pleased the crowd very much.

As stated before, the purpose of the entertainment was to raise funds to liquidate an indebtedness hanging over the Baptist church. Sufficient money was thus secured, after all expenses were paid, to wipe out the church bell debt. The bell was placed in position some time ago, but only partially paid for. Mrs. Edgar Wilson prepared the program and, assisted by Mrs. Arthur J. Rolland, attended to its presentation. An appreciative audience showed that the local talent could and did please, and all connected with the affair are to be congratulated.

Fish Car Will Arrive this Week.

W. R. White and H. E. Keller were down from the Mesa Monday to receive a consignment of rainbow trout from the government hatchery with which to stock Mr. White's pond. The fish car failed to arrive, and they returned home empty-handed. However, a telegram has subsequently arrived, stating that the fish will arrive later this week.

A Disastrous Freeze.

Sunday morning, May 21st, Jack Frost visited various sections of this county, and played sad havoc with farm and orchard. Between Capitan and Nogal and on the upper stretches of the Bonto the frost was particularly destructive. Beans and corn were destroyed on the mesa in many instances necessitating a replanting. If the ground is in good condition, however, the loss, except the one of seed, will not be so serious, as there is plenty of time for both beans and corn. On the other hand, the fruit is gone for the year, so that the loss is total. The lateness of the season prevented an anticipation of such a disastrous freeze; hence, all the more destructive.

Joint Resolution Passes House.

Washington, May 23.—The joint resolution admitting Arizona and New Mexico to immediate statehood, but withholding approval of the constitutions of both until the people have voted on proposed amendments, passed the house of representatives this afternoon by a viva voce vote.

The resolution requires Arizona to vote on an amendment removing the recall provision as it applies to judges; and requires the people of New Mexico to vote on an amendment making the constitution of that state more easily amendable. Neither state is required to adopt the amendments proposed by congress. Whether they are approved or rejected by the proposed referendum, the constitutions of the new states will stand finally approved when the respective votes have been taken.

The resolution passed in the form proposed by the democratic majority of the committee on territories. Efforts were made by the republicans to force Arizona to vote out of its constitution the recall of judges; and to give the immediate and unqualified approval to the New Mexico constitution. Both provisions were rejected singly, and later when Mr. Mann embodied them in a motion to recommit the measure they were voted down.

The democrats said the proposal to force Arizona to reject the recall was an effort to keep that state out of the union. The democratic resolution, said the chairman of the territories committee, presented the fairer method, namely, to leave to the determination of the people the recall question.

Notwithstanding this attitude, leading democratic orators bitterly denounced the recall of judges during the afternoon's debate, while republican insurgents refused to join minority leader Mann in the proposal to force Arizona to give it up.

POLITENESS.

The decay of French politeness has become a subject for passing concern on the part of the French themselves. It has been frequently remarked by visitors to France, who have alleged a change in French manners within the period of their recollection, says the Charleston News and Courier. The same phenomenon is something alleged of the weather in New England. Scientific meteorologists 'poo-hoo' this. They declare it to be all out of the question for climate to be materially affected except by imperceptible processes requiring ages to show results. So as to politeness in France; some contend that the

ONE FRUIT GROWER'S CREED

Proposed by School of Extension Department of West Virginia University and is Excellent.

The following creed was proposed by the fruit school of the extension department of the West Virginia university. It is a splendid one:

He who plants a fruit tree professes his faith. It is as if he should say: I believe.

I believe!

I believe in God and in the orderliness of his universe.

I believe in the regular procession of the seasons and summer

FACTS ABOUT TUSSOCK MOTH

When Full Grown It is One of Our Most Beautiful Caterpillars— Methods for Combating Insect.

When full grown the white marked tussock moth is one of our most beautiful caterpillars, immediately recognized by the four white tufts or tussocks on back. The head is bright coral red, and the body marked with longitudinal yellow, gray and black lines. Below the caterpillar is yellow. There are two tufts of black projecting forward from above the head. At the posterior end of the body there is one hairy "horn."

This "worm" when full grown has been feeding for a month and is about an inch long. At that time it spins for itself a hairy cocoon. This may be on the tree where it has been feeding or upon other trees or upon buildings, fences, etc. Two weeks are spent in this cocoon, at the expiration of which time the moth emerges. The male moth is gray. The female moth has no wings. She lays eggs in a whitish mass on her cocoon and then dies. This egg mass with the cocoon is a conspicuous object and when it is known that the eggs of the female number from 200 to 400 the importance of gathering and destroying the egg masses before hatching is very apparent. This pest is a general feeder, a variety of trees and vines suffering from its depredations.

