CARRIZOZO, LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO, JUNE 2, 1911.

NUMBER 17

Back from Washington.

Judge John Y. Hewitt returned from Washington and other eastern points. The judge spent ten days at the national capital, looking after the interests of clients before the supreme court and watching the proceedings of congress. The judge was present in the supreme court chambers on the day the celebrated Standard Oil decision was handed down, and in addition heard the dissenting opinion of Justice Harlan, which, he said, was most magnificent, learned and impressive. While absent, Judge Hewitt visited some relatives in Michigan, spent three days in Kansas City with the family of Judge McDougal and that of Gus Schinzling, from whom he brought regards to old friends in this county.

The statehood question, naturally, was one of the important topics in which we were interested, and the judge was asked what he thought the prospects were of the senate passing the statehood resolution. In response he said that conditions in the senate had greatly improved, and that the special committee, composed of Ferguson, Jones, Hand and McGill, had done excellent work. They are said to have secured assistance from even Senator Bailey, who had formerly announced his determination to fight the resolution because Arizona, with the recall, was embodied in the resolution. The general belief, Judge Hewitt thought, was that the solid democratic vote of the senate, combined with that of the progressive republicans, would put the measure through.

Appointed Vice-Presidents.

A. H. Harvey and Jno. A. Haley have been appointed vice-presidents of the territorial fair, for Lincoln county. The territorial fair is a territorial institution of more than a quarter of a century standing, and has done a great deal to place the products of New Mexico before the world. From present indications Lincoln county should present a commendable exhibit at the fall meeting, and, naturally, the representatives of this county would appreciate the assistance of every citizen of the county in behalf of a creditable exhibit.

Baptist Entertainment a Success.

The entertainment given by the Baptist people of this place at Fort Stanton and Capitan last Friday and Saturday nights, was liberally patronized and well received. The participants, who returned Sunday, report a delightful time, and accord the people of Fort Stanton and Capitan the highest praise for the manner of their reception.

A Matter of Congratulation.

The people of Lincoln county are extremely fortunate in having a substantial and economical administration of county affairs through its board of commissioners. For a number of years every regular account has been paid, dollar for dollar, and not a cent of indebtedness has been incurred, other than a bonded indebtedness, such indebtedness having been created for public improvements.

More substantial improvements have been made on the roads, more bridges built and better conditions exist all around during the incumbency of the present board than for many years past. It is true we have had better valuations and larger funds than formerly, but even that would not have accomplished the results, of which every citizen of the county should be proud, but for the fact that the board has exercised the most watchful care and has practiced the most rigid economy. Few counties in the territory, with even a larger valuation, can show as satisfactory financial condition as that presented by Lincoln county.

The board has no pets, plays no politics and faces every proposition squarely. No set of men ever labored more earnestly for the welfare of the people than our present board, and in bestowing upon the board this meed of praise, we simply give credit where credit is due, and extend congratulations to the board and the people on these excellent conditions.

Bronco Busting.

Saturday and Sunday afternoons the people of Carrizozo were treated to a mild wild west performance, by a troupe composed of a man and a woman. The man said he had been the best roping company of the southwest, mentioning McGonagill, Carroll and Gardner, all of whom he said he had roped against in contests. He pulled off a few stunts with a rope in front of the depot. The "lady," a former member of Buffalo Bill's show, so the roper said, rode one of old man Peck's mules, which, however, was not difficult. The following day, on the ball grounds, the same rider bestrode a broncho, brought in by Ed. Harris, but the bronc refused to perform. The usual collection was made in each instance from the crowd.

Attorney Geo. Spence, accompanied by his wife, son and daughter, left yesterday morning for the Datil mountains, in Socorro county. They go to inspect a ranch owned by Mr. Spence, and expect to return in a fortnight.

ELIMINATING SPACE.

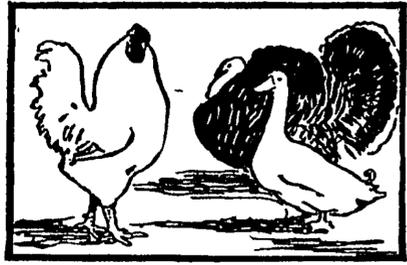

Of devices for the elimination of space there is no end. There can be none, until the people stop progressing. Occasionally a project is proposed of more than usual daring. The particular prize for which the commercial world is now striving is the trade of South America, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. North America and Europe each want the bulk of it. The natural advantage which this continent possesses has so far been more than balanced by European aggressiveness. And now Europe proposes to cut in two the time distance that separates her from the object of her commercial longing. It is figured that five days are long enough to transport European goods to South American consumers. To establish such a schedule involves engineering and financial difficulties which may, of course, finally prove its impossibility. By reliable parties the "Ibero-Afro-American railway is proposed, first, to cross Spain to Gibraltar, where ferry boats will transport trains to the African coast; thence run to Bathurst, the nearest point to South America. From Bathurst to Pernambuco, Brazil, is but a three-day run for fast steamers. The cost of carrying out this project, daring as it seems, would be but a mere fraction of what the United States alone is paying for the Panama canal. And a half dozen European nations would be benefited by it. It seems by no means impossible.