The methods for combating the tussock moth are collecting and destroying the egg masses. On large trees, where these cannot be reached moisten them with a sponge saturated with creosote and tied to a pole. Spraying with arsenicals (arsenite of lead, 3 pounds to 50 gallons of water is best) at a time when they are eating the leaves. To prevent caterpillars from ascending, keep trunks of trees banded with cotton, or some sticky material, such as tree tanglefoot. In cases of bad infestation combine some or all of the above remedies.

All leaf-eating insects may be killed with arsenical sprays or by hand picking or by cutting off the infested twig and destroying the insects thereon, or by burning their colonies or webs by means of a torch on a pole, or by crushing them with the gloved hand.

The intelligent care of trees is a great aid in our battle with the insects. A tree planted in good soil, vigorous and thrifty, well protected from injury, stands a better chance than one not so favored. A shade tree injured by horses driven by thoughtless boys and others, a young tree scarred by a lawn mower, or a large one either murdered by cut-throat linemen in running electric wires or burnt by contact with such wires invites attack, as does also a tree pruned in the wrong way.

Provide for the future by planning a small strawberry patch this spring. The earlier sweet peas are sown the larger the number of flowers produced.

Hardy hydrangeas bloom on the current year's growth. To grow large heads cut the canes back heavily.

To kill the San Jose scale spray the trees with lime-sulphur wash, or a soluble oil, just before the buds start to swell.

Jack Frost hasn't any terror for the poppy. Just sow the seeds on the surface of the soil and give the flowers an early start neurosis in the poultry yard? Comes a publication which devotes itself to poultry and other topics of the farm. In it a correspondent writes of the symptoms of one of his hens—listless, nervous, indifference to food and society. And the editor replies that the symptoms are those of a nervous disease, and he declares that the only cure for the hen is the rest cure in some quiet retreat, away from the feverish atmosphere of the poultry yard. This is a withering indictment of present-day civilization. A neurotic hen—think of that! A debutante of last season, no doubt, who should now be in the full feather of glorious youth a victim of nerves!

Because a Chicago man insisted upon being a candidate for trustee of one of the large New York life insurance companies, the company has been obliged to spend about $50,000 in having ballots and proxies printed in eleven different languages and mailing them in sealed envelopes to all parts of the world. He is the only candidate on the so-called policyholders' ticket, although 36 trustees are to be elected. It was a wise law which made provision for policyholders' tickets, but in this instance it has not been advantageous from a financial viewpoint, at least.

that shown in the illustration. It is made of a board of hard wood about an inch thick shaped in a curve, and on the outside is nailed a piece of strap or iron with holes in the end for hitching the tugs. An old leather harness tug will answer the purpose almost as well as the iron, but of course will not last so long. A singletree of this kind should be made just wide enough so a horse can walk between the tugs comfortably without rubbing his legs against them.

Humus in Orchard Soil.

The humus loosens the soil particles which in turn increases its water capacity. The humus is essential for the growth of the beneficial bacteria of the soil. One of the most important parts that a clover crop plays is its ability to change chemically the compounds in the soil and put them in an available form for the trees. The cover crop gathers, digests and turns over to the trees the plant food which it has stored.

SOUPS AND DESSERTS

RECIPES FOR THE BEGINNING AND END OF THE MEAL.

How to Make Delicious Chicken Gumbo—Steamed Apples Are Good—Charlotte Russe, "Chess" Pie and Sillibub.

Chicken Gumbo.—Melt three heaping tablespoonfuls of lard, when smoking hot stir into it three tablespoons of browned flour, stirring constantly till thoroughly smooth; in this place one fat hen or capon cut up as for frying; brown on both sides and pour upon it one gallon of boiling water; add two tablespoons of salt, a little cayenne and a dozen pods of okra chopped or sliced; boil slowly till fowl is thoroughly tender. Just before serving drop into the hot soup three dozen oysters, removing from fire as soon as they crinkle. Boil one tea cup of rice, without stirring, until tender and dry; put two spoons of rice in each plate and pour on this a portion of the gumbo with chicken and oysters.

Steamed Apples.—Pare, halve and core six good cooking apples; place in saucepan, setting pairs together; pour in pan half teacup of cold water, cover tightly and place over moderate fire. The steam will cook them quickly. When thoroughly tender put into the opening at core of each pair one dessert spoon of powdered sugar, lump of butter size of filbert; cover again for this to melt; then pour over all a glass of sherry. Serve with whipped cream.

Charlotte Russe.—Beat together till light and fluffy the yolks of six eggs with one teacup of white sugar; whip one pint of sweet cream; beat to a froth the whites of eggs, stir both into yolks and sugar; flavor to taste; dissolve half a box of gelatine in half a teacup of boiling water and pour into above, stirring constantly. Line a large mold with lady fingers and pour into it the mixture; place in refrigerator to set. Serve in fluted paper cups.

"Chess" Pie.—Six eggs beaten separately, to the yolks add one teacup of sugar, one of sweet cream, lump of butter size of walnut and one teacup of blackberry jam; stir in the whites of eggs beaten to froth; bake in a flaky paste till set. (Three full pies.)

Sillibub.—Whip half a pint of sweet cream, sweeten with a half a teacup of powdered sugar; flavor with one teaspoon of vanilla; stir in slowly one pint of sherry; the juice of six oranges, one teacup of grated pineapple and three tablespoons of apricot brandy. Serve in cups with fruit cake.

Apple Dumplings Baked.

Three-fourths pound of flour, one-quarter pound beef marrow, one-half teaspoon of baking powder, tinned apples, cloves. For the crust rub the beef marrow into the flour until as fine as grated bread crumbs, add the baking powder while dry. Mix to a stiff paste with a little cold water. Divide the paste into three pieces. Open a tin of apples, place two halves and one clove on each piece of paste previously rolled out, and work the paste round the apple with your hands so that no join can be discovered. Bake on a greased tin for three-quarters of an hour. A dish for three persons.

Rhubarb Ginger.

Dry the rhubarb thoroughly and cut into pieces of about one inch in length. Weigh and turn them into a deep earthenware jar or basin, with equal quantity of sugar and a small quantity of whole ginger. Cover the dish over and allow it to stand for three days, then stir it round and run off the syrup into a saucepan, and boil it down to a third in quantity; add the rhubarb and boil until it is clear and transparent. Stir as little as possible.

Crippled by Tuberculosis.
According to a recent report by Dr. Conrad Blesalski of Berlin, there are 75,000 cripples in the German empire out of a population of 80,500,000. Over 50,000 of the cripples are in need of proper treatment. Doctor Blesalski states that in 15 per cent. of the cripples examined, their deformity was due to tuberculosis of the bones and joints, and that there were 10,000 such children in great need of medical treatment. He advocates the establishment of seaside sanatoria for this latter class of cripples.

THE ALARMING PREVALENCE OF ECZEMA

Find Victims Among Every Race, Age and Condition.

Of all the diseases of the skin and scalp which torture and disfigure mankind, three-fourths are eczematous. Millions are born with eczema, and it is the only thing other millions have left when they die. Neglect in infancy and childhood, irritating conditions affecting the skin, ignorance of its real nature, improper remedies and many other causes that might be mentioned have created an eczema which, with varying severity, has afflicted countless numbers during their entire lives. Eczema is a skin disease. It is not regarded as hereditary, nor contagious, and is impartially distributed among the rich and poor, the high and low. The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, causing loss of sleep, is usually the most distressing symptom and is caused by the bursting of little vesicles filled with an acrid fluid, which burns as with fire the denuded skin. New vesicles form, fill and burst, scales form upon scales, and crusts upon crusts until disfigurement is added to torture.

One of the most successful treatments for eczema, whether applied to the youngest infant or the oldest person, is hot baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings of Cuticura ointment. For more than a generation, these pure, sweet and gentle emollients have proved the most efficient agents in the speedy and permanent relief of all forms of eczemas, rashes, itchings and irritations of the skin and scalp. Although Cuticura soap and ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, in order that those who have suffered long and hopelessly and who have lost faith in everything may make trial of them without charge, a liberal sample of each will be mailed free to any address, together with a 32-page pamphlet, giving a description and treatment of the various forms of eczema, as well as other affections of the skin, scalp, hair and hands—send to "Cuticura," Dept. W, Boston.