An unusually peculiar damage suit has just been decided in New York by which the widow of a fire chief has been awarded $25,000 for the loss of his life in a furniture establishment fire. The chief fell through an open well hole in the building into a cellar half filled with water and was drowned before he could be rescued. The open well hole was in violation of a city ordinance. This suit, with its large damages, will help to emphasize the highly important fact that such ordinances are intended to prevent just such accidents, and that disregard of them leads to criminal and civic liability when a life is lost. There are many ordinances of the kind held lightly in regard until a fatal accident shocks the authorities into enforcement.

Since it has been decided to establish municipal baths for the million at Coney Island, other and ever more ambitious plans for its improvement have been formulated. These include a continuous walk and drive along the entire five miles of its water front, and a new bulkhead line, which has been authorized by government engineers. A contract has been let for a rip-rap wall, forty feet thick at its base and twenty feet at the top, surmounted by a concrete walk. This will protect the island from those periodic invasions by the Atlantic which have frequently been quite destructive. All of which is expected to attract a higher average of patronage than the resort has hitherto enjoyed.

A 25-cent piece was recently taken from the foot of an elephant in the New York Zoo, where it had been securely hidden till the creature's discomfort over its ill-gotten wealth became apparent. The animals must be catching graft from the humans.

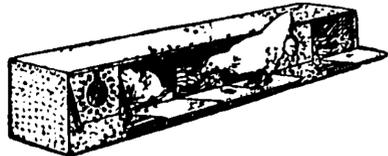

POULTRY

EXCELLENT NESTS FOR HENS

Those Made of Metal Have Much to Commend Them on Ground of Cleanliness and Sanitation.

The use of metal and concrete in the construction of all kinds of buildings is gaining rapidly in popularity. We see it not only in our houses, but in the modern dairy barns and poultry plants. This is brought about on grounds of economy and efficiency; metal is stronger, wears longer, occupies less space, is immune to fire and inimical to insect life and disease. For the latter reason its use appeals strongly to the poultry breeder. Metal perches, nests, and even houses have much to commend them on grounds of cleanliness and good sanitation. Especially is this true of metal nests, a row of which is shown in the illustration. Of all contrivances the wooden box has proved itself the home of lice and mites; its crevices and cracks are the delight of these pestiferous enemies of fowl life. To be sure the nesting material can be changed and burned, the box sprayed or fumigated, but in spite of all precaution a few stray specimens will escape in some crack or crevice in the wood. With the metal nest this is certainly not possible. The only chance of infection is from the bird itself to the nesting material, which is of minor consequence, unless a lousy hen happens to precede a clean one in occupying the nest.

Metal nests come in several patterns. One style is for hanging on the wall, from which it can be easily removed and cleaned. Others are made in combination as shown in the illustration, also in singles and in pairs and trios. For shipping they are knocked down; their construction is such that no rivets or solder is required to set them up ready for use.

Galvanized iron coops have long been a feature of eastern and European shows, and we can see no reason why metal houses will not prove equally desirable. Where tried, breeders claim them a success.

Feeding Poultry.

If you use wet mash, let the water be warm.

A cornsheller is not an essential. The hens will do their own shelling if you throw out the ears in short, broken pieces.

Do not give eggs to an early broody hen until she is surely broody, as hens, like the weather at this season of the year, are rather changeable.

Water for Duck or Goose.

The only water a duck or a goose needs is water to drink. You don't need a pond. If water is near they will naturally go to it, but it is not necessary, as they will thrive just as well on dry land.

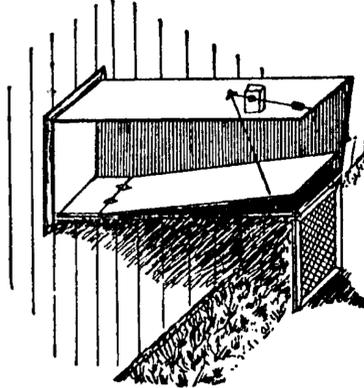

Watch Guinea's Nest.

Guinea fowls will now be laying, and a watch must be kept on their nests, as it is their nature to hide them. The eggs had better be hatched by hens.

CAN TURN THEMSELVES OUT

Automatic Door Invented for Releasing Flock Where Poultrymen Forgets It on Warm Day.

The accompanying drawing will need but little explanation to active and up-to-date poultrymen. It is needless to say "the early bird catches the worm." We all know that when the fowls are confined any considerable length of time beyond the time of regular releasing they become much worried, which unfits them for best results, writes J. W. Griffin in the Farmers' Review. A frightened or worried hen soon loses interest in egg production and it requires considerable time and great care to get her in proper shape again. Now for fear that you forget to turn the flock from their roosting quarters some warm day, make one of these automatic release doors.

This arrangement is attached to the outside of the building ordinarily where the small drop door is located. This release door should be covered with half-inch mesh wire netting. This will show the hens the light, and they will be induced to reach it. In so doing they will walk over the false bottom, the one to which the trigger wire is attached and her weight will raise the hook that keeps the door in place, the door will swing open and all the flock will be released.

THREE-PEN POULTRY HOUSE

Arrangement Shown in Illustration Gives Large Amount of Yard Space for Chickens.

The illustration shows a very useful poultry house for three pens of fowls, with yards arranged for the same number. The house is 30x30 feet and will accommodate 100 fowls. The hallway takes but little room out of the interior and yet it communicates with all three pens. The inside divisions are of wire netting, allowing the sunshine that enters at one side of the house to fall into the pens; but the house should be so located that three sides may receive morning, noon and afternoon sun. The plan is followed, according to Orange Judd Farmer, for dividing the yard outside as for dividing the space inside the house. This gives a large amount of yard space, with yards conveniently located. This building is shingled all over the outside, with the heaviest building paper under the shingles, and may either be sheathed or lathed and plastered inside.

Give Turkey Hen Large Coop.

Give the turkey hen and her brood a coop large enough for the mother to move about and stand erect in, and you won't be so apt to have bad luck.

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waurika, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different things but did me no good. I got so bad that I could not sleep day or night. While in this condition I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and began its use and wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. In a short time I had gained my average weight and am now strong and well." —Mrs. SALLIE STEVENS, R. F. D., No. 8, Box 31, Waurika, Okla.

Another Grateful Woman. Huntington, Mass.—"I was in a nervous, run down condition and for three years could find no help.

"I owe my present good health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier which I believe saved my life.

"My doctor knows what helped me and does not say one word against it." —Mrs. MARI JANETTE BATES, Box 134, Huntington, Mass.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, and nervous prostration.

FROSTING FOR CAKES

FULL DESCRIPTION OF PROCESS OF MAKING IT RIGHT.

Success Depends Mainly on Steady and Brisk Whipping—How Icing Is Colored and Applied for Decoration.

Take some paper; parchment or a sheet of very thin notepaper, and rolling it into the shape of a funnel, pin it together, cutting off the lower end just above the bottom.

Make frosting as follows. Put whites of four eggs into a bowl and whip them with a strong whip or whisk until they are dry. The success of the frosting depends entirely on the steady and brisk whipping between additions of sugar. Add one tablespoon of confectioner's sugar, which has been carefully sifted, and whip briskly for three minutes, then add another tablespoon of sugar and whip as before. After third tablespoon has been added, add half teaspoon of lemon juice and whip briskly again. Continue this process until mixture is stiff enough to hold in any form.

The icing should now be divided into as many parts as there are colors, and each portion colored delicately to the desired shade. Care must be taken to mix the paste thoroughly through frosting, as otherwise specks of color will appear in it.

Round loaf cakes lend themselves better to decorations than square ones. It should be iced and put away to stand for at least one hour. The remainder of icing should be kept covered with a damp cloth.

Draw a circle the size of the cake on a piece of paper, and draw any design, such as flowers, figures, etc., on the paper. Perforate design with a pin, thus making a pattern. If paper is firm you may place it upon frosted cake, rough side of paper on cake, rubbing gently so that pin pricks will show in frosting, or you may place paper on cake and sprinkle over it a little finely powdered charcoal so that when paper is taken off the pattern is left on cake. Then take the funnel and partly fill it with icing of desired color. Fold the top of funnel over icing, so that none of the icing will flow over top of funnel when contents are being forced out of the bottom. Holding funnel in one hand, move it along the lines of the designs, using the other hand to squeeze icing on pattern. It is a good idea to always begin in center and work outward.

Venetian Eggs.

Put into the pan two tablespoonfuls of butter and a tablespoonful of finely chopped onion. Add a bit of bay leaf and, if desired, a half blade of mace. As soon as the onion has colored, remove bay leaf, mace and add a cupful and a half strained tomato, a quarter cupful of cheese cut in small pieces, a teaspoonful of salt, a salt spoonful of paprika and three eggs slightly beaten. Cook until the eggs are of a creamy consistency, stirring constantly and scraping from the bottom of the pan, then pour over slices of delicately toasted bread.