To do two things at once is to do neither.—Publius Syrus.

DIFFICULT TO AMEND.

During the constitutional campaign in this territory, it will be remembered that one of the principal objections to the constitution was the feature with reference to amendments. There were numbers of other things in the document, it is true, that were highly objectionable, but it was urged by the opponents of the instrument that if an easier method of amendment had been provided, the other objectionable features could ultimately be eliminated.

This argument was met by the assertion that the constitution of New Mexico was more easily amendable than that of many of the states. In other words, the argument of the pro-constitutionalists was, in effect, our fathers rode in ox carts and our desire to be whirled over the country in palace cars was altogether unjustifiable. Notwithstanding the wish of the people for a more progressive instrument, the desire for statehood was so strong that the basic principles of good government were forgotten and the constitution was adopted by an overwhelming majority.

Now a joint resolution has passed the lower house of congress, admitting, but at the same time requiring our people to vote on an amendment. The committee recommending the adoption of the resolution very succinctly outlines its reasons for proposing an amendment, and as its reasons for so doing appear so just, so reasonable, so necessary, in fact, a portion of the report is herewith reproduced. This portion of the report shows how unsatisfactory are the means for amendment and why it is almost impossible to amend the constitution as adopted. The report handles the question in the following manner:

"In the case of New Mexico the suggested change is in Article XIX of its proposed constitution, which is the article on amendments. The reason for submitting this suggested change is that this article, as contained in the proposed constitution, taken in connection with the apportionment for the members of the legislature, renders it extremely difficult, if not impossible, to amend this constitution.

"Article XIX as adopted requires that amendments may be proposed by two-thirds of all the members elected to each house of the legislature, except that at the first regular session held after the expiration of two years, and every eight years thereafter, a majority can propose amendments; but in either case only three amendments can be submitted at one election, and this must be a general election, and all amendments must be ratified by a majority of the electors voting thereon, and this majority must equal 40 per cent of all the votes cast for any purpose and 40 per cent of the vote cast in at least one-half of the counties of the state. The question of calling a constitutional convention cannot be submitted to a vote of the people until the expiration of 25 years except by a three-fourths vote of all the members elected to each house of the legislature, and to call a convention during that period there must not only be a majority of all the electors voting at the election, but there must also be a majority of all the electors voting in one-half the counties.

"From a consideration of these provisions it will be seen that it will be extremely difficult for the people of New Mexico to secure the holding of a constitutional convention during the first 25 years, and when these provisions are considered in connection with the apportionment for members of the legislature provided by the constitution, the extreme difficulty of amending the constitution in any way will be manifest. By reference to the apportionment, will be found that the four counties of Colfax, San Miguel, Bernalillo and Socorro, with an aggregate population of 77,000, and which, on the basis adopted by the constitutional convention for representatives in the senate, would entitle this population to between five and six senators, are so apportioned that they constitute parts of 10 senatorial districts and can control 16 of the 24 senators, and thus prevent the securing of two-thirds of the senators necessary to submit to the people an amendment to the constitution.

"Then it will be further seen that if under such conditions an amendment is submitted to the people the constitution makes it extremely difficult to secure the necessary vote for its adoption. To adopt such an amendment a majority of the electors voting on the amendment must of course vote for it, and in addition this majority must consist of 40 per cent of the vote cast on all questions and 40 per cent of the vote cast in one-half the counties. Thus it will be seen that if an amendment is submitted at a general election at which 25,000 votes are cast but only 10,000 votes cast upon the amendment, 9,000 of which are in favor of it and 1,000 against it, the amendment would be lost, because 40 per cent of all the votes cast at the election were not cast for the amendment. Or, again, if the amendment was popular in 12 of the 26 counties and unpopular in the other 14, 15,000 votes might be cast for it and none against in the 12 counties, and 3,500 votes for it in the other 14 counties and 6,500 against it, and yet an amendment upon which there might have been 18,500 votes cast for and 6,500 votes against, would be lost. It is only necessary to call attention to such provisions to secure their condemnation.

"Certain other provisions of the constitution as framed and adopted are very objectionable, and will in their operation be very oppressive to the people of the new state; and it is claimed that they were brought about at the instigation and in the interest of certain large corporations and special interests whom it is claimed exerted large influence in the framing of the proposed constitution. The committee, however, has not thought fit to undertake to correct such objectionable features because it did not feel that it was in the province of congress to make a constitution for the proposed state."