Salad Dressing.

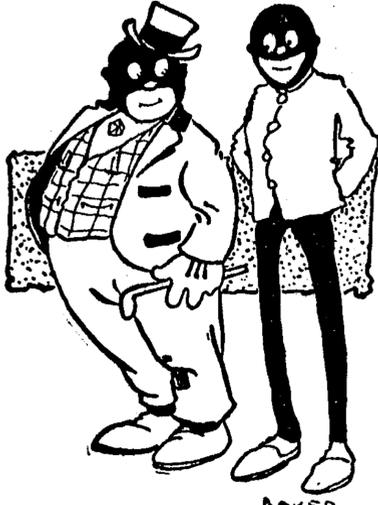

One quarter teaspoon made mustard (not dry as is generally put), one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon sugar, one-quarter teaspoon pepper, yolk of one egg. Beat all well together, then add slowly one small cup of oil alternately with two tablespoons of vinegar.

Helps for Ironing Day.

Fold a piece of carpet or place a thick rug beneath your feet while you stand to do the ironing. You will find that you do not get as tired as when you rest upon the floor or oilcloth.

When irons stick add a pinch of salt to the starch or rub each iron separately upon a paper sprinkled heavily with salt.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

PROSPECTS FOR STATEHOOD BRIGHT.

A decided change for the better has come over the statehood situation in Washington, and this is especially true with reference to the senate. That body contained some members who opposed the admission of Arizona on account of the recall, others objected to the admission of New Mexico because of the iron-clad nature of its constitution. The two territories coming together—there is general opposition to the admission of one without the other—caused friction, and was productive of a combined opposition difficult to overcome. A part of the senators favored the admission of New Mexico, leaving out Arizona, some wanted Arizona in, New Mexico out, and still others who would be glad to see both territories remain territories, although they were not shouting their opposition from the housetops.

This opposition has practically disappeared, the discordant elements have joined hands in favor of statehood, and solely because Messrs. Fergusson, Jones, Hand and McGill, despite the knocking at home, secured the ear of the house committee and induced that committee to prepare and present a resolution, which was adopted by the house, that modified, or gave the people of each territory an opportunity to modify, the respective constitutions, the modifications amending the features in each constitution that were objectionable in the eyes of the senate; and when the members of that committee, speaking in behalf of the people of this territory, left the national capital to return to their New Mexico homes, they were assured of a majority of votes in the senate.

Did the presence of Fergusson, Jones, Hand and McGill in the national capital delay statehood? As a matter of fact, have they not put us nearer statehood by their efficient labor the last thirty days than we have ever been before? Will their blatant, dogmatic, falsifying critics confess their error and commend the valuable services of these gentlemen?

There are only two things in the way of the resolution becoming effective. The first is that the measure may be talked to death in the senate, by reason of senatorial "courtesy," even though a majority favors the resolution; and the second is that the president may refuse to sign it. The latter is thought to be a remote possibility, however, as it will give the president an easy way of getting around a direct approval of the Arizona constitution in its present form, of which it is said he greatly disapproves. Should the resolution go through there'll be something doing in New Mexico poco pronto.

Making New States.

The granting of statehood to New Mexico and Arizona has been generally conceded to be only an act of plain justice to the people of the territories. In passing the joint resolution providing for their admission into the union the house has undertaken to remove casual obstacles for which the territories made themselves responsible in framing their constitution.

The recall as applied to the judiciary in Arizona and the unusual restrictions placed by New Mexico upon the amendment of its constitution have been the main causes of criticism and delay on the part of congress. Neither of the provisions is of sufficient importance to Arizona or New Mexico to justify them in sacrificing statehood out of resentment because of the unusual course of congress.

The territories are subject to the will of congress. They have complied with its previous conditions, and they will probably be compelled to accede to its new conditions, willingly or unwillingly, in order to secure admission into the union. It is a new test to impose on territories seeking statehood, which as a rule have attained their desires merely because political circumstances in Washington were favorable. If both Arizona and New Mexico had been safely republican they probably have been admitted last year. A certain amount of political opposition has been concealed behind the attack on Arizona's constitution, but it was unwise for it to display itself in its true colors.

As a matter of good faith, at this session congress should carry out its part of the contract with the two remaining territories. It has the power to use compulsion not resorted to in previous cases. At the same time every one of the forty-six states has full liberty to adopt just such constitutional provisions as Arizona and New Mexico are informed are objectionable.—New York World.

The four gentlemen who have spent a month in Washington in behalf of statehood, have been roundly abused by a portion of the press of the territory. They were accused of causing a delay in statehood and have been mentioned in most uncomplimentary terms. However, the sequel has shown that Messrs. Fergusson, Jones, Hand and McGill have accomplished more for statehood in a month than their detractors have in a decade. They not only did not delay statehood, but on the contrary advanced it, and secured the submission of an amendment that vastly improves our constitution, if the people adopt it. This committee did most excellent work in the senate, where the greater opposition to statehood existed.

William Barnett went to Lincoln Monday in the capacity of deputy sheriff. His mission was to serve notice on the county officials at Lincoln that Carrizozo was the county seat, and requesting that they, with their records, should come to Carrizozo.

THE WESTERN COLLEGE.

A Communication.

The Methodist people of New Mexico are pushing educational interests with wonderful success. Two years since they opened the Western College, at Artesia, New Mexico, with a plant valued at $75,000. Now they have made another long stride forward by electing Dr. John J. Tigert, of Winchester, Kentucky, president. He is the son of the late Bishop John J. Tigert, and is a Rhodes scholarship man from Oxford, England.

Dr. Tigert comes directly from the presidency of Kentucky Wesleyan College, and says now that he proposes to throw his whole life and soul into the winning of of the west. This desirable end will never be accomplished until we completely educate our children right in our own commonwealth.

Here are our congratulations to the Methodist people for the good start they are making to this desirable end.

New Mexican Coke.

New Mexico has developed notably as a coke producer in the last five years. From a production of less than 90,000 tons in 1905 the output has increased to over 400,000 tons in 1910, according to E. W. Parker, of the United States geological survey, in an advance chapter on Coke, from "Mineral Resources for 1910," and as shown in the following table:

	Short tons.
1905	89,638
1906	147,747
1907	265,125
1908	274,565
1909	373,967
1910	401,646

The value for the 1910 product was $1,306,136. All of the coke made in New Mexico is from the coal mined in the Raton field in Colfax county.

Whooping cough is not dangerous when the cough is kept loose and expectoration easy by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has been used in many epidemics of this disease with perfect success. For sale by all dealers.

City Marsnal Roy Woofter, of Roswell, was shot by James Lynch last Friday afternoon, and died the following day. The marshal had gone to the home of Lynch bearing a warrant for his arrest, also having a search warrant. Lynch, it seems, did not resist arrest, but did resist a search of his premises, and managing to get into the house, secured a gun and shot the marshal. The marshal desired to search Lynch's home for liquor, a complaint having been filed that Lynch was violating the city ordinance in handling liquor. Much feeling has been aroused by the homicide.

FOR SALE:—500 Angoaa goats, 300 grown, shear 4 lbs; 200 kids, shear 2 1-2 lbs. $3.50 for grown goats; $1.00 for kids, if sold at once.

Accidentally Killed at Ancho.

The sad intelligence reached here yesterday that J. W. Crawford had been killed in the cement plant at Ancho the day before. He was caught, in some manner, in the belting and machinery, and his body was crushed into a shapeless mass. The deceased was a trusted employe of the cement factory at Ancho, an active member of the school board of that place and a worthy citizen of the county. He was an old union soldier and, though quite active, was 73 years old.

Drowned in the Hondo.

News came Saturday from Tinnie, on the Hondo, that Peter Green had drowned that day while in bathing with other persons. The supposition is that he was attacked by cramps, and was rendered speechless and also helpless; for his associates had no knowledge of his danger. After some time he was missed and the river dragged for his body, which was recovered. The remains were interred in the Lincoln cemetery Sunday. The deceased will be remembered here as one of the jail guards during court.

Youngest Daughter Dies.

Lulu, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Owen, died at the home of her parents near Corona Tuesday night. She had an attack of scarlet fever a little over two years ago, and never became strong, the disease affecting her head. An abscess in the head was the immediate cause of death. Will Owen, a brother, was notified Wednesday, and left here on the first train to attend the funeral. The many friends of the family throughout the county extend sympathy.

Mutts Vs. Jeffs.

Two town ball teams crossed bats Sunday afternoon on the local diamond, the first for this season. The teams were known as the Mutts and Jeffs, composed of town boys and railroad boys. The Mutts started out in fine shape, the game at the close of the 7th inning standing 11 to 6 in their favor. In the 8th the Jeffs sent 5 runs over the plate, allowing the Mutts none. The Mutts again failed to score in the ninth, and the Jeffs turned the soup tureen over the heads of the unfortunate Mutts. One run was all that was needed and it was easily made. The plays lacked the finesse and the thrill that accompany league games, but was productive of a great deal of merriment just the same.