There is more, but wouldn't it be superfluous to quote more?

Zumwalts Acquitted.

Will and Alex Zumwalt were acquitted by a jury at Roswell Saturday night, of the charge of murder. It will be remembered that at Kenna, Chaves county, on March 26th, the two Zumwalts had a duel with Tom and Ed. Hall, and that both of the latter were killed. The defendants plead self-defense and were sustained by the jury. Will and Alex are sons of Noah Zumwalt, an old citizen of this county.

Mexican Rebels Massacre Chinese.

A dispatch from Mexico City, dated the 22nd inst., tells of a horrible massacre of Chinese, by the rebels at Torreon. The dispatch reads:

Official reports reaching here today tell the story of a massacre of 206 Chinese at Torreon, following the rebel occupation last week. Upon receipt of the news the Chinese charge d'affaires made formal representations to the Mexican government.

The details of the three-day battle and sacking of Torreon are replete with incidents of cruelty that shows clearly that the rebel leaders did not hold their men in control or else deliberately turned them loose to prey upon a conquered and defenseless people.

Official advices do not give the number of dead, but, taking the the 206 Chinese as a basis, it is certain the number is large.

The last day of the battle was May 15. On that day General Lejero retired with his federal forces and the rebels entered the city. Citizens found themselves utterly unable to control the mob and reports indicate that scores of innocent residents were victims.

Always antagonistic to the yellow race, the Mexican rebels and mob engaged in a race riot. A great part of the business of Torreon is conducted by Chinese, some of whom are wealthy, and, according to reports, the rioters shot down or stabbed them without mercy.

Minister of foreign affairs de La Barra had not received tonight any word from Judge Carbajal that Francisco I. Madero had finally approved the cabinet as suggested. So soon as Madero's acceptance is received it may be assumed that President Diaz will present his resignation to the chamber of deputies.

No effort is being made to disguise the fact that General Diaz will leave the country at an early date. It is expected he will spend several months visiting Europe and it is reliably reported that a passage has been arranged on one of the steamers of a French line.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

H. Doyle Murray came up from Tinnie yesterday, and went to Alamogordo today.

Paul McCourt's residence, on his homestead north of town is nearing completion.

W. M. Ferguson is down from the Mesa today. He says the freeze was no joke in his section—it left its mark on every farm.

Attorney A. H. Hudspeth was down from White Oaks a couple of days this week, looking after the interest of a client before the justice court.

H. B. Hamilton and family have moved their household goods here from Capitan, and they will occupy the dwelling where the Peoples family lived.

Will. J. Doering is again in Alamogordo this week. The lighting system at that point went on the bum, and Will is installing gas lights for the people of that town.

A bunch of U. S. soldiers passed through this week, the Philippines being their objective point. The train stopped here for some time, and the soldier boys marched around a bit for exercise.

W. L. Gumm came in last night from the Oscuros. He and Mr. Phillips are sinking a well west of the head of the mal pais, have reached almost 700 ft in depth and still the hole is dry. The sinking continues, however, and their patience and perseverance deserve to meet with success.

Next Tuesday, May 30th is memorial day. The beautiful custom of decorating the graves of American soldiers will be carried out on this day in almost every hamlet in the country. This is especially true of every section where old soldiers are to be found. In addition to the decoration of graves other services, suitable to the occasion, are held. Locally there are few soldiers of any war, and indeed in the entire county few of the old veterans of the sixties are left. Business will generally be suspended on this day in commemoration of the nation's dead.

An effort will be made to make this one of the most interesting and beneficial institutes that has been held in this county. A conductor and an instructor have been selected, both highly recommended for this particular work, and it is believed the opportunities offered in the Lincoln county institute are not to be excelled in the territory.

All teachers who expect to teach in the public schools of the territory are required to attend this or a similar institute held during the year. The Facts in the Case.

Old man Aesop was writing his famous fable about the Fox and the Grapes, when the fox happened along and looked over his shoulder. Observing the nub of the fable, the fox laughed raucously and remarked: "Foxes are not vegetarians." "That is what makes this all the more fabulous," replied Aesop, folding up the fable and preparing to mail it to his subscribers.—Judge.

Reckless Gambling.

"Saturday night some miscreant lugged off a whole cord of my wood, and somehow I can't forget about it," declared Silas. "Have you tried to forget it?" inquired his friend. "Yes. Sunday morning I went to church, hoping I could get it off my mind, and before I had been there five minutes the choir started in singing 'The Lost Chord,' so I got out."

Embryo Architect.

A popular conception of the architect's failing in completing a house within the estimate is illustrated in the story of the proud father who though he discerned great architectural talent in his 6-year-old son. "Why," asked a neighbor, "does he draw well?" "No," replied the father, "but he started a few days ago to build a hen-coop at an estimated cost of 65 cents, and it has already cost me about $3.50."—Metropolitan Magazine.

The wonders of the Rockies are described and pictured in a beautiful brochure just issued by the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad, entitled "Around the Circle," written by Mr. Edwin L. Sablin, the well known author, and illustrated with photographs by Jackson, Beam, Smith, McClure and other well known Rocky Mountain landscape artists. Typographically and pictorially the publication is one of the handsomest issued for free distribution by any railroad, while from a literary standpoint the story is far better than the usual run of railroad booklets.

RECIPE THAT MADE FORTUNE

How to Make the Berwick Sponge Cake, Long Famous in New England.

The Berwick sponge cake has been famous throughout the northern portions of New England for fully three-quarters of a century. The particulars of its history are told in a manuscript cookbook now in the possession of Miss Isabelle Gordon of La Grange, Ill. According to this authority, William Briggs, injured in a railroad accident, promised not to sue the company provided it would agree to build him a restaurant at North Berwick, Me., and there stop every train for five minutes. This was done as agreed, and in twenty years Briggs retired, made rich from the sale of his wonderful sponge cake. The Berwick sponge cake requires six eggs, three cups of powdered white sugar, four even cups of sifted flour, two teaspoons of cream of tartar, one teaspoon of soda, one cup of cold water and half of a lemon. Beat the eggs two minutes, add the sugar and beat five minutes more; stir the cream of tartar into two cups of the flour; add it to the eggs and sugar and beat for one minute. Dissolve the soda in the water and add it also. Wash the lemon, dry it and add the juice and the rind, grated. Finally add the two remaining cups of flour, and beat all the ingredients together for one minute. Put the dough into two deep tins and bake in a moderate oven.

SIX-PIECE PIE-CUTTER.

A pie-cutting device, which cuts a whole pie into six pieces at one operation, has been designed for the use of hotels and restaurants. It consists of a base for the pie to rest upon, and a lever provided with six knives, arranged like the spokes of a wheel. —Popular Mechanics.

FRENCH CHALK WILL DO IT

That is the Best Thing to Remove Spots Made by Cream or Other Food.

A woman who had a pitcher of cream spilled over a blue crepe dress she was wearing for the first time started to wash off the spots with cold water.

"Don't do it," said a friend. "It will ruin your gown. When you get home cover it thickly with French chalk for three or four days, brush off, and if any signs of the grease remain put heavy brown paper over it and press with a hot iron." The advice removed the cream.

One woman carries French chalk for such emergencies as food spots. A little of the chalk is rubbed in at once, as it removes the spot more quickly when fresh.

If gasoline or other cleansing fluid is used on a material that will "ring," put a heavy white blotter under the spot, or if that is not at hand use a Turkish towel. Rub in a circle until the dampness is evaporated.

IN OBEDIENCE TO ORDERS

French Boy Caused Merriment by Taking the Order of the Court Too Literally.

A droll incident is reported as having taken place in one of the provincial appeal courts in France. A boy, about 14, was summoned to give evidence, and his appearance was such as to move the whole court to laughter. He wore a long redingote, peculiar to the Basque country, and immense boots. His trousers, collar and hat were unquestionably those of a man. The court was convulsed, and the president asked the boy how he dared to treat the court in such a manner. The boy seemed as surprised as the president, and taking out the citation from his pocket, read the formula inviting him, "Comparaitre dans les affaires de son pere." (To appear in his father's suit.)

COFFEE CONGESTION Causes a Variety of Ails.

A happy old lady in Wisconsin says:

"During the time I was a coffee drinker I was subject to sick headaches, sometimes lasting 2 or 3 days, totally unfitting me for anything.