IMPORTANT THAT PUBLIC SHOULD KNOW ABOUT GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY

The testimonial I am to give you comes unsolicited. I have been suffering from lumbago for ten years and at times was unable to stand erect. A Mr. Dean of this city, saw me in my condition (bent over) and inquired the cause. I told him that I had the lumbago. He replied, "If you get what I tell you to, you need not have it." I said I would take anything for ease. He said, "You get two bottles of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and take it, and if it does not fix you O. K. I will pay for the medicine myself." I did so and am a well man. For five months I have been as well as could be. Before I took your Swamp-Root was in constant pain day and night. This may look like advertising, but it seems to me most important that the public should be made familiar with this treatment as it is the only one I know which is an absolute cure. I owe a great deal to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and am anxious that others situated as I was should know and take advantage of it. Hoping that this testimonial may be of benefit to some one, I am Labrador's Future.

According to statements made the other day by Dr. Grenfall of Labrador, the Cinderella of British possessions, has a brilliant future before it. Dr. Grenfall, who has lived 20 years in that snowy country, says that in days to come it will carry a population as easily as Norway does today. It is, he says a better country than Iceland, and to be greatly preferred to Lapland, Finland, Siberia and Northern Alaska.

BREAD THAT WILL NOT DRY

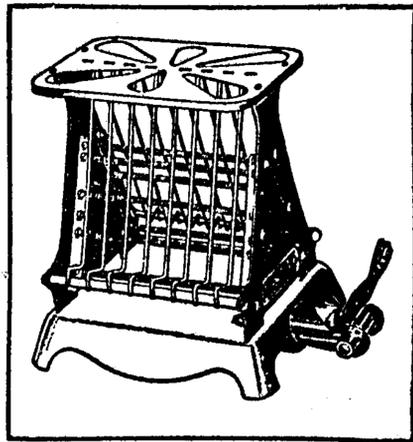

Recipe for Potato Yeast and for Wholesome Variety of the Staff of Life.

Successful Bread.—Pare and boil three good-sized potatoes in salted water; when cooked mash them and add the water they were boiled in. When luke-warm add three teaspoons of sugar, one tablespoon of salt and one tablespoon of flour. Stir well and add a cake of yeast. This should be sufficient to make one quart of yeast; if not, add luke-warm water to make the amount. Set away over night. In the morning prepare about three heaping quarts of flour, make a shallow place in the center, take one pint of yeast and make a sponge; if there is not sufficient sponge for the amount of bread wanted add luke-warm water. This amount should make four large loaves. When the sponge appears foamy, or covered with small bubbles, mix quite firm, and when raised to twice its size it is ready to form into loaves. Do not mix hard like some people do, but form the loaves with only enough handling to round them. Let rise again for about half an hour, then bake in a medium hot oven, but increase the heat as the bread rises. When next making use the same recipe as you started with, but instead of using a cake of yeast add the pint of yeast left from the last baking. You can have delicious rolls or buns by taking a piece of dough about the size required for a loaf of bread; add a tablespoon of lard and a little sugar; form into whatever shape desired, and let rise until very light. This appears like a whole lot of work, but it is not, as the yeast can be made while preparing dinner the night before by cooking a few extra potatoes and adding the water they were boiled in. After breakfast the next morning prepare the bread and it will be baked before noon, and you will have good, wholesome bread which will not dry out, as the bread made from the store yeast does.

Russian Tea.

Put two teaspoons of tea into a fine strainer, pour half cup of boiling water through to cleanse the grounds, then turn the grounds into the scalded teapot. Pour on one pint of freshly boiling water. Keep hot five minutes. Put two cubes of sugar and one slice of lemon into the tumblers, half filled with broken ice. Pour on the tea and serve. Never let the tea leaves remain in the tea. If desired, pour it from the grounds as soon as steeped.

Avoid the Cheap and "Big Can" Baking Powders.

The cheap baking powders have but one recommendation: they certainly give the purchaser plenty of powder for his money but it's not all baking powder; the bulk is made up of cheap materials that have no leavening power. These powders are so carelessly made from inferior materials that they will not make light, wholesome food. Further, these cheap baking powders have a very small percentage of leavening gas; therefore it takes from two to three times as much of such powder to raise the cake or biscuit as it does of Calumet Baking Powder. Therefore, in the long run, the actual cost to the consumer of the cheap powders is more than Calumet would be.

Why not buy a perfectly wholesome baking powder like Calumet, that is at the same time moderate in price and one which can be relied upon? Calumet gives the cook the least trouble.

DAME NATURE HINTS When the Food is Not Sulted.

When Nature gives her signal that something is wrong it is generally with the food; the old Dame is always faithful and one should act at once.

To put off the change is to risk that which may be irreparable. An Arizona man says:

"For years I could not safely eat any breakfast. I tried all kinds of breakfast foods, but they were all soft, starchy messes, which gave me distressing headaches. I drank strong coffee, too, which appeared to benefit me at the time, but added to the headaches afterwards. Toast and coffee were no better, for I found the toast very constipating.

"A friend persuaded me to quit coffee and the starchy breakfast foods, and use Postum and Grape-Nuts instead. I shall never regret taking his advice.

"The change they have worked in me is wonderful. I now have no more of the distressing sensations in my stomach after eating, and I never have any headaches. I have gained 12 pounds in weight and feel better in every way. Grape-Nuts make a delicious as well as a nutritious dish, and I find that Postum is easily digested and never produces dyspepsia symptoms."

Her—"We have. I hate her!"

Him—"But I saw you kiss each other when you met yesterday."

Her—"Yes, but that's all we do. We hardly speak."

For Good Reasons.

"Why, Tommy," exclaimed the Sunday school teacher, "don't you say your prayers every night before you go to bed?"

"Not any more," replied Tommy. "I uster when I slept in a folding bed, though."—Philadelphia Record.

What She Wanted.

Father (to his daughter) — I've brought you a zither for your birthday, my dear, and a book by which you can teach yourself to play on it in a month.

Daughter—But it was the zither teacher I wanted most.—Fliegende Blaetter.

His Renunciation.

"I couldn't think of a thing to give up lent."

"That so?"

"Yes, and when I remarked as much in the bosom of my family my wife and daughters told me I could put in the time getting ready to give up for Easter."—Houston Post.

A Modern Bird.

We met the Early Bird and were amazed, on glancing at our watches, to discover that the hour of 7 had long since struck.

"You're not so early, after all!" we remarked, significantly.

"No," assented the Early Bird, looking very conscious all at once. "The fact is, I got the hook-worm!"—Puck.

A Moving Description.

"First they compel us to give up our money," said the vociferous agitator, "and then they compel us to put up with such little comforts as they may find it convenient to provide."

"About whom are you talking?" asked the common person, wearily, "the trusts or the street car conductors?"—Washington Star.

Small Girl Defines Leisure.

Mrs. Philip Snowden, the English suffragette, began at a dinner in New York her reply to a toast on "Marriage" with the words:

"I once asked a little girl if she knew what leisure was?"

"Yes," she replied. "Leisure is the place where married people repent."—New York Tribune.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

A smart man is one who agrees with a woman—so she thinks.

In this era of expensive living the father of ten children has a strenuous job.

Merely loving a woman doesn't satisfy her; she wants you to make love to her.

A man who insists that he's just as good as you are may not be extra good at that.

How a giddy girl does enjoy making a man keep on trying to kiss her when she won't let him.

It's a good thing for a man to bump up against the proof or his own unimportance occasionally.

You wonder why you have more trouble than other people, and they wonder why you have less trouble than they do.—Chicago News.

"ECZEMA ITCHED SO I COULDN'T STAND IT."

"I suffered with eczema on my neck for about six months, beginning by little pimples breaking out. I kept scratching till the blood came. It kept getting worse, I couldn't sleep nights any more. It kept itching for about a month, then I went to a doctor and got some liquid to take. It seemed as if I was going to get better. The itching stopped for about three days, but when it started again was even worse than before. The eczema itched so badly I couldn't stand it any more. I went to a doctor and he gave me some medicine, but it didn't do any good. We have been having Cuticura Remedies in the house, so I decided to try them. I had been using Cuticura Soap, so I got me a box of Cuticura Ointment, and washed off the affected part with Cuticura Soap three times a day, and then put the Cuticura Ointment on. The first day I put it on, it relieved me of itching so I could sleep all that night. It took about a week, then I could see the scab come off. I kept the treatment up for three weeks, and my eczema was cured.

"My brother got his face burned with gunpowder, and he used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The people all thought he would have scars, but you can't see that he ever had his face burned. It was simply awful to look at before the Cuticura Remedies (Soap and Ointment) cured it." (Signed) Miss Elizabeth Gehrl, Forest City, Ark., Oct. 16, 1910.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a liberal sample of each, with 32-page booklet on the care and treatment of skin and hair, will be sent, postfree, on application to Potter D. & C. Corp., Dept. X, Boston.

Open-Air Schools Increasing.

Since January 1, 1907, sixty-five open-air schools for children afflicted with or predisposed to tuberculosis have been established in twenty-eight cities, according to an announcement made by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. The first open-air school in the United States was established on January 1, 1907, by the board of education of Providence, R. I., at the instance of Dr. Ellen A. Stone. The next school was established in May of the same year at Pittsburg, and the third at Boston in July, 1908. According to the reports received by the National Association, the result of the open-air class-work has been to restore most of the children to normal health and efficiency. One of these open-air schools or classes should be established for each 25,000 population, especially in cities.

IS LIGHT AND WARM

WOOLEN WRAP THAT WILL GIVE REAL COMFORT.