To this affliction was added, some years ago, a trouble with my heart that was very painful, accompanied by a smothering sensation and faintness.

"Dyspepsia, also, came to make life harder to bear. I took all sorts of patent medicines but none of them helped me for any length of time.

"The doctors frequently told me that coffee was not good for me; but without coffee I felt as if I had no breakfast. I finally decided about 2 years ago to abandon the use of coffee entirely, and as I had read a great deal about Postum I concluded to try that for a breakfast beverage.

"I liked the taste of it and was particularly pleased to notice that it did not 'come up' as coffee used to. The bad spells with my heart grew less and less frequent, and finally ceased altogether, and I have not had an attack of sick headache for more than a year. My digestion is good, too, and I am thankful that I am once more a healthy woman. I know my wonderful restoration to health came from quitting coffee and using Postum." Name given by the Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason," and it is this. Coffee has a direct action on the liver with some people, and causes partial congestion of that organ preventing the natural outlet of the secretions. Then may follow biliousness, sallow skin, headaches, constipation and finally a change of the blood corpuscles and nervous prostration.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

WOMAN'S INTERESTS

SMART SPRING BLOUSE

MADE OF WHITE MATERIAL WITH TINTED NEEDLEWORK.

Vellied Bodices Still Liked by Many Women—Return of Tailored Shortwaists in Wash Goods is Welcomed.

The smart spring blouse is a garment of great charm, and, like woman, it has many moods. The prevailing one of the moment—for there is always one whim more dominant than others—is for color on white, tinted needlework on fine lawns, linens and marquisette accomplishing this. The flower sprays and arabesque designs used for the colored work are all very beautifying, and although many all-white waists are seen they are far less attractive to the popular taste than these two-toned effects. One fancy with a fine white marquisette waist is to have a bit of colored lawn, linen or chiffon matching the needlework. The solid color edges sleeves, forms part of the stock, and may appear in some manner in the yoke. Some white marquisette bodices are decked, indeed, with deep sailor collars of chiffon, charmingly embroidered with another color, these being the entire trimming except for some fine tucks.

For the woman who sews daintily and embroiders as well, such waists give opportunity for the utmost elegance, for the materials in themselves are cheap. It is the work alone that costs, though excellent bodices of this sort, most daintily fine in effect, can be had for five dollars. However, if one expects the garment to clean well or wash at all a good price must be paid for the ready-made thing, as the fine look is not lasting where textures and sewing are indifferent.

Tailored shirtwaists in practical wash materials are seen in vast quantities, and here one is grateful to see the return of the old shirt sleeve, for the kimono cuts of the dresser bodices are not at all useful for everyday wear, and notwithstanding this fact the style threatened to absorb the entire world of sleeves. The practical waist is more often fastened at the front than at the back, but it is bound to have the Gibson shoulder plaits, and, unless it is for the most ordinary wear, three-quarter sleeves. There are many novel ways of shaping the button edge so as to take away from the primness of the front fastening, and the back may be in plain French style, or else have the shoulder plaits carried down to the belt. The box waists in fine white linen with a little embroidery and Irish lace would be appealing to home sewers, for these are half ready for making and with the trimming all finished. Unmade, too, such waists are cheap— from two dollars and a half up— while the same thing ready-made would be six or eight dollars.

For hard use the pure white shirt waist is without a peer, but, as color is de rigueur this season, there will be many useful shirt waists in striped or figured shirtings, stiff collars and cuffs in white going with these.

Our illustration displays the tailored model in its most ornamental phase, the design permitting a collarless neck or a high one. The model is cut in tabs at the front, these holding the buttons, and it is combined with a little separate chemisette. In the picture, linen makes the waist and embroidery the gump, but the style is appropriate for all reasonable materials of a practical sort. If a daintier effect is wanted, the fronts can be embroidered in color or white and the chemisette be made almost entirely of the needlework.

For the medium size three yards and a quarter of material thirty-six inches wide would be needed.

Silence Cloth.

Those of us who still cling to tablecloths rather than polished wood have often wondered at the exasperating qualities of the cotton-flannel silence cloth. Every other hot dish placed over it causes it to stick closer than a brother to the varnished table, and to leave white fuzzy rings on the wood.

Try instead making a silence cloth of cheesecloth or some other washable material, with several layers of soft paper between the two folds. Overcast the edges and knot with thread here and there, as in a quilt.