Can Be Made Any Size If Simple Rule Is Observed—Explicit Directions That Should Be Carefully Followed.

A very light warm wrap this, that is worked in Solomon knots with Andalusian wool or some wool about that thickness and a medium size bone hook. The wrap can be made any size, but when making the foundation chain, let it be a little longer than you wish the width of the finished wrap to be; always make three chain at beginning of the row to turn.

The detail of the pattern is very clearly shown in No. 2.

1st row.—* draw up one long loop, draw through it, then work a double through the back loop, draw up another long loop, draw through it, then work a double into the back thread; pass over 3 stitches of foundation chain, work 1 double into next, repeat from * to end of row.

2d row.—3 chain, draw up a long loop, draw through it, 1 double into back loop; draw up another long loop, draw through it; 1 double into the back loop, 1 double into each of two first long loops of last row and the places indicated by the dot and X in No. 2; repeat.

This second row is repeated until the wrap is the length needed; thread a darning needle with wool and gather up each end, and finish with a tassel.

To make the tassel, turn the wool round and round a card about four inches deep 30 times; pass a piece of strong thread under the strands of wool at one side, draw it up and tie tightly; cut through the wool at the other side, bind round the strands at the tied end with wool to form a top, then sew to the gathered end of wrap.

BLOUSES OF STRIPED MUSLIN

The One Most Notable Innovation of the Season Revives an Old Fashion.

The innovation in this season's blouses is the use of muslin in white and colored stripes. Pink and white, red and white—the peppermint candy, muslin which was fashionable a quarter of a century ago—is in first fashion. The most expensive as well as the cheapest blouses are made of it. Blue and white is also popular, and as for the black and white, and gray and white stripes, there is no end to them. The latter, by the way, is more fashionable and artistic than the majority of women realize. There is a certain blur about the gray stripe that is becoming and allows it to be worn with a wider variety of suits than the sharply marked black and white stripes.

After a whole morning spent in looking over the French and American wash waists, upon which were put the highest mark of approval, I found that the kimono sleeve shared its popularity with the small sleeve put in at the regular armhole; neither one is more fashionable than the other; also, sleeves to the wrist were in as much demand as sleeves to the elbow, although it was admitted that the latter was the newer style.

Nearly all of them were without collars. The neck was arranged for a stock if one wished it, but usually it was shaped to fit the immensely popular sailor collar, which comes in a variety of shapes and is made of exquisite materials. Expensive ones are of Old World batiste and fine muslin, with wheels of eyelet embroidery, Baby's Spring Bonnet.

Spring bonnets for very little babies are made of white liberty satin. They are close fitting, but the satin is fuffed on the crown, the band around the face being plain. Embroidered side pieces are set in, the most attractive design is tiny forget-me-not wreaths. Where the ribbon ties are set on there are rosettes of the white satin, in the center of which are tiny rosebuds. There are other bonnets also of the liberty satin, which have full crowns and the satin draped over the straight piece which forms the front. These are trimmed with narrow pink or blue velvet ribbon. Embroidered batiste caps have the tiniest bouquets of pink and blue flowers set on the left side of the front.

New Barettes.

Among the new barettes are large ovals of fine gold wires set in a narrow gold rim. The wires are so strung as to resemble a mesh of gold net or gauze.

Another barette is of crossed wire of gold, with a setting of seed pearls at each intersection.

Somewhat heavier is a barette of hand-carved gold in openwork. These are large enough to cover the nape of the neck; more becoming are the smaller ones. Whether real or not, a huge ornament of gold at the back of the hair is open to suspicion.

Good Definition.

A New York judge, it will be remembered, recently declared unconstitutional the new law that an automobilist, having run over a pedestrian, must stop and leave his name. The judge said that the automobilist had a perfect right to run away and leave the mangled victim to bleed to death alone for the reason that, in criminal cases, no man is obliged to bear witness against himself. James Halden Wilkes, president of the Defense Society of Atlanta, discussed this legal decision at the society's last meeting. "And that," he cried hotly, "is called justice. Well, indeed, was a search after justice once defined as a blind man looking into a dark room for a black hat that isn't there."

Lincoln Locals.

Peter Green, a young man living near Tinnie was drowned in the Hondo Saturday. He with four other men were working on the irrigating ditch, and during the noon hour all went bathing above the dam. Mr. Green was missed shortly after they had entered the water, but his companions supposed that he had gone out of the water and was on the bank. Some time elapsed and as he did not appear his friends became alarmed and a search began. The river was dragged and the body was found near the dam in eight feet of water. The deceased leaves a wife and three small children and several brothers to mourn his loss. The funeral was held Sunday at 2 o'clock, p. m. Interment in the Lincoln cemetery.