Outing Shirtwaists.

Shirtwaists for the field, as a rule, are made of soft material, either flannel or undressed linen; and the attached collar—a soft, rolled affair—is of the same. These soft-finished waists are worn with a four-stitched belt of material that matches the dress.

The latter is preferably of tweed, in some neutral mixture, or of serge, cheviot, basket cloth, or homespun in navy blue, white, or a conservative tan or gray. Heather mixtures and smooth-finished whipcords are also used by special tailors.—Harper's Bazar.

For the Simple Frock.

On many of the simple morning tub frocks the collar and cuffs are the sole trimming. There are all sorts of arrangements of these collars, some of which are more on the order of a fichu instead of a plain collar.

These fichu-like collars are generally made of net or lawn and are arranged in folds around the neck opening of the frock, the ends fastening at the belt under a buckle or rosette.

Tribute to Rudolph Irminger.

Rudolph Irminger was born in Switzerland in 1833, and died May 11th, 1911.

His childhood and most of his life was spent in this country, having come over with his parents at the early age of seven, and settled at Liberty, Mo.

He was united in marriage to Jennie Lainhart in 1856. They were blessed with two daughters.

He leaves a wife, a daughter, two sisters and many relatives and friends to mourn his death.

In his death a great bereavement has befallen the community, his family, his church and his friends. The circle has been broken, the strong, tender ties by which he was bound to us have been sundered, and a sweet and loving soul has fallen asleep, and has passed to that land upon whose strand no winds of winter moan.

In 1857, he found the joy and sweetness of the Savior's love, and became a member of the Christian church, all the while living a constant life, and serving his God as an humble servant. He was ever interested in church and sabbath school work, and all work that promoted the honor and glory of God.

His life was not a continuous ray of sunshine. Could music express its varied character, it would chant an anthem of joy, play a canticle of sorrow, a song of hope and end in a chorus of praises.

Albeit he had his hills to climb, he seemed not to realize it for his cheering nature scattered the flowers of contentment along his pathway, and bordered even the valleys of despair with the roses of hope. But the best of his life was seen and shown most resplendent in his home. There at the hearthstone, he taught the best lessons of his life, setting before his family the noblest ideas and best examples, loving them with unstinted devotion until the Death Angel took him home to rest forever on the bosom of the infinite and everlasting God.

Looking backward upon his life, and considering it in every phase, we can truthfully say that his was a character as beautiful as the parting ray of an autumn sunrise, and the music it now plays upon the chords of memory is as sweet as low toned lutes at night.

No more shall we see his smile wreathed face, nor hear again his sweet voice; no more will he occupy his accustomed chair; it is vacant; but if worth be by us admired, if a noble life be by us esteemed, we will through all the coming years look back to the days when he as a noble spirit lived among us as a golden-souled friend. He sought to brighten and to bless. May his life ever be an inspiration, may it be to us an incentive and guide, so when life's labors are ended, we may join him on the other shore.

A FRIEND.

Miss Luola Reasnor is visiting at Branum's for a few days.

Will James, of White Oaks, was "rusticating" in the Jicks a few days this week.

Ted Reasnor made trip to Carrizozo Saturday, returning the next day.

Mrs. Orthofer and daughter, Florence, were visiting in the neighborhood this week.

Messrs. Guthrie, Martin and Claud Branum were killing time in this camp Saturday.

Mr. Kingsburo and mother came up from Carrizozo a few days ago to find health among the pines and balsams of these woods.

The Littell company is working men in several different mines. The mill is running each day and the output very satisfactory. It looks good to see so much activity in camp, and we hope soon to have the permission of the manager to report the result each week.

There is talk of the American Placer company leasing its machinery and water to Mr. Ayers from Nogal, who is here now inspecting the property.

W. A. Franklin, wife and nephew arrived Thursday from Chicago. Mr. Franklin expects to do considerable work this summer in his various mines here.

On Saturday it snowed at intervals, a little all day, the temperature changing very suddenly. It was almost freezing by dark. A frost followed that night, nipping some fruit, and the tenderest vegetables.

The dance Saturday eve was very enjoyable, and the boys should be congratulated upon the good management of the affair. There was a good crowd present, and the music and refreshments were the best.

We are paying 25c per doz. for strictly fresh eggs, and can handle all you can bring us.—The Carrizozo Trading Co.
